COLORADO GIN PLANTS READY FOR HANDLING LARGE COTTON CROP

Seven Plants in This City
Report Ready for Big Business

According to observation of the Record editor, the seven gin plants in Colorado are ready to start running at a minute's notice. A visit to the plants Monday disclosed the fact that the owners and managers of all the plants have completed overhauling and reconditioning the plants and are ready to start ginning at once.

At the O. Lambeth plant known as the brick gin, a new and complete outfit has just been installed. O. Lambeth, senior member of the firm of Lambeth, McCleary and Grubbs, owners of the plant, took time off from his work to show the writer about the plant, explaining the different features, which of course were Dutch to us in so far as the technical terms were concerned. We can say, however, that the building has been overhauled completely, a new concrete floor put in, the second street suction flues changed to the south side of the building, and the machinery placed in such a way that allows a large amount of storage space in addition to plenty of working space about the machinery. This plant, according to Mr. Lambeth, will be the best equipped plant in Mitchell county when it comes to handling snapped or bolic cotton. To back up this statement, he explained the installation of a separate battery of bolic cotton pickers, which are installed alongside the regular gin saws. Two suction flues are available for wagons, one for picked cotton, and the other for snapped and bolic cotton. Dirty cotton will go through the battery of pickers, which look similar to gin stands, and which cost even more than gin stands, and which, it is claimed, will remove all chaff, burrs, and foreign substance from the cotton before it goes into the regular cleaners for the gin saws. This plant, Mr. Lambeth says, has a regular cleaner attachment in connection with the regular gins in addition to the special installation of picker stands, and cotton can be ginned by his plant in the regular way without use of the huller or picker machinery, if desired, this part of the machinery being controlled by a clutch from the main drive shaft from the engine. This plant, as well as the other Lambeth plant in Colorado, has both round and square bale press, and can turn out either at will of the customer. There is no additional charge for use of the picker machinery over and above the regular price charged by other gins for handling snapped or bolic cotton, and Mr. Lambeth vouches for the statement that the picker machines give a much better staple or sample than can be secured from a plant without this improvement.

At any rate we noticed a new steam boiler of 200 horse power, high pressure type, and a 240 horse power Skinner engine in place, which replaces the old oil engine in use last year. A novel arrangement is an elevator which carries all burrs from the hullers to the furnace into which they are dumped automatically. This is done after the sand and smaller chaff has been separated from the burrs. A new concrete wharf is being built along the east side of the building and Mr. Lambeth stated that he contemplated building a concrete wharf along the second street side of the building for its entire length. The scales and business office for both Lambeth plants will be in the new Ceca-Cola building, corner of Second and Hickory streets, across the street from the brick gin. A cotton sample room has also been arranged for here. Parking space for cotton wagons has been arranged for just south of the brick gin to accommodate its customers.

considerable interest is being directed to the operations north of Loraine, which is strictly wildcat territory. Core drilling is to be done there by the Tex-O-Kan company, who have a core drilling outfit set up on the Taylor farm, four miles north of Loraine. The company is planning to make several core tests in that vicinity. This company has a rotary rig drilling on the Brown farm, one mile northeast of Loraine, which is down to about 200 feet.

Several new wells are rigging up in the Chalk field. Owen-Sloan Oil company's Chalk No. 3 is rigging up and will spud Saturday, according to Jack Brown of the Brown Drilling company, contractors on this well.

Williams & Ferguson are moving in two rotary rigs for the Marland Oil company. Lockhart & Co. are spudding their No. 1-A in section 95. Magnolia Petroleum company are rigging up at their Otis Chalk Nos. 3 and 4. Hyman No. 1 of Thompson and Morrison, located near Hyman, 25 miles southwest of Colorado, has been finished and is being plugged.

In the Westbrook field the California company's Womack No. 6 is rigging up to spud. Their Morrison 2-16 is standing cemented at depth of 2,700 feet. Their Foster No. 1 is standing cemented at 3,000 feet. This company's O. Hendley No. 1 is drilling in gray lime at 1,840 feet. Adams 2-3 and Adams 3-2 of this company are swabbing.

LORAIN SCHOOL MAN BEEN INSTRUMENTAL RAPID IMPROVEMENT

Prof. M. E. Blythe of Loraine, superintendent of the schools at that place, was in Colorado Monday, and in conversation with Record editor made the statement that the Loraine schools would probably open the 6th of September, this being the first Monday, Mr. Blythe said he was expecting to have the most successful term in the history of Loraine schools. The school will ask for three and one-half additional credits this year, making a total of 19 full credits. The school already has a total of fifteen and one-half credits.

Professor Blythe has been superintendent of the Loraine schools for the past two years, and has, in this brief period of time, been instrumental in a marvelous growth in the schools there. When he came to Loraine the school had no affiliated credits and was not recognized by the State Department of Education. The school is now rated as a school of the first class by the department, with a total credit of affiliation as above stated.

This year the Loraine schools will have a total of fourteen teachers in all departments, and all teachers in the high school department hold degrees. According to Mr. Blythe, the faculty in both the grade and high school have been employed, and are men and women of proven ability and he expresses the belief that Loraine will have the best and most successful term the ensuing year in her history.

Hicks Rubber Company Puts On Big Selling Campaign

The Hicks Rubber company, who own and operate 27 automobile tire stores in Texas, including the Colorado store, have just launched a million dollar sales campaign to last for a period of sixty six days. The Hicks company started a campaign of this kind in May to last through May and June, in which the sales ran close to $514,000 and the sales ran close to seven hundred thousand dollars.

In the present campaign, according to A. C. Connell, manager of the Colorado store, it is expected that more than one hundred car loads of tires and tubes will be sold by the Hicks concern. According to Mr. Connell, the Colorado store has had a very fine business, and he expects to go over the quota given this unit during the sales campaign.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Record will be found a full page advertisement of this company giving the facts about this great selling campaign and we suggest that Record readers look it over. Prices are quoted and the public can judge for themselves as to the values offered.

REVIVAL CONDUCTED BY DR. HAMILTON CLOSED THURSDAY

Services Under Auspices First
Christian Church Bring
Several Members

The revival meeting which has been in progress for the past two weeks at the tabernacle closed Thursday the 19th. Rev. Mr. Hamilton who conducted the meeting is a hard worker and doubtless if the meeting could have been continued for a longer period would have resulted in a large ingathering.

Bro. Chase the local pastor stated Thursday morning that the church was strengthened and the meeting had resulted in several lines up with the church whom he had been laboring for some time to reach.

Obviously it was somewhat ill-timed to have held the meeting just at this time, inasmuch as so many of the membership was out of town and the conclusion of the building program occupied a measure of time that should have been used to further the interest of the meeting.

"We do not believe," said Mr. Chase, "that Colorado people are harder to reach than any other, but there were so many interruptions and other interests in conflict that a short meeting with no previous preparation made it impossible to achieve large visible results.

Dr. Hamilton's sermons are interesting and constructive. He is a clear thinker and logical reasoner with a rich fund of Biblical knowledge and practical experience as an evangelist. His sermon last Sunday night was one of the most sane and scriptural presentations of the nature of Christianity in its adaptation to the needs of man that was ever given to a Colorado audience. A large crowd heard him with pleasure and profit. In the afternoon he spoke to men only on the subject of men's sins. He pleaded for a return to God and to a sane and holy observance of the Sabbath day. His morning sermon was on the subject of "Friendship."

During this week he has spoken unusually vigorously on such themes as "Baptism of the Holy Spirit," "Christian Unity," etc. Wednesday night was Lodge night. Thursday night, the closing night the subject was to be, "The Family."

Rev. Mr. Hamilton has won his way into the hearts of many Coloradans who will follow him in his future labors and wish him the best of success always. He leaves Friday morning for his home in Mountain Grove, Mo.

One of the unusual features of the meeting was that no collections or calls for money of any sort was made during the meeting, save the regular Sunday morning offering for the regular expenses of the local church. All bills were paid promptly and in full by the members of the local church. Notwithstanding this church has an expensive building program on its hands and are just now winding up this part of the work and the financial demands call for strenuous efforts they were enabled to finance the meeting without assistance.

The new building is practically completed with the exception of the furnishings which have not as yet arrived. Just when they will be able to occupy the new church home is uncertain, but when ready for occupancy the First Christian church will have the finest and best equipped building in Mitchell county, and this building is a credit not only to the congregation responsible for its erection but a building that every citizen of Colorado may be proud of.

No Regular Preaching Service At Baptist Church Sunday

Owing to absence of the pastor, who is spending vacation in South Texas, there will be no regular preaching services at the First Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. Regular Sunday school services will be held as usual.

"FERGUSONISM" IS ISSUE IN CAMPAIGN DAN TELLS SUPPORTERS

Dallas, Aug. 18.—"Fergusonism" and not the Ku Klux Klan is the principal issue in the Texas Democratic campaign for Governor between Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and Dan Moody, Attorney General Moody declared Saturday in his first address in the run-off contest.

Governor Ferguson a few days ago when she announced she would continue in the campaign against Moody, declared one of the issues to be the Klan, asserting that, as in 1924, she opposed it, and Moody's support in the campaign which put him in the lead at the primary July 24 was largely from the Klan.

Moody opened his final campaign at a Statewide rally. His Dallas managers announced that representatives of 170 counties attended. Considerable of the Attorney General's remarks were devoted to the statement from Governor Ferguson in which she said she was in the race to stay. He mentioned James E. Ferguson, the Governor's husband more frequently than the Governor herself, and reiterated remarks to the effect that Ferguson was the acting Governor.

"The issue in this runoff campaign is the same as the issue in the preceding primary," Moody said.

"It is Fergusonism. One promise more or less made and violated cannot change the issue before the people of Texas. Ferguson has sought in his latest statement to change the issue and divert the public mind.

"Ferguson attempts to renew the Klan question in the hopes that he might repeat the history of 1924 and by engendering bitter prejudice and hatred further fix himself upon the people of Texas.

"Mr. Ferguson knows that I have no understanding with the Klan; he knows I wrote the anti-mask bill at his request and am not in favor of its repeal, and he knows that if elected Governor I will be dictated to by no one, but will at all times consult only the welfare of the State in determining the course of my official conduct."

Baptist Church Votes Give Pastor 3 Weeks Vacation

Members of the First Baptist church voted Sunday to give the pastor, M. C. Bishop, a three weeks vacation on full pay, and the pastor and family left this week for Sinton, Texas, where they will visit Mrs. Bishop's parents, and then go to Corpus Christi for a short recreational stay. Stops will be made at San Antonio and other places, and possibly a visit to the State Capitol at Austin will be made. The pastor said Monday that he would be back in time to do his duty in the August 28th primary.

