DEMOCRATIC VICTORY, SAYS SECRETARY OF NAVY.

Washington Sept. 12.—Commenting upon the Maine election today, Secretary Daniels claimed the result was a democratic victory and that when national issues were considered the progressives would vote with the democrats.

"This is shown," said the secretary, by the fact that Milliken, republican candidate for governor got 77,000 votes and the two republican candidates for senate got about 7,000 less. There is nothing discouraging in the result. If the democrats had carried Maine, that would have ended the entire campaign. Maine ought to have about 50,000 republican majority; instead we cut it down to about 15,000. The result is a democratic victory."

Mr. Daniels declared it was to be expected in Maine the progressives would flock to the republicans. He predicted that they would not do so in New York, Illinois and Ohio, but would come in greater proportion to the democratic party.

COTTON REPORT.

Last year Mitchell county received between 24000 and 25000 bales. A conservative estimate by cotton experts this year is around 9000 bales.

The price of cotton and seed this year, and the small expense of picking will equal about 15000 bales as compared with last year's prices.

The market opened up Thursday morning steady at 15c, selling during the week at 14 1/2 to 15c. Cotton seed at $45 but later in the day dropped to $40 the ton.

The amount received in Colorado up to Thursday morning is 817 bales, weighed as follows:

As an indication of the growth of Mitchell county and increase in property values the assessor's rolls show that the taxable values of the 1916 rolls are nearly a quarter of a million dollars over those of last year. When it is considered that a quarter of the area of the county is yet in cattle pastures, this is a very creditable showing.

LOOKOUT For the Colorado Made Picture

Don't Think A Modern Windmill Looks Like This

The same kind of ingenious, inventive ability that has perfected the automobile, flying machine and submarine has been at work on the windmill.

You would not think of buying an automobile with the transmission gears uncovered and exposed to dirt and water. Nor would you buy one which required that each bearing be oiled separately. We simply urge you to use the same good judgment in selecting a windmill.

There is ONE, but ONLY ONE, thoroughly modern and up-to-date windmill.

You will find in it every feature which you know to be desirable in a windmill. It runs in the lightest wind, it is strong and durable, all working parts are inclosed and flooded with oil from the supply in the gear case. The oil supply needs replenishing only once a year. The brake and furling device are simple and effective.

A glance at this illustration will bring home to you very forcefully the difference between this modern wind motor and the out-of-date windmills being offered for sale. If you have a mill of another make it will pay you to replace it, on your old tower, with an Auto-Oiled Aermotor. If you have an Aermotor you can bring it up to date by using your old tower, wheel and vane and installing an auto-oiled motor.

Our galvanized steel towers are up-to-date also. We call them "EASY-TO-BUILD-UP," as they are made in 7-foot lengths and can be built up from the ground without the use of gin pole and heavy tackle. They are tremendously strong.

Progressive windmill dealers in every locality are taking up the sale of the Auto-Oiled Aermotor. Ask them about it or write us direct for fuller information. Aermotor Co., 2500 West Twelfth St., Chicago, Ill.

TEXAS GINNING NEAR DOUBLE THAT OF THIS TIME LAST YEAR

Austin, Texas, Sept. 11.—The state department of agriculture today issued its first report for this season of cotton ginned in Texas. The report shows that up to September 1 there were 333,417 bales ginned as against 184,579 bales for the same period last year. This indicates that the cotton season is much more advanced than at the same time last year.

ELECTING A PRESIDENT

Nation Rent by Slavery Issue In 1860.

THE election of 1860 found the country on the verge of civil war. The abolitionists were members of the Republican party, and in the convention Lincoln defeated William H. Seward of New York.

In no former war have the animals played so large a part as they have in this now raging. Besides the horses, mules and oxen, there are the dogs serving in many ways, the cats ridding the trenches of rats and mice, the carrier pigeons, and even the white mice of the submarines, which are taken aboard to give warning of any escape of gas.

Entitled to Paradise according to Islam: The ass of Mohammed, the camel of Saleh, the calf of Abraham, the ram of Ishmael, the ox of Moses, the ant of King Solomon, the mule of the Queen of Sheba, the whale of Jonah, the dog of the Seven Sleepers, and the spider that saved the Prophet in his flight by weaving its web across the cavern in which he had taken refuge.

Both Zion and High Sassiety seem to be slightly beset these latter and untoward days. That great and notable day is to be preceded, we are told, by amazing signs and wonders. Two women shall cleave onto one man and two men shall cleave one another over one woman and a little child shall believe them—nit.

There are some good men and women in this town who can't sleep.

more than seven hours nights grieving over how badly some other good men and women feel about Sister Spain—and so or Brother Whatnot's spiritual condition. Don't worry, sister, brother—we'll all pass through the tribulation and come out whitewashed on the other side of the wringer.

Mexico must be moving toward the light. Carranza has ordered an increase of taxation more than 1200 per cent. This will matter little with the average Mexican. If he couldn't pay his taxes when they were nothing, and wouldn't pay any when he could take what he wanted, he will hardly grumble at the increase. In Mexico it is a matter of "him what has must lose, for the fellow who hasn't, can't."

There is no more fascinating amusement than "kidding" one's self, that is, thinking one's hobby or besetting weakness is "there" because he wishes it so. The people who talk loudly of Hughes defeating Wilson, in order to keep up their courage till the election, are just kidding themselves. The fellow who tries to persuade his nerve against his judgment, is merely kidding himself, as is also the other fellow who takes a shot in the dark thinking he'll hit some other fellow's jaw spot, just kidding himself along as blithely as that other fellow with sinister quarterings across his escutcheon, who thinks to relieve his own by threatening the exposure of another's faults. Just kidding himself along. Nobody's fooled or scared but himself.

