This company will present on Friday night, a play in four acts, entitled "At the Old Cross Roads" which will introduce a very clever little tot only four years of age in a most prominent part.

The "Virginian" is a beautiful western play and in putting on "Big Hearted Jim" on Saturday night, you will see the companion play to the "Virginian."

TEXAS GOOD ENOUGH FOR FORMER RANGER

QUITTING ARGENTINE.

There is a "let up" for Captain Frank Johnson, former Texas ranger, who left last August with a party of cowboys to accept the superintendency of "Tex" Rekar's 6,000-acre ranch in Argentine Republic.

Johnson arrived here yesterday disgusted with conditions in the South American republic. The climate especially was disappointing.

"No white man can withstand the heat," he says. He will not return to Argentine.

Six Texas cowboys went with Johnson when he departed from the Rickard ranch. They were Elmo Holcomb, former "boss" at the Swenson ranch in Jones county; Frank Harris and Dick Waddell of Midland; Glenn Cunningham and James Frazer of Henrietta and Lawrence Clary of the Swenson ranch. Most of these men have returned, cured of any desire to punch cattle in Argentine.

Holcomb who stopped in Fort Worth to visit relatives on his way back home, gave a description of his experiences calculated to deter other adventurous Texans from visiting Argentine. He declared the people to be unfriendly, the climate disappointing and wages no better than in the United States.—Star Telegram.

Hope He'll Strike It Rich.

The parties who are drilling on the Seaman ranch in Kent county will install a standard rig in the near future. They are down six hundred feet and have already struck gas and evidences of oil.—Snyder Signal.

Plaintiffs allege that by reason of the defendant making and signing all the notes aforesaid, and delivering the same, he became liable and bound to pay the same, and my making and incurring said accounts, he became liable and bound likewise to pay the same, and also became liable and bound for the attorney's fees specified in said notes, which plaintiffs allege are reasonable.

Plaintiffs further aver that all the said accounts and notes are due and unpaid, and that though often requested, the defendant has failed and refused and still fails and refuses to pay the same or any part thereof, except as shown.

Plaintiffs aver that the defendant,

A CORRESPONDENCE COURSE ON SILOS.

A. & M. College Proposes Instructions That May be Turned to Great Advantage.

The question of properly constructed silos on Texas farms and ranches this year is a matter of vital importance to the state. We are pushing an educational campaign on silos and silage this year, because experiments everywhere show they mean prosperity. It is highly important, however, that farmers, and others having silos, get definite information in regard to the construction of silos and proper filling of the same, feeding to cattle, etc., or else there will be a large number of failures and much financial loss.

With this end in view, we have prepared a correspondence course on the subject of silos and silage. If a large number take this course we find that we can furnish it at a bare cost of one dollar, including the text book. The instruction will be free, the charge only covering printing and postage.

This proposition on the part of the A. & M. College is an extremely liberal one and is above all most practical. There is a great deal to be learned about the proper handling of a silo after it is purchased, and every man in this country who has bought a silo, or even contemplates buying one in the future, should take this course and familiarize himself with all the details of silo construction, method of filling, and proper way of feeding ensilage.

Applications may be sent direct to the A. & M. College or to the Record. We will forward them for any farmer wishing to take the course.

J. W. BAILEY FIGURES IN BANK SUIT.

St. Louis Bank Sues Terminal Railway Stock Was Sent to Former Senator.

The name of former Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, was brought into the proceedings in the suit of the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis to recover $1,500,000 worth of stock in the Nashville Terminal Railway Co., last week. A statement was made that without the knowledge of the bank directors, the stock was taken out of the bank and sent to Senator Bailey.

Bailey, the statement continued, placed the stock in the Standard Trust company, of New York, where it remained three years. Then it is charged that it was drawn out by the Tennessee construction company and turned over to Henry Clay Pierce, of St. Louis.

The statement was made by George Lockett Edwards, attorney for the bank at the hearing before Hugo Musch, special commissioner.

The terminal stock, said Attorney Edwards, was taken by the Tennessee Construction company as security for the building of the terminals and in 1904 pledged by the construction company as security for a loan in the National Bank of Commerce.

In the suit, it is charged that 10000 shares of the stock were withdrawn from the bank by Pierce or his agents while the loan was still unpaid. The suit is to recover this stock or its equivalent, $1,500,000.

NO GENERAL REPRISAL.

