Modern Enameled Tubs

Not alone look much better but are much more sanitary than the old style tubs. Their beautiful whiteness conveys an impression of cleanliness. One feels that clothing, etc., washed in them will surely be cleaner than when washed in old fashioned tubs. Let us put new tubs in your kitchen or wash room. You'll never regret the moderate outlay.

Theodore Roosevelt's mantle, emblematic of the bull moose party, may fall upon Thomas E. Watson of Georgia. Leaders of the party in Georgia are urging the former populist leader to fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by the declination of the presidential nomination of Roosevelt. Some leaders in Georgia are hopeful that Watson will be Parker's running mate on the Democratic ticket.

OLD TIMES IN COLORADO

Echoes From Colorado Papers Published Twenty-Two Years Ago.

When Elijah fled from the wrath of old Jezebe, and hid in the cave, he explored the supposed fact that he alone was left of the Lord's faithful, but he was informed that there were 7000 just as faithful as he, who had not bowed the knee to Baal.

When President Cleveland wanted to raise fifty million in gold coin on a bond issue, both he and Mr. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury, were certain it could not be done by popular subscription—there wasn't that sum in the hands of the people. They went to Wall street for the floatation. How badly mistaken these wise men were, was evidenced by the great clamor raised by the people and their willingness to take five times that amount in gold bonds.

When the Record deplored the supposed fact that very few copies of the papers heretofore published in Colorado had been preserved, and that no complete file existed today, the Record was as badly off in its first assumption as Elijah and President Cleveland. Hardly had the paper reached its readers over the county, ere stray copies began to come in. Most of them in tatters and badly faded, but valuable to us. Numbers have been brought in and Mr. Jackson, our county clerk tells us that a file was kept in that office for several years, and that many of them are now packed away in a storeroom at the court house. These we shall get, carefully preserve and make extracts from them week after week. Scores of our readers have told us these old bits of early Colorado history are the most readable thing in the whole paper, and we believe it ourself.

In the fall of 1894 there were already two newspapers published in Colorado—the Clipper and the Spokesman, the former by Hec McEachin and the latter by C. W. Simpson. Snyder at that time had but one paper, the Coming West, which died of pure inanition. Its owners and editors, Dick Lively and Crump, moved the plant to Colorado and issued the initial number December 14th. Mr. Lively was a voluminous and a copious writer, particularly of the salutatory brand. His fund of optimism evidently stood heavier drafts than that of his coin, as the people failed to appreciate the "best" when they saw it. From its columns we learn that

"Joe Stokes of the Espuela ranch, dropped the first real money into the Times' collection box."

"This issue of the Times is not a fair sample of what the paper will be when we get well settled and the exchanges begin to come in and the boys find out where we are. They will touch us up on every hand, but when they find out they are monkeying with the 'Hoo-Reo,' the fun will begin."

Fred Meyer is extolled "as the best bootmaker anywhere," and Fred admits the same till this day.

Cus Bertner had just introduced the populace to "steam baths for the cure of rheumatic complaints, and as a hygienic necessity."

Populism was then carrying the day, and its victory in Van Zandt county, (the only place at that time where the cur had carried) gave the editor of the Times conviction fits. He said: "When a town or county goes third party it is on the brink of ruin in every sense. Its policy puts commercial life into its coffin and, turns the screws and prepares for interment. The death knell has already sounded in many Texas counties."

Concerning the farming potentiality of the county the Times says: "It has been repeatedly demonstrated that farming in West Texas, with rare exceptions, is a dead failure. The fault is in the untimely rainfall. It is sheer foolishness for a poor man to attempt by the most economic system of husbandry, to acquire competence, without dollars to spend, and that in a big way."

Irrigation by means of a dam across the Colorado river, was being urged and the measure pushed by the papers. The matter of cotton was deemed of little importance to the county, but it was one of the finest cotton countries in the world.

The Times declares "the only hope for free silver is through the democratic party."

Among the personals we notice that John Greenwood, late of the Circle Bar ranch, was bruising around the town this week. (That may have been friend Greenwood's way at that time, but he's wholly reformed his ways).

"Miss Mattie Cooksey has rendered the Times valuable and timely help in getting out this issue of the Times."

"G. K. (Uncle Kin) Elkins is here from his Kent county ranch with a pre-Christmas move on him."

"Mr. Monroe Sammons and Miss Bettie Fletcher were married on the 5th inst."

News had been received that "the XIT syndicate ranch had been burned up and badly damaged," a few days before.

"Dr. Dulaney and J. G. Merritt of the T. C. H. ranch, started hunting that day in the Double mountains."

Proprietor Arch Johnson of the Peoples' Theatre, opened up the night before and expressed himself well pleased with the thespian outlook for the season. "A full corps of fine actors and a good orchestra, keep the west etc. alive with spice and variety."

"Branch Isbell, ex-judge of Scurry county, west west Thursday night with his nickle in the slot outfit, and will do Midland the balance of the week. Branch was a lucky mortal way long in June last, when so many of us took a lesson in that stereotyped edition entitled Political Primary Revelations."

Frank Gary & Company has succeeded J. S. McCall in the grocery business."

In those days the cattle shipments were in several car lots and by the train load. Not only from the ads of several saloons at that time do we get the idea that John Barleycorn was at times in evidence, for example: "The man with an unsavory and highly offensive breath still persists in talking in your face at short range."

Again: "In the parlance of the sports Colorado is not 'wide open' any more, everything having been closed about two weeks ago. Some of the boys look lonesome over the situation."

The first issue of the Times contained 27 patent medicine advertisements.

The First National Bank had been succeeded by The Peoples National Bank, with J. S. McCall, president; Jno. B. Slaughter, vice-president and W. T. Scott, Cashier. Its capital stock surplus, undivided dividends nor individual responsibility was given in the ad, but present knowledge of the personnel of its directorate, gives assurance that all were up in high C.

(Note—Our excerpts next week will be taken from the Colorado Spokesman of November 10th, 1894, which contained the county election returns for the election of that year.)

HENRY GRADY'S PICTURE OF THE HOME OF THE FARMER.

Henry W. Grady, of Georgia, orator and journalist, in describing the dignity of agriculture and place of the farmer in modern life, said:

"A few Sundays ago I stood on a hill in Washington. My heart thrilled as I looked on the towering marble of my country's capitol, and a mist gathered in my eyes as, standing there, I thought of its tremendous significance and the powers there assembled and the responsibilities there centered—its presidents, its congress, its courts, its gathered treasure, its army, its navy and its 60,000,000 of citizens. It seemed to me the best and mightiest sight that the sun could find in its wheeling course—this majestic home of a republic that has taught the world its best lesson of liberty—and I felt that if wisdom, and justice, and honor abided therein, the world would stand indebted to this temple on which my eyes rested and in which the ark of my covenant was lodged for its final uplifting and regeneration."

"A few days later I visited a country home. A modest, quiet house, sheltered by great trees and set in a circle of field and meadow, gracious with the promise of harvest—barns and cribs were filled and the old smokehouse odors us with treasure—the fragrance of pink and hollyhock mingling with the aroma of garden and orchard and resonant with the hum of bees and poultry's busy clucking."

"Inside the house thrift, comfort, and that cleanliness that is next to godliness—the restful beds, the open fireplace, the books and papers, and the old clock that had held its steadfast place amid the frolic of weddings, that had welcomed in steady measure the new born babies of the family and kept company with the watches of the clock and had ticked the solemn requiem of the dead; and the well worn Bible that thumbed by fingers long since stilled and blurred with tears of

REMOVAL NOTICE

On the completion of the Earnest building and the removal of C. M. Adams, we will move to the quarters now occupied by C. M. Adams, where we will welcome all our customers and friends, with more room and greater convenience.