The Record does not believe either President Wilson or his advisors, thought the passage of the eight hour law with ten hours pay, would stand the buffeting of litigation and assaults of the supreme court of the United States, any more than the doctor believes the medical profession will endorse and adopt emergent, next to band remedies administered to save the life of a patient, empiric or orthodox; if the life of the patient be saved, the remedy is justified. If the passage of a law by congress in an emergency, that the supreme court may not afterwards sustain, prevents a paralysis of commerce and industry at a critical juncture in the affairs of the nation, it were wise and for the best interests of the whole people. Whether the law stands as passed or not—it saved the nation from industrial panic and commercial chaos.

When Senator Sherman called Samuel Gompers a nuisance, he essayed the role of the Lilliputian deriding Gulliver; when he objected to the eight hour law because it was legislation for the few, he exchanged his toga for the cap and bells. The man who during the past fifty years has seen law after law put through Congress at the demand of a handful of bankers, manufacturers, or railroad managers, and yet objects to the enactment of a law at the behest of four hundred thousand trainmen has little appreciation of the importance of the people; and the man who, occupying his present position by the grace of a political machine and the division among his opponents, attempts to patronize the leader of the American Federation of Labor, exemplifies the sad effect of an exalted position upon a small man.

Keep Colorado Money in Colorado.

MORE DWELLINGS NEEDED.

Colorado needs more residential property. Never in the history of the town was this class of property in brisker demand than right now. During the past two weeks we have personally heard a dozen inquiries for dwelling houses. There is a decided reluctance on the part of those who own eligible building lots to improve them for rental purposes. They claim that the average ten-dollar-a-month renter now demands a two thousand dollar house, with bathroom, cistern, victrola-in-the-parlor, concrete walks and mosquito-proof screens, et cetera and so forth. There is much truth in what the landlords say along the line of thousand dollar demands of hundred-dollar tenants. But there is something to be said on the other side. The landlord who keeps his property in attractive and comfortable condition, can pick his own tenants from among the most dependable class of them, and the better class and prompter the pay, the better care is taken of the rented property. The most merciless, exacting and cold-blooded landlords of this country, are those who have suffered the privations and persecutions incident to tenancy in other lands.

If the demand for additional homes is so great in Colorado now, it will surely be greater another year with more abundant crops. There are many very desirable lots in town yet unimproved, on which modest, but modern cottages could be built for from $600 to $1000, and sold on rent-paying terms to responsible people. The time has long since passed when any kind of shelter will satisfy the man with the most ordinary ambition and tastes. He wants more, and we believe he will be willing to pay for what he wants under encouraging conditions. The eagerness with which tenants are applying for offices in the new City National Bank building, which will be up to date in architecture, steam heated and with janitor service furnished, with correspondingly high rent, demonstrates the statement that these advantages are appreciated. In the meantime, there is not a vacant dwelling house in the town, while there is demand for at least a score.

THANKS, JUP. PLUV.

On or about—as legal processes and promissory notes phrase it—September 21st, the date on which the sun crosses the equator on the north segment of its supposititious orbit, the meteorological disturbances popularly known as the equinoctial storms, occur with more or less violence. Sometimes these disturbances occur as much as two weeks before or after the equinoctial date. Hence on the occurrence of the full moon of last Monday, we old fogies who still hold to the portent of signs and wonders, believe there would be a decided change in the condition of the brand of weather this particular section has been enjoying (nit) the past several months. We predicated our faith upon the near conjunction of full moon and the equinox. Our faith was therefore fully justified on Tuesday morning by the slow soaking rainfall that prevailed throughout the day—and then some. We always cheer off from the man who claims he has "not a superstitious bone in his body." He's as little to be trusted as the man who hath no music in his soul, who cannot be moved by a concord of sweet sounds. The fellow who has no superstition is only one who hasn't the same kind you have. He will hoot at your carrying around an Irish potato in your pocket to ward off "the rumatiz and hants," but the odds are that he will split in his hand and hit it with his middle finger to locate his lost knife of the direction of buried treasure. He may sneer at "nigger conjer" but steadfastly hold to the gospel of the "flying Dutchman" and the doctrine of finding lables in hollow stumps. This is the only difference between the superstitious fad and the clean thinking, even minded, intelligent person—the difference of ideals. Anyhow, nevertheless, notwithstanding, peradventure, for which—it rained some this week, and we deserved it.

The soldiers who are being sent back to their homes in the northern states from the border, are richer in experience, tougher in sinew and stronger in health, with widened horizons and greater respect for the immensity of the country they were willing to defend, than when they first started southward. The lusty yells they emit in passing eastward, the spontaneous blarney and good humor, attest that the mobilization has done them good. They now know just how the trick will be turned in case of real war.

Mr. Hughes is a man of great gifts. But as the republican candidate for the presidency he has not yet furnished the nation with a single throb or quickened its pulses by so much as a beat. The more he travels and talks the less he thrills. Yet on the supreme bench Justice Hughes was a strong and substantial figure, inspiring general respect and confidence. We wonder how many Republicans are now wishing in their heart of hearts that their astute leaders had left him there.—New York World.

OUR DOPPLEGANGER.

Beside us, in our seeking after pleasure, Through all our restless striving after fame, Through all our search for worldly gain or treasure; There walketh One whom no one likes to name. Silent He follows, veiled of form and feature, Indifferent if we sorrow or rejoice; But the day comes when every living creature Must look upon his face and hear His voice. When that day comes to you and Death unmasking Shall bar your path and say "behold the end;" What are the questions that he will be asking Of your past; Have you considered, friend? I think he will not chide you for your sinning, Nor for your creeds or dogmas will he care; He will but ask from your life's first beginning, "How many burdens did you help to bear?"

