

BIG DELEGATION WILL GO TO AMARILLO CONVENTION

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL CARRY BAND AND BOOSTERS TO C. OF C. MEETING

The largest delegation of Colorado boosters to ever attend a convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be aboard the Colorado special train, scheduled to leave here the day before the next annual convention of this regional organization is to convene at Amarillo in June. Chamber of commerce officials estimate that 200 people will accompany the city's prize winning musical organization to Amarillo.

"Colorado cannot do anything else but put this trip over in a big way," Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the chamber of commerce, stated Monday. "Our band is recognized as the gold medal band of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the best out of fifty-five competing bands at Mineral Wells last year, and we shall not overlook anything calculated to show our appreciation of this honor."

Dr. Coleman and other officials of the chamber of commerce have stated that the general public at Colorado is lining up in a splendid way to make the Amarillo trip a big success. Owing to crowded hotel conditions in the convention city, it is believed that the special all Pullman train, which will be parked in the city during the convention, will induce many visitors to change their plans for making the trip by motor car and go aboard the special.

Members of the band have charged in the past that Colorado has not demonstrated the support the city might have given the band at these annual conventions. The band has always made the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce conventions, but delegations accompanying the musical organization has, as a rule, been small.

"It would add much to the morale of the band to have about two hundred live boosters go with us to Amarillo," one of the band boys stated Monday. "Of course, we are going to Amarillo to do our best for the city we are so proud of, but we would feel better about it if two or three hundred other citizens would go along and share the glory with us."

This is exactly what the Chamber of Commerce hopes to do. It is expected that definite plans, looking to chartering the special train and interesting a large delegation for the Amarillo trip, will be worked out by the chamber of commerce next week when the executive board is to convene for the May session.

The Colorado Chamber of Commerce Band established a precedent at Mineral Wells last year in the winnings taken. In addition to easily winning place as the gold medal band of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, every other trophy competed for was captured by Director M. S. Goldman and his men.

"Colorado has its first time to announce that a special train would be operated out of this city and then make a failure of those plans," was the declaration of an enthusiastic Coloradoan Monday. "We are not going to fail in our plans for doing big things at Amarillo."

Perry Harrison of Los Angeles, Calif., is here this week visiting his sister, Mrs. Fayette Robinson. Mr. Harrison was an early day citizen of Colorado in the '80s was here when the old livery stable was built in 1884, now being torn down for the Hotel Colorado site. He was also here when this building was burned in 1885 and then saw it rebuilt. Mr. Harrison was greatly surprised at Colorado's growth.

Harvey Phillips of Dallas and Roy Phillips of Abilene have been at the bedside of their sister, Juliette, who has been critically ill with pneumonia. The little patient is now convalescing according to advices from the sick room Wednesday.

WONDERFUL FUTURE IS PROMISED COLORADO

"I have no occasion to change my views as to possibilities of the Colorado oil field and your splendid little city," was the statement of R. M. Hoffer of San Angelo, district representative of the Oil & Gas Division, State Railroad Commission, who spent a business visit at Colorado and in the field last week.

Discovery of the shallow field by Owens & Sloan and erection of the modern five-story hotel at Colorado are going to mean much to all interests concerned here, he stated. Hoffer expressed much optimism in discussing possibilities of developing a large shallow field southwest of Colorado.

Erection of the hotel, Mr. Hoffer declares, will fill a much needed want here. With adequate hotel facilities Colorado should maintain its distinction as being the operating center covering a wide territory in this part of West Texas.

LESLIE ELATED OVER THE SUPPORT FOR CIVIL BENCH

Hon. W. P. Leslie, judge of the 32nd judicial district and candidate for the court of civil appeals at Eastland, place No. 1, left Tuesday morning for Hamlin to attend the district conference, Sweetwater district, Methodist church, South.

Judge Leslie stated that owing to the fact he was busy holding court he would not be able to devote the time he would like to advancing his candidacy. However, he stated, he was elated over the splendid support being pledged his candidacy throughout the district. The many friends of Judge Leslie at Colorado are predicting that he will be elected by an overwhelming majority in the July primary.

"BIG JIM" TO REMAIN AS COACH FIGHTING WOLVES

"Big Jim" Cantrill, wily leader of the Colorado Wolves, fighting pack which established for themselves a precedent last season by climbing to the top as pennant holders for two West Texas districts as one season's accomplishment, is to remain in Colorado and will coach the Wolves next season, it was definitely announced Tuesday.

Colorado fans were expressing elation over this fact. Never has a coach won his way into the hearts of the people as Mr. Cantrill has done at Colorado, his many warm supporters here claim. Last season was the first year for Colorado to develop a fighting gridiron organization and much credit is given the coach for this fine record.

With the splendid line-up now appearing on the horizon for next season's team, Colorado, with the leadership of Big Jim, has every promise of ringing up a repeater in football circles. Several of the star men playing with Cantrill last season are to be given places on the 1926 team and recruits full of promise and bubbling over with the Colorado Wolf fighting spirit are being groomed to report when the time arrives for try-outs next fall.

CHOATE AND HENSHAW MAY RETURN OFFICES, IS CLAIM

That Choate & Henshaw, independent operators, are likely to return their offices to Colorado, was indicated by John Choate, senior member of the firm, who was here from San Angelo Sunday. The firm maintained their offices here for several months and removed to San Angelo recently.

Mr. Choate expressed elation over showing made in the Owen & Sloan Otis Chalk well, thirty miles southwest of Colorado. His company controls acreage in vicinity of the well which will be developed.

Erection of Hotel Colorado will be the direct means of bringing a number of oil operators to this city, Choate declared.

14 BILLS OF INDICTMENT RETURNED BY GRAND JURY

FINDINGS OF BODY PROTRAY LESS LAW VIOLATION IN MITCHELL COUNTY

Completing its deliberations for the term, the Mitchell county grand jury, empaneled Monday of last week by Hon. W. P. Leslie, judge of the 32nd judicial district, filed its final report with the court late Monday and was discharged. The jury reported having voted fourteen true bills of indictment, thirteen of which were based on felony charges.

The number of bills returned by the grand jury for this term of court is the smallest recorded in district court circles for some time. The last two or three sessions of the court has witnessed the finding of from twice to three times that number of bills. The material slump in indictments is accepted as a true indication that crime is on the decline in Mitchell county.

During the present week the court has heard a few civil and non-jury cases. The civil, divorce and criminal dockets alike are light for the term. A year ago a total of twenty divorce cases were pending in district court.

Monday morning the jury panel summoned for the first week of criminal court is to appear. Court attaches are of the belief that much of the work pending will be disposed of during next week. Court is not to adjourn for the term, however, until May 22, when the five weeks term will be ended.

COLORADO SCHOOL WILL BE CREDIT TO ALL WEST TEXAS

The new school building under construction at Colorado will be a credit to all of West Texas, Dr. H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross State Teachers College, stated in an address delivered at the Lions Club Friday. The visiting college head also praised R. B. Norman, superintendent of the Colorado schools, picturing him as one of the most capable school men in the State.

"I have known Mr. Norman intimately several years and I know him to be one of the best school men in West Texas," Dr. Morelock stated. This reference to Prof. Norman was met with applause by the Lions.

Dr. Morelock recalled that it had been two years since he last visited Colorado. "This city is making such progress that I hardly knew the place when we arrived here," he declared.

Dr. Morelock delivered an interesting address on education in making an appeal for his college. Dr. Morelock requested that Colorado send to Sul Ross more students of the type sent there in the past.

Miss Loraine Boardman, violinist, Miss Irma Lee Batey, contralto and Miss Francis Gillett, artists from the college appearing in the program at high school auditorium Thursday evening, also were guests of the club Friday. Miss Boardman entertained the Lions with two violin numbers.

MORGAN GETS CONTRACT EARNEST-THOMAS BLDG.

BIG SPRING CONTRACTOR TO START STORE AND OFFICE BUILDING AT ONCE

Contract for erection of a two story building, seventy-five by one hundred feet on Walnut street, was awarded here Wednesday by Judge C. H. Earnest and J. M. Thomas to the J. M. Morgan-Construction Company of Big Spring. The building will cost $40,000.

This building will adjoin the Colorado National Bank building on the south and is to be of same type of construction as this building. The structure is to be absolutely fire-proof throughout. The first floor is to contain three store apartments and eleven office suites are to be located on the second floor.

J. M. Thomas stated Wednesday afternoon that contract called for completion of the building by September 1.

Morgan built the Colorado National Bank building, the City National Bank building, is contractor on the new municipal building and has built several other structures in Colorado.

Construction work on Hotel Colorado is expected to be started by May 10th, Mr. Thomas stated Wednesday afternoon in discussing plans for erection of this modern $400,000 hostelry here. At that time the large crew of workmen had completed razing the old brick livery barn which had stood on the hotel site and the grounds should be cleared by the end of another week.

The Humphries & Churchill Company of Dallas, general contractors, are to erect this building. The hotel is to be completed and ready for occupancy by November 1 of this year.

DEPUTY DISTRICT GOVERNOR SPEAKS AT LIONS CLUB

Judge N. N. Rosenquest of Eastland, district deputy governor of Lions Clubs, visited the Colorado club Friday and delivered an inspirational address on the ethics of Lionism. The attorney is being endorsed throughout West Texas for district governor and is expected to become a formidable candidate for this honor at the annual convention to be held in Houston in May.

The speaker stressed the importance of rendering service to others, if one would become truly great in life. He stated that this rule would follow in all walks of life, it matters not whether one should enter public or private life.

Colorado Lions were urged to forget self and any selfish interests for the common good of their organization and the city they represent. When every Colorado Lion will make the common cause of the community his goal, the local Lions club will prosper and do the things in keeping with the principles of the international organization, he stated.

FINE CALVES PRODUCED BY LES TERRY, LOCAL FEEDER

Demonstrating that Mitchell county may easily produce baby beef stock to rate with the best in the country, Les Terry, local cattleman, topped the Colorado market this week with two corn fed calves, obtaining a price of around $100 each for the yearlings.

One of the calves is twelve months old and the other thirteen. They will weigh between 1,000 and 1,100 pounds each. They have been on feed since last December. The animals were sold to J. F. Morris, proprietor of the City Market. One of them will be slaughtered and placed on sale Saturday and the other one placed on sale at the market Saturday of next week.

W. S. Barcus, Buffalo Trail Council scout executive, was in Colorado Monday and Tuesday. Barcus stated that scouting continued to advance at Colorado.

ADDITIONAL RAINFALL IS RECEIVED AT COLORADO

Maintaining with minute regularity his well established rule of sending rain at least once each week, the rain man visited this section again Wednesday night. E. Keathley, local government observer, reports a total of .27 of an inch precipitation for the night.

This places total rainfall at 3.36 inches, .12 of an inch less than the April rain registered for last year. In 1925 April rain totaled 3.47. Total rain for the year has reached 7.38.

The Wednesday night rain was general throughout the county, reports received at the chamber of commerce Thursday indicated. The rain fell slowly and did little, if any, damage to property.

COLORADO SHOULD HAVE DELEGATES AT MEETING

Colorado should have one or more delegates to attend the annual State convention of Lions clubs, to be convened in Houston Monday, May 10, for a session of two days, Jerold Rierdan, president of the local civic organization, stated Tuesday. Rierdan declared there were several Lions here who should be persuaded to make the trip.

The city of Houston is making special plans to entertain the visitors during the two days. Houston with a population of 230,000, is one of the important cities of the South. Among the features promised visitors during the convention are motels, lunches, banquet, dancing, golfing, boat rides, sight seeing trips and other features. Benjamin F. Jones, international president, will attend the convention. A registration of $5 covering "everything" will be charged.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR BRICK AT ELM AND 3RD.

The building, to be fire proof, will be of face brick, stone and plate glass construction on the exterior. It is to contain four store compartments, two facing on Third street and two facing east on Elm.

FLOWBOYS DEFEAT THE COLORADO WOLVES 9 TO 8

(Roscoe Times)
The Roscoe High School Flowboys defeated the Colorado Wolves to the tune of a 9 to 8 score here Monday.

The game was a decidedly close one, but it was loose all the way thru with plenty of errors on both sides. The Wolves were one score ahead until the last of the ninth inning when Absher, leading off popped to right field. Bennett singled over third, and W. T. Thomas followed with a triple over right field, scoring Bennett and then stole home to win the game. The total hits were Colorado 9 and Roscoe 9. Thomas and Absher featured in the game.

SIX LOCATIONS MADE NEAR OWEN-SLOAN CHALK ONE

PIPE LINE CONNECTION WITH IATAN TANK FARM WILL BE MADE SOON

A total of six locations in the Otis Chalk shallow well vicinity, three of them being offsets to the well, have been announced during this week. Colorado oil men interested in the field work declare that a number of other locations are to be announced within the immediate future, and predict the most phenomenal drilling campaign in that section ever known in this field.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company, Humphries interests and Owen and Sloan have each made offset locations near the well. The Owens and Sloan location is 660 feet south of the Otis Chalk well, in section 115, block 29. The Magnolia location is in section 114, 660 feet southeast from the producer, and Humphries' location 660 feet east in section 114.

Lockhart et al. have made location in the southeast one fourth of section 86, about two miles northeast from the Chalk well.

Carey et al. have made location in the northwest one fourth of section 97, about two miles northwest from the producer. The sixth location is in section 126 on the Clay lease.

A four inch pipe line, connecting the shallow field with Magnolia Petroleum company tank farm at Iatan will be under construction at an early date. Companies interested in the shallow field plan to make ample provision for taking care of an anticipated large production. Crude from the field will be pipe-line run to Iatan, from which station it will be accessible to loading racks on the Texas & Pacific railway.

