

A Happy Home

(Read What Peruna Did)
Mrs. James F. Summitt, No. 1005 East Eighth St., Muscatine, Iowa, writes:
"My health was so miserable for years that I was practically an invalid. We had no family, owing to my illness. I was induced to give Peruna a trial and found very quickly that it was helping me."

I am now well and happy. We have a baby boy which we believe is the direct consequence of my improved health. He is our first and only child. He is our first and only child.

"I am now well and happy. We have a baby boy, which we believe is the direct consequence of my improved health. He is our first and only child, and if Peruna had not cured me of my ailments we should never have had him. I hope every suffering woman will give Peruna a trial, the same as I have."
Those who object to liquid medicine can now procure Peruna Tablets.

HALLOWE'EN.

Hark! Listen. There's something brewing. The Methodist Circle says something's doing; Mystery's everywhere, here and there. Hallowe'en frolics are in the air.

The spooks and ghosts will carnival hold. The witches your future life will unfold. The ogres will grin and the black cats howl. All manner of goblins around you will prow!

There's progression in this wonderful plan. Round trip tickets are right on hand. To Mrs. Jim Shepperd's you'll go first. And you'll laugh and laugh till you nearly burst.

Mrs. M. K. Jackson is next in line. Still more fun but a different kind. Mrs. Buchanan's is third on the list. Keep your eyes open you may be kissed.

Last, the Wulfjen's over the way. Here you may linger, here you may stay. Till the clock strikes twelve and breaks the spell. All vanish away, ghosts, witches and elves.

Come one, come all, we'll give you a treat. At every house there'll be good things to eat. The price is small—just twenty-five cents. Don't grudge this amount for the Church 'twill be spent. FUN BEGINS AT 8:00 P. M.

AMERICA MAY SELL WAR STUFF.

Citizens May Trade in Any Article of United States Produce but May Not Equip Ship or Start Expedition to Enter Into Active Hostilities.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Commercial transactions between the belligerent governments of Europe and private citizens of the United States in no way affect the neutrality of this country, even if arms and ammunition are involved, according to a statement issued today by Robert Lansing, active secretary of state. Mr. Lansing says he was prompted to make the statement by numerous inquiries indicating a widespread impression that American business men cannot sell war supplies to the belligerents without committing an unneutral act.

"In the first place," the statement says "it should be understood that, generally speaking, a citizen of the United States can sell to a belligerent government or its agent any article of commerce which he pleases. It makes no difference whether the articles sold are exclusively for war purposes, such as firearms, explosives, etc., or are foodstuffs, clothing, horses, etc. for the use of the army or navy of the belligerent."

"Furthermore, a neutral government is not compelled by international law, by treaty or by statute to prevent those sales to a belligerent. Such sales, therefore, by American citizens do not affect the neutrality of the United States."

"It is true, such articles as those mentioned are considered contraband and are, outside the territory jurisdiction of a neutral nation, subject to seizure by an enemy of the purchaser; but it is the enemy's duty, not the duty of the nation whose citizens have sold them. If the enemy of the purchasing nation happens to be unable to do this, that is for him one of the misfortunes of war; the inability, however, imposes on the neutral government no obligation to prevent the sale.

"Neither the resident nor any executive department of the government possesses the legal authority to interfere in any way in trade between people of this country and the territory of a belligerent, although in the case of neighboring American republics congress has given the President power to proclaim an embargo on arms and ammunition when, in his judgment, it would tend to prevent civil strife.

"For the government of the United States itself to sell to a belligerent nation would be an unneutral act; but for a private individual to sell to a belligerent any produce of the United States is neither unlawful nor unneutral, nor within the power of the executive to prevent or control.

"The foregoing remarks, however, do not apply to the outfitting or furnishing of vessels in American ports, or of military expeditions on American soil in aid of a belligerent. These acts are prohibited by the neutrality laws of the United States."

The Reserve Board will have direct supervision of the fund, but all the details were not made public tonight.

What Would You Do.

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by All Dealers.

PRESIDENT WILSON TAKES AN OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF CONDITIONS TODAY.

Plans for Loaning Planters Money and Opening Foreign Markets Soon to Be Ready, According to Chief Executive.

Washington, Oct. 26.—President Wilson gave out a statement here today in which he declared that the cotton situation was clearing rapidly especially as to plans for loaning planters money and opening up foreign markets.

He predicted that all ports will soon be open to cotton and that commerce in this line will soon be carried on extensively.

