ONE KILLED BY AUTO

While Two Other Occupants of the Car Were Painfully Hurt Tuesday Morning

W. E. Know, of Runge, Texas, lost his life as the result of an auto accident one and one-half miles northwest of this city about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The car overturned on the sharp curve at the southwest corner of the U. S. experiment farm and pinned the occupants underneath the car. With Mr. Knox at the time of the accident were his sister, Mrs. Knight, of Ballinger, Texas, and his daughter, Mrs. L. W. Franks, of Beeville, Texas, and they were en route to Lockney, Texas, to visit relatives.—Big Springs Herald.

WILSON NOT TOO HOPEFUL

Washington, July 24.—President Wilson before going away told friends that they must not represent him as being too hopeful in the German situation. Whether this is his real attitude or was done for diplomatic reasons is unknown.

15,000,000 FOR WAR SUPPLIES

Pottsville, Va., July 22.—Announcement was made here tonight that the Nitratred Product Company had closed a $5,000,000 contract for gun cotton and other nitrated explosives to be delivered to New York agents of the allies.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 22.—An order for gun or rifle barrels which will total $3,000,000 or $10,000,000 has been received by the Peerless Motor Car Company of Cleveland, it is reliably reported here tonight.

Gaston county, North Carolina, had twenty-six distilleries in operation before state-wide prohibition. Now they are gone, and in their places are forty-seven textile plants, employing over 7,000 men. So much for one county.—Voice.

ONE NEGRO IS DEAD AS RESULT OF KNIFE-GUN FIGHT

Frank Holden Is Dead and Mark Organ Is Badly Wounded While Gus Wells Is in Jail

Frank Holden is dead, Mark Organ is under the care of doctors and Gus Wells is in jail as a result of a three-angled fight which took place here at about 7 o'clock Friday morning. All the parties are negroes.

Mark Organ and Frank Holden engaged in a knife fight in front of a little negro residence just north of the Alamo, a negro resort in the vicinity of the oil mill, on Ash street. With an ordinary pocketknife Organ made one stab at Holden and ripped open his chest over the diaphragm, cutting that muscle, tearing through some lung cells, ripping the stomach and probably gashing the heart. Holden staggered northward holding to the fence for support and died at a spot about ten feet from where the fence turns east.

Mark Holden and Frank Organ entered the Alamo North Third and entered the Alamo North Meat Market, in the Radford building, just across from the post-office. Gus Wells, half brother of the dead negro, followed Organ to the market, pulled open the screen door and opened fire with a .38 calibre pistol.

Organ grabbed B. F. Pearson, who was waiting at the market for an order to be filled, and tried to use him for a shield. But in spite of this Organ was the only one struck by the flying bullets. It is believed that only one bullet struck him. This passed through the fleshy part of the right breast, just above the nipple and ranged across the body downward, lodging in the left side just under the skin.

Two of the bullets went through the plaster on the west wall of the market and a third clipped off piece of plaster. One bullet struck the glass in the door and shattered a round hole in it the flying fragments striking the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Vickery, who was a customer at the market and was standing behind the door. The flying glass cut her forehead, inflicting painful but not serious wounds which bled profusely. The bullet ricocheted, according to the belief of those who examined the place, and broke a hole in the glass without passing through it. One of the bullet holes in the plaster was about a foot from the door, the second was a little higher, and the place where the ricocheting bullet hit was about four feet from the door. It was about four feet from the floor.

H. D. Gilbert and Otis Nell, employees of the market, B. F. Pearson and Miss Vickery were in the market at the time and how they escaped with their lives is a mystery. Mr. Pearson's escape was particularly remarkable, as he was used as a shield by the frightened and yelling Organ negro.

The negro Wells then walked back to "negro town." Assistant Chief of Police R. O. Anthony and Sanitary Officer W. T. Odor went to a house in the vicinity of the first fight and placed Wells under arrest. He still had the gun in his hand, they said, and had a beer bottle half filled with booze in the other. He said he was ready to go to jail and went without a protest.

COLORADO VS. SWEETWATER

This heading needs amendment to the extent that there wasn't any VER-SUS to it. The Colorado team played ball, while the Sweetwater visitors supported the roles of mildly interested spectators. In short the games on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons were nothing less than a Sweetwater slaughter for a Colorado holiday.

But levity aside, the visitors were no sort of match for the local talent. The Sweetwater boys were outclassed and left at the starter's post. They did the best they could, and their epitaph should read like that of "Three-Fingered Jack," who "done his very damnest."

The score on Tuesday afternoon was 10 to 0, while on Wednesday afternoon it was 12 to the same thing—nothing to speak of.

The attendance on both games was fairly good, and we understand that Manager Irwin is much encouraged over the results. The visitors were a well-behaved and gentlemanly bunch, and the Record hopes another series of games may be arranged between the two clubs before the end of the season.

Next week will witness on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons a series of games between Colorado and Anson, which latter club is reputed to be a crack one.

SAVE US OR WE PERISH IS MEXICO'S PLEA

Shops Are Looted, People Killed and Thousands Starve—Without Water

Mexico City, July 27.—Conditions in the capital today border on the desperate. Thousands of the hungry wander about the streets searching for food, which is not obtainable because the merchants refuse to take paper money. American residents are sending an appeal to Washington.