Rev. M. C. Bishop has been pastor of the First church here for nearly six years, and during that short period of time the membership has increased to more than five hundred from the total of two hundred and fifty. This is an increase of one hundred per cent of the original list. All church activities of this denomination have been greatly increased since the present pastor took charge of the flock, and the church has expressed appreciation of this good work by their voting a vacation for the pastor and family. The pastor has well earned this vacation, according to a leading member of the congregation, who was in conversation with the T. & P. at Roscoe.

Deputy Sheriff and Family Spend Vacation in Mts.

C. E. Franklin, office deputy in the office of Sheriff I. W. Terry, together with his family, his son J. C. Franklin and wife and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Watford, have recently returned from vacation spent in the Davis mountains near Alpine and Marfa. They attended the Paisano Baptist Encampment near Alpine and made excursion trips to points in that vicinity. They returned home last week.

EDITORSHIP OF RECORD GOES TO W. E. REID

Supt. of Plant Transferred To Editorial Place
This Week

W. E. Reid, who has been in the mechanical department of the Record for about six years, and who has had charge of the production end of the business for some time, was this week transferred to the editorial department to fill the place vacated by resignation of W. S. Cooper several days ago.

The Record has heretofore refrained from using Reid in this position because we felt that his services would be worth much more to the plant in the capacity of plant superintendent, although he has, at frequent intervals, helped out at the copy desk. Reid has always expressed a desire to remain in the mechanical department but has finally consented to take the position of local editor, inasmuch as the Record management feels this move is the better, since arrangement announced last week in the Record failed to materialize, and the man who was to take the place failed to conform to our ideas of the man wanted.

As publishers of the Record, we will say that W. E. Reid has had ample experience in the editorial department, having been editor and owner of a string of three papers in East Texas before removing to Colorado, having disposed of the Ladonia News, Commerce News and Alba Times in September and October, 1918, with the intention of going into the army. Immediately following signing of the Armistice he accepted a place in the editorial department of the Waco Times-Herald, which place he held very successfully for some time, resigning this place to go back to Commerce and establish the Commerce Semi-Weekly Herald, which paper he sold to the Commerce Journal Company before coming to Colorado. While he is of a quiet, unassuming nature, we have no hesitancy in offering him this position, because we feel that he can handle it to better advantage than any outside man whom we could possibly secure, so we look forward with expectation of making the Record a more popular and more useful publication under this arrangement, than we had ever hoped for before.

In speaking to the editor about this department he said: "You may tell the public that I shall try to get all the news all the time, and publish it in a way that will be pleasing to all the people. I shall call on the leaders in the different churches, lodges, and other activities to help me get the news, and I believe the fine public spirited citizens we have in Colorado will render this service to myself and the paper and, furthermore, I shall always be willing to listen to anyone who has anything to say of general interest to the public, but I shall take no sides in any local controversy, nor play favorites with any particular individual or body. I want all the news, regardless of whether it is a personal local or a big official story."

Floyd Nicholson Goes With Perry Concern at Eastland

Floyd J. Nicholson, now with the land and lease division of the California Company, with offices in Colorado, will leave the first of September to accept a position with the Perry Oil and Gas Company of Eastland, Texas. Mr. Nicholson has been with the California Company local office for more than two years, and is well known. He has been very active in young peoples' work at the Methodist Church, and has been a teacher in the Sunday School at this church for several months. Many friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson much prosperity in their new home. Mrs. Nicholson was formerly Miss Mahan of Stephenville, Texas.

Brown announced Tuesday that his office would be at his residence in the six hundred block on Chestnut street.

Brown Drilling Company New Operators Here

The Brown Drilling company, recently organized, and composed of N. S. Brown and son, Jack H. Brown are new operators in the Mitchell-Howard county oil fields. The company has contract with Owen-Sloan Oil company for several wells and are now rigging up at Owen-Sloan No. 3 in the Otischalk field, and according to Jack Brown, manager, the well will spud in Friday of this week. Jack Brown came to Colorado about one year ago as office manager for the Owen-Sloan Oil company, which position he resigned August 1926 to go into the drilling game actively. The Browns are experienced drilling contractors, and Jack has been anxious to get back into that end of the oil business for some time. He expressed the opinion that he could complete a well in the Otischalk field in ten days drilling time, where the customary time required runs from forty to fifty days.

Brown announced Tuesday that his office would be at his residence in the six hundred block on Chestnut street.

DEVELOPMENT IN CHALK FIELD IS ON INCREASE

cleaned out. If it does not show to be better than a hundred barrels per day producer, it will be given another light shot, so we are informed.

The California Co. is favorably impressed with the outlook for production in that territory and more wells are to be drilled.

The Magnolia Co. has extensive holdings south of the California lease on which are three producing wells. The Magnolia is also to drill more wells near their discovery well.

With locations made for thirty tests in the territory in which they secured production in their Chalk well No. 1 on section 113, block 29, W. & N. W. survey it can be surmised that they are going to be compelled to assemble much material at this point. They are now having bunk houses, residences and other needed structures erected near their field headquarters on the Otis Chalk ranch, southeast of Big Spring.

Their first well continues to produce around sixty barrels of oil daily on the pump and their test well No. 2 is drilling around 1000 feet. Production is secured between 1500 and 1600 feet.

Derricks for some of the new tests are now being erected.

Several carloads of pipe have been unloaded at the Marland Oil Company's supply yard, just east of the T. & P. depot in Big Spring and more carloads of material are due to be received.

The Exploration Oil Company's

Broome No. 1, on the northwest quarter of Section 21, Block 11, S. P. Ry. Co., nine miles southeast of here is underreaming around 1400 feet to set casing to cut out the water. This well is about two miles north of the Rummell No. 2 where a ten barrel showing was encountered last spring around 1300 feet.

The Deep Rock Clark No. 1, on Section 17, Block 15, H. & T. C. Ry. Co., 8 miles southeast of here has been plugged and abandoned.

The Sparkman well on Section 34, Block 30, W. & N. W. Ry. Co., 20 miles west of here is being plugged.

An 80-barrel well in the Chalk field 24 miles northwest of here and a few hundred feet east of the discovery well, was brought in a few days ago. The rig is being removed to a new location to the northeast of this well.

Development in the Chalk field is so rapid that one must be on every day to keep up with it. Roads from Colorado and Big Spring are being opened up to the new field. Six months ago, Otis Chalk, the new oil town, was practically a wilderness, but today it is a thriving village.

Durham No. 2, 1 1/2 miles southwest of here is being stored for future operations. We are not at liberty to give out some deals pending for further development of this shallow field, but later on, we hope to interest our readers with some real oil news.—Sterling City News-Record.

Mrs. Nellie Schroeder, who has been with Mrs. John Brown, returned to Midland Saturday.

MOODY SAYS FERGUSON ATTEMPTS TO SPLIT ISSUE IN CAMPAIGN

Crowd of 6,500 From all Parts of State Offer Their Support

Before a crowd that filled Fair Park grand stand, Dallas Fair Grounds, a crowd that included plain citizens as well as public officials and political leaders from every section of the State, Dan Moody, leading contestant in the first Democratic primary for the nomination for Governor, formally opened his campaign in the run-off against Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson here Saturday afternoon.

As in the first primary campaign, Moody pitched the gauge of battle on the predominant issue. That issue he labeled "Fergusonism."

"As the campaign goes on," he said, "let us not lose sight of the one vital and dominant issue. It is on one predominant issue. That Fergusonism is the issue, and that is the thing which the people of Texas are to exterminate from public affairs in this State."

The big rally at Fair Park grand stand was the climax of a day of conferences and discussion of plans for the Moody campaign. During the morning more than 300 Moody supporters representing every part of the State and of virtually every political complexion, held an open meeting at the Baker Hotel. There were talks by many and pledges of support from all, the ultimate outcome of the meeting being to reach a decision that the one and only issue in the campaign ahead is a fight against Fergusonism.

At the Fair Park gathering the enthusiasm and united interest of Moody forces found full play under the spirited address of numerous speakers and the formal address of the candidate himself, which brought the public rally to a close.

The grand stand, which has a seating capacity estimated at 6,000 was filled. Only one small corner at one end showed any vacant seats and these were very few. They were more than accounted for by the press of people on the steps near and in the boxes close to the speakers' stand, where a better view of the youthful candidate was possible. Altogether the crowd probably reached a total of 6,500.

It was a mature crowd, a voting crowd, and a crowd that came for business and stayed until that business had been accomplished. It was estimated that probably 200 Texas counties were represented in the attendance. And in addition to the political leaders and those who elect leaders by their votes represented in the crowd, a large number who could not be present sent telegraphed avowals of their support and predictions of a sweeping Moody victory the latter part of August.

Colorado Banker Married In Stephenville Wednesday

Ray Womack, bookkeeper for the City National Bank of Colorado, and Miss Pauline Davis of Stephenville, former teacher in the Colorado public schools, were married at Stephenville, Texas Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Sweetwater Daily Reporter Sold to Missouri Man

Sweetwater, Aug. 17.—Announcement is made of the purchase of a large block of stock in the Sweetwater Daily Reporter by Herschel M. Colbert of Gallatin, Mo., who succeeds Minor Shutt as editor and manager of the paper and Houston Harte of San Angelo, as president of the Sweetwater Reporter, Inc.

Colbert is an experienced newspaper man, having begun his career on smaller Northwest Missouri dailies, then going to Chicago for a number of years on the Herald-Examiner and later returning to Missouri as owner and publisher of several newspapers. He sold the Gallatin Democrat a few months before coming to Texas.

During the war Colbert served a year and a half in Texas at Camp Bowie and elsewhere, and acquaintances formed at that time and a liking for Texas led his return to this field.

Shutt has been editor of the Sweetwater Reporter for four and one-half years. With Harte, he bought the Reporter in 1922 from the Terrell Publishing Company, an organization fathered by the late Senator H. B. Terrell. During Shutt's management, the Reporter has developed into one of the best equipped dailies perhaps, of any town the size of Sweetwater in the State. After closing his business affairs in Sweetwater, Shutt expects to join the staff of the San Angelo Standard.

PORTIONS OF COUNTY GET HEAVY RAINFALL

Conflicting Reports As To Value of Moisture At Present

Twenty three one hundredths of an inch of rain fell in Colorado Wednesday morning, and ten one hundredths fell Monday morning, according to E. Keathley, local weather observer, making a total of thirty three one hundredths for the week up to the time of going to press.

