PROMINENT VISITORS COMING FIFTH WEEK DISTRICT COURT NEARS END

RECORD IS MADE BY STATE ON RATIO OF CONVICTIONS

What is claimed to be a record in district court channels at Colorado, if not in the 32nd judicial district, has been attained by the State during this and last week in the prosecution of cases on the criminal docket. Out of the eleven cases called up to late Wednesday, eight convictions had been returned, one case continued, one resulted in a mistrial and the other an acquittal.

Such a record to be attained by the State, not alone reflects the splendid ability of District Attorney James T. Brooks as a prosecuting attorney, but gives much credit to local peace officers, in that they did their part well in causing the evidence to be produced, and the grand jury which returned the indictments, in that this body was consistent in voting nothing but true bills, to be sustained by the evidence when presented in the trial court.

An unusual occurrence in district court channels at Colorado is reported in the N. M. (Slim) Davis case, which was tried for the second time Tuesday. The case was called Wednesday of last week and went to the jury late that afternoon. After deliberating several hours the jury reported they could not agree on a verdict and were discharged Thursday afternoon.

The case was called for trial again Tuesday morning of this week. Presentation of evidence and arguments of attorneys in the case was completed at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and the jury retired for their deliberations. Again, the twelve men reported they could not reach a verdict and were finally discharged at 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

An interesting co-incidence in the two trials is reported by Sheriff I. W. Terry. The two juries stood nine to three in each trial. Last week they were nine to three for acquittal and this week the order was reversed, being nine to three for conviction. Davis is charged with violation of the liquor laws.

The case of Eustasio Canasco, Mexican youth, charged with rape, was called Tuesday afternoon. A verdict of not guilty was reported by the jury trying his case.

The W. J. Davis case, which was on trial at the time of going to press last week was completed late Thursday, the defendant found guilty by the jury and given two years in the penitentiary. Davis was charged with passing a fictitious check on Max Berman at the Colorado Bargain House.

George Carter, indicted for theft of an automobile belonging to Curtis Reeder of Loraine, was found guilty and given two years, the jury recommending a suspended sentence. Newt

WESTBROOK CITIZENS TO VOTE ON INCORPORATING

An election will be held at Westbrook within the near future to determine whether the town shall be incorporated. Petition, signed by 31 citizens of the town, requesting that the election be ordered, was filed with County Judge J. C. Hall this week. Hall stated Tuesday that an order calling the election would be issued by him some time during the week.

This step by citizens of Westbrook is the first looking to considerable improvement to the town. Among the municipal programs to be inaugurated, in the event the election carries, will be a bond issue to finance a waterworks system there.

A recent census of the town, taken under supervision of H. A. Lasseter, justice of the peace, shows that Westbrook has a population of 585 people. A law requires a population of not less than 400 in order to incorporate.

DALLAS UTILITIES TO BUILD ICE-COLD STORAGE PLANT

A modern ice factory, with large cold storage facilities in connection is to be erected at Colorado by the Texas Light & Power Company, with general offices at Dallas, under the terms of a franchise granted the company by the city Monday. The new properties will be under management of the West Texas Electric Company, a subsidiary of the Dallas utilities corporation.

T. W. Carpenter of Dallas, vice president and general manager of the Texas Light & Power Company, and Lon A. Geer of Sweetwater, manager of the West Texas Electric Company, were in Colorado Thursday night of last week and met with officials of Chamber of Commerce and members of the city council, at which time the proposed industry was discussed. Owing to the fact the utility representatives were not in position to make definite statement as to capacity of the plant and when it would be constructed no action was taken.

Mr. Geer returned to Colorado Monday and met with the city council Monday night. At that time he submitted a proposition to the city which was accepted and plans for beginning erection of the first unit of the new industrial plant are already under way. Mr. Carpenter stated while here Thursday that the plant would represent an investment of from $60,000 to $85,000.

The plant will be erected at corner Oak and Main streets on property recently acquired by the company, Geer stated. At the same time the city granted a permit to the utilities corporation to erect the plant, a franchise was granted the Texas and Pacific railway company to build a switch connecting the local industrial yards with the factory site. The new switch will be approximately 500 feet in length and extend east along Main street to within forty feet of the Oak street intersection.

Bringing a large cold storage plant to Colorado by the Chamber of Commerce is considered one of the most worthwhile accomplishments of the organization during the past few months. In addition to furnishing facilities for local merchants and produce dealers, it will also be a big boost to the poultry industry in this territory. Turkeys were sold on the Colorado market the past season for from two to three cents per pound less than the prices obtained at Snyder, where cold storage facilities are provided. The cold storage plant is to have a capacity of 10 cars.

The ice factory is to have a capacity of 20 tons and raw water ice will be manufactured, Geer stated while here last week. Engineers have been experimenting with the water here for some time, he stated, and found for some time, he stated, and found construction of this unit of the plant is to be commenced when they have definitely determined that ice may be made from the water. The cold storage plant, designated as the first unit to be erected, will cost approximately $25,000, according to Geer.

PRODUCTION OF OVER HALF BALE TO ACRE IS REPORTED

C. M. Cosper, farmer of north of Colorado, is gathering an average of one-half bale of cotton per acre from his entire crop of cotton. Cosper stated while here last week that some acreage on his farm was producing three-quarters of a bale to the acre. Several farmers of the county have reported cotton equally as good this year. The crop, as an average the county over, however, is not as good as that of last year, when an average of one-third of a bale was gathered.

Mrs. Bob Taylor of Marshall visited her mother, Mrs. J. W. Smith.

OIL OFFICIALS TO VISIT COLORADO FRIDAY

F. H. HILLMAN,
Vice President of the Standard Oil
Company of California.

K. R. KINGSBURY,
President of the Standard Oil
Company of California.

TRI-COUNTY INSTITUTE TO MEET AT BIG SPRING

Teachers of Mitchell, Howard and Glascock counties are to meet in Big Spring Monday for the first annual session of the recently formed Tri-County Teachers Institute, embracing the three counties. Organization of the district was arranged by Samuel C. Harris, county school superintendent of Mitchell County, and P. B. Bittle, superintendent of Big Spring schools. The county judges of Howard and Glascock counties, as ex-officio county superintendents, co-operated in the plan.

The institute, which will be held at the high school building, is to be in session all of next week. Several prominent educators are scheduled to visit the session and deliver addresses. Among these are Dr. P. W. Horn, president of the Texas School of Technology; Dr. J. W. Hunt, president, McMurry College, Abilene, and A. W. Evans, of the Department of Education at Austin.

E. F. King, superintendent of the Colorado schools, has been designated as conductor of the institute and as chairman of the various programs to be observed, will fill an important place throughout the week's session.

LARGE STOCKS OF HOLIDAY GOODS ON DISPLAY HERE

Colorado merchants are showing one of the largest and most attractive lines of holiday goods ever brought to Colorado. With few exceptions, every store and shop in the city is in full holiday attire and full of suggestions for the Yule Tide shopper.

Trade in this line has been heavy during the past several days. Saturday was a day replete with holiday shoppers. Indications are that Saint Nick will be most generous to the people of this community this season, leaving a wide range of gifts ranging from the smallest mechanical toy to automobiles, jewelry of almost every description up to the best in diamonds, watches, etc., and filling the most fond desire of m-lady, father, son and all other members of the family in wearing apparel.

It matters not what the public may desire for Christmas, Colorado dealers have your wants in stock. Do your Christmas shopping in Colorado, and carry out the slogan suggesting that you "shop early."

FIRE DOES SMALL DAMAGE

The residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dorn in North Colorado was slightly damaged by fire which originated from a defective flue at seven o'clock Tuesday morning. The flames were extinguished before any material damage to the building resulted.

DEMAND FOR PURE BRED COTTON SEED GROWING

More Mitchell county farmers will demand pure bred planting seed for their 1925 cotton crops than ever before, according to H. L. Atkins, county farm agent. 1,500 bushels of Bennett cotton seed have already been shipped to Colorado and distributed to farmers. Another shipment of 1,500 bushels of Mebane seed are in transit to Colorado. Every bushel of the two shipments are being distributed to Mitchell county planters under the guarantee of being absolutely pure bred.

During the past few years an extensive educational campaign has been conducted by the county farm agent to encourage the demand for pure bred planting seed. The result has been all that Col. W. A. Dulin, former county agent, and Mr. Atkins could have reasonably expected. The number of planters demanding pure seed has shown a marked increase from year to year.

Atkins is of the belief that it will be the matter of only a short time until practically every farmer of this county will use only pure seed for planting. The bonus received in market quotations for the improved staple, together with increased production, are dual factors which are driving home the slogan calling for the best in cotton, as well in livestock and other farm and ranch products.

COLORADO BAPTISTS ADOPT BUDGET SYSTEM FINANCING

The Colorado Baptist church membership is expected to ratify report of its finance committee and board of deacons Sunday, and thus accept the budget system of financing work of the church for the year 1925. Plans of the system were presented to the church this week by Rev. Jeff Davis of Abilene, field representative of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Rev. Mr. Davis delivered four addresses at the church on the importance of church finances and in which the budget system is carried out. He spoke Sunday morning and at night Monday and Tuesday nights. The church voted to adopt the plan Monday night.

