Colonel Theodore Roosevelt is on a fishing trip, and is supposed to be on his way to Bird Island in the gulf. His old friend, Colonel William Jennings Bryan, is holding the center of the stage. These distinguished Americans and rival leaders are angling for the same fish. It isn't a minnow; it is a whale. Woodrow may steal their bait.—Ft. Worth Record.

A widow lost a hog. We do not refer to death of her husband. She lost a real hog and advertised for it. The editor says the hog must read the paper, for he came hiking home on the dead run as soon as the paper left the postoffice. This is not the first instance where a hog read a newspaper—and incidentally forgot to pay for it.—Hutto Record.

TERRIFIC WIND, HAIL AND RAIN STORMS

Do Serious Damage—Crops Beaten In the Ground.

Houses Unroofed, Chimneys Blown Off, Orchards Destroyed, and Country Laid Waste.

The storm that struck Colorado Wednesday evening between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, did considerable damage in Colorado and the territory north east of town.

In Colorado trees were badly damaged, windmills blown down, bill boards and signs damaged, fences blown down, barns and out houses unroofed, windows smashed or blown out.

The seed house at the oil mill was unroofed and part of the compress shed blown away.

Part of the Gary gin was demolished, blowing part of the roof from the engine room.

The buildings occupied by the C. M. Adams dry goods store was completely unroofed, but as not much rain fell the damage to his stock was light.

The Barcroft hotel which was in the upper story was damaged to some extent by water.

C. H. Lasky reports about 1000 bushels of fruit blown off in his orchard and considerable damage by rain and hail on the ranch, something like 250 window glass blown and broken out.

Dick Arnett on the south side had his residence damaged.

At F. M. Burns residence chimneys were wrecked and a number of fine trees torn down, as was the case at Mr. Prude's home and at C. A. Pierce.

The rain was very light in Colorado and there was no hail, but in the Buford community, east, and all round the mountain had a heavy rain.

The wind did not extend west of town or very far south.

The worst damage and individual loss in Colorado was Miller Bros. garage. The house was blown down, and about seven automobiles badly damaged. The cars mashed and torn up were H. C. Doss, Charlie Mann, Myrtle Vaughan, R. W. Thomas, W. A. Campbell, Frank Miller and A. R. Wood. These cars were badly wrecked—the tops, wind-shields, steering wheels, etc.

being mashed by the weight of the roof which fell in on them.

No insurance on the cars or building. Mr. Dobbs says he will rebuild at once.

J. R. Ledbetter reports 200 acres of cotton destroyed and will plant over and some of his feed.

Mr. Hunter reports the east side of his farm badly damaged.

J. R. Sheppard's cotton was also stripped completely, leaving a naked stub.

Through the courtesy of the Southwestern Telephone Co., it was learned that considerable damage was done at Hermleigh, Loraine, Roscoe and Sweetwater. Many of their wires are down and the service very badly demoralized at this time.

The M. E. church at Hermleigh was blown off the foundation and the Mercantile Co., there badly damaged.

Loraine suffered considerable as the rain was heavy there and stocks of goods were water damaged. A. Foy, it seems, suffered the worst loss. The Baptist church steeple was blown off and other buildings damaged.

Roscoe suffered from the hail, which did great damage to windows and roofs of houses, as well as to the growing crops.

The worst reports come from Sweetwater. It is stated that several Mexicans were killed by falling buildings. The postoffice building was badly damaged and the entire town generally torn up. The hail was the heaviest known in years, some as large as hen eggs, which smashed windows and skylights. The crop damage in that section was not learned, but if the storm covered much territory it must have been severe.

Colorado was fortunate to be in the western edge of the storm, and got the benefit of a straight wind, with no hail and but little rain in the immediate town. Our citizens are thankful that it was no worse and that no lives were lost, and not a great deal of monetary loss.

THE NEWS IN PARAGRAPHS.

Settlement of the first of a large number of claims filed against Great Britain by American cotton shippers whose cargoes have been seized, has been announced by the British Embassy. The payment was for two cargoes and amounted to 59,000 pounds.

L. E. Kuhne, a lumberman at San Angelo has bought of Mrs. Mary E. Lewis of Mertzon, 3,200 acres of land along Dove Creek for $3.20 per acre. Mr. Kuhne will engage in the ranch business.

June 29th has been set as the date for the 29th anniversary celebration for the city of Ballinger.

A burglar entered a home in Fort Worth the other night in the absence of the family, and not finding anything of value, ate up all the pies the good wife had just baked.

In order to store and properly care for the large wheat crop of Hale county, many farmers are putting in orders for galvanized iron granaries. 150 of these have already been put in, with an average capacity of 1000 bushels. The estimated wheat crop of Hale county is half-million bushels.

More than twice as many Italians returned to Italy in the last nine months than came to the United States. About 50,000 came while 100,000 returned.

Ten sections of California oil lands valued at $15,000,000 were declared to have been fraudulently patented by the S. P. R. R. Co.

The largest oil tank in the world has just been completed at Tusa, Okla. It contains four hundred 55,000-barrel steel tanks, with a capacity for 22,000,000 barrels. It covers 160 acres.

Three thousand motor cars are stuck in the mud in Illinois, Missouri and Kansas, said Mr. Love, president of the National Old Trails Road. He says Missouri alone has lost money enough in the last month to have built a system of hard roads.

$10,000 for damages caused by the flood was demanded of the city of Ft. Worth, by G. M. Johnson. The damage was caused by the breaking of a 33-inch sewer, which flooded 115 acres of his land.

Rev. H. C. Compton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Sweetwater, was recently elected to and accepted the presidency of Westminster Academy in Collin county, his removal from Sweetwater to occur about Sept. 1.

The services of the paid secretary have been dispensed with by the Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce. The newly elected president, J. McAllister Stevenson, Jr., will henceforth perform the duties of that dignity, and there is no doubt that he will perform them well.

Miss Gene Figh after a pleasant visit here for some time left yesterday morning for California to take in both fairs.

Dr. N. J. Phenix left on Wednesday night for Cisco to have his eyes treated by Dr. Britton of that place.

Walter Stowe, who has his home at Waco and is a brother of J. E. Stowe, passed through here Wednesday morning on his way to El Paso, where he will live in the future.

W. B. Ralph was a Sweetwater visitor on Wednesday.

The grand jury after a sitting of one day, Wednesday, adjourned and turned in 87 true bills, five or six of these were felony cases and the rest misdemeanors.

GOOD RAIN.

The Sweetwater Reporter of Monday says: "A good rain fell here yesterday accompanied by a shower of hail. A number of hail stones measured an inch and a half around. Slight damage to the gardens are reported in some parts of town. A heavy rain was reported in the Nolan and Dora country, and at the head of Lake Trammell a heavy rain fell which added about sixteen feet more to the Sweetwater water supply."

FARMERS' SHORT COURSE.

The A. & M. Shot Course will be held in Colorado August 9, 10 and 11. The instruction list is not complete, however, in a general way, it may be said that each team will consist of one animal husbandry man, one sollar and crop man; one poultry man; one or two domestic science instructors, and some extra lecturers, such as good roads, farm terracing expert and veterinarian. Complete program will be announced next week.
 W. A. DULIN.

Tarrant county has suffered heavily from the effects of the overflow. The greatest damage has been to bridges. One bridge valued at $10,000 was totally destroyed, and many others.

OUR MISSION TO MANKIND

AS SET FORTH BY PRESIDENT IN A FLAG DAY ADDRESS

MADE AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

"The Heart of America Will Yet Interpret the Heart of the World" is What the Chief Executive Declares to Thousands.

"The heart of America will yet interpret the heart of the world."

That will be the mission of this nation, in the opinion of President Wilson, if the people of the country are true to its great traditions. He so told nearly 5,000 assembled in front of the treasury building at Washington in discussing Flag day and the traditions for which it stands.

The scene was probably the most inspiring under which the president has ever spoken. Stretching in front of him was the green sward of Potomac park. In the distance the great bulk of the Washington monument cast a dark shadow across the sky and from which a scorching summer sun threw everything into bold relief.

For nearly a minute after President Wilson was introduced by Secretary McAdoo the audience applauded, and it was only after he had motioned several times that he was able to make himself heard.

No direct reference was made by the president to the recent stirring events. When he appealed to everyone to realize that the great mass of the people are not those who get their names into the newspapers, and said that in the list of those who made the flag possible there was not a single swashbuck-ler many present interpreted that as his explanation of why he has not made any public comment on events that led to the first break in his cabinet.

"I know of nothing more difficult than to render an adequate tribute to the emblem of our nation," said the president. "Those of us who have felt the beat of the pulse of the nation and who have known of his inspirations must realize the impossibility of truly expressing the great things that it represents. When we stop to analyze we must realize that what the flag represents is not a mere body of vague sentiments or of rhetorical sentiments that are contained in declarations of independence and bills of rights."

"The things that the flag stands for were created by the experience of a great people. Everything that it stands for was written by their lives."

