FALL FESTIVAL TO BRING MEMOIRS OF OLD WEST

American Legion Will Stage Three Day Celebration Next September.

Scenes depicting life on the Texas frontier when the white man and the Indian contested with their lives for possession of the then unexplored West are to be featured in the pageant being arranged by Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion, for the first annual Fall festival, to be held in Colorado, September 22, 23, 24 and 25. This striking memoir of the past will be presented in a mimic Indian battle, in which a caravan of prairie schooners will be attacked, the immigrants taken captive by the red skins and their wagons and other possessions sacked and burned. This big production will end in a battle between early Texas rangers and the savages.

This is only one of the many big headliners to appear on the three day program. It will be one of the biggest undertakings ever put across by local talent in this city. Former service men having the event in charge report eager cooperation among those who are to have a part in the huge cast—Cowboys, Indians, covered wagons, women and children and others, representative of the times when this country was disputed between the Indian and white man, are all to come in for a conspicuous part in the cast.

Another feature of the festival will be a big rodeo show. This, too, will represent an exclusive local cast. Cow men who have rode in the days of cattle boom epochs in this part of West are to be inducted into the cast for this big event. Cow ponies, bucking broncos, six shooters and other characteristics of those days are to be brought into play.

Announcement that the festival was to be given was made Monday by Judge Chas. C. Thompson, post commander of the local post. Judge Thompson stated that the show would be staged at Union tabernacle and adjacent grounds. The building would be used for exhibit purposes.

In this building it is to be arranged a large agricultural show, to be gathered and displayed under supervision of Miss Ives Belle Jones, Mitchell county home demonstration agent, and H. L. Atkins, county farm agent. Other committee directors announced by Thompson are, Roy E. Warren and Carl Smith, Rodeo and Indian fight; advertising committee, W. S. Cooper, W. W. Whipkey and B. L. Tompkins; concessions and grounds, J. B. Pritchett, Harry Ragan and W. W. Whipkey.

Another big feature of the festival is to be in ceremonies attending coronation of her majesty, the queen, on the first evening of the show. The queen will be nominated through a popular contest, to be announced later by a committee composed of Floyd Quinney, Jack Helton and Grady Newman.

Then, the old fiddlers contest, a novel, yet age old feature, is to come in for its part of prominence in the three days program. The contest, being arranged under supervision of Charlie Thompson, Clyde Smith and Roy Warren, will be given on the evening of the second day.

Judge Thompson is chairman of the general arrangements committee, with John Sharpe Williams secretary-treasurer. Members of this committee are R. H. Ratliff, H. P. Ragan, J. B. Pritchett, Floyd Quinney, Joe Holland and Albert Hiser.

Brick Laid to Second Floor Level at New School Bldg.

Walls for the main auditorium and gym annex have been completed. Concrete for the roof on the main building is being poured this week.

San Antonio is Chosen for State Demo. Convention

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, June 17.—San Antonio was selected as the next meeting place of the democratic state convention and Dallas was chosen as the city in which the executive committee will meet August 9 to canvass the returns of the first primary.

Final adjournment was taken at 2:40 p. m. after Humphrey of Dallas had been elected to succeed Dwight Llewelling, resigned as a member of the executive committee. It was understood that the close of the meeting the those candidates certified provisionally would comply with conditions set and be formally certified by the secretary.

After the resolutions finally adopted were read the first time by Vice Chairman King, substitute, resolutions were offered by H. N. Graves, Georgetown, declaring that the democratic executive committee did not endorse any candidacy of Dan Moody of Williamson county for governor. The amendment was tabled by the same vote. A second amendment was then offered by Graves which declared that James E. Ferguson had held office for approximately two terms, that Miram A. Ferguson had been elected to office on the plea that she wanted only a single term, and that the democratic executive committee was opposed to granting to James E. Ferguson what would amount to a fourth term. The amendment was tabled by the vote of 18 to 7.

The original resolutions were then adopted by record vote and a reconsideration was immediately moved by Bruce of Wichita Falls with Graves as the first speaker. He charged that the committee was "handpicked," and that the adoption of the resolutions constituted an "unfair exhibition" and declared against any attempt to "shakle" the democratic voter.

Graves stated that he supported Ferguson in the twentieth district and stumped the district in opposition to Robertson and Butte in the preceding election, that he had been "born and raised" with Dan Moody but that he was not for endorsement of any candidate in the present race. C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls, speaking for the original resolutions, declared those offered by the opposition were "insulting," and characterized Graves' remarks as an "apology." He declared the resolutions expressed the traditions of the democratic party.

Member Record Force Weds Loraine Banker's Daughter

Cecil L. Cifers, member of The Record force, and Miss Clara Coon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coon of Loraine, were married Thursday last week at Sweetwater. Mr. and Mrs. Cifers are spending their wedding trip in Oklahoma. Mr. Cifers has been associated with The Record for the past several months as machinist operator. Mrs. Cifers is a daughter of a prominent farmer and banker at Loraine, has lived in this county several years.

Loraine Citizen Says Much Good to Result From Trip

Will Martin, Loraine business man and secretary of the Loraine Chamber of Commerce, spent a business visit in Colorado Tuesday morning, conferring with officials of the band as to details of attending the convention. Mr. Martin, along with other young business men of Loraine, is a member of the band and has for several years done much to make the band the success it is today. "The publicity we are to receive from this trip will mean more than any one has ever estimated," Martin declared. "In fact, we are already receiving some excellent publicity because of the part we are to have in the convention. I have been noticing some interesting news stories about Colorado and the band in papers at Station, Lubbock and other towns on the Plains."

BAND AND DELEGATION OFF FOR ANNUAL C. OF C. MEET

Automobile Caravan Profuse With Advertising Will Leave at 8 A. M.

Colorado's band and a part of the delegation to attend the Amarillo convention are to leave Colorado Friday morning at eight o'clock. The delegation will make the trip in a caravan of from thirty to thirty-five automobiles, every one of the machines being profusely decorated with Colorado advertising matter. The last shipment of this equipment arrived in Colorado Tuesday morning and is being distributed among those who are to attend the convention. Every car making the trip and every individual is urged to obtain a supply of this advertising and noise making paraphernalia.

Included in the articles supplied for convention visitors by the publicity department of the Chamber of Commerce are felt hat bands, felt pennants, walking canes, bells, automobile banners, and a large satin banner or the band. The banner, done in purple and gold, has the sign, "Colorado, official convention band," in bold relief. This banner will be used in all parades to be staged by the delegation en route.

L. B. Collier, chairman of the transportation committee, urges that every person to accompany the band be present at Second and Elm street, at Barcroft Hotel not later than eight o'clock Friday morning. The schedule calls for departure at that time and it is requested that the entire delegation leave together and remain together throughout the trip.

When the stops are made for parades and band concerts, it is requested that every member of the delegation remain in readiness for parade formation. There will be ample time for attending to personal or business visits after the parade is over. Every delegate will be expected to take part in the parades.

A large Chrysler sedan has been furnished by the Toler Motor Company as the official car and Dr. P. C. Coleman president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. L. B. Collier, assistant secretary and probably other officials will ride in this machine. The official car will head the caravan, with the machines carrying the band following. Other cars are to form in line behind the band.

Those who are not to leave for the convention with this advance delegation are requested to call at the Chamber of Commerce either late Thursday afternoon or early Friday morning and obtain their allotment of advertising paraphernalia. There is ample supply for every delegate and the articles are to be supplied without cost by the chamber of commerce.

Citizens who have not pledged to accompany this delegation and who will go and take their automobiles are requested to be ready to leave with the caravan Friday morning. It is hoped by officials of the chamber of commerce that fifty cars will leave Colorado for the convention.

Highway No. 101 be Taken Over by State July 15th

Highway No. 101, from Colorado southwest to the Sterling-Mitchell county line, is to be taken over by the State Highway Department July 15th, Tom Goss, district highway supervisor, announced here Monday. Goss stated that the county expected to complete the work of improving the highway by the date. Monday there remained eleven miles of this highway to be rebuilt. The road over a distance of eight miles out from Colorado and three miles near the county line. Twenty miles of the road south of Colorado has been completed. The highway north of Colorado to the Mitchell-Seery county line was completed and taken over by the State several months ago. After July 15 the entire distance of thirty-five miles across the county will be maintained by the department.

Delegates Requested Bring Luggage to Band Hall

All delegates leaving for Amarillo Friday morning are requested to deliver their luggage going in the truck downtown by seven thirty Thursday afternoon. A truck will be furnished to members of the delegation. This baggage should be left at the Band Hall over the F. M. Burns Dry Goods Co.

Those having folding cots are requested to send them to Amarillo for their own use. The committee has leased a few cots for the convention but the number will not supply the demand. Every delegate must furnish own bed clothing, towels, etc.

Chamber of Commerce Will Have Part in Gala Fiesta

Mrs. L. B. Collier, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce will represent this city in the Spanish Fiesta which will form one of the major attractions of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Amarillo next week. This program will take place Tuesday evening at the city auditorium and is to be participated in by not less than 100 young women who, attired in Spanish costume, will represent their city in the beautiful pageant.

As "Senora Colorado," Mrs. Collier will be entertained at a number of special social functions during the convention. Amarillo club women have announced a series of brilliant affairs for these representatives.

Navasota Citizen Would be Pleased to Make Home Here

R. M. Lindsey, who with his family are here from Navasota to visit Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Herrington and family, stated in an address at the Lions Club Friday that Colorado was one of the cleanest towns he had ever seen. The citizenship, too, are among the most progressive and wide awake to be found in Texas, the visitor said.

Mr. Lindsey is so well pleased with Colorado that he will probably make his home here. He is a good hand man and in the event he and his family locate here he will become associated with the Chamber of Commerce band.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR TECH JUBILEE AT LUBBOCK, TEX.

Colorado Band and C. of C. Head on Program, Tech Manager Announces

Plans for the third of the series of Technological College celebrations, to be held on campus of the school at Lubbock Friday night, are complete, Hon. R. M. Chitwood, business manager of the school, states in a wire received at the Colorado Chamber of Commerce. The program, expected to be attended by a large gathering of Lubbock and South Plains people, will open at eight o'clock.

Dr. P. C. Coleman of Colorado has accepted invitation to deliver one of the principal addresses, Chitwood stated. A citizen of Lubbock will also speak before the gathering. Concert music for the evening will be furnished by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce band.

Colorado and its band has participated in every West Texas celebration arranged out of recognition of the success attained when the long fight to create a West Texas institution ended with passage of the Texas Technological College bill. The first celebration was held in Sweetwater soon after passage of the bill and the second in Lubbock soon after the locating board had given the school to that city. The third, celebrating completion of the first year of success by the school, will be held in Lubbock Friday.

Program for the jubilee was arranged by Hon. R. M. Chitwood, business manager of the school; A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, and officials of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce. It was announced at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday that 100 Colorado people were expected in Lubbock for the jubilee.

Male Quartett Organized For Convention Program

In addition to carrying West Texas best band to the convention, Colorado will also present the champion male quartette and comedy four, according to announcement of the convention committee. Organization of the quartette is announced by L. B. Collier, chairman of the transportation committee.

This musical organization is headed by Tom Johnson, recently of Dallas and Paris and who is recognized as one of the leading soloists of the Southwest. Johnson received national wide recognition last year when he accompanied delegation attending the Lions International convention in Quebec. His singing was one of the big attractions at the convention.