Republican Senators Decide Upon Policy Toward Administration.

By unanimous vote the Republican senate caucus committee decided there should be no general reprisal upon President Wilson for the Democratic holdup of the Taft nominations in the last session of congress, but the Republican opposition would be shown in the following cases:

In the appointments to the consular service of minor diplomatic posts, such as secretaries of embassies or legations where the merit system resorted to by former President Roosevelt and Taft was not followed.

When vacancies are created by removals from office which carry fixed tenure, unless made for cause and particularly where removals are made from office which require technical or special knowledge.

In pursuance of this policy, the Republican senators in executive session determined to oppose the nomination of a dozen postmasters until an investigation could be made as to the reason for vacancies in those cities. Postmasters from the home towns of senators were approved without opposition.

Several minor appointments to the department of justice were also approved.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY MAKING GOOD.

With the present term of District Court is the first for this place that District Attorney W. P. Leslie has been associated with in his official capacity, but it is already evident to all who have had occasion to visit the sessions that the duties of the office are well taken care of. He is earnest and conscientious in his work but is fearless and impartial in performing his duties.

He realizes the heavy responsibilities resting upon him as an officer whose sworn duty is to enforce the law. Though comparatively a young man, he is already an able lawyer and is fully prepared to take care of himself and the cause he represents in any crowd.

Again we say, this district is fortunate in having such a man to occupy such an important position.—Sweetwater Reporter.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Panama Canal Tolls Still a Bone of Contention—The Picturesque Senator Vardaman of Mississippi—The Much Shooped Representative, Sanj Kirkpatrick.

Washington, D. C. (Special)—Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, does not believe in half-way measures so far as free tolls are concerned for American ships passing through the Panama Canal. Rather than have the agitation continue on the part of Great Britain, that the American nation is about to violate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in absorbing the tolls on ships flying the flag of the United States, the senior senator from Oregon has introduced a bill abrogating the treaty as the easiest way out of the difficulty.

Senator Borah of Idaho, who is a member of the foreign relations committee of the senate, is not convinced that the Chamberlain bill is necessary on the ground that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty contemplated the building of the canal on foreign soil, whereas we have acquired the strip of territory through which the "big ditch" passes and the canal, by the very nature of things, is on American soil and therefore the treaty in no wise applies.

In any event the question is very much alive and is one of the perplexing problems which the administration has to solve in the very near future as the new ambassador to the United States from Great Britain, it is understood, is bringing with him the last word on the toll question from the English point of view.

One of the most, if not the most picturesque figure in the senate is James K. Vardaman of Mississippi, whose long black hair, falling to the shoulders, smooth-shaven face, piercing black eyes afford the guides of the capitol no end of small talk for the benefit of the tourists who are crowding the big building on the hill these pleasant days of spring.

But Vardaman in the senate and Vardaman in the saddle are as far apart as the poles. In the saddle Senator Vardaman looks like a Knight of Old, the lance and armor being the only things missing to complete the picture.

The junior senator from Mississippi made his appearance in Potomac Driveway the other day, on a handsome bay horse and his faultless riding and his stately mien, his eyes partly hidden by the brim of a soft hat, such as a southern gentleman wears on the stage and in congress, and his long black hair made a picture for an artist. Vardaman was immaculate in a dark blue coat pure white riding breeches, and black riding boots. Needless to say he was "the observed of all observers."

A new collection which will make the Smithsonian Institution in this city the foremost repository of African trophies in the world has been given by Herbert Ward, the sculptor and soldier of fortune, who is now the last surviving officer of the Stanley expedition which invaded the depths of the black continent years ago in search of Emin Pasha. The gift, made possible through the efforts of Thomas Nelson Page, the novelist, contains more than 7 000 African weapons and musical instruments used by the natives.

Perhaps the most picturesque new comer in the house is Sant Kirkpatrick of the Sixth Iowa District. Almost all his life—at least since the close of the Civil War—Kirkpatrick has been a hunter of moonshiners. Not even he could tell how often he has been shot unless he did a few sums on his fingers. His eyes were practically shot out in the last raid he led so that he is now almost blind. There are fully 200 pieces of lead in his body as a portion of the reward for being a revenue officer for twenty-seven years. At least three times he has been left for dead on the field and the doctors who overhauled him pledged their professional honor that he couldn't get well. "After all" says Mr. Kirkpatrick with a certain grimness, "I wasn't nearly as bad off as the other fellow."

