H. W. Collins visited his daughter, Mrs. James L. Bigby, in Fort Worth last week.

A. B. Click Co. Begins Re-Vamp Of Appeals Court

Repairs on the fifth floor of the Courthouse began last Monday, Oct. 18, after the job was given to an Abilene firm, A. B. Click & Co., according to County Judge Scott Bailey.

This renovating will include expanding the library space, rearranging petitions in order to give the judges more space in their offices; and installing central heat and air-conditioning and an electrical panel into the Courthouse. Cost of these repairs will be approximately $42,000 and the job is expected to be completed within 90 days, Judge Bailey said.

Some time ago, a request was made to move the Eastland County Courthouse headquarters to Abilene because of inadequate library space, Bailey stated. The courthouse has a payroll of about $100,000 per year and with this fact being considered, the Eastland County Bar Association

Carbon Defeats Moran 49-0 In Football Game

Halfbacks Tim Warren and Ronnie Hughes teamed up to collect 30 points and lead the Carbon Wolverines to a 49 to 0 victory over the Moran Bulldogs in a District 8-B game here last Thursday night.

Warren was the game's leading scorer with 18 points, while Hughes was close behind with 12. Jerry Cook and Ray Kanady added a touchdown each, and Alvie Allison collected seven points on extra-point conversions to make up the total.

The entire team played well on defense.

Carbon is now 7-0 for the season and 2-0 in district play.

They play Gordon here Thursday night, Nov. 4, at 7:30.

Eastland ASCS Office Is First In Group Of 15

The office personnel and county committee of the Eastland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) has been selected as the outstanding county unit in the CO 9-10 category in District Five, it has been reported here.

The local office was chosen over 15 other counties in the district. A plaque received by the office, signed by Ralph Price, chairman of the state committee, says:

"In recognition of your selection as the ASCS County office in the CO 9-10 category most outstanding in the farmer fieldman district in effective and efficient operation of ASCS programs."

The office staff, headed by Gilbert Meredith, includes Novella Bigby, Myrtle Aaron,

May Edna Gattis, Mildred Sherrill and Barbara Anderson and Fieldman Everett Martin. Guy Lyster is chairman of the committee, Elmer Blackwell is vice chairman and Garland Garrett is county committee.

The selection was based upon improvement made during the 12 month period ending July 31, 1965, as well as the continuing high quality of performance exhibited by your office, a statement accompanying the award said.

"The effective administration of farm programs depends on the continuing efforts of county offices such as yours to utilize the most efficient and practical methods possible," the statement concluded.

KIMMELL RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT COUNTY LIVESTOCK GROUP

Sam Kimmell, prominent Cisco rancher, was re-elected president of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association at a monthly meeting in Ranger Thursday night.

Kimmell has served in this capacity for the past two years.

Glyn Gilliam, Ranger banker, was also re-elected as vice president. John Adair, Ranger, was named secretary. He replaces Bob Green, Gorman.

Eastland Rancher C. M. McCain, who has served as treasurer of the group for many years, will continue to serve in that capacity.

New directors named at the meeting include: Doug Fry and Ralph Berry, Cisco; L. C. Hounsell, Rising Star; and Winford Parr, Eastland.

They replace Ross Wilson and Ed Harrison, Gorman; George Steel, Rising Star; and W. L. Sims, Eastland.

Holdover directors from Ranger include Don Bradford, Dr. John Foster, Norman Richardson, B. S. Dudley, Jr. and Keith McDonald.

From Eastland, Bernard Hanna, Ben McKinnis, Ed Sargent, Waverly Massengale, Pete Tindall, Bill McCutchen and J. M. Cooper.

Cisco directors to continue serving include Tom Toland, Parks Plambeck, Gaston Boyd, Robert Kincaid, Erwin Pippin, Hoot Ferguson and Jimmie Lee.

From Olden, Gilbert Copeland. E. C. Branlett, Gorman, and Johnnie Rodgers, Carbon, will also continue as will H. L. Geyer and Joe Criswell from Rising Star.

Date for the 1966 county livestock show has been set for March 17-19 it was said.

COUNTY 4-H'ERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING AT LIVESTOCK SHOW

Against stiff competition at the State Fair in Dallas Oct. 17-23, Eastland County 4-H'ers won one first place and a number of other settings with four heifers and two steers in the livestock show, announced Bill McCutchen, Assistant County Agent.

Entries from Eastland County were those of Bobby Williams of Gorman, Cynthia and Carter Hounsell and Sandy Warlick, all of Rising Star.

