

SANITATION ORDINANCE IS PASSED BY CITY COUNCIL

An ordinance, establishing a sanitary district within the city of Colorado and making use of the municipal sewer system compulsory within the zone of the district, was passed by the city council Monday afternoon. The ordinance is published in The Record today and becomes effective from this date. The sanitary district described in the ordinance includes both the business and residence districts of the city reached by mains and laterals of the sewer plant.

The purpose of the ordinance is to force the owner or occupant of every building within the zone to connect all sinks, toilets, bath tubs and other receptacles for disposal of sewage of any nature, with the sewer mains. These connections, as well as the plumbing within the buildings, are to be installed under the personal supervision of the plumbing inspector, the office of which is created in the ordinance. These connections are to be made within sixty days.

Plumbers operating in the city are affected by the ordinance, and from date no plumber is allowed to install any plumbing fixtures to be connected with the sewer mains, nor make the connections, without a permit from the city. These permits or license, shall be issued only after the plumber has filed with the city the proper application, and this application is to be underwritten by two citizens, who agree to guarantee claims of the applicant that he is entitled to the license. After having received the license or permit from the city, the plumber is further required, under provisions of the ordinance, to file a bond in the sum of $500.00, as a guarantee to the city that provisions of the ordinance will be complied with.

The ordinance provides that no sewer connections are to be made with the mains until a permit has been issued the owner or occupant of the property affected. Provision for collection of a fee for inspection is made in the ordinance. Users of the sewer are to be charged a small fee, payable monthly.

J. A. Holt, manager of the Jones Dry Goods store at Colorado since the business was opened in March, 1921, has been transferred to Gainsville, where he will be in charge of the large retail dry goods and clothing store owned by the company there. Under the management of Holt, the local store has enjoyed a liberal patronage from the start. Mrs. Holt has been actively associated with the business here and will hold a similar position with the Gainsville house.

R. W. Rutherford, recently of Brownfield, was checked in as manager of the Colorado store to succeed Holt. Mr. and Mrs. Holt left Colorado this week for their new home.

EFFORTS TO LIGHT NEW BRIDGE APPEAR FUTILE

Efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club to obtain the assurance from Commissioners' Court that arc lights would be placed on the new Colorado river bridge have been unsuccessful so far, a representative of the Chamber of Commerce stated Wednesday afternoon. It was learned that Commissioners' Court agreed Wednesday morning to bear the expense of installing conduits and wiring for the proposed battery of ten lights, on condition that cost of the fixtures be met by either the city or some of the civic organizations.

Judge R. H. Looney, mayor of Colorado, gave as his opinion that since the bridge was outside the city limits, the city would not be authorized to make any expenditures toward lighting the structure. Judge Looney was found to be of the belief that it was a matter purely concerning the county and that no appropriations should be made out of city funds, for even a part of the expense to be incurred.

Figures submitted by the South-west General Electric Company of Dallas and by F. F. DuBose, resident bridge engineer, placed the cost of the ten arc lights at $450, $300 of which represented the cost of the standards, and $150 for conduits, wiring and labor. Several weeks ago the Lions Club petitioned Commissioners Court to install the lights.

County Judge Hall stated Wednesday that Commissioners Court would make an appropriation of $150, to cover cost of conduits, wiring and labor, on condition that the remainder of $300 be paid by some other source. The court agreed to consider the matter further Friday.

ADOPTION PAVING LAWS TO BE VOTED ON APRIL 3

The first official step toward paving the business district of Colorado was taken by the city council Monday afternoon when the city legislative body ordered an election to be held on Tuesday, April 3rd, to determine whether provisions of the General Paving Laws of Texas, as passed by the Thirty-first Legislature, shall be adopted. The election was ordered following presentation of petitions signed by 137 property tax payers of the city.

"There is less opposition to the proposed paving projects here than any improvement program inaugurated in Colorado for some time," one of those who assisted in circulating the petitions among the citizens of the city, stated at the city hall Monday afternoon. "With small exception, the large property owners of Colorado are pledging their endorsement of the project and but few citizens declined to sign the petition requesting the election."

It was not known Monday afternoon just how many citizens of the city had signed the petition asking that the election be ordered, since one petition, said to have been carried and signed by a number of property owners was not presented. Signatures of 100 property owners would have been sufficient to authorize the council to order the election.

Judge Looney has explained that under the provisions of the General Paving Laws, the city would be authorized to negotiate paving contracts and make assessments against abutting property for approximately two-thirds of the cost. The remaining one-third is to be paid by the city. In figuring the paving within the actual property lines, Looney stated, the cost would approximate three-fourths to the property owners and one-fourth to the city, but since the city would be forced to bear the expense of paving street intersections, the cost would equalize about two-thirds to the property owner and one-third to the city.

The payments are to be extended over a period of five years, it was stated. One sixth of the cost to be paid in cash, at the time the paving is put down and the remainder in from one to five years, in equal installments. Homestead property is exempt, under provisions of the law, it is stated, and this property cannot be forced under levies against the paving cost.

According to information from the city hall, it is the policy of the administration to make no definite plans for the proposed paving until after the election. Should the people endorse the proposed project, a survey of the district to be paved will then be made and a careful study made as to the type of paving to be adopted. Three types of paving have been suggested, but it is understood that a study of the types will be made in other cities before the administration arrives at any definite conclusion. The three types suggested are brick, concrete and bitulithic.

DULIN RECEIVES FINE COCKERELS FOR FARMER

Two fine cockerels, of the Rhode Island Red strain, were received in Colorado Saturday by W. A. Dulin. The birds were ordered by Dulin for pens of George Bynum of a few miles southwest of Colorado. They were on display at Dulin's office several hours during the day Saturday and several poultry fanciers who examined them pronounced the birds of an excellent utility type.