The board of deacons and finance committee were designated as a joint committee to submit a budget for the ensuing year. This budget, calling for the raising of $7,200 during 1925, has been approved by the committee.

Miss Helen Swift of College Station, district home demonstration agent, was in Colorado Monday on a business visit. Miss Swift expressed keen satisfaction at the work being done by Miss Sealy in Mitchell county.

31 BILL INDICTMENT ARE RETURNED BY GRAND JURY

Submitting its final report to the court Monday afternoon, the Mitchell county grand jury, convened Monday, November 17th by District Judge W. P. Leslie, was discharged for the term. In the report filed Monday the grand jurors reported the finding of seven additional felony indictments, placing total for the term at 31, twenty two of which were based upon felony charges.

The grand jury only spent nine days in actual deliberations. The first week of court the body was in session five days, recessing Friday until Tuesday of the following week, when it went into session for two days. Last week the body was in session only one day and met again Monday of this week when after a session of a few hours its work was completed for the term.

The number of bills of indictment returned by the jury is considerably less than the number reported by the grand jury empaneled at the last term of district court, in April of this year, when a total of 47 bills were returned. Of that number 24 were based upon felony charges and 23 on misdemeanor charges.

COLORADO MASONS RETURN FROM WACO CONVENTION

L. B. Elliott, Lon Allmond, W. J. Chesney and J. R. Shepherd have returned from Waco where they attended the Grand Masonic Lodge of Texas, in session there last week. Messrs. Elliott and Allmond attended as representatives of Colorado Lodge No. 503, A. F. & A. M., and Messrs. Chesney and Shepherd represented the Colorado Chapter. Shepherd is a member of the State committee on Works, among the important offices of the Grand Lodge.

CHURCHES OF CITY UNITE FOR REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

Tentative plans for a union evangelistic campaign to be held in Colorado during May and June of next year were completed at a mass meeting of ministers and laymen of several churches of the city Wednesday night at the First Methodist church. Dr. James Rayburn of Newton, Kan., evangelist, was present and addressed the assembly. Following an explanation of his work, in which the evangelist outlined the policies he would adhere to and enumerated some of the things Colorado church people would be expected to do, it voted unanimously to endorse the proposed campaign. The matter will be taken up in the several churches Sunday morning by the pastors, at which time the different congregations will act on the matter. The evangelist declared that he would not undertake the revival here unless assured of full co-operation of the Christian people of the city.

Dr. Rayburn is rated as among the strongest evangelists of America. He conducted a campaign at Sweetwater last year, in which more than 400 people were converted. The Colorado Ministerial Association and a committee of laymen representing the four larger churches of the city have been united in the effort to bring him to Colorado.

Dr. Rayburn was entertained at a luncheon at the Barcroft Hotel Wednesday at noon, attended by the pastors of Colorado and a number of leading laymen from the different churches. Plans of the proposed campaign were discussed at this meeting.

Since the ministers are co-operating for the revival, and the meeting Wednesday night went on record as endorsing the evangelist and requesting that he come to Colorado, there is little doubt but the churches will act favorably on the matter Sunday.

CALIFORNIA OIL MEN WILL SPEND FRIDAY IN COLORADO

Colorado and the Mitchell county oil field are to be honored Friday when a party of eighteen prominent oil men of California and the Pacific Coast region spend the day here. The party, traveling in two private cars, will stop at Colorado en route home from the oil institute which was in session at Fort Worth during the week.

Arrangements to have the party spend Friday at Colorado were completed Wednesday afternoon in a conference between W. F. Vane of San Francisco, vice president of the California Company, and the secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce. Vane arrived in Colorado Tuesday night. The visitors are scheduled to arrive here at eight o'clock Friday morning and will leave at nine p. m. that night.

In the party is K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, and one of the outstanding men associated with the oil industry of America. F. H. Hillman, vice president of the same company and who has visited this city on previous occasions, is also a member of the party. H. D. Collier, a director in the company, is another.

The visit of these officials is believed to be the forerunner of an enlarged development program in the oil field by the California Company, owners of extensive valuable properties near Westbrook. The company owns a large block of acreage in proven territory and has expended large sums in making permanent improvements to the property, including highways, modern camps and field equipment in general rating with the best in Texas.

It will be the first time for Mr. Kingsbury to visit Colorado and the local oil field. The same is true with most of the eighteen men composing the party. Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the chamber of Commerce and E. H. Winn, president of the Lions Club, have announced that every courtesy will be extended the distinguished visitors while in the city and they have the assurance that the entire membership of the two civic organizations will join them in causing the party to feel welcome.

Mr. Vane stated Wednesday afternoon that the visitors would be very busy while in Colorado and probably would not have the time to attend a proposed luncheon or other form of reception in their honor. The Colorado Lions Club was anxious to entertain the party at the regular weekly luncheon Friday at noon, but these plans had to be foregone on account of the wish of Mr. Kingsbury and party that they be left free to make their own plans, including an inspection of the oil field at Westbrook.

"Colorado is honored in having

These men express the interest in us that their visit here Friday will indicate," an official of the Chamber of Commerce stated Wednesday afternoon. "The city should not fail to accord them every courtesy and impress them with the fact that we are proud to have them as our guests."

Mr. Kingsbury, one of the youngest of Standard Oil presidents, was born in Ohio in 1878. His Standard Oil connection dates from December 27, 1897, when he did pipe line construction work in Pennsylvania. From there he was transferred to the accounting department of the New York office and later to the sales department. Then for two years he was on the road selling Standard Oil products along the Atlantic Seaboard.

In 1903 he returned to the New York office for duty in the Lubricating department. In 1906 he became agent of the Standard Oil Company (California) at New York and later assistant to the president.

In 1911 Mr. Kingsbury was elected second vice president of the Standard Oil Company of California, and came to the Golden State the following year. Two years later he was elected first vice president and in April, 1919, became president of the company.

The rise of Mr. Hillman in the oil world has been just as full of interest and has reflected just as much cause for merit in line of promotion as that of Mr. Kingsbury. It was in 1879 that he, as a lad 17 years of age, entered the employ of the United Pipe Lines at Bradford, Pennsylvania, as a messenger boy. In 1911, thirty-two years after his modest beginning, Mr. Hillman became a director of the Standard Oil Company of California and was placed in charge of the company's crude oil production. On June 2, 1914, he was elected first vice president, the office he now holds.

Editor Earl Williams of the Lorraine Leader was in Colorado Wednesday afternoon on business and paid the Record office a fraternal visit.

Miller, Colorado youth, was tried Friday on charges of burglary, convicted and given two years. Miller, said to be only 19 years of age, was charged with burglary of the J. Riordan & Company store at Colorado a few months ago, when several pistols were taken.

The Emmett McCallum case was the last called for trial last week. In this cause the defendant was charged with theft of seven joints of oil well pipe from the M. E. Eddleman lease near Westbrook. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and assessed punishment at a fine of $800.

Elmo Johnson, negro, charged by indictment with manufacture of intoxicating liquor, was tried Monday. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and gave the defendant one year in the pen.

The case of Felix Tarpia, Mexican, was called Wednesday morning. The defendant was found guilty of attempted burglary and given two years in the pen. Tarpia was apprehended recently by Night Patrolman Loyd Quinney while in the act of attempting to force an entrance into the H. B. Broadus & Sons grocery.

ADD DISTRICT COURT

The case of Sam Spikes of Lorraine, charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was called Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. The case was completed within a short time and the jury returned a verdict of acquittal, making the second verdict of acquittal during the two weeks of criminal court.

Pedro Carbajal, Mexican, charged with murder, was arraigned Thursday morning and selection of the jury was completed within a short time. Introduction of evidence was begun before court adjourned for the noon recess. Carbajal is under indictment for the murder of Juan Ruiz, Mexican, on the farm of Boyd Green, a few miles west of Colorado. The killing occurred a few days ago.

DEATHS IN RAILWAY CROSSING ACCIDENTS

The department of commerce reports that during the year 1923, two thousand and two hundred sixty-five people were killed in railway crossing accidents, an increase of 455 deaths over the previous year.

It is quite certain that there will be a larger increase in 1924 to be shown when the figures are compiled and the increase in automobile transportation each year is bound to bring forth more accidents and deaths unless all of the states provide laws to compel automobile drivers to bring their cars to a stop before crossing railway and interurban electric railway tracks.

The legislatures of some of the states have already acted and in the following, all automobiles must come to a full stop before crossing steam or electric railway tracks: California, Colorado, Illinois, Maine, Montana, Nevada, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Washington and West Virginia.

People do not realize how a very little time is full of danger at a railway crossing. Here comes a passenger train running at forty miles an hour, for the same point is an automobile running at twenty miles an hour. The two are going to a meeting point at the rate of a mile a minute, or eighty-eight feet every second. Think what a bare second means between life and death.

The trains can not stop in time to prevent accidents, as the momentum of their great weight carries them onward regardless of brakes, as the average passenger train will weigh more than a million pounds, and it naturally must have the right-of-way over an automobile that weighs two or three thousand pounds.

OF COURSE NOT!

