Studebaker

Hubs

Studebaker Hubs are made of New England or Pennsylvania black birch—the very best obtainable wood for hubs. It shrinks evenly in curling, remaining round and true after turning. It is long fibred, tough and elastic. Our special oil treatment of the hub (in fact, of the entire wheel) renders the wood impervious to water and indifferent to the abuse and vagaries of weather and temperature. Hub bands of refined iron, welded by electricity, and compressed on the hubs before the spokes are driven.

Studebaker

Spokes

Compare a Studebaker slope shoulder with a square shoulder. The Square shoulder carries all of its load at that one point. On the other hand, the slope shoulder distributes the load around the entire hub. It cushions the strain and thrust of the load—receiving it with elasticity instead of destructive jolt.

Studebaker

Tire

Is heated while revolving in furnace but not hot enough to char the fellos. When shrunk on, the calculations are worked out to such a nicety that in addition to the built-in, constructive dish, it draws the spokes and rim into a little more dish—not enough to strain or rack but—sufficient to get the "life" and spring which will push the rim hard against the tire and, in spite of the lengthening of the tire, due to hammering on the road, it will remain tight—snug—secure.

COLORADO CITY MAN VISITOR IN ABILENE

Ernest Keathley Inspects First Baptist Church and Girls' Industrial Home.

Ernest Keathley, of Colorado City, was among the visitors in Abilene today. Mr. Keathley dropped off in the city while en route to points east, to inspect the Baptist church and Girls' Industrial Home of Simmons College.

"The Baptist church is the most magnificent church building I have seen in this state," he said. "It is a monumental illustration of the progressiveness of the Baptist denomination in Abilene. And I was very much pleased with the Girls' Industrial Home. Simmons College has many friends in Mitchell County."

Mr. Keathley is a "diversifier." In Colorado City he is a fire insurance agent, city real estate agent, agent for houses to rent, collector for the North American Accident Insurance Company and the Independent Order of Puritans, clerk of the Woodmen of the World lodge, city assessor, collector and secretary, notary public, and a prominent churchman.—Abilene Reporter.

$135,000 BLAZE THIS AFTERNOON

Burton-Lingo Lumber Company Wiped Out—H. O. Wooten Sustains Total Loss.

National Packing Company's Loss Also Complete; Four Freight Cars Burned; Two Frame Buildings Included in Loss; Destruction of Property Estimated at $135,000; Wooten Insurance $40,000; Burton-Lingo Company Covered; Origin Has Not Been Determined.

Shortly after one o'clock this afternoon flames, supposed to have originated from an explosion of combustible matter, caused a property loss conservatively estimated at $135,000, which is partially covered by insurance. Losses are as follows:

H. O. Wooten Grocery Company, building and all contents, including contents of cold storage, property loss estimated at $68,000; insurance $40,000.

Burton-Lingo Lumber Company, three sheds and two offices, including all contents; loss estimated at $50,000; amount of insurance not stated, but fully covered.

W. T. Wilson Transfer Company, building and contents destroyed; property loss between $1,500 and $2,000; amount of insurance not known.

National Packing Company, offices in Wooten Building, all old papers, fixtures and 2,500 cases of canned meats, valued at one thousand dollars; property loss estimated at $5,000.

Texas & Pacific freight cars, loaded with canned goods and salt for H. O. Wooten, and Cement for Burton-Lingo Company, amount of loss not estimated.

Total property loss is estimated at about $135,000; total amount of insurance about $75,000.

The origin is not authoritatively known. The story of the combustible matter which was reported as exploding being only hearsay statements. Neither Mr. Wooten or Mr. Herring, Burton-Lingo's manager, can give any information as to the origin.

The fire broke out shortly after one o'clock, and for an hour it appeared that the entire business section west of Walnut street was in danger of destruction. The firemen laid several lines of hose and fought the fire from every angle, and at two-thirty subdued the flames and confined them to the buildings before mentioned.

Abilene has had her second fire within two days. About five o'clock this morning flames destroyed the iron building on the corner of Walnut and North First streets with all contents. Mr. Ellis occupied the east end although he had no stock of storage matter. The heaviest loss was sustained by T. F. Lockett Company, dealers in wagons, buggies and other vehicles, and farm implements. The entire stock valued at between six and eight thousand dollars, was destroyed.

TOM BALL IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Leader of Pro Forces in Recent Campaign Makes Positive Statement.

Houston, Aug. 12.—In a signed statement to the press, Thomas H. Ball, leader of the prohibition forces in the recent campaign, declared that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination for governor.

The cost of making good roads, while considerable, is small compared to the benefits to be derived. Especially is this true of road construction in Texas. In this state, where we have road material convenient, the cost of building roads is not so great.

EVERY STUDEBAKER DEALER IS JEALOUS of the proud position he occupies—he is honored and respected above all other rivals in his own community because he sells the best cars and keeps his word—the cars make good. And the manufacturer backs him up. He will not sacrifice that proud position for a few chance sales, nor for a bigger rake-off will he sell to his townsmen cars that he knows are unsalable elsewhere.

OUR ONLY PROBLEM IS DELIVERY. We are not going to make any rash promises. We cannot promise to deliver every car that is ordered. All we can do is repeat that we are making one hundred cars per day now! That we are doubling our factory facilities as fast as bricks can be laid and machinery installed! That we will be making two hundred per day within 90 days and will work full force all winter in hopes of catching up with the demand—but that is the limit of our ability for the present.

FOUR MODELS OF THIS CAR ALSO FOR 1912. Fore-door Five Passenger Touring Car—slightly smaller than E-M-F "30," not quite so speedy—45 miles per hour—but just as efficient; 4-Passenger Suburban—ideal car for rural residents; 2-Passenger Coupe, and 2-Passenger Runabout. SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE NEWS LETTER

CALLED SESSION OF THIRTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE

Re-districting of State and the Appropriation Bill Important Items to be Considered.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 18.—Our solons have been working as industriously as a lot of boll weevils and if they keep at it they will be able to migrate by August 31st. Considerable progress has been made on the appropriation bill and the House put a few spokes in the wheel of progress by making more liberal appropriations for the support of the Agricultural department and to the A. & M. College. The senate has passed the appropriation bill and it will be ready for a free conference committee in a few days.

One of our solons, who was evidently born a century ahead of his day, suggested that a new mansion be built for the governor, but the prospect for an increased tax rate rose up like a sheeted ghost before the members and frightened them away.

Our Legislators may build mansions in the skies, but they will never build anything on earth unless they quit quibbling and get down to business.

The Federal Census Bureau announced last week that we have 146,745,000 acres of uncultivated land and 285,216 Texas farmers who do not own their farms. But this information did not phase the Legislature. Some folks are as simple minded as a June bug.

The committee from the house and senate, appointed to investigate the recent election, has been examining the leaders on both sides of the issue passed between the witnesses, but many of the anti's refuse to recognize the jurisdiction of the investigating committee and the matter is to be tested in the courts.

The pros have had their inning and have sprung some correspondence alleged to have been taken from the files of the anti leaders which, according to the interpretation of the committee, pointed toward a legislative jack-pot, but a searching investigation of all the members of the legislature failed to reveal this much talked of utensil.

The Colquitt-Lightfoot controversy broke out afresh in the House and Senate when the item in the appropriation bill was reached providing for the maintenance of the Attorney General's department. An amendment was offered which, in effect, prevented the governor from vetoing any section of the item. The amendment passed the house on a vote of 68 to 38. The measure also passed the Senate.

The governor made it clear to the legislators that he would sanction no legislation until the subjects regularly submitted were disposed of and he returned the resolution favoring the legislation for the stricter regulation of the saloon traffic; endorsing San Francisco for the Panama Canal exposition; inviting the advertising clubs of America to hold their 1912 convention in Dallas and inviting President Taft to visit Texas.

The legislature now has before it the appropriation bill, the redistricting of the state, the repeal of the automatic tax law and fixing of the state ad valorem tax rate. The appropriation bill is the only measure submitted that has received serious consideration.

