The Economy of Using Goodyear Small Car Tires

So-called bargain tires, made up for sensational sales and offered at ridiculously low prices, do not attract careful buyers.

They are far more concerned with what they get than with what they pay because they know that in the end it is performance and not price that delivers actual tire economy.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the  $30 \times 3$ -,  $30 \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ - and  $31 \times 4$ -inch sizes, is based on the fact that they deliver exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3½ Goodyear Double-Cure $2350 Fabric, All-Weather Tread

30x 3½ Goodyear Single-Cure $2150

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit - why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? 30 x 31/2 size in waterproof bag ..

The demonstration staged against Mr. Bailey Saturday hight on one of the rincipal streets of Fort Worth as the defeated candidate for governor sat in the Star-Telegram building watching a bulletin reporting election returns and later as he went to his hotel was contrary to the rules of common decency. ## The Secret of a Superlative Tire

The whole question of a super-tire is a matter of principles. For there is nothing exclusive in the industry. No patents, no secret formulas prevent a conscientious maker from building the best.

But cost and competition modify ideals. The Brunswick idea is to pay perfection's price and get it.

That has been the Brunswick policy since 1845. And it accounts for the growing preference for Brunswick Tires. Motorists expect the utmost from a tire bearing the name of Brunswick - and get it.

You, too, will be convinced by your first Brunswick, that here is an extraordinary tire, and that more money cannot buy

Better tires of their type are impossible - or better tubes. That we guarantee.

A keen-eyed street Arab spotted it first-his gaze attracted by its glistening reflection of the morning sun. He sidled over to it, snatched it up eagerly and passed it toward his mouth. Before it actually touched his tongue, however, he seemed to become conscience-stricken. He looked quickly around him, then at the machine, then quickly, as if ashamed of his taking it in the first place, he slid it back in the container-and took his place against the side of a nearby building, watching the small white sphere in wierd fascination.

Next came a business man, hurrying to his office. He stopped to use the mail box beside the machine, spotted the ball of chewing gum and picked it up as though it were the' most natural thing in the world. He, too, all but had it in his mouth, when he was suddenly conquered by his better self, and the gum was returned to its original resting place. And, strangely, he, too, took his stand and watched the magic sphere closely.

An aristocratic limousine purred its way to the curb and two handsomely gowned women alighted. One of them lifted her skirt daintily and minced across the sidewalk into a nearby building. The other stood waiting for her, idly toying with the nickel handle on the door of the car. Suddenly the glint of something white caught her eye. She looked again. It was a small marble of chewing gum someone had failed to

The morning was so hot, and she was so thirsty, and no one was looking anyway, and even if they were, lots of nice people chew gum, and anyway it is good for the digestionthe advertisements say so. She reached out quickly and, while no one was looking, she scooped it out of its resting place. Aware of someone's eyes upon her, she turned quickly to see a business man with a grin on his face and a street urchin stuffing his fist in his mouth to choke his merriment. She almost had the gum to her lips when she, too paused, glanced toward the man and the boy, and the color quickly mounted to her cheeks. Then she, too, glanced hastily about and replaced the gum marble in its accustomed

Scarcely had it left her fingers when two negro women rounded the corner from Akard street and headed up Commerce. They were dressed in the height of fashion, as Deep Elma interprets fashion, and were replete with style from their French heels to their lace hats.

One of them spoted the gumreached out in passing, appropriated it and ground down on it with her molars, all in practically one motion: The effect was instantaneous. She gagged; choked and sputtered. ## Combines Ease of Operation With Good Work

It's a pleasure to drive the John Deere Row Binder round after round, and see the standing corn transformed into well-shaped, easily handled bundles because the hard work is all taken out-it is just a job of driving the horses.

JOHN DEERE ROW BINDER

-The power carrier does away entirely with the hard work-you don't have to dump ie bundle carrier and return to position undreds of times during the day.

-On the John Deere you press the foot trip lever and the power carrier dos the rest.-It delivers the bundles free of the path of the horses, and practically parallel to the standing corn.

-The horses don't have to tramp over and on the bundles.

-Because the carrier is always in receiving position, no bufidles are scattered between the windrows.

-You will also appreciate the John Deere Binder because it is easy on the horses. The Quick-Turn Tongue Truck takes off all neck weight, and makes it just as easy to turn at the ends as if the horses were hitched to a

-Besides the truck takes off side draft and prevents sluing because the axle of the truck is flexibly mounted—the wheels hold to uneven ground constantly.

-You will understand why the John Deere works so successfully in all kinds of maizefields when you see the wide throat with flexible throat springs that hold the maize into the conveyor chains operating close to the butts, carrying the stalks back in a vertical position all of the way.

-The three packers, one working above the needle tnd two blow, insure well-formed bundles. The three discharge arms discharg the bundles onto the power carrier, no chance of the discharging bundle mixing with the bundle being made.
