4 WELLS DRILLING IN MITCHELL CO.

The oil bearing sand in Conoway No. 1 had been penetrated a distance of 151 feet Wednesday morning, D. J. Lewis, in charge of drilling there, stated to the Record. Mr. Lewis had reached a depth of 3,080 feet and the sand was drilled into at 2929 feet.

"The formation continues good," Lewis stated, "and we are drilling slowly in order that a careful examination of every foot of formation be examined carefully. We will probably drill to a depth of from 3,400 to 3,500 feet, or at least through the present oil bearing sands, and see what may be picked up farther on down."

Should the present sand be drilled through and nothing of a commercial value be found deeper it is the plan to come back to the present sand and test it out, Lewis said.

Foster No. 2 at Iatan was setting 15 inch casing at 200 feet and since spudding a few days ago operations at this location have been satisfactory. This well, which is located only 2,000 feet from Foster No. 1, the best producer brought in in this field, will be watched with considerable interest when a depth of 2,500 feet, the oil sand level, is reached. Fuel oil for this job is being furnished from No. 1.

At Morrison No. 2, Contractor W. J. Thompson was cleaning at 25 feet from the bottom preparatory to commence drilling. He expected to reach the bottom of the hole Wednesday night and would commence to hit new dirt in an eight inch hole, drilling to a depth of 3,000 feet, unless a good commercial find be encountered at a lesser depth.

The Crescent Drilling Company resumed drilling at Smith No. 1 again Wednesday after a shut down for a few days on account of water shortage. A depth of five hundred feet had been reached Wednesday.

S. S. Owen was still in Tulsa up to Wednesday but is expected to return to Colorado this or next week. His return is awaited with interest since it is conceded here that plans for completing the Coleman well will be perfected by him while in Tulsa.

Rig at location for Reed No. 2, two miles northwest of Iatan, is completed and this well will be spudded within the next few days, according to information received in Colorado Wednesday. This well is to be drilled by a syndicate of Pittsburg and the promoters have no connection with the General Oil Company of Houston who drilled Reed No. 1 nearby. It was stated Wednesday that Reed No. 1 would be plugged.

L. J. Geer of Sweetwater, manager for the West Texas Electric Company, spent several hours in Colorado Tuesday and stated that the maintenance offices were being moved from Sweetwater because this city is centrally located with reference to their properties in Nolan, Mitchell and Howard counties. REMAINS MISS JO DRY BURIED HERE THURSDAY

The sad news of the death of Miss Jo Dry at a sanitarium in Ft. Worth was received here shortly after she died Tuesday night. The body was sent here for burial and the funeral was held at Methodist church Thursday at 4 p. m. conducted by her pastor, Rev. U. L. Browning and Rev. Clements of Sweetwater, a former pastor. The remains were laid to rest beside her father and mother in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Miss Jo Dry had lived in Colorado for a number of years. She was a consistent member of the Methodist church and a faithful teacher in the Sunday school until her health failed. She was an active member of the Hesperian club, having at times been honored with high offices, always faithful to the trust placed in her and always interested in all public good.

She was a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and esteemed it a privilege to help perpetuate the truths and principles for which it stood.

In the last two years it had been her lot to suffer physical pain and she did it always cheerfully and uncomplainingly. Often in hours of pain she wrote words of cheer to those more unfortunate than she and gathered beautiful thoughts from writers and passed them on to others. By those who were closest to her and who knew her best will she be missed most.

A little more than two weeks ago her health grew so much worse that her physician advised taking her to a sanitarium, where she could have constant care. Her sister, Miss Dry, accompanied her to Fort Worth and stayed near her till death claimed her and returned with the body.

The hearts of their friends go out in sympathy to the sister in her grief and loneliness, for the sisterly devotion has always been beautiful. May the Great Comforter be very near in this sad hour.

STATE HIGHWAY OFFICIALS VISIT MITCHELL COUNTY.

Rolen J. Windom of Austin, state highway commissioner, and D. E. Manigault of El Paso, an engineer attached to the department, were in Colorado Thursday. They were on a tour of inspection of the highways in this section of the state.

They reported that in many localities the highways are getting in bad condition, because of the heavy traffic to which it is subjected. Just now the heavy traffic of wagons and trucks, hauling cotton to gin and to market, augmented by the usual automobile traffic, is cutting holes and wearing away the road bed. In this, it was found that Mitchell county was no exception. The road from Colorado to Snyder is especially in bad condition.

COTTON AND SEED MARKETS DECLINE

The threatened railroad strike has shown its effect on the Colorado cotton market this week, the same as throughout the South, when the staple showed a gradual decline in price, since Monday. The slump has depreciated the value of cotton approximately $10 a bale during the past week and Wednesday cotton was selling at from sixteen cents to seventeen cents a pound.

