

Cost Temporary Bridge was Prohibitive, Officials Claim

The reason assigned by Commissioners' Court for not constructing a temporary bridge across the river to take care of traffic on the Bankhead Highway while the new viaduct is under construction is based upon recommendations of D. E. H. Manigault of El Paso, divisional highway engineer, and F. F. DuBose, assistant bridge engineer of the Highway Commission at Austin, who has charge of bridge construction in Mitchell County.

County Judge J. C. Hall and U. D. Wulfjen, commissoner of this precinct, met with a joint session of the Chamber of Commerce and City Council Monday afternoon and stated that the above reasons had caused Commissioners' Court to abandon the plan to build a temporary structure across the river. A few weeks ago, about the time the contract was awarded for construction of the viaduct, it was understood that the court contemplated placing a low water bridge of either riprap or corduroy construction at the Second street crossing.

"Mr. Manigault recommends that it would be impracticable to construct such a bridge across the river, in view of the fact that by detouring about two miles traffic can be brought into the city over the South Colorado bridge," Mr. Wulfjen stated. "The engineer estimated that such a bridge would cost the county at least five thousand dollars, and the county did not have the money to put into this structure, unless the expenditure became necessary."

The County Judge stated that a low water bridge of any type would not be permanent, as the first time the river came down on a big rise, the structure would in all probability be washed away. That the proposed bridge would be of more value to the traveling public than the present type of crossing was doubted by the County Judge. A rise in the river which would take out the graded road on either bank of the river, would also materially damage or take out the proposed temporary bridge, he stated.

Judge Hall and Mr. Wulfjen promised that everything within the power of Commissioners' Court would be done to take care of traffic into the city. The road, detouring south from the highway by way of the old salt works and into town over the South bridge will be worked and placed in as good condition as possible, they promised.

Judge Hall and the commissioner were called to meet with the Chamber of Commerce and City Council in response to demands filed with the Chamber of Commerce by a number of citizens, most of whom are farmers who are hauling their cotton to gin and market here, asking that an improvement in the Fourth street crossing be made. It developed that many of the heavily loaded cars, trucks and other vehicles crossing the river there are stalled on the steep bank and can only reach the top of the elevation by assistance of a team which has been kept at the crossing by the Booster Club for that purpose.

Answering the claim by one of the speakers at the meeting that but few vehicles were failing to pull the crossing, J. H. Greene, president of the Booster Club, stated: "Twenty-one vehicles were pulled out by assistance of the snatch team yesterday and sixteen have been pulled out so far today." Mr. Green has devoted much of his time to this problem during the past week, and it is understood that the club he represents has expended over three hundred dollars in work there.

THIS PEDDLER WAS NOT PREPARED TO DIE

Not long ago a Baptist missionary was driving along in a certain community in West Texas, the sun had gone down behind the western slopes and the mantle of darkness was over-spreading the western plains and in a kind of an out of the way place, and very lonesome like, he overtook an Italian peddler, on foot with his pack on his back. And in the goodness of his heart, he asked the peddler to ride. The invitation was accepted, and so he pitched his merchandise in the rear end of the jitney, and took his seat beside the divine, and after the usual preliminaries about the weather, how hot and dry it was, the missionary turned and looked the peddler in the face and said to him, my Brother, are you prepared to die? In answer to that query, the Italian gave a scream, and jumped head foremost out of the jitney, skidded under the wire fence and out across the pasture into the darkness of night. The missionary is still holding his pack of merchandise and still ready and ever willing to explain to him the plan of salvation.

CHRISTIAN CONVENTION AT ABILENE CLOSED THURSDAY

The following article, dealing with the Christian Church convention at Abilene, is taken from the First Christian Bulletin for the current week:

This convention met in the beautiful First Church in Abilene Sept. 13th, and 14th. On account of conflicting dates and the consideration of three or four places, the attendance was not as great as it would have been had these conditions been out of the way. However, there was a fine body of men and women who came together for real work. The Colorado pastor was made chairman, Brother Posey of Haskell secretary. Bro. J. B. Holmes, State superintendent of Missions; Mrs. McMaster, director of the Woman's Missions of Texas, Miss Smoot, representing the Bible school department all gave exceptionally good addresses. Mrs. McMaster also gave a report of the Winona convention that was enjoyed by all. Other speakers of the district filled the rest of the program in a very creditable manner. The work done was above the average in district work.

The report of the district evangelist was very gratifying. During the sessions of the convention, the chairman received a few telegrams of good will and cheer, among the number one from our city here. It was signed by the Secretary of the C. of C., president of the Booster club, also the Lion's club and a long list of good folks asking for the next District convention for Colorado. It is expected that we will put it here for next year. The next president is Brother Evans of Graham, and the vice president, D. R. Hardison; Secretary, Bro. Posey, Haskell.

Stores and Offices will Close Friday for Big Fair Opening

The larger per cent of the stores and offices in Colorado will be closed Friday morning from 9:30 to 12 o'clock noon for the big parade and opening ceremonies of the Mitchell County Fair, A. B. Blanks, chairman of a committee appointed by the Lions Club to co-operate with ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary in arranging for the parade, stated Tuesday morning. Blanks stated that all of the drug stores and dry goods stores, with one exception, and several of the smaller business places of the city would be closed during that time.

The parade, which will form at the court house, at 10 o'clock Friday morning, promises to be one of the most elaborate of its kind in the history of the city. Mr. Blanks stated that there was but very few business institutions in the city but that would be represented with either a decorated car or float in the parade.

The several civic and fraternal organizations of the city will also have a part in the parade, according to plans being worked out by ladies who are directing these plans. The Booster Band will also feature the parade.

From the court house the parade will lead through the principal business streets, leading back to the court house lawn, where the fair will be officially opened by concert music by the band. The address of welcome, upon behalf of the fair association and the city of Colorado is scheduled to be delivered by L. W. Sandusky

Hon. R. M. Chitwood of Sweetwater will deliver the response to the welcome address.

R. H. Ratliff, secretary-treasurer of the fair association, and M. S. Goldman, band director and representative of the American Legion, in working out the various details of the fair, stated Tuesday morning that they appreciated very much the excellent spirit of co-operation given them by the business and professional men of the city, as well as the several civic and commercial organizations of Colorado. That the fair will be the one big event in this county this year, is the prediction of these men.

ROAD LEADING BY SALT WORKS OPEN TO TRAFFIC

The road leading south from the highway east of Colorado and passing near the old salt works is being worked and is open to traffic, according to J. H. Greene, president of the Booster Club. Greene stated Monday that the club had contracted for this road to be worked in that there would be no delay in crossing the river should a heavy rain come and cause a rise in the stream.

The road, generally known as the Salt Works road, leads south around the hill and into the city in South Colorado, permitting traffic to cross the river over the South river bridge.

Don't forget the new price of admission to the Best Theatre—25c for adults and 10c for children.

THE SABBATH, THE WORLD'S SAVING BANK

(By REV. M. C. BISHOP)

The only command given in the decalogue that begins with "Remember," is the fourth. Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy. It seems the Lord might have thought the people would have forgotten His holy day, "Remember," stands like a sentinel yet this command has been chafed under from the Jew down to the present time.

The Disciples desired to Commemorate the greatest event since the creation of the world, the resurrection of Jesus, and they selected the first day of the week. It was on the first day of the week that Jesus made His first five appearances.

The drill is being sent down slowly in the Enders-Cushing well No. 1, on the W. F. Cushing ranch on account of the hard formation, and the further fact that the officials of the company believe that they will soon penetrate a productive oil sand.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints both for children and adults, has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practically without a rival and as everyone who has used it knows, it is without an equal.

The Sweetwater Reporter notes that Prof. Sam Goldman, who is to take charge of the Sweetwater Booster Band, proposes to move to Sweetwater within the next three or four weeks.

The Soul Needs It. Man has a soul. A great jurist recently said: "Instead of having one Sabbath we should have two to repair the jaded nerves and tone up the low moral condition."

We have not done whole duty when we have rested the body and diverted the mind. The soul has a right to a day of attention. Jesus had a custom of going into the synagogue each Sabbath day for worship. When we leave out worship we leave out one of the essentials of life.

If a man could see the six layers of his brain on Saturday night and see how they are stressed and confused with the contact of the week he would realize he needed a spiritual bath on the Sabbath day.

DAVIS MOUNTAINS A WONDERLAND WRITER SAYS

Beauty and grandeur truly reign in the famous Davis Mountains of Jeff Davis county in Southwestern Texas. There is a peace and serenity in the great fastness of these mountains which is a satisfying and invigorating that one is contented to simply be there, and asks no more of life at the time.

