PRACTICAL BAKING LESSONS

PAPER BAG COOKERY

Cooking in Paper Bags, for meat, vegetables and pastries is becoming so popular that recipes for this method are greatly in demand. Many articles are greatly improved by using paper bags. One can buy the special prepared paper bags at all grocery stores in assorted sizes at a very small cost. They will give you a few recipes which I have found are much finer in the bags than baked in the open oven.

Nevada Briggs

Apple Dumplings

Paper sausage

2 cups sifted pastry flour, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 2 level teaspoons K C Baking Powder, About 1/4 to 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup shortening, Cinnamon or nutmeg, Sugar.
Sift together, three times, the flour, baking powder and salt; work in the shortening and mix to a dough with milk as needed; roll into a square sheet one-third inch thick and cut into four pieces. Lay a core and pared apple on each piece, fill the center with sugar and cinnamon, then draw up the dough to cover the apple, make smooth and place in a well buttered paper bag, giving plenty of space in the bag for the dumplings to rise. In using the bags, oil the entire inner surface, have the seam side up and pin mouth of the bag securely. Place the bag on a shallow pan. Have a slow oven when the bag is placed in the oven and increase heat later. I find the most frequent mistake in using bags is to have the oven too hot. It takes much less heat to bake in a paper bag than in the open oven. To determine when the apple dumplings are baked, make a small hole in the top of the bag and test the apple with a fork. You will find apple dumplings baked in bags are delicious; the pastry being very light and soft. So often apple dumplings baked in the old way in the open oven have a very hard crust.
Serve dumplings with cream or Hard Sauce.

Hard Sauce

Beat half a cup of butter to a cream, gradually beat in one cup of sugar and proceed to a dom shape on a glass or china plate. Grate a little nutmeg over the top.

Beef Steak in Paper Bags

3 cups flour, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1/2 cup shortening, Sweet milk, 2 beaten eggs, 1 level teaspoonful K C Baking Powder, 1 cup each, chopped cooked beef and ham, 1 teaspoonful mixed mustard, 1/2 teaspoonful each, salt and pepper.
Broth or water.
Mix a basinful of flour, salt, baking powder, shortening and milk, and roll into a sheet half an inch thick, having the ends even. Mix the other ingredients by themselves, using liquid as needed to make a paste. Spread the paste over the dough and roll like a jelly roll.
Other cooked meats may be used in the same way. Often we have several different kinds of cold meats left, with not enough of one kind for a particular purpose. One can use three or four kinds putting them through the food chopper, using two cups of this chopped meat, seasoning as desired. For baking in the paper bag, prepare the bag as for apple dumplings and bake by same rules. Serve with a brown gravy.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES.

The Daughters of the Confederacy held their annual memorial service Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at the Baptist church. The building was prettily decorated with a Texas flag, pictures of Lee, Jackson and President Davis. The wreaths and stars of the Eastern Star were massed around the pulpit and made a pretty frame for the pictures. The colors of the U. D. C., Eastern Star and Woodmen Circle marked off divisions for each order to be seated. The Veterans, Daughters and children of the Confederacy were each given a fragrant cape jasmine.

The service was opened with prayer by Bro. Lyon. The audience sang America. The programme was called by Miss Dry, secretary of the Chapter. Bro. Craig gave the address for the occasion. He spoke of the bravery and courage of the southern soldier, their love of home and their work to make the south what it should be. The negro and his place among us and what we have done for him, was also mentioned. It was a good speech, much enjoyed by the audience.

A quartette composed of Miss Shafford, Mrs. Shropshire, Mr. Payne and Dr. Ratliff with Miss Whipkey as accompanist, sang very sweetly. Tinting on the Old Camp ground. Mrs. Merritt made a speech telling of the Crosses of Honor and why they were given. Miss Dry read the rules regarding the presentation of crosses. The audience sang to the tune of the Old Camp ground. The U. D. C. Crosses. The Veterans were called on by Ratliff and gave some very interesting reminiscences. Capt. Thomas of the Louisiana Cavalry was especially interesting. He had been in many battles and had his own story as well as his own adventures. The crosses were given by Mrs. Higgins, Mr. W. Smith and Mr. T. J. of Colorado. Capt. Thomas, Wagoner, Wadlington, C. J. and John of Louisiana. Major Higgins was given his widow and daughter to an article of Miss Dry in Water Works. After these had been given out by the children, little Miss Wagoner read a very pretty letter of commendation from President Davis.

Bro. Doss sang in his own voice. A Malpas song, "Every Valley Shall be Exalted." The program was sung and the benediction pronounced by Brother Stafford.

The audience went at once to the cemetery where the children of the Daughters placed the wreaths, all upon the graves of the gray and the blue.

The Eastern Star placed their pretty stars upon the graves of their members who have gone on before. Many carried floral offerings, so the city of the dead was a thing of beauty when all the decorations were placed. Forty-eight Confederate graves and eight Federal were decorated, together with several sons of Confederates.

DAWSON GETS THREE AND A HALF YEARS

The case of the State of Texas against Jim Dawson for the killing of Lon Culbertson was tried this week and the defendant given three and a half years in the penitentiary. At the last term of the district court Dawson was found guilty and given five years, but was granted a new trial by the court of criminal appeals.