Politicians are as thick as blackberries in a fence corner and some of them are buzzing around like bumble bees in the summer time, while others float about like snow-flakes in winter. Many of the big fellows who for years have been lounging around the front porch of greatness are frequenting the storm center in order to give the lightning a chance to strike them, but so far no casualties have been reported.

The Attorney General.
 Austin, Aug. 12.—The following opinion, approximately six thousand words in length, was today handed down by Attorney General Lightfoot.

(1) The senate investigating committee has inherent and general powers to conduct any investigation about any matter upon which it is possible to legislate that

(2) Its general power is to conduct such investigation and secure data for the use and information of the present session of the Legislature, that

(3) The general appropriation bill taxes necessary to be raised for the maintenance of the government, the redistricting question, request of the governor for an appropriation of an additional $27,500 for the enforcement of the law and for rewards, and

(4) This empowers either branch of the legislature to make a complete investigation into any irregularities or frauds in connection with the recent election of the constitutional amendment, or any other state election.

The attorney general argues that it is necessary for the legislature to know to what extent the law has been violated in order to determine how much money should be appropriated for the enforcement of the law and the payment of rewards. He says the governor evidently has reasons to believe that there have been widespread violations.

Joseph A. Wortham reappeared before the senate investigating committee today as a volunteer witness. He reiterated Alex Pope's connection with the anti submission campaign of 1906. Pope, who had denied this, the witness said, outraged him very much. He produced a record of his and Pope's financial affairs. He reiterated that statement that A. J. Puckett told him Secretary of State McDonald received seventy-five dollars per day and expenses for speaking; McDonald is an anti.

Sensational testimony developed before the house election investigating committee this morning when C. B. Spradley, a member of the 31st and 32nd legislatures, told of a conversation which took place at Austin between Flint Chambers and Ed McCarthy, who was then private secretary to Jake H. Wolters. The witness declared that McCarthy asserted that money orders, checks and expense accounts were "being in every day to counts were coming in every day" to influence the vote on submission.

J. A. Wright estimated that at least five hundred poll tax receipts in Fort Worth were paid for by the liquor interests.

Governor Submits Three New Subjects

Austin, Tex., Aug. 14.—The governor today submitted three important subjects to the legislature for consideration during the present special session, namely:

"Prescribing a system of uniform text books for use in public schools of the state.

"For the relief of the supreme court by prescribing and fixing its jurisdiction, and

"Providing for the appointment of a commission of five competent lawyers, who shall sit at Austin for the purpose of reforming and revising our criminal codes and court procedure; providing adequate compensation for the services of said commission, who shall devote their entire time to this work until the same is completed."

PRESIDENT VETOED STATEHOOD BILL

COULD NOT STOMACH THE RECALL IN ARIZONA CONSTITUTION

NEW MEXICO HURT THEREBY

Bill for Admission Joined Two Territories, Meeting Same Fate to Both—Mr. Taft Issues Statement.

Washington, Aug. 15.—President Taft, in a special message to the House today, vetoed the joint resolution providing for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico to statehood. The president's course was not unexpected, he having given an intimation of his probable course in the matter to some of his closest friends several days ago. His reason for exercising the executive power of the veto was based on a thorough and sweeping disapproval of the recall clause clause in the Arizona constitution.

To the New Mexico constitution the President is understood to have no particular objection, but the Flood resolution admitting the two territories so couples them that a veto to one must affect the other. The fact that New Mexico statehood was bound up with that of Arizona meted out to New Mexico the same fate, and neither territory can come into the union at this time unless the friends of the joint-resolution in Congress can muster up the two-thirds vote necessary to pass it over the President's veto. This may be attempted.

Mr. Taft did not mince words in condemning the recall feature of the Arizona constitution, which he said, would compel judges to make decisions "under legalized territories." The message was received with great interest by the House.

The resolution providing for the investigation into the election of Senator Stephenson from Wisconsin was adopted today in the senate. It is understood hearing will be held next fall. Today's action was necessary because of a technical error several days ago when a similar resolution was passed without reference to the contingent expenses of the investigating committee.

Democratic Leader Underwood of the houses today picked August 23rd as the probable date of adjournment of Congress.

We Will Build 50,000 Cars

In 1912

Twenty Thousand E-M-F "30"s AND Thirty Thousand Flanders "20"s

E-M-F "30" Fore-Door Touring Car, $1100.
Fully Equipped and Delivered in Colorado, $1280.

Flanders "20" Fore Door Touring Car, $800
Fully Equipped and Delivered in Colorado, . . $975

RECENTLY OUR MR. FLANDERS WROTE a personal letter to all Studebaker-E-M-F Dealers asking for suggestions as to how the Flanders "20" or E-M-F "30" models could be improved. The 2,500 replies could be epitomized in the following, which we quote from the following letter: "Only defect in either model is lack of cars to supply the demand. There are three customers waiting for each car that comes from the factory. Please don't try to make them any better—just make more."

NEVERTHELESS, "THE WORLD DO MOVE," said Galileo, with his last gasp—and that is our only excuse for announcing any changes. Note we do not say improvements in either of our models for 1912.

JUST AT THIS TIME when other makers are tearing the air with declarations of their new and radically different models—condemning their product of the past by just so much as they proclaim the superiority of their forthcoming effort, we can say, "Our 1912 model is just as good as we sold in 1911—or 1910, 1909 or 1908."

CAN YOU APPRECIATE with what pride we make that statement—can you enjoy with us the exaltation that comes from knowing that in the future we can give every buyer as great value for his dollar—as much satisfaction and pleasure in his purchase as in the past—we will have achieved the highest ambition of an honest business house.

TAKE FOR EXAMPLE our E-M-F "30" model. Never was there such a record of service and satisfaction as this car has given its 30,000 owners. So flawless has been the record, we have today 30,000 salesmen—all working for love.

DO YOU KNOW THAT STUDEBAKER E-M-F "30" is the oldest car in the world in its present form—this is its fourth year—and the few changes that have been made from time to time were in external appearances only—we have kept up with the style in body design?

NO OTHER POWER PLANT has ever been able to equal this in performance—"Old Bullet," the ninth car we built, holds several world's records for speed—84 miles an hour on Atlanta Speedway, and she and the others of that first famous litter hold all world's records for endurance. Every one of them are in service today and many of the first five hundred have over 100,000 miles of rough roads toured to their credit.

TAKE CAR NO. 2 for example. It is in New Mexico. Owner writes: "Friends who have purchased your later models on my recommendation tell me their cars are great; but after four years of driving over western trails, I tell you I don't believe you ever built another car quite as good as my No. 2."

ISN'T IT SPLENDID to get letters like that? Car No. 1? Why that car—our first—was used for two years at the factory as a demonstrator and was then put in the hardest kind of service as a "pick-up wagon," doing heavy truck work. Can't kill her—looks as if she was good for twenty years or more at the same kind of work.

WHEN OUR DEALERS COME TO THE FACTORY it is a favorite stunt to take a ride in Old No. 1, on top of a load of castings, perhaps. And each time they marvel at the durability of the old car—knowing though they do the quality of all E-M-F "30" cars.

THAT IS WHY WE HESITATE to claim any improvement in our 1912 model E-M-F "30" over any previous model—persons who know will doubt our ability to improve on perfection—or what they consider the nearest approach to perfection that has ever been attained in a motor car.

BUT WE HAVE MADE A FEW minor changes that may rightfully be called improvements. Here are some you will agree are better: Longer wheel base—now 112 inches—permitting of lengthening the body and giving more room in front as well as the rear seat. Body is also several inches wider, making ample room for three 200-pounders in the rear seat; drop frame instead of former straight frame, gives lower center of gravity and lower, more rakish appearance to car. Springs are longer also—both front and rear—always the easiest riding car, it is still more velvety in motion.