Scores of Mitchell County citizens are discarding their mixed or mongrel breeds and substituting standard bred poultry. Both of the county agents are advocating strongly the many advantages of growing only the standard breeds.

PAR AND PREMIUM PAID FOR COURT HOUSE BONDS

The Mitchell County court house bonds were sold Wednesday by Commissioners Court to Hanold & Co. of Kansas City and the Southwestern Securities Company of Amarillo at par with accrued interest to date of delivery and a premium of $580. The bid, submitted jointly by these two brokers, was the highest received. Representatives of eighteen bond brokers, from various parts of the country, were here Wednesday, but only thirteen bids were offered.

The bids ranged from the price paid down to par, plus accrued interest, less a discount of $5,660, the bid of W. L. Slayton & Co. of Houston. Five of the bidders offered premiums for the bonds and the others submitted bids offering a purchase price of less than par value. Other bidders were:

Stearn Bros. & Co. of Kansas City, par, accrued interest and premium of $111.50.

Bugler & Williams, Toledo, Ohio, par, accrued interest and premium of $169.86.

M. S. Grant & Co., Fort Worth, par, accrued interest and discount of $1,940.

Kauffman, Emmert & Co., St. Louis, par, accrued interest and discount of $1,300.

Weall, Roth & Irving Co., Cincinnati, par, accrued interest and discount of $1,800.

Southerland-Berry Co., Toledo, par, accrued interest and discount of $762.50.

First Municipal Bond & Mortgage Co., Dallas, par, accrued interest and discount of $1,291.

Moser, Boser & Williams, Chicago, par, accrued interest and premium of $169.86.

Hatchett Bond Company, Chicago, par, accrued interest and discount of $2,800.

Caldwell & Co., St. Louis, par, accrued interest and premium of $311.

Poor & Co., St. Louis, par, accrued interest and discount of $1,300.

Judge Hall issued the statement Wednesday morning that no bids of less than par and accrued interest would be considered by the court. It is to be noted, however, that several of the bidders made their offer for less. The bids were accompanied by a certified check for $2,500.

COLEMAN TO RECEIVE 1 OF PENS USED BY NEFF

One of the pens used by Governor Pat Neff in signing the West Texas College bill is to be given Dr. P. C. Coleman of Colorado, according to information from the governor. Neff recognizes Dr. Coleman is one of the West Texas' men directly responsible for final passage of the bill.

Dr. Coleman is given credit by many West Texans as the man who inaugurated the campaign for the college more than six years ago. He presided at a mass meeting held in Sweetwater at which the first resolutions endorsing legislation creating the college were passed. Since that time he has been active in the campaign and during the past few months has been chairman of the West Texas A. & M. College committee.

LIONS CLUB LUNCHEON TO NOT BE HELD TODAY NOON

On account of the banquet arranged for Friday night at the Barcroft, at which members of the Boy Scouts and those directing the scout organization at Colorado are to be entertained, the weekly luncheon of the Lions Club will not be held Friday at noon. An additional shipment of three steam pressure cookers and patented canners was received last week by the Chamber of Commerce for farmers of the county. The equipment is used for cooking and preserving vegetables, fruits, meats, etc., and is being placed in the homes of Mitchell County housewives on recommendation of Miss Laceywell, home demonstration agent.

COLORADO WANTS TECH SCHOOL, C. OF C. SAYS

Colorado will wage an aggressive campaign for location of the School of Technology and we propose to show to the locating committee what we believe to be the most centrally located and to be desired site of all," an official of the Chamber of Commerce stated Wednesday. "A study of the zone, described in the bill, west of the 98th Meridian and north of the 29th Parallel, will show this city to be geographically in the center, and we know there is not another county to discount Mitchell in agriculture, livestock and all the other subjects to be taught in the institution."

The fact that Colorado is not a railroad center, and has less population than some of the other contestants for the school is no disqualification at all, it was stated. Practically all the State institutions created in the past have been located in the smaller places. For instance C. I. A. at Denton, was located in a one railroad town and only some thirty miles from Fort Worth, the largest railroad center of the State.

Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated Monday that in his opinion this city had a good chance to obtain the school and should make a strong effort to show the locating committee as many of the advantages found here as were possible. Coleman left Monday night for Sherman, to be absent only a few days, and upon his return definite plans for the part Colorado will have in the campaign will be worked out.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR HERE FEBRUARY 26TH TO 28TH.

P. O. Beard of Abilene, deputy collector for the Internal Revenue Service, will be in Colorado three days the latter part of February to assist citizens of Colorado and Mitchell County in making out income tax reports. The deputy will be here February 26th, 27th and 28th, and will maintain an office at the Colorado National Bank.

Any citizen in need of information about the income tax laws and regulations should see the deputy while here.

BADGETT GASSER CENTER OF INTEREST IN THE FIELD

Considerable enthusiasm exists among members of the local oil fraternity because of the continued improved showing of Badgett No. 1 of Bowser & Reed, in Section No. 61, Block 97, of the H. & T. C. survey. The well, which a few weeks ago created a sensation as a salt gusher and non-inflammable gasser, is today making 10,000 cubic feet of petroleum gas. The well has afforded no salt water since Friday of last week and gas pressure is registering a stronger production every twenty-four hours.

The well will be capped and commercialized, according to a statement issued by Guy Reed, president of the company, here today. Reed stated that the Fensland Oil Company had made four locations for offset wells in the same block, but did not know whether tests would be drilled at each of the locations. Bowser & Reed have announced definitely that at least one test, offsetting the Badgett gas well would be drilled.