Other members of the quartette are T. A. Leeman, manager of the Colorado Printing Company, who recently came to Colorado from Lawton, Oklahoma; Claud Womack and Everett Stogler, the latter two members of the celebrated Ford Quartett.

This organization will accompany the delegation, leaving here Friday morning and are to have a part on the programs to be rendered at all stops en route. They have also been given a place on the Tech jubilee program at Lubbock Friday night. During the convention, these men will tell in song the many good features of Colorado.

Plainview Happy to Know Colorado Will Visit There

Murey Hopkins, secretary of the Plainview Board of City Development, continues to send messages of greeting from this progressive Plains City. Plainview has been among the enthusiastic cities to welcome coming of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce Band and is making big plans to entertain delegation from this city.

In a letter received from Hopkins Tuesday he says: "We are happy to know definitely that your band is to visit Plainview and we are going to see that you enjoy the hour in our city. We have announced your coming through local papers and will spread the news by other means. There will of course be a big crowd to see you. Plainview is looking forward to seeing you with a great deal of pleasure."

Band Appears in Parade on Downtown Streets Thursday

Colorado's pennant holding musical organization, the Chamber of Commerce Band, appeared in another public concert Thursday afternoon of this week. The band formed in parade at corner Main and Elm streets and played a lively concert. George H. Mahon, Colorado attorney, delivered an address in which he pled for the people of this city and community to accompany the band to Amarillo, when the delegation was to leave this morning.

The band has been working hard during the past several days. Practice rehearsals have been held almost nightly. The band of 32 pieces is claimed by J. Lee Jones, assistant director, to be the best ever assembled here.

This building to be completed within a few weeks, is to be occupied by the Mills Chevrolet Company. Friends of R. O. Fessenden are glad to see him able to be out again after his recent operation in Ft. Worth. He looks and feels much improved and expects soon to be seen at his place of business.

BAPTIST REVIVAL MEETING WILL CLOSE SUNDAY NIGHT

Conflicting Attractions Have Dwindled Attendance But Success is Made.

Dr. McConnell will close the Baptist evangelistic campaign at Union Tabernacle Sunday night, after two weeks of continuous gospel preaching seldom equaled in this city. The evangelist has, from the opening service, impressed his auditors with his sincerity and is a man of peculiar power in interpreting and revealing of the Scriptures.

Owing to the fact that Colorado was vitally interested in sending the band to Amarillo for the convention and the American Legion home talent production, "A Night of Follies," presented Wednesday and Thursday evenings, some conflict developed, but good attendance has been reported at all of the services. Rev. Mr. Bishop, pastor, has stated that his congregation is receiving good cooperation from members of other congregations of the city.

Dr. McConnell and his musical director, Hugh L. Hiett, have each won many warm friends in Colorado and surrounding country. Like the evangelist, the singer is a man of sincerity in his work and well qualified for his leadership.

Services will be held during the remainder of the week as usual, at ten o'clock in the morning and eight at night. Sunday is expected to be the greatest day of the campaign. Attendance to pack the large tabernacle building is expected for both the morning and evening services.

Chicken Cholera Found in Some Flocks of the County

Appearance of cholera among poultry is reported by Miss Ives Belle Jones, home demonstration agent. Miss Jones in a statement to the public Saturday concerning the disease, warned poultry owners to use precaution to prevent development or spread of the malady which is usually so fatal to the birds.

An effective remedy to rid premises of the disease, Miss Jones stated, would be to sprinkle the grounds with crude carbolic acid, clean the premises thoroughly and burn all carcasses and refuse. No bird having the disease should be allowed to run at large.

Brick Work Started This Week on Hotel Colorado

Walls of Hotel Colorado are being raised by brick masons, who started this work Monday morning. Brick work was begun on the northeast corner of the hotel and theatre building. This unit of the building will be finished in rock bond, a very beautiful and expensive type of specially selected crystal stones in a varied color hue.

The main hotel building, to tower five stories, will be finished in face brick and stone trim on the exterior. Excavations for the hotel basement are near completion. The large crew operating the large concrete mixing machine have poured most of the footing of the foundation forms. Structural forms will be going into place within the next few days.

Two Important Band Men Here for Trip C. of C. Meet

Raymond Jones of the University of Oklahoma, Norman, Oklahoma, and Lister Ratliff of Caddo, both members of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce Band, are returning to the home town to finish their places in the band for the trip to Amarillo. These are two of the most important men in the band organization and Colorado associates their continued loyalty to the musical organization which has helped to reach to the masses.

and fiftieth anniversary of the famous document will be celebrated by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, extending from June 1 to December 1.

Lee was a leader of one of the most distinguished of the thirteen original states, a commonwealth which has given a famous quota of statesmen to the service of the "United States." He was born in Stratford, Virginia in 1732, was educated in England, and returned to America at the age of nineteen.

In a very short time, the young Virginian (he was only twenty-five) entered the House of Burgesses where he soon became noted for his ability as a debater and as a clear political writer. He was among the foremost men of the state in putting in motion the machinery against royal oppression.

A brilliant display of eloquence characterized Lee's speech in Congress on June 7, 1776, when he offered the historic resolutions declaring: (1) that the thirteen colonies were and ought to be free and independent states; (2) that foreign alliances should be made, and (3) that steps should be taken to adopt a general plan of confederation.

Lee left Congress in June, 1777, but was again a member of that body in 1784-85, in 1784-85 and 1786-87. In 1784 he was chosen president of Congress but retired at the end of the year. He was opposed to the National Constitution, because it superseded State supremacy. However, he supported Washington's administration, and was United States Senator from Virginia from 1789 to 1792. He died in Chantilly, Virginia in 1794.

CHEVROLET

For the first time in history of the Chevrolet Motor Company sales during the month of May have exceeded sales during April, according to figures just made public by the sales department of the company.

During May 70,935 Chevrolet cars were sold in the United States, making a total of 84,944 cars, including Canada and export, the largest number of three-speed transmission cars ever sold in one month by any automobile manufacturer. Sales increased by 23,650 cars over May, 1925, when 47,285 Chevrolets were sold in the domestic market.

For the first five months during 1926, up to June 1, 250,927 cars were sold in this country alone, an increase in sales of 84,138 over the same period in 1925, when 166,789 cars were sold in the United States.

A tremendous expansion of dealer representation is also shown, the number of direct and associate dealers representing the Chevrolet Motor Company increasing by 2,488 in the first five months of this year over the same period in 1925. On June 1, 1926, 8,398 dealers were merchandising Chevrolet cars, and on June 1, 1925 there were 5,910 dealers in the United States. Applications for dealer franchises still continue pouring into the sales department daily. At the present time sales are running at the rate of more than 18,000 weekly. The best weekly sales record prior to this year was the week of May 2, 1925, when 10,700 Chevrolet cars were sold in the retail domestic field.

Domestic sales are continuing at so high a peak that the mammoth production facilities of the Chevrolet Motor Company have been taxed to their utmost capacity to fill the demand. In fact, the company would have been unable to fill this spring's orders had it not been for the reserve stock built up during the winter. This is illustrated by domestic sales totaling 70,935 cars in May while factory production for domestic distribution was approximately 61,000 during this month.

DAN MOODY SAYS

"I believe that the safety of our state demands the destruction of Fergusonism, and I will not pass up any opportunity to attain that end in July rather than in January."

"I have tried to administer the chief law office of the state according to the best interest of the people, whose lawyer I am. The election of Ferguson means that my clients do not approve the way I have handled their business. If that be so, I think I ought to resign so that the people may have an attorney general who will administer the office to their satisfaction. It is nonsense to call this a wager. An election is an expression of popular will. I have enough confidence in the people of Texas that I refuse to put their mandate at the ballot on the same basis as a "nigger crap game."

RURAL EDUCATION

COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS, June 17.—Courses in rural education intended to prepare teachers for work in rural elementary and high schools are being attended by 35 students at the A. & M. College of Texas annual summer session which opened on June 7. Two six-week courses will be given, the second course beginning on July 19. At the close of the school students will be found positions. Professor W. L. Hughes, head of the rural education department of the college, announced the demand this year for rural teachers has been greater than ever before, and he has received calls for more teachers than he can supply.

A better understanding of the fundamentals of gas engine construction and operation will be taught during the short course in automobiles and tractors to be held at the A. & M. College of Texas this summer. The courses begin on June 16 and 23, and ends on August 10 and 17. The course is given by the agricultural engineering department of the College and is open to men and boys over sixteen years of age who are interested in the automotive.

Instructions will be given in the following departments: metal working, chassis, gas engine, motor, electrical tractor and trouble shooting. Certificates will be awarded students who pass and complete the course, provided it is shown their work has been satisfactory. Both practical and theoretical instruction will be given in the fundamentals, in as near a non-technical manner as possible.

50 YEARS AGO

Houston.—This afternoon a surgical operation was performed on the shoulder of Judge Cook, resulting in the extraction of an old bullet received by him during the war. A piece of the coat, cut away by the ball over eleven years ago, was found with it. Col. Cook was wounded several times, once when commanding Terry's Texas Rangers at the Battle of Bentonville, N. C., in 1865, when the son of Gen. Hardie and young Eugene Munger of Houston were both killed.

Houston.—The Age newspaper has been purchased by a new firm, consisting of Ed Smallwood, J. A. Turner and T. B. Johnson, who will conduct it as a staunch Democratic sheet, as heretofore. All three of these gentlemen are practical printers, well acquainted with the business, and intend furnishing a good newspaper. B. F. Hardcastle retires to take charge of the business department of the State Gazette.

Rockdale.—The sale of lots at Taylor, the new railroad town twenty-six miles west of Rockdale, took place the 1st inst., although the streams were all up and the roads almost impassable, preventing many from reaching the spot in time. A large number of lots were disposed of. Taylor will be one of the largest, if not the principal town between Texas and Austin.

Kinney County.—Some little excitement prevails around Fort Clark. The Seminole Indian negroes have sworn vengeance against the whites. A few night since a Seminole was shot through four times, but not killed; another was shot and killed. No one knows or will tell, who did the shooting.

Robertson County.—The Hearne Enterprise reports that the steamboat, Lizzie, Capt. Woodrow, passed over the shoals at Fort Sullivan going down the Brazos last Sunday. This is the first time in eighteen years that a steamboat has been seen at Port Sullivan. At that time the steamboat Prince Henry, from Galveston, came up the river and discharged her cargo.

Amarillo.—Such celebrities as John B. Kirby, W. S. Farish, General Paul B. Malone, J. W. Carpenter and others will be here during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here June 21-22-23.

D. M. Finch, wife and children, Mrs. C. F. Finch and daughter, Miss Maggie, visited in Snyder Sunday.

HOMELESSNESS
Wellington Leader: The Elgin (Kansas) Journal tells of a real estate salesman trying to sell a home to a pair of newlyweds. Said the wife: "Why buy a home? I was born in a hospital ward, reared in a boarding school, educated in a college, courted in an automobile and married in a church; live in an apartment, spend my mornings playing golf, my afternoons playing bridge, in the evening we dance or go to the movies. This replica of historic Independence Hall in Philadelphia is a fine example of the baker's art. It was made by the chef of one of Philadelphia's leading hotels to advertise the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which will open in that city June 1 and run to December 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of American Independence. The "State House" stands on a table at the entrance to the main dining room of the hotel.

