MITCHELL COUNTY'S TAXABLE VALUES.

From the completed rolls of County Assessor, Earl Callaway, we take the following list of taxable property in this county:

No. acres of land rendered $31,998, at a valuation of $3,387,775.
Value of city property $824,155.
No. horses 4754, valued at $203,275.
No. cows 12,869, value $260,105.
No. jacks, 66, valued at $3,980.
No. goats 39, valued at $95.
No. hogs 826, valued at $3,100.
No. dogs 26, valued at $8.15.
No. vehicles 1125, valued at $49,205.
Value of merchandise rendered $139,395.
Value of machinery, tools, implements and material $30,695.
Value of steam engines $150.
Bankers, brokers, stock jobbers, etc. $220,000.
Amount of money on hand $26,440.
Amount of credits other than banks, brokers and stock jobbers $84,180.
Amount of miscellaneous property rendered $1,133,483.
Total amount of taxable valuation $6,366,648.
Amount taxes due state and county besides independent road tax, and independent school tax of Colorado, Lorraine and Westbrook $81,220.
Amount due on all poll taxes—state $1,939.50; county $323.25.
This is somewhat better showing than that of last year, and indicates that values are getting back to normal conditions. When there are good crops conditions promising, prospectors in evidence and inquiries are being daily made for land, it is human nature to expand and put a fairly good value on what one has. But when droughts prevail; crops are short and nobody wants to buy land, it is just as natural to discount values. According to population, Mitchell county will compare favorably with any other West Texas county of no greater population.

The case of Mrs. Orner of El Paso, charged with killing her own daughter, has been tried five times without agreement of jury. It will be moved to El Paso and tried the sixth time. The cost to the state of these mistrials has already exceeded $15,000.

Ex-Governor Thos. Campbell has come into the open with the announcement of his determination to run for the senate. Let 'em announce; it's up to the people now to elect United States Senators, and as most of the candidates for this high office have had experience on the hustings for other places, we expect an entertaining canvass when our next senator is selected. Most of them will have records and to spare.

Ben Morgan will begin serving all kinds of hot drinks soon as the weather permits.

ONE MORE NEED SUPPLIED.

Whether its importunate appeals and more or less sound arguments, have had any thing to do with bringing it about or not, the Record flatters itself that it had some part in the noise that presaged its coming. It has kept the need of a hospital and sanitarium at this place before the people for several years, citing example after example to show that the town and county were large enough to sustain such an institution. The frequency of serious operations performed by local surgeons the past few months, and the success attending them all, have stimulated a disposition to meet the need of a local sanitarium, until it has borne fruit.

Dr. N. J. Phenix last week acquired the place formerly owned by Dr. Dupree and will begin at once to arrange it to suit the ends and purposes of a sanitarium. While Dr. Dupree owned the place, he had an operating room made in the house with the idea of caring for only a few cases after operations. There are nine rooms in the house which will amply provide for all the requirements of a surgery and allow three or more rooms for patients. It is the Doctor's idea to begin in a small way, with sufficient equipment to care for his own practice, and enlarge the capacity of the hospital as its growth justifies.

He will invite all physicians of the county to co-operate with him and make use of his facilities. Two nurses have already been engaged, and by the middle of November Dr. Phenix hopes to be ready to care for patients at his own sanitarium. It will be known as the "Phenix Sanitarium", and announcement of its opening will be made to the profession and public in due time. The Record has always contended such an institution in our midst would be a success, and will watch the progress of this one with great interest. Dr. Phenix and all the other physicians of Colorado, stand high in professional circles, so that this institution will start with a good prestige.

Work on the Mills well, east of town, progresses gradually. The drill is now down considerably more than 100 feet, and the prospect of a 750 to 1000 gallon flow grows better every foot down. A good well at this place would give pump irrigation a great boost in the community, prompting many others who have been halting though convinced of their judgment it is the thing to do, to put down wells also. And speaking of wells and water—we were impressed the other day with an article written by a very scientific man of this country, relative to the power possessed by a German scientist to locate water by means of a divining rod. The German uses a brass rod, but in the absence of a metal rod, he uses a forked stick, just like our own waterwitches do. The author of the article attached a great deal of importance to this German's gift, and cited many instances where he had located valuable supplies of water where all other efforts had failed, and tries to give a scientific reason for the power. It is somewhat comforting to us old fogies who have been derided for years for our superstition in "witching" for water, to have such eminent scientific authority come to our support. Every community has a "water witch," and people who pretend not to believe in the gift and ridicule it, never fail to have them "witch" for water before putting down a well. Of course we know they haven't a trace of superstition in them; they don't believe the water witch knows anything more about it than themselves, but they just have them "witch" to test their gift.

The business therefore, being raised to the dignity of a scientific accomplishment, the water witch should rise accordingly in the estimation of the community, and no less a title than "Professor" be conferred upon him; besides, this gives him the privilege to charge for his services like any other professional man.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL is one of the greatest factors in our country. When reinforced by good, wholesome, reliable newspapers. It gives the American child a practical education. Without the aid of newspapers the public school can not give a boy or girl that degree of general intelligence that you wish your children to have. You can now get the Colorado Record and the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News for one year three papers a week for $1.75. We accept and receipt for subscriptions at this office. We do the ordering and take the risk.

THIS WORLD NOT SO BIG.

Friend Dupree is more and more convinced every day that this world is a mighty little place, after all. Standing at the station one morning this week, he saw a gentleman get off the train, whom he thought he recognized as an acquaintance of thirty years ago. He accosted him, asking his name and was told that it was—say Perkins. "I took you to be an old friend of mine named—say Brown," replied Mr. Dupree. "What Brown?" inquired the stranger. "Charley Brown," quoth Friend Dupree. "Well, I'm the same man." Then the story came out.

Thirty years ago this man, then in his more festive days, was given to sporting. On one occasion he was convinced that he had been grossly robbed of his money in a braced game with a professional gambler. Arming himself, he met the gambler on the street and proceeded to hold him up in true Die Turpin style, getting his money. He was indicted for highway robbery and sent to the penitentiary for a long term of years. While in jail he was visited by his loyal wife, who stayed with him some time. On going in to feed the prisoners next morning, the goaler found a woman in the cell instead of a man.

Brown made good his escape, and for nearly thirty years lived under the name of Perkins in a western state and prospered in his business. Recently he had gotten his friends to move in the matter of a pardon, and when he met Dupree here at the station, this week, was on his way back to Arizona with his wife to begin all over again as Mr. Brown. He had gotten everything against him dismissed and had a clean bill. This happened in Pittsburg, Texas and just before Mr. Dupree was elected sheriff of that county. He said he could not think of a man whom he had rather meet and talk with again, than Charley Brown; and butting into him so unexpectedly at the railway station, convinced him that this old world wasn't such great shakes for bigness, after all.

COLORADO WOMAN BOOSTS THE MARLIN HOT WATER.

Mrs. F. B. Whipkey, assistant editor of the Colorado City Record, arrived in Marlin Thursday to spend a few weeks in an effort to recuperate from an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Whipkey is suffering from blood poisoning which seems to have gotten into her system, and as soon as she was able to travel she hurried away to Marlin, where she could get the hot baths.

Mrs. Whipkey is one of Marlin's best boosters, even though she lives in the far west. When she began to talk of going away for her health her neighbors advised going to Mineral Wells, but she had visited Marlin years ago, and her parents before her had visited here, therefore she said to her friends: "Now, if I had 'fussy' clothes and felt equal to the strain of a social whirl for a few weeks, I might go to Mineral Wells, but I want to go to a health resort and not a pleasure resort, therefore I am going to Marlin."

She came with friends as far as Ft. Worth and then journeyed alone to West, where she stopped to rest a day and was met at Waco by her son, Walter Whipkey of Cuero, and came on to Marlin Thursday morning. After two of the baths she declared this morning that she was feeling much better and in a few days would be her natural self. She pinned her faith to Marlin water years ago, and delights in telling her friends about the wonderful health restoring properties of the hot baths.

Mrs. Whipkey says people out her way know very little about Marlin, and for that reason they go to Mineral Wells and other places, but that it shall be her pleasure to inform them when she returns home. She says she was even asked "Where is Marlin, and what have they there to offer in the way of a health resort?" To these she told about the hot baths and the wonderful cures effected.—Marlin Daily Democrat.

THE PRESENT KILLING PACE.

Some weeks ago, a drunken society blood of Kansas City, took a young girl riding in his auto to have "some fun." In resenting his insulting familiarity, she jumped from the car and sustained a fracture of the skull, from the effects of which she came near dying. On being arraigned before the court on a charge of "indecent conduct" the judge gave him a straight from the shoulder talk and took occasion to say in general:

"The one condition that more than others contributes to the delinquency of the young is the inordinate desire for excitement, pleasure and dissipation. Parents set a bad example to their children by indulging them in exercises and dissipation. All classes of society are pleasure mad. Nickle shows, dance halls, joy rides, make up the day dreams of the youth and their nightly pleasures. Their whole desire is to have a good time."

"The motor car has contributed its part towards the ruin of many women and especially boys and girls. Henry Ward Beecher said: 'Give a boy a horse and he will ride to hell.' A motor car will take a boy to hell quicker than a horse. It goes faster. There is something in the excitement of the rapid whirling through the air that throws off restraint and tends to blunt the moral sensibilities."

"People are living too fast. The forces for good must get together and understand these conditions. They must instill into the young mind nobler ambitions, purer thoughts, loftier purposes. They must take the children back to the simple pleasures without the excitement and dissipation and vice that characterizes too many of the present forms of pleasure. And above all things take a sane view of life and by example as well as by precept give their children a real chance in life."

The indictment against Hon. Thos. Watson, charging him with sending indecent matter through the U. S. mail was quashed by Judge Foster when the case came to trial at Atlanta, this week. The alleged objectionable matter contained an attack on the Catholic church. Motion to quash the indictment was based on the ground that congress had no right to abridge the freedom of the press.

