

Growing Trees Forty Years!

F. T. Ramsey, of the Austin Nursery, Austin, Texas, has been actively engaged in growing fruit and ornamental trees in Texas for forty years. He can name and describe from memory several hundred varieties of peaches, over a hundred of plums, and others in proportion.

His tests and experiments have placed our nursery in the forefront in introducing new and valuable fruits. For instance, our LEONA Peach will far surpass Elberta anywhere, and should be planted in place of Elberta from Central Texas north.

SMITH PEACH is the surest bearer in the world. It should be planted from Central Texas south.

Our HAUPT BERRY paid one man $1760.00 per acre. The most valuable crop grown, for home or market.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY FACES SPLIT.

Bryan Assails Administration Policy, Which Calls for Expenditure of $130,000,000 for First Year.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Information obtained by Democratic leaders from returning congressmen and representatives from the country indicate that there will be strong opposition within the party to the President's preparedness program. On top of this, it is said that William J. Bryan is organizing his opposition and making personal demands on his following in Congress to stand against any increase in the army and navy.

Reports current in Democratic circles are to the effect that eighty Democratic Congressmen are opposed to the President's plan.

The first public manifestation of Mr. Bryan's campaign against the preparedness program came today, when members of the House and Senate received complimentary copies of the Commoner, devoted almost entirely to attacks on the administration plan. Many of the articles are signed by Mr. Bryan.

One of these, printed in heavy type, says:

"Turn on the light and let the country see the fraudulent character of the pretended patriotism which is being paraded before the country by men who claim a superior attachment to the Nation, but are, in fact, nothing but leeches and parasites."

"The elections of 1915 ought to serve as a warning to the Democratic party," Mr. Bryan says in another article, and then adds that the endorsement given preparedness in Massachusetts, if it did not defeat the party, "at least failed to save it."

Taking sides with Majority Leader Kitchin, who opposed the President, Mr. Bryan says:

"It is fortunate for the party and the country that the Democratic leader is too well poised to be 'shoed' into the coop of the special interests by manufactured scares."

Referring to the printed articles showing how easily New York could be made to pay tribute if attacked by a foreign fleet, Mr. Bryan says:

"If the danger is that great would it not be a good plan to build a vault west of the Alleghenies and store this bullion beyond the reach of danger?"

The receipt of the copies of the Commoner was accepted around the capitol as Mr. Bryan's public declaration of war against the President and his program.

While this fight is on leaders who have the responsibility of raising the revenues are completely at sea.

ORGANIZE TO EX- TEND COMMERCE.

Heads of Many Industries Also Will Back Foreign Loans and Investments.

New York, Nov. 23.—The incorporation of the American International corporation, with a capital of $50,000,000, at Albany, was formally announced here today. The new corporation plans to develop American trade in Europe and South America, it was stated. Another feature of the business will be the furthering of foreign loans and investment enterprises.

The directors include J. Ogden Armour, Wm. E. Corey, James J. Hill, Otto H. Kahn, Robert S. Lovett, Percy A. Rockefeller, James A. Stillman, Frank A. Vanderlip and Theodore N. Vail.

Of the total capital stock $49,000,000 will be common stock and $1,000,000 in managers' shares.

The directors include leading figures in the meat packing, banking, railroad, telephone and other enterprises. The project is regarded as the first direct step toward taking from Germany and England the command of foreign commerce which they held before the war opened, and to make solid the position of the United States as the foremost financial power of the world.

The idea, as understood here, is to place American goods in every foreign country, so far as possible, ahead of all competition, and to finance commerce and banking operations wherever needed.

South America, long considered almost exclusively the trade territory of Germany, and in a lesser degree, of England, is now to be that of the United States if the present plans are successful.

The National City bank, of New York, and other institutions, are now taking first steps in this trade conquest by placing branches in South American cities.

HAPPINESS AND MORALITY.

(Robert Ingersoll.)

A superstitious man suspects everything that is pleasant. It seems inbred in his nature, and in the nature of most people. You let such a man pull up a little weed and taste it, and if it is sweet, and good, he says, "I'll bet it is poison." But if it tastes awful, so that his face becomes a mask of disgust, he says, "I'll bet you that is good medicine."

Now, I believe that everything in the world that tends to make a man happy is moral. That's my definition of morality. Anything that bursts into bud and blossoms, and bears the fruit of joy, is moral.

I insist that happiness is the end—virtue the means—and everything that wipes a tear from the face of man is good. Everything that gives laughter springing from good nature, that is the most wonderful music that has ever enriched the ears of man. And let me say that nothing can be more immoral than to waste your own life and sour that of others.

LADY AUDLEY'S SECRET FEATURING THEDA BARA.

Lady Audley crumpled up the letter her husband had given her to read. It had come at last. After years of contentment and happiness, a ghost of the past had arisen to destroy her peace.

Several years before, she married the son of a wealthy father who had disinherited his son for marrying against his wishes. The young husband later went to Australia in an attempt to make a fortune, leaving his wife.

Alone, destitute, she accepted the proposal of Lord Audley, who did not know that she had been married before. Now, after years of comparative happiness, her husband hands her a note from his nephew, telling that he was bringing with him the man who had been her husband, the man from whom she had not heard for so long. She sees her chance for happiness fading rapidly.

What should she do? What could she do?

The answer forms one of the most dramatic climaxes ever thrown on the screen and affords Theda Bara, the famous vampire woman, full scope for her wonderful powers of dramatic and emotional expression.

The eight hour law and the State warehouse law were both held constitutional recently by the court of criminal appeals at Austin. The warehouse law was attacked on the ground that it violated the federal constitution which guarantees equal rights to all persons, and prohibits the taking of property without due process of law. The eight hour law was attacked as abridging the right of contract, and being vague.

El Paso's population is 69,479, a gain of 30,200 since the census of 1910. The figures are those of the Worley Directory company, following a house to house canvass of the city securing data for a new city directory.

WHEN THE HEART GOES HOME.

When the days draw near Thanksgiving.
When the leaves are sere and dead;
When the morning air is frosty
And the skies are clear overhead;
There's a longing for the old place,
And the heart goes home once more,
Where the old-time kindly greetings
Waived by the open door.

Then the faces long since vanished
Come to us with loving smile,
As we're musing by the fireside
Dreaming of them all the while;
When the days draw near Thanksgiving,
In whatever land we roam;
Something calls us to the old friends—
And 'tis then the heart goes home!
—Alma Pendexter Hayden.