Two tests in the field are nearing the Morrison pay and the crews are racing drilling, each vying with the other to bring in the first well. These are Smartt No. 1 of S. A. Sloan et al in Section 21, Block 28, and Smith No. 1, in Section 33, Block 27, of J. F. Carey et al. The Smartt test is drilling at 2614, while the Smith is 2560 feet. The pay is expected at from 2800 to 2850 feet.

The crew at Foster No. 2 of the Colorado-Tex Company, in Section 29, Block 29, has completed landing six and five-eighths casing at 2609 feet and will resume drilling when a new cable, shipped out of Ranger on Wednesday, is received. The pay in Foster No. 1 of the same company and only 2000 feet to the north, was picked up at 2640 feet. Foster No. 1 of the Magrolia Petroleum Company, three miles south of Iatan, is drilling at 3800 feet.

The Gulf Production Company is spudding its first test in the G. A. O'Keefe Subdivision, Block 14, with a 24-inch hole, and have reached a depth of 290 feet. The test is being studded with the large hole in that the crew may land 10-inch casing on top of the salt water and gas, encountered in Badgett No. 1 at 1650 feet. The Gulf test is some three miles northeast from the Badgett gasser.

The crew at Morrison No. 3 in the Underwriters Block have landed 8-inch casing at 1310 feet and are mudding in to shut out water. The California Company Morrison No. 1, in Section 27, Block 28, is spudding with a 22-inch hole. Texas & Pacific No. 1 of Edleman, Looney & Snyder, in Section 39, Block 28, is drilling at 1030 feet.

Coleman No. 1 of Flescher & Duty, in Section 69, Block 97, continues to stand in oil within few feet of the top of the ground. Moore No. 1 of the Lou-Tex Oil Company, in Survey 116, north of the Coleman well in Scurry County, is spudding at 214 feet. Richardson No. 1 of the California Company, in Section 64, Block 27, is reported down 2720.

SOUTH COLORADO MAINS BE CONNECTED AT ONCE

The City Water Department was directed by the council Monday to make temporary connection of the four inch main leading to South Colorado, in that the citizenship across the river be not unnecessarily delayed in obtaining water for domestic use and fire protection. During the blizzard weather a few days ago, the main leading across the river was frozen and burst in a number of places.

Reason for the main freezing was attributed to the fact that the asbestos covering, intended for the exposed main across the river, had never been received from the factory. The council ordered a change in construction of the main across the river and will run it underneath the bridge, rather than swinging from the bridge, as in the present case.

STERLING OIL NEWS FROM STERLING CITY RECORD

Drilling at the Cushing well is temporarily suspended on the account of having to wait until the cement which was placed in and around the casing last week gets hard enough to resist the water pressure. In the meantime the force at this well has been transferred to the Sparkman well and they are running "tower" now with three shifts and are making rapid progress.

Steam was raised Tuesday morning at the Durham well and the under reamer is going in order to make a landing for the 10-inch casing. As there is only a short depth to make it will only be a brief time before the drill will be started. As the geologist who located the well predicted that an oil formation would be encountered around the 1400-foot level those who are interested in the enterprise are in an expectant mood, inasmuch as the drill has already passed the 1300-foot level. It is pointed out that their expectations are justified by the fact that the material encountered here shows that this well is higher on the geological structure than any other location tested in the county.

Owing to inclement weather the shooting of the Brennan well was postponed to Thursday at 3 p. m. but as the "shooter" did not arrive until 5 p. m. the shooting was further postponed until today at 10 a. m. A large crowd was present yesterday afternoon to witness the shooting but had to go home without seeing it.

H. H. Enders, head of the Cushing Enders Drilling Association came in from Boston a few days ago and is at his post again watching and directing development.

Quite a few people from a distance are here to witness the shooting of the Brennan well.

The industrial exhibits will be held at the High School building.

The order for prizes has already been made and sent in. There will be prizes on hand the days of the meet for all first-place winners. These prizes will, in most instances, be appropriate medals in silver plate. Several business men in Colorado and Lorraine have promised cups for some of the special events. Further announcements will be made later.

The committee wishes to thank especially the Colorado Chamber of Commerce for its very generous donation to defray the expense of the meet and to help furnish prizes. G. D. Foster, Chairman, Mitchell County Executive Committee.

MOTOR VEHICLES MUST BE REGISTERED BY FEBRUARY 20

Sheriff I. W. Terry stated Wednesday that he had a supply of 1923 number plates for registration of motor vehicles and that the owners or operators of any such vehicles not registered by February 20 would be dealt with as the law provides. It is an offense under the laws of Texas for an automobile, truck or motorcycle to be operated after January 1st, without payment of the required license. Because of the fact that an insufficient number of plates was furnished to Mitchell County, Sheriff Terry extended the date to February 20th.

Mrs. M. C. Stator of Sweetwater has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Langley, the past several days.

Mrs. E. P. Gressett and family motored over to Big Spring last Sunday to visit their children there. They were accompanied by their son, and wife, L. E. Gressett.

Tipton Gressett, of Vancouver, Wash., is visiting his parents and friends in Westbrook and Big Spring for a few days. Tip makes a fine looking soldier and we note that he wears the medal for marksmanship. We think best not to let him try shooting at any one we don't want to be hit.

L. Hazelwood returned from a business trip to Breckenridge one day this week, and reports that there has been plenty of rain in that part of the country.

Ed Hayslip informs us that his mother is very sick. We hope she will soon recover.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oglesby, a big boy, on February 8. Both the mother and baby are doing fine.

Mrs. Landers of Sweetwater has leased the Westbrook Hotel and will run a first class place at reasonable rates.

Mrs. Jennie Mitchell has left for Houston, where she will make her home.