'Tis an ill wind that blows no good. Gov. Sulzer has an opportunity to cash in his recent impeachment at very attractive figures on the lecture platform. A Kansas City bureau bid $10,000 for only one lecture; a New York concern offered $20,000 for ten lectures, while a Chicago promoter offered $100,000 for the season. From a purely business standpoint this beats being governor of New York state very badly.

HUDSPETH CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED W. R. SMITH.

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 16—Claude B. Hudspeth of El Paso state senator from his district, in letters to friends here, announces his candidacy to succeed Congressman W. R. Smith of Colorado City. Mr. Hudspeth sometime ago practically agreed that he would make the race.

All work has been suspended at the east salt works for a while. Solar evaporated salt was the only product since the burning of the plant, which is used largely for refrigerating purposes.

The Record hopes to see our ice plant and creamery both running next season on full time. There is need of a small cold storage in this place for the proper handling of perishable stuff. Local buyers, we are told, have frequently to decline buying produce from the farmer because of the lack of cold storage facilities until it can be shipped to best advantage. The farmers, who will sell their milk to the creamery will need some such arrangement for keeping his milk for two or three days, and he must have the ice in order to do so. There is every reason why the town and community should have abundant ice.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION IN 1914.

Seven presidents and a number of college instructors, including ex-President Taft, will contribute to The Youth's Companion during 1914.

Then there is Gene Stratton Porter, whose stories of Indiana woods and swamps have made her famous, and Kate Douglas Wiggin, who never wrote a dull line in her life, and Mrs. Burton Harrison, who remembers when conversation was really an art as practised in Washington and in the manor houses of Virginia. And this is just a beginning of the list.

If you know The Companion, you have a pretty clear idea of what is in store for next year's readers. If you do not know, ask us to send you sample copies—for instance, those containing the opening chapters of Arthur Stanwood Pier's fine serial—"His Father's Son." Full Announcement for 1914 will be sent with the sample copies.

For the year's subscription of $2.00 there is included The Companion Practical Home Calendar for 1914, and all the issues of the paper for the remaining weeks of 1913, dating from the time the subscription is received.

PARLOR PLAY.

The Parlor Play given by the Philathea class of Methodist Sunday School at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Smith last Friday evening was a success in every way. The parlor was decorated until it looked a veritable bower of palms and cut flowers all raised by Mrs. Smith's own hands. Mesdames Smith and M. K. Jackson greeted the guests as they arrived and Misses Leona Davis and Leathers ushered them to reserved seats, so that all had a feeling of being a special guest from the beginning. Miss Dera Wulfjen acted as cashier and of course every body was glad to contribute in a financial way. The play was an interesting little comedy—"The Only Young Man in Town" and as a matter of course all kinds of girls were making eyes at him and trying in every conceivable way to get to be the "only girl" with him.

Mr. Brown proved to be Mr. Frank McLure who acted his part as if he were the only man in town. All the young ladies did their parts well and received the thanks of the entire audience for an evening of genuine pleasure.

The special features were songs by the Philathea class—"Kilmer, My Home over the Sea" which was sung so sweetly that they were encored and responded with a pretty catchy encore song.

Little Miss Mary Jackson also sang very sweetly, "The will, the stream and you and I" and was encored so heartily that she responded with "Call me up Some Rainy afternoon."

Misses Beulah Ellis and Leathers served punch and mints to all from a punch bowl all but hidden in a bank of palms and ferns. The young ladies feel grateful to the generous response of their friends in assisting them to increase their exchequer. They realized almost twenty five dollars and felt like they will do lots of good with it. Their teacher, Mrs. M. K. Jackson is to be congratulated on the success of the evening and also for being the teacher of such a fine class of intelligent young ladies.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best For Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels
—Tastes Delicious.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physics simply don't realize what they do. The Children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

TO THE BAPTIST LADIES.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will pack a box for Buckner's Orphans Home next Thursday at the church at 3 p. m. and the president of the Aid Society is very anxious that every lady member be represented with at least one new garment and any good out grown garments. Won't you please do your part.

PHILATHEAS MEET.

The Philathea class of the Methodist Sunday school had their regular meeting with Miss Jessie Smith Monday evening. Besides their usual business they adjusted their finances resulting from their parlor play the previous Friday evening. They are now studying "Hills Bible Questions" and had the questions on "Leviticus."

The social hour was also enjoyed and the hostess served delicious refreshments of boiled custard with whipped cream and angel food cake. The next meeting is with Miss Isla Smith.

MISSION STUDY.

The Mission Study Class of the Methodist church had their regular meeting at the church Monday afternoon with a good attendance. The course of study is "Mexico of Today" and is proving very interesting. They had the second chapter at this lesson with Mrs. M. K. Jackson as leader.

G. F. C.

Miss Cecil Nunn was hostess for the Girls Club last Thursday. These young ladies have converted their club into a sewing club and many long stitches are put in Christmas presents while time swiftly flies.

Mrs. Logan Spalding and Miss Burk were the guests for the afternoon.

A salad course with coffee was served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. Vivian Shropshire.

The meeting this week is with the president, Miss Dera Wulfjen.

STUDY CLASS.

The Mission Study class of the Baptist ladies met with Mrs. Smoot last Thursday. A large number were in attendance. Mrs. J. L. Shepherd was leader and had prepared an interesting program on State Missions which was carried out. It consisted of scripture prayer, papers and talks on this subject that is most important this month and report of the association was given by those who attended and they resolved to make the coming year a better year for the Colorado church. The Bible questions were on the Minor Prophets. A business session was held after the program to elect a president to fill the vacancy made by Mrs. Robt. M. Webb's resignation. Mrs. E. Keathley was chosen to fill the vacancy. A committee consisting of Mesdames J. L. Shepherd, Gustine and T. J. Ratliff was appointed to select the course of study for next year.

The hostess served a collation of cake, sandwiches and coffee at the social hour. The next meeting is with Mrs. Phenix with Mrs. James T. Johnson as leader.

FIVE MINUTE CURE IF STOMACH IS BAD

When "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches Stomach all Indigestion, Gas and Sourness disappears.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

A DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT.

The Colorado friends of Fred Woodmansee and family, were distressed to learn of the accidental killing of another boy in Sweetwater, by Marion, the 14 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodmansee. The accident occurred last Saturday evening late near the new school building. The boys, who were the closest friends, had been out hunting with target rifles, and through the careless handling in play, Marion's gun was discharged, shooting his companion through the abdomen transversely. Transfusion of blood was resorted to in order to supply the depletion through hemorrhage, but death occurred about noon Sunday. Two homes are thus darkened and many hearts saddened by this deplorable accident. Sympathy for both families must be universal, and yet, the tragedy carries a lesson the Record has so frequently tried to impress upon the minds of parents. There is hardly a fall or hunting season, but some family is called to mourn just such a loss and the community such a shock. The target rifle often given as a present and as an expression of love by the parent, has been the death of that boy, or some other parent's boy. The possession of a target rifle begets the desire to shoot at something—some living something. The hunting of game becomes secondary amusement and recklessness becomes the rule.

Parents should think well before placing in the unskilled hands of their children such a potential instrument of death as a target rifle. They should be sure the boy is perfectly familiar, under instructions from his parent, with the workings and mechanics of the gun. He should be well impressed with its deadly power and proneness to accident. The parent should realize that the boy wants the rifle, not to use occasionally, but at every opportunity until the novelty wears off; then he is ready to dispose of it for some other plaything.

Accidents like the above, cast a gloom over the entire community. There is something about it so sad, so sudden, so unnatural and untimely, that it shocks the mind to grasp its truth. We are in some measure prepared for the death of the sick by days of anxiety and decline; but the sudden cutting off of a young life finds us wholly unprepared for the tragedy.

The West Texas District fair promoted by Big Springs last week, was a success without any qualifications. Attendance daily would average 2000. Every department was full and creditable, and the promoters of the enterprise are well satisfied with results all around. This is but the beginning of the same kind of attraction the people of that county hope to give. The success of this year will give them prestige and experience for the next, and so on, till we expect to see Big Springs promoting one of the best county fairs in the state. Why can not Colorado revive the fair spirit it once had. The association yet owns its own grounds—and splendid ones they are—and we have enough men experienced in this line of promotion to insure a creditable show if they could once become interested. Successful county fairs have ever been the most practical and immediate method of advertising a given section Colorado's turn will come soon. We have the natural advantages that will not be kept hidden under a bushel.

The rain Wednesday night was followed by quite a brisk norther, which reached its lowest temperature Friday night, bringing out Jovercoats, wraps and other warmth retaining garments. But don't be misled and "put 'em on" yet. There'll be many sultry days before old Jack comes to stay for the season.

The price of eggs—just everyday hen eggs—on the local market, is beginning to make ready for its annual Thanksgiving and Christmas climb. Strange too, it is, that eggs appeal but weakly to the average appetite till they begin to go up in price. When 40 and 50 cents the dozen, we like them better than when selling for 10 and 15 cents. Even at 30 and 40 cents per dozen, eggs are cheaper than most any meat. Half dozen eggs are a fairly full meal for anyone, while one dozen with the trimmings and concomitants pertinent thereto and belonging, constitute sumptuous feast for the most husky appetite. The lowly egg accounts for multiplied millions of dollars that find their way into the hands of the good wives of the country, provided the husband divides fifty-fifty with her on his return from market.

You don't save money when you buy cheap or big-can baking powder. Don't be misled. Buy Calumet. It's economical—more wholesome—gives best results. Calumet is far superior to our milk and soda.

Miner's Report for Mitchell and Howard Counties.

Under the present rules of the department of agriculture, the miners' reports for the respective counties are given out before sent to Washington as heretofore. This acts as a check upon the report sent from Washington later. S. B. Stone of Big Springs, enumerator for this county sends us the following report for Mitchell and Howard counties.

