BUYS A TEXAS RANCH
W. E. Talley Invests in Cattle and Land in West Texas

W. E. Talley of Rogers, Ark., who has just bought a cattle ranch near Colorado City, comprising some 65,000 acres of land, and about 4000 head of cattle, came in today to look the cattle situation over. On this ranch are 2200 cows and over 1200 calves, besides yearling and 2 year old steers and over 100 head bulls. About 200 acres of land on the ranch are in cultivation.

"It seems to me," Mr. Talley said, as he walked about the yards, and discussed cattle matters, "that this would be a good time to raise calves and produce cattle of the high grade beef type. The way I size up this cattle business is that we are not going to see any more cheap cattle. The place where my ranch is located is in the very heart of the great cattle producing district. By raising forage feeds, and building silos, cattle raising can be carried on there at as little expense as anywhere."—Kansas City HS ranch, situated in the southwest Drovers' Telegram.

The ranch referred to above is the part of this county and formerly owned and operated by W. R. Felker, of Rogers, Arkansas. Mr. Talley was out here some weeks ago with Mr. Felker, looking over the property, but this is the first intimation we have had of the consummation of the sale.

MEXICAN BANDITS MENACE AMERICANS

El Paso, July 19.—The Mexican consul at Juarez reports that fourteen American men, six families with women and children at Madera, Chihuahua are in daily danger of attack by bandits. It is said the government announced its inability to offer protection.

The Americans were recently active in running down the bandits who declared they would rob the American homes and slay the families. The Americans are armed and will fight if necessary but are trying to leave the country.

All Amendments Defeated.

Partial returns from various parts of the state conclusively prove that all the proposed amendments to the state constitution were overwhelmingly defeated—the bond issue, more than 5 to 1. At this voting precinct there were 19 votes for and 192 against, which, we understand, reflects the ratio over the entire county. There was a much fuller vote in this county and over the state generally, than was anticipated.

MEXICAN BRIGANDS BUTCHER AMERICAN.

Repulsed by Cowboys, Band Again Is at Throats of Foreigners in the Madera Lumber Camp.

El Paso, July 20.—Armed Mexican bandits, headed by El Mocho Martinez who were repulsed with the loss of nine men by American cowboys on the Babicora ranch of William R. Hearst, near Madera, Chihuahua, two weeks ago, now threaten the lives of the few Americans remaining in the Madera lumber camp, according to information brought here by an American cattleman from western Chihuahua.

All foreigners and Mexicans in Madera have armed themselves in anticipation of an attack. Martinez is said to be the man who took the initiative in the mutiny of the Juarez federal garrison in January 1912.

John Parks, an American butcher of Madera, was slashed across the face with a sword by El Mocho, and lost one ear, a few days ago, when Martinez's band held him up for big money.

According to G. S. Smith, partner of Ben Griffin, an American rancher who was killed by El Mocho's band July 5 near Chulchapa, the taking of Griffin's life was deliberate. The two Americans were ranchers. They were stripped of everything they owned, including poultry and the seed for their planting. Griffin was shot by a firing squad, Smith says, after the bandits had failed to get money from him. Smith reached El Paso in a pitiable condition, having walked most of the way from Madera.

WISHERD AND BAKER PARDONED

Were Residents of Snyder and Were Charged With Violation of the National Banking Laws; Pardon Granted Monday.

Washington, July 22.—President Wilson Monday pardoned T. F. Baker and John A. Wisherd, convicted at Abilene, Texas, April 13, 1913, on a charge of violating the National Banking act, and sentenced to five years each. No portion of their sentence had been served when they were granted a pardon Monday by the President.

The President's action was based on the grounds of their innocence. Baker was charged with misapplication of the funds of the First National Bank of Snyder, Texas, and Wisherd with abetting him.

The department of justice held that there was no fraud, and recommended their pardon.

COLORADO WINS

TAKES TWO OUT OF THREE FROM THE ALKALI KIDS, THE CHAMPIONS (1) OF WEST TEXAS

THREE EXCITING GAMES

The Pecos Team Is The Strongest of All That Have Played Colorado, But They Could Not Win.

When it was announced last week that the unbeaten Pecos team would play Colorado a series of three games all the fans looked forward to a hard battle, and many predicted that the visitors would walk off with the pennant, with at least two games to their credit. They came with all the assurance in the world that they could shut Colorado out any time they wished to do so, as they had been victorious in nearly all their games.

There is no doubt that the Pecos boys can play ball all right. It is the general verdict that they have the best all round team that has been to Colorado. They were not only fine batters, and good fielders, but had fine team work, were fast and accurate in every play.

A large crowd came out the first day, and kept increasing at each game until on Wednesday an immense crowd of fans came out to boost—some for Pecos, but mostly for Colorado.

The weather and grounds were ideal, and the boys went at it hammer and tongs.

The line up for Monday's game was as follows:

Colorado	R	H	E
Lovelace, ss.	2	1	0
Crawford, 2b.	1	1	2
Farrar, 3b.	1	1	0
Palmer, cf.	1	1	0
Hughes, c.	0	0	0
Enderly, 1b.	0	1	2
Scott, p.	1	0	2
Vaughan, rf.	1	1	0

The third game was where the fun was expected, and the fans had a plenty. It was the deciding game, and both teams put in some new timber. Pecos got Muns and Morgan of Lorraine for battery and Colorado had Quattlebaum, the "big boy" pitcher from Abilene. Three of Colorado's regular team were out, one out of town and two crippled, but they put in F. and W. Werner, who sure made good.

