SIXTEENTH YEAR—VOL. XVI,

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1920.

WHIPKEY PRINTING COMPANY

IATAN WELL SHOT WITH 80 QUARTS; PRODUCTION ESTIMATED 400 BBLs.

The well of the Colorado-Texas Company at Iatan is good for 400 barrels a day, according to the opinion of A. G. Whitehead, superintendent, who was in Colorado Tuesday. This well was shot with 80 quarts of nitro Sunday afternoon at a depth of 2600 feet and responded with an increased production, which, however, has not yet been tested out. It was estimated Monday that the well was good for 400 barrels.

This well was drilled twenty feet into the sand, which differed from that picked up in the Underwriters' well near Westbrook, in that it was loose. The sand in the Underwriters' well was found to be very hard. The crew at Iatan is now busy cleaning out and expect to have the hole ready for a thorough test within the next few days.

At this time there are several geologists working out different properties for oil companies not now operating in the Colorado territory. It is believed by some who have made a rapid and superficial examination of this territory that there is good structure in some parts of the county which has heretofore been overlooked, according to Arthur W. Palmer, who has just completed an analysis of these geological findings. "We do not feel that our field is completely defined at this time," stated Mr. Palmer, "and it is evident that some parts are to receive a thorough test in the very near future."

The old Mineola well in Fisher county about 16 miles northeast of Loraine is reported to have touched the sand at 2675 feet and is showing good possibilities after having penetrated three feet into the sand. This property, which was the original Mineola Co. proposition, was taken over by the Texline Company and later sold to the Post-Duke interests who now have charge of the well and will continue the development of this lease.

Report from the Ranger-Western well in Nolan county, a few miles east of Loraine shows the well to be in satisfactory condition with the work progressing as rapidly as possible.

The Traveller's well on the Landers ranch has about completed setting the ten inch casing at about 1800 feet.

The Underwriter's Morrison No. 2, has set their 12 1-2 inch casing at about 440, and at a depth of about 585 at this time the drillers are making record time with this well. Messrs. Thompson and Lewis, who are drilling the Morrison No. 2, are experienced drillers, and they are the men who brought in the

MATERIAL YARDS LOCATED IN CITY

CISCO DEALER PAYS $8,000 FOR LOCATION CORNER FIRST AND PINE.

W. E. Douthy of Cisco, extensive lumberman and dealer in rig material, has purchased property at First and Pine streets as the location for a large lumber and rig material yard at Colorado. This property, with a frontage of 150 feet on Pine street, was bought from the owner, S. D. Wood, for a consideration of $8,000. The site is at present being used as a wood yard by Mr. Wood. Possession will be given January 15.

Mr. Douthy, before returning to Cisco the latter part of last week stated that he considered this city as offering ideal inducements for the location of a lumber and supply yard since development of the Colorado field is now passing the wild cat stage and scores of new locations are expected to be made within the next few weeks. At Colorado he will carry a large and varied stock, from which any demand for lumber and heavy timbers may be supplied.

Mr. Wood stated Tuesday that shipments of material stock were expected to begin arriving within the next few days and would be stored on the location. No office buildings or sheds are to be erected until after the first of the year.

Doughty is one of the leading material dealers of the Eastland County field. His headquarters are at Wichita, Kansas, where his family still resides. He expects to spend much of his time at the Colorado of late.

Messrs. Lamb & Jerry, managers of the Continental Supply Company of Cisco, dealers in oil well supplies were in Colorado recently and spent two or three days in the city. They confirmed the statement that they were looking for a yard location in the new West Texas field and expressed themselves as being pleased with the outlook at Colorado. They are negotiating for property here and stated they would return soon.

discovery well for the Underwriters on the T. & P. section. They expect to complete this well barring unexpected delays, by the middle of December.

It is expected that the Nat Smith well will be spudded in this week; this work having been retarded on account of unavoidable delay in the shipping of tools.

ARMISTICE DAY

Two years yesterday morning the guns of the Huns were silenced before the onslaughts of the American and allied armies along the Hindenburg lines and the other sectors in which the right of Democracy was assailed by the Germans and their allies. November 11th will remain throughout the ages as being one of the great memorial days of history. It marks an epoch in civilization triumph. It was on that date that the idle dreams of a barbarous Hohenzollern to convert the entire civilized world into a commercial pot for the fattening of his interests were once and for ever crumbled. What would have been the position of America today had the Hohenzollern accomplished his purpose? To discuss the probable result would be delving into things problematic too unhealthy for the vigorous civilization that is ours.