Recommendations that the state of Texas secure these wonderful Davis Mountains for the establishment of a state park, will be made to the Thirty-eighth legislature which convenes next January. The committee selected to designate a location were unanimous in deciding in favor of the Davis Mountains, according to reports from Fort Davis Chamber of Commerce and other sources of information. It is the consensus of opinion that there is no more suitable spot anywhere in the state for a playground of the magnitude that this park is planned to embrace. If this immense area can be secured, it is proposed that from 100 to 200 sections of the Davis Mountains country be within the boundary lines of the state park. This area will include all of the important mountains in Jeff Davis county.

Mount Livermore, the apex of Davis Mountains, whose majestic peak rises nearly 9,000 feet above the sea level, is said to be the highest in the State with possibly one exception. It is said that on clear days with strong field glasses, Pike's Peak in Colorado may be observed from Mount Livermore. Another interesting peak is Star Mountain, visible from Fort Davis, which was a signal station for the United States Army during the Mexican trouble in 1916. The tableland of Madeira Mesa, the highest tableland in Texas is proposed as headquarters for the proposed State Park. The giant peaks in the Davis Mountains afford a superb array of landscape. One picturesque sight is a lake in the Davis Mountains 8,000 feet high. The ravines, deep gorges, and marvelously weird, beautiful and bewitching canyons, with the clear sparkling mountain streams, make of this wonderful upland territory an enchanted fairyland.

Fort Davis, the County Seat of Jeff Davis county, nestling in a beautiful green carpeted valley at the foot of the Davis Mountains is a spot of scenic beauty. Even the ruins of the old barracks, officers' quarters, chapel, corrals, etc., formerly used by the United States government as a protection to the frontier from attacks by the redman, in those days when Indians roamed over the country, give the desired historical background and the weird setting lends an enchantment to the great silent mountains towering above the old fortress and town. If the imagination is allowed to play, one could think of these as high sentinels guarding the secrets of the days of old, when battles with hostile Indians were fought with de Vacca, the Spanish adventurer in 1535, when he headed an expedition that came thru the Great Bend country in search of gold and rich minerals. It is recorded in history that this was the period when the Big Bend country was really discovered.

In those historic days, the Comanche and Apache Indians figured conspicuously in those ancient conflicts, and from that remote period until a comparatively recent date, the rocky caverns and fastness was the last rendezvous, or habitat for cattle thieves and bandits. If they could but speak what remarkable and aweinspiring stories these age-long mountains could tell. Indians, Spaniards, Americans and Mexicans alike underwent severe hardships to gain dominion over this coveted area, each realizing it's strategic value, natural fortification, ample supply of water, wood, grass and game, but at last the alert and progressive American won, and modern civilization began.

In the year 1848, the first American colony settled in this district, and the following year an important trail, now the Old Spanish Trail, was opened up by emigrants between San Antonio and El Paso, and over this trail, thousands passed in their wild rush to the gold fields of California. This same road, over which a part of the Old Indian Trail extends was the nation's permanent military highway and overland mail route to El Paso more than a half century ago. The Indian pioneers of the far-off times were the first to select this trail, and a tribute is paid them for their foresight in selecting The Old Spanish Trail as their route over the highland region.

The painted Comanche Camp near the beautiful Limpia Canyon was made into Fort Davis in 1853 and upon the abandonment of the Fort in 1891, the town Fort Davis, came into existence, and is one of the most beautiful and progressive little towns in Texas.

With the delightful climate scarcely equalled in America and probably not surpassed in the world, Davis Mountains is attracting tourists each summer who wish to escape from the sweltering heat of the lowlands. Owing to the high altitude which is one mile at Fort Davis, fruits of virtually all kinds flourish in the valleys. The finest apples in the world are raised here, and last year twenty carloads were shipped from Fort Davis.

Owing to the high altitude, the summers are delightfully cool. The rainy season is from July to October—not continuous rains and cloudy days, but occasional showers that cool the atmosphere. Many people living in the lowlands own summer homes here, and spend the warm months each summer in this pleasant resort.

The autumns and winters are also delightful with rarely a cloudy day. The dry, crisp and pure air is a vitalizer. The water which is furnished by the mountain streams and shallow wells, is the purest to be found in Texas, containing no alkali or gypsum. The soil in the valleys and canyons is exceedingly porous consequently there is good drainage and no mud even after the heaviest rains. The splendid natural roads are among the best in the west, being hard roads and no mud to contend with, it is a pleasure to travel over them in motor cars.

In addition to the Davis Mountain country being one of the finest fruit countries in the world, it is a splendid farming country. Vegetables of all varieties are successfully grown. All crops are irrigated, the water being plentiful and secured at a very shallow depth—from 15 to 60 feet. Alfalfa is extensively grown here. Cabbage, tomatoes, chili peppers, corn and all kinds of garden truck and melons are extensively grown around Fort Davis. Dairy farming is another industry of this region.

Stock raising is probably the greatest industry of Jeff Davis county at the present time. Many wealthy cattle men reside on the large ranches in this mountain region. With a luxuriant growth of nutritious native grasses and abundance of stock water, and the absence of insects, ticks and other pests, it is no wonder that the cattle grown here bring the top prices on the El Paso, Fort Worth, Kansas City and Chicago markets. Profits from sheep raising in this country are very large, it is reported.

RALLY DAY AT THE COLORADO BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday at the Baptist church there will be Rally Day. We invited one person to be present on that great occasion and she said she did not have any money. We informed her that it was not a special collection day but a Rally day. That we wanted all the old Sunday school pupils to come back and to have all the new ones possible. If you never attend a Rally day service be sure to be present next Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock and you will be so agreeably delighted you will want to come every Sunday. We want all the lazy folks to come. We want all the smart folks to come. We want all the tired folks to come. We want all the ignorant folks to come. We want all the good folks to come. We want all the bad folks to come. In fact, we want all the folks to come. Bring your fathers and your mothers. Bring your sisters and your brothers. Bring your uncles and your aunts. Bring your grandpa and granddaddy. Bring your friends and neighbors. Bring your kiddies and your babies. Bring your sweethearts and your beaux. Bring them dressed in good or poor clothes. No matter what kind of weather, we will have a fine time together. And don't you fail to remember. It's the last Sunday in September. If you want to come and have no conveyance and are not physically able to walk, phone either the pastor or J. A. Sadler and we will see you have a way to ride to Sunday school. Don't fail us on that day. Go to the Fair and have a good time but get Missionary Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Baptist Missionary was held at the church Monday afternoon. Mrs. C. H. Lasky conducted the Bible lesson on the ministry of obedience. The program was on growth of State and Associational missions led by Mrs. Robert Terrell. A good number was in attendance and much information gained by learning of the work and progress of the other States in the South. The president appointed the following chairmen of committees: Benevolent and aid, Mrs. J. M. Green; Mission and Education, Mrs. E. Keathley; Personal Service, Mrs. M. C. Ratliff; Inlistment, Mrs. L. R. Pond; Industrial, Mrs. J. R. Shepperd; Social, Mrs. M. C. Bishop.

GOODYEAR TIRE PEOPLE BOAST CHAMPION BALLOONIST

AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 20.—When Joe McGinnity, pitching ace of the New York Giants in the late nineties, established a world's record for winning double-headers which has never since been equalled, the ready imagination of a sport writer added a phase to the English language, which will stand forever as a synonym for courage and endurance.

It was Iron Man McGinnity at the beginning of the century, and whether in baseball, boxing, tennis or anything else requiring nerve and staying power, Iron Man has been the gonfalon of grit ever since.

Battling Nelson, the durable Dane might have been dubbed the Iron Man of the ring.

And to-day it's Iron Man Van Orman of the air.

A free balloon flight of 310 miles, followed by a rail journey of 350 miles, a dash across country of 60 miles in a high-powered car, another balloon flight of 250 miles, all within a period of 41 hours without a wink of sleep, with a 225 mile trip on a lake steamer to wind up the week-end, made up the combination that earned for Van Orman the title of Iron Man.

Ward T. Van Orman is chief balloon pilot of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, a veteran of several national balloon races, besides having represented the United States in two international competitions.

The above story is told that we may call attention to the Goodyear tire ad in this paper this week.

Miss Caroline Chamber, Co-principal, 1st grade.

Miss Miriam McNutt, Co-principal, 1st grade.

Mrs. E. M. Fowler, negro school.

The Colorado schools will open on Monday, October 2. In regard to taking unders, will say again that it will be advisable for those who have unders that they wish to place in school to come with the children to the school on opening day and if it be possible, unders will be admitted, but until it shall be known what the enrollment in the first grade is to be, a definite decision can not be made on that point.