Mr. Earl Criz has been visiting the home folks in Sterling City this week and reports a very pleasant stay.

The infant child of R. Q. Self was buried here last Thursday. We are not informed as to the cause of its demise.

Willie and Jimmie Brooks of Hermleigh were visitors in Westbrook last Sunday.

The Westbrook school will have a play at the school house on the 24th, entitled "Deacon Dubbs." The proceeds will be used to finish paying for the piano. Everyone come out; the charge will be small, but the pleasure will remain and you will never regret that you saw this play put on by home talent.

W. E. Smith has moved out to his farm north of town and will rent his home in town.

Mrs. H. F. Snyder is on the sick list this week but is some better at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrison of Colorado motored out to the Westbrook oil field last Sunday and spent the day. They made a picnic out of the trip, spreading their lunch on the ground, and just had a real pleasant time.

They have gotten the new boiler at Smith No. 1 and will soon have it connected up and be going again. We are anxious to see this well finished, as they have had so much bad luck on this one. Especially will we be glad if they have the luck we look for and that is for this to be a real gusher.

Smart No. 1 is drilling steadily and the formation looks good for this to make a real good producer.

Mr. Haines is making fairly good time at the California Company well east of Morrison No. 2. We can't help but feel sure that this well will be a good producer.

Badgett No. 2 is shut down, for what reason we do not know. However, Mr. Thompson hopes to soon have this well drilling again.

The well being drilled by Mr. Edleman southwest of Morrison No. 2 is drilling day and night.

FORTY-TWO PARTY.

Mrs. A. E. Planks entertained the Harmon Club, Merry Wives and a few other friends with Forty-two on Wednesday, from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. The whole house was decorated in red hearts, big hearts from which cute little hearts were suspended, were seen in almost every conceivable place. The lights were covered over with red heart-shaped shades. While vases here and there filled with red roses were very pretty. After the hostess had greeted all her guests Valentine score cards were passed and twelve tables of players spent a time with the ever-popular game of forty-two. The refreshments were of brick cream with red hearts in the center and little angel food cakes were served. Valentine favors were given to each guest. Mrs. Planks was assisted by Mrs. Oscar Majors and Mrs. Everett Winn. Mr. and Mrs. Planks have recently bought what is known as the

J. M. Green suburban home, in North Colorado, and have had it all remodeled and the guests had the pleasure of going through it and admiring it.

CHARACTER BUILDING MAIN AIM SCOUT ORGANIZATION

Plans are being made to entertain sixty boys at the Lions Club banquet at the Barcroft Friday evening, according to officials of the club who are working out details of the program. In addition to the boys, the councilmen, the scout master and his assistant and members of the club are to meet for the banquet, placing the total in attendance at not less than one hundred. The coming banquet was discussed by the boys Friday evening at their regular weekly meeting at the First Presbyterian church.

No organization in America has taken hold of the thoughts of the best people and shown such rapid growth as has the Boy Scouts of America, one of the leaders in the work here stated Monday. Organized thirteen years ago, on the belief that one of the best ways to improve the citizenship of the country was by creating a spirit of citizenship among the boys, the Boy Scouts have proven everything, and more, than was expected of it.

Activities of the local scouts are holding increased interest from week to week at Colorado. Reorganization here was perfected only a few months ago, after the scouts had been practically disbanded for some months. Some two months ago the Lions Club offered its services to Rev. Mr. Elliott and W. B. Crockett, leaders in the local organization, and the directors and committeemen immediately set out no a program to reach every eligible boy in the city, setting as their goal 100 Boy Scouts.

Perhaps the greatest things taught a scout is the value of economy, thrift and self-reliance. When the men who organized the Boy Scouts of America discovered the tremendous amount of waste and lack of self-reliance in the poorer sections of the large cities, they evolved the theory that had these people been taught economy and thrift in their youth they would be in no such condition. And it was largely to give the young boys of today the foundation that seemed necessary. Those are three of the principal things being taught the scouts in Colorado and the men behind the work feel that they will be amply repaid for their labors by the good that they have done.

To say the least, the local scouts are learning an immense amount of practical knowledge that they would not otherwise learn. Perhaps they will never have need of a great part of it, but should they ever find themselves in a condition where they must depend for existence upon their own resources they will have that practical knowledge instilled into them through the scout organization. Cooking, firebuilding, swimming, first aid and mental development are the lessons taught in the scout organization and before a scout reaches the post of first-class scout he is proficient in all of these.

The seeds for thoughtfulness for others, courtesy, cheerfulness and loyalty planted by scout training are many of the features that are lacking in American citizenship today. The nation has a right to expect much from the boys and has good basis on which to rest this expectation in the record so far achieved by Boy Scouts in various sections of the country; hundreds of rescues, first aid in emergencies, fire-fighting, wild life conservation, community good turns, finding lost people, and on through the almost limitless number of acts that go to help make life a little easier for those who have met with misfortune. The daily good turn by each scout is drilled into every member and that scout who does not make an effort to do some good turn daily does not measure up to the fullest expectations of his organization and his companions. He has given his pledge that he will accomplish as much good in his daily life as possible and if he does not do that, then he has failed in carrying out the features upon which the Boy Scouts of America is founded.

SPECTATORS ASTOUNDED AT ANNOUNCEMENT

The management of the Best Theatre announced that they expected the next three episodes of "Thunderbolt Jack" to be the most sensational of the whole serial. Many people declared that this could not be possible, as the episodes already shown were as full as they could be with thrills and excitement. But Jack Hoxie and his horse always seem equal to any emergency and we are expecting them to fulfill this startling announcement next Monday and Tuesday at the Best Theatre.