NEW WAREHOUSE LAW.

Plans for Putting This into Effect Will Be Completed in a Short Time Now.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 27.—Plans for putting into operation of the new warehouse law, now in effect, will be completed within a short time, according to Insurance and Banking Commissioner Collier. Under the new law the permanent warehouse commission will be composed of the governor and the Commissioners of Insurance and Banking and Agriculture, and promises to be the largest governmental department in Texas. Under the act 7,000 cotton ginneries in the state are to be licensed by the warehouse commission. Before the act can be made operative, however, to apply to the present cotton season, it is likely that it will be too late to be stated here.

Be sure you get your laugh at the Hallowe'en affair.

DECIDED IMPROVEMENT IN COTTON SITUATION.

Evidences of Returning Confidence Seen in Several Directions.

Improvement of a decided character was evident in the cotton situation yesterday and evidences of returning confidence and activity were numerous. Following the announcement of Great Britain that cotton would not be considered contraband of war was the statement that the German Government and bankers acting for it had entered the market and that large purchases had already been made.

The decision to start the new reserve banking system in the middle of November and the belief that the cotton problem is in process of a satisfactory solution were also potent influences. Foreign exchange showed a sensational decline, the quotations being lower than at any time since a week before the outbreak of the war. Another factor is the development of inquiries by northern and eastern capitalists as to making investments in cotton for the purpose of holding for the advance which they evidently believe is sure to come. These inquiries related to prices, warehousing facilities, insurance rates and other details necessary to investors. In the New York Cotton Exchange there was evidence of a growing sentiment for an early opening. Locally the market advanced 1-16c and buying orders are reported to be increasing with heavy purchases.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Gardui, the woman's tonic. She says: "Before I began to use Gardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Gardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give

A NATIONAL QUESTION.

The Price of Cotton a Matter of General Concern.

Theo. H. Price, one of the authorities on cotton, has recently given some startling figures showing that the price of cotton is a national question, and that a sacrifice of this staple will be a national calamity, affecting this whole nation.

The twelve so-called cotton States now produce about fifteen million bales annually, which with the by-products, are worth about one billion dollars. About 40 per cent of this production is consumed in the United States and the remainder has hitherto been exported. Unlike corn and wheat and other crops, none of this product is consumed by the raiser, but is sold to those who will use it in manufacturing.

Cotton becomes, therefore, an enormous medium of exchange, a legal tender. It takes the place of gold as an exchange between this nation and the nations of Europe in the settlement of American indebtedness and this has resulted in securing many hundred million dollars balance in favor of this country each year.

In other words, an account of the immense export of cotton, this staple has taken the place of gold in keeping the trade balance and now that the war has stopped the shipment of cotton the country has been forced to close its stock exchange in order that we will not be embarrassed by having to send gold to Europe to take the place of cotton that cannot be exported to offset the balance of credit.

It is plain therefore that the price of cotton is a national question. If we cannot settle our foreign balances with cotton, they must be settled with gold, which will drain our country of this metal.—Exchange.

THE FOOL HUNTER'S PRAYER.

There are the golden autumn days; the rich, full, six-cylinder, 40 horse power October days. These are the days when every man with red blood in his veins yearns to get out into the glorious woods and shoot a hunter as a guide. Let the indolent seditary loll in his office chair. Let the devotee of indoor sports push the balls around the pool table, but as for us, give us a gun and a beltfull of buckshot shells and turn us loose. Turn us loose where the underbrush is good and thick and let us pepper the feeble hunter in his hunting pants. Or, if the fates be so kind, let us shoot a guide on the wing, or on the left clavicle, or even on the run. What cares a good sportsman where he shoots a guide as long as he shoots him? He cares naught. He little reckons. So hail, mighty Nimrod! Hail Djana, hail! Also snow. And if the fates and the gods and goddesses of the hunt, prove unkind, then lead us to the cheerful and romantic rail fence and inspire us to climb over and drag our gun after us. And then, Oh spirit of the chase! sic the coroner on us quickly, that we may not remain too long and thus muss up the thrice glorious golden October landscape.

COLORADO DRUGGIST HAS VALUABLE AGENCY

W. L. Doss has the Colorado agency for the simple mixture of buckthorn bark and glycerine, etc., known as Adler-ka, the remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. This simple remedy has powerful action and drains such surprising amounts of old matter from the body that just one dose relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost immediately. The quick action of Adler-ka is astonishing.