"CYCLONE DAVIS" SORE IN DEFEAT

"Cyclone Davis," recently defeated for renomination to Congress from Texas, has brought suit against Chairman Paul Waples, of the state Democratic committee, for $50,000 damages for failure to direct that the name "Cyclone Davis" be placed on the primary ballots, as directed by the aforesaid "Cyclone." He declares in his allegations that the failure to place his name on the ticket as directed was the cause of his defeat. We can't help but doubt the truth of the charges. "Cyclone Davis" proved by his record in Washington that the voters made a mistake when they elected him once, and they had evidently realized the fact and had no intention of repeating the blunder. If Davis could not win as James H. Davis, his real name, it is fair to assume that as "Cyclone Davis" his pet name, he would not have won. He wanted an excuse for defeat and entered suit against Chairman Waples in looking for it. One term in Congress is sufficient for any freak.—Greenville (Miss.) Democrat.

The Soda Fountain An American Institution

Did you ever stop to realize that the soda fountain is as much an American institution as the sausage is a German institution. "French Broad" is an institution in France and the Plum pudding an English institution? And the funny part of it all is that though one seldom sees a soda fountain in Europe (and then only for the sake of attracting American tourist trade) just as soon as a foreigner gets to this country he too seems to learn to love the soda fountain. But, if you are old enough to look back a few years you will remember that only comparatively recently has the soda fountain been either so popular or so beautiful and hygienic. You may remember what these old soda fountains looked like—what poor provision they made to supply even their scanty trade. What has wrought this great change—what has made the soda fountain a national institution—a comfort and necessity in the daily lives of men and women—not only during the hot summer time but the whole year 'round.

The answer lies in that delicious beverage Coca-Cola. Soon after its introduction at the fountains people began to ask more and more for this distinctive drink. Along with its demand came the demand for more places that would serve it. Soda fountains sprang up everywhere, improving in beauty, neatness and attractive service. It is a fact that the soda fountain and all its allied industries have come to play in the economic life of the nation today in due largely to the stimulus given to it by Coca-Cola. In the same way has the call for bottled beverages grown. In 1899 Coca-Cola in bottles was first put on the market and the same quick recognition and appreciation was accorded to it in this form as was so evident in the fountain trade.

Buy a Car You Will Want to Keep. In the whole history of the automobile business there has never been a time when real care in selecting a car is more imperative than today. No longer is it possible to buy any make of car, drive it 12 to 15 months, and then trade it in for a new car at one-half or two-thirds of its original cost. The market on used cars today will not permit this. Consider then, the importance of buying a car that will give you such service and satisfaction that you will enjoy running it season after season, until you have realized every last dollar of the price you paid, — before you even think of trading. ## ENTERTAINMENTS, PARTIES AND SOCIETY'S DOINGS

—BY MRS. A. L. WHIPKEY—

You will confer a favor upon the Record and the editor of this department if you will phone her (No. 157) any announcement or news item

God might have made the earth bring forth
Enough for great and small,
The oak tree and the cedar tree,
Without a bower at all.
We might have had enough, enough,
For every want of ours,
For luxury, medicine and toil,
And yet have had no flowers.

Then wherefore, wherefore were they made,
All dyed with rainbow light,
All fashioned with supremest grace,
Upspringing day and night—
Springing in valleys green and low,
And on the mountains high,
And in the silent wilderness
Where no man passes by?

Our outward life requires them not—
Then wherefore had they birth?
To minister delight to man,
To beautify the earth;
To comfort man—to whisper hope,
Whenever his faith is dim,
For whose careth for the flowers
Will care much more for Him.

CENTRAL CIRCLE.

The Central Circle of the M. E. church had an unusually large attendance at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith, Monday afternoon. Besides the regular routine business, Mrs. M. K. Jackson, leader of the Mission Study class, reported that the text books would be "World Missions and World Peace." Mrs. Hester secured the names of almost all present as subscribers to the "Missionary Voice" for at least four months. Mrs. Shepperd and Mrs. Davis, captains for the whirlwind campaign for Missions, presented their work and received the promise of co-operation. The play to be given in October was decided upon. It is "Brown vs. Brown." Also the Christmas bazaar was discussed.

Dues and offerings to the amount of $12.95 were received. Miss Willie Smith and Mrs. J. P. Majors of Sweetwater were appreciated guests. At the social hour ice cream and two kinds of cake were served. The October meeting will be with Mrs. Spruill.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY.

The M. E. Sunday school has set apart September 24th as Rally Day in their school, and every means will be used to make the attendance the biggest in the history of the school. If you are a Methodist, or inclined that way, you are urged to be there. Help reach the aim—400.

SCRAP BOOKS FOR B. O. H.

Last week Mrs. R. B. Terrell, the efficient leader of the Sunbeam Band asked the children that they each make a scrap book for the convalescent children at Buckner Orphans Home, and last Sunday twenty-two responded with neat ones, fixed on cloth, so that they might be passed from bed to bed and stand real use. They also sent a cash collection of $15.00 to the typhoid emergency fund. These little folks are always at work. They both study and give. It should be the pride of every parent to be interested in their work, and see that they attend regularly. They will now start on their offering for Associational Missions and we are sure it will be a worthy one.

BUSINESS MEETING.

The women of the Baptist church held their regular monthly business meeting at the church Thursday afternoon. They decided to pack a box for B. O. H. and will have an all day sewing in the Sunday school rooms the last Thursday in Sept., the 28th. Messengers were elected to the Association which convenes in Merkel, Oct. 5th. They were Mesdames Hooper, Williamson, J. L. Shepherd and Lee Jones; with Mesdames Keathley, T. J. Ratliff, G. W. Smith and Wheeler, alternates.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. J. L. Shepherd, President, Mrs. Geo. Smith, Vice President; Mrs. E. Keathley, Secretary; Mrs. Hooper, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Robt. Terrell, Sunbeam Leader; Mrs. Lee Jones, Chairman Personal Service.