DR. COLEMAN WILL ATTEND SWEETWATER CELEBRATION

Dr. P. C. Coleman stated Monday that he would attend the jubilee and reception at Sweetwater, called by the Sweetwater Board of City Development to commemorate authorization of the new West Texas College. Dr. Coleman was named as an honor guest in the announcement received here of the meeting.

Others mentioned as honor guests to be invited include Governor Pat Neff, Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock, Representatives Chitwood and Carpenter, A. B. Spencer of Crosbyton, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; Porter A. Whaley of Stamford, general manager, and Homer D. Wade of Stamford, assistant manager of the Chamber; Col. Louis J. Wortham, editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram; Maj. Leonard Withington, editor of the Fort Worth Record, and Hon. J. J. Taylor of Dallas.

The meeting was called at the suggestion of Judge M. E. Rosser of Snyder, a member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce A. & M. Committee. Every town in West Texas will be urged to have representation at the meeting, Judge Rosser stated Monday.

The meeting had been announced for Thursday of next week but because of the fact that Governor Neff could not attend on that date, the occasion was postponed, according to information received from Austin Tuesday morning.

HONORING DR. COLEMAN

In announcing that one of the pens used by him in signing the college bill would be given Dr. Coleman of this city, Governor Neff conferred upon the chairman of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce college committee an honor that he well merited. There is not an individual citizen of West Texas who has maintained a more chivalrous and statesmanship fight for this institution than Dr. Coleman. To him credit is due for inaugurating the sentiment demanding creation of the college and he has never left off the use of his influence for the consummation of the goal. It might be said of Dr. Coleman, however, that he has never sought to place himself personally in the limelight in this or any other worthy cause championed by him. Responding to generous applause, following the statement that he had inaugurated the West Texas A. & M. fight, Dr. Coleman made the statement at a banquet in Sweetwater a few weeks ago that he deserved no praise for whatever he might have done and sought to give credit for starting the fight to citizens of Sweetwater, because the mass meeting at which the first West Texas college resolutions were passed was held in that city. Dr. Coleman presided at that meeting. It is the chivalry and liberal minded nature of Dr. Coleman which have made him the leader he is. West Texas joins with Colorado in doing him honor for the achievement he has wrought.

COLORADO OF THE FUTURE

Announcement from the city hall late Monday that the city council, in response to petition of 137 property tax voters, had ordered an election to determine whether the provisions of the General Paving Laws would be adopted may be construed as another evidence pointing to a better Colorado in the future. It is claimed that but small opposition is expected to develop against the proposed paving program. Thus for the immediate future Colorado has the assurance of an additional asset to mean much. Others are the new viaduct across the Colorado river, the new Colorado National Bank building, Hutchinson school, new telephone plant, which is being rebuilt at an approximate cost of $22,000, a white way on Second street, scores of new cottages and a city of sanitation, the latter to directly result from the recent completion of the wonderful sewer plant here and passing of the sanitary ordinance by the city council Monday.

The Colorado of the future will be different in many ways from the Colorado of the past.

A GROWING ASSET.

One of the biggest assets causing the pendulum to continuously swing forward in Mitchell County is in the producing wells and development in the oil field. The oil industry in this county has brought more foreign capital into the county than any new program since the boom cattle days and the closely following era when farming became the principal industry here.

According to estimates compiled by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, an average of one million dollars of foreign capital was spent in Mitchell County during the first two years of development, for the fiscal year ending August 1. This fund, the equivalent of 10,000 bales of cotton at 20c per pound, found its way into every business channel of Colorado, as well as those of other towns in the oil belt. The banks, the merchants, professional men, the land owner and the laborer have all had a turn at profiting because of development in the field.

THE BIBLE IN SCHOOL.

There is a bill, entitled: "A Bill Amending the Compulsory Education Laws," by Representative O. D. Baker, of Gause, Milam County, in the hands of the Committee on Education of the House of Representatives, at Austin, which reads as follows: "Beginning with the fall term 1923, and thereafter, in all public schools of this State, an opening exercise of at least fifteen minutes duration each and every school day shall be had in each class and assembly room of said school, to consist of readings, without comment, of passages from the Bible, and singing in concert appropriate religious or patriotic songs. When practicable, prayer shall also constitute a part of the daily exercise, the Lord's Prayer repeated in concert, or other appropriate prayer, without sectarian bias, by the person in charge or under his or her direction. Whilst the provision in regard to prayer is not to be construed as mandatory, yet it shall not be omitted, when it is practicable, to include it as a part of the exercise, provided, however, that any child or children whose parents, guardians, or persons in loco parentis objects, because of conscientious religious scruples, shall be excused from participating in any of the school exercises herein provided for."

This bill, my dear Editor, if enacted into law, will not only exceed the Constitution of our State, but that of our country as well, and it will also deprive many citizens of the State of rights guaranteed them under the constitution. This proposed amendment, therefore, ought to be of more than passing interest to every citizen who has the welfare of his country at heart, and all good citizens should put forth every effort to frustrate the purpose of those who undertake to meddle and tinker with the fundamental law of our land.

COLORADO AFTER SCHOOL

Colorado will be among the schools of West Texas towns to seek location of the new college, created last Saturday afternoon when Governor Neff signed the Texas Technology School Bill, introduced in the House by Representatives Chitwood of Nolan and Carpenter of Dallas, and in the Senate by Hon. W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock, member of the upper branch of the Texas Legislature. Citizens of Colorado are claiming that there is not a county embraced within the territory in which the school is to be located having a more desirable soil and climate than Mitchell and that this city is ideally located near the center of what is geographically termed West Texas. Preliminaries are being fast worked out and it is expected that by the end of next week the proposed site will be selected and all conditions to be met will be fully complied with.