A thief or thieves visited the Herald office some time Sunday night and got away with a small sum of money—which did not belong to the proprietors, however—and other articles. The ear-marks of the theft was that of boys but we would give a liberal reward for their arrest and conviction.—Big Spring Herald.

To be sure, it is conceded the money did not belong to the editor. No one would expect a newspaper man to have money.

"Big Spring Tenant Farmer Buys Home," says headline in one of the large daily papers. Such a feat has become commonplace in scores of West Texas counties, including Mitchell. Tenant farmers out here are prospering to such an extent that it is not out of the ordinary for them to become home owners. In fact, there are instances, and many of them, in which West Texas farmers have made enough revenue from one crop to purchase a home of their own.

These men express the interest in us that their visit here Friday will indicate," an official of the Chamber of Commerce stated Wednesday afternoon. "The city should not fail to accord them every courtesy and impress them with the fact that we are proud to have them as our guests."

Mr. Kingsbury, one of the youngest of Standard Oil presidents, was born in Ohio in 1876. His Standard Oil connection dates from December 27, 1897, when he did pipe line construction work in Pennsylvania. From there he was transferred to the accounting department of the New York office and later to the sales department. Then for two years he was on the road selling Standard Oil products along the Atlantic Seaboard.

In 1903 he returned to the New York office for duty in the Lubricating department. In 1906 he became agent of the Standard Oil Company (California) at New York and later assistant to the president.

In 1911 Mr. Kingsbury was elected second vice president of the Standard Oil Company of California, and came to the Golden State the following year. Two years later he was elected first vice president and in April, 1919, became president of the company.

The rise of Mr. Hillman in the oil world has been just as full of interest and has reflected just as much cause for merit in line of promotion as that of Mr. Kingsbury. It was in 1879 that he, as a lad 17 years of age, entered the employ of the United Pipe Lines at Bradford, Pennsylvania, as a messenger boy. In 1911, thirty-two years after his modest beginning, Mr. Hillman became a director of the Standard Oil Company of California and was placed in charge of the company's crude oil production. On June 2, 1914, he was elected first vice president, the office he now holds.

Editor Earl Williams of the Lorraine Leader was in Colorado Wednesday afternoon on business and paid the Record office a fraternal visit.

The Emmett McCallum case was the last called for trial last week. In this case the defendant was charged with theft of seven joints of oil well pipe from the M. E. Eddleman lease near Westbrook. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and assessed punishment at a fine of $800.

Elmo Johnson, negro, charged by indictment with manufacture of intoxicating liquor, was tried Monday. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and gave the defendant one year in the pen.

The case of Felix Tarpia, Mexican, was called Wednesday morning. The defendant was found guilty of attempted burglary and given two years in the pen. Tarpia was apprehended recently by Night Patrolman Loyd Quinney while in the act of attempting to force an entrance into the H. B. Broadus & Sons grocery.

ADD DISTRICT COURT

The case of Sam Spikes of Lorraine, charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was called Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. The case was completed within a short time and the jury returned a verdict of acquittal, making the second week of acquittal during the two weeks of criminal court.

Pedro Carbajal, Mexican, charged with murder, was arraigned Thursday morning and selection of the jury was completed within a short time. Introduction of evidence was begun before court adjourned for the noon recess. Carbajal is under indictment for the murder of Juan Ruiz, Mexican, on the farm of Boyd Green, a few miles west of Colorado. The killing occurred a few days ago.

STAMP OUT WHITE PLAGUE. At this time when the salesmen for the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are making through the mails, their plea for funds with which to carry on this work, the following editorial from Good Housekeeping, brings vividly to one the importance of buying these attractive little penny seals:

One of the most hopeful and most dramatic fights ever made against disease is the one that is rapidly stamping out tuberculosis. One of the oldest of the plagues that have afflicted men, "TB" has gone steadily on for nearly thirty centuries, quietly marking its victims and leaving them to a lingering death. Thus was the diabolical nature of the disease emphasized, for its slow approach caused no alarm, but permitted the sure spread of the infection. Other plagues have gone blusteringly about their work, and men have risen up and accepted the challenge and beaten them back. Many diseases far more deadly than tuberculosis now cause but a handful of deaths yearly, while those the White Plague claims, year after year, would make a big city.

But we started out to tell you about the other side of the picture. In a word, it is this: Tuberculosis can be prevented and it can be cured. In less than twenty years, by an intensive campaign of education and care, the death-rate has been more than cut in two. It must be cut in two again and then again, and finally stamped out. We can't afford, nationally or individually, to have the disease around. It is estimated that it would cost twenty-six billion dollars to endure the disease in its present stage for the next thirty-five years, but that it could be controlled, which would mean practically wiping it out, for only seven billion dollars. This would mean a net saving of nineteen billion dollars and all the millions of lives that would otherwise be wasted. It sounds like a good business proposition, to say the least.

But how can the individual take part in this? The answer is that the way is so easy that one has to refuse to take part. A billion chances are being offered to the American people—at one cent each. There is where the drama of this fight comes in; you are one of the cast. The principals are, of course, the big associations that carry on the work, but they would be absolutely helpless without your support. The war against tuberculosis is financed by the annual sale of Christmas Seals. Each seal brings only one cent into the fight, but a billion seals bring ten million dollars! And what a fight that means! And what a victory it means, for never forget that tuberculosis can be prevented and can be cured. You are planning your Christmas gifts now. To all you love you will give something. Don't let it end there. The greatest gift of all is life; that you can not give. The next greatest gift is health, and that you can give. Give it, and feel the joy that comes with giving. Every little stamp has a big part to play. Give it its chance. Give a million men and women, boys and girls their chance. Buy Christmas Seals.

AS TO AXIOMS.

The old axiom which suggests that it is a good thing to kill two birds with one stone has many applications. It is of special descriptive value in describing the feat accomplished by the city of Colorado during the past few days in fostering the bringing of a large commercial egg hatchery and cold storage plant to this city. The two industries are so closely correlated in benefit and result that they could ill afford to be fostered alone. Success of the one will mean success, to some degree, at least of the other.

With establishment of the hatchery, a primary action to encourage the poultry business in this territory, should immediately develop attention to production of poultry and poultry products in Mitchell county on a scale never before attempted. The large cold storage plant, which is to be in operation for next season, will afford farmers and others facilities equal to the best for storing their eggs and poultry carcasses during the time the price is not satisfactory and be the direct means of wanting one of the best local markets in the country.

Mitchell county has much in capital stock in the way of oil and varied field crops. Additional prosperity is now on the threshold, to be realized through production of poultry and poultry products.

The churches should be given more publicity, a prominent member of one of the Colorado churches stated the other day in commenting upon the series of articles now being carried by The Record on the churches of Colorado. This same church member outlined that the clubs and social organizations of Colorado were obtaining much more publicity through the local press than the churches. That statement is true, but it is no fault of the publishers of The Record. The clubs have their reporters and see to it that news concerning them reach the columns of the paper. The churches do not take advantage of this opportunity to place themselves before the public. The Record is interested in our churches and would be glad to carry more religious news in the department devoted to this subject than we do.

Colorado continues to furnish its quota of automobile accidents. Of course, no one is criminally responsible for the accident in North Colorado Sunday afternoon in which two persons were painfully injured, but the toll being taken in motor vehicle accidents is entirely too large and is at least suggestive of the fact that motorists are not as careful as they should be. None of us would wantonly crash our machine into that of another and take loss in damage to the cars and probable death or serious injury to other persons, but we are prone to become careless. The Record has not changed its attitude in the belief that the city should adopt more stringent traffic laws and enforce them to the letter.

Dirt has been broken for a textile mill at San Marcos. At Lubbock citizens are becoming enthused over tentative plans for financing such an industry there. In a score of other West Texas towns and small cities tentative plans for organization of companies to build and operate such mills have been worked out. Colorado, according to declarations of experts on the textile industry, is an ideal location for a mill. Mitchell county is producing a good grade staple cotton, is located in the heart of one of the best cotton sections of the State, has the fuel and other advantages. Colorado should go after a textile mill.

WONDERS OF WIRELESS.

Wonderful achievements in the field of science and invention follow so quickly one upon another that truly marvelous results of what just a few years ago would have been considered the fantastic hallucinations of an unbalanced mind cause but a faint ripple upon the placid waters of credulence. If some eminent scientist were to today state that he had received over his radio a Christmas greeting in English from the planet Mars about the only reaction that would result would be an increased demand for long distance wireless and requests for the wave length of the red planet.

Below we quote an Associated Press dispatch from New York. Twenty or even ten years ago this announcement would have created quite a stir:

"A portrait of the president of the United States was put on the air in London today and in twenty minutes was reproduced in New York. As the finished picture was removed from an oscillating cylinder in the offices of the Radio Corporation of America, the jiggling stylus which had drawn it remained poised for a moment. Then there was a buzz, the stylus perked its head this way and that, and, putting its inky nose to the paper, traced out a panel in which it embroidered these words from an old Chinese proverb: 'One picture is worth 10,000 words.'