In the two buildings available at opening of school, there are only fourteen rooms, hence it can be seen from an examination of the above list of teachers, seventeen in all, that several groups of pupils will be on half-day shifts until such time as the new building is completed. We hope that every pupil in the district will enter school on the opening day.

Very truly,
E. Frank King, Supt.

"TAKING OVER" PRIVATE PROPERTY

Washington dispatches report that the President wants to "take over" the hard coal mines and the railroads unless within a few days they should again be operated to the degree thought necessary. The phrase "take over" does not mean, of course that the Government would acquire ownership of those properties. It does not even mean that it would operate them. It means that the Government would compel their owners to operate them in the way it would order. It will be seen, therefore, that the phrase is not quite accurate as a description of what is contemplated. Instead of taking over the railroads, the Government would take over the control of them. It would not oust the present owners and managers of them. It would merely alter their status by making them its agents. The effect of "taking over" the hard coal mines and the railroads has only to be defined to make it manifest that there is no specific authority for doing what is under contemplation. In searching the Constitution for some citation of authority for doing what it would do, Congress would undoubtedly be compelled to take refuge in the "public welfare" clause. In doing that, it would tacitly acknowledge that it was goaded by that imperious necessity which the Germans taught us knows no law. That unexpressed plea would probably win all the popular approbation that the President would need, and so make the act practical. But if the owners of those proper could conjure up the temerity to resist his action it is to be doubted if that plea would be sanctioned by the Supreme Court.

If the Government should "take over" the hard coal mines and the railroads it would, of course, be only until such time as their owners should be able to give satisfactory assurance of their ability to operate them to the degree necessary to perform their obligation to the public. To be able to give that assurance, they would have to come to terms with their striking employees. Since those employees would become employees of the Government if it should "take over" those properties, and at wages and on conditions at least as favorable as those obtainable now from the owners of those properties, they would be under no inducement, and therefore in no haste to come to an agreement with the owners. They probably wouldn't do so unless offered better wages and working conditions than those afforded by the Government. Hence it will be seen that "taking over" the hard coal mines and the railroads would, by the test of its practical effects, be a process of compelling the owners of those properties to submit to the demands that they are now resisting. Or, in other words, it would be a method of winning the strikes for the strikers.

The proposal is no more attractive when viewed from the standpoint of justice than it is when viewed from the standpoint of legality. That the railroads and the hard coal mines are not functioning to the degree that the public interest requires is, to say the least, no more the fault of their owners than of the striking employees. Yet the method which would be adopted to relieve the public from the consequences of those strikes would penalize the owners and reward the employees. A solution of the problem which had that effect would be far from satisfying, even though it yield the relief that it would be intended to give.—Dallas News.

Owners of Lower Priced Cars Turning to the Hupmobile

One of the most notable developments of current automobile history is the definite and widespread turning to the Hupmobile, of thousands of owners of cars whose first cost is less. There must be, and there is, something more than finer, powerful performance, greater comfort, easier riding, to attract this ever swelling multitude. These men and women buy motor cars on the sound basis of common sense. They demand a maximum of motor car enjoyment—at a minimum of cost—and they find both in the Hupmobile. It gives performance that no car anywhere near its price can give. It affords this pronounced advantage at a cost for upkeep and operation that is actually less than those of cars whose first appeal is price. It provides those advantages at a slightly higher first cost that is actually much less when compared with the acknowledged higher re-sale value of the Hupmobile. Please feel under absolutely no obligation to call upon us for a demonstration, at any time.

THE Studebaker Special-Six Sedan will win your admiration at first glance. After you have examined it you will be even more delighted with it. When you have ridden in it you won't be satisfied with anything else.

The market does not offer a more beautiful enclosed body. Certainly none is built of better materials and finer workmanship. It is a striking example of the handicraft of Studebaker artisans.

Everything is in exquisite taste. Its distinctive body lines are enhanced by massive headlights, the graceful cowl lamps and the courtesy light just above the running board on the driver's side, which illuminates the roadway in passing other cars at night.

Inside, the inviting depth of the cushions, the subdued harmony of upholstery, the soft carpeting and the completeness of appointments offer an irresistible appeal.

It is mounted on the same Special-Six chassis which has won the enthusiasm of thousands of owners for its dependable performance, power, comfort and economy in fuel and tires.

The Studebaker Special-Six Sedan offers the utmost closed car refinement—and at moderate cost. At the new low price of $2050 it represents the greatest closed car value that Studebaker ever offered.

The name Studebaker is your assurance of satisfaction.

LORAINNE NEWS

Local and Personal News About Loraine and Vicinity.

—MISS PEARL TEMPLETON—

Miss Templeton is also authorized receive and receipt for all subscriptions for The Colorado Record and to transact all other business for the Whiskey Printing Company in Loraine and Vicinity. See her and take your County Paper.

The ladies of the Pioneer Club of Loraine and adjoining community will have an exhibition of canned fruits and vegetables at the Mitchell County Fair Friday and Saturday of this week.

On last Saturday the display was shown in a window of Richards Hardware store. The window was very artistic bearing large luscious grapes, smooth red tomatoes and fruit and vegetables of every species in neatly labeled cans and jars. If such things could be produced during one of our "drouths" one can not but wonder if Mitchell County is not one of the garden spots of the earth.

Former Loraine Girl Marries

News comes to us that Miss Annie Joe Perry was married at Alpine several days ago. The groom was a resident of the city but we have been unable to learn his name. They will make their home at Alpine.

Miss Perry spent her childhood in Loraine and her young womanhood in Roscoe. For the past few years she has been in school at Alpine. She will be well remembered by many here in behalf of whom we wish for her all the happiness that life can give.

J. H. Neil was an Abilene visitor Sunday.

J. M. Templeton and son Benton left Tuesday afternoon for a business trip to Eastland and Palo Pinto counties.

Up to the present 2050 bales of cotton have been ginned here. Prices remain good. Seed is selling for $24 and cotton for 20 1/2 cents. Cotton is opening rapidly and gins are running a part of the night. The Chamber of Commerce has been making an effort to secure more cotton pickers and still more in demand.

L. L. Bodine and family and W. P. Bodine and family of Colorado spent Sunday in the C. H. Thomas home.

Rev. J. J. Edwards, a Primitive Baptist minister of De Leon held services at the Christian church Saturday evening.

Grandma Gill is at home after a three weeks visit with her son and family near Maryneal.

Dr. Newsham and family expect to leave Saturday for New Orleans where Dr. Newsham will study medicine this winter. Mrs. Spencer will accompany them.

John Chesley of Sweetwater spent a few hours in Loraine Tuesday.

Mesdames Homer and Bryant Fulkerson of Colorado and the latter's sister from New Mexico visited in the Oscar Jones home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thompson of Colorado visited in the C. M. Thompson home Monday.

Misses Swan and Cleo Farrar to Abilene Monday morning to enroll as students at A. C. C.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Bennett visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bennett, Sr., in the Lone Star community Sunday.

Otha Thompson who continues quite ill, is at this writing reported as slightly improved.

Mrs. J. T. Ledbetter and brother, Earle Jones, and Misses Fraulein Porter, Lela Rogers and Nila Pearl Clement were shopping in Sweetwater Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. D. Norman was reported quite sick the first of the week but is, at this writing, some what better.

Mr. and Mrs. Burle Taylor of Ft. Worth arrived Sunday to visit relatives here. Mr. Taylor is from the Baptist Seminary at Ft. Worth where he has been studying music.

The Wednesday evening meeting of Bible study at the Christian church has been changed to Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Smith's "Outlines of Bible Study," is being used in connection with the Bible and some very interesting lessons had. Everyone is invited to attend these meetings every Sunday afternoon.

B. D. Smith and family and W. A. Kennedy attended church at Snyder Sunday.

Misses Annie Spurger and Neita Thomas were shopping at Colorado Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Richards and little daughter, Edith, were visitors to Stanton Sunday.

STRONG DELEGATION TO ATTEND ABILENE FAIR "COLORADO DAY"

BOOSTER EXCURSION TO LEAVE COLORADO FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 29TH IN AUTOMOBILES

BOOSTER BAND BE WITH DELEGATION

All Cars to Carry Pennants; Big Parade to Feature Arrival Colorado Delegation in City of Abilene Friday Morning

The Colorado delegation to Abilene to attend the West Texas Fair on Colorado Day, Friday, September 29, will leave promptly at 7 a. m. in automobiles and drive direct to Abilene, arriving there at 10 o'clock. This schedule was announced Tuesday afternoon by J. H. Greene, president of the Booster Club, following a conference with a committee from the Lions Club. The two organizations are working together in arranging details of the trip.