The crime for which he received this sentence was committed about one year ago. Culbertson and Dawson were engaged in hauling gravel and sand from the river bed and loading cars. While they were in the river at work an altercation came up and in the fight which ensued Culbertson was stabbed with a knife from which wounds he died almost at once. We have not learned whether the case will be appealed or not.

BREAKS ARMY BY FALLING ON ROCKS

Mrs. G. W. Womack, wife of one of the most prominent citizens of the Culbertson community, is suffering from the results of quite a painful accident sustained last Tuesday while fishing on the river. In some way she slipped and fell, breaking the bones of one wrist. Dr. Colman was phoned for and at once set the injured member. The Record with their many friends hopes that Mrs. Womack will suffer no further inconvenience other than the natural effect of being laid up for a few days, waiting for the injury to heal.

Happy Compromise.

A happy solution of the case of the State of Texas against A. H. Payne, charged with abortion, was had yesterday during the progress of the trial by the marriage of the defendant to the chief prosecuting witness, Mrs. Hudkins. Judge Warren Beall performed the ceremony with great dignity and ease.

BIG SETTLEMENT SCHEME.

W. H. Stoneham and W. F. Kellis, last Tuesday finished the field work in surveying 31 sections of the H S ranch, in that part known as the "A P" and "Hayrick" pastures. Mr. Harry Hyman, in an interview with the News-Record man, stated that it was his intention to lease these lands in small tracts, to farmers and small ranchmen. From one to three sections will be let to one man for five years at 10 cents per acre. Material for building and fencing will be furnished the tenant, and he will be allowed to graze his stock on his land for all work he does. He must put some of the land in cultivation and, for every acre he puts in, he will also be credited with the lease for the full amount of his stock. The contract will give the tenant the privilege of releasing at the expiration of his lease, for another term of five years. Mr. Hyman proposes to build school houses and a general store for the benefit of his tenants. This fine body of land lies to the northwest of Sterling City, in Mitchell, Howard and Sterling counties, and some of it is extremely desirable for settlement. Sterling City News-Record.

Methods of Ensilage.

Success with ensilage depends upon the exclusion of air. The admission of air to a stack or silo means waste. To make good silage the material, maize, sorghum millet, lucerne, cow peas or any other green fodder, must be cut when quite succulent and stacked while green. A successful stack requires that the surface water be removed by drains; that the stack be level and that the stacking be well and evenly done. The stack should be built as high as possible, for during the process of preservation the material sinks very much. Arrangements should be made for passing the material in the stack. The proper amount of pressure is 200 pounds to the square foot. The pressure should be continuous rather than excessive. Silage may be also made in pits, and perhaps this is the best method for the dry farmer. The method consists in placing the material in a tank-like excavation, and covering it with the material taken out of the excavation. The material of which silage is made is green and succulent, and therefore heavy. For this reason a low-down wagon is the most suitable vehicle for carting it from the field to stack, pit or silo. THE NEW OIL ENGINES.

Ratliff & Wyatt are meeting with deserved success in placing the oil engines of the Rumley Products Company. They have already sold five in this immediate vicinity, and the general verdict is that they perform all the sellers promise, both in their ability to do the work and their economy in the consumption of oil. Not only will these engines burn kerosene oil but the cheaper products, as well known as distillate, which is much cheaper than the refined kerosene oil. The Record assumes to be somewhat of a judge in the matter of small motive plants, having tried every kind put upon the market, except a water motor. Two gasoline engines have been displaced by electricity in one instance and steam in another, before putting in the Rumley oil engine of three horse power. None of the other engines and motors seemed to develop the indicated horse power, and although all of them were of greater indicated power than the present three horse oil engine, the latter does the required work with greater ease than any of them. The oil engine has been installed in the Record office more than a week and is developing new points to commend itself every day. Its every movement is positive and direct, having no obscure valves, or delicate springs, to get out of order or confuse. It is simple and safe, being as nearly "fool proof" as it is possible to make machinery. Those contemplating the purchase of an engine owe it to themselves to investigate the Rumley oil engine before placing their order.

One thing that hinders the farmers is that they are advised too much. Every class of people have a word of advice for the farmer. Men who have been expert failures at everything they ever undertook can tell the farmer just what to do to insure good crops. Farmers will advise each other when the one most lavish with instruction of how to do a thing utterly lacks the ability to do it himself. But the great sinners of all are editors of newspapers. Men who don't know a furrow from a ditch, will sit at their desks in the tenth story of a building in some city, and tell the farmers of the nation just where they fail, nothing to men should be easier than for every farmer worthy the name to have a nice home, surrounded by every comfort and convenience necessary and conducive to contentment and happiness. It is a game in which everybody knows how to turn the trick but the one running it— Arthur Capper in Mail and Brezo.

The women folks of the Wilson White House circle have made a most pleasing impression upon Washingtonians. They are entertaining frequently and graciously, and Mrs. Wilson is leading in manifesting interest in the social problems of the national capital. She has been much about the city and has marked the spots on the map of its beauty. Washington has long been marred by the huddlings of poorer humanity here and there, under conditions that menace the health as well as disfigure the comeliness of the neighborhoods. Mrs. Wilson, with a number of other sensitively humane women, is earnestly studying the situation with a view to some measure of practical relief.

MITCHELL COUNTY COTTON.