There were 3875 bales of cotton ginned in Mitchell county from crop of 1913, as to 3445 for crop of 1912, prior to September 26th. There were 1759 for 1913 crop in Howard county as to 981 for 1912, for the same date.

Causes Further Talk.

Because so many people are telling of their experience with Hunt's Lightning Oil for Headaches, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc. Others are led to give it a trial and are convinced immediately of its merits as a pain killer. Are you to be convinced? Ask the Druggist.

A vigorous fight for a two-cent flat rate on all railroads, for the general public was begun at Houston last week, by the United Commercial Travelers. The travelling men recently proposed to the railroads that they be permitted to buy mileage books at the rate now asked the public. They were turned down and the travellers now propose to secure a flat two-cent rate for all alike.

Fine peaches every day, eating and cooking varieties, at McMurry's.

A West Texas exchange last week ran an article on "How to eradicate Scab on Texas Rangers."

Still Killing.

It still keeps on killing pain, does Hunt's Lightning Oil For many years it has been used with wonderful success for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cuts, Burns, and other hurts. All Druggists sell it in 25c bottles.

Colorado may be a trifle conservative in some things, as the town has good reason to be; but it keeps steadily on the even tenor of its way, adding to its public service one utility after another, until it will soon be on a footing with the most progressive.

A Carelessly Treated Cold

is the source of most sickness because drugged pills, syrups and alcoholic mixtures are uncertain and unsafe.

Scott's Emulsion has been relied upon by physicians for forty years as the safe and sensible remedy to suppress the cold and build up the enfeebled forces to avert throat and lung troubles. Don't tolerate alcoholic substitutes, but insist on the Genuine Scott's Emulsion. One bottle usually lasts longer than a cold. Every druggist has it.

COLORADO, TEXAS, OCTOBER 1913.

Governor Sulzer of New York was last week found guilty on three counts of the indictment against him and was removed from office.

The Record acknowledges receipt of a season ticket to the Waco Cotton Palace Exposition and also the Fat Stock show at Fort Worth. We notice its never any trouble to get free tickets to all kinds of big doings beyond walking distance or price of a ticket.

"Society" is a great bluff. You used to make mud pies with the daughter of the man who sifted the ashes for your folks, "back yonder." But the man who used to sift ashes for your folks came to Texas and bought eighty acres of poor land on which he could not make a living. A big company found oil on his poor land and gave him a fortune for it, while you are still working for a mere living. Therefore, the daughter of the man who used to sift the ashes for your folks, realizes that she can not invite you to any social functions at her home, because you are not in her set and a social gulf separates you.

We gather from the El Paso papers that Hon. Claud Hudspeth is counting heavily on the appointment of Judge Smith to a place on the interstate commerce commission. Hon. Claud has blocked out his platform with a broadaxe and will knock every "free" thing that can be produced in this district. Free cattle, free wool, free meats, and all members of the free family having residence in the 16th congressional district, will come under the bludgeonings of his club. Several sweepers will be required to clean up the swath he will cut.

The legitimate, properly conducted community newspaper is as much a necessity to the success and prosperity of the community, as the bank, the church, the school, or any other institution which goes to make up the full equipment of a well ordered community. And as such is certainly entitled to the support of the people at a fair price. The paper that is not legitimate, that did not come into being in response to a demand for its services, that is but a makeshift to gather in a few dollars and then suspend—that does not reflect the condition and development of the community, can not long survive at any price.

Candidates for the seat Judge Smith now holds in congress, are spread "thick as leaves in Vallambrosa" from Eastland to El Paso. The candidacy of all but one seems to depend on Judge Smith's resignation to accept a better place. Mr. Hudspeth of El Paso, has girt his loins, moistened his hands the usual way, and laid hold without any regard to anybody's resignation, whatsoever. In the event Judge Smith does resign his seat, nearly every county on the T. & P. road will furnish a candidate. Judge Wagstaff of Abilene, has up a long lightning rod himself; Sweetwater will certainly furnish an aspirant; Prentiss of Eastland is tactfully inclined that way; Colorado could furnish a strong one; Judge Isaacks of Midland is understood to be helpless in the hands of his friends; Pecos has not gotten together yet on a favorite son; while in El Paso, one couldn't throw a stone without barking a "possibility." Meanwhile Judge Smith is running for congress.

As an indication of the acceptability of the Record in the homes of the people of this county, we will state, that four years ago the Western Trade Exchange, a real estate concern here paid the subscription for three months of a hundred people to this paper, with instructions that if at the expiration of that time they did not want the paper continued, to notify this office. No reply would be taken as acceptance of the paper for the balance of the year. When three months had passed, about 25 per cent of the subscribers ordered the paper discontinued. Some of the others paid at the expiration of one year; others waited two years; yet others put it off three years, while some—most of the balance—have come in and paid their back subscription in full and not infrequently one year ahead. We call this an unusually fine record, and give the management just cause to feel proud of such a list of loyal subscribers. There was one man over 75 years old, who was going to Oklahoma to live. He came in and said his subscription to the Record was the last debt he owed in the county and that he would not leave without squaring up with the paper. He owed for five years and offered to pay the full amount.

Pity the Poor Congressman.

While the senate is fretting and stewing over the currency bill the congressmen want to go home and look after the ragged places in their fences. If no adjournment is had before the first of December the congressmen will have to pay their own traveling expenses home and back. They have been paid mileage for the present special session, and until adjournment is made, they will get nothing for the winter session. And this is no small worry to the average member.

Each member is allowed 40 cents per mile, going and coming. A Texas congressman takes down between $600 and $800 per session as mileage. The actual round trip fare is less than $100, and the representative banks the difference. Hence the quandary presents itself, whether 'tis better to remain idle in Washington and let their fences get ragged, but save that six or eight hundred dollars, or come home at their own expense and look after the dear people. There are lots of men in this country with just as much ability as the average member of congress, who works year after year and supports a family, on a salary no larger than a West Texas congressman's mileage. And furthermore, these are the men who bare an undue share of the tax burden and church support of this nation. These little fellows of $800 to $1000 salary, wage or product, are the main spring of this country. Everything they own must be employed in order to make a mere living. They can not cover up and dodge the tax assessor. But 40 cents a mile does smack of a de luxe differential.

The Mexican embroilment seems to grow "more and more wusser." With England recognizing the Huerta usurpation after the latter had declared himself virtual dictator and Germany sending warships into Mexican waters, and the United States still sitting tight in its determination not to recognize Huerta or any of his gang if elected president; with Huerta and Diaz both in the race, and sympathy for the cause of the Mexican Constitutionalists growing in this country—all these things taken together forecast trouble in the near future. Just what is the best move for this country to make, no one knows half so well as those at the helm. Believing that Mr. Wilson will do nothing but what he believes is right, and believing that the right will always win ultimately, we have confidence in his ability to do the very best thing for his country.

THE INSTALLMENT MAN.

Next to a short time note at the bank, nothing so impresses us as to the quick flight of thirty days, as the recurrent-occurent installment collector, especially he of the book variety. Never a man or woman signed a contract to pay so much per month for a beautiful set of books, but didn't regret the act the first time the collector showed up, and swear by all the saints in the calendar at once, that they'd never—never—never do such a blamed fool thing again. The first disillusion and discord in the song of the slick solicitor, that "you'll never miss the money or feel it," comes with the first round of the collector. "No matter how much or how little the monthly payment may be, the collector bobs up just at the precise moment when that much or that little is hardest to raise or spare from more important obligations. You always feel it, and it feels very much like pulling an eye tooth. You know you owe it; you know you must pay it; you know you can't tell the collector to "call again," and you know you can't frame an excuse why you shouldn't pay it. You've simply got to dig up. And when the collector hands you his little receipt with a smirk and a mechanical "thank you," you never feel like replying, "not at all sir; the pleasure is mine." But what would many of us "pore yokes" do if it wasn't for the generosity and bargains of the installment man.

AN INTERESTING CONVERSATION.

This writer had his eyes opened somewhat last week in regard to the nature of the work the Woman's clubs of the town are doing. In conversation with one of the brightest and leading members of one of these clubs, the talk turned upon the widespread spirit of unrest among the women of the world and the gradual destruction of the home influence over children. "I do not believe that any large portion of the wives and mothers of this nation want to vote or participate in its politics," she said. "We women don't know just what we want; we realize that something fundamental in our lives and the life of the nation, is wrong, and equal-suffrage came along just in time to be seized upon by the emotional of us, as an outlet for this spirit of unrest. I believe this great problem will be settled, but not until it is settled right. Something very vital and organic has been destroyed in the home, through which the activities of our mothers formerly expressed themselves. Something that made such deep impress upon the minds and hearts of their children, that these children never wholly outgrew, and from the influence of which they could not escape. I think this lack of adjustment will be remedied, and when it is remedied, the mothers and wives have done it. We must go back to first principles, but accomplish the work by different methods from these of our grandparents."

This lady cited many examples to illustrate her points, and hedged air her statements around about with arguments logically put, in a manner and an ease that would have done credit to a public speaker. She explained that woman's clubs were primarily for the solution of the very questions that now vex the home and through the home, vex society. It was a highly entertaining conversation, and much increased our estimate of the function and aims of these clubs. Her statement that women were endowed with an insight into some things that affect the home life and rearing of children, of which men were ignorant and could not understand only in a vague theoretical way, struck us with peculiar force and conviction. We have read with the greatest pleasure and much profit, Olive Schreiner's "Woman and Labor," and asked this lady if she had ever read the book. It is along the lines of conversation had, and we can assure every woman interested in like work that they have a genuine treat coming when they read the book first time. If this conversation indicated the nature of the work and study being done by the woman's clubs of Colorado or any other town, the Record makes humble obeisance to the spirit and activities of the sisterhood.