Discovery of the shallow field will mean much to this city, chamber of commerce officials claim. With development soon to assume the large proportions anticipated and hotel and office buildings under construction, Colorado should continue to be the hub from which companies developing the field operate.

COPELAND BROS. ONE MORE WEEK

By popular request the American Legion will hold the Copeland Bros. big ten show over for one more week. The plays, vaudeville and music for next week will be entirely different from anything presented before.

The play next Monday night will be a southern comedy drama "Sunny Tennessee" when the ladies will be admitted free when with paid escort.

Come and laugh with Toby.

Colorado Civic League

Annual report of Civic League, read at the District Meeting at Cisco. Taking over all phases of community betterment from the local federated clubs, and drawing its large membership therefrom, the Colorado Civic League, organized in 1920, is active in all its departments.

As an auxiliary to the chamber of commerce, it has broadened its scope of service, reaching out to the rural sections. It has recently given five dollars ($5.00) toward the county librarian's salary, as well as many books and magazines. When the periodicals become out of date, they are given the school children for cut-outs to be used in illustrations of lessons.

During the late fall, the League sponsored the tree-planting campaign among the property holders and school children.

The League assisted in bringing to success the summer Chautauqua by giving publicity and disposing of season tickets.

Every Christmas, this organization gives liberally of its support to the Red Cross Health Seals, working thru the Mitchell County Federation of which the League is a faithful member. In the drive the past year, the League sold the stamps through the school.

The League fostered the Goodfellows Christmas Cheer by giving generously of time and money.

The League assumes complete charge of Better Homes Week in Mitchell County. During the last three years, Colorado has built as many as three hundred homes, some of which are very elaborate. As the designated time comes, these new residences are thrown open to the public for inspection and admiration. Think of the fostering of civic pride displayed in this manner. The contestants in "better kitchens" contest, an A. & M. annual event, likewise show their improvements, the seeing of which is always a joy to the housewife.

With a feeling of mutual co-operation with officials, the League conducts a city-wide spring clean-up at the state designated time. This year the Lions Club and Boy Scouts were ardent co-workers.

The League chose as its special protegee, the negro schools, visiting at regular intervals and encouraging the pupils in talks and the giving of better pictures.

Together with the Parent-Teachers Association, it secured a special speed limit of twelve miles within three blocks of the school houses. It appealed to the Lions Club in this movement, and found ready response in their erecting of warning signs to the above effect in the school zone.

As an outgrowth of the aroused feeling in the promotion by publicity of the needed laws, stricter driving ordinances have been enacted affecting the entire city.

Gratified by its past attainments, and filling its peculiar niche in the scheme of things, the Colorado Civic League purposes to forward, sure of itself and its workers in every undertaking.

YOU GOT TO GO

By Mary Carolyn Davis
When you have the rovin' fever,
Travel, mile on mile,
When you have the settlin' fever,
Stop a while:
Build a house and seed a yard,
Take the settlin' fever hard.

When you have the rovin' fever
Lock your door and go—
When you crave a house and garden,
Want to watch things grow,
Stop and have a house and lot
And be content with what you've got.

But when the rovin' fever's got you,
As I ought to know,
Though you like your house nad lot,
you Got to go!
Ain't no lure in porch or kitchen
When April makes your foot start itchin'!

Robert Treat Paine, Massachusetts signer of the Declaration of Independence the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of which will be commemorated by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition opening in Philadelphia on June 1, was another one of the famous fifty-six whose practice of law enabled them to give valuable service to the young republic.

Born in Boston in 1731, the son and grandson of clergymen, it would seem that his life work were already forecast for him. After his graduation from Harvard College and a journey to foreign lands, he did indeed prepare himself for the ministry, but the appeal of the law was too great to be resisted.

The Massachusetts signer was admitted to the bar in 1759 and practised in Taunton, where he became a powerful opponent and rival of the famous Timothy Ruggles. In 1768 he was delegate to the provincial convention, which was called to meet in Boston, and conducted the prosecution of Captain Thomas Preston and his men for their share in the famous "Boston Massacre" of the fifth of March, 1770.

Paine was an advocate for a Continental Congress, and while a member of the Assembly was elected a delegate to the General Congress. He was deputized by this Congress, with two others, to visit the army of General Schuyler in the North for the purpose of observation, which commission was performed with entire satisfaction.

In December, 1775, he was elected again to the General Congress in which he was very active. On the fourth of July of the following year he voted for the Declaration of Independence and was one of its signers. After his retirement from the General Congress, he held many important offices in Massachusetts, the last one being Judge of the Supreme Court. He died in 1814 at the age of 84 years.

MANY BANDS WILL BE IN AMARILLO FOR CONVENTION

AMARILLO, Texa., April 27.—That there will be no less than 50 competing bands in the contests to be conducted under the auspices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here on June 21, 22 and 23 of this year, was intimated by Paul James, vice president of the Texas Band Teachers Association and acting president of the West Texas division of the organization which will be in direct charge of the contests here.

From Colorado, home of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce band, official band of convention, comes the assurance that this splendid musical organization will be here with the best personnel ever assembled by Director M. S. Goldman. Goldman is also an official of the Texas Band Teachers association.

In addition, Mr. James and other officials of the West Texas Chamber indicated, there will be numerous bands from cities in Texas which will not be entered in the contests while New Mexico will be represented by a number of organizations all eager to demonstrate their prowess in competition with bands from all over the southwest. Bands which enter the official contest will match music for prizes aggregating $3,600 in cash and other trophies, it is announced.

Taking the average personnel of each band to number 30, Mr. James points out that there will be in this city 1,500 musicians excluding those numbered with the organizations not entering competition. With such indications it is easily seen that every important street corner and many of the less important street intersections will be a band stand with ample music for everybody even though twice as many as are now expected are here, it is declared.

Mr. James, who is also director of the Memphis, Texas, chamber of commerce band, stated that, weather permitting, his city intends to accompany its organization with a caravan of cars bearing at least 1,000 of the citizens of that boosting West Texas town. With such delegations as this to swell the throngs that are expected to attend the convention, and other cities of the west will not be outdone in the matter hopes for the greatest meeting which the West Texas Chamber as an entire organization has ever held have assumed a hue that is bright indeed, it is declared. That there will be plenty of music and entertainment for the crowds as well as plenty of facilities to take care of all who come, is declared certain, and not a mere conjecture based upon nothing stronger than city pride.

Bands will begin to arrive Sunday morning with concerts scheduled to begin at eight o'clock and to last almost without interruption throughout the convention days. Headquarters for the various organizations are now being arranged with a number having already announced the locations from which they will conduct their concerts and their participation in the contests which are one of the main features of the convention each year.

THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION

The phenomenal growth of this country in population has never been equaled in history. Since the time that Columbus made his mistake and discovered a new continent instead of a new route to India, America has been the dumping ground for the excess population of the European countries. There has been a continuous, ever-increasing stream of humanity, from all parts of the world, flowing into the United States.

Most of the earlier settlers came to this country to escape religious and political persecution. They represented some of the best blood of Europe and other lands and were resolved to establish a nation where tolerance of different religious beliefs would be observed and the rights of man preserved. English, French, German, Scotch, Irish and people of various other descents fought for the independence of this country and sacrificed their lives to maintain it.

Out of the intermingling of these and the fusing of the different races sprang the American. Having to face the dangers and hardships of a frontier land, the pioneer was dependent upon his own ingenuity and ability for continued existence and only the strongest were able to survive. Surrounded by such environments he developed distinct characteristics and although he has different traits inherited from his ancestry, he cannot be likened unto any one of them. The influx of foreigners during the first two and a half centuries was small enough for them to be come Americanized and no serious consequences resulted. The increase of aliens in the last half century has been so abundant as to be a detriment, rather than an aid, to the progress of the United States.

It is reported that the growth in population has been more than 19,000,000 in the last sixteen years. The population now is about 115,000,000 of whom a large per cent are either foreign-born or of foreign born parents. Natural increase would mean about 200,000,000 in the year 2,000. Experts in economy, politics, sociology and kindred subjects having to do with the welfare of mankind, agree that the population of the United States should not go far beyond 150,000,000 if American ideals are to be maintained indefinitely. Out of the estimated 14,000,000 foreign-born in the country a few years ago, less than half were naturalized, about 3,000,000 could not speak the English language, while an equal number could not read it. Some of our large cities are mostly composed of aliens in the factories large groups are found working together who never speak a word in English, and even the post office department advertises its postal savings system in twenty four different languages. It seems that the "melting pot" in America has ceased to function. Possibly it has been overworked. But few laws have been passed in the last ten years to lighten its duties.

In February, 1924, an immigration law was enacted by Congress limiting the quota of emigrants from each country, and this has done much to help stem the tide of aliens. Yet despite the fact that it has been clearly manifest that these laws need to be even more stringent, bills are being introduced into Congress to amend this law. Newspapers proclaim the hardships inflicted by the restrictive ordinance; sentimentalists grieve over the separated families—"pilgrims" turned back at the threshold. They would have them all admitted, be they criminally inclined, physically disabled, or what not.

It would be ideal if the bars could be let down, if they could all be welcomed with opened arms, but if the future is to be provided for, if American ideals and principles are to be preserved, it is impossible. The immigrants of today come not so much in search of a permanent home, nor actuated by love of this country, but through the lure of wealth, the belief that they will be able to get rich quickly in the United States. Being disappointed in this belief, becoming poverty stricken, they often turn to criminal means to obtain a living; they fill our penal institutions and are a burdensome expense to the government, a parasite on the people. Socialist organizations find among their fertile fields to promulgate their teachings for the ultimate downfall of American tenets.

It is hoped that Congress, in order to keep the United States from reaching the saturation point, to ward off the degeneration of our social and economic life, and thus assure America's posterity of a land of plenty, will enact even more stringent immigration laws.

PULLMAN SHORTAGE TO W. T. C. C. FEARED

AMARILLO, Texas, April 27.—Urging the immediate reservation of Pullman cars for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention to be held at this city on June 21, 22 and 23, the Pullman company has written to officers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with the information that approximately 1,000 such cars are being demanded by delegates to the Eucharistic Conference which is scheduled to be held at Chicago from June 20 to 24 of this year in conflict with the dates for the convention here which will probably demand several hundreds of cars. This condition is conducive to an inevitable shortage and unless the proper reservations are secured at once it is quite likely that those who are counting upon Pullman transportation to the big West Texas meeting will be disappointed, it is pointed out.

Suffered weak, nervous

"I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wrenn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker. I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry. I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."

Thousands of other women have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. Its action has been found to be of great benefit in many common female ailments.

THE COLORADO RECORD

OUR MOTTO: "KEEP BOOSTING." Official Paper of Colorado and Mitchell County. Published in Colorado, Texas, at 119 Walnut street...

COLORADO'S BIG ATTAINMENT

The Colorado Chamber of Commerce has attained success in the biggest program ever attempted by the organization. This feat the organization did when plans for erecting and furnishing "Hotel Colorado" were finally closed...

BUILDING SHOULD BE CONTROLLED

The Record does not know just what action will be taken by the city when Mayor Looney and his board of commissioners come to act on petition of the chamber of commerce that effective legislation dealing with building conditions in the city be passed...

There are a number of buildings in Colorado which should receive the attention of such an official. Frequently attention of the public is directed to a most unsightly environ about some building in Colorado but owing to the absence of proper legislative authority no one has the jurisdiction to direct remedial changes.

Not stopping at the buildings in need of changes as the means of public safety and civic pride, there are those who use their back yard and the premises about their places as a veritable dumping ground. This should not be tolerated by a progressive city.

The Record believes that the city administration, the most progressive ever given this city, will see this condition as this paper sees it, and in due time pass such legislation as in their wisdom may be required to improve the conditions complained of.

The fight to assure adequate hotel facilities for Colorado, recently coming to a successful end with definite announcement by the promoters that the project had been financed and contracts awarded, is a worthy laurel for the progressive and unselfish citizenship so distinctly dominating the public thought in this city.

To make sure there is no falling down in plans of this city to operate a special Pullman train to Amarillo for the Eighth Annual Convention, West Texas Chamber of Commerce in June, contract for the train should be made at an early date.

BE KIND

There are campaigns, drives and propoganda without end. The ordinary soul, in the turmoil of making ends meet, becomes impatient, often vexed with specialists, human dynamos, whose aims are to arrest his attention, concern his interest, and usually subtract some part of that small sum standing between need and possession.

DAN'S THE MAN

Lynch Davidson is for getting the state highway commission out of its present muddle and putting it on a sound basis. He would return the road-building power to the counties, with co-operation of the state commission.

With an extension of the oil field further to the Southwest, and, then, too, into a district not traversed with public roads of such a nature as to make motor traffic at all easy, should come a renewal of the demand that this county do something definite about the highway situation.

Reports show that the Order of DeMolay has grown within seven years from a single chapter in Kansas City with a membership of only 31, to more than 1500 chapters throughout the world with a combined membership of approximately 205,000 youths.

Then, again, Colorado should control all wiring for electrical service in buildings erected in the city limits. Every hazard to safety of property should be eliminated.

Another fine thing to do would be to require all builders to file application for permit with the city secretary. Colorado should adopt this policy and do so now.

Taking the Profit Out of War

By BERNARD M. BARUCH

Reprinted from The Atlantic Monthly.