In the meantime we would call your attention to the fact that farm wagons are now to the fore. It is the most used farm accessory, and it behooves every farmer to have the best wagon made.

The PEKIN and PETER SCHUTTLER Wagons are the best wagons made—many of them having been in use 35 to 40 years and doing service today. The price is but little more than for an inferior wagon, while the service is three times as long and great.

eyes long since closed, held the simple annals of the family and the heart and conscience of the home.

"Outside stood the master, strong and wholesome and upright, wearing no man's collar, with no motrage on his roof and no flen on his ripening harvest, pitching his crops in his own wisdom, and selling them in his own time in his own chosen market; master of his lands and master of himself."

"Nearby stood his aged father, happy in the heart and home of his son. And as they started to the house the old man's hands rested on the young man's shoulder, touching it with the knight-wood of the Fourth commandment, and laying there the unspeakable blessing of an honest and grateful father."

"As they drew near the door the old mother appeared, the sunset falling on her face, softening its wrinkles and its tenderness, lighting up her patient eyes, and the rich music of her heart trembling on her lips, as in simple phrase she welcomed her husband and son to their home."

"Beyond was the good wife, true of touch and tender, happy amid her household cares, clean of heart and conscience, the helpmate and the buckler of her husband. And the children, strong and sturdy, trooping down the lane with the lowing herd or weary of strapping sport seeking as truant birds do, the quiet of the old home nest."

"And I saw the night descend on that home, falling gently as from the wings of the unseen dove. And the stars swarmed in the bending skies—the trees thrilled with the cricket's cry, the restless bird called from the neighboring wood, and the father, a simple man of God, gathering the family about him, read from the bible the old, old story of love and faith, and then went down in prayer the baby hidden amid the folds of its mother's dress, and closed the record of that simple day by calling down the benediction of God on the family and the home."

"And as I gazed the memory of the great capitol faded from my brain. Forgotten its treasure and splendor. And I said, 'Surely here, here in the homes of the people, is lodged the ark of the covenant of my country.'"

"An Honest Tale Speeds Best, Being Plainly Told."

APPEAL WILL BE FILED AT ONCE

Pt. Worth, Tex., Oct. 9.—An appeal from the ruling of Judge Swayne refusing to dissolve the injunction granted against the Democratic state executive committee will be perfected immediately and filed in the court of civil appeals for the second district, according to attorneys for the committee, who spent Sunday perfecting the record.

The temporary injunction was granted by Judge Swayne to prevent the committee from certifying to the secretary of state the name of a candidate to fill the vacant commission-ership, formerly held by the late C. D. Williams. C. E. Gilmore brought the injunction suit. He is an avowed candidate for the place.

COLORADO EXHIBITORS AT MIDLAND FAIR.

The second annual sale of fine cattle at the Midland fair, exceeded all expectations of the promoters. There were 62 separate sales made consisting of 44 bulls, bringing $14,820, or an average of $336.80 each, while the 16 cows brought $4,475, or an average of $279.68 each. In 1915, at the first annual sale of registered Herefords in Midland there were but 46 head on sale. The lot brought $11,800, this being an average of $258.47. The whole average of the 62 head in 1916 sale amounted to $214.1 per head, this being a better average for the greater number by $62.94.

One yearling bull was sold by Henry Heiff to E. N. Aycock & Sons for the record price of $3,500. Earl Morrison of Colorado had several animals on sale, two of which sold for $296 and $250 each. V. W. Allen of Colorado paid $250 for one and the Kennedys bought the other at $290.

In the poultry exhibit, L. W. Sandusky of Colorado took down five prizes on his barred Plymouth chickens, while Rev. J. W. Burkhardt of Colorado secured two prizes. Mr. Burkhardt was in competition with many of the celebrated strains of Rhode Island reds of the state, and it is no disparagement of his chickens that they secured but two of the prizes.

DORT CAR IS POPULAR WITH MOTOR-WISE FARMERS

Prominent among the automobiles exhibited at the various state and county fairs this fall is the Dort. This car is receiving much of the attention of the motor-wise farmer, to whom its sturdy construction and powerful motor have an especial appeal.

Many comments are passed on the remarkably heavy crankshaft and other sturdy parts of the car that is built "by the men who used to build the Blue Ribbon buggies." The Dort line this season consists of a five-passenger touring model, a three-passenger Fleur de Lys roadster, a winter top job and sedan. The first two sell at $695 completely equipped with Westinghouse starting and lighting, and the others at slightly higher prices.

The rear spring suspension in the Dort is a point that interests every farmer who sees this car. This consists of 50 1-8 inch full cantilever springs, and makes the Dort car remarkably easy riding on the roughest roads, a feature that is of particular concern to the farmer, who does not always have the best of roads to drive over, and who must use his car at all seasons of the year.

The Dort line is locally distributed by Doss Brothers.

THE CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED.

Enthusiastic Meeting at Fort Worth, of Legislators and Influential West Texas Citizens.

Dr. P. C. Coleman returned last week from a meeting of more than one hundred prominent business men and legislators from the Panhandle and West Texas, held at Fort Worth in the interest of the establishment of an Agricultural and Mechanical College specifically for West Texas and the panhandle sections of the state. Twenty-six state representatives and five state senators attended, while letters were read from forty others giving the move their heartiest endorsement and promise of support.

President Bizzell of A. & M. college gave his personal support to the project, and intimated that the branch organization plan would be supported by the friends of the A. & M. college in the legislature.

After two hours' work in the director's room at the Chamber of Commerce a committee ordered to report back at the afternoon session drew up a set of resolutions which were unanimously adopted at the afternoon meeting. This set of resolutions embodies the working plan of the campaign.

This committee was composed of Homer D. Wade of Stamford, Marshall Spoons of Fort Worth, Thomas F. Hodge of Sweetwater, J. H. Halley of Big Spring, J. H. Hartford of Post City.

The duty of drafting the bill to be presented to the thirty-fifth session of the state legislature was considered to be one of the most paramount importance, and a committee was appointed to devote its time to the framing of the measure. The names follow: Claude Hudspeth of El Paso, C. B. Metcalf of San Angelo, C. R. Buchanan of Snyder, French Spencer of Decatur, W. S. Woodward of Stephenville, Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the campaign association, Colorado; Thomas F. Hodge, secretary-treasurer Sweetwater.

These men have power to consult all the interests in Texas in order that they may frame a bill free from defects and so insure its rapid progress to the next legislature.

It was decided that the committee confer with a similar committee from the Agricultural and Mechanical college in order that all possible points of friction that might develop from that angle might be met and eliminated.

It was further decided that the committee to draft the bill report back to the campaign association after it had completed its work and present the measure for the approval of the body at large at one of its future meetings. This may occur at the next meeting, which was selected to be held at Wichita Falls, the date to be chosen later.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER! THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH

Look at Tongue! If Coated, Clean Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs." and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. Adv2

The feat of the German submarine U-53 of crossing the ocean in 17 days, coming into an American port "to post a letter," putting to sea again and torpedoing six British vessels just beyond the jurisdictional limit, is about equal to the performance of the Deutschland in coming over and getting back home safely.

OVERLAND ANNOUNCEMENT MODEL 85 FOUR AND SIX

The attention of practically the whole automobile world is directed just at this time on the two latest developments of the Overland product—a four cylinder car at $795 and a six cylinder car at $925, both of which are known as Model 85.