"The flag is the embodiment not of sentiment but of history. It represents the experiences made by men and women; the experiences of those who do and live under that flag."

"You do not create national life by literary expositions, but by the daily endeavor of a great people, living up their standard of honesty and just conduct."

The president praised those who had made the flag, saying "they have shown us the way and were not afraid to go ahead."

Tornado Causes Several Deaths.

In central Wisconsin a tornado was responsible for eleven deaths, scores of people injured, many seriously, and thousands of dollars' damage done to crops. Eight people were killed at Ferryville, near La Crosse, and eighteen injured. The Finley home there was torn to bits and the wreckage carried four miles. The body of a baby was found more than a mile from that place.

NEWSPAPER COMMENT ON MR. BRYAN'S RESIGNATION.

A Word of Caution to Mr. Bryan.
New York Times: Intending only an adventure in zealotry and agitation, Mr. Bryan may easily stumble into courses that would bring down upon his head the stern condemnation of all the American people. When a man quits the service of a private employer he is bound in honor not to disclose his employer's trade secrets. Such a breach of confidence would bring him into disrepute. Men would distrust him. His dishonorable behavior would be a serious bar to his obtaining a new place. Mr. Bryan has been Secretary of State. He has had the confidence of the administration, he is the custodian of many secrets. He resigns his office, stating his reasons at sufficient length and with all due clearness. Yet on the day following he puts forth a statement in which he does not hesitate to publish to the world facts in respect to an important State paper of which he had knowledge only as a trusted adviser of the President, and which the President had not yet made public. His detailed explanation of his reasons for resigning is not only a gross impropriety, but it exhibits a degree of fatuousness in reasoning of which even yet a few Americans may have believed Mr. Bryan to be incapable.

Bryan's Ego Rampant.

Knoxville Sentinel: That a cabinet officer who had been privy to all the secret and sacred councils of State in so critical a time for the country should resign from his office and proceed to make public, or purport to make public, and discuss the contents or any part of the contents of the note which as an official he was bound in honor not to disclose until the President saw fit to release it to the public was enough to make the public stare and ask what should come next.

Secretary of State Out.

Illinois State Journal: That there would be a break between President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan before the President's term expired was predicted when Mr. Bryan became Secretary. That this break was due became apparent when President Wilson took into his own hands the preparation of the Lusitania note to Germany. Secretary Bryan has felt all the while that he made President Wilson. He has chafed in the position of subordinate. And his place has been made intolerable by the Pres-

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL.

Starts Your Liver Without Making You Sick and Cant Not Salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tonic is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tonic is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness, and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

Secretary Bryan's Resignation

Lincoln (Neb.) Daily Star: Seriousness of the resignation of Mr. Bryan from the Cabinet at this juncture lies in the fact that before the note to Germany had been issued, it gives the world to understand that there is something incorporated in it which Mr. Bryan as an ultra exponent of peace can not sanction, an understanding that will operate more or less to the discredit of the note when it shall have been sent to Germany, especially among the German people.

A Warning to Presidents.

New York Tribune: Mr. Bryan courted failure when he took charge of the State Department. Probably no one who ever held that office was more unfit than he was to discharge with credit its delicate and exacting duties. He was himself dimly aware that he was tempting fate. But he trusted to luck to escape any exposure of his incapacity. Chance put on him tasks for which he had no training and to which he was not equal. His failure should well serve as a warning to Presidents tempted in the future to dispose of the Secretaryship of State merely as a party consolation prize.

President Trusted More Than Ever.

New York Evening Post: If the German Government imagines that the departure of Mr. Bryan means anything like a split in the administration in the pursuance of its policy, it will very soon find out its mistake.

Halting, Undetermined Influence.

Baltimore American: The country looks upon Mr. Bryan as a deserter, yet this is no time to engage in criminalations. Still, sentiment will be strong against the Secretary of State who retires from the guns while the diplomatic issues are being fought out between Germany and the United States.

Country Trusts Wilson's Guidance.

New York Evening World: Great events have piled upon the State Department problems with which neither Mr. Bryan's training nor his natural cast of mind fit him to grapple. A broader intellect, a surer judgment, a profounder spirit, a better master of the language of nations must speak, has fortunately proved equal to the added burden.

Makes the Cabinet Unanimous.

Brooklyn Eagle: From the furrow what was really an obstacle has seen fit to remove itself. It has seen fit to make the Cabinet what it has not been—unanimous. It has substituted harmony for discordance.

Welcomed by Country.

New York Herald: The President goes on, leaving Mr. Bryan behind. The very fact of Mr. Bryan's resignation as Secretary of State tells the whole story of the momentous news. Every man, woman and child in the country can understand President Wilson intends to pursue his course, made obligatory by the note of February and imperative by his note of May 13.

A Presidential Candidate.

Hartford Courant: It is a safe guess that we are going to have Mr. Bryan again as a Presidential candidate. His platform will be Peace and Prohibition and it will split the democratic party all apart, for the South is strongly for prohibition, and Bryan himself, as himself, is strong with the democratic party through the wide west. He is likely, too, to draw from the republicans on the same issue that will strengthen him at the South.

Helps at Home, Haris Abroad.

New York Globe: Mr. Bryan gets out because he says that to remain in the Cabinet would be unfair to the cause that is nearest to his heart, namely, the prevention of war. But instead of promoting a peaceful settlement, Mr. Bryan practically throws his influence in the other balance. It will be more difficult now to secure the concessions which Mr. Bryan is on record as demanding in the name of international law and the rights of humanity.

No Excuse or Extenuation.

New York World: Mr. Bryan's resignation at this time and in these circumstances is a sorry service to his country. In his letter to the President the Secretary of State declared that "to remain a member of the Cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war." We can not believe that this cause is nearer to Mr. Bryan's heart than it is to President Wilson's heart; but even if it were, Mr. Bryan has done the one thing in his power most likely to bring about war between the United States and Germany.

Wanted: Shirtsleeve Diplomacy.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: The retirement of W. J. Bryan from the State Department removes at a peculiarly critical time a serious menace to the good name and the welfare of the nation. The time may come when the utilitarian diplomacy of today will give away to the altruistic ideals set forth with silver-tongued eloquence by the Nebraskan, but the events of the last ten months startlingly demonstrate that no such Utopian dream is possible in this generation. We trust that the retirement of Mr. Bryan means the inauguration of a foreign policy which will have a tendency to make Americans feel proud, instead of ashamed, of their country. We trust that it means no other Mexican adventurer will be permitted to flout the flag, call a State Department bluff and get away with it.

Cheap Imitation: Good Riddance.

Pittsburg Gazette-Times: The resignation of Mr. Bryan as Secretary of State is a good riddance. It is a great relief to the people of the United States and to President Wilson, it puts Mr. Bryan just where he belongs. He never was fitted for the place. He has not filled it with dignity, ability or satisfaction, nor yet with fidelity. For the first time in his life in a position of genuine responsibility, he has been but a cheap imitation.

Dallas News: Probably the best answer to Mr. Bryan's address "To the American People" is to be found in the note which he alleges as the occasion of it. But if the note to Germany did not expose the petty and pretentious character of the reasons Mr. Bryan has offered to excuse his desertion of the President in a critical moment, any lack would be supplied abundantly by his address "To the American People." A more sophomoric, a more juvenile delirium has never come from any man professing the qualities of statesmanship. For the most part, its paragraphs have the appearance and sound of excerpts from the "Prince of Peace," revised and refurbished to give it an extended currency on the Chautauqua circuit. . . . Again, when Mr. Bryan says the "flingoes of our own country have caught the rabies from the dogs of war," he is betrayed by his passion for gaudy and meretricious metaphor into a libel of the people of this country; for never, in all history, have the people of a country shown so much restraint and forbearance and poise as have the people of the United States during every moment of our controversy with Germany.

German Press Comment.

G. A. Hellig, editor of the Norde Texas Presse, the leading German-American paper of Dallas, gives the following translation of an editorial written by him and appearing in the current issue:

"If anybody can read anything improper, warlike or ultimatum-like out of the second American note, he can do more than I can. It is certainly not more severe than the first one was, to which Mr. Bryan gave his official signature without any hesitation whatever. This note as a whole, is about as moderate and friendly as one could expect. . . . It is therefore a mystery to me why Mr. Bryan has so suddenly become so pro-German that he has completely severed connection with the government which has, so all appearances, not been anti-German, although I have occasionally had serious doubts as to its honest and absolute neutrality. I can not help but think that the whole thing has a political motive which I have already mentioned a year ago. The fact is that we are just as far from a United States-German war, after the sending of this note, as we were before the beginning of the European world's war. The cases of the Falaba, Gulfight and Lusitania require more investigation and will, undoubtedly, be settled to mutual satisfaction."

Chandler Was Months Ahead of the "New Models"

THIS is "announcement" time, it seems. You are being told about "new models" and lower prices. Well the new models and the lower prices had to come, for the Chandler pointed the way months ago—not with a cheapened car but with a car that had made good for thousands of owners, at a price that made the industry gasp.