[The February issue of the Atlantic for 1925 carried a paper by Mr. Sisley Huddleston dealing with the general subject of "taking the profit out of war," which Mr. Huddleston called "An American Plan for Peace." The first-quoted phrase was put into the language by the War Industries Board toward the close of the World War through its efforts to eliminate all war profits. Mr. Huddleston's article came to the attention of Mr. Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board and administrator of the non-profit plan, and (as he writes us) since it seemed to indicate a growing interest in the idea, induced him to invoke practical means to bring about a full comprehension of taking the profit out of war in the various great countries of the world. To this end he responded to a suggestion of Mr. Owen D. Young, of the Page School of International Relations at Johns Hopkins University, that he establish a course of lectures there to expound the War Industries Board plan in detail. Later he will proceed to make similar arrangements at leading universities in Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, and Japan. Agreeing with Mr. Baruch that the subject calls for public knowledge and discussion, it was natural for the Atlantic to turn to him for the following paper.—THE EDITORS OF THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.]

War was once described as Prussia's most profitable industry. It needs only a scant examination of history to learn that other countries were open to the same indictment. The methods of the Robber Barons did not pass with the end of feudalism. Annexation by conquest did not cease. But when America entered the World War President Wilson fathered a doctrine that shall always govern us—that never a foot of territory would be added to our boundaries by force.

So, as America has taken the lead toward making impossible national profit through war, it too may be America's privilege to point the way toward making impossible individual profit through war. To take the profit out of war is to take a long step toward creating an economic detestation of war. The experience of the United States in the World War affords a basis for the belief that the plan here discussed is practical. In fact, it is more than a belief—it is a certainty, although not widely known.

The world is such a busy place, and the radius of human activity has been so greatly enlarged because of modern inventions, that it is not strange that there are but few people who are conversant with what was quietly but effectively taking place in this country in the mobilization and use of its material resources in the World War—a process that would have eventually eliminated all improper profits.

Strength is given to the public advocacy of industrial mobilization made by both President Harding and President Coolidge—Mr. Coolidge as recently as last October in his Omaha speech to the American Legion—by the fact that the plan they advocated as a part of the regular national war agencies had once been set up and successfully operated under the War Industries Board.

Proceeding the President's recent clear exposition of this subject, some degree of public interest had been engendered by an exchange of letters between Owen D. Young (of Daves plan fame), in behalf of the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations, and the writer. The correspondence resulted in the establishment of lectures at the Page School (of Johns Hopkins University) on this theme. Previously the Atlantic Monthly printed an article by Sisley Huddleston, who pointed out that Europe saw great strides toward peace in the "American idea of 'taking the profit out of war' in a systematic way. His basic reference was to the plan of the War Industries Board.

The resources of a country might be referred to as the five M's: (1) man power; (2) money; (3) maintenance or food; (4) material resources (including raw materials, manufacturing facilities, transportation, fuel and power); and (5) morale. The intelligence with which the first four are directed and co-ordinated as a whole will determine the fifth, the morale of the community.

In the war emergency it early became evident to those who were charged with the responsibility of mobilizing the resources that there was a just sentiment among the people against profiteering. Profiteering might be willful or profit making might be involuntary; but, whatever its form, there was a just determination it should cease. So it became necessary to fix prices where the supply was limited.

Wherever the government created a shortage by its demands, prices were fixed, not only for the Army, Navy and the Allies, but for the civilian population as well. And in addition to price fixing on war essentials (such as steel, wool, copper, and so forth), the balance, after the war program had been filled, was rationed or distributed according to the priority needs of the various civilian demands. In other words, where the price of the product of an industry was fixed that industry had to deliver the part which the government did not need to the civilian population, not in the way the industry chose, but as the government directed.

It must be remembered that when the war came there was no adequate preparation. Indeed, it is doubted by the best authorities whether any effective form of preparation then known would have been of much avail in view of the widespread and engulfing results of the war and the lack of knowledge of the various instruments of destruction which were being devised and which it became necessary to combat.

Our own Army had several divisions competing one with another for mate-

One of them provided that manufacturers, jobbers and retailers of shoes could make and sell shoes only of a specified quality at a fixed price, effective July, 1919. No one who did not have a card of the War Industries Board in his window could sell shoes, and only the standardized shoes could be sold. No jobber or manufacturer would sell shoes to anybody who did not have this card. The shoes were to be stamped Class A, B or C and had to be of the quality prescribed and sold at the price fixed. The country was so organized in every district that there could be immediately reported to Washington the name of any shoe retailer who did not carry out the regulations of the War Industries Board as to price and quality. Through restrictions on his labor, money, raw materials and transportation no manufacturer would have been permitted to sell to any dealer violating the regulations. The Armistice stopped the execution of this plan.

Another plan of this nature: The manufacturers of men's and women's wearing apparel had in 1918 been called to Washington, together with the retailers of various goods, and notified that regulations would have to be made in regard to retail prices and standardization of clothing.

The rulings by the board were made known through the issuance of official bulletins at irregular intervals and were widely distributed by the press, which co-operated in this most necessary work with a whole-hearted purpose that gave to the orders of the War Industries Board the instant and broad circulation they required.

Mr. Hoover already was doing much to perfect his control of food products and prices. There was also talk of fixing rents, and in some cities this was done.

If we were to start, in the event of another war, at the place where we were industrially when the World War ended, the President, acting through an agency similar to the War Industries Board, would have the right to fix prices of all things as of a date previous to the declaration of war when there was a fair peace time relationship among the various activities of the nation. It would be illegal to buy, sell, serve or rent at any other than these prices. Brakes would be applied to every agency of inflation before the hurtful process started.

An intelligent control of the flow of men, money and materials would be imposed, instead of having the blind panic heretofore ensuing on the first appearance of the frantic demands of war. The Draft Board would have before it the rulings of the priority committee, together with the estimated needs of every business and profession in its relationship to the conduct of the war, and men would be selected accordingly. The Draft Board could more intelligently decide, with the advice of the priority committee, many of the problems with which it would be faced. There would be no sending of men to the trenches who were needed for expert industrial work and then bringing them back again. Businesses not necessary to the winning of the war would be curtailed. The Draft Board would have that information before it.

The prices of all things being fixed, the price fixing committee would make any necessary adjustments, as was done during the war. Under the system used in 1918 these prices were made public and adjusted every three months, so that any consumer or producer had his day in court when he considered prices unfair. Those who complained that during the war prices were too high had this ready recourse to hand.

In the meantime all the industries of the country would have been mobilized by the formation of committees representative of each industry as was done in the World War. Over them would be placed a government director or commodity chief. The various government departments would appoint committees representing their requirements, so that on one committee the resources of the nation would be represented and on the other the demands of the government. The government director would stand between to decide, in conjunction with the priority committee, to what department supplies should go.

Money would be controlled and directed like any other resource. "Taking the profit out of war" is not synonymous with "conscription of wealth," as it is sometimes regarded. The latter is a theoretical project, prohibited by our Constitution, contrary to the spirit of our social and political institutions, and impossible in practice. Taking the profit out of war is an orderly and scientific development of the economics and conduct of modern war, necessary to the effective mobilization of national resources and indispensable to equalizing the burdens of war among the armed and civilian population. Born of experience and proved by practice, it removes some of the most destructive concomitants of modern war—the confusion and waste incident to war time inflation.

This form "conscription of wealth," used by so many, has created a hope among those of socialistic tendencies, and a fear among those who, like me, believe in our system based upon personal initiative and reward, of a taking of money, without payment, for the use of State. Neither the hope nor the fear is justified by the recommendation herein contained or by our experience in the war. The use of money should be controlled and directed in a national emergency. A man should no more be permitted to use his money as he wishes than he should be permitted to use the production of his mine, mill or factory except through the general supervising agency. This was being done toward the end of the war.

During the final phase of the World War no man or corporation or institution could raise money without the approval of the Capital Issues Committee of the Treasury Department, which committee in turn would not permit the borrowing of money unless the War Industries Board approved the use to which it was to be put. Thus the City of New York was not permitted to spend $3,000,000 for the building of schools. The City of Philadelphia was prevented from making improvements that in peace time would have been necessary, but in war time were not. Various states, counties and cities, find a vast number of private concerns, were denied the use of money and materials for purposes not necessary for the winning of the war. Each part of the community had to adjust its wants to the whole great undertaking.

There have been a great many bills introduced into Congress on the subject of industrial mobilization, some sponsored by great organizations like the American Legion, and others by newspapers and publicists. But it is surprising how little knowledge there was on the part of those who drew up the bills of the practicability and feasibility of so mobilizing our resources that it would be impossible to make as much profit in war as in time of peace. Take into consideration the fact that the following things were being done in 1918:—

General Crowder, who was in charge of the draft, had asked the chairman of the War Industries Board where he could obtain additional men needed for the Army in France with the least possible dislocation of the war making industrial civilian machinery, and we were in the process of replacing male labor with women. By a system of priorities the Board was allocating to our own Army and Navy, to the Allies and to the essential war industries the things they required. It was making priority rulings as to transportation, and they were being followed out by the Railroad Administrator. The Fuel Administrator distributed fuel only on the rulings of the War Industries Board. The Board was engaged in disentangling and removing the many conflicts and competitive efforts involved in labor and buildings that had previously occurred because of lack of any co-ordinating agency. It was allocating power and making regulations for the hitching up of scattered units of power. It was changing munitions orders from congested to less congested districts. It had actually carried into effect an order that no building involving $2,500 or more could be undertaken without the approval of the War Industries Board. No steel, no cement, no material of any kind could be used for any purpose whatsoever unless the War Industries Board permitted it. No steel company could sell over five tons of steel unless approved by the Director of Steel. The Treasury would not permit the raising of money for any industrial or financial operation unless it was approved by the War Industries Board. The President issued an order that no commandeering should be done by the Army, Navy, Shipping Board or Food Administration without the approval of the chairman of the War Industries Board. Every raw material industry, and indeed practically every industry in the country, was organized through appointment of committees, and none of these industries would do any business except under the rulings promulgated by the Board. Standardization in every industry was rapidly proceeding. These rulings were made known through the issuance of official bulletins at irregular intervals and were distributed by the press. We were endeavoring to arrange it so that the fighting forces were to receive those things which they needed and no more, so that whatever was not actually required at the front was left to civilian purposes. Industries were curtailed, but never destroyed; skeletonized, but never killed. Indeed, the use of men, money and materials was rapidly being brought into exactly that condition which I have previously stated to be necessary in case of another war.

If, in addition to this, the President in the future had the authority to fix prices and distribution of materials and labor, rent, and the use of man power, transportation, fuel and all the things necessary for the conduct of the war, any rise in prices will be prevented, even in anticipation of war. There are many who claim that war is caused primarily by the desire of profit. I am not one of those. But if there is anything in this contention this plan will remove the possibility of anybody urging war as a means of making profits. Even if there are men who desire war as a means of making profit, the fact that profits would be less in war than in peace, and wealth and resources would be directed by the government, might have some active deterring influence on men of great resources. Instead of being passive, they might become active advocates of peace.

There are many people who are, for various reasons, afraid to discuss the subject during peace time and prefer to wait for war. There are also some great manufacturers who oppose any such plan because they were seriously interfered with during the war time. Indeed, it has been the experience of some of those responsible for the industrial mobilization in the World War to remain the objects of venomous attack begun during the time that the necessities of the nation made it imperative to control activities and profits. Some critics were prominent manufacturers, who said: "Tell us what the government wants and we will fill the orders, but don't interfere with the sale of the part of our product that the government does not want to use." That was unthinkable. President Wilson decreed that sale

Emergency Pantry Meets Home Need

By META H. GIVEN (Home Economist)

Efficiency and economy go hand and hand in the home as well as in the business world. The emergency pantry, latest innovation in the cuisine of the modern housewife is particularly indicative of the truth of this statement.

This new sort of pantry—it may just be a shelf in the regular larder—does away with that bugaboo of the home maker, the surprise guest. Every woman has had the experience of welcoming an unexpected visitor when supplies were at low ebb and has searched high and low to find something presentable to put on the table. The emergency shelf in the pantry does away with such worries in short order.

A can opener and presto—a veritable banquet can be prepared in a few minutes. The housewife may have her choice of many excellent meats, corn, tomatoes, mushrooms. If she is short of milk or cream, a can of evaporated milk, which is simply fresh cow's milk sterilized in the can and with sixty per cent of the water removed will do the trick. In fact she may have two hundred or more savory dishes ready to her hand.

When the surprise guest does arrive the hostess naturally wishes to be hospitable. She doesn't want to be tied to the kitchen range half the afternoon. She wants to entertain as she has been entertained.

It isn't possible if she has to phone frantically for the butcher, the grocer and the baker.

But that's only one of the places where the emergency pantry comes in. Backed by a well-stocked emergency shelf, the wife can get together a splendid luncheon or dinner in a jiffy. The spontaneous wish that comes at the last moment to informally invite a few friends for lunch can be gratified at once with the aid of the new pantry.

Afternoon tea for the bridge club is an equally easy matter. A glass of preserves or jelly, a platter of bread and butter, tea, and a dish of cookies will meet the ordinary demands of the casual caller and a can of evaporated milk will answer

MAKING FARM RECORDS TALK

By D. H. OTIS Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association.

Any one who has driven an automobile in a new country knows the value of a good road map. Farm accounts, properly kept, are a reliable road map for the farmer in directing the business management of his farm.

In farming communities where records have been kept in considerable number it is not uncommon to find differences in net income of $1,000 per farm between the average and the poorer farms of the community. It is also frequently found that there is a difference of over $1,000 between the average farm and a few of the better farms of the community. These differences of from $1,000 to $2,000 per farm in the net income are of vital concern to any farm in any community.