The two new cars contain everything which goes to make up the modern high class automobile. Every practical improvement that the ever alert automobile genius has devised has been included in their construction.

Numbered among these is the placing of the gasoline tank with gauge in the rear. By means of a vacuum system an even flow of gas is delivered to the carburetor at all times, this supply being steady and uniform regardless of whether the car is traveling down grade or up the steepest incline. The Tilletson carburetor, with hot-air attachment is located high up on the motor.

Another improvement that adds greatly to the riding comfort of these cars is the cantilever rear springs with which they are equipped. The advantage of the cantilever type lies in the fact that it is joined to the axle at the rear end of the spring instead of in the middle, and the shock is practically all absorbed in the spring before it reaches the body of the car.

The Four is equipped with a big, powerful, thirty-five horsepower motor which is claimed to be the maximum of efficiency for a car of this size and weight. It is the perfection of this motor through years of development in more than a quarter of a million cars that has been largely responsible for the Overland cars' success. The motor of the new Four is of the standard bloc design and at normal engine speeds is capable of developing power in excess of anything needed for ordinary driving. The motor in the four is cooled by an efficient, thermo-siphon system, no pump being required.

The motor in the new Overland Six will appeal strongly to those who prefer an engine of the six-cylinder type. It is smooth, powerful and economical and like the Four is of the latest bloc design. With a bore of 3 1/4 inches and a stroke of 4 1/2 inches this motor will easily develop 40 horsepower.

Winn and Payne, local distributors of the Overland, will demonstrate the car to any one who calls on them.

President R. E. Vinson, of the University of Texas, has set aside Saturday of every week for the informal reception of the student body. He invites each student to come, shake hands and get acquainted with the Captain. The notion has taken with the boys immensely and they are loud in praise of the democratic spirit of their new "prexy." Dr. Vinson seems the right man in the right place, at the right time.

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS.

The management of the San Angelo Fair are sparing no expense to make this year's Fair one of the greatest in the history of the city. Elaborate preparations are made to entertain the visitors. Thrilling aeroplane flights, loop-the-loop, etc., by the "Florida Fool;" goat roping, broncho busting, fancy shooting; five acts daily in front of grand stand. Grand parades and pageants. Wortham Shows on the streets. Fast horses and motorcycle races, poultry, kennel and all lines of livestock and agricultural exhibits will be on display.

The fair will be held Oct. 31, Nov. 1, 2, 3, 4. Railroads offer exceptionally low rates on tickets sold on Oct. 30th, with return limit Nov. 5th. The Secretary will furnish any information desired upon request.

HOW'S THIS FOR PEACE.

At a recent term of the district court for Sterling county, but for a couple of appearance cases on the docket in which no action could be taken till the second day of the term, court could have adjourned the day it met. The only business transacted by the court was granting two judgments by default. There has not been a bill returned, either misdemeanor or felony, by a Sterling county grand jury, for more than two years. How's that for a "Wild and Woolly" country?

The carpenter's union of Dallas seemed to have gone off at half-cock in their recent threat to boycott the Dallas Fair unless union labor be given exclusive employment on the buildings. The fair directors refused such demand and the allied trades were asked for support by the carpenters. But to their everlasting credit, the other unions balked at such injustice. The Dallas fair is for the whole people and for the directors to have shut out non-union workmen living in Dallas, would have been the most cowardly injustice to them. Now the union carpenters are taking backwater.

Such tobacco enjoyment as you never thought could be is yours to command quick as you buy some Prince Albert and fire-up a pipe or a home-made cigarette!

Prince Albert gives you every tobacco satisfaction your smoke-appetite ever hankered for. That's because it's made by a patented process that cuts out bite and parch! Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe and roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold in tippyred bags, 5c; tidyred tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and that corching fine pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such clever trim—always!

The weekly press of the western part of the state is rising up in their might and are condemning in no uncertain tones the street carnivals that make this territory so frequently. The Avalanche has long been opposed to them and has never encouraged them in the town and it will be a great day for the morality of every community that takes a stand against the presence of these cheap shows. There is nothing to be learned from them and the moral tone of the majority of them is anything but good. We will be pleased when so many towns in this section of Texas will oppose them that the show people will realize that it will not pay them to make this territory, and will pass it up.—Lubbock Avalanche.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Cañon, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

A FEW QUESTIONS.

In 16 years of power, during 14 of which it wielded absolute control of both Houses of Congress, what did the Republican party do toward tariff reform?

What did it do with the currency problem?

What did it do with Alaska and its resources?

What did it do with child labor?

What did it do with workmen's compensation?

What did it do with rural credits?

What did it do about preparedness?

What has the Democracy done in three years and a half with these problems?

Who are the leaders of Republicanism today—the men who nominated Hughes and are managing his campaign?

Republican contract with these great questions was utterly barren of results when the White House was occupied in turn by an experienced and resourceful legislator like McKinley, a magnetic and enterprising leader like Roosevelt and a practiced administrator like Taft. Smoot, Penrose, Gallinger, Fodney, Mann and Cannon have learned nothing by adversity and can no more respond to the demands of a progressive era than the Ethiopian can change his skin or the leopard his spots. What hope, therefore, would the country have of constructive legislation at Washington from the stiff-jointed standpatism of that crowd of reactionaries, under the leadership of a man whose chief claim to our consideration is that as Governor he held the New York Republican machine at arm's length for four years and prevented its leaders from doing anything in particular?—St. Louis Reporter.

GET AWAY FROM THE CROWD.

Robert Burdette, in a talk to young men, said: "Get away from the crowd for awhile, and think. Stand on one side and let the world run by, while you get acquainted with yourself and see what kind of a fellow you are. Ask yourself hard questions about yourself. Ascertain from original sources, if you are really the manner of man you say you are; you are always honest; if you always tell the square, perfect truth in business details; if your life is as good and upright at eleven o'clock at night as it is at noon; if you are as good a temperance man on a fishing excursion as you are on a Sunday school picnic; if you are as good when you go to the city as you are at home; if, in short you are really the sort of man your father hopes you are and your sweetheart believes you are. Get on intimate terms with yourself, my boy, and, believe me, every time you come out of one of these private interviews you will be a stronger, better, purer man. Don't forget this and it will do you good."—Ex.

In many sections contracts for cotton of the 1917 crop are being made at 14 and 15 cents. The buyers argue that whether the European war continues or not, the demand for cotton will be the greatest the world ever knew. The cotton that is now made into explosives will be in greater demand in the commercial war that will succeed hostilities, and the basis of this industrial competition will be goods manufactured from cotton.

As the campaign becomes more spirited, Candidate Hughes forgets himself, says an exchange. He is no longer the man of excellent wisdom and judicial calm, but a sort of forlorn echo of Theodore Roosevelt, blundering forward without caution. So far, he has confined himself to attacks on the President, but his latest speeches indicate a departure. Since the passage of the Adamson Bill, he has no end of raw material at hand, and he uses it rawly. For one thing, he declares that the measure was the product of fear, fathered by force; for another, he declares that it is poor legislation in itself—that it will not hold. Granting all this, what would Candidate Hughes have done in such an emergency? With a gun pointed his way, would he have defied it at enormous risk to the people, or would he have risked legislation that, weak in itself, would become inoperative because of that very fact? We cannot say. Hughes cannot say. That is his overshadowing fault; he offers a thousand objections and suggests no remedy. He damns the disease and has no medicine with which to effect a cure.—Ft. Worth Stock Reporter.

In the matter of settling with J. E. E. J. Callaway was advanced the sum of $50 to pay for clerical help.