A FEW MECHANICAL CHANGES—not necessarily improvements, though of course engineers think they are—are improved steering gear—better facilities for oiling and adjusting. At the same time we have emulated the $5,000 cars by placing spark and throttle levers on top of the steering wheel; large steering wheel of Circassian walnut, gives classy appearance and makes "thumb and finger control" possible.

NO CHANGE IN MOTOR—you will be pleased to hear that. Fact is we would not dare to make the slightest change in that wonderful motor for fear we could never again get quite as powerful a one.

NEITHER HAS THERE BEEN any change in transmission, control, axle or chassis detail, save only those mentioned—the drop frame and longer springs.

E-M-F "30" IS MORE BEAUTIFUL, though, than ever before. Truth to tell, we have always thought there was room for improvement in the outward appearance of this car. But you must remember that in order to give our customers the highest degree of mechanical excellence, in past years we have had to design the body severely plain. And we are proud of that policy—other makers adopted the opposite policy, made cars that misled buyers by their looks—and are now either in the junk heap or on the way there—expected soon.

BUT NOW IT IS DIFFERENT—we have our mammoth plants and they are paid for. We have a more perfect organization. Practically unlimited capital enables us to buy better—and prices of all materials are lower.

SO NOW WE CAN ADD appearance to efficiency—luxurious appointments to mechanical perfection—and sell you that much better car in 1912 for the same price you paid in 1911—and for $150 less than we had to charge in 1908-9 and 10.

WE HAVE PROMISED FROM the first to improve wherever and whenever possible and to "divide with the buyer the savings we effect by our superior facilities." This 1912 announcement is the fulfillment of that promise.

FOR THE PRICE HAS NOT BEEN INCREASED—the big, luxurious, fore-door model will remain at $1,100 F. O. B. factory. Let those try who may, none can equal this value. They never have been able to and it is no part of our plan that they ever shall.

THE BODY IS A BEAUTY—one of the most improved "straight line" type—perfectly straight from front to rear. All levers inside; door latches concealed; large ventilators in dash so it is just as cool in front as in rear. Also we provide so doors cannot stand ajar, so speed of car sucks out warm air, permitting cool air to replace it constantly. Actual thermometer tests show our front compartment to be cooler than the rear. Only objection to fore-door design eliminated.

IN A WORD the Studebaker E-M-F "30" will continue to be in 1912, as it has always been, the best car in the world for less than $2,500—the first choice in its class of all well informed buyers. Others thrive on our leavings—they live because we cannot supply the full demand, even making, as we do, one hundred of these cars every day.

MADE IN FOUR MODELS for 1912: Fore-door Five-Passenger Touring Car; Fore-door Detachable Demi-Tonneau, $1,100; Fore-door Roadster, $1,100, and Coupe, $1,475. Full detailed specifications in the catalog.

THE STORY OF THE FLANDERS "20" is even more simply told. There is no change in this sterling model—not the slightest, either in mechanical detail or in appearance. We could see no chance for improvements.

SHE HAS COME INTO HER OWN—never was more signal victory than this little car has achieved. Never did any automobile enjoy greater over-demand than Flanders "20" does now, and with an output of 100 per day at that.

YOU WILL REMEMBER that, like all new models, Flanders "20" did not come up to Designer Heustlet's hopes for the first season—1909-10. There were several minor defects.

WE SAID SO FRANKLY in our ad announcing the improved 1911 three-speed model. Competitors criticized us severely—said it was bad business to "tell all we know to the public." Well, perhaps—only it didn't work out that way—much to their chagrin.

WE USE STRONG STATEMENTS in our ads—have the goods and ordinary terms cannot do justice to them. So do others—deal in superlatives—when they are proclaiming hoped-for virtues. Past errors they are singularly silent about, however.

WE HAD TO ADMIT that the two-speed idea was wrong for a touring car. It's only advantage was cheapness of manufacture, and while we had the customer's interest at heart when we designed the two-speed Flanders "20," we found that we were mistaken and that the customers—experienced buyers, anyway—would gladly pay a trifle more to have the added efficiency and added control of a three-speed selective sliding gear transmission.

WHILE WE WERE ABOUT IT we designed the handsomest fore-door touring body that was ever seen on a moderate priced car.

AND WHAT A RECORD she has made—it is simply splendid. Discredited by her past dealers and individual buyers alike were superstitious. Competitors "knocked" for fair and tried to convince buyers that the three-speed model was really no great improvement over the former two-speed. We sometimes think this very knocking was our greatest advertisement, for, of course, the public knew that the men whose name this car bore would stand back of the product—it had been his pride from the first.

SO THEY DETERMINED TO TRY THE new car out. And they certainly did figure out some grueling tests—speed, hill climbing, mud plugging, sand fighting—every imaginary stunt that could break down a car or prove her ability. And Flanders "20" always came up smiling. The astonishment of the opponents was something to see. From that time she forged steadily ahead, sweeping from her path every would-be rival until today she is the acknowledged leader. Dealers tell us that there would be no other light touring car sold if they could get enough three-speed Flanders "20"s to fill the demand.

IN LARGE CITIES buyers are so well informed they simply won't accept substitutes—they will order six months ahead and wait for Flanders "20" rather than take an assembled or "tin car" as a substitute. But in smaller towns where there are fewer cars and folks don't have as good a chance to compare performance and durability, dealers are still able to persuade buyers that the imitations are "just as good." That is where the "tin cars" thrive.

WE HAD IN MIND in designing this car, the great class of well-to-do business men who want a car of sterling quality and yet feel that they cannot afford a car as large as E-M-F "30."

NOW WE COULD HAVE DONE as we did with E-M-F "30" five years ago—designed with an eye single to mechanical excellence and without regard to appearance. But that day has passed. The opinion of the other makers to the contrary notwithstanding, we believe the farmer and the man in the village has just as artistic a sense—is just as well informed on up-to-date designs as the city man. And we determined to make a handsome car as well as a good one.

NOW THAT COSTS MORE, OF COURSE—there is actually more than $250 more factory cost in Flanders "20" than in any of its competitors—yet there is not nearly that difference in the selling price.

NOW COMPARE THEM. Ask your local dealer to drive his Flanders "20" demonstrator up beside one of the several makes of "tin cars" so you can see the wonderful difference.

COMPARE POINT FOR POINT—the French-type bonnet of the Flanders with the simple, cheap-looking—and cheap—motor cover on the front of the other. The full fenders of the Flanders with the scrawny, thin-looking mud-guards of cars that presume to compete with it. Even the equipment—lamps, top, windshield, are superior in looks and in quality.

APPEARANCE IS IMPORTANT. However matter-of-fact a man may claim to be, his wife and daughters crave the artistic and the beautiful. And Flanders "20" is their choice because there they find it to be as great a degree as in the highest priced car on the market.

YOUR MECHANICAL SENSE will also be appeased—we are talking to you, Mr. Practical man—if you will investigate the chassis details and the power plant. You will find a four-cylinder motor of most approved French type and a transmission like that in E-M-F "30"—same excellent axle design, too, and you will find, if you know steel, that the materials that go into this car are not surpassed in quality by that used in any automobile at any price—bar none.

FLANDERS "20" HAS NO RIVAL when you consider all points. No other car on the market gives the buyer so much mechanical excellence and so much to be proud of in appearance as the Flanders "20" at $800.

HERE'S AN EXCERPT from a letter written by one of our dealers by a certain Detroit manufacturer: "Why not take on ten or fifteen of our cars? You know you cannot get Flanders "20"s enough to supply our trade. Your customers get impatient waiting and you may lose some sales. We have cars in stock and can ship at once. Besides our discounts to dealers are larger."

BUT THAT DEALER DIDN'T FALL—you never heard of a dealer giving up the Studebaker E-M-F line. Never heard of a dealer handling any other if he could get this one. Dealers want cars that sell themselves—that are backed by a guarantee for a full year, and that really say something.