The stores all closed at 5 o'clock and the whole town went out to see the game, it having been called at 5:30 sharp.

The line up was as follows:

Colorado	R	H	E
Lovelace, 2b.	0	0	1
F. Werner, ss.	1	1	2
W. Werner, 3b.	0	2	0
Palmer, 1b.	1	2	1

The first Colorado ball team had better look to their laurels, else the kid contingent will eclipse them in glory. This is composed of boys from 15 to 17 years of age, of which Alva Hickman is the manager. They went down to Lorraine last Saturday and played the Roscoe kids, several of whom, we understand were much older and more experienced in the ball game than the Colorado players.

A splendid game of ball was played which at the conclusion of the ninth inning resulted in a score of 4 to 4. Three more innings were played without yielding a single score to either side. In the thirteenth inning, the Roscoe team managed to slip one by the Colorado kids, giving them 5 to Colorado 4. The batteries for this game were: Roscoe, Coffee, Hopper and Harris; Colorado: Roland, Campbell and Hickman. We call this a good game of ball, one that would do credit to much older and more experienced players. In another season or two this team will have to uphold the reputation of Colorado on the diamond. If there is a team of like age in any of the neighboring towns that would like to try conclusions with the Colorado kid team, they would like to know it.

crowd held their breath for the third strike—think of the tension, excitement and what depended on one good hit—bases full, two men out and two strikes on the batter, Crawford seemed to be the coolest one of the bunch and stood ready, with the nerve to watch two balls go by, then he saw a good one coming, he gathered his powerful muscles for a good hit—and he got it. He hit the pellet square in the face and sent it far over center fielder, making a home run by a mile, bringing in the three runners besides himself, and won the game. Of course the fans went wild, they got Crawford on their shoulders and carried him around and finally after chucking a liberal cash bonus in his pockets put him in an auto.

The Colorado boys played a poor game up to the last two innings, and the spectacular finish is all that saved it from being rotten. They seemed to be out of form, and made more errors than usual. Scotty did himself proud in the box as also did Hughes behind the bat. If the team had been together behind the battery the game would have been more equalized.

The line up for Tuesday was as follows:

Colorado	R	H	E
Lovelace, ss.	0	1	2
Crawford, 2b.	0	1	1
Vaughan, 3b.	0	1	1

Colorado 0; Pecos 3; Battery Colorado, Cooper and Hughes; Pecos, Scott and Slack; Umpire, Jack Farmer. Cooper struck out 4; Scott 4; Cooper walked 1, hit 0; Scott walked 1, hit 1.

Again Colorado was far below her standard, and was unable to do anything with the Alkali Kids. They got plenty hits but could not place them, and their infielding was not as good as usual. Farrar, one of the best all round players was not in the game, and several new players who were not used to team's work had to be put in. Anyway the Pecos boys put the kibosh on them in this game good and plenty.

The excitement was intense and the crowd sure made some noise. Rah for Colorado's ball team.

Our standing is as follows:

and brought in Randal who was on first. This tied the score, 2-2. The tenth and eleventh innings were goose eggs for both sides, as was the first half of the twelfth for Pecos. When Colorado went to bat in the last half of the 12th it was decided to end the game with that inning on account of darkness, Pecos thinking they would shut them out. But that was where they made the mistake. F. Werner went to first on a pretty ground-er; W. Werner fanned; Palmer got a safe hit over center, advancing Werner to second. Werner stole third while Palmer slipped to second. Quattlebaum picked up the stick and sent a hot two bagger to right field, scoring Werner and Palmer. So ended the hardest, and perhaps the closest game of the season in favor of Colorado.

Many Saloons in State Quit Business. Austin, Texas, July 11.—As a result of the enactment of the 9:30 closing law, many saloons in Texas have gone out of business and many others are transferring their business and selling out. The saloonkeepers claim that a considerable portion of their sales was between the hours of 9 p. m. and midnight. Worth Ray, chief liquor permit clerk in the comptroller's department, says that the department is having considerable worry over these transfers. In many instances the comptroller has evidence against the applicant for renewal, and rather than stand the chance of having his license forfeited, the business is sold. While the hours for doing business have been shortened, there has been no corresponding decrease in the cost of the license.

Day Is Advertised Better Than Night

By HOLLAND.

THE day is a more popular time than night. Most of the work of the world is done while the sun shines, and only that which can't be done at other hours is performed while darkness reigns.

The day is the more popular and the more fully utilized because it is better advertised. The sun is the great publicity agent. It forces all to see and to remember. If it were possible to advertise any product of man as well as sunlight is advertised that particular product would drive all competitors from the field. Any breakfast food, baking powder, brand of shoes, style of furniture, cough drop, patent medicine, or what not, if it were only as well known as daylight, would have a monopoly of trade that would defy all rivals.

Such successful advertising of the works of man is not possible, but it can be followed at a distance. Successful manufacturers and merchants do follow it, and as a result the best advertised articles are the most widely sold. This is due to the fact that advertising makes the name of an article known, and it also insures its quality. Goods must be of superior merit to make it profitable to advertise them.

ADVERTISING MEANS RELIABILITY.

SKILL AVERTS A "PINCH"

Wins Heart of Traffic Policeman Despite His Scant Years.

A big, glittering touring car raised the top of a grade and bowed along the Massachusetts macadam. A man peered at it from a clump of bushes and gasped.