PICTURE SHOW PARTY.

Donald Sheff and Miss Alice Majors entertained twenty young people with a picture show party last Friday evening, honoring Miss Mabel Frances Hardy of Sweetwater. Following this a very pleasant hour was spent in the home of Mrs. Oscar Majors. Ice cream and cake were served.

OPENING EXERCISES OF COLORADO PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

All children and parents, and others interested in the schools of the city will please assemble at the tabernacle September 18th (Monday) at 9 o'clock a. m. A short, informal program will be rendered. Everyone come and let us make the occasion a real old time school rally. The following is a part of the program:

Invocation—Rev. Mr. Doak.
Song—America—Audience.
The Outlook for Colorado Schools—Supt. C. D. Judd.
How the Home May Help the School—Dr. N. J. Phenix, W. W. Porter, and others.
How the Schools May Help the Home—Mrs. M. K. Jackson.
Song, Selected.—Choral Club.
Reading, Selected.—Miss Smith.
The Relation of County Board of Trustees to Country Schools.—Dr. P. C. Coleman.
Work and Aims of the Parent-Teachers Association.—Mrs. Merritt.

GO TO SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY.

The Baptists have set their aim for 370 in Sunday school Sunday, Sept. 24, and in order to have this number you will have to be there. Every Sunday is a good day but a special program will be given that day—Songs, scripture and talks. The superintendent, officers and teachers are striving to do their part to make that day the biggest in the history of the school, and it will be if every Baptist does his duty. Get up a little early on Sept. 24 and be there. You will be the better for it and the workers will be made happier. All strangers within the city are most cordially invited as guests on that day.

A PLEASANT EVENING.

A crowd of the near young folks passed a pleasant evening in the home of J. G. Keathley last Friday. The lawn was a scene of happy youngsters who were anxious to crowd in just as much fun as possible before school starts. The climax came when the West Texas luscious watermelons were served.

Mr. Man.—Did you ever think of the unending monotony of woman's work? Wash, cook, sweep and sew every day in the week. Each Monday morning she is confronted with that awful washing, followed by a more awful ironing. Are you surprised that she grows cross and nervous? Suggest that next week she send everything to the laundry and rest up a little. You will both be pleased with results we believe. You with the reasonableness of the price, she with the quality of the work and the time saved. A trial will convince you both and bring happiness to the whole family.—Colorado Steam Laundry.

AUXILIARY TO C. W. B. M.

The Auxiliary had a pleasant meeting with Mrs. Sandusky last week. This completed their year's work and all business was finished. Then an interesting program was given, with Mrs. Jones as leader.

Roll call—What benefits have you derived from the year's work?
The Bible Study.—The home in Tarsus—was led by Mrs. Broadus.
Mrs. Soper told the story—The Mantle of Elijah.
The new year books will be ready for the October meeting.
Mrs. McCoy was received as a new member.
Miss Lena Key and Mrs. Woods were appreciated guests at the social hour. Home made cake and ice cream were served.

SPECIAL SERMON.

The whirlwind campaign for Missions is being waged by all Southern Methodists this month, and the church here is taking an active part in it. They are divided into teams with Mrs. Davis and Mrs. J. W. Shepperd as captains, urging them to greater efforts. The pastor will preach a special sermon Sunday to women; showing the work done by them and why every woman should be a worker. Every Methodist woman is urged to be present.

No better glasses made than Haves' crystalline lenses. W. L. Doss fits 'em satisfactorily without extra charge.

TO PATRONS OF COLORADO SCHOOLS.

Your attention is kindly directed to the following regulations: The compulsory school law of Texas requires all children between the ages of 8 years and 14 years to attend the public schools or other schools for a period of at least 60 days during the school year of 1916-1917. The law requires also that such attendance must be the first 60 days of the school year, unless changed by the trustees. The trustees of Colorado Schools offer the parent or guardian the privilege of selecting the date of attendance. But bear in mind that these 60 days must be consecutive. For instance you will not be permitted to send to school 20 days the first three months; 20, the three; and 20, the next three but all the 60 days must be together, or in succession.

All tuitions must be paid monthly in advance. If not paid within ten days after due, pupils will be suspended from school.

All school children must successfully be vaccinated.

Those refusing to comply with this requirement will be promptly sent home.

It is the duty of the parent to provide the necessary text books and other supplies for his children. Students who persist in attending school without text books will be suspended until such books are supplied.

Your careful observance of the foregoing will be of mutual assistance to teachers and trustees.

C. D. JUDD.

CARNIVAL AND PLAY.

Last week the youngsters in North Colorado had, as an outlet for amusement, a carnival at the home of C. A. Pierce. This had the true carnival spirit, noise and all. The price to everything was so many pins, and it lasted as long as the pins held out.

This week the outlet was in theatrical form. Blue Beard was presented at the home of J. M. Thomas with an all star cast. The costumes were gorgeous and every part was perfectly acted. The dining room was converted into a stage while the guests were seated in the living room. The sum of ten cents admission was charged to secure refreshments for the crowd, and what was over was divided between the actors. The cast of characters was: Eleanor Thomas, Margaret Sandusky, Mary Broadus, Lucile Duff, Willis Duff, John William Doss, Edwin Pierce and a real Pickaninny.

Parson H. F. Smith is still on the conjugal job. Walton J. Witt and Miss Lora Chaney were made one last Sunday afternoon at the home of Rev. Smith. Another couple came to him to be matched, but had neglected to procure the necessary papers for such celebrations prescribed. So the Parson said them, Nay, Minervy!