ANOTHER REASON

There have been stated many reasons why the proposed Education Bill should have the support of American citizens and those interested in the welfare of the country.

The importance of this feature has been overlooked, or greatly underestimated, in our present system of education. The idea seems to prevail that, if persons have completed the general course in college or obtained their degree, they are fully qualified to teach.

No doubt there are many who have sat in the class of professors renowned for their research in a certain work and after the course was completed, have obtained only a bare conception of its principles.

Also the ideas and principals of the instructor are often taken for granted by the pupils without any reasoning or consideration on their part. In this way the instructor is able to exert a great influence over the pupils.

Since the teachers in the schools have such great responsibilities thrust upon them, since they are entrusted with the education of America's youth, every possible means should be exerted to see that they obtain information concerning the most modern and practical methods of teaching.

This is but one of the many factors of the utmost importance in which the department of education, provided by the new education bill, would greatly aid.

FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF 1926 BREAKS ALL VOLUME RECORDS

Hudson and Essex cars are now at the lowest price levels in the company's history, following reductions which have just been announced. The new schedule brings the Essex coach to $735, the Hudson coach to $1095, the Hudson 4-door sedan to $1395 and the Hudson 7-passenger sedan to $1550; all prices f. o. b. Detroit.

This reduction came at the end of a five-month period in 1926 in which Hudson-Essex buyers broke all records in their demand for these cars. The January-June period saw 114,500 cars shipped from the plant, or practically 17,000 in excess of the 1925 period—the record holding season up to date.

At the same time these figures became available, it was stated also that the retail sales for May had reached 33,500 cars. Considering holidays, this was practically at the same high rate as obtained in April. The April and May months saw the delivery of 68,500 cars to Hudson-Essex buyers, which is said to be far in advance of any previous mark.

The reduced prices on Hudson and Essex cars," said R. D. Chapin, chairman of the board of directors, "are in line with the company's policy of offering outstanding values to the motoring public.

and fiftieth anniversary of the famous document will be celebrated by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, extending from June 1 to December 1.

Lee was a leader of one of the most distinguished of the thirteen original states, a commonwealth which has given a famous quota of statesmen to the service of the United States. He was born in Stratford, Virginia in 1732, was educated in England, and returned to America at the age of nineteen.

In a very short time, the young Virginian (he was only twenty-five) entered the House of Burgesses where he soon became noted for his ability as a debater and as a clear political writer. He was among the foremost men of the state in putting in motion the machinery against royal oppression.

A brilliant display of eloquence characterized Lee's speech in Congress on June 7, 1776, when he offered the historic resolutions declaring: (1) that the thirteen colonies were and ought to be free and independent states; (2) that foreign alliances should be made, and (3) that steps should be taken to adopt a general plan of confederation.

Lee left Congress in June, 1777, but was again a member of that body in 1778-80, in 1784-85 and 1786-87. In 1784 he was chosen president of Congress but retired at the end of the year. He was opposed to the National Constitution, because it superseded State supremacy. However, he supported Washington's administration, and was United States Senator from Virginia from 1789 to 1792. He died in Chantilly, Virginia in 1794.

CHEVROLET

For the first time in history of the Chevrolet Motor Company sales during the month of May have exceeded sales during April, according to figures just made public by the sales department of the company.

During May 70,935 Chevrolet cars were sold in the United States, making a total of 84,944 cars, including Canada and export, the largest number of three-speed transmission cars ever sold in one month by any automobile manufacturer. Sales increased by 23,650 cars over May, 1925, when 47,285 Chevrolets were sold in the domestic market.

For the first five months during 1926, up to June 1, 250,927 cars were sold in this country alone, an increase in sales of 84,138 over the same period in 1925, when 166,789 cars were sold in the United States.

A tremendous expansion of dealer representation is also shown, the number of direct and associate dealers representing the Chevrolet Motor Company increasing by 2,488 in the first five months of this year over the same period in 1925. On June 1, 1926, 8,398 dealers were merchandising Chevrolet cars, and on June 1, 1925 there were 5,910 dealers in the United States. Applications for dealer franchises still continue pouring into the sales department daily. At the present time sales are running at the rate of more than 18,000 weekly. The best weekly sales record prior to this year was the week of May 2, 1925, when 10,700 Chevrolet cars were sold in the retail domestic field.

Domestic sales are continuing at so high a peak that the mammoth production facilities of the Chevrolet Motor Company have been taxed to their utmost capacity to fill the demand. In fact, the company would have been unable to fill this spring's orders had it not been for the reserve stock built up during the winter. This is illustrated by domestic sales totaling 70,935 cars in May while factory production for domestic distribution was approximately 61,000 during this month.

HOW LAND SWINDLERS AND LOAN SHARKS DEFRAUD THEIR PREY

W. R. Morehouse Reveals Further Schemes by Which Poor Widows Are Bereft of Their Savings—Unbelievable Frauds Are Worked on the Uninformed.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE,
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association.

ARTICLE NO. III

LAND swindles are almost as common as sand on the seashore. Here is one. A widow was left alone in the world with but $6,000. She was urged to take a free ride into the country to look over a new town site. Just a pleasure ride, she was told. No obligation on her part. She accepted the invitation with no intention of parting with her precious $6,000, but she fell among high-pressure salesmen and in an unguarded moment she affixed her signature to a contract to purchase a vacant lot for the $6,000 cash she had in a savings bank.

Thirty days after she drew out her account for what she supposed was a business lot she received a notice that her monthly instalment of $6,000 was due, being a $1,000 payment on each of six $6,000 lots. Strange as it may seem, not until she received this notice did she read the contract she had signed. Instead of buying one $6,000 lot and paying for it, as she meant to do, she had signed a contract to buy six $6,000 business lots and the $6,000 she drew from the bank had been applied as a first payment of $1,000 each on the six lots.

Had she gone to her banker she would have saved herself the loss of her inheritance, but doubtless the reason she had not consulted her bank was because she was not aware that bankers render such a service.

W. R. Morehouse

this same shlock for assistance and this is how he handled the case. He led the woman to expect that he would lend her the money but kept deferring making the loan from day to day. Finally, on the day she must make her payment or lose her furniture, he

A Widow Fell Among High Pressure Land Salesmen

Had she the lot of the savings depositor who, after losing his savings through wild-cat speculation, is driven to desperation for funds and finds it necessary to borrow money to meet an emergency such as sickness or unpaid rent. Let me give the facts about two cases of the many with which I have come in contact.

The Loan Shark at Work

The principal characters in the first case are a man, who must borrow $250 to place his wife in a hospital to save her life, and a loan shark, who demands every ounce of blood in desperation the borrower applies to this loan shark for the loan of $250. This is what it costs him—the amount is almost unbelievable but I obtained the exact figures first hand and I can vouch for their correctness—this man was obliged to give his note for $225 for a loan of $200! The day he got the note the shark sold it to an innocent holder and it became an obligation hanging upon the borrower. Think of paying $225 for a loan of $200!

Here is another. This time there is a woman in the case. The woman needed $165 to meet a payment on her furniture or lose it. She turned to telephoned her to call. It was now too late for her to make any other arrangements for borrowing the funds. The shlock had planned it so that she would be at his mercy and would have to accept his terms. He charged her $60 for a loan of $165.

How the Shark Does It

Doubtless your curiosity is aroused as to how this shlock can get away with such a deal. Here is the fact. He charged a large commission for making the loan and also included a wide range in fees such as for drawing up papers and notarial fees. On top of this he required the borrower to buy stock in his company which was worthless. Then he required them to take out through his life insurance to about one hundred times the amount of the loan for which he received a liberal commission. In fact, he resorted to every imaginable scheme in order to bleed them of the last drop of blood they had to give. And the unfortunate thing about it all is that the borrowers in these two cases found it necessary to meet such exorbitant terms because they had already lost their savings through ill advised investments.

(Article IV will give methods by which a widow can be protected from fraudulent operations.)

Miss Adams' entry blank cited her for libelous displayed recently when she remained inside a burning building helping doctors render first aid to injured firemen. She is a candidate for the Golden Eagle, the highest gift within the hands of the Girl Scouts. Each state will elect a girl and boy and one teacher to represent them and the successful candidates will be the guest of the Sesqui officials from June 23 to July 5 at the exposition. This will also include a trip to Washington where they will be received by President Coolidge and presented with medals.

Bankers and business men of the leading towns of Taylor county, Texas, employed a county agent last spring, and requested that he vigorously promote boys' and girls' club activities. As a result of his work over 200 club members were enrolled. Work is being concentrated this year on poultry raising and grain sorghum seed selection. This fall there will be exhibits and contests for which the business men are contributing generous prizes.

ENTRANTS IN LOCAL CONTESTS SHOULD ENTER THE NEWS CONTEST

All farmers who are entered in local cotton contests or county contests are being automatically entered in The Dallas Morning News and The Semi-Weekly Farm News "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest so that they will have a chance to compete not only for the local prizes but for the Big State Prizes totaling $10,000.

Chairmen of county or local cotton contests are urged to mail to The Dallas News a complete list of their local entrants, with correct mail addresses so that they can be entered in the State cotton contest. If this is not done some farmers who may be entitled to some of the big State prizes but will be denied an opportunity of winning a State prize because their names have not been turned in to the Dallas News.

All local cotton contest entrants should ask their county agents or the chairmen of the local cotton contests to mail their names in promptly before July 1, when The State cotton contest entries will close.

The same five acres and the same effort put forth in a local cotton contest will enable farmers to win in the State contest. It costs nothing to enter the State cotton contest, so why not be entered for all the prizes that a farmer can possibly win? Also, the more farmers who enter the State contest the more information about successful cotton raising will be assembled which will become the property of all Texas cotton growers.

To date more than 6,000 farmers have entered the State contest and it is hoped to exceed this total very largely when all the local contestants have entered.

Yours very truly,
Victor H. Schoffmeyer,
Agricultural Editor.

Some young girls turn from their jars of color and paint brushes to artist plasters in getting ornaments in place atop huge pylons which adorn the main entrances to the Palace of Agriculture and Food Products, of the vast exhibition buildings which forms a part of the great Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition being staged in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Climbing ladders and walking along rickety catwalks is nothing new to these young ladies, but each time they do it they get a thrill.

SAYS DEMOCRAT MAY BE SEVERAL DIFFERENT THINGS

Right recently the Hon. James F. Ferguson has been asked through your paper by some insistent "cuse" what is a Democrat. Just as well ask what is tomorrow or yesterday. Right recently several hundred of thousands definitions came out in a Washington paper. Each definition was different, showing that not a man in the whole world knew what a Democrat was. It is just how or what you think he is. Twenty years ago if some of our ladies had have seen a young woman in public with the postage-stamp size bathing suits on, the said ladies would have fainted cold.

Democracy and morals and many other things are just what the fellow who is doing the thinking thinks they are. A Democrat used to seem to me like a mule just had to belong to one master. That may be the reason they are pictured as mules. Democrat is just a relative term that is nothing and means nothing. Right recently a great deal has been said about Fergusonism. Not one that uses this term can tell what it is. Years ago we heard a lot about Hanbainism. Some people argued that when McKinley was President Mark Hanna was his boss. We have recently heard of Houseism. No, you do not know what a Democrat is.