According to information received by the Record, a heavy rain fell south of Colorado Monday, C. M. Moore reports a big rain at Spade and west of Spade. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman report a very heavy rain Monday at Hyman, located near the Mitchell-Sterling county line, 25 miles southwest of Colorado. Considerable rain is reported from the southeast part of the county, and Dunn, 15 miles north of Colorado, reports a fair rain. Ira, in Scurry county, 25 miles northwest of Colorado, reports an inch of rain, and heavier rainfall about Knapp and Durham, farther west. Light showers are reported from other parts of the county, but not enough to be of benefit to growing crops.

Conflicting reports are being received by the Record relative to the value of the rainfall to the farmers. Some say rain at this time is damaging to crops, owing to the threatened ravages of the leaf worm, and others argue that rain is needed badly. It is our opinion that the deep sandy land is not in need of rain, but the tight land crops are suffering for moisture, where rain has not fallen this week. Farmers are busy putting out poison for worms, and are having some success in stopping the depredations of the pests.

Tom Goss, state highway supervisor for Mitchell and Coke counties, stated Thursday morning that the southern portion of Mitchell and all of Coke received a heavy rain Monday. A good rain is also reported from the northeastern part of the county, near Hermleigh, which is over in Scurry county.

COLORADO GIN PLANTS READY HANDLE LARGE COTTON CROP

on Second street near Lambeth's, we found C. P. Gary, manager, and a force of men putting the finishing touches on the plant ready to go any day. This plant is a modern plant, as are all the others in Colorado, and is ready to do its share of the ginning for the ensuing season.

The Williams-Morgan Gin Company, owners of probably the largest gin plant in the county, report everything ready to start a record run, having steamed up Monday and belted up everything ready to go. T. N. Morgan, manager of this plant, said his company had put their gin in the best shape possible, and the plant was equipped with the latest and best stuff he could buy, all of which was in the most perfect condition to start the season's run. This plant has a battery of twelve stands, it being a double outfit throughout. Two boilers, two complete gins under one roof. It is estimated that this plant can handle 150 bales per day.

At the Continental Oil-Cotton Co. plant, we found a force of men at work. The manager, Briggs Reagor, was not present, but the engineer, A. T. Orr, said the plant was ready to go, with the exception of placing of the saws which had been taken out to be sharpened and conditioned. This plant was installed new last year having been built after the old concrete gin was destroyed by fire. This is a six stand, 80 saw gin, and it is said can handle 75 bales per day.

At the Farmers Gin company we found W. S. Schley, assistant manager and bookkeeper, on the job with a competent bunch of men. He reported all the plants of the Farmers company ready to go, having steamed up and belted up several days ago. The company owns two plants in Colorado and one at Buford, six miles north. W. W. Moesser, manager of the Buford plant, stated he had every thing ready to begin the season and expected to handle a large run.

We are informed that the two plants at Westbrosk are ready to start the season. Report from Lorraine states the five gin plants there are all ready to start at once. A new modern plant has been installed at Lorraine this summer and will make the first run this season.

FOUR AMENDMENTS

Terminating all of the four constitutional amendments which are to be submitted to the people in the November general election it is fairly to say that all four of the amendments will be rejected.

Whether the board of prison commissioners shall be abolished and a single executive substituted. Whether the counties shall be given the power to create independent school districts, now held only by the legislature.

Whether officers of the national guard, national guard reserve and officers of the reserve corps of the United States, and enlisted men of such military organizations shall be authorized to hold public office in the State.

As the time nears for Coach Cantrell to call the "Wolves" from their lair and begin active training for the football season, the whole question of "athletics" and its relation to our public school system rises in the minds of the patrons of Colorado public school and we ask ourselves whether things are just as they should be or not.

First and essentially there must be a real school spirit developed and maintained both in and out of the school room if the student body does its best work. There is a very apparent danger of missing the mark in our estimate of the value of athletics.

Another thing, Colorado is beginning to realize she must take on city affairs, since the growth of the city has forced her out of "short pants" as the saying goes, and into the "dude" class.

The trouble with most autoists who make a long trip is they can't tell about the scenery for talking about the performance of their car. What we are interested in is what you see, and a way we can see it.

Another Colorado man said the trouble with our common sense is that too many people consider it too common to use, which is very true indeed.

We heard a Colorado man say yesterday that a lot of fellows who graduated from the school of experience were still paying back tuition.

OUT OF THE DARKNESS COMETH EVIL

Men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.—John iii, 19. It is in darkness that the broth of hell is brewed and drunk.

A mind that is blinded and in darkness is the throne room of the devil. It sees evil as good, and good as evil. It tries to put darkness for light and light for darkness.

The evil thinker is always a negation. His thinking is as he is—negative, destructive. Destructive thinking implies the absence of intelligence.

No one can stand the pressure of bad company long without feeling the effects of it. The sound apple soon yields to the influence of the rotten one. The thing to do is to get out of the barrel.

Life loses its attractiveness, and the world turns drab and gray when the eye no longer tries to follow the light. It then has no vision, and "Where there is no vision the people perish," whether it be individuals or nations.

A number of Colorado citizens who have recently returned from vacation trips have advanced the idea that Colorado is sleeping on her rights by not providing suitable camp grounds for autoists.

While many new houses are under construction in Colorado, the demand far exceeds the supply of rent houses, since new citizens are coming in every day, and are calling at The Record office almost every day in search of rooms or houses.

H. M. Colbert of Gallatin, Mo., is now editor and manager of the Sweetwater Reporter, having purchased controlling interest in that newspaper.

Sometimes you can figure the breadth of a Colorado man's knowledge by the length of his argument.

"MA" FERGUSON IN DEFEAT HAS SYMPATHY OF EVERYBODY

"Ma" Ferguson leaves the governor's chair of Texas with the sympathy of nearly everybody. Husband "Jim" who was responsible for getting her into office is also credited with running and wrecking the administration.

An imaginary letter from the people to the defeated candidate for reelection, as published by the Fort Worth Record Telegram (Ind. Dem.) begins with the statement: "Dear Governor 'Ma': This is to advise you that your resignation, as offered has been accepted by Texas."

"It is not a very pleasant spectacle that Texas has presented under the Fergusons' says the New York World (Ind. Dem.). "It should make all Americans feel a twing of regret at one of the unexpected sequels of woman's elevation to equal political rights.

"One is inclined to give Mrs. Ferguson credit," remarked the Los Angeles Times (Ind. Rep.) "on several essential points of character. As a social being she is a charming woman, of a native, witty, frank personality, as has been evidenced by her speeches and interviews.

"That the first woman governor has proved a failure," says the New York Evening Post (Ind.) "will hardly be disputed, but the feminists can say justly that the result was due more to the pernicious interference of her husband than to anything she herself did."

"During the campaign when she entered the arena of State politics, her husband remained in the background and voters were assured that he would be kept there if his wife became governor.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8:15 p. m.

At the morning service Rev. Smith of the West Texas Conference stationed at San Antonio, will preach for us.

You will see that the preaching is announced for 11 a. m. We will go back to the regular hours. All our people seemed to enjoy the short services.

Our meeting will begin September 5th. We want the other pastors and their people to support us with their presence but we do not want them to allow the meeting to hinder their regular services on Sunday. So we shall not expect them to dismiss either service on Sunday for the meeting but we will ask that they attend during the week. We know what it means to a congregation to build up and then be scattered and have to build again. It is asking too much of a pastor to expect him to give way half of the Sunday evening services during the summer.

All are welcome to our services.

J. F. Lovell, Pastor

Primitive Baptist services to be held at the Presbyterian church here Friday at 11 o'clock and Saturday before the 2nd Sunday in September. Elder Mayton West of Bottsville will do the preaching. All are invited.

A Household Engineer

Lillian Gilbreth was the wife and business partner of the late Frank Gilbreth, whose name is known wherever the term "efficiency engineering" is spoken. She is herself an industrial engineer of international reputation.

A greater achievement than that is the fact she has reared eleven children and during her entire married life has performed her full share of the duties of her own home. Her degree as "Household Engineer" will be conferred with the highest honors by all thoughtful people.

In a recent issue of the magazine section of the New York World, Mrs. Gilbreth says, in part:

"Young wives often complain that they are being borne down by a constant burden of fatigue. With all the labor-saving devices on the market, there is really no excuse for it. The trouble is that women are not utilizing the things that are made to help them, and they are not putting their work on a businesslike system that will give them a little time to rest. With laundry prices as cheap as they are now, I consider that doing washing at home is almost as medieval as setting up a spinning-wheel."

Not every wife can equal Mrs. Gilbreth's record as an industrial engineer. But it is within the power of every wife to be a successful household engineer—and to thrive on so doing. The great and growing Power Laundry Industry is at her service in a most important and exacting household task.

WEST TEXAS I. O. O. F. ASSOCIATION WILL MEET COLORADO NEXT YEAR

Abilene Defeated in Bid For Next Session of District Body

Colorado was chosen as the meeting place for the 1927 convention of the West Texas I. O. O. F. and Rebekah association, at its meeting held in Sweetwater last Thursday and Friday, defeating Abilene in a bid for the meeting of next year. According to members of the Colorado delegation who attended the Sweetwater meeting, it is planned to make the meeting held in Colorado next year the best meeting in the history of the body. Plans are being laid to have a record breaking attendance when the meeting convenes in Colorado, and, according to W. L. Doss, prominent member and active official in the I. O. O. F. lodge, the securing of this session for Colorado next year will mean that Colorado will secure much wholesome publicity and advertising. Colorado is indeed glad to receive this signal honor.

In the election of officers for the ensuing year, Mrs. Nellie Delaney was elected secretary. Complete list of officials elected for the coming year is as follows:

Mrs. J. D. Williams, Sweetwater, district president; W. J. Moore, Big Spring, first vice president; J. H. Berman, Stanton, second vice president; Mrs. Nellie Delaney, Colorado, secretary; Mrs. E. D. Shaw, Abilene, treasurer; and Judge A. S. Mausey, Sweetwater, chaplain.

Mrs. W. L. Doss of Colorado, a member of the Colorado delegation has given the Record a detailed account of the Sweetwater meeting, which we reproduce as follows:

The West Texas I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Association convened at Sweetwater the 12 and 13 of August in the auditorium of the court house Mayor John L. Ford of Sweetwater welcomed the visitors in behalf of the city, Judge A. S. Mausey in behalf of the local Oddfellows, and Miss Eulida Williams gave a welcome address in behalf of the local Rebekahs.

J. H. Hampton, president of the association, responded to the addresses of welcome. Mrs. Lige Cutbirth's orchestra furnished lovely music.

The president appointed committees on credentials and officers' report, a committee on resolutions and on prizes. The I. O. O. F. and Rebekahs of Sweetwater entertained all the visitors royally in their homes.