CHANDLER $1295

The Pioneer Light-Weight Six

The Chandler announced its New Season's car in January, at a price of only $1295. That price was hundreds of dollars under the price of any other car of really similar character.

And now, in spite of price reductions and new models rushed out in the hopes of meeting the Chandler competition, the Chandler is still under-priced.

Such a car at such a price literally stamped the trade toward the Chandler. And it continues alone in its leadership of the high-grade light six field.

Men who are motor-wise, men who know automobiles, know this is true. If there is anyone who does not know it is true, we ask the opportunity to show him and prove it.

All over the country the Chandler demand has been tremendous. The factory has reached a production of ten thousand cars for this year but even that great number will leave hundreds disappointed. Like other Chandler dealers everywhere, we have been "snowed under" with orders. In April and May we could not fill our orders by half. This month we are catching up pretty well with the demand. Our allotments for July and August are liberal and we expect to give prompt deliveries on orders received early.

Don't be misled. Don't be satisfied with any but the best. Choose the Chandler!

HARLEY-DAVIDSON WINS.

The Harley-Davidson continues to sustain its reputation for speed supremacy in the reports of numerous victories carried off by the Gray Fellows in Decoration Day races all over the country, states Ratliff & Cook, the local Harley-Davidson dealers.

In the 200-mile race held at Phoenix Ariz., May 31, Joe Wolter, the veteran long distance champ, and Harry Crandall, won first and second places, Wolter's time being 3:07:27, an average of 64.07 miles per hour, remarkable time in view of the fact that he was racing against special ported and eight-valve machines and that he was forced to make a stop for gasoline and oil.

An occasional winning may be utilized to make a holler about but it is the repeated winnings in long distance events and the putting of two machines across every time that demonstrates a motorcycle has the kind of stuff capable of sustained high speed, has been designed right and made right.

In the gruelling endurance run from Salt Lake City to Blackfoot, Ida., over some of the roughest motorcycle going in the country, Harley-Davidsons finished first, second and third, also sixth and seventh, a record that demonstrates that the Gray Fellow has the pep that makes for tough endurance riding as well as high speed.

The 100-mile events at Goodland and Topeka, Kan., both went to the Harley-Davidson, Ray Weishaar being the winner each time. In Topeka century race the Harley-Davidson won second as well as first place, Ralph Cooper bringing in the added honors. It is a remarkable fact that in all the long distance races this year the Harley-Davidson has won first and second and that these consistent winnings have been made on half mile tracks, mile tracks, road race courses and with both singles and twins.

GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

Now is the time to get rid of your rheumatism. You can do it if you apply Chamberlain's Liniment. W. A. Lockhard, Homer City, N. SATURDAY'S FIRES.

Some excitement was caused Saturday afternoon, when the alarm of fire was turned in from the A. L. Scott grain house. The boys responded promptly and soon had the fire extinguished. In making the run, the tongue of the hose truck was accidentally broken, and while the truck was in this condition and the hose spread on the ground, a second alarm was turned in from the same place. The boys immediately chartered a float, loaded on the reserve hose, made the run and soon had the fire under control, with scarcely any damage.

In this connection it might be well to advocate the purchase of an auto hose cart. With our graded and surfaced streets, throughout and beyond the fire mains, it would be easy to drive an auto to any fire we might have. The enormous expense of feeding and taking care of two horses would be eliminated. A much quicker start and faster time could be made. The fire boys are "crazy" for an up to date auto, and they should have it.

ONLY ONE ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY.

"I have tried various colic and diarrhoea remedies, but the only one that has given me entire satisfaction and cured me when I was afflicted is Chamberlain's Colic, Colera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I recommend it to my friends at all times." writes S. N. Galoway, Stewart, S. C. For sale by all dealers.

Dear Sir:—About eleven months ago I was taken by something I thought to be rheumatism, and lost the use of one leg. I consulted physicians; they told me it was incurable and advised me to have the leg amputated. Unwilling to part with my leg, I commenced using medicines advertised for the above disease, all to no effect; but after taking two bottles of McCrosky's Tonic you left with W. C. Sappington for me, my health was greatly improved, and after taking the third bottle I am able to walk without my crutches. You may use this if you see fit. Anyone doubting this can write to me and I will answer them, provided a stamp for postage is inclosed.

SCALP BOUNTY LAW.

For the information of parties interested, below will be found a text of the Scalp Bounty Law as passed by the 34th legislature.

This law goes into effect June 20th, 1915, and all animals killed after that date, that is all animals for which a bounty is provided under the recent law, wolves, wild cats and Jack rabbits, scalps may be preserved and presented to the Commissioners' Court, accompanied by affidavit that said animals were killed in that county and by the person presenting such affidavit.

The scalp of such animal shall not be mutilated or disfigured, and shall have both ears intact, and upon approval of such claim shall receive warrant, drawn on the General Fund of the County for same.

The law provides that 5 cents shall be paid for jack rabbits, one dollar for wild cats and two dollars for wolves.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS.

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions. It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

BROOKS DECLINES

HENRY'S CHALLENGE.

The following open letter was given out by Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor University:

"Waco, Texas, June 12.—Hon. R. L. Henry, Waco, Texas. My Dear Mr. Henry: Your letter dated June 5 and published in the Texas papers June 6, reached me through the mails June 7. In this I learn that you have an engagement to speak at Stephenville, July 1, and that you invite me to a joint discussion of the political issues. I hereby publicly acknowledge through the papers my appreciation of this marked distinction, particularly as you select me alone from several announced candidates for the same high office, who are by you totally ignored.

"It is singular that you suppose we could hold a joint discussion of any profit to anybody, with no issues presented and with no platform published—either by you or by me. In your challenge you do not affirm or deny anything. I can only guess in part at what you think are the 'radical differences' between us. I remind you that you are a member of the national House of Representatives and have a fine opportunity to settle before the election some live issues of interest to the people of Texas, and about which there may be no 'radical differences' between us.

"I am amazed that you should have such remarkable understanding and say: 'Inasmuch as you are a candidate for United States Senator, of course I fully understand you can not say it is too early for this discussion, and assume you are prepared to defend your candidacy.' It is true that I am a candidate for the office of United States Senator and it is true that I am prepared to defend my candidacy. However, your assumption that I must defend it now and before you is wholly gratuitous. This defense I will make in my own way, in my own time. I will never dodge any question that may arise in Congress or out of it, and after my platform is published, I will defend it against all comers.

"I herewith express to the committee of Stephenville my deep appreciation of their desire that I speak there on July 1, for from that place I have had evidence even since getting your letter, that I will receive a large, generous and enthusiastic support.

"In consideration of what I have said above, I respectfully decline your invitation. For me to accept, as conditions now are, might bring your well-known modesty under suspicion.

As you gave your letter to the press, I reply in the same way. Very respectfully,
S. P. BROOKS."

PUNCH AND SALAD CASE

DECIDED AT AUSTIN

Certain parts of the temporary injunction in the so-called "punch and chicken salad case" have been made permanent by a decision of Judge Geo. Calhoun of the Fifty-third District Court, and other parts of the injunction are dissolved. This means that certain bills against the State of Texas incurred during Governor Colquhoun's administration can not be paid by Comptroller Terrell.

EL PASO WINS NEXT MEETING OF EDITORS.

The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Texas Press Association came to a close on the 12th at Corpus Christi with the selection of El Paso as the next place of meeting, after a hard fight; the annual oration by Lee J. Rountree of Georgetown and the election of officers of the Association for next year. Watler E. Whitman, advertising manager of Holland's Magazine, Dallas, was elevated to the presidency by acclamation, and Henry Edwards of the Troup Banner was named vice-president. Secretary, Sam P. Harben of Richardson, will continue his services as will C. F. Lehman of Houston in handling the funds of the Association.

SWEET CLOVER.

We are receiving of late some inquiry about sweet clover which is attracting wide attention as feed and fertilizer. Briefly, its good points are that it is easy to get, starting certainly and growing vigorously, without much preparation of land, and on poor soil. As hay and pasture, it is of the greatest value, yielding very heavily of both. As a soil improver, it is probably the equal of any of the leguminous plants; another advantage being that it inoculates for alfalfa. It is the equal in feeding value to alfalfa, and does not bloat stock like alfalfa and the clovers. It makes better bee-pasture than any of the clovers. It does not seed the first year. The white blooming variety is the best. Fall and winter is the time to sow, 10 to 12 pounds of seed per acre being about right. If our Texas and Louisiana seed houses do not keep it they will, as it will be heard from a lot in the years to come.—R. C. Claridge, Agricultural Agt. T. & P. Longview.

TO RESPECT AMERICAN LIVES

GERMANY IS ASKED BY AMERICA TO GIVE THIS ASSURANCE.

CANNOT LIMIT NEUTRAL RIGHTS

Contention That the Lusitania Carried Contraband Is Declared by This Government to Be Irrelevant to the Issue.