Now that the suit between the City of Colorado and the Radford Grocery Company relative to moving the spur switch from the alley in the rear of the latter's warehouse has been settled would it not be a good idea to take steps to make some kind of arrangement whereby the switch could be extended across Second Street and made to serve the new gin, the ice plant and creamery, and A. L. Scott's grain house? And as we learn Mr. Scott will likely handle coal and wood, the extension of this track would be of great service to his business. It would not require more than one hundred yards of track extension to do all this, and as the gin and ice plant must have fuel a great deal would be saved in hauling, by this arrangement. It may not be amiss just here to state that negotiations are beginning looking to the acquisition of this ice plant by a northern company with abundant capital. Their representative expects to visit Colorado in the near future, provided an equitable basis for a deal can be reached. With these three utilities served by the spur track, it would place each one in better position to give prompt and satisfactory service to the public than without it. The Record hopes to see the track extended before the beginning of another season.

The Example of Taylor County.

The irrigation expert, Mr. Ragsdale, has returned to Taylor County, and is busy locating irrigation projects for the farmers of that county, who want to install some system of irrigation to help out the rains. The time of Mr. Ragsdale will be fully occupied while in Taylor, there being many applications from farmers to have their farms surveyed. As we understand the arrangement in Taylor county, this work is being paid for by the commercial organizations of Abilene and the county. It costs the farmer nothing. If he wants to give irrigation an honest test and will do the work and bear the expense of installing some system, he can have the survey and location made by the expert at no cost to himself. Mr. Ragsdale determines which system would be best adapted to a particular farm, and indicates the dams, levees, canals, etc.

This is going at the matter in a practical and business-like manner. It means co-operation between town and country and a unity of interests. It puts public sentiment and encouragement behind every irrigation project in the county, and each farmer will be interested in the success of his neighbor. Neighbors may have different systems installed, and the details of each will be developed and discussed. The Record hopes to see the day when a like interest will be taken in irrigation by the farmers and business men of Mitchell county. Taylor county, though having many fine creeks and draws suitable for irrigation projects, it has no such natural advantages in this line as Mitchell county. The Colorado river alone, say nothing of the numerous creeks and draws, affords the sites and water sufficient to irrigate the half of the county. More than enough water rolls by every year to the gulf, to irrigate the county. This water stored in reservoirs made by damming draws, would be like money in a saving bank. But we'll get round to it after a while.

Everyone who reads is looking forward with no small interest to the elections which have been promised in Mexico on the 26th. Felix Diaz was met at Havana by two sets of advisers, one warning him to keep out of Mexico and the other urging him to come back and stand for the office of president. Huerta's friends declare he will be in the running, while Gamboa doesn't know whose back he is expected to scratch. We are looking for chaotic conditions in that country until some one strong-arm nation or a concert of nations, take the Greaser by the scruff of the neck and bosom of his tight pantaloons and shake him till his teeth rattle and he promises to stay good. One thing is certain—the methods of Diaz will never again be tolerated in Mexico. Madero's life bought for the poor people that heritage, and they will never renounce it. But left to themselves, the mass of the people of Mexico could never adapt conditions now existing with a full constitutional government. They will have to be led for a while after they obtain liberty and taught the ways of peace and industry. And Mexico does not seem to possess such teachers. None of its public men were raised in that school. This leading and instruction, therefore, will have to come from a different nation, a different temperament and different religion. The home must first of all be established in the hearts of the working people, and with this institution founded right, it will become the unit of the whole country's development and permanent peace.

Another highly trusted citizen of this nation has betrayed the public trust and gone down. It is possible for a man in public life to be corrupt for years without being brought to account and punished; but he must have the constant protection of his friends—of men like him or who profit by his wrong doing. But its a knowledge of his crookedness in the hands of his enemies that brings him to book. Few men have friends enough all along the line to protect them. Sulzer might have served New York state as Governor; several years and retired an honored and respected man, had not his crookedness been known to his political enemies. This is the weakness of political dishonor. The politician knows that his life is in the hands of those who know of his corruption. He is afraid to break with them, and is in daily fear of it being found out on the other side. So long as their interests lie in one direction, he is safe, but whenever their interests clash, come exposure and ruin. The man in public life whose hands are clean, whose brain is sound and whose convictions are right, has nothing to fear except temporary defeat. The opposition may beat him at the polls once—twice, but under no circumstances can they ruin or hurt him. He fears no exposure, and this is what takes the heart and courage out of the crooked politician.

INDEFINITE ANSWER TO IMPETUOUS QUESTION.

Until Judge Smith is officially preferred a place on the inter-state commerce commission by the appointing power, he is ignorant of any move or intention looking to that end, no matter how straight and reliable may be his unofficial or personal knowledge of what's brewing. He is still "running for re-election to congress" in answer to all inquiries concerning reports to the contrary. And even if he knew the place would be offered him, he would not violate unofficial confidence by sowing the fact broadcast over the country. He will be a candidate for re-election to congress next year. That much he knows and can tell, and unless he knew of the larger appointment through the channels which are officially employed to apprise the appointee, he knows no more about it than a country editor. Though as he says, the place has not been offered him, does not mean that it will not be offered him.

The Record is of the opinion that Judge Smith acted wisely in giving the answers he did to his impetuous friends. They should have known that unless Judge Smith had been officially consulted on the matter and notified that he would be asked to take the place, he could make no other answer than the one he did make. It dealt with the present exclusively, presuming on nothing. They should have known that until the matter became one of record officially, he was not supposed to know anything about it. Evidently, there are some in whom the wish for his resignation might easily become father of the conclusion that he had resigned or would do so. They were anxious to believe it and will be hard to convince that the Judge will not resign if offered the better place; and from every material and obvious standpoint he would be acting wisely to resign his seat in congress and accept one on the commission. The place carries a better salary, and is not handicapped by a biennial marathon in which every fellow who has run an hundred yards wants to beat him. Finally, it is a more honorable place than a seat in congress. The Record would be glad to see Judge Smith selected for this place, though regretting to lose him and his services in this district. He has now arrived, by reason of continuity in office, where he can be more benefit to the district than ever before. A new and untried man will require no less time in acquiring the same influence in congress and familiarity with legislation most needed in this district, no matter what his abilities, standing or influence may be at home.

When Judge Smith gets all the threads in his own hands; when he has been formally asked to accept the place on the inter-state commerce commission, he will be ready to make a definite answer to such questions as his friends fired into him by wire, without violating any unofficial confidences. But until he has, why, he's "still running for congress." Meanwhile, there are several promiscuous gentlemen over this district, industriously whetting up their snicker-sneez behind the door at night, and punching a new hole in their belts, in preparation for the fray. But don't

INDIGESTION

A Disorder that Breeds Disease in the Body, and an Easy Way to Cure it.

Take care of the stomach and you will have little need for the doctor. When the stomach begins to show signs of disorder; when the food digests slowly and with discomfort; when you have heartburn; feel bloated and uneasy, you are in a condition that needs attention.

Prickly Ash Bitters corrects the disordered stomach by strengthening and toning up the digestive organs, driving the badly digested food into the bowels and thence out of the system.

Constipation is nearly always present when the stomach becomes sour or disordered. Prickly Ash Bitters contains the medicinal qualities which act as a restorative and regulator for the stomach and bowels. It strengthens the digestive organs, cures constipation and prevents the return of bilious conditions.

Thousands of people who have received lasting benefit from this great remedy willingly testify to its power in curing indigestion, constipation and kidney trouble.

"I suffered from constipation for years, and tried many remedies, but Prickly Ash Bitters is the only medicine that has ever done me any good. Through its use I am now in good health and entirely free from all traces of my former trouble."—B. P. STRIGALL, Winsboro, Louisiana.

forget that the Judge is still "running for congress."

Later—Judge Smith has given a most emphatic denial of the report and asks his friends to accept his word. He says he knows absolutely nothing of any intention to offer him a place on the commission.

COULDN'T HAVE HAPPENED IN TEXAS.

In a recent trip, so the newspaper story goes, from Washington to Cornish, N. H., one of the daughters of President Wilson was unable to secure a lower berth in the Pullman sleeper. The conductor made every effort to find some gentleman who would give up a lower berth to Miss Wilson and take her upper one, though she was far from well at the time. But marry a mother's son of them volunteered. All were busy reading or talking when the appeal was made; and so, the daughter of the first citizen of this nation had to crawl into an upper berth and make the best of an awkward situation.

It matters not that she was the daughter of a president; had she been the daughter of a village shoemaker, it had been the same, and the lack of courtesy on the part of the men would have been just as glaring. There is hardly a night in Texas or the south in general, when some gentleman does not offer to give up his lower berth to a lady. Such a gross exhibition of the lack of every instinct of chivalry could happen nowhere else in this country but where it did happen—in the land of wooden nutmegs and steady habits. We can not conceive of any contingency in which such a thing could happen in the south. This country may be a trifle backward in some artificial conventions of life, but discourtesy to any lady is unthinkable. If the highest civilization carries with it decaying courtesy toward ladies, then we had rather remain a few laps behind the procession.

What Cures Eczema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves hesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription. Stop into our store today, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful Prescription.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girls! Try this! Makes hair thick, glossy, fluffy, beautiful—No More itching scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—thats all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

LAND FOR THE LANDLESS MAN.

There is one serious proposition this country has to meet soon, Statesmen should, if not already doing so, be trying to meet it. We refer to the landless man or the homeless people. Every man is entitled to land enough to dwell upon. The present system, if carried to its legitimate end, denies that proposition. If one man or corporation can legitimately own a million acres of land, by the same law he or it owns this million he or it can own all that can be bought. The amount of his or its means is the measure of what he or it may own. One child is born into the world an heir to $500,000,000; another is born into the world a pauper. Who will pretend to claim that the one deserves credit and the other censure for its condition at birth? No one. Who will say that the latter has any opportunity to contend with the former in the accumulation of land? In a few hundred years, and that is a brief period in the history of nations, the earth can and will be owned by a very few people. Does any sane man believe that a people, as intelligent as the American people are, and will be at that time, fail to see the injustice of such a condition? Cannot it be clearly seen that they will not permit such?