Where to Get the Facts Farm records and inventories will reveal the reasons for these differences. The various colleges of agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture have a collection of records and farm management surveys from which they find it possible to construct standards or guides showing actual attainments under good systems of management. Figures of this kind are available to county agents and farmers who desire to use them. It is also possible to organize farm accounting groups in a community and with the help of the College of Agriculture to develop community standards showing what the average and what the better farms are doing. These standards or examples of what the more successful farms are doing, when handled in such a way as not to divulge the identity of the owners, are a wonderful help in pointing out to the less successful farmers the weak spots in the business management of their farms.

How to Use the Facts The farmer who keeps a careful record of the factors relating to the business management of his farm is in position to compare his farm with the average and with the best in the volume of business, as number of acres, total investment, number of cows, total receipts and total expenses. He can check on his diversity of income by comparing his income from sale of cows, sale of livestock, byproduct products and sales from miscellaneous sources. His quality of business can be studied by comparing such items as income per acre or income per cow, etc.

By such a process the farmer is in position to make his records talk to him and point out the weak and the strong features in his farm operation. There is no tax that we pay today that compares with the tax we pay for our ignorance. This is true on the farm as elsewhere. Farm records, including inventories from which it is easy to form financial statements, will do wonders in reducing the tax of ignorance and placing farm business on a business basis and inspire confidence in the farmer, himself and with all those with whom he deals.

BANKERS HELP

Minnesota bankers played a constructive part in boosting the attendance at the Northwest Dairy Exposition held in connection with the State Fair in September. Five hundred members of the Minnesota Bankers Association received letters from the chairman of the agricultural committee, asking them to assist in forming delegations from their respective communities to attend the show.

The Atlanta, Ga., Clearing House gives the boll weevil no rest. In an effort to effect a concerted and statewide poison war on the boll weevil, this institution sent letters recently to all the bankers in the state asking that they assist in emphasizing the need for a wholesale war on the pest. According to a recent survey poisoning is being done on the larger farms, but not to any appreciable extent on the small farms. According to reports by the Department of Agriculture, the boll weevil infestation is heavier this year than ever before, and it allowed to go unchallenged the crop will be destroyed. Immediate and extensive action is urged.

Over two hundred bankers in Iowa recently made an arrangement to attend the Iowa State University for a two-day period and study farming and farm problems. The bankers will sit as students under the professors in the agricultural department, and will dig right down to the bottom of the many subjects which are of mutual concern to themselves and the farmers. This action on the part of the bankers of Iowa shows a real spirit of interest and a determined intention to understand.

Clark County (S. D.) Bankers, have appointed an agricultural committee of five to aid the county agent in putting across the latter's program of work, with special emphasis on a lessor corn content and eradication of tuberculosis in the county.

All About The Knapp Case

We offer this advertisement and the affidavits attending for the information of the hundreds who are interested in this case. So many untrue statements are gotten out in cases of this kind that we feel it necessary to place the plain truth before the public. Every statement contained in this advertisement can be fully proven to the satisfaction of anyone who may be interested. We do not want you to understand that we are fighting medicine. It is your American Liberty if you want surgery; it is your privilege if you want Christian Science; it is your right if you want Suggestive-Therapeutics. Who is to say, "You shall take our treatment, or none at all?"

We believe that all law should come from the consent of the governed, and we hold it as a self evident fact of our American Liberty that if you want us when one you hold dear is at the point of death you have a perfect right to call us and pay us for our services. Doctors who can restore the sick do not have to depend on monopoly laws to protect their practice. They cannot legislate confidence into the people. We believe in letting the best man win, and the wonderful patronage we enjoyed is due to our success in restoring the sick.

DR. CANFILL RELATES HISTORY OF CASE.

Every one in the entire country has heard something of the cases of Mr. Tom Knapp and his wife in Sweetwater. Mr. Knapp was taken suddenly ill about ten weeks ago. A few days later his good wife was also stricken. Mrs. Knapp rapidly grew worse, and finally died. Her body was held for a number of days awaiting her husband's death which was expected hourly. She was finally buried, however, and her husband lingered on. Mr. Knapp was totally unconscious and did not even know that his wife was dead, and on Thursday, October 1st so many of his friends had been coming to us, telling us what they knew of his condition, and begged us to go and make an examination that we finally consented to do so. There was, however, some objection from others who had been in charge of the case. We, therefore, hesitated, but so persistent did his friends become that we finally consented to take the case in full charge, which we did on Sunday, October 4th.

Upon our arrival we found Mr. Knapp's pulse 172, his temperature 102-2.5. His respiration at this time was 32 and was very short and difficult. The pupils of his eyes were widely dilated and his eyes were full of pus. Upon examination we found the upper cervical vertebra, the Atlas, was very much Left-Posterior. He was near death. Considering this the principal cause of his trouble, we made but one adjustment in throwing this back into place. The results were very satisfactory. He immediately relaxed and in a few moments his respiration improved and in three-quarters of an hour his temperature was normal. Mr. Knapp has improved steadily and is now in possession of all his mental faculties. We intend to allow him to get out of the Sanatorium within the next few days. He is rapidly gaining in weight, can walk by himself and unless something unforeseen happens he will soon be entirely well.

KNAPP'S NURSE TELLS OF CONDITION.

Sweetwater, Texas, October 21st, 1925.

TO WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that I have been employed as night nurse for Mr. Tom Knapp during his entire illness, and also assisted in caring for his wife who died during the time he has been ill. Mr. Knapp's condition had been considered grave for a number of weeks and all hopes of his recovery had been given up when Dr. Canfill was called on the case. His pulse, as reported by the day nurse, was more than 180, in fact, faster than could be counted accurately. He had been rapidly sinking for a number of hours and when I came on duty the evening of Sunday, October 4th, the day nurse told me that I was to have a bad night, and my patient could not live longer than four o'clock the next morning.

Mr. Knapp's condition was very much improved after the first treatment, and there has never been a day or hour in which he has shown the least tendency to relapse. His improvement has steadily continued until today he is perfectly normal in every way except he shows a loss of weight of 45 pounds and, naturally, he is still somewhat weak from having been confined to his room so long. His mind has come back to him perfectly, and I fully expect he will be sound and well in a very short time.

Signed: MRS. L. R. BAKER.

SUBSCRIBED AND SWORN to by Mrs. L. R. Baker, before me this the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1925.—Dick Jackson, Notary Public, Nolan County, Texas.

STATEMENT BY W. A. KNAPP

Brother of the Stricken Man.

Sweetwater, Texas, October 21, 1925.

TO WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:

On October 1st a number of the business men of Sweetwater came to me, after hearing that there was no hope for my brother's recovery and that the attending physician and nurse had fully despaired of his ever getting well, and begged and intreated me to call Dr. Canfill that he might examine and treat him, if he felt that his treatment would be applicable. I finally consented and Dr. Canfill was called to my brother's home at seven o'clock on the evening of October 1st.

The medical nurse who was in attendance immediately told me if I did not get Dr. Canfill and his other doctors out of the house that she would quit the case, and seeing that dissension would be created, Dr. Canfill readily agreed, and he did not even examine my brother.

During the next two or three days some of the citizens of the town continued to insist that they believed that Dr. Canfill might be of service. My brother was rapidly sinking and on Sunday, Oct. 4th I went to Grogan Wells Sanatorium and made arrangements for Dr. Canfill's taking the case in charge.

The last marking made by the nurse on the case shown previously to Dr. Canfill's taking charge showed my brother Tom's pulse to be 172, his respiration 24, cold sweat on forehead. Dr. Canfill adjusted one of the bones of his neck, and within 45 minutes his pulse had gotten down to 118, his temperature had become normal.

My brother has improved every hour since Dr. Canfill took charge of the case, and I deem his recovery bordering on the miraculous. He is now able to walk alone, his mind is fully restored and he is perfectly normal in every way. He has gained six pounds in weight during the last three days and we feel that it is only a matter of a few days until he will have gained sufficient strength to be up and about his business. I do not know how Dr. Canfill accomplished such wonderful results, but to me it seems he knows just what button to touch to again turn on the spark of life. Words can never express our appreciation for the work he has done for us in pulling my brother out of the very jaws of death.

Signed: W. A. KNAPP.

SUBSCRIBED AND SWORN to by W. A. Knapp, before me this day the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1925.—Dick Jackson, Notary Public, Nolan County, Texas.

CITIZENS INTERESTED IN SAVING MR. KNAPP.

Sweetwater, Texas, October 21st, 1925.

TO WHOM THIS MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that we, the undersigned citizens of Sweetwater, Texas, went to Dr. Canfill and entreated him to go over and examine Mr. Tom Knapp who had been at the point of death for more than eight weeks and whose recovery had been despaired of. We took Dr. Canfill to his home, after getting permission from his brother, on the evening of Thursday, October 1st.

The day nurse, who had been in charge, created so much dissension that Dr. Canfill refused to assume full responsibility on account of not having had an opportunity to examine the case and for this reason no further effort was made to get Dr. Canfill on the case until Sunday, October 4th.

Dr. Canfill finally consented to take charge of the case and the doctor who was in charge was dismissed as was the attending day nurse. Mr. Knapp continued to improve after the first treatment, given by Dr. Canfill, and we now have no doubt as to his ultimate and complete recovery. His mind is perfectly normal, and he is rapidly gaining strength, and we hope that he will soon be again able to be at his work.

ONLY LACK OF LANDING FIELDS BARS GREAT AIR PROGRAM

DETROIT, April 27.—Rapid development of commercial aviation in America awaits only the establishment of adequate landing fields in the opinion of Edward A. "Eddie" Stinson, dean of all fliers who has an unrivaled record of more than 11,000 hours in the air.

"We already have airplanes developed to the point where the public may be said no longer to fear aviation," Stinson said in an interview with the United Press.

"We have conquered every element but fog," he added, "and are in a fair way to conquer that, either through use of radio control or otherwise."

"But the one great drawback to today is the lack of adequate landing fields, properly marked and at frequent enough intervals to remove the last trace of public hesitation."

Stinson believes that "every city and town of any consequence in America should map out a field."

"Such a program," he explained, "would not necessarily mean condemnation of any land, but merely would involve definite designation of a suitable plot of ground that could be used for landing purposes."

"When not actually serving as a landing field," he continued, "it might be used for the raising of crops, such as hay or grain, neither of which grow to such a height as would prove an obstacle to a possible forced landing."

The ultimate future of commercial aviation is more assured today, Stinson believes, than was the future of the automobile 25 years ago. In proportion to the availability of adequate landing fields, he said, the industry will "climb."

Stinson pictures the airplane and the automobile in a peculiar transportation tandem in no way competing with each other.

"In fact," he said, "the utilization of the automobile stops where the value of the airplane begins."

"But together the two make a serious future threat to the railroads for passenger transportation." He does not believe heavy freight will ever be moved in large quantities through the air.

A PACKAGE OF SEEDS

I paid a dime for a package of seeds and the clerk tossed them out with a flip.

"We've got 'em assorted for every man's needs."

He said with a smile on his lip. "Peppers and parsnips and turnips and pears,

Ten cents a package, and pick as and peas,

Now seeds are just dimes to the man in the store

And dimes are the things that he needs.

And I've been to buy them in seasons before

But I thought of them merely as seeds.

But it flashed through my mind as I took them this time

"You've purchased a miracle here for a dime."

You've a dime's worth of power which no man can create

You've a dime's worth of life in your hand.

You've a dime's worth of life in destiny, fate,

Which the wisest can not understand.

In this bright little package, now isn't it odd?

You've a dime's worth of something known only to God.

These are seeds, but the plants and the blossoms are here

With their petals of various hues, In these little pellets, so dry and so queer,

There is power which no chemist can fuse.

Here is one of God's miracles soon to unfold;

Thus for ten cents an ounce is divinity sold.

Be a Milk Tippler, Says Dr. Schireson

Peaches and cream complexions of American women have their foundation in a milk diet, according to Dr. Henry J. Schireson, famous Chicago dermatologist and facial plastic surgeon.

Doctor Schireson has won fame by beautifying motion picture, musical comedy and vaudeville stars and many society women of America. He transformed Fanny Brice's nose, rejuvenated Eva Tanguay's face, removed sixty-four pounds of adipose tissue from Truly Shattuck in one operation, straightened the cross eyes of the leading lady of Singer's midwits, and has performed other corrections for making people young and beautiful.

Doctor Schireson has one infallible prescription for the attainment of beauty. It is: "One quart of milk a day, one hour of sunshine, and repeat ad libitum."

"Beauty specialists and cosmetic makers," says Doctor Schireson, "would be driven out of business in a few weeks if all the women of America would drink their quart of milk a day."

"Babies and children have complexions of angels for the reason that they are fed largely on milk. Milk used externally or internally is a beautifier. Anna Held, I believe, was the first actress who adopted the milk bath. While this was a novelty at the time, and her press agent undoubtedly made the most of it, the principle in itself was sound. But a beauty secret of even more value is the daily quart of milk taken as a part of the diet."

"The milk-fed girl is easily distinguished by the velvety texture and the healthy color of her skin. Milk is a wonderful body builder, because it contains every structural element. It is, in a way, an elixir of life."

"Authorities agree that milk is the most nearly perfect food but it is an extremely delicate one as well. Heat sufficient to kill all bacteria is the essential of absolutely pure and sterile milk. One of the advantages of evaporated milk, which is simply fresh cow's milk with sixty per cent of the water removed, is that it is entirely sterile and is more easily assimilated than ordinary market milk."