THINKS MOODY SHATTERED LANCE IN FIRST TILT

As a Moody supporter, I noted with regret that that militant young crusader in almost his first tilt with that wily old campaigner shattered his lance to splinters when he allowed Jim to entrap him with his "election side bet." I find a number of people saying with sorrow that it is doubly unfortunate that Moody allowed his impetuosity to plunge him headlong into such a campaign wager, some saying that with one clever stroke Jim has dimmed the star of his most dreaded opponent—or shall we say "Ma" has done this thing?

It would seem now that the race should be between Davidson and Ferguson. Indeed, it is open to question as to whether Moody should remain in the race at all, for while the supporters of Jim and "Ma" are not averse to a little bet on the side, many of those who were supporting Moody will consider his action in a very unfavorable light, and will withdraw their support. Hence, it would seem that those who seek a change in the governorship must concentrate their ballots on Davidson in the first primary.

JAMES A. GARRETT.

I notice some of the defenders of Dan Moody can't get through criticizing Jim Ferguson for offering the bet, but seem to think it is all right for Dan to accept it. I know of a case where they tried a man for adultery and convicted him, then cleared the woman.

Life is funny. Some people think it is great because Dan Moody took his picture in the papers over in France, but if Dan had not been running against Ferguson his picture would never have been published in France. I also notice some fellow always saying he wishes we could get rid of Ferguson so we could have rest in Texas. That kind of a fellow enjoys a serap and doesn't know it. If it were not for the Ferguson row he would be fussing with his wife. A pool of water that is never stirred becomes stagnant and dead. We need men like Ferguson to keep things stirred, to give us something to talk about. The next pleasant thing to liking a man is hating him, so we are all getting lots of fun out of the election any way you take it. It is said that Mrs. Ferguson has turned nearly enough bootleggers loose to elect her. Anyway, it will help some. Prohibition makes 45 per cent of the people criminals, anyway. So on with the dance.

LINCOLN AND WILSON

Lately I received a letter from a friend living in Pennsylvania near the noted battlefield of Gettysburg. He is now a man about 72 years old. He says his family was living just behind the lines when that great battle was fought. The next day his parents and he visited the place. He was a small lad then, and he says no one could tell of the horror that seized his soul when he beheld the thousands of mangled and wounded men scattered over the field with their groans of pain and despair, and with blood running like a river. He vowed then never to let pass an opportunity to prevent war and he has kept that vow. He says that Gettysburg is an entirely different place now—with all its fine apple orchards and that tourists coming there every year have contributed largely to this development. Many of them take their lunches at the foot of the statue of Lincoln, as if asking him to partake with them.

Ah, if those silent lips could speak, what stories they might tell—of bride and bridegroom talking of their rosy future, or of an aged couple talking of far-off days in the past. My friend, Mr. S., heard Lincoln make his great speech there, and also heard Woodrow Wilson. All of which reminds me of a late article in one of our magazines. It says: "As a living actuality Lincoln was democracy made flesh. The transcendent expression in his portrait shows all human dreams. He was nature's supreme statesman of America. To our common humanity he was a savior. He is the superlative representative of a new social evolution." And I think all of this applies to Woodrow Wilson, the man who worshipped God through the glorious and effulgent light of peace.

HOGG GOVERNOR AFTER BEING ATTORNEY GENERAL

Your columns have contained the statement made recently on several occasions by Mr. Ferguson that Hon. Charles Culberson was the only successful candidate for governor who had ever passed from the attorney general's office to the governor's chair. I had hoped that Mr. Ferguson would refer to the splendid career of Governor Jim Hogg and leave, even at this late date, that Mr. Hogg's election as governor of Texas was caused largely by his splendid and unselfish services rendered while attorney general. In the same connection Mr. Ferguson is again wrong in saying that Mr. Culberson's election as governor of Texas was caused by the support of his predecessor, Governor Hogg. If he will consult the closest friends of Governor Hogg also of Governor Culberson, he will learn, even at this late date, that Mr. Culberson's election as governor was caused by his splendid and unselfish services rendered while attorney general. It is an open secret. Judge Reagan was the personal selection of Governor Hogg at that particular time to be his successor in the Governor's chair. Again, Mr. Lynch Davidson is falling into similar errors by stating in the papers that Hon. Dan Moody was the successor of Hon. Ben Linn by an attorney general. These errors are naturally made in the heat of campaigns and do not carry much good or evil effects except to impress false history upon the minds of our people. An error once made in history is hard indeed to correct and I am taking this opportunity to put these two distinguished gentlemen in the straight and narrow path of true history.

In parentheses, I deem it an opportune time to cite the fact that the challenge issued by Mr. Ferguson and accepted by Mr. Moody is not the first time that challenges of this kind have been made in our political campaigns. The most spectacular challenge of this kind occurred when Hon. Joseph Weldon Bailey offered to withdraw from the Bailey-Chilton contest in the event a statement that he was then making in the Galveston convention could not be proved by him to be true. The circumstances surrounding that utterance were very similar to the present conditions in Texas politics. Many, many instances of a similar nature can be recalled in Texas politics, but I do not deem it necessary to do so inasmuch as I consider the challenge that is now being discussed by the people of Texas is "much ado about nothing." There can certainly be no criminality connected with this most recent challenge, and all that can be charged to this political "stunt" is that it is an effective way that the candidates have of impressing their self-confidence.

HARVESTING OF TEXAS GRAIN IS IN FULL SWING

QUANAH, June 17.—Wheat harvesting is in full blast in Hardeman County. Three threshing crews have started, and several others will start Monday. The new gleaner owned by J. J. Summers has also started. This is the first machine of the kind in the county. It handles the grain from cutting to threshing in one operation, and enables the farmer to drive direct from the machine to the market with his grain.

Predictions are freely made that 1926 will be a record year for wheat yield, as the thousands of acres are almost uniform in height and the heads are well filled.

So far the weather has been ideal, and many farmers are working day and night crews on cutting wheat.

Haskell Threshing Starts

Preparations are rapidly being made in Haskell County to thresh the largest small grain crop in the county for a number of years. During the past week several threshing machines were put in shape to start work in full during the coming week. Threshing was started Friday on the farm of T. B. McMeans, three miles south of Rule. Present indications point to a fair yield of barley, wheat and oats throughout the county.

Cotton, which has been growing off well during the past few days of warm weather, has all been practically cleaned of weeds and grass. Corn and grain sorghums are also doing well.

Crops Near Cherokee Fine

The harvesting of small grain is in full swing this week. Grain is fine. Oats will make from 75 to 100 bushels per acre. Wheat will make from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. Threshing will start this week.

Olney Crops Moving

Four hundred carloads of wheat, oats and barley will be shipped by Olney, it is estimated by elevator managers, as the crop is beginning to move. This is a bumper crop for this territory.

The yield per acre is good, wheat oats from 40 to 60 and barley from 40 to 60 bushels per acre.

Hopkins Yield Large

Reports from farming areas suited to small grain throughout Hopkins county are to be effect that the greatest oat crop in the history of the county is now being harvested. A large portion of the county is adapted to oat growing, especially in the northern and western and central section. It was estimated that 500,000 bushels of oats were grown in Hopkins county last year and prospects indicate that the amount this season will far exceed that number, if good weather conditions prevail for a few days longer so that the harvesting may be completed.

Tuscola Crop Hit

Grain suttin in this section will wind up this week and the yield will not be as large as was expected on account of the rust.

Cotton fields are grassy on account of recent rains. Field crops are looking fine. Also stock ranges. Farmers in this section are extremely busy with their crops. Already the crop of oats has been cut and the threshing is on a full swing. Cotton, while late, is looking fine and all optimistic regarding the outlook for a bumper crop. The corn yield promises to be the largest in several years.

HOW TWO FARMERS PICKED UP $1,810 FROM HOGS

"There's no money in hogs." "The highest per cent profit I made on my farm last year was from hogs fed by the Shay ration and sold by the Lewis plan."

Here are the A and Z statements taken from a lot of comments made by farmers who have sold hogs at prices that ranged from 100 per cent profit to 50 per cent loss. We doubt whether any branch of agriculture in North Carolina has advanced so far ahead of what it was a few years ago as the breeding, feeding and sale of fat hard hogs.

County agent J. W. Cameron of Anson county, N. C., has been encouraging the growing of hogs and helping the farmers do it right. He says that he has just received a check for $700 for 22 hogs shipped to Charlotte from the farm of Messrs. R. B. & T. V. Hardison. They recently sold 14 hogs of the same age for $600 dressed. They also sold 51 pigs from 6 sows for $10 each.

This is $1,810 from hogs sold in the spring when there is a greater need of money on the farm than any other time. At present prices for cotton it would have required a little more than 21 bales weighing 500 pounds, to have brought the money received by Messrs. Hardison for their hogs. Besides the hogs brought a good profit while 17 cent cotton means no profit.

Pigs will make profitable hogs of themselves if—

1. Well bred.
2. Bred at the right time.
3. Fed a balanced ration.
4. Fed home produced feed as far as possible, and—
5. Cooperatively marketed.

NO-NOX

MOTOR FUEL

STOPS KNOCKS

PUTS CARBON TO WORK

PUTTING the old demon, carbon, to work sounds like a paradox—nevertheless that's just what GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel does and here's how it happens: Compression is power. The more compression the more power. Greater compression is secured by reducing the displacement or space in the combustion chamber. Carbon deposits materially reduce this space—old time gasoline would not withstand this added carbon compression—clicks—knocks—pings or detonations of distress quickly following sudden acceleration or heavy pulls.

No-Nox withstands higher compression—stops the knocks or detonations, thereby increasing engine efficiency. GULF No-Nox and Carbon Deposits work together for more power and greater mileage.

Turns Mountains into Mole Hills

This guarantee goes with it: GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline—that it contains no dope of any kind—that the color is for identification only—that it positively will not heat the motor, winter or summer.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is priced three cents per gallon higher than ordinary gasoline—and is worth it.

And this organization is in the midst of a thrifty growth, new clubs being organized at regular intervals and new members enrolled in those already perfected.

Is Hard Worker
Miss Jones is attaining success in her work with these rural women and girls because she is well qualified for the important task of leadership and training, and is a hard worker. Hardly a day passes but that the agent is called into the country to meet with from one to several clubs, and she is never too busy with routine work at the office but that the demands of her charges meet her ready response.

Just now the agent is directing attention to her club members to poultry and gardens. There are several hundred fine Spring gardens scattered through the rural communities of the county, arranged, seeded and now being cared for under personal supervision of the agent. Four of her women's clubs are competing in the State garden contest.

CO. DEMONSTRATION AGENT IS ACHIEVING GREAT SUCCESS

Farm diversification as promulgated by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is being successfully advocated by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, local civic organizations and other agencies, but no one person is doing quite so much to reach the goal of perfection as is the county home demonstration agent, Miss Ives Belle Jones.

The affiliated units of her 14 rural home demonstration clubs is the strongest organization in Mitchell County working to the end of making farm life more attractive, more prosperous and within a social environment to the best. And this organization is in the midst of a thrifty growth, new clubs being organized at regular intervals and new members enrolled in those already perfected.