Cynthia's junior heifer calf Tinkerbell was first place in her class. Bobby placed his lightweight angus steer Lucky 15th in his class. Sandy placed her middleweight shorthorn Cochise II third place and her shorthorn heifer Erigette third place. Carter's junior yearling heifer

Eastland, Clyde Moving to 7-AA

District 7-AA will have two new members next year. Supt. T. M. Roach of the Cisco Public Schools reported Monday.

The new district will be composed of Eastland and Clyde, the new teams, along with Hamilton, Granbury, Comanche and Cisco. Dublin was dropped to Class 1-A for the coming year. Eastland and Clyde were moved up from 1-A to 2-AA.

Mr. Roach said the schedule for next season would be worked out after the end of the current season. Both Eastland and Clyde were already on the Cisco schedule so there was not expected to be much change.

Commercial plantings of the new walnut have been made in Michigan, Pennsylvania,

Some 400 persons turned out lawn.

Railroads Pay $28,549, in Taxes In This County

Current annual taxes paid to the various government agencies in Eastland County totaled $28,549, it is announced by the Texas Railroad Association.

That amount was the county's share of the nearly $10,000,000 the railroads paid in Texas on their own right of way and other property.

The biggest railroad contribution was to the school systems throughout the state. Large sums were also distributed to city, village and county governments and for road and bridge funds.

In addition, of course, was the large total in taxes the railroads' nearly 35,000 Texas employees contributed on their own property. The vast majority of rail workers, many of whom live in Eastland County, own their own homes.

*With the future of our country and state depending to a great extent upon the education of our youth, I am delighted that nearly half of the taxes paid by the railroads go to support the schools," said Walter Caven, general counsel of the Texas Railroad Association. "Recognizing this need for education, many of the railroads operating in Texas also make scholarships available to a large number of students every year."

Conservationist S. S. Powers Re-Elected Zone 2 Supervisor

S. S. Powers was unanimously re-elected district supervisor of Zone 2 of the Palo Pinto Soil Conservation District last Saturday night Oct. 9, in an election held at the Desdemona School.

The Desdemona community was well represented by a large crowd of farm families residing in Zone 2. Visiting district boosters as well as the other supervisor from Strawn, Palo Pinto, and Mineral Wells were also in attendance.

J. M. Cooper, Eastland County Agent, served as moderator as is customary in supervisor elections. E. E. McAllister and W. L. Garner of the Soil Conservation Service at Eastland brought a conservation program to the group prior to the election. After the election Mr. Keith McDonald's Future Farmers Chapter served refreshments to the crowd.

Mr. Powers has a 1,285-acre farm two miles north of Desdemona on Highway 16. Mr. "Sam," as he is best known, has done a tremendous job in conservation within the past few years. He is best known as being the first farmer in this vicinity to plant Coastal Bermuda on a commercial scale. In 1952 he sprigged 12 acres to Coastal Bermuda. He now has 340 acres. From the original planting west of his new home has come thousands and thousands of pounds of sprigs which were used by farmers in this vicinity to propagate many acres of Coastal.

Mr. Sam has truly learned the art of managing Coastal Bermuda pasture. His management includes fertilization according to the production level he desires, control of weedy competition, leaving a good stubble height, and rotation of livestock periodically between pastures. Some 50 acres of his Coastal is under irrigation. He uses irrigation primarily as insurance to have an abundant high quality forage available for his livestock during our normal July and August dry weather.

Mr. Powers uses a cow-calf-steer operation in his grassland management. He uses steers to fill in with his basic herd according to the season and available forage in his pastures. He has done an outstanding job of improving his native rangeland through deferred grazing, brush control, range seeding, and just plain proper stocking. He depends entirely upon Coastal Bermuda for forage during the summer growing season and rests his native grass. This permits the native grass to gain size and vigor and produce seed. His native pastures then provide a good winter home for his livestock.

Mr. Sam's operations also include about 150 acres of cropland which is planted to peanuts. For many years it has been his practice to strip his peanuts with two rows sudan and eight rows peanuts. Immediately after peanut harvest he drills a winter cover crop to further control wind erosion and add organic matter to the soil. This cropping system has proven very effective in that over a period of years his peanut yields have averaged about 40 bushels.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers are truly real conservationists. That they love their land is evident by the fine conservation program they have faithfully applied and maintained over a period of many years. The election of Mr. Sam to serve another five years as the supervisor of this zone is an expression of faith and confidence by their many friends and neighbors.
