

Baptist Meeting Begins

On Sunday, 11 A. M.

AT THE TABERNACLE

Will Begin a Series of Meetings—Twice Daily

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH will conduct the meeting. The morning service at 10 a. m. and the evening service at 8:15 p. m.

All Christians are heartily invited to co-operate with us in the effort for a revival of our own souls and in the campaign for the lost.

Dr. Charles Bray Williams, who has the Chair of Greek and New Testament Theology in the Ft. Worth Seminary, will preach the gospel twice daily. Dr. Williams is an evangelist honored by the Lord.

LOGFELLOW LOCALS.

As I have't seen anything in the Record from Longfellow, I will just remind you that Longfellow is still in existence, and is thriving as only a good community can, with good health good crops (though sorely in need of rain), everyone through work and planning that summer fishing trip, or pleasures that carry us far from the duties of our daily lives; to gain the rest that will enable us to begin our work again when harvest time is here. Our singing class is progressing nicely, the class meets on the second and fourth Sundays. Everyone is invited to come and take a part in the singing.

Messrs Marvin Cunningham, Frank Redman and Miss Laura Cunningham of Buford were visitors in this part of the country Sunday.

Miss Louvestia Hardy will leave Tuesday for Jones county to attend the Socialist encampment.

The young people enjoyed a singing at Mr. J. R. Pickens Sunday night.

Miss Maude Witt entertained her friends with a birth-day party Saturday night. The threatening weather kept part of the crowd away, but there were plenty there to have a good time eating ice cream and having a good time generally.

Mr. John Mahon and Miss Nola Muns of Union Chapel attended the singing here Sunday.

Mr. Will Wilson entertained a few of his friends with a birth-day dinner Sunday.

A crowd of young folks attended preaching at Seven Wells Sunday.

Mr. Sam Bullock has returned from the normal at Cisco and was a visitor here Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barnett visited friends in Colorado Saturday.

Mr. Clarence Felts is visiting relatives at Buffalo Gap.

Mr. Gaston McCauley and family, Mrs. Ed Watson and family went to the Colorado fishing last week. They report having had good luck.

SUNSHINE.

(This is a good newsy letter from Sunshine, and we hope to have one every week—would like to have one from each neighborhood in the county.—Ed.)

WAR BEGUN IN EUROPE BLOODY FIGHT SEEN

Vienna, July 27.—War between Serbia and Austria-Hungary has begun. Wait the outcome will be none can foretell. The struggle may involve the powers of all continental Europe in the bloodiest struggle history has known.

Servian troops have blown up the bridge spanning the Danube at Semlin, where the Austrians have concentrated a great force for the invasion of little Serbia.

Two engagements are reported. The result is not known, as the strictest censorship on all dispatches is being exercised.

Berlin, July 27.—A conference on which may depend the peace of entire continental Europe is in progress today at Potsdam. The kaiser is meeting with the crown prince and his cabinet.

London, July 27.—England took the initiative today in trying to avert a general war by suggesting mediation to France, Germany and Italy. With the consent of Germany, Austria would be forced to accept mediation.

Everything depends upon the kaiser. Russia has declared she will support Serbia if Austria invades.

Vienna, July 27.—Europe is war mad! The handing by Austria-Hungary of passports to the Servian minister, M. Jovanovitch, is considered equal to a declaration of war, despite the appeal of Serbia to The Hague peace convention. In the absence of the Servian minister, who will leave immediately, the Russian ambassador will take charge of Servian interests.

The wildest excitement prevails throughout Europe. The prospect of war seems even more imminent today than it has since the crisis arose. Troops are being mobilized by Austria Hungary all along the Servian frontier. The Servians, too, are preparing to resist any invasion, notwithstanding their reference of the dispute to arbitration. Germany, France, Russia and Montenegro also are preparing to put armies into the field.

Russia and France are expected to line up behind proud little Serbia who also will have the support of Montenegro. Germany is going to take the side of Austria-Hungary. Demonstrations are being held in the principal cities of all of the countries involved in the dispute.

The prospect of war between Austria-Hungary and Serbia is not regarded as small within itself. Serbia put an army of 400,000 men in the field in the Balkan war. Men and officers alike are frantically patriotic.

Washington, July 27.—The United States has no intention of becoming involved in the European crisis. President Wilson told visitors today he considered it distinctly unwise to discuss the Austro-Servian trouble and that he would adhere to the American policy of keeping hands off in the affairs of Europe.

AUSTRIA DECLARES WAR ON SERBIA

Actual Hostilities Have Begun—All Europe May Be Involved.

German Fleet Ordered to Concentrate On Home Waters Today—Publication of News of the Movements of British Warships Has Been Prohibited.

Vienna, July 28.—Austria formally declared war on Serbia today and began actual hostilities that may involve all of Europe.

Servian and Montenegrin Troops Operating.

At noon on the 28th, newspapers at Vienna announced that not only Servian, but also Montenegrin troops were apparently operating together near the Austrian frontier of Bosnia.

Two Servian Steamers Seized.

Nish, Servia, July 28.—Two Servian steamers were seized on the Danube at Orsva today by Austrians. The Servian colors were hauled down and Austrian flags run up. All passengers were detained.

Will Try to Localize War.

London, July 28.—Rome reports that Germany is demanding Rumania to give positive assurance of her intentions in the present war. It is understood here, however, that the powers are now trying hard to localize the war area, but many officials here are convinced that Russian armies will support Serbia as soon as fighting starts in earnest.

London, July 28.—Germany refused to join France, Italy and England in the Servian Mediation.

The German fleet was ordered to concentrate on home waters today. Austria also refused to join mediation. Austrian foreign office announced that it is too late now ever if Serbia accepted all of Austrian demands.

The Servian ambassador at Paris announced that he believed that fighting had started this forenoon.

The eighth and ninth Austrian army corps comprising an army of about thirty thousand men yesterday began moving from Bosnia toward the Servian frontier. So many persons have fled from Belgrade that the Student Volunteers are acting as City police.

War preparations continue throughout Europe. Publication of news about the movements of the British warships is prohibited.

According to apparent authentic reports that Austria has assured Russia that she will not annex any Servian territory gives hope that Russia may keep out of the fight.

There are many rumors of fighting and seizure of Servian ships with contraband but none of the reports have been verified.

Excitement in Chicago.

Chicago, July 28.—Immense excitement was caused in the wheat market today when the price jumped six cents on account of declaration of war between Austria and Serbia.

Chicago, July 28, 2 p. m.—Wheat took another jump today on account of the war news and went up nine cents per bushel.

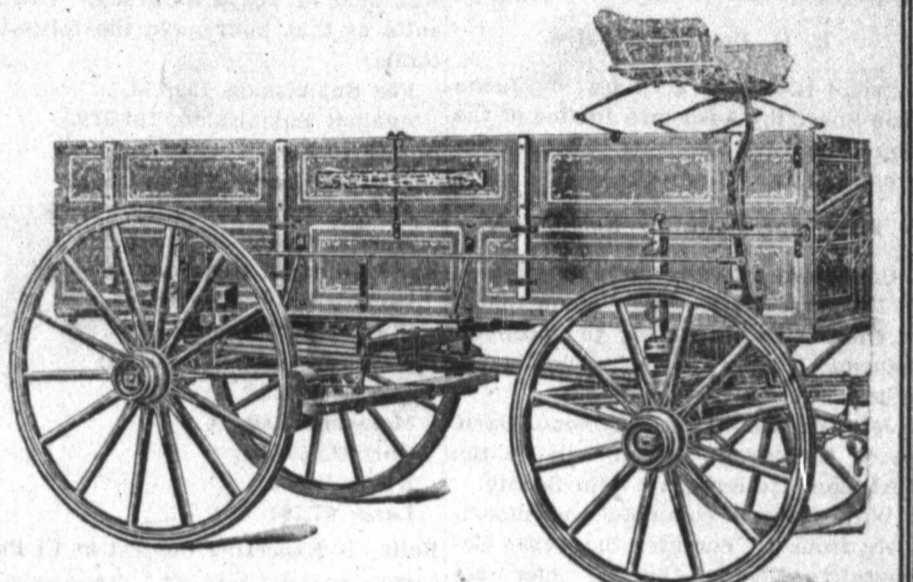

Gold Exported.

New York, July 28.—Ten million dollars in gold was exported here today on account of the war.

EMPEROR WILLIAM WIRES CZAR ABOUT WAR CRISIS

Belgrade Being Bombarded and Bridge Across River Save Is Blown Up—French Cabinet Meets—Stocks Demoralized. Cotton Declines One Dollar Per Bale Today.

