AMERICAN WAY

COLLECTIVIZED FARMING CAN HAPPEN HERE

By Raymond C. Baker

It is more usual than not for federal agencies to operate on the theory that the right hand must never know what the left hand is doing. The idea is to spend as much of the taxpayer's money as possible and make him like it, while grabbing more and more control over him.

A prime example of this "art" is the crazy-quilt operations of Interior Department's Bureau of Reclamation, the Corps of Army Engineers and Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation.

Reclamation wants $348 million in fiscal 1964 for, among other things, irrigation of arid, but otherwise fertile land to put it into production. Army Engineers seeks $994 million for navigation and flood control, with Reclamation taking over much of the dammed water for further land improvement. These agencies work hand-in-glove to make more land agriculturally productive.

OPPOSITE APPROACH
Conversely, the Department of Agriculture wants $500 million for handling and storage of surplus grain and its Commodity Credit Corporation asks $294 million for land retirement. CCC also wants another $22.5 million to transfer land from farming to recreational purposes. Agriculture is dedicated to decreased farm production.

It is hardly an anomaly that these agencies work at cross-purposes. It is one method of harnessing farmers with increased control.

Robert C. Liebenow, one of the nation's most articulate champions of the American free enterprise profit system, sees a possible parallel in the predicament of American farmers and that of farmers in Fidel Castro's Cuba, only 90 miles from our shores.

The 40-year-old president of the Chicago Board of Trade, world's largest commodity exchange, has been telling audiences throughout the farm belt that substantial groups of people in high places feel that the way to solve America's farm problems is to put agriculture in a strait-jacket of government regulation. This means just one thing — greater socialization of our farmers.

CASTRO DESTROYS FARMS
"Before Castro came to power, farm production accounted for one-third of the island's national income," Mr. Liebenow recently told a Country-City Congress of the Topeka, Kansas, Chamber of Commerce, "and as a consequence the Cuban people enjoyed one of the best diets of any Latin-American country."

After seizing power, Castro nationalized farm properties and organized them into government-owned and operated "cooperatives." He improved on this in 1961 by stealing a leaf from the Communist farm book. Now they are "peoples farms," a Cuban version of collectivized Russian and Chinese farms.

"Today food is critically short in Cuba," Mr. Liebenow stressed, "and important foods in short supply are strictly rationed."

"Our greatest industry is farming. The farm production explosion is directly traceable to the American free enterprise system and the personal profit incentive," he asserts at every opportunity.

GRAB FOR POWER
Mr. Liebenow is correct. But many people wonder how reasonable persons can compare American and Communist agriculture and still come to the conclusion that the way to solve our farm problems is through government regimentation.

This is no mystery, however, once it is understood how one government agency serves another in the continuing grab for power over people. With one government department working assiduously to promote more farm land an another worker equally hard to curtail production, it is little wonder that agriculture is in a mess.

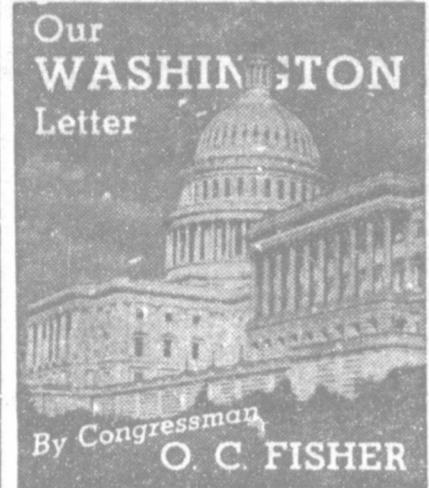

When the nation's agricultural balance is upset by planned bureaucratic meddling, it is time not only for farmers, but every person who eats three square meals a day, to start screaming.

Before work could begin on the present granite Capitol in Austin, Texas, the Legislature set aside three million acres of land, located in the Texas Panhandle, to finance it.

VOLUME LXXVII

SANTA ANNA, COLEMAN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1963

NUMBER 14

A SUBSTANTIAL CUT in foreign aid got a boost last week when a committee headed by retired General Lucius D. Clay, after an exhaustive study of the subject, reported that the USA has been attempting too much aid for too many and often in the wrong ways. The report called for an overhaul and a reduction.