There are three things a man cannot live without, and they are air, water and land. Man had no hand in creating any one of these. Therefore he has no right to accumulate so much of either as to deprive his fellows of a chance to own enough for their own use. In fact, the man that owns the land controls the other two necessities of human existence. For a man cannot use the other two without land to exist on to use them. No man is a free man that does not own a piece of land. No people are a free people that do not own their homes. No people are a patriotic people when a majority do not own their homes. All the disturbances in this country now are raised by the homeless class. The Review does not know what the solution is, but it does know that if the true solution is not found and carried out there are going to be troublous times in this country of ours and the time is not a millennium off either—Athens (Texas) Review.

ECHOES FROM SNYDER

Snyder Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Snyder resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

J. J. Burnett, Snyder, Texas, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills for the past five or six years, whenever I have had any symptoms of kidney trouble and I have always been benefited. I suffered every year from rheumatic twinges and weak kidneys. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box. They strengthened my kidneys and cured the rheumatism. Since then I have taken this remedy occasionally and it has kept my kidneys strong and well."

THE TRYING OUT TIME.

Such years as this section has experienced during the last four, are what has made it great; great in possibility, opportunity and especially great in men. It is the men that do it all, with the counsel, help and sustaining faith of its equally great women. From its first settlement West Texas has experienced many shades of fortune—many ups and downs, good years and bad years—but the quality of its people has steadily gone forward, improving with every setback. The mere increase in its population has not made it great, but the timber of its manhood; the capacity and ability of its people to think clearly; to act and act promptly, that counts.

Fat years come and bring with them swarms of newcomers to the feast. Then comes the lean year, now and then, that weeds out the weak and timid, the incompetent, the fellow who lacks resourcefulness and bulldog grit to stick. The unusual drought or heat—the scarcity of water—these get on the nerves of the physically weak, the nervous, the changeable, and those who can sell out, pack up and move to another climate, or more promising land, leaving the strongest physically and mentally, the men who stick to pit their wits and muscle against nature for another year, wherein is brought the experience gained in battle with the elements. And the results astonish the world.

West Texas has had several weeding out years the past decade. There has been unusual heat which upset the nerves of the weak and irritable. There has been deficient rainfall, which has taxed the resourcefulness of all. Thousands who have been unable to cope with these hardships fled, and from the multitude attracted hither during good years, West Texas has kept the best.

These things do not discourage the farmer worth while. There is a disappointment that the rains have not come at the right time for his crops, but there is no let up on the preparations for the next crop. The building of silos, the study of plans for conserving the moisture, means of cutting down living expense and for improving the condition of his farm. He will have plenty to do through the winter preparing for next year. The experienced West Texas farmer has already turned his back on the year 1913, and is building and planning larger, more intelligently and as hopefully as ever for the coming year.

SAFER THAN CALOMEL.

Dodson's Liver Tonic at Night Will Straighten You Out by Morning. Calomel May Knock You Out of a Day's Work.

If you are a calomel user, next time you are tempted to buy it ask your druggist if he can absolutely guarantee the drug not to harm you. He won't, do it because he CAN'T do it.

But here is a perfect substitute for calomel which the druggist does guarantee—the famous Dodson's Liver Tonic. Floyd Beall will refund your money without question if you are not thoroughly satisfied.

Go to Floyd Beall whom you are acquainted with—and find out about the great number of people who are taking this remarkable remedy and feeling better, keener, healthier, and better able to enjoy life than they ever were when taking calomel.

Why? Because calomel is a poison—one that may stay in the system, and while seeming to benefit you temporarily, may do harm in the end. If you haven't felt these ill-effects so far, it is because you are fortunate enough to have a strong constitution.

Don't take the risk any longer! Get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic (50c) and note how easily and naturally it corrects all bilious conditions, how it clears away that sick headache and coated tongue, how it sets you right without ache or gripe. The most wonderful thing in the world for constipation.

All this without the slightest interference with your regular habits.

Ladies Home Journal.

I wish to say to all readers of the Curtis Publications that I am still their agent and would be glad at any time to get your subscription either new or renewals. The Ladies Home Journal, a monthly, The Saturday Evening Post and The Country Gentleman each weekly and each of them are $1.50 or the three or $4.50. My phone number is 157 and will be glad to call on you at any time. I live in your town and will take pleasure in seeing that you receive your order promptly. Sincerely, MRS. A. L. WHIPKEY.

Eaves-Webb Sanitarium

AS our second week's business closed we had examined and treated more than twenty people, suffering from almost as many different diseases, and we are proud of the fact that every one has been more than pleased with results. Not one has come that hasn't been benefitted even more than they anticipated. We are here for results and we are getting them.

Don't be deceived by reports that we will soon be gone, or the "Fake" scare. We are permanently located and are financially and every other way able to take care of our business. If you are suffering from any diseases—acute or chronic—come. As your neighbor has been healed, why not you? Come and get the benefit of a scientific application of Nature's Remedy—i. e. Drugless Treatment.

This is no faith cure, but the scientific application of remedies that have effected cures, and it certainly will again; and remember, about ninety-eight per cent of our patients have tried many other doctors and medicines without a cure, and you have their word as to the benefit they got. Many cases we have had have been pronounced by others incurable. Their evidence is, "We have cured where others failed."

TESTIMONIALS

This is to certify that I have had chronic inflammatory rheumatism for five years and tried almost everything I could hear of without relief, and since last fall have been unable to use one of my hands for any purpose, it being badly swollen and stiff. I couldn't even hold a paper to read. After two weeks treatment at the Eaves-Webb Sanitarium, swelling has almost gone. Can use my hand fairly well. Can lift several pounds. In fact I have improved from the first treatment. I have gained eight pounds in weight and feel much better in every way. I heartily recommend these people to any one suffering from this trouble.

Colorado, Tex. Oct. 21, 1913.

This is to certify that last March I was stricken down with nervous trouble and since that time have been unable to do work of any kind. Having several of these nervous spells every day and I was in constant fear of them and suffered untold agonies. I tried every doctor and medicine I could find. Doctored myself, in fact, did every thing I could do without relief. These nervous spells continuing every day. One week ago, I began treatment at the Eaves-Webb Sanitarium and haven't had another nervous spell. Have eaten all I wanted of any kind of food, and I feel like a new man.

Signed, L. W. JONES.

Colorado, Tex. Oct. 21, 1913.

This is to certify that I have been afflicted with nervous and stomach trouble, not being able to eat a great deal of trouble. I have tried almost everything I could hear of without relief. I have taken ten days treatment at the Eaves-Webb Sanitarium, and have received a great benefit. I can eat anything I wish to and it doesn't hurt me at all. My nerves are quiet, all the time and I feel greatly relieved and benefitted. I could realize a benefit from the first treatment I can eat and sleep well now and feel good.

Dear Sir—Replying to yours of recent date will say: That I had suffered several hard attacks of appendicitis and the Drs. told me I would have to be operated on. So hearing of your place and seeing a party that had been in the same condition and had been cured there without an operation I decided to try it although at that time I hadn't the least confidence in drugless methods. I was cured sound and well haven't had a return of the trouble. I now believe in your work and any one who will try it as I did will believe also. Hoping you much success in your new location, I am Respectfully,

MISS ALMA HARRELL.

Sick man or woman, lay your prejudices aside; come as others have come; you have their words for what they received; why not you the same? Come as a child to its father—lay your burdens on our shoulders; we are able to help you. Why suffer when health and happiness may be at your door? Come talk your case over with us; it costs you nothing and it may lead you to health and happiness. It will surely do you no harm.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.

I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.

I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 20, 1913.—Slumpy beef markets last week were reflected in reduced values of cattle, losses ranging from 25 to 40 cents, except on yearlings, which held steady. Stock cattle and feeders also took the loss, except the best kinds of stock cattle, which are holding about steady. Receipts today are 24000 head, and more than the usual percentage of stock cattle and feeders are included. Purchases for the country here last week were 36000 head, out of 69,000 received. Beef importations since the tariff was removed have been considerable, but not sufficient to warrant much of a break in killing cattle, total arrivals at all sea board points last week being equal to about 15000 cattle, in relativity a very small influence. The market is 10 higher today on finished cattle, particularly yearlings, which sold up to $9.05, heavy steers stopping at $8.75, as nothing strictly prime was included. Conditions here have not been as bad as those reported from Chicago, where it was claimed to be harder to move heavy steers last week than at the worst time in the spring of 1911. Quarantine arrivals here contain a good deal of common stuff steers at $5.50 to $6.50, cows at $4.35 to $5.50, including a good many from Arkansas and Louisiana, and a few good cattle. Some of the Johnson yearlings, from Chickasha, sold in the Southern division today at $8.50, 995 pounds average, same as they brought here last Thursday. Colorado beef steers sell at $6.80 to $7.35, odd head up to $8.00, stock steers and feeders $6.50 to $7.25, cows $5.50 to $6.50, panhandle yearlings $6.50 to $7.75, stock calves $6.50 to $8.25, veals up to $8.75, calves having dropped down 50 cents to a dollar last week. Hogs declined last week to reach the lowest spot touched in several months, $8.25 Saturday for tops. Receipts are running about like a year ago, but weights are lighter, 186 pounds average last week, 195 pounds a year ago. The market is steady today, run 7000 head, top $8.25, bulk $7.90 to $8.15. Receipts of sheep and lambs last week were 75000 head, and the market was about steady all week on a much lower level than heretofore. Run today is 27,000 head, market uneven, but about steady on an average range lambs largely at $6.40 to $6.60, prime lambs worth $6.75, natives at same figures when quality justifies, fat ewes at $3.50 to $4.20, feeding lambs $5.50 to $6.15.