IRRIGATED LAND.

COLORADO, TEXAS, MAY 2, 1913.

Both the house and senate have passed a bill to protect persons injured and killed by railroads providing that parties insured get the cash paid and cutting out the graft now being received by damage suit lawyers.

President Wilson is standing pat on the question of tariff and seems to be gaining the confidence of the country. Meantime the big business crowd which has enjoyed special favors so long are denouncing him as a reckless freetrader, a short-sighted statesman, a conspirator to destroy the industries of the country.

The Wilsons are showing themselves a very sensible lot of folks and will be worth much towards setting a sensible pace for Washington society. The expensive ball was cut out, wine left off the White House menu, and former extravagance in many things superceded by plain democratic simplicity. They are just plain common sense democratic people in truth and in actions.

The death of Judge C. K. Bell at his home in Fort Worth last week, removes one of the cleanest public men in Texas. As attorney general of the state, in the halls of congress and in every walk of private life, he was the same sincere, honest and unaffected man. His brutal honesty cost him the nomination for governor. His type of man in politics grows scarcer day by day.

The predicted break between Huerta and Felix Diaz is about due. Diaz has resigned his candidacy for the presidency and De la Bara has resigned his cabinet position because of the postponement of the national election which was scheduled for July 27th. Agents of Diaz are reported in New Orleans purchasing large quantities of munitions of war and otherwise preparing for a supreme struggle. With Diaz and Huerta warring with each other and Carranza warring against both, there is little prospect for peace in Mexico for some time. The man of destiny has not yet come upon the stage.

From every point of the compass comes the same tale of bright prospects for a crop. It is the judgment of all with whom we have talked that the frost of last Friday night did no damage to what cotton had come up. West Texas has a bumper crop year coming its way, and if it has not patiently awaited its coming the past four years, then patience is no virtue and is its own reward. We confidently look for its coming this very good year, and will work and think just as if it were a certainty. The way to get a blessing is to meet it half way—and then some.

The income tax is the most enlightened and progressive form of taxation yet devised. It puts the burden on those best able to bear it and makes the rate as uniform as is possible to make it. Besides, a man's income can be more nearly gotten at than if based on an ad valorem rate alone. In England, the "rates" or taxes are based on the income, and if his property yields no income the owner pays no taxes on it. In London there are hundreds of houses on one street vacant. They bring the owner no income and the owner pays no taxes. Under this system of taxation the land barons of England have paid but a small percent of the taxes of the country.

About a month ago, a paper called The Remonstrator, published at Oklahoma City Okla., printed a most scurrilous and unspeakable explanation of the suicide of J. A. Wayland publisher of the Appeal to Reason. The article was reprinted by many other papers with editorial comments of like nature. When called upon for their sources of information, accompanied by the statement that libel proceedings, both criminal and civil would be instituted against them, they all began a scramble for cover, several of them offering to sign any kind of retraction the Appeal to Reason would dictate. That paper also announces that henceforth its attitude of defense will be abandoned, and that it will be aggressive and prompt in bringing every libellous statement made about the paper to account before a court of justice.

The silo has been called the "cow's fireless cooker" as it does for the cow what the cooker does for the busy housewife. Only prepare for it and the silo will do the rest.

The banks of Abilene are encouraging the building of silos in that territory by offering to lend money for that purpose to farmers, at a specially low rate of interest. They realize that the prosperity of the banks depends upon the prosperity of the farming interests more than all else.

Judging from the communications sent to newspapers many people have the notion that they are born writers because they have such good ears for holding a pencil.

It is said Postmaster General Burleson is about to find a way to get those 36000 postmasterships which Mr. Taft copped out for Republican incumbents into the clutches of an invincible and everlasting democracy. That's the stuff. May the Lord help Albert in the glorious work.—Houston Post.

President Wilson welcomes his relatives to the White House with true traditional hospitality, and asks that they hasten to return for a longer stay; but gives it out cold and flat that this has no reference to their invitation to the pie counter.

The nocturnal work of that youthful gang of vandals continues to annoy the public peace and deface both private and public property. They gave evidence of the progressive tendency of wrongdoing last Saturday night by entering the First Christian church and cutting the leather upholstery on top of the pulpit. Could the devil himself, in his most fertile and ingenious mood have conceived a more useless, degenerate and sacrilegious act than mutilation of the house of God. What will boys not do who are guilty of such acts of depravity? A motive for such desecration is absolutely inexplicable. Somebody's boy does it and it's not the one "just across the street" every time.