As to poultry, there are 200 flocks of standard bred birds owned by her club members. Some of these flocks number more than 1,000 birds, and are bred for both utility and show purposes.

Prizes are Won
The owner of each of these flocks is being taught the scientific side of poultry raising, and many of them are now proficient in culling and otherwise selecting the best types. Birds taken from club pens have won prizes at county, district and state fairs.

As evidence of the fact that this home demonstration agent "knows her stuff," a member of one of her rural demonstration clubs won first prize in the recent Better Kitchen Contest, sponsored by the extension department, A. & M. College. This honor was achieved by Mrs. C. H. Thomas of near Lorraine. Her kitchen was entered in competition with scores of others throughout District No. 3, extending from Weatherford and Waco on the East, to El Paso on the West.

Judges found that the kitchen of this Mitchell County woman, arranged and equipped under personal supervision of the home demonstration agent, was the one to better meet all requirements of the contest rules. The agent keeps in close touch with activities of her home demonstration clubs. In her office at Colorado is kept a correct register of every garment made, every garden cultivated, every flock of poultry kept and in fact a complete register of the thousand and one items of work coming within the scope of her activities.

Proof of Her Success
The following items produced by club members during the fiscal year recently ending shows that her work has been successful, at least from the financial viewpoint:

Fruit tinned, 950 quarts, valued at	$ 475.00
Vegetables tinned, 5,261 quarts, valued at	945.54
Jelly made, 965 quarts, valued at	193.00
Vegetables dried, 704 pounds, valued at	88.00
Preserves made, 577 quarts, valued at	524.30
Pickles and relishes, 762 quarts, valued at	404.00
Meat tinned, 3,345 quarts, valued at	1,321.00
Meat cured, 6,482 pounds, valued at	972.30
Soap made, 1,082 pounds, valued at	108.00
Lard made, 319 pounds, valued at	638.00
Total	$5,480.34

The above figures do not include by any means, all of the home grown products produced by members of these clubs. Dairy, poultry, garden, culinary, clothing and a score of other items would be included in a complete list. But every item listed above was produced by members of the clubs, under supervision of the agent.

As to canning fancy pack vegetables and fruits and making garments of the better grades, the girls and women comprising membership in these clubs have been especially successful. Officials of the extension department who frequently visit with these clubs and inspect the work done have always pronounced keen satisfaction in the high type of product developed.

"GOVERNOR BY MARRIAGE" IS DAN'S IDEA OF JIM

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Fergusonism and commercializing of public office are synonymous terms.

This declaration was made here Monday night by Dan Moody, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. Moody in speeches here and at Orange during the afternoon, addressed crowds estimated at around 10,000.

"A private and impeached citizen is governor by marriage," Moody told his audience in arraignment of the record of the present administration. "Dan's the Man" and "Pour it on 'em" and similar calls greeted the speaker at intervals.

Moody told his audience that Jim Ferguson was given the greatest opportunity ever presented a 'bankrupt politician' in the history of the State or Nation, an opportunity to redeem himself under the hems of his wife, when the people elected her Governor, knowing the office would be entrusted to Ferguson.

"But he used the opportunity to enrich himself at the expense of the public honor and to the shame of the State that gave him a second chance to come back," the speaker charged. "Jim Ferguson in politics is a sham, and his record from first to last proves it," he declared.

The highway controversy was discussed at length and the audience cheered various charges made by the speaker. The waste of large sums of money through the letting of exorbitant contracts was charged. He said that in 33 counties contracts were let to the highest bidder, the difference in the total being $167,000.

stration and pardon record also was discussed. Moody charged that the system's debt had been increased to $1,500,000 "since old Jim began to monkey with the prison system."

Ferguson's war record also was discussed. He told how Ferguson as Governor opposed the adoption of the selective service act and four days later had deposited $50,000 in an Austin bank; how Ferguson was only 26 at the beginning of the Spanish-American War and did not enlist, and how in 1917 after he was impeached as governor he failed to enlist, "although his finances were in good condition."

"Jim Ferguson had a chance after he was kicked out of office in 1917 to fight for vindication, but he chose to run for it, and has pursued that policy ever since," Moody said.

WEDDING AMONG FEATURES OF ENTERTAINMENT AT MEET

AMARILLO, June 18.—How would you like to be married before the general gathering of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, facing scores of newspaper reporters, staff correspondents, motion picture cameras and 5,000 people, including some of the most distinguished personages of the southwest? In other words how would you like to be the official bride and groom of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at its convention here during June 21-23, in a ceremony surrounded by all the color, glamor and pomp that a gathering of such magnitude is able to impart? That is just the experience that will be the lot of one bride and groom immediately following the Spanish Fiesta as a fitting finale to the most colorful and picturesque evening of the entire convention to take place on Tuesday, June 22. The contracting parties have already given assent, and all other necessary arrangements are being completed.

JURY IN SCURRY ACQUITS MAN ON CHARGE OF SLAYING

SNYDER, Tex.—The jury in the case of S. C. Daugherty, charged with the murder of Elza Smith of Borden county, returned a verdict of not guilty late Saturday night after having deliberated about 10 hours. Smith was killed on Jan. 26. Daugherty pleaded the unwritten law and the protection of his home. Smith was a single man and Daugherty was married. The case was held in the District Court here with Judge W. P. Leslie presiding. District Attorney Jim Brooks was assisted in prosecution by Stinson, Brooks & Coombs of Abilene. The defense was represented by Owsley & Owsley of Denton and Smith & Harris of Snyder. Smith and the defendant belonged to prominent pioneer families of this section and the trial attracted wide attention. Geo. W. Watson writes from Brownfield and says: "I am thinking of going to that part of the country in the very near future and any information about the crops and the county will be appreciated."

and the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, and the cast of the Fiesta, will enter upon the stage immediately after the conclusion of the Fiesta.

Here the ceremony, its various features designed to accord with the extraordinary event and the charm of its setting will be carried out in its completeness, and the first wedding to be held under the auspices of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will have been presented, as one of the most attractive and happy incidents of the great convention of the organization which will take place in Amarillo.

The wedding is no sham affair, but a real honest-to-goodness marriage of a bride and groom, and the convention officials are eagerly preparing to give the two young people the happiest and most auspicious start possible into the great adventure.

Votes Cast During Elections in 1924 Are Given Below

There is a good deal of speculation as to the votes cast in the first and second democratic primaries of 1924 and in the subsequent general election of the public and the Record produces the votes for governor and attorney general taken from the Texas Almanac as follows:

First Primary—Governor

Felix D. Robertson	193,508
Geo. W. Dixon	4,035
W. E. Pope	17,136
Joe Burkett	21,720
Mrs. M. A. Ferguson	146,224
Lynch Davidson	141,208
V. A. Collins	24,864
T. W. Davidson	125,011
Thos. D. Barton	28,217
Total	703,123

Mrs. Ferguson—298,046
Judge Robertson—316,319

General Election

Mrs. Ferguson, democrat	422,059
Dr. Butte, republican	298,046

Attorney General, First Primary

J. M. Nelson	96,979
Dan Moody	315,107
John C. Wall	105,936
Edward B. Ward	142,927

Second Primary

Moody	463,411
Ward	211,783
Total	675,194

General Election

Moody, democrat	557,766
Harrison, republican	110,242

Thus it will be seen that there were cast 729,770 votes and Ferguson was elected with 422,059 votes, about 57,000 over half the votes in Texas.

In the first primary in 1924 Ferguson received 146,124 and Lynch Davidson received 141,208. Should these gentlemen hold their own in this primary and it is all they can hope to do, there will still be left 442,438 for Dan Moody which we predict is about the way it will come out.

MOODY, DAVIDSON AND FERGUSON CAMPAIGN IN WEST DURING WEEK

DALLAS, TEXAS.—Dan Moody today journeyed toward Bowie to resume this afternoon his campaign for governor. His afternoon talk is preliminary to an evening address in Wichita Falls, scene of today's meeting of the democratic state executive committee.

Moody started for northwest Texas after a tour of the southern section where he closed his swing Saturday with an address at Gonzales Saturday night. He delivered no addresses Sunday but he issued a statement marked particularly by more than the attention he has been giving to opponents other than Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, asserting that "a vote for any of the other candidates is half a vote for Ferguson."

Mentioning he has delivered 14 addresses since last Monday, his week end statement followed in a general way the subject matter of his campaign talks.

James E. Ferguson, like two gubernatorial candidates, will turn his attention to western sections of Texas as when he begins Monday a tour of northwestern Texas.

Only one address is continued on his announced schedule for Monday, that to be delivered at Vernon at 2 o'clock. Likewise one address only is scheduled for Tuesday, that to be delivered in evening at Wichita Falls, one day after Dan Moody's scheduled address in that same city.

Ferguson closed an active week in behalf of the candidacy for reelection of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson with an address at Corsicana Saturday night, where he predicted she will receive a plurality exceeding 200,000. His addresses of the week continued to make Dan Moody the center of fire.

Davidson to Start Tuesday
Lynch Davidson extended his stay from the stump to his second day as he devoted Monday for conferences here with attaches of his headquarters.

The candidate spent Sunday in Houston after a speech in Somerville Saturday night.

However, he will begin waging his speaking campaign again Tuesday, when he starts on a tour carrying him immediately into central west and then into northwest Texas.

The candidate will launch his westward swing at Weatherford Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Mineral Wells Tuesday night, Breckenridge Wednesday afternoon and Albany Wednesday night are other dates on his program.

Davidson devoted Sunday to resting, although statements were forthcoming from his various headquarters. That issued from Dallas declared that Texans are sick of politics in their government and out of state control of their natural resources, referring in the latter instances to charges that Standard Oil is seeking to monopolize petroleum resources of the state.

Mechanics Will Accompany Colorado Caravan on Trip

L. B. Collier, chairman of the convention transportation committee, announces that Moffett & Greer, two automobile mechanics of recognized ability, will accompany the Colorado delegation to Amarillo and return. These men will be with the automobile caravan to make repairs or adjustments to any of the machines as needed. Services of these men will be furnished all Colorado citizens in the delegation without cost.

OFF ON A TRIP

Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whikey, son Robert and niece Helen May McDonald left on a trip to California. They expect to stop at many places of interest as they go, and get a new supply of chewing tobacco. The tobacco is for A. L. of course as Mrs. A. L. uses her jaws for other purposes. They spent Sunday in Alpine with Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Mosdy and returned at the dedicatory services of the Baptist church house there. On Monday morning they left for El Paso after leaving Emma McDarici with the Moodys for the summer and spent the night in El Paso.

Liquor Laws Will Never be Modified, McConnell Avers

The Eighteenth Amendment will never be revoked or modified, Dr. F. M. McConnell, evangelist, declared in his sermon at Union Tabernacle Sunday morning. The speaker denounced those who would violate the liquor laws in terms not to be misunderstood.

"Better let those bootleggers alone," he stated in sounding a warning to those who lend their co-operation to violators of the liquor laws. "The United States government will never tolerate return of the liquor laws. To the contrary, these laws are to become more stringent as times pass."

"These fellows who persist in return of the 'good old days' are friends of the Kaiser, but I am here to inform you they are to never have their way about these laws."

Band Takes Victory From Lions in Friday's Game

The Colorado Lions Club went down in defeat Friday afternoon when a team representing this organization met Eddie Majors' musicians at the West Colorado Ball Park. The score was 14 to 19.