The total number of bales of cotton ginned in Mitchell county from the crops of 1912 is 9,708 according to a report which has just been issued by the Federal Census Department. This total excludes linters and the department counts round bales as half bales. The total production of Mitchell county in 1911 was 13,792 bales and 6,994 bales in 1910. The total production of Texas in 1912 was 4,645,172 bales which is the largest production in history. The crops of 1911 and 1910 were 4,107,152 and 2,949,968 bales respectively. No values have been announced on the Texas cotton crop but the large yield in the state was, in a measure, offset by the partial failure in other portions of the South which has had a tendency to keep up prices.

On Sunday morning early risers were treated to a sight of what purported to be a joke. At the intersection of Walnut and Second streets, a handsome casket was reposing on regulation coffin rests, at the head of which was placed a board with the following inscription: "Colorado Texas; born 18—, died 19—, Gone but not forgotten." Mr. Green, the undertaker says the doors of his establishment were closed, so that the joke-smiths must have gained access by "some other way," which in the spirit of the scriptural interpretation, is burglary. The "kids" who braved the gruesomeness of a coffin shop and rifled its contents, say nothing of the workmanship like execution of the headboard, evidently had passed the age and tenderness of "mother's boys." The incident is worthy of mention solely as showing the progressive tendency of pranks. Jokes that simply amuse soon become too tame and the step is a short one to jokes that injure and destroy.

When he makes one more sale the price is to be raised to $75 or $100 per acre.—Adv.

FARM FACTS.
By Peter Radford.

The wages of farming are small. Co-operation is the force that keeps the wolf from the door.

Is your farm declaring dividends, or are you in the tenant class?

A farm is a business establishment and should be so operated.

A farm should be operated for net, not for gross results.

The net results of good farming are profit, success, a growing business and a good living.

Opportunities sometime come to those who wait but the man who is always on the job does not wait, he creates his opportunity.

No farmer, unless compelled by financial necessity or forced by lack of facilities to hold his crop, will sell for less than it cost to produce it.

Any marketing plan adequate to meet the situation must give the producer the full benefits of its advantages.

The real problem of the farmer is how to sell his products. The farmer should take all uncertainty out of securities before applying for a loan.

The city men can render us the greatest service by helping find new markets and in regulating the present ones.

It is only in extending, enlarging and creating avenues of distribution and co-ordinating supply with demand that we can build up the farm.

Behind all successful farming lies, not only a fundamental philosophy, but an undeviating routine of system.

The savage had no sense of ownership, and today some of the traits of primitive man are reflected in our rural population.

HORSE'S PRAYER TO ITS OWNER AND DRIVER

"To thee my master, I offer my prayer:
"Feed me and take care of me. Be kind to me. Do not jerk the reins; do not whip me when going up hill.
"Never strike, beat or kick me when I fail to understand what you want of me, but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me and if I refuse to do your bidding, see if there is not something wrong with my harness or feet.
"Do not give me too heavy loads; never hitch me where water will drop on me. Keep me well shod, and don't use cheap, inferior nails, use the best (CAPEWELL). Don't force me along the slippery streets, and when I fall, be patient and help me as I will do my best to keep up and serve you. Examine my teeth when I fall to eat; I may have an ulcerated tooth. That, you know, is very painful. I am unable to tell you in words when I am sick; so watch me, and I will try and tell you by signs. I suffer pains like you, but cannot speak as you.
"Pet me sometimes; I enjoy it, and I will learn to love you. Protect me in summer from the hot sun. Keep a blanket on me in winter weather, and never put a frosty bit in my mouth, but hold it in your hand a moment first.
"I carry you, pull you, wait patiently for you long hours, day or night. I cannot tell you when I am thirsty; give me clean, cool water often in hot weather.
"Finally, when my strength is gone, instead of turning me over to a human brute to be tortured and starved, take my life in the easiest and quickest way, and your God will reward you in this life and in heaven. You will not consider me irrevocable if I ask this in the name of Him who was born in a stable. AMEN."

The trustees of the Seven Wells school had the good business forethought to take out a policy for $500 on the Seven Wells school building, through the agency of G. B. Harness. This is what the trustees of every school in Mitchell county should do. Its an evidence of good judgment and does much to stabilize school property and conduces to the building of better houses and greater care of same.

500 Club.

Mrs. Stonerod entertained the Tuesday 500 club this week. Her guests were Mrs. Vivian Shropshire, Miss Margurete Looney and Miss Mamie Moreland. The prize, a pair of silk hose, was won by Miss McMurry. The guest prize, in a cut, fell to Miss Moreland, which was two pretty handkerchiefs. The hostess served a salad and an ice course. Miss Allen is hostess this week.

AS TO TRAIN FLIRTATIONS

Drummer Gave Fatherly Advice to a Talkative Young Woman, and Was Rewarded.

"Fifteen years on the road and not a flirtation yet, is my record," said the needle and thread drummer. "The only time a beauty ever spoke to me on the train was down in West Virginia on the way to Wheeling.
"Do you know what time we get there?" she inquired.
"Six-thirty," I told her.
"You know," she continued, "I was never on a train before. It seems so strange to me!"
"To make a long story short, she was the kind you read about in books, but seldom meet in real life—the real innocent flower. When we got to Wheeling I put her on the car for Pittsburgh, her destination, and gave her some fatherly advice about speaking to strangers.
"About three months later I was unpacking the sample trunk after the long trip when the stock boy said there was some one down stairs to see me. There stood the girl and her father, who was a judge down in his own state.
"I wish to thank you, sir, for your kindness to my daughter while traveling," he said warmly.
"I assured him it was nothing unusual, but he thought otherwise and insisted on my taking dinner with him that evening."
"And since then you have wondered who she was?" put in the button man.
"No," said the needle and thread drummer. "She's my wife now."