An exchange whose moral scruples seem set on hair trigger recently advertised its rejection of a Fort Worth liquor house ad, but its columns carried cheek-by-jowl with its announcements of Sunday services, an advertisement of "Chichester's Pennyroyal Pills" and an "Electro-Galvanic Ring." As between a whiskey advertisement and an abortion receipt say nothing of the cure-all ring, it would be hard to stick a pin, as to morals. It is gagging at the brazen gnat of whiskey, while gulping the camel or illegal quackery. The church organs seem to be unaware of the nature of this "pill" advertisement. Any member of the great army of the "fair but frail" could enlighten them.

If you want to see the town of Colorado grow, remember you are a part of it, and that its stagnation or progress depends on you and others just like you—not upon the rich, the bankers, the lawyers or the town council. Don't think the prosperity of the community rests with just a few big wigs; for as a rule whatever is done, the bone and sinews are furnished by the "pore fokes" of the community who are not shrewd enough to unload on some one else. They may do the "contriving," the wind work and get the credit in the papers, but it's the rank and file of the working class that brings things to pass. Above all else don't be a pullerback criticizing the efforts of others to do something to upbuild the town, even though their methods may not agree with your own; they may be just as good as your own. Be a builder at all times; never pull down the work of another if he goes at it in the right spirit. If you have never taken an interest in the welfare of the town, do so now. It is never too early to start and never too late to begin.

Colorado can never be a good town unless its citizens first think it is a good town. Human nature will not boost that which it believes is not worth boosting. By thinking it a good town, we will try to make our thoughts good and will work to that end. We can not say it too often—"believing is seeing." If we believe a thing strong enough and long enough, it will become a reality. But believing it in this way means working with all our might toward its accomplishment. Every great and useful invention was a reality in the mind of the inventor long before it took material form. If we wish success, we think success, we form constructive mental habits and work out with our hands the success already accomplished in our minds. Truly, "believing is seeing."

The faces of all our farmers are wearing the West Texas brand of prosperity smile since the recent rain. It will continue to broaden and lengthen until the harvest, when even the ears will disappear in the comprehensive gash that will cut athwart their ribcued countenance. See if The Record is not the prophet of the greatness of Mitchell county.

But in the meantime, neighbors, let us not lose sight of the fact that Mitchell county will ere long have to build another court house, and while cogitating this fact try to disabuse your minds of the provincial idea that it would be an injustice to saddle a debt upon those who had no voice in its making. Would it be just to limit the conveniences and comforts of the coming generation by gauging their needs by our immediate necessities? When we build let it be with a generous regard for the future development and expansion. There will be more people in Mitchell county twenty years hence; they will have up-to-date ideas and want up-to-date buildings with up to their date conveniences and comforts. Besides, they will bless the foresight of this present generation if it provides for the future expanding needs and not compel them to rebuild. They will be more than willing to pay whatever such building may cost. Let's not handicap the next generation and double mortgage the future by regarding only our own immediate needs. It will only be placing a double debt on those who shall come after us. Why not build for them as we today are making their heritage.

FARM VS. TOWN WORK.

We have often heard men and boys complaining that work on the farm was hard; and so it is, but where is it any easier? If the young man who quits the farm and comes to town to accept a job paying barely his board and clothing would work on the farm with as much regularity and continuity as he does in a clerkship, he would accomplish twice as much as he did while working in a desultory and unsystematic way. In town, the grind is from the first day of January till the last day of December. If he has a vacation, it is at his own expense, while he must work nights as well as day. On the farm he has to work hard about nine months in the year. When night comes his work is done for the day. He has as good board and lodging as he gets in town; all the time he wants for recreation, visiting, etc., usually a horse and buggy at his disposal, and at the end of the year has money to put in a bank. He has lived a clean, moral and healthy life, with far less chances of contracting any expensive or vicious habits. He has not the continual fear of displeasing his boss and losing his job, besides being sure no one is trying to get his job from him. His life is independent and promotive of the highest type of citizenship. This does not take into consideration the ample time he has for study and self-improvement, but this depends entirely upon the boy himself. By devoting two hours a day to study, he can in a few years give himself a classical education and being dug out by himself, will be more valuable and practical than if acquired by attending college in a perfunctory way. The work on the farm may be hard while it lasts, but it has advantages that rest with each individual boy, that no position in town can offer. The chances of his getting an education after he leaves the farm to work in town, are exceedingly slim.

COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION.

Next Sunday is the date for the meeting of the County Singing Convention in Colorado. President Doos has appointed all the necessary committees and they will report in time to have all arrangements perfected for the entertainment of the people who will attend. The business session of the convention will be held on Saturday, and many of the delegates will be here on Saturday night. Colorado must care for these visitors in its most hospitable manner.

The entire day Sunday will be devoted to singing, with intermission for dinner, and everybody in the town of Colorado is invited to attend all the time and stay for dinner. This latter feature is a most important one. Every one coming from the country will bring a basket and every citizen of Colorado is expected to contribute something to eat also. Whether you attend or not, don't forget to send a basket; it will be taken care of and used at the proper time. No citizen of the town should neglect this opportunity to get better acquainted with the good people of Mitchell county, and those who foster the art of music are among the very salt of our citizenship. These people never fail to extend the people of Colorado the most hearty welcome and generous hospitality when we attend the conventions held in the country and we should do no less in hospitality by them when our guests. Don't shirk the obligation by thinking that someone will see that everything is done for the entertainment of our visitors, and that there's no need of you doing anything. Every other fellow might be just as negligent as you.

So come out next Sunday to the tabernacle, prepared to spend a pleasant and profitable day; mingle with the visitors and take part in the singing. Show that you appreciate the presence of your neighbors and help them enjoy the occasion. But don't forget to have a nice basket of the more substantial elements on hand by noon. Let us make the coming of the county singing convention to Colorado, at all times, a red letter day in the history of the organization.

Another Precedent Bust'ed.

We didn't believe your old time Salt would stand for it especially coming from a newspaper boss; but it seems he has, and calls it good. Two bits of sea talk, dear to the hearts of all genuine sailors and lovers of sea fiction were recently consigned to "Davy Jones' locker" by Secretary Daniels, whose sailing exploits have been confined to piloting a newspaper over the rocks and shoals of financial distress. The order abolished the designations, "starboard" and "port" and replaced them with the landlubber terms of "right" and "left." The new terms were endorsed by the naval board and it was admitted even by the old time sailor himself that it would tend to lessen accidents and confusion, being more readily understood.

The Real Morgan.

Marie Antoinette is recorded to have "lived like a courtesan but died like a queen." J. J. Astor was ridiculed as a weak and indolent degenerate, but in the face of certain death he played the hero with a smile while helping a poor peasant woman into a life boat. That one act redeemed his whole life and gave to his children a heritage which the seventy-five million dollars he left them, could not buy. J. P. Morgan, the Colossus of finance whom we regarded as the very incarnation of the power of money did more to change the final verdict of the world as to his real character, by his will, than all other charitable acts of his life. He was perhaps, the last man we would have expected to preface the distribution of his vast wealth by acknowledging his dependence on and gratitude to God: "I commit my soul into the hands of my Saviour, in full confidence, having redeemed it and washed in His most precious blood. He will present it faultless before the throne of my Heavenly Father; and I entreat my children to maintain and defend, at all hazards, and at any cost of personal sacrifice the blessed doctrine of the complete atonement for sin through the blood of Jesus Christ once offered, and through that alone."

WILSON AN CALIFORNIA.

The attitude of President Wilson toward the California trouble should win for him the confidence and gratitude of this entire nation and respect from all others. He has displayed an admirable blend of tact, courage, firmness and resource, rarely witnessed at critical periods in our history. He has with singular force, stood up as a president should, for the whole nation and without encroaching upon the conceded rights of any portion of it.

The situation out in California has its complications. The politicians who assume to be the spokesmen for the people of that state, seem actuated by racial prejudice and economic jealousy. Just to what extent the Japs should be held down in this country, is a question for the nicest discriminations of diplomacy, not for the spurious generalities of vote-hunting demagogues. No other section wishes to force a race problem upon the people of California or subject them to unfair competition; nor do events justify fears in either direction. The spirit of old Sandlot Dennis Kearney is still stalking through that land.