The game, arranged as a benefit for the band, was arranged between teams representing the Lions Club and Chamber of Commerce band. Rube Norman and Majors were captains of the opposing nines.

J. A. KEMP MAKES STATEMENT. WICHITA FALLS.—A vigorous denunciation of the Ferguson administration's action in the Archer county road bond case and a searing personal rebuke to James E. Ferguson was issued here today by J. A. Kemp, prominent capitalist and chairman of the state-wide committee on validation of Texas road bonds, who charged that "Ferguson's only concern is the furthering of his political fortunes."

In a lengthy report of the committee's efforts to secure validation of bonds held invalid by the United States supreme court's decision in the Archer county case, Mr. Kemp went into detail on his work. He traced the organization of the committee, starting with the first state wide meeting in Fort Worth in April and bringing it on down through the meetings of senators at Waco and the conference at Chicago, where, with leading bond attorneys of the nation, he drafted validating resolutions for presentation to the governor.

"In behalf of our committee, I feel justified in saying that we have endeavored to discharge the duties and responsibilities reposed on us in presenting this important matter to the governor," Mr. Kemp said. Continuing, "We have complied with every request or suggestion advanced and justly entertain the feeling that further responsibility in this matter rests with the executive offices."

"Speaking for myself individually, I have determined that further appeal to the Ferguson administration would be a waste of time. Jim Ferguson has utterly disregarded the tremendous responsibility in the refusal to do anything and everything within the power of the governor to relieve at the earliest moment possible the

HEAVY HAIL AND WIND STORM DAMAGES CROPS AT ABILENE

From Abilene Reporter:
Wind of almost cyclonic proportions and a very heavy hail, accompanied by more than one inch of rain did considerable damage to roofs, window panes, trees and disrupted telephone and electric service in Abilene Monday afternoon. Hail and wind did much damage to crops in several parts of the county, it was reported.

Beginning at about 4 p. m. more than an inch of rain fell in less than an hour and heavy hail stones beat a tattoo for a half hour. The wind blew down several temporary structures, put 145 telephones out of commission and rendered the downtown section, without electricity for more than an hour. The West Texas Utilities company's high tension electric lines to Anson and Cisco were broken. They were repaired early in the evening.

Crops northwest of Abilene for about four miles along the Hamby highway were practically ruined it was reported.

A heavy rain fell north of the city to the Hodges community. Lawn reported only a light shower. Telephone lines to Potosi were down and the extent of the damage could not be ascertained. No rain fell in the Stith community.

Hawley reported a good rain, a small amount of hail but no wind damage. Wheat was reported badly damaged in the vicinity of Lytle Lake.

During the time the above mentioned damage was done at Abilene Monday, it was very hot in Colorado with no rainfall nor wind.

A good provider looks beyond comforts of today to the provision of tomorrow.

Richard Henry Lee, Signer

The famous resolution declaring the American Colonies to be "free and independent states" was introduced in the Continental Congress by Richard Henry Lee of Virginia, one of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence. The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the famous document will be celebrated by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia, extending from June 1 to December 1.

Lee was a leader of one of the most distinguished of the thirteen original states, a commonwealth which has given a famous quota of statesmen to the service of the United States. He was born in Stratford, England, and returned to America at the age of nineteen.

In a very short time, the young Virginian (he was only twenty-five) entered the House of Burgesses where he soon became noted for his ability as a debater and as a clear political writer. He was among the foremost men of the state in putting in motion the machinery against royal oppression.

A brilliant display of eloquence characterized Lee's speech in Congress on June 7, 1776, when he offered the historic resolutions declaring: (1) that the thirteen colonies were and ought to be free and independent states; (2) that foreign alliances should be made, and (3) that steps should be taken to adopt a general plan of confederation.

Lee left Congress in June, 1777, but was again a member of that body in 1778-80, in 1784-85 and 1786-87. In 1784 he was chosen president of Congress but retired at the end of the year. He was opposed to the National Constitution, because it superseded State supremacy. However, he supported Washington's administration, and was United States Senator from Virginia from 1789 to 1792. He died in Chantilly, Virginia in 1794.

BERRY-FEE LUMBER CO.

CHEVROLET

For the first time in history of the Chevrolet Motor Company sales during the month of May have exceeded sales during April, according to figures just made public by the sales department of the company.

During May 70,935 Chevrolet cars were sold in the United States, making a total of 84,944 cars, including Canada and export, the largest number of three-speed transmission cars ever sold in one month by any automobile manufacturer. Sales increased by 23,650 cars over May, 1925, when 47,285 Chevrolets were sold in the domestic market.

For the first five months during 1926, up to June 1, 250,927 cars were sold in this country alone, an increase in sales of 84,198 over the same period in 1925, when 166,789 cars were sold in the United States.

A tremendous expansion of dealer representation is also shown, the number of direct and associate dealers representing the Chevrolet Motor Company increasing by 2,488 in the first five months of this year over the same period in 1925. On June 1, 1926, 8,398 dealers were merchandising Chevrolet cars, and on June 1, 1925 there were 5,910 dealers in the United States. Applications for dealer franchises still continue pour into the sales department daily. At the present time sales are running at the rate of more than 18,000 weekly. The best weekly sales record prior to this year was the week of May 2, 1925, when 10,700 Chevrolet cars were sold in the retail domestic field.

Domestic sales are continuing at so high a peak that the mammoth production facilities of the Chevrolet Motor Company have been taxed to their utmost capacity to fill the demand. In fact, the company would have been unable to fill this spring's orders had it not been for the reserve stock built up during the winter. This is illustrated by domestic sales totaling 70,935 cars in May while factory production for domestic distribution was approximately 61,000 during this month.

DAN MOODY SAYS

"I believe that the safety of our state demands the destruction of Fergusonism, and I will not pass up any opportunity to attain that end in July rather than in January."

"I have tried to administer the chief law office of the state according to the best interest of the people, whose lawyer I am. The election of Ferguson means that my clients do not approve the way I have handled their business. If that be so, I think I ought to resign so that the people may have an attorney general who will administer the office to their satisfaction. It is nonsense to call this a wager. An election is an expression of popular will. I have enough confidence in the people of Texas that I refuse to put their mandate at the ballot on the same basis as a "nigger crap game."

RURAL EDUCATION COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS

June 17.—Courses in rural education intended to prepare teachers for work in rural elementary and high schools are being attended by 35 students at the A. & M. College of Texas annual summer session which opened on June 7. Two six-week courses will be given; the second course beginning on July 19. At the close of the school students will be found positions. Professor W. L. Hughes, head of the rural education department of the college, announced the demand this year for rural teachers has been greater than ever before, and he has received calls for more teachers than he can supply.

A better understanding of the fundamentals of gas engine construction and operation will be taught during the short course in automobiles and tractors to be held at the A. & M. College of Texas this summer. The courses begin on June 16 and 23, and end on August 10 and 17. The course is given by the agricultural engineering department of the College and is open to men and boys over sixteen years of age who are interested in the automotive.

Instructions will be given in the following departments: metal working, chassis, gas engine, motor, electrical tractor and trouble shooting. Certificates will be awarded students who pass and complete the course, provided it is shown their work has been satisfactory. Both practical and theoretical instruction will be given in the fundamentals, in as near a non-technical manner as possible.

50 YEARS AGO

Houston.—This afternoon a surgical operation was performed on the shoulder of Judge Cook, resulting in the extraction of an old bullet received by him during the war. A piece of the coat, cut away by the ball over eleven years ago, was found with it. Col. Cook was wounded several times, once when commanding Terry's Texas Rangers at the Battle of Beitonville, N. C., in 1865, when the son of Gen. Hardie and young Eugene Mühner of Houston were both killed.

Houston.—The Age newspaper has been purchased by a new firm, consisting of Ed Smallwood, J. A. Turner and T. B. Johnson, who will conduct it as a staunch Democratic sheet, as heretofore. All three of these gentlemen are practical printers, well acquainted with the business, and intend furnishing a good newspaper. B. F. Hardcastle retires to take charge of the business department of the State Gazette.

Rockdale.—The sale of lots at Taylor, the new railroad town twenty-six miles west of Rockdale, took place the 1st inst., although the streams were all up and the roads almost impassable, preventing many from reaching the spot in time. A large number of lots were disposed of. Taylor will be one of the largest, if not the principal town between Texans and Austin.

Kimney County.—Some little excitement prevails around Fort Clark. The Seminole Indian negroes have sworn vengeance against the whites. A few night shots a Seminole was shot through four times, but not killed; another was shot and killed. No one knows or will tell, who did the shooting.

Robertson County.—The Hearne Enterprise reports that the steamboat, Lizzie, Capt. Woodroe, passed over the shoals at Port Sullivan going down the Brazos last Sunday. This is the first time in eighteen years that a steamboat has been seen at Port Sullivan. At that time the steamboat Prince Henry, from Galveston, came up the river and discharged her cargo.

Amarillo.—Such celebrities as John B. Kirby, W. S. Farish, General Paul E. Malone, J. W. Carpenter and others will be here during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here June 21-22-23.

D. M. Finch, wife and children, Mrs. C. F. Finch and daughter, Miss Maggie, visited in Snyder Sunday.

HOMELESSNESS

Wellington Leader: The Elgin (Kansas) Journal tells of a real estate salesman trying to sell a home to a pair of newlyweds. Said the wife: "Why buy a home? I was born in a hospital ward, reared in a boarding school, educated in a college, courted in an automobile and married in a church; live in an apartment, spend my mornings playing golf, my afternoons playing bridge, in the evening we dance or go to the movies. When I am sick I go to the hospital, and when I die I shall be buried from the undertaker's. All we need is a garage with bedroom. What would she do with a home, anyway?"

ANOTHER REASON

There have been stated many reasons why the proposed Education Bill should have the support of American citizens and those interested in the welfare of the country. Important among these is the fact that it will greatly facilitate the training of teachers. Under section eight of this bill is provided, "Courses of study and research shall be undertaken in the training of teachers."

The importance of this feature has been overlooked, or greatly underestimated, in our present system of education. The idea seems to prevail that, if persons have completed the general course in college or obtained their degree, they are fully qualified to teach. It is often forgotten that a person may have a complete knowledge of a subject and yet lack the ability to impart that knowledge to someone else. A person can be familiar with every theory of surgery, may have spent years in reading and listening to lectures on that subject, and yet be unable to perform a surgical operation. One may, through a correspondence course, enumerate every part of an automobile and still be incompetent to clean a spark plug. Can we expect more of those who aspire to teach? Are they different from other humans?

No doubt there are many who have sat in the class of professors renowned for their research in a certain work and after the course was completed, have obtained only a bare conception of its principles. This is true for many reasons; the professor may not have had practical experience in teaching; he may not have been instructed in the best methods of teaching; he may have been so absorbed in his subject that the individuality of his pupils was overlooked, or he may have lacked the ability to make the subject interesting, which ability is an important factor.

Also the ideas and principals of the instructor are often taken for granted by the pupils without any reasoning or consideration on their part. In this way the instructor is able to exert a great influence over the pupils. It then pays to be sure that the instructor's ideas and principles are such that they will uplift and not degrade the pupil. It should be a part of a teacher's desire not only to instruct the ones under his or her care in the subject being taught, but also to instill in their minds the ambition to put forth every effort to reach the highest attainments in life and contribute their share towards the progress of the social order.