"Milk is mentioned forty-seven times in the Bible.

Youth of Nation Tops Death List in U. S. Auto Fatalities

AUTO DEATH RATE HIGHEST AMONG YOUTH

YOUTH pays the heaviest toll in annual automobile fatalities. From five to fifteen years is the period when the greatest number of fatal accidents occur, for both sexes. The chart shows the age distribution of automobile deaths for men and women as given in the latest mortality figures prepared by the government. These figures, says the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents, emphasize the need for more playgrounds and increased safety education among school children.

Complete statistics are not possible, as only 85 per cent of the United States keeps mortality records. About 22,000 a year is generally conceded to be the annual number of automobile fatalities. For 8,621 males known to have been killed in one year there were only a third as many women, or 2,845, it spite of the fact that the male population is only 4 per cent greater than the female.

This chart does not take into consideration the 600,000 Americans who are injured annually by automobiles. Such figures are not available except in certain states, but that boys and girls again make up the bulk of such casualties is indicated by the records of New York State kept for the first nine months of 1925. Here 11,705, or practically one-third of the 38,392 injured, were under fifteen years of age.

Congress No. 2

Statistics have proven that only one-half of one per cent of the speeches made in Congress are listened to. A great many Congressmen speak IN, but not TO, Congress. But every speech is published in the record. They send the records back home to show "What they told 'em up there in Washington." Now the people back home think Congress heard their "Lem" tell 'em this.

Now, here is my scheme to stop speech making. A Bill reading as follows: "Congressional Record must not only contain speech, but number of members, and names who listened to speech, and why." For instance: "Congressman Post Hole arose to a point of information and spoke at length on, 'Is Locarno a town, or is it a Treaty?' Length of speech, without waiting for applause, four hours, thirty-six minutes; attendance, Gout (Rep. N. Y.): 'Unable to get out.' Sixty-fourty (Dem. N. J.): 'Case of reciprocity, he listened to mine.' Low-brow (Rep. Mass.): 'I was asleep, even the good speakers haven't woke me up.'"

Now I claim that will stop some speech making. The minute it gets back home that "Lemmie" is talking to himself up there, "Lemmie" will stop talking.

You know why they won't listen to anybody up there? They have gone out to smoke, that's why, and you know why they've gone out to smoke? Why, "Bull" Durham, of course. IT'S BETTER THAN ANY SPEECH EVER MADE.

HOUSTON COULD BEAT REPUBLICAN NOMINEE

We see numerous mentions being made of Governors Richie of Maryland and Smith of New York as Democratic nominees for the presidency in 1928. They both have many appealing qualifications—and some drawbacks. It is barely possible that their drawbacks might be such as to again give us the usual defeat. We put forward one of the most capable men, one of the most "finished" candidates either or any party ever offered for the presidency in 1924, and he had such handicaps that he was badly beaten by a mere ordinary man and his party badly besmeared with the worst kind of graft; but we, the Democrats, did not have to apologize for our efforts to do the United States a good. Just now it is quite apparent that the liquor question is being forced forward for an issue when most of us (I think) do not wish it so. There is a real chance to avoid it and elect a real strong, capable, clean man to the presidency and have four or eight years more of Volstead vs. Bootlegger and not have so much graft at Washington as appears almost constantly to exist. Let's try to do it—for the good of all.

I have reference to Hon. David F. Houston, former president of our own A. & M. College, University of Texas, of Washington University at St. Louis; Secretary of Agriculture, also of Treasury, for eight years in last Democratic administration, and probably President Wilson's closest adviser on all domestic questions (regardless of claims for Mr. House) and recognized as being posted in the needs of the farmer and the banker as well as few if any other man is today.

The farmer is demanding more consideration every day, as the prices he has to pay for all he buys goes up and up under Republican tariff prices and his own production does not keep pace therewith. Who is there among our known and experienced and scientifically educated statesmen that may match Mr. Houston? Who is there among our financiers who knows our governmental affairs so well as he and could inspire the confidence of both these extremes as could Mr. Houston.

It looks now like we will have Mr. Coolidge or Governor Lowden or Mr. Dawes to make the race for the Republicans. Mr. Houston would not have to give ground to either and, I believe, he would be recognized as Mr. Wilson is reported to have said of him, the very best equipped man of the Nation for president and be elected because of confidence in him and lack of confidence in the opposition. Again, he has had experience in the Treasury Department as Secretary, and it is that department which has the enforcement of the liquor laws. There would be no accusations of favor or fraud while he was President. I think the 12,000,000 women voters would rally strongly to him in preference to either of the Governors, Richie or Smith.

SIXTH DISTRICT REPORTS ARE HEARD AT CISCO

CISCO, Texas, April 28.—The first business session of the eleventh annual convention of the Texas Federation Women's Clubs for the sixth district was held on Wednesday at the First Methodist church, with the president, Mrs. H. B. Broadus, presiding. The registration so far shows this to be the most largely attended of any of the preceding annual meets there being 246 delegates here.

The morning session was taken up in discussing the reports of delegates, which showed all units of the sixth district to be active bodies. There was but little talk in the corridors of the next meeting place, which will be about the only competitive proposition to come up.

Displayed in the lobbies of the church auditorium is quite a collection of pictures done by West Texas artists. In the collection the blue bonnet, Texas' State Flower, predominates, though there are many West Texas scenes that are appreciated, especially by those who remember West Texas in the days of the ranches and now fast-disappearing longhorns.

All preliminaries and the initial social features of the convention were cleared for the business sessions with the banquet Tuesday evening, which was followed by the program at the First Methodist church.

At the banquet Mrs. William Reagan, past president, presided as toastmaster, and after the invocation by Mrs. Philip Pettit, president of the country federation, dinner was served to 150 guests. The toastmaster welcomed the delegates to Cisco, and in retrospect compared this convention back to the first meeting of the sixth district body, when it was organized in Cisco eleven years ago.

During the banquet the following responded to toasts: Mrs. Lexie Dean Robertson, poet laureate of Rising Star; R. W. H. Kennon, city editor

Cisco Daily News; Mrs. A. J. Olson, president of the City Federation; Mrs. H. B. Broadus, Colorado, president sixth district federation; Mrs. R. E. Cox, Stephenville, president first district federation; Mrs. W. S. Browning, San Angelo, first vice-president sixth district federation; Mrs. G. B. Kelly, past secretary sixth district federation; William Reagan, "the power behind the throne of the past president;" Mrs. J. U. Fields, Haskell, president State Federation; Mrs. J. C. Nagle, Dallas, secretary State federation; Mrs. William Sill, now of Cisco, formerly of Tulsa, Okla., first vice-president Oklahoma State Federation; Mrs. M. H. Haggaman, Ranger, second vice president sixth district federation; Dr. E. F. Berkley, State Senator; Mrs. R. Q. Lee, Cisco, treasurer State federation; Mrs. M. D. Paschall and Mrs. J. R. Burnett, Cisco; Mrs. R. E. Buchanan, Fort Worth; Mrs. W. R. Potter, Bowie; Mrs. Dave Mills, Texarkana, and Mrs. C. H. Fee, Cisco, chairman of the hostess committee of the convention.

SOUTH'S BEST DOGS WILL ENTER STATE ASSN. HUNT

ANNUAL CHASE TO OPEN MAY 3RD ON LARGE BORDEN COUNTY ESTATE

The annual meeting of the Texas Wolf and Fox Hunters Association, to be opened at the Long Ranch, near old historic Mushaway Mountain in Borden county, May 3rd, promises to be the biggest chase ever held in West Texas, according to Dr. P. C. Coleman of Colorado, president of the West Texas Wolf Hunters Association, which organization will be host during the big hunt.

Dogs holding a long string of pedigrees and representing some of the best known kennels in the South are to be entered in the chase events, Dr. Coleman stated Tuesday morning. Among the nationally known breeders to be present with their best dogs are Walker Bros., of Paintlick, Ky., and Rev. B. B. Crimm of Marshall, Texas.

In addition to these, dog fanciers and lovers of the chase from every section of Texas are expected to attend the hunt. Never before in the history of West Texas has such an aggregation of fine dogs assembled to participate in this sport, Dr. Coleman says.

The Long Ranch, not far from the town of Gall, is full of romance and history, owing to the fact that Mushaway Mountain, among the last rendezvous of the Indians and the buffalo, stands at one end of the large estate, silently memorializing the valiant deeds of the hardy pioneer who blazed a path into the wilds of West Texas and laid the foundation upon which the unprecedented civilization and development of this domain has been erected. Here, amid this environ, lovers of the chase from throughout Texas, and other States, will gather for the hunt.

The Nolan county wolf hunters association is cooperating with the West Texas association in acting as host to the hundreds of visitors expected. The two West Texas organizations have determined to entertain their guests in typical western style. In speaking of the coming event Tuesday morning, Dr. Coleman said: "Lovers of this, the greatest sport in the world, are to have the opportunity of seeing and hearing some of the finest dogs in the United States. This association covers all of Texas in its embrace and dogs to be entered will be brought from every part of Texas.

"Walker Bros. of Kentucky, noted throughout the entire country wherever good dogs are in favor, Rev. B. B. Crimm of Marshall, also a breeder meriting distinction throughout the Southwest, and other breeders will be on hand with their dogs. "The West Texas Hunters Association has invited its friends of Nolan county to cooperate in entertaining the visitors.

"This is to be a rare opportunity for all lovers of the chase to enjoy this beloved sport to the fullest degree. This is to be the first time the association has ever met in West Texas, and it may be the last time. "If at all possible, lay aside your cares for the three days, join us at the Long Ranch and let us show genuine West Texas hospitality to every visitor."

It has been announced that ample camp facilities will be provided all visitors. Complete information as to the hunt may be obtained upon application to Dr. Coleman at Colorado, or Judge Horace Holley, Snyder.

SITE FOR BANK ANNEX IS CLEARED OF OLD BUILDINGS

Joe Church, contractor, completed raising the old buildings south of the Colorado National Bank building last week and site for the modern two-story bank annex is now ready for construction work to begin. These frame structures had stood on the site since 1893 and were among the oldest business buildings in that section of the business district.

ENTRIES IN FARM CONTEST MUST BE MADE BY JUNE 10

Farmers and farm boys desiring to enter the Colorado Chamber of Commerce "More Feed on Fewer Acres" contest must file entrance certificates prior to June 10, according to rules under which the contest is to be governed.

Another rule requires that not less than fifty entries be filed prior to that date. As the medium to encourage better crop production, citizens of the rural districts of this county are urged to lend their cooperation to this contest. A total of $500 in cash prizes will be distributed among contestants making the highest number of points. The first prize of $200 is well worth the effort of any farmer or farm boy to work for, from either the financial benefits or the distinction of producing a better crop of forage and grain sorghum than his neighbor.

Up to Thursday a total of 19 entries had been registered at the chamber of commerce. If the contest is to become operative 31 additional names must be filed between now and June 10th.

This contest should especially appeal to rural farm boys who are ambitious to acquire some easy cash of their own. Enter a ten acre patch of grain sorghums or forage crops in this contest. Full information will be cheerfully given by the chamber of commerce, your banker or the county farm agent. Obtain the entry blank, sign up and let us see what you can do.

Rules governing the contest and distribution of cash prizes have been announced as follows:

The cash prizes are to be distributed as follows:

- 1st. prize, $200; 2nd prize $150; 3rd prize, $75; 4th prize, $50; 5th prize $25.
- 1—Any farmer or farm boy residing in Mitchell county is eligible.
- 2—The entry shall consist of ten acres of grain sorghum or forage crops.
- 3—Twenty per cent of the total cultivated acreage of the farm must be planted in feed crops.
- 4—The ten acre entry may be included as a part of the twenty per cent mentioned in rule three.
- 5—The total estimated cash value of the crop produced shall constitute the basis of awarding prizes.
- 6—Entry blanks will be provided at the office of the chamber of commerce and office of the county agent.
- 7—Entries shall close on June 10th, 1926.
- 8—Competent judges of the contest shall be appointed by the chamber of commerce and county agent.
- 9—Prizes will be awarded November 15, 1926.
- 10—Decision of the judges shall be final.
- 11—All things being equal, the contestant having the largest proportion of his cultivated acreage in feed or forage crops, shall be considered.
- 12—Contest shall not become valid unless at least fifty entries are made.
- 13—No irrigated crops may be entered in this contest.

FROM LYNCH HEADQUARTERS, DALLAS

With a charter membership of more than 750 the Dallas county "Lynch Davidson for Governor" club has been organized, following the lead taken in McLennan, where an initial membership of 250 was registered at Waco. Hopkins, San Saba and other counties are also in line with similar organizations, born during the last ten days.

Based upon his private and public record, strong resolutions were adopted at the meetings held in the several counties, urging Davidson's fitness for the governorship, with his qualifications epitomized in the phrase: "Seasoned ability coupled with rugged honesty, deserves to win."

It is urged in the resolutions that when the test of qualifications is applied, Davidson is shown the most desirable candidate—that his private career as clerk, laborer, sawmill manager and successful business man has been inspiring, and that his public record as representative, state senator and lieutenant governor may be pointed to with just pride.

Reference is made to the 275,000 votes which went to the two Davidsons in the last campaign, with the assertion that this strength is now practically solid behind Lynch Davidson, which assures his entry into the second primary.

Touching upon the highway situation, the resolutions point out that the two factions interested in highway construction have aligned themselves behind the two officials seeking the governorship, and that the election of Mr. Davidson is "the only hope of ending this broil," and putting a stop to the costly deterioration in Texas highways.