After performing the sacred rite of putting the fire poker in the money vault, winding up the thermometer, changing the sign in the almanac, swapping tobacco and "viewing with alarm" the steady "Westward ho" of the festive boll weevil, the closing psalm was sung and the county turned over to the uncertain care and direction of providence until the second Monday in November. TO LIVE ALWAYS.

There are people, a sample scattered in every community who are so smart they have no sense. Now and again some smart Alexander jumps up in a meeting and tells everybody with little enough gumption to listen, just how to live and be happy. The recipes embrace everything from Christian Science and female rubbing to liver pads and Luffy's Pure Malt Liquor. But the death rate and the undertaker's profits keep steadily up to the average.

The latest apostle of the Long—and Happy—Living cult, sums up the secret in these choice and depressing words:

- Don't eat nothing but stewed parsnips.
- Drink nothing but cold water.
- Go to bed at 8 every night.
- Get up at 6 every morning.
- Don't smoke, chew or play poker
- Go to church every Sunday morning.
- Split three cords of wood every day.
- Walk 15 miles before breakfast.
- Hide horseback two hours every afternoon.
- Don't kiss the cook or anybody else.
- Shun the public drinking cup.
- Keep out of crowded cars.
- Now comes the most important instruction, if you would live forever.
- Don't die.

Now, the question is, who the dickens would want to live under such a burden of virtue?

ELECTING A PRESIDENT

McKinley Defeats Bryan In Election of 1896.

FREE silver was the issue in 1896. William Jennings Bryan was nominated by the Democrats, while William McKinley of Ohio was nominated by the Republicans. While the popular vote was close, McKinley received 271 votes in the electoral college to Bryan's 176. Garret A. Hobart was elected vice president. Other political parties had sprung up by this time, including the Prohibitionists and Socialists.

McKinley was again elected in 1900, defeating Bryan by a vote practically the same as that of 1896. Theodore Roosevelt of New York was elected vice president. McKinley was assassinated about six months after his second inauguration, and Roosevelt served three and one-half years of his second term.

(Watch for the election of Roosevelt in 1904 in our next issue.)

Statement of the Ownership, Management, Circulation, Etc., Required by an Act of Congress, August 24, 1912.

(Seal) J. A. BUCHANAN, Notary Public in and for the State and County aforesaid.

Henry Ford, the Tin Lizzie Billionaire, went to see President Wilson. He says he will support Wilson for reelection but "nary a red" will he contribute to the campaign fund, yet he is using a Chicago paper for calling him a "tightwad" for a million bucks.

We have heard of many kinds of "blackhand" letters and anonymous threats, have received several of the latter ourselves—but a citizen of Colorado showed us one he had received last week, that for pure vindictiveness and malign devilishness, tops all we have seen or heard of. For some as-

COLORADO'S REFUNDING BONDS APPROVED.

As readers of the Record know, a suit involving the validity of certain sewerage bonds issued by the old and defunct City of Colorado, was recently decided adversely to the present city corporation, after being fought through all the courts up to that of final resort—the United States supreme court at Washington. The present city government lost and shouldered the accumulated indebtedness, more, in order to free its hands in future transactions, than in acknowledgement of the obligation.

To this end two series of bonds were issued by the present City of Colorado, aggregating $56,000. One series was for $48,500, to run 29 years, with interest at 5 per cent per annum payable semi-annually, and a smaller series of $7,177.87, running 11 years at 5 per cent interest and payable semi-annually. These bonds have been examined by the attorney general of the state and approved.

This is, in the opinion of the Record, the best and most equitable disposition of the matter that could possibly be made. Whereas, in a court of morals, the present corporation of the City of Colorado, may not be liable for the debts and mistakes of a badly inflated Municipal Ego of boom days, to shoulder the debt, pay the debt and have clean hands in court hereafter, is the quickest and most sensible way out of the difficulty. With the generous terms given, the additional amount of taxes the individual citizen will pay to discharge this bonded debt, will be hardly burdensome. Repudiation is as bad for a state, county or town as for an individual.

In this connection it may be well to explain the increase in the tax this year over last. The rate last year was 65 cents on the hundred dollars valuation, which is the constitutional limit for municipalities of the class of Colorado. But the attorney general holds that the town can add to the present limitation the premitted taxes during the time payment on the old bonds was suspended, which aggregate $4.50 per hundred dollars valuation. This 31 cents additional will be collected until this amount is used, by which time the water works warrants will have been paid and the city levy will return within the 65 cent limit. The present levy is 97 cents on the hundred.

There are several applicants for the federal judgeship, which will become vacant on the resignation of Judge Maxey, December 1st, proximo. Among the Texas lawyers who are seeking the position, is Hon. William R. Smith, present representative of this congressional district. Judge Smith is in every way qualified to fill the position, by reason of prior experience, the bench and his intimate familiarity with federal laws and usages. President Wilson would be doing the handsomest thing to appoint Judge Smith as federal judge for the western district of Texas.

There are a few things that have been needing amendment so long that tolerance of them is taken as a matter of course. In justice to the people the next legislature should abolish the posting of legal notices and require their publication in the newspapers the people read. There is no excuse for the obsolete custom of posting notices of matters that effect the interests of the people in "three public places," which formerly meant the livery stable, the blacksmith shop and in front of the postoffice. Today, intelligent people look to the newspapers for this kind of information, and not one in a thousand expects to find a notice of an election to tax his property tacked on a telephone pole or livery stable door, or even on a bulletin board at the court house. The present practice is an affront to the intelligence of the tax payers of the state, and furnishes an opportunity for speculators to get hold of valuable property at less than its real value. The newspapers are entitled to recognition from the lawmakers as the legitimate media of information that concerns the well doing of the tax payers.

It is strange how small a value the average man places on a little advertisement of his business when you solicit him for it. He doesn't believe "advertising pays." But only let something get into the paper that mentions his competitor in a complimentary or commendatory way, and watch how keen his appreciation of the value of advertising grows overnight.

Of course, print paper costs the Record as much as it does any other country newspaper, notwithstanding we buy it in ton lots. The expense of issuing the paper is as great as of any other paper of equal circulation and equipment, but the management can not see the necessity yet of raising the subscription price as many papers are doing. If the subscribers of this paper will continue as prompt in paying up their subscription, we hope to weather the storm without a raise in the subscription price. However, if the cost of paper keeps soaring, we can not afford to carry anyone on our subscription list without the cash in advance. Paper that cost us $45 the ton two years ago, now costs $150.00, and the paper of inferior quality. The price may go to $200 before July 1st.

A CRYING NEED.

There is no one bridge in Mitchell county crossed as many times by as many different vehicles, autos and pedestrians, as that over Lone Wolf creek on Second street. It is not only wholly inadequate to the constant demand made upon it, but is of an obsolete type for such a thoroughfare. It is hardly possible for two vehicles to pass on it, and its width prohibits the passing of autos, a check must be made at the bridge, either to change speed or wait for cars to cross coming in an opposite direction. The bridge is an anachorism. It met the demands of the travel twenty years ago, but travel has far outgrown its convenience. Several citizens of the town have suggested that a concrete bridge or viaduct with dirt floor filling (like the railroad viaduct) be put in by the county. It should be made as wide as the street and set straight with the road—the present one sets angling, forcing a turn to enter it—and should be raised three to four feet higher than the old one. This would necessitate a retaining wall and considerable filling at the approaches, and would cost more as an initial investment, but in the long run would prove true economy. It could be worked just as any section of the road while expenses for repairs would be practically eliminated. Think on these things, gentlemen of the Honorable Commissioners' Court.