Gen. Gonzala's decree nullifying the $50,000,000 in circulation when he entered the city has not been followed by an issue of new currency. Yesterday mobs of women paraded the streets, looting bakeries, markets and pastry shops until they were dispersed by streams of water from fire hose.

Gen. Vilela and seven other Zapata officers were executed yesterday on charges of rebellion. Governor Herrera, his staff and a number of other officers are awaiting court martial on the same charges.

Fighting in the Suburbs

The American relief committee is unable to relieve the distress of starving Mexicans and needy Americans, although it has thousands of dollars, because it can not buy food, oil or other necessities, because of the scarcity and the uncertainty of the money situation. Virtually all places of business are closed. The city is full of rumors concerning the approach of Villa and Zapata forces, and there has been almost continuous fighting in the suburbs.

Appeal to Washington

A mass meeting of the representatives of foreign colonies was held today and an appeal for relief and protection was issued to the government and to the people of the United States. The appeal, which will be forwarded to Washington, says in part:

"A committee representing American residents of Mexico City appeals to the government and people of the United States for relief and protection on behalf of all foreign residents in Mexico and the great majority of Mexicans who are suffering indescribable hardships through prevalent conditions of want, disorder and violence.

Relate Tale of Misery

"President Wilson's recent warning to the Mexican leaders that their differences must be composed within a very short time" has gone unheeded and conditions are steadily growing worse. No Red Cross supplies except medicines have arrived here. Even people with money can not buy food. There has been looting of markets, and shops and restaurants, deaths from the fire of the soldiers. The city's supply of water is shut off. Countless thousands are suffering from hunger, supplies are cut off, commerce and industries are paralyzed. Stores have been closed for a week awaiting announcement as to money acceptable.

"Fresh reports have been received by the committee of murders, robberies and outrages against foreigners as well as Mexicans throughout the country. In despair we again appeal for relief for suffering, starving, Mexico, powerless to save herself in the agony of destruction by her own unworthy offspring, supplied with arms and ammunition from the United States, the country to which unarmed Mexico looks for salvation."

Agent Crowder is moving with most commendable zeal and celerity in the matter of submitting his ideas and estimates of the railroad park to the higher-ups. He showed the Record the plans he had drawn, showing water connections and the relation to all the railroad's property. These plans Mr. Crowder will send to the engineering department of the road, which will pass upon them and in turn send them up to the powers that bring things to pass and pay the freight. The Record feels much encouraged over the prospect of Colorado having two neat and attractive little parks at the passenger station in the near future. We always believed the T. & P. had at the bottom of its corporate heart the aesthetic interests of its patrons.

Now is the time or never, for Colorado to square itself on the hotel proposition. If first-class accommodations are not provided the traveling public, the town will soon be cut out of their route. It has come to be a matter of civic pride as much as of individual interest. What will we do with it?

REPORT EXCEPTIONAL CROPS IN SOUTHWEST

College Station, Texas, July 24.—Four teams of field workers in the extension department of the Agricultural and Mechanical College have just returned from holding short courses or movable schools of three days each at about twenty points in South and Central Texas and the leaders report very great interest, good attendance and apparent satisfaction to the farmers and their wives with the work done in stock judging and teaching dairying, poultry raising, canning, cooking, etc. The teams were so arranged as to provide lectures for both the farmers and the farmers' wives.

In two or three places exceptional conditions of the seasons and the crops caused a comparatively small attendance, but for the most part the halls were filled with practical farmers eager to learn.

These teams will remain at the college for the next two weeks to participate in the full week or short course here beginning July 26, the Farmers' Congress beginning August 2, and the good roads convention the last three days of that week. On the 8th of August the teams will again take the road for short courses of three days each at about twenty other points in North and West Texas.

Reports made by county demonstration agents throughout the state reflect on the whole a very satisfactory condition of crops, a large supply of feed and a healthy condition of the cotton crop. The boll weevil has been doing considerable damage in many places, but his ravages have been somewhat lessened during the last few days on account of the dry weather.

A significant statement made from many points in the grain belt is that the farmers are building granaries and are holding their grain in full confidence of better prices. Another significant statement made from many points is that the farmers are joining the business men in the construction of bonded warehouses for the storing and gradual marketing of their cotton.

SEEING THE GREAT FAIR

A Colorado Visitor Gives an Interesting Account of Her Visit.

Leaving Colorado June the 7th, on a late train, which is characteristic of the T. & P. when one wishes it on time. Arriving at El Paso on the 8th, visiting many places of interest, including Fort Bliss, and Juarez, Mexico, through the old mission built in 1549, still in good preservation. A guide in broken English explained everything in detail, taking us up the tower where we had a fine view of Juarez and El Paso. We were allowed to purchase one dollar's worth and take across without paying duty. I invested this amount in three handkerchiefs which will cost one dollar each out of Mexico. We next stopped for two days in Albuquerque, meeting old friends and seeing a beautiful city. We were anxious to hurry and satisfy our dreams of the Grand Canyon.