Perched under the steering wheel which he handled with all the confidence of a veteran was a wee mite of a child.

The watcher was a traffic constable—one of a type familiar to New England motorists. His amazement was deepened by the plain violation of state law which prohibits any minor of less than 16 from sitting at the wheel of a moving motor car.

The constable gave chase on his motorbike and ordered the car stopped. Addressing himself to a man in the tonneau he remarked that Massachusetts didn't sanction cradle robbery to recruit the ranks of its chauffeurs.

"Come into town," he added, "we want to see the justice."

Sadly little Lyman Blish, aged twelve, went through the gears of his Studebaker "35" and rolled away, the stern misison of the law following close behind.

It was a busy morning on the highway. There were railroad crossings in rapid succession; farmers were bringing in produce; automobiles and motor trucks were plying in both directions. Through the maze of the traffic little Lyman threaded his way with perfect ease, now speeding up to pass a string of wagons, now slowing down and carefully looking each way before making a grade crossing. The town was reached and the constable chugged alongside and gave the stopping signal again.

"Well," quoth he, "I guess it's all right, after all. He's four years shy the legal age but I see by your Indiana license you're strangers. Besides, I wish some of these drivers five times as old had as much sense as this kid. We won't worry the justice this morning."

So began and ended the only unpleasant incident connected with the recent trip of the Blish family who, with Lyman as driver, his ten-year old brother as mechanic, Mrs Blish as guide and Mr. Blish as pursuer, toured from their home in Seymour, Ind., clear to Maine and back, a distance of nearly 3,000 miles. Lyman drove every foot of the way, excepting a few stretches where he relinquished the wheel to little Meedy, also an expert driver. Meedy justly claimed that his job of mechanic gave him nothing to do, and demanded some active part.

They visited the old Blish homestead in Brooklyn, crossed Crawford Notch covered nearly 200 miles a day, made their loop and got back without opening the tool box, and with the original Indiana air in all four tires. When they got back Mr. Blish made his sons a present. It was the Studebaker car in which the trip was made. Keiper sells 'em in Colorado.

STATE LAW MAKERS CONVENE IN SPECIAL SESSION IN CITY OF AUSTIN TODAY

THERE IS TROUBLE BREWING

Governor's Appropriation Bill Jars Legislative Nerves and Protracted Session Is Expected.

Austin, Texas, July 20.—Trouble is brewing for the special session of the thirty-third legislature opening here tomorrow morning. Senator James Clayton McNealus of Dallas has announced his intention of introducing a resolution for the call of a constitutional convention.

Governor Colquitt's intention of proffering the management of the state penitentiary system to former State Senator W. O. Murray is meeting with opposition.

Representative Humphrey may submit a minority report on the investigation of the penitentiaries.

Estimates for a new general land office building have been asked and an appropriation to construct same will be added to the general appropriation bill.

Appropriation Bill.

The governor's appropriation bill has jarred the nerves of opposition leaders who would disregard and take time to work out a bill. Thus, a prolonged session is spoken of at this date of from sixty to ninety days' duration.

The possible deposition of Chester Terrell speaker of the house has failed to appear thus far.

Several blue sky laws will be introduced. An amendment to the act of the regular session governing mortgages may be submitted.

Automatic Tax Board.

The automatic tax board will make no move until after the appropriation bill is submitted. The tax rate will probably soar to the limit because of the defeat of the amendments and the heavy indebtedness of the state.

Lieutenant Governor Mayes said tonight that the penitentiary committee would not submit a bill embodying its recommendations and that no such bill had been prepared.

IRRIGATED LAND.

At Ballinger, Mr. Farmer paid $17,000 for 340 acres of land, and the first year's crop brought the neat sum of $23,160, the rent alone making the owner a net profit of $7,580. Dr. Phenix is now offering a small tract of his farm for only $50 per acre, including water right, pumping machinery and all. The first year's crop will more than pay for the land. When he makes one more sale the price is to be raised to $75 or $100 per acre.—Adv.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE

Washington, D. C. July 23.—(Special) Already the people of New York are keenly alive to the vast benefits that will accrue, are looking eagerly forward to the opening of the barge canal which, next to the Panama Canal, is one of the greatest engineering feats of modern times and which when completed, will cost in the neighborhood of $130,000,000. This canal, undertaken by the State of New York alone, will be a very great artery of communication, available for both profit and pleasure. Its length including the Hudson River will be nearly 500 miles and when completed, shortly after the opening of the Panama Canal, the people of the Empire State will have at their disposal a free channel of transportation, a canal 12 feet in depth and capable of accommodating boats which will carry freight from Duluth to Boston. Among the benefits will be a lake 16 miles long from Schenectady to Waterford, while the building of an immense dam in Oneida County already has proved its value.

To accommodate the enormous volume of business anticipated the state is erecting freight terminals at a cost of $19,000,000, the largest expenditures being made in the cities of Buffalo and New York, the lake and ocean termini respectively. These two cities decided the question of voting bonds against the opposition of all the rest of the state, including most of those cities which now are expectantly looking forward for increased business.

The Department of Agriculture, through the Weather Bureau, has inaugurated a plan of supplying a regular daily weather bulletin to all vessels and radio stations within range of the enormous wireless stations at Arlington, Va., and Key West Florida. Each night, a few minutes after 10 o'clock, the two big radio stations will make a broadcast distribution of a weather bulletin which will deal particularly with wind conditions and barometric pressure and give special warning of severe storms along the coast.