A curious condition existed for a while last week in Augusta, Kansas. Because of the wretched condition of the streets of the town, the traffic ordinance was lightly held by citizens and farmers. Holes in the streets were so deep that the tail lights of autos were bumped out as the wheels fell into them. In pure jest a citizen of the town rode a white horse through the streets holding a red lantern out behind, while the crowd cheered him. A policeman arrested the citizen and lodged him in jail, when a mob was formed, the citizen liberated and the police run out of town. The mayor left town, which was taken over by bootleggers and gamblers. The police department of Wichita has been appealed to for help.

WILSON GAINING GROUND.

The editor of the Metropolitan magazine, one of the leading contributors to which is Mr. Roosevelt, while not supporting President Wilson in his policies, has no bouquets to toss at Mr. Hughes, whose campaign against Wilson is one of criticism and scolding: Mr. Hughes glibly tells the country what President Wilson should not have done, but in no instance does he suggest a concrete idea of what should have been done or what he would do in like circumstances. Mr. Hughes' idea of handling the Mexican problem would be a "firm and consistent" one which means nothing at all. In his criticism of the eight hour law, not once does he intimate that he would have done differently. In fact he is between the proverbial devil and the deep sea. He would either have to do what President Wilson did, or antagonize the very interests that are supplying his campaign sinews.

The campaign of Mr. Hughes is weak, but is as strong perhaps as any republican could make it under the circumstances. There are questions that concern the country at large, regardless of party affiliation. The policy of peace with honor and general prosperity pursued by Wilson or its alternative which is embroilment with foreign nations and industrial confusion. There seems no middle ground. Political prophets, who have kept in close touch with the east, and particularly with New York state, are convinced that Mr. Wilson is gaining ground rapidly. The disposition manifested at first, to turn to Mr. Hughes, has oozed away in view of his inability to offer them something better than Mr. Wilson has given.

There's quite a difference in the enthusiasm created by Mr. Hughes and Mr. Wilson in their middle-west speaking tours. Gloom followed in the wake of Mr. Hughes' progression, while the heartiest cheers and cries of "We're with you, Mr. President" greeted Mr. Wilson's itinerary. His reception is a prophecy of coming success.

It took a brave man, with the consciousness of being right, to say to O'Leary what Mr. Wilson told him. Could one imagine Mr. Hughes sending such word to any voter? President Wilson gives it out cold and hot that he neither wants the support of disloyal Americans nor fears their opposition.

OUR SOCIAL EDITOR.

The social editor sat at her desk—Tired and hot was she; But the phone kept ringing for the "soci-ed" To write up a luncheon tea. She wrote of a party at Seven Wells. She blomed the lawn fete; She welcomed the pug-nosed coming guest And sped those going away. There were clubs named This and some called That. And church societies galore; And if she mixed 'em the very least bit She wouldn't be asked any more. There were weddings, parties and bridge— With refreshments served each time; She writ and wrote till her fingers ached And her mouth watered with every line.

She noticed the "decorations fine" She longed for a single flower; But the folks who had her write 'em up Forgot her the very next hour. But we must have a society page— Its quite essential, you see; For without it the Record would not be read By the properest Sassiety.

LOCAL INSTITUTE ORGANIZED.

Col. H. L. Bentley district organizer for the state agricultural department, was here Wednesday and perfected the organization of a local farmers' institute for this independent school district. The following officers were elected: A. C. Gist, President; W. S. Justice, 1st Vice-President; George Shurtliff, 2nd Vice-President; J. H. Bullock, Secretary. An executive committee consisting of N. J. Phenix, J. M. Thomas, J. C. Prude, S. D. Vaughan, W. W. Porter and Y. D. McMurry was appointed.

Col. Bentley is organizing the young people of the district into institutes, the work of which will be largely confined to the schools.

A Rear Axle of Great Strength

THE Dort three-quarter floating rear axle has set a standard in construction that is not equaled in any other light car on the market. Extra strength is built into every part of this axle and differential. New Departure Annular Ball Bearings and Hyatt High-Duty Roller Bearings support all moving parts. Better bearings cannot be bought. Friction is reduced to a minimum and gasoline consumption conserved. The Dort Axles, rear and front, are built for rough roads and hard usage,—that is the reason Dort cars are free from axle trouble and axle noise. Every other part of the Dort is equally good. Let us prove this to you.

THE CLUBS.

Last Friday the different literary clubs began work, after several months rest and recreation:

Bayview.

The Bayview, in the absence of Mrs. C. M. Adams, met with Mrs. John Moor. After the assigning of the lesson for next week the time was spent socially, exchanging pleasant experiences of the summer. They will study Richard II, and read Adam Bede. Mrs. J. W. Person and Mrs. Gustine were welcome visitors. The hostess served delicious home made cake and ice cream.

Standard.

Mrs. Smoot was hostess for the Standard. Their course of study this year will be Browning, Shakespeare and History. The incoming president, Mrs. Looney, gave an address, full of interest from beginning to end. The sad note of the hour was the resignation of the vice-president, Mrs. R. N. Gary, who recently moved to Fort Worth. Mrs. Smoot was elected to fill the vacancy. After the program a social hour was enjoyed.

Hesperian.

Mrs. Sam Wulfjen was hostess for the Hesperian and as she was ill, Mrs. Earl Jackson received for her. All members were present except Mrs. J. R. Collier, who was sick. Roll call was club resolutions.

The outgoing president, Mrs. T. J. Ratliff made all feel good, and especially the retiring officers, by her farewell message. The new president, Mrs. Edgar Majors turned poetess for the hour and gave her message in rhyme. Besides pleading for the good will and co-operation, her one desire for the civic work was to see a rest room in Colorado for mothers. Mrs. Kaffer read "Just a wearyin' for you" with piano accompaniment by Miss Ruby McGill and violin accompaniment by Miss Louise Moor. She was encored and responded with "Mia Carlotta" Mrs. Broadus delighted all with her original story, "An Aviator in Mexico," which ended with a "happy ever afterward."

Miss Ruby McGill gave a piano solo that was much appreciated. The table talk was Jokes of the Summer.

Mrs. Sam Majors, a former member, and Mrs. Earl Jackson were visitors. At the social hour peach ice and cake were served. The next meeting is with Mrs. Edgar Majors.

Merry Wives.

After a long summer vacation the Merry Wives had their first meeting two weeks ago in the new suburban home of Mrs. Lewis Adair. She had as her guests Mesdames Meeks, Smoot, and Miss Looney. After games, lovely refreshments were served. Mrs. Frowning was the next hostess. She had as her guests Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Duff Mrs. Ballard, Mrs. Thomas Dawes and Miss Eleanor Coleman. A salad course was served.

CENTRAL CIRCLE.

The Central Circle of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Sprull Monday afternoon. Besides their regular business they decided to save their paper bags and sell them. A committee was appointed to attend to it.

The play to have been given in October was postponed till December. The time for the Christmas bazaar was set for December 9th. One dollar was sent to Hallettsville to help build a church there. Officers were elected for the year as follows: Mrs. M. K. Jackson, Chairman; Mrs. L. E. Lasetter, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. J. W. Shepperd, Secretary; Mrs. S. D. Vaughan, Treasurer. Eleven dollars and twenty five cents were received as dues and offerings. Mrs. Grantland, Mrs. J. S. Vaughan, Mrs. M. T. Hall and Mrs. Adamson were appreciated guests. A salad course was served at the social hour. The November meeting is with Mrs. J. W. Smith.

ECHOES FROM THE SWEETWATER ASSOCIATION.