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

After the summer vacations the Sunday school workers of the Christian school had a meeting with Mrs. H. B. Broadus last week to perfect plans for the year's work. Mr. Stowe was elected president, Miss Juanita Pond, secretary and Mrs. Broadus press reporter. The different phases of Sunday school work were discussed and plans made for the betterment of the school. They decided to meet at the homes of the members twice a month and have a social time after business was transacted. The next meeting will be with the pastor, Rev. Burkhardt. The hostess served cream and cake, at the social hour.

ORGANIZED FOR WORK.

The Baptist Sunday school workers completed an organization for greater efficiency in Sunday school work, Tuesday evening. They are to hold meetings twice a month at the church, after prayer meeting. Rev. W. L. Williamson was chosen chairman and J. H. Greene secretary. Their motto is, "A work for everybody, and everybody at work." Everybody interested in Sunday school work is urged to be there next Wednesday evening.

We asked one of the local physicians yesterday morning, how business was. He replied: "I haven't time to tell you. I placed a fine girl baby for adoption last night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Howell; another ditto this morning in the home of J. D. Herring, and am hurrying along on another errand of the same kind."

Dan Beeman brought 1460 pounds of seed cotton to the gin yesterday morning and received a bale of lint cotton weighing 559 pounds, which he sold at 15.10. This is some of the cotton he raised under the direction of Farm Demonstrator Dulin.

Rev. G. Churchill Rafter, wife and George Jr., returned home Wednesday night from a summer vacation with relatives and friends in Springfield, Missouri. G. C. gives every physical evidence of having had a splendid time and assures us that the wife and George shared the same recuperation.

Seven ears of Roscoe people accompanied by J. B. Farmer, spent Sunday sight seeing at Seven Wells. A feast of good things to eat was also enjoyed.

Sunrise Breakfast.

The girls of the Epworth League enjoyed a sunrise breakfast on Lone Wolf creek, Thursday. They were chaperoned by Misses Ina Wulffjen and Erii King.

TEXAS HAS BIG ROAD PROBLEM.

Texas, according to the latest compilation of the United States Office of Public Roads, has 128,971 miles of highway, of which only 6 per cent is improved. Out of this huge total only 3,000 miles are stone, gravel, or other hard surface roads. Rhode Island, the smallest state in the Union, has improved 50 per cent of her roads. Ohio with 89,000 miles of road has improved 30 per cent of them. Evidently Texas road builders have a big job ahead of them, but the willingness already shown to spend money for road improvement indicates that the problem will be solved in Texas as it has been solved in other states. Fortunately also Texas will have the benefit of the experience of the pioneers in road improvement. This experience shows, among other things, the unwisdom of makeshift methods on the one hand, and unnecessarily costly construction on the other.

An expert who has surveyed the road material supplies of the state arrives at the conclusion that Texas will be more road service for her money in the form of asphalt macadam wearing surfaces on a comparatively light concrete base than can be got in any other way. By the adoption of this form of construction there is eliminated the high cost and uncertainty involved in building all-concrete roads. At the same time, the value of concrete as a support or foundation is retained without any of the disadvantages of trying to use hard, unyielding slabs, subject to cracking and disintegration, as a wearing surface.

In Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana and other states it has been found that it is not only cheaper but better to build all roads with a 2-inch asphalt top, consisting of broken stone or gravel bound together with a natural asphalt binder which does not permit the road to ravel out under traffic or to become muddy or dusty at any season. An additional advantage of such road surface is that they are equally well adapted to horse and motor traffic. Modern traffic demands elastic road surfaces.

While costs will of course vary with the price of stone and labor, length of haul and other local conditions, it will always be true that asphalt macadam on a concrete base of say 5 inches will cost less than other types of anything like equal durability.

WORD FROM LEE MITCHELL.

Much concern was felt by the friends of Lee Mitchell on the occasion of the foundering of the Memphis during a tropical storm off the coast of Santo Domingo. Fears that he might have been among the number of the ship's crew which was lost. It was a great relief, therefore, when his mother received the following letter from her son:

Santo Domingo City, D. R., Sept. 1, '16
Dear Mother:—Suppose you have heard or read in the papers about the Memphis going on the rocks. It was an awful disaster and the total loss is yet unknown. I was very lucky to be ashore when it all happened. The majority of the men were lost in a motor boat which was returning from the beach.

There was a liberty party ashore and I was in it. The boats were running every hour. The storm blew up about 3:30. When the four o'clock boat left the dock she carried about fifty men. And if I had had my way about it I would have been in that boat; but the two other men I was with didn't want to return until the five o'clock boat, so it turned out that I stayed over with them.

We got to the dock about 4:30 and, according to the natives, the motor boat had swamped on the way to the ship. We ran up where we could get a look at the seas, and sure enough she had.

The Castine was also in here, but she got up steam very quickly and put out to sea, leaving all her small boats behind with three men in them. She could not have possibly picked them up in that storm, and if she had stayed any longer she would have been blown on the rocks. Her steering gear carried away and it was a miracle that she ever got out.

The Memphis was doing her best to pick up the men but that was out of the question. At the same time she was getting up steam. The Memphis might have gotten out if her main steam line had not carried away and then a few minutes later three or four of her boilers blowing up. When the main steam line went I think most of the men got out of the engine rooms. There were four killed and ten or fifteen wounded in the engine and fire rooms. It seems that all of the hard luck came at one time.

In the meantime we went down to the dock where a coast guard cutter was. Thought maybe we could get it and pick up some of those men from the motor boat. The captain did start and then changed his mind and would not go. It sure is a good thing for us that he didn't. These coast guard cutters are pretty good at riding the waves, but I think she would not have weathered that sea. We went back and the Memphis was almost on the rocks and the Castine was making good headway seaward. So we ran down the beach to do what we could. She went on the rocks about fifty yards from land. It wasn't long until they got a line over. We made one end fast on the beach and the other on the ship. By means of a pulley or a trolley on this line we began to take off the wounded. Every auto in town was being used and then there were not enough of them to take the wounded to the hospital as fast as we took them off the ship. Once we got the wounded off and a few more lines rigged up they began to come off pretty fast.

