CHECKING THE CROP — Eastland County officials check the harvest from the courthouse lawn's Carpathian Walnut orchard (two trees) and find that there will be quite a few nuts this year. From left these men are Courthouse Maintenance Man Collin Campbell, County Judge Scott Bailey, County Agent J. M. Cooper, County Clerk Johnson Smith, and Maintenance Man Cullen Rogers. Mr. Rogers helped Mr. Cooper set the two rare Walnut trees out on the courthouse lawn back in 1960. (Staff Photos)

Carpathian Walnut Crop Appears Good

The two specimens of Carpathian Walnut trees on the Eastland County Courthouse lawn are doing their part to prove the testimony of nurserymen who call the rare-in-this-country tree, as the "tree find of the century."

Planted only five years ago, the two English variety walnut trees are already beautiful shade trees on the southeast corner of the courthouse lawn and yield an ample crop of succulent nuts each year. Self-pollinating and boasting beautiful white barks are but two of the rare tree's characteristics.

Being able to withstand extremely low temperatures (as much as 20 degrees below zero) is another characteristic and is the reason the variety eventually found itself in this country.

It was discovered growing in the Carpathian mountains of Poland more than a quarter of a century ago. Its true variety and name is the Broadview variety of the English walnut, County Agent J. M. Cooper reports. Scionwood (budwood or graftwood or both) was first taken to England by a man who was impressed with the variety's resistance to cold weather. Later it found its way to Canada and into the United States.

Commercial plantings of the new walnut have been made in Michigan, Pennsylvania, where the temperatures have been too cold for the types and varieties of the English Coast.

The Carpathian was introduced into Eastland County in 1955 by B. B. Freeman, pecan grower and nurseryman, who budded a large native black walnut to the new nut. It made its first crop of nuts in 1957 and has not had a failure since. Some crops though have been heavier than others. Freeman had gotten the budwood from the U. S. Pecan Field Station near Brownwood according to Cooper who was along when the scionwood was given to be tried.

This particular walnut is a beautiful, self-pollinating tree with large green, glossy, lush growing leaves. They grow much faster than do pecan trees. If a large tree, six to seven feet, is set out it will generally start bearing the third year. It only needs be large enough to produce its own pollen.

The nuts mature in September, when they start opening the nuts are pulled from the tree and placed in a shady place to cure out.

Others in the county are finding the trees to be fine nutbearing trees that provide quick shade as an ornamentals. Trees are available in the county.

Social Security Number Goes Up In This County

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Eastland County now top $244,600. R. R. Tuley Jr., District Manager of Social Security in Abilene, said today on releasing his annual benefit data report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of 6 percent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Tuley said. This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter.

"There is no longer any doubt. Social security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in this county."

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940.

of December 31, 1964; and they have continued without interruption for years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. Tuley noted that as of December 31, 1964, some 4,250 countians were collecting over $2,935,400 annually from social security.

More people in Eastland County, he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

As of January 1965, in the nation at large, almost 20 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of $16 billion per month.

The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $77.57 for all states, while in the State of Texas the average was $69.43, Tuley said.

The following table shows the number and amount of each type of monthly benefit paid in Eastland County, as

The year 1965 marks several milestones in the history of social security. The January 1965 benefit payment marked the 300th month of payment since monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940. The number of monthly benefits currently being paid will reach the 20 million mark in 1965. In addition, August is the 30th anniversary of the signing of the Social Security Act b

TESCO Quarter Century Club Banquet Is Called Success

Approximately 400 employees and guests of Texas Electric Service Co. attended the company's annual banquet honoring Quarter Century Club members at the National Guard Armory in Breckenridge Tuesday evening.

No new members from the Eastland division were added to the club this year, but some 12 names are expected to be added next year. Division Manager Frank Sayre of Eastland presided, introducing Company President Beeman Fisher who stressed the importance of public relations to the company, and Dr. Charles Irvin of Daytona Beach, Fla., who gave the principal address. The event was called a success on every hand.

Calling for "attachment" rather than detachment from the world, Dr. Irvin stressed the importance of becoming involved—in our work, our worship and the world about us. Citing Torndee's civilization cycle, he warned that this nation has but some 11 years in which to swing the pendulum away from the direction of bondage which is believed to lie ahead. (He quoted the historian's theory that some 20 civilizations prior to ours, flourished and vanished in 200 year spans because of their peoples' route from bondage, through freedom, complacency, apathy, dependency and finally bondage again.)

Special entertainment feature this year was a performance by Katy and Mel Dacus in a musical presentation of familiar love and operatta tunes. The couple is affiliated with Fort Worth's Casa Manana Theater and with music education at Texas Christian University.

There are some 44 members of the Quarter Century Club in the Eastland Division and 17 of these are retired. Many, including retirees, were present for the special event.