In the death of Booker T. Washington, the negro race has lost its most distinguished and useful representative. During his lifetime he wrought nobly for his race and the influence of his work will live, through which he will speak. The record of his life should be an inspiration to the ambitious negro, who cherishes a desire to be a real benefit to his race. Born in slavery, yet by his own efforts he achieved an education that was of the highest and the degrees conferred upon him by the oldest colleges and universities of the new world were in recognition of his learning and the wonderful work he was performing. What Washington accomplished, others can accomplish with less privation and toil for the advantages and facilities now afforded are so much greater than when he began the upward climb of the ladder. There may be one who can take up his work where he laid it down, but whoever it may be the burden and responsibility will hang heavily upon his shoulders, for Washington established a standard that will be hard for his successor to measure up to.—Denison Herald.

More capital is now required for successful farming than formerly. Land costs more, more teams are required and a larger investment for implements and machinery. This means that it takes longer to become a home owner than formerly. But a farm is worth more than in former times, it being worth all the effort required to pay for it.—Farm and Ranch.

WARNING TO MITCHELL COUNTY FARMERS.

In view of the almost inevitable ravages of the boll weevil in this county next year, and the present fact that several agents are selling cotton seed to the farmers of the county, for next year's planting, I publish this warning. If you order seed from other sections be absolutely certain that you thoroughly disinfect them with bi-sulphide of carbon (high life) as soon as the seed are received. The danger of the presence of the boll weevil is great enough from its travels westward, without inviting and speeding its presence in imported cotton seed.

THREE CITIES BID FOR NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Democratic leaders tonight received information that Dallas has its $100,000 fund with which to bid for the 1916 national Democratic convention, and that a trainload of Dallas enthusiasts would come here for the meeting of the national committee on December 7. Workers for Dallas are sanguine that the Texas metropolis will win in the campaign.

San Francisco has made a bid of $200,000 for the convention, the largest amount ever offered, and will be prepared to make its offer good the statement is, by a tender when the committee meets.

St. Louis people have told national committee members they have a certified check for $100,000 to back up its application for the convention.

It is not expected that Chicago will offer money. Both Omaha and Buffalo are said to be out of the race.

An early date in June is favored for the Democratic convention.

GIRL WINS IN MAX-WELL TEST DRIVE.

To the amusement of the veteran road drivers who took part in the recent Maxwell efficiency run from Buffalo to their homes in New England and other North Atlantic states, the first place winner turned out to be the only woman pilot in the tour.

Miss Eva Cunningham, daughter of F. J. Cunningham, Maxwell dealer at Haverhill, Mass., drove from Buffalo to Haverhill, 567 miles, on exactly 17 gallons of gasoline—an average of 33.37 miles to the gallon. Her car was a new Maxwell roadster.

There is no disputing Miss Cunningham's record. Her drive was under the eyes of several witnesses and the details are set forth in her own affidavit.

Miss Cunningham's car also went the route without the addition of a drop of cylinder oil to the original supply. This is really the fact which won her the big slice of the Flanders prize, as her mileage on fuel was exceeded by two of the other cars in the big tour—those driven by her father and by George D. Robinson, of Springfield Mass. Cunningham's new Maxwell touring car averaged 36.85 miles per gallon, and Robinson's roadster, 34.9 miles. Each of the male pilots, however, added a quart of oil to the original supply.

Second prize went to Verne H. Jackson, of Pen Argyle, Pa., and third to Joseph De Cantillon, of Meriden, Conn., the former covering 368 and the latter 474 miles.

MAXWELL STOCK CAR BEATS TRAIN ON 622-MILE TRIP.

Ran From Detroit to Indianapolis and Return is Made in Less Than Twenty-four Hours.

Wiping the slate clean of all former records in rapid transit by motor car or train between Detroit and Indianapolis, Ray McNamara in a stock Maxwell touring car has just registered a performance at which it is freely predicted, dust eaters of the two cities will shoot for some time in vain.

McNamara's outgoing trip from Detroit was made in eight hours fifty-eight minutes; the return trip in ten hours forty-nine minutes. Running time for the round trip—622 miles—was nineteen hours forty-seven minutes. Between start and finish but twenty hours and one minute elapsed.

Checked at Both Ends.

The Maxwell was checked out of Detroit by W. D. Edenburn, American Automobile Association representative, at 3:11 a. m. It was checked in at the Soldier's Monument in Indianapolis—311 miles away—at 12:09 p. m. by Jack Bacil, automobile editor of the Indianapolis News. Bacil checked the car out of Indianapolis at 12:23 p. m., Edenburn checked it in at the finish at 11:12 p. m. The trip started and ended at the Maxwell offices on Woodward avenue.

The first half of the trip was made chiefly in daylight, and McNamara took a shot at the schedule of the fast Big Four train which takes a short cut of 298.6 miles between the cities and makes the run in ten hours twenty-five minutes. The Maxwell lowered this by one hour twenty-seven minutes. At Indianapolis the driver snatched a hurried luncheon and filled the gasoline tank—his only stop in the whole trip. Daylight lasted half way through the return trip. Then darkness fell and, later, there was fog.

The car in which the run was made is one of the first 1916 models turned out at the big Detroit plant and had already been run more than 17,000 miles, including one trip across the continent. Recently it has been one of several cars which have been running under observation of the Maxwell engineering department, to determine the effects of indefinite road abuse. Much of this running has been over the Detroit-Indianapolis course—a typical country road with plenty of hills, rough going, sand and mud.

Through Three States.

The route chosen for the tour included Ypsilanti, Tecumseh, Adrain and Morenci, Mich.; Bryan and Hicksville, Ohio; Fort Wayne, Huntington, Marion and Anderson, Ind. McNamara started with a definite schedule calling for a southbound trip in ten hours and a return in twelve. This schedule was bettered in virtually every hour.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK.

Acts Like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you Lose a Day's Work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel with 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and growa folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

of the run, though McNamara was careful to fracture no speed ordinances of the cities and villages through which he passed.

"Sheer speed had nothing to do with our record," declared McNamara after the trip. "Consistent, steady plugging is what reels off the miles. The car that gets our record will have to be one that can equal the acceleration of the Maxwell—that can jump from ten miles an hour to near its limit in 200 yards. That is the quality that counts in fast road work, just as it does in every-day traffic."

CARRANZA GREETED AT BORDER.

Laredo, Texas, Nov. 20.—Ten thousand persons turned out to greet General Venustiano Carranza, head of the de facto government of Mexico, on his arrival at Nuevo Laredo, across the border, this evening.

He came here from Saltillo, it being his second visit to the border within a month. He expects to remain two or three days and then will continue his tour of Mexico, going first to Matamoros and then to other capitals. He is here to inspect border conditions in this section.

He is accompanied by a body guard of 500 Yaquis and an equal number of men of the presidential guard. His wife and two daughters are traveling with him for the first time since the revolution began.