The afternoon session was devoted to business. At three o'clock the Rebekahs met in the M. W. A. Hall for contest work in the Rebekah Degree. The winners in this contest: Mrs. J. M. Sims of Sweetwater won the jewel for best rendition of the Past Grand's charge; Mrs. W. A. Stevens of Sweetwater won a silver basket in Chaplin's charge; Mrs. Claude Ballard of Big Spring won a jewel in the unwritten work. I will say right here that no one from the Colorado chapter of the Rebekah Lodge contested.

The I. O. O. F. members met in the I. O. O. F. Hall. The Sweetwater Degree Staffs of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Lodges retained the banner they had won before. The I. O. O. F. winners in the contest work: John G. Hadden of Sweetwater in Past Grand's charge; W. A. Prescott of Big Spring in unwritten work.

Thursday for supper the visitors were guests at a picnic barbecue at the City Park. After supper the Rebekahs met in the W. O. W. Hall to witness the Sweetwater and Big Spring Degree Staffs contest in the Initiatory. Sweetwater Staff winning the contest. The Sweetwater and Abilene Degree Staffs of the I. O. O. F. held a contest in Initiatory in the I. O. O. F. Hall. The Sweetwater staff also won in this contest. Friday morning session in regular business, and officers were elected as given above. W. L. Doss of Colorado installed the officers. Mrs. Katie L. Doss of Colorado acted as Marshall.

Mrs. Katie L. Doss gave the invitation for the convention to meet in Colorado next August the second Thursday and Friday. Abilene also invited the convention but they chose Colorado for their next annual meeting.

By special invitation from the United States Gypsum Plant, the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Association visited and inspected the gypsum plant. This was very interesting, as well as quite an honor, as this was the third invitation this plant had ever extended to any convention or gathering.

After the association closed, the members went in a body to Merkel to unveil a monument the West Texas I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Association had erected over the grave of J. J.

DEATH OF DR. M. C. HUTTON IN GEORGETOWN MOURNED BY HUNDREDS

News was received of the death of Mrs. Jerold Riordan's father, Dr. M. C. Hutton, which occurred very suddenly early Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Riordan were camping in Ruidosa, N. M., and the message did not reach them until late that night. Rain had fallen and they were afraid to make the mountain trip at night so waited and came through Saturday, reaching here in time for the east bound train. They reached Georgetown at two o'clock Sunday and the funeral was at four. Besides Mrs. Riordan, Dr. Hutton leaves four other daughters: Mrs. Tulley of the Isle of Pines, Mrs. Wiley of San Antonio, and Misses Mattie and Mittie Hutton who lived with their father.

Dr. Hutton was eighty years of age and for thirty six years was pastor of the Georgetown Presbyterian church. He has been in failing health for several years and had been the loving care of his two unmarried daughters. He visited Mrs. Riordan in June and at a rally for Dan Moody made a splendid talk; his body was feeble, but his mind was just as keen and logical as ever. Mr. Hutton had boarded in his home and was one of the pall bearers. His funeral was one of the largest ever held in Georgetown as Dr. Hutton's friends were limited only by his acquaintance. His life was a power that was felt not only in his own church, but in all the others, in the college and in the schools. It may truly be said of him "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace."

"FOR HEAVENS SAKE" BIG FEATURE FILM AT PALACE AUG. 25-26

What is claimed to be one of the best presentations of wholesome comedy pictures ever released is scheduled to be shown at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, August 25 and 26. This is the first release of Harold Lloyd pictures under distribution of the Paramount company, and promises to be one of Lloyd's best if not his best.

The humanization of screen comedy can be directly attributed to Harold Lloyd. He, more than any other individual in filmdom, has been responsible for lifting the movie fun makers out of the rut of "slapstick" and elevating them to the high plane they enjoy today.

The process of evolution, which has been steadily advanced through "Grandma's Boy," "Safety Last," "Girl Shy," "Hot Water" and "The Freshman" is continued with his initial Paramount release appropriately entitled "For Heavens Sake."

Advance reports indicate that the human note so dominant in all of Lloyd's previous productions is again a fundamental factor in his latest comedy. Underlying the uproarious fun and comic foolery is a wholesome thought that gives the photoplay an appealing flavor.

Briefly, the story is that of a rich boy who discovers after a life of idle ease and luxury that real happiness is to be found in helping others. His experiences in the slums of a big city, where he goes to assist a hard-working though none too successful missionary, are hysterically humorous, yet get over the thought Lloyd sought to impress when he started to make the picture.

Jobyna Ralston, who added feminine distinction to several of Lloyd's former successes, again lends her charm and beauty to the role of leading lady. It is for love of her that Harold goes thru many laughable trials and tribulations in his effort to reform a group of hardboiled gossamers.

The story was written especially for Lloyd by Ted Wilde, John Grey and Clyde Bruckman. Sam Taylor wielded the megaphone.

CUT IN STATE SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT NOT AFFECT LOCAL SCHOOLS

Supt. States Rural Schools Of County Can Hold 6 Months Term

According to a statement Wednesday by G. D. Foster, superintendent of public instruction for Mitchell county, the rural schools of this county will not be seriously handicapped by the cut in the state apportionment to $11.50. According to Foster, the rural schools of Mitchell county have raised their renditions, and their tax rates in the different districts in anticipation of an apportionment of around $12, hence the rate of $11.50 set by the State board will not fall far short of the anticipated needs of the rural schools. Foster stated, however, that some schools would possibly be able to hold only a six months term instead of seven, but that the majority of the districts would be able to hold the regular seven months term as usual.

The per capita scholastic apportionment for the 1926-27 school session Saturday was fixed at $11.50 by the State Board of Education. This is the lowest since the 1919-20 apportionment of $8.50.

S. M. N. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and secretary of the board, said the Legislature would be asked to make a supplemental appropriation of more than $4,000,000 to raise the apportionment to $15.

The $11.50 apportionment is based on 1,352,000 scholastics.

Governor Ferguson, Comptroller S. H. Terrell and Mrs. Emma Grigsby Meharg, Secretary of State, all members of the board, were present as well as James E. Ferguson.

The apportionment for the 1925-26 session was $14. Marrs said this apportionment was made possible by a large balance from the preceding session and by a savings on textbook purchases.

Members of the board took the attitude that the fixing of the apportionment at $11.50 was automatic, as the available school fund income would not permit a higher figure.

Throughout the first primary campaign, Ferguson, speaking for Governor Ferguson, declared the administration in favor of a $15 apportionment.

Says Legislature Alone Can Bar Name From Ticket

SAN ANTONIO, Texas. — Dan Moody's name can not be kept off the November election ballot by any court in Texas, Marshall Hicks, attorney and former Mayor of San Antonio declared in a statement Friday night.

Hicks said that only the Legislature could settle an election contest. He cited the case of Dickson vs. Strickland, decided Oct. 1, 1924, by the State Supreme Court, which involved the right of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson to have her name placed on the ballot in the 1924 general election.

The decision said in part: "It is plain the Constitution intended the Legislature to be the tribunal to decide first whether a person claiming the office of Governor was constitutionally eligible and, second, whether such person received the highest number of legal votes. The Constitution has enacted a tribunal and fixed the time and place for determining election contests for Governor and every justifiable issue in such a contest must be there disposed of. The tribunal enacted is a joint session of the Legislature, the time is the first week of the session, the place is the capital of the State."

Hicks declared this decision made it plain that "no court will have any power whatsoever to prevent Dan Moody's name from going on the ballot in the November election, and after his election, no court would have a right to entertain an election contest over the office of Governor."

The statement was issued in reply to reports that court action would be brought by the Fergusons to keep Moody's name off the ballot.

RAIL EXTENSION SURVEY BEGINS AT BRECKENRIDGE

Col. John Meade of Fort Worth, chief engineer for the Cisco and Northeastern Railway Company, is personally directing survey for the extension of this line from Breckenridge north to Throckmorton.

Col. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, president of the system, was in Breckenridge this week and stated that the rail extension would positively be constructed, and that at an early date.

The new railroad will connect Breckenridge with the new oil field recently discovered in Throckmorton county, and open a virgin farm and livestock section of Texas for development.

EARLE MAYFIELD SAYS WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

WACO, Texas.—While here Thursday afternoon United States Senator Earle B. Mayfield refused to make any comment on the present gubernatorial situation in Texas. He stated that he voted for Dan Moody in the July primary. Mr. Mayfield made it plain that he will be a candidate to succeed himself in the campaign of 1928. He was elected Senator from Texas in 1922, in which year he defeated former Gov. James E. Ferguson. Senator Mayfield came to Waco and delivered an address Thursday evening at the annual picnic of Waco Lodge of Masons. He leaves early Friday for Dallas, going from there to Plano, where he speaks Friday afternoon. He will return to Washington about Nov. 1 to be present during the proceedings involving the impeachment of a Federal Judge.

TEXAS U. HAS UNIQUE FOOTBALL SCOREBOARD

When football fans gather at the University of Texas Memorial Stadium this fall, they will be aided in keeping up with the game by a unique scoreboard designed by L. Theo Belmont, athletic director of the University. Besides having places for the scores of the individual teams, the board will show the quarter, yards to go, down, and penalty. A large 15-minute clock will be put in the center of the board to show the time left in the quarter. Scores of other games in progress at the time will also be displayed on the board.

MIDLAD TO VOTE ON CITY HALL BOND ISSUE

BUSINESS MEN AND FARMERS CO-OPERATE

Efforts to Stop Ravages Cotton Pests Made In Unity

J. H. Greene, member of the Executive Board of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, has called attention of the Record to the close co-operation the business men of Colorado have given the farmers of the county in their efforts to destroy leaf worms and other pests calculated to damage the cotton crops. Especially is this true of the drug stores of Colorado, who have put forth an unusual effort to secure and distribute proper poison. The Chamber of Commerce, by the purchase of a car load of calcium arsenate at whole sale price and delivery in car lot to Colorado, has saved the farmers more than $600 on this amount of poison, according to Greene. The drug stores have been very liberal in helping the chamber get poison to the farmers and Greene, in behalf of the chamber expresses thanks to these Colorado business men.

Other business men of Colorado, and the citizens of Westbrook and Lorraine are also showing the closest cooperation with the farmers in efforts to kill out the cotton pests, and from reports received by the Record, excellent results are being had, although considerable damage is being done by the worms.

Farmers who wish information on the method used in poisoning the pests should see H. L. Atkins, county agent, at once, or call at the offices of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce.