THE BEDBUG SPREADS TUBERCULOSIS.

According to Dr. J. Walling Beveridge, of New York. The evidence is accumulating that it is an insect as dangerous to human life as the fly or Dum-Dum mosquito. It has been known for some time that it is responsible for the spread of fever, and recently it has been charged with the causation of leprosy and epidemic spinal meningitis. That it may also serve as a carrier for tuberculosis seems extremely likely. The fact that the bedbug may live for six months or more without food makes it especially hard to get rid of, and naturally increases the danger to a considerable extent.—Exchange.

UGH! CALOMEL MAKES YOU DEATHLY SICK.

Stop using Dangerous Drug Before It Salivates You! It's Horrible.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.

CAN'T DOWN A GOOD MAN.

From the Corpus Christi Democrat of recent date, we copy the following notice of the organization of the Intercoastal Transportation Company, chiefly interesting to Record readers because one of the incorporators was formerly a citizen of Colorado—Mr. John R. Sims. Again is the truth of the adage verified—"you can't keep a good man down." Put John on a barren rock in mid sea and he'd soon stir up something in the line of business. The Record congratulates John upon his progress in his new home and predicts for his unusual business ability increasing success. But read the Democrat's notice:

"The Intercoastal Transportation Co. was organized in Corpus yesterday, the purpose being to engage in the business of water transportation between Corpus Christi and other points and they expect to begin business in about 30 days.

The capital stock is $20,000 owned mostly by home people. The charter was forwarded to Austin for official approval through their attorneys, G. R. Scott, Boone & Pope. Thos. Bell, J. R. Sims and W. W. Bynum are the incorporators, together with others who are non-residents."

WHY NOT MOVE NOW!

Hundreds of Belgian refugees are arriving at the port of New York on every incoming steamer from French, English and Dutch ports, most of whom are Belgian farmers of the best class.

And this is but the forerunning of the avalanche of European immigration that will fall upon this country when the arbitrament of the sword has been finally made and the millions of disbanded soldiers return to their desolated homes and ruined fields.

The idle lands of Texas are crying for half a million and more of just such people—people, who amid the most restricted environment and under most rigorous climatic conditions have become famed for their success in agriculture.

GRAIN EXPORTS HEAVY.

The war growth of grain exports was as marked. Barley sales jumped from 251,454 bushels in September 1913 to 2,781,286 last month; oats from 318,928 to 10,780,165; wheat from 11,971,163 to 25,869,190, while rice exports increased from 1,486,995 pounds to 10,443,817.

STOP THE SACRIFICE OF COTTON.

A few weeks ago the world took readily all the cotton that was offered at $10.00 per bale above present prices. As the season advanced, the rush of farmers to sacrifice their cotton has brought about this decline.

We saw an instance yesterday where a cotton buyer wired his correspondent in Central Texas for 100 bales of strict middling, if at 6.1c. In response he had 300 bales of strict middling thrown at him at this price.

Co-operation of this kind will very quickly advance cotton again at least 1c or 2c per lb. On the other hand, the volume of the crop now coming in with the present policy of the market will continue to depress the market, which is already several cents below the cost of production.

STOP THE SACRIFICE OF COTTON.

A few weeks ago the world took readily all the cotton that was offered at $10.00 per bale above present prices. As the season advanced, the rush of farmers to sacrifice their cotton has brought about this decline. The farmer only is the one to be blamed, and he must stop selling his cotton.

We saw an instance yesterday where a cotton buyer wired his correspondent in Central Texas for 100 bales of strict middling, if at 6.1c. In response he had 300 bales of strict middling thrown at him at this price.

The farmer need not sell a bale of distress cotton today. If he owes his Merchant, this merchant can take his cotton and give him credit on account or advance him the necessary supplies and can again turn this cotton over to the jobber or the banker whom he may owe. If the farmer needs cash, he can go to his bank and get a reasonable advance. In either case the cotton will be held.

Co-operation of this kind will very quickly advance cotton again at least 1c or 2c per lb. On the other hand, the volume of the crop now coming in with the present policy of the market will continue to depress the market, which is already several cents below the cost of production. Hold your cotton for the next few weeks and give the St. Louis scheme a chance to materialize during these few weeks and the battle is won. Continued selling of cotton spells ruin to the South. Copies of this appeal will be sent to all commercial bodies throughout the cotton belt inviting their co-operation. Galveston Commercial Association. By Morris Stern, President.