Receipts at the gins here were not as heavy as during the previous week, but most of the plants continue to run steadily. With the decline in cotton has also come a decline in seed and these were selling at $26 per ton Wednesday. Prior to that date the seed had brought a price of $28 at the gins throughout the week. Street buyers early in the week were paying $30 a ton for this commodity, but were taking it in limited quantities.

Some farmers in Colorado this week report that they are finishing the work of gathering their cotton and by the end of next week several are expected to bring the last bale for this season to gin. For the most part these farmers are from the country south of Colorado in the tight land belt.

Scores of cotton pickers brought into the county a few weeks ago from various parts of the state are returning to their homes and their remains a sufficient number of these laborers to meet the demand.

Not all farmers are selling their cotton this week. Some are hauling the staple home or storing in warehouses to hold pending an anticipated advance in the market price, while others are pooling with the Farm Bureau.

An estimate made by the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday placed the total number of bales ginned in the county at 13,000 bales, representing seventy-five per cent of the total crop. Should this estimate be correct total ginnings in Mitchell County this season will reach 17,333 bales.

REPORT OF ODESSA POTASH DEPOSITS RECEIVED WITH MUCH INTEREST HERE

Interest in prospects for a big potash field soon being developed in this section of West Texas was renewed this week through the report of John Lathrop of New York, noted economist and traveler, who spent several days in the Odessa field and authorized the statement that the potash deposits of West Texas are more valuable to the United States than all its gold and silver mines.

It is believed by many who have examined the logs of some of the Mitchell county oil wells that the deposits of potash already found in the vicinity of Odessa are here in equally large quantities. Log of the T. & P. well No. 1, drilled last year by the Underwriters Company 12 miles west of Colorado, shows that several feet of red salt formation was drilled through, which authorities on indications of potash deposits state, indicate the presence of this mineral.

Max Elser of Cisco expressed the belief upon the occasion of a recent visit to Colorado that the great potential value of development in the Colorado field lay, not in drilling for oil, but rather for potash. Mr. Elser based this belief upon information contained in bulletins issued by the federal government in which official experts were quoted as believing that West Texas contained large deposits of the mineral.

Wells now being drilled in this territory and those yet to be spudded will be watched closely for indications of the potash deposits.

The report of Mr. Lathrop, which was made public at Odessa Monday, follows:

"Lathrop, who in the last seven or eight years, has visited fifteen countries on three continents, studying and gathering material for articles on economics and financial conditions, was decidedly impressed with the possibilities of developing a potash deposit here.

"He stated that if the potash which has already been discovered, comes up to the expectations of the United States department of agriculture, the discovery will mean more to this country than its gold and silver mines and will outrival in importance the finding of the famous Klondike lode.

"Lathrop was at one time political adviser to the new republic of Poland and was later on the staff of the Financial Times of London. For more than ten years he has devoted his attention and energies to the fertilization of wornout soil and it is in this connection that he is at this time giving a thorough study of Texas' most recent discovery—potash.

"Potash, according to Lathrop, is one of the trio of minerals that is absolutely necessary if the breadbasket of the United States is to remain full and the cost of living prevented from mounting still higher. Two of these, the nitrates and phosphates, are to be had in sufficient quantities, but potash has, up to the present time, been found in large quantities in Germany and Alsac. In 1913, according to Mr. Lathrop, we imported 1,000,000 tons. In 1920 we imported 135,000 tons, all the importing countries could spare, and as a result, less than 5 per cent of our needs were taken care of.

"If the potash is found in large quantities, he said, there will be no difficulty in securing finances to develop the find and big interests all over the country are prepared to start development.

"While the discovery of potash in West Texas has created country-wide interest few people have realized the importance and tremendous value of a large bed of potash, and although considerable acreage has been leased, development has been slow to start.

Potash in the Odessa field was found in three wells, the Midland well, the Ward county well and the Dawson county well. All three wells were being drilled for oil and potash was found by men in the employ of the United States geological survey in the drill cuttings. The drillers, unaware of the value of the salt kept no accurate log of the thickness, so consequently, the value of the deposit here yet remains to be determined. Because the government men predicted that Odessa would probably be the center of the deposit, activity has naturally centered about Odessa, and thousands of acres of land have been leased surrounding the townsite.

Whah is Yuh Been?

The following little story illustrates very nicely the extremely human tendencies under which the majority of us labor—

Rastus was very small and very black, and Rastus liked to ride. One day, in some miraculous manner he found himself owner of a fifty-cent piece. In the neighborhood was a merry-go-round which Rastus had often watched longingly, so just as soon as he had secured the fifty-cent piece he proceeded there immediately. His mother watched him ride until his money was all gone. When he returned she remarked as follows—

"Honey, yuh sho' is had a good time, ain't yuh? Yuh is been ridin' all mawnin', yuh is spent yo' fo' bits, but— WHAH IS YUH BEEN?"