FEDERAL LAND BANK REDUCES INTEREST RATE

The Federal Land Bank of Houston, Texas, has reduced its interest rate to 5 per cent. This rate applies to all new mortgages prepared from and after August 1, 1926. Since its organization in 1917 this bank has led the field in low interest rates and long time land mortgage contracts, with liberal repayment options. It is claimed that the sound financial condition of the Federal Land Bank and National Farm Loan Associations of Texas has made this new low rate possible.

Who's Who TODAY

Vice-Pres. Dawes

"If time is money, many are rich and don't know it."

Extravagance in Government has almost reached the limit and taxpayers are calling for reform. Already the move for court reform has received such momentum that it is bound to receive the attention of the legislature. The move for better rural schools as advocated by Mr. Farm and Ranch, as it has and is advocating court reform, has aroused the interest of all intelligent citizens. These reforms are bound to materialize. To follow them must come a re-organization of our county Government.

WE'RE EXTRAVAGANT IN GOVERNMENT; SCHOOLS IN WANT

It has been announced that only $12 per scholastic is available for the public schools of Texas this year, while there is a pressing need for at least $15. Where is this extra money coming from? It is a difficulty to support an extravagant Government. The schools are indeed in need of better support, yet the tax rate has reached the constitutional limit and every special tax that can be devised seems to have been discovered.

Farm and Ranch has suggested and suggests again a way to support the schools and other State institutions without adding to the tax burdens of the people. Give Texas real honest-to-goodness court reform and enough money will be saved the people to double scholastic appropriation without taking an extra dollar from the people. Put counties on a cash basis. Dispense with pernicious fee system of paying officials, and turn all fees over and above the cost of paying salaries and office expenses to the school fund, and we could build high schools in every district within a period of ten years without issuing a bond.

Extravagance in Government has almost reached the limit and taxpayers are calling for reform. Already the move for court reform has received such momentum that it is bound to receive the attention of the legislature. The move for better rural schools as advocated by Mr. Farm and Ranch, as it has and is advocating court reform, has aroused the interest of all intelligent citizens. These reforms are bound to materialize. To follow them must come a re-organization of our county Government.

The people are paying enough taxes now to operate this Government in a most efficient manner, but our archaic way of handling Government business, along with the opportunities for extravagance and graft, keeps the tax-eater's hand thrust deeply into the pockets of citizens, and thus far they have been unable to get rid of the pests.—Farm and Ranch

THE COTTON CROP

By M. H. Wolfe
DALLAS, Tex. — Most people sooner or later meet with freaks. The most pronounced freak the writer has met in a life time is the present crop.

This crop was planted between showers, came up in the rain and has bloomed at midnight. Mr. Flea hit the first ball and made third base. He was followed at close range by Mr. Boll Weevil who was sliding for second base at the last call. Mr. Hopper took first base on balls and Mr. Bollworm is at the bat with Mr. Leafworm on deck. The bases are full with two outs and the batter has three balls and two strikes. Old Mr. Sol is pitching the game while Mr. Jupiter Pluvius is the umpire. That's all.

SPEEDERS RUNNING WILD

Although it has been repeatedly pointed out that the streets and highways are not intended unadorned as race tracks, it is not uncommon sight to note two sets of automobiles, abreast, racing along. The many of these cars are filled with children and oftentimes boys are hanging on the sides while these races are being staged. Older folks who are supposed to have a little more sense than children, are also guilty of staging races along our streets and highways.

A traffic officer has been employed and it is to be hoped that these affairs will become less frequent.

It seems that every time that Jim Ferguson mentions the Ku Klux Klan he renders that organization a distinct service and strengthens its cause. He comes out in a lengthy statement in The Dallas News and gives the K. K. K.'s full credit for riding Texas of Fergusonism. I do not think that organization entitled to that much honor given to it by Mr. Ferguson. It is the red-blooded men and women of all Texas that redeemed Texas. Dr. D. H. Hancock, Dallas.

Greene, Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. Towle have about 1100 acres of cotton of what is known as the Rudick estate and Mr. Johnson says he is a little pessimistic about the outlook for the crop.

CLOSE CONTEST FOR CONTROL OF HOUSE IS DRAWING ATTENTION

Republicans Concede That They May Suffer Some Loss in Members.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Conflicting claims by Republicans and Democratic managers point to a close contest over control of the next House.

The Republicans are seeking to hold their present majority but concede they may suffer some losses.

The Democrats are conducting an offensive which they hope may carry them within reach of a majority.

The impression prevailing among neutral observers is that the Republicans will retain control, but by a reduced margin.

The Republican and Democratic campaign committees are getting into full swing, although nominations in many States remain to be made and election day is about 11 weeks distant.

The Democrats to capture the House must gain 35 seats. This is possible, according to Representative Oldfield, Democrat, Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee. It is impossible, says Representative Tilson, Republican, Connecticut, who will open Eastern headquarters of the Republican congressional committee at New York on Monday.

What the outsiders think is that the regular Republicans may wind up with a net majority of something like 15 or 20 over the combined opposition of insurgent Republicans, Democrats, Independents and Socialists. Their net majority at present is 32. The records show a Republican total of 247, which would indicate a majority of 59 over all others who consist of 183 Democrats, three Farmer Laborites and two Socialists. Eliminating 12 LaFollette Republicans from the 247 gives the Republicans a net total of 235, as against a combined opposition of 203.

In the last "off year" election in 1922 the Democrats elected 205 members of the House. With this number they were able to form a combination with the La Follette Republican group, which held the balance of power, and managed to make things uncomfortable for the administration. In the 1922 election the Democrats made a big increase in strength having elected only 132 members at the time of the Harding landslide in 1920.

Representative Oldfield thinks that the Democrats can pick up from 15 to 20 new seats in the East and as many more in the West. For example in Pennsylvania, which now has a solid Republican delegation of 36, Oldfield expects the Democrats to elect six members or even possibly 8 or 10. The Republicans lost six seats in Pennsylvania in 1922 and concede that this time one or two may slip out of their hands.

In New York State the Democrats say they will gain at least two seats. The Republicans, on the other hand, do not see how the Democrats can gain there inasmuch as they already have all but three districts in New York City and also have members from Albany, Rochester and Buffalo. The state delegates include 23 Democrats, 20 Republicans and one Republican Socialist. The Republicans think that if Governor Al Smith does not seek re-election and a Democrat with less popularity takes his place they ought to gain two or three congressional seats.

The Democrats hope to gain one in Connecticut, one or possibly two in Massachusetts, three or four in New Jersey, two in Maryland and possibly four in West Virginia. As against these claims the Republicans expect to hold their own in Connecticut and Massachusetts admit that they may have some difficulty in holding the three or four doubtful districts in New Jersey, concedes that at least one district is doubtful in Maryland where John Phillip Hill,

Growth of Local Gin Co. Said to Be Unusual

The Record is always glad to chronicle items of interest and facts regarding growth of industries and business enterprises of Colorado and Mitchell county, and the growth and development of the Farmers' Gin company of Colorado, has been called to our attention. This concern started business seven years ago with a small plant and a capital stock of $8,000. In 1920 the capital was raised to $12,500 and now it is $50,000. The company owns and operates three plants now, and has paid a handsome dividend each year since organization.

Officers and directors of the company are as follows: U. D. Wulfjen, president; D. P. Smith, vice president; J. T. Johnson, secretary; Geo. Piaster, Jim Bodine, W. W. Porter and E. M. Reese. T. L. Sailors is manager and W. S. Schley, assistant.

Local Attorney Returns From Trip to Mexico City present Republican House member, in seeking nomination for the Senate, and say they may lose one member in West Virginia where they now hold five out of six seats.

In Maine where the election comes Sept. 13 all four present members are Republican and all are likely to be re-elected with one district probably in doubt, although the incumbent Wallace H. White, Jr., has been elected five times consecutively. The Democrats have a seat in Rhode Island, and probably will keep it. The Republicans hold the single seat from Rhode Island and expect to retain it though the State is usually close, one Senator being Republican and the other Democratic.

FINANCIAL BUDGET FOR MITCHELL COUNTY GIVEN

Detail Statement of Figures On Which Tax Rate Is Based

Beginning with the fiscal year 1926-27, Mitchell county will go on what is known as the budget system of finances, wherein the amount of finances required to run the county government for the next fiscal year are estimated in advance, and the total valuation carefully checked up, and the tax rate set to raise the required amount of money. This system of securing the necessary funds to operate the county government is now being used by the more progressive counties of the State and is a system that is much better than the old way of guess work. The present officials of the county have been very careful not to incur any obligations that the finances of the county would not support. County Judge Thompson has spent much time in compiling the data presented in the budget outlined at the last meeting of the Commissioners' Court. The report read to the court, which was adopted unanimously, was as follows:

"My law this body is at this term of court required to set the tax rate for the ensuing year. I have herewith prepared a schedule of the detail expense of the county and set the rate accordingly. I call your attention to the figures submitted to you in the form of a budget.

"The budget herewith submitted has been prepared with a great deal of investigation as to the actual needs of the various departments of the county and the amounts actually necessary allowed for each department.

"The general fund of the county with the rate of 25c on the $100 valuation will give to that fund a total of $20,650. This amount will be actually necessary. This general fund is divided as follows:

Table listing various county expenses: Sheriff salary, ex-officio $1,000; Co. clerk, ex-officio 1,000; County Commission, per diem 1,500; County Agent 1,000; County Demonstrator 1,200; County Attorney 300; Court Reporter 500; County Judge 2,000; County Charge 1,500; Trans. of Insane 800; Trans. of Juveniles 800; County Medical Expense 800; Office Supplies 3,000; Court Costs 2,000; Int. and Sinking Fund $1,641.37; Miscellaneous Expense 1,000; Cost of Collecting 2,000; Total 20,641.37

"The court house and jail fund will require a rate of 15c to meet the needs of that department. The court house and jail fund is divided as follows: Fuel, $600; lights, $300; water, $400; janitor's salary, $1,000; yard man, $1,000; board and care of prisoners, $4,000; sanitation, $1,500; collection costs, $1,500; miscellaneous expense, $2,150.

"The rate necessary to meet the interest and sinking fund payments of the road and bridge sinking fund should be 10c, the amount required being $7,900. This is divided as follows: Bonds, series A, $2,750; refunding bridge bonds, $600; road and bridge bonds, series B, $3,750; collection costs, $800. Total, 7,900.

"The court house and jail interest and sinking fund will require $8,300, which can be raised by a levy of 10c. This fund is divided as follows: Two bonds maturing, $2,000; interest maturing, $5,500; collection costs, $800; total $8,300.