And, in thinking of what a great victory civilization won on November 11, two years ago, we would be in inviting inconsistency should we omit a reverence for those of our boys who paid the supreme sacrifice "Over

There"—or "Over Here," for that matter—for the cause of liberty. They went into the jaws of hell, casting aside any claim upon life, for the purpose of making forever free the land of the Stars and Stripes. It was the greatest sacrifice that man could make, but to them the compensation was fine, for they went into battle and into death with the assurance on their lips that back in America mother, sister, wife and others dear to them, and to their posterity would be enabled to live in peace and prosperity, without their virtue being robbed and their land devastated, as a result of their brave attacks in meeting the enemy.

And among the casualties to pour out their life blood on Flanders fields as a sacrifice for liberty and virtue, were included nine stalwart young men from Mitchell county. May the God of the universe hallow their memory and cause thought of them to ever be present in the minds of us all with reverence and appreciation. Armistice day must be more than a holiday to the citizenship of Mitchell county.

MEN ARRESTED IN THIS CITY SENTENCED TO PRISON

M. F. Berry and J. H. Gray, arrested in Colorado several days ago on suspicion of automobile theft and burglary, have confessed to charges of automobile larceny returned against them by the grand jury at Roswell, New Mexico, and received prison sentences, according to an Associated Press report carried in the El Paso Herald Monday. The men gave their names as "J. T. Smith" and "J. M. Smith" when apprehended here. They were returned to Roswell only a few days ago by the sheriff of Chaves county.

Following is the article as appearing in the Herald under a Roswell date line:

"M. F. Berry and J. H. Gray pleaded guilty here to an indictment returned by the grand jury charging them with the larceny of two automobiles. Berry, being only 17 years of age, was sentenced to serve not more than five and not less than four years in the state reform school and Gray was given a sentence of not less than three and not more than four years in the state penitentiary."

Local officers have the information that Berry and Gray are the men apprehended in Colorado. According to a confession made to officers of the local sheriff's department, they had stolen three additional cars, one of which was from Lubbock and another from Fort Worth, but it could not be ascertained whether this was true and, if so, if the two would be delivered to the Texas authorities for trial.

PROMINENT OIL MEN IN OUR CITY

Mr. W. E. McKinney of Fort Worth Superintendent and General Manager for the Empire Drilling and Development Company was in our city on Wednesday the 10th, for the purpose of inspecting the holdings of the Company, and arranging for the unloading of three strings of standard tools and one rig, which will be hauled to their respective locations in the next few days.

The rig mentioned will be accompanied by a crew of rig builders and will be immediately erected on the J. M. Dorn tract 4½ miles West and South of our city.

Mr. McKinney is an oil man of many years experience and is very enthusiastic over the outlook in Mitchell county and predicts one of the greatest oil pools yet discovered in Texas.

The Empire Drilling and Development Company are also arranging for offices and a field supply house.

WIDE 'SPREAD' OF OIL SHOWN TO EXIST IN MITCHELL COUNTY FIELD

By SILLIMAN EVANS, (Staff Cor., Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)

COLORADO, Texas, Nov. 4.—Less advertised than any wildcat field in the world, the Mitchell County oil field has made a record that hardly has ever been approached. Only two completions have been made in the field. They are located seven miles apart. They both have commercial production. One of them is a cinch producer for 129 barrels a day and this production is given it on the records of the oil and gas department of the Texas Railroad Commission. The other well has yielded a sufficient quantity of oil already to assure the oil fraternity that, if the hole is properly handled it, too, will be a producer of oil in commercial quantities.

The Mitchell County oil field is free of boom or boomlets. There is not a speculator that owns a lease in the field. Practically no acreage is for sale. There have been no promotion propositions. The principal towns of the field, Colorado, or Colorado City, as it is generally called, has never been the lair for lease hounds. The Mitchell county oil field, from the contract for the first test, has been a sound, straightforward business proposition, based on the judgment of oil men who have made money by producing oil and not promoting companies.