21 PERSONS BITTEN BY DOG WITH RABIES.

Eufaula, Ala., Nov. 20.—Twenty-one citizens of Eufaula, Ala., left Saturday for Montgomery to undergo treatment in the State Pasteur Institute, following word from officials who examined the head of the dog, which bit them, that the canine had hydrophobia. Several children are among those who were bitten.

DISTRESS IN THE STOMACH.

There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padghan, actor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.

THE DANUBE.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

A well known scholar speaking of Gibbon, whom he was in the habit of criticizing with the utmost freedom, confessed to being nevertheless one of those who could never change trains at Lausanne without emotion. To the man of imagination it is difficult to cross the Danube at any point in its 1,700-mile course without recalling, with a curious interest, the part which the great river has played in the history of Europe for over 2,000 years.

Cross it, say at Ulm, says the traveler, in the summer when the sun is setting, and look downstream away to the east. Some time soon those waters which roll under the bridge of the great fortress, and on through the green fields and forests of Bavaria, will be passing through many cities and through much country with famous annals; through Ratisbon with its medieval houses and its history stretching back to Tiberius; through Passau with its eleven churches; past the ruins of Durrenstein, the prison of Richard the Lion Heart, and on to Vienna; through the Carpathians, past Pressburg, the old Magyar capital, for it is in Hungary now—and so to Budapest with its five bridges. And now it is plunging south, a great river, past Mohacs and so to Belgrade. Through the stupendous Kazan defile, on through the Iron Gates, it forms beyond the boundary line between Serbia and Rumania, and beyond that again between Bulgaria and Rumania as far almost as Turukai; then, passing north through Rumania, past Galatz, the waters run out through many mouths into the Black sea, some 1,500 miles from the bridge of Ulm.

For a long time the frontier of the Roman empire, with traces of Trajan's wall to be found at many points along its banks, the central Danube has, since the Roman times, never formed the boundary of any state. It was, on the contrary, the highway for centuries of a succession of conquering hosts. Huns, Avars, Slavs, Magyars and Turks all marched west along its banks; whilst the Franks under Charlemagne and the Crusaders in many crusades marched east along the same great highway. During the Napoleonic wars many a great struggle was fought out on its banks, and again today, for over a year now, the river has been crossed and recrossed by the invaders of Servia until the stretch between Belgrade and Orsova can be little less than an armed camp. Whether or not the latest news from this seat of war telling of the junction of the German and Bulgarian forces, will result in the great waterway being used for the passage of large quantities of munitions through to Bulgaria and Turkey it is possible to say; but the river is at any rate keeping up its reputation as a factor in the struggles of central Europe.

"THE RUG MAKER'S DAUGHTER"

Can a great dancer be a great actress? Is the question that Maud Allan has answered conclusively in her first appearance in motion pictures as star of the new production of Bosworth Incorporated, "The Rug Maker's Daughter," which will be seen at the Opera House Friday, December 3rd.

That Maud Allan should succeed so brilliantly in an art she had never before attempted simply brings out the fact that the dances of Maud Allan, Pavlova, and such superwomen of art gain their distinction from the very fact that they are fundamentally dramatic. These women are greater than all others in the world because they are something more than mere physical phenomena. It is the force of their intellect which refines their dancing into such sheer elegance. They are living something even as they dance; dramatizing rhythm. It is nothing short of a mistake to think they are merely dancers. They are Bernhardt to music.

In the production of "The Rug Maker's Daughter" Maud Allan faced the ordeal of sharing the stage for the first time with other people; of accustoming herself to working with other people; of abandoning every method she had made her own and doing things another way; doing things a way someone else wanted; the way of the drama. But the perfect ease with which she fitted in; the sureness with which she got her effects, particularly in her love scenes with Forrest Stanley—all proved her an actress whose attainments would have insured her lasting fame had she ever cared to adopt the stage as a career.

"The Rug Maker's Daughter" accordingly presents the significant spectacle of a world famous dancer undergoing the test of an actress and, in her unequivocal success, revealing the profound affinity of the two arts.

The Record is issued this week one day before its regular time in order that the entire force may have a holiday and observe the occasion as befits the sentiment of the day. To do this entailed a shortage of local matter, but after exercising the more patriotic aspect of citizenship, as well as returning to the Great Father of us all, humble thanks for the blessings of His grace as well as for those of His providence, the Record feels that its face will be brighter, its love for its fellows stronger and its faith in Old Mitchell county more abiding than ever in its history. May every reader of the Record realize the most thankful and prosperous day of their lives and many, many more just like it.

Which is the greatest, the devil or hell? Let him who knows speak.—Pecos Times.

If the editor of a country newspaper doesn't hold a brief under both heads, please to cite us better authority. He has an intimate personal association with the one and a pretty dependable foretaste of the other.

The Observer enters on its seventh volume with this issue. In seven more years Christoval will be a little city, and we hope then the Observer will be an all home print paper.—Christoval Observer.

Speed the day! If beauty of scenery, desirability for residence, and a bully allround country generally, populated by a part of the tribe of the best people on earth, are factors in the consummation of this end, editor Van Horn will celebrate it much short of seven years. He will possess both Leah and Rachel by considerably better record than did Jacob.

I. W. W. Poet Is Shot.—Headline. There are them as might profit by his example.—Daily Texan.

A STRAW IN THE WIND.

Judge Thos. L. Blanton, of Abilene, Judge J. M. Wagstaff, of Abilene, and Judge R. N. Grisham, of Sweetwater, all declare that they are going after Judge W. R. Smith's seat in congress. And El Paso is yet to hear from. There promises to be some fervid oratory in the old Sixteenth next year.—Roscoe Times.

Yes, with that line-up the opening will be mighty good for Claud to get in the race. The bee has been buzzing in his bonnet for several years, but he has never had the nerve to attack Smith single handed.—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

The wheeze through the rift in the lute of the El Paso Times, voiced in a recent editorial on Judge Smith's reluctance to commit himself on the program of preparedness before investigating the matter more thoroughly, is taken by many voters to be the voice of one crying in the wilderness and preparing the way for the Colossus of the West—the descent of the long threatened and expected Thunderbolt.

Again, the perorative paragraph in many of the mentions of the present announced candidates, contains either the overt suggestion or an implied one that "Claud's" opportunity is at hand. But the Record does not believe the Honorable Claud is a lamb of the sacrificial breed. He has too keen a vision of the main chance to be hoist upon the altar by his loving friends as a Hudspeth slaughterer just to make a Smith holiday. No; the political water in the 16th congressional district has not yet reached the temperature for a Hudspeth plunge.

NEW PRICE SCALE.

The News has told thousands of lies since the present editor assumed charge of the paper and reaped no financial benefit therefrom. We are going to change this because we need the money badly to meet pressing obligations. Our lies will henceforth be charged for as follows:

Where a stingy old tightwad dies owing us to subscription, and where same old geezer spent his spare time in knocking us while alive, we will charge $3.78 for referring to him as "one of our most highly respected and beloved fellow citizens."