"The road and bridge fund as you are very well aware, require more money than we are able to levy for that purpose. I have, therefore, set the rate on that fund at thirty cents, the constitutional and statutory amounts, and divide them as follows: Interest and sinking fund for warrants outstanding, $5,905.83; for general expense, $5,000; collection, $3,300; this making a total of $14,105.83. The amounts allowed for working accounts of the various precincts are as follows: precinct one, $7,000; precinct two, $5,100; precinct three, $2,000; precinct four, $4,900. The 30c tax rate will produce $25,900, and the $8,000 derived from automobile registration making the total of $33,900 for this fund."

As stated by the Record last week, the tax rate for the county was set at ninety cents on the one hundred dollars valuation.

Colorado Furniture Men Make Art Home Furnishing

The rapid growth of Colorado, and the many new homes being built by the citizens of Colorado, calls to mind the fact that the furniture and home furnishing concerns of this city are amply prepared to take care of this ever increasing business. There are men at the head of these concerns who have made a life study of the business and they have attained a reputation for square dealing, living prices, and quality products that makes Colorado the best place in this section of West Texas to buy home furnishings, etc. This applies to all the furniture and home furnishing concerns in the city. No dealer in this section affords better stock and cheaper prices, as a whole, than do the Colorado home furnishing stores, and none are better prepared to give more sound advice than the local dealers relative to the furnishing or arrangement of the new home. They even advise economy in the building and furnishing the home, as for instance, one dealer who has been instrumental in the arrangement of many homes in Colorado, said:

"A breakfast room that is only a place for morning dining is an expensive luxury for the man of average means to consider incorporating in his plans for a new home. But a breakfast room that in addition to providing a pleasant background for the morning meal supplies a delightful setting for the morning sewing, afternoon lolling, and evening recreation is something worthwhile for the man of average means to think about.

"The room that bears the title of 'Breakfast room' while serving in several capacities, does not have to be extremely large in order to fill all its duties well. Careful planning on the part of the person who has its furnishing and decoration in charge will quite make up for limited proportions. After all, the chief requisite will be abundant sunlight, and an atmosphere of gaiety brought about by a good color scheme.

"The furniture for dining, of course, will dominate the scheme; and nothing will be more suitable than slenderly proportioned, painted pieces. Do not choose all the pieces in the suite if you think you can manage nicely without some of them, and thus make room for plus-comfort items on a wicker chair or two, a reading lamp, etc.

"If you'd like a breakfast room and a sunroom, too, but finances prevent your incorporating both in the blueprints for your new home, why not plan to have the two in one."

Miss Nellie Riordan Gives Impressions of Noted Cave

Miss Nellie Riordan of Colorado, who recently visited the noted Carlsbad Cavern, near Carlsbad, New Mexico, has kindly given the Record a short letter describing the impressions gained and the sights seen in this cavern. The description of the trip as told by Miss Riordan is very interesting and is as follows:

"Thursday morning we drove out about twenty five miles from Carlsbad to the cavern, climbing up, up, up, a typical mountain road dug out of the side of the mountain until we reached the summit and the great natural entrance of the cave. About one hundred of us went in together to see the cave and the chief guide said it was the best natured crowd he had had this summer, and sang the best. The path leads down, down, down, until you are seven hundred and fifty feet below the entrance of the cave. Sometimes along a dirt path sometimes down a long flight of steps, the wonder of it growing greater and greater until at the very last you reach the most beautiful of all, 'The King's Palace' and the 'Crystal Room.' You cannot conceive the vastness of that great underground work of God until you go through one wonderful chamber after another with ceilings so high you have the feeling that you are looking into the sky. Great electric spotlights are placed here and there so that you can see the marvelous sculpture of roof and walls, while all about rise the most beautiful monoliths, anyone of which a city would pay a small fortune for; yet there appear to be hun-

Second Primary to be Held Strictly According to Law

According to J. A. Buchanan, county Democratic chairman, the second Democratic, or run-off primary Saturday, Aug. 28, will be held strictly according to law, and no illegal or questionable practices will be allowed. A poll list will be furnished each box and those holding exemptions are requested to present their certificates.

Absentee voting will be closed, according to the law, three days before the election. Ballots will be ready by Monday and will be sent to the boxes.

dreds. The very lavishness with which the great Master Artist has adorned this great underground castle of His makes man's efforts seem puny and insignificant.

Many of the men carried gasoline lanterns and when one would be held behind a marvelously perfect curtain fold the light could be seen as a soft translucent glow. The formations assume many fantastic shapes for which the guides have names. Everyone carried a lunch and at noon the party assembled in a huge banquet room where I suppose a thousand people could have sat down comfortably. There long benches have been placed so all can rest and drink of the ice cold water from many hollows in the rocks.

On the way back up the steady climb, the guides had us rest often once gathering to sing. I thought it a beautiful tribute that though that weary crowd had just sat down with a sigh of relief, to rest, when somebody started "America", as the very first song, every man, woman and child, and there were a number of them, rose to their feet. From there on out the crowd sang. There were some splendid voices and I think it helped every one to climb. We were back to Carlsbad about 5:30 P. M.

J. C. Pritchett, cashier of the City National Bank, returned Monday night from Waco, where he had gone to visit his mother, who is there for medical attention.

DODGE BROTHERS DE LUXE SEDAN

People select motor cars by different standards.

Some desire luxury and ostentation. Others, utility and economy alone.

Dodge Brothers De Luxe Sedan strikes a fine and distinguished balance—both in appearance and price—between these two extremes.

It provides unusual comfort and roominess; a refinement of line and design in which the owner takes deep pride; and everywhere in the world the name it bears is associated with the highest standards of integrity and workmanship.

With reasonable care, the De Luxe Sedan serves its owners for years, frequently delivers mileage running well into six figures, and on the resale market brings prices that strikingly reflect the solid value Dodge Brothers have built into it.

Dollar for dollar's worth of genuine automobile.

Publication of the notice, Richard T. Fleming of Houston, secretary of the committee, said today, was considered necessary as there was an ambiguity in the statute with reference to it.

A Grand Canyon Marvel

Where the Grand Canyon Is Grandest

World's Premier Scenic Region Suddenly Produces a New Development of the Greatest Economic Interest to the Entire Nation.

By JOHNSON C. WELLIVER

THE Grand Canyon of the Colorado River, widely regarded as the world's most imposing natural wonder, has suddenly taken on a new and startling interest.

A few years ago, when it was an inaccessible to the North Park, John Wesley Powell was the first to make the first trip through it. A little later another adventurer conceived opening a trail from the top of the rim down to the river, a mile below. It seemed hopeless, but the accomplishment has made the canyon's foremost wonders accessible to thousands of tourists each year. Many come from all quarters of the world every season in greater numbers to traverse the Bright Angel Trail. That trail is truly a marvel, by its construction and its location. It was worked at it for ten years, and without help or financial backing at one period spending almost a year alone in the vast gorge. But today Ralph Cameron, holder of the Bright Angel Trail, occupying a post in the United States Senate, is to be rewarded by the people of Arizona for his reward.

Greatest Artificial Lake

But the concept of the canyon had hardly been reached when the engineers discovered a new use for it. At Boulder Canyon, Arizona, the greatest dam in the world, a third of a mile high, should impound a lake which, spreading over a great area in Arizona and Utah, would be next to Lake Michigan, the largest fresh water body entirely within the United States. Harnessed to mighty turbines, the water, falling hundreds of feet, would produce a power greater than Niagara, and irrigate an area several times that of the Nile Basin, which served for uncounted centuries as granary of the ancient world.

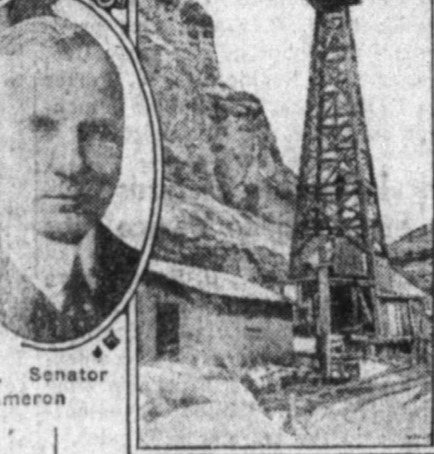

The Boulder Canyon dam has not yet been built, but the people of the Southwest are as confident of its construction as that the Colorado will continue to flow between its giant walls.

Now comes a new chapter in the romance of the Colorado. The untamed "wildcat" of the oil industry, scouting for new sources of petroleum, have brought in an oil well right in the canyon! Drilling from a narrow shelf at the gorge's bottom, they have overcome unbelievable obstacles. Perpendicular walls of rock grimly forbade construction of road or trail to transport machinery and supplies. From the river a succession of rock walls rise in successive terraces to a height of 3,000 feet.

The "Great American Desert"

The little Mormon town of Moab, eighteen miles upstream, is the nearest supply base. But Moab is not a broad town; a drive of forty miles is still required to reach the Denver & Rio-Grande railroad, Salt Lake City is 250 miles away to the northwest. Standing at the foot of the derrick which marks the site of the new oil well, one's back is fairly against an 800-foot cliff, which is matched by another immediately across the river. Looking up, one imagines that if he could climb one of these walls he would be "outside." But, trying this, he finds himself on a plateau or terrace, with another cliff a little way ahead. To climb this, in turn, would only bring him face to face with still another cliff, and so on till he had mounted full 3,000 feet from the river.

Not only must this succession of cliffs be mounted, but to traverse the rock terraces, gashed and torn, is only less difficult. And finally, the ascent to the outer rim accomplished, one confronts a waste of ridged, suamed and boulder-strewn desert, endless save for distant mountain peaks. Manifestly, the oil "wildcat" could not make roads, so they built a flat-bottomed boat and floated down from Moab. It was a daring performance, for the stream twists constantly; unseen rocks and shifting bars add to its difficulties, and the canyon's perpendicular walls threaten instant wreck.

But it was done. Materials were brought, a derrick reared, machinery placed, a camp built and drilling begun. Now, with oil flowing from a depth of 2,035 feet, the Crane Creek well is suddenly the wonder of the whole intermountain country.

A Maze of Difficulties

Just about a year from the beginning of drilling the well began to flow, with every indication that when the drill goes somewhat deeper into the producing sand it will be an important producer. For the present, drilling has been suspended, awaiting provision for taking the oil away. It is doubtful if in all the history of the 600,000 wells that have been drilled in this country, largely in regions difficult of access, any one has ever presented such a category of obstacles as this canyon well in Utah. How the oil will be transported to a refinery is still sheer guess work, but a way will be found, for the ingenuity and resources of the oil engineers have never failed.

The "bringing in" of this well illustrates the difficulty of petroleum development. Convinced that the geological structure was particularly favorable, the projectors determined to gamble $75,000 on drilling. Before they got off they had spent more than twice that.