London, July 29.—The British fleet sailed from Portland today for an unknown destination. The war office has placed a strict censorship on all information as to the movements of army and fleet during the present crisis and positively refused to say to what port the fleet is bound.

It is reported that Russia ordered a partial mobilization of its southern troops last night. Officials say that this action dangerously diminishes the possibility of confining the war to Serbia and Austria.

Both Austria and Serbia continued to pour steady streams of troops toward their frontiers today. Servian and Austrian aviators are flying along the frontiers trying to locate the positions of the enemy.

Military preparations of Montenegro attracted great interest in war circles. At Pribroj Montenegrin women are building breast works today.

The world's stock markets continue to be demoralized. Paris and Berlin did little business. In London British consuls dropped to the lowest point in one hundred years.

Vienna, July 29.—All Servians in Austria liable to military service are arrested as military prisoners. Germany's powerful influence is used to try to localize the war.

It is reported here that the Poles revolted at Warsaw, blowing up powder magazines and postoffice with many killed. Other accounts say that these explosions were due merely to lightning.

As Gen. Villa is not doing anything spectacular, it is likely that he is going to do it pretty soon. Huerta drank grape juice for a few days and ever since he has been trying to make up for lost time.

FERGUSON LEADS BALL BY 37,624 BUCK HAS DEFEATED OCIE SPEER

Hobby is Holding the Lead for Lieutenant Governor While McLemore and "Cyclone" Davis Lead for Congressmen-at-Large.

Dallas, July 28, 3:10 p. m.—Incomplete returns from 227 counties give the following totals at this hour:

For Submission, 128,457; against, 144,419.

For Ball, 175,485; Ferguson, 213,109. For Hobby, 161,629; For Sturgeon, 149,736.

For Congressman at large, McLemore, 76,156; Davis, 72,324; Lane, 65,167; Garrett, 63,085; Kone, 56,312.

R. H. Buck Nominated.

Judge R. H. Buck defeated Judge Ocie Speer for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, Second Supreme Judicial District.

Black and Callaway Nominated.

Congressman Vaughan was defeated in the First District by Eugene Black, of Clarksville, according to unofficial returns. Callaway was re-nominated in the Twelfth District.

Jeff McLemore and Cyclone Davis go to Congress; Terrell will be the next Comptroller; Pros win Senate.

With returns complete and incomplete from 227 counties the Texas Co-Operative Election Bureau has accounted for 387,345 votes. James E. Ferguson's lead is 38,953. In 74 complete counties his majority is more than 12,000.

W. P. Hobby, whose lead for lieutenant governor during the day at one time ran as high as 13,000, closed in the last compilation of totals with a lead of 7,629 over his opponent, B. B. Sturgeon.

Some of the counties in which substantial returns from the lieutenant governor's race are lacking and in which there is any large amount of votes are Cass, Coryell, Hopkins and Limestone. Other returns missing are from very small counties. Mr. Ferguson has carried Cass, Coryell and Limestone counties and it would appear that Mr. Hobby should hold up fairly well with a lead, though his race is, indeed, a close one.

Jeff McLemore is without doubt congressman-at-large for place No. 1. Every total struck has indicated that J. H. (Cyclone) Davis will be in place No. 2. He is leading Dan Garrett by more than 7,000 votes.

Submission evidently is defeated by something around 20,000 votes. It would appear that the total vote cast will not run much greater than 400,000 even should it succeed in getting past that point.

According to the returns of the Texas Co-Operative Election Bureau, there will be fifteen anti-prohibition senators and sixteen prohibition senators in the next senate. The number of Ferguson representatives in the house has increased from 59 to 63, the number of Ball representatives from 55 to 63. Either the rest of the districts are not heard from or the candidates are doubtful.

The increase in the showing of the Ball or prohibition representatives has been noticeable, as has been the fact that the anti, while having the senate almost within their grasp at one time during the compilation of the returns, have now absolutely lost their much-wanted control there. In the house the anti will doubtless have an increased strength, but it does not seem that they will be able to control it.

Eastern Newspapers Regard Ball's Defeat as a Blow to Administration.

Members of Congress were greatly interested in the Texas election results, and eagerly sought Texans for the latest news. Representative Garrett of Houston, who appears to have been defeated for renomination as Congressman-at-large received word that he was running behind about 6,000 votes, but has hopes of late returns giving him a lead. Eastern papers view the defeat of Ball as a blow to the Wilson administration, since the candidate had the open support of Secretary of State Bryan, Postmaster General Burleson, Cato Sells, Commissioner of Indian Affairs; Senator Morris Sheppard and Cone Johnson, Solicitor for the State Department. Ball was also endorsed by Ex-Senator J. W. Bailey.

Vaughan Defeated in First District
The most striking development in the election reports was the fact, according to the complete unofficial returns, that Hon. Horace W. Vaughan had been defeated for re-election to Congress from the First District by Eugene Black of Clarksville, Black's majority being in excess of 400.

Ferguson Leads by 38,957.

Dallas, July 29.—At two o'clock this afternoon the Texas Co-Operative Election Bureau issued the last bulletin on the Democratic primary which was held in Texas Saturday. The results at that hour gave the following totals:

For Submission 129,153.
Against Submission, 151,519.

For Governor:

Thos. H. Ball, 181,042.

J. E. Ferguson, 210,439.

Morris, 6,052.

For Lieutenant Governor:

Hobby, 170,998.

Sturgeon, 158,790.

For Congressman at Large:

Davis, 75,529.

McLemore, 80,116.

Garrett, 67,785.

Kone, 59,054.

Lane, 67,764.

Bailey is Expecting Contest at El Paso

Fort Worth, July 26.—"If they beat me at El Paso he fight has only just begun. I will go to the people with it. I know of no better way of spending the balance of my days than in the cause of pure Democracy and in fighting the battles of the people. The people are with me, as they have always been. They retained me in office as long as I wanted to remain and they would have kept me longer had I asked them to do so."

Such were the words of former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey.

The lobby of the Worth Hotel was alive with people who had come to see the ex-Senator. Some were his personal friends, others were impelled by curiosity, and others, who never saw him before, came to see what he looked like. No matter in which direction he turned, he was the center of a group, and he talked freely and frankly concerning the election results and of what he expected to do at the El Paso convention. Local politicians and men of prominence as well as casual listeners stood near him or followed him around, much as they used to do when he was at the zenith of his popularity.

Bailey Not to Make a Fight.

McKinney, July 29.—Joseph W. Bailey passed through here today en route to Greenville and said that he will not make a fight at El Paso but that he will present a plank limiting candidates to expenses only for placing nomination before the people and to defray traveling expenses. He said the poor man has no show for election now.

Ferguson Favors Endorsing Wilson's Administration.

"In the last few days the idea seems to have gained some prevalence that I would be opposed to the indorsement of the Wilson Administration at the coming El Paso convention. While in my speech at Marlin and other places during the campaign I questioned the propriety of President Wilson, and other high officials, attempting to dictate or suggest to the people of Texas who they should vote for for Governor, and while I in no way recede from that position and still think that it was unfortunate that President Wilson should have been drawn into the Texas campaign, yet I deem that action on his part only as personal indiscretion and it should in no manner be the cause for dissension between Democrats and their allegiances to Democratic policies and platforms.

For this reason I want it distinctly understood that I am in favor of and it would please me to see the people of Texas in their various county conventions next Saturday instruct their delegates to the El Paso convention to vote for indorsement of the present Democratic Administration and to approve the sincere efforts of President Wilson in carrying out the will of the people, as expressed at the Baltimore convention.

I consider the principles set forth at the Baltimore convention binding upon all Democrats at least until such time as another National Democratic convention shall be held and hope that the El Paso convention will so declare."

Mitchell county had about 1200 votes. Earl Jackson received 1079, highest vote in the county. The Commissioners Court made an entire change, except Mr. Joyce, who was re-elected. J. E. Stowe and Congressman Smith came in with the second largest vote, 1070 each, and W. P. Leslie third with 1060 votes.

JUDGE W. R. SMITH ROLLS UP A MAJORITY OF 3,500 TO 4,500

CONGRESSMAN W. R. SMITH.
16th Congressional District

Re-Nominated for Congress the Seventh Time.

Mitchell County gave Smith a majority of 348. Taylor County gave Blanton a majority of 484. Congressman W. R. Smith Re-elected. Incomplete returns from 49 counties give Blanton 13,580, Smith 16,420, a majority of 2,840. But later advices secured at Smith's headquarters show his majority to be a little more than 4,000.