Where some old gossip, who spent most of her time in retelling neighborhood scandal passes away we will charge $97.65 for referring to her as "one of the most devoted Christians in the city, and one of the best mothers we have ever known." We are seriously considering making the price on this kind of a lie absolutely prohibitive.

For saying that a booze-fighting prohibitionist "always stood with the moral forces for the betterment of a town" we will only charge a dime, as the revenue from this lie will far exceed any of the others if all pay the price asked.

For calling a non-advertising merchant "a progressive citizen" ten dollars.

Referring to a mossback who fights all kinds of public improvements as a "substantial, conservative citizen, who always believed in getting full value for every dollar" will cost his rejoicing relatives $35.

The fellow who is always giving the reporter "news" notes wherein he, his family, or his business are always prominently mentioned, but who refuses to advertise because he "can't afford it" or "it don't pay" will be let off for double our advertising rate.

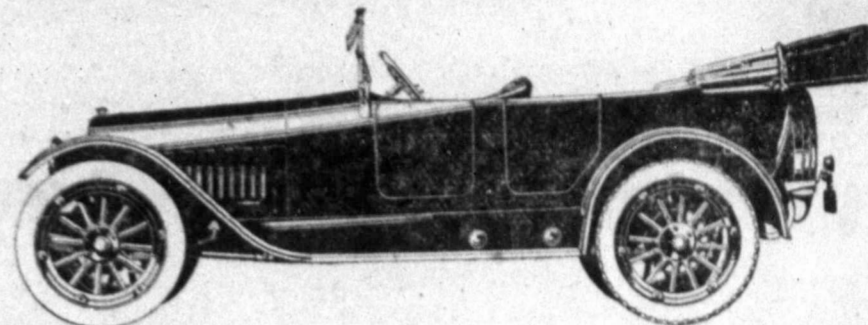

It will cost the relatives of the departed usurer and money shark $50,000 for us to say one complimentary word in his behalf. The Bible has no compliments for him; neither have we—Motley County News.

The ring is already roped off for an interesting senatorial contest in Texas next year—an event that will whet the appetite for an equally exciting contest in 1918. Will Jim Ferguson and Morris Sheppard face each other in the latter bout? There are those who think so.—Waco Tribune.

Don't overlook Morris' prior engagement with Joey B. The challenge has been given and accepted. If there's any remains after this bout Farmer Jim can have his turn at the bat.

The devotion to Zion of Rev. J. L. Finley, of Bollinger, Missouri, reminds us of that displayed by "Reverent" Billy Sunday—they're so far apart. Rev. Finley is the spiritual director of eight churches on two circuits. He walks 100 miles every week to break the spiritual bread to these churches, and on his princely salary of $400 per annum, supports a wife and four children. This needed work he does honestly and contentedly, although he is a man of classic education and refined associations. Compare this self-abnegating spirit with the pestilential and circus-riot methods and the grafting spirit of Bill Sundee. Which of the two methods reflect more faithfully, the life, spirit and methods of the Lowly Nazarene?

A great variety of fancy articles, dolls, etc., suitable for presents will be on sale. On Saturday dinner will be served or sold for your Sunday convenience.

UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT.

On last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pierce entertained the young people of the town in a unique fashion, honoring the teachers, Misses Boren, Poe and McEntyre, who are in their home. The invitations read: "Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pierce will open their school Friday evening, November 19, 1915. Come and wear your best school clothes." From the time they were received the young people and especially the young ladies began to try poses for different ages and wear clothes and manners appropriate. It is needless to say they came from all ages—from six to sixteen and filled with the school spirit.

Mrs. Pierce and the honorees greeted the guests and escorted them to the school room which was the living room and dining room thrown together and seated with little chairs. The school mar's desk laden with switches was in a conspicuous place, while on the blackboard were the inevitable picture labeled "teacher," which had to be accounted for and the artist properly punished.

The school began under most auspicious surroundings. The trustees being present and the typical and efficient teacher, all in their proper places. The teacher was Mrs. P. C. Coleman and what she lacked in discipline she made up in other points. Mrs. Pierce gave the address of welcome, which was responded to by one of the honorable board of trustees, Mr. Robert Ashland Shepherd. Mr. Thomas Ready Smith, another member of the board, spoke on the relation of teacher and parent, while the senior member, Gardner B. Harness, spoke at length on Gerns.

The teacher then enrolled her pupils, each answering to roll call with an original verse or poem. They had lessons in spelling, geography, reading, etc., and each pupil showed talent.

A special teacher in voice and reading from abroad was introduced and gave samples in her line of work. She was Miss Susan Etta Squawletta—in everyday life known as Mrs. Brooks Bell. She so inspired with song that the entire school joined in the chorus. Then came recess, with all that means, followed by the Friday afternoon program. This was speeches, songs and piano music. The program was:

Duet—Lela Lanky Whipkey and Irene Cry Whipkey.

Speech—Wooten Nehemiah Wiggins.

Jeffress.

Song—Lola Davilla Prude.

Speech—Eleanor Jerusha Coleman.

Music—Jeanett June Earnest.

Speech—Lucky Lewis Major.

Song—"Three Little Girls"—June Byrd Adams, Elsie Cottonhouse Hooper and Eleanor Jerusha Coleman.

Speech—Ruth Cleveland Oliver.

Speech—Crazy Marquerite Looney.

Speech—Joseph Orange Smoot.

Music—Anna Balloon Bell.

Speech—Estella Isabelle Smith.

Speech—Mabel Simple Smith.

They were all well applauded by the appreciative audience but owing to the length of the program they could not give encores. The refreshments were school lunches served in individual paper bags and consisted of delicious sandwiches, little cakes, candy and doughnuts. With this the hostess served delicious punch.

The young people are loud in their praises of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce as host and hostess.

CRYING FOR HELP.

Lots of It in Colorado But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed.

Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble.

It is often the kidneys cry for help. Heed it.

Read what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for overworked kidneys.

Proof of merit in the following statement:

Mrs. E. D. Jones, Stamford, Texas, says: "I had severe pains across the small of my back and sides and I knew that they were caused by weak kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and one box made a cure. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they are just as advertised."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jones had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Have you tried the various washer-women and found how unsatisfactory they are? If so, are you not willing to give us a trial also? We employ only expert workmen and our work is kept up to the highest standard of efficiency. Try us and your laundry trouble will be over.—The Laundry.

MISSION STUDY CLASS.

The Mission Study Class of the Baptist church met with Mrs. J. E. Hooper last week, with Mrs. Gustine as leader.