COLORADO, TEXAS, JUNE 6, 1913.

Now comes "unbreakable glass" to further reduce the cost of living, but its funny that these reductions are confined to things one cannot eat.

Mitchell county should not wait for its neighbors to point out the good things nature has placed at our right hand, but which we have been lax to make use of.

Teddy was awarded six cents damages in his suit against the Michigan editor. But his end was attained. The editor apologized for his strictures; Teddy forgave him; each will pay the cost of his own part of the suit, and all will be lovely again.

The track of the Texico-Coleman cut off line of the Santa Fe railway, has been thoroughly tested as to its solidity and stability, and is pronounced one of the best constructed in the United States. Heavy Mallet engines will soon be put on and the through traffic to the Pacific coast carried at high speed by that route.

Grashoppers have been devastating New Mexico and portions of the panhandle of Texas. A column five miles wide and eighteen miles long were reported from Amarillo, moving northwest and denuding the earth of every vestige of green stuff in their path. This lot did not have their wings and so travel slowly, but when soon their wings are out, they will spread more rapidly. They have been known to plump down upon a whole county, clean up everything but the barb wire in one night and be gone the next day.

The local option election held in Runnels county last week, resulted in a victory for the "Drys" by a majority of 98. The election brought out one of the heaviest votes ever polled in the county. The town of Ballinger gave a majority of 290 "wet." In the election a little more than two years ago the town of Ballinger gave a much less wet majority than this, while the town of Winters greatly increased its dry majority. The dry majority of the entire county two years ago was 331.

A dam across the Colorado river somewhere near the north line of this county and all the land put under water that could be irrigated, just that amount of land would produce more and better crops than all the balance of the county combined. There would be no good and bad years; no offs and ons; but one continual succession of abundant crops of everything put into the fertile ground. Just the land bordering the river and subject to irrigation from the river, would support a population dense as that of Belgium.

We learn from San Angelo papers that oil has been discovered in a well being drilled at Christoval, Tom Green County. Our old friend, Frank Van Horn is living at Christoval and is interested in the property. Frank is always to be found in the lead in promoting any community in which he lives. We sincerely hope his wildest dreams of success—yes, of avarice—may be more than fulfilled, and believe they will be some day, because you can't keep his sort of a man down if there is any opportunity around.

Quite a number of people who have been flying the democratic colors are now bitterly inveighing against the Underwood tariff bill as a whole. It is all right except in one thing, and that one thing is self-interest—the particular commodity in which they are interested. They have their counterpart in that class of citizens of a town who are keen for improvement until improvement for the public good touches their property. They want the railroad all right, but want it to cut through some other fellow's lot. These people have the absolute right to oppose the tariff bill and to assert the republican policy at all times, but they have no moral right, no political right, to masquerade as democrats so long as they pursue such course.

SHINNY-ON YOUR OWN SIDE

One of the last acts of the (commissioners) court was providing for the construction of a new steel bridge over Colorado river at Red Bluff or some point thereabouts. * * * That section across the river from Ira naturally belongs in Scurry county's trade territory, and now with good roads, lots of cotton will come from there to Snyder.—Snyder Signal.

By reason of greater proximity and ease of access, the trade of Cuthbert community would naturally belong to Colorado. The county of Mitchell has spent much good money in the making of good roads all over the county with the idea in view of making Colorado the easiest and quickest reached market for every section of the county. However, good roads and short miles do not determine a farmer's market place. The merchants of a town must supplement these natural advantages with inducements for the trade to come. Prices being equal, the trade will follow the quickest and easiest route. Mitchell county commissioners have also been thinking of putting another bridge across the Colorado river southeast of Cuthbert, to still further cut down the distance to market, and we hope this move on the part of the Scurry county court will spur up our own court to prompt action in the premises.

The town is full of teachers, themselves for the nonce pupils in the art and the science of the profession. There was a time when a teacher of the common schools was not compelled to progress. He taught the same things in the same way year in and out, until he became crystallized, then fossilized. Today every teacher is as much a student as any they teach; just a little farther advanced, and with a more comprehensive view. As great discoveries and improvements have been made the past quarter century in the methods of imparting knowledge, as in any other department of human progress. No profession requires a greater natural aptitude, thorough preparation, individuality of character and sensitive sympathy for their work, than does the teacher. And for the work they do; its importance to the community and responsibility, no other profession is so meagerly paid.

The most interesting news from the Canal Zone this year came with the dispatches telling of the admission of the waters of the Pacific on Sunday to the channel of the canal. A blast of 32,750 pounds of dynamite was exploded which turned a mighty rush of the western waters through the displaced dyke below the Miraflores locks, an event witnessed amid great enthusiasm by many thousands of people. It brings vividly near realization the splendid achievement of Uncle Sam's engineers and scientists. Evidently the work on the canal will be pushed with greater energy than ever. The uncertainty of the situation in the Orient, with a growing political party in Japan muttering against the United States, because of alien land laws in the Pacific coast states, is giving such concern as incites increased vigor in the realm of public work.

All other things, have at some time, come in just sufficient and generally satisfying quantities and at the most opportune moment except rain. We have never seen a rain that was not just a little short of what it should have been or too much of a good thing. It either overdoes or underdoes the trick every time, and yet the world has held together and steadily forged ahead in the right direction for innumerable years.