EVERY STUDEBAKER DEALER IS JEALOUS of the proud position he occupies—he is honored and respected above all other rivals in his own community because he sells the best cars and keeps his word—the cars make good. And the manufacturer backs him up. He will not sacrifice that proud position for a few chance sales, nor for a bigger rake-off will he sell to his townsmen cars that he knows are unsalable elsewhere.

OUR ONLY PROBLEM IS DELIVERY. We are not going to make any rash promises. We cannot promise to deliver every car that is ordered. All we can do is repeat that we are making one hundred cars per day now! That we are doubling our factory facilities as fast as bricks can be laid and machinery installed! That we will be making two hundred per day within 90 days and will work full force all winter in hopes of catching up with the demand—but that is the limit of our ability for the present.

FOUR MODELS OF THIS CAR ALSO FOR 1912. Fore-door Five Passenger Touring Car—slightly smaller than E-M-F "30," not quite so speedy—45 miles per hour—but just as efficient; 4-Passenger Suburban—Ideal car for rural residents; 2-Passenger Coupe, and 2-Passenger Runabout. Full detailed specifications in catalog.

COLORADO, TEXAS, AUGUST 18, 1911.

So many people, as soon as they see an automobile coming down the road, get scared; oftentimes worse than the team, and will either turn out on the wrong side or not turn out at all, and lots of time causes trouble; so we give the following free advice:

The state of Illinois has an automobile law that seems to fill a long-felt want; its workings are as follows: Whenever a person operating a motor vehicle on the public highway meets any person driving a horse or other vehicle, the person operating the motor vehicle and the person so met must each reasonably turn to the right of the center of the beaten track of such highway so as to pass without interference. Whenever the driver of a motor vehicle or a motor bicycle overtakes any other person driving or walking or driving upon the public highway, he must pass to the left side of such person and the person about to be passed as soon as practicable upon signal must turn to the right of the center of the beaten track so as to permit the driver of such motor vehicle or motor bicycle free passage to the left. The Peoria Star, usually given to level-headedness, says that "the average man in the auto and the man driving the horse want to be right and decent, but there is a sprinkling of drivers of both kinds of vehicles that ought to be clubbed over the head. The reckless speeder who rushes past a carriage filled with women and children, without consideration of the consequences, ought to be put in the county jail, and the onery cuss who drives sedate old Dobbin in the center of the highway and refuses to let an auto pass should be put on the rock pile for ten days. Consideration, moderation and the golden rule will make "life on the road" a pleasure for all."

The crowd of Concho fishermen have returned. In the crowd we noticed Dr. T. J. Ratliff and family, R. P. Price and family, L. W. Sandusky and family, C. H. Earnest and family, Reeves Coleman together with Perry Bracy and his partner, making 22 in all. They spent eight days in the cooling shade of the Concho, and report the catch all the way from 500 to 1,000 pounds. Sandusky was discovered one morning sitting on a log down the river repeating the following: "Oh, I wish I was out yonder where a foot log spans the stream, and the cows hunt for shadows where they chew their cud and dream; I would like to be there waiting for a foolish fish to bite, with the whole world still beside me and no trouble yet in sight; dressed in shirt and trousers only and not a bill to dread, with no duties to disturb me and no bald spot on my head. Oh, I wish that I were Willie, with no hankering for fame, seeking after no high honor that some other wants to claim; free from all the futile frettings and the needless distress, with a shirt and trousers only to conceal my nakedness. Oh, I wish that I were Willie leaning back against the tree, where I couldn't hear my mother calling, eagerly to me." Dr. Ratliff said it was the time of his life:

Where strands of waving mosses
Drape the spectre pecan trees,
And butterflies are floating
In the fragrant breathing breeze.
Where the pensive pure mosquito
Dreams away the golden hours,
And sated cattle wander midst
A realm of royal flowers."

They are now in the line of apostolic succession, and are fit subjects to join the Annanias Club.

Gov. Colquitt Sends His Fifth Message.

Governor Colquitt this morning sent another message to the Legislature recommending an amendment to the pure food law so as to bring the food bureau now maintained at College Station directly under the control of the State Food and Dairy commissioners. He also recommended giving the food commissioners more authority in the inspection of food stuffs.

The Appropriation Bill has gone to a free conference committee of both houses and the work of adjusting the differences is well under way.

The re-districting bills have been introduced by the committees having them under charge but the work is progressing slowly; it is likely that considerable friction will grow out of these measures as all factions will want the state re-districted to suit their purposes.

The investigation into election frauds has proven the sensation of the session. The anti Wednesday demanded council to represent them at the investigation but were refused by the committee, and the war goes merrily on.

On Wednesday the governor submitted new subjects for legislation urging the creation of a state normal school board of regents, the creation of the office of public highway engineer and an amendment of the fire insurance law seeking to protect the public from the fraud practiced by wild-cat insurance companies.

WEST TEXAS ODD FELLOWS ASS'N

ONE OF THE MOST PLEASANT, PROFITABLE, HARMONIOUS MEETINGS

IN HISTORY OF ORGANIZATION

Two of Colorado's Citizens Officially Honored by Election.

It was the consensus of opinion among the delegates to the tenth annual session to the West Texas Odd Fellows Association, which closed its labors here last week too late for the proceedings to appear in last week's Record, that the meeting was one of the most successful and profitable, in the history of the organization.

Beginning in an humble way, handicapped with doubt as to its survival, the organization has grown by virtue of its good works and Samaritan spirit to such proportions and influence, that it has been taken under the wing of the state organization, and the handmaiden has been exalted to a place of honor less only than that of the mistress.

The session opened last Wednesday morning at the union tabernacle, with about 100 delegates in attendance but the arriving trains during the day and Wednesday night swelled the crowd to at least 150.

Promptly at ten o'clock the association was opened by President Rainbolt, of Merkel, and after prayer by the chaplain, Brother J. E. Rosson, of Trent, the serious business of the meeting began. In the absence of Judge A. J. Coe, who had been selected to extend the welcome on behalf of the citizens of the town, Judge W. B. Crockett did the courteous act in a manner so pleasing as to make everyone feel that he and she were under their own vine and fig tree.

Miss Mary Coe favored the Association with a delightful solo. After the response to the extended hospitality of the city on behalf of the Association by R. E. Rosser, of Snyder, Mr. J. J. Patterson spoke words of welcome on behalf of Colorado subordinate Lodge No. 280, which was responded to by Pence, of Midland. Dr. A. H. Weston, on behalf of the Evergreen Rebekah Lodge, No. 223, assured the delegates there was no need to offer welcome and hospitality to one crowd of Odd Fellows by another. The law of the desert was the rule of Oddfellowship: What is mine is Allah's; what is Allah's is thine; take that is thine."

Judge Isaacs, of Midland, responded on behalf of the visiting Rebekahs in a very happy little talk; after which a partial report of the credential committee was made and the standing committees for the session appointed, then adjournment was had for noon.

The evening session opened with appropriate music, after which Miss Bessie Dolan, of Taylor, delivered an address on Rebekah work. Miss Bessie is president of Rebekah assembly of Texas and delivered a fine address.

The regular business was then taken up, after which Miss Kittle Neal, of Midland, gave a reading, "Why I am a Rebekah." This was listened to with great interest and pronounced by all a great paper.

Reports from the officers, also the credential committee report, was read and received, then the session adjourned until Thursday morning.

At 8:30 p. m., Wednesday evening at the club rooms Abilene and Cisco Rebekah Lodges competed on the degree work for West Texas Banner; also competed for medal. Chaplain's charge. This being for members only we can only report that the Cisco team carried off the banner, and Mrs. Dinwiddie, of Tye, captured the gold medal for the Chaplain's charge.

The competition for the subordinate banner was called off that the work of the Rebekah teams might be witnessed by all.

On Thursday morning the election of officers was the chief feature, which resulted in the honoring of two of Colorado's most representative citizens. Owing to a change in the constitution by reason of the correlation of the district with the state Association, making officers of the former members of the latter, no lady is eligible to the office of president. This was a great disappointment to the friends of Mrs. Katie Doss, who has been, since the organization of the Association, one of its most zealous members and enthusiastic workers. As a compromise, however, Brother W. L. Doss was honored with the highest office in the association, and Mrs. Jas. Johnson, of Colorado, was elected Secretary.