Again the stylus rested for a moment and again it resumed dancing upon the cylinder until, as the hours passed, it perfected the likeness of Minister Stanley Baldwin, Secretary of State Hughes, the Prince of Wales Queen Mother Alexandra, Owen D. Young, showed H. M. S. Reclamation ground in the Tees river and the finish of the Oxford-Cambridge relay races, and topped off the performance with an artistic flourish by reproducing a mural from the Royal Academy.

"The Radio Corporation officials announced at the end of the demonstration that the all-American invention for radio transmission of photographs, paintings and printed messages was a complete success."

How Chrysler Sweeps All Tradition Aside

No one need fear that he will not be rewarded who gives to the world something distinctively superior to that which has preceded it. And nowhere is recognition so swift and reward so munificent as in America. Chrysler Six came into a seemingly crowded motor car market and almost immediately swept its way into unprecedented acceptance as a quality product. That was won almost over-night. Why? Because the Chrysler brushed aside outworn traditions in engineering, in design, and in performance, and gave to the world advantages it could instantly see and feel and experience. It squarely confronted problems of height and weight and size, solving them according to the crying needs of the moment rather than the needs of five years ago. It brought to bear both scientific exactness and artistry—endeavoring to employ in the new car elements of grace and elegance no one else had attained. That is why the Chrysler has taken the country by storm—why it still stands and will long stand alone—why if you want what the Chrysler gives, the Chrysler alone can satisfy you.

FARMERS NO BETTER, NO WORSE THAN OTHER MEN

Farm and Ranch occasionally receives letters conveying the idea that just because a man farms for a living that he is deserving of special consideration. Some letters display a hostility towards all classes of people who do not till the soil or work union hours for the union scale of wages. All others, according to the writers of these letters, are nonproducers and the most of them secure a living through the exercise of sharp and questionable methods. Extension workers, scientists and teachers of agriculture and its various branches come in for special condemnation, while those engaged in the banking business are catalogued in their minds as enemies of civilization.

Letters of the character just described are not a product of the present political age. The same kind of letters were written to newspapers more than sixty years ago, as may be verified by referring to some of the old files of the Galveston News. Undoubtedly such letters have been offered the press from time to time since the birth of the printing industry, and before that the same sentiment was heralded from the public platform or cried out from the street corners. There are always a class of dissatisfied people and always will be, and perhaps it is well, for many valuable reforms have been brought about by agitators whose only pleasure seems to be derived from differing with the views of their neighbors on politics, religion and education.

While the upright, industrious farmer is no better than any other man of similar qualifications in other lines of business, he is just as good, and that is the ground on which every farmer should stand. His success, in a very large measure, depends upon intelligent effort, but were it not for the teeming millions in other lines, he would have nothing to work with and no market for what he produces. While the farmer is essential in our present scheme of civilization, so is the merchant, the banker, the manufacturer, the teacher and the preacher.

The agricultural industry has seen hard times. Many thus engaged have found it most difficult to pay expenses, but the same is true in all other lines. The difference lies in the fact that the hardships of the farmer are broadcasted from the housetops for political purposes, while the difficulties of other business men are published in the news of the bankruptcy courts. Nine-tenths of the business men in cities are operating on a relatively small capital. Nine-tenths of the laborers in the city who work, rain or shine, in the cold or in the heat, barely get by in paying living expenses. If either class were to take as many leisure hours, throughout the year as does the average farmer, the small business man would be forced to close his doors, and the laborer, both skilled and unskilled, would have to apply to charity for bread to feed his family. Side by side, in parallel columns, there are as many failures in the city as there are in the country. Side by side, in comparison, there are as many men engaged in farming who are unfitted for the present-day requirements of the industry as there are men in the city who have been crowded into the wrong occupation or the wrong line of business. If one or the other has an advantage, it lies with the farmer who applies himself intelligently to the business of making a good living and laying by some each year for the "rainy day."

Dulin told Dale he had seen enough, after riding six miles northwest of Midland, and they returned to town. The next day Dulin returned with two sons and a son-in-law. They all bought farms and before the week ended Dulin had bought five farms for his sons and sons-in-law and had taken an option on the sixth tract for another son. He bought the land from W. E. Wallace within six to three miles of Midland at $16 to $18 an acre.

It was under Dulin's guidance that Mitchell County won the state championship in the production of long staple cotton.

RECORD AND FOOTBALL SQUAD HONORED AT BANQUETS

LOCAL GIRL ORGANIZATION GIVEN ROUSING RECEPTION BY LIONS CLUB

Coaches John Prude and W. D. Grant, twenty-two members of the Colorado high school football team, H. L. Hutchinson, president of the school board, E. F. King, superintendent of the Colorado schools, W. C. Cameron, principal of the high school and G. D. Foster, member of the high school faculty and county school superintendent elect, were honor guests at a banquet given at the Barcroft Hotel Friday night by the Colorado Lions Club.

John Prude, first coach of the team and to whom much credit was given for organization of the team, was the first guest to be introduced to the Lions. Prude introduced each of the twenty-two members of his team. Col. C. M. Adams was the first speaker to be introduced by E. H. Winn, president of the club.

Col. Adams compared the game of football with the game of life and drew some interesting conclusions on either. "To make good at either the game of football or that of life we must play with all the vim and determination we possess," he stated. "But we must play the game squarely. We cannot expect success and commendation if we violate the ethics of either." Adams praised the local boys for their high ideals as both young men and as contestants for supremacy on the grid.

G. D. Foster gave an interesting resume of organization and early training of the team. He stated that to John Prude, first coach, was due credit for organization of the team and that the squad had made an excellent showing for their first year.

W. C. Cameron, the third speaker to address the banquet, centered his most interesting address about three objectives to which every school should strive. These, he outlined, were attention to mental, physical and moral training among the student body. Mr. Cameron declared that football was one of the best features for physical development within the calendar of school athletics.

"Colorado has in these boys a clean football team," Cameron stated. "Nothing to be classified as dirty or underhanded has ever developed in the eleven games which they have played." Cameron outlined that the boy who would make good as a member of the football team must, first of all, be a fellow of regular habits and of such character as to develop the best to be expected in true manhood.

The Lions Club was praised by Prof. King for the interest manifested by the organization in the schools of Colorado and the school athletics. He declared that organization of the Colorado football team had been the direct cause of enlarging the high school enrollment by twenty-five. "There are young fellows attending our high school today who would be out of school were it not for the football squad," he declared.

A good football team is one of the most effective advertising mediums any city or town may possibly acquire, King stated. "Cisco is getting more publicity out of her football team tonight than she possibly could through any other source, it mattering not what the cost of the other advertising might be." The speaker stated after calling attention to the victory won that afternoon over the team from Cleburne. In that the Colorado high school team be doubly successful in 1925, it must receive the full co-operation of the general public of Colorado, he concluded.

Admitting that he knew very little about the ethics of the game, H. L. Hutchinson, president of the school board, announced that he regretted very much he had not witnessed more of the popular sport. "The thing that thrills me most is a good horse race," Hutchinson stated. "If you had seen Gist and some of these other Colorado boys making a long dash for touchdown, you would have witnessed a race faster than any horse race," President Winn interrupted.

Mr. Hutchinson stated that he was fully convinced that football was something worthwhile for the school and as president of the school board would give his full cooperation to the team.

John Prude spoke of the first meeting of high school boys, Sept. 3, when tentative organization of the team was made. There were 13 boys to attend this meeting. The team now has a membership of twenty-four, twenty-two of whom were present at the banquet. Prude announced that each member of the team were to receive a letter and all members of the first team a service stripe. Sweaters for the entire team are to be provided, if funds are to be obtained, he announced. As a starter on this fund the management of the Palace Theatre is soon to give a benefit show, he stated.

W. D. Grant, who recently left Colorado to assume charge of the West Texas Construction Company office at Sweetwater, delivered an interesting address in which the personnel of the team was eulogized. Grant was the second coach of the team and was with the boys during practically every one of the eleven games played during the season. Although defeated during the first few games, because they were unfamiliar with the game, these boys have never taken to unfair methods in contesting with their opponents on the field, he declared.

Grant recalled some outstanding features of the games in which Colorado had scored victory, as well as met defeat. The fact that Gist made seven consecutive runs for touchdown in one of the games with Snyder was probably a record. The speaker announced to the boys that this might be the last time they would all be together, spoke of his devotion to them and of his appreciation of the splendid spirit in which every boy had always responded, whether in training, or in battle.

At this time the meeting was turned over to Coach Prude, who announced the boys would elect a captain for the ensuing year. After some five nominations had been made the team membership elected Clyde Cack to fill this position. When called on for an address by President Winn, the newly elected captain arose and said: "Well, fellows, I have nothing to say."

Rev. J. E. Chase, T. W. Stoneroad and Raymond Jones, manager of the team, were others to deliver short addresses. Mr. Stoneroad promised the team and school faculty that the Lions club would support them to a man in 1925 and cinched the promise by declaring that every member of the Colorado Lions Club would be on the side lines when the first game of the next season is played.

Rev. Mr. Chase spoke in a general way of the good advantages of football, in developing both strong morals and physical manhood. Raymond Jones announced that the team had paid all expenses during the season and had a small surplus left in the treasury.

Throughout the evening music was furnished by the Cub Orchestra, composed of M. S. Goldman, Raymond Jones and Joe Earnest. A banquet with more real enthusiasm and good will was never given in Colorado.

