23RD YEAR—NO. 8.

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1926

WHIPKEY PRINTING CO.

THOS. J. COFFEE IS ENDORSED FOR PLACE AS DISTRICT JUDGE

Attorney Backed For Place To Be Made Vacant By Judge Leslie

The Record learns that our fellow townsman and local attorney, Hon. Thos. J. Coffee, has been endorsed by the Mitchell County Bar for the appointment as Judge of the 32nd Judicial District, composed of Mitchell, Howard, Borden, Scurry and Nolan counties, to succeed Hon. W. P. Leslie, who was elected as Associate Justice of The Court for Civil Appeals at Eastland. We also understand that Mr. Coffee has been endorsed by county, city and precinct officials, and a large number of citizens of this county, and by numerous others in the other counties comprising the district.

We take pleasure in heartily endorsing the appointment of Mr. Coffee for this position, which we believe he is in every way qualified to fill. Mr. Coffee has resided in Colorado for practically fifteen years, with a short absence during and just before the war. During the time he lived here, he served as City Attorney of Colorado and several terms as County Attorney of Mitchell county, and filled both these offices with distinction and honor. Mr. Coffee was reared in Howard county, being a member of a pioneer family of that county, and has lived in this district practically all his life, and is no stranger to the people of the district. While he was City Attorney, he represented the City in some very important bond litigation, and, while County Attorney, he established the record of collecting more delinquent taxes for the county and state than any other man who has ever filled that office, as well as maintaining a high record of convictions for criminal offenses.

Mr. Coffee served in the Navy during the war, and, for two years after the Armistice, was stationed in London, in the Legal Section of the Navy there, where he was engaged in admiralty cases and claims against the United States Navy, growing out of the presence of the Fleet in European waters. After his discharge, in December, 1920, Mr. Coffee returned to make his home here, and has since been actively engaged in the practice of his profession here, where he has made an enviable record as an attorney.

We do not know who may be the applicant for this position, but we feel sure that there is none who is better qualified than Mr. Coffee to fill this place with credit to the line of former Judges of this district, such as Judge Wm. Kennedy, Judge W. R. Smith, Judge Jas. L. Shepherd, Judge W. W. Beall and Judge W. P. Leslie and we think that the Governor will make no appointment that will please the people of this district more than to appoint Mr. Coffee to this place.

CALIFORNIA COMPANY EMPLOYEES HONOR L. W. ORYNSKI HERE

Leonard W. Orynski, geologist with the California company, who was married in San Antonio Wednesday, and whose engagement to Miss Jim Elliott of Colorado was announced last week, was honored by employees of the company at two banquets the past week end.

Bill Taylor entertained with a stag party Friday at which the leading officials of the company here were present.

On Saturday night at the Hotel Barcroft a banquet was served in honor of the approaching marriage of Mr. Orynski and to say farewell to Mr. Roy T. Hazard, who has been with the company for some time but is going to Louisiana, where he has been named chief geologist for a large oil company. Mr. Orynski was not present but the employees present, about 25 in number, transmitted their best wishes by wire to the honoree.

NEW BAPTIST PASTOR

REV. D. W. MORGAN
New Pastor First Baptist church of Colorado.

BAPTIST PASTOR BE IN COLORADO SUNDAY

Rev. D. W. Morgan Preach First Sermon as Pastor at Morning Hour

Rev. D. W. Morgan of Groesbeck, recently called as pastor of the First Baptist church of Colorado, will preach his initial sermon as pastor of this church on next Sunday morning. Rev. Morgan will be in Colorado and will fill pulpits at both services, according to the local pulpits committee.

The Rev. Mr. Morgan was in Colorado about a month ago when he received the call to come here, but could not give a definite answer to the call until he returned to his home at Groesbeck. He later wired he would accept and would be here about the first of December.

The local Baptist congregation almost as a whole has expressed the belief that they were lucky in securing this man to pastor the church. From what the Record has been told, the city and community is greatly complimented by the removal of this good man and his family to our midst.

D. W. Morgan was born in Walker county, Alabama. He received his college education in Howard College, Birmingham, Ala. After leaving this school he accepted the pastorate of the Twenty-first Street Baptist church of Birmingham which was the second Baptist church of that city. He served that church for three years, after which he entered the Theological Seminary of Louisville, Ky. On leaving there turned down a call to the Eighteenth Street Baptist church of Louisville that he might accept the call as pastor of the First Baptist church of Athens, Texas. It appears that he had for some time wanted to cast his lot with Texas Baptist and took advantage of the instant call to Athens.

After serving some years at Athens he was called to the First church at Yoakum. Arriving at Yoakum he found an uncompleted building, which was heavily in debt. He went to work, completed the building, paid off the debts and built up a fine congregation and plant there in the short period of four years. At this church the membership was doubled, and the Sunday school attendance was twice doubled in the four years under Morgan's leadership, and the B. Y. P. U.'s and Woman's Societies were in fine shape and doing splendid work when he left there to go to the First Baptist church of Lockhart on a very urgent call from that congregation.

He has been pastor of the Groesbeck church for about four years and is leaving all the work there in fine condition and everything running smoothly, with deep regrets from the church there that he is leaving.