In its second note to Germany United States formally asks the imperial government for assurances that measures hereafter will be adopted to safeguard "American lives and American ships" on the high seas. The alternative in case of refusal is not stated.

Friendly terms characterize the document which renews representations made in the American note reaching Germany May 15 after the Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk with a loss of more than 100 American lives. The German government, it is declared, "must have been misinformed" when it assumed that the Lusitania carried guns, as official information is at hand to corroborate the original contention of the Washington government, that the Lusitania was an unarmed passenger ship, which, since it did not resist capture, could not be sunk without transferring passengers and crew to a place of safety.

The communication informs Germany that it is "on the principle of humanity as well as upon the law founded upon this principle that the United States must stand."

Opportunity is given to Germany to submit any evidence that American officials did not execute their tasks thoroughly in inspecting the Lusitania before she sailed, but the cardinal fact—that the liner was given no warning and made no resistance and was primarily a passenger ship—this government declares throws "into the background any special circumstances of detail" and lifts the case "out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or of international controversy."

Some Points in Reply.

This government will in due course lay before Germany, as she requests, full information concerning the attack on the Cushing by German aircraft.

Regarding the Falaba, this government is surprised to find the German government contending that an effort on the part of a merchantmen to escape capture and secure assistance alters the obligation of the officer seeking to make capture, in respect to the safety of the lives of those on board the merchantman, although the vessel had ceased her attempt to escape when torpedoed. Nothing but actual forcible resistance or continued efforts to escape by flight when ordered to stop for the purpose of visit on the part of merchantmen has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew.

Regarding the intimation that Germany is willing to accept the good offices of the United States in an effort to come to an understanding with Great Britain as to sea methods assurances are given that it would consider it a pleasure thus to serve its friends and the world. This government stands ready at any time to convey to either any intimation or suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey, and cordially invites the imperial German government to make use of its services in this way at its convenience.

SWEET POTATOES BY MILLION.

MIGHTY CROP IS WHAT TEXAS IS TO TURN OUT.

The United States department of agriculture will send a man to Dallas to assist Texas farmers to house and care for the 10,000,000-bushel crop of sweet potatoes Texas will probably make this year. The Dallas chamber of commerce has reports from all portions of the state indicating that the sweet potato crop this year will foot up that large total. Diversification agitation has caused an increase of about 100 per cent in the sweet potato acreage since last year.

It is said to be very necessary to care for this crop in houses so that the growers will not be forced to put it on the market all at one time.

Last year sweet potatoes in Texas brought 40 cents per bushel in marketing time, and those farmers hoarding their crop and selling later got a much larger price, in some instances $2.50 per bushel.

H. C. Thompson of the national department of agriculture will arrive at Dallas next month and make headquarters at the Dallas chamber of commerce. He will give assistance to the Texas sweet potato growers.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

Monday evening the city council met in regular session with a full board present.

Bills were allowed and routine business gone over.

Secretary L. A. Costin submitted his annual report which was approved and S. D. Vaughan was appointed to audit the books for the past year.

The delinquent tax list was then gone over and ordered published as the law directs. The 1915 tax rolls were then approved.

Considerable discussion was had about the auto and street traffic, and the city attorney instructed to draft an ordinance to cover all the points as to speed, etc.

The sewer question then came up and was discussed. They have a plan of sewerage and cost of same, also a plan and cost which conforms only with the water mains. Quite a number of phases and points were discussed when it was decided to recess until Wednesday evening, and in the meantime the mayor to secure some legal advice. So the meeting was held open until Wednesday evening.

The council met again on Wednesday evening and passed a street traffic ordinance, and after considerable discussion on the sewerage question, the matter was held up until more information could be obtained. The public will be informed through the press, perhaps next week, on the different phases touching this question.

SEVEN PERSONS HURT

WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS.

Big Spring, June 14.—While hurrying to Big Spring today for medical attention for the 10 year old son of W. A. Stephenson, who had been bitten by a rattlesnake, an automobile containing W. A. Stephenson, his wife, daughter and son, and Pete King, wife and son, was overturned and every person in the car was more or less injured. Mr. Stephenson is injured and may die. His son is suffering from a fracture of the skull and is not expected to live. The son is also suffering from the bite of a rattlesnake. Mr. Stephenson's daughter, aged 8, has nose and arm broken and is suffering from internal injuries. Mrs. Stephenson has an elbow and left side crushed by being caught under the car. Pete King has a broken right arm and the heel of the left foot cut off. Mrs. King is only slightly bruised, but her son, aged 5, is severely bruised.

The party had been to a picnic about 23 miles north of here in celebration of Flag Day. Mr. Stephenson lost control of the car while running about thirty-five miles an hour, when the car struck a rough portion of road.

We Are On the Hunt

For the man or woman who has failed to visit our store or read our ads. By staying away it is impossible for you to realize the specialties and bargains you are missing. It is useless for you to continue to hunt over the same ground where there is no game. Hasn't the past proved to you that it is necessary for your own benefit to seek new hunting grounds, where there is lots of game and an abundance of bargains? We earnestly request you to visit our store and open your eyes upon our special lines now on sale—and in fact our entire stock. We feel sure that the deaf ear that you have kept turned to us will be opened on the line of your prosperity.

We Keep Nothing

We deliver the goods—in more ways than one. Price, Quality, Quantity, courteous treatment, service, fair dealings and attention to all alike. Hundreds and hundreds of people in this county show that they DO appreciate our stores and business policy by continually coming and favoring us with their custom. They know every price they pay must be right and a part of our business is to make friends and we are led to believe by the way the farmers' wives, sons and daughters come into our stores, that our efforts to please are appreciated.

DR. A. H. WESTON RETURNS TO SANITARIUM.

Just a year ago this week, Dr. A. H. Weston, returned home from the Baptist Sanitarium at Dallas and took editorial charge of the Record. For awhile his health seemed to improve, but his injured limb did not seem to mend, and after awhile his general health gave way, and for the past several months he has been in such condition that he could not do his work, and seemingly going down all the time. Finally it was decided best to send him back to the sanitarium for final treatment, so, on Friday night last, he was placed in the care of Mr. S. S. Bradshaw, a citizen of Dallas, and went back. A letter received Monday states that Dr. Weston is now in the Sanitarium and doing very well, with the assurance from the doctors that he can be permanently cured.

A CORRECTION.

In last week's issue one of those mean little errors crept into Mr. Edmondson's advertisement, and we had him quoting "All 3 pound cans of California canned goods, in case lots for $1.80" when the price should have been $2.75. Mr. Edmondson sells goods so cheap that the printer could not notice the error. Sugar is now worth $6.80 per 100 lbs. wholesale, yet this store quoted it in last week's adv. at $6.50, and so we supposed it was the same way with canned goods. We hasten to correct this error, as Mr. Edmondson is a man who never advertises a thing which he does not carry out to the letter. We trust that he was not seriously injured by this error and promise to be more careful in quoting his prices in the future.

A number of bad holes are developing in our good road between Colorado and Loraine, and unless something is done with them pretty soon, they will grow very fast. Our local auto club is having a few loads of gravel hauled to patch up the worst places, but the finances of this club are too meagre to cope with it as it should be.

Bob Henry counts on the Brazos River in his campaign, but he will have to cross a Brooks to get to Branch. With Rivers, Brooks and Branch in the Senatorial race, it looks like a water wagon campaign, and is Henry on the water wagon?

Herbert M. Hughes of Dallas thinks the "Texas Anti-Bryan Club" should be organized as a protest against Mr. Bryan's course with regard to the German note. Mr. Hughes said that he thought Dallas and Texas would do well to lead in organizing an Anti-Bryan Club, and he believed the movement would be taken up by every state in the Union.

Not a vacant residence in Colorado and a demand for them. Scarcely a day passes but there is some one inquiring for houses to rent, and at present there is nothing that is more needed here than tenement houses, not elaborate buildings, but cozy cottages, and we believe a little money expended in this way would prove a paying investment.

THE BRYAN EXPLANATION.