J. Lee Sanders, district manager for the Union Life Insurance Company of Fort Worth, left Saturday for Lamesa where he is establishing an office. Mr. Sanders has charge of a West Texas district embracing 22 counties. He maintains general offices at Colorado.

THEFT OF SILVERWARE CHARGED AT BANQUET

An unusual stir was occasioned at the Lions Club banquet Friday night just before the program was ended, when Col. C. M. Adams, tall twister of the organization, arose from his place at one of the tables and announced that the charge had been received by him that some member of the club was pilfering silverware.

"This is a most embarrassing duty that I have been called upon to perform," Col. Adams stated, and it could be easily detected that he was deeply effected. "However, I am going to take a stand to demand that this club be vindicated of a most serious charge."

"The landlady has complained to me that on one or two previous occasions when this club was in session in this room her silverware has been appropriated in some manner. She has just renewed that charge and states that even tonight, as we are met here in the presence of these young men, about whom every Lion should strive to place every good example, that several pieces of silverware have been taken from its place in this room."

Detecting a suspicious (?) look upon the countenance of Rev. J. E. Chase, pastor of the First Christian church, the tall twister rushed to where the minister was seated and demanded that he submit to having his person searched. Commandeering other Lions to assist him, Col. Adams immediately instituted a search of the minister's pockets, with the result that several pieces of valuable silverware were recovered.

The joke easily proved one of the best numbers on the evening's program. It is needless to state that Rev. Mr. Chase proved to be a "good sport" and seeing that he had been caught "red handed" attempted to justify his possession of the valuable assortment of knives, forks and spoons through the declaration that he merely wanted to obtain a Christmas gift for the mistress of the First Christian parsonage.

$50,000 STREET PAVING BONDS VOTED AT SNYDER

By an overwhelming vote, citizens of Snyder recently authorized a bond issue of $50,000 to pay the city's part of street paving there. The public square and several adjoining streets are to be paved. There were only 19 votes polled against the issue.

LITTLE THEATRE CLOSES MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Winning the merited acclaim of the theatre going public of Colorado as an outstanding factor in the social life of the community and an organization of unusual success, The Colorado Little Theatre has closed its first fiscal year and started out to make the second round of the calendar, this time with ambitions and ideals larger than ever before.

The last program of the first year in the history of this organization was given at the Legion Memorial building Monday evening to a large and appreciative audience. Every number of the program was highly entertaining and well rendered. Following the program the annual business meeting was convened and officers elected as follows for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. C. C. Thompson; vice president, Jack Helton; recording secretary, Miss Hazel Costin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ross Dixon; treasurer, Joe H. Smoot.

Announcement was made following adjournment of the meeting that the programs would be given at the Palace Theatre hereafter. The usual membership dues of $1 per year will continue to be charged. Employment of a teacher in the public schools who would devote a part of her time as director of the theatre, was recommended to the school board.

Mrs. Wm. Simpson has been given much credit for the splendid success attained by the Colorado Little Theatre. She has received the full co-operation of the several federated woman's clubs of Colorado, the Choral Club, High School Orchestra and the American Legion. The orchestra and combined choral clubs of Colorado, Snyder and Sweetwater filled an important part on the program Monday evening.

TWO MEXICANS INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION SUNDAY

Two Mexicans, one a boy of about ten years and the other a young woman, were painfully injured in an automobile accident at Walnut and Eighth streets Sunday afternoon at one o'clock, when the machine in which they were driving west on Eighth street was crashed into by the automobile of James Bennett of Lorraine, who was driving south on Walnut. None of the four occupants of the Bennett machine were injured.

The Road of Happiness
by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Across the rolling hills of life
A friendly highway leads,
A road whose every wondrous mile
Is paved with noble deeds.
For any man this course begins
Where will and judgment meet,
Where solemn purpose points the way
And kindness guides his feet.

This highway is the only road
That leads to great success;
No other trail, no sidelong path
Will find true happiness.
Though up and down its route may run
It carries straight and far
And gains at last that haven where Life's great possessions are.

The youth who sets a worthy goal
And formulates a plan
Of progress that enables him
To serve his fellow men
Begins at once to know the joys
That glorify and bless
The lives of those who daily walk
The Road of Happiness.

PUBLISHERS AND STAFF OF RECORD GUESTS OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

"Colorado Record Night," was fittingly observed by officials of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening of last week, when publishers of The Record, members of the staff and their wives were entertained at a banquet at the Barcroft Hotel. Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided, and in calling the assembly to order announced:

"This is above all things else, press number, in so far as this meeting is concerned, and I desire to make my statement even stronger. It is The Colorado Record number, arranged by the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of paying honor to those who have done so much for this community."

Rev. J. E. Chase, pastor of the First Christian church, was the first speaker introduced, and delivered an interesting address from the subject, "What a Newspaper is Worth to the Community." The newspaper, as an agency in crystallizing public sentiment and in taking the initiative of leadership in all public problems hold an enviable distinction, he stated.

"The newspaper can lead its constituency in almost any direction, and for the most part I am proud to note that the men who are giving the public the country newspaper in these days are men of honor and integrity, making proper use of their power of leadership and moulding of public sentiment," Chase stated.

The next speaker was J. H. Greene, member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Greene paid a tribute to The Record for the splendid manner in which it had always stood for the best of everything for Colorado and Mitchell county.

"I have personally known the policies of The Record during the past twenty years," Greene stated, and during that time there has never developed a program calculated to be for the best interest of this city and county but that The Record has stood at the very top in the line of the fight in sponsoring those things," Greene recited a number of specific civic programs down through the years which had been fostered and successfully carried by the paper.

W. S. Cooper, who is jointly associated with The Record and the Chamber of Commerce, was the next speaker to be introduced.

"This is purely a family affair, in so far as I am concerned," the speaker stated in beginning his address. "I am associated with the host and the guests, and in so far as I am personally concerned the same splendid spirit upon the part of both the Chamber of Commerce and publishers of The Record which we see demonstrated here tonight, has been accorded me during the almost five years I have been in Colorado."

Cooper declared that in spite of the fact some might misjudge his real feelings in the matter, under the presumption he was "bragging on myself I am going to state The Colorado Record is the best country weekly in Texas." Policy of the publishers in sponsoring all the good things for this city and county, whether it be educational, religious, social, civic or commercial, was outlined. That The Record would continue to hold its enviable distinction as an institution with one ideal—that of meriting the confidence of the public—was promised.

paper into my home for my family to read. This I cannot say for some others I might mention."

Rev. Mr. Elliott charged that the business and professional interests of Colorado were obligated to the publishers and should patronize the advertising columns of the paper, perhaps, more than they do. The speaker was interrupted by the toastmaster when he said The Record was one of the best newspapers in the country. "It is not one of the best, but is the best," came the rejoinder from Dr. Coleman.

Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, society editor on The Record, was next presented, and in a most gracious manner spoke of the sincere appreciation she and others of The Record "family" held for those who had thus honored them. She declared the occasion to be a most beautiful one to her.

F. B. Whipkey, member of the Whipkey Printing Company, owners of the large plant from which The Record is published, arose from his place at the banquet table after being called upon by several of those present. It was evident that the newspaper man was deeply affected as he started to speak. The many words of praise which had been spoken of the institution he represented had reached a responsive chord in his heart.

Mr. Whipkey gave an interesting resume of the growth of The Record since acquired by he and his brother, A. L. Whipkey, some twenty years ago.

"When we bought the plant in 1905, it was valued at $495," he said. "Now the plant represents an investment in keeping with the worth of the largest concerns of Colorado. And we contemplate additional equipment to care for the growing business at this office. Just now we contemplate installing a modern newspaper press, to print direct from the roll, an equipment only found in the daily newspaper office."

The speaker closed his address reading a fitting poem, which he had committed to memory from the Masonic Monitor. At the conclusion of the address by F. B. Whipkey, the visitors left the banquet room and Dr. Coleman called the Chamber of Commerce into executive session.

The visitors were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Whipkey, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, W. W. Whipkey, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reid, R. L. Farmer, all of whom are associated with The Record, and Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Chase, Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Bishop, Rev. J. F. Lawlis and T. W. Carpenter, Dallas, vice president and general manager of the Texas Light & Power Company; Lon A. Geer of Sweetwater, manager of the West Texas Electric Company, G. A. Lackie of Sweetwater, manager of the Sweetwater Hatchery, and J. L. Kuykendall of Lorraine.

PROMINENT NEWSPAPER MAN VISITS COLORADO FRIDAY

Max Bentley of Abilene, West Texas staff representative for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and a number of leading periodicals of America, spent a short visit here Friday afternoon. Mr. Bentley is on a tour covering several counties of West Texas to obtain data for a series of articles for the Star-Telegram.

Bentley, for many years managing editor of the Houston Chronicle, is recognized as one of the strongest newspaper writers on any of the large Texas papers. He will be remembered as having spent several days at Colorado immediately following the cyclone last year, "covering" the storm for his papers.