The roll call was A Thanksgiving Thought, with a lesson on the Big Brother and Sister Movement. The lesson is Royal Service was "Harvest Time for the Pioneer Women Missionaries." The offering went for Buckner Orphans' Home. At the social hour Mrs. Highsmith, aunt of the hostess, and Mrs. Harness, were appreciated guests, at which time salad, sandwiches and coffee were served.

The December meeting is with Mrs. W. R. Lindley.

OPEN MEETING.

The Merry Wives entertained their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson Monday evening. They have planned to have these occasions often and had the first one before Mr. and Mrs. Chaney left town, as Mrs. Chaney is their president.

The house was decorated with ferns and autumn plants. After a number of games a turkey feast was enjoyed. Then followed an informal musical program. The old-time melodies being sung by all. The personnel of the party was: Mr. and Mrs. Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Byrne, Mr. and Mrs. Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coughran, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Crowder, Mr. and Mrs. Charters, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. Myrtle Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Majors, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Rountree, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wulfjen, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cooksey; Mesdames Vivian Shropshire, Abe Dolman, J. H. Greene, Oscar Majors, W. A. Crowder, D. C. Byrne, P. L. Avery and Bravis Coe, of Blackwell.

HONORING MRS. CHANEY.

On Tuesday Mrs. E. A. Soper entertained the Merry Wives, and a few other friends honoring Mrs. Newton Chaney before she left for Cleburne. A very pleasant hour was spent in playing the old yet ever new game, "42." At the close refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, cake and coffee were served.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Doss, Tuesday night, a boy, all whom will please to accept the Record's congratulations.

MARY PICKFORD AS "LITTLE PAI" ASTONISHINGLY APPEALING

Following her overwhelming triumph in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," Mary Pickford, the incomparable star of the Famous Players Film Company repeats her success in powerful character portrayal in "Little Pai," the latest production of the Famous Players Film Company on the Paramount Program, featuring this gifted star at Opera House, November 30.

In the role of the little half-breed girl who renounces happiness, opportunity and even safety for the man she loves, Mary Pickford is superb. Although the nature of this characterization is entirely new to Miss Pickford, she suggests the semi-Indian maid with such force and naturalness as to be utterly astonishing in her effectiveness.

"Little Pai" is an original story woven about the star, and it provides her with an abundant opportunity for "Pickfordisms," and the constant demonstration of the qualities for which she is universally famous.

The atmosphere of the story is as novel to followers of the Paramount Program as is the characterization to Miss Pickford. Departing from its regular policy of presenting only the celebrated successes of literature and the stage, the Famous Players Film Company has created this unusual story for Miss Pickford, first because it is so pre-eminently suited to the talents of this star, and, secondly because it possesses an originality of environment entirely new in Famous Players productions, while also equipping Miss Pickford with a role entirely distinct from her past performances.

To say that Miss Pickford overcomes the obstacles derived from the strangeness of her characterization, and rises above the technical difficulties which it presents, is understating the truth.

We Hope that Your Thanksgiving was a Happy One

Since the time over three hundred years ago that our Pilgrim Fathers braved the stormy waters of the Atlantic and the rigors of a New England winter and saw fit to hold Thanksgiving to the Giver of All Things, for shelter and for harvest, our Nation has held Thanksgiving each year. Never before have we had so great an era of prosperity or so much to be thankful for.

Last year, though we had such a great crop, the war scare had made prices too low to realize much from them. The scare has blown away. We are again blessed with an abundant harvest and prices are all that any man could ask. The warring nations are looking to the United States not only for supplies, but large money loans as well. Never have we seen so much feed, so many hogs, cows, turkeys and frying chickens.

We believe that you are thankful for these things and that you are living in a land of peace and plenty. Last, but not least, we believe many are thankful for Edmondson's stores, the stores that befriend the farmer, and where all things to eat and to wear can be bought at the very lowest prices, with premiums that are the thought and talk of the day; premiums that everyone wants—absolutely given away.

Our piano is now in at Roscoe—a soft, sweet-toned piano with a handsome case beautifully finished. We will be glad to have you see it when you come for your supplies. We are proud of it and will be glad to show it to you.

Don't forget that the time will soon be up—on December 1st—when your accounts must be paid, if you expect to have the pleasure of riding in that new five-passenger automobile by paying your just and honest debts.

Now a word to all: Christmas is not many weeks off. We are sure that many ladies are already at work with flying needle on some dainty gift for friends or loved ones. We have a large assortment of crocheted thread, art linens and novelties. Also our place is the place for young girls to come for silks or fancy dress goods to dress up pretty for the Christmas parties.

We are expecting a big supply of caps, sweaters, and the very latest new caps with fancy scarfs to keep out the winter cold. These things have been hard to secure on account of their scarcity and popularity but we always have the goods if they are to be gotten. We urge you to lose no time in looking elsewhere for we have the goods and what you need you can find at our store.

If you will read our ad each week your eyes will be opened to many wonders. How merchandise can be sold at prices we name, a man who never reads our ads, or visits our stores cannot see and is blind to his interests and those of his family. The different opportunities we offer, if read, brighten the mind. They brighten the present and future. It relieves the burdened heart from high prices. It will cause you to have a better feeling for your fellow-man that there is one firm that is striving to protect the laboring man against the high cost of living, and here is your opportunity for another time this season.

BAPTISTS RE-ELECT ALL OFFICERS.

1,200 Attend Opening Session of General Convention at Austin.

Austin, Texas.—There was an attendance of 1,200 when the Baptist General Convention of Texas opened its sessions here recently.

Dr. S. P. Brooks was re-elected president of the Convention as were also the vice presidents, John C. Townes, of Austin, R. E. Burt, of Houston and T. C. Yantis, of Brownwood. All of the secretaries were re-elected.

There was a pull of sadness over the convention on account of the death of Mrs. R. T. Hanks, wife of Dr. R. T. Hanks, at Palacios, and of J. M. Salice at Beville. The illness of Dr. A. J. Barton was also the cause of much sorrow among the delegates.

BULL MOOSE TO PUT OUT CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT IN 1916.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—George W. Perkins, "angel" of the Progressive party, and guardian of the outer gates of Armageddon, sounded the trumpet of Oyster Bay today and shouted the tidings:

"The Progressive party must and will have a ticket in the field in 1916."

And to dispose further of the matter he says that the time and place of the Bull Moose convention would be selected when the executive committee of the party meets in New York a week from Monday.

Tonight at the Knife and Fork Club dinner at the Hotel Baltimore he talked on National issues in his speech.

"We are as unprepared for peace as we are for war."

As to who will be the Progressive standard bearer and what the issue will be, Mr. Perkins would not attempt to say.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.

Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, puffs and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug-gist or toilet counter, and just try it.

GREECE STANDS PAT.

King Constantine Stands Pat On Decision Not to Shed Blood For Entente.