The daily bulletin will consist of two parts. The first part will give in code letters and figures the actual weather conditions at 8 p. m. (75th Meridian time) at certain points: Sydney, Nantucket, Atlantic City, Hatteras, Charleston, Key West, Pensacola and Bermuda.

The total number of animals inspected in the 790 slaughtering and processing establishments under federal inspection in 226 cities and towns in 1912 was 57,628,491. This is nearly 5,000,000 increase over the figures for the fiscal year 1911. Of the animals inspected in 1912—cattle numbered 7,245,585; calves, 2,277,954; sheep, 14,979,354; goats, 72,871; and hogs, 33,052,727.

In addition to this enormous work on the part of the Bureau of Animal Industry, that service also condemned nearly 18,000,000 pounds of prepared meats and meat products because they had become unwholesome subsequent to the first inspection.

"Ever try Prickly Ash Bitters?" "No; I've heard a good deal about it, but never tried it." "Well, you'll be pleased with the results."

The purgative action of Prickly Ash Bitters not only removes hard impactions, gas and impurities, but it strengthens the muscular action of the bowels which causes them to move regularly.

Prickly Ash Bitters is a bowel tonic and regulator in the truest sense. It promotes daily evacuations, establishes healthy movements and is the best known remedy for disordered digestion, flatulence and a constipated habit.

D. M. Blackwelder, of Litchfield, Ill., says in the Litchfield News: "I am perfectly willing, in fact glad to testify to the value of Prickly Ash Bitters as a medicine for the kidneys, stomach and bowels. I have used it whenever I needed anything of the kind for the last fifteen years and it has always given satisfaction."

THE COLORADO SUMMER NORMAL

The Normal began June 3rd and continued six weeks. The examinations have just been closed. There were thirty five applicants for certificates and nineteen building for certificates of higher grades. The examination papers all go to Austin where they are examined by the State Summer Normal Board of Examiners.

The work of the normal has been good in every sense, the pupils have been uniformly in earnest and have done their work well. Mr. L. E. King who comes to us from Sweetwater has rendered splendid service in Science and other subjects assigned him. He knows how to stimulate pupils to do their best and his classes have been enthusiastic in their work.

Mr. F. L. Farrar of Lorraine has covered himself with honors as an instructor in Mathematics. He has a comprehensive grasp of his subject and possesses the happy faculty of being able to lead others into the light of theme. One visitor who has been observing work in the Normals of Texas for twenty years said that he had never seen a better instructor in Mathematics than Mr. Farrar. I am sure he was amply able to do good service and from the papers handed in by the pupils I am sure their work was well done.

Miss Sallie Hutton who had three weeks in Primary Methods and Practice work made quite a reputation with the pupils. Miss Hutton knows the latest and best methods of teaching in primary grades and with her happy manner is able to impart her knowledge to others. Many of the attendants here expressed themselves that they were greatly benefited by having the work under her. I consider the people of Colorado fortunate in having Miss Hutton in the primary work.

Taken all in all the Normal has been very successful. The people of Colorado have been kind to us and for all their courtesies I now thank them heartily. Our stay among you has been pleasant and the people of Colorado live and wide awake on school matters. Your High School building is beautiful and commodious. It is pleasant and well arranged. May this educational spirit continue and spread out to all other communities in our State. Again thanking each citizen of Colorado for their many acts of kindness and the members of the faculty for their loyalty and fellowship, I am,

E. A. WATSON.

Mission Study Class.

The Mission Study Class of the Baptist Church met with Mrs. Geo. W. Smith last Thursday, with Mrs. N. J. Phenix as leader.

The subject was "Home Mission Heroes", each one responded to roll call with the name of a Home Missionary. Mrs. Earnest Burdine had a good paper on "Roger Williams, The founder of the Baptist church in America." Mrs. Hooper told of Luther Rice, father of ministerial Education. Mrs. Smoot told of Dr. J. T. Tichenor her first pastor in Alabama and one who stood nobly for organized Woman's Work. Mrs. A. L. Whipkey gave a short sketch of a heroine, Mrs. M. B. Smoot in our own church and community and a hero. D. B. Morrell who rose from obscurity to be President of the General Association working his way through school, his influence was for good over the entire state.

The Bible questions were on Jeremiah. The offering went on their pledge of fifty dollars to The Training School at Ft. Worth, which is now due. The hostess served little cakes and sherbet at the social hour.

She was assisted by her little granddaughter, Little Miss Laura Louise Pearson.

The next meeting is with Mrs. R. O. Pearson in August.

Fishing Party.

Last Friday the families of G. D. Adams, D. S. Nettles and Paul Terrell, Eddie and Willie Moeser and the little Whipkeys went down on Champion picnicing and fishing. They had ice cream, cantaloupes, chicken etc. for dinner, fish for supper and the boys all had blistered backs to come home with. But they had a fine time and are ready for such another day.

G. F. C.

Mrs. Myrtle Vaughan was hostess for the G. F. C. last Thursday.

The usual good time was had as this club never tires of their ever popular game.

Miss Mabel Smith and Miss Ruth Buchanan were the most successful players of the afternoon and were awarded silver picture frames for their skill.

The hostess, assisted by her mother Mrs. John Vaughan, served Lillian Russels with white cake and Devil's food.

"42" Party.