Mr. Bryan comes forward with a very pretty theory about the use of persuasion rather than force in dealings between nations. But he allows nothing for human nature nor for the world as now constituted. China is the nearest approach that we know of to Mr. Bryan's doctrine of non-resistance, and see where she lies. The Quakers put aside force and undertook persuasion, and no people were ever more mercilessly persecuted. Man comes into this world with certain rights, given him of God. These rights are inalienable. So long as they are respected, there is no occasion for war. The moment the condition of nature is violated, that moment war sets up, either by blows or in feelings and impulses which must eventuate in war. Repression does not destroy rights; all are equal where rights are concerned. Just as the individual is in duty bound to contend for his rights, not in selfish spirit, but as a trustee for humanity, so must a Nation uphold the rights of its citizens against outside assaults. Of course, there must be some approximate definition of what are rights. It has too often happened in the world's past that men, blinded either by passion or self-interest, have rushed to the defense of imaginary rights or to punish fancied wrongs. Mr. Bryan's principle of persuasion could have been applied here perhaps to advantage. But real rights can't be cast to the dogs; they must be maintained or humanity will sink to the lowest depths. Under a strict interpretation of international law and universal custom, the sinking of the Lusitania in the manner employed was a crime; there is no need for us to try to blink that fact, viewed from the letter of the law. It is on this law that the President has taken his stand, saying in his last note:—"The Government of the United States is contending for something much greater than are rights of property or privileges of commerce. It is contending for nothing less high and sacred than the rights of humanity which every Government honors itself in respecting and which no Government is justified in resigning on behalf of those under its care and authority. Only her actual resistance to capture or refusal to stop when ordered to do so for the purpose of visit could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for so much as putting the lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy. This principle the Government of the United States understands the explicit instructions issued on Aug. 3, 1914, by the Imperial German Admiralty to its commanders at sea to have recognized and embodied, as do the naval codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman had a right to depend. It is upon this principle of humanity as well as upon the law founded upon this principle that the United States must stand." Of course the President means to say—he does say—that our interest in this whole affair lies in the fact that Americans were aboard the Lusitania and lost their lives by its being sent to destruction. The only chance for a difference here is as to the right—not in that somewhat vague thing called international law, but in fundamental fact—of these American citizens to be aboard that boat. The President is a stickler for the law, and perhaps he has no other alternative. But it seems to us that the law is wrong at this point. As we see it, in its broader aspect, Elbert Hubbard, for example, absolved the rest of us from responsibility when he went aboard the Lusitania; that's the way the law would read were we writing it. Mr. Bryan should have foreseen just such a crisis as the destruction of the Lusitania presents, and, holding the views he does, he should have asked the president to proclaim this Government's nonresponsibility as to all Americans taking passage on belligerent boats. Had the President, still a stickler for international law, refused to accede to his request, then Mr. Bryan should promptly have resigned and washed his hands of all that should occur. But Mr. Bryan held on, knowing the law and its usual interpretation. He even went so far as to sign a note of protest to Germany on the destruction of the Lusitania. Then all of a sudden he comes to the conclusion that persuasion and not force should be employed on Germany to cause her to desist in future destruction of passenger boats by the submarine method, which allows for no safety for those aboard. Persuasion can not bring the assurance of the maintenance of rights. War will go on until there is universal recognition of the fact that sovereignty is in the individual, and that to each is given certain rights which he can not alienate and can only forfeit by assault on the rights of another. On no other basis can there be universal peace. Persuasion may or may not work in the way we wish it to. The ancient David tried persuasion on Nabal; go read the record. Force never effects a permanent settlement; the wrong of today will cry out for vengeance a thousand years hence. But a general recognition of rights—not something granted, but a thing inherent—will bring universal peace if such be possible.

SOMETHING OF LANSING.

ACTING SECRETARY OF STATE HAS AN ACTIVE LIFE LED.

Robert Lansing, acting secretary of state, was born in Watertown, N. Y., Oct. 17, 1864. He is a graduate of Amherst college. He married Eleanor, the daughter of John W. Foster, diplomat, and secretary of state under President Benjamin Harrison; was counsel for the United States in the Bering sea arbitration; solicitor for the United States Alaskan boundary tribunal; counsel for the North Atlantic coast fisheries; arbitration at The Hague; agent of the United States in American and British claims arbitration; counselor for the department of state from 1912 up to this time. He is vice president of the City National bank of Watertown, connected with a number of societies and associate editor of the American Journal of International Law. He is author of "Government, Its Origin, Growth and Form in the United States." Politically, Mr. Lansing has always been a Democrat.

BRYAN FOR PEACE.

SAYS THAT HE WILL EXPLAIN TO THE PEOPLE HIS PLAN.

In resigning the office of secretary of state Mr. Bryan believes that he will be able to do work that will make for peace. He said in discussing the matter:

"I will do what I can to crystallize the sentiment of the country behind the suggestions that I originally made to the president. As I explained in my letter of resignation, the president did not feel that he could change his position. That was the right way for him to look upon the matter, as he is entirely honest in his belief. "But as a private citizen I can tell the people of the United States why my plan is the better one and the one that must be adopted if the nation is to keep out of this war. That is what I hope to accomplish.

"If I can convince the people of the United States that my plan will aid in preserving the peace they can let that fact be known and then the president can adopt new methods.

"You see, my position was much different from the other members of the cabinet. They voted to approve the note, but I would have to sign it, and I could not sign it when I believed the methods proposed in it were not the methods that I believed should be used. I have been pledged to the principles of arbitration. I do not know whether Germany would have accepted the suggestion if made, but I believe that it should have been made.

It is reported that the editor of the Eden Echo is taking a vacation. And if reports are true it is somewhat in the nature of an enforced vacation and may be indefinite in length. In writing up a wedding he said "The bride is bonny," meaning she was a "bonny" bride.—Brownwood Bulletin.

ENDORSE WILSON.

Senator Charles A. Culberson telegraphed to President Wilson as follows: "I have just read your second note to the German Government, with much satisfaction. It is a notable State paper, particularly in its broad humanity, and I believe will be approved by the people of Texas. Senator Morris Sheppard said:—"The new German note is an excellent presentation of the American contention. Let us hope that it will result in a peaceful settlement of the controversy between the United States and Germany. Teddy Roosevelt says:—"Of course I heartily applaud the decision of the President. I pledge him my heartiest support in all the steps he takes to uphold the honor and the interests of this great republic, which are bound up with the maintenance of democratic liberty and of a wise spirit of humanity among all the nations of mankind."

Ist like I run an' don't res' none
But ist run on when lought to not;
Yes, an' my chin
An' lips's all warpy, an' teeth's so fast,
An' 'sa place in my throat I can't swaller past—
An' they all hurt so!
An' oh, my—oh!
I'm a—startin' ag'in—
I'm a—startin' ag'in, but I won't, fer shore!
Ist ain't goin' to cry no more, no more!

DEATH OF M. M. CALLEN.

On June 14th, another of Colorado's veterans heard the summons to "pass over the river and rest under the shade of the trees," from the Great Commander, and obeyed this last order without a murmur. Each year the summons comes to many and the earthly ranks grow thinner so swiftly that those left behind weep to see those once brave and stalwart men passing. Another decade and there will be few indeed, left to honor.

Marion M. Callan was born in the District of Columbia, near Georgetown February 19, 1841. He enlisted in the Confederate army April 21, 1861, at Alexandria, Va., with the rank of First Lieutenant, in Company H, Seventh Virginia Regiment, Gen. Longstreet's Brigade, Army of Northern Virginia. He was in the battles of Manassas, Williamsburg, and several smaller engagements. Was wounded in the first battle of Manassas, and was honorably discharged in that year and came to Texas. He enlisted in Col. J. E. McCord's regiment on the frontier and remained with it until the close of the war. Mr. Callan was in many encounters with the Indians, and could relate many interesting experiences, when a friend would draw him out on that subject, for he was of a modest and retiring nature. He was seriously wounded by the Comanche Indians in 1864, during a severe engagement. He had in his possession a ring that a comrade cut from the finger of a squaw and by its looks and the initials on it, it was supposed to have been taken from the whites.

Mr. Callan leaves a wife and five children; three sons, two here and one in Del Rio; two daughters, one in Houston, and the other in California. The funeral services were conducted at the family residence Monday afternoon by Rev. G. C. Rafter, and the remains laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mr. Callan was sick for more than a month and for the last two weeks the end was expected at any moment. The Record joins the many friends of the family in extending sincere sympathy in this sad hour.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors who ministered so graciously to us in the sickness and death of our husband and father. May God's richest blessings be ever with you.

Mrs. Alice Callan and Family

Mr. and Mrs. Myrtle Vaughan are off on their summer vacation and are at present in Fort Worth and Dallas, before going to the coast.

U. D. C. MEETING.

The U. D. C. had a very pleasant meeting with Mrs. Allan Soper in her new home, Tuesday afternoon. The roll call was Mississippi heroes, and one member remembered that Colorado had a battle scarred hero from that state, who would gladly have given his life for the cause, Col. Mullin.

The program was on Jefferson Davis and how he compared with Lincoln in life and death.

Mrs. Reese had a paper on the home life of Davis.

Miss Jo Dry gave an interesting reading, "Christmas in the Quarters." All business was finished and all bills were paid, as this was the last meeting till September.

The hostess had prepared a unique contest for a diversion which was much enjoyed. Mrs. Doss and Mrs. Pearce tied as to their ability in solving the greatest number on the list. Ice cream and cake were then served. Mrs. Soper had as her guests Mrs. Howard Pond, Mrs. Eugene Pond, Mrs. Chas. Taylor, Mrs. Kelley, Mrs. Austin, Mrs. Collier, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey and Mrs. J. W. Curry of Lancaster. The September meeting is with Mrs. N. J. Phenix.

DINKER PARTY.

Mrs. Burns honored Miss Looney and her house party with a dinner party last Thursday. Covers were laid for twenty-four. The house party occupied the center table and the other guests were seated at small tables. Cut flowers adorned the tables. After dinner the evening was spent with games and music.