For years wells have been drilled in various parts of the state—fully 200 in all—at a cost of probably $5,000,000, and this canyon well is the "first real producer." It is only by dint of such persistence in coping with natural obstacles and financial hazards that the country's supply of oil is maintained. The first oil well in Western Pennsylvania became a producer at the depth of 69½ feet. Nowadays wells a mile deep are not uncommon, and they have gone down as far as a mile and a half.

Every Well is a Gamble

A large proportion of wells produce nothing whatever and represent total loss. It was recently estimated that in the last twelve and a half years $1,200,000,000 was sunk in wells which were failures. Despite every effort of science, engineering and long experience, and notwithstanding the stupendous depths now reached, 25 per cent of wells last year were dry.

The "wildcat" is the Columbus of oil. He is to petroleum, to gasoline, to the fuel supply of the country's 20,000,000 automobiles, what the old-time gold prospector was to building the empire of the far west. He is essentially a gambler; good loser or good winner. The lure of enormous winnings keeps him tirelessly searching, and sometimes he finds his reward. But in the aggregate, offsetting all winnings against the total cost of this ever-growing gamble, it is not improbable that all the oil that has been taken from the soil of this country from the beginning cost more than its producers got for it.

A World in the Big Game

But their huge gamble is the basis on which the whole industry rests. The ice-bound Arctic and the fever-festering tropic jungles alike attract the hardy "wildcat." To them the world owes its newest and best in transport by land, sea and air. They help light its homes and streets, provide an astonishing share of its power, furnish an endless list of necessities which are by-products of petroleum. The "wildcat" is well nigh the Atlas of this modern mechanical world.

Local Ford Dealer Unloads Shipment of Improved Cars

A. J. Herrington, local distributor for Ford products, unloaded a shipment of 1927 model Ford cars Monday, the first to be received by Herrington. The new closed cars carry a type of paint, which is said to be similar to Duco, which is called Pyroxylin. Pyroxylin is the correct name for all cellulose and gun cotton base paints.

In speaking of the change made by the Ford company, Monroe Herrington, salesman for the Ford agency, said:

"The Ford Motor Company has recently changed its closed body finish from a varnish job to Pyroxylin paint. For your information, Pyroxylin is the correct name for all cellulose and gun cotton base paints, although numerous manufacturers have applied particular trade names to their individual Pyroxylin paints, such as Duco, Mimax, etc.

"This paint withstands the elements, is not affected by alkali and acids, and will not mar as easily as the old type varnish finish. For the above reasons, Pyroxylin finish will be much more satisfactory from the service standpoint.

"Ford Sedans are being finished in a Mole skin grey color with champagne striping, while the Tudor Sedans and Coupes are a Drake green, with emerald green striping."

SCHOOL NOTICE

In order to determine whether unders will be received in the Colorado city schools this year it is necessary to know the approximate number. If you have a child who will not have become seven by Sept. 1, 1926, but who will be in his sixth year, please convey such information to the superintendent of schools at once.—R. B. Norman, Supt.

Col. W. A. Dulin, former county agent, who now resides on his farm in Buford community, was in town Monday, and while in conversation with a Record representative, stated that leaf worms were very much in evidence in his neighborhood, and that heavy damage was being done. J. R. Shepard, of the same community, also reports considerable damage. Mr. Shepard says he is a little pessimistic relative to the cotton crop of Mitchell county this year, predicting that the crop would fall far short of the total production reached last year.

Rev. G. O. Cummins, pastor of the Westbrook Baptist church, was in Colorado Monday, and while here placed an order for printing for the church. Rev. Cummins said progress at Westbrook was brisk and that growth of the town was expected to continue rapidly.

Sweetwater Newspaper Man Killed by Texas-Pacific Train

H. L. Roberts, 30, for the past four years connected with the Sweetwater Reporter met instant death Saturday at 12:08 o'clock when the sedan he was driving was struck by T. & P. passenger train No 4 eastbound at a grade crossing about five miles west of Abilene.

The huge locomotive hit the closed car near the rear wheels. Roberts was thrown clear for a distance of between 75 and 100 feet, the body landing on the right of way. The car was picked up on the cowcatcher of the locomotive and carried on until the train was stopped. The body was picked up by the train crew and taken to an Abilene undertaking establishment pending advice from relatives.

Mr. Roberts left Sweetwater Saturday morning on a vacation. He planned to go to Dallas and to Tulsa, Oklahoma. He was born and raised in Chelsea, Okla. He was a member of the American Legion, having served over seas during the World War and was also a member of the Sweetwater Lodge of Elks. He had been with the Reporter since 1922.

Engineer Costlow, and Fireman Elliott, when interviewed upon their arrival on No. 3 in Sweetwater Saturday afternoon at 5:30 declared the fatal accident was unavoidable. Costlow said, "We were making 50 miles per hour. I guess he was going between 20 and 30 miles per hour. I was blowing the whistle and Elliott was ringing the bell. We thought that whoever it was would stop; they always have. But he did not hear us, and did not see us at any time. I don't think that he ever knew what struck him."

"He was knocked about 75 feet; nearly out of the right of way. We identified him when we found a calling card bearing the name of Hubert L. Roberts."

Costlow is 73 years old, has been with the T. & P. for 40 years, and has been on this run for the past 23 years. The gray-headed man was almost tearful when recounting the tragedy. "I have been in the T. & P. passenger service for 23 years and this is the first auto I have struck, and my God, I hope it's the last."

"When the engine struck the car there must have been some part of it that went beneath the engine releasing the engine air brakes, and with the heavy engine, and only the brakes on the five cars working, it was two thousand feet before we could stop. We had no difficulty in removing the wreckage from the point of the engine due to the fact that none of it was beneath the cow catcher. The car was totally demolished."

"Conductor Tobin took charge of the body and it was carried into Abilene and placed in Laughter Undertaking Parlors. When we got into Abilene we found his spectacles on the running board of the engine; the frames broken, and one of the glasses broken out."

"It occurred, I think, at 12:08 p. m."

WEST TEXAS IMPROVEMENTS

CROSBYTON—Crosbyton has started an extensive building campaign. Work on a two-story brick building was begun recently and several other buildings for the square of the city are being contemplated. Building material is continually being shipped into the resident districts.

ARTESIA, N. M.—Work has been done on three new rigs which will serve the Artesian section this year, when the cotton crop is brought in by the farmers. The Alfalfa Association rig is practically complete and buildings have been completed and await the arrival of the gin machinery, which will be installed soon.

FREDERICKSBURG—This city is to have a new $125,000 hotel, with work to begin on the structure in less than sixty days. The new building will have every possible feature of the historic Nimitz Hotel, which can be retained. It will contain a large banquet hall, a spacious lobby, and forty-two guest rooms, all steam heated and provided with hot and cold water.

BROWNFIELD—One of the most unusual parades ever staged in any town was held here recently when 150 workers with hoses on their shoulders, headed by the Chamber of Commerce band, marched through the main streets of the city. These were the persons who came to the rescue of one of their neighbors' crops when the family was ill and two members died. The ladies of the community prepared meals for the workmen.

MERKEL—The Merkel Community Fair will have a new feature added to its various old ones this year. Superintendent I. L. Jackson of the city schools is preparing an "Educational Feature" for the Fair program and officials are confident that it will add attraction to the Community Fair.

VERNON—An issue of $80,000 municipal improvement bonds were sold by this city, the proceeds of which will go to the paving of streets and to the extension of water and sewer connections.

STAMFORD—The August issue of the official organ of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, "West Texas Today," will be of much aid to the high school graduate who has not yet decided on the college or university he will attend. The magazine will carry advertisements and sketches of all West Texas institutions and of many eastern schools.

PLAINVIEW—B. F. Bennett, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has solicited more than 100 new memberships for that organization in this city. Nearly ninety-eight per cent of last year's members have renewed membership for this year.

SAN ANGELO—Contract has been let by the San Angelo National Bank for its new temporary home on West Twelfth, which will be occupied while the new eight-story structure is under construction.

SAN ANGELO—Five days of horse racing for prizes aggregating $4,500 are being offered this year as one of the chief attractions of the 1926 All West Texas Exposition to be held in San Angelo the last week in September. The program scheduled will be one of the largest racing events ever held in Texas, and turf entries are already being made.

REV. BISHOP WRITES ON MILEMENTS OF CHURCHES

Gives Views and Answers to Question Ask by Many People

What is the matter with our churches? That is a very serious question. The church of the living God was started off as a living, conquering power. Today it seems there are many things that prevent the church from doing its mighty work. Folks have lost interest in much of the church stands for in the world. In 1 Corinthians 5 chapter and sixth verse the reason is given. Many people have lost the sense of sin and wrong doing. The church is failing in doing as the New Testament tells it to do. In this same chapter you will find the remedy given as to what to do in the case of a person who sins openly. We are not trying to prove any position on turning folks out of the church but if you will read the New Testament you will find plenty of grounds for turning folks out of the church.

Paul in this statement we refer to tells about how a small amount of fermented dough will ferment the whole lump of dough if allowed to remain in touch with the whole lump. He says take the sour dough away from the other dough before it sours it all. He is talking about folks in their sinful living. You will note the effect of the life of one person who is living in sin, how it effects all the lives in the entire church. Let one person live in sin and all the others are affected by that one life. Let one person indulge in Sabbath desecration and the next thing you know the whole church is indulging in it, too. Let one member dance or play cards or gamble or use profane language and the next thing you know your whole church is affected because of such conduct. That is why Paul argues to free yourselves from such a person.

The church is supposed to be composed of a clean living people. There is no intimation in all the Bible that saved people will live in open sin. The dance is for the lost sinning world and why will any person who claims to be saved tolerate the dance for one minute is wholly outside the thinking of a saved person. Take card playing for example. That belongs to the lost sinning world and should never be indulged in by saved people. These are things that spoil the whole lump. Immorality is not only sin that sours the whole church but for one member who claims to be saved to take the Sabbath day and use it as a common day and do his or her pleasure on that day spoils the entire body which is the church. Then for a person to attend card parties or dances or other forms of revelry is to begin a leaven that will spoil the entire lump, which is the church.

We are often thoughtless about our influences and maybe we care less about how it affects others. Many are neglecting the matter of religion and are living in open violation of the commands of the New Testament, and seemingly giving no heed to the matter of their souls or their church. Paul says "be not deceived God is not mocked for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." If he sows to the flesh he shall of the flesh reap corruption. How true is that statement. We see people today ignoring God's claims on them and using Sunday for a holiday and never pretend to attend the house of worship. These same folks are going to reap what they sow.