"His broad experience in business affairs," the resolution declared; "his personal acquaintance with the problems of the farmer; his intimate knowledge of the needs of labor; familiarity with the workings of the state government, and his constructive platform of conservative progress fit him most admirably for a discharge of the duties of governor."

Concluding, the resolutions heartily recommend Mr. Davidson to the voters of Texas; call upon all "good Democrats" to rally to his support and "give Texas a chance," and congratulate the candidate upon his determination to conduct his campaign upon a high plane, free from vituperation and ad abuse.

LOYALISTS' NEXT MOVE

In the State election of November, 1924, I voted for every Democrat on the ticket. During the last thirty-five years I have always voted for the Democrats whenever I had the opportunity.

In the primaries this year I shall vote for nobody but Democrats, and when the people of Texas place good Democrats on the ticket for the general election I will vote for them and support them with my whole heart and soul. Now, what are the party loyalist purists going to do about it?

SHEPPARD MAY CARRY PRO-BANNER TO WHITE HOUSE

It now seems that the ants are shaping things politically so that it will suit the eternal fitness of things for those Americans who believe in and hold sacred the Constitution of this country to go to the mat with them. 'Tis a pity that, having eyes, they see not; and equipped with ears, they refuse to listen in on Public Opinion. But why worry? Frankly, the writer feels that out of it all will come the possibility of proving to the Nation and the world that we are a united country, and that, regardless of residence, the man best fitted for the job should be President.

And such a man lives in Texas. Many great constitutional lawyers have sat in the Senate, Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun—and Senator Bailey's friends ascribe this ability to him. They made their speeches and enjoyed the sunlight of publicity, but what impression did they leave on that great instrument of writing? What amendment is associated with their names? None! But Texas now has a Senator whose name has been chiseled on the Constitution of the United States so that all time will know of him and his service to the Nation. He is modest and according to an account given us by a Senate page, attends upon the sessions of the Senate as punctually as a Sunday school boy does his Bible studies. This Senate page says he is always on time. And so was another character. Plutarch gives us an account of Cato the Younger. Cato the Younger was always on time when the Roman Senate convened. And if profane history can show a nobler profile to the ages than Cato the Younger it has escaped my reading.

After Mr. Bryan returned from a tour of the world he was credited with making the statement that the then Prince of Wales, afterward King Edward, was easily the first gentleman of Europe. And to borrow that elegant description, I confidently ask if the United States Senator from Texas, the Honorable Morris Sheppard, is not the first gentleman of Texas? And if these "I Want Whiskys" just keep up their noise the first gentleman of Texas will carry the prohibition standard into the White House. Personally I can not refrain from saying their noise is music to my ears. If they go far enough it will make dreams come true.

DAN F. SMITH,

Maud, Texas.

FORMER SUPPORTER OF DAVIDSON GOS OVER TO MOODY

Out of hundreds on hundreds of letters received at Moody headquarters, every one breathing the same air of "knowing instead of thinking." Every one inspiring even greater confidence, none has commanded more attention than a reply sent by former State Highway Commissioner D. K. Martin.

However, Martin believes in the old adage, that "circumstances alter cases" and considers a switch from Davidson to Moody something wholly proper and even imperatively demanded.

"Two years ago I supported Mr. Lynch Davidson for governor. It is also true that sometime last fall someone from Houston wrote me in behalf of Mr. Davidson's present campaign, to which I made favorable reply to such candidacy. But conditions have wonderfully changed. When Mr. Davidson criticised Dan Moody's suit and settlement of it, against the American Road Company, he forced Mr. Moody into the governor's race.

Early polls as outlined in this correspondence a week ago continue to be made in all parts of the State. They all show the same general trend and the same ultimate goal. Most striking of them, as reported to Austin, is one made by W. A. Fitch, on a visit early in the week to Eagle Pass. Fitch who lives in San Antonio, who formerly lived at Eagle Pass, who is known throughout Southwest Texas and who knows the Mexican burros along the border by their first names, says Maverick county is going to be the banner

Moody stronghold of the state.

"There were five Ferguson supporters in Maverick," writes Fitch. "One of them moved away last week, leaving four. During a stay of several days at Eagle Pass and other sections in connection with an irrigation project in which I am interested, I found one Lynch Davidson supporter. My old county of Maverick, I am sure, will lead all the rest in its nearly unanimous support of Moody. But Dimmit, Zavala, Uvalde Val Verde and all the others in that tier are nearly as strong as Maverick. I know that, for I have been all over them very recently. I thought San Antonio was filled with the fire of Moody—and it is—but it is not even in Maverick's class, comparatively."

Reports coming from every part of West Texas, that Moody's marriage to a daughter of the plains has more than ever cemented that entire section of the state to his candidacy, is not only plausible, but is supported by many tangible evidences. Former State Senator W. W. Turney of El Paso, one of the Moody "originals" has declared that, while paying little special attention to the rest of Texas, all the country between Fort Worth and El Paso is overrunning with Moody supporters.

D. K. MARTIN,

SECOND MEETING OF SCOUT LEADERS IS HELD MONDAY

The second session of the leader training course being conducted by the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America was held at the Legion Hut Monday evening and was pronounced a success by all who attended. Much rivalry is being developed between the patrols, the Wolf patrol, led by R. B. Norman, leading in the contest with a total of 165 points for the two sessions held. The contest is based on attendance, punctuality, reading assignments, patrol totems, doing the "Daily Good Turn" and dues. A boy's Handbook and a Scoutmaster's Handbook have been furnished to each man enrolled and other books and pamphlets will be provided later in the course. These books the members study to know just what the Boy Scout program contains that grips the interest of so many of America's young manhood.

Rev. W. M. Elliott, president of the Council, spoke on the subject, "Why boys need Scouting." In the course of his remarks Rev. Elliott pointed out the great power for good or evil contained in the leisure time of the boy, explaining that the Boy Scout program gives the boy something worthwhile to do and think about in that leisure time. "A bad habit," said the speaker, "at first is like a small weed, easily rooted up; later it becomes a vigorous shrub, much harder to pull out; and in the end it becomes a great tree, so rooted into the being that it can not be overcome. Scouting tends to combat the bad habit by forming good ones."

The next meeting will be held Monday, May 3, when further instruction will be given in recreational methods of instruction.

COLORADO STEAM LAUNDRY INSTALLS MORE MACHINERY

Installation of a huge American flat iron at the Colorado Steam Laundry by two factory engineers has been completed. The new press, said to be among the latest improved laundry equipment for turning out flat work, will increase the plant capacity by four times for turning out this class of work.

Since taking over management of the plant several months ago, J. Ralph Lee has added several thousand dollars in new equipment until today the laundry is one of the largest in West Texas. A few months ago a large water treating plant, which removes brackish content from water supplied by the city, was installed. About fifteen people are employed at the plant.

Hon. J. C. Beakley, mayor of Dunn spent a few hours in Colorado Monday on business. Mayor Beakley reported that prosperity dominated the Dunn section.

3,000 VISITORS EXPECTED AT ANNUAL SINGING MEET

MITCHELL ASSOCIATION WILL HOLD CONVENTION AT COLORADO MAY 2

Not less than three thousand visitors, many of whom will come from a distance, are expected to be in Colorado Sunday, May 2, for the annual convention, Mitchell County Singing Associational convention, which will be in session throughout the day at Union Tabernacle.

T. H. Westbrook, president of the association, announced this week that the convention this year was giving promise of developing into the largest and most successful ever held. Scores of the leading song directors in West Texas, several outstanding quartets and entire singing classes will have part in the day's program.

The annual business session of the association will be held Saturday night at the auditorium of the First Methodist church. Here officers for the ensuing year will be elected and other business transacted. President Westbrook will preside at this session.

"Mitchell county has developed some of the State's best singers and they are expected to appear before the public on our program next Sunday," Westbrook stated. "To the lover of good vocal music we have much to promise. Indications are that this is to be the best convention we have ever held."

Westbrook stated that the chamber of commerce, Lions club and other organizations at Colorado were lending their organization support in making the convention a success. Every courtesy possible will be accorded visitors.

SUL ROSS CONCERT WELL RECEIVED BY LOCAL PUBLIC

Last Thursday evening a musical Arts Program was given by Sul Ross State Teachers College of Alpine at the high school auditorium.

Owing to lack of advertising the attendance was not large but every one present enjoyed the program from beginning to end.

H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross gave an illustrated lecture on Robert Burns, the audience singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," after which he quoted "Catters Saturday Night" and "Tam O'Shanter" using stereopticon slides to illustrate them. His talk on Burns' representative poems, was very fine and some thought he must be a Scotchman, his dialect being so perfect.

Miss Irma Lee Batey, contralto, sang a number of classics interspersed with negro spirituals, such as "De Ol' Arks a-Movin'" and "Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen." Miss Batey has a splendid voice a clear enunciation, and her audience was charmed with every one of her numbers.

Miss Frances Gillett, a pianist of wonderful talent, played the accompaniment for Miss Batey and Miss Boardman.

Miss Loraine Boardman, violinist, was simply grand in every one of her numbers. She rendered Capriccio Valse, Liebesfraud, Caprice Viennois, La Chasso, Jota Navarra, etc. She played with perfect ease and assurance and gave great pleasure to her audience. While the writer is no musician, we do not hesitate to say that Miss Boardman was superior to any violinist ever appearing before an audience in Colorado.

The entire program was a literary and musical treat, and we very much regret that more of our people did not hear it.

After playing several other places this program will be given at Cisco during the meeting of the 5th District of Texas Federation of "Women's clubs."

We hope these people will visit Colorado again at an early day.

Floyd Beall of Lubbock was a business visitor here this week.

BIG OFFER FOR WILDCAT IS REPORTED AT SAN ANGELO

SAN ANGELO, April 26.—Owen & Sloan have refused a cash offer of $500,000 for their No. 1 Chalk, first commercial producer in Southeastern Howard county, and the drilling block on which it is located, according to partially confirmed reports reaching San Angelo. The operators are holding out for a figure said to be in excess of $1,000,000, with one of the major companies as the prospective purchaser, the reports added.

The well flowed continuously after two-inch tubing was run and until rods were inserted preparatory to a pumping test, after making frequent heads of oil from a total depth of 1,584 feet. Estimates of its completed production range from 100 to 200 barrels daily. The well was drilled on a block of 500 to 600 acres, in addition to which Owen & Sloan own nearly 900 acres in smaller surrounding tracts. The location is in Section 113, block 29, W. & N. W. Railway Company Survey.

The new producer has opened up a large area to development and that it is of great potential value is evidenced by the reported cash offer, the largest made for a West Texas wildcat in some time, although fairly recent sales have been made for a larger figure in both cash and oil.

Surveys are being made by Marland Pipe Line Company engineers for a pipe line projected from No. 1 Chalk on the T. & P. Railroad by the Kay County Gas Company. The Kay County Gas Company is a Marland subsidiary. It was setting tankage Saturday at No. 1 Chalk. The Chalk well is between the Fred Hyer No. 1 Clay and Deep Rock 1 Hyman which showed oil at this level.

IN MEMORY OF BROTHER C. P. CONAWAY

Whereas, on the 7th day of April, A. D. 1926, it was the will of Almighty God to remove from our midst, Brother C. P. Conaway to the Supreme Lodge above, where labor is no more and where sorrows cease and troubles are no more.

Be it resolved, that we acknowledge the wisdom and goodness of our Supreme Grand Master, and bow in humble submission to the inevitable edict from the East, yet we mourn the death of our brother whom we shall never meet again at the altar of Free Masonry until we gain admission into that Celestial Lodge on High, where he has preceded us; and we deplore his loss to the fraternity, his family and his friends. He was a just and upright Mason, a man who endeavored to perform every duty to his family and his friends.

Resolved that in token of our sincere friendship and sympathy in this dark hour of this great affliction, and as a pledge to the memory of our deceased brother, we extend to the bereaved family the fraternal right hand of Free Masonry, with the assurance that with the Great Light given of God to man, will guide us and them safely to that Spiritual Building, that House not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens, where the broken circle shall be reunited never again to be parted, and where we shall dwell together in peace and happiness forever.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge, a copy be furnished the bereaved family and a copy filed in the archives of the Lodge.

MORE ABOUT YOUR FORD

Transforming a couple of miles of steel bars into ring gears for Ford Cars is all in the day's work at the Highland Park Plant of the Ford Motor Company. Here, ingenious machinery which obviates all possibility of human error furnishes an interesting study in efficiency methods characteristic of Ford manufacture.

A mighty important feature is the line of power in this rear axle gear, although not much larger in size than a china saucer. As the principal driving agent between the drive shaft and rear axle, it must not only be tough enough to stand strains, but must also be hard enough to resist wear, for a worn ring gear is a sure source of axle noises.

Quality is closely guarded in manufacturing these gears and the steel that goes into them is constantly held to the most rigid specifications. Arriving at the Highland Park plant in long bars, it is cut to exactly the length required for the finished ring. The steel is heated white hot and in powerful machines, capable of hair's breadth accuracy, is formed into a perfect circle. Then, by means of an electric current of tremendous amperage the butts of the ring are fused into each other.

In subsequent operations, the rings are trimmed, hardened and gear teeth cut into them and it is interesting to note that at no stage of the development or even in the finished product is it possible to detect the point where the weld was made.

This method of producing ring gears is doubly significant in Ford car manufacture. In point of economy, it represents a material saving over stamping the ring out of steel plates—a method by which the disc cut out of the center of the ring and the trim are wasted. Then, too, steel not unlike wood, has "grain" and it is obvious that a stamped-out ring must contain a certain amount of cross-grain. The Ford process, on the other hand, produces a ring entirely of long grain, a quality which contributes to the Ford car's freedom from axle troubles.