The population of the Texas penitentiaries was decreased 127 during the month of September. Of this number 59 were pardoned and eight suffered death by asphyxiation while confined to the dark cell. The balance were released by expiration of terms.

Gus—the senegambian of chocolate hue, who formerly was general utility man for camp hunts and other outings, has returned to town, which, among other signs, like buggy drummers and installment men, evidently presages the resumption of good times in West Texas. They fly quick, because light, on the first indications of a "dry drought" but return with the budding of promise of betterment and the rains.

COME HEAR HIM SPEAK.

Mr. Atticus Webb, district superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, will address the people of Colorado and Mitchell county, at the union tabernacle in this city, on the first Sunday night in November. By understanding and arrangement with the various churches of the city, this will be strictly a union meeting and rally. This day has been set apart for this cause by Governor Mayes, and the occasion can be made of real worth to the community and state, if the people will rally to its support. It will be strictly a Temperance meeting, not prohibition, and the subject will be discussed by Mr. Webb from the standpoint of modern science. The Record is requested by the president of the Mitchell County Anti-Saloon League, to urge every friend of temperance and opponent of the open saloon, to attend this meeting and hear the message Mr. Webb has to deliver. Don't forget the day, Sunday, November 2nd. Place—union tabernacle, this city.

HAIR DOESN'T DIE— IT HAS TO BE KILLED

Hair often continues to live and grow long after the death of the body. But is often killed through neglect or misuse. Almost always the woman or man whose hair is falling out, or is stringy, lifeless and dull-looking, is entirely to blame because of not giving it the proper care. It is easy to take care of the hair—easy to make it more beautiful. Use Harmony Hair Beautifier, to make it glossy, soft and silky, and Harmony Shampoo to keep hair and scalp thoroughly clean.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, delightfully perfumed with true rose, is very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo is most convenient to use, giving an instantaneous rich, foaming lather that immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, and leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony Laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

As the season advances the prospects for Mitchell County producing fifteen thousand bales of cotton this year grows brighter. There are some fields that have not yet been touched, and they are white with cotton, while there are many others that have only been gone over once.

OUR EXCELLENT STREETS

It is the universal verdict of all auto drivers coming to Colorado, that they find here the best streets in any town in West Texas. There are towns which have a few show streets—streets on which much time, money and work have been expended, usually in the center of the business section of the town—but possibly the next dozen streets have received little or no attention. These streets, visitors are not shown. No one street in Colorado is much better than another. All of them, in both business and residential section, have been graded and are kept in the pink of condition. Our street and alley committee of the city council in conjunction with city Marshal Stell, keep a sharp eye on the condition of the city streets. Whenever automobile tourists go, they acclaim the streets of Colorado. The difference between their condition today and what it was seven years ago, is the difference between a boulevard and a fresh broken mesquite thicket. A citizen of the town leaving here about 1906 and returning now, would not be able to locate himself if put down on Quality Hill—or even in Poor Folks Flat, the very aspect of the surroundings is changed for the better. Colorado is conservative in many things and has learned some things by experience the town does not care to repeat. It feels its way cautiously, trying to be sure of every step taken, that it be upward and onward.

THE RETIRED FARMER.

"When you have grown old and rich on the farm don't move to town," Professor Holden of the International Harvester company told the Missouri farmers.

"A retired farmer is a nuisance in town, when he moves there simply to die cheap. He is against all improvements, because such things cost money and he wants to keep his taxes down. Stay on your farm. Don't buy more land, but improve what you have. Put in a system of water-works, so you can take a bath once in a while, whether you really need it or not. Put in a lighting plant, so you can read newspapers and books without straining your eyes, and keep well informed. Stay on your farms, and when you finally pay the debt of nature your friends and neighbors will regret your death, and there will be a procession half a mile long follow you to your grave. But if you move to town you won't have much of a procession, and the neighbors will say it is a good thing the close fist old codger is out of the way."

One family in every five in Hale county owns an automobile. By the ratio of five to a family, one out of every twenty-five people of that county owns a car. The average for the entire country is estimated at 1 in every 110. Mitchell county has not gone much to wheels, but has more than 100 cars one-fifth of which number are owned by farmers. But our population are still buying.

Special Notice to the Public.

Electricity has heretofore been the servant of only the illuminating needs of the citizens of Colorado. The West Texas Electric Company will be in position when they get all their equipment installed, to furnish power for scores of other household conveniences, such as coffee percolators, egg cooking cups, bread toasters, carpet sweepers, flat irons, curling irons, sewing machines, washing machines—in fact for anything in the way of machinery or requiring heat. You may have a bath of water heated in a few minutes by pushing a button, or the bed warmed up on chilly nights. With these electric adjuncts, a family can sit down to the table mornings, push the button and cook the eggs, make the coffee and toast the bread without getting up from the table.

The 28th annual state fair and exposition opened at Dallas Saturday under more favorable auspices than at any opening before. Extensive material improvements are constantly going forward, while the features of entertainment are of higher class and standards every year. This is easily the most successful state fair in this entire country, and has become so intimately identified with the development of Texas that it is regarded as one of the state's permanent institutions. This fair has done great things for Dallas while Dallas has been the fair's "Good Samaritan."

OUR HOME INDUSTRIES

III—FLOUR.

"The foreign miller ships into Texas one million barrels of flour per annum, while our Texas millers are compelled to seek a foreign market with four millions barrels of their products per annum."—Commercial Secretary.

PRAYER OF THE QUAIL

Oh, how I pray the time to come,
When loving kindness like a tide
Shall inundate the hearts of men,
And in their brain and soul abide.

No more the ministers of God
Will peace and kindness take text;
On Sunday preach to men on that,
Then hunt and murder us the next.

This is the concluding stanza of a beautiful poem from "Our Dumb Animals," which we wish every man and boy, who is now fixing up his gun and rifle for the slaughter which the law allows next month, could read. Even the present price of plain steak and bacon is no excuse for the extermination of these and other useful birds. Besides, it is quite likely every pound of quail meat they get, costs them as much as the beef and pork. The slaughter is carried on in the name and spirit of sport. Many men will absent themselves from their business, spend a day or more on a hunt, the expenses of which are no small item, who would not spend a like sum or waste like time from business, in the performance of any duty—voluntarily. Aside from the wantonness of the killing, the elimination of one of the orders of the bird family, especially one so useful to the farmer, and harmless to crops, must mean the increased depredation and multiplication of a more destructive species. Boys slay these useful scavengers because their fathers do it. It begets a desire to kill, which many times ripens into murder of a fellow being. The Record hopes to see the time when the game laws of Texas will be made more stringent than now, and their enforcement more rigid. The extermination of the buffalo within the past fifty years, at which time countless millions of these great and distinctly American animals roamed these plains, has been a national disgrace to this country. How carefully the government and private individuals are striving to increase the very few remaining small bunches still existent.

Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University, and Hon. Robert Henry, both of Waco, are being groomed for a try at the Senate. In the current issue of the Cosmopolitan magazine is an highly eulogistic article on Mr. Henry, with the caption: "On his way to the Senate." The concluding paragraph of the article, in trying to account for Henry's strength, contains this sentence, "He loves the people." Who ever saw or heard of a professional politician who did not love the people? Take away the people's votes and see how much he would love them.

IS THE NORTH POLE MELTING?

A party of tourists sailing from Quebec for England, about August 1 of this year, report having sighted from five to six hundred icebergs, many of them very large. The amount of ice that has come floating down from the far North in the past few years, and the low latitudes in which the icebergs have been seen by navigators is exciting interest and apprehension. The sinking of the steamer Titanic a year ago suddenly aroused attention to the gradually changing conditions taking place in the frozen North.

It has been suggested that this was an important factor in the discovery of the poles, and that in time tropical conditions will again prevail in both the Arctic and Antarctic regions. Many are not aware that at one time hot-house conditions existed over the entire earth, produced by a "canopy" or ring of water about the planet, similar to that about Saturn. The sun shining through this ring brought about the same effect as is caused by the sun's rays passing through the frosted glass of a green-house. This canopy of water, descending upon the earth in Noah's time as recorded in the Holy Scriptures, resulted in violent climatic changes; animals and plants then existing in the region of the poles were suddenly frozen, and in some instances were encased in solid ice. In later years large coal deposits, and fine specimens of tropical plants and animals have been found in Spitzbergen, Northern Siberia and the Antarctic continent.

Science is more and more confirming the statements of the ancient Hebrew writers to the effect that there was a great deluge in the past, and that a few members of the race were saved in an extraordinary manner; while from present indications on every hand the words of the prophets also will shortly be fulfilled and the whole earth will eventually become as the Garden of Eden, all the waste and desert places being caused to "blossom as the rose."

When the climatic conditions are again equalized over the globe, the storms, cyclones, tornadoes and earthquakes will cease, and "The earth shall yield her increase" in the bountiful supplies which will then spring spontaneously from a grateful soil.

THE WANDERING JEW.

No Blessing Unmixed.
None but a fool will deny that West Texas has some natural disadvantages, which are inseparable from its advantages. The fertility of its soil is directly due to its semi-arid nature. The rainfall has not been sufficient to leach and wash out the chemical elements of plant growth, which have accumulated from year to year, until the soil has become a veritable storage of fertility. Excessive rain would destroy this condition and the soil would soon become sterile and inert. But just sufficient water at the proper time, to release the chemical elements in the soil and supply the amount necessary to the growing plant—just what it will appropriate—is the ideal condition for successful agriculture. To do this, the intelligence and ingenuity of man must overcome in some way, the natural conditions. Irrigation is the solution of this problem, and in a few more years the great bulk of the crops of this country will be produced by irrigation. Farming will become stabilized, and the absolute certainty of a crop will depend, not upon the old proviso, "if it rains," but upon the farmer's industry and intelligence.