The fact that the first two completions, seven miles apart, are producing oil wells is a story that is as marvelous as it is strange. Seldom has any oil field been proven in the first single test, and although the people interested in the Mitchell county oil field by no means are claiming for anything upon which to base speculation, or to prompt a mad rush of oil investors, the simple facts are enough to make Mitchell county stick as an oil producing area.

The peculiar thing about the Colorado oil discovery is the attitude of the citizens of the town toward petroleum development. Colorado is a staid, conservative West Texas town. Prosperity has been its lot through the years. Most of Mitchell county is made of good, tillable land, yielding safe agricultural returns to the land owner and the farmer, and the town of Colorado has enjoyed the increment from a fairly wealthy trade territory. What part of the land has not been used for farming purposes is used for pasturage of range cattle.

The residents of Colorado have given co-operation to the oil operators in the vicinity. But they have demanded, in turn, conservatism. Some territories that have looked to be fairly promising from the petroleum viewpoint have been literally ruined by booms superinduced by wild and lurid advertising and propaganda. Inflated values have resulted. People have come to the towns, invested under wrong apprehensions, and a complete destruction of confidence has resulted. Just such experiences have caused the Colorado and Mitchell county people to approach the oil boom stage with as much precaution as possible.

Leases have been kept out of the hands of speculators by the land owners by holding their land for a reasonable fee, and demanding payment in advance for rentals. They have not put them in the hands of the fly-by-nighter who made promises for the drilling of tests. They have turned them over only to the men who could put up the money for carrying on the tests.

Once the first completion was in, and the well proved a producer, no claims have been made for it. The well was bought in by the Underwriters Company which undertook development in Mitchell county on a big scale. The Underwriters Company has no stock for sale, no leases for sale to the general public. It drilled the tests in Mitchell county because it wanted to make production, and upon production, it is depending for a return on the money invested. The first completion, owned by the Underwriters, is good for 129 barrels a day, but that concern has not rushed into the public prints, crying about the producer. It has no purpose to serve by so doing, and the residents of the town did not make any claims for the well.

The fact of the matter is that this story is the result of a staff trip for the Star-Telegram during which particular emphasis was to be laid upon the agricultural development of West Texas. The town of Colorado was on the schedule for that trip and the fact that oil had been discovered—although the Underwriters well was brought in last summer—had no part in the purposes of a story about Colorado.

Even after all the wells, and the drilling tests had been seen, the writer was urged to be conservative and careful. Oil being pumped from the ground in two wells, several wells drilling and several locations for wells is not enough to convince the people of Colorado that things are ready for the reception of Colorado into the fraternity of oil cities of Texas, because it is the avowed purpose of Colorado's citizenship to have a safe and sane oil development.

They are having it. Operators of experience, seeking only legitimate

Business, are heavily interested in the field. So far, and this is written the 4th day of November, not a company drilling a well has any stock for sale, nor is selling leases to the general public. Every location that is being made is located by operators of wide experience. Most of the new locations are being made by the men who located the two producers and nothing can be said better for them than that of all the tens of thousands of acres in Mitchell county, and perfectly nice places to drill a well, they selected, seven miles apart, a location which, when drilled, produced petroleum in commercial production.

The biggest producer is that of the Underwriters Company. It is the company's Texas & Pacific No. 1. The well is situated on land belonging to the Texas & Pacific Railroad, which still owns much of its land along its right-of-way in Mitchell county. The still further development of the oil lands in here may bring a new chapter in the big returns which oil has brought to that railroad. The well is 2,530 feet deep. The well was shot at a depth of from 2,350 to 2,515 feet, and it responded with a flow of 129 barrels. The well was shot in July. Ever since then the well has been on the pump and oil from it is being used for fuel purposes in other tests that the Underwriters people are drilling in Mitchell county, and in the Reed well of the General Oil Company in Howard county, and production has held right up.

The most important feature of the Texas & Pacific No. 1 of the Underwriters Company, aside from the fact that it is a producer, is that the oil sand is 170 feet thick. That is the thickest stratum of pay sand ever discovered in Texas. Pay sand of this depth, if the experience that is universal in the petroleum world proves true here, will make the wells long lived. Some operators believe that this is the thickest pay sand in the Mid-Continent fields.