Texaco Motor Oils, the clean, clear, golden colored oil, reduces upkeep and wear on your motor, seals pistons, increases mileage, keeps spark plugs cleaner and keeps hard carbon out.

Ford Highest in Quality Lowest in Price

The finest steels available are used in the manufacture of Ford cars. The plate glass for windshields and windows is as perfect as can be made. Upholstery material contains a larger percentage of wool than is ordinarily specified—even for much higher priced cars. The basic features of Ford design have never been improved upon by any manufacturer.

No other car offers greater dependability. The Ford car has won the favor of millions of users under every conceivable motoring condition. Its convenience is known and appreciated the world over; its performance is taken for granted.

Such quality is possible at Ford prices because every operation, from mining of ore to final assembly, is under direct control of the Ford Motor Company.

Iron is taken from Ford mines in Michigan; coal from the Company's mines in Kentucky and West Virginia. Glass comes from Ford glass plants; wood from the Ford timber tracts in the North. Raw materials and finished products are carried over the Company's own transportation routes; coke ovens, blast furnaces, a steel mill, foundries and saw mills—all are part of this complete organization. There are even salvage plants, paper mill, cement plant, etc., to transform waste materials into useful by-products.

In this way every possible economy is effected. Under no other circumstances could Ford quality be had at Ford prices.

Either Twin Can Drive This Buick

One of these young ladies is driving an automobile for the first time in her life. She is Daisy Hilton, one of the famous Texas Twins. She and her sister Violet have been joined together since birth at the base of the spine. Because Daisy is the right hand twin, she has always had to sit in the passenger's seat while Violet piloted the car. But in a recent visit to California the Howard Automobile Company, Buick distributors, solved the problem. The Buick used by the Twins has double control, and is used to teach new drivers how to handle a car. Violet is seen giving Daisy her first lesson in driving at the wheels of the double control Buick. These charming young girls are high school graduates, talented musicians and accomplished entertainers.

Welding broken parts Saves money

We will be glad to serve you. There was a time when most broken metal parts were thrown away. Metal parts, leaky tanks, cracked engine blocks, iron brackets, etc., had to be replaced by new ones if they were broken. But welding has changed all this. It is no longer necessary to throw away valuable machines or tools because they are broken. We can weld anything of metal and make it as good as new. The cost is very little. Ask us about our new welding service. We will be glad to inspect any broken machine or utensil you may have, and make estimates on the cost of repairing. Let us save you money.

WHY BOYS LEAVE HOME

Sherman Chronicle: The sweetheart of a certain boy or young man of Sherman gave him a beautiful silk handkerchief on his last birthday and he prized the gift very highly. His grown up sister found it a few days ago and made a dress out of it. Of course, it didn't take all the handkerchief to make the dress, but it was practically ruined.

Then to add more misery to his lot his grandmother, who had come to spend the winter here, finding his Sunday suit—a pale blue-gray—thinking it was so badly faded out that it would be useless, got busy and made a couple of good heavy quilts out of the trousers. She fixed his coat so he could wear it by dyeing it a copperas brown.

When the young man hunted for his vaseline hair tonic, he found it was about all gone, and grandpa, who is always visiting in the home, meekly explained that he found it a wonderful cough syrup and had been taking a sip now and then. He didn't think anyone would care—and he really didn't know it was for the hair.

UNSELFISH IDEALISM BEHIND NEWSPAPERS

The local newspaper in the United States is each year getting on a firmer foundation and becoming more and more useful to its home community.

It is the home newspaper which boosts the town, year in and year out, which takes the lead in every enterprise which has for its purpose the upbuilding of the community.

We frequently hear it said that the old-time independent spirit of the newspaper is gone, that its editorial policy is now subservient to the business office. Yet this is not true. There is more unselfish idealism in the average local newspaper than in any other business enterprise. It frequently speaks out in the way which it believes will be for the good of the nation and of the community, regardless of what the consequences may be from a business standpoint.

The local newspaper is the principal booster for the community, and it does its boosting often without hope of material reward. Unfortunately is the community which neither appreciates nor supports its local newspapers.—Wisconsin State Journal.

CITY SECRETARY AT LUBBOCK INDICTED EMBEZZLING CHARGE

LUBBOCK, April 27.—J. R. Germany, secretary of the City of Lubbock, since August 1919, was late yesterday indicted on a charge of embezzlement of public funds. A bond of $2,000 was set and immediately arranged.

Two instances of embezzlement are alleged by the grand jury, one on February 24, 1925, of $843.20, and the other on May 18, of the same year, in the sum of $1,783.30. Germany denies guilt in both instances.

The indicted man is the third secretary of the City of Lubbock to come under suspicion, members of the city council say.

HAS NO APOLOGIES FOR STAYING WITH PARTY

While I signed the call for the Moody meeting last week, I was not able to attend. The results of the meeting must be gratifying to all the Moody supporters in our city and State, but there was injected into the meeting one question concerning which all of us should have an understanding and then drop the matter. References to the issue were really, as I understood it, facetious, but there is an underlying element of more serious import involved and it is to this that I address these words.

The chairman of the meeting called "mourners," the "mourners" being those who had voted for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for Governor. If I had been present I would have said substantially what I am saying here—that, while I voted for Mrs. Ferguson and supported earnestly the entire State Democratic ticket in 1924, I have no apologies to offer and have never regretted the position I occupied at that time.

I have the old-fashioned notion that a man goes into a primary and one of the candidates in that primary secures the nomination, it is his duty either to vote for that candidate or to refrain from voting at all.

It follows, therefore, that if any of our Democratic evangelists feel moved to call "mourners" their prospects for penitents are to be found in the ranks of those who followed the political fortunes of Dr. Butte. For my own part, I am in hearty agreement with Murrell Buckner, who takes the position that no punishment of any kind is to be meted out to those wandering Democratic brethren of ours who sidestepped the regular nominee in 1924 and espoused a failing cause.

It is now argued by some of our good Democratic friends who voted for Dr. Butte that the present administration is a failure and hence those of us who supported Mrs. Ferguson should hit the sawdust trail. Let all of these dear brethren bear in mind that the failure of the present administration is a Ferguson failure and not our failure. I had two reasons for supporting Mrs. Ferguson for Governor, one of which was, as already stated, that I voted in the Democratic primary and hence felt pledged to keep the faith and vote the ticket. It was not the first time I ever voted for a candidate, the wisdom of whose nomination I doubted.

But there was another reason why I voted for Mrs. Ferguson. James E. Ferguson, her husband, had been impeached and I unhesitatingly declare, regardless of what happened before that time or has happened since, that he made the most courageous and persistent fight for rehabilitation of any man I have ever known. When he spoke so pathetically of his little grandchildren playing about his knee and of the fact that he wished his wife to be elected so that every stain might be erased from the Ferguson name, I believed in his sincerity, and that is another reason why I voted for Mrs. Ferguson for governor.

I must frankly say that James E. Ferguson has disappointed me, as he has disappointed countless thousands of others, who, like myself, gave credence to his protestations and believed him sincere when he appealed to our hearts for another chance at life.

Frankly, I think he has failed. The failure is not only colossal; it is deeply pathetic. Let it be borne in mind, however, that his failure is his art's ours. We succeeded, just as any man succeeds who lives up to the highest and best impulses of his heart.

In view of James E. Ferguson's failure there are doubtless many who think their course in supporting Dr. Butte is vindicated. I have no quarrel with them, but I do not think that any of the subsequent events have changed the facts in the case. Nothing can hide from our eyes the simple questions of the 1924 election—that Mrs. Ferguson was honestly nominated as the Democratic candidate for governor and secured this nomination through the participation in that primary of hundreds of thousands of Democrats who arrayed themselves both for and against her. When she was thus honestly nominated I felt it my duty to support her. I did, I am not sorry. I never shall be sorry. I shall never creep up to any mourner's bench set out for me by the followers of Dr. Butte or Dr. anybody else. Given the same conditions, I would do the same thing again.

Yes, I am sorry, but not sorry that I did what I did. I am sorry the Fergusons failed. They have not only failed at one point; they have failed at many points.

I am now for Dan Moody for Governor, but I declare in advance, here and now, that if Lynch Davidson or Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson either one shall be nominated I shall do as I did in 1924—I shall vote the ticket—and if this be treason, make the most of it. J. B. CRANFILL, Dallas.

School Notes

Loraine school is nearing the end of another successful term. Two more weeks after this one, and the school will close. Most of the last week will be spent in taking examinations and checking the books. The card index system that the juniors ordered for the library has arrived and will be installed before the next term of school commences. The sophomores have not bought the period clock yet, and may wait until the beginning of next term. The seniors will get out of school a week earlier than the other classes, so they may be working on their graduation exercises.

The junior class and other students motored to Westbrook last Saturday night and put on a play which has been given successfully here. A fine crowd came out to see this play and about twenty-five dollars was cleared. Mr. Blythe and Miss Ott chaperoned the class and also helped with their play. A very enjoyable, as well as profitable evening was spent.

There has been talk of running a summer school at the high school building. This will enable students not having enough credits to make up their work and be prepared for the next term.

Library Equipment

The money received by the juniors from the play put on at Westbrook was used in securing a card index system for the library. The equipment has come and will be in use in a few days. We are trying to improve our library and bring it up to the standard. We now have enough point books for the high school and many other classics. We have several sets of reference books. We have about a thousand volumes all of which are of great benefit to the pupils.

The Sophomores gave their play "The Dream that Came True" in the school auditorium Saturday night, April 24th. It was better than expected from the sophs because they received many compliments on it. They cleared about forty dollars and are going to buy a period clock for the study hall so that there will be no arguments about the time. It will be set to ring at the end of every period.

HOW COME?

Some people say: "It's cheaper to rent than to own a home of your own."
If that's true, think of how much money the poor landlord must be losing just to make it possible for his tenants to rent instead of having to own homes of their own.
Yet, strange to say, we find many landlords at the poor farm.

Increasing Motor Vehicle Sales

Gasoline Consumption Increases by Leaps and Bounds

By 1905 the automobile became something more than an experiment. There were 75,000 motor vehicles in this country. Today there are over 17,000,000. Demand for gasoline is accordingly today more than 226 times as great as it was twenty years ago.

In 1905 about 7,000,000 barrels of gas were manufactured. Last year this country manufactured 9,000,000,000 gallons—100 gallons per minute every minute of the year.

In 1924 there were 17 times as many motor vehicles in use as there were in 1905. While the production of oil in this country has increased only 100% in the same period, the demand for oil has increased 226%. More oil, then, we must get from other sources from which we do not use. And hence is being the problem.

things done the past year and plan for the future.

On account of the heavy rain every where Wednesday only the faithful few were there on time, but each train brought new arrivals till at the opening Thursday morning there was a good crowd and all were there to give and get new ideas for carrying on the local work. Both days were a feast of good things. Nearly all associational presidents reported progress and was this especially noticeable in mission study. And this was, perhaps, the cause for the gain in the corresponding secretaries report of the splendid gain financially over last year's work.

The message of the president, Mrs. C. M. Caldwell was full of gratitude for the past and faith for the future and will be printed in the West Texas Baptist.

Besides the good reports several special treats were given. Miss Blanche Rose Walker a missionary to China and who is here on a furlough and who will sail again in September, made possible by the church at Nachedoches. Her talk to the women was "Lift up your eyes and look upon the fields." She emphasized the "lift up your eyes till we get the vision just as the Saviour would have us then we would see the truly fields white unto harvest."

At the close of her talk she had Miss Floy Hawkins the District scholarship girl who will complete her work in the Southwestern Training school at Ft. Worth in June, and will be ready for service, stand by her. She has offered herself wherever she is needed. Miss Hawkins brought greetings from the training school and told of the life of the girls there.

Her bright, radiant face as she told of her experiences was an inspiration to all. At the close of her address a silver shower was presented her by the different associational presidents. This amounted to a nice sum and will be her graduating love gift.

The Y. W. A. of the hostess church gave the Young Peoples Work in pageant and the Simmons folk gave an interesting one act play "Proposals" featuring the 1926 program.

A Margaret fund girl was adopted this year instead of a boy as heretofore. This girl who is a daughter of a foreign missionary and who is here for her education is to be remembered by love greetings on birthday, Christmas, Thanksgiving and at such times as love prompts a message.

Miss Myrtle Barber, a former Colorado girl, graduate of the high school her, an honor graduate of Simmons and who has offered her life for the foreign field was chosen as the district scholarship girl to go to the training school as soon as Miss Hawkins finishes. Miss Barber is teaching in the high school now at Winters.

At the noon hour on Thursday a beautiful memorial service was held for those who had passed to their reward the past year. The one known and loved by more people, was the district president, Mrs. Booth who met her death in an auto accident last summer. On the morning before her death she was talking to her Sunday school class on memorials and said should she die she could know of no greater memorial than her church sending Dr. and Mrs. Lockett, who were home for lack of funds, back to their work in Africa. This the splendid First Church of Abilene did.

The custom of the District is to award two banners each year, one for the greatest efficiency gain and the other for the association having the best attendance. Sweetwater Association got the first and Mitchell-Scurry the latter.

The officers for next year will be Mrs. E. B. Atwood, Abilene, president, all the associational presidents, the vice presidents; Mrs. Jesse Hunter, Abilene, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robt. Jones, Abilene, treasurer; Mrs. J. O. Shelton, recording secretary; Miss Lillias Penic, Stamford, Young Peoples leader.