According to the unofficial count Fisher county, which has reported complete, gave Smith 560 votes and Blanton 560 votes—a tie. Smith lacked only 89 votes of carrying the city of Abilene, Blanton's home town. In Tom Green county Smith received 1110 and Blanton 799, giving Smith a majority of 311. The vote in several neighboring counties resulted as follows: Sutton (lacking two boxes Smith 134 Blanton 192. Reagan—Smith

The Standard Skin Remedy
Instant Relief
For All Skin Troubles

The Guaranteed Remedy
W. L. DOSS, DRUGGIST.
PRESIDENT WILSON'S PROPHECY OF A YEAR AGO.

"The steady pressure of moral force will before many days break the barriers of pride and prejudice down, and we shall triumph as Mexico's friends sooner than we could triumph as her enemies—and how much more handsomely, and with how much higher and finer satisfaction of conscience and honor!"

It was in those words that, on Aug. 27th, 1913, in addressing Congress, the President announced the Nation's policy toward the Mexican people, a policy which the jingoes were pleased to call derisively that "watchful waiting" the first imperative of it was that "Huerta must go!"

Yesterday's papers announced that, on July 20, Huerta sullenly took his departure from the country aboard a German cruiser. Within less than eleven months, the first and most indispensable article of the much derided policy of "watchful waiting" has been fulfilled.

Events are moving in a way to promise an early fulfillment of all else in that prophecy of a year ago, a prophecy which, when stated in the inspiring words quoted, moved the cynical to pronounce it the fantasy of a dreamer.

Not only is Huerta gone, but he who succeeds to his title shows both readiness and eagerness to cancel what remains of his usurpation. Gen. Carranza, pedant and formalist that he has shown himself to be, nevertheless manifests a disposition to abate technicalities and formalities that, if insisted on, might defer the consummation that was decreed by the President's resolution. The Government is on the eve of transfer from those who used it to oppress to those who are pledged to use it to liberate.

In so much of the policy of the President, enunciated less than a year ago, is vindicated to a degree of perfection rarely vouchsafed to human purposes. Can any one doubt the further fulfillment of the prophecy? Is it not pretty well assured that this policy of peace, of "watchful waiting," is destined to "triumph" sooner than we could have hoped a policy of impatient aggression to "triumph"? And is it not equally certain that, whatever resentments may animate them now, the Mexican people must come to feel gratitude for the service which the United States has rendered them?

Rare indeed has it been in the history of the race that the decisions of statesmanship have been made with a finer inspiration of truth than was that decision which the derisive were pleased to call the policy of "watchful waiting."—Dallas News.

WHY WOMEN FADE.

This is for ladies only. Men should keep their eyes off it.

A million women today should be told what other millions have learned—that they need one element in their blood far more than men, and that lack of it is the reason they are apt to fade many years before they should. The needed element is iron. Iron builds up the red corpuscles of the blood and sustains vitality and strength. Women need a constant supply of blood-making material, or their system breaks down under the constant drain. The very moment there is a lack of blood, or when the blood is impoverished, the signal appears upon the face in sallowness or palor, and the remedy is McCroskey's Tonic, for it contains iron.

Nothing else meets this particular condition as well. Use of it has made thousands of women look many years younger and made them even feel younger than they looked. It not only restores strength, energy and beauty, but it is a prompt and certain cure for all the ills peculiar to the sex. It cures because it removes the first cause. It supplies just what nature needs to bring health. It strengthens the debilitated organs and gives tone and elasticity to muscles and ligaments rounds out wasted tissue and renews the vigor of the nervous system, it helps quickly and just as surely and permanently. It has been used and praised by both old and young women, and mothers should see that their daughters coming into womanhood should take it. It will bring them through all right.

INTERVENTION IN HAITI NOW SEEMS CERTAIN.

Armed intervention by the United States in Haiti appears a certainty. The question was discussed at length at a cabinet meeting a few days ago. Dispatches had just been received to the effect that great losses had been suffered by American and other foreign interests in the island republic through the activities of the bands of revolutionists scourging the country. Strong pressure for intervention is being brought to bear by the powers.

COLORADO DRUGGIST HAS VALUABLE AGENCY.

W. L. Doss has the Colorado agency for the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-I-ka, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. This simple remedy has powerful action and drains such surprising amounts of old matter from the body that JUST ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost immediately. The quick action of Adler-I-ka is astonishing.

STILL IN THE RING.

Recently Mineral Wells, was the scene of a conflagration, causing a loss in property of between $80,000.00 and $125,000.00. Among the buildings destroyed were stores, dwellings, boarding houses, and a few of the smaller hotels. This, however, has not placed Mineral Wells at a disadvantage in taking care of tourist, as accommodations can be had at prices ranging from 50c per day up, according to the ability of the guest to pay. The town will be built up again as rapidly as possible; but in the meantime there is room and accommodation for all comers to this famous resort.

Try one sack of LaFrance flour from A. J. Payne you will then use no other, plenty in stock, fresh from the mill.

WHAT TO PRINT.

Why the Careful Newspapers Omit Details of Crimes.

The people who know most about the social evil are policemen, police reporters, physicians and hospital superintendents. Of these the police reporter, who is usually an experienced, well educated and well trained newspaper man, probably knows the most.

The question is one of difficulty to a newspaper editor. He is confronted by the same conditions in discussing the evils as he is in reporting certain crimes wherein it is necessary for the reasonable action of a jury to bring out all of the horrible and often disgusting details.

A newspaper should print such matter as a father could read at the table to his wife in the presence of his 12-year-old son and 14-year-old daughter.

A careful editor may take the facts set forth in some of the social evil discussions made before sociological congresses and from them he may write a story which may be helpful to old and to young. But to do this he must have a trained hand and a sober mind and he could do better work probably if he were the husband of a good wife and the father of half a dozen children ranging from four to 18 years.—Commercial Appeal.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF AUTOMOBILES.

Filling station has been established at my garage, for the advantage of the general public, where gasoline can be had at the lowest price. The plan upon which this station will be conducted is the same as in all the larger places. Coupon books will be sold for the cash, and the coupons will be accepted in payment for gas as the consumer uses it. Those who buy the coupon books will get their gas at 10c per gallon, while it will be 13c to all others. This difference is made from the fact that when you buy a coupon book it is the same as buying gasoline by the barrel, giving the purchaser the barrel or wholesale rate.

I have been working for a long time to get this station established here for the benefit of my customers, and users of gas will find it not only a great saving, but much more convenient.

This plant will be ready for business August 1st, and we ask that not only our regular customers, but the public in general will take advantage of it.

TEN BILLION DOLLAR CROPS.

The July Government crop report indicates that the total value of farm products in the United States, this year, will rise to $10,000,000,000.

As the New York World observes, a dollar needs no measure; but ten billions are better grasped by comparison. This vast sum would buy all the real estate in New York and Chicago at assessed valuations, with something to spare. It would pay the huge national debts of war-obsessed France and Germany. It would clear off our own national debt, nearly ten times over; or pay its interest charges for 435 years.

In anticipation of the distribution of this vast wealth, the world is becoming optimistic. Even the political pessimist cannot croak, very loudly, as this vast sum starts on its round of debt-paying and expansion. It will run through every vein and artery of American trade and industry. There is hardly an occupation that will not be quickened into new life, as this marvelous crop is liquidated in terms of money.

Yet it is a significant fact, that the producers of this vast sum of new wealth are, as a class, the least prosperous in the country. The owners of the country's factories and railroads, which convert and distribute the raw products of the farm, are more prosperous than the farmers. The men who perform the service of distribution reap a larger profit from the earth's yield than do the men who perform the more essential service of production.

A century ago, the seat of wealth and power was in the country. Today it is in the cities. We cannot turn backward the forces of evolution; we cannot restore old conditions, whereby the men who produce the nation's primary wealth shall receive just recompense for their labor. Then, and then only, will agriculture become profitable and attractive and the country resume its proud position as the seat of wealth, culture and power.

Colorado, Aug. 3, 1:30 p. m.
Lorraine, Aug. 5, 1:30 p. m.
Bronte, Aug. 8, 1:30 p. m.
Lampasas, Aug. 10, 1:30 p. m.

The place of meeting will be announced by the local committee at each point.

These institutes will be conducted by Mr. J. W. Neill, Director of Farmers' Institutes, who will discuss Diversification; Rotation; Seed Selection and better cultural methods.

Officers of institutes already organized will please assist in getting the farmers out to hear these important questions discussed.

The State Department of Agriculture publishes from time to time, valuable reports upon topics of vital interest to the farmers of the state. All institutes will receive copies of all bulletins issued by the Department free of cost, and will be placed on the regular mailing list for future bulletins and reports.