The Sweetwater Baptist Association which was held at Merke last week was the greatest in its history in every way. There was a larger attendance than usual and the spirit of co-operation was evident at every session. Several new churches were admitted and the body adjourned clear of debt, with a larger program mapped out for next year.

Merkel rose equal to the occasion under her pastor, Rev. Mr. Owen, in entertaining the great crowd.

The women held their sessions in the beautiful Presbyterian church house, with the warm words of welcome from the president, Mrs. Warren, and the sight of lovely roses in vases, everywhere; the house full of messengers and visitors, were at once at ease, and felt it was good to be there.

Favorable reports came in from all parts of the field, along all lines of work. Especially was this so of the Personal Service. Numbers of conversions were reported from quiet visits.

This was also the banner year in a financial way. When the treasurer made her report, it was so large that the president asked her to look over it again to be sure there was no mistake, for it sounded too good to be true.

The same officers were re-elected. The next meeting is to be with College Heights church in Abilene.

Our own pastor was asked to fill one of the pulpits on Sunday.

A good part of the Colorado folks were in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Swan and they lived off the fat of the land and Mrs. Swan attended all the meetings. She understands preparedness in the home.

The writer also visited the public school and was shown over the new building by Superintendent Parker. They have a lovely building without any waste space anywhere. They have fourteen teachers and everything is carried on in the most up-to-date progressive manner. Merkel is a pretty, wide-awake and growing town.

PLAINVIEW BOX SUPPER.

Don't forget the box supper at Plainview church, three miles southwest of town tonight. A good crowd is expected and a hearty welcome will be accorded all who come and help in the good cause. Go and take a box with you (and a little spare change likewise). A good musical and literary program has been arranged, and a pleasant evening is assured. On last Sunday, Missionary Wood preached for this church and J. T. Davis was ordained deacon for that church. H. F. Smith is doing a good work in this community as his unanimous recall to serve them another year attests.

A PLEASANT DAY.

Saturday Mrs. Geo. W. Smith had former friends of Tyler, Mrs. Mary Pegues and her daughter, Miss Sallie, who have been here for the summer, and who leave this week, with Mrs. J. W. Pearson, as her all-day guests. In the afternoon a few of the near neighbors came in and brought their work and a pleasant time was had with work and pleasant conversation. Before the good-byes were said a salad course was served.

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING.

The teachers and workers of the Christian Sunday school held their regular meeting with Mrs. Beckner Friday evening. There was a large number in attendance. The pastor made a splendid talk on greater efficiency. The needs of the school were discussed, among them, a library, and a fund was started to begin one. The pastor will order books immediately for it. After the program and business meeting, ice cream and cake were served.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to publicly thank the people of Colorado for the many acts of kindness and words of sympathy given us during the illness and at the death of our brother-in-law, W. H. Snyder. Mrs. A. C. Beckner was hostess for C. W. B. M. meeting last Thursday, with Mrs. Soper as leader. The subject was Geographical and Religious Survey of Latin America of Today. The scripture lesson was "Pray without ceasing." Roll call, A missionary in Latin America. Mrs. Burkhardt gave an interesting map study on the extent and location of the twenty republics. Mrs. Jones told of the untouched Indian Territory. Mrs. Pond talked on the Roman Catholic Church and Evangelistic Missions. Mrs. Harness gave a solo in keeping with the lesson. Mrs. Crowder gave an interesting sketch of a missionary.

This was the first lesson from the new year book, and all felt inspired to do greater things this year. Mrs. Woods and Miss Ledbetter were appreciated guests. At the social hour delicious ice cream and cake were served.

MISSIONARY AUXILIARY.

The Methodist Missionary Auxiliary held an all day meeting in the church last Thursday. Mrs. Jackson, the District Secretary presided. Members from the Loraine, Cuthbert, and Zellner societies were present and contributed much to the success of the work.

Rev. Doak conducted the morning devotional. Then Mrs. Jackson, after explaining the nature of the meeting, conducted a quiz upon the conference officers and the work.

Mrs. Davis outlined the duties of each officer. Mrs. Merritt told of the Young Peoples' work. Mrs. Jim Johnson of Loraine and Mrs. Doak spoke of the children's work. Mrs. J. N. Shepperd of Social Service, Mrs. Jackson of Mission Study. All were followed by informal discussion and questions. Adjournment was made for the noon hour, and delicious lunch served in the basement.

At two o'clock work was resumed. Mrs. Arnett conducting the devotional service. Miss Jo Dry told of the extent of the woman's work; Mrs. Arnett of the meaning of the week of prayer; Mrs. Doss of the whirlwind campaign; and reports were had as to the number of new members. About 35 were reported. Mrs. Jackson, by means of a chart explained very fully where a dollar goes in this work. Mrs. Merritt explained the need of every officer reporting quarterly for the work done. This closed the work for the day. All gathered around the altar for a season of prayer, after which the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Doak.

Those present from Cuthbert were Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Womack, Mrs. Crabtree and Miss Womack. From Loraine, Mrs. Edmondson, Mrs. Jameson, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Zellner and Mrs. Jim Johnson. From Zellner, Mrs. Hamilton and Miss Martin.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to publicly thank the friends who so intimately ministered to us on the occasion of the sickness and death of our husband, father and brother, and for the beautiful floral tokens and words of tenderest sympathy. May God bless you all.—Mrs. J. L. Ross and Family and Mrs. R. S. Haley.

JACK ROSS IS DEAD.

After an illness of several weeks, Jack Ross died in this city last Sunday morning at about 7 o'clock. He went to a sanitarium at Temple about three weeks ago, but after careful examination, the surgeons there refused to operate. He returned here and since that time had been taking treatment in this city. But the malady from which he suffered had progressed beyond human skill, and death relieved him of his sufferings Sunday morning.

Mr. Ross had been a citizen of this county many years. He married a daughter of the late W. H. Goodwin, who, with several children survive him. He was a quiet and industrious man, a good citizen and an exemplary christian. His remains were interred in Odd Fellows cemetery Monday morning under the ritual of the Woodmen of the World, of which order he was a devoted member.

The Record extends sympathy to the bereaved family, relatives and friends.

Three hours of the most brilliant, beautiful, exciting, gripping and interesting pictures will be shown at opera house Friday and Saturday, 20-21, in the most wonderful production of the age.—The Fall of a Nation.

There is a Real Difference

Cream of tartar, derived from grapes, is used in Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder because it is the best and most healthful ingredient known for the purpose.

Phosphate and alum, which are derived from mineral sources, are used in some baking powders, instead of cream of tartar, because they are cheaper.

If you have been induced to use baking powders made from alum or phosphate, use Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder instead. You will be pleased with the results and the difference in the quality of the food.

Mrs. J. R. Collier is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Jane L. Armstrong, appointed to take charge of the Valerie Farm for Women, is the first woman warden of a New York penal institution.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Starts Your Liver Without Making You Sick and Cant Not Salivate. Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver-tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver-tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver-tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness, and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver-tone is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take Dodson's Liver-tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

WHEN ANDREW JACKSON BLUNDERED INTO FLORIDA.

In 1817 another Indian campaign brought Andrew Jackson before the public in a far from agreeable light. Florida still belonged to Spain, and the Seminole Indians had a way of making sudden raids across the border into Georgia. The Spanish colony offered them a safe place of retreat after an orgy of murder and pillage. It was also a refuge for white criminals of many nations and kinds, who added their iniquity to the forays.

The raids became so frequent and daring that Jackson was ordered to put an end to them. The exact degree of authority given him was later a subject of bitter dispute. He claimed that he had distinct orders to invade Florida, and that the government knew and approved his belief that eastern Florida should be taken and held as indemnity for outrages upon our citizens. The administration denied this.