Athens, Nov. 20.—Greece was brought to the brink of war today by a swift series of events.

Lord Kitchener called on King Constantine and Premier Skouloudis and demanded that Greece straightaway declare war on the enemies of the entente allies or demobilize her army.

The Premier gave notice that Greece would disarm and intern all Serbian troops taking refuge in Greek territory. The allies had given warning that such action would be regarded as an act of war.

The British legation here issued a statement that the entente powers had declared "an economic and commercial blockade of Greece." This was published in the newspapers, although the government says it has no official knowledge of the statement.

MAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED.

Look at Tongue! Move Poisons From Liver and Bowels at Once.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign his little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

If you wish the best, safest, most sanitary laundry, done promptly and delivered punctually, send us your clothes.—The Laundry.

LEGEND OF THE KISS.

According to a legend the term "kiss" owes its origin to the manner in which the kiss was discovered. A beautiful Greek shepherdess found a priceless pearl and shared with a youth whose name was Kisthenes the secret of the fortune which was to be her dowry. Brigands robbed the girl of all her trinkets but failed to find the pearl because she kept it in her mouth.

When Kisthenes returned, he found the girl's hands bound, but she told him, triumphantly, that the brigands had taken nothing more than the ordinary trumpery jewelry of a peasant girl. The pearl without price remained. She could not give it to him with her hands, but held it between her lips. In a moment of inspiration, he conceived the idea of holding his hands behind him and receiving the pearl in the manner in which it was offered. Whether or not he succeeded in holding his hands behind him is a detail but it is on record that the pearl fell to the grass unnoticed. Like the hero and heroine of all wholesome stories, they lived happily ever afterwards.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A WORD TO THE DRINKER AND CURSEL.

(Communicated.)
The bible tells us that "wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging and whose is deceived thereby is not wise." According to this statement of the bible, there are many in our community who are not wise. They are allowing whiskey to get the upper hand and control of them, and I know the inevitable result of this course.

I have had some experience with whiskey, and realize that the man who drinks it is the last one to recognize the fact that it is becoming his master. It is like every other habit that binds captive the will. I drank whiskey for a long time, little thinking that it was getting a stronger hold upon me, until my eyes were opened to the fact that it was growing to be my master instead of my occasional pleasure.

But thank God, I realized my danger before it was too late, by His help, I was enabled to quit it. I deeply sympathize with anyone who allows the liquor habit to master him. It matters not how little you may drink, the habit is as much your master as if you drank more. Not one man in an hundred who argues "Oh, I can drink it or let it alone," ever lets it alone. The form of intoxicant matters but little in the power and final result of the habit. Beer or "bitters" lead to the same end. And never did the devil put forth a more deceptive argument than "if you'll let whiskey alone it will let you alone." Everyone who reads these words can recall instances in our own community where men, women and little children, who never tasted the stuff, have been made to suffer the results of drinking more bitterly than those who actually drank it.

Swearing is a more inexcusable sin than drinking, if that be possible. It is the most gratuitous of all sins—that of taking God's name in vain. It does not even produce the artificial stimulation that whiskey does. It only discredits a man's word, when it has to be bolstered up with a profane oath. If a man's simple word is not credible, his profanity is much less so. The man who pollutes the atmosphere with profanity does not wait for any bait, but bites at the devil's bare hook. He turns speech into a curse and rehearses before his time, the dialect he will use in hell.

EAT BIG MEALS! NO SOUR, ACID STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Is Quickest, Surest Stomach Relief Known—Try It.

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.

OH YES THEY CAN.

Have a few irrigated acres on the dry farms, almost anywhere out West. They can lift the water from streams, wells, or dam the dry arroyos to hold the storm-water, making the latter narrow and deep, to minimize evaporation.

Every irrigated acre will be worth, in cash returns and good living, more than any other ten acres on the place, and especially when the dry seasons come. And they will come three or four in succession, just as the wet seasons come.

To say nothing of the cash value of a small irrigated field close to the house, its greater value is in the comfort and pleasure afforded to the woman folk, in fruits, flowers, shade trees, poultry feed, cow feed, etc.

There are decided advantages in storing water in reservoirs. The wind-mills or gasoline engine can pile up the water supply while the family sleeps, and it will go on the land with stronger "head," insuring more even application.

Then it makes for economy in water. There are irrigators, many of them in the west and a few in Texas, who are using a third of the water applied under the old system of making the water do it all, and especially in watering furrow crops. Incidentally, they do not damage the land and the quality of the crops.

This is a matter of the most vital importance to the business interests of our Western Texas cities and towns, as a farm-family, located under conditions promising success and satisfaction, is an asset, locally and generally; while a dissatisfied failure, in corresponding ratio, is a liability.

Rub this soothing, penetrating oil right on your painful back, and like magic, relief comes. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless backache, lumbago and sciatica cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin.

Straighten up! Quit complaining! Stop those torturous "stitches." In a moment you will forget that you ever had a weak back, because it won't hurt or be stiff or lame. Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from your druggist now and get this lasting relief.

THIRTY YEARS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE.

Thirty years is a long time for a man to hold the same position, and yet it seems but yesterday to the old-timers of Abilene since J. J. Clinton, in the very prime of his young manhood was elected chief of the Abilene Fire Department. There are men and women in Abilene who have children who cannot remember the time when John Clinton was not Chief of Police and Chief of the Fire Department of Abilene. For a quarter of a century and more the babies of Abilene have been told if they were not good that "Mr. Clinton would get them." But there never was a time when it was true, for Chief Clinton's heart is as tender as the heart of a woman. A man of great courage, he is not afraid of anybody, fear is not one of the elements in his make-up. John Clinton goes about Abilene doing good day in and day out, here a little and there a little, his life is made up of one round of helpfulness. Beyond all doubt it can be truthfully said of John Clinton that he has helped more people in the city of Abilene than any man in it. And, gentlemen, it has been done out of a meager salary. There is never a funeral in the city no matter who it may be, that John Clinton is not there to sympathize in his own quiet respects to the dead.—Abilene Reporter.

BAD COLD! HEADACHY AND NOSE STUFFED.

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Colds, And Grippe in a Few Hours.

Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

Jud Shaw sold shoes and sealing wax, and lamps, fishpoles and glue, tobacco, candles, gum, and tacks, slickers and sardines, too; dry goods and hams were in his line; he dealt in peas and beans; he kept the general store, in fine—sold overalls and jeans; but Jud, somehow, he wasn't wise—"Couldn't afford to advertise."

Not that he harbored any grudge against his home town sheet; he was, as anyone might judge, a kindly man to meet; his customers he treated fair, and yet he prospered not; his goods were honest, one would swear—he simply was forgot; for Jud, somehow, he wasn't wise—"Couldn't afford to advertise."