Neither dreams nor word picture can describe its beauty. This property, I understand, belongs to the Santa Fe, which has erected a quarter million dollar hotel, called the Hotel El Tovar, named after Don Pedro de Tovar, leader of Coronado's expedition in 1540 and conquered what is known as the Hopi land. This hotel is built of native boulders and fine logs from Organ. Its architecture is in perfect harmony with its surroundings. The name, Grand Canyon, has been given by way of crowning distinction of the Colorado river midway in Arizona. It is one mile deep and from ten to thirteen miles wide, and is thronged with hundreds of brilliantly colored mountainous bulks whose summit rises only to the level of the plain, and is endlessly varied in design, painted by nature in every color known to the heart's palette. It is a miracle of geological revelation. It never seems to present the same impression of color or form. A vision of the canyon at sunset is one of its marvels. All its colors are intensified and burn like coals. When the low sun glances the red sandstone masses, oceans of rose-flamed brilliancy sweep up the walls and all seem ablaze with ruby and garnet. After the sky colors have faded you will pause and look again, as the bottom grows vague and misty and is changed to a soft grape purple. At night the canyon is an abyss of shadows and mystery. On the brink of this great chasm is a skyline high way nine miles long, making it level, and is kept dustless, is wide and safe, with a low protecting wall of rock on the outside. Along this are comfortable seats, where one will sit and gaze for hours. Here you can see a small village which looks like small bits of paper. But with the aid of our field glasses we discovered the houses and gardens. From Lookout, which is a rough stone observation house, equipped with a large binocular telescope in the tower, we could observe the most distant reaches of the canyon and could see the onions in bloom in this garden below. A short distance from the Hotel El Tovar is the Hopi House, an irregular three-story stone structure, plastered with adobe. It is an exact reproduction of a Hopi Indian pueblo, the most primitive Indian in America. Hopi is contracted from Hopi-tu, meaning peaceful ones. On top of the first story of this irregular roof I saw some Indians and began to ascend. After climbing several steps an Indian woman called out in plain English, "Don't come up here, we are eating." I paused for a minute. She said: "We never look on you eating." Seeing she was very much annoyed I thought best not to satisfy my curiosity, and sought the interior presided over by Americans, which is a specimen of Indian and Mexican handicraft, some sales rooms and other with sacred altars. Outside this we saw a little hut open, I thought it would be such a treat to look in, but a little Indian girl on the alert, quickly passed in and locked the door in our faces. These Indians know how to tan, spin, weave and make baskets, also an excellent semi-glazed pottery, this you can see sitting everywhere to dry. They have the Auga Kacina dance to produce rain and secure abundant crops. In this dance the leading priests give signals for singing and dancing, constantly sprinkling with sacred meal, others act as clowns and wear horns for the entertainment of spectators, with all kinds of comical performances while this sacred dance is in progress. These ceremonies are centuries old.

From this city boulevard in the wilderness we returned to Williams. Here we were shown through the saw mills, seeing the logs from the forest finished into dressed lumber. From here we were two days in the desert, stopping over night at Needles. The highest place in the universe. The Santa Fe has provided splendid hotels of reinforced concrete. Also recreation halls, otherwise I think one would perish in this desert.

Our next stop was San-Barnidino. Here we saw the first real beauties of California, and on to Pasadena, the queen of all beauty. In this city is the famous Millionaire, Rowy with hundreds of fine mansions and residences. On this drive we passed the house and grounds where Helen Hunt Jackson wrote "Ramona." This beautiful winding driveway gives one a most wonderful view of loveliness, amid varieties of trees and beautiful flowers.

We stopped at the famous Busch's Sunken Gardens, covering every portion of this wonderful landscape art, with a fine view of the snow capped mountains for a background. Here is the residence of Mrs. Adolphus Busch and the more beautiful home of son. In this garden is the live oak, Spanish lemon, weeping willow and every other known tree and flower in the universe, amid rustic bridges, mystic huts, duck ponds and numerous places of miniature statues of Anderson's and Grimes' fairy tales, namely, the Hut of Candy and Cake, Little Red Riding Hood, the Fox Family, Princess Snow White, with her seven dwarfs; Jack and Jill fishing. Worshipping the Elk at the Church in the Forest, Cinderella and her doves, also a water mill erected at the request of Busch's granddaughter. After a covering the entire business and residence section of Pasadena passed many grape vineyards, walnut and orange groves. It was a delight to pull oranges from trees, also orange flowers. It is the chief ambition of some women to wear orange flowers, but it was my desire to pluck them, this being my first opportunity. These oranges are so juicy it is almost necessary to get in a bath tub while eating them.

Our next stop was at the ostrich farm. Saw one bird swallow fourteen oranges and want more. The feeder called this his canning process. It was the delight of the camera man when he saw me mount one of these birds for a snap shot. We visited the San Gabriel Mission, founded in 1771. Before we were permitted to enter we had to line up for another painless operation by the picture man. We were fifty-eight in number, and from nineteen different states, three of the number from Texas. Near this mission is the old grape vine planted in 1775, covering over 5,000 square feet, nine feet high, yielding annually two tons of grapes. This was the property of the mission. We were refreshed with some grape juice made from its fruit. We went through the old mission playhouse where 80,000 had attended this play. Around this in miniature size was all the old missions in California. Nearby this is the salesroom, where thousands of valuable curios and relics dating as far back as the fifteenth and sixteenth century.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL! HORRIBLE!