Monday afternoon, Mrs. Barcroft entertained the Hesperian Club and a few friends in honor of Mrs. P. A. Hazzard with "42". After a number of interesting games, Miss Jo Dry the Hesperian President presented, the honoree with a Hesperian spoon as a souvenir of the occasion as a token of the high esteem in which she is held by this club.

The hostess served delicious homemade cake and ice cream as refreshments. The out of town guest for the afternoon was Mrs. E. E. Radford of Oklahoma.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to publicly thank our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy extended us during the illness and on the death of our father, J. B. Bond. No one who has not passed through such trial can appreciate the consolation of such acts of brotherly love and sympathy. May God bless you all, is the heartfelt wish of HIS SONS.

Lawn Party.

The Central Circle of the Methodist Aid Society entertained their husbands last Friday night by giving them a lawn party on Earl Jackson's beautiful lawn.

The evening was spent by just talking to their husbands, as that is about the only way wives can catch these busy men to get acquainted with them. When conversation lagged charades were played much to the delight and amusement of all. At a late hour the ladies served ice cream and cake.

The gentlemen enjoyed it so much that they asked to be entertained that way again soon.

Kid Crowd Play Ball.

Everybody seemed to have caught the ball fever. The Kid crowd met the Roscoe kids last Saturday at Lorraine and a warm game took place. A big crowd of the kid girls went down chaperoned by Mrs. Crockett and all had the time of their lives. Roscoe beat, they say, only by the skin of their teeth and that was because they were larger.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazzard Leave.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hazzard left Tuesday morning for El Paso, where they will remain for a while. Perhaps no one family has been more intimately identified with the people and interests of Colorado and vicinity, than have this one. Coming to this place just after the advent of the railroad, Mr. Hazzard became connected with the postoffice service here, and with a short intermission, has been connected with the postoffice, either as assistant or postmaster since the establishment of the office in April 1883. No town ever had a better postmaster than he, and he was no less efficiently assisted by his wife. The regret was universal that changing administrations of the government service demanded that a change be made in the postmastership at this place. Colorado may have as efficient postmaster as was Mr. Hazzard, but we do not believe there will ever be a better one. If he ever gave offense to a patron, it was because he adhered strictly and with fidelity to the letter of the postal regulations.

They will be missed in Colorado in many ways. Active church and social workers, they took an active part in everything for the betterment of the community. Mrs. Hazzard will be particularly missed in church and club circles, in both of which she was ever at the forefront.

Both their sons are at El Paso, working in the postoffice at that place. After a visit with them and a short rest, Mr. Hazzard will go to the Davis mountains, where he will stay until fully recuperated in health and strength. The best wishes of the Record as well as of the entire community go with these excellent people and wherever their lot may be cast, we wish for them every blessing and success.

Eightieth Birthday.

Last Friday was Aunt Eliza Woods as she is affectionately called, birthday and her relatives and friends planned a surprise party for her at her niece's, Mrs. Earl Jackson.

She is a sister of Grandma Cooksey who was also there and just two years younger. At one time she lived here and quite a number of her friends are still here and were glad of the opportunity to do her honor.

She is now living in Dallas but is here for the summer and glad her relatives and friends are that she was able to be here on this happy occasion.

A program had been prepared by loving friends and after the guests had all arrived and greeted Aunt Eliza it was given. Brother Lyon led in prayer for these two sainted women who were past their four score years and whose lives had been one of usefulness to their fellow beings. Mrs. Stowe and Miss Roxie Coughran sang sweetly and feelingly "Silver Threads Among the Gold".

Mrs. Andrew Cooksey paid this loving tribute to Mrs. Woods.

Aunt Eliza, with hearts full of gratitude, we bless this day that brings us together to do you honor. We would not wait till the sands of life are running low to bring to you our flowers, but while the sunshine of health wreathes your face with a halo of glory do we tell you of the love that fills our hearts. We know your present and the by-gones too. We know what you have been and what you are. Not one selfish, sordid thought has your good soul ever known.

But on the other hand the very best of your life has gone out in sacrifice and in loving ministry for others. Truly all the heroes are not made in battle, nor all the deeds of greatness written on the scroll of fame. She who lives nobly and quietly as you have done, bravely discharging her duty both to God and her fellowman has wrought a thousand times greater than these. Then—Fill your glasses to the brim,

Drink to her health all over again. But of all her goodness, kindness and love, 'Twill never be revealed 'till in Heaven above.

Then Mrs. Sherwin read a little poem "Growing old Gracefully" also a poem she had composed, and read to her own dear mother years ago when she was eighty, which was appreciated by all present.

Many dainty and appropriate gifts were given "Aunt Eliza". Some with rhymes, all with love and, Mrs. J. L. Shepherd told on her gift of the many deeds of kindness that she had bestowed on her in her early married life and of how her good advice had helped her over stony places.

After all gifts had been opened and admired the hostess, assisted by a number of friends served ice cream and cake. All then gathered around and sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

All left feeling it was good to have this honor given them and with the best of wishes for Mrs. Woods and Grandma Cooksey hoping they may have many happy returns of the day. The Record joins in these good wishes.

COLORADO, TEXAS JULY 25, 1913.

One of the most valuable things one can learn, whether on the farm, in the shop or in the home, is to make the head save the heels—do your thinking before your doing.

It would appear from the returns of last Saturday's election, that the people of Texas are satisfied with the present state constitution, particularly, the provision that secures the bond issue to the voters, alone.

A writer in the Farmers' Mail & Breeze declares that chinch bugs never travel to the north. He has certainly never slept on some of the Texas beds we have. It makes little difference to the cimex pusillanimous whether you lay to the north, south, east or west, he'll never fail to reach you.