Its well enough to mix your religion with your business, but it all depends upon the proportions—whether you make religion of your business or make business of your religion.

Washington city is said to be jammed with people discussing the failure of the Wilson administration. They are making comparisons with the Cleveland regime to the distinct discredit of the Wilson administration, now three months old. As a consequence, the countenances of the pie rustlers are "sickled o'er with the pale cast of thought." They recall that before Cleveland had warmed the presidential upholstery one month, the bulk of the most desirable jobs, had been distributed to the faithful, not to speak of the greater number of jobs at Cleveland's disposal.

The New York board of health has passed a resolution forbidding the use of living bacterial organisms in the inoculation of human beings for the treatment of diseases, unless permission is first obtained from the board. Though no names are used, the resolution is aimed directly at Dr. Freidmann and his treatment and the administration of his so-called "turtle serum" treatment, which is now looked upon as not only of no value but dangerous in advanced cases of tuberculosis.

Appropos of the melancholy condition of the office seekers at Washington just now. Private John Allen, of Mississippi, sixteen years a member of the House, serving during both Cleveland administrations, while there a few days ago, recalled the story he had told Mr. Cleveland when that president was slow appointing a favorite of Mr. Allen's to office. It was of a Tupelo young man whose father died leaving a large estate that was somewhat entangled in chancery litigation, with the proverbial chancery delay in reaching a settlement. So often was settlement deferred that the heir apparent exclaimed in despair to a group of his creditors: "Boys, I'm gittin' almost sorry the old man died."

Much of all this talk and sentiment about the safety of riding on the water wagon is a myth. Only last week J. H. Forbes, driver of one of the water wagons in Abilene, was thrown from his seat to the pavement and badly hurt.

The farmers of Kansas have discarded the corneob pipe, more in concession to the automobile than for any other reason. They now use the African calabash gourd, from which they make their own pipes. Kansas congressmen have been deluged with requests for seed of the African pipe gourd; in fact, so general grew the demand that the government made a special importation of these seed from South Africa, to meet the requisitions of the Kansas farmers. Raising everything they consume at home, even to the pipes they smoke, how could the Kansas farmer be kept under. More than half the 20,000 automobiles in the state of Kansas are owned by farmers. They are the real aristocrats, owning the stocks, bonds and bank shares. But a few years back the Kansas farmer was the butt for every jokesmith in the country. They were going through a stage of evolution while learning the very lessons the West Texas farmers are now facing. They were getting acquainted with their land, water and climate; studying the elements of the soil and its adaptability to certain crops and best methods of cultivating. When they learned these things, there were no more statewide wheat and corn failures in Kansas. The farmers paid off the Boston and English mortgages on their farms in nearly two years' time; built fine homes and put their money in the banks and are now riding in automobiles. No other farmers, as a class, are so prosperous as those of Kansas. What has been done in that state can, and will be done in West Texas. The proper methods are now being employed, when intelligence, science and natural conditions walk hand in hand.

We are raising broom-weeds instead of roses in our court yard. If no one but our own people ever saw it, it would not be so bad, but when a stranger visits our town, the very thought of those weeds make us feel ashamed of the county's idea of economy.—Sterling City Record.

Lucky you are Bro. Kellis, to have the broom weeds; they at least distract the attention of strangers from other things. We would be glad to have even broom weeds in our court house park. There was a time when no prettier nor more inviting spot existed in Mitchell county than our court house park. It was filled with beautiful growing, vigorous trees; the ground covered with a pretty sward of lawn grass; the fountain contained an alligator, and the entire premises were cared for and looked after with a faithful hand and jealous eye. Its present dilapidated condition may also be our county's idea of an "economical administration" and the price of campaign thunder.

Just received, full line of Blanke-Wenneker chocolates and keep them on ice.—J. B. Hall.

MITCHELL SHOULD GET BUSY.

Being one of the very best agricultural counties in West Texas, it would be a pity if Mitchell county should sit complacently by and see its neighbors appropriate and utilize the natural advantages a kind Providence has placed at hand for its use. But the same law obtains in the material domain as in the spiritual. If blessings are not appreciated and used they will eventually be taken away.

The people of Mitchell county realize the importance and the value of irrigation. Some few of our citizens are giving to the matter close attention, their time and money, in order to demonstrate the success and feasibility of the system. The wide-awake people of Runnels and Coke counties see the great importance of the Colorado river; its possibilities as a source of irrigation; the potential wealth the system holds, and are not as slow as the people of Mitchell county to take advantage of these things. There are as many eligible sites for irrigation dams on the river in Mitchell county as there are in any other county through which the river runs. The work of building such dams could be done just as well and as cheaply as at any other point, and Mitchell county has as much land subject to irrigation as any other county contiguous to the river.

We learn that a company has been formed and a survey already made for the building of a big dam across the river just above the town of Ballinger, and notice has been served on everybody north of that point that the waters of the Colorado—surface, flood and subterranean—have been preempted for all time by this company, and forbidding them under dire penalties from diverting one drop of it. In fact, they have assumed control of all water on and in the natural watershed of the Colorado river and notified everybody else to keep off with their dams, wells and other systems of irrigation. While such claims and assumptions seem to us nothing less than preposterous and absurd, they nevertheless indicate that the people of Runnels are trying to do something in the way of utilizing the waters of the river for irrigation, and are trying also, to keep the people of Mitchell from doing so.