Since the teachers in the schools have such great responsibilities thrust upon them, since they are entrusted with the education of America's youth, every possible means should be exerted to see that they obtain information concerning the most modern and practical methods of teaching. This information should always be available to them, and intensive research towards the most efficient methods of teaching and the most practical curricula to be employed, should be carried on thru reliable sources.

This is but one of the many factors of the utmost importance in which the department of education, provided by the new education bill, would greatly aid.

FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF 1926 BREAKS ALL VOLUME RECORDS

Hudson and Essex cars are now at the lowest price levels in the company's history, following reductions which have just been announced. The new schedule brings the Essex coach to $735, the Hudson coach to $1095, the Hudson brougham to $1395 and the Hudson 7-passenger sedan to $1550; all prices f. o. b. Detroit.

This reduction came at the end of a five month period in 1926 in which Hudson-Essex buyers broke all records in their demand for these cars. The January-June period saw 114,500 cars shipped from the plant, or practically 17,000 in excess of the 1925 period—the record holding season up to date.

At the same time these figures became available, it was stated also that the retail sales for May had reached 33,500 cars. Considering holidays, this was practically at the same high rate as obtained in April. The April and May months saw the delivery of 68,500 cars to Hudson-Essex buyers, which is said to be far in advance of any previous mark.

The reduced prices on Hudson and Essex cars," said R. D. Chapin, chairman of the board of directors, "are in line with the company's policy of offering outstanding values to the motoring public.

"This year to date has brought us an exceptionally active business. We have enjoyed too the advantage of large additions to our manufacturing facilities permitting production of quality motor cars on a basis of great economy. Our company has always had faith in the recognition of unusual values by motor purchasers. Never have we been able to offer such low prices before."

THE HUMAN CROP

There was once a man who worked at night and slept in the day time, and did not get to see his children often; but on Sunday morning would stay up long enough to read the morning paper before retiring for his day's sleep and at which time his children would get a glimpse of him. One morning this man left his work early and went to town on some business. As he passed by his house his little baby was out in the front yard into some mischief, so he slapped the youngster and sent him into the house and went on his way to town. As the little fellow ran into the house, crying in big fashion, the mother was greatly excited and asked what was the trouble, and the child said, "That man that hangs around here on Sunday slapped me."

This story is so true to life today in many families where one or both parents don't see and come in contact with their children often enough to really know them and to give them the proper care, love and training. Children may well be considered as a crop. If the farmer leaves his crop to shift for itself, it will be a failure. So it is in most every case with children. The farmer may stunt his crop by not giving it fertilizer or warmth of environment. In preparing for a good farm crop, the farmer must fertilize his crop with nitrogen, phosphate and potash. Just as the farm crop must have the proper environment of warmth, sunshine and fruitifying showers, so must the human crop be reared in the warm environment of love, trust and high ideals. The farmer must continually plough, harrow and cultivate his crop, in order to promote growth and keep out weeds that would choke the young plant life. In like manner, the human crop which has been entrusted to your care must be constantly nurtured in order to be able to resist bad habits and evil desires and to promote full and proper development of body, mind and soul.

SAYS DEMOCRAT MAY BE SEVERAL DIFFERENT THINGS

Right recently the Hon. James E. Ferguson has been asked through your paper by some insistent "cuss" what is a Democrat. Just as well ask what is tomorrow or yesterday. Right recently several hundred or thousand definitions came out in a Washington paper. Each definition was different, showing that not a man in the whole world knew what a Democrat was. It is just how or what you think he is. Twenty years ago if some of our ladies had have seen a young woman in public with the postage-stamp size bathing suits on, the said ladies would have faint-ed cold.

other things are just what the fellow who is doing the thinking thinks they are. A Democrat used to seem to me like a mule just had to belong to one master. That may be the reason they are pictured as mules. Democrat is just a relative term that is nothing and means nothing. Right recently a great deal has been said about Fergusonism. Not one that uses this term can tell what it is. Years ago we heard a lot about Hannaism. Some people argued that when McKinley was President Mark Hanna was his boss. We have recently heard of Houseism. No, you do not know what a Democrat is.

THINKS MOODY SHATTERED LANCE IN FIRST TILT

As a Moody supporter, I noted with regret that that militant young crusader in almost his first tilt with that wily old campaigner shattered his lance to splinters when he allowed Jim to entrap him with his "election side bet." I find a number of people saying with sorrow that it is doubly unfortunate that Moody allowed his impetuosity to plunge him headlong into such a campaign wager, some saying that with one clever stroke Jim has dimmed the star of his most dreaded opponent—or shall we say "Ma" has done this thing?

It would seem now that the race should be between Davidson and Ferguson. Indeed, it is open to question as to whether Moody should remain in the race at all, for while the supporters of Jim and "Ma" are not averse to a little bet on the side, many of those who were supporting Moody will consider his action in a very unfavorable light, and will withdraw their support. Hence, it would seem that those who seek a change in the governorship must concentrate their ballots on Davidson in the first primary.

JAMES A. GARRETT.

I notice some of the defenders of Dan Moody can't get through criticizing Jim Ferguson for offering the bet, but seem to think it is all right for Dan to accept it. I know of a case where they tried a man for adultery and convicted him, then cleared the woman.

Life is funny. Some people think it is great because Dan Moody got his picture in the papers over in France, but if Dan had not been running against Ferguson his picture would never have been published in France. I also notice some fellow always saying he wishes we could get rid of Ferguson so we could have rest in Texas. That kind of a fellow enjoys a scrap and doesn't know it. If it were not for the Ferguson row he would be fussing with his wife. A pool of water that is never stirred becomes stagnant and dead. We need men like Ferguson to keep things stirred, to give us something to talk about. The next pleasant thing to liking a man is hating him, so we are all getting lots of fun out of the election any way you take it. It is said that Mrs. Ferguson has turned nearly enough bootleggers loose to elect her. Anyway, it will help some. Prohibition makes 45 per cent of the people criminals, anyway. So on with the dance.

J. E. FITZGERALD, Stephenville, Texas.

LINCOLN AND WILSON

Lately I received a letter from a friend living in Pennsylvania near the noted battlefield of Gettysburg. He is now a man about 72 years old. He says his family was living just behind the lines when that great battle was fought. The next day his parents and he visited the place. He was a small lad then, and he says no one could tell of the horror that seized his soul when he beheld the thousands of mangled and wounded men scattered over the field with their groans of pain and despair, and with blood running like a river. He vowed then never to let pass an opportunity to prevent war and he has kept that vow. He says that Gettysburg is an entirely different place now—with all its fine apple orchards and that tourists coming there every year have contributed largely to this development. Many of them take their lunches at the foot of the statue of Lincoln, as if asking him to partake with them.

Ah, if those silent lips could speak, what stories they might tell—of bride and bridegroom talking of their rosy future, or of an aged couple talking of far-off days in the past. My friend, Mr. S., heard Lincoln make his great speech there, and also heard Woodrow Wilson. All of which reminds me of a late article in one of our magazines. It says: "As a living actuality Lincoln was democracy made flesh. The transcendent expression in his portrait shows all human dreams. He was nature's supreme statesman of America. To our common humanity he was a savior. He is the superlative representative of a new social evolution." And I think all of this applies to Woodrow Wilson, the man who worshiped God through the glorious and effulgent light of peace.

MRS. MARY N. BROWN, Fort Worth.

HOGG GOVERNOR AFTER BEING ATTORNEY GENERAL

Your columns have contained the statement made recently on several occasions by Mr. Ferguson that Hon. Charles Culberson was the only successful candidate for governor who had ever passed from the attorney general's office to the governor's chair. I had hoped that Mr. Ferguson would refer to the splendid career of Governor Jim Hogg and learn, even at this late date, that Mr. Hogg's election as governor of Texas was caused largely by his splendid and unselfish services rendered while attorney general. In the same connection Mr. Ferguson is again wrong in saying that Mr. Culberson's election as governor of Texas was caused by the support of his predecessor, Governor Hogg. If he will consult the closest friends of Governor Hogg also of Governor Culberson, he will learn, even at this late date, that Mr. Culberson's election as governor was caused largely by his pleasing personality and his splendid services rendered to the people while serving as attorney general. It is an open secret Judge Rengan was the personal selection of Governor Hogg at that particular time to be his successor in the Governor's chair.

Again, Mr. Lynch Davidson is falling into similar errors by stating in the papers that Hon. Dan Moody was the successor of Hon. Ben Looney as attorney general. These errors are naturally made in the heat of campaigns and do not carry much good or evil effects except to impress false history upon the minds of our people. An error once made in history is hard indeed to correct and I am taking this opportunity to put these two distinguished gentlemen in the straight and narrow path of true history.

In parentheses, I deem it an opportune time to cite the fact that the challenge issued by Mr. Ferguson and accepted by Mr. Moody is not the first-time that challenges of this kind have been made in our political campaigns. The most spectacular challenge of this kind occurred when Hon. Joseph Weldon Bailey offered to withdraw from the Bailey-Chilton contest in the event a statement that he was then making in the Galveston convention could not be proved by him to be true. The circumstances surrounding that utterance were very similar to the present conditions in Texas politics. Many, many instances of a similar nature can be recalled in Texas politics, but I do not deem it necessary to do so inasmuch as I consider the challenge that is now being discussed by the people of Texas is "much ado about nothing." There can certainly be no criminality connected with this most recent challenge, and all that can be charged to this political "stunt" is that it is an effective way that the candidates have of impressing their self-confidence.

HARVESTING OF TEXAS GRAIN IS IN FULL SWING

QUANAH, June 17.—Wheat harvest is in full blast in Hardeman County. Three threshing crews have started, and several others will start Monday. The new gleaner owned by J. J. Summers has also started. This is the first machine of the kind in the county. It handles the grain from cutting to threshing in one operation, and enables the farmer to drive direct from the machine to the market with his grain.

Predictions are freely made that 1926 will be a record year for wheat yield, as the thousands of acres are almost uniform in height and the heads are well filled.

So far the weather has been ideal, and many farmers are working day and night crews on cutting wheat.

Haskell Threshing Starts

Preparations are rapidly being made in Haskell County to thresh the largest small grain crop in the county for a number of years. During the past week several threshing machines were put in shape to start work in full during the coming week. Threshing was started Friday on the farm of T. B. McMennis, three miles south of Rufe. Present indications point to a fair yield of barley, wheat and oats throughout the county.

Cotton, which has been growing off well during the past few days of warm weather, has all been practically cleaned of weeds and grass. Corn and grain sorghums are also doing well.

Crops Near Cherokee Fine

The harvesting of small grain is in full swing this week. Grain is fine. Oats will make from 75 to 100 bushels per acre. Wheat will make from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. Threshing will start this week.

Olney Crops Moving

Four hundred carloads of wheat, oats and barley will be shipped by Olney, it is estimated by elevator managers, as the crop is beginning to move. This is a bumper crop for this territory.

The yield per acre is good, wheat oats from 40 to 60 and barley from 40 to 60 bushels per acre.