Calomel is Quicksilver and Acts Like Dynamite on the Liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

ped at the Virginia Hotel. That is we stopped on the outside to view its beautiful flower grounds.

Our next city was San Diego, the oldest city in California, and I believe one of the most progressive. Its streets are noticeably wide, a population of nearly one hundred thousand, fine public buildings, hotels and fine residences. U. S. Grant, Jr., erected the U. S. Grant Hotel, facing Plaza Park at a cost of two million, as a memento to his father, U. S. Grant. San Diego has a land-locked harbor of twenty-two square miles. In 1542 Cabrillo sailed into this harbor and in 1769 Father Junipero Serra founded the first of the twenty-three California missions, De Alcalá. In old town a cross is built out of the ruins of this old mission as a memorial to Father Serra, who was faithful in prayer until the ships brought relief to his starving people. This is also Ramona's marriage place, immortalized by Helen Hunt Jackson. Here was built the first jail in Southern California. Here General Fremont raised the first American flag in California. Further down the coast we reached Point Loma, where is located the government light house and wireless station. This is the most extreme southern point in the United States. A great place of interests was Fort Rosencrans, where we saw target practice with ten-inch disappearing guns. From here we passed out into the great Pacific. We were never happier than when our boat turned towards the bay again. The ocean was rough and our boat small. Returning we viewed the aviation field, where the world's greatest birdmen break all records. The next island was Coronado, with its wonderful ten city and its magnificent Coronado Hotel, erected at a cost of one and a half million, with its tropical inner court garden. Adjoining this is the home of Mr. J. D. Spreckles, who has in his enclosure one of the most beautiful tea gardens we had seen. This Mr. Spreckles living on this small island has the controlling interest in most every big enterprise in San Diego. We wanted to take the all-day trip to the Santa Catalina Islands, where we could ride in the glass-bottom boats, and view the submarine gardens, but our enthusiasm slackened when on the following morning we awoke to find that we were not only sun burned from the day before, but blistered. It was then decided no more trips on water. We spent the remaining time while in San Diego seeing the fair. The first to greet us was Mr. and Mrs. Johnson from Sterling, Texas.

Austin, Texas, July 24.—Owing to alleged aggressive prices which real estate owners are placing on their property, Austin may lose the State School for the blind, it is announced here. Under an act of the last legislature special appropriation was made for the purchase of a new site and buildings for the school, and a board consisting of the governor, the lieutenant governor and the attorney general, was authorized to select the site. This board is understood to regard prices of real estate in Austin as too high and it is intimated a site will be selected in some other city unless realty prices here are reduced.

TEXAS POSTOFFICES

NOW NUMBER 2,581

C. B. Anderson, chief inspector for the postoffice division embracing Texas and Louisiana, received a report July 1 giving the number of postoffices in the United States as 56,380. Of this number Texas ranks third with 2,581 offices. New York falls behind Texas with but 2,507.

The first five states as they rank in the number of offices contained in each are as follows: Pennsylvania, 3,389; Kentucky, 2,570; Texas, 2,581; New York, 2,507. Virginia ranks fifth with 1,815 offices.

ONCE more Studebaker has proved that quantity production, scientific manufacturing methods, and a wealth of manufacturing experience can maintain high standards of quality.

That these are high-grade cars in every essential will be evident from the most superficial examination, and the specifications as given by the engineering department at the Detroit factory indicate that the quality is even higher than with last year's cars. They show that finer steels have been used, that the upholstery is of the highest grade of leather the market affords; that the finishing operations have been increased to 25 in number, while numerous other details of manufacture are still further indicative of quality.

THE ROOF GARDEN OF TEXAS.

I have just come from the Roof Garden of Texas; in other words, I have been out in the Davis mountains in the western part of the Commonwealth, about 600 miles from Dallas. Tall Peaks, giant boulders, grotesquely-shaped crags, immense canyons, beautiful valleys, hundreds of springs of living water, sparkling shallow streams that often become raging torrents, the grandest apples grown on the continent, alfalfa farms that rival any to be found anywhere else, the largest stock ranches that are left in the State, wild game and docile burros—these are some of the native staples of the Roof Garden of Texas, located in the heart of the Davis mountains. And, then, the health and hospitality—these can not be properly described; they are as near perfect as Nature and human effort can make them.

Fort Davis—quaint, unique charm in old Fort Davis! Its many little adobe Mexican huts and its few large, modern American homes, shelter a happiness that is suggestive of Paradise Found. The town has less than 600 inhabitants; two-thirds of them Mexican natives; the remainder being the families of rich ranch owners, prosperous merchants, or well-to-do professional men.

Jeff Davis County, of which Fort Davis is the county seat, has less than 1,700 inhabitants. In area, it is five times as large as Dallas county, with its 150,000 inhabitants (now nearly 200,000). The lands in Jeff Davis County are nearly all owned by ranchmen, whose individual holdings run from 30,000 to 100,000 acres, in solid bodies. Some of these ranch lands can not be bought for $100 per acre.