Rev. Morgan has been highly recommended by Dr. W. B. Crumpton, for 25 years secretary of missions for the State of Alabama, and Dr. P. S. Groner, of Dallas, and other great leaders in the denomination in this State.

The Record joins the congregation and their friends in extending a hearty welcome to new pastor and his family.

BIG SPRING STEERS STAMPEED WHEN WOLVES SHOW FIGHTING SPIRIT

Team Cops Championship Of Section C In Big Spring Game Friday

November 11th was a red letter day in the life of Colorado High School and her supporters. The Wolves, accompanied by a half thousand rabid fans, visiting the city of the Big Spring Steers bent on a mission of spreading terror among the natives.

The Wolf special entered Big Spring amidst the deafening din of its own noise. Apparently no preparation had been made by the neighborhood for the reception of the visitors. It is not yet known what providential hindrance prevented a formal reception, but we are sure that no discourtesy was intended. The famous Chamber of Commerce band accompanied the town and led a parade down the principal thoroughfare of that city.

The game was called at 3 o'clock. Big Spring kicked off with the wind to her back. The Wolves began by fumbling and Big Spring recovered. After making two first downs Segall kicked a perfect place kick from the fifteen-yard line.

The Wolves got off to a bad start due to constant fumbles and were not able to score during the first half. The 3 points of Big Spring looked like a mountain at the end of the first half. The third quarter saw the Wolves as a different team. They thrust back every attempt at their line and after several minutes of high pressure the flying Segall attempted an end run and dropped the ball. Dorn, left end of the Wolves, scooped up the bounding oval and surrounded by several team mates, galloped across the grid for forty yards, and a touchdown. His kick for point was blocked.

The Wolves threatened the Steer goal constantly in the fourth quarter.

WOLVES STAND CHANCE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP IF BEAT ANSON HERE TODAY

Sends Hundreds Of Boosters; Teams Are Well Balanced; Tight Game Expected

One of the greatest gridiron clashes of the class B team of district three will be played here this afternoon when the Colorado Wolves meet the Anson Tigers on Lone Wolf field. The Tigers are champion of section A of the district, and the Wolves carried off the pennant last week at Big Spring for section C of the district. The winner of the game here will take the winner of the DeLeon-Gorman game for a Thanksgiving match, which will probably be played at Abilene or one of the former towns. Rising Star had been declared the champion of section C of this district, but they were forced to forfeit all games played because of the ineligibility of players, the work had to be done all over by Gorman and DeLeon.

Both the Wolves and Tigers have made remarkable records and the team winning the game here will probably be an easy winner over the team in section C, and hence the local game will practically decide the championship of the district in class B.

Officials for the game today are Kuhn (Union) referee, Simms (Baylor) umpire, and Dillingham (Simmons) headlinesman.

According to advices received here, the crowd that witness this game will not be entirely unfriendly to either of the teams, as Anson is coming with several hundred loyalists and the Purple and Gold sectional champs, some twenty in number, will be backed up by the boosters in a great way.

The Tigers have had a two week rest since their game with the Stamford Bulldogs for the sectional title, and the entire squad is in good condition. Since Anson early in the season won from Roby who in turn defeated the Wolves, the Tigers are favored in the game Thursday, but the passage of six weeks of time may have brought a change in the relative strength of the teams.

Some of the Wolves are a little off form since the Big Spring game is less than a week past, and Gist, local star, and several others were slightly injured in that game and have not had sufficient time to thoroughly recover, but it is not expected to very greatly interfere with the playing of the local team, although more rest is to be desired.

A very intensive ticket selling campaign has been conducted by the authorities and others, and it is expected that a record attendance will be had at this game, which will probably be the last game of the season in Colorado.

Majority of the stores and office in Colorado will close up for the game Thursday afternoon in order that employees may attend. Committees were working on this Tuesday and Wednesday.

A royal welcome was given the Anson players and fans accompanying them, who arrived here about 1:30 this afternoon. The boys expressed keen interest in the reception tendered them and said while they expected to win, they would feel kindly toward this city for this royal reception if they lost in the playing.

CUTHBERT, NEW HOPE SPADE AND CHAMPION IN METHODIST CIRCUIT

Colorado Circuit Created At Conference; Rev. J. G. Johnson, Pastor

The Colorado circuit, Methodist church, is a new work created at the meeting of the Northwest Texas conference at Childress last week, the circuit embracing four rural churches of Mitchell county. They are Cuthbert, New Hope, Spade and Champion.

Rev. J. G. Johnson of the North Mississippi conference, who was enrolled in the Northwest Texas conference as supply pastor, was sent to Colorado to take this work. Rev. Johnson was in Colorado Wednesday arranging for a house and expects to move his family to this city at once and make his headquarters here. Rev. J. G. Johnson is a twin brother to Rev. S. Johnson, Methodist pastor of Dunn, who has Dunn, Ira and Buford for his work. The preacher who comes to Colorado for this new circuit held a meeting at Dunn last summer in co-operating with his brother and had excellent results. The meeting was a union meeting of Baptists and Methodists and 28 new members were added to the Baptist church there and 48 added to the Methodist church rolls. The Methodist church there is considerably stronger than the Baptist and hence had more to draw from which accounts for the larger number of additions to the Methodist church. J. S. Johnson is starting on his second year as pastor at Dunn.