From July 1, 1945 to June 30, 1962, our total economic and military aid to foreign countries was $97.6 billion.

Last year President Kennedy asked for $4.9 billion, but the House cut this figure to $3.9 billion, and the Senate went along. This year the President asked for another $4.9 billion plus an additional half billion in obligatory authority.

In the face of this, there is a carry-over of funds appropriated in previous years, of $21.3 billion — not yet spent, but in the pipe line or waiting to be committed.

THE CLAY REPORT calls for a curb on aid to countries which use the money to build up socialist economies, and urged that aid to such countries as left-leaning Indonesia (we have given them $670 million) be curbed. It said assistance to Latin and South America, unless there are drastic changes in local set-ups, would be wasted. And it called for a halt of our hand-outs to the vast array of mixed-up Negro Nations of Africa. That area, it insisted, should be left to France and Britain — if any aid is justified.

We have poured nearly $2 billion into Africa — including $156.5 million to Ghana — another leftist country that has been playing footsie with Khrushchev for years.

The report was acclaimed by many in Congress. It enabled some of us to say, "I told you so." For years I have been voting against the mammoth omnibus foreign aid bills because they contained too many items for more than 100 countries that simply could not be justified. Indeed, we have given — in one form or another — an average of $1 billion to practically every country in the world since 1945!

And now, at last, the Clay Report lays it on the line — the U. S. is attempting too much aid for too many countries — and often in the wrong ways. There should be a cut of at least $2 billion in the current foreign aid bill.

Only 45 voters took the time necessary to go by the City Hall Tuesday and cast their ballot in the annual City Election. None of the places were contested, and no write in votes were cast.

Talley Station Robbed Thursday Of Last Week

The Arthur Talley Service Station was broken into Thursday night of last week. Entry was made through the back door of the station.

Mr. Talley said all he could miss was about $25.00 in cash. Checks and other papers were scattered on the floor, but apparently nothing else was taken.

The robbery is being investigated by the Sheriff's Department. No arrests have been made as yet.

All Veterans May Be Buried In National Cemetery

Any deceased veteran of wartime or peacetime service, whose last period of service terminated honorably, is eligible for burial in any national cemetery in which grave space is available. Glyndon M. Hague, manager of the Veterans Administration Office in Waco, said today.

The spouse, widow or widower of an eligible veteran may be buried in the same grave or in an adjoining grave if space is available.

A minor child of the veteran may also be buried in a national cemetery in the same grave in which either parent has been interred.

Should the spouse or child die before the veteran, the veteran must sign a paper stating his intention to be buried in the national cemetery before the spouse or child can be buried there.

At the time of the death of a veteran, spouse or child eligible for burial in a national cemetery, the mortician or person responsible for funeral arrangements should request interment directly from the superintendent of the national cemetery.

There is no charge for the gravesite in a national cemetery or for the opening or closing of the grave therein, Hague said.

1963 To See Peak In VA War Orphan Program

The peak of the Veterans Administration program providing educational and training assistance to war orphans is expected to be reached this year, a long range VA survey showed today.

It is estimated that nearly 24,000 children whose veteran-parent died of a service-connected disability will take advantage of this VA benefit during 1963. In 1962, more than 20,500 took part in this program, the largest number thus far to participate.

Glyndon M. Hague, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said the study revealed that the program is expected to drop slowly from this peak until the year 1985 when less than 300 war orphans are expected to be enrolled.

Those who are eligible are the children, generally aged 18 to 23, of veterans whose deaths resulted from injury or disease originally incurred or aggravated in the line of duty while on active service.

The surviving parent may or may not have remarried and the child in question may be either married or single and still be eligible. The parent or the guardian of the child must file an application with the VA. Schooling either aimed toward a college degree or toward training the child toward a vocational goal may be provided for as long as 36 months.

Full details may be obtained at the VA Regional Office, 121 South Sixth Street, Waco, Texas.

Basic Electronics Course For High School Students

Supt. Cullen N. Perry, Max Eubank and Allyn W. Gill were in Fort Worth last week to arrange for a supply of electronics equipment for a basic course to be taught in the local school system. The course will be for those students who desire to gain more knowledge in this field than is ordinarily available in the regular class room course.