I have lived in Texas 37 years (now, 41 years). During that time I have frequently traveled around all sides of the Davis mountains, but until thirty days ago had never penetrated their interior. But having been there once, I am going again. The Crouching Lion, Old Blue, Baldy Peak, the Twin Sisters, the Hills of Jericho, Mitre Peak, Cathedral Mountain, Black Peak, Apache Crest and Livermore Peak, are glorious examples of Nature's handiwork, which prompts one to exclaim, with the Swiss wanderer, returning to his native land:

"Ye crags and peaks, I am with you once again!"

"I hold to you the hands you first held, to show they are still free!"

And then, there's Limpia Canyon! Sixty miles of gulch and crevice; of boulder and cavern; of ravine and basin; of plateau and precipice; of forest and waterfall—millions of acres of picturesque wonderland! Colorado can't excel it! The continent can't surpass it! And, speaking of Switzerland, the historic little republic of the Alps could be tossed into the Davis Mountain and have ample room to turn about.

These are only a small schedule of the prodigality of Nature's gorgeous assets in the Davis Mountains. And still, when the average Texas tourist desires to go away for a season of rest, recuperation, and pleasure, he forgets, or ignores, the excellence of opportunity afforded by his home State. To him I say: "See Texas First!"

Some day—and in the near future, I predict—the iron horse will scale the crests and leap the intervening gorges of this fascinating mountain region of West Texas, and give to Fort Davis a railroad. The Southern Pacific passes to the south of the quaint old army post community, touching Alpine, 25 miles distant, Marfa, on the same road, is only 22 miles away. To the northward, the Toyah Valley road, finished from Pecos, on the Texas and Pacific, is in operation to Balmorhea, at the northern base of the mountain range. Balmorhea is forty miles from Fort Davis. I rode the overland trip in a one-seated buggy, drawn by two horses driven by a Mexican liveryman, going the distance of 40 miles between 12:30 p. m. and 5:15 p. m. The route was through the wonderful Limpia Canyon, its sides skirted with thousands of brown granite boulders, shaped as perfectly as if rolled out from a turning lathe, and in as regular order as if placed in positions by the hands of man. These boulders, as shapely as massive Corinthian columns, tower heavenward from hundreds to thousands of feet, as if saluting Jove in his space-bound citadel. They fill one with wonder that even nature through the effect of water action of centuries, could turn out such perfection of handiwork. But it's there, and grander than I can describe it. And I say again: "See Texas First!"

In the broken fastness of these mountain faces, straight as the side of a house, are to be found bears, wolves, panthers, deer and other wild game. Down at the foot of the mountains, perhaps only a thousand feet below the homes of the wild beasts, can be seen as prolific fields of alfalfa and as inviting orchards of choice apples as can be found anywhere between the two oceans. Surely, we live in Grand Old Texas! And the Davis Mountains furnish the acme of its grandeur!

The puny, pigmy, pitiful East! Why, the Catskills, the Adirondacks, the Whites, the Greens, the Alleghenies and the Cumberlands could all be tossed into the mountain regions of West Texas and then not fill all the space! Again I urge: "See Texas First!"

The Davis Mountains are noted for the healthfulness of their localities. The United States Government, 60 years or more ago, established an elaborate army post at Fort Davis. Official statistics kept by government experts, show Fort Davis and vicinity to be the most healthful region on the globe. One section only—a small place in Switzerland—has an equally high centre rate. And Fort Davis is the centre-point in the Roof Garden of Texas.

CURED OF INDIGESTION.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.

WARSAW BATTLE RAGING.

London, July 24.—The Warsaw battle is still raging without any indication of the ultimate outcome. The Russians are fighting stubbornly in the face of a situation where their defeat threatens the annihilation of their armies. The impression is growing that the Russians hope to defeat the Germans and save Warsaw.

The Texas Panhandle spring calf crop sale opened this year at $30.00 per calf, which is about $3 per head better than last season. Some calves are being contracted as high as $35 around and ranchmen are not anxious to sell at that price.

CANCER RESEARCH.

Kansas City, July 17.—On July 15, Johnson's Pathological Laboratory for Cancer Research, located in this city, completed the tenth year in research in human cancer, having reviewed more than 15,000 cases in this time. It has remained for the Kansas City institution to attain the nation's greatest progress in the diagnosis and prognosis of this disease.

Johnson's Pathological Laboratory for Cancer Research bases its investigations and conclusions upon the proposition that cancer is a constitutional disease—neither a vegetable nor animal parasite. Therefore, its researches are exclusively clinical; that is, dealing with cases of human cancer coming under its examination of practically all varieties, locations and stages of development. It is proven practice instead of undemonstrated theory, hence the laboratory review is actual and practical, instead of being built upon theoretical research with the neoplasms of mice, rats, guinea pigs, rabbits and chickens.

The determination of Johnson's Pathological Laboratory for Cancer Research, covering a period of ten years in reviewing more than 15,000 cases of human cancer, are as follows:

1. Cancer is a chronic alkaline intoxication caused by retention of body wastes.
2. The fixation of the mineral alkalies in the tissues by retained carbonic acid is the cause of the alkalinity.
3. Cancer is a constitutional disease.
4. The location of the cancerous tumor is determined by chronic irritation.
5. This chronic irritation may be direct or reflex.
6. Cancer is a disease of middle life and old age.
7. Cancer is not hereditary.
8. Cancer is not contagious.
9. The cancerous tumor is merely a local manifestation.
10. Hyperalkalinity is necessary to cancerous growth.
11. The skin cancers of the face, neck and hands are found on persons of fair or blonde complexions.
12. Exposure to the weather is an important factor in producing skin cancers on blonde people.
13. Skin cancers predominate in men for these reasons.
14. There is no pain in the early stages of cancer.
15. Habitual constipation is always present.
16. Cancer patients have a subnormal temperature.
17. Cancer patients pass a small amount of urine low in chlorids and Colorado People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.