Greatly increased rainfall would not and could not solve this question. If the annual amount of our rainfall were increased two or three times, there would result altered conditions of climate and soil fertility; so that, a sufficient natural rainfall would destroy other advantages already possessed. Irrigation would not do this. It could have no effect on climatic conditions, or wash out the elements of fertility in the soil. This is the great need of West Texas today. A general system of irrigation and thousands of small, 40 to 80 acre farmers. This, with all the other natural advantages, unchanged, would make this section of the state as nearly an ideal one for a home and farming operations, as this old earth could provide. Water, but not in the form of arbitrary and uncertain rainfall, is the thing needed, and that thing spells irrigation.

Perhaps in no two other contingencies of life, is advice given more freely and positively by the by-standers, than in the case of a sick horse or a run-away team. There are always as many "dead shot" remedies for a horse with colic, as there are witnesses to its suffering. But we never heard a suggestion where the ingredients were at hand. When a team come tearing down a street, there seems to be an universal idea that the most effectual way to stop them is to get in front of them, throw up the hands and yell, "Hey! Hey! Hey!" at them. We do not recall ever seeing a frightened team stopped in this way, but have seen several turned onto the sidewalks, in storehouses and other places, where much damage is usually done to team, wagon and whatever they are run against. If let alone, a run away team will usually keep off dangerous obstructions and out of houses.

Queen of Pantry Flour—McMurry.

There is a farmer at Big Springs who is supplying that town with all the fresh roasting ears its citizens may want. He has seven acres to come in this week, besides which he is marketing daily all sorts of garden truck and reaping a golden harvest. The Record could never understand why a fall garden was not as profitable and acceptable as one made in the spring. Objections to fall gardens and trucking must lie in the idea that they seem out of season. But fall vegetables are as enjoyable and as profitable to the gardener as any raised in the spring. Besides, there is little danger of a glut of the local market in the fall trade as often happens in the spring. With fall rains and a belated frost, West Texas can produce as fine garden truck as is grown anywhere, at any season.

1117c HENRY H ENDERLY.

The estate of the late Adolphus Busch is put at $75,000,000. In England, when a man in the beer or liquor business accumulates a great fortune, he is ennobled by some title. A brewer by the name of Guinness and another named Smith, were given high sounding names and titles when they became millionaires. We can't do this in America, but the American people who have poured millions upon millions into the pockets of brewers and whiskey distillers, while their own families frequently lacked the comforts of life, make themselves just as big fools over these vampires and their money, as they do in other countries. Their names need not be changed to hide their common and ignoble origin. Money will ennoble any name, even that of Colonel A. Tumble Bug.

You are hereby commanded to summon Joe M. Blanks by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the thirty-second Judicial District; to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Mitchell County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Colorado, Texas on the 3rd Monday in December A. D. 1913, the same being the fifteenth day of December A. D. 1913, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 23rd day of December A. D. 1912 in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1513 wherein The State of Texas is Plaintiff and Joe M. Blanks is Defendant; the nature of plaintiff's demand being as follows: an action by Plaintiff praying for judgment against Defendant for the sum of Forty-eight and 8-100 Dollars, on account of State and County taxes, interest, penalty and costs, to-wit: For the taxes, including the school taxes, with penalty and interest, assessed and due on each tract or lot of lands hereinafter described, for the following years, to-wit 1910; that said taxes with interest, penalty and costs are a lien upon each tract or lot of the following described lands, situated in Mitchell County, State of Texas, to-wit:

All of survey No. 34, Block 29, T 1 N. Abest, No. 1312, Cert. 2-1655, T. & P. Ry. Co. surveys in Mitchell County, Texas.

And Plaintiff further prays for the foreclosure of its lien, for an order of sale, a writ of possession, costs of suit and for general and special relief, all of which will more fully appear from Plaintiff's Original Petition now on file in this office.

Herein fail not but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this Wit, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my Hand and official seal at my office in Colorado, Texas this 19th day of September A. D. 1913.
EARL JACKSON, Clerk
District Court, Mitchell County, Texas

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Mitchell.
Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Scurry County, of the 8th day of October 1913 by W. S. Adamson Clerk of said District Court for the sum of Five Hundred Seventy-five and 90-100 Dollars and costs of suit, under a certain judgment, in favor of M. F. Cornelius in a certain cause in said Court, No. 1678 and styled M. F. Cornelius vs. A. L. Lowe and W. B. Harrison, placed in my hands for service, I G. B. Coughran, as Sheriff of Mitchell County, Texas, did on the 9th day of October 1913, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Mitchell County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: All of lots Nos. 5 and 6 in Block No. 65 of the town of Colorado, Mitchell County, Texas and levied upon as the property of A. L. Lowe and W. B. Harrison and that on the first Tuesday in November 1913, the same being the 4th day of said month, at the Court House door of Mitchell County, in the City of Colorado, Texas, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M., by virtue of said levy and said Order of Sale I will sell said above described Real Estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said A. L. Lowe and W. B. Harrison. And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Colorado Record, a newspaper published in Mitchell County.

Witness my hand, this 9th day of October 1913.

G. B. COUGHRAN.

PROGRESS OF AGRICULTURE IN FRANCE.

We reproduce another article on European farming methods in this issue written by Francis W. Wozencraft.

Up to the time of the French Revolution, the agriculture of France, like that of nearly all Europe, was controlled by great land owners, who held the farmers in a state of serfdom.

France is world-renowned as the land of prosperous small farming, and so it is except where absentee landlordism still prevails.

Voisin-le-Bretonner is a village out past Versailles, about 20 miles from Paris.

"Why do you live here?" I asked. "Oh, my mother lived here, my grandmother lived here, so did her mother, and so I live here."

A great deal of fertilizer is used in this neighborhood. Artificial fertilizer is purchased from a private company in Paris—there are no cooperative associations in that section.

Among others, I had an interesting visit with Francois Largemain, who lives in the village. M. Largemain is of moderate size, somewhat retiring.

Largemain's house is of moderate size, with two stories. The rooms are well furnished and scrupulously clean.

The Largemains do not consider themselves farmers. With their 27 acres, they are rich people living on their means, and as such are too proud of their relics to think of parting with them. Yet they wear the customary peasant dress, and assume no social superiority over the poor villagers.

A block away, Madame Feret lives, with her mother-in-law and son, who is 16. All of the men of the family are dead. The two women and the boy do as much of the work on the farm as they can, and hire laborers to help them in time of stress.

The younger woman received me coldly, but her mother-in-law followed me outside and told me much of the village life. She spoke slowly and distinctly, in excellent French.

"Why do you live here?" I asked. "Oh, my mother lived here, my grandmother lived here, so did her mother, and so I live here."

It is the stagnation which came near ruining France.

Tenant Life on The Farm.

At the village of Laminiere, five miles away, I visited George Lemoine, a tenant who rents 50 acres. Only he and his wife and their oldest son were at home.

In some schools, especially in Brittany, elementary agriculture is taught. The instruction is based on work in the school garden.

The main entrance to the house is thatched and old, and the stone and plaster walls are in need of repair. Little provision is made for ventilation, as is usually the case, and only a dim light penetrates the gloomy interior.

Among other things, I learned that while the laborers start work only at seven, the farmer and his family are usually up and about at four.

Every city has its "octrol" or custom house, at all the gates where country roads enter the city limits, and duties are often levied on eggs, vegetables, and other truck which the farmers bring in to sell, as well as on the usual farm products.

Many of the farmers sell their crops before they are harvested to large companies which go about over the country buying up grain as soon as it is ready for reaping.

Those crops which can be so cultivated are run over frequently with a weed-plow. These plows are mounted on small, light, four-wheeled carriages, and can be set to plow at the depth desired.

The roads have in the past been the best in Europe. Automobiles tear them up so badly that they are beginning to show the effects of wear, but in spite of the fact that the government is no longer able easily to meet the drain of continuous repairing, the roads are, as a whole in what we should consider excellent condition.

In France, as in Italy, there are traveling chairs of agriculture, that is, professors employed by the government who go about giving practical first-hand instructions concerning the best methods of farming, fertilizing, fruit-growing, and carrying on various agricultural industries.

I WANT TO BUY IT ALL. I am in the market for cotton seed and maize in any quantities. I solicit your orders for horse and cow feed.

For Sale. I have three well improved farms of 160 acres each for sale. Three and four room houses, 60 to 80 acres in cultivation, wells and wind mills.

The service is prompt, the work is satisfactory and the cost makes it a real economy. Colorado Steam Laundry.

NOTICE OF SHERIFFS SALE. The State of Texas, County of Mitchell. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain execution issued out of the Honorable District Court of Mitchell County, on the 30th day of September, A. D. 1913, by Earl Jackson, Clerk of said court, for the sum of $658.69, with interest at eight per cent per annum from the 6th day of February 1912, and the further sum of $330.06, with interest at ten per cent per annum from the 19th day of December 1911 and costs of suit amounting to $3, being balance of costs unpaid under a judgment in favor of Burns & Bell, in a certain cause in said court numbered No. 2317, and styled Burns & Bell vs. C. C. Lowe, placed in my hands for service, I, G. B. COUGHRAN as Sheriff of Mitchell County Texas, did on the 3rd day of October, A. D. 1913 levy on certain real estate situated in Mitchell County Texas described as follows: to-wit: The undivided interest of the said C. C. Lowe in 576 acres, known and described as survey numbered eleven (11), in block numbered thirteen (13) of the Houston and Texas Central Railway Company surveys.

The undivided interest of the said C. C. Lowe in 576 acres, known and described as section numbered Two (2), in block thirteen (13), of the Houston and Texas Central Railway Company surveys, and being a tract of land originally sold by the State in the name of T. W. Craddock.

The undivided interest of the said C. C. Lowe in 320 acres, being the South one half of survey numbered three (3), in block numbered thirteen (13), of the Houston and Texas Central Railway Company surveys.