THE BOY WHO CAN DREAM.

It is a good thing for the farmer boy to have an imagination. It is a good thing for him to "dream dreams and see visions." It takes a dreamer to see the transformation that intelligent effort will bring to pass on the old place. It takes a dreamer to see how much more desirable that place will be in ten years than a job in a dry goods store. It is the boy who dreams who sees a field of thrifty alfalfa where that stunted yellow corn is growing on the timber forty. It is the boy who dreams who sees those hungry looking cows with burrs in their tails replaced by a herd of dairy matrons that tax the capacity of the milk cans at every milking. It is the boy who dreams who sees a waving corn field where the cat-tails are growing, who sees a wovene fence in place of the old hedge, and a new barn where the cow shed is falling to pieces. We need more dreamers on the farm. —Prairie Farmer.

CAN WE GAIN BY EUROPE'S CALAMITY.

While nothing has been said in the United States that would indicate a desire to obtain any territorial or "imperial" advantages for this country, very much has been said about the opportunity to gain economic prosperity. Most of what has been said on this subject is shallow and delusive. Broadly speaking, other people's impoverishment cannot contribute to our wealth. Prosperity can be diffused. While, on the other hand, great disaster and loss cannot be localized. The paralysis of industry and commerce in Europe will cause much poverty and suffering in the United States. Neither American capital nor American labor will be benefited by the annihilation of European capital and the diversion of labor to the destructive business of war. We will have to bear it as well as we can, praying that the war may be short and less devastating than has seemed probable. The newspaper talk about the opportunity of wealth through the creation of a vast American merchant marine is palpably absurd. American capital is fully occupied in enterprises more profitable than the carrying of ocean freight. If, in order to get our surplus commodities to Europe, and to bring back things needful, such as coffee, hides, sugar, and so on from South America and elsewhere, we are obliged to take our capital out of other enterprises and put into ocean freighting, it will mean actual loss rather than gain, because we cannot afford to do that business as cheaply as Europe has been doing it for us. —Review of Reviews.

A DETERMINED WILL.

There is no chance, no destiny, no fate
Can circumvent, or hinder, or control
The firm resolve of a determined soul.
Gifts count for nothing; will alone is great.
All things give way before it, soon or late.
What obstacles can stay the mighty force
Of the sea-seeking river in its course,
Or cause the ascending orb of day to wait?
Each will-born soul will win what it reserves.
Let the fool prate of luck! The fortunate
Is he whose earnest purpose never swerves,
Whose slightest action or inaction serves
The one great aim.
Why even death stands still
And waits an hour sometimes on such a will.

They passed a resolution that no member should buy within the next year a single pair of silk hose but that their feet should be well covered with American made hosiery. From time to time they expect to take up other Home Industries and as far as is in their power induce the American women to take pride in wearing American made clothing.

FAREWELL SERMON.

Rev. J. N. Campbell preached his last sermon to the Baptist congregation last Sunday morning from the third chapter and eleventh verse of Colossians. His subject being "Christ the Great Leveler." At the evening hour all the congregations of the town met in a union service at the Baptist church in honor of the departing pastor. After a short exhortation by the pastor to the unsaved on Procrastination, Mr. Pierce gave parting words to Brother Campbell in behalf of the church and Rev. Duff and Rev. Clements, pastors of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches made short and appropriate addresses.

The music was furnished by the choirs of the different denominations. Mr. Campbell left Monday morning for Ft. Worth where he will take a Post Graduate course at the Baptist Theological Seminary. He is already equipped beyond the average young man and this hankering and thirsting for knowledge shows him to feel keenly the responsibility on him in being skilled in the King's business. He has offered himself for a Foreign Missionary and will go, as soon as the way is open for him to do so.

The church has prospered under his leadership and they pray God's richest blessings on him and his good wife wherever their lot may be cast.

GIRLS' TRAINING SCHOOL ASSURED.

It's citizen factory! That's what the proposed girls' training school of Texas is, and during the week of Nov. 8-14 the women of this State are going to sell stock in this factory at $1 a share. Of course one may buy as many shares as he or she pleases or can afford, but the price has been put low in order to give as many as possible a chance to invest in the greatest dividend-paying enterprise that has ever been offered the public.