Mail order firms from out of town, much wiser in their day, paid liberally for their renown, and gathered in the hay; their catalogues went everywhere; they advertised for trade; their name went forth with trumpets blare, and, ah! the coin they made; couldn't afford, they were so wise, couldn't afford to advertise.

Now, Jud's stuff it was just as good; his prices were the same; the loss was ours; he simply WOULD not spread abroad his name; though townfolks might have much preferred in their home mart to buy, of Jud they had never heard—you know the reason why, for Jud, somehow, he wasn't wise—"Couldn't afford to advertise."—Syndicate Stuff.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

CAUSE OF PELLAGRA.

Dr. Goldberger's Test on Convicts Proved Satisfactory.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 2.—Dr. Joseph Goldberger, of the United States Public Health Service, whose theory of the cause and cure of pellagra, one of the world's most dreaded diseases, has been indisputably proven by experiments at the Rankin convict farm, six miles east of this city, is now engaged in the preparation of his detailed report, to be submitted to the department at Washington.

Insofar as the Southern states are concerned, Dr. Goldberger's discovery has won for him a place in the medical hall of fame alongside with Reed and Carroll, who sacrificed their lives in Cuba in demonstrating the accuracy of the theory of mosquito transmission of yellow fever. It is of far more importance, in fact, for pellagra has caused more deaths in the South during the past ten years than were ever caused by a similar period of yellow fever infection, and the astounding spread of the disease within the past five years has caused the medical profession to stand aghast, with no remedy to offer.

Like nearly all wonderful discoveries in medical science, the cause and the cure are so simple as to be almost ludicrous, and the layman wonders why somebody did not think of it before.

Putting it as briefly as possible, Dr. Goldberger has produced proof of the most conclusive kind that pellagra is a dietary disease, caused by unbalanced ration, and can be quickly and permanently cured by feeding the patient on a well-balanced diet; that it is a form of under-nourishment or starvation somewhat analogous to beriberi or scurvy and ordinary cases of the disease can be cured by getting away from the one-sided diet, and using such articles of food as milk, eggs, lean meat, peas, beans, etc.

Dr. Goldberger's theory has been known to the medical world for several months, but it was not until the conclusion of his experiment with eleven convicts at the Rankin state farm yesterday that positive proof in its support could be given.

These eleven convicts, who volunteered for the experiment, covering a period of more than six months, on Governor Brewer's promise to grant them pardons at the conclusion of Dr. Goldberger's work, have been restored to liberty. Six of the number have pellagra in positive form, two have developed the early symptoms, and it is more than likely that the remaining three also have the disease, but the skin lesions have not yet appeared.

It was a dramatic and terrifying ordeal through which the eleven convicts, a majority of them life-terminers, passed. Day after day they saw themselves, and each other, growing paler and more emaciated. Each week brought evidence that the disease was slowly developing, and several of the number wrote piteous letters to Governor Brewer urging him to release them from the voluntary pledge they had made, and allow them to go back to the ordinary prison routine and finish their life terms.

"I'd rather serve a thousand years at hard labor than go on with this hellish experiment for another week," said one convict in a letter to Governor Brewer only two weeks ago. This prisoner fully realized that he was afflicted with pellagra, as sores had begun to appear on various parts of his body. But the governor was obdurate. He felt a keen personal sympathy for the men who were risking their lives for humanity's sake, and, incidentally, to secure release from prison, but they had entered into a contract and the success of the experiment depended absolutely on keeping the squad intact.

The experiment had been hedged about, with all possible secrecy. Dr. Goldberger, Governor Brewer, the prison authorities, and the State Board of Health officials, all realized that if it became publicly known that eleven convicts were being given a diet for the deliberate purpose of producing pellagra, the denunciations so common when men of science are making experiments with human beings would be forthcoming, and probably relatives and friends of the convicts would institute habeas corpus proceedings, or take other legal steps to secure their release from the "pellagra squad."

And, strange to say, the quarters in which the eleven convicts were confined were shunned by other prison inmates like a leper camp. The inmates grew morose, stubborn and resentful. Thirty days ago when the skin lesions began to appear, ugly sores breaking out on their bodies, it was almost a reign of terror among the convicts, and the letters Governor Brewer received begging for release grew more frequent and insistent.

Dr. Goldberger realized, more than thirty days ago, that his theory was being proven. The details of the work of supervision were in the hands of his assistant Dr. G. A. Wheeler, of the Public Health Service, who remained with the convicts day and night, to see to it that they were not given any food other than the unbalanced ration sent from the convict kitchen, consisting chiefly of cereals, such as corn meal, grits, molasses, fat meat, etc. Dr. Goldberger made frequent visits to the farm. During the last week in September the unmistakable skin symptoms began to appear, but he said nothing about it waiting for more conclusive proof to develop.

On Sunday afternoon when Dr. Goldberger took a party of Jackson physicians, including Drs. Stewart, Galloway, Watkins and Stiglich to the Rankin farm, it required but a few minutes for diagnosis. The prisoners were stripped, and the familiar symptoms were so evident that the physicians promptly pronounced six positive cases of pellagra, with two other very suggestive of the disease.

"We know the cause, gentlemen," said Dr. Goldberger, "and we also know the cure. There is no longer an excuse for an enormous death rate from pellagra."

A shower of congratulations followed, and they were received with a modesty much akin to embarrassment. It was a discovery that meant nothing to Dr. Goldberger financially. His salary as a servant of Uncle Sam's big department of medicine will remain the same. He gets no bonus, no medal, no Iron Cross, or anything of that sort. It means only that he will probably be much more in demand to deliver lectures before medical societies, and thus kept away from his wife and kiddies for more protracted periods. And it probably means that the surgeon-general at Washington will give him a more difficult job to tackle next time.

Dr. Goldberger is of German birth, graduated from the Bellevue Hospital and College, New York, in 1895, and entered the Marine Hospital Service in 1899, since which time he has been continuously connected with Uncle Sam's medical work, serving for several years in the hygiene laboratories at Washington.

This is not Dr. Goldberger's first series of important experiments. On three occasions he has been almost a martyr to medical science. That he did not die on each occasion was due to his remarkable physical and recuperative power, for he is a regular whale of a man, more than six feet in height, and built like an Olympian game athlete.

In 1902 Dr. Goldberger, while conducting a series of yellow fever experiments in Mexico, was stricken with the disease. A few years later, while engaged with typhus experiments in the same country he contracted a bad case of typhoid. In 1910, at Brownsville, Texas, he was experimenting with dengue fever, and contracted that malady. It seems to be his habit to take the disease he is working with, but thus far he has not taken pellagra, and he does not look the least bit like a probable victim.