"The Booster Band will be in Abilene with bells on," Sam Goldman, director of the band, stated Tuesday. Mr. Goldman stated that in so far as he could ascertain at that time, every member of the band would make the trip to Abilene. Uniforms for three members of the band, which were not purchased with the first lot received a few weeks ago, were ordered several days ago and are expected to arrive in time for the trip.

According to the prediction of one of the committee from the Lions Club, the Colorado delegation will be larger than was at first expected. Already a large number of citizens have pledged to make the trip in their cars. Some of these will go to Abilene for the sole purpose of helping put "Colorado Day" over in fine shape, as they had not planned visiting the fair until the fair management officially designated Friday as Colorado day.

Attractive banners are to be prepared and carried by the delegation, according to Mr. Greene. Drivers of automobiles in the excursion will cause special banners to be made for use in decorating their machines. "This will be one of the best opportunities of the year for Colorado to land some excellent publicity," an interested citizen stated Tuesday afternoon. "All of the large daily papers of the State will have staff representatives in Abilene for the fair, and a big delegation from Colorado on Colorado Day will most assuredly be 'played up' by these newspaper men. Every citizen of Colorado who possibly can do so, should make this trip."

Each member of the excursion will wear a Colorado badge. Several of those already signed up to make the trip plan to take their families and a number of ladies and children will be in the party. The Colorado delegation will assemble at a place in Abilene, yet to be designated, before forming in parade to march into the city. These plans are being worked out by Grady Kinsolving, secretary of the fair association, and the secretary of the Colorado Booster Club.

"We are anxious to know just what hour your Colorado delegation will arrive in Abilene," Kinsolving telegraphed Tuesday, "because the big parade will not be started until you people and your band, of which we are hearing much favorable comment these days, arrive."

The automobile excursion is not to be confined to citizens of Colorado by any means, according to those in charge of plans for the trip. Every citizen of Mitchell County who plans visiting the fair is urged to register for this special day and be ready to leave Colorado at the time designated.

"PUT COLORADO DAY OVER THE TOP," IS LIONS ROAR

Discussion of the booster excursion to Abilene Friday of next week for "Colorado Day" at the West Texas Fair, was the principal business of the Lions Club at the regular weekly luncheon Wednesday. The Lions were very enthusiastic over the trip and every member present pledged to work to the end of sending a large delegation from this city.

A committee composed of T. W. Stonerod, L. W. Sandusky and W. S. Cooper was appointed to represent the club in completing arrangements for the trip. This committee stated Wednesday afternoon that arrangements had already been made with I. L. Tilden to visit Abilene early next week and make all arrangements for the Colorado boosters there. These plans will be to obtain a parking place in the city and also to contract for a large float, to be profusely decorated and on which the Booster Band will ride during the big parade to pass through the principal business streets of Abilene soon after the Colorado delegation arrives.

It was estimated that fifty automobiles would be in the excursion and 100 pennants, with the words, Colorado, Texas, were ordered from Dallas Wednesday afternoon by wire to be used in decorating these machines. In addition to the pennants, many of the cars will carry special banners and other attractive advertising matter.

It was announced at the luncheon that officials of the West Texas Fair and other Abilene citizens planned to meet the Colorado delegation out from Abilene Friday morning and conduct them into the city. C. L. Stewart of Abilene was here Wednesday and stated that the city of Abilene was making elaborate plans to entertain Colorado on that day.

In addition to the "Colorado, Texas" badges to be worn by all those accompanying the Colorado delegation to Abilene, members of the Lions Club will wear special badges distinguishing them as members of the Colorado day.

"If we will send two hundred boosters to Abilene on this day, and show to those thousands of visitors from various sections of Texas—and outside of the State, as for that matter—that Colorado is a live town and that we are proud of our city, it will be one of the best things we could undertake," one of the Lions stated in appealing for a representative delegation to go to Abilene.

Rev. D. R. Hardison, pastor of the First Christian Church; Jimmie Charlton, "high mogul" of the Gulf Production Company, and W. F. Vane, representative of the California Company, were introduced as guests. Each of the gentlemen addressed the club.

Those expecting to make the trip should register with the secretary of the club, or with Mr. Green, in that badges be provided.

The Record appreciates the importance of "Colorado Day" at the West Texas Fair to such an extent that all employees of the Whipkey Printing Company will be given a holiday Friday, September 29th, with the request that they join the Colorado delegation and assist in boosting this, one of the best towns of West Texas. There should be at least fifty automobiles make this special trip to Abilene.

Every member of the Colorado Booster delegation is expected to wear the regulation cap. These will be distributed by J. H. Greene at his store on Second street. Badges to be worn by the boosters will also be distributed there. This is very important and no delegate should leave the city without the cap and badge.

VISITING MINISTER WILL SPEAK HERE SEPT. 29

Rev. A. J. Morgan, pastor of the Beckenridge Baptist church, will speak at the First Baptist church of Colorado on the evening of September 29th on the 75-Million campaign. Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor of the local church, stated Tuesday that every Baptist would be urged to hear this address.

CALIFORNIA COMPANY SPUD FIRST MITCHELL CO. TEST

Richardson No. 1 of the California Company, five miles southwest of Colorado, was spudded Wednesday afternoon by the California Company. This is the first test to be started by this company on their extensive holdings in the Mitchell County field. Tentative location for two additional new wells in the field has been announced but could not be confirmed Thursday afternoon.

LeSurre Number One continues to flow and promises to prove up one of the best producers in the field. Tubing has been set near the bottom of the hole. Casing is being set in Coleman No. 1 and drilling will probably be resumed at this well Saturday or the first of next week.

Drilling is progressing at practically every well in the field not yet completed, while some of the operators are still handicapped because of the water shortage, a condition that is being felt over the field.

"Gas pressure in Badgett No. 1 continues strong. It was stated Thursday that the operators would pull casing and straight ream to shut out the gas, preparatory to completing the well."

PARADE

The parade previous to the opening of Mitchell County Fair will take place Friday morning at ten o'clock. It will form at the court house march up Third street east to Elm, south to Second street, west to Oak to the Tabernacle where the mayor will officially open the Fair. The order of march will be as follows:

Marshalls of the day, Mayor and city officials, county judge and commissioners, President McKenzie and Fair officers, Booster Band, fire department, American Legion truck, Chamber of Commerce, civic league, county federation of women's clubs, U. D. C. car, Lions club, business men's decorated cars, private cars.

PRESIDENT MCKENZIE IS PLANNING FAIR FOR 1923

F. E. McKenzie, president of the Mitchell County Fair Association, has called for a meeting of fair officials and other interested parties to be convened Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss plans for the fair to be held at Colorado in 1923. The initial fair here has proven of such interest to the citizenship of this county that McKenzie believes that plans should be commenced now for another year.

"The Mitchell County Fair is here to stay and will become a fixed program in the Mitchell County of the future," Harry Ratliff, secretary of the fair association, stated Tuesday. "The fair next year will be bigger and better than the initial fair we are to hold this week, and such will be the goal of the management—that of making the event better from year to year."

TRAMMEL AND HARRISON RELEASED ON $2500 BOND

Jack Trammel and M. B. Harrison arrested September 9th by Deputy Sheriff R. C. Dale on charges of transporting liquor through Mitchell County, were released last week on bonds of $2,500.00 each, pending their appearance before the Mitchell County grand jury which will convene in October. The men stated they would return to their homes in Fort Worth.

LAWYER HAS BROKEN LEG AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

W. H. Garrett, local attorney, broke his right leg just above the knee Saturday at noon when he fell from the seat of a small truck being driven by Charles Reams Earnest. Garrett was riding on the seat with the driver and in passing over a rough place on Second street, east of Lone Wolf bridge, he in some manner lost his equilibrium and was thrown to the street, the force of the fall breasing the limb.

The injured man was brought to the offices of Dr. C. L. Root and given medical attention by Drs. Root and T. J. Ratliff. He is suffering but little pain from the injury.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR FAIR WHICH OPENS COLORADO TODAY

VISITORS ARRIVING SINCE THURSDAY; LARGE DAILY ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

EXHIBIT BUILDING WELL PATRONIZED

Agricultural, Livestock and Community Exhibits Are Especially Interesting; Miss Pritchett Declared Queen of Fair.

The first annual Mitchell County fair which opens at the fair grounds today gave promise Thursday afternoon of surpassing all expectations of the management, in both attendance and attractions. The exhibits building has been the scene of continued activity all this week, where scores of workmen have been busy setting up and decorating booths and placing the varied exhibits in place. Many of these booths are unusually attractive.