The tremendous financial value of the thickness of the sand, reflected in a long-lived field, may be concluded from the knowledge that the drilling of wells in the Mitchell territory costs a comparatively small amount of money. Operators figure that wells will be bored from row on at a cost of about $30,000, and that they can be drilled in about forty days. Based on present production and the present price of oil, the Underwriters Texas & Pacific No. 1 will return to its owners approximately $100,000 a year.

Geological conditions are most favorable in Mitchell county for the drilling of wells. The log of the Underwriters producer reveals but few difficulties in drilling. More than 1,200 feet of the 2,530 feet of hole in the Underwriters well is an open hole, which means that far less than 1,500 feet of casing has been used in drilling operations. There was not a cave in.

Merely incidental to this article which does not probe into the scientific aspects of geology, the drilling of the Underwriters well exploded a theory long held by geologists that the Permian formation was so deep in this country that production never could be reached with drilling machinery now being used in petroleum operations. The Underwriters went through the Permian at 900 feet, instead of at 3,500 feet as geologists had predicted.

The Underwriters is located on a sloping elevation a short distance from the town of Westbrook, in Mitchell county. Erosions of soil are all about it, buttes being seen in almost every direction. No gas has yet been found, however. The Mitchell county field may be another of many fields in which petroleum production has been found without a gas flow. The oil talent is expecting gas in tremendous quantity, however, if gas is in the field, in the tests being drilled on the holdings of the Renotex Oil and Land Corporation southeast of the Underwriters T. & P. No. 1 and southwest of the town of Colorado, and also on Dorn location of the Underwriters Company, and the test of the Texanavada Oil Company on the Wulfjen lease, both of which latter locations are south of the town of Colorado, and are on the Colorado river which cuts Mitchell county almost in halves.

The opening of the Texanavada and Renotex concerns in the Mitchell county field are being directed by Ray Knight and S. A. Sloan, successful operators in other fields. Mr. Sloan is a native of Fort Worth and a veteran of the aviation service. Mr.

Knight is a Californian. They were early in the Mitchell county field and have heavy holdings in nearly every part of the county, but most of their stuff is in the central part of the county, southeast of the town, which it appears, will have big play in the future drilling campaigns.

The Underwriters Company is now drilling its offset to its Texas & Pacific No. 1. The offset is mapped as the Underwriters Morrison No. 2. Drilling has been rapid. The test was started but a few days ago and it is now down several hundred feet, and making rapid progress.

When the Texas & Pacific well was drilled a shallow sand was found at about four hundred feet. The drill passed through it during the night, and the oil sand was not found until it had been cased off. The Underwriters expect to pick up this sand in its Morrison No. 2.

The shallow sand is being drilled by the Cole Petroleum Company on the northeast of the Texas & Pacific of the Underwriters. Cole was the first man to acquire oil acreage in Mitchell county. He is operating with a group of California capitalists. He is looking for the shallow sand passed up by the Underwriters people, which is supposed to have a thickness of about forty feet.

The Underwriters Company is drilling a third test on the Smith tract, which is six miles west of the city of Colorado. The location is considered especially good, and the well will be watched with unusual interest because it will be the first test of the land nearer the Colorado river.

As is true, of course, and naturally so, with every oil field, there are various theories about the field. Some believe that the T. & P. No. 1 is an edge well, and that the Iatan well, the other producer, is likewise an edge well, and that the big production will be brought in farther to the east. The Marathon fold as laid out by University of Texas geologists, is theoretically under the town of Lorraine. Speculation is that there is oil and gas production on its left flank. If that is correct, the T. & P. well must be an edge well and the line between it and the so-called Iatan well would define the northwestern limits of a big field. The Underwriters Smith No. 1, therefore, will be very important.

Iatan is a cattle loading station on the Texas & Pacific Railroad. There is nothing there but a battery of section houses, a depot and stockpens. And an oil well. The section houses and the depot are painted a canary yellow. The stockpens and the oil wells are an unpainted drab. The part the stockpens have in this connection is but a small one, but for Iatan as a railroad station they are important. Some time back the railroad company changed station agents. The new agent was an Easterner and little accustomed to cattle and the habits of the cattle country. He had been stationed there but a short time until a cattlemen brought in a big consignment of livestock and impounded them in the pens. During the night the cattle succumbed to what is a failing with most of the brutes—mooing with vigor and consistency. As the night wore on the mooing continued. It rose in crescendo volume and finally was nothing short of just straight bellowing. The agent despaired of sleep and turned the cattle out. And so goes a choice story that is told about Iatan.