Figuratively speaking, we are all spending a lot of money and time riding "merry-go-rounds," and each day when we try to find out how far we have gone we find that we have landed perhaps six feet farther back than we started. LET'S QUIT IT! Let's start a bank account and after a while, if we keep faithfully at it.

WE CAN OWN A MERRY-GO-ROUND OF OUR OWN!

When it comes to a question of the best place to begin, the place will be easily found. We are right in the heart of the business district.

FARM BUREAU RENDERED SERVICE FOR ITS MEMBERS.

Members of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association are receiving from two to three cents a pound more for their cotton than local buyers over the state are paying to farmers not in the association, according to E. M. Baldwin, secretary of the Mitchell County Farm Bureau. This means from $10.00 to $15.00 a bale more for cotton being marketed co-operatively.

Mr. Walter L. Troutt of Dallas, sales manager for the farmers, explains that the better prices to members is due to the fact that the association carefully grades and staples each bale and each bale is sold on its actual spinning value. Proper premiums are obtained for better grades and staples. The association has sold 12,000 bales of cotton in the last few weeks which means that the farm members have already made between $100,000 and $200,000 on this small amount of cotton. Cotton samples are pouring into the sample rooms in Dallas at the rate of several thousand bales a day.

A bookkeeping system has been established which is so complete that it is impossible to lose even a pound of cotton in the accounts. Each item connected with each farmer's cotton is entered separately before the cotton is assembled in lots for the various pools.

Other successful marketing associations sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau this year are handling hay, sweet potatoes and watermelons. For example, the alfalfa growers of El Paso county have an association which controls 75 per cent of the best alfalfa in Texas. This year they are handling about 80,000 tons and word comes from them that they have raised the price from $9.50 to $15.00 a ton. They have obtained satisfactory credit with El Paso financiers and have organized a warehouse subsidiary and are enabled to store their hay so that it can be marketed in an orderly manner.

Equally as successful as the El Paso organization is the Texas Hay Association of the South Texas Farm Bureau which has already sold 18,000 tons of hay at a much better price than the average farmer could possibly have gotten this season selling to Harry H. Ford, manager.

HUNTING FOR OIL.

The oil fraternity has about definitely decided that somewhere between Amarillo and Mexico, in a strip possibly two hundred miles in width through West Texas, that a big oil field is going to be discovered, and developed. Just where this field is, no one is able to say, but every test now drilling in West Texas is being closely watched as it is only by these wildcat tests that this big oil pool is going to be discovered. Every county in which a little oil has been found, as in Howard, Mitchell and Glascock, is being closely watched and every test well will have a bearing on the proposition of determining whether or not the oil pool is in our district. Some wildcatter is going to hit the pool but as to when and where, time alone will tell.

It is also the opinion of big oil men that the oil pool in West Texas is going to furnish a high grade oil.

An increase in the price of oil will determine the amount of activity of the wildcatter but we all desire to see him continue his search for the big pool in West Texas.—Big Spring Herald.

MITCHELL COUNTY QUOTA S. A., PLACED AT $800.00

The quota for Mitchell county in the Second Annual Drive for finances for the Salvation Army was placed at $800 by convention of county advisory boards in session at Fort Worth Friday, according to a delegate from the Mitchell county board who attended. The drive for these funds is to commence on October 31 and continue to November 5.

The quota for Nolan county was placed at $700, while that of Howard county was placed at $1,000. The total amount asked for in the budget covering the organized counties of Northwest Texas was $97,500.

With 65 delegates representing 40 counties in attendance the convention was one of the most enthusiastic ever held by the Army. Unanimous approval of the report of Commandant John J. Shearer, divisional special efforts secretary, showing that 346 cases had been handled for the county advisory boards last year received much applause. Several of the delegates told of the work the Army has done in their respective communities.

W. D. Davis, president of the Northwest Texas District Advisory Board presided at the convention. Address of welcome was delivered by W. B. Townsend, Fort Worth city commissioner, Charles Cope, secretary of the Weatherford Chamber of Commerce, made the response. Rev. Frank P. Culver, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church South, offered the invocation while State Senator W. A. Hanger and H. C. Burke, Jr., were among other local speakers on the program. The address of J. A. Cashman, New York attorney, visiting in Fort Worth, was a feature of the convention.

Lieutenant Colonel George Wood, commanding the Southwestern division of the Army, which comprises the state of Texas and Louisiana told of the Army's work among men and boys at the morning session. Colonel Wood, who is a prominent member of the Dallas Rotary club and also the Shrine, explained the methods of the Army in reducing the criminal elements in the coming generations through salvaging the youth of the country. A home for children is to be established soon at Hillsboro, Texas, he said, where newsboys, messengers and children from the slums will be given an opportunity to learn the self-respect which comes with making their own way.