There were 50,000 of these shares originally, but the State of Texas retained half of them from the market when by act of the Legislature it appropriated $25,000.00 for the establishment of the school, provided the remaining $25,000 were otherwise subscribed. County Judge Quentin D. Corley of Dallas, chairman of the special finance committee, has, with the aid of his committee, floated about $11,000 worth of this stock. A number of the more populous counties of the State have, through their Commissioners' Court subscribed on the basis of 1-2c per capita of their population. Several individual shareholders have been secured who have taken all the way from 100 to 1,000 shares. A campaign for the subscription of the remainder having been decided upon for the second week in November, already in more than sixty towns and cities ministers and social workers, women's clubs, mothers' clubs and unaffiliated but interested individuals have enlisted for the final effort. The time was chosen because it is the date of the meeting of all the County Commissioners' Courts of the State, and it is expected that others of these will subscribe stock for their people in this much-needed citizen factory.

Texas already has such a factory for the making of good boys out of what society has been wont to regard as unpromising waste material. Now that it is in full operation it is returning to society every year several hundred boys who immediately proceed to make good. Any Juvenile Court Judge can cite you to remarkable cases that have come under his own observation of sorry boys that have been made good citizens at Gatesville. These citizen factories are no longer beautiful theories, but more beautiful facts—substantiated by the finished product. Society has come to recognize the fact that it has no right to punish the delinquent without making an effort to reform him. So now our Juvenile Judges know just what to do with a boy when admission fails because of lack of proper training and environment. The citizen factory at Gatesville supplies that lack.

But they don't know what to do with the girl delinquent. The state has no plant for the reshaping of this waste product into good and useful womanhood. Many of these unfortunate children, some of them motherless, most of them homeless in the highest sense of the word "home," are forced to their ultimate goal, the underworld or the penitentiary, because there is no proper place open to them at the time when they might be shielded from vice and crime. There are plenty of places open to them when they are well started on the downward track, when they have been robbed of innocence or have committed grave offenses against the law. There are jails and prisons when they have become older and schooled in evil, but no place where the child victim of environment may be given a chance before it is too late.

Since the finance committee began its campaign Judge Corley has received hundreds of letters asking in substance, "What is this training school for girls?" In response he has had printed a little folder that recites the statute by which the school was created, and other information concerning its upkeep and the plans of the committee and the board of control. The act authorizing the establishment of such a school was passed during the regular session of the present Legislature largely by the initiative and effort of Representative Patrick Henry of Wichita Falls, now of Fort Worth. At the special session of the Legislature in August, 1913, an additional appropriation was made for the maintenance and operation of the school thus assuring it of support for the future from public funds.

The statute provides that the Girls' Training School shall be under the management of the State board of control for the eleemosynary institutions of Texas, in the event that such a board is created. Until then the school shall be under the management of a board of control composed of five persons, one of whom shall be the Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of Texas, another shall be the ranking professor of domestic economy in the college of Industrial Arts, the remaining three to be appointed by the Governor, at least one of whom shall be a woman.

The school, as provided by legislative enactment, is to be of the type which experience in other States has found to make for best results; it is to be built on the cottage plan on ample farm lands. Many of the members of the board of control and the finance committee have visited similar institutions, and in addition to the cottages they find that an Educational Building will be necessary, "where instruction will be given these girls in the things that are necessary to make them honest, industrious and respectable women when they leave the institution." This building will not cost less than $15,000 and the raising of this sum that Judge Corley has designated as "the women's part," for which a special week has been set aside. It is his idea that this main Educational Building should be a gift from the women of Texas as a memorial to their interest in the welfare of the unfortunate young girls of our State, and proper inscription of this lofty sentiment will be placed on the cornerstone of this building." A LETTER TO YOU

Asking For an Opportunity to Supply Your Wants

Winter is the season of large necessities. The cold winter rains have come and are a reminder that the cold northerners will visit us next. We think there are many things to be provided to make the home comfortable. We have exercised our best efforts in buying the grade and style of goods to suit you, believing each of you has a taste equal to the selection of your wants. Careful buying means the satisfaction that comes from good quality and fair prices. We desire to impress the thought on your mind that the quality and low prices are the knowledge you have when you buy from us. Our business is what we are striving to make it—growing better each day. We have striven to get this business by going after it. The war is over so far as the majority of our people are concerned, for they are less interested in the happenings on the other side and more concerned about their own personal affairs. We desire for you all to be benefitted. In this issue we will cease naming you the specials and will include our entire stock in a like manner as we have our specials. There is as much money now as there ever was before. Everybody is eating as much, wearing as much, reading as much, selling as much, walking in boots and shoes as much as ever at anytime in the history of the world. We have in stock two of the leading manufacturers' shoes of the world—"Hamilton-Brown & Co." and "Endicott, Johnson Shoe Co." They have the representation and quality. We have them both and will make you an interesting price.