But Iatan has an oil well and before long it may be like New Town, Burk, or Olden, or maybe Ranger. The well is the well of the Colorado-Texas Oil Company. The name of Colorado in the title of the company has absolutely nothing to do with the town of Colorado in Mitchell county, nor with the Colorado river. The people interested in the concern live in Colorado and the name of the state was linked with the name of the state in which they expected to find fortune in gushers of liquid gold.

The Iatan well is 2,630 feet and was but five feet in the sand when further operations were held up until orders from the Colorado offices of the company could be received. The producing sand is a soft sand. From the five-foot depth there is a production of five barrels daily, and the oil is of a fine grade.

The Iatan well is but a short distance from the Reed well of the General Oil Company.

A bunch of wells are to be drilled in the immediate future in the region of the central part of the county, and along the Colorado river. Traditionally the oil man has played sites along streams of water. The Colo-

Colorado river will be very extensively drilled. The Underwriters has a location on the Dorn tract in Block No. 27 of the Texas & Pacific Railroad survey, and is on a bend of the river. Just to the south and a little to the east is the location of the Texanavada Company. The test is on the Wulfjen tract, on the Houston & Texas Central Railway Company's survey. A rig has been shipped for the Underwriters' test.

Drilling machinery has been ordered for the Texanavada test. The Underwriters Company, which has been so successful so far, will drill the well of the Renotex Oil and Land Corporation, which is a little to the northwest of the Texanavada test. A rig has been shipped for this test.

The bringing in of the Underwriters' well and of the Iatan well both producers, has naturally centered attention to the development west of the Colorado river, but there is test going down in the eastern part of the county, comparatively close to the Nolan county line, which has been watched by the petroleum talent and will be until it is complete. It is the test of the Travelers Oil Company.

The company is made up entirely of traveling salesmen of New Mexico, Colorado and Nevada. The company was financed by them and by their customers. They not only sold them goods, but sold them Mitchell county oil lands.

The company began its initial operations in New Mexico, but soon became convinced that there was no big pay there and moved its derrick to the present location, which is eight miles south of Lorraine. The rig and machinery are the best in the country and the new hole has been carefully handled. The test is now down more than 2,000 feet and it will soon get to the pay depths.

As for Colorado, it is a well built business town, with banks strong in deposits and merchants with large stocks of goods. In times past the chief concern of the business community has been in taking care of the trade territory.

The city has an interesting frontier history. At one time there was a sporadic boom and mule drawn street cars traversed the principal streets. It was the only trading point for an immensely large territory. It is a picturesque town, settled on the banks of the Colorado river, and there is beautiful scenery in its vicinity.

And that hotel is real. A writeup about Colorado would be incomplete without it. Most anywhere that traveling men get together they talk about the hotel at Colorado City, the way they feed. Well, it must be told. There is a hotel here which feeds real cream and non-licorice coffee, country eggs and country butter and lots of other good things of a morning and feeds chicken, fried and the other ways, lunch and evening dinner. On every table that is set there are several kinds of meat. It is the traveling man's paradise.

The Big Crush is here. Down go Prices. We knew it was coming. A reajustment sale, we being the 1st to announce a general reduction on everything to wear, such as clothing, Shoes, Hats, Ladies ready-to-wear, Dry Goods and Notions. Not having confidence in the market we did not book much for fall and by doing so we are saving the buying public from 25 to 30 per cent on this purchase. The reduction may seem little to some of you in comparison with the drop in cotton price.

WESTBROOK NEWS.

Quite a number of representative citizens of Westbrook and surrounding country met here Tuesday afternoon and inaugurated a movement looking to a permanent organization of this entire community for the purpose of promoting its interests along lines commercial, industrial, agricultural, educational, moral and social. A temporary organization was had and a committee of five, including two merchants, two farmers and stockmen and a local minister, were appointed to draft articles of agreement, or by-laws, setting forth the aims, objects and procedure for the permanent organization to be perfected on next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at an adjourned meeting for that purpose, to be held in the auditorium of our school building, at which time a program of entertainment will be given. Mr. W. S. Cooper, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, County Judge J. C. Hall, County Farm Demonstrator W. A. Dalin and ye editor, or a Record staff man, have been urgently invited to be present and aid our local leaders in lending their valuable assistance in launching this important enterprise.