No kidney ailment is unimportant. Don't overlook the slightest backache or urinary irregularity. Nature may be warning you of approaching dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Kidney disease is seldom fatal if treated in time, but neglect may pave the way. Don't neglect a lame or aching back another day. Don't ignore dizzy spells, irregular or discolored urine, headaches, weariness or depression. If you feel you need kidney help begin using the reliable, time-tried remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. For 50 years, Doan's have been found effective. Endorsed by grateful people.

B. F. Davis, Snyder, Texas, says: "I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me a world of good. Several years ago I had pains across the small of my back and in my sides. As Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended, I got a supply and used them as directed. Two boxes were all I needed for a cure. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from weak kidneys."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Davis had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE VOICE OF NOW.

It is the present, the today the now in which we are interested. Shake-speare wisely says: Tomorrow never yet. On any living mortal rose or set. It is the printed page which deals the most intimately and with the greatest detail in the movement of the present. It is the voice of now proclaiming to the world the things that are happening today. The government of the United States is now gravely concerned in certain aspects of the war in Europe and has thrust on it several serious international problems which are now in process of solution. The American farmer is now interested in this titanic struggle, for his interests are being affected by it today and will be tomorrow, and he wants to keep in close touch with now.

Everybody is interested in the cotton crop from the time of its planting to the days of its harvesting and marketing. They want to know "the now" in all that pertains to the great southern staple. They are interested in "the now" of all other agricultural markets, the latest in modern farming, the facts of the warehousing problem and all else that pertains to the progress of every theater of life.

The tens of thousands of men and women who know the Semi-Weekly Farm News knows it is "The Voice of Now," telling in direct and positive tones of what is going on at home and abroad.

CALL FOR ORGANIZATION.

At a call meeting of the stockholders in the F. A. W. Company, it was unanimously resolved to convert the F. A. warehouse at Colorado, Texas, into a bonded state warehouse, and the fifth day of August was set for a general mass meeting to be held in the city of Colorado for the purposes of permanent organization and we respectfully ask and urge that each and every farmer who is a friend to his calling to be present. Also every banker and merchant in our county, and all other business men of every calling, and let us all come prepared to enter into a hearty co-operation for the general upbuilding of our county. State organizer will be present.

Respectfully submitted,

Over in Oklahoma one of the business concerns using a great many wagons had been considering the question of axle grease.

Apparently no conclusion could be reached from the statements of competitive sellers of the products, so the company decided to make a test.

Two NEW wagons which had just been delivered to the company were selected for the test. To one wagon a competitive grease was applied on both front and rear wheels, Texaco grease being used on the other.

They were set to work. In five days the competitive grease was done, the spindles got hot and a new application was required.

(By Margaret Scott Hall)
The man who finds his work and does his best
In his appointed task, who finds his place
And fills it well, will run a winning race.
No matter what or where the field, the quest
For happiness is solved. Good work, sweet rest,
Content to find and keep a steady pace
Congenial service granted by God's grace
Is great good fortune, and that man is blest.
Directed by the head, or hand or heart,
Service is sweet. What'er teh task may be,
Adapted to our individual part,
We find true joy and pure felicity;
All progress proves the universal plan,
They best serve God who serve their fellowman.

BUSINESS AND MISSIONARY MEETING.

On account of the Methodist church being out of repairs because it is being enlarged the Missionary Society met with Mrs. M. K. Jackson Monday afternoon.
Mrs. Hester presided in the absence of the president. The usual business was transacted. Dues were received amounting to five dollars. An interesting program on Brazil was led by Mrs. Jackson, after which sandwiches and lemonads were served.

WILL BE REPEATED

At a called session of the Baptist Aid Society last week they decided to repeat the lawn party on the court house lawn during the Woodmen Log Rolling in August. It will be well lighted and seated. The drill by the little girls that was complimented before, will also be given.
Best of band music and a good time generally will be promised. Let everybody come out and help to give the visiting people a pleasant memory of Colorado.

SYNOPSIS OF CHAPTER ONE

Prologue: In 1685 Sir Arthur Stanley is banished from England. He comes to Virginia to live, where his gallantry to an Indian maid places him in great peril. He flees for his life. The Indians capture, and tie him to a stake. The torture fires are lit, when a blazing meteor streaks across the sky and falls a few yards distant. The savages are terrified. They believe the meteor to be an omen of displeasure from the "Great Spirit." Stanley takes advantage of their panic. He frees himself from the stakes and declares himself a supernatural being. A huge diamond is found in the heart of the meteor, "The Diamond From the Sky," as it is known, becomes a Stanley heirloom.