Gill and Eubank will help instruct the class, which will likely begin the latter part of May. Some 12 to 15 boys have already indicated they are interested in taking the advanced course.

Beef Cattle Short Course For Adult Farmers

JAMES THORNTON

A beef cattle shortcourse for adult farmers will be held April 15-18 under the sponsorship of the Santa Anna High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to Mr. C. N. Perry, superintendent, and Mr. A. D. Pettit, teacher of Vocational Agriculture.

Mr. James Thornton, Beef Production Specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Husbandry at Texas A & M College, will be the instructor in the course.

Mr. Thornton is a graduate of Texas Technological College, where much of his college work in technical agriculture was in the field of animal husbandry with major emphasis on beef cattle. After graduation he worked as herdsman at C. E. Yoakam Ranch at Cherokee, Texas 6 months and then taught vocational agriculture at San Saba 7 years and Kerrville, Texas 3 years.

Mr. Thornton has a wide and varied experience in training livestock and meat judging teams for state competition. In addition to working with beef cattle, he has raised registered Poland China Hogs and has had considerable experience as a sheep and goat raiser. He has worked closely with registered breeders, commercial cattlemen, and Vocational Agriculture students in the field of beef production.

The shortcourse at Santa Anna is scheduled to begin April 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the vocational agriculture building. During the dates the shortcourse is in progress, Mr. Thornton will be available to assist cattlemen with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Mr. Pettit.

Cattlemen interested in attending the shortcourse should write or call the superintendent of schools, Mr. Perry, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Mr. Pettit. An entry fee of $2.00 will be charged. Beef cattle shortcourse certificates will be presented to each cattleman who attends all the training sessions.

Six Flags Opener Set For April 20

The 1963 season for Six Flags Over Texas will commence on Saturday, April 20. The third operating year for the historical theme park, located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, has been set up to begin on a Saturday and Sunday basis only until June 1. For the months of June, July and August, Six Flags will be open seven days a week. Following Labor Day in September and continuing through December 1, the Park will revert again to a week-ends only operation.

Projections on attendance for this year indicate an even higher figure than the 1,272,000 visitors who clicked through the turnstiles in 1962.

Part of the expansion program this year is centered around a new six acre site added to the U. S. A. Section of Six Flags. It will be known as "Boom Town," depicting the days of the exciting oil discovery finds in Texas during the late 1890's and early 1900's.

New rides, attractions and shows are being added to the other five sections of the Park. Restaurant, parking and air-conditioning facilities have been expanded to keep pace with the new additions.

Know What To Do If A Tornado Is Near

Austin — "If spring comes, can tornadoes be far behind?"

Texans can appreciate the paraphrase of Shelley's poem. In the past two years, the U. S. Weather Bureau tallied 253 tornadoes and 383 other severe storms which resulted in millions of dollars of property damage, 85 deaths and 668 injuries.

With tornado season soon to be in full swing, the Office of Defense and Disaster Relief of the Texas Department of Public Safety has issued a special leaflet containing safety information for coping with these destructive storms. Titled "Tornado Precautions," the leaflet details procedures to follow when tornadoes threaten, whether in open country, in cities and towns, schools, factories or industrial plants. Knowing a few basic rules of what to do when a tornado is approaching may mean the difference between life and death.

The leaflet also contains descriptive material on occurrence, frequency and weather conditions most apt to produce tornadoes.

Free copies of the special leaflet can be obtained through local civil defense directors and from the Office of Defense and Disaster Relief, Texas Department of Public Safety, in Austin.

Some Older Folks May Be Overlooking Some Extra Income

Some 875 persons past age 65 in the Abilene district will soon have received a reminder that they may be overlooking an income possibility from social security, reports R. R. Tuley, Jr., district manager for the Social Security Administration. Such letters have been going out in small batches for the past several months.

The electronic records-keeping equipment in the Baltimore headquarters of SSA has noted that these people are over age 65, seem to have enough credits on their records to be insured for retirement benefits, apparently had little or no earnings in 1961 (the last complete calendar year fully posted), and have not filed claims as yet.