If the rest of the country becomes convinced that the welfare or the racial integrity of California is imperilled, it will be instant to go to its defense; but until either of these menaces is proven the rest of the nation will observe with confidence and approval the steps being taken by our president to protect it against all embarrassments. He is not nearly as liable to invade the state rights as the state of California is to invade the rights and dignity of all the other sovereign states of this nation.

The space of a newspaper is its stock in trade; it is the one commodity it has for sale and from which it derives a support. It costs the printer so much to produce every inch of space in his paper whether it be blank or filled with reading—it costs just the same. So, when the printer devotes ten inches of his newspaper space to some public benefit, such as boosting the town or any industry, it is just as if the dry goods merchant gave ten yards of cloth, or the grocer ten pounds of sugar. Measured in this way (and there is no other standard by which to measure it) the printer contributes more to the public good and up-building of the town than every business enterprise in it. The newspaper, however, humble it may be, is the greatest constructive force in the community, and usually receives less pay in proportion to its services than any other factor. Yet it does no more than its duty. It has a larger obligation than any other.

All the business men of our town have signed an agreement to close promptly at 6:30 o'clock during the summer months. This is a good thing for the tired clerks and all. IN HONOR OF MISS HENSON.

Tuesday evening, the Misses Wulfjen entertained in honor of Miss Henson. Games of various kinds were played all of which were most amusing. It was a late hour before good nights were said. A lovely salad course, followed by a sweet, was served. Sixteen young people enjoyed this pleasant affair.

Sunday was just such a day as one reads about in books and magazines, but rarely sees except in West Texas and the conditions for its full enjoyment were present. Every auto, buggy, hack and other vehicle were repulsed while those of us who possessed none of these means of locomotion sought what enjoyment could be found in pedestrianizing—in plainer terms, "hoofing it"—on short excursions through the neighboring hills, wooing and winning a hearty appetite for supper and a child-like repose afterward.

Loraine Vs. Colorado.

Arrangements have been made for a game between Loraine and the old Colorado bunch, and will occur on the 9th inst. With a little practice these old players can make it interesting for most any bunch that comes along. We know Loraine has a good team; hence a fast and furious game will be seen on the 9th.

Attention, Citizens.

It has been impossible for the refreshment committee to get around to everybody in town to solicit contributions either in money or baskets for the entertainment of the singing convention Sunday. All those, therefore, who will contribute baskets, please have them on the grounds early as possible. A committee will receive and make proper disposition of them.

The city has provided itself with bills preparatory to collecting the water rates of consumers. It is the purpose of the council to provide a meter for each consuming connection, and have the consumer come to the office of the collector and pay his bill, fixing a certain day of the month as the dead-line limit. Failure to pay by that date forfeits the contract and the service will be cut out. This plan puts everyone on the same footing and saves a great deal of time and not infrequently, hard feelings. You will pay your water rate just like you pay your taxes.

There is some hope that the unsightly pile of rubbish—debris of the old St. James hotel—at the corner of Second and Walnut streets, will soon be cleaned up and moved away. This wreckage has been a veritable wart upon the fair face of the town for more than a year. Every argument suggested by the eternal fitness of things having been exhausted, the strong and long arm of the law has been invoked and we look for something to happen in the near future.

The Record hopes every farmer in Mitchell county who expects to build a silo will avail himself of the correspondence course offered by the A. & M. College. One thing is sure, if he has not decided to build one before reading this course, he will be converted before he has taken his third lesson. It is one of the most practically educational moves ever undertaken by that great institution, and it has done much for the farming interests of Texas. Even if the farmer has not decided on building this course will give him a great deal of useful and valuable information, which he can turn into dollars every day on his farm. It will incite his mind to inquiry; to want to know the how and the why of things he has done blindly all his life; it will start his thinker and that will stimulate his worker, so that his daily rounds will become more congenial and pleasant.

Notice to Automobiles and Motorcycles.

In order to stop over-speeding within the fire limits of the town of Colorado, the ordinance against it will be hereafter strictly enforced. The speed limit is 12 miles per hour and can be determined as follows:

3 blocks run in 55 seconds is 12 miles per hour; 3 blocks in 45 seconds is 15 miles; 3 blocks in 34 seconds is 20 miles; 3 blocks in 27 seconds is 25 miles; 3 blocks in 24 seconds is 30 miles; 3 blocks in 14 seconds is 35 miles. All these except the 12-mile limit are violations of the law, and offenders will be arrested if caught, and I shall do my best to catch them.