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

"The Caprices of Kitty," the quintessence of comedy, featuring Elsie Janis and written by this clever little actress, will be shown at the Opera House Movies for matinee and night Friday, August 6. This is the first appearance in the photoplay of Elsie Janis and she has proven to be one of the most fascinating types ever shown upon the screen. She has every charm for it and above all things, she is natural. Kit is a happy-go-lucky girl at the age when romance dawn and the adventures involving two, Kit and a handsome artist (Mr. Courtenay Foote) are of the sort that make you laugh and grow very reminiscent. Mrs. Lewis, as Miss Smyth of Miss Smyth's Select Seminary, and Martha Mattox, the old maid chaperone, are delicious in their humorous characterizations, and Mr. Herbert Standing, as the guardian of archives, is another triumph.

More Pleasures For You And The Family

FOR hurry up trips to town you can detach the sidecar in a few minutes and ride the motorcycle alone, but by far the majority of your trips will be family trips with the sidecar—the family will see to that.

The Harley-Davidson sidecar rides more comfortably than the finest of carriages. Its springs will float "her", or "mother and the baby", over the rough places whether you are driving three or thirty miles an hour. And an hour's daily outing after work will keep the family refreshed and contented. The

1915 Harley-Davidson

Three-Speed Model was designed for sidecar use. The gear ratios of the three-speeds are such that you can drive for miles in intermediate gear if the going is bad, without overheating the motor. The mechanism of the Harley-Davidson is simple, understandable and efficient. The motor is guaranteed to deliver eleven actual horsepower.

Ridden alone, the motorcycle will climb a sixty per cent grade, twice as steep as most hills found on a public highway. With sidecar and passenger it will travel up a forty-five per cent grade. The cost of up-keep and operation is decidedly low, about one-fifth that of other popular methods of travel.

Stanley, Virginia aristocrats. Bitter jealousy over the possession of "The Diamond From the Sky" is intensified by the fact that the death of a noble kinsman in England makes the first born male child of the elder branch of the Virginia Stanleys heir to the Stanley Earldom in Warwickshire, as well as possessor of "The Diamond From the Sky." Judge Lamar Stanley has a son, Blair, heir presumptive to both of these coveted honors. When a child is born to the young wife of Col. Arthur Stanley it proves to be a girl. The mother dies. Colonel Stanley chagrined and disappointed, determines to rob his hated cousin's child, Blair, of the noble heritage. Aided by the doctor and colored nurse, Colonel Stanley buys a new born male Gypsy child from its unnatural and money-greedy father. In doing so Colonel Stanley believes he has the Gypsy mother's consent. But Hagar, weak and sick, manages to crawl to Stanley Hall to denounce her greedy and brutal husband and gain her first born child. She arrives just as the birth of the changeling heir is being verified by an English lawyer representing Earl Stanley and Judge Lamar Stanley. The Colonel stands facing the outer door when the Gypsy woman, Hagar, starts into the room. Colonel Stanley's terror affects his heart and he falls unconscious across the library table.

$10,000 in cash will be given to the person who submits the most acceptable suggestion for a sequel to "The Diamond in the Sky. Note back of page for full conditions.

C. A. Pierce and family returned this week from their old home at Lancaster, Texas. They report a most enjoyable time with an abundance of good things to eat.

A. J. Herrington and wife returned from Dallas last Saturday and brought with them a '16 Mitchell car for demonstration work. Mr. Herrington informed the Record that while in Dallas he signed a contract for 100 Ford cars during next year.

Miss Cora Roundtree who has been visiting at San Angelo was here today en route to Colorado where she will visit before returning to her home in Plainview.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Miss Madeline Looney of Colorado was a guest of Mrs. Herman Harp last night, returning home this morning.—Sweetwater Reporter.

A telegram to Mr. F. E. McKenzie Thursday from Mrs. McKenzie stated that she had been in a wreck near Kansas City, but that no one was hurt, and further stating that she might be home tonight.

BRING YOUR AUTO TROUBLES TO ME

I have secured the services of Mr. Louis Adair of Dallas who is an expert in all lines of automobile repairing. Mr. Adair worked two years in the repair department of the Ford factory and one year in the Studebaker factory, besides having a varied experience in the doctoring of all makes of cars. Mr. Adair will be in charge of my repair department. You may safely bring all your auto troubles to him; he'll take care of them as they should be.

A. J. HERRINGTON.

RUSSIANS DRIVE 200,000 POLISH JEWS FROM HOME

New York, July 22.—Translations from letters just received here show that numerous expulsions of Jews from various districts of Poland were followed late in May by an order of the Russian military authorities that about two hundred thousand Jews be driven from their homes.

The governments of Courland and Kovno and part of Suwalki were to use the military term—"evacuated of Jews."

The time granted the 200,000 to get away varied from eight hours in Suwalki to thirty in Kovno. In the latter territory alone 160,000 people were driven out.

Expectant mothers still in childbeds, old people and children were turned out, according to eye witnesses. The mortally ill and insane, the crippled, the blind—all were hit alike by the edict.

Towns like Povno, Ponewesch and Wilkomir, whose population chiefly was Jewish, became extinct.

The expelled Jews were not allowed to stay in the neighboring governments, but wandered east to Tschernigo, Poltava, Jeterioslaw and Taurin. Twenty-six "extra" trains were placed at the disposal of part of the population, and on May 18 and 19 they carried 40,000 people in thirty hours.