These institutes are farmers' meetings devoted to the upbuilding of the best interests of the farmer. It is urged, therefore, that farmers bring their families and devote, at least one day to a careful study and discussion of the agricultural questions which lie nearest their hearts.

RAINFALL FOR COLORADO THE LAST TEN YEARS.

COLORADO, TEXAS, JULY 31, 1914.

"If you are anvil be patient; if you are hammer, strike hard."

Politics is the most curious yarb that grows in the garden of Cabnec.

Yes, we've often heard the story about winding up the little Ball of yarn.

Who? The man who ran up against Congressman Smith? Oh, his name was Blanton.

The primary was something of a surprise party to more than one. But these things will occur.

Now that the country has been saved the yeomanry will give strict attention to saving the big feed crop already made in this bully country.

Senator Williams who boasts that congress will be in session until it passes the anti-trust bills, is not the first man to make a virtue of necessity.

The press dispatches have it that Villa has secured Martin Middleton of New York to be his legal counsel in the impending settling process in Mexico.

When we reflect that we are spending annually five times the sum for whiskey that we spend on education the need of putting "submission" on the ticket is made more apparent.

The president of the Sears, Roebuck mail order octopus, has an annual income from that business on which he pays an income tax of $60,000. If we only had the tax—the crumbs that fall from his lunch.

None of the mud and slime thrown during the campaign will stick long to a clean surface. If your private character be clean all the mud thrown by opposition cannot hurt you. A good and clean character can be hurt only by its own acts.

Don't quarrel with your friends and accuse them of selling you out. Only one man for each office could win, and the fellow who got it will likely make as good an official as you would have made. You shook the hands of the voters for two months and more, and on last Saturday the voters took advantage of the occasion for their only come back, and "shook you." So runs the world away.

The good old reliable Salt River packet, whose schedule is never late nor delayed by wrecks, left her wharf Saturday night bound for the head waters. Her passenger list has been larger, but her hold was never freighted heavier with blighted hopes and busted ambitions. Still, a nobler crew never trod her decks. Here's to 'em all.

We have often wondered what kind of a manual is used in "figuring," "estimating," "claiming" and "conceding" at a political headquarters. They must have found the veritable lamp of Aladdin for the juggling done is none the less wonderful than the magic of the wonderful lamp. But the final count wrings out the false majorities.

Now the Col. has six weeks in which to do more thinking than talking.

As an argument that prohibition does sometimes and in some localities prohibit, we cite the case of Iceland, where the temperature is an abiding temptation to artificial stimulation. Not one drop of liquor is made used or imported in that country. The 78,000 inhabitants are total abstainers, and as a consequence there is not a jail, nor a penitentiary nor court in the whole island; furthermore, there is not a child ten years of age but what is able to read. Looks like a wax-tight lid is on up there.

Now that the primary election is over and the democratic ticket selected, it becomes everyone who entered the primary to stand loyally by the nominees. There should be no sulking in tents, but cheerful support of every name on the ticket. The fact that there is no opposing party in the November election should not make against a full vote. Every citizen who participated in the primary should make it a conscience to go to the polls and ratify his choice.

The campaign is over and the people have spoken their choice of all the candidates at the polls, and it can be said to the credit of those who ran as well as for that greater number who "also ran," that the race was as nearly free from personal attack and smut-blowing as a campaign for office could well be. We believe good men have been named for every office and it is now the part of good citizenship for every voter in the county to do all they can to uphold the official hands of those put in office.

The Mitchell County Good Roads and Automobile Association is a live wire and believes in combining pleasure with utility. Not content with the promotion of good highways throughout the county, the association is now seeking to interest not only the citizens of this county, in making of Seven Wells a local pleasure resort for autoists, but the great horde of auto travellers who daily traverse this country. It is indeed a most laudable undertaking, and the association should be helped both materially and in a sympathetic way by every citizen who takes pleasure in an outing. There is no permanent nor convenient place in Mitchell county at the present time for picnics, outings, parties and other forms of public pleasure and entertainment. Such a place is needed in every community, and the better equipped it is for serving the above ends, the larger patronage it will always draw. The Record hopes to see the Seven Wells property, at an early day, converted into the most attractive pleasure and fishing resort in West Texas. Nature has done all that can be expected of her down there and mere man should meet her half way.

The Record is in receipt this week of the Teague Enterprise, a new paper succeeding the Teague Herald. At its masthead is named the name of Alf. H. Tolar as editor and joint proprietor. The name of Tolar is closely identified with the early days of Colorado, when the town was wild, woolly, plethoric and proud—the days of its town's inflation and the zenith of its cattle boom; when anything without horns and solid hoofs was contemned; when a sand storm from the north was heralded as "another soaking rain" and a white frost was held to be a "veritable blanket of snow." Those were great days for Colorado and Mitchell county and verily, there were artists in every line of endeavor, but none ranked higher as an exponent of the "Faith" assets of this country in those days than Dr. Tolar, and his Courant. And yet, the superlative style of journalism of those inflated days, served a useful end; resulted in a settling and sifting process that left the development of the country to be hardiest and fittest who alone survived the collapse of the boom.

DR. TOLAR REMINISCES.

We take the following from the Teague Enterprise and doubtless the reminiscence will recall in varying lights to the old timers, the incident it relates: "The editor was very much pleased with a call from Col. Perry, proprietor of the Daily Telegram, published in Temple. His call called vividly to our memory the early days of Colorado City of the wild and woolly west of that time when this editor was publishing the Colorado Clipper in a dug out under a tent fly in advance of any buildings in that wonderful tent city. Col. Perry was quite a young man then engaged in business and was an eye witness of the Patterson Ranger war which culminated in the shooting to death of Capt. Patterson by a trio of rangers while trying to arrest Patterson for shooting up the town. Patterson was a cow man with many friends and it was only by the cool head of Captain Marsh of the rangers that war between cow boys and rangers was averted"

EXIT HUERTA.

On Feb. 19, 1913, Gen. Victoriano Huerta telegraphed to President Taft: "I have overthrown this Government. The army is with me and from now on peace and prosperity will reign." That brute assertion of military despotism it has taken seventeen months to set in its final true light. In the interval many changes have come. Huerta himself has changed, or appeared to. He displayed more political skill than he was credited with. Drawing to himself able lawyers, he conducted his diplomatic correspondence with dignity and force. He was successful in identifying himself for a time with Mexican National pride. In seeking to maintain himself he showed great resource and some admirable personal qualities. But in the end even his proud and fatalistic spirit saw that his power was but as a rope of sand. His armies had suffered a series of crushing defeats. In his own country the forces of rebellion were proving to be too strong for him. But the chief cause of his downfall was perfectly clear to his own mind. He avows it in his parting attack upon President Wilson. The soldier had been pitted against a scholar. Arms yielded to ideals.

This is really the deep significance of Wilson's triumph. He early laid down a Mexican policy based on sheer idealism—fantastic idealism. It was sneeringly called. Its essence was that he would not recognize a Mexican Government based on usurpation and murder. For this there is no warrant in international law, it was said, and there is not. Precedent was against it, so it was charged, and the charge was true. Nevertheless, the idealist clung to his position through good report and through ill. His appeals to Huerta were brusquely rejected by that chieftain. But the scholar President did not waver. Reporting to Congress Huerta's refusal, and the flat failure of the mission of John Lind, he calmly left the whole issue to time and the slow grinding of the mills of the gods, asserting that "the steady pressure of moral force" would break down the barriers of pride and prejudice, and that "we shall triumph as Mexico's friends sooner than we could as her enemies—and how much more handsomely, with how much higher and finer satisfactions of conscience and of honor!" This day is that saying fulfilled in the ears of his countrymen.

Nothing succeeds like success, even when it is an idealistic success. Pin-pricking attacks may still be made upon Wilson's Mexican policy, but they can produce little impression. The public sees the large fact, and will not long listen to men who say that it had no business to come about in that way. Only the other day, in the House, Republicans were indulging in partisan flings at the "failures" of Wilson in dealing with Mexico. They certainly did it just in time, for they can do it no more. The country will speedily admit, what the outside world has already admitted, that the Wilson Mexican policy, boldly conceived, steadily maintained and supported with patience and resourcefulness—the one great objective being always the retirement of Gen. Huerta—has marched to an astonishing success.—New York Evening Post.

The entire breed of politicians in the state are now busy explaining how it all happened and are "giving out" statements, interviews, etc. It suggests to our mind a cow "giving down" her milk.