Said a purchaser of a Christmas turkey to an old negro who had sold it to him: "You told me that it was not a wild turkey, but was home raised. I found several shot in it, which proves it was a wild turkey." "No sir, boss, dat wuz a tame turkey, dem shot was intended for me."

The notorious senate joint resolution No. 18 will go down in political history as the worst beaten proposed amendment to the state constitution ever put before the people. It was simply asking the voters of Texas to put a club in the hands of the legislature with which to crack their own heads. And the people not misled by the specious reasoning of the proponents of the measure, to the effect that the very continuance of all our educational and eleemosynary institutions depended on the adoption of the amendment. It was beaten to a frazzle, as it should have been.

There are no two debts that the fellow with a yellow streak in him will repudiate quicker than a doctor's bill and a newspaper debt. There is no surer test of the stuff that's in a man than his willingness to pay what he is not compelled to pay, or can not be made to pay. Ordering a paper stopped when one is behind with his subscription, yet accepting it every week and reading it, does not pay the debt or get rid of the moral obligation. As long as a man takes a newspaper from the postoffice he signifies his acceptance of the paper and acknowledges his obligation to pay for it.

A democratic president and democratic congress have proven one thing in the face of the threatened strike of all the trainmen east of the Mississippi river and consequent paralysis of business. By promptly passing a bill providing for a fair arbitration between employers and employees, they have not only established a record for quick action, but have shown that the disastrous strikes of past years could have been prevented in the same way. President Wilson does not play politics. When he realized the imminence of the strike and its fearful results, he lost no time in wondering whose interests would be hurt. A two hour's conference at the Whitehouse between himself and the leaders of both parties was sufficient to frame the needed law and set it in operation. Wilson's every act shows the right man is president.

So long as agriculture in West Texas depends on the natural rain fall, just so long will it be a matter of hazard and mere chance. Up to three weeks ago, or on the 1st of July, this section of West Texas never was blessed with better prospects for an abundant crop of all kinds. But the rain refused to come; the hot wind passed like a simoon over the vegetation with its scorching, withering breath, and the face of our promises was changed. And although there will be sufficient feed made to run the farmers next year, and the cotton crop promises to turn out better than for the past three years, the bright prospects of three weeks ago are gone.

Fifty years ago today, Samuel Houston, the father of Texas, died.

Has a citizen of any town or community the RIGHT to do that which is an injury to that town or community? A man has the personal RIGHT to go without clothing on his own premises; but has he the RIGHT to force his nakedness upon the community? Every individual and personal right ends just at the point where the community interest begins. This is a fundamental principle that all the logic in the world can not overthrow. On this principle alone, rests the success of society; a part of each individual right must be sacrificed to the larger right of the entire community. There is no question that a person has the legal right to spend his money where-soever he will—to send away from home for those things which he can buy of the local merchants. But how will this effect the community or town in which such person lives? He is sending out of the community money, which he will never again see, and he is also depriving all his neighbors of the chance of getting that same money through the channel of business, in payment for their work, time, merchandise or skill. In short, the man who sends his money to the foreign mail order houses, is injuring, not only the community at large, but his individual neighbors. He is decreasing the volume of money in the community, and diminishing his own chances of making it. This proposition can not be gotten away from; yet there are many people with the "send away" habit who have never thought of the matter in this light. When trying to defend this habit, just ask yourself this question: Suppose everyone in this community should do like me and send their money away for what they want, where would the money come from after it had all been sent away? Yes, where?

The mess in Mexico is fast coming to a head. Conditions there have become intolerable and foreign nations having interests in that country are beginning to ask the United States what they are going to do about the Monroe doctrine. President Wilson has steadily refused to recognize the usurping government of Huerta, and has insisted on waiting till a president has been regularly and popularly elected by the people before giving recognition. His idea has been, that if the people of Mexico will get together and elect a man president who has some character and standing, the United States will not only recognize the government of such a president, but would cheerfully lend its aid in stabilizing such government and putting down rebellion and brigandage in that country. It seems to us that the Mexican government would be glad to have such an ally as the United States. That country is almost helpless against revolution. It has no army on whose loyalty it can depend; no military equipment; no commissary department; no way to move its army quickly. If there were enough real patriotism in that country to cause the warring factions to get together for the common good and elect a president, then unite in establishing his administration firmly, Mexico would not only gain the respect of the world, but could command all the assistance it needed in stabilizing conditions and guaranteeing safety of life and property to the people of all other nations within its borders.

Ellen Evelyn James, a Texas girl, has become a goddess—the Goddess of Plenty—and as such her face will ornament new bills to be issued by the United States government. Kenyon Cox, the artist to whom was given the work of designing the bill, had many candidates for the Goddess of Plenty, but he chose the little Texas girl. Miss James is an artist herself being a student of sculpture in the Students' Art League of New York City.

THE NEED EMPHASIZED.

For the past several years the Record has kept before its readers the urgent need of a local sanitarium and hospital and every case that goes from this county to Dallas, Fort Worth, or Abilene, but serves to emphasize its need. During the past week two operations were performed here for appendicitis, which are doing just as well, and possibly better, than if they had been carried to some other place. There is no lack of surgical skill or experience here; what is lacking is the sanitary environments of a hospital and trained nursing. More depends on the after treatment and attention the patient receives, than upon the actual operation itself. There is hardly a week but there are two or more cases of illness in town which would be greatly benefited by the attention of a trained nurse and hospital surroundings.