The set program for the day was carried out, after the Association had been corralled on the west side of the court house and had its likeness taken.

At night a public reception for the members of the lodges, their friends, guests and families, was held at the club rooms (where for several hours refreshments, clever conversation and recitations enlivened the time, and made every one feel that it is indeed a good thing to be a Rebekah and an Odd Fellow.

Not one of the delegates but expressed a most enjoyable visit and pleasant impression of the city of Colorado, and inasmuch as it could not be held here twice in succession, the association determined to have it as near as possible, and Sweetwater was the place selected.

So passed a pleasant time for both hosts and guests; and the meeting will do much to stimulate a greater interest in the local members of both lodges.

We here give a partial list of visiting delegates:

A GOOD LETTER FROM CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Zelner Writes to Her Parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis, at Loraine—Break Ground for Great Exposition.

Lakeside, California, July 25, 1911.

We took the early train for San Diego Saturday morning to attend the ground breaking celebration for the 1915 Exposition.

We went on H street and saw the Old Mission Parade. First came the beautiful pink and white float bearing Queen Romona and her maidens in waiting. Next came the float bearing King Cabrillo and his faithful Spanish followers.

All of the 21 floats were decorated with the rarest and loveliest flowers that could be procured in California. All except the first two of the floats bore old missions. In front went a bearer with a banner upon which was the name of the Mission and the date upon which it was founded. In many of them the old mission bells were ringing while in front of them amid the green palms and fragrant flowers stood the robed priests teaching the Indians that grouped about them. On some of the floats were Indian boys and girls.

The "Red Men" carried all kinds of war clubs and Indian weapons.

On one mission two blackbirds were perched; on another a dove, while in front of one a sombre owl sat. Back of this mission stood a tall, bare tree. On its bleak limbs two hawks had alighted with outstretched wings as if ready for flight at any moment.

Some of the men in the parade were dressed as knights of old with their shields and suits of silver.

The parade was nearly two hours passing, and I thought it was simply grand.

In the afternoon we crossed the bay in a large ferry boat, to Coronado, where the aviation meet was held. We closely examined the air ships. To me they seem very simply constructed. We saw two different men make flights. One of them was only 19 years of age; the youngest aviator in the United States. His air-ship, which he himself constructed, was wrecked some distance from the grand stand, but he was unhurt. It is a strange sensation to see one fly away between earth and sky.

We expected to return home before night, but when we reached the depot the train was rolling over the hills out of sight. After eating supper we sat on the lawn by the electric fountain where green, gold and red lights in the palms lighted up the sparkling water.

One of the most unique show windows I noticed was that made of ground and grain coffee; the grains representing the ocean, the ground coffee the land. A ship was on the ocean. In another window was a human skeleton. Placed before and about it were bottles of whiskey, cigarette papers and all kinds of poisons. A card bore this inscription: "This man is surely a dead one, but we are live San Diegans."

At Jessop's (jewelers) we saw the long white ostrich plume to which the gold pen is attached with which President Taft will sign the invitation to the world to be present at the Exposition in 1915.

We went to the theatre that night and enjoyed a grand play. The city was crowded with visitors. We reached home at ten o'clock.

somewhat weary, but we had enjoyed every minute of the day, and would not have missed it for anything. I thought of you and wished you could have been with us.

Ceremonies in Park.

Ground has been broken for the Exposition, as a little heap of dirt far up in the canyon beyond the Rush High school will this morning testify. The first sod was turned yesterday afternoon, attended with ceremonies fully in keeping with the importance of the event. President W. H. Taft, standing in the east room of the White House at Washington, played his part well. Promptly at seven o'clock, eastern time, President Taft pressed the electric button which unfurled the president's flag of the speakers stand in the park canyon. As the lovely banner spread out in all its beauty vociferous cheers arose from the hillside where thousands of visitors and citizens had gathered to witness the ceremony.

Ground was broken with a silver pick and spade. Hon. John Barrett, representing the President of the United States as special envoy, turned the first sod. He was followed by U. S. Grant, Sr., and other San Diegans who have been prominent in the exposition work and the city's progress.

Hon. John Barrett was the principal speaker. Mayor Pro Tem Woods also delivered a brief address—an address which reflected great credit on the office he is filling. There were other discourses, appropriate and well received.

The ground-breaking ceremonies in the park were preceded by a military and naval parade. This parade was not quite what it should have been, because of the fact that the cruisers left the harbor after it was planned, and the several thousand sailors who had planned to march could not be in line.

Headed by Charles Moore, President of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition of San Francisco, a delegation of 50 prominent officials and directors of that company, reached here yesterday afternoon. They attended the ground-breaking exercises and departed last night by special trains for the north. President Moore and his followers were all loud in their praise of San Diego. The carnival spirit displayed here satisfied them of the enthusiasm of the San Diego people and forecasted, they said, an exposition of which Southern California will never be ashamed. Several of the visitors declared San Diego to be the natural point of entry from the Panama Canal. It was promised that many San Francisco people will exchange visits with San Diegans during the two expositions.

Although some of the visitors were today departing for the north, the incoming trains were bringing great crowds. The Escondido excursion this afternoon brought nearly 400. Twenty members of the Escondido Chamber of Commerce came down yesterday by automobile. They declared that almost the entire population of Escondido will be represented here. Railroad officials are now predicting that there will be 30,000 visitors in the city. All incoming trains and boats are filled to the fullest capacity. The Santa Fe officials declare that they can take care of the crowds, no matter how great, they may be.

MRS HENRY ZELNER, Lakeside, California.

Did Brother Ball wake the wrong passenger when he undertook to put Oscar off? It looks that way.—Waco Times Herald.

Wait, Brother Robinson, until the train arrives at the station in July, 1912, and you'll see O. T. (one term) put off all right, and Tom Ball will be on the scene.

SUMMER DAYS IN HONOLULU

INTERESTING LETTER FROM MISS VAN TUYL, WHO IS WITH WEBB PARTY.

FACTS AND FANCIES ABOUT

Uncle Sam's Beautiful Island Possessions Told In a Pleasing Way.

The Pacific Ocean is indeed a "silent sea." We did not see a vessel all the way across. The steamer Sierra, which sails every three weeks from San Francisco, is a fine one, and the service excellent, and we had a pleasant celebration of the glorious fourth. The officers came on board to look for opium before we landed.

Honolulu is truly the garden spot of the earth, and the climate is perfection, averaging from about 60 to 70 degrees the year round. The houses are mostly in bungalow style, with numerous balconies. Palm trees are in all the yards and the hedges are of hibiscus or night-blooming cerus. We saw one street over a mile long with hedges of the night-blooming cerus with a thousand blossoms.

The servants are mostly Japanese, but the gardener at this hotel is a Korean. There are numbers of Japanese, Chinese, Portuguese, and some Koreans, on the island. We can see the island of Molokai where the leper colony is situated.

Honolulu has a wonderful harbor, and the government is building the largest dry dock in the world here.

We are still, and shall be forever, mightily enthusiastic over this beautiful island. This morning we went all over a tremendous pineapple canning factory. In the first place we saw the cans being made out of flat pieces of tin, and after they were completed, all but the top, they went to the next building. There the pineapples picked that morning, weighing at least ten, and sometimes fourteen, pounds apiece, were being brought in, peeled and sliced by machinery, of course—and then put into the cans, covered syrup, sealed cooked; cans shellacked, labels put on, crated and ready for the ships. We watched all that, and even watched the boxes being made by machinery. We sampled the fruit as it was being sliced and after it was cooked; delicious beyond words.

It was a most interesting thing to see that half the employees were little Jap girls, and they were so picturesque in their native dresses.

We had to pass by a really beautiful vine-clad jail, and our Chinese driver informed us that the wing nearest us was for "the ladies."