One of the first provisions made for the pleasure and entertainment of the citizens of the new town of Colorado in 1881, was parks. There were three such public play grounds—one in the north part of town, a gift of Gov. Jos. Brown of Georgia—one in East Colorado, a private enterprise, and the court house park. The fact that the citizens of Colorado, thirty-two years afterward, have no such places of amusement and recreation, shows they have not appreciated the purpose of the founders of the town, nor taken advantage of the opportunities afforded. Under the regime of Capt. Delling the court house park was indeed a thing of pride with him and of pleasure to the public. The lawn was well kept, the trees carefully looked after, the fountain kept playing, the flowers blooming in season, the alligator regularly fed and on certain nights the citizens of the town were treated to a band concert in the park by the up-to-snuff band the citizens then supported. County officials in those days regarded themselves as custodians of the public buildings and premises, for the well keeping of which they were responsible to the people who owned them. And we omitted to say that the $2,000 clock, which was such a convenience and comfort to our citizenship, was kept wound, oiled and striking regularly. But look at the old rookery now—a joke and by-word in the mouths of visitors and neighbors.

It now appears certain that Jeff McLemore and Cyclone Davis have been elected congressmen-at-large from this state. Mr Davis has been on the losing side of so many public questions and changed so often that many people distrust his party fealty. But now that he has landed a well paying job his loyalty may prove of a more adhesive kind. At any rate the state may expect to hear the "Cyclone" blow in the lower house of congress.

Rah for the Fort Worth Record! The worm has turned and it. In refuting the claims of the Dallas News that it was first to serve the people with reliable election returns, the Record hands this variegated posey to the "Old Reliable." In the Dallas News of Monday morning there appeared a plain misstatement, calculated to show readers of that decadent sheet that it is still alive and hustling instead of asleep and gasping." Again the Record refers: "The difference between the Dallas News and the Fort Worth Star Telegram is that the latter paper is on its toes and hustling while the former is sleeping in the glory of a past period of a total monopoly of the Texas newspaper field within its own radius of limited circulation." Who would have thought it!

WESTBROOK AND CAR PRECINCT CONVENTIONS

Car, Texas, July 25, 1914.—The Car voting precinct met in convention at 4 o'clock p. m., and the following resolutions were adopted:

1. We wish to express our confidence in the administration of Woodrow Wilson as President of the United States. We endorse his tariff, currency and canal tolls legislation.

Also his peaceful policy towards Mexico, and we ask that our delegate to the county convention be instructed to vote for similar endorsements by the county convention, and to use his influence and vote to instruct the delegates from this county to state convention to support similar resolutions; and we further ask that our delegate be instructed to have a change made in the day of our democratic primaries, from Saturday to Tuesday, because of the fact that in holding the election on Saturday it becomes the case very often that they have to be held over on Sunday, and then the candidates that are in the race for the different offices are anxious to find out whether they are nominated or not, and it causes them to be away from church, where probably they would be, should the primaries be held on Tuesday.

Respectfully submitted F. P. MURPHEY, Chm. J. D. WESTFALL, Sec.

LOCAL BASE BALL SHORT HORNS WIN AGAIN

After Taking The Series of Three From Merkel They Try Their Luck With the Hermleigh Bunch.

The Record went to press last week before the last game was played with Merkel, but we predicted that Colorado would annex it to the other two, and we were eminently correct. The game was a joke. The score was 20 to 1 in favor of Colorado. "Strong Arm Bob" Cooper was in the box, and they could not hit his balls a little bit. Colorado walloped them all over the field, and no doubt could have made twice as many runs had they tried. In the sixth and seventh they played to get out instead of trying to get more runs. Two men stold home, one from first and one from second, expecting to go out at every bag, but made it in safe. At the end of the eighth the Merkel boys had enough, and as it looked like a rain storm was coming up, they decided to quit.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday a series of three games was played with Hermleigh.

Stewart and Wulfjen were Colorado's battery on Monday, and they held the job down to a queen's taste. "Lefty" did not seem to try to pitch but he put his slow one over time after time and retired them one, two, three, and held them out until Colorado had marked up six big ones on the score board, and then to encourage them and put a little pep in the game, they made three and afterwards scratched out three more, giving them six, while the Short Horns marked up nine. Wulfjen did himself proud as catcher, letting only a few wild ones by, and they caused no damage. The entire team was in good form and played a good game.

The feature of this game was Coopers home run off the first ball the Hermleigh twirler delivered.

On Tuesday Saunders was in the box for Colorado, and Wulfjen was again "back stop." Both did exceedingly well, considering that this was the second game that either had played this year.

It was soon demonstrated that Colorado had them bested again, as the score board showed goose eggs on the visitor's line, up to the fourth inning. The score for this game was 10 to 3 in favor of Colorado. No special features, except Colorado's batting which was above the average.

Wednesday the battery for Colorado was Cooper and Wulfjen. The Short Horns were too sure of the game on this day and let Hermleigh score four in the first inning. The first man up making a home run on a long hit and a wild throw from second to third. Cooper's balls were hit freely but the game would have been easily won if the first three innings had been played with the vim which was shown in the last part of the game. The score in this game was Hermleigh 8, Colorado 5. Thus Colorado again got the big end of the series, which now puts the average for the season one past the balancing notch. The standing is:

Table with columns: Opponent, Played, Won, Lost. Rows for Big Springs, Loraine, Baird, Weatherford, Cathbert, Anson, Abilene, Merkel, Hermleigh, Total.

Next week beginning Monday the crack team from Thurber will play a series of three games with the Short Horns on the local diamond. From what we have been able to learn of the Thurber team it is a good one and if Colorado wins the big end of this series she will have to play ball, but Manager Winn says he has at least two of these games, and is counting on taking all three of them. If the Colorado fans wants to see some good games don't miss those next week.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

On last Sunday Roy Farmer attained to his 23rd birthday anniversary, and in order to properly celebrate and commemorate the same, called in a choice few kindred spirits to lend a helping hand or two. The serious business of the day began when dinner was announced, and the havoc made among the toothsome things on the board showed he had selected his guests with judgment. After the assimilation of dinner the motor was hitched to mobile and a delightful joy ride filled the afternoon. For fear his guests were not so full as they pretended to be, Roy had them stay for supper, after which they departed, loud in their assurances that they had spent a red letter day in their young lives, at wishing their assiduous host many returns of the happy day. The personnel of guests was: Lester, Kirk and Harry Ratliff, Robert Whipkey and Alva Hickman; but the last named could not be present. What made it the more enjoyable to Roy was the fact that it was all a complete surprise to him. His sisters, Misses Maud and Fannie, had prepared the dinner and invited the guests as a surprise. It was a complete and a very pleasant one.

G. F. C.

Miss Mildred Coleman was hostess for the G. F. C. last week. Besides the regular members these attended: Misses Jessie Person, Mabel Smith, Jeanette Earnest, lone Burk, Humphrey, Louise and Mary Roe. Ice cream and cake were served.

BAPTIST TEA.

The tea given by Mrs. Robert Terrell last Friday afternoon in behalf of the Baptist Ladies Aid Society, was quite a success. The South breeze was delightfully refreshing at that hour, and auto after auto loaded with ladies arrived at this true hospitable, Southern home, knowing they would spend a pleasant hour. The guests were seated on the porch and soon made to feel at home by the hostess, and tongues fairly flew with innocent, interesting conversation. Mrs. Terrell, assisted by Miss Bernice Terrell and her son, Paul, and little daughter, Mary, served refreshments of sandwiches, pickle, cake and ice tea to a whole porch full at a time, with all ease and grace. Quite a nice offering was left by the ladies which goes on their pledge to the Woman's Training School at Fort Worth.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met in regular session Monday afternoon at the church, with Mrs. Merritt presiding. Ways of Giving was the subject discussed and many good things were brought out that did each one present good.

NIGHT PARTY.

Master Dick Carter gave his first night party Monday night. About a dozen pretty girls and as many more handsome boys accepted this young man's invitation and spent a very pleasant evening playing games. Orange ice and chocolate cake were served by this gallant young gentleman and his mother.

BUNCO.

Miss Lois Whipkey gave a Bunco party in favor of Miss Dimple Gross of Snyder, Saturday afternoon. The guests were the little girls who were playmates of Dimple while she lived here. A merry time was had by these very young ladies in this exciting new game, after which brick ice cream and cake were served.

YOUNG PEOPLE.

The Young Peoples' Missionary Society met with Miss Eril King Tuesday afternoon, with a good attendance. A chapter on Mexico of Today was studied and the regular business transacted. At the social hour delicious home made ice cream and cake were served.