Twelve miles is the limit within the fire limit and 18 miles outside of it. Motorcycles come under the same ordinance and require a number just as do automobiles. Govern yourself accordingly.

It is a violation of this ordinance to fail to sound the auto horn when turning every corner and to have both front and rear lights after night-fall.

2130 SCHOOL CHILDREN IN MITCHELL COUNTY.

The scholastic population of Mitchell county is 2,130, according to a report just issued by the State Department of Education, and the total apportionment at $6.81 per capita is $14,590.50 for the 1912-13 term. Two thousand seventy-six of our school children are whites and 54 are negroes. The total number of school children over seven and under seventeen years of age in Texas is 1,017,133, and 812,896 are white and 204,237 are colored. The males number 515,603, and the females 501,530. The total apportionments are $6,967,361 for the state.

It is customary to multiply the scholastic population by five in order to ascertain the true population of the county, and on this basis Mitchell county has a population of 10,650, an increase of 1,694 over the federal census of 1910.

The scholastic population of the independent districts of Mitchell county is shown in the following table:

District	White	Colored	Total
Colorado	503	54	557
Lorraine	283	—	283
Bal. of county	1,290	—	1,290

Eternity to spend.
Among the best in that bright land,
Where pleasures never end.

Oh, weep not for your loved one,
For she has gone to rest;
Her race on earth had all been run
God's will is always best.

It was the debt that grieved you so,
That mother had to pay;
Yet while the years are rolling on,
It will be for us some day.

Oh, may our God send from above
The spirit of relief,
And bathe the wounded hearts with love.

Oh, blessed God, express thy love,
And grant that you shall meet

TO ABOLISH ITS LEGISLATURE.

From a national laughing-stock, the state of Kansas has grown to be one of the most progressive and prosperous states in the union. It is not afraid to reach out after new things and try untrodden paths. The latest progressive step the state is contemplating is the abolition of its legislature and substitution of the commission form of government as is now adopted by many cities. Referring to this movement, Collier's Weekly says: "In one state there is already on foot a movement, sure to be successful, to do away with the archaic and inefficient system of State Legislature and substitute for it an adaptation of the commission form of government which has been found so satisfactory for cities. In his final address to the State Legislature in March, Governor Hodges, of Kansas, said: "In common with a large and growing number of thoughtful people, I am persuaded that the instrumentalities for legislation provided for in our State constitution have become antiquated and inefficient. Our system is fashioned after the English parliament, with its two Houses based upon the distinction between the nobility and the common people, each House representing the diverse interests of these classes. No reason exists in this State for a dual legislative system... and I believe that we should now concern ourselves in devising a system for legislating that will give us more efficiency and quicker response to the demands of our economic and social conditions and to the will of the people."

It Exp'orer Scott has thus proved Noah's truthfulness after so many years, is it unreasonable to expect that the God of the Bible will, in His own due time, restore to man his lost dominion, as the Psalmist has so definitely assured us He will ultimately do? Read thoughtfully Psalm 8:4-9.

It seems to be the general opinion of farmers with whom we have talked since the rain that there is sufficient moisture in the ground to bring up the crops and keep them growing for some time; enough to give them a good start and with a rain at the right time, we have every reason to hope for a repetition of the good times of 1905-6. Could this county have a repetition of such a series of good crops it would forge to the very forefront among the Texas counties. Agriculturally it is the equal of the best of them and best as few others are, with an abundance of pure water to be had at shallow depth. The greater part of the transient-trade town enjoyed at that time, is lost to us forever, by reason of the building of railroads into the sections that supplied it, but one or two good crops would add to our population more than enough permanent trade to more than make up for that loss. The greatest handicap to the development of the county is the holding of one-fourth its area in an absolutely undeveloped state by one person. If these large holdings were cut up and settled as thickly as the Lorraine county, there would be at least 3000 more population and one and a half million assessed valuation added to our rolls. Until these holdings are divided and put on the market,

Mitchell county will not keep pace with its neighbors in progress and development.

FISH CULTURE.

