and tastefully decorated, by loving hands, and was as pretty as could be in green and white. The aisles and altar were covered with white, while around the chancel rails, and organ was draped and restooned green, while lighted candles added to its beauty. Just before the bridal party entered, Mrs. Ellis Douthitt, of Sweetwater sang tenderly and sweetly, "Crown of Love." Then Mrs. C. M. First came Miss Ione Dulaney of Sweetwater and Miss Lilly Allen dressed in beautiful green costumes, en trfain, each carrying bouquets of white carnations and ferns, wearing the bride's maid veils. Then came the groomsmen, Messrs Lewis Major and Rufus McComas; then the dainty little flower girls, little Misses Virginia Hubbard of Sweetwater and Mary Lee Crowder who were a vision of loveliness, following these were the maid of honor, Miss Annie Beal, dressed in white satin also carrying a bouquet of carnations and ferns and wearing veil, Then came the ring bearer, Master John William Doss, looking a little man in white satin, bearing the ring in a white carnation.. ## How the Hoosier Cabinet Saved Miles of Steps

HIS kitchen before being remodeled caused miles of steps every day. It is 16 feet long and 12 feet wide. The table was taken out, the pantry changed slightly and a Hoosier Cabinet added. Now the Hoosier is the center of everything with a splendid light. The old pantry is the refrigerator room with outside icing.

To prepare a meal this housekeeper takes food from the ice-chest to the cabinet, where she works without a step; then to the stove and dining room. Returning, soiled dishes go to the sink

Last Call for the Hoosier Club

Every Cabinet Will Soon be Taken

You are letting a remarkable opportunity to save money and health slip through your fingers by not investigating the club plan tomorrow, for this year not another Hoosier Club can be organized.

So many women have grasped this great opportunity to secure a Hoosier on the wonderfully generous conditions of the club plan that it isn't likely there will be a single cabinet left of our limited club allotment within another week.

As you certainly are going to have a Hoosier SOMETIME, doesn't it follow that you are wasting strength and time and THROW-ING AWAY CHANCES FOR PLEASURE by letting this splendid opportunity slip by?

Why not make your kitchen work easy now, instead of putting in months of drudg-

Makes Model Kitchen

Whether your kitchen is rather old-fashloned, or your home is brand new, you need the Hoosier to save steps.

For it alone can save you the miles of steps that you must take preparing and clearing up after meals. It combines the function of your pantry and kitchen table in one spot. It puts SCIENTIFIC SYSTEM in your kitchen work.

With everything you need in cooking within reach, instead of put away somewhere across the kitchen, your work becomes easy.

YOU SAVE HOURS OF TIME, MILES OF STEPS AND LONG HOURS OF WEARY STANDING.

Only Complete Cabinet

Every device that is practical for work saving in a kitchen has been tested by the Hoosier Company. The Hoosier Cabinet is the scientific result of all these experiments. It is the most importent and complete labor-saving machine so far invented for women. It is the only kitchen cabinet that is COMPLETE.

Only $1.00

Puts the HOOSIER in Your Home

Come early tomorrow without fail. Join the Hoosier Club, and we will deliver your cabinet and set it up in your kitchen ready to use immediately. You merely deposit the small $1.00 membership fee, and your cabinet comes without waiting.

This $1.00 is part of the price—the low national cash price that is not increased notwithstanding the easy conditions accorded Hoosier Club Members. Balance is payable in weekly dues of $1.00, so you never miss the

This club method of purchase makes your Hoosier seem like a gift. The entire generous plan is under direct supervision of the Hoosier Manufacturing Company.

If we had many times these cabinets to offer this last day, we know every one would

But we can now supply only these few more.

This is going to be a lucky number for some one—you, if you get here early. Don't delay. Don't wait to make up your mind tomorrow. Decide now to be a Hoosier member and enroll first thing tomorrow. Nothing can be more important to your health and happiness than this lifetime labor-saver. Grasp your final opportunity to get one tomorrow. Make up you mind now, and tomorrow be quick to en-

The proper way to guard against the malarial germ and the serious diseases which follow it is to get into good condition by taking a reliable remedy that will keep the bowels clear and the liver healthy, and to continue with it at frequent intervals during the sickly season.

A dose of Prickly Ash Bitters three or four times a week will do all of this, besides stimulating the digestion, improving the appetite and keeping the bodily energy at the highest pitch.

Prickly Ash Bitters is known everywhere as a system tonic and bowel regulator. It not only removes all traces of malarial poison from the system, but lones up the vital organs, gives new strength and vigor, makes the body strong and the brain active.

"Prickly Ash Bitters is the best all-around nedicine for the family I ever used. During the last ten years I have always kept it in my house. Whenever any of my family show signs of malaia, kidney trouble, indigestion or constipation I few doses is all that is needed to make them well and hearty again.—W. H. McWilliams, lickering, La.