It is confidently expected that a large attendance of all classes and sexes of Westbrook community will gather on this occasion and enter enthusiastically into this organization for the upbuilding of this side of Mitchell county and keep step with the onward progress and development of our county now being so effectively manifested by our chief county city of Colorado and other live and progressive communities of the coming Banner County of Western Texas.

The Westbrook gin, under the efficient management of Mr. W. W. Wade, is rapidly converting the many thousands of pounds of seed cotton now being picked in this community into hundreds of bales, and our cotton yard, under our public weigher, Mr. Smith, is kept almost to its full capacity. Had the price of this leading commodity of our country maintained its price of last years crop, our people would indeed be most prosperous financially, but with our splendid feed, forage and truck crops, good grass and fat cattle and splendid prospects for a lasting oil field, we should not be disheartened, but take courage and go forward in the greater development of the wonderful resources of our magnificent country.

IDEAL WIFE DECLARED TO BE ONE WHO CAN COOK

Of all the requisites of the ideal wife, the chief one is that she be a good cook, according to thirty replies to questionnaires read Sunday night to a congregation at London Heights M. E. church, in Kansas City.

Thirty unmarried men answered questionnaires mailed out by the pastor, and all placed this one requisite at the head of the list. Many other requirements were set out as necessary for the ideal wife, but none was deemed so important as the ability to cook.

"I have too much good cooking at home to tolerate burned eggs, heavy biscuits and other culinary failures," wrote one eligible, who evidently is living at home with mother and dad.

Home life was the second major requirement of the men folks, according to the questionnaires. Of the thirty men who filled out questionnaires twenty-seven placed this as second in importance.

With almost complete unanimity, the men condemned the butterfly type of wives.

"They are attractive and nice to play with, but as a wife—nothing doing," one prospective husband said in his questionnaire. Loud laughter from the congregation greeted this quip when read.

A questionnaire from a confirmed "male flirt," the Rev. Mr. Hausan being authority for the appellation, described an ideal home minutely, and set out that no woman or girl easy to get acquainted with would fill his requirements as an ideal wife.

The "clinging vine" was likewise condemned. Capable women seemed much in demand, if the ten questionnaires dealing with the clinging vine type are to be believed.

The type is not condemned as a type, but simply does not qualify as a wife.

The question of children was next in importance on the questionnaires. The men were not so delicate in touching upon this phase of married life as the girls were in their questionnaires last week, and were all unanimous in the opinion that married life, to be successful, should include children.

"A home is not complete without children," one prospective father wrote in his questionnaire, aptly summing up the general sentiment of all fifteen who dealt with the subject.

Fourteen girls answered this question in describing their ideal of married life last week, and the majority were neutral on the subject. The men without equivocation stated in their questionnaires that the woman who did not wish children failed measurably in measuring up to the ideal.

Good dispositions received unanimous sanction—nagging, scolding women being regarded as minus quantities when it comes to measuring up to the standards, the men stated.

And good looks are also required of the ideal wife. Not beauty, but neatness in appearance is one of the requisites.

Good health was another requisite. Only girls in possession of health can measure up to the ideal, according to the questionnaires.

Great surprise was manifest, not only by the pastor, but by the congregation, by the attitude voiced as to the use of rouge. Of the twenty men out of thirty who touched upon this matter all stated they did not object to a little color.

"No real man wants an imitation wife, but sometimes a little rouge does help," one man wrote.—Kansas City Journal.

DIVERSIFIED GRAZING

Progressive ranchmen in West Texas are reaping returns from diversified grazing. This means that they have learned, in the words of a Sutton County ranchman, that "sheep make grass."