The conditions we were working under were very disagreeable. It did not let up raining the whole time and the wind was blowing awful hard and every once in a while a big wave would break over us. I didn't know it was so cold down here in this country before. The entire marine force was down there to help. Everyone landed in their underwear and some had on less and that was wet. Just as soon as they were landed they were sent up to the fort and the Marines had dry clothes and hot coffee with a little something to eat. I'll tell you those Marines were a god-send. The captain came ashore last, which was after midnight.

After that I was sent to the wireless station and worked there till after sun up. Maybe you think I wasn't all in then, but I tell you that I was. Of course no one minds working in a case like this, nor do you notice how much you are doing, but when I got up about twelve hours afterward I was so sore I could hardly walk. It is only a little way from the ship. The rest of the ship's company are staying in the fort.

These people around here are very good to us. They are always bringing us lots of good things to eat. Our first night over here they gave us beds and all kind of covers.

The Admiral is going to the Prairie and we will go with him. Will write you more when I get all together.
Your son, LEE.

BUDDING PECAN TREES IN LOONEY'S PASTURE

The Record man was invited to accompany Judge Looney, George Goodwin, County Demonstrator Dulin and the State pecan expert, Mr. Burkett, down to Looney's pecan grove last Friday to witness the process of budding the soft shell pecan buds onto the native wild stock, by Mr. Burkett. George Goodwin was taken along to open the many gates that bisect the public roads between town and the Looney pasture, while the Record person was taken along merely as a spectator. Dulin went along to lend an ex officio aspect to the case, while Prof. Burkett was the whole show.

The big pecan grove on Champion creek, in the Looney pasture, is one of the many institutional features of this county. It is the most westerly pecan grove of any magnitude. Some of the trees have a limb spread of more than 100 feet across, with trunks, in some instances of three feet through a foot above the ground. Alleged judges of the ages of trees assert that some of the trees in this grove are more than 200 years old. (Even John Hailey and Mr. Moar can't recall the exact year of their sprouting). The accepted theory is that pecan growths occur natively only on alluvial soil. Be this theory as it may, South Champlain creek began to bring from somewhere up north the soil for the propagation of these trees some spell back of the advent of the buffalo hunters.

It is the purpose of Judge Looney, in common with that of all philanthropists, to look to the interests and appetites of coming generations. He is having the young trees of the grove budded with the most standard varieties, and when these come into bearing, will cut out the old wild stock. Up to this time there are about fifty budded trees in the grove. He expects to bud 150 or 200 more before he stops. According to all the theories and traditions of pecan culture, the soil on Champion creek is an ideal one for this industry, and Mr. Burkett was very enthusiastic in his predictions for success in the venture.

Mr. Burkett went out to Geo. Goodwin's place near Cuthbert on Saturday where he looked over the ground and conditions with a view of starting an orchard next year for Mr. Goodwin. Much success has been reported with pecan culture on the plains, and experiments in the same line on the prairies of this altitude will be watched with much interest.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its firing me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

"LEGAL DELAY DENIES POOR OF JUSTICE"

DECLARATION OF CLEBURNE LAWYER WHO URGES IMMEDIATE HIGH COURT REFORM.

Padelford Recalls Famous 1886 Meeting of Texas Bar Association, Resurrects Governor Roberts' Plea for Simplification of Appellate Procedure and Advocates Plan's Adoption.

CLEBURNE, Texas.—That the reformation of the number of district judges will materially improve the administration of justice is one of the claims of Judge S. C. Padelford of this city, who has given his views on the subject to the Texas Economic League.

Judge Padelford's views, embodied in his communication to the League, are as follows:

"One of the most important functions of government is to establish and operate such a judicial system as will furnish the people a pure, speedy, cheap, uniform and efficient system of justice. In order to accomplish this, it is necessary to have:

First, a proper judicial system.

Second, competent, pure and independent judges.

Third, an able and upright bar.

Fourth, if it is a trial by jury, an intelligent, honest and unprejudiced jury.

Fifth, simple and efficient rules of procedure.

I desire to refer only to our judicial system, and especially the appellate departments.

"Our present judicial system was fully adopted in 1891. At present our appellate system consists of one court of criminal appeals of three judges, with final jurisdiction in all criminal appeals; one supreme court of three judges, with final jurisdiction in all civil appeals, and nine intermediate courts of appeal of three judges each, with appellate jurisdiction in civil matters alone.

"Having two separate independent courts of last resort, one in civil and the other in criminal matters, they have heretofore and will continue to have disagreements on important questions, thus producing irreconcilable conflicts in our law.

"In civil matters where the district court has original jurisdiction, and a few other instances, cases tried in the lower court can be carried by writ of error to our supreme court, and finally settled by a majority opinion of the supreme court. The trial court may decide the law in favor of the plaintiff, from this an appeal could be taken to the court of appeals, and here the judgment of the lower court affirmed by an undivided court; a writ of error could be granted by two of the supreme court judges, one dissenting, and a judgment rendered reversing the judgment of the trial court and the court of appeals. Thus two supreme judges could overrule one supreme judge and the three appellate judges, and also the district judge.

"When a civil case over which the supreme court has jurisdiction has been tried in the district court the losing party can appeal to the court of appeals and have the judgment and the opinion of this court on this case on appeal. Should the court of appeals decide against appellant, he can apply for a writ of error to the supreme court, and in effect have this court also pass upon the law of his case on appeal. If the supreme court should refuse the writ of error, his party has in effect had two appeals, but should the supreme court grant the writ of error, then it is heard again on submission by the supreme court, thus in effect giving his party the benefit of three hearings on appeal, one by court of appeals and two by supreme court.