Data for an article on Colorado and Mitchell county was furnished Mr. Bentley by the Chamber of Commerce. The article is to appear at an early date in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The petition of the plaintiff, alleges the City of Colorado issued to the West Texas Construction Company, a corporation, a certificate of special assessment dated February 28th, 1924, executed by the City of Colorado to the West Texas Construction Company, and its assigns, for the pro rata part of the cost of improving a portion of Second street, in said city, payable by the true owners of said property, who are the defendants herein, the said property against which the said assessment is levied, being more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

That the defendants, and each of them, have or claim some right, title, or interest in and to the premises, but such claim, right, title or interest, as they, or any of them have, is subject and subordinate to the lien and claim of the plaintiff, created by said proceedings.

Tucker, and the unknown heirs of C. M. Tucker, and the heirs and legal representatives of the heirs and unknown heirs of C. M. Tucker, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of the heirs and unknown heirs of C. M. Tucker, are defendants.

The petition of the plaintiff, alleges the City of Colorado issued to the West Texas Construction Company, a corporation, a certificate of special assessment dated February 28th, 1924, executed by the City of Colorado to the West Texas Construction Company, and its assigns, for the pro rata part of the cost of improving a portion of Second street, in said city, payable by the true owners of said property, who are the defendants herein, the said property against which the said assessment is levied, being more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Being Section 44, Block 26, T. & P. Ry. Co. Survey, situated in the City of Colorado, County of Mitchell, State of Texas, being the East 25 feet of lot No. 6, in Block No. 37, of Colorado, Texas, according to Plat of said Town of record in Volume "C" Page 250, of the Deed Records of Mitchell County, Texas.

The said certificate further certifies that by virtue of an ordinance of the City Council of the City of Colorado, passed on the 4th day of August, 1923, there was levied an assessment and tax in the sum of Two Hundred Ninety-Two and 52-100 Dollars ($292.52) against said property and against the said owners, payable in six equal installments after February 28th, 1924, as follows:

One due in thirty days after said date, and one due in one, two, three, four and five years, respectively, after said date, with interest from said date at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable annually, and said certificate recites substantially that all proceedings with reference to making such improvements have been regularly had in compliance with the laws and the Charter of said City, and the plaintiff specially alleges and charges that all of said proceedings and all prerequisites to the fixing of the lien and claim of personal liability evidenced thereby required or provided by law have been taken, had, done, and performed; that default has been made by the defendants in payment of the first installment, and for such default, the said West Texas Construction Company, the owner and holder of said certificate, has requested the City of Colorado to enforce the same, after having first declared the entire certificate due, both principal and interest, and though often requested the defendants, and each of them, have paid no part of said indebtedness, except the sum of Twenty and 46-100 Dollars ($20.46), to plaintiff's damage in the sum of Six Hundred Dollars ($600.00) and attorney's fees in the sum of Seventy-Five Dollars ($75.00).

That the defendants, and each of them, have or claim some right, title, or interest in and to the premises, but such claim, right, title or interest, as they, or any of them have, is subject and subordinate to the lien and claim of the plaintiff, created by said proceedings.

WHEREFORE, the plaintiff prays that it have judgment against the said defendants, and each of them, for the amount of said assessment, together with interest thereon, and a reasonable attorneys' fee, costs of suit, and that it have judgment establishing and foreclosing as against all defendants its lien upon the premises securing said assessment, and that the said premises upon foreclosure be sold as under execution after issuance of an order of sale.

That the defendants, and each of them, have or claim some right, title, or interest in and to the premises, but such claim, right, title or interest, as they, or any of them have, is subject and subordinate to the lien and claim of the plaintiff, created by said proceedings.

WHEREFORE, the plaintiff prays that it have judgment against the said defendants, and each of them, for the amount of said assessment, together with interest thereon, and a reasonable attorneys' fee, costs of suit, and that it have judgment establishing and foreclosing as against all defendants its lien upon the premises securing said assessment, and that the said premises upon foreclosure be sold as under execution after issuance of an order of sale.

Herein fail not, but have before said court on the first day of the aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

COLORADO CLUB WOMAN IS ORIGINAL VERSE COMPOSER

Mrs. Elizabeth Grubbs McCleary, prominent Colorado club woman, is attaining considerable recognition as a writer in verse. Among her best contributions recently made public is embodied in the lines, "Will Texas Forget," written by Mrs. McCleary to commemorate Armistice. The poem, written a few days before the last Armistice anniversary, was read by her as a part of the program given by club women of Colorado on the afternoon of November 11 at the American Legion Memorial building. The poem follows:

WILL TEXAS FORGET?

Will Texas forget those eventful years

When the world was dripping with blood;

When war with its terror drenched with tears

Our friends, while we on the outside stood;

When peace was ours no longer to claim,

And our sun of serenity had set,

When smouldering patriotism burst into flame—

Will Texas forget?

Will Texas forget when her country's call

Was heard by her boys, yours and mine,

How they willingly, gladly gave up all

On humanity's golden shrine?

Will Texas forget when they marched away

With no word or sigh of regret,

When fathers and mothers for strength did pray—

Will Texas forget?

Will Texas forget all those bitter days

In trenches amid dangers spent,

With nothing but war upon which to gaze,

Mad war, upon destruction bent;

Will Texas forget those poppy blown mounds

Where mother's sons are sleeping yet,

Far removed from all battle's sounds,

Will Texas forget?

Will Texas forget those mothers who prayed

That their boys in safety would be,

That war's cruel hand forever be stayed,

And nations could ever be free.

How eagerly watched with eyes that were blurred,

They whose hair was no longer jet,

For just a line 'e'en one little word—

Will Texas forget?

Will Texas forget the first Armistice Day

How our hearts leaped high with joys,

And each one declared in his or her way

"There's nothing too good for the boys."

Will Texas forget to make good her vow

To these boys who paid her debt?

If not, let's be doing it now—

Will Texas forget?

Will Texas forget to use every power

That wars between nations will cease.

That our sons and daughters may know evermore

Naught but the blessings of peace?

Will Texas forget God's still on His throne,

And allows no good thing beset,

That He is ever mindful of His own—

Will Texas forget?

Nay, the American blood of our great State

Is as blue and as true as of old,

She honors, thrice honors the boys whose fate

And glorious deeds will never be told;

She'll take up the torch and carry it high—

"God of our fathers be with us yet."

Keep watch with they protecting eye,

And Texas will not forget.

NEED OF BATH HOUSE FOR GRID PLAYERS OUTLINED

The Colorado football squad for another season should have at its disposal an adequate bath house, provided with lockers, hot and cold water and several showers, was the statement of E. F. King, superintendent of the Colorado schols in an address delivered at the Lions Club banquet Friday night.

During the season just ended these fellows were forced to use improvised showers in a small compartment at the school building, he stated. Among the many inconveniences cited by King there was not a locker nor convenience of any kind to be found in the compartment.

T. & P. TRACK IMPROVEMENT.

It will be but a brief time now until the Texas & Pacific railway will have their track improvement completed to Big Spring. The laying of heavy steel is just about completed to this city. The first spreading of ballast has been completed to the new switch five miles east of town and the last coating of ballast has been completed to Coahoma. Ziller is the name of the passing track recently established five miles east of Big Spring. This track is extra long and will take care of the longest trains which the large engines now handle on the Rio Grande division.

The completion of the steel laying and ballasting will mark a new era in the service of the T. & P. as they will have as fine a track between Big Spring and Fort Worth as any railroad system in the country.

The use of oil burning engines, and the absence of dust and cinders will be features which will appeal to the traveling public.

The laying of heavy steel westward from Big Spring is now in progress. The construction gang has completed this work past Morita, ten miles west of this city—Big Spring Herald.

SIMMONS COLLEGE

The student body and faculty of Simmons College on Thursday morning pledged $36,000 as a part of the endowment fund which is now being raised for future support of this, the leading institution of the West.

Inspired by speech delivered by Prof. L. Q. Campbell, said to be the most brilliant ever heard in the halls of Simmons, backed by the courage and optimism of President J. D. Sanderfer, the drive for campaign pledges was begun before those in authority were aware of what was taking place.

The plan was to merely announce the drive, it was said, and appoint committees and representatives to present the movement to the various student organizations. But announcement of several one thousand dollar gifts from members of the student body quickly followed by several pledges of five hundred and lesser denominations, convinced President Sanderfer that the iron was hot for the striking. The result was that within a short while the subscription reached $36,000. It is expected that this amount will be raised to more than $40,000 from the student body before the holidays.

The occasion was celebrated in the afternoon by a parade through the streets of Abilene, led by the Simmons Cowboy Band. The parade was a spectacle to Abilene and vicinity because of the spirit and enthusiasm manifested. Banners, bearing slogans for the drive were piercing in their effect upon the bystanders. The slogan of the Seniors was especially effective. It was "Simmons University on our 1925 diplomas."

The Standard club met with Mrs. Coleman. Mrs. Sherwin led Shakespeare lesson according to the year book. Mrs. Sherwin gave a paper, "Compare Caesar's Ambition to Macbeth's." At the social hour the hostess served a salad course. The meeting this week will be with Mrs. W. M. Elliott.