The next meeting will be in Lamesa, the time to be set by the Executive Board.

All the messengers were entertained in the homes of the good people of Sweetwater and at noon and in the evening meals were served in the basement of the church.

TWO MILLION

The two millionth Chevrolet produced by the Chevrolet Motor Company recently climbed the steps of the new state capitol building at Jackson, Mississippi, while members of the adjoining state legislature viewed the performance.

A heavy rain preceding the event made the climb at a 45 degree angle, hazardous, but failed to scatter a crowd of more than 7,000 which waited throughout the downpour. Burned patches of rubber on the steps marked the progress of the coach up the steep incline, indicating the power necessary to make the ascent.

The climb had been negotiated only once before and several powerful types of cars recently failed to arrive at the top.

Many members of the legislature, themselves Chevrolet owners, greeted G. Porter Dukes, service manager of the Capitol Chevrolet Company, local distributors, as he reached the summit of the capitol entrance. Several ornamental stone pylons on the ascent caused the car to proceed slowly and added to the difficulty of the feat.

After once making the climb the car backed down, demonstrating the holding power of its brakes, and then repeated the demonstration. The car was a regular stock model and because of being the 2,000,000 Chevrolet produced, had been shipped to various cities of the country for exhibition. The Capitol Chevrolet company planned the stunt as a final showing of the car before selling it to a resident of Jackson.

A parade of several hundred Chevrolet automobiles, driven by their owners and headed by the mounted police division of Jackson and the demonstrating car, preceded the exhibition at the Capitol. Mayor Scott city commissioner, Hawkins and R. F. Hicks, assistant Chevrolet zone sales manager gave brief talks on completion of the ascent.

I AM EDUCATION

I bear the torch that enlightens the world, fires the imagination of man, feeds the flame of genius. I give wings to dreams and might to hand and brain.

From out of the deep shadows of the past I come, wearing the scars of struggle and the stripes of toil, but bearing in triumph the wisdom of all ages. Man, because of me, holds dominion over earth, air and sea; it is for him I leash the lightning plumb the deep and shackle the ether.

I am the parent of progress, creator of culture, mold of destiny. Philosophy, science and art are the works of my hand. I banish ignorance, discourage vice, disarm anarchy.

Thus have I become freedom's citadel, the arm of democracy, the hope of youth, the pride of adolescence, the joy of age. Fortunate the nations and happy the homes that welcome me.

The school is my workshop; here I stir ambitions, stimulate ideals, forge the keys that open the door to opportunity. I am the source of inspiration; the aid of aspiration. I am irresistible power.—Better School League.

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED AT C. OF C. CONVENTION

FORT WORTH, April 28.—West Texas Chamber of Commerce officials are making preparations for a record-breaking attendance at the annual convention in Amarillo, June 21-23, inclusive. Homer D. Wade, assistant manager, who returned to Fort Worth Monday from Amarillo, declared that several thousand visitors will attend. Colorado, home of the West Texas Gold Medal Band, official musical organization of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was among the first West Texas cities to announce that a special train would be operated to the convention city. While the convention proper will open Monday, June 21, Sunday has been designated as general patriotic day. Gen. Paul Malone, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, will be the principal speaker.

"I never saw the people of West Texas so enthusiastic over the prospects for a huge grain crop," Wade said upon his return from a conference there with Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas chamber, and members of the arrangements committee. Wade will return to Amarillo May 12 and establish convention headquarters.

The first day of the convention will be devoted to preliminaries. Special trains carrying representatives from the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, recently organized at Marshall, will be run from Longview and Paris. Eugene Blount, Nacogdoches, will speak for the East Texas organization.

The second day, designated "My Home Town Day" will witness the contest for the best orator on that subject from West Texas. Prizes will be given. Efforts are being made to have Harry H. Rogers, San Antonio, be the principal speaker for that day.

A parade will be staged the same day, depicting a Spanish fiesta. This will take the place of the usual pageant. The fiesta will portray the early Western days of Texas and eastern New Mexico.

Another parade will be staged Wednesday, June 23, in which educational institutions of West Texas will participate.

Instead of the annual banquet plans for a huge barbecue celebration are being made.

President Coolidge has been asked to be the honor guest of the convention, but no definite word has been received from him. It has been stated that President Coolidge would not be able to answer definitely until it was assured Congress would adjourn on June 1.

No word has been received from former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, who has been asked to speak during the convention.

Horse and automobile racing and other attractions will be arranged.

Wade stated that the prize money for the 60 bands that will compete for cash awards had been increased from $2,500 to $3,800. The additional $1,300 was given by the organization out of the general funds.

Three cities have already entered the fight for the 1927 convention. These are Wichita Falls, El Paso and San Antonio.

THE FAST GROWING WEST
OLTON—The citizens of Olton have voted bonds amounting to $75,000, for the construction of a new modern school building. The bonds have already been sold and work will begin immediately. Olton is growing so rapidly that it has become necessary to have more room to take care of the children.

AMARILLO—A carbon black plant to cost approximately $1,000,000 is under erection in the Panhandle oil field by the Western Carbon Company. Officials of the company here declare that the first three units of the enormous plant will be ready for operation by June 15th. Six units will comprise the entire plant. The site of the plant is on the Burkburnett ranch in Carson county. Fifty million feet of residue gas will be handled daily by the completed plant which will turn out about three carloads of carbon black per day.

RALLS—The Ralls Chamber of Commerce has just completed arrangements for trade trips to the fourteen neighboring communities. These "good will" trips are made every year and this time the Ralls Fair will be discussed and plans made for the communities to bring in their exhibits. Diversification will be urged by I. C. Byerley, director of the Ralls Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the agricultural committee, who has actual experience to prove that diversification is beyond a doubt the most profitable way to farm.

MORAN—E. F. Davis has received the contract for the road bed work on the Callahan strip of Highway 23. The bids were let recently and it is expected that work will begin immediately. The strip will be finished by the state with the understanding that Callahan county purchases the right-of-way and puts down the road bed. The strip is only about three miles in length, and will connect the Shackelford and Eastland county road.

CHILDRESS—Plans have been completed for the erecting of what is known as the Wooldridge long staple gin. The stock necessary to build the gin has been purchased entirely by Childress capital. The gin will have a capacity of 120 bales per day. The machinery is of a different type than now used and is built especially for handling bollie cotton and long staple varieties of the better quality varieties of cotton. The company expects to interest sufficient capital within a few months to build a large factory in Childress.

DEL RIO—Announcement has been made by L. G. Dubus that the Val Verde Wool & Mohair Company has sold a little over 100,000 pounds of mohair to Boston buyers for 65c for the grown hair and 75c for the kid hair. This is the highest price reported in Texas this year.

WELLINGTON—C. C. Small, mayor of Wellington, recently sold water and sewerage bonds amounting to $180,000 to Brown-Crummer Company, Wichita, Kansas, for the city of Wellington.

PLAINVIEW—A carload of fine registered Jerseys have just arrived in Plainview. These animals were imported into this territory thru the efforts of the county agent of Hale county, Mr. E. J. Huey. The shipment consists of nine mature cows, twelve heifers ranging from ten months to two years of age, five baby calves and one bull. These animals are all descendants of animals that have figured prominently in the Jersey History of America. All these cows were taken before they arrived and Mr. Huey is of the opinion that another car can be placed here.

MINERAL WELLS—In last week issue of "What's Doing in West Texas" we referred to the cost of the new Baker Hotel at Mineral Wells as being $500,000, but this should have read $1,000,000, according to information received from L. E. Seaman, president of the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce. All of West Texas is looking forward with a great deal of pride to the opening of this very fine hotel.

Death of Mrs. Webb

In the death of Mrs. Webb, April 20th, another of the pioneer citizens of Colorado was called to her reward. Mrs. Webb was Miss Mary Etta Coffee, daughter of Colonel Coffee a pioneer citizen of Georgetown, Texas.

Mrs. Webb came to Colorado with her husband, Hi Webb in their early married life and lived here until her death.

She knew all sides of life. Her husband was at one time a cattle king and like many others he suffered financial reverses. In prosperity Mrs. Webb was liberal, always lending a helping hand to the needy. In adversity she was independent, never complaining of her lot. In her sudden death it was as she would have chosen, never being a burden to any one.

She left 5-children, one daughter, at Gatesville, who was unable to come on account of sickness and four sons. Her youngest son, Ivy was with her at the time of her death. Two others came for the funeral but one in California was unable to get here.

The funeral services were held at the undertaking parlor, conducted by Rev. W. M. Elliott pastor of the Presbyterian church.

The pall bearers were sons of pioneer cattlemen Jack Smith, Carey Prude, Tom Terry, George Filler, Ross Dixon and Earl Parkhurst. The honorary ones were pioneer citizens and cattle men, D. N. Arnett, A. E. Maddin, D. L. Harrell, D. H. Snyder, Mr. Coffee, J. L. Doss, F. M. Burns, Dr. Coleman, J. D. Wulfjen and F. E. McKenzie.

COLEMAN SHERIFF SHOT IN ENCOUNTER WITH DEPUTY

COLEMAN, Texas, Apr. 27.—
Sheriff J. A. Trammell of Coleman county was shot in the county jail this afternoon. His injuries were not regarded as serious. The shooting is said to have occurred during a scuffle between the sheriff and Jailer T. L. Stafford, following a disagreement over waiting on district court. Neither man would discuss the affair tonight.

The bullet entered the right side near the waist line and lodged in the thigh.

It was learned that District Judge
J. O. Woodward, conducting court, had complained about Stafford waiting on court. Sheriff Trammell so informed the jailer, who is also deputy sheriff, and asked that he remain at the jail during the afternoon. The scuffle followed.

Stafford is said to have been beaten up and sustained a broken leg.

Stafford was a deputy under the late Sheriff Pauley and had acted as Trammell's chief deputy since he was inducted into office. The disturbance has created considerable discussion despite efforts to prevent its spread.

SEVEN WELLS NOTES

Too much can't be said for the nice rains we have been having and how we appreciate them.

Farmers are very busy planting feed, and some few have planted otton. If the weather stays just right cotton planting will be in full sway next week.

The ground is sure in fine shape and another good crop year is expected.

I don't believe we have any sickness to report this time, and we surely are proud of it, as the past winter and this Spring has been real bad for colds and flu.

Mr. C. A. Wallace and little son, Jack, have been to Stephenville since our last report to visit his sister. They report a nice visit and a real good time.

There will be a trustee's election at our school Saturday May the 1 as they didn't get to hold it when announced before.

Everybody is planning to attend
singing convention Sunday at town.
Let's every body go.

Quite a few from our community attended church at Landers Sunday afternoon. Then back to our post at town that night.

We only have three more weeks of school and we sure will hate to see it close as the children are all doing so well.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Andrews went to Sparenburg last Friday and returned Sunday. They were looking after business interests there and also visiting their daughters Mrs. A. S.
Hutchings and Mrs. W. M. Reese.

MADE FIVE DOLLARS

"I know I made five dollars by reading the ads in this week's Times-Signal," remarked one of Scurry county's prosperous farmers, Monday. "I saved $5.00 and a dollar saved is a dollar made," he added, proudly. "And I want to tell every reader of the Times-Signal that they are standing in their own light if they fail to read the ads. I don't see how anyone living in Snyder's trade territory can afford to be without your good paper. We are using it as our shopping guide, as you have suggested, and it is worth many times what it costs us."

It is no longer a question as to whether people read ads. The only question is whether the advertiser really offers inducements for the public to trade with him. The merchant who follows up his previous ad from week to week, with an appealing message is bound to get results. The Times-Signal carries the messages of its advertisers into about 1,500 homes in Snyder's trade territory each week. Those 1,500 homes are places the Times-Signal is always welcome because it contains something that every member of the family enjoys.

Then, why stand in your own light by not using its columns? Readers of the Times-Signal represent the very best people of Scurry county, and no advertiser should think for one moment that the Times-Signal readers are not reading the advertisements each week and noting every inducement offered.—Snyder Signal.

Exactly what is said above by the Snyder paper applies to Colorado and the Record.

As much money is being spent for advertising in the movie picture shows as is spent in the columns of the newspapers and it is a much mooted question if this advertising pays at all. The best authorities on advertising all say the local or country newspaper is the best advertising medium in the world.

It took but sixty seconds Saturday morning for the 800 students and faculty members of Simmons university to unanimously form a "Moody-for-Governor" club.

As the motion was presented the students sprang to their feet cheering and faculty members responded almost as quickly.

ANOTHER BIG REX BEACH PRODUCTION AT PALACE

The Palace Theatre announces another Rex Beach story for the silver screen. This production, announced as one of the best pictures ever made, was taken from this favorite writers latest literary success "The Barrier." It will be shown for a run of two days, beginning Friday.

Pre-announcements by Mr. and Mrs. Dixon for next week show that special programs are to be given on the screen at both the Mission and Palace Theatres. They are contracting some of the nation's best pictures and promise to continue their well established policy of giving the Colorado public opportunity of seeing these well in advance of showings made in some of the larger cities of the State.

No More Ice

A Home is No Longer Modern Without Frigidaire

No More Ice

Frigidaire, the complete home refrigerator, cools itself. It requires no ice.

It electrically maintains an atmosphere in the food compartment at least 10 degrees colder than is possible with ice.

It freezes ice cubes for table use. It freezes dainty creams, ices and desserts.

Frigidaire is a product of General Motors Corporation, and will probably cost you less to operate than you now pay for ice.

Let us send you a booklet which tells the story of Frigidaire. Or, you can see Frigidaire in operation at our store.