We spent Saturday morning at the Aquarium, and found it difficult to leave the beautiful fish. I never saw such beautiful coloring, and they were all caught around here. The octopus was the most fascinating of all. At first he would not move, but clung—a soft grey mass—to the rock. After awhile he uncurled his eight great, fat arms, and turned a pale pink and began rattling around—unspeakably disgusting and interesting, for all that.

In the afternoon we went to market. It is a very large one, covering a whole square, and the articles for sale and the buyers are very interesting. To our horror we found octopi for sale—quite a dainty the natives think—and all those beautiful fish that we spent the morning admiring are commonly used for food.

We bought a sample of each kind of fruit that was new to us and had a little feast when we reached home. So far, alligator pears are the only entirely strange fruit that I care for; which does not mean that we starve, for we have excellent things to eat.

Sunday morning we went to Sunday school and church at Dr. Scudder's. He is a congregationalist and has the largest church on the islands. The Congregationalists sent the first missionaries to the Hawaiian Islands, and the majority belong to that denomination; though the Episcopalians are also doing good work there. Dr. Scudder has an immense Sunday school building, and a large church, too. We all enjoyed hearing him.

In the beginner's class the small white children were very cunning, but their Jap maids who sat around the wall waiting were cuter yet.

One evening we went to the Opera House where a great mass meeting was being held to take up the matter of "unending peace" between the United States and England. Several thousand people were there. The Hawaiian band played, and a prominent American who lives here presented the motion that the proposition be accepted and an Englishman seconded the motion; each, of course, giving reasons. Then this was called to England. In the end enthusiasm waxed high, especially when singing "The Star Spangled Banner," "God Save the King," and "Auld Lang Syne." A British man-of-war was in port, and all the sailors were present. A great many Hawaiians saw them also.

The shops are fascinating. They are all either Japanese or Chinese, and the attendants are small, brown and attentive. We feel almost as if we were in Japan there are so many Japanese here. The babies are the cutest of all. They are just like little dolls, with their hair cut in that stiff, wig-like way, and wearing wee kimonos. We took pictures, which we hope will be good, of one baby.

Steamers sail from here to San Francisco, Vancouver, Hongkong, Sydney and Valparaiso. In August there will be thirty-two dates of sailing. Sometimes there are two a day, and then no steamer for several days. Our steamer, the Sierra, will leave for San Francisco August 23.

We had a most delightful four-mile walk around "Diamond Head," the other day. "Diamond Head" is the highest fort, with the exception of Gibraltar, in the world. It is an extinct volcano, guarding one entrance to the harbor, and the inside is a tremendous old crater. On the far side is Fort Ruger, and there we obtained permission to go through the tunnel, the only entrance to the crater. It was long, narrow and dark, but quite worth going through, for inside the soldiers were shooting at targets, and it was a weird feeling to see a mountain all around us with apparently no exit.

On the highest point there is a sight and the look-out telephones down to the gunners at which degree and angle to point the cannon. The cannon themselves are not visible to the enemy but their shells will shoot over the mountain and thirteen miles out to sea—moral, don't be an enemy.

We have visited the capitol, which formerly was the royal palace. The throne room is very large and is hung with portraits of former kings and queens. While there we saw the fat Chinese consul in his silk hat and frock coat.

Yesterday we went to the royal cemetery. We climbed down some steps and there was a vault filled with marble coffins, or else the coffins were behind the marble squares and in front of each stood the king's sceptre, resembling a telephone pole with feathers on top. Behind the cemetery was a waterfall coming from the mountains, and all around were palms and luxurious vegetation.

We also saw the oldest wooden house on the islands. It was made in sections in Boston in 1821 and sent around the Horn and put together here.

Surf riding is fascinating to watch and apparently difficult to do. The natives do it to perfection. They take flat boards and go way out to the beginning of the breakers. They lie flat at first and then stand while the waves carry them way up on the beach. One man varied the performance by coming in standing on his head. Canoes are also used and the Hawaiians take passengers in the canoes, but the board is the original boat. We go to the beach nearly every day to watch the sport.

We have seen and done so much that is interesting that we cannot begin to tell all about everything, but will give a little sketch. The other day we started out to climb "Punch Bowl," a little extinct volcano, but the rest of the party thought the trail too steep. I went on and was rewarded by a most beautiful view of the harbor, beginning at one end with Diamond Head and ending with Pearl Harbor in the distance. Diamond Head is the fort we visited. We certainly were fortunate to get permits for the visit.

There is an excellent museum here which we have visited twice. In it are the famous feather cloaks that it took a hundred years to collect the rare feathers for. The birds only have one feather the right color to use for the cloak, and there were very few of the birds. There were many bowls inlaid with human teeth extracted from vanquished enemies, also skulls of men who had been eaten, and human chowder bowls. While there we happened to meet the Vice-President of the college where this museum is situated. He very kindly took us to his house and showed us some very beautiful tall clocks which he had carved.

Across the street is a rice field which we have investigated. It is flooded with water which comes from a marvelous artesian well right on the place. The farmers are Chinese and use water buffaloes for plowing. All around the field are coconut trees, and the ocean makes one very effective fence. So you see what a picturesque place we have in front of us.

A very rich gentleman here, has a place which he keeps open to the public. It is a Japanese village, and every stick used to build the little Japanese houses is imported from Japan. The gardens are full of little stunted shrubs, brooks, waterfalls and arched bridges. We spent one lovely afternoon there.

The Hawaiian Band plays every Tuesday night in the square back of us, and we enjoy those evenings. They always sing a few numbers in their native tongue.

We have visited a very gaudy Chinese Joss House, and have "Done China Town." Two weeks from today we sail for San Francisco.

ELEANOR VAN TUYL

John W. Gates has gone. To what port his frail bark has passed we will not attempt to say. His body will be buried in finery. All that money can bestow will be lavished upon the remains of the once great money king. But not a dollar of his great fortune will add one pleasure to life, beyond the grave. The soul of Gates, like the poorest man that ever lived, has gone out to face a vast eternity. To have a purpose in life, to accomplish something, to be a success, as men call success is worth while, but the hour comes to every man when he must lay down that which he cannot give and face eternity on the same footing as the man who does not own a dollar. It is commendable in any man to make money, but there are a thousand things that are much better than making money.

TAKE IT IN TIME.

Just as Scores of Colorado People Have.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect the aching back, Urinary troubles, dropsy, surely follow.

Doan's Kidney Pills relieve back-ache. Strengthen the kidneys. Many people in this locality recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here's one case:

Mrs. G. M. Paul, 118 Seventh St., San Angelo, Texas, says: "My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills is just as high today as it was three years ago, when I publicly recommended them. This remedy did me more good than all other remedies I have ever tried. For several years I suffered almost continuously from kidney trouble. Pains in my back and sides, headaches and a weakness of my kidneys were the symptoms of my complaint, which caused me the greatest annoyance. After taking a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I improved, and before I had finished the contents of one box I felt like a different woman. About six months ago I wrenched my back and became so lame that I could hardly move. I knew what to do from past experience, and at once procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Taking them as directed I was relieved, and have had no trouble with my kidneys since. Several of my neighbors have also tried Doan's Kidney Pills and think there is no equal to them."

CONSTIPATION.

Its Cause and How to Cure It.

Eat too much. Stomach feels bloated. All out of sorts. Don't feel like work to-day. Guess 've another case of biliousness. "Take anything!"

"Yes; some pills, but no results; suppose I'm getting ironclad. Sometimes I double the dose, then they physic me so hard I'm too weak to work. Think I'll have to try something new." "Ever try Prickly Ash Bitters?" "No; I've heard a good deal about it, but never tried it." "Well, you'll be pleased with the results."

The purgative action of Prickly Ash Bitters no, only removes hard impactions, gas and impurities, but it strengthens the muscular action of the bowels which causes them to move regularly. Prickly Ash Bitters is a bowel tonic and regulator in the truest sense. It promotes daily evacuations, establishes healthy movements and is the best known remedy for disordered digestion, flatulence and a constipated habit.