HOW MEET THE EMERGENCY?

Last summer when the plight of the schools for the present was seen, there was a plea by the school people of the State for a special session of the Legislature to consider the way out. It was thought by the powers-that-be that the regular session of the Legislature now in session would be able to work out ways to meet the situation. This was the view of Governor Neff at that time, who felt that the coming Legislature—the one that now is—would come to Austin with the feeling that the public schools must be adequately cared for. Certainly this idea was used in most of the election contests. So the schools opened in the fall with faith in what they felt were assurances of help.

What of the Legislature situation as to meeting the emergency for the year? Half of the session is gone and no help provided as yet—and this in the face of the fact that rural schools are beginning to close in some parts of the State. A bill for four and a half millions of aid to be distributed on the per capita basis was introduced in each legislative body, but its progress seems tied up for some reason. The measure was reduced to three millions in the Education Committees of both House and Senate, and both committees then reported the bill out favorably and there the matter seems to be resting. Undoubtedly some unexpected opposition is behind the "slowing up" of this measure.

There never was a time when the friends of education, business and personal, needed to come to the rescue of the schools more than now. Surely all who love the children will gladly pass the word on in such a way that Austin will "hear from the folks at home." To shorten the school term at this time means an unpardonable injustice to the children of the State.

lic schools, which are supported by all taxpayers regardless of religion. Our Government and its agency, the public school, is, and of necessity must continue to be, neutral religiously. Suppose you were in the religion minority would you be found insisting that the Government shall support and teach the religion of the majority in exclusion of all others and tax all alike for its support? Now, in America Protestantism with the open Bible happens to be in the majority. But shall Protestantism renounce its own great principles of liberty and freedom of conscience? By compelling the reading of the Bible in the public schools it would do just that—

But space in your valuable paper is limited, and I shall not monopolize it. Shall write again next week and discuss certain clauses in the bill.

Yours truly,
 REV. A. J. F. MEIER,
 Lorraine, Texas.

Recently we sent a bill to a delinquent subscriber and he came in and refused to pay same, claiming that we should not have sent the paper longer than the expiration. On the way home he lost his pocketbook containing 45c in cash, and was soon back wanting us to put in a lost adv., but so far he has not found his money. The Lord, it seems, stands ready to punish the person who refuses to pay his subscription, so if you owe us anything you should hurry in and pay it before it is too late.—Plainview News.

So it would seem that a man reaps as he sows, and that sin has its penalty here in this world. The man that beats the paper man is likely to receive his punishment in advance of the future chastisement of the unrighteous. The above is reproduced as a warning to those who would undertake to beat the Beacon on this plan. You are liable to lose your purse before you get home, or turn your car over in a ditch. Better pay for the paper when you take it out of the postoffice and read it. The way to get rid of a paper you do not want is to notify the postmaster. The average weekly newspaper is sent to local people as long as they care to read it, and their expiration is left for them to take care of. Daily papers drop subscribers when the time expires, but weekly newspapers, where the editor knows everybody and trusts everybody, sends it on from year to year. We can say for the Beacon readers that we have had precious few readers who would refuse to pay their subscriptions when their attention is called to the matter. The Plains people as a rule are all honest, and pay their just debts. The Plains people do not always have the money to pay their debts with, but when they get it they always pay up. We have the best people on earth, and the writer is proud to live among such folks.—The Lockney Beacon.

The same condition the Lockney paper speaks of prevails in Mitchell County, and the Record is proud of its 2250 subscribers.

Everything Points to the Greatest Spring Demand for Ford Products in Company's History

1,202,517 Ford Cars and Trucks were delivered to retail purchasers in the United States alone during 1922—

Actual deliveries for last month greatly exceeded any previous December in the history of the Ford Motor Company—

It was the ninth consecutive month in which more than 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks were retailed—keeping the Ford Plants working at capacity to meet dealers' requirements—

In many parts of the country dealers are already finding it necessary to specify later delivery dates on certain types because there are no reserve stocks to draw from—

Commercial users, business houses and farmers, anticipating their future requirements, are placing orders and taking delivery of Ford Cars, Trucks and Fordson Tractors to insure against delay—

Everything points to the biggest shortage of Ford Products this Spring that has ever existed—

The only way you can be sure of obtaining delivery of a Ford Car Truck or Fordson Tractor is to list your order immediately—

We have given you these facts as they actually exist so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford Car, Truck or Tractor for use this Spring or Summer, you can list your order now and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to make delivery

DRILLER AT RICHARDSON WELL KILLED THURSDAY

H. A. Smith, 32, driller at Richardson No. 1 of the California Company, died in the Colorado Sanitarium Thursday afternoon at 12:30 from injuries received Thursday morning at the well. Smith and the tool dresser were lowering a string of tools into the well when the brakes failed to work. Momentum of the bull wheel became so great that it was torn from its bearings and raced through the derrick. A flying timber struck Smith in the top of his head, crushing his skull into his brain.

Dr. C. L. Root, chief surgeon at the sanitarium, stated that approximately four inches of his skull, in the vicinity of the right eye, was forced through Smith's brain. His injuries were considered fatal from time he was brought to the sanitarium after the accident, which occurred at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. It was stated that the injured man was brought from the well to the sanitarium, a distance of seven miles, in fifteen minutes.

Smith, who came to Colorado from California, is survived by his wife and two children. It was stated Thursday afternoon that he was a Mason. The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of J. H. Greene Thursday afternoon. Funeral arrangements had not been announced at three o'clock.

SMALL TOWNS NEED EDITORS.

