Final Plans Being Drawn For Olden Water

Engineers are presently preparing blueprints of the proposed Olden Water System for cost analysis, subsequent to final Farmers Home Administration approval, local FHA Manager Homer Cole said this week.

There are a total of 133 persons signed to participate in the Olden system, he said, and indications are that the system can be initiated with low minimum monthly water costs per customer — probably below $5, he said.

Yeates and Decker are engineers for the project and after blueprints have been approved by FHA bids will be sought.