We Will Take in Exchange Chickens and Turkeys

At market prices and eggs now at 25 cents per dozen. Do you know how much the hen can help you in supporting your wants? The egg, chicken and turkey sales in Texas last year amounted to $22,000,000. Yet in Kansas with less than a third of the farming area of Texas, the poultry business amounted to more than $30,000,000.00 in a year, and in Missouri last year it footed up to $48,000,000.00. The sales of eggs and poultry of the entire world for one year amount to more than the entire cotton crop of the world. You have no idea unless you have tried it, what help 100 properly kept hens are toward buying your groceries. The little things are what count.

We Will Name You a Price on a Few of Our Staple Lines

However our stock is included. Ladies' and Men's Ready to wear Suits, and Ladies' and Misses' Cloaks and Skirts at a REDUCED PRICE. Tinware very near half price.

SAN ANGELO SELECTED BY THE METHODISTS

West Texas Methodist Conference Selects That Place for the Next Meeting.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 24.—San Angelo was today selected by the West Texas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, as the place for the annual Conference in 1915. The date will be set by Bishop James H. McCoy.

The Conference will continue here through Sunday and probably Monday, and the appointments will be read out and the preachers will go to their various charges.

The success which the preachers have had in collecting salaries and various assessments for church purposes is regarded as being remarkable when the depressed financial condition of the country is taken into consideration.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD.

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm Tender Little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

WOMEN PICK COTTON.

Methodist Church Women at Stamford Go to the Cotton Fields.

Stamford, Tex., Oct. 22.—Owing to the scarcity of cotton pickers in the Stamford country the ladies of the Methodist church have gone to the fields to pick, giving the proceeds to their church. They have turned into the church treasury over $50 and will again enter the cotton fields as soon as they sufficiently dry out.

The dormitory girls of Stamford have also caught the cotton picking fever and spent an afternoon in the fields last week, one of the young ladies picking sixty pounds during that time. Besides having a jolly good time and recreation, they made quite a nice little sum of money, which they donated to the Methodist church of this city.

60,000 WOMEN LOSE JOBS IN LONDON ON ACCOUNT OF THE WAR

ECONOMIC RESULTS OF CONFLICT FALL HEAVILY ON THE WAGE EARNERS.

London, Oct. 27.—The economical results of war have fallen heavily on the women wage earners of London, of whom over 60,000 have been discharged from employment since August first. In the single district of Islington, 800 were discharged the past week by two bottling works, which were forced to close down because their supply of bottles from Germany had been cut off. While the ponderous machinery of Queen Mary's Fund to give work to women is slowly making ready, the Society of American women in London has started a small knitting factory of its own in this populous district.

Mrs. Joseph Wilcox Jenkins started the factory. She walked one day into a labor exchange where 600 women were registered and asked for those who could knit. They were then put to work knitting by hand socks and comforts, and paid on the union scale of 3 pence an hour. This insures a weekly wage of $2.50 for forty hours work.

Funds for running the factory are obtained by the sale of smocks, caps, and belts, which are knitted expressly for the soldiers and sailors. The purchaser is expected to present the same to the men at the front. Other funds are obtained by contributions.

One of the employes in the American factory is a woman with a husband out of work, a paralyzed sister to care for and seven children ranging in age of three to sixteen years. Her eldest, a girl, earns 60 cents a week in a shop, and the war relief fund gives seven shillings a week to the family. Since getting a place in the American factory, the mother has brought the family income to $4.85 a week.

A delicate girl of 22 years, a typist out of work, is the sole support of her mother and invalid sister. In addition to her earnings, she gets five shillings a week from the war relief fund, which helps defray her weekly rent of $1.85.

A pathetic case is that of a one-eyed girl, for whom arrangements have been made to buy a new glass eye, as the enamel had worn off the old one.

It has been brought to the notice of Mrs. Jenkins that there is great suffering among the middle-class women engaged in the arts. A music teacher said she had earned but $1.10 in a week.

As soon as permanent quarters are found, the committee expects to branch out. Meals at two pence each will be furnished and a nursery for children. Already the homes of the workers are visited and second hand clothing given according to the needs.