There are many towns not larger than Colorado, and much nearer large cities, which maintain a hospital on a self-supporting basis. In some places the King's Daughters have taken the matter in hand and opened hospitals which have become great benefits to the communities, and which are sustained by public subscriptions where the business has not rendered them self-supporting.

A well equipped hospital at Colorado would attract cases from all over the county as well as from contiguous counties. Country physicians having serious cases would bring them here for better attention than they could receive at home, and it costs as much for the average case of illness to remain at home as at a hospital, say nothing of the more sanitary surroundings and nursing. From the number of surgical cases that go from this county to other places for treatment and the number of cases of protracted illness occurring in the community, the Record believes the town is sleeping on a golden opportunity in neglecting the establishment of so important an adjunct to the health and life of its citizenship.

The Citizen Who Shirks Duty.

There are still a few citizens who shirk their duties and allow others to bear the burdens alone. There are still a few who do not vote and are not ashamed of that failure to perform duty.

On the other hand, the grade of citizenship is growing better, and more men recognize their duties to their governments and perform those duties faithfully. The world is growing better, pessimists to the contrary notwithstanding. If the growth to better citizenship be not fast enough, let us remember how far men have come from a bleak past, and from what depths they have arisen.

The man who does not vote deserves small consideration, and if he is not ashamed of his failure then he needs to be reformed. Nor is it sufficient that a man should vote—he should vote right and to do this he must study the subjects of interest and help to solve the problems of his government. He should study also the men who offer for office and vote for those who are worthy and qualified.

No government can be better than the active men who make the government. No stream can rise higher than its source, and the source of power, of capacity, of character, is the people themselves. Nor does this include all of the citizenship. It can include only the men who perform their duties as citizens.

For most of the evils which afflict every government the voters are responsible, by reason of their failure to perform their duties of citizenship faithfully and well. Too often the citizen shirks his duty to vote conscientiously, and votes for personal favor, for friendship or because of prejudice.

In many schools the duties of citizenship are now taught, and with another generation there is hope for better things.

It is a much easier matter to clean and keep clean, some children than others; so it is with towns. It is much easier to clean and keep clean towns, which by their location, topography, habits of inhabitants and water supply and drainage, lend themselves to perfect sanitation than those towns which are contrarily circumstanced. Abundant water, natural sewerage first class streets and sidewalks, large yards and nice shade, as basal conditions, Colorado can be as quickly and easily cleaned up and kept in that condition, as any town in Texas, laid out, planned and partly built, before the days of concrete, germs, microbes and sanitary precautions. This town entered the contest last year, and though it received no prize—not even meritorious mention—yet the material benefit to every inhabitant of the town say nothing of the possibilities of prevention of disease and death was great.

Queen of Pantry Flour—McMurry.

HOT! THEN CONSIDER THESE.

Consider Mr. Shadrach,
Of fiery furnace fame;
He didn't bleat about the heat
Or fuss about the flame.
He didn't swear and worry,
And get his nerves in kinks.
Nor fill his skin with limes and gin
And other "cooling drinks."

Consider Mr. Meshach,
Who felt the furnace, too;
He let it sizz, nor queried "Is
It hot enough for you?"
He didn't mop his forehead,
And hunt a shady spot;
Nor did he say, "Gee! What a day!
Believe me, it's some hot!"

Consider, too, Abed-nego.
Who shared his comrades' plight;
He didn't shake his coat and make
Himself a holy sight.
He didn't wear suspenders
Without a coat and vest;
Nor did he scowl and snort and howl
And make himself a pest.

Consider, friends, this trio—
How little fuss they made.
They didn't curse when it was worse
Than ninety in the shade.
They moved about serenely
Within the furnace bright,
And soon forgot that it was hot,
With "no relief in sight."

Newspapers and Fakers.

Federal Judge Hand, of New York, has ruled that newspapers have the right to expose swindling business houses, when proof of intent to defraud is clear. The case was instituted on plea for injunction by a firm whose advertising the paper had discontinued, and whose method the paper had continued to attack. Similar opinions had been handed down on allied or collateral issues. It is just as well, however, that the powers and the limitations of the press be defined so clearly as to remove all doubt from the equation.

Among the first duties of newspapers is the exposure of fakers. If they are handicapped in this direction the public's best source of protection is impaired. To paraphrase an expression that has become increasingly popular with American presidents, good business has nothing to fear from newspapers. The other sort ought to be put out of commission. There is no danger that the press will prostitute its liberty into license. The libel laws are too plentifully supplied with teeth and the fate of journalistic blackmailers is proverbial. It is a safe assertion that the known betterment of the business code of ethics is due even more to the newspapers than to politicians, and almost as much as to the business men themselves.

State Gets Half Million Dollars.

The suits brought last March by Attorney General Looney against the Magnolia Petroleum Company and other oil companies, for ouster and penalties, were settled at Greenville last Monday before District Judge Pierson. The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey was fined $500,000, while 21,596 shares of the Magnolia Petroleum were placed in trust. This is the second largest fine ever recovered in an anti-trust suit. In 1909 the state of Texas received from the Waters-Pierce Oil Company $1,629,000, with accrued interest amounting to $1,800,000. This $500,000 fine is the largest ever recovered in an agreed judgment, and the second time stock has been trusted and disfranchised in an anti-trust suit, the Union Pacific case being the first.