And levied upon as the property of the said C. C. Lowe, and that on the first Tuesday in November, A. D. 1913, the same being the 4th day of said month, at the court house door of Mitchell County, Texas, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M. by virtue of said levy and said execution, I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of the said C. C. Lowe.

Sunday night brought with it the first frost of the season. There was also a light frost Monday night, but there was no material damage done vegetation. It helped the hardware merchant and coal dealers.

For Sale—Five good driving mares, perfectly gentle for anyone to handle, drive or ride; also one brand new Spaulding buggy; all at a bargain. Will give time or take good notes. Phone 251—HENRY ENDERLY. 171fc

Mr. J. R. Ledbetter went to Cooper last Friday to accompany his wife home on her recovery from a recent operation. While attempting to board a train at Dallas Sunday night, a sudden jerk or start of the train jarred her considerably. She arrived Monday morning, but was not considered well enough to resume the duties of her own home, and they are staying for a time with C. C. Wheat and family.

The grade of the cotton coming to market now is improving over that brought in just after the recent rains, that which was knocked out on the ground or stained by having dirt beat upon it, was much below middling grade; but much of the cotton has opened since, and the grade shows improvement. A strict middling cotton brings around 13 1/2 cents the pound.

Chronic Dyspepsia.

The following unsolicited testimonial should certainly be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have used Chamberlain's tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

Business Notice to the Public.

I have rented the blacksmith shop formerly conducted by A. J. Herrington, and will run a shop devoted to general blacksmithing, horseshoeing and repair work. This arrangement will in no way conflict with the garage work of the shop, which will still be done by Mr. Herrington. All work guaranteed to be satisfactory and of the best quality. My prices will be found very reasonable for the quality of work done. I solicit a share of the public patronage.

GEORGE W. FILLER.

Mr. A. W. Crawford, of Winterset, Iowa, who owns quite a good deal of land in this country, was here last week looking after his investments. He entertains an optimistic outlook on the future. He is an advocate of diversification, and believes this section will develop fast and prosper permanently, when the farmers get out of the habit of the one crop system. More Jersey cows, hogs, silos and something to eat for themselves and family—or get to raising their living at home instead of buying it at stores in tin cans and paper packages, will determine the prosperity of the country and do much to cut down the high cost of wrong living. Mr. Crawford is a successful man of affairs, a judge of values and knows a farming proposition when he meets one. He has confidence in West Texas and Mitchell county, and is satisfied with his many investments here. Of course, he is a great believer that irrigation is going to be the salvation of this country. While here Mr. Crawford had his figures on the Record list moved to '15, and paid quite a compliment to the meteorological expert (weather prophet) of the Record. Inasmuch as there are but too qualities in a weather prophet worthy of commendation, and inasmuch as Mr. Crawford did not designate which one incited the compliment, we have no clear idea of whether he admired our expert for his truthful forecasts or for his skill at lying.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION.

Important to Everyone.
It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood. During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Colorado Weekly Record.

Dr. B. F. Dulaney spent last Friday in Sweetwater visiting his mother and brothers.

Don't fail to see those cheap hats at Mrs. E. F. Mills before buying—Saturday only.

C. C. Wyatt returned this week from a business trip to the Toyah valley. He reports business good in that irrigated district. He sold one complete electric lighting plant for individual use, and is figuring with the town of Balmorhae for the installation of a similar plant of sufficient power to light that town.

McMurry pays highest prices for all kinds of country produce.

J. L. Killian returned from a business trip to Collin county Tuesday morning. He said—but it would be a mean trick to tell what he did say after promising we would not. His secret will out time enough.

Why not send those quilts that you have been using in the yard all summer to us to be laundered. 25 cents a piece or five for one dollar—Colorado Steam Laundry.

R. D. Ingram is some chicken raiser himself. We say chicken raiser instead of poultry raiser, advisedly. When a man spends ten or fifteen dollars for a pair of common chickens from some fellow in Pennsylvania or Iowa, and succeeds in getting three or four of the first hatching to the self-supporting stage at a cost of anywhere from $3 to $7 each, and sells a pair of them to someone in another town for $2—he's a chicken raiser, as distinguished from the man who starts out with a dozen common stock of hens and a rooster past eating possibilities, and in one year sells several hundred dollars worth of "pure bred, prize winning fowls" to the chicken raisers. This latter is a poultry raiser. Well, Ingram is a chicken raiser, his specialty being the Cornish game. He sold two cockerels this week, five months old, weighing 5½ pounds each. They were certainly beauties, and if trained for the pit, would make vicious fighters.

Special Notice.

Owing to the fact that the Stud-baker announcement for the 1914 car failed to arrive this week, I am unable to publish same as I expected and promised. Look out for it in next week's Record. It will be worth reading.

F. S. KEIPER, Agent.

Until he had been returned for more than a week, did we know that our old friend Mr. Gore had shaken the sand of Corpus Christi out of his shoes tired of feasting on fish and oysters every day, and come back to his true and natural habitat. We recall his parting remark the morning he left, some months ago: "If I don't like the lay of things down there, I'm a-coming back to Colorado; I know I've got a home here." Right he was—not only a home but a welcome. We await with interest some of his stories and experiences while in the coast country.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. P. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

There was a mighty rustling around last Saturday morning getting up stoves and getting in a little fuel. How few of us cold weather ever catches prepared for its coming. Procrastination is a peculiarly southern failing. The seasons are usually so mild and uncertain, that we presume upon the indulgence of nature that may be tomorrow won't be any worse than today. If everyone in Colorado knew positively there would be a very severe blizzard on a certain date, few would be fully ready against its coming. Some would be found borrowing of their neighbors.

An alarm of fire Thursday night about nine o'clock called the department to a burning barn on the place owned by Mrs. Mamie Vincent, now occupied by Mr. J. R. Burk. The building was at the rear end of the lot, with nothing in it, and by the time the boys arrived and made connection, it was consumed. Loss was nominal; no insurance.

We understand that Judge Smith will be home from Washington in a few days.

Mesquite Camp No. 214 Woodmen of the World is taking on new life. At the regular meeting Oct. 16th there were about fifty choppers present. Plans to organize a second degree team are on foot and the boys are very enthusiastic over the prospects. The Camp recently installed four station chairs at a cost of fifty dollars and the women of the Woodmen Circle have an order out for three dozen Douglas Office chairs at a cost of about $1.75 each. At the last meeting two new members were initiated and three new applications were taken. The Camp meets every first and third Thursday night and all Woodmen, whether members here or not, are urged to attend the meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Guitar are now ensconced under their own vine and fig tree in the home place of Judge W. R. Smith.

Highest prices for chickens and eggs paid by McMurry.

Those fortunate enough to have the price to take in the Dallas fair this year, all join in saying it surpasses any of its predecessors. There's simply too much for a countryman and countrywoman to see in the limited time the usually used reduced rate ticket allows. It would take two good eyes in the head of an energetic walker to comprehend the entire show in a week's time. There is little satisfaction in spending one day amidst the jam that the special rates produce. The coming back is also an experience few want to go through a second time.

Have Hubert Toler call on you and demonstrate the Maxwell "25" and see if the sand gets too deep or the hill to steep. Well we will try any of them.

Registered Poland China Boar is now ready for service at my place. See or phone No. 8. 18-14pd.

Mrs. Jas. Greene and children are spending the week in Dallas visiting relatives and friends.

Phone for fresh peaches to McMurry. He has 'em every day.

Duck hunting now engages the time of the nimrods. They are reported to be quite numerous in the draws and flats where recent rains have left water.

Specialty new designs in Millinery at Mrs. B. F. Mills.

Mrs. F. B. Whipkey of Colorado City was in West this week the guest of Mrs. J. P. Glenn. Mrs. Whipkey has been in ill health for some time and was on her way to Marlin. She was met here by her son, Walter Whipkey of Cuero, who will accompany her to Marlin. Mrs. Whipkey lived in West for many years and has a host of friends here who will regret to learn of the condition of her health. —West Times.

See the Maxwell "25-X" and have it demonstrated to you. You will then be convinced that no hill is too steep—no sand too deep for the Maxwell 25. See Toler at Loraine.

A car load of the famous little Maxwell "25" will be unloaded at Loraine next week. See them they are beauties.

B. F. Person of Abilene was shaking hands with old friends here this week. He reports conditions around Abilene as rather wet.

Methodist Church.

The services will be held next Sunday in the following order:
Sunday school at 9:45 Preaching at 11 a. m. Junior Epworth League at 3 p. m. At 7:30 there will be a special song service and short talk by the pastor in line with the service. Three more Sundays will close up the work for the year and will also mark the closing of the pastorate of the present pastor. According to the time limit we will be assigned to a new field in November. We very much desire to have at the closing services the presence of the members and friends of the church. We also extend a cordial invitation to any strangers who may be visiting in the city. W. E. LYON, P. C.

Christian Endeavor.

Last Sunday evening the young people of the Christian church re-organized their Christian Endeavor Society. Mr. Jack Farmer was chosen president and as he has had special training in this work at T. C. U. we predict a live, energetic Society if the young people will be true to their appointment and final program made.

Will Trade.

$10,000 worth of good business property in Colorado to trade for Mitchell or adjoining county land. Bargain, what have you to trade. Now is your chance to get a good business in Colorado if you have the land, see HASTINGS & MORRISON.

A CORRECTION.

In the report of the Needle Guild last week either the reporter or the "bad man" got things mixed. They are very closely related so it might have been either. In giving the objects to which the garments were distributed he said Buckner Orphanage and it should be the Methodist Orphanage, Waco, and Buckner Orphanage, Dallas. The ladies of the town take pride in making boxes of clothing for the various charitable institutions and like them all reported correctly.

Called Meeting.

Mitchell Lodge No. 563 A. F. and A. M. called to meet Monday night Oct. 27. Work in the Masters degree. All members urged to be present. Visitors cordially welcomed.