SUNDAY SCHOOL VISITORS.

The Baraca and Fidels classes of the First Baptist church had as their guests last Sunday the Baraca class of the First church at Big Spring. The visitors were: Mrs. S. A. Penix, teacher; C. M. Crocker, A. Hall, S. E. Taylor, W. L. Huddleston, A. A. Marrion, Geo. Ellis, Walter Coffee, L. R. Carter, T. B. McConnell. The classes assembled at the usual hour on the lawn at the home of the pastor, where Mrs. Penix kindly heard the lesson. It was a fine one, and each one was delighted to have her with them. After the lesson was heard the visitors were escorted to the Methodist church and had the pleasure of hearing Rev. Mr. Clemens preach. The visitors were then taken back to the Baptist Sunday school rooms where a sumptuous repast was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morgan and Mrs. Campbell were in charge and succeeded in making every one have a good time. We were glad to have this fine class of young men and their teacher with us as it was a source of inspiration to all.

MRS. LINDSAY ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Harvey Lindsay, who has been spending the summer with her parents, Judge and Mrs. Looney, entertained at their home Tuesday afternoon. All her old friends and the new ones who had called on her, with 500, bridge and 42. There were eight tables of 42; four of 500 and four of bridge, besides a number who did not care for either of them, but enjoyed the social occasion and the hospitality of Mrs. Lindsay.

The house was tastefully decorated with ivy and sunflowers, which are so profuse in West Texas at this season and combine so perfectly with the green.

The gentlemen were guests of honor and quite a few enjoyed the honor. They were, Messrs C. M. Adams, J. C. Prude, G. B. Harness, Carl Phenix, Tom Stonerod, Charles Thomas, V. W. Allen, Judge Earnest and Judge Looney.

Miss Adamson of Sherman carried off the 42 prize for most games won, and Miss Mabel Earnest the lone hand prize. Miss Bird Adams won the 500 guest prize and Miss Lois Prude the club prize. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Adams both carried off honors in the bridge games.

All during the games orange glaze was served to the guests and at the close of the games home made ice cream and cake were served by Misses Lilly Allen, Lois Prude and Marguerite Looney.

Mrs. Lindsay leaves Tuesday for a short visit in Pecos and then will go to her home in Oakland, California.

BREECHES, NOT BRAINS GOVERN TEACHERS' PAY

Woman's Sex Decreases Salary Paid Her in All Lines of Endeavor.

"If a woman could successfully conceal her sex and apply for a position in men's clothing, she would find that in business and the professions she would be offered from 30 to 50 per cent more salary than if she had gone clad in her proper raiment. Indeed in many lines, she would be given work that, if she wore a skirt, she would not get at all, no matter how well qualified and capable she might be. Instances frequently occur in which women detected masquerading in men's wear give as their excuse that they found it so much easier to get work as men, just as easy to do it, and the pay was better.

In the teaching profession, particularly, breeches, not brains, have governed the scale of salaries paid. At least in no other profession is there less justice for drawing arbitrary distinctions in the salaries paid to men and women, since absolutely the same standards prevail. The same education is received at the same cost, and identically the same examinations and certificates of fitness are required of candidates of both sexes.

There are five reasons usually advanced for the inequality of men's and women's wages:

First, that the supply of women workers exceeds the demand.

Second, the backwardness of the organization of women's labor.

Third, that marriage and the expectation of marriage affect unfavorably the value of women's work.

Fourth, that men are stronger than women.

Fifth, that men have families to support.

Let us see to what extent these reasons apply to the teaching profession.

The logic of supply and demand undoubtedly holds good in every avocation in life, just as it does in the markets of trade. Wherever the elements of fitness and skill have entered, wages have advanced, except in the teaching profession, which has lagged behind, no doubt due in part to lack of organization. The wonderful progress in sciences and inventions and the alluring emoluments offered in these departments have diverted to them a large number of the class of men who used to go in for teaching. This has served to keep down the supply of men teachers. Women do not as freely enter the other professions, owing to popular prejudice and sex disqualifications. Still many inventions, notably the telephone and the typewriter, have claimed many of the class who formerly swelled the army of women teachers, and other vocations requiring less preparation have served to keep down the supply.

The raising of the requirements for teachers has done more than anything else to thin out the ranks, but the wages have not been increased in ratio to the cost and time now demanded to secure pedagogical training. In an address delivered at Austin, the other day, Dr. Foght of the United States Bureau of Education recalled the time following the Civil War when all the qualification required of men teachers in some parts of the North was possession of discharge papers from the Union army. Nothing can be argued against the preparedness of women teachers after that. After the war, a great many women were suddenly called upon to make a living. They were both unfitted and shut out from other vocations, and hence they instinctively turned to teaching as the one respectable calling open to them. If their qualifications were chiefly based on gentility and sufficient command of sympathy and influence to get a school, they certainly made as good a showing as the men in the instance cited by Dr. Foght. Considering the fact that until long after that time women generally were denied entrance to our institutions of higher learning and had limited opportunity of acquiring pedagogical training, our women teachers have given a very good account of themselves.

According to educational statistics, our higher educational institutions issued in 1912 the degree of bachelor of arts to 7,445 men and 6,599 women. Probably a very large proportion of these young women will engage in teaching, but the young men will scatter out into all sorts of professions and businesses. In all the State normal schools where teachers are trained, there were 18,080 men students and 66,115 women students, the men numbering a little more than 20 per cent of the whole. Now, the percentage of men teachers in the United States, according to the census of 1913, was 29.7 hence the ratio between the sexes among trained pedagogues continues about the same. So far as figures prove anything, it could be argued from these that the burden of over-supply was due to school trustees hiring cheap teachers, because they were cheap, in preference to paying fair wages for high-class professional services.

Another thing that would tend to prove that discrimination is due to the apathy of a Nation that is spending annually five times as much for whiskey as it does for education is the fact that wherever the salary of the woman teacher is pushed so low it can't be reduced any further, the salary of men teachers is the most niggardly. In the South Atlantic States, the average pay of women teachers drops to the lowest point, $42, and though men comprise 24 per cent of the teachers, they only average $60 per month. In the West, the percentage of men teachers is only 13 per cent and they average $102, and women also attain the highest average salary, $71. Hence it would seem that financially the man's and the woman's cause are identical.

There always will be more women teachers than men, just as there always will be more men than women in theology, medicine, law, politics, architecture, engineering and other scientific and business pursuits. For children up to 12 or 13 years, of both sexes, women are naturally the best teachers, because the maternal instinct makes them more patient and sympathetic with the young, more tactful and considerate. In the entire country more than 92 per cent of all school children are below the high school, and more than 68 per cent below the fifth grade. As less than 8 per cent of all pupils enter the high school, it follows that there must be a proportionately great demand for the services of women teachers. Assuredly it is of vast importance that the very highest talent should be employed in the primary and intermediate grades, since there is where the bulk of our citizens are schooled. Equal pay will secure this talent without in the least detracting from the services and pay of men principals and high school teachers.

New York offers an argument for the assertion that lack of organization among women teachers is in some measure responsible for unequal pay. Women teachers are efficiently organized in that State, and in 1911 succeeded in getting a bill passed in the legislature correcting that injustice. Men and women teachers in the same grade now draw the same salaries. This is the only state that has enacted such a law, though school boards in a number of progressive cities have instituted an equal wage scale. In a few cities, where there are strong teachers' organizations, notably Chicago and Cleveland, women have been given the very highest school positions with no loss of salary. In the equal suffrage states, where organization flourishes among women, there are nearly 500 women county and city school superintendents to a scattering few elsewhere the country over. These offices pay the women incumbents the same as men are paid.

Marriage may in some instances affect the value of women's work. There may be those among teachers who are simply killing time till a man comes along. They will not, however, outnumber in the long run the men teachers who are killing time till the right job comes along. It is common knowledge that young men make teaching a stepping stone to study for the other professions. It is regarded as a particularly useful side issue for the young man whose ultimate goal is law, medicine, theology, etc., and who must provide himself with the means for special training. Teaching is related psychologically to those other professions. He is really not losing time; the experience and added dignity of years count much in his future life-work. Read the biographies of successful professional and public men and see how many of them taught a few terms in their callow years. But these men who are doing time in the schoolroom, and who regard the work as a necessary evil while looking forward to something else, are paid the regular scale of wages for men teachers. Consequently it is unjust to undervalue woman's services because she may not teach always. Besides, as a potential mother, her teaching experiences makes for the upbuilding of society. Again, marrying tends to preserve the balance between supply and demand, and adds to the vitality of the schools by providing openings for fresh young enthusiasms and the latest ideals in training. The cause of education would be served if a bonus were provided to marry off some teachers.