CENTRAL CIRCLE.

The Central Circle of the Methodist church met with Mrs. D. N. Arnett Monday afternoon. After the regular business a full report was given of the Woman's District Conference which recently convened at Memphis, Texas, by Mrs. R. A. Clements, which was instructive and inspiring. Also work for the Christmas Bazaar was begun and plans laid to enlist the entire membership for service. Orange ice and home made cake were served after the business meeting. Mrs. F. B. Whipkey was a guest.

RATTLESNAKE BITE.

One evening last week while Miss Ruby Franklin was working in her flower bed she was bitten on the third finger of the right hand by a rattlesnake, which was secreted under a piece of crockery that was in the bed. Her arm was corded and a physician summoned immediately. For a few days the place was very painful and much swollen, but she is gradually improving. The snake was killed and had three rattles.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET.

The Young Peoples' Missionary Society of the Methodist church met with Miss Eiril King last week. The time was given to planning for the revival meeting, and hearing a report from the District Conference by Mrs. Merritt. Miss Courtney Formwalt and Miss Eula Biggerz of Lubbock were visitors. Ice cream and cake were served at the social hour.

DAY'S OUTING.

Last Friday Mr. J. E. Stowe took his Sunday school class of boys for a day's outing on the river. Their intention was to catch fish, but the bait did not seem to induce the finny tribe to bite, so the ever resourceful young Americans, not to be outdone by such treatment, donned their bathing suits (those that had them) and the others used the kind that nature gave them, and plunged in for a swim. The lunch was fully enjoyed afterwards and a crowded car of tired, blistered, happy boys returned at dusk to tell their mothers what a "dandy time" they had had. They were honored by the presence of their pastor, Bro. Montgomery, who enjoyed the day almost as much as the boys.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Wednesday was Aunt Kate Pugh's ninety-eighth birthday and she celebrated with an old fashioned dinner at twelve o'clock. The company was composed of the old neighbors who formerly lived in the Seven Wells community, many of them the children whom Aunt Kate had nursed and cared for through their various childish ailments. The Wulfjens, Ruddicks, Arnolds and later friends and neighbors were present to enjoy the good things prepared by her daughter, Mrs. Fulkerson, and to talk over old times. The blessing was asked by Bro. Clements whose parents were neighbors of Mrs. Pugh's before she came west. Then the home grown vegetables, delicious chicken, boiled ham, roasted pork, salads, jellies, pies, cakes, fruits and ice cream were done ample justice to.

There were twenty-seven who ate dinner and still good things remained in the kitchen. Before the company left Bro. Clements read the 23rd Psalm and prayed for her who had lived so long and been indeed a friend and a neighbor to those who, in other days had needed just such an one.

Many good things to eat and dainty articles for her own use were brought by Aunt Kate's friends, who hope to celebrate with her more birthdays and finally be neighbors with her in Heaven.

REVIVAL SERVICES.

The revival services conducted by Rev. Mr. Wright, are still in progress at the tabernacle. Brother Wright is a deep, spiritual man and has experienced the Grace of God in his heart and "can speak of the things he has heard and seen." The congregations increase from service to service. He has preached along the line of prayer for several sermons—"Answered Prayer," "Unanswered Prayer," and "Why Our Prayers are Not Answered." Also two serious and inspiring sermons on "What it Costs to be a Christian," and "What it Cost not to be a Christian." Tonight he tells of his work among the Indians, to the children, before the sermon. The singing will be led by the children. All are most cordially invited to these services. The meeting will continue for some days yet.

HANDS OFF SAYS VILLA

IN ANSWER TO THE NOTE OF WARNING LATELY SENT.

DENIES STATEMENT ASSERTED

Insists There is Neither Starvation Nor Anarchy and Puts the Blame for the Continued Strife Strictly Upon Carranza.

Warning to the United States government not to interfere in Mexico's internal affairs, denying the anarchy and starvation alleged in President Wilson's note on Mexico, General Villa's reply, presented the president Saturday at Washington by Enrique C. Lorente, who is the personal representative of Villa, blames Gen. Carranza for the civil warfare. He emphatically says that "false ideas of mercenary purposes diffused by those who sought to retain power indefinitely without laws, without courts and without discipline of any kind," resulted in the split after Carranza and Villa overthrew Huerta.

The immediate cause of the break with Carranza, Villa's reply says, was the Constitutional chief's refusal to take the presidency ad interim and call a general election to organize a constitutional civil government. Carranza held out for a military government, said Villa.

He declares "it is not true that misery is the universal portion of the people; that the fields are not cultivated; that crops have been destroyed and that famine confronts the nation."

Reply of Carranza.

General Carranza's reply to President Wilson's Mexican declaration was received at the state department Saturday. It was in the form of a proclamation issued by Carranza at Vera Cruz. It makes a bid for recognition by the United States; asserts that the Constitutionalists practically control Mexico and contains assurances that Carranza will call a regular election and turn over his power to the president chosen. The document contains about 3,000 words.

Pioneer Ranchman Dies.

W. B. Worsham, a pioneer ranchman and banker dropped dead at his residence in Henrietta, Tex. He was seventy-two years old and interested in various Texas enterprises. He possessed 25,000 acres in Wilbarger county and his estate is estimated at about $3,000,000. A widow, a son and one daughter survive.

Second Conviction.

Sam Bell, a prominent cattleman, was found guilty at Morrilton, Ark., of murder in the first degree of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Earl Beardon. Jury was out two and a half days. Two weeks before Bell was sentenced to life imprisonment for killing the woman's husband. He is also charged with killing Mrs. Beardon's parents.

Expiree on Train.

The body of Mrs. E. M. Bledsoe, a passenger, was found in the toilet of a Santa railway train near Temple. A pistol with one bullet gone was found near by her. She was en route with her husband from Galveston to Slayton, New Mexico.

Reached Ripe Age.

Dr. J. S. Riley, an uncle of James Whitcomb Riley, the celebrated Indiana poet, died at Denton, Tex., at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. T. E. Berry. He was 101 years old, a resident of Cooke county and a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars.

Over in the Philippines the Carabao is the general beast of burden. For all kinds of hauling this short-legged, long-horned buffalo is used.

It is more than a mere coincidence that the principal brand used with the Red-Star-Green-T oils in the Philippines is a picture of this animal with its name "Carabao."

To the native of these islands the Carabao represents service, valuable service continuously performed in many ways. What the horse was to the Texas ranchman in the early days, the Carabao is to the Philippine native.

To Texaco products are pictured to the native by the Carabao, indicating the service and its character, the quality and its usefulness. The same quality and service are available for you in your town under the Red-Star-Green-T emblem of Texaco fame. Ask for them.

LOBAINE NEWS ITEMS.

Mr. H. M. Perry has returned from a business trip to San Antonio.

Messrs. W. H. Anderson of Hermleigh and son were here Tuesday and were joined by S. W. Altman and went on to Ballinger on a business trip.

Mr. T. F. Wolf representative of the Dallas News was busy here this week.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. C. B. Reeder honored Miss Baker, the bride of the week with a shower. Only the immediate friends and neighbors were present and at the appointed hour arrived. After some time had been spent in social chat and pleasantries Miss Baker was ushered in and seated in a chair which sat under a pretty white bell. Soon a knock at the door was answered and Misses Norman and Hurd entered carrying a huge basket of gifts which they deposited at the feet of the bride, who, in her sweet and gracious manner soon opened and enjoyed the many dainty things prepared by loving friends. Refreshments of sandwiches, olives and ice tea were served.

Messrs. S. D. Dunnahoo and family and M. D. Cranfill and wife and Mrs. R. Standifer and children; Misses Irene Garland; and Isophene Toler and Mrs. Nance motored up to Sweetwater Sunday to attend the Ham-Ramsey revival.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Petty and children of Abilene came up Saturday and visited over Sunday. Mrs. H. Toler accompanied them home for a weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Henthorn and daughter are here this week visiting his grandparents. Mr. Henthorn is off duty on account of having a bad accident to one eye caused by a ball retainer of an automobile springing out and striking it.

Mrs. Clements and son went down to Baird Saturday to the answer of a telegram calling Mrs. Clements to the bedside of her sister who was dangerously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. White returned to their home at Avoca after visiting their children here for two weeks.

Messrs. Tim Garland and Willie Martin motored to Sweetwater Sunday for a few hours.

MILLIONS THRONGING TO THE GREAT PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

Now Is the Time to Visit America's Huge Panama Canal Celebration at San Francisco; Be There When the Liberty Bell Arrives, July 16th; Marvelous Exhibits From All Corners of the Globe on Display.

MINIATURE BATTLESHIP BLOWN UP AND MINE EXPLOSION INTERESTING FEATURES IN TWO EXHIBITION PALACES

Amazing Voice Amplifier and Other Wonders of the World's Progress at the Great Panama-Pacific Canal Celebration—This Year the Year of All Years to Take Marvel Journey to the Pacific Coast.

