THE RECORD'S AMERICANIZATION SERIES. IMAGINARY SPEECH OF JOHN ADAMS

DANIEL WEBSTER.

In his eulogy on Adams and Jefferson, Daniel Webster gave the following imagionary speech of John Adams in urging the adoption of the Declaration of Independence:

Sink or swim, live or die, survive or perish, I give my hand and my heart to this vote. It is true, indeed, that in the beginning we aimed not at independence, but there's a divinity which shapes our ends. The injustices of England has driven us to arms; and, blinded to her own interest for our good, she has obstinately persisted, till independence is now within our grasp. We have but to reach forth to it, and it is ours. Why, then, should we defer the declara-iously through this struggle. I care not how fickle other people have been found. I know the people of these colonies, and I know that resistance to British aggression is deep and settled in their hearts, and cannot be eradicated. Every colony, indeed, has expressed its willingness to folow, if we but take the lead.

Sir, the declaration will inspire the people with increased courage. Instead of a long and bloody war for the restoration of privileges, for redress of grievances, for chartered immunities held under a British king, set before them the glorious object of entire independence, and will breathe into them anew the breath of life. Read this declaration at the head of the army; every sword will be drawn from its scabbard. and the solemn yow uttered, to maintain it, or to perish on the bed of honor. Publish it from the pulpit; religion will approve it, and the love of religious liberty will cling around public halls; proclaim it there; let them hear it who heard the first rear of the enemy's cannon; let them see it who saw their brothers and their sons fall on Concord, and the very walls will cry out in its support. Sir, before God, I believe the hour is come. My Judgment approves this measure, and my whole heart is in it. All that I have, all that I am, and all that I hope in this life, I am now ready here to stake upon it: and I leave off as I began, that, live or die. If we fall, it can be no worse for enrvive or perish, I am for this declaration. It is my living sentithe shall be my dying sentiment-in-

CORRECTING AN ERROR.

In publishing a statement of activities of the Junior Missionary Society during the past year, The Record stated that clothing to the value of 50 cents had been contributed to local Mexican families. This was an error, since the clothing thus contributed during the year was valued at $50.

WEST, Texas, Jan. 8.—The local paper, the West News, which belonged to the Terrell Publishing Company, was recently bought by J. A. Fore of Dallas, who assumed control this week. V. A. Garrison, who has been editing the News for three years, moved Wednesday to Dallas.

It will be remembered that J. A. Fore had an eventful career in the West and was at one time city secretary of the City of Colorado. Recently he was connected with the Sweetwater Reporter but is now back at his old home town, having been practically raised at Waco.

YOUR DUTY

-Truth spreads by TESTIMONY

-There is a sort of high compulsion, which lofty spirits recognize, to bear witness to the truth wherever found.

-That is how we desire to gain a nation-wide reputation. A person who has been incumbered with ill health and is suddenly turned loose from the shackles of disease spreads the news of his discovery to others he desired to enrich.

"If residing in a city of ten thousand inhabitants or more, either the husband or wife must appear in person for the payment of poll taxes. If not residing in a city of ten thousand inhabitants or more, either the usband or the wife may, by written rder, authorize some other person pay both poll taxes, but in each astance the receipt or receipts must sent to the husband or wife.

"The laws of this State now levy poll tax against a woman the same as against a man, and the payment of he woman's poll tax is just as obligatory as that of the man, and their community property can be held for he payment of both poll taxes. Art. 73330, Revised Statutes, 1911 reads as follows: "All real and personal property held or owned by any all state and county taxes due by the owner thereof, including taxes on real estate, personal property and poll tax; and the collector of taxes shall levy on any personal or real property to be found in his county to satisfy all delinquent taxes, any law to the contrary notwithstand-

Theory of the Poll Tax.

Addressing tax collectors generally, State Comptroller Lon A Smith discusses the theory of the poll tax and its payment in the following illuminating letter:

"From letters received by this department, it appears that many persons, subject to the payment of a poll tax, are under the impression they should not be required to pay same unless they intend to vote.

"Believing that, if all such persons clearly understood that the payment of a poll tax is not optional or dependant upon their intentions with respect to voting, but that it is a legal obligation fixed by the laws of our state and that $1 of every poll tax goes to the public schools to educate our children no one would desire not to pay his poll tax and, feeling that the information given below will be of assistance to some collectors, especially those who are new in office, in making clear to inquiring persons the effect of the poll tax laws, we are sending this letter to every collector in the State.

"A poll tax is not levied merely for the privilege of voting. It is a tax fixed by law, one-third of which is for general revenue purposes and two-thirds for free school purposes. and must be paid irrespective of whether or not the person against whom it is levied desires to vote.

"A person does not have to be a citizen of the United States to be liable for a poll tax if he has been in the State since January 1st preceding the poll tax levy, but only native born or naturalized citizens of the United States can vote.

"The payment of a $1 school poll has been required since 1876. This law was amended in 1882 by enactment requiring the levying of an annual poll tax of $1.50, $1 for the benefit of free schools and fifty cents for general revenue purposes. It was not until the November election in 1902 that the present law. providing that a voter, who is subject to pay a poli ax dell baye can readily be seen that the pament of a poll tax was require necessary to qualify a person to vote but the obligation fixed by laws, requiring a person to pay a poll tax is not conditioned nor dependent upon whether or not such person inelection.

"Therefore, a person's intention not to vote, or the fact that he is not a qualified voter, in no way repoll tax; and the amendment to makes the law applicable to men and women alike."

Apparatus on Dodge Brothers Car Takes Messages From Key West.

It does not require an ultra-imaginative person to realize the possibilities of police cars, fire engines, or emergency cars with a simple wireless apparatus which will transmit instantly messages from headquarters. To Edward Dallin, Harvard graduate and radio experimenter, goes the credit for a novel wirelss device mounted on a Dodge Brothers car. The set, as invented, is simplicity itself. Two broom handles and a length of lamp cord from the antennae, a wooden box originally intended to contain milk chocolate, is the cabinet for the sending apparatus, and an ordinary spark coil supplies plate voltage for the vacuum tube transmitter. With this set Mr. Dallin can travel about in his Dodge Bros. car and receive messages from points as far as 10 miles, and he is working now on a much more effective sending apparatus.

The whole set, as it appears in Mr. Dallin's Dodge Brothers car, occupies only a few cubic feet of space between the front seat and the dashboard. The inventor says he could construct one that will take considerably less room. "And some day they will be making them so small that we will have a vest pocket wire-

Mr. Dallin takes many long trips in his Dodge Brothers car, but he can keep always in close touch with events through his radio device.