In the livestock department the pens are showing some of the best blooded calves and pigs ever exhibited in this country. According to W. A. Dulin, who has charge of this department, some of the entries here, both calves and pigs, are as good as he has ever noted at fairs and expositions anywhere in this State. Substantial cash prizes are to be awarded in entries made by club members. Livestock judging will be in charge of John Simpson, animal husbandman of A. & M. College, and Col. C. C. French of the Fort Worth Stock Yards.

Varied agricultural products, gathered from the farms of Mitchell County, are on exhibit. These exhibits include specimens of many of the staple crops. The agricultural department will include also many diversified products of the farm.

Under the supervision of Miss Laewell, home demonstrator, booths have been prepared by rural women clubs of the county. These exhibits include fruits and vegetables, needle work, fancy puffed canned vegetables, fruits and preserves, and scores of other items. Specimens from these exhibits, together with the best of those from the agricultural department, will be carried to the West Texas Fair at Abilene for exhibition there next week during the West Texas Fair. Arrangements for taking this exhibit to Abilene have been completed by the Booster Club and Chamber of Commerce.

Visitors to the fair began arriving in the city Thursday and it was predicted that by this morning, even before the fair is officially opened by the parade and band concert, followed by the address of welcome by the Hon. L. W. Sandusky of Colorado, followed by the response by Hon. R. M. Chitwood of Sweetwater, hundreds of people would be in the city and on the grounds. An average daily attendance of five thousand is expected by the fair management.

One of the principal attractions at the fair will be the elaborate ceremonies attending crowning of the Fair Queen Saturday evening on the fair grounds. The contest for this honor closed Wednesday evening at nine o'clock and Miss Lottie Pritchett of Colorado was declared as having received the largest number of votes. C. L. Browning, Jr., of Sweetwater, will preside during the coronation ceremonies.

The vote, as announced Thursday morning in the Queens contest, is as follows:

Miss Pritchett, 19,261; Miss Madeline McCallum of Westbrook, 15,257; Miss Elsie Lee Majors, 7,215; Miss Ruth Weaver of Westbrook, 7,645; Miss Hazel Costin, 6,488; Miss Fannie Bess Earnest, 5,343; Miss Ida Richardson, 5,119. Miss Nita Thomas of Lorraine, who had been entered as one of the contestants, withdrew last week. Miss Weaver was late in entering the contest and under the rules as published by the fair management, did not enter in time to receive the five thousand votes from Monday.

F. E. McKenzie, president of the fair association, announces the following superintendents:

Mrs. T. J. Ratliff, superintendent of Needle work Division.

Mrs. W. C. Berry, superintendent of canning department.

The people bringing agricultural and canned exhibits should take them to the Tabernacle and there have it registered with the Registration Committee, who will assign numbers and places to the exhibitors.

The band will give a concert from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. on Friday, 22nd, on the fair grounds. After the band concert, a benefit dance for the American Legion will take place on the Court House lawn on a specially built platform. Music will be dispensed by the "White Mule" Jazz Hounds who promise a good "kick" out of each number. Everybody come out to the dance and have a good time and you will be helping the American Legion by your attendance.

Mr. Elmer Gardner who is in charge of the Rodeo offers something like $500 in cash prizes to the contestants. Mr. Gardner has a reputation of putting on good clean Rodeos and promises that each performance will be worth more than the price of admission. These contests are open to the general public except as provided for by Mr. Gardner with reference to professionals. He has a bunch of good pitching horses, steers, and will also put on a goat roping contest at each performance if possible.

There will be plenty of cat-racks and various other concessions to test one's skill. The livestock exhibits will be held on the fair grounds and all livestock—except poultry—should be taken to the Farmers' Union Warehouse on West Second street. The poultry and agricultural exhibits will be held at the Tabernacle.

The Fair Association will offer $25.00 to any couple and will also pay the license and minister's fee who will get married on the night of the Queen's Ball at the coronation services. Kindly apply to Secretary for particulars if you are interested. Come early, avoid the rush. The Queen's coronation will take place at 8:30 Saturday night on the court house lawn. All participants are urged to be in their places promptly at 8:00 p. m., sharp. Immediately after the coronation, the Grand march will begin and the Queen's Ball will be in full swing in honor of the first Queen to be crowned at the first Mitchell County Fair, namely, Her Majesty Queen Lottie, of the house of Pritchett.

The following will be the order of the Grand March.

Her Majesty Queen Lottie,
Duchess Madeline of the House of McCallum,
Duchess Elsie Lee of the House of Majors,
Duchess Hazel of the House of Costin,
Duchess Fannie Bess of the House

C. of C. and Council Meet to Hear Sewer Complaints

Expressions from Mayor R. H. Looney and members of the City Council Monday afternoon indicated that the city will place connecting "Y" joints in sewer mains opposite all property in the city reached by the mains and where the property owners declare a desire for such connection joint. Under tentative plans suggested by the mayor the city would bear the expense of placing these connecting joints in the mains and then charge the expense to the property owner. The difference in price of the connection and the regulation joint of tile was placed at $1.40.

The statements of Judge Looney were made before a joint meeting of the City Council and Chamber of Commerce, convened at the request of a few citizens who expressed disapproval of some features of the contract specifications, especially that of omitting the clause that connecting joints be placed opposite all property lines in the city to be reached by the mains.

The mayor made no positive statement that such would be done, however, because that the council had at that time taken no official action on the matter. That such be done had been demanded by a few citizens, one of whom, E. Frank King, met with the council and Chamber of Commerce with the request that the city place connecting "Y" opposite all properties in the city by which the mains would pass. King suggested that the city should pay the entire cost of the connections.

Members of the council, speaking to the recommendations of Mr. King, outlined that in so far as they knew the city would be glad to meet this additional expense, provided ample funds were available. That this would be possible, however, was apparently in doubt.

The engineer stated that the contractors had approximately fifty of these connections on the ground now and would furnish them to property owners wherever requested. He suggested, however, that all property owners desiring these connections to be made as the mains were being laid should notify the contractor in that he have sufficient time in which to purchase the materials and ship them to Colorado.

King raised the objection to making connection with the sewer after the mains are laid by the claims that some of the connecting joints might be extended too far inside the mains, thus partially blocking the sewage. The engineer stated, in reply to this argument, that all connections made to the sewer, outside the main ten inch line being laid between First and Second streets, would be formed by taking out a joint of the sewer main and placing a regulation "Y" joint in its place. This, he stated, would be done under the supervision of an inspector and would in no case interfere with the flow of sewage through the mains.

That the city be requested to place connecting joints opposite all lots in the city was stated to be impracticable by the engineer and members of the council, since there are many homes in the city located on more than one lot, while there are a number of vacant properties by which the mains will pass, and, in so far as the city knows, may not be improved for years.

In reply to the question of Judge A. J. Coe if man holes should not be placed along the sewer mains, especially the large mains in the downtown district, the engineer stated that these would be placed at every alley connection. "There are no man holes as yet in the ten inch main we are now laying," he said, "but these will be placed in each alley lateral connection."

A committee was appointed by Dr. Coleman, who presided at the meeting, to canvas the city and ascertain the number of connecting joints to be required in making sewer connections.

FORT WORTH RECORD PICTURE PUZZLE GAME

In today's issue of the Record appears an advertisement of the Fort Worth Record's "Be Word" Picture Puzzle Game. Fifteen big cash prizes are offered for the fifteen best lists of answers to the "B Word" Picture Puzzle; prizes ranging all the way from $2 to $1,000.00.

It's the new "fun game" for all, no one is barred. Young and old, married or single, can find 'B Words' and it makes no difference where you live.

It is not necessary to send in any subscription to take part in the B Word Picture Puzzle Game. Make up your list and send it in and if in the opinion of the judges it is the largest and nearest correct list you will receive $35.00 in cash and it will only take you a little while to get up your "B Word" list. Of course, if you would like to receive more money you can win up to $1,000.00 in cash by qualify your B Word list with two six months subscriptions to the Fort Worth Record at the reduced rate of $3.50, Daily and Sunday, (one of which must be new) or one new subscription for one year at the reduced rate of $7 both Daily and Sunday.

More than $1,800 is the Prize List. That is the sum the Fort Worth Record will pay to the fifteen winners of the "B Word" Picture Puzzle Game, provided their lists are fully Qualified. The best prize, of course, is $1,000 in cash; the second best list is $300, and so on. So you see one can win some really big money by taking a little time and thought and working out a good list of "Be Words" and qualifying it with one or two subscriptions. At any rate, you can't lose and it's lots of fun, why not try? You can win the $1,000.00 as well as anyone else.