Hopkins Yield Large

Reports from farming areas suited to small grain throughout Hopkins county are to the effect that the greatest oat crop in the history of the county is now being harvested. A large portion of the county is adapted to oat growing, especially in the northern and western and central section. It was estimated that 500,000 bushels of oats were grown in Hopkins county last year and prospects indicate that the amount this season will far exceed that number, if good weather conditions prevail for a few days longer so that the harvesting may be completed.

Tuscola Crop Hit

Grain sowing in this section will wind up this week and the yield will not be as large as was expected on account of the rust.

Cotton fields are grassy on account of recent rains. Field crops are looking fine. Also stock ranges.

Farmers in this section are extremely busy with their crops. Already the crop of oats has been cut and the threshing is on a full swing. Cotton, while late, is looking fine and all optimistic regarding the outlook for a bumper crop. The corn yield promises to be the largest in several years.

HOW TWO FARMERS PICKED UP $1,610 FROM HOGS

"There's no money in hogs." "The highest per cent profit I made on my farm last year was from hogs fed by the Shay ration and sold by the Lewis plan."

Here are the A and Z statements taken from a lot of comments made by farmers who have sold hogs at prices that ranged from 100 per cent profit to 50 per cent loss. We doubt whether any branch of agriculture in North Carolina has advanced so far ahead of what it was a few years ago as the breeding, feeding and sale of fat hard hogs.

County agent J. W. Cameron, of Anson county, N. C., has been encouraging the growing of hogs and helping the farmers do it right. He says that he has just received a check for $700 for 22 hogs shipped to Charlotte from the farm of Messrs. R. B. & T. V. Hardison. They recently sold 14 hogs of the same age for $600 dressed. They also sold 51 pigs from 6 sows for $10 each.

This is $1,810 from hogs sold in the spring when there is a greater need of money on the farm than any other time. At present prices for cotton it would have required a little more than 21 bales weighing 600 pounds, to have brought the money received by Messrs. Hardison for their hogs. Besides the hogs brought a good profit while 17 cent cotton means no profit.

Pigs will make profitable hogs of themselves if:—

1. Well bred.
2. Bred at the right time.
3. Fed a balanced ration.
4. Fed home produced feed as far as possible, and—
5. Cooperatively marketed.

GULF NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL STOPS KNOCKS PUTS CARBON TO WORK

PUTTING the old demon, carbon, to work sounds like a paradox—nevertheless that's just what GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel does and here's how it happens: Compression is power. The more compression the more power. Greater compression is secured by reducing the displacement or space in the combustion chamber. Carbon deposits materially reduce this space—old time gasoline would not withstand this added carbon compression—clicks—knocks—dings or detonations of distress quickly following sudden acceleration or heavy pulls.

No-Nox withstands higher compression—stops the knocks or detonations, thereby increasing engine efficiency. GULF No-Nox and Carbon Deposits work together for more power and greater mileage.

The revival meeting which has been in progress here for the past two weeks came to a close Sunday night.

Rev. Bell delivered some great sermons during the two weeks and while the result of the meeting was not just what we had hoped for, yet it was a success in many ways. There were several conversions with twelve additions to the Methodist church. Bro. Bell and his party left for their home in Abilene Monday morning. They made many warm friends during their short stay here and it was with deep regret that we bade them good bye.

Mrs. J. E. Skelton is at home again after a weeks stay in Colorado where her baby has been under the care of Dr. Root.

We are glad to report that he is slowly improving tho he is still quite sick.

Miss Pauline Vanhorn who has been attending school at Dallas is at home for the summer.

Rev. Northcutt entertained the Junior boys and girls with a picnic at Morgan creek Saturday afternoon. About forty children were there together with a number of older ones who went as chaperons. Each child carried their lunch which was served "picnic fashion". A jolly good time was had playing games and drinking soda pop.

Mrs. E. V. Ellis and children have returned from a two weeks visit to Mrs. Ellis' mother in Cisco.

Mrs. Groves from near Ft. Worth is visiting her mother, Mrs. Morgan Morris this week.

About twenty-five of our senior boys and girls, with Mrs. Terrell as leader, arose from their slumber at four o'clock Sunday morning and with their bacon and eggs, coffee, etc., drove out to Morgan creek where a sun rise breakfast was prepared and served much to the delight of all present. The bunch returned to the church about 7 o'clock and after taking some pictures went to their homes to get ready for Sunday school.

Mr. Ray Detrich and family went on a fishing trip to the Concho last week. They report a splendid time and lots of fish.

CO. DEMONSTRATION AGENT IS ACHIEVING GREAT SUCCESS

Farm diversification is promoted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is being successfully advocated by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, local civic organizations and other agencies, but no one person is doing quite so much to reach the goal of perfection as is the county home demonstration agent, Miss Ives Belle Jones.

The affiliated units of her 14 rural home demonstration clubs is the strongest organization in Mitchell County working to the end of making farm life more attractive, more prosperous and within a social environment of the best. And this organization is in the midst of a thrift growth, new clubs being organized at regular intervals and new members enrolled in those already perfected.

Is Hard Worker

Miss Jones is attaining success in her work with these rural women and girls because she is well qualified for the important task of leadership and training, and is a hard worker. Hardly a day passes but that the agent is called into the country to meet with from one to several clubs, and she is never too busy with routine work at the office but that the demands of her charges meet her ready response.

Just now the agent is directing attention to her club members to poultry and gardens. There are several hundred fine Spring gardens scattered through the rural communities of the county, arranged, seeded and now being cared for under personal supervision of the agent. Four of her women's clubs are competing in the State garden contest.

As to poultry, there are 200 flocks of standard bred birds owned by her club members. Some of these flocks number more than 1,000 birds, and are bred for both utility and show purposes.

Prizes are Won

The owner of each of these flocks is being taught the scientific side of poultry raising, and many of them are now proficient in culling and otherwise selecting the best types. Birds taken from club pens have won prizes at county, district and state fairs.

As evidence of the fact that this home demonstration agent "knows her stuff," a member of one of her rural demonstration clubs won first prize in the recent Better Kitchen Contest, sponsored by the extension department, A. & M. College. This honor was achieved by Mrs. C. H. Thomas of near Lorraine. Her kitchen was entered in competition with scores of others throughout District No. 3, extending from Weatherford and Waco on the East, to El Paso on the West.

Judges found that the kitchen of this Mitchell County woman, arranged and equipped under personal supervision of the home demonstration agent, was the one to better meet all requirements of the contest rules. The agent keeps in close touch with activities of her home demonstration clubs. In her office at Colorado is kept a correct register of every garment made, every garden cultivated, every flock of poultry kept and in fact a complete register of the thousand and one items of work coming within the scope of her activities.

Proof of Her Success

The following items produced by club members during the fiscal year recently ending shows that her work has been successful, at least from the financial viewpoint:

Fruit tinned, 950 quarts, valued at	$ 475.00
Vegetables tinned, 5,261 quarts, valued at	945.54
Jelly made, 965 quarts, valued at	193.00
Vegetables dried, 704 pounds, valued at	88.00
Preserves made, 577 quarts, valued at	524.30
Pickles and relishes, 762 quarts, valued at	404.00
Meat tinned, 3,345 quarts, valued at	1,131.00
Meat cured, 6,482 pounds, valued at	972.30
Soap made, 1,082 pounds, valued at	108.00
Lard made, 319 pounds, valued at	638.00
Total	$5,480.34

The above figures do not include by any means, all of the home grown products produced by members of these clubs. Dairy, poultry, garden, culinary, clothing and a score of other items would be included in a complete list. But every item listed above was produced by members of the clubs, under supervision of the agent.

As to canning fancy pack vegetables and fruits and making garments of the better grades, the girls and women comprising membership in these clubs have been especially successful. Officials of the extension department who frequently visit with these clubs and inspect the work done have always pronounced keen satisfaction in the high type of product developed.

"GOVERNOR BY MARRIAGE" IS DAN'S IDEA OF JIM

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Fergusianism and commercializing of public office are synonymous terms.

This declaration was made here Monday night by Dan Moody, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. Moody in speeches here and at Orange during the afternoon, addressed crowds estimated at around 10,000.

"A private and impeached citizen is governor by marriage," Moody told his audience in arraignment of the record of the present administration. "Dan's the Man" and "Pour it on 'em" and similar calls greeted the speaker at intervals.

Moody told his audience that Jim Ferguson was given the greatest opportunity ever presented a bankrupt politician in the history of the State or Nation, an opportunity to redeem himself under the hems of his wife, when the people elected her Governor, knowing the office would be intrusted to Ferguson.

"But he used the opportunity to enrich himself at the expense of the public honor and to the shame of the State that gave him a second chance to come back," the speaker charged. "Jim Ferguson in politics is a sham, and his record from first to last proves it," he declared.

The highway controversy was discussed at length and the audience cheered various charges made by the speaker. The waste of large sums of money through the letting of exorbitant contracts was charged. He said that in 33 counties contracts were let to the highest bidder, the difference in the total being $167,000.

istration and pardon record also was discussed. Moody charged that the system's debt had been increased to $1,500,000 "since old Jim began to monkey with the prison system."

Ferguson's war record also was discussed. He told how Ferguson as Governor opposed the adoption of the selective service act and four days later had deposited $50,000 in an Austin bank; how Ferguson was only 26 at the beginning of the Spanish-American War and did not enlist, and how in 1917 after he was impeached as governor he failed to enlist, "although his finances were in good condition."

"Jim Ferguson had a chance after he was kicked out of office in 1917 to fight for vindication, but he chose to run for it, and has pursued that policy ever since," Moody said.

The Henry Howell residence recently completed in the Templeton addition is being occupied by the family who are moving this week.

Miss Lucy Norman is home from Herinleigh where she has been teaching school.

SEVEN WELLS NOTES

My dozent the crops grow. Everybody is very well up with their work, and crops are sure growing. Quite a number from our community are attending the meeting at Payne this week. Miss Ethel Lee from Loraine spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. L. F. Bassham. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bassham and family went to Midland Saturday and visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wallace and family and also with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lowe and family. They report a fine visit and say that crops up there are real good. Mr. Mill Brown is still able to put that Dodge over the roads guess he is feeling very well. The carpenters have been at work on our school house the past week repairing it and getting every thing ready for our next term of school. Mrs. L. L. Bassham has been in town Monday and Tuesday staying with her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Simpson, who has been real sick. Our roads are getting in pretty bad shape, especially Champion hill it is real bad and we would sure be glad to see the commissioner coming our way. The 1923 club met at Mrs. Williams last Thursday evening and entertained their families with a picnic. Everybody had all they could eat and a real good time. Most everybody is well with the mumps and all say they dont want them any more.

ITEMS ON THE RUN

FROM E. M. McCRELESS
Yes sir, I am still roaming over the old red hills, through the brooks and the valleys and over the rocky places of many ages, viewing the long slim pines and the wide spread oaks and through the thick forest where the shining sun scarcely hits the ground on a bright day and not at all on a cloudy day when the sun doesn't appear. The long continued drought here is still on with gloomy prospects for a crop, except small grain, which was very fine and my conclusion is the more I see of the world the more I think of Mitchell county. And may the people of the West rise up in mass and pay their just dues to the Most High for all His blessings towards us. Just one more item and I am through, I learned a few days ago that there has recently been unloaded at Ninety Six S. C., Just a few miles from here, a large shipment of cotton from the lone star state of Texas and seemed to excite interest. I am well and having a wonderful experience. E. M. McCRELESS.