D. M. Blackwelder, of Litchfield, Ill., says in the Litchfield News: "I am perfectly willing, in fact glad to testify to the value of Prickly Ash Bitters as a medicine for the kidneys, stomach and bowels. I have used it whenever I needed anything of the kind for the last fifteen years and it has always given satisfaction."

LORAIN LOCALS

Brief Mention of the Week's Happenings at Busy Town of Loraine.

Mrs. V. D. Payne and son, Vic, visited with friends and relatives at Colorado this week.

Rufus White and wife, of Roswell, N. M., are here on a visit to relatives. Mrs. Ellen Smith, of Fort Worth, who has been visiting her father, P. M. White and family, of this city, returned to her home last Monday.

J. H. Plunk and family have moved to Sulphur Springs. Mr. Plunk left Monday in a car with his household goods and live stock; his family following Tuesday morning.

A. J. Payne came over from Colorado Tuesday and spent the day here.

A. R. Lawrence returned Monday from a five week's trip. He has held meetings in Pritchett, in Upshur county, at Center Point, near there, and at Rising Star.

Rev. Ben Richburg arrived here the first of the week and took charge of the Baptist meeting in progress here. He is a serious and forceful speaker and presents the truths of the gospel in a clean-cut logical way. The attendance of the meeting is good.

Rev. G. C. Farris began a meeting for the Baptist congregation at Zellner this week. Good attendance and much interest is reported.

J. M. Templeton left Monday for New Mexico, driving across the country. He is on a prospecting trip.

James and Bill Bennett left Wednesday for Winters where they will visit relatives for a few days.

Irvin Brown and wife returned Sunday night from their trip to Coleman. Irvin seems to be wearing the recently acquired title of benedict with becoming dignity.

W. F. Altman went to Hermleigh on a business trip Monday. He left the latter part of the week for the eastern markets where he will purchase his fall stock for both the store here and at Hermleigh.

Mrs. Hollingsworth and daughter, Eulariall, have returned from their visit to Grapeland, Kingsville and Harlingen. They are the guests here of Mrs. Hollingsworth's daughters, Mesdames J. E. Stowe and Hubert Toler.

S. D. Dunnahoo and L. W. Rhodes returned from their fishing trip last Saturday. They certainly do tell some "skeery" ones, whew!

Grady Furlough, of Corpus Christi, and Miss Angie Butler were married this city last week. R. H. Watlington, Justice of the Peace, officiating. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents three miles southwest of Loraine.

Mrs. V. D. Payne and son returned Sunday evening from Abilene, where she has been visiting her mother.

P. B. Whipkey, of Colorado, spent last Saturday here, and attended the Masonic lodge that night.

Byron Byrne was here from his farm on Silver last Saturday. He speaks most encouragingly of the crops and says he attributes their present good condition to the fact that he has worked them constantly.

He is following the Campbell system of dry farming as closely as climatic and soil conditions will permit. Miss Anna Wiggins, of Roscoe, was the guest of Mrs. J. E. Stowe last Friday and Saturday.

Alonzo Phillips left Wednesday night for Tennessee on a two week's vacation and visit to his old home. W. A. Adams leaves tonight for Fort Worth, Dallas and other East Texas points. He will be gone about a week.

The Mitchell County Singing Convention for the Eastern District meets at the Plainview church near Buford tomorrow. A large number from here will attend and a large crowd from other parts of the county is expected. Frank Miles has returned from his trip to Mineral Wells, Fort Worth and Palestine. He says that the waters at the wells helped him greatly, but that the watermelons, peaches, etc., at other points undone it all.

Sandefer Will Address Pros.

President J. D. Sandefer, of Simmons College, yesterday afternoon telegraphed acceptance of an invitation from W. T. Bartholomew, chairman of the Tom Green County Prohibition Association, to deliver an address at San Angelo Friday, August 25, advocating State-Wide Prohibition.

No Premium.

G. M. Geiger worked last week in a rush to get out a first bale for Westbrook. Mr. Geiger lives out between Colorado and Westbrook and on Saturday he got out his bale and took it over there, but failed to get a premium. The bale was ginned at the Lancaster gin free of charge, but no premium was made up.

Mr. Geiger sold his bale for 11.60 per hundred.

WESTBOORCK WAIFS

Interesting Letter from Mitchell County's West Side Me- tropolis.

J. A. Conaways residence burned down Sunday afternoon about one o'clock. Fire supposed to have originated from sparks from the kitchen flue blowing on the roof and setting the dry shingles afire. Mr. Conaway had just finished his lunch and was in the front part of the house when he heard the roaring of the flames before he was aware that the house was afire. His family was on taotem ETAETE. His family was not at home and he fought the fire single handed until beyond control. House and contents valued at between $800 and $1,000; total loss.

Mr. O. R. Lasseter, of Kirbyville, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lasseter of this place, has returned home.

Mr. Hyatt brought in Westbrook's first bale Saturday. He received 11.60 per pound for it. Mr. Lasseter bought the bale.

W. R. Charters and family returned home last week from an extended vacation back to his old home. W. R. has resumed his duties behind the pill counter.

Mrs. E. S. Hudson and children returned home last week after a two month's stay in San Antonio, Florence and other South Texas towns. Mr. Hudson has been "batching" since she left, and claims to have become quite proficient in the culinary art.

Mrs. C. B. Hooper and children left for Stanton Saturday to visit friends.

R. L. Womack, who has been making his home in Big Springs, returned to his home at Cuthbert Saturday.

Mr. J. A. Conaway was in town Wednesday buying material for the rebuilding of his residence which was burned last Sunday.

Mrs. L. C. Lesure left Wednesday morning for points in California to spend two or three months visiting friends.

L. E. Lasseter drove over from Colorado Monday. He stated that his horse is much better than the railroad train because he does not have to flag him.

The Lasseter Bros. gin started up Saturday, ginning the first bale of the season. The gin has been overhauled and put in first-class condition.

The Westbrook Gin Company is repairing their gin and will start it to running in a short time.

Mr. W. N. Hastings returned Sunday after an extended trip to Hico, Cisco and other points east of here.

Winston, Texas.

Hot winds are the prevailing weather. Most of us will be glad to see cool weather come again.

Miss Myrtle Brights visited Miss Marble Marrell.

Mrs. Kay visited Mrs. Louis Baker last week.

We have a letter from Henry King, out at Reminole, which we publish below:
Editor of the Colorado Record,
Colorado, Texas.
Dear friend Whipkey:
I noticed an article in your paper

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

last week describing what you called a "monostrosity," and wanting to know what it was.

We have thousands of those creatures here in our tanks and water troughs, and they are known as "Water Dogs," and when fully developed become what is known as ground lizards with a slick, shing skin, which frequent damp places.

The creature you speak of seems to correspond to the "pollywog," or "tadpole" that produces the frog. Their first appearance is as a young catfish, with legs which are at first useless; but as they develop the legs grow stronger and the gills begin to close up and the yellow mottles to disappear. By the time the creature is full grown the gills have entirely disappeared.

I do not know the proper name of these creatures, but give the one they are commonly known by here.

Trusting that this will answer your question as to "Whatisit," I remain, your friend at Seminole,

HENRY C. KING.

Mrs. W. A. Crowder came in this week from El Paso and finding Mr. Crowder gone to Galvez, she went on to Sweetwater to visit her son, Leslie.

Mrs. Looney Entertains.

On last Friday evening the hospitable home of Judge and Mrs. R. H. Looney was the scene of beauty and gaiety.

Mrs. Looney is a true Coloradan and does things as she is herself, a true Southern hospitable lady.

Wishing to honor the visiting young ladies and make all her friends have a good time, she prepared an evening that both old and young could enjoy—dancing in the house and 42 on the lawn.