FROM every part of the world visitors are thronging to the great Exposition at San Francisco. The Exposition there is the most comprehensive and interesting of all universal expositions, and it will probably be the last to be held within the present generation. Now is the time to see it.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition, which opened on Feb. 20 last, has charmed the millions who have already beheld the magic city by the Golden Gate.

The marvels of the universe are displayed in the vast exhibit palaces, affording the most comprehensive summary of the world's progress ever disclosed. Many of the exhibits are as revolutionary in their character and mean as much to future generations as did the locomotive or telegraph when it was first introduced.

The Audion amplifier, for example, makes it possible for a man in New York city to deliver an address through the telephone to a large audience in San Francisco, 3,000 miles away. Through the use of heat waves the intensity of the voice vibrations is increased to such an extent that, although the orator may deliver his address in a low voice into the telephone in New York, in San Francisco it is possible to increase the sound in volume sufficient to fill a large hall. On the other hand, the New York speaker's address may be distributed through telephonic receiving disks attached to each chair in the hall in San Francisco. In one of the exhibit palaces visitors may, without charge, hear a man in New York read from the headlines of the New York newspapers. This performance begins in the Palace of Liberal Arts each day at 3 o'clock.

The amazing voice amplifier is but one of many revolutionary scientific advances demonstrated at the Exposition. The invention has made possible the transcontinental telephone, and the principle which is applied has not been developed to its fullest extent. It is said that with the probable development of the long distance wireless telephone this new invention will make it possible to project the human voice halfway around the globe without the use of a telephone wire. Contrast the era sixty-five years ago, when the pioneer required months to cross the plains, with that of today, when the orator in New York may address his audience in San Francisco.

And there are many other developments as wonderful and as revolutionary, all revealing the trend of the world's progress in the arts, sciences and industries. If you are interested in mining, for example, beneath the floor of the vast Palace of Mines you may find a mine in operation, with its stoves and tunnels and shafts and compressed air drills. Wait a moment and you may witness an explosion in the mine. A gong rings; an ambulance dashes up with a corps of rescuers provided with respiratory apparatus, and effects a rescue.

In the Palace of Machinery you may see a miniature battleship blown up by a miniature mine patterned after one of the latest types of the submarine mine. In the Palace of Education you will see classes of students engaged in their studies, and perhaps you may be able to see Mme. Montessori, the celebrated Italian teacher, instructing classes of children. A great purpose of the Exposition is to show not only results and finished products, but the methods, processes and principles by which results are achieved. In the exhibit palaces and state buildings motion pictures are freely employed with this object in view. There are forty-three free cinematograph shows upon the Exposition grounds, and, by the way, there is no charge to enter the exhibit palaces. Once you have entered the Exposition grounds all the displays of the states and nations are spread before you. In the great Australian Pavilion and in the Palace of Manufactures gem cutters are to be seen at work, while exhibitions of a model postoffice, of a paint manufacturing machine, of a broom manufacturing in operation, of an automobile manufacturing factory, with an almost endless succession of other operating machines, illustrate the advance in industrial processes. Man is becoming more and more a master of the machine, with the electrical current as the intermediary to lighten the burden of personal supervision.

If you are interested in what the foreign nations have accomplished you have only to visit the marvelous displays of the European countries or of those of the Orient or South America, Canada or Australia. Among the French displays you may, if you wish, behold priceless works of art never before exhibited in America and which at the Exposition find sanctuary from the ravages of war.

ALL AMERICA ON EXHIBITION THIS YEAR; RAILROADS GRANT LOW ROUND TRIP RATES TO SEE UNIVERSE'S MARVELS

Privileges of Routing Never Before Offered—Hotel Rates Average Less Than Those of Other Great Cities and 125,000 Rooms Available in Hotels and Apartment Houses in San Francisco.

THERE is something helpful and inspiring for every one at the Exposition. Said Vice President Marshall recently: "Whoever can, even at a sacrifice of something which for the moment appears necessary, should come to see a real work of art never equaled, even by a mirage. If there be any one in America with a thirst for knowledge and for beauty and a longing for a liberal education, such a one can obtain it here."

"This is the university of the world. It has a chair fully endowed to meet the wants and needs of each. The eye, the ear, the mind, the heart, the soul, each may have its horizon here enlarged. I came to bear a message; I remain to become a student; I leave the feet of this Gamaliel of all expositions with regret." And Miss Helen Keller, who, as all know, is both blind and deaf, having acquired the faculty of speech, although she has never heard any one speak, said of her visit to the Exposition that it was the most inspiring period of her life. Said Dr. Frederick J. V. Skiff: "Here the world is shown in epitome. The visitor from whatever realm here enters into his native land."

Apart from its costly and comprehensive displays, the great Exposition is an inspiration in itself. In its architectural beauty the Panama-Pacific International Exposition surpasses any of its predecessors. At night the great Tower of Jewels stands out satin-white, sparkling with a thousand changing colors, as batteries of searchlights play upon this pyramidal monument, the loftiest structure at the Exposition and as tall as the average thirty-five story city block. The coloring of the Exposition, the decorative lighting at night, the sculpture and the landscaping are all the work of foremost men in their respective fields.

At this writing the great Exposition is under full swing, and if you have not already made plans to see it early you should do so at once. Now is the time to visit the Exposition and the great Pacific coast region and, in so doing, to take advantage of the opportunity to make the most wonderful journey in the world in the most wonderful country on earth, the United States of America, under more favorable conditions of routing and travel than have ever prevailed before. The railroads are reducing rates from every part of America, and the low round trip rates will enable the visitor to come by one route and return by another. Thus you see the same parts of the country but once, and both your going and returning journeys are new and distinct travel trips.

Hot weather is unknown in San Francisco. Although flowers bloom the year round, it is as cool in summer as in winter, the average temperature being about 60 degrees. When you reach San Francisco you will, of course, wish to find accommodations without unnecessary delay, and while you will find some accommodations necessarily much more expensive than others, you will be able to secure a room at a dollar a day and up. Indeed, one can find all sorts of rooms in the great city of San Francisco, which in reality is a much greater center than the census would indicate, since, with its neighboring cities around San Francisco bay, it forms a group of cities with a population of almost 1,000,000 persons. Hotel rates in San Francisco are no more than they are in any other great city in the United States. As a help to visitors the Exposition maintains the Exposition Hotel Bureau, an official activity which is conducted with the co-operation and assistance of a committee of representative hotel men of San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley. This Hotel Bureau has no purpose other than to serve the public. It is not a profit making institution. If you want full particulars as to accommodations address the Official Exposition Hotel Bureau, Flannery building, Market and Kearny streets, San Francisco. In writing, it would be well to state how many there are in your party and how long you desire to stay.

There are accommodations for all in the great city by the Golden Gate, and one need only glance through the classified columns of the San Francisco papers to find how great is the variety of the accommodations offered, while a ride through the rebuilt city will show hundreds and hundreds of hotels and apartment houses, all constructed within the past eight years.

So do not fail to see the Exposition early. The journey there is a journey through the most interesting country in the world, and when you have reached the Exposition you will find the whole world spread out before you. The greatest geniuses of the age and the greatest nations of the world have contributed the earth's supremest achievements, and a visit to the Exposition is not only an education, but an inspiration.

WHEN A QUARTER OF A MILLION OF PEOPLE INAUGURATED THE VAST PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AT SAN FRANCISCO

Transportation reports show that every state in the United States and most of the nations of the world were represented in the great throng of 250,000 people who inaugurated the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco on February 20. This picture, showing the mighty South gardens, gives a glimpse of a small fraction of the opening day throng. In the first five days of its progress the exposition had an attendance larger than the combined totals of the Chicago and St. Louis expositions and the ratio continues in a degree to justify predictions of the most spectacular success for the exposition.

THE MIGHTY COURT OF THE UNIVERSE, THE HUB OF THE ARCHITECTURAL SCHEME AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION

All visitors to the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco at some time during their stay at the exposition make their pilgrimage through the Court of the Universe. This is the largest court on the grounds and is the central radiating unit of the architectural and ground plans. Noble sculptured groups embellish it, the two Homeric groups—the Nations of the East and the Nations of the West—surmounting the giant arches at the east and west portals. By night the beauty of the court is enhanced by the flood lighting effects.

Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall's Exposition Message to the Nation

The Vice-President of the United States, after spending five days at the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, indited the following message to the people of the nation containing his appreciation of the great fair:

"The steps of my life seem to have been marked by national expositions. My young manhood began with the Centennial, maturity was marked by the Columbian and Louisiana Purchase, and now the sunset years bring me to this marvel of the Republic upon the shores of the sunset seas. So often have I thought I saw the Pillars of Hercules inscribed with their 'ne plus ultra' that I hesitate to say that I have reached them. But they who build this Panama-Pacific International Exposition were so wise in adopting all the good features and avoiding those which marred the preceding ones, that to me it seems as near perfection as the mind and hand of man have ever wrought.