Sheepmen have known for a long time, that sheep can eat weeds, thus preventing the stifling of the grass growth by rank growths of weeds. West Texas ranchmen have long experience with the broom weed which springs up during and following wet years and stifles the growth of the rich grass of that section. But in recent years many progressive cattlemen have buried their prejudices against sheep and are now pasturing considerable numbers of sheep and goats along with their cattle. The sheep eat the weeds and the goats eat the brush, both operations favoring the growth of grass. The rancher agrees that the sheep and goats eat some grass but prefer the weeds and shrubs and that the pasturage for sheep and goats is even more than clear gain. Some declare that more cattle can be pastured on a section with a few sheep and goats than without them.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mitchell County—GREETING:

You Are Hereby Commanded to Summon Jim Culpher by making publication of this Citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Mitchell County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Colorado, Texas, on the 4th Monday in November A. D. 1920, the same being the 22nd day of November A. D. 1920, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 16th day of September A. D. 1920, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court, Number 3752, wherein Annie Bell Culpher is Plaintiff and Jim Culpher is Defendant; the nature of plaintiff's demand being as follows: Suit for divorce, Plaintiff alleging that she and the Defendant were legally married in Van Zandt County, Texas, on May 21, 1918, Plaintiff then being a single woman by the name of Annie Bell Tankersly; that Plaintiff and Defendant lived together as husband and wife until May 25th, 1918, when Defendant abandoned Plaintiff, since which time they have not lived together. That during the time they lived together, Plaintiff at all times conducted herself as a dutiful wife, and performed all her obligations as such, and continued to do so until Defendant's conduct made same impossible; that on May 25th, 1918, the Defendant entered the military service representing to her that such separation was temporary and that he would return to her as soon as his term of service expired, but that Defendant immediately commenced a studied course of neglect and treated her with evasion and contempt; represented himself as a single man and tried to deprive her of the allotment and allowance made to dependents by the government; that Defendant made no provision for her support and left her dependent upon the charity of relatives; that during the time the Defendant was in the service he never wrote one word to Plaintiff, and she was compelled to learn where he was from the military authorities; that he was discharged in February, 1919, but did not advise her of this and she had to write the War Department before she could ascertain what had become of him. That she wrote Defendant, asking him to return to her, and, in July 1919, Defendant wrote her that he was without funds and that he would come back and live with her as her husband if she would send him the money to come home; that, at great sacrifice, she did so, and Defendant appropriated the same and never returned to her. That during all this time Plaintiff loved her said husband and was at all times ready, willing and anxious to live with him and be a true wife to him but Defendant callously and cruelly refused to have anything to do with her; that all during the time Defendant was in the Army, he never contributed one cent to her support, except as he was compelled to by the military authorities, and has never done so since. That, on December 26th, 1919, Defendant wrote Plaintiff a letter, stating that he never intended to live with her, that he only wrote her for money to fool her; that said letter further contained insulting reflections on the Plaintiff's character, too vile to repeat here, all of which Plaintiff avers were untrue and known to be so by the Defendant; that such accusations evidenced an utter disregard of the sanctity of marriage and of common decency on the part of Defendant; that Plaintiff has at all times conducted herself as a true wife should. That such treatment and such false and malicious accusations on the part of Defendant constitute such cruelty as to render their further living together insupportable, and that said marriage relations still exist. That Plaintiff has no property nor income and is forced to depend on her father for support; that Defendant cares good wages and is able to pay the costs and attorney's fees herein; that Plaintiff has employed an attorney to bring this action and has agreed to pay him Fifty Dollars therefor, which she avers is reasonable, and that the Defendant is bound and obligated to pay the same. Plaintiff prays for judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between herself and the Defendant, for restoration of her maiden name, for her costs and attorney's fees and for such other and further relief, etc., as she may be entitled.

Herein I fail Not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my Hand and Official Seal at my office in Colorado, Texas, this 26th day of October A. D. 1920.

CIVIC LEAGUE.

It seems that the psychological moment had arrived for the organization of a Civic League, for every one is ready to join and thinks it is the most important thing for Colorado right now.

The first regular meeting was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Coleman last Saturday with a large and enthusiastic number in attendance. One of the best things and one that shows it to be a live, wide-awake organization, was the unanimous vote to become a member of the State Federation of Clubs. The citizens realize that to have a City Beautiful there must be something more than efficient officials, important as that is. A town's condition reflects not so much upon its officials as upon its citizens. It cannot lift itself above the plane upon which its people choose to put it. Whether it shall be clean or dirty, attractive or unattractive, a safe or an unsafe place in which to live, will depend upon the ideals of its citizens—men, women and children. Each is to some degree responsible, each has a part to play, and the citizens are awake new to this fact, as every one who has been appointed upon a committee or in any way asked to do something has shown a willingness to serve.