Nor is Runnels county the only one moving in this matter. Our neighbor to the southeast—Coke—is waking up to the value of irrigation and the great value of the Colorado river to that end. A company with ample capital is now promoting the building a dam across the river in that county, and a thorough survey is being made of all lands adjacent to the stream. If the people of Mitchell county sit still with folded hands, while many of the counties below us and some above us on the river build dams across it, there will likely be just so many more impediments in our way to building one, when we do eventually wake up, rub our eyes and see where we are at and then get busy. The time to act, if we ever intend to act, is NOW. If a dam is not built just at this time, it would be much time saved and expense as well, if we knew just what we had in the way of a dam site—its location, how much water it would impound, how many acres supply, how long it would last, and a hundred other little facts that would have to be known before a dam could be erected. We understand there was a survey of some sort made for a dam on the river several years ago, but nothing has ever come of it. We do not know even that the notes of such survey are in existence today, or who has any knowledge of it. To show the attitude of the people of Coke county toward the project in that county, we append a communication to the Farm in Ranch from a citizen of that section:

"The promoters of the dam across the Colorado river near here evidently mean business. There seems to be little if any doubt that the big dam will be built to store water for irrigation. Judging from the time the company has been on the field surveying and sounding the river bottom and its banks for a foundation for the dam, and, as I understand, claiming that the location is an ideal one, and from the quiet but seemingly deep interest the promoters have in the matter and the further fact that they have conditionally contracted for some lands on either side of the river for use in constructing the dam, it is but safe now to guess that the great dam will be built.

Thousands of acres of as fine land as are in Texas, judging from the course the surveyor has taken to locate the big canal, can be irrigated. This will include not only the great valley of the Colorado, but also the big valleys of the two Kickapooos, Hog creek, Oak creek and Valley creek, which are already famous for their productiveness.

The great fertility of the soil in this section makes it possible for immense crops to be made with very little irrigation, therefore with the mammoth dam that is proposed to be built on an ideal location, with miles of backwater stored, the possibilities of this section can only be guessed at. This section is moving along solidly anyway, having had good rains with all the promise that promises can make at this season of the year for good crops. Our fine lands will certainly rank among the best in grand old Texas. J. M. HARRELL."

Whenever we read of bringing in fine wells in other sections of West Texas; wells that deliver 500 to 1000 gallons of water per minute for irrigation purposes, we feel that Mitchell county is almost slinging away its day of grace in not developing the water supply that must surely lie beneath the surface. It is highly probable that we would have to go deeper here than in Midland and Hale counties, but if sufficient water can be had, the cost of securing it is of secondary consideration. To our mind, a little farm, well improved, with an abundance of good water for irrigation purposes, comes more nearly representing an ideal independence than any other condition in life. The farmer who has such a home is not touched by the panics, strikes or any other disturbances that make for hard times. He is not dependent upon the uncertainty of season or rainfall, but foresees the harvest when he plants. A well of water affording 500 gallons per minute, is worth more than any oil or gas well ever discovered. The latter soon play out and become worthless, but the water continues, year after year to produce new wealth every season. It is a perennial source of never failing wealth. Water is Life.

We publish today the report of the expert auditing committee which has been at work on the books of the county officials of Taylor county. At a recent meeting of the commissioners' court of Mitchell county, it was ordered that the books of the officials of this county be audited and the work will begin right away, the same parties, with the exception of R. W. Mitchell will do the work that audited the Taylor county books.

Sunday School Notes.

Another Sunday school was graded in Mitchell county on last Sunday. The good superintendent of Horn's Chapel rejoices over a corps of volunteer workers. Mrs. Ben Horn has charge of the beginners and Mrs. Hall the primary department, with Mrs. Geo. Gettiff in charge of the bible class.

The home department and cradle roll will be well looked after by Mrs. J. B. Enderly.

There was a note of sadness and sympathy in the crowd for Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, who had just received the sad news of the drowning of their baby boy, nine years old.

This school has the best wishes of all Sunday school workers.

WHAT'S THE REASON? Many Colorado People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work of filtering the blood and that may be the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys—assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills.

Below is grateful testimony from a sufferer in this locality.

B. F. Davis, Snyder, Texas, says: "Several years ago, I had pains across the small of my back and in my sides. As Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended, I got a supply, and used them. Two boxes were all that was needed to bring a cure. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from weak kidneys."

COLORADO BASE BALL CLUB

By Jas. Bodine, Manager
Hesperian Club.

The club met in business session Friday at the home of Mrs. Ratliff. All unfinished business was brought up and discussed thoroughly, as the members knew it would be several months before the pleasure of discussion would be given them. The resignation of Miss Shuford was accepted as she will not be in Colorado next year. After concluding all the business, a delightful social session was held. The hostess served banana ice and nut cake. The first session of the next club year will be held with Mrs. Johnson, who expects on her return from California to be glad to see the club members.

BIG SPRING VS. COLORADO.

Colorado and Big Spring matched a series of two games to be played last Monday and Tuesday. The Big Spring boys came in on time, in good form and confident of an easy victory. The Colorado bunch were equally as confident, more especially as their new uniforms had just arrived, and were to be tried out in these games.