Health is one of the most imperative requisites in teaching, but it long since went out of style to maintain discipline and impart instruction by brute force. Physical strength alone will not do for even policemen, any more. The strength of our teachers, like the strength of our Supreme Judges, lies in their wisdom. The study of psychology and its application to the science and art of pedagogy, the careful study of children themselves as well as of the subjects taught them, have eliminated the question of superior strength.

To pay a man teacher more because he has a family to support is absurd. Does one pay the married huckster more for his vegetables? Carried to its logical conclusion, if a man teacher has a family of six he is entitled to higher compensation than a man who has a family of three. Those who use this flimsy argument against equal pay for women teachers forget that thousands of them have families to support—invalid parents, widowed mothers, younger brothers and sisters. No, there is nothing in all these reasons able to convince the unbiased that women should not be paid as much as men are if they do as valuable work in the schools as men do. Fitness alone should be the test.

The National Educational Association did well when it placed itself on record for equal pay for equal work, and for woman's suffrage. Women are moving intelligently for their rights, and their cause is man's. For when they win, the day won't be far distant when compensation for work will be based on what the work is worth, and not on what some cheap competitor will take for doing it indifferently. The question whether this work was performed by a man or a woman will be a factor, and the children and the Nation will be the beneficiaries of a system wherein merit alone counts.

FEWER DEATHS FROM HEAT PROSTRATIONS

Notwithstanding the fact that the heat has been unusually oppressive throughout the country this summer, comparatively few deaths from prostration have been reported. There can be no doubt but what this encouraging fact is due to the increasing use of the electric fan, particularly the portable buzz fan, which is fast becoming as essential to the comforts of the home, and the office, as ceiling fans have been for many years to business houses. Among the long list of modern conveniences it would be difficult to find one that gives so much comfort and luxury for such a nominal expense as does this little breeze maker. Men are fast realizing that the busy housewife stands in as much need of pleasant working conditions as do other people. If she has a few pieces of delicate fabric she would iron herself, is it enough that she is provided with an electric iron? Why not add the fan whose cooling breezes prevent the otherwise inevitable perspiration, weakening to the vitality and damaging to fabrics? Or when she faint would take a much needed siesta, how much more she would enjoy it and be benefited by it with a gentle oscillating zephyr playing over her recumbent form?

The Westbrook-Broome Electric Company make a specialty of all of the electric devices and appliances, and have a complete assortment of these fans at prices so moderate as to be in the reach of every one. Why hesitate? She deserves it.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A gin is to be erected at Claytonville by the Roby Farmers' Union. This organization recently purchased the Roby gin. The co-operative system is to be observed. Within a short time, it is probable that the branch house of a Des Moines Iowa, farm implement manufacturing concern will be located at Temple. Construction of a large dam across the North Concho river near Carlisbad has been started. Its purpose is to store water for the Texas Tuberculosis Sanitarium. More than 5,000 people were fed at a barbecue given at Christoval a few days ago. Twenty steers and as many goats were slaughtered. The Bell county court house which has been remodeled and practically rebuilt at a cost of $75,000 is nearing completion. It is reported that J. D. Sugg is having plans prepared for a new hotel at San Angelo. Houston, Texas.—In an effort to stimulate interest in the present pressing needs of the public schools, particularly in the rural schools, October 16 has been designated as "School House Day" and October 24 as "Education Day" by the Conference for Education in Texas. On the first day, citizens are asked to gather at their local school house to consider means of improvement, while on the latter date, delegates elected at the first meeting are asked to meet at the county seat to take steps looking toward improvement of conditions. The Frazier Granite Company of Llano have decided to establish a granite plant at San Marcos. The company will ship the rough product there from Llano quarries for polishing and cutting. The Santa Fe shops at Colburne are making ready and repairing every available car in the service in order that no hitch will be experienced in the handling of this year's crop. That is what you can do if you take Dodson's Liver Tone. Many people know the danger of calomel, yet they take it because they know of nothing better. Other people are not afraid of calomel because they do not understand what a dangerous drug it is. Because it has never hurt them, they believe it never will. No one needs to take dangerous calomel (which is just another form of mercury). Floyd Beall sells Dodson's Liver Tone for fifty cents a bottle and guarantees that it takes the place of calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting vegetable remedy that livens up the liver without causing any restriction of habit or diet. It has none of the many bad effects of calomel and is safe for children as well as grown-ups. You don't run a single risk when you try Dodson's Liver Tone, because if you aren't entirely satisfied all you need to do is go right back to where you bought it and have your money cheerfully refunded to you with a smile. Isn't that fair?

WASHINGTON'S HOPE.

The administration is convinced that with the elimination of Huerta the factions in Mexico will be drawn together quickly. To aid in this and assure restoration of normal conditions without further bloodshed, officials here are exerting themselves to smooth the way for a new and stable administration, which shall be recognized by the Powers. Not only is the American government counselling Gen. Carranza to arrange with Francisco Carbajal, Huerta's successor, for the peaceful transfer of the government at the City of Mexico to the Constitutionalists, but the administration is indirectly in communication with Emiliano Zapata, leader of the revolution in Southern Mexico. Zapata has 24,000 men, and though most of them are poorly equipped they would constitute a serious menace to a new government, if they remained in revolution. Zapata, who demands agrarian reforms, made common cause with the Constitutionalists and obtained supplies from them with which to fight the Huerta government. It is not yet known, however, whether he will lay down his arms in favor of Carranza. The United States is using its influence through friends of Zapata to bring him into harmony with the peace program, and an emissary from Gen. Carranza is now on his way to confer with Zapata. These activities on the part of the American government result from a desire that when the Constitutionalists are installed in the City of Mexico and comply with the conditions prerequisite to formal recognition, there shall be an end to revolution in Mexico with its ever-threatening international aspects.

JAPS GETTING GOOD FOOTHOLD.

Some 550 Acres of Land Are Being Tilled—Every Day is Too Short For Them. Dallas, Texas, July.—Japanese land legislation is not a bothersome question today, but the possibilities of Japanese farm colonies in Texas are shown by one such colony at Irving, ten miles northwest of Dallas, where the thrifty, hard-working Japs are reaping a golden harvest from the fertile soil. About fifty Japs are engaged in working 550 acres, of which only 176 acres are owned outright and the remainder rented. They work from the earliest dawn until the sun goes down. Every day is too short for them and the years haven't enough days. They work all the time, winter and summer, rain or shine. Consequently they obtain astonishing results. Kinta Tsukahara, the Jap who owns the 176 acre tract, says that in the year 1912 he cultivated fifty acres of truck crops from which he realized at wholesale prices on the Dallas market $6,710, or $134 per acre. From eight acres of sweet potatoes he said he received $2,500 or $312 per acre. From one-six acre tract of corn he received $65 per acre, and then followed with late cotton to the tune of $75 per acre. He did even better in 1913. "I am sure I always received on the average of $500 per acre from okra," said the Jap, "and $200 per acre on cantaloupes."

LOST.—A BOY.

Not kidnapped by bandits and hidden in a cave to weep and starve and rouse a nation to frenzied searching. Were that the case one hundred thousand men would rise to the rescue if need be. Unfortunately the losing of the lad is without any dramatic excitement, though very sad and very real. The fact is that his father lost him. Being too busy to sit with him at the fireside and answer trivial questions during the years when fathers are the great and only heroes of boys, he let go his hold upon him. Yes, his mother lost him. Being much engrossed in teas, dinners and club programs she let the maid hear the boy say his prayers and thus her grip slipped and the boy lost to his home. Aye, his church lost him. Being so much occupied with sermons for the wise and elderly people who pay the bills, and having good care for dignity the minister and elder unmindful of the boy in the pew made no provisions in sermon or song or manly sport; and so many sad hearted parents are looking earnestly for their lost boy.—Author Unknown.

SURPRISING CURE OF STOMACH TROUBLE

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. Geo. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them. I have taken nearly three-fourths of a package of them and can now eat almost everything that I want." For Sale by W. L. Doss.

Studebaker THERE is no other motor car organization in the world that is so wonderfully efficient a unit as the Studebaker organization. A corps of experienced engineers are in charge, both of design and of production. These men know how a car should be designed and how it should be built, for they are practical manufacturers, as well as expert designers. As a result both the Studebaker FOUR and the Studebaker SIX are not only beautiful in design, but they are practical in every detail—and they are as staunch and strong as the best steels, scientifically heat-treated, can make them. Because Studebaker cars are made in their entirety by Studebaker; because they are made in huge quantities, and efficiently, they are made economically—which permits Studebaker to market them at prices far below what any other maker would have to get for equal quality. RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and rebuild your strength. Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

A small residence in East Colorado belonging to W. S. Stoneham and occupied by Mr. Duncan and family, was consumed by fire last Thursday night about 8:30 o'clock. LOCAL NOTES

A CARD OF THANKS.