The following committees were thought to be necessary and were appointed:

Membership.—Mesdames Merritt Abe Dolman, Boyd Dozier, Jim Dobbs, W. L. Doss, Jr., Misses Mildred Coleman and Sallie Herrington.

Finance.—Mesdames D. H. Snyder, J. H. Gunter, J. C. Prude, Messrs. J. H. Smoot, Thomas Dawes, O. B. Price, Abe Dolman and Judge C. H. Earnest.

Publicity.—Mr. W. S. Cooper, Mr. F. B. Whipkey, Mesdames M. Carter, Sherwin, Marcus Snyder and H. B. Broadus.

Sanitation, Laws and Their Enforcement.—Drs. P. C. Coleman, C. L. Root, T. J. Ratliff, J. E. Root, Mr. C. M. Adams, Judge J. C. Hall, Mesdames W. P. Leslie, Roy Dozier, C. H. Lasky, Lee Jones and J. G. Merritt.

Welcome.—J. H. Greene, R. P. Price, W. W. Porter, Mesdames G. W. Donaldson and Miss Mamie Riordan.

The time of meeting is the first Saturday in each month at the Sunday school rooms of the Baptist church. The membership at the first meeting was fifty-five and the committee is just beginning. Notify any one of the committee of your willingness to become a member, for every citizen is expected to join.

FOR THE WAR ORPHANS.

Tuesday the school children contributed $16.25 to help the children of St. Quentin have a merry Christmas. The Needlework Guild of America adopted this ruined town in France at the close of the war, and has furnished money for new homes, clothes and furniture. Last Christmas they saw to it that each kiddie was remembered. Our schools sent $17.00 at that time, which was gratefully acknowledged. Help was asked again this year, and the children enthusiastically responded.

CUPID IS PLAYING HAVOC WITH LOCAL YOUNGER SET

Reference to the record of marriage license issued at the office of the county clerk shows that Dan Cupid is playing havoc among the younger set of Mitchell county. At any rate results of his endeavors would lead one to believe that he is working overtime, and has recently become a better marksman in directing arrows at his victims, blushing swains and damsels.

Among those to whom license to marry were issued included Miss Rose Marie Setterle, the girl who was hypnotized Sunday afternoon in the show window of the Price Auto Company on Second street, to remain under the spell until Monday night. She was married Tuesday to O. C. Hardy.

Other licenses issued and not heretofore reported are as follows:

Nov. 1.—T. B. Little and Mrs. Mollie Earley, W. F. Terry and Miss Lizzie L. Brown, Charles C. Hamilton and Miss Zilla Harris.

Nov. 3.—Eli White and Beatrice Johnson (colored), Charlie Ware and Blanche Mack (colored).

Nov. 5.—O. M. Huling and Miss Ollie Davis, John D. Hall and Miss Reulah Bell Orrear, Refugio Vabelo and Rufajin Sierra.

Nov. 6.—E. S. Gonzales and Catharine Alberdo, Leroy C. Slayton and Willie Joel Brewer.

As a result of this impetus of marriages, local clergymen and the county judge are enjoying a liberal patronage in being called upon to preside at nuptials. The Rev. Mr. Hardison, pastor of the First Christian church, stated Tuesday that since coming to Colorado he had officiated at twenty-three weddings. County Judge Hall stated last week that he had married a total of 130 couples since assuming office two years ago.

COLORADO BARGAIN HOUSE ADVERTISES REDUCTION SALE

Readers are referred to the double-page advertisement of the Colorado Bargain House this week, in which material reductions in prices are quoted. This concern is enjoying most liberal patronage from the public of Mitchell county already, but the management stated Monday that they desired to make these reductions in order to share their portion of the losses being sustained by the people as a result of the low cotton market.

HOUSTON TEXAS.—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a siege of ptomain poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength and was really not able to do my housework. After taking the second bottle my strength returned rapidly and I felt better in every way.

"I am glad indeed to recommend the medicine that has done me so much good and do not hesitate to give this statement."—MRS. GUNTRUDE SELL, 2117 Common Street. Few families have not at some time or other used the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the stomach, liver or blood. Over twenty-four million bottles of this tonic and blood remedy have been sold.