A little shower a couple of hours before the game was called put the diamond to the bad. The third base was under water, (the boys said this did not matter as no one would get that far around) while the entire field was slick and sticky. But the game was called, with Vivian Shropshire umpire on balls, while Lee Jones kept his eagle eye on the sprinters.

Battery for Colorado was Cooper as pitcher and Bodine behind the bat.

Big Spring had Tipton and Wright to twirl and pick 'em off the stick.

The teams were pretty evenly matched, though Colorado made the greater number of errors in the first game. Not having the score card we cannot give the games in detail. The game was tied up 5-5 in the ninth inning, and the excitement was intense, as a number of Big Spring rooters were in the crowd. In the 10th inning Big Spring made two scores one on an error and one earned run. After this they shut Colorado out and the game closed 7-5 in favor of the visiting team.

On Tuesday evening, the ground was in fine condition, and as Colorado had strengthened her team, everybody predicted a victory for the home boys.

Mr. Gage took the box in this game while Bodine caught. Nichols and Clingan for the visitors. "Scotty" Scott was the chief Supreme Judge on this occasion, and his decisions were prompt and carefully made. Not a single dispute was made throughout both games. Colorado walked off with the money right from the start. The visitors showing a line of goose-eggs on the score board up to the seventh when they made one score, while the home boys had seven to their credit.

Big Spring put a new pitcher in the box, but it was too late to turn the tide and at the end of the eighth inning the game was 10-1 in favor of the Colorado boys, but in the ninth the visitors hit a couple out in the brush and brought two men across the home plate, which closed the game 10-3. Both games were pretty well played with the exception of several errors in throwing. Cooper and Gage both did excellent work in the box, each one pitching his game to the finish, while the visitors changed pitchers both days. The Big Spring boys were clever and jolly fellows, and not a word or kick was made from either team, and no disputing or quarrelling; all of which the visitors to the games appreciated, and wish to express their appreciation to both teams. The entire bunch of base ball fans of Colorado, and we have a few, hope that Big Spring boys will return again this season, and play off the tie.

SHORTAGE OF $8,700.

According to the reports of the auditing committee consisting of John S. Oglesby and R. W. Mitchell, filed with County Clerk Young Tuesday afternoon, there is an unaccounted for shortage in the county funds of about thirty-seven hundred dollars, and nothing to show for the disposition of about a thousand dollars of the county's good roads fund. When seen this morning County Judge Over-shiner said that he had not had time on account of the work incident to the changing of offices from the old court house to the Hotel Grace, to examine the reports of the committee thoroughly, but to the best of his knowledge, based upon the investigations which he has made, the above figures are approximately correct.

The records, with few exceptions, are clear since 1909, and almost all the shortages which have been detected, have occurred since January of 1912.

While the people of Taylor county are very anxious to get the details of the reports of the auditing committee, it is not definitely known at this time whether they will be published in full. Commissioners court meets next Monday, and it is presumed the county "dada" will go over the reports and order them given the publicity that in their judgment they demand.—Abilene Reporter.

Dishonest Methods Useless.

No man or boy who makes a practice of being dishonest and repudiates his obligations, whether money or otherwise, can ever hope to make good anywhere. It is impossible to successfully fake for long, even in the heart of the African forests. Be sure your dishonesty will find you out and work your undoing. In the commercial world, the fellow who lacks this bed-rock honesty never gets to the quarter pole. The successful business man thinks more of his credit than of his wife; he realizes if his wife leaves him, there are others just about as good, but if he loses his credit, he is up against it. He can have but one credit. It is worth $2.00 for one anywhere. The greatest rascal in the world can get along as long as he has the money to pay for whatever he needs. But let adversity or hard times come, when his money is exhausted, yet he must have goods to keep from ruin; then it is the value of credit is demonstrated. If the honest man has $100, he can buy $200 worth of goods in any market.

With these facts in mind, it seems strange that any young man will start out by beating his little bills in the community where he lives—at the restaurant, drug store and cold drink places. Some will borrow a quarter, fifty cents or even a dollar from a friend, in the most altry manner, with, "I'll hand this back to you tomorrow, John," but tomorrow has a way of never coming around. This class of people soon so tag themselves that they are known by everyone in town; even the bootblacks and washwomen.

Even if you pay your just debts from "policy" alone, its the best kind of policy. But honest people pay their debts from principle—not policy.

Good Roads Constitutional Amendment

Every county in the state of Texas where good roads are needed, and it is probable that every county in Texas could improve its road system, is vitally interested in the special election to be held throughout the State on Saturday July 19.

At that time an amendment to the constitution will be submitted which seeks to permit a majority vote instead of a two-thirds vote on good roads bond issues as at present.

By the majority plan a handicap of considerable voting strength is removed, for the majority in a progressive community is usually favorable to progressive ideas and are willing to spend money to promote business. They are imbued with the idea that a dollar not working depreciates in value to zero. All sections of the state are seeking to get out an immense vote and practically every newspaper commercial club and the progressives of each community are urging the voters not to overlook this opportunity to increase the business possibilities of the state.

UNFAIR TO THE DRUGGIST.

The Old Joke About "Something Just as Good," Doesn't Apply to This Drug Store.

You have probably heard dozens of times the old story that a drug store was a place to "get something just as good." There is at least one druggist in the world that you can't say this about.