A 1922 STORY OF WEST TEXAS

(BY FRANK A. BRIGGS)

There is a romance about West Texas which had its birth back in early days when buffalo, antelope and other game animals drifted in great numbers over the plains, and when Indians fought desperately and cunningly to beat back the invading white man. These days were followed by a period of free grass, scattered ranch houses and tens of thousands of long-horn cattle. It was during this period of West Texas history when the "bad-man" had his day; when cattlemen did battle with the early settlers, known as nestors, and when every method, fair or foul, was used to discourage any attempt to cultivate the land. The history of this period is kept fresh in the minds of many citizens of the Southwest because it was not so long ago but what there are yet enough oldtimers alive to tell stories of adventure and peril in which pioneers participated almost daily. Another form of publicity, exaggerated to the nth degree, also reminds us of earlier days, and keeps our Eastern and Northern fellow-citizens misinformed as to the real West Texas conditions. Reference is had to the motion picture industry.

If motion pictures, alleged to be representative of West Texas life, but filmed near a summer resort in California, were given a title of Before and were followed with another reel entitled "After," depicting actual West Texas life, the contrast would attract Nationwide attention. The old cowman who fought the "nestors" would be found comfortably settled on a quarter or a half section of land industriously tilling the soil. The little collection of shacks, dance halls, gambling resorts and saloons which the cowboys were wont to shoot up periodically would be shown as thriving cities, with paved streets, water and sewer service, beautiful homes and modern business blocks. The banker and the merchant, who once carried their stock in trade in a cart or a wagon, and who transacted business in a rough and primitive way, would appear in the film, housed in commodious quarters and surrounded with every convenience of modern business life. No long-horns would be seen, but in their place purebred beef and dairy cattle of royal blood, poultry, hogs, sheep and goats fattening in pastures of Sudan, sorghums, alfalfa and other forage crops unknown comparatively a few years ago.

West Texas is a revelation in development and progress even to one who has kept fairly posted on that region, and who has, in times past, traveled it extensively. A journey of a thousand miles by rail and as many more by automobile, is more than inspiring. It is convincing. Here is an area of more than 100,000 square miles, twice the size of the State of Iowa, peopled by a virile, energetic class of men and women who are firm believers in their country and its possibilities, and who are making its virgin soil produce abundantly of wheat, sorghum grains, cotton, oats, Sudan grass, alfalfa, and vegetables, and who are breeding and feeding the best that can be found in beef and dairy animals, poultry and hogs.

Good farm homes in West Texas, the Plains and the Panhandle are the rule, not the exception. Each home is surrounded with a fine grove and each has its orchard of apples, peaches, pears, plums and cherries and each its small vineyard. Beyond the orchards and gardens are the fields of grains, cotton and feed-stuffs stretched in almost endless procession, as level as a well built floor in most places, but with an occasional swell to break the monotony. It makes a picture that causes one to rejoice, for it is a picture of plenty, the result of good husbandry which has brought forth an abundance of food and fiber for the use of the people in our cities and in all other parts of the world. Come to Mitchell County.

PROFANITY

The habit of using profane language is an undesirable one, and should never be indulged. The Lubbock Avalanche says:

In our opinion there is entirely too much profanity on the ball grounds. Language that should never be used in the presence of ladies and children and which a great number of men do not approve, is freely indulged in on the Lubbock lot. In the last game that was played here between the Hubbers and an opposing team, there seemed to be an unusual amount of sulphur and brimstone in the air, and the dirty oaths and slimy slang of various and sundry brands was being hurled back and forth among the fans till the atmosphere was dense with its vileness. There is no necessity for this. Most all Americans enjoy baseball and attend the game for the purpose of seeing it played; and just why one has to be forced to listen to such a fusillade of stuff, we cannot understand. If common decency and a desire to be gentlemanly will not control a man, then there should be pressure brought to bear that will eliminate the practice. No gentleman will remain as such, to their minds, who will swear in the presence of ladies. A few women will listen and smile. Put a stop to "cussing" on the ball grounds if you want to hold the respect of the decent people of the community.

Have your tires been giving you trouble? Has your Ford been using too much gas? Then why don't you purchase a set of Star eFnder braces and do away with the rattle at least.—Womack Garage will put them on for you.

THE SOLID FOUNDATION

The Beacon says the greatest religious revival in the history of Lockney has just closed. There were nearly two hundred conversions, and the entire town has been affected for good by the meeting.

It is well, for, after all, the great outstanding fact in history is the Man of Galilee and His teachings. The world is worrying, fretting, scheming and fighting, trying to solve social and industrial problems in man-made ways, when they can be solved only by the simple principles of Christ, rightly and permanently.

The community that is made up of Christian men and women will prosper, and there will be peace and happiness. Recently a radical socialist, a so-called Christian and in the course of his tirade said the poor laboring people could hope for nothing from the Christian religion, as "most church people are prosperous and have property," and had he gone into the secret of it he would have found there is reason why church people are more prosperous than others. The Christian is sober, industrious, wants a home, economical provides for his family, gives of his means for the betterment of his community, and for charity, is optimistic and patriotic and loyal, has friends, is respected, believes in himself and that God rewards righteousness. Put these attributes in the heart and soul of a man and he will make good in anything he goes at.

A new spirit has taken possession of Chamber of Commerce and other such organizations; they are not paying nearly so much mind to securing additional population as they are to making the respective towns "a good place to live in," building up the citizenship the schools, the churches, encouraging people to make the most of what they have at hand, for they know that if a community is made up of prosperous, educated, happy, contented Christian people that increased population will come, for the better sort of people want to locate and live where such a citizenship resides. The greatest asset the Plains has is its good citizenship—which has for its foundation the church.—Lockney Beacon.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price is substantially less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4 1/2 inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long-discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why take a chance on such tires?—you know it doesn't pay.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

COLORADO WELCOMES YOU

The city of Colorado welcomes its visitors Friday and Saturday, who are here to attend the initial exposition of the Mitchell County Fair. The fair management have worked unflinchingly to make you comfortable while in the city, as well as enjoy the fair program to the fullest extent. Of course, the fair is not as large in its scope this year as some might have hoped it to be. We are just starting and are this year only laying the foundation on which to erect a growing institution—a fair that will be bigger and of more interest from year to year.

Colorado is proud of the exhibits shown in the various departments. These boys of the county, comprising membership in the Boys Pig and Baby Beef Clubs, are here with some of as good calves and pigs as you will find at our larger expositions. The exhibits made by community organizations of ladies are also to be placed among the principal attractions in the exhibits building.

Many of the business men of the city will maintain attractive booths in the exhibits building throughout the fair. Some of these are beautiful and all of them were placed in the building in a spirit of cooperation to make the fair a success.

Colorado citizens are requested to assist the fair management in making our visitors feel at home. It matters not what they may desire while visiting the fair, provide it for them, and do so in the typical Western spirit of hospitality. One of the ways to build a great fair at Colorado is to commence in the beginning to make our guests appreciate their visit here and to recognize the fact they are among friends and with a host who is keeping open house.

Visitors to the fair are invited to visit the office of the Colorado Record, where they will be shown the best equipped printing plant between Abilene and El Paso.

While in Abilene Friday of next week for Colorado Day at the West Texas Fair, do not fail to visit the exhibit from this county. Mitchell County is entering some exhibits at Abilene that will merit favorable comment, if not a prize award.