Whatever his orders, he did not stop until he had taken Pensacola and accidentally executed two Englishmen whom he found there helping the Indians. This raised a storm at home and abroad. Resolutions of censure were introduced in both branches of congress and debated to the exclusion of all other business, in one house or the other, for the space of twenty-seven days. The house finally voted to sustain him, while the senate laid the resolution on the table. Clay, making a speech arraigning Jackson, for which he was never forgiven.

In Monroe's cabinet discussion was equally violent, though not made public. Long years afterward, Jackson learned that Calhoun, secretary of state, had favored disavowing Jackson's acts and holding him to account, and on the instant his previous admiration for the South Carolinian changed to undying hate. John Q. Adams upheld him, being the only member of the cabinet to do so, and cited authorities on international law and instances of history to prove that the impetuous general was well within his rights. Jackson learned of this at the time, but ungratefully pooh-poohed the attempt to thrust him into the academic past.

"Damn Grotius!" he said. "Damn Pufendorf! Damn Vattel! This is a mere matter between Jim Monroe and myself."—From "Our Nation in the Building," by Helen Nicolay, Century Magazine.

25 CENTS DESTROYS YOUR DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair! Make It Thick, Wavy and Beautiful—Try This!

The brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few week's use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Adv2

The Baldwin Piano

ALTHOUGH its creator was unknown, the Venus de Milo was hailed immediately upon its discovery as the world's greatest sculpture. Likewise, the Baldwin Piano when exhibited at the Paris Exposition was the product of comparatively unknown makers but it was awarded the Grand Prix and was declared "hors concours" (beyond competition). True genius proclaims itself. It needs no pedigree.

OCTOBER

October was the eighth month of the Romans, and gets its name from the Latin octo (eight). Caesar shifted it to its present place in the calendar on the ground that such a popular sport as applebobbing ought to have the advantage of apples without worms in them. He provoked a characteristic Roman debate on the subject, and outwitted his opponents by passing around early apples in the Senate while the debate was on. This stratagem, which easily gained the victory, so infuriated Brutus an other applegrowers that they laid for him outside the hall and cut out his Adam's apple.

It is in October that we have the Indian Summer said by someone to be the only good thing the Indians gave us. It is so-called from the fact that in early days, when the country was sparsely settled, the Indians made a practice of raiding the white settlements just before winter. Raising nothing of their own, they looked with covetous eyes upon the tobacco of the planter, his apples, pumpkins, corn and potatoes. The white people knew the Indians would appear at this time, and they therefore called it the Indian Summer. In years when there were no crops, the whites all got inside the blockhouse and had a good laugh at the Indians. This sometimes made the Indians so mad that they attacked anyway; but their sense of humor was always lively, and they usually joined in the laugh on themselves and went away saying that Wilson or somebody of that sort was to blame.

The festive calf will sniff the cold
 And deftly burrow in the stack
 The hickories will turn to gold
 And greet the wild goose coming back
 The janitor will raise a smoke
 Without the slightest trace of heat
 The tender fruitage of the oak
 Will keep the wildwood full of meat
 The plumber will resume his drive
 Upon the poor householder's purse
 The rousing poet will contrive
 A note of sadness in verse
 The hired man will hawl for more
 And thicker blankets on his cot
 And any old thing at the store
 Will cost the buyer all he's got.

There is no other season quite the same as that which looms ahead, when frost shall make the morning white and turn the sassafras to red. It matters not how shot shell shall scream and whistle far away, there still remains to us the spell of Autumn coming when she may. For Europe misery and hate, for us the subtle charms of Fall; for Europe homemade desolate for us the quail's delicious call, for Europe battleships and gas, starvation, prisoners and dread, for us the frost-rime on the grass, and all the smach glowing red.

We make our choice in this brief life and this, we understand, is ours. We left that continent of strife, and ceased to man its walls and towers. We sailed away to find a place which war is not disposed to hit, and this, at least for this fell space, we sort of calculate it. It may turn out we did not go quite far enough, for war is wide, but thus far Europe and her woe have not been equal to the tide. We look across the raging deep, where war and ruin have prevailed, and when we mark the ocean's sweep we bless the day on which we sailed.

But be that as it haply may,
 That blest blue haze will fill the air,
 And candidates will blaze away
 In almost any mode of hair.
 The center rush will show us how
 The armored tank goes thru the line,
 The Hunter's Moon will help endow
 The season with a charm divine.
 The ladies will appear in such
 Absurdities as Fashion wills,
 The farmer will throw in his clutch
 And trol around the cider mills,
 The watchful suffragists will swarm
 For President around the West,
 And the speaker, pointing with alarm
 Will bust the buttons off his vest.

October will have thirty-one days, about twenty-five of them perfect. The first twenty-two will be under the influence of Libra, the Scales, the seventh sign of the zodiac. Persons born in this period are on the level, and will frankly tell you how they are going to vote next month. The last nine days of the month will be under the influence of Scorpio, the eighth sign. Persons born under this sign are doubtful allies because of their disposition to say sharp things on their own hook. Col. Roosevelt, who was born on the 27th, is a typical Scorpio.

It was on the 12th of October that Columbus sighted San Salvador. See ins no sign of war, he went ashore in a small boat and took possession of the place in the name of the pacifists. He named it America for Americus Vesputicus, the only man on his ship who did not get into some kind of a fight coming over.

The moon is more beautiful in October than at any other time of the year, and is therefore not full until the 11th, when the air will be a little bluer than it is now. Halloween will come on the 31st, with Pancho Villa on the gate.

Then chill November will betide,
 With all the gunners gunning,
 And that grave problem to decide
 Among the people running.

GIVE IT A REST.

Once every so many years, certain articles take on renewed interest, just as each succeeding generation discovers their merit. The discoverers can not imagine that the preceding generation appreciated the real merits of the article, so inflicts them again and again.

So it is that this "We shall meet again Clemathe" stuff, of which George D. Prentice died years and years ago, is now suffering a re-encounter at the hands of some mighty poor literary critics. You know, it starts out with: "The flat of death is inexorable, etc." One country exchange we have before us, assures the world, the flesh and the devil that "The flat of death is inexorable."

HOW CATARRH IS CONTRACTED

Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucus membrane, at first acute, becomes chronic and the child has chronic catarrh, a disease that is seldom cured and that may prove a life's burden. Many persons who have this loathsome disease will remember having had frequent colds at the time it was contracted. A little forethought, a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judiciously used, and all this trouble might have been avoided. Obtainable everywhere. Adv10-28

Senator Clark of Arkansas died at his home at Little Rock last Sunday afternoon. Apoplexy was the immediate cause of his death. He was 62 years of age.

LOOK AT YOURSELF

Is Suffering Writing Lines In your Face?

Many a handsome woman looks in the glass and sees the premature lines of the old hag already beginning to show in her face. Secret suffering and sickness is writing those lines every day plainer and plainer.

They don't know what to do. Their backs ache, their bodies ache; poor appetite, bad digestion, sallow skin, drooping shoulders, always tired. Probably suffering from organic or functional trouble peculiar to women. Doctors don't seem to help them. It's pitiful.

But there is a way out. A distinguished Southern physician says a life time of constant study to perfecting a remedy for suffering women and when he had perfected it he rightly called it Stella Vita, the star of life.

All dealers sell it and so certain are they that they guarantee to give you your money back if Stella Vita doesn't benefit you. If you want to stop that nagging pain, aid your digestion, clear up your complexion and regain your physical attractions try a bottle of Stella Vita. Try it today. Don't hesitate, for it costs you nothing if it fails to benefit you. Your dealer sells it in $1 bottles. Teacher Medicine Co., at Chattanooga, Tenn.