"To carry a civil case from its inception through all of the courts and obtain a final decision in the supreme court takes from three to four years, and in some cases, if the judgment of the court of appeals and district courts are reversed, the case is sent to the district court and the parties are required to retry the case in the lower court, and the right is given to pursue another long, dreary and expensive course of appeal.

"This delay to the poor is a virtual denial of justice. The wrong does not lie with the judges of our courts of appeal and supreme court, but in the system which thus gives in effect three appeals in certain civil cases with their delays.

"In my opinion the experience of twenty-five years of practical trial has demonstrated the wisdom of the system advocated by Governor Roberts and the other sages of the law in 1886. If one appeal satisfies the demands of justice where life and liberty are involved, it should certainly satisfy it when the rights of property alone are involved.

"We have between twenty and thirty district judges more than needed, which entails an unnecessary cost on the people. There could be established in lieu of our present appellate system one supreme or appellate court, with a sufficient number of judges to attend to all appeals without delay, paying each judge $6,000 and obtain a speedy administration of justice, a great deal cheaper, more efficient, without conflict and more uniform than is accomplished by our present system. The first great need is the reorganization of our judicial system, so as to give to the people speedy, cheap justice and uniformity in law."

DRY FARMING CONGRESS TO MEET AT EL PASO

GREATEST GATHERING THAT HAS BEEN HELD IN THE HISTORY OF THE PREMIER FARMERS ORGANIZATION.

ELEPHANT BUTTE DAM WILL BE DEDICATED

By President Wilson as Opening Event of the Meeting.—International Soil Products Exhibition Will Be Held At El Paso At the Same Time.

The International Farm Congress (the Dry-Farming Congress) is scheduled to meet at El Paso, Texas, October 19, 20 and 21, 1916.

The International Soil-Products Exhibition, which is conducted by and under the management of the Congress, will also meet in El Paso, the dates for the latter being October 14 to 24, inclusive.

Beginning with an attendance of a few hundred earnest delegates from a dozen western states at Denver ten years ago, the International Dry-Farming Congress has advanced rapidly to the position of the largest and most influential organization in the world of men interested in the advancement of agriculture and allied pursuits. Its membership is composed of leading farmers in every western state and in the Canadian provinces, representatives of twenty or more countries in both hemispheres, and of the majority of the department heads and workers of all the state and federal agricultural colleges and experiment stations in the United States and Canada. In addition, many business men and other ers interested in the work of the Congress, and a number of commercial organizations hold memberships.

The permanency and steady growth of this Farm Congress at once distinguishes it from the passing throng of congresses and organizations of various natures which spring up, only to subside when the local or temporary reason for their existence disappears. "Education" is the keynote of the International Farm Congress, and in its annual programs and in the exhibits assembled at the Soil-Products Exposition this feature is most apparent.

Last year, at Denver, the Congress and Exposition had exhibits from practically every western state, from several of the Canadian provinces, and from nine federal and state experiment stations; government exhibits from Australia, Canada and the United States; thirty-two county exhibits; twenty-five club exhibits of boys and girls; hundreds of exhibits by individual farmers from every western state, and from Canada.

The Congress program will comprise lectures, addresses and reports covering the various divisions of scientific achievement in agricultural and allied progress, with ample time for open discussion of the same. The subjects of rural credits, distribution and marketing, farm tenancy, rural education, conservation of moisture, irrigation, drainage, forestry, dairying, soil tillage, feeding, soil fertility, good roads, etc., will receive full attention. Many of the world's highest authorities will be heard from the Congress platform.

Present indications are that the number of exhibits and exhibitors at El Paso will considerably exceed the record of last year or any previous year.

REAL FARMERS ARE INVITED

International Farm Congress is Open Forum for Practical Men

The greatest agricultural school the world ever saw is composed of the annual sessions of the International Farm Congress (the Dry-Farming Congress) and the International Soil-Products Exposition, which is staged, also annually, by the Farm Congress. These events will be held this year at El Paso, Texas, the Exposition dates being October 14-24, and the Congress sessions October 19, 20, 21.

The program of the Congress sessions always includes addresses, many of them illustrated, by the leading farmers and agricultural experts and investigators in the world. It is, moreover, a real farmers' forum, and there is ample time allotted to discussion, in which any accredited delegate or member is free to participate. These discussions always arouse intense and widespread interest, and bring out facts of the greatest importance. There is nothing dull or prosy about them.

A Great Government Exhibit.

The Exposition is unlike anything ever before attempted. Here the visitor may see the very cream of the products of many states, arranged by expert hands, every item in every exhibit carrying its lesson in better agriculture, and all planned to secure the highest possible educational value.

The United States government and the various states have spent many millions of dollars in the last few years by way of experiments in agriculture and allied pursuits. The results of these experiments are assembled for this Exposition, and for it only, at large expense, and arranged in most convenient and striking form for the benefit of all who attend. At no other time or place in the history of the world has such a wealth of valuable and interesting information relating to agriculture ever been collected, or made so easy of access and understanding. The samples, models, charts and other object lessons built and shown by the Department of Agriculture and the various federal and state experiment stations constitute within themselves an exhibition which will pay any progressive farmer to travel far to see and study.

It has been well said that this Congress and Exposition comprise "the farmers' own show." Certainly any observant farmer or stockman should be able to derive very great benefits, as well as entertainment, by attending it.

MEXICO WILL HAVE EXHIBIT.

Armed Forces No Bar To Friendly Competition At Farm Congress.

The dove of peace is resting on the silent gun barrel, and the spirit of construction has the edge over the spirit of destruction, temporarily at least.

The Republic of Mexico, as well as several of the states thereof, will assemble agricultural and industrial exhibits and display them at the International Soil-Products Exposition (the Dry-Farming Congress) which will be held at El Paso, Texas, October 14-24. These exhibits will be shown alongside those of Kansas, Oklahoma, Arizona and a dozen other states, and the United States and Canadian national exhibits.