Mrs. Commandant Shearer spoke on "the hand of mercy among women and children," in which she told of the Army's rescue and maternity home in San Antonio where annually more than 150 girls are taken and restored to society as useful citizens in place of becoming possible outcasts of the underworld. The story of her experiences brought tears to the eyes of the audience.

In speaking of complaints filed with him that people claiming to be representatives of the Salvation Army were visiting many sections of Texas and soliciting funds, Lieut. Col. Wood stated that these people were impostors, since the Salvation Army had no such representatives. "I am prepared to prosecute any of these impostors," he stated. "If the next time they come into your community you will get a few reputable citizens to agree to appear as witnesses for us."

Continuing his remarks about the street collectors, the Colonel stated "These people are going about the country clothed in uniforms very similar to those worn by Salvation Army officers and the public believe they are contributing to us when they cast an offering into their tambourines. Fact of the business is, we never see one penny of this money and those collecting it are doing so for their own financial welfare."

When asked about the Volunteers of America, Colonel Wood stated that he knew nothing about them. "They are an offshoot of the Salvation Army, but have no connection with us," he concluded.

Try it Sunday and by attending church services you are giving your influence to the making of a better town, a better people and a better world. If you are a good citizen, you will do your part.

C. L. Browning, Pastor.

SUNDAY WITH THE BAPTISTS.

Kally day, last Sunday, was pretty good. The program was fine. Come and help make next Sunday even better. We were tickled at the audiences both morning and evening. Do not miss next Sunday. In the morning service will try to tell why Jesus instituted the Lord's supper. At night we will continue our subject from last Sunday night. "How I Would Run a Church, if I Were the Devil, or the Devil in High Society." Let every person in Colorado who is not in attendance at some other church be present as we hope to be able to help folks see which side they are serving on. Service at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7:15 p. m.

Visitors cordially invited to be present.

CALL TO CONVENTION OF LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS.

For the better understanding of the huge task that lies before us, the Texas League of Women Voters sends this call not only to its members, but to all enfranchised women to convene in Fort Worth, October 25 to 29, to study the failures and successes of the past year and to confer with each other and our national officers regarding our responsibilities during the coming year to our state and nation.

We wonder if Mitchell county will send a woman representative to this convention.

QUARTER CENTURY OF SEARCH IS REWARDED

Mrs. Ida Pickett, 274 South Division St., Buffalo, N. Y., says: "Twenty-five years is a long time to keep looking for something without finding it, and it's no wonder I almost lost hope. But I finally located what I was hunting—a medicine to relieve me of an awful case of indigestion."

"Tanlac rewarded my long search for relief, and I now enjoy better health than I have in thirty years."

Many people on verge of despair have taken Tanlac and recovered. Tanlac is sold in Colorado by W. R. Charters and all leading drug lists.

Cuthbert Letter.

Mrs. R. L. Womack and little daughter, Marguerite, who has been sick for some time, are visiting relatives in Colorado this week.

While returning home from the Colorado gins last Wednesday evening, Ted Bishop, son of W. H. Bishop of the Vincent community, was held up and robbed near the W. M. Green place between Cuthbert and Colorado. Bishop said he had quite a sum of money in his different pockets but on account of approaching cars the highwayman fled after obtaining only a small amount of change. It is to be hoped that Mitchell county will not have to experience much of a crime wave this fall and winter.

If a few of these knights of the road could be caught and "sent up" it might serve as a valuable object lesson to others who would practice such shady methods.

Dr. P. C. Coleman and Monroe Henderson were in Cuthbert Monday. While here they went to the oil well on Dr. Coleman's land near Cuthbert and burned off the grass near the derrick as a further prevention of fire.

Mr. John A. Bodgett has returned with his bride, who is from Pennsylvania. They spent Sunday at Mrs. D. H. Price's.

Rev. Sam Morris of Abilene filled his regular appointment at the Cuthbert church Sunday morning. A large congregation attended services.

Mrs. Howard Rogers of Colorado visited D. T. Bozeman and family last week while H. R. made a business trip to New Mexico.

Corley Bozeman returned Saturday from his visit to Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Hanks at Sylvester, Texas.

Mr. C. H. Womack made a business trip to Colorado Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Simpson spent

Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Goodwin.

Mrs. G. W. Womack and daughter, Miss Lesbia, were among the Colorado visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Geo. E. Goodwin returned from Tyler, Texas last Thursday. Her sister, Mrs. Perry, came with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Reynolds of Ft. Worth spent Wednesday night at the ranch northwest of Cuthbert, on their way back from California.