The prevailing conversation among men today is how are we to get through another year? The people have a first-class case of the blues. It is not necessary. You cannot better conditions by complaining about this or that adversity. What can't be cured must be endured. We have much faith in this country and believe that our people will come out alright. The trouble is that most of us have made big plans, and we have seen them blow up. The American people don't take disappointment with good grace. We believe after all that we have been prosperous as much as we justly deserved. What have you or me done in this life to merit continuous prosperity? If we have enough to eat and a few clothes we have all we are justly entitled to. We don't like to see people complain. We believe that God Almighty will not be pleased with us if we rebel against Him and complain at our lot. Only a few years ago we were blessed with abundant prosperity, and how did we use our substance? Did we use it for the spread of the gospel, for His cause and for the betterment of mankind in general? Or did we consume it upon our lust? We fear that we used this prosperity for selfish purposes, and not to the honor and glory of God. We used it in fast living, in speculation, and going the gates of a modern and perverse nation. Our morals did not increase in proportion to our wealth, we consumed it all upon the lust of the flesh and pride of the eye. The American people did not learn a lesson from the great world war, but instead they turned more to pleasure of sin. Now, when diversity comes on us we complain. We stay away from church, we have the blues, we are grouchy and quarrelsome, we can't make up our minds to take our medicine. Who art man that God should be ever mindful to him? Do we always do our part and appreciate prosperity when we have it in the sense that we use it for His glory? You who have your health and very little maize should be thankful. The man that has no health and no maize is the one to complain if it is right to complain at all. We should say with Job long ago, "I will serve Him though he slay me." We should say in our hearts during these times of burnt-up maize and bumblebee cotton. "Yet will I serve Him." We should say that we will serve Him in prosperity as well as adversity. The Beacon would encourage our people, and get them to take their minds off the burnt maize and not grumble about their lot in this life. God will prepare a way for His people. He promised Noah away back after the flood that there would always be seed time and harvest time on the earth. There has been seed time generally this year, and harvest times in many sections of the country. Even many of our people have made feed to do them and will make some cotton. We all have something around us which will keep us from going hungry. The man or woman that complains has little faith in his or her religion. The Lord has promised to bless those who serve Him, and who knows but that these light harvests will prove a blessing to us in the future? The Good Book says that everything works for good to him who serves the Lord. "First seek God and His righteousness and all other things will be added unto you" If you have sought God in the right way and in the right spirit and are serving Him continuously, all things will be added unto you for good. We believe this, for God is not slack concerning His promise as men count slackness. God has promised to bless those who serve him, and if you have not been blessed as much as you think you should have been, this fact ought to be a cause for self-examination to see if you have been and are still serving Him. The Beacon believes that there will be a way prepared for every man that is worthwhile, that every person who lives close to his Maker will come out of his trials and difficulties better men and when the golden sun of prosperity again returns to the Great Plains of Texas we can then look back over the past year with a stronger hold upon ourselves and deeper appreciation of God's enduring mercies.—Lockney Beacon.

MISS IDA RICHARDSON IN FAIR QUEEN CONTEST

In correcting a proof of the article about the Mitchell County fair last week, the name of Miss Ida Richardson was unintentionally left from the list of young ladies entered in the Queen's contest. Miss Richardson is among the popular candidates for this honor and The Record regrets that her name was not included along with the other seven young ladies as published in the paper last week.

EL PASO PRESBYTERY TO CONVENE HERE NEXT YEAR

Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Dr. P. C. Coleman returned Thursday from Barstow where they attended the El Paso Presbytery, in session there Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The sessions were interesting and instructive throughout the two days. Rev. Mr. Elliott stated, and reports from the several Presbyterian churches of the district were up to the usual high standard.

Dr. Coleman stated Friday that the Presbytery would meet at Colorado next year. The meeting will be held in April.

BAPTIST CONFERENCE TO MEET AT ROSCOE OCT. 4

An associational conference of the Sweetwater district, Baptist church, will be convened at Roscoe October 4 at 10 o'clock a. m. for a session of one day. Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor of the Baptist church at Colorado, is a member of the committee having charge of the program to be carried out.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Snyder are the parents of another boy. The youngster arrived at their home Thursday morning.

The people of Sweetwater put the fixings on the schools of that place last Saturday when they voted down the proposition of maintenance tax for the schools. According to reports that come from there they will have a seven months school this year instead of nine, unless special money is raised for the school. It is a severe blow to any town when the people fail to take care of their schools. Nothing more serious can befall the community. This does not show up very good for the town. We are sorry to say that Lubbock pulled this same bone-head last year, but she repented, most graciously a few weeks ago, when she put the rate on the tune of several to one. Sweetwater will no doubt see the error she has made and will come strong next time she gets a chance at it, but the agony of waiting. It is awful. Should they not come again, Sweetwater might as well wind up her little ball of yarn, and content herself with being one of the many small towns of the state. There is no hope for a place where the school interests are not kept up to the top notch.—Lubbock Avalanche.

To say the least Sweetwater is in bad on her schools and the best way out of it is to follow the example set by Colorado. We are not only assured of a nine months school here but are now putting up a $60,000 building to take care of the increase in scholastics.

Famous Pastry Chef Has Tasty Bran Dish

Francois Schmitt

A BRAN pudding, termed by those to whom it was served as "simply delicious," has been evolved by Francois Schmitt, pastry chef of the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York. Here it is:
Four heaping teaspoonfuls bran, one tablespoonful flour, one-half tablespoonful corn starch, four eggs, three tablespoonfuls sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half pint milk.
Chop up butter with flour, corn starch, bran and half of the sugar and add to boiling milk; stir well on fire for about one minute, take off, mix in the four yolks. At last add the four whites beaten stiff with rest of sugar. Pour in well buttered and sugared form and set in pan with a little water in bottom and bake in medium oven, for about thirty minutes.
Serve with apricot sauce made as follows: Put contents of one small can of apricots through a sieve, add one-half pound of sugar and let boil for about five minutes.

THIS PEDDLER WAS NOT PREPARED TO DIE

Not long ago a Baptist missionary was driving along in a certain community in West Texas, the sun had gone down behind the western slopes and the mantle of darkness was over-spread the western plains and in a kind of an out of the way place, and very lonesome like, he overtook an Italian peddler, on foot with his pack on his back. And in the goodness of his heart, he asked the peddler to ride. The invitation was accepted, and so he pitched his merchandise in the rear end of the jitney, and took his seat beside the divine, and after the usual preliminaries about the weather, how hot and dry it was, the missionary turned and looked the peddler in the face and said to him, my Brother, are you prepared to die? In answer to that query, the Italian gave a scream, and jumped head foremost out of the jitney, skidded under the wire fence and out across the pasture into the darkness of night. The missionary is still holding his pack of merchandise and still ready and ever willing to explain to him the plan of salvation.

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Theford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught.

SENATE VOTES WILL UPHOLD BONUS VETO

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—President Harding, having conveyed to the American Legion his displeasure with the present soldier bonus bill, may be expected to veto it promptly and a poll of the Senate discloses just enough votes to sustain the veto.

Administration leaders, after conferring with the President at the White House, predict that he will send a "vigorous" veto message to Congress, possibly Tuesday.

Anti-bonus Senators now feel certain of gathering enough votes to sustain the veto since Senator Curtis, Republican leader, has received a telegram from Senator Weller, just arrived in Los Angeles from Japan, asking that he be paired as sustaining a veto. The latest addition allows thirty-four votes to sustain leaving sixty-two to override the veto—or one less vote than the necessary two-thirds majority.

Based on Roll Call.
This calculation presupposes attendance to the full complement of ninety-six Senators. It is based on the roll call of Aug. 31, when the bonus passed the Senate, together with an analysis of pairs. Thus the following Republicans and Democrats, totaling thirty-four, may be counted on to sustain the veto:

Republicans—Ball, Borah, Calder, Dillingham, DuPont, Edge, Ernst, Ferquald, France, Frelinghuysen, Keyes, Moses, Nelson, Newberry, New, Page, Pepper, Phipps, Reed, (Pennsylvania), Smoot, Sterling, Wadsworth, Warren and Weller.
Democrats—Dial, Glass, King, Meyers, Owen, Shields, Swanson, Underwood and Williams, and possibly Watson of Georgia.

The House is expected to override the veto but if the Senate sustains it, that action would prevent the bill from becoming law.

Basis of Veto Plan
While the unofficial poll is based on ideal conditions, nevertheless, anti-bonus Senators feel that a proportionate number will be absent from either side, or that those absent will be paired. A two-thirds majority of those Senators on Congressmen present and voting is sufficient to sustain or override a veto. Although the precise content of the President's veto message has not been divulged to Senate leaders, it is expected to point out that while the present cost of the bonus to the Government would not be so great, the eventual drain on the Nation's finances would be enormous. Furthermore it would likely point out that the measure as adopted by the House and Senate contains no revenue raising provision.

Harding is understood to have expressed these sentiments to the American Legion Monday when a delegation of legionnaires headed by Commander Hanford B. MacNider waited upon the President at the White House urging him to act favorably on the measure.

"If benefit to the veterans concerned is provided now," MacNider told Harding, "no great pension system except for the disabled will be necessary during the coming years to meet the hands [p. Immediate adjustment will save the Nation billions of dollars and restore the faith of those sorely tried by what they feel to be national ingratitude and injustice."

TEXAS HISTORY AND THE PEOPLE WHO MADE IT

The earliest history of Texas was written by David Edwards and published in 1836. This was followed by Wm. Kennedy's history, published in 1841, and Yoakum's in two volumes, published first in 1856. These are now out of print. From January to December, 1922, is said to mark the real beginning of Texas history as we know it today. From 1822 to 1876 almost continuous warfare raged with the Indians and outlaws of the State. Between 1836 and 1845 there was continuous warfare between Texas and Mexico. Texas history is unique and unlike any other State. To properly teach the lessons it holds for the present and future generations, it must be studied—it must be understood.