To the Citizens of Mitchell County.
 Friends:—I employ this method of thanking you for the worthy support that you gave me in Saturday's primary. Words cannot express the gratitude that I have for the good people of Mitchell County.

My friends have stood by me with as great amount of loyalty as is possible for man to show, and I feel that I will never be able to repay you in any great measure for your co-operation and splendid support; which has won for me the last two campaigns for tax assessor of this county.

To those who opposed me, and some who did everything in their power to defeat me; I do not consider you enemies, but friends. You have only used the right that is accorded to every man, and one that I expect to always use. I can truthfully say you have made your fight on a clean plane open and above board, and I believe my friends and I have been as good to you.

The two campaigns through which I have passed have been a pleasure to me, and I feel fortunate that I have had men against me who have been clean in every respect. I assure you that I have tried to be myself, and if the day should ever come when I must stoop to dirty, and slanderous politics I will step down and out.

Again thanking you for your loyal support, and assuring you that I will be more than glad at all times to serve you, I beg to remain,
 EARL CALLAWAY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I met the foe, fought a good fight, and "am his'n." The general impression is that I would have won the fight if I had received votes enough. I extend my heart-felt thanks to the friends who stood by me so loyally and I thank those who were against me for not hitting me harder.
 J. W. (Jim) SMITH.

CARD OF THANKS.

I adopt this method of publicly thanking the voters of Mitchell county for the splendid support accorded me in last Saturday's primary election. I greatly appreciate their vote of confidence and shall ever strive to deserve it. Nor have I the least ill feeling against those who saw fit to oppose me. It was their right to do so in the exercise of their judgment; and my earnest desire is that when I shall have assumed the duties of the office of County Judge next November, to have the support and co-operation of every citizen of this county.
 J. H. BULLCK.

TO ALL THE PEOPLE OF MITCHELL COUNTY.

I want to thank you for the many courtesies that you have shown me in the late campaign; also for the nice vote that you gave me, although I did not receive enough to elect me. I assure you that I certainly do appreciate with the deepest gratitude the support that I did get. To my friends that helped me you have my heartfelt thanks. I want to say that I have the kindest feeling toward all. I am your friend and I want every man, woman and child in Mitchell county to be my friend. Thanking you again, I am
 Yours respectfully,
 J. W. KAY.

CARD OF THANKS.

In behalf of Judge W. R. Smith, I desire to thank the people of Colorado for the uniform courtesy and assistance so cheerfully accorded me during my stay among them. Kinder or better people I have never met anywhere. And particularly do I wish to express appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered during the active campaign by the Whipkey Printing Company in handling the printing of the literature of the campaign. They were prompt, efficient and accurate in all the work they did, thus obviating delay and disappointment, which are often deciding factors in a heated and strenuous political campaign. Judge Smith duly appreciates the loyalty of his home town, while his re-election to congress will enable him to serve them better than ever before.

The Colorado Record also, was no small influence in deciding the issues of the campaign, and both Judge Smith and myself wish to express appreciation of its services.
 S. J. ISAACKS,
 Campaign Manager.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to publicly express my gratitude to the people of Mitchell county for the honor they have conferred in selecting me to serve them in the capacity of Sheriff and Tax Collector the next two years, and to thank the "Old Guard" of my friends who have stood by me in defeat and victory the past several years. Less loyal friends would have despaired.

I fully realize the responsibility of the office and that it is now up to me to make good in the same. I shall give the duties of the office my closest attention and best efforts. I shall try at all times and in everything to be instant and faithful in service to the people of this county, striving to make the record of my office the clearest expression of my gratitude and appreciation.
 ANDREW COOKSEY

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Genuine Merit Required to Win the People's Confidence.

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale.

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp Root by parcels post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Colorado Record.

The protracted meeting conducted by Rev. Shultz of McKinney at the tabernacle the preceding two weeks, closed last Thursday night. The local church was much strengthened by the meeting and highly pleased with the preacher, so much so, that if acceptable arrangements can be effected he will be called for half his time to the pastorate of this church, to begin next January. The Record hopes such arrangements may be made and that this congregation will in a few months have a shepherd. It will add one more unit to the moral forces of this community.

BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Mr. J. H. Huston observed the occasion of his 77th birthday last Friday afternoon, and celebrated the same with a six o'clock dinner and the presence of a few personal friends. The Record wishes for him many more anniversaries with contentment and good health. The guests of the occasion were S. D. Vaughan, J. L. Doss, J. S. Vaughan, Dr. N. J. Pheelix, Dr. B. F. Dulaney, Samuel Gustine, C. M. Adams, J. A. Buchanan and J. C. Prude.

T. J. Stevens, staff correspondent for the Industrial Record at Dallas, was a visitor here Wednesday. He called upon Mayor C. M. Adams, County Judge A. J. Coe, City Clerk L. A. Costin, cashiers of the banks and many other citizens, including the editors of the Record.

The Industrial Record is a trade paper which has been in existence 19 years. County Commissioners, Aldermanic Boards, Corporations and private individuals are invited to use its advertising columns free of cost when they are in need of any kind of materials or machinery used in furthering the industrial development of Texas.

In addition to this liberal offer, staff correspondents gather data as they travel and when they find anything worth special mention they write their own impressions of it. Mr. Stevens will give an outline in an early issue of the Industrial Record of the industrial and agricultural conditions in Central West Texas.

DR. C. B. WILLIAMS.

Dr. Williams is a native of North Carolina. As a young "tar heel" he was graduated from grand old Wake Forest College which is one of the oldest and best of Baptist colleges in the South.

Dr. Williams secured Theological degrees from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, which is the largest Theological Seminary in the world.

After following post-graduate courses in the University of Chicago, he secured his degree of Doctor of Philosophy. This is the highest degree of merit which can be secured by a scholar.

Dr. Williams is a popular and beloved Professor at Fort Worth, an able Lecturer at Institutes, a ready writer of books and an Evangelist of Holy Spirit power over the State of Texas. You will be charmed and edified by his preaching.

Dr. Williams will do the preaching in a Baptist meeting at the tabernacle next week. Come and hear him. The meeting will begin Sunday morning, but Dr. Williams will probably not arrive until Monday or Tuesday.

THE OVERLAND WINS ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS

With a crowd of 25,000 spectators lining the course, an Overland car won the Fourth of July 150 mile free-for-all road race at Visalia, California. The Overland defeated a field of fifteen cars, the majority of which were built especially for racing, entered for the cash prize of $1000 offered to the winner.

ster, of the current model, won the Class C event in the annual hill climbing at Richfield Springs, New York.
 The Visalia road race is one of the automobile classics of the year in California. The course is three and one-eighth miles long with four square corners, making fast time difficult. The winning car, driven by Tom McKelvey, a western driver of note, averaged a little more than fifty-four miles an hour for the entire race. But a single stop was made and that for the purpose of taking oil.

The Overland's nearest competitor, a car built by a company which specializes in racing vehicles, crossed two minutes behind the winner. During the fourth lap McKelvey passed the leading car, selling for four times the retail price of the Overland, and the one which was considered the most dangerous contender. From that time the Overland was never headed.

The victory is the most recent achievement of the Cobb-Evans Auto Company, Overland distributors in Fresno. Earlier in this year, a car entered by the same concern won from a large field in the annual 100 mile race on the Fresno oval. The victory was followed by a number of successful speed trials in which the competition for honors was keen.

In spite of the fact that the Willys-Overland Company has never built a racing car and in no way encourages the sport, the Cobb-Evans Company repeatedly has won speed events on the Pacific Coast. For racing purposes a stock Overland car is used with a special body attached to the touring car chassis.

RATLIFF BOYS ENTERTAIN.

Last Friday evening Masters Lister and Kirk Ratliff entertained in their home, a number of their boy and girl friends in honor of Maurice Coughran. A very pleasant evening was spent with games and music, and all are loud in their praises of these young gentlemen as hosts. Ice cream and cake were served.

HOUSE PARTY.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stoner and Miss Nell Ruth Arnett had a house party of the Arnett family who are here and a few special friends out at Rendenbrook.

The time was spent in reading, fishing, bathing and eating. They report fish for every meal except Friday—that was an unlucky day—and a good time generally.