COMMERCIAL HATCHERY PROPOSED FOR COLORADO

Tentative plans for bringing a large commercial hatchery to Colorado as the first step toward material encouragement to enlarge the poultry industry in Mitchell county were completed at a meeting of executive officials of the Chamber of Commerce and other interested parties here Thursday night at the Barcroft Hotel. The plan, as approved by the Chamber of Commerce, is to perfect organization of a joint stock company with capitalization sufficiently large to finance and operate the proposed plant, which would be operated for the purpose of hatching eggs for farmers and other citizens of this territory, based upon a reasonable fee.

F. W. Kazmeir of Bryan, former poultry husbandman of A. & M. College; G. A. Lackie, manager of the Sweetwater Hatchery, and J. L. Kuykendall, poultry breeder of Lorraine, were in Colorado the first of last week, and strongly endorsed location of the proposed hatchery here. Kazmeir, conceded one of the leading poultry experts of the Southwest, was especially interested in plans to inaugurate a hatchery here, largely because of the climatic conditions being peculiarly adapted to poultry raising to advantage and the further fact that many of the diseases prevalent among the birds in other parts of Texas are not found here.

Messrs. Lackie and Kuykendall returned to Colorado Thursday and met with the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night, at which time the varied details of operating a commercial hatchery and of the initiative such a move would have in fostering the poultry industry among the citizenship of the county were explained. The result was that the plan was given endorsement by the civic body and more than fifty per cent of the estimated capitalization subscribed before the meeting adjourned.

Figures showing the success being attained by those who have entered the poultry business along approved methods, either exclusively or as a side line on the farm, were submitted. The rapid development of the poultry industry in other Texas counties wherein the commercial or other organizations had fostered hatcheries was cited.

The proposed plant will not be fostered for the purpose of entering the poultry business, it was pointed out. The hatchery, if brought to Colorado, will be devoted to the work of hatching eggs for the general public, as the means of co-operating with poultry raisers to turn their eggs into baby chicks and subsequently broilers and fryers. With the hatchery available, these birds can be hatched at any time and brought on the market during the season of the year in which good prices are always to be had.

The suggestion of Mr. Lackie was that the proposed plant here begin operations with two hatcheries of 10,000 egg capacity each, making a plant capacity of 20,000 eggs. He estimated that the plant would operate to capacity for five months in the year.

Speakers in discussing the plan emphasized the declaration that the poultry industry is one of the largest in America, and as a business from which substantial dividends may reasonably be expected has few equals. In addition to furnishing an income to the farmer during the late winter and spring months, at a season when he could expect no income from staple crops grown in this section, the man with a flock of birds about his place reduces the monthly grocery bill, owing to the fact that poultry and poultry products supplement items usually carried in the family pantry and supplied by the grocer.

A committee composed of J. H. Greene, W. S. Cooper and R. P. Price was named by the Chamber of Commerce to represent the organization in completing details of bringing the hatchery to this city. Interested citizens who would identify themselves with the move should confer with the members of this committee.

There was another wreck near Stanton last Thursday night when a car driven by some Stanton girls collided with a car chauffeured by some Colorado boys. The car with the girls was overturned, inflicting some injuries upon several of the girls. Miss Rena Blocker received a broken collar bone, and Miss Jones was cut and bruised in several places. The other girls escaped with minor injuries and slight scratches.—Stanton Reporter.

BIG SPRING COTTON RECEIPTS PASS TOTAL RECEIVED IN 1923

The cotton receipts at the local cotton yard are now 14,115. According to T. W. Angel, public weigher, they now exceed the total receipts for last season; the 1923-24 total being 13,521 bales. Mr. Angel estimates that he will weigh 16,000 bales here this season.

The daily receipts now average 184 bales per day, quite a considerable drop from the 250 daily average before the appearance of the freeze some two weeks ago.

The receipts at Coahoma are now in excess of 4000 bales.—Big Spring Herald.

MAKE IT A FORD.

Christmas this year will bring automobile ownership to thousands of persons who never before even thought they would ever enjoy such a thing.

Of course, the giving of an automobile at Christmas time has been a practice for years. Families have bought new automobiles to replace old ones, the thoughtful husband has surprised his wife with a new car and indulgent yet practical fathers, to retain larger cars for family use, have played the role of Santa Claus and presented sons and daughters with Ford runabouts or coupes as personal cars, a practice, which, by the way, is becoming quite popular.

But for those to whom the ownership of an automobile has heretofore seemed impossible, the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan is now playing the role of Santa Claus. Thousands of persons who enrolled under the plan early in the year and made their weekly payments will this Christmas take delivery of their cars, and receive a Christmas gift that gives year 'round pleasure.

Approximately 150,000 persons already have secured their cars under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan and this number will be materially increased before the close of the approaching Christmas season.

The convenient manner in which payments may be made under the plan and other attractive features connected with it, make it possible for most anyone to purchase a Ford car. Dealers throughout the country already have begun to report enrollments of persons who plan on a Ford for Christmas next year and it is expected that similar enrollments will show a large gain during the next month or so, for people of limited means everywhere are finding this an easy and practical way to purchase a car.

Methodist Notes.

There was 197 present at Sunday school last Sunday. Let's try and make it 250 next Sunday. Our pastor will preach at the morning hour to the children. The text will be, "Singers Overboard." At the evening hour "A Good Man's Hell." Every one is cordially invited to attend the services.—Reporter.

Baptist Notes

Three weeks ago our pastor received a severe pounding after which he left for his home at Abilene with such a heavily loaded car that he had two breakdowns before reaching home about 3 o'clock in the morning. On arriving home he found the house full of company and he had to sleep on the floor. Such was a preacher's luck, however, he was able to return at the proper time to his church looking better in appearance (much fed up) The time had seemed so long since our last preaching service and all even the children looked forward to time for regular church services. So Sunday morning he preached such an encouraging sermon on the heirship of the children. God, he said in part, being partners and equal heirs, with Jesus our salvation is assured for God is not going to take his heirship from his son. Also we are heirs to the great promises. Bro. and Sister Cole of Valley View joined our church. We are so glad to have them join our church. At the evening hour he gave us a message from the story of the cross. A message that never fails to thrill the soul of the redeemed.

W. A. Sloan and family were here Sunday afternoon from Roscoe visiting relatives.

Messrs. Paul Terrell and Harold and Bill Martin returned Saturday from a hunting trip to Southwest Texas.

Mr. Glenn Coon who is working for Brown-Abbott Co. at Sweetwater spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coon.

Mr. W. M. Cardwell is in Plainview this week on business.

the high schools are classified and accredited for the purpose of establishing educational standards, encouraging schools to attain these standards and certifying those that have attained them so as to facilitate the transfer of students to any other school or college. In order that the schools may be properly certified it is essential that the minimum requirements as outlined in bulletin No. 182 be met. To that end the supervisor who recently visited your school makes the following recommendations: 1st That, Loraine be classified as a four-year high school if two requirements are met. The board of trustees in session assured the supervisor that the requirements would be met and the department of education notified.

2nd That the auditorium be fitted for a study hall.

3. That if the school continues its growth a teacher will be needed for the high school for next session.

4. That the few remaining double desks be replaced with single ones.

5. That additional books for English and history be bought for the library.

6. That more current magazines be procured for the purpose of teaching current events.

7. That all material submitted for affiliation be given careful consideration.

8. That the town of Loraine should be commended for the following:

It has built and equipped a modern brick building one that would be a credit to a much larger town. The P. T. A. has bought and paid for an excellent new piano, maps, charts and dictionaries also 50 victor records for the elementary school. Furthermore, under the auspices of the P. T. A. 100 trees have been planted and a home demonstration club has been started and $150 will be spent this year on the library for the elementary school.

9. That the supervisor has seldom seen such determination on the part of the board of trustees, the faculty, the student body, the parent-teacher association to make the Loraine school a first class affiliated high school. The town is united in its efforts to make the school such that it will be a pride to the community. With such backing the school will go forward. The people of Loraine feel proud of this report and the student body will do everything in its power to merit the approbation received.

Miss Claudia Alford, our popular foreign language teacher, is ill this week and her place is being supplied by Mrs. Morgan Hall. Mrs. Hall is a graduate of Simmons College. The department of English is being heavily stressed now and Mr. Bythe says after the holidays double periods will be given to 8th and 9th grade classes. English seems to be one of our weak points.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smiles returned home Sunday from a visit to Dallas and Gainesville.

Mr. Lewis Collier of Colorado was the guest of Mrs. Emmett Richardson Monday afternoon.

SCHOOL BOARD REQUESTED EMPLOY FOOTBALL COACH

That the school board be requested to employ an athletic director as member of the faculty another year was indicated in addresses delivered at a recent meeting of the Colorado Lions club. That such a move would be in keeping with the best interests of the schools of the city was declared by Superintendent E. F. King and others who spoke on the matter.

It would require an additional expense because of the increased salary such a director would command, it was pointed out, but this would be justifiable through the material worth a good football team and other athletic organizations would be to the schools.

Management of the Colorado Little Theatre will also file request with the school board that a teacher capable of directing the theatre and who would devote necessary time to this organization be employed on the faculty next year.

The school board has not been approached in the matter, it is stated, and it is not known what action may be contemplated. Limited finances may prohibit employment of either of the directors requested.