The radio will not supplant the newspaper as a distributor of news, said Chester S. Lord, editor author of the State of New York, in answer to a question at the close of his address the other night at the central branch of the Brooklyn Y. M. C. A. Hanson place, on journalism as a profession. Mr. Lord said that the radio requires its patrons to adapt themselves to its line instead of adapting itself to their time, as the newspaper does.

the greatest editors that this country ever had. Speaking of journalism as a career today, however, he said that there was more opportunity for a young man in the small towns than in the greater cities, especially New York.

"There are between seven thousand and seventy-five hundred newspaper men now actively engaged in the work in New York City," Mr. Lord said. "Unfortunately, not all of these seven thousand can be editor-in-chief, and they must, to a large extent, write under direction. But in a village the conditions are reversed. The editor generally owns the sheet and may write as he sees fit."

"Never have I seen such opportunity for newspaper editors as at present, even though the number of newspapers is steadily decreasing in this country. The day when a few hundred dollars would start a newspaper is passed. The newspaper that is run by a political crowd who want either publicity or help for some scheme is passed. Better newspapers, but fewer will be the rule of the nation in the next decade."

The country needs good editors, Mr. Lord said, because of the influence of the newspaper and the pressure of present problems, political, social, intellectual, artistic and moral. "To summarize briefly," he said "the newspaper of today is a better product than the newspaper of a few years ago. The making of newspapers is settling down to a strong and substantial basis, and one that requires a surprisingly extensive outlay of money and equipment."

IS THERE WONDER THE PEOPLE PROTEST?

Wichita Falls Times.
More measures for taxation have been introduced at the present session of the Texas legislature probably than have been introduced at any previous session. The state is ever extending its activities and of course this costs money and this money can only come through taxation.

The constitutional limit of advanced taxation has been reached so now tax making authorities are casting about for special taxes. A compilation of some of these special taxes with the amounts of revenue their proponents declare they will raise has been made. Here it is:

The intangible tax law	$ 4,000,000
The state income tax law	7,000,000
The severance tax on natural resources of the State	2,500,000
The gross production tax of 3 per cent. on oil, being double the amount heretofore levied	2,500,000
The tax of 2c a gallon on all gasoline retailed	5,200,000
The increased license tax on motor vehicles	4,500,000
The tax on amusements	1,000,000
The inheritance tax	3,000,000
TOTAL	$29,700,000

The present tax revenues of the state now aggregate something over $29,000,000, so that if all these new taxes are levied the state will have revenues of more than $57,000,000. This will be quite a jump from the $2,643,000 in 1916.

Taxes, already a heavy burden upon many industries, will be more than doubled if these special tax bills are enacted. But the people of the state are becoming aroused over the situation. Mass meetings are being held in many communities to formulate protests. It is only through such protests that the people of Texas will escape additional heavy tax burdens.

Dr. C. L. Root received an "emergency" call Tuesday night from the home of Judge and Mrs. W. P. Leslie. Climbing into his flivver, Root made a record run to the home, only to find no one was sick but instead the parents of little Robert Leslie, desired the physician to attend the cutting of a cake, baked in honor of the baby's first anniversary.

After many delays from material and labor the First State Bank building is complete throughout. The structure the dream of S. E. Brown and his associates for several years is now a reality. Thirty by ninety feet foundation to bed rock, built of brick and reinforced concrete, with concrete and tile floor, substantial leak proof roof, the building is inferior to none. In interior decorating especially is this bank building superior to most such structures. Jack Carter, formerly of the Majestic Circuit, had this work in charge and with walls, ceiling, borders, and fixtures colored in blending shades body of the walls being in neutral tan, pleasing to the eye, fixtures finished in dark oak, the coloring scheme is perfect. The walls have a marble belt four feet in height. Director's room is likewise a coloring scheme, the lobby of the walls being dark green. Ladies rest room is finished in old rose. Heating is by hot water system. Three hand painted scenes from Yellowstone National Park adorn the walls of the banking room. We like to put it in capitals that way because we believe it is the most important thing in the battery business.

Of course we can't make a new battery out of an old one, or a good battery out of a poor one, or a long-lived battery out of a short-lived one. There are limits even to battery service.

But we can make any battery last longer and serve better if you give us a chance. We can make the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery do both—and it already holds records for long life and reliability.

We can always do more with a battery if we get a chance right at the start, although we are ready to help anytime. Come in!

WITH THE CHURCHES

BAPTIST NOTES

Everybody seemed to be in fine spirits last Sunday. Many absent on account of sickness and indisposition. Many just careless or even worse but amidst it all we had a fine day. "We are getting better in every way day by day." A fine congregation at the 11 o'clock hour. We dismissed the evening service on account of the Union services at the Methodist church in behalf of the Near East Relief. We spoke in the morning on "The Shepherding of Jesus," using the 23rd Psalm. This is a wonderful Psalm and seems to touch every great doctrine of the Bible as well as each human experience.

Next Sunday we want to talk about "Deacons." Deacons are very important factors in the life of any church. Not much difference in the Bible qualifications for a deacon and a preacher. We are hereby asking each deacon to be present next Sunday morning. We want to show that deacons were not made for the sole purpose of raising money. But that they have a mighty niche in the church life. Every deacon should be an evangelist and able and willing to hold a revival meeting at any time or place. Come out and we will tell you about it.

Our young people are doing very well with their work. The weather conditions have been against them in their work of late but they are coming. The women are on the job again and you will note things to be coming to life again. We are to have with us the first of March one of the rarest treats that has come our way in many a year. The District Worker's Conference. Read the program printed elsewhere in this week's issue of this paper.

We are glad that Mrs. Sadler is doing nicely and will soon be able to be out again. We always miss our workers. She is one of our faithful S. S. teachers and church pianist.