Rev. Holmes Nichols Goes to Oklahoma.

Rev. Holmes Nichols who was formerly pastor here and who has many friends among all classes, has moved to Oklahoma, as will be seen by the following item taken from his home paper.

Rev. Holmes Nichols preached his farewell sermon to the local congregation Sunday night. He leaves today for Mangum, Okla., where he will have a much larger field of work. During the past year of his ministry in Canyon he has made a host of friends who are very sorry to see him go but are very glad to know that he goes to a field of such great importance. At the regular monthly conference of the church on Wednesday night, the church gave Rev. Nichols a unanimous vote of thanks for his faithful and efficient service to the organization and to the community and bade him God speed in his new field of labor.—Randall County News.

The article copied last week in this paper from the Fort Worth Record, wherein one Fred Glisson was arrested and taken before the Justice court for misdemeanors, did not refer to Fred Glisson who formerly lived in Colorado, and had no sort of connection with him. We are informed by his father that Fred Glisson is now connected with the Y. M. C. A. of Fort. Worth as assistant physical director. The Record is pleased to make this statement.

TAYLOR COUNTY SUES A FORMER OFFICIAL Suits to Collect $3,698 From T. A. Bledsoe, Who Made a Spectacular Escape From Officers.

Abilene, July 17.—Suits for $3,698 against former County Judge T. A. Bledsoe and his bondsmen have been ordered by the county commissioners. This is to cover an alleged shortage which resulted in Bledsoe's resignation recently and the issuance of a warrant for his arrest.

Bledsoe made a spectacular escape from this county. He eluded officers here and started towards Fort Worth. Near Baird he left the train as he was about to be caught by the Callahan county sheriff. While on the prairie near there he wrote his resignation and returned it to Abilene.

Suit was also ordered against E. P. Scarborough and his bondsmen. Scarborough was former paymaster of Road District No. 1, and filed suit against the county for $250, which he claimed was due him by the county.

The report of the auditor showed that Scarborough is indebted to the county in the sum of $800 after allowing him all offsets which the auditor claimed were due him.

ONLY THE BIG CITIES FAVOR AMENDMENTS

Latest Returns Establish Overwhelming Defeat of All the Proposals Submitted Saturday.

Fairly complete returns from Saturday's election demonstrate clearly the decisive defeat of all the state amendments submitted. The proposals met with practically no material support outside the larger cities.

The general bonds, proposed for the state educational institutions, were disapproved by a vote of almost four to one. The anti-fee system amendment fared slightly better, but the ballot fell far short of being close. The district judges amendment lost by three to one, and the plan to authorize the issuance of improvement bonds in certain state districts was no less emphatically turned down.

El Paso, Austin, Galveston and San Antonio gave the educational bonds good majorities, but the telling opposition in the country and smaller cities rolled up a big majority against the proposal. The supporters of the fee system demonstrated, also, that this basis of compensation for county officials has a safe place in the public heart. While some sections report a comparatively light vote, great interest in general was manifested.

The saloon at Warfield has been conducted just as its proprietor proclaimed that it would be. It opens and closes according to law, at prescribed hours, is quiet and orderly, and has been known to refuse all such persons as the law says liquors may not be sold to. This, commendable as it certainly is upon the part of the man who runs the place, is still an argument against the business. We—we believe a majority of Midland county citizenship—are against this man's business, not against the man. A business that will put a man in a condition whereby he must be restrained by law is a bad business, and however carefully it may be conducted will bring others to a point at which the law must step in and say he shall not.—Midland Reporter.

RIDGEWAY TALKS OF FILLING THE SILO

J. W. Ridgeway, head of the Department of Dairy Husbandry at the A. & M. College, has the following to say regarding the filling of the silo: "It is but a few days now until crops should be ready for the silo, and the following precautions should be taken; In the first place I would urge the necessity of being prepared to handle the silage crop at the time it is ready for the silo, for a delay at this time might result in dry and partially rotten silage. Notice your crops closely, and as soon as there is evidence of these crops "bursting" they should be placed in the silo at once. Corn should be put in the silo at the fodder pulling stage, or when the kernels have all become dexter. Kaffir corn, milo maize and sorghum, just after the heads have passed the dough stage or when the seed are three-fourth ripe. If these crops are cut at the time suggested above, no water will be necessary. If, however, delay is experienced then it will be necessary to add water. The amount of water necessary depends on the dryness of the crop. Sufficient water should be added to make the silage moist. One good method of determining whether sufficient water has been added is to press a handful of the silage between the hands and if the palms and fingers are made moist, then enough water has been added. The more necessary precaution is to use a means of a barrel elevated above the cutter and connected with the elevating pipe by 1-4 or 1-2 inch pipe, the amount of water being regulated by a stop-cock. The bottom of the barrel should be about two or three feet above the large fan. The most necessary precaution is the even distribution and thorough packing of the cut material. Provision for six men should be employed in distributing the silage around the edges, keeping it well packed and not permitting the silage to pile up in the center. Silage unevenly and improperly packed will decay in little spots all through the silo and may ruin the entire silo." An exchange says: "A hen can't plow, hoe corn or split wood, but she can get there just the same. She doesn't cost more than a drink of whiskey or a plug of tobacco, but she can pay eight per cent interest on $35 and pay her board. Take an old speckled hen that has been thrown out of the corner, kicked off the porch by the hited girl and chased out of the yard by a worthless pup, and just that kind of a hen will pay expenses and clear about $3 a year if cared for."