SOME BIG CATTLE DEALS.

Despite the prevalent drought for practically the past twelve months in this immediate county, the cattle industry has kept up its tone amazingly well. TAKE "CASCARETS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Best For Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines. Instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascare-t to-night will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

Fully Equipped—No Extras to Buy

If Mitchell county or any other county were made up of just such farmers as J. W. Gross, out in the Horn's Chapel community, there would hardly be much chance for a second class man at all. There would be no place for him, at any rate. Not more than a year ago, Gross had to buy another quarter section of good farming land near him to allow himself room to spread.

And, although the past year has been nothing to brag about as to big crops, he had to annex another quarter section adjoining his other purchase, to care for the stuff he has raised on his other two places. Gross is a farmer, who keeps books on everything he does. He can tell you just what it cost him to raise a dozen eggs, a turkey gobbler or produce a quart of milk. He always knows "just where he is at" and its always on the credit side of the ledger. And, moreover, Mitchell county has scores of such methodical farmers, but we have all along suspected that if the truth were to come out in meeting, the credit would be found due more to their wives than to themselves.

LOCAL NOTES

Before I got a FORD, I would not have sold Rhoda and the surry and harness for $150, but now I will sell all for $75.00. A bargain for some one.—E. Keathley.

The stiff price of cotton brought a rash of the staple to town Saturday and the sale turned loose much money into the channels of trade. The merchants in all lines report a satisfactory business, while the carnival in general, the snake show, flying jinnies and motordome in particular, did a bargain counter business all afternoon and far into the night.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the some nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutrient gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bower, Bloomfield, N. J.

PARENT-TEACHERS MASS MEETING

The mass meeting called at the tabernacle last Tuesday night by the Parent-Teachers Association for the purpose of devising plans by which the conditions existing in our public schools, and which militate against its efficiency and handicap its universality affiliation, was not attended as largely as anticipated or as the importance of the purpose merited. The night was cold, and through misunderstanding, the lights were not on until a rather late hour. However, the ladies and gentlemen who did attend, proved themselves in earnest about the matter.

After the urgent and immediate importance of better fire protection for the school property, had been presented by Dr. Coleman, the chairman, and his assurance that the Colorado Chamber of Commerce would foster the move to place a fire plug in the immediate vicinity of the buildings at the earliest day possible, the program was carried out, which consisted of short talks by L. W. Sandusky, Prof. Judd, J. M. Thomas, S. D. Vaughan and others, which set forth the condition of the school in regard to its financial outlook, its lack of teachers and its decreasing affiliation units, a motion was made to canvass the crowd for money to secure one or two more teachers for the present session.

A representative of the board announced that there was sufficient money available to run the school nine months with the present corps of teachers, but the board saw no way by which it could pay an extra teacher.

After some cross-purpose running debate, a motion prevailed that the chair appoint a committee of both ladies and gentlemen to canvass the town for money enough to employ one or two teachers, as the funds secured might justify.

Mr. Sandusky then made the motion that this same committee circulate a subscription list in the interest of placing the fire plug near the school buildings; this motion likewise prevailed. It was estimated that the cost of extending the main and installing the plug would be approximately $700. The minimum amount at which a competent high school teacher could be secured, was reckoned at $75, while $50 was estimated for an extra teacher in the lower grades.

The president of the board of trustees announced that no teacher would be employed, even tentatively by the board unless the money for his or her pay was available. Mr. Sandusky asked the president of the board, if the Parent-Teachers Association would guarantee a teacher his or her salary, without any obligation on the part of the board, would the board employ such teacher. This question was finally left open.

The chair announced that he would select the number and personnel of the soliciting committee at the earliest moment and announce their names.

Although the zodiacal sign was not just right on this occasion for that unity which the Psalmist so highly extolled for its beauty and goodness, much information was brought out in the discussion concerning the school and its immediate needs. No one can doubt that the accomplishment of anything or everything for the betterment of our schools, is based on the preservation of our school property from another destructive fire; and so long as we rely upon providence to safeguard us in it, its preservation, like our affiliation, hangs by a hair.

The Record party received a nice, long letter last week from his young friend, "Unc" Harry Ratliff, who is having his young idea taught how to shoot at Austin College, Sherman, Texas. When on the eve of departure for college, we met him and offered him a bit of post graduate wisdom about entering college. But he gave us to understand in three words and two looks, that he was of a different and more sophisticated generation. His letter however, confessed acquaintance with the kangaroo court and other forms of hazing. He admitted having to eat his victuals off the mantelpiece for three days afterward. But the kid will learn; by the time he returns home next June to help his father head the maize crop and chase the festive boll weevil, all his wire-edge will have lost its roughness. MOVING DAY SOON.

There will be several changes made in business locations of Colorado as soon as the buildings now under construction, alteration and repair are finished. C. M. Adams, H. L. Hutchinson, Mrs. B. F. Mills, W. L. Edmondson Vogue Style Shop and Cook & Morrow have already effected change of locations.

When the Lasky block is ready for occupancy and the Boren building re-roofed, several more moves will occur. The Colorado Mercantile Company goes to the buildings vacated by C. M. Adams; the Colorado Bargain House moves to the old Mercantile location; Charters & Sadler will occupy one of the Lasky storehouses; Roy Dozier another and J. B. Annis the other. The City National Bank will move into their new building sometime in November. Other changes are likely to be made, but the deals are not yet far enough advanced for definite statement.

Rumors that passenger trains number three and four are to be extended from Sweetwater on to Big Spring in order to take care of the heavy passenger traffic which the T. & P. is now hauling, continue to be heard. ONE of the most thrilling aerial acts ever performed in American history, according to a recent announcement, been engaged by the State Fair of Texas. De Carno, the Death Defier, presents an act of skill and daring evolutions are one of the most interesting of the State Fair this fall.

De Carno's act is one of the world. There is nothing like it in the world. De Carno has no competitors and no imitators, for no other aerialist has ever had the nerve to even attempt to duplicate his feats.

This act is presented upon a slender, tapering pole 100 feet in height. The pole is simply set in the ground and has no scaffolding, guy wires or other support of any kind. De Carno mounts this pole rapidly and, ascending to the very top, performs gymnastic feats that make the crowds hold their breath in wonder, while all the time the slender pole is swaying to and fro under the weight of the daring performer.

This act is entirely new to the south, and it comes to the State Fair of Texas with the warmest recommendations ever bestowed upon an act of the kind. It is something that is sure to please, and Fair visitors are advised to see it by all means.

AMERICA'S MOST STUPENDOUS DANCING ACT TO FEATURE 1916 STATE FAIR OF TEXAS

THE gorgeous dancing spectacle, "The Dance of Fortune," which will be one of the big features of the Coliseum Show at the State Fair of Texas this year, is described as the most artistic and beautiful act of its kind ever originated. It is performed by Alice Eis and Bert French, two artists who have an international reputation for thoroughly high class and pleasing work. This act is presented in a wonderfully beautiful setting which is said to have cost thousands of dollars to construct. An idea of its size may be gleaned from the statement that two large baggage cars are required for its transportation. Miss Eis and Mr. French will come direct to the State Fair from a recent breaking run at the Palace Theater of New York, where their work has been enthusiastically commented by even the blasé New York audiences. It is probable that they will vary their performance of the "Dance of Fortune" with several renditions of their new spectacle, "The Call of the North," which will be entirely new to the south.