Eighteen months ago the Public Health Service detailed Dr. Goldberger as surgeon in charge of pellagra investigation. He has had several assistants in the work, notable among them being Dr. C. H. Waring, assistant surgeon; Dr. David G. Willets, technic assistant, and Dr. G. A. Wheeler, the latter being placed in active charge of the pellagra squad at the Rankin farm, and who deserves no small measure of credit for the success of the work.

Dr. Goldberger's experiments have been chiefly in the state of Mississippi. Some work was done at the insane hospital at Milledgeville, Ga., and also in portions of South Carolina, but the results that prove the theory, establishing both the cause and cure of pellagra, have been largely developed in Mississippi.

Lord Churchill has said that if any operations in the history of the world were worth carrying through with utter disregard of life the Dardanelles' operations were.

NOTICE.

After December 1st I will not open my market on Sunday until warm weather comes again. Meat will keep now without ice and we will keep open late Saturday nights so you can get your Sunday supply. I do this in order to give my men their Sunday and let them go to church.

H. S. Beal.

BEWARE OF CHEAP SUBSTITUTES

In these days of keen competition it is important that the public should see that they get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. Obtainable everywhere.

IT'S NONE TOO SOON.

Only 30 more days until Christmas will be with us again, with its decisions as to what to give individual friends and relatives. Speed the propaganda and DO YOUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY.

With this idea in view, I have in advance of the season provided a large and comprehensive line of everything that comes within the range of Christmas giving. You can make your selections now and have them kept until you wish them delivered. Quality of the highest; prices the lowest.

JAS. T. JOHNSON, Jeweler and Optician.

Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days

Your druggist will refund money if PAIN OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. The first application gives Ease and Rest. 50c.

Owing to the high cost of the Paramount film service and the number of reels shown, the price of admission at the Opera House Movies has been raised to 15 cents. When you reflect that seven or eight reels are shown nightly, five of which are of the Paramount service, it is easily understood that such high class exhibitions can not be given for an admission price of less than 15 cents.

HARDY MOTORISTS THESE.

When motorists start for an outing in the semi-arid southwest, they fearlessly tackle anything in the line of a trail. The El Paso Herald's staff recently decided to picnic at Dripping Springs and started in a fleet of automobiles, but one of which, N. M. Veazey's Maxwell, made the trip without mishap.

The largest stock of exclusive millinery to be found in West Texas, at all times and in all seasons, is at your disposal at Mrs. E. F. Mills.

The man without a poll tax receipt next year will cut about as much figure in the free doings of the campaign, as a wooden-legged man in a foot race.

WORK ON HOTEL

SOON TO BEGIN.

The fact that Colorado will soon have a first-class hotel building with service good as the best, is a cheerful and heartening announcement. It is even so. The contract has been let to Mr. Sam Dane, who is also building a new school house for Gall, and work will begin soon as practicable.

The Record can not too highly commend the loyalty and civic pride of those of our citizens who have made this project possible. They have invested their money in this enterprise believing that the entire community will stand behind them, and boost the proposition in a sympathetic way, if not in a more material manner.

The building and running of this hotel will quicken every business in the town of Colorado. It will give new impulse to every line represented. It will bring to our midst people who will spend their money here and advertise the virtues of the hostelry to others. It will be a long needed convenience supplied and mean many dollars to the business of Colorado that have for years gone to other towns offering more attractive accommodations to the traveling public.

Cures Old Sores, Other Remedies Won't Cure. The worst cases, no matter of how long standing, are cured by the wonderful, old reliable Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil. It relieves Pain and Heals at the same time. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Inquiring of anachorisms—how does that family now travel that just after the civil war, always boarded the train with a pet coon and a pillow-slip of dried apples?

REMOVAL NOTICE.

Have moved my office from Glisson House, over the Colorado Bank with Dr. W. H. Henthorne and am prepared to fit the eyes in the most up-to-date manner, with glasses that are pleasing to wear. All work guaranteed.

Dr. A. J. DAVIS.

COME NEXT SATURDAY.

Owing to several distracting attractions in town last Saturday, there were not sufficient people present to successfully launch a poultry association as it should be. No attempt was made at such organization at that time, but a meeting is hereby called for this purpose next Saturday, November 27th, at the court house, at 2 o'clock. Let's have a goodly attendance and enthusiastic meeting.

W. A. DULIN.

County Farm Demonstrator.

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

MITCHELL COUNTY

SCHOOLS GET $750.

Two of the schools of Mitchell county will participate in the million dollar fund for the betterment of rural schools. Westbrook school has been granted aid in the sum of $400 and the Valley View school in the sum of $350. County Superintendent J. H. Bullock went out Saturday to meet the trustees of Valley View who wished to vote bonds for the purpose of bringing that school building fully up to the requirement demanded by the state superintendent. As we understand it, these were the only schools making application for participation in the benefits of this fund.

MARY PICKFORD

IN AN ORIGINAL AND INCOMPARABLE PORTRAYAL

"Little Pal"

REVIEW

"Little Pal" provides Mary Pickford, the unrivaled favorite of the screen, with one of the most unique roles in which she has ever been presented. The photoplay is one of primitive emotions and primal passions, and brings forth a hitherto unsuspected aspect of Mary Pickford's astounding versatility. It is sufficient to say that Miss Pickford invests this extraordinary characterization with all the power and charm for which she is universally celebrated.

IT IS DENIED.

(San Antonio Express.)

The physician who refused to operate on that incurably defective child in Chicago, on the chance of saving its life, made an answer to his critics that ought to sear the complacency of those members of his community who have selected this isolated incident as the mark of their peculiar solicitude for human life.

Doubtless all have read his answer in its completeness. It is courageous enough and shocking enough. Passing is reference to criminal violence and criminal operations on particular individuals, we come to this.

"It seems to me that a city which allows an automobile accident every round of the clock is hardly in a position to criticize a man who holds that to a defective, death is preferable to life."

Is it denied? In what percentage of the cases of children struck down in the streets do we raise a hue and cry and demand rigorous punishment for the slayer, if the fault be his? Our exceeding great righteousness and love of mercy are usually exercised on cases so circumstanced as to give our comment or our punitive action as much prominence as the tragedy. But there are few children of the notable and influential struck down in the streets.

No better glasses made than Hawkes crystalline lenses. Why pay several times more for no better? W. L. Doss.

Tenants are increasing, but this seems to be a result of a decrease in other workers. It seems that when oil workers are considered the proportion of home owners is about constant. Hired men are decreasing and tenants increasing. This is probably due to machinery and higher land values. Young men should strive to own their homes.—Farm and Ranch.

In making your arrangements for the winter have you secured a prompt reliable washer-woman? If you have not we want the job. Satisfaction guaranteed. Don't this sound good to you? Try us and we will make good.—The Laundry.

A woman can suffer in silence; but when a man is affected he generally howls.—New York American.