CHANDLER SIX $1295

A Plain Talk About Automobile Values

P EOPLE are asking their friends a lot of questions about the relative values of the best known automobiles.

Interest centers chiefly, of course, in the light-weight sixes, because the light-weight six is the most popular type of car, and much of the interest centers in the Chandler.

The Chandler cannot supply the entire demand for light-weight sixes, but for thorough, careful purchasers who want to be very sure of relative values, there are some interesting facts well worth considering.

Such a purchaser will not forget that the Chandler was the first high-grade six selling for less than $2000 and weighing less than 3000 pounds. He will not forget that the Chandler pioneered the way for light-six domination and established the Light-Six Era. That was three years ago. The price was $1785.

The popularity of the Chandler Idea has grown by leaps and bounds ever since.

Other light-sixes quickly followed into the market but the Chandler has occupied a position of leadership all the way. A leadership in quality and price. And now Chandler is building Ten Thousand cars a year and still unable to fill the Chandler demand.

A vital element in the history of Chandler success—and the secret of Chandler high quality and low price this year—is the fact that essentially the Chandler car of this season is the Chandler car of the first season.

There has never been any reason for bringing out a radically new model. The original Chandler, in all its principles of design and construction, was final. From season to season we have refined it and beautified it and added the newest standard features of equipment. And this season we have brought out the really wonderful new seven-passenger body. But, from the mechanical standpoint, the car is practically unchanged. That marvelous Chandler motor—the foundation of Chandler supremacy—has remained untouched.

Standing pat on a model that was, and is, right, we have avoided costly experimentation that must attend the production of new models. We have lowered our overhead to a minimum. We have been enabled to make sensational price reductions from season to season and still give better value.

The world's greatest manufacturer of low-priced cars has built his tremendous success on this policy, and the public knows—you know—it is the policy that gives the purchaser "most for his money."

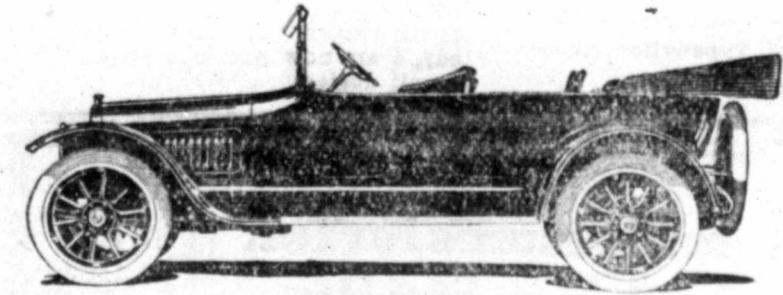

That is why no other car of like size and character has caught up with the Chandler price.

From $1785 this price last year went down to $1595. And this year down to $1295. In practical effect, Chandler offers you a $1785 car for $1295. And we ask you to try to match its value in any other car.

Look them over, all well-known makes. Study them carefully. Compare them part by part with the Chandler. Compare them with the Chandler for comfort and power and snap and finish and style. Then you will realize how much it means to you as a purchaser that the Chandler was right in the first place and that the Chandler manufacturing policy has been a policy of devotion to this one model.

HABIT

"How shall I a habit break?"
 As you did that habit make.
 As you gathered you must lose,
 As you yielded, now refuse.
 Thread by thread the strands we twist
 Till they bind us neck and wrist;
 Thread by thread the patient hand
 Must entwine ere free we stand.
 As we bulged, stone by stone,
 We must toil unhelped, alone,
 Till the wall is overthrown.
 But remember, as we try,
 Lighter every test goes by;
 Wading in, the stream grows deep;
 Towards the center downward sweep;
 Backward turn, each step ashore
 Shallower is than that before.
 Ah, the precious years we waste
 Levelling what we've raised in haste;
 Doing what must be undone
 Ere content or love we won;
 First across the gulf we cast
 Kite borne threads until lines are passed,
 And habit builds the bridge at last.
 —John Boyle O'Reilly.

In most any other year at this season, with no rain for about one month, the crops would show the effect of the drought considerably. At this writing (Saturday, July 24th) the crops are green and vigorous, although a good general rain would not only help all kinds of crops but renew the pastures and all other kinds of vegetation. The deep moisture in the ground has proven of the greatest benefit.

Cooling breezes drive dull care away at the Shadowland.

Rapid progress is now being made on the remodeling of the Methodist church. Ample building material is on hand and a full force of masons are at work. The south wall of the old building has been torn down and the brick used in the inside of the new walls. Rev. Clements, who is the architect in chief and general supervisor as well, is kept busy early and late. At the present rate of progress the congregation will occupy their church before the expected date.

A comedy one can never forget, "The Caprices of Kitty," written by Elsie Janis for Elsie Janis and about a girl she calls kit, but whom we shyly believe is no one else in the world but Elsie Janis herself, has been released by Bosworth, (Inc.) on the Paramount program and will be shown at the Opera House Movies for matinee and night Friday, August 6th. Kit is a romantic young lady in search of happiness. By the kindness of fate she meets a handsome artist and there begins a series of adventures which illustrate just why Miss Janis is one of the best beloved actresses on the stage. Her spontaneity, naturalness and charm of youth all sparkle through this comedy. Courtenay Foote the famous English actor, is the artist.