There will never in all probability be a time when the price of meat will be very much lower in this country than now. There is little more grazing areas to be utilized and the cost of raising hay and grain to feed the cattle is expensive. Unless a substitute is found for pork and beef, the price of both will continue to be prohibitive to a large class of people. And just here is where the possibilities of a much neglected industry looms on the horizon. Here is where the farm fish pond comes to the front. With a small pond on his farm, well stocked with hardy fish, the average farmer can sell all his meat if necessary and still live well at home. Many farmers in Western Kansas, more than 100 miles from any stream, have built up a paying business in supplying the cities and towns near them with fresh fish. The water is pumped from the ground as for irrigation and the ponds kept filled with pure fresh water. The government supplies the fish to start and buys all the farmers will sell. They can not supply the demand from local dealers while the superiority of fresh water fish over fish from the sea gives them a ready market. With the storage facilities now had distant a very slight handicap in reach market. There is an opportunity right here in Mitchell county—in town of Colorado—for some enterprising man to begin the raising of fish and there can be no question as to selling all he could produce.

Is there another town the size of Colorado in this part of Texas that has neither ice factory nor bottling works? Is there another town once supporting these utilities now without them? Can another town of its size be found with an up-to-date ice factory rusting out while ice for its citizens is shipped in from a neighboring town? Do you know of another town using as much bottled soda sending its money to some other town for this universal drink? Simple questions, these, but they have a deeper significance than their mere wording indicates.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES.

On last Sunday afternoon, some of the officers of the Mitchell County Sunday School Convention, on the invitation of the Baptists, at Spade, went out to visit and assist in the grading of their school.

They were made to feel at home by these good people and Dr. Marshall at once took charge of the singing. My, my, but how those good people can sing, is enough to make us want them all to come and sing for our town schools.

Dr. Coleman made a very appropriate and interesting talk on the Sunday school work and the importance of good Christian principles being laid in youth, reading some extracts from an address given in a convention by W. J. Bryan, now secretary of state.

Secretary Robt. M. Webb then took charge and found this school with enough scholars for all departments. Mrs. C. J. Hartness explained the home department and organized one in this community, with Miss Welch as the superintendent. Mrs. E. Hooper interested the workers with the Cradle Roll work and started Miss Faulkner in search of all the babies in the community. Also assisted the beginners and primaries with their work, songs, etc.

This school adopted the envelopes for keeping their records and are to have curtains by next Sunday, so that each class will be by itself.

Altogether this is a fine school, and with their faithful superintendent, Mr. Faulkner, we hope to hear great things achieved by them. They have a faithful pastor, Rev. A. D. Leach who is leading them, and we wish him success in the highest sense and thank him for his kind invitation to visit them again.

The Christian and Baptist schools felt the effect of measles last Sunday, as quite a number of the little folks are wrestling with them.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DEATH OF W. T. MULLIN.

After a lingering illness of several months, W. T. Mullin died at the home of his father in this city, Tuesday evening at 6:15 o'clock, in his 37th year of age. He had been in ill health for nearly a year and had gone to specialists at San Antonio and Temple without relief. His malady seemed to be very obscure no physician giving a decided diagnosis; yet the consensus of opinion was that he suffered with cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Mullin was practically raised in Colorado, his parents coming here when he was quite a small boy. At the time of his death he was publishing the Lorraine News at Lorraine, Texas. He was a man of more than ordinary ability and took an active part in affairs, wherever his lot was cast. He was prominent in Odd Fellow and Knights of Pythias circles being an officer of the I. O. O. F. grand lodge of Texas. He was generous to a fault, dividing his last dollar with a friend, or in response to an appeal of hunger or the cry of distress. The esteem in which he was held was best attested by the large concourse of friends who followed his mortal remains to their last resting place.

He is survived by a wife, little daughter, father and one sister, to whom the Record extends deepest sympathy in their hour of bereavement. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows cemetery at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Special Notice to My Customers. Owing to the rapidly advancing price of all kinds of meats, such as beef, pork, sausage, mutton etc., I will be compelled to make some adjustments in my prices. All regular meals will remain at the same old price of 25 cents, but when special or short orders are given, each article will be charged for separately.

I make this explanation for the benefit of my old and regular patrons. The traveling people have been paying more than I have been charging for some time and wondering how I could continue short orders at 25 cents when meats are so dear. With the further advance this week in all meats, I am compelled to make this advance also on special orders. Remember, regular meals will still be only 25 cents.

No man appreciates his friends more than I do, or will do more to serve them, and I am sure they realize I am forced to do this in self-protection. I will continue to give the best our market affords and appreciate a continuance of your patronage. Yours to serve, JAKE MAURER, The Old Reliable Restaurant. 5-1c