O. LAMBETH WILL ENLARGE COLORADO POULTRY FARM

O. Lambeth is completing installation of a commercial hatching plant at his poultry farm immediately west of Colorado which will rank with the best in this section. A large commercial incubator was received at the farm this week and is being set up ready for operations. He already had at this farm one of the best equipped plants for breeding poultry in this section of the State.

The new addition to the Lambeth poultry farm will be operated for both his own use in hatching eggs from his large flock of white leghorns and for hatching eggs for the general public. Lambeth determined upon the plan of extending his business in the poultry line after several months of experimenting with white leghorns. He found that the business is a profitable one and has great faith in the potentialities of the poultry industry in Mitchell county.

Another addition to the Lambeth Poultry Farm this week was 35 standard bred white leghorn cockerels, purchased from one of the leading poultry breeders of the country. These have been added to his flock of 1,300 birds at the farm.

To substantiate his claims that the poultry business is a dividend payer, Lambeth stated Tuesday that he was gathering an average of thirty-four dozen fresh eggs daily. Poultry breeders state that the demand for eggs from standard bred stock for hatching purposes is unusually large, meaning that an attractive price is always available.

D. V. Merritt, employed by Lambeth for some time as manager at the poultry farm, has recently purchased an equity in the business. He will continue as manager of the business.

FLYING CIRCUS.

The Lone Star Flyers, an organization with headquarters in Dallas, Texas, will be in Colorado this week doing commercial flying, passenger carrying and on Sunday afternoon will give a free exhibition of stunt flying, wing walking and aerial acrobatics. The personnel of this flying circus includes Ted Kincanon and Jim Ingram, pilots of several years commercial experience and ex-army pilots. Leonard Loerwald is a stunt man of note who will furnish wing walking thrills. This organization has toured practically the entire central and eastern states since its organization in 1920. Their prime purpose in this work is a general education for the public in the safety and practicability of the airplane. These boys have sold numbers of airplanes during the past two years and taught the buyers to fly. They sold six ships in Illinois this summer and delivered all by air from Texas without a single mishap. Not even a flat tire. On these trips the ship leaves Texas in the morning and is delivered in Illinois the same afternoon. The prices on ships ranges from $750 to $200 for new planes.

CISCO LOBOES TO TACKLE OAK CLIFF LEOPARDS SAT.

The toughest assignment that has been given them since the game early in the season with the Abilene Eagles will be met by the Cisco Loboes at Dallas next Saturday when they play the Oak Cliff Leopards to determine which team will go into the finals for the state championship. The location of the game was decided following the Oak Cliff-Vernon battle last Saturday when the Leopards emerged victorious. A grid game is scheduled for the Fair Park stadium at Dallas next Saturday and this will make it impossible for the high school teams to play on this field. Ownby Oval at S. M. U. is unsatisfactory from a financial standpoint, on account of it being possible for so many people to enter without paying the entrance fee, and there is a possibility that the contest will be moved up to Friday so that the stadium might be utilized.

The Loboes came out of last Friday's game in fairly good condition. Wilson called time out on one occasion on account of a new injury to his finger but there is every probability that the entire squad will enter Friday's combat in first-class condition. Wilson, despite having a nail torn from one of his fingers before the game, was a veritable demon on line plunging last Friday and is counted upon to repeat against the Leopards.

What is probably by far the most powerful line they have encountered this season will go up against the Loboes Saturday. The Cisco line up until three weeks ago was its main strength, but with the development of an offense the Loboes have shown tremendous improvement. Local fans are confident that Loboes not only will be able to hold the Leopards on defense but that Wilson, Morse, Browne and Fields will find it possible to romp through the tackles for long gains as a result of holes bored by Irving and McCord. In that pair Coach Chapman has two of the tightest tackles in the state and if Oak Cliff proves able to hold them it will be the first opponent that has been able to do so.

Inasmuch as the game is so far away from this section and has been set for Saturday during the preliminary holiday rush, there is little likelihood that many people will attend from this section. The game will be followed with close interest throughout West Texas, however, as the Loboes now are the only West Texas team in the running for the state title.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH WILL ERECT NEW BUILDING

(Editor's Note.—This is the third of a series of articles dealing with the churches of Colorado. The fourth installment is to appear in the issue for next week.)

That plans of the First Christian church to erect a modern place of worship in Colorado have passed the tentative stage was indicated in a statement made at the church Sunday night by L. W. Sandusky, member of the board of deacons. Judge Sandusky stated that the board had about completed plans for financing the proposed new place of worship and would make definite announcement as to type of building, location of same and other details at an early date.

The First Christian church has contemplated a new building for several months. The congregation owns two desirable locations, site of the present church at Second and Chestnut streets, and another site purchased a few months ago at Elm and Fourth streets. Rev. J. E. Chase, the pastor, stated Monday that it had not definitely been determined which of the two sites would be chosen for the new building.

The Record staff representative attended religious services at the First Christian church Sunday and was accorded one of the most congenial welcomes on the series of visits to the churches begun three weeks before. We were met at the door by W. A. Crowder, who cordially received us into the church and just as we were escorted to a convenient pew the pastor and others again welcomed us into the church.

The Sunday school, with an enrollment of 147, registered an attendance of 105. The Sunday previous 106 were reported present in the eleven classes. This is one of the best regulated Sunday schools in Colorado. Teacher and pupil were found to be united in a most splendid way in the work they were doing. W. W. Porter is superintendent of the school.

Two most interesting contests are now in progress in this Sunday school. One of them is waged between the boys and girls of the school as to attendance, the losing side becoming the "goat" for the week. Last Sunday the girls, which as a rule are registering the larger attendance, were shown to be well in the lead.

The other contest, participated in by the eleven different classes, is represented in a round the world airplane flight. A large placard, on which is outlined the recent flight of the round the world army flyers, is posted in a convenient place in the church auditorium. Each class is represented by an airplane. New members, perfect attendance, good lessons and other points entitle the class to progress of one hundred miles.

The eleven o'clock services were of more than usual interest. The Woman's Missionary Society had charge of this service and two members of the society, Mmes. R. U. Boan and J. E. Chase, delivered addresses, outlining accomplishments of the organization and duties to be met by its members and others in carrying out its programs.

Mrs. Boan, the first speaker, gave a most interesting address, dealing with the institutions of education which have been founded and maintained by the Christian church and the Woman's Missionary Society. She told of the struggles at times encountered by these schools, and of the success that had come to them in after years.

Mrs. Chase, the second speaker delivered a forceful address on the duty of the Christian in supporting its foreign mission work, as well as every phase of Christian service. The importance of service, it mattering not what our position in life or in the church may be, was given emphasis by the speaker. She outlined that church union was not near so important as union in purpose and spirit among Christian workers.

Mrs. Chase talked at length upon conditions in some of the foreign fields now being worked by missionaries of the church. The wonderful advancement in social conditions among the natives who are being reached by the message of these missionaries was told. So interesting were the addresses of these two ladies that the congregation sat attentively until one o'clock, when the program was ended.

Another interesting service was held at 8:30 Sunday afternoon when the Christian Endeavor, young people's organization, met for their weekly devotional program. There are 14 young people enrolled in this organization and their programs are always well rendered and of a deeply interesting and instructive nature. At this service plans for giving the Haley programs here this week were arranged.

Sunday evening at 7:30 the pastor delivered a forceful sermon on the foundation of the Christian church, reading as his text Acts 2:41, "The Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved." This sermon, in keeping with those to be expected at any of the preaching services at the First Christian church, was forceful and carried with it the weight of both Christian instruction and penetrating evidence of the duty of the professed Christian.

Rev. J. E. Chase, the pastor, came to Colorado January 1, from Newcastle and immediately won for himself the distinction of being one of the leading ministers of the city. He is one of the most popular pastors of Colorado, interested in the different problems of our religious, educational and civic life. He is secretary of the Colorado Ministerial Association and an active member of the Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club.

The First Christian church, with a membership of less than 150 people, is among the strong religious organizations of the city. Budget for the present year is $4,630 and in keeping with the policy of the church membership, it will be paid in full.

There is not a congregation in the city extending a more cordial welcome to visitors who would participate in any feature of the church worship. And, side by side with this distinction of hospitality, walks the creditable distinction of the parishioners to fill their places well in the church, it mattering not what duty they may be called upon to fulfill.

TWO PROMISING NEW FOOD PLANTS FOR THE SOUTH

Taros and Yautias, two promising new food plants for the South, have been adapted for cultivation as annual crops in the Southern United States through the efforts of the United States department of agriculture. As food the corns and tubers of the Taros and Yautias are comparable with the potato, though on account of being drier, most of the better kinds contain much higher percentages of starch and protein. Maturing in the early fall and winter, when home-grown potatoes are scarce, these new crops have high potential value for the far South. The young leaves of all varieties, after being cooked by special methods to destroy their acidity, are eaten as greens. The flowers may also be cooked and eaten.

The dashen type of Taros has proved to be the most valuable for cultivation in the Southern states. The other good Taros and promising Yautias are described in Department Bulletin No. 1247, just issued by the United States department of agriculture. A copy of either or both of these bulletins may be had as long as the supply lasts, upon request from the United States department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.