"Whoever can, even at a sacrifice of something which for the moment appears necessary, should come to see a real work of art never equaled, even by a mirage. If there be anyone in America with a thirst for knowledge and for beauty and a longing for a liberal education, such an one can here obtain it.

"This is the University of the world. It has a chair fully endowed to meet the wants and needs of each. The eye, the ear, the mind, the heart, the soul, each may have its horizon here enlarged. I came to bear a message; I remain to become a student; I leave the feet of this Gamaliel of all expositions with regret.

THOMAS R. MARSHALL."

PICKENS & REEDER

BIG RANCH AND CATTLE DEAL INVOLVES BIG SUM.

W. D. Reynolds of Fort Worth bought Tom Trammell's ranch in Scurry and Borden counties last week, for $157,800. This ranch comprises 10,000 acres, the price per acre being $15.

Reynolds also bought the famous Trammell herd consisting of 1,037 registered Hereford cattle, at the record breaking price of $100 per head, counting calves. The cattle deal alone amounted to $103,700, the entire sale, therefore reaching $261,000. The deals were made by Temple Dickinson & Modlin. In part payment for this Reynolds transfers to Trammell the three story Trader's National Bank building on Houston street for $75,000 and Printer's Row 75x65 feet on Throckmorton for $50,000. The rest was paid in cash.

The Trammell herd of cattle is one of the best known in Texas, and the price paid the highest ever recorded in the state. At the head of this herd are twenty-one bulls, all bred in the purple and fine in individual form and weight. The weight of these bulls runs from 1800 to 2600.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

This is Mr. Trammell's ranch in Borden and Scurry counties, known as the "9-R" ranch and has been in Mr. Trammell's possession for thirty years and was stocked with 1037 head of full blooded registered Hereford cattle. The price of $100 per head is the highest price ever paid for any bunch of cattle in Texas. This included four hundred head of calves. Some were under one week old. From this ranch Mr. Trammell sold 360 calves last spring at $65 per head.

UNIVERSITY ISSUES BULLETIN ON FARM TENANCY.

A 150-page bulletin, profusely illustrated with maps and diagrams, entitled "Studies in Farm Tenancy in Texas" has just been published by the University of Texas.

This bulletin deals not only with the relation of renter to landlord but also traces the growth and development of tenancy in the state, the rise of the "bonus system", and the pernicious influence of tenancy upon our public schools. It shows that one-crop farming and tenancy go together. Closely connected with these are the lack of personal property on the part of the tenant, decrease in live stock production, and soil depletion. It discusses the sources of credit, the high rate of interest, and the chattle mortgage and their relation to the present type of farming.

The constructive suggestions are: compulsory education, better rural schools with courses dealing with farm life; a Land Commission to acquire land for renter with conditions among tenants, and the tenants with renting conditions over the state. This commission would act in the same capacity as some of our city labor commissions which try to prevent unemployment. The cooperative movement is also suggested, supplemented by certain kinds of constructive legislation.

This bulletin is published by the Division of Public Welfare of the Extension Department, of the University of Texas and may be obtained free by writing to the Department of Extension, Austin, Texas.

FAIR WILL EXHIBIT REMARKABLE CLOCK

Weighing 6,000 pounds, consisting of fifteen thousand parts and displaying twenty-six separate and distinct mechanical and astronomical movements and valued at $50,000, are some of the features of a wonderful clock to be exhibited at the State Fair of Texas this fall. The exhibit will be essentially educational in line with the State Fair policy.

One wonderful feature of this unique exhibit is that all of the various mechanical workings are propped by one weight. Four different kinds of time systems are shown—mean time, solar time, star time and decimal time. Ten dials show the exact time in ten of the principal cities of the world. A large globe, representing the earth, revolves on its own axis from west to east. It has a band placed which shows the exact time at any point on earth; and shows the correct position of the earth to the sun. On the reverse side is another globe representing the heavenly constellations, all minutely propelled to their exact time. Among other features, the clock shows various chronological cycles, the time when the sun rises and sets, the phases of the moon, gives accurate weather indications, shows all phases of the planet system and the movement of the six planets around the sun. It shows also the twelve signs of the zodiac, divided into 360 degrees. It has a wonderful announcing and striking apparatus, and its exhibition will be accompanied by lectures which will be highly educational and interesting.

Meanwhile the dove of peace believes that somebody is rocking the nest.

OPERA HOUSE MOVIES.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific by the Panama Canal, Monday June 21.

Paramount Travel Picture, third series, takes in the unusual along the route of the Big Ditch.

The Panama Canal has been photographed before by motion picture men but not completely. This is the first ocean to ocean trip a camera man has been able to make on shipboard. Aside from the almost universal interest in the greatest engineering feat of modern times, there is a keen desire on the part of everyone to see where the millions of dollars of the people's money went. It does not tax the imagination greatly to figure it out when one sees the great Culebra cut. There is only one way to see it better than looking at this Paramount Travel picture; that is an actual trip on a steamer. The sides of this cut are so high and steep that they are constantly slipping and sliding, and huge dipper dredges or steam shovels are constantly at work keeping this portion of the canal navigable. It might have been well, perhaps, to start in with the old city of Panama and show the ruins of the city, destroyed by Sir Henry Morgan and his crew of pirates, in 1671. These ruins, while remarkably picturesque in parts are after all merely ruins and look exactly like those of the old Phelps estate in New Jersey. There would be nothing unusual in such a picture. Besides, this much has been done before and done well and therefore it is not in the Paramount scheme of things.

All there is in a country even as small as the canal zone could not be covered in one reel. Hence we have confined our efforts to the Big Ditch. The new passenger steamer "Northern Pacific" which is to be put into San Francisco-Portland service, is shown entering the Pedro Miguel Locks. The huge electric traction engines, termed by the soldiers in the Canal Zone "Uncle Sam's Mules" are shown running up the incline and towing the ship through the lock. Soldiers are seen lining the walls, waving to the passengers on shipboard. To date there have been a considerable number of Uncle Sam's troopers quartered in the Canal Zone. As the ship passes along the lens of the camera is turned from side to side, taking in the points of interest enroute.

One of the many sanitary villages is shown, constructed by the United States government to house its employees. The camera is then taken up into the crow's nest of the ship, and as we approach Gatun, the famous locks come into view from this elevation. The lake is seen in the distance, and this portion of the picture gives a good idea of the immensity of the project. Probably the most remarkable section of the Paramount Canal picture is the spillway at Gatun, which keeps the water in the lake at a proper level. Many natural cataract, considered beautiful, is not half so picturesque as this artificial one. In the picture the flood gates are opened gradually and as the volume of the flood increases, a surging torrent rises from the break-water and mounts higher and higher until it resembles a huge electric fountain.

At Miraflores the locks are much the same as those which have been shown before, merely a glimpse is shown in passing.

The interior of the Control Station here, is shown also, and it is interesting to see how the engineers in charge are kept constantly posted on the exact level of the water throughout the entire system. Also, the position of each boat which enters the canal.

On reaching Panama at the Pacific terminus, the panorama of the city of Panama is shown. The city has had considerable "mushroom" growth, and if one examines this section of the picture carefully, it is plainly noticeable. This release is concluded with a timely animated cartoon by Mr. C. R. Macauley formerly of the New York World.

This picture, besides the regular and interesting program will be shown at the Opera House Movies, Monday, June 21, matinee and night. There will be no advance in price of admission.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. BLUE LODGE MEETING.

Stated meeting Saturday night June 26th. New officers in charge.

J. W. BIRD, W. M.

MONEY TO LEND.

Have plenty of money to lend on farms and ranches in Mitchell and near-by counties. Loans are gotten through very promptly.—G. B. Harness Colorado, Texas. 6-11c

Citizens of Colorado should not forget that the West Texas Log Rolling Association of the W. O. W. meets here on the 19th and 20th of August. A large delegation will be present and must be entertained. Bear this in mind and let Colorado give them a royal welcome and a good time.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER.

Many Colorado Women are Learning the Cause.

Women often suffer, not knowing the cause. Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness.

Irregular urinary passages, weakness, languor— Each a torture of itself.

Together hint at weakened kidneys. Strike at the root—get to the cause. Quick help the kidneys if they need it. No other remedy more highly endorsed than Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here's convincing testimony from this locality.

Mrs. J. V. West, Merkel, Texas, says: "An attack of grip several years ago left my kidneys disordered, causing severe pain. As Doan's Kidney Pills had been taken with good results in my family, I used one box. They reached the seat of the trouble, completely curing me and I have had no return attacks."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. West had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

You Think You Like Ice Tea

No doubt you do—but if you really want to find out how much you can like ice tea, drink the kind that's made with

White Swan Tea

It's so much better than what you're thinking of now—cold tea with ice in it—that you'd not know it for the same beverage. You'll like it for its rich flavor, its smoothness, its deliciousness sell White Swan Tea—four sizes in air-tight tins—10c, 25c, 40c and 75c. Should your grocer be one of the very few who don't carry it, send us 75c for a pound—sent postpaid.

Most All Grocers