Sanitarium

CCORDING to our announcement, we have opened the Sanitarium, and on our first day had four (4) applications for examination. One began treatment, while each of the others will begin at an early date.

We are proud that the people of Colorado, appreciative of our efforts, and with the encouragement we have had from so many of the best people, we feel that we are performing a duty that will not only be appreciated by the sick, but by all.

Owing to the scarcity of labor we haven't been able to carry on our work as fast as we contemplated; however, we are doing so as fast as possible with the amount of help we are able to get.

We are submitting only a few testimonials herewith, as we desire to get some from home people as soon as posible.

We have here one from Mr. A. J. Hamilton of this city, who began taking treatment Monday, and he has derived the benefit here stated by Wednesday. His own words tell the result.

Colorado, Tex., Oct. 8 191'. This is to certify that I have suffered with chronic rheumatism for five years and have tried most everything I could hear of without relief, and since last fall have been unable to use one of my hands, it being badly swolen and stiff. While I have only taken a few treatments at the Eaves-Webb Sanitarium I have greatly improved. The swelling in my hand is almost gone. I have been able to sleep much better since beginning the treatment and feel very much improved and believe in a short time will be entirely

Signed. A. J. HAMILTON.

Sept. 28 1913. Mr. J. E. Eaves, Colorado, Texas. Am sending you herewith statement of my case as per your request: I had been under the weather for five years, suffered with severe pains in my back some time scarcely able to get up. My digestion was bad, didn't eat or sleep sufficiently, suffered nervous spells, at times almost unbearable, after fifteen days at your place I was completely cured and am well today. Wishing you the success I know you deserve, I am Thankfully.

MATTIE WEST.

Sept. 26 1913. J. E. Eaves, Colorado, Texas:

Dear Sir- yours just received. I am glad you are opening-up another Sanitarium as I know you will be successful as for me wil say, "I was almost a nervous wreck when I began the Drugless treatment at your place and after three weeks was entirely cured. I was also cured of the Tobacco habit while there. I can heartly recon mend the treatment.

Respectfully. W. H. LUCONESS"

Sept. 24, 1913.

J. E. Eaves, Colorado, Texas. Dear Sir-Replying to yours of recent date will say: That I had suffered several hard attacks of appendicitis and the Drs. told me I would have to be operated on. So hearing of your place and seeing a party that had been in the same condition and had been cured there without an operation I decided to try it although at that time I hadn't the least confidence in drugless methods. I was cured sound and well haven't had a return of the trouble. I now believe in your work and any one who will try it as I did will believe also. Hoping you much success in your new location, I am Respectfully.

MISS ALMA HARRELL.

Now, we could if we so desired submit hundreds of such letters as these, and some even giving us more praise, but we deem it unnecessary, as this should be enough to convince the most skeptical. If, however, you desire more, come and let us show you things. We do not claim any supernatural powers, but we do claim that we understand our business and apply such treatment as each individual case may require. No hocus-pocus propositions, but simply the scientific application of such remedies as will effect a cure.

Come let us talk it over with you if you are sick; it costs you nothing to get our honest opinion. If your case is incurable we will frankly tell you so. We are able however to treat any disease, acute or chronic, and you are now invited to come get your share of health we are offering. Why continue to suffer when relief may be at your door? Remember, we employ almost every means for your benefit known to the professionmedical or otherwise.

CHAPTER XIII.

The City Prison. HE anticlimax had struck the Hotel Tirol some hours before it came upon Brock and Miss Fowler. Mr. Githens demanded the person of the man calling himself Roxbury Medcroft. The principal bank in the city was also represented in the company of investigators. Likewise there was a laconic gentleman from the British office.

Mr. Medcroft was out. Then, they agreed, it was necessary to see Mrs. Medcroft, or the lady representing herself to be such. Mr. Githens was permitted to go to her rooms in company with the manager of the hotel. What transpired in those rooms during the next fifteen minutes would be quite impossible to narrate short of an entire volume. Edith promptly collapsed. Subsequently she became hysterical, She begged for time, and, getting it proceeded to threaten every one with prosecution.

"I am Mrs. Medcroft!" she declared piteously. "Where is the American consul? I demand the American consul!" to do with it?" gruffly demanded Mr.

Githens. "Mr.-Mr.-the gentleman whom you accuse is an American citizen!" she stammered.

"Oho! Then he is not an English-

"I refuse to answer your questions. You are impertinent I ask you, sir, as the manager of this hotel, to eject this man from my rooms." The man- are black sheep we shan't be blackaged smiled blandly and did not eject the man.

"I'll-I will explain everything tomorrow. Oh, by the way, is there a telegram for me in the office? There must be. I've been expecting it all day. I telegraphed to London for it." "There is no telegram down there,

"Oh, they are, are they?" sneered Mr. Githens, with a sinister chuckle.

"Who the devil are you, sir?" "I'm from Scotland Yard."