It is certain that an inferior article will never be substituted for a guaranteed one by Floyd Beall's drug store. Take for instance a safe, reliable remedy for constipation and liver trouble like Dodson's Liver Tone. This harmless vegetable liquid has proved so satisfactory a liver stimulant and reliever of biliousness, and to entirely take the place of calomel without any danger or restriction of habits or diet, that there are dozens of preparations springing up with imitations of its claims.

But Dodson's Liver Tone is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it. Floyd Beall will hand your money back with a smile. Any person going to this store for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will be sure of getting a large bottle of this genuine remedy in exchange for his half dollar.

On last Sunday the nine-year old son of Mr. Charles Barnes and another boy about 17 years of age were on the river up about Cedar Bend, and in going about the banks, the Barnes boy fell in and was drowned before he could be rescued. The remains were interred Monday in that community.

It is simply a miracle that more people are not drowned than are. They venture into water without being able to swim and on the first sense of danger become panic stricken and lose their presence of mind, wildly clutching at the first thing in reach. So fatal is the clutch of a drowning person and so greatly does it hamper the efforts of a good swimmer to rescue those in peril, that other means are tried before swimmers go to their aid. Every child should be taught to swim, and until it can swim, should not be allowed to venture into deep water without the presence of a good and strong swimmer.

Madam Ayers Makes Good.

Those who heard Patti Ayers sing at the high school auditorium last Saturday night, express themselves as astonished at her voice. Though lacking somewhat in technique, its timbre was unmistakably wonderful, reaching and sustaining the high notes in such selections as the mad scene from Lucia De Lammore, with ease and softness. All her other selections, mostly from grand opera, in French and Italian, were rendered with equal ease and grace. Her English selections "Coming Thro' the Rye," "Last Rose of Summer," "Home Sweet Home," etc. were exceptionally well rendered and more fully appreciated by the majority of her audience. She sang with a phonograph accompaniment, explaining that she was not used to piano accompaniment. She more than made good, but the persistence with which she maintained that she was not "Madam Ayers," but a sister, and that Madam Ayers would arrive later in her own automobile, led to an undertow report that she was a fake; but whatever reasons she might have had for this double identity, concerns herself alone. The fact remains that she more than made good. But it seems to us that it would be better for her to have a manager and advance agent to make her arrangements for her. She deserved a better house than came out to hear her, but this was probably due to lack of time to properly advertise the occasion.

runs out of hearing towards Loraine. He can give it more different kinds of quaver and tremulo movement than any old state back-woods treble singer at a camp meeting we ever heard. Instead of giving two long and two short blasts for a crossing, he throws in half dozen full quavering slides, a couple of slurs and then explodes with a blast and a descending moaning screech that fairly makes one's scalp crawl and spinal column creep. To hear that engine come through town about two o'clock in the morning with its wails its howlings, screechings and dying moans, is enough to cause the dead to turn in their graves. We never heard but one like it, and that was at a penitentiary, and sounded only when some desperate convict made his escape—a riot whistle.

A SPECIAL REQUEST.

When parties want extra copies of any issue of the Record containing a particular article or notice, it would be a great favor to let us know before the paper is printed, as only enough papers are usually printed to supply our list and files with not more than 25 extras. This is the only way to make sure of getting the papers. Please try to think of this. We could have used sixty or seventy more papers last week, had we known the demand beforehand.

COLORADO, Texas

Sweetwater, Texas, May 23rd, 1913. Grogan Wells & Boone Institute of Massage, Sweetwater, Texas. Gentlemen:-

On the 29th day of April, 1913, I entered your institution and began taking your treatment, and left the institution on the 9th day of May, 1913.

I had a very severe case of rheumatism for which I had been unable to get any relief whatever; and in addition to this, for fifteen years I had been unable to put my right hand to my head on account of a dislocation of the shoulder. After a ten days course of treatment I am entirely relieved, have good use of all my limbs and feel like a new man.

My general physical condition had also affected my eyes until I could hardly read, even with glasses, but now they are as good as ever, as remedying the other ailments of my body has removed all defects from them.

I heartily and conscientiously recommend the Grogan Wells and Boone institute of Massage to all sufferers.

Respectfully, (Signed) M. L. Bennett.

The Record wants a regular correspondent in every community of the county. The value of a country newspaper depends on the amount and reliability of the community news. One section of the county wants to know what is going on in the other sections.

This immediate section is needing rain just now; so is all other sections from which we can hear. The grass and weeds are beginning to show the effects of the hot dry weather; so also are the crops. A good rain this week would help everything immensely and improve the good prospects existing up to two weeks ago. Although farmers are not complaining, yet all of them realize that a good rain is the one thing just now most needed. The promise of rain last Sunday evening was very flattering, but the rain did not come, ditto Monday evening, although it looked as if the people of some near by community did get a shower. But let not your heart be troubled; we will get the needed rain in good time.

Judge Coe informs us that before they are ready to build the new school house at Buford, he will write the Secretary of the Conference of Education at Austin for plans and full specifications for a modern and up-to-date building, suitable for that size school. The conference has prepared a new set of plans from one to eight rooms, and has recently sent out more than one thousand plans to 109 counties upon request. The demand for plans of the most modern school houses is growing and greater pride is being taken, even by the smallest rural schools in the architecture and furnishings of the houses. The law enacted by the last legislature governing the erection of school houses will do much toward insuring scientifically lighted, well ventilated and properly heated houses, and contribute to the well being of the pupils and general efficiency of the schools. Aside from these provisions, well suited playgrounds and good drinking water are essential to good schools.