The American women have won the gratitude of many families in Islington by their prompt methods. Queen Mary's Fund is equipping a factory with machinery out of its 70,000 pound but its members do not seem to understand that what is needed is aid right now, and not when the war is over. Recently the ladies of Greenwich raised a fund to equip a factory, and unable to obtain financial assistance from the Queen's fund, turned to the American Women's War Relief Society, which straightway agreed to advance $75 a week for wages. The factory is now running.

The resident American women backing the Islington factory are Mesdames Jenkins, E. Richard, Curtis Brown G. Mower, Arthur Fay, Robert McClellan, G. M. H. Short, Reed Williams, Lorin Woodstaff, E. C. Darling, James Mitchell C. A. Knight, H. I. Keene and P. W. Wilcox.

THE TEXAS HORSE IN BATTLE.

The Texas horse is one of the first to answer the bugle call of the European war. The Texas horse as a utility animal, excels that of any other state in the Union. He has plowed our fields, fought our battles and is the most faithful of animal kind. His reputation has extended to other countries and he is now going to perform the services for foreign nations which he has so faithfully fulfilled at home.

Grady, I. T., Nov. 29, 1898.
Dear Sir:—About eleven months ago I was taken by something I thought to be rheumatism, and lost the use of one leg. I consulted physicians; they told me it was incurable and advised me to have the leg amputated. Unwilling to part with my leg, I commenced using medicines advertised for the above disease, all to no effect; but after taking two bottles of McCrosky's Tonic you left with W. C. Sappington for me, my health was greatly improved, and after taking the third bottle I am able to walk without my crutches. You may use this if you see fit. Anyone doubting this can write to me and I will answer them, provided a stamp for postage is inclosed.

NO FEAR OF A FAMINE.

Germany Declared to Have Great Quantity of Foodstuffs Particularly Milk—Comparison Given.

The Hague, Oct. 27.—Confidential Councillor Ruebner, founder of what is known as the physiology of nutrition and a German economist of wide reputation, publishes in the current issue of the Medicinische Wochenschrift, a survey of food conditions in Germany.

Germany has at present, claims Councillor Ruebner about 11,000,000 milk cows producing about 1150 cubic centimeters of milk per capita each day, while the average consumption per person is only 341 cubic centimeters in German, in addition to 18 grams of cheese and 7.8 grams of butter.

"It is plain," says the writer, "that we have a superfluity in this class of food. In case the consumption of butter is reduced by one gram per person the saving would amount to about 25,000 tons of butter per day, equal to about 750,000 tons of milk in view of the fact that each milk cow produces annually about 2500 liters of milk, or about two and a half tons for 300,000 animals could be killed for food purposes without interfering seriously with the milk supply of Germany."

After asserting that the Germans are the biggest meat eaters in Europe Dr. Ruebner gives the following table of meat consumption per capita per annum for Europe.

Table with 2 columns: Country and Kilograms. Includes Germany 52.3, England 47.6, France 33.6, Holland and Belgium 34.3, Austria-Hungary 29.0, Russia 21.8, Italy 10.1.

Germany's demand, the writer asserts, is covered fully for the period of the war and while forage is none too plentiful ordinarily, he believes that there will be no difficulty feeding the stock, especially if a late winter make it possible to pasture the animals longer than is usually the case.

Bobbing for apples is always fun on Hallowe'en and so is telling stories while baking apples. Take the cores out and in the center place some little indicative of each guests future.

After ghost hunts, trips to imaginary caves and consultations with fortune tellers Hallowe'en celebrators will be ready for refreshments.

There is no drink quite so popular as cider at this season when it is fresh and mild. If the night is cold you may have it mulled. Heat it, and put cinnamon chips, whole cloves and whole allspice in a muslin bag in it do not let it boil, only simmer.

You will want doughnuts for this and I am glad to have a splendid recipe for them that was contributed by one of our readers last June.

Doughnuts—One cup of sugar, one level teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoons of baking powder and 3 cups of flour. Sift all these dry ingredients together and make into a soft dough with two eggs beaten with one cup of sweet milk. Season with nutmeg and fry in deep fat.

This is such a busy night that the young folks will hardly want to stop their fun to eat, so you will only need a buffet supper. You can use the really pretty white paper plates made especially for this date.

If you want something hot, oyster soup with crisp crackers, celery, coffee and cheese is sufficient but I think a cold supper is best.

I suggest the following which you can alter to suit your guests, your convenience and the weather.