Mrs. Looney looked her "queenliest" when she stood with the honored young ladies—Mrs. David Harrell, of Oklahoma City; Misses Figh, of Alabama; Miss Jean Figh, of Dallas; Miss Mary Boren and her own lovely daughter, Miss Looney, receiving the guests.

After such a royal greeting the guests immediately felt at home and held converse sweet with one another till the program should commence. The grand march was formed on the lawn, led by Miss Boren and Chester Thomas. After several beautiful figures had been given, to the delight of the onlookers, they marched up the back stairs, through the spacious rooms and halls upstairs, down the front stairs. At the bottom each one was presented with a program and shown into the ball room where they "tripped the light fantastic toe" till the wee sma hours of the morning.

Eleven tables of gay 42 players were scattered over the lawn, and many delightful games were played. Two beautiful prizes were given. Miss Ella Dry was the lucky lady and received a beautiful cut-glass jelly stand. Mr. Wes Allen got the gentleman's prize in a cut with Mr. Jerald Rorden, a book. Quite a number of out of town guests were present, among whom were Miss Henderson, of St. Louis. During the evening delicious punch was served the guests and after the 42 games, ice cream and macaroons were served. Mrs. Looney was ably assisted by Mr. W. B. Crockett in keeping score for the 42 players. Quite a number of the young folks were heard to say that they had the time of their lives.

The weather has been very warm; the glass running from 95 to 106.

Cotton is falling off a great deal on the tight land, but on the sand it is holding up well yet. It has commenced to open and several will commence picking this coming week. Very few worms yet.

A good many farmers will make feed enough for the coming year. The Methodists and Baptists have both had their meetings with success. The Baptists closed theirs on the 11th. Several persons were baptised at Mr. Hills tank on Sunday. Brother Leach conducted the services, with Brother Jones helping; with a full house every night.

Miss Eveline McGregor returned from Fluvanna where she has been visiting.

The Baggett gin is about ready for business, and in a few more days the hum of the gins will be heard all over the country. It is prosperity's music, and the dry spell, the lack of rain and the cotton pests will all be things of the past.

Colorado wants the aid of every citizen of Colorado and Mitchell county to make it a bigger and a better place. Now is the time for boosting, not knocking; for helping, not hendering. Won't someone take the lead?

You know the old croaker with his "know all" is on hand with all kinds of cotton pests. Every season at about this time he makes his appearance and tells the people what is going to happen. The wise man is the one who pays no attention to these reports, but goes his own way. It will all come out well, and when the time comes around once more the cotton crop will be there good and strong, just as it has always been. So don't get excited or discouraged about the damage that the various insects do, but let us live in hopes that when the time comes the crop will be here.

You may talk about the gardens of your city, and its sights, with your streets and parks and mansions lit up with electric lights. Your street parades and music; but they can't bring half the cheer. You will find in Mitchell county in the autumn of the year. RAMBLER.

Mrs. Shannon Entertains.

On Tuesday evening, from 8:30 to 12, Mrs. Shannon entertained at the St. James Hotel in honor of Miss Margaret Looney, who leaves Wednesday to attend school in California, and Miss Lillie Allen. About eighteen couples were present, and passed the evening very pleasantly with the ever-interesting game of 42, pleasant conversation and music.

Miss Eloise Shropshire and Miss Dozier drew for ladies prize—a hand painted ivory fan—which was won by Miss Shropshire; the lone hand went to Mr. Leftwich—Shepherd—a box of fancy stationery—and the gentleman's prize was won by Anthony Van Tuyl—a book.

Miss Mary Coe and Miss Looney rendered several delightful vocal selections, which were highly enjoyed by all.

At an appropriate hour a delicious refreshment course was served by Mrs. Barcroft, consisting of cream and macaroons.

The highest tribute was paid Mrs. Shannon on her abilities as a hostess, by the many compliments passed upon the enjoyable evening spent with her.

Jake's Restaurant Closed.

Jake has closed his restaurant for fifteen days, and all hands and the cook have gone fishing. Every year Jake takes his August vacation camping on the creek and having a jolly good time. The restaurant will be closed for fifteen days and thoroughly cleaned and repaired and gotten ready for fall business. Jake says that when he returns home he will take his family and a few friends out for a few days automobile ride and then open up. If anybody can have a good time out on a fishing trip, it is Jake, the 1884 restaurant man.

G. F. C.

Miss Hooper was the charming hostess for the G. F. C.'s last Thursday. The scene of five tables of gay players, each one looking their sweetest, was quite a pretty one. The guests for the afternoon were Misses Mary Boren, Lillian Liles, Henderson, of St. Louis, and Figh, of Alabama.

At the close of the game three prizes were awarded. Mrs. Floyd Beal was exceedingly lucky, as she carried off both the lone hand and royal prizes—a dainty little silver call bell and talcum shaker. Miss Henderson won the guests prize, a beautiful souvenir spoon. Miss Hooper was ably assisted by her mother in serving the tempting and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Seemed to Give Him a New Stomach. "I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeter, editor of the Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by all dealers.

Last week was little Miss Margaret and Master John Davis' birthday, so they jointly celebrated the occasion by inviting a number of their friends to spend the afternoon. Games were indulged in to their heart's content. "Course everybody had a good time, and wished them many more happy birthdays. The young host and hostess served watermelon; lemonade and cake.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Doss Kidney Pills, Guaranteed.

Quite a crowd of folks, young and some not so young, in order to avoid the excessive heat last Sunday, after Sunday school, went out to the cooling shade of the Lander's pasture, and all waded in the cool waters of the Champion. The evening was spent 'neath the shade of the trees reading and building air castles. Among those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cooksey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Avery and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Whipkey and family, Messrs Will Clayton, Phillips and Jackson, and some fifteen or twenty others.

Jerome Hester, of Dallas, spent a day or two last week here with his mother. Jerome's friends will be glad to learn that he has a position with the auditing department of the T. & P. general offices at Dallas. That he is making good is proven from the fact that he has been promoted a time or two already.

Miss Sarah Shaw returned from Hill county Wednesday morning. She reports Grandma Sneed as being a little better, but has been, and is, quite sick.

Mesdames A. J. Payne and Blandford went to Big Springs last week to arrange for a district meeting for the Methodist ladies, and were received by these good ladies, toasted, served and dined in quite a swell manner, indeed.

Kicked by a Horse. Tuesday evening J. J. Patterson was out feeding his horses and just as he was turning away he was kicked by one of them. It is supposed that one horse kicked at another and hit him. He was kicked in the right side just above the hip, which knocked him senseless. He was carried in the house, a doctor called, and is now reported badly bruised but not seriously hurt, and is now slowly improving.

Mrs. S. D. Vaughan, who has been down in Williamson county on a visit, has returned home.

Mrs. M. K. Jackson entertained the young ladies of her neighborhood with a pink and green luncheon Tuesday in honor of her cousin, Miss Sudie Spinks, who is visiting her from Meridian, Mississippi. The house was tastefully decorated with pink roses and ferns, and in the dining room beautiful ferns were banked on blocks of ice which had a cooling effect, as well as being pleasing to the eye. At ten o'clock the young ladies arrived looking as beautiful as the roses themselves. Several games of 42 were enjoyed, when the gracious hostess led the way to the dining room where a dainty four course luncheon was served. The place cards were hand-painted pink clematis and the souvenirs were pink rose buds. Mrs. Jackson was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Chatfield, of Dallas, who is spending the summer with her. After luncheon Miss Spinks gave several readings much to the delight of all, and Mrs. Hooper sang in her own sweet way, while others gave piano selections. Every one felt so refreshed that they even forgot the hot weather going home at midday.

Copeland-Threlkeld. G. E. Copeland and Miss Mae Threlkeld were married at Frederick, Oklahoma Tuesday evening. The groom is a capable young business man who has been in business there, having formerly lived in Colorado. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of I. E. Threlkeld, a pioneer citizen of Frederick. The young couple have not yet decided where they will reside.

Summer weather is gradually becoming fit for publication.