It seems strange that sane people will let the devil beat them out of the best things of life and feed them on the husk of his own choosing. He plays on the evil nature and satisfies that. It does not take a very religious person to see what we are coming to in our moral life if we keep up what we are now sowing. Sow the wind and reap the whirl wind. Sow sin and reap destruction.

When it comes to the point that people have lost the sense of sin to that point there is no more conviction as to the great need of consecration we are in bad. The prophets of old cried out against the sins of the day. They told the people that God would bring them into judgement for them all. Judah suffered a year in slavery for each sabbatical year they transgressed and failed to observe. As soon as you can get folks to stop and think you are in a good way to help them but you will never help anyone until you can get him to think. God said come let us reason together. Whenever any person will reason about sin and righteousness he is in a fine way to get right. In this fast way we are traveling we are not doing much deep thinking about the more worthwhile matters. The voice of God's prophets are not heeded as it should be about the greater things of life and eternity. Folks will go on dancing and card playing and sabbath desecration and indulgences as usual but remember for it all they will come into judgement and reap what they sowed. Some fine, useful folks are spending their lives around the bridge tables and letting their souls famish and casting shadows over others. Then folks will want to know what is the matter with the church? It is sours through and through because the old leaven has been allowed to remain which has spoiled the whole lump. Until the church awakes to its awful sinful condition among its members and return to the custom of turning out those who are sours by sins which spoil all the lump we are to remain weak and defeated. Paul said to take away the old leaven and save the rest of the dough. Whenever we leave the New Testament way of doing things just remember we are getting away from God and we will suffer till we come back and do it God's way.

So the trouble with the church today is not that it is not able to do its work in God's good way but it is loaded down with material that is fermenting the rest of the church so much so that fermentation has set up in nearly every point in the whole lump. If these statements are not correct please examine and find a better solution.

Three Cent Tax on Gas to be Advocated by Ma

Austin, Aug. 15.—Imposition of a tax of three cents a gallon on gasoline to raise the per capita scholastic appropriation to $15 is regarded as one of the requests Governor Ferguson likely will submit to the special session of the Legislature convening here Sept. 13.

The State Board of Education Saturday allocated for the 1926-27 school session $11,590 each to 1,252,500 scholastics from an estimated school fund of $15,548,754.

Wednesday in announcing she was back in the Governor's race, Governor Ferguson urged the imposing of a three cent tax "on every gallon of gas sold in Texas," one-third of the proceeds to go to the common schools and two thirds to highway maintenance.

A gasoline tax of one cent now is levied on the sale of gasoline, three-fourths of the tax going to the highway fund, and one-fourth going to the school fund.

In some quarters, it is predicted that Governor Ferguson also will recommend to the Legislature the raising to 3 per cent the present one and one half per cent gross production tax on oil. One-fourth of the proceeds of this levy also would go to the school fund.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY EASTLAND COUNTY BAR

WHEREAS, Judge Geo. L. Davenport is a candidate for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals of the Eleventh District:

WHEREAS, the honest and patriotic voters all over said District who do not personally know the candidate are no doubt seeking information to the end that they may cast their votes for the candidate whose character, ability and experience best fits him for the most acceptable public service; and

WHEREAS, the members of the bar of Eastland County have had special and peculiar opportunity and occasion to rightly estimate and judge of the character, ability and experience of Judge Davenport:

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE EASTLAND COUNTY BAR:

That we most earnestly commend to the consideration of the voters of the District the candidacy of Judge Davenport, at present District Judge and who in the first primary received an overwhelming majority of votes in Eastland County over his opponents and a substantial plurality of the entire District:

That upon the record of a clean and exemplary life among us we vouch for his unimpeachable character and high degree of integrity as a man:

That, as practicing lawyers in the court over which he has presided as District Judge during the past six years, we have come to justly rate him as one of the leading jurists of the state;

That, by reason of the location of the District Court of which he is Judge in the midst of the greatest operations of the oil industry in this state and the unprecedented volume, variety and importance of litigation of which his court has been called upon to exercise jurisdiction, Judge Davenport has had exceptional opportunity to acquire and has acquired a rich and varied experience which could have been had in no other way, preeminently fitting him for the place to which he aspires;

That, added to the qualifications above mentioned and crowning same with completeness, is the possession on the part of Judge Davenport of a judicial temperament and poise of the highest order.

The following named members of the bar participated in the adoption of the foregoing resolution:

Pains disappeared

"SEVERAL years ago I was badly run-down," says Mrs. John Bunch, R. F. D. 3, Columbia, S. C. "I could not do any of my work. I was so weak I could not wash a dish. My back and sides hurt me at times dreadfully. I dragged around until I finally got down in bed."

Then, explains Mrs. Bunch, she happened to read about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and decided to give it a thorough trial, the results of which she describes below:

"It seemed to reach the cause of my trouble at once. I did not take it long before my appetite began to improve. I gained in weight from 114 pounds until now I weigh 125 pounds. I soon was able to be up around the house. I took up my household duties and was delighted with my returning strength."

"I now do all my own work. The pains in my sides and back have disappeared and I feel like a different person."

Cardui has been helping suffering women for nearly 50 years. Sold by all druggists.

Mills Showing First New Chevrolets in New Home

The first showing in Colorado of the new "Smooth Chevrolet" was made last week, when the Mills Chevrolet Company, local distributors for this popular automobile, received a shipment of the new cars, and displayed them at the new home of the company, corner Main and Oak.

Mechanical refinements adding to ease in operation and striking new Duco colors characterize the new improved cars.

J. B. Mills, owner and manager of the company, is enthusiastic about the new improvements to this line of cars, and has asked about it, said:

"A motor even more remarkable for smoothness of operation and new colors that reflect the latest and most harmonious blending of smart lines and artistic hues are revealed in this car. The new features are announced in the middle of the greatest sales year in Chevrolet history.

"Among the more important new features included are the following: a new cross member, strengthening the motor support at the transmission housing, thus still further reducing vibration and at the same time adding greater ruggedness to frame and chassis; a redesigned cam shaft with cams scientifically rounded to eliminate noise; gas and spark controls mounted with horn button on top of the steering column, affording not only easier control in driving but also giving a more artistic appearance; an improved universal joint with trunions operating in separate bushings to give longer wear and to afford easier access; a new battery and battery support, and a more sturdy tie-rod between the front fenders which permits a more rigid support of the head lights and their better focusing.

"A notable feature is the ingenious stop light switch which has no wire attached to the brake pedal and no pull back spring on the switch, thereby eliminating a frequent source of annoyance of failing to function properly. The new switch is of non-arcing lever type, and is operated by the brake rod.

"The new battery is equipped with a solid rubber case and has the handles built in as a part of the case, thus eliminating metal handles which are subject to corrosion. The new type carrier holds the battery in such a way as to eliminate any strains on the battery case and the consequent liability of breakage.

New, brilliant and striking combinations of colors in Duco appear on all models. The sedan is finished in Algerian blue, the coach in Thebes gray, the landau in Alpine green, the coupe in Dundee gray, while all open models are finished in Biscay green.

"All models have rear view mirror and there is a handy pocket in right front door of closed cars as standard equipment. The landau, sedan and coupe are equipped with disk wheels. Balloon tires are standard equipment on all closed models. The wood wheels on the coach, touring and roadster are now finished in Duco."

McCRELESS ON THE RUN

Yes, dear readers I am still agwine when there is nothing else to do. Yes and its still rainy weather in Alabama and I have visited several places of interest since I last reported to you.

Our next stop was at Florida, Alabama, a railroad town and a strong competitor for Andalusia, the county seat. From there we went to Opp another country town and a still stronger competitor for the county seat. There being two cotton mills. Now in operation which causes me to ask the question, Why can't the people of Mitchell county build a cotton mill where we raise lots of cotton compared with a little raised here.

I think it justly belongs to the business men of any county, strongly linked together with the farming class of people, to own their own cotton mills and oil mills as well as we can do it if we want to. This country used to be known as the Pingwoods country and while I've been traveling in many sections I can't tell whether I've seen any pingwood hoosiers or not but I do know that have seen lots of long nose reekers, with lots of corn growing to fill them out and make them look like hogs.

Last Friday night it was my good pleasure to visit the Masonic Lodge at Andalusia where I had visited before. I also took part in a Masonic burial at Andalusia last Monday evening, marched in the procession by side of one of J. E. McCreless' old friends. I am now in the vicinity of Dosier, Alabama, a nice little town situated on the Central of Georgia railroad. I'll tell the balance later.—E. M. McCreless.

Texas and Pacific Railway Makes Cheap Rate, Laborers

W. E. Ralph, agent for the Texas and Pacific Railway at Colorado, gave out a statement Saturday in which he said the T. & P. would make a rate of two-thirds fare for one way transportation of cotton pickers in the cotton fields along this road.

Farmers are invited to take advantage of the reduced rate in securing help for the cotton harvest and the T. & P. road promises to cooperate with the farmers in every way possible, whenever assistance can be rendered, according to Ralph. The statement issued by Ralph is as follows:

"Two-thirds fare for one way transportation of 25 or more cotton pickers in one group will be made as a concession to farmers of West Texas on or about August 10, according to information received from the general offices of the Texas & Pacific railway.

"In granting the two-thirds fare the Texas & Pacific also announced it would make an effort to have a representative accompany a group of cotton pickers to see that they reach their destination. Two children will be taken as one adult. A minimum per capita fare of $1 will be charged on groups where the special rate is given.

"In order to accommodate farmers as much as possible the Texas & Pacific officials announced that the groups can be handled by prepaid order. Under this plan farmers can pay for the transportation of cotton pickers from here and they will be brought from the point for which the fare was paid."

"You can buy a McCormick row binder complete with trucks from Price Bros. for $200.00 spot cash. If you need some terms we can and will grant same."

Old Time Ideas Pass as Proof of Folly is Given

If there is any doubt that the old time idea of hand work in any given activity is better and cheaper than that performed by modern labor saving machinery, it will be dispelled by a visit to the Colorado Laundry. This plant which is a modern and up-to-date plant, has increased its business enormously since the installation of a modern large size flat work ironer, and other modern equipment about one year ago.

J. Ralph Lee, owner and manager of the laundry, in speaking of this phase of his business, said: "A few years ago the laundry was considered a luxury, but today it is a necessary service, which fact is proved by the increase in our business in recent years. Some time ago, it was considered by many, as damaging to clothes to send them to the laundry, and in some instances was, but the improved machinery is less wearing on the linens than the home washing and the cheapness of our rough dry service makes it even more economical than the home laundry, besides we iron all the flat work and return the other pieces ready to iron, when our family rough dry service is used. The large increase in this business shows that the people are beginning to realize that the old time ideas that hand service of any kind is better than that performed by machinery are erroneous."