We ask you to boost for the S. S. and attend the preaching services with us next Sunday. Evening services at 7:15 o'clock. Come hear the orchestra play.

M. C. BISHOP.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The attendance and interest much improved over the last two Lord's days. Next Sunday there will be an address at the church at the evening hour upon the subject of, "Picture." In the address the modern picture show will be discussed. Are they doing good or harm? How shall they be censured?

The Bible school at 10:00 and the morning worship at 11:00. Come and bring your friends.

D. R. HARDISON.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday was a good day with us, although a number of our Sunday school members and those who are regularly in their places for preaching services were absent on account of sickness. Brother M. L. Moody of Loraine preached at 11 o'clock and he brought us a most interesting and inspiring message. There was no service by the League as the young people visited with the Christian Endeavor and together the two societies visited in homes where there is sickness to hold a short service. We should encourage our young people in the great work they are doing. Visit with the League Sunday evening at 6:15. Your presence will be appreciated.

Sunday school at 9:45 and we hope to see more on time for the opening next Sunday morning. We are improving but still there are a great many who come in late. At 11 o'clock Brother Moody will preach for us again, and he will also preach at 7. Remember the midweek prayer service at 7 o'clock.

CASH AND PLEDGES FOR ARMENIANS TOTAL $778

Thirteen Armenian orphans were adopted by citizens of Colorado Sunday night following an address by Dr. J. W. White of Paris, field representative of the Armenian Relief work in Texas. When Dr. White made an appeal for a cash offering, either to be paid then or in monthly installments, $358 in cash was raised and $420 in pledges, to be paid at intervals during the ensuing year were signed, placing the total at $778.00. Dr. White stated that one child could be cared for for $60 per year.

This does not include the old clothing, shoes, etc., being collected this week for shipment to Dallas for concentration and shipment to Armenia. A credit of $75 per hundred pounds will be given for this collection. Colorado citizens have already shipped five hundred pounds of old clothing for distribution among the refugees in the Holy Land.

Dr. White delivered an interesting address at the First Methodist church, in which he gave a history of the Armenian race. The horrors to which these people have been subjected and they were praised for their fidelity in the Christian religion. The indescribable slavery to which hundreds of thousands of Armenian girls and young women were subjected by the Turks was related. Under the relief program being fostered by American Christians, some fifty thousand of these have been rescued. Many of the unfortunates were mere children, being girls from twelve to seventeen years of age, and were taken from Turkish harems by representatives of the Relief commission.

Sunday afternoon the picture, "Seeing is Believing," was shown at the Palace Theatre. Because of the large number of people desiring to see the feature, the picture was run the second time. Scenes describing devastation wrought by the Turks in the Holy Land, and of the starving condition of the people left, which are for the most part little children, were shown. Those orphans are being assembled in large orphanages supported by American people. At Alexandropol 17,000 of these children refugees are being cared for and educated.

Americans are the only ones who are contributing anything at all toward the relief of these people. Dr. White stated. "If it was not for the Christian spirit of the people of America every one of these more than 200,000 orphans now being cared for would no doubt have long ago died. 60,000 of them did die before we could collect food and clothing and rush relief to them."

All churches of the city participated in the program Sunday night and the auditorium was filled to capacity. Each of the visiting ministers had a part in the program. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor of the lands. It will be interesting, we assure you.

No service at night. The pastor goes to Coahoma in the afternoon. Sunday school at Horn's School every Sunday afternoon at 3:30, Jerold Riordan, superintendent. We want everybody in the community to come to this Sunday School, for it is for all. Preaching every first Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Don't forget it. W. M. Elliott, Pastor.

First Baptist; Rev. D. R. Hardison, pastor of the First Christian, read the Scripture lesson, and Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian, spoke the benediction.

The work of collecting clothing and shoes is being supervised by an organization of ladies, perfected Monday morning at the First Baptist church. The clothing will be collected by the Boy Scouts.

SENATOR-ELECT MAYFIELD AND REPORTER IN FIGHT

Silliman Evans, staff reporter for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Earle B. Mayfield, senator-elect, were the participants to a fist fight in Austin Saturday. Neither of the combatants seemed to have staged a knock-out. Evans paid a fine of $12.10 in Justice Court at Austin Monday, while Mayfield an appearance bond.

Evans has visited Colorado several times and is well known here. Dispatches carried in Tuesday papers failed to disclose the nature of the trouble between the two men.

Shepherd Thanks Hesperian

The Shepherd school wishes to thank the Hesperian Club and Mr. Van Tuyl for the two dozen books by standard writers, which were added to the library this week. The visitors present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rice and Mr. Pierce. Just before the club met, Mr. McQueen, representing the Hershey Chocolate Company, gave a 15 minute talk on the growth, manufacture, etc., of their various products. — Reporter.

Sources of Natural Gas Explained.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Natural gas is found compressed in the small cavities or pores in beds of sand or porous rock, called gas sand, or gas rock, which lie under the earth's surface between closer textured beds that prevent the gas from escaping, states the Bureau of Mines in Technical Paper 325, "Natural gas manual for the home," recently issued.

Natural gas is often associated with oil, but in many gas fields none has been found. Most deposits of gas occupy only the higher parts of porous beds the lower parts usually being filled with salt water under pressure; and in many places oil containing absorbed gas fills a part of the bed below the gas and above the water.

Consequently the oil has risen above the water, gas has accumulated above the oil, and the gas has been forced by the pressure of the water into the higher parts of the porous beds. For this reason upfolds of the earth's crust may be favorable places to drill for gas. Such folds are called anticlines and domes.

Now is the time to have your windmill repaired. Phone 280.

There is higher priced Auto Oil, but none better than Supreme XXX handled by all leading garages.