Crosby County.
Crosby county was organized on September 11, 1886, and Emma was selected as the county seat. It was created out of Bexar county by act of legislature, August 21, 1876.

Capture of San Antonio.
General Woll, a French soldier, serving under Sana Anna at the head of a force estimated from 1200 to 2,000 men, by a sudden attack captured San Antonio, September 11, 1842. The surprise of his attack was so complete that Judge Hutcheson, holding district court at the time, was captured, together with the officers of the court and many spectators in the court room.

Mills County
Mills County was organized Sept. 12, 1887, with Goldwithe as county seat. It was created out of Brown county by act of legislature, March 15, 1887.

Shackelford County
Shackelford county, with Albany as the county seat, was organized Sept. 12, 1874. Created by act of legislature out of Bosque county, Feb. 1, 1875.

Henry A. Wise
Henry A. Wise, who died at Richmond, Va., Sept. 12, 1876, was long a member of the United States Congress, and served as Minister to Brazil in 1844. He was elected Governor of Virginia in 1855 and it was during his administration that John Brown was captured, imprisoned, tried and hung for murder. While in Congress he endeared himself to the people of Texas by his masterly espousal of annexation of the State and the brilliant manner in which he defended the people of this State against the attacks of their defamers. They recognized this service and honored him by naming the county of Wise after him.

John S. Sutton was born in New-castle, Delaware, Sept. 12, 1821. He was appointed to a cadetship at West Point, but left and came to Texas and located at Austin in 1840. Sutton joined the Ranger service soon after arrival and was actively engaged in that capacity when the Santa Fe expedition was organized. He was captured and carried prisoner to Castle Perote. After his release he returned to Texas and joined the Somervell Expedition. In 1849 he joined the throng to California in the gold excitement. From time to time he served under Jack Hays, sheriff of San Francisco. On his return to Texas he settled at Fort Lavaca and engaged in the mercantile business until 1861, when he volunteered and was elected captain of a company. When the Seventh Regiment of Texas Volunteers were organized at San Antonio Sutton was elected Lieutenant Colonel and went with Silbey's Brigade to New Mexico. He suffered a shattered leg at Val Verde, February 21, 1862 and, refusing to have it amputated, he died from its effect. To perpetuate his memory in the State the county of Sutton was named after him.

University Opens
The University of Texas opened for the reception of students Sept. 15, 1883.

Querrero's Proclamation.
Querrero, president of Mexico, issued a proclamation September 15, 1829, freeing all slaves within the dominion of Mexico, which included Texas. The object of this proclamation was to strike a blow at the people who had located here, coming from the United States and bringing their slaves with them, and to prevent further settling up of the territory by Americans.

Captain Burnham
Captain Jesse Burnham was born September 15, 1792, in Madison county, Ky., reared and married in Tennessee. He served gallantly in the war of 1812. He gathered together ten Tennessee families and came to Texas following the war of 1812, and located first at Pecan Point, on Red River. He later joined Austin's colony at San Felipe and received an allotment of land. Captain Burnham figured prominently in this colony as an Indian fighter.

The first surgical operation of record in Texas history was performed by him. A neighbor of his, by name of Parker had a crushed leg and begged for it to be amputated. After much persuasion, Burnham, aided by two others, and with a hand saw, a shoe knife, a bent needle and cat gut fiddle string, performed the operation, doing most of it himself, as his assistants became faint and had to leave the room. The patient lingered for eleven days and died.

Release of Meir Prisoners.
September 16th is Independence Day in Mexico and this date in 1844 is memorable in Texas history as the release date of the Meir prisoners. (A full account of this affair, classed as the most tragic in the history of Texas will appear later in this series.)

Back on Job.
J. M. Charlton is back on the job in charge of development work in this territory for the Gulf Production Co., after a two weeks vacation during which time rumor says that he painted his house. At least he is said to have started proceedings and then hired a sure enough painter. W. M. Lourcey, who had charge of the office here for the past two weeks has returned to Wichita Falls.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Circle No. 3 will meet with Mrs. A. L. Whipkey. It is the regular time for the election of officers. All members are urged to be present.

Shower for Bride.

The social event of the week was a miscellaneous shower given for Mrs. C. C. Thompson, whose marriage occurred last week, by the young people's missionary society of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Jim Dobbs, Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The home was attractive with pink and white decorations and cut flowers. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Blanks superintendent of the society. The bride who is the president of the society, the bride's mother, Mrs. R. N. Gary, the other officers of the society and Mrs. Harry Ratliff, a bride of a few weeks. The form of entertainment was the making of hats from bynares of pink paper and white ribbon, the best to be given a prize. The honoree was the most skilful and a huge hat box was presented to her which proved to be filled with dainty and useful gifts, both personal and for her new home. Toasts were then given, Miss McGill gave one to the bride, Mrs. A. P. Baker one to the groom and Mrs. Dobbs one to the girls left behind. The hostess was assisted by the members of the society in serving pink and white brick ice cream and white cake.

Many Birthdays at Once.

Last Sunday was a red letter day for the members of the Baptist Sunday school for all had their birthday to come on the same day. The custom of this school is for every member to give as many pennies as he or she is years old on their birthday and at the end of the year to send it all to Buckner Orphans Home the third of January honoring the founder of the home, Dr. Buckner. But at this particular time the children are in need of bread so the superintendent, Mr. J. H. Greene, asked that all have a birthday on last Sunday and send the amount on. The result of the ages in dollars and cents was $85.00, which has been sent with what was already on hand from birthdays.

A Beautiful Alpine Wedding
 The most important social event of the week was the attractive wedding of Miss Isabel Smith, the charming daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. M. Smith of Alpine and Mr. Robert Harry Ratliff of Colorado City, which was solemnized at the home of the bride at 4 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, September 6, 1922.

A beautiful floral arch had been arranged near the entrance of the vine-clad porch, under which stood the happy pair while Rev. H. M. Smith, father of the bride, performed the beautiful ring ceremony that united the lives of this splendid young couple.
 The fair bride never looked fairer for the rich brown tones of her costume, with its delicate champagne trimmings and accessories, seemed to enhance the loveliness of her naturally rich coloring. She carried a very handsome arm-bouquet of deep pink, rose buds and ferns, tied with rose-colored tulle. The manly looking groom was at his best in a handsome business suit of dark blue.

A large gathering of friends witnessed the ceremony with minds full, no doubt, of good wishes and pretty congratulatory speeches, which, however, were never uttered; for immediately after the ceremony, when the bride had thrown her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Lois Bailey of Dallas, the screw young couple gave their friends the slip by going out the back way, jumping into a waiting auto and dashing off to Marfa, where they caught the limited for El Paso, from which point they will motor away upon their honeymoon trip. After their return they will be at home in their beautiful, new brick bungalow at Colorado City, Texas.

The bride was one of Alpine's most charming and accomplished young ladies whom we are loath to lose from our midst, but our loss will be Colorado City's gain; for being of artistic temperament and highly cultured, Mrs. Ratliff will, no doubt, prove herself a most valuable addition to the social life of her new home.

The groom is a most promising young lawyer and business man of Colorado City, possessing, in large degree, those sterling traits of character that win honor and success.

The bride and groom, both being graduates of the State University, have many friends all over Texas who, no doubt will join their Alpine friends in wishing for them a long life of wedded happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Majors, the latter a sister of the groom, attended the wedding.—Alpine Avalanche.

Making 20 Years of Racing
 Serve Car Owners Today

In the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.
 Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convinced Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.
 The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.
 This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

 Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.
 The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

CONDITIONS ALTER CASES WITH THIS COLORADO MAN

"Well, and vot can I do for you?" hastily interrogated the proprietor of a certain store in Colorado Tuesday morning, he walked A. B. Blanks and W. S. Cooper.

"We are a committee calling on the various business and professional men of the city, asking them to close from 9:30 to 12 noon Friday for the opening of the fair," one of the committeemen replied.

"And you is asking me to close my store for de fair?" the merchant asked.

"Yes, that is what we are doing, came the respond.

"Vel, if you is asking dat I close, I will do so," said the business man. Just as the two were leaving the store, the proprietor asked in haste: "Wait a minute. Do you be officers from de court-house?"

When informed that neither Blanks nor Cooper were officers of any kind, the store proprietor stated: "Vel, den, if you be no officers, me no close for de fair."

SWEETWATER SCHOOL IS DAMAGED BY FIRE TUESDAY

Over 200 school children had a narrow escape Tuesday morning when the Sweetwater East Ward school was damaged by fire of undetermined origin. Courageous work on the part of the principal and teachers and firm discipline of the children prevented a panic. Damage amounting to several thousand dollars was covered by insurance. The building will be replaced with a new structure at once, according to information received from Sweetwater.