"I thought so. You've proved it, 'pon my soul. I am Odell-Carney. Daresay you've heard of me." "I know you by sight, sir. But

"Clever chap, by Jove! And there's no but about it. Mr.-Mr.-never mind what it is. I don't want to know your name. Mrs. Medcroft, will you permit me to send my wife up to you? Mr. Manager. I insist that you take this c'nfended rabble down to the office and tell them to go to the devil! Don't do it up here; do it down there." After some further discussion and protests the Scotland Yard man and his party left the room to its distracted mistress. It may be well to remark for the sake of local color that Tootles was crying lustily, while Raggles bark-

He started away as Mr. Rodney came puffing up the stairs. Odell-Carney changed his mind and waited. 'Where's Edith?" panted Mr. Rod-

"Good heavens!" groaned his wife, lowering her voice because three chambermaids were looking on from a nearby turn. "Don't mention that creature's name. Just think what she's got us into. But Mr. Rodney, for once, was the head of the family. He faced her sternly "Go to your rooms, both of you.

We'll stay here until this thing is ended. I don't give a hang what she's done. I'm not going to desert her." "But-but he isn't her husband!" gasped Mrs. Rodney, struck dumb by this amazing rebellion. "But she's your cousin, isn't she, madam?" he retorted with fierce Irony. "I disown her!" wailed his wife, sans raison.

"Go to your rooms!" stormed pudgy Mr. Rodney. Then, as 'ney slunk away, he turned to the approving Odell-Carney, sticking out his chest a trifle in his new found authority. "I say, Carney, what's to be done next?"

"We'll have a drink first and then see," he said.

As they were entering the buffet a cheery voice accosted them from behind. Freddie Ulstervelt came up, real distress in his face.

"I say, count me in on this. I'll buy, if I may. I've just heard the news from the door porter. Beastly shame, isn't it? I had Mlle. Le Brun over to hear the band concert—she's related to that painter woman, by the way; I told Katherine she was. Say, gentlemen, we'll stand by Mrs. Medcroft, won't we? Count me in. If it's anything that money can square I'm here with a letter of credit six figures long." "Join us," said Odell-Carney warmly.

You're a good sort, after all." They sat down at a table. Freddie stood between them, a hand on the shoulder of each. Very seriously he was saying:

"I say, gentlemen, we can't abandon a woman at a time like this. We must stand together. All true sports and black sheep should stand together, don't you know."

It is possible that Odell-Carney ap-"What has the American government preciated the subtlety of this compliment. Not so Mr. Rodney.

By 9 o'clock that night every one was discussing the significant disappearance of Constance Fowler and the fraudulent husband of Mrs. Medcroft. Just as Mr. Odell-Carney was preparing to announce to the unfortunate wife that the couple had eloped in the most cowardly fashion, Miss Fowler herself appeared on the scene, disheveled, mud spattered and hot, but with a look of firm determination in her face. She burst in upon her sister, a very angry young person indeed.

"Are we alone?" demanded Miss Fowler, not giving Edith time to proclaim her joy at seeing her. "Well, I've arranged a way to get him out," she went on, her lips set.

"Out?" murmured Mrs. Medcroft. "Of course. We can't let him stay in there all night, Edith. How much money have you? Hurry up, please! Don't stare!"

"In where? Who's in where?" "He's in jail!" with supreme scorn. "Haven't you heard?"

Mrs. Medcroft began to cry. "Mr. Brock in jail? Good heavens, what shall I do? I-I was depending on this very instant. What has he been

Soon after midnight a closely veiled lady drove up to a street corner adjacent to the city prison, a dolorous looking building which loomed up still and menacing just ahead. She alighted and, dismissing the cab, strode off quickly into the side street. At a distant corner, in front of a crowded eating house, two spirited horses, saddled and in charge of a grumbling stable boy, champed noisily at their bits. The young woman exchanged a few rapid sentences with the boy and then returned in the direction from which she came. A man stepped out of a doorway as she neared the corner, accosting her with a stealthy deference that proclaimed him to be anything but an unwelcome marauder.

After eager pleading on one side and stolid expostulation on the other, a small package passed from the hand of the young woman into the huge paw of the man. The latter gave her a quick, cautious salute and hurried back toward the jail.

The veiled young woman, very nervous and strangely agitated, made her way back to the spot where the horses were standing. Making her way through the cluster of small tables which lined the inner side of the sideextreme end, a position which commanded a view of the street down which she had just come. Half past 1, then 2 o'clock. The merrymakers were thinning out; she was quite alone at her end of the place. By this time a close observer might have noticed that she was trembling violently; there was an air of abject fear and despair in her manner. Why did he not come? What had happened? Had the plot failed? Was he even now lying wounded unto death as the result of his effort to escape captivity? A hundred horrid thoughts raced through her throbbing, overwrought brain. He should have been with her two hours ago-he should now be far on his way to freedom. Alas, something appalling had happened, she was sure of it!