Most of those contacted in a pilot study last summer hadn't filed claims because they had mistaken ideas about how long one must be covered by social security to be insured. Due to the 1960 and 1961 amendments, the time required has been cut in half from earlier law. Now one need have social security credits for 1/4 of the time after 1950 (or age 21, if later) and before age 62 for women or age 65 for men to be eligible for retirement payments.

The retirement test was also liberalized by those amendments, Tuley added, and everyone past age 62 should look into the possibility of collecting some social security checks even though still actively employed or self-employed for some or all of the year. The social security representative will be in Coleman at the Department of Public Welfare every Monday at 10:00.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
HEALTH OF THE EYES

The health of the eyes is very important. The doctor can know your general health by looking into your eyes. In many instances, he can tell if there is active pathology present.

Statistics show that many of us neglect our vision—that we should have our eyes examined more often than we do. A great deal of the loss of vision and efficiency could be prevented if people had their eyes examined every six months. The preservation of sight is a worthy cause.

Most people seem to think that because their eyes do not ache, nothing is wrong. Yet it is true that some eye diseases do not give any warning at all. Glaucoma, for example, could be present without pain in the early stages.

If you have your eyes examined and the doctor tells you that nothing is wrong—that your eyes are perfectly healthy—this should give you a wonderful feeling.

The doctor is happy to tell you such good news. If you were the doctor, and you had to tell a patient he was losing his sight, you would fervently wish the patient had come in much sooner for a check-up.

Let's prevent blindness through better eye care. It's time for your eye examination!

Mrs. Charlie Fleming received a long letter from her aunt, Clara Clark, from Terrabelle, California, telling her how much the California relatives enjoyed the Santa Anna News, especially the Cleveland News, as they are former Cleveland residents. She wanted to thank the Cleveland reporter for writing the news. So thanks Mrs. Clark and I'm glad you enjoy the news. Also Mr. Curtis Collins telephoned me to tell me how much he and Mrs. Collins enjoyed the Cleveland News and how much it helped the paper. So thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Collins also.

Be sure and get your news items to me early as possible since Mr. Gregg wants the news early as he is short handed.

WHAT IS POOLING?

In spite of all the jokes about "oil-rich Texans," most Texans aren't rich. Relatively few of them have even one oil well.

All Texans have a stake in the oil business, however, because it makes jobs puts money into circulation, and pays taxes.

Texas oil operators have to compete with those in other states and foreign countries. This competition is tough and growing tougher. Improvements in production methods for greater efficiency are necessary in Texas. It is a question as to whether Texans prefer to do this job themselves or let the federal government do it.

Many of the most responsible people in the oil industry believe the Texas Legislature can solve some of the most troublesome problems by passing House Bill 510, an oil and gas pooling bill. "Pooling" in oil field language simply means putting separately-owned pieces of acreage together, sharing costs of drilling a well, and splitting any income proportionately.

A fair pooling law would create drilling blocks of uniform and proper size (according to the spacing pattern of the field). It would help the industry to cut down on unnecessary development drilling and thus free capital for more "wildcat" drilling. It would provide a legal way for landowners to divide their minerals in proportion to their holdings.

An outcry has been raised against House Bill 510 by the professional "small-tract drillers," who for many years have enjoyed the legal sanction to produce oil and gas which rightfully belonged to someone else. Advocates of pooling do NOT think that property rights should be confused with the "right" to take another man's property — or that free enterprise should cover the FREE CONFISCATION of another's oil and gas.

Contrary to claims of persons who, for reasons of their own, want to retain the outmoded methods of the past, House Bill 510 does NOT tie up large blocks of acreage with one well; it does not affect any wells already drilled or reservoirs already developed; it does not take away the landowner's bargaining power or change the terms of any lease except to the extent necessary to form a drilling block. House Bill 510 would merely give all landowners an opportunity to have their properties developed when some owners cannot be located or one owner seeks to obtain an unfair advantage. The rights of all would be EQUALLY protected.

Ask your Senator and Representative at Austin to support House Bill 510 — so Texas, too, will have a reasonable and legal way to assure each landowner his FAIR SHARE.