El Paso is the busiest spot in the entire country these days. It is the pivotal point for all the United States armies which are strung along the border from Brownsville to Tia Juana. Forty or fifty thousand regular soldiers and National Guardsmen are stationed at El Paso, and while these men are being trained to repel invasion or invade Mexico, should occasion require, the men in charge of the Exposition are peacefully but energetically building up the greatest show the Southwest has ever seen. And they have the assurances of the Carranza government that Mexico will co-operate.

What better evidence could there be of the genuine desire for peace, and the uselessness of armed conflict?

WORLD'S CHAMPION WHEAT GROWER

Seager Wheeler, of Rosthern, Canada. He has won first prize and sweepstakes for world's best bushel of wheat, at the International Soil-Products Exposition, two years in succession.

"The most valuable discovery in recent years as affecting the public domain is that the semiarid regions may become abundantly productive under dry-farming methods."—Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, Washington.

"We cannot too persistently emphasize the fact that over more than half of the cultivated area of the earth the usual or normal precipitation is not sufficient to insure the growth of profitable crops except by the practice of effective methods of moisture conservation."—F. W. Mondell.

MEXICAN BAND WILL PLAY.

The management of the International Farm Congress and Soil-Products Exposition, which are to be held at El Paso, Texas, in October, has received assurances that the Government of Mexico will assign its national band, which is recognized as one of the finest the world ever saw or heard, to play for these occasions.

WHY WOMEN FADE.

This is for ladies only. Men should keep their eyes off it.

A million women today should be told what other millions have learned—that they need one element in their blood far more than men, and that lack of it is the reason they are apt to fade many years before they should. The needed element is iron. Iron builds up the red corpuscles of the blood and sustains vitality and strength. Women need a constant supply of blood-making material, or their systems break down under the constant drain. The very moment there is lack of blood, or when the blood is impoverished, the signal appears upon the face in sallowness or palor, and the remedy is McCroskey's Tonic, for it contains iron.

Nothing else meets this particular condition as well. Use of it has made thousands of women look many years younger and made them to feel even younger than they looked. It not only restores strength, energy and beauty, but it is a prompt and certain cure for all the ills peculiar to the sex. It cures because it removes the first cause. It supplies just what nature needs to bring health. It strengthens the debilitated organs and gives tone and elasticity to muscles and ligaments, rounds out wasted tissues and renews the vigor of the nervous system. It helps quickly and just as surely and permanently. It has been used and praised by both young and old women, and mothers should see that their daughters coming into womanhood take it. It will bring them through all right.

Through the courtesy of Gen. Bell, commander of the U. S. A. troop at Fort Bliss, Midland has secured an Army Polo team to play with the local team during the fair. This will be the only place in the state where a real Polo contest can be witnessed. This will be the sixth consecutive year that the Army vs. Midland have contested for honors. Up to the 1915 games, Midland had considerably the best of it, but were badly beaten last year, so this will be the most interesting game that they have ever played. Besides there are so many U. S. officers now practicing at El Paso, that they will send a better team than ever before. The officers of Fort Bliss are practicing every day and there is great rivalry among the regiments to see which team Gen. Bell will send to Midland. The Fair will be held on the five last days of September, and on these dates the polo contests will be held.

They are intended especially for these ailments and are excellent. Easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere.

The Grennell Automatic Sprinkling System installed by F. M. Burns in his big dry goods store building, was finished Monday and a public demonstration of its working and efficiency given by the gentlemen who installed it. A single sprinkling head was rigged out of doors within a large goods box and a small fire started within the box. When the temperature reached 135 degrees, the plug was melted and a radiating spray of water fully twelve feet in diameter was set off and extinguished the fire almost before the automatic gong in front of the building was set going. After the fire is extinguished, the water will continue to spray until cut off in the particular section in which the fire occurred. As indication of the economic value of this system, it is only necessary to state, that even in so large an establishment as that of the F. M. Burns dry goods store, the reduction in insurance alone will, within three years, repay the entire cost of installation and upkeep of the system. The Record understands other business houses are contemplating the early installation of the same system.

Keeping Yourself Well

DRIVING OUT CATARRH

If people knew how the presence of catarrh is a constant menace they would have none of it. It infests some part of the delicately adjusted body and makes it useless, thus throwing on the other organs more than their share of work. It affords a carefully prepared seed-bed for the germs of colds, grippe, tuberculosis and pneumonia. It so disarranges Nature's delicate plans as to make possible asthma, hay fever and other respiratory disorders. It spreads until it becomes systemic, thus involving many organs and debilitating the entire system with serious results. Catarrh is easily neglected, and it rarely gets well of itself. It needs proper medicinal correction. For almost half a century many thousands have found help in Peruna, a valuable tonic with special efficacy in catarrhal conditions. The aim is to clean out waste matter, to dispel the catarrhal inflammation and tone up the whole system. Its users willingly testify that it has done all this and even more for catarrhal sufferers. What it has done is the best proof of what it will do. You may rely on Peruna.

Municipal government is costing the people of the United States more than state government. This is probably true of Texas as well as of the nation as a whole.

Take your lame car to White's garage, it will be fixed promptly and fixed right.

Three strong reasons urge you to buy the Ford car: First, because of its record of satisfactory service to more than fifteen hundred thousand owners; Second, because of its reliability of the Company which makes it; Third, because of its large radiator and enclosed fan, streamline hood, crown fenders front and rear, black finish, nickel trimmings, it is most attractive in appearance. To these must be added its wonderful economy in operation and maintenance—about two cents a mile; likewise the fact that by reason of its simplicity in construction anyone can operate and care for it.