Rev. J. G. Johnson is highly recommended by the presiding elders of the North Mississippi conference where he has held pastorates, among these being Rev. T. H. Dorsey of New Albany, Miss., Rev. R. A. Tucker of Columbia, Miss., and R. A. Meeks, pastor of the Southern Methodist of Memphis, Tenn. Johnson was in that conference for 21 years and was superannuated that he might come west for benefit of his health which he reports is good since arriving in the West.

The Record joins many others in welcoming the Rev. Mr. Johnson and his family to Colorado, and we are sure the rural churches affected will be overjoyed at his coming.

The Record has received a communication from C. W. Warwick, publisher of the Canyon News, in which the Rev. Mr. Beavers is highly praised for his work in the state normal city, and lauded for the value of his leadership. The communication from the Canyon publisher is as follows:

It is with genuine regret that the word came to Canyon this morning that Rev. M. M. Beavers had been transferred from this town to your city as pastor of the Methodist church. Mr. Beavers closed his fourth year as pastor of the local Methodist church, and a strong appeal was made to Bishop Moore for his return to Canyon for the coming year. The fact that Rev. M. M. Beavers had been Bishop is opposed to more than four removals.

During his pastorate in Canyon a new $75,000.00 church was started, built and completely paid for. No church in the conference in the size town as Canyon has accomplished so

NEW LOCATIONS IN WESTBROOK AND CHALK OIL FIELD THIS WEEK

Oil Development Continues; Production in Chalk Field Increases

Several new location in the Chalk and Westbrook oil fields and the bringing in of one well in the Chalk field, which is the largest producer in that field, and the steady drilling of several wildcat tests in this vicinity are the chief features of the oil development in the Mitchell and Howard county fields this week.

Magnolia Petroleum company's Owen-Sloan Chalk No. 4, which came a producer a few days ago, is the producer in the Chalk field, according to information received by The Record. This well is good for 100 barrels per day or better. So far the best well in this field have been producing about 75 to 80 barrels per day, which is a fairly high gravity oil coming from a depth of about 1,700 feet, or a reasonably shallow pay. This well is in Section 113 offsetting Marland Oil Company's No. 3.

Two new locations stand approved by the Magnolia Petroleum company in the Chalk field, being Owen-Sloan Chalk No. 5 in northwest quarter, and No. 6 in southwest quarter of section 113, Block 20, W & NW survey, Howard county. No. 5 is one location directly north of the discovery well in this field and the furthest well north in that section which has most of the producers in that field. It is expected to open up new territory if brought in as a producer. Drilling is expected to start there at an early date.

Magnolia has two other new locations in the Chalk field which are in section 114. They are G. O. Chalk Nos. 5 and 6 and are both in SW quarter of this section, block 29, Howard county.

Magnolia has had hard luck with

LOCAL CHAIRMAN OF BETTER HOME CAMPAIGN PLANS INTENSIVE WORK

Mrs. A. L. Whipkey Named By Herbert Hoover; C. of C. Helps

Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, former president of the Civic League, has been appointed by Secretary Herbert Hoover to serve as chairman of the Better Homes committee, which is to conduct a Better Homes Campaign in Colorado and Mitchell county.

Mrs. Whipkey has secured the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce, the Colorado Record, the County Agent, Home Demonstrator and the Chairman of Music have agreed to help in this splendid work so if the citizens will help we are sure that Mitchell county will be the better for having had this campaign for the greatest asset it has is the home.

The first step is a tree and shrub planting campaign. Let every one at the right season plant a shade tree, fruit tree or some kind of flower shrub. Mr. Foster, the County Agent, will willingly help to select or order the right things for our county. He is sure to serve, so call on him.

In speaking of this work Mrs. Whipkey said:

"Mr. Hoover is president of Better Homes in America, an organization which each year sponsors a nation-wide educational campaign for Better Homes. The campaign is sponsored locally by such organizations as Chamber of Commerce, parent-teachers Association, Women's Clubs, Boy and Girl Scouts, and others having an interest in improved housing and home life. A committee of volunteer citizens if formed by the chairman appointed by National Headquarters, and the program is from that source. The program consists of education through lectures, planned with advice and assistance debates, discussions, and demonstrations, and has been in operation in Mitchell county since 1927. During that week hundreds of new small homes will be shown throughout the United States which have been planned for convenience and comfort, and built and furnished to meet the needs and the incomes of families of modest means. Old houses will be reconditioned, and inconvenient ones remodelled to show how, at slight expense, such houses can be made into attractive, comfortable homes.

Better Homes in America has no commercial connections, being supported through public and private gifts. Headquarters activities are in charge of Dr. James Ford, of the faculty of Harvard University, as Executive Director.

The purposes of Better Homes in America are:

1. To make accessible to all citizens knowledge of high standards in house building, home furnishing, and home life.
2. To encourage the building of sound, beautiful, single-family houses and to encourage the reconditioning and remodeling of old houses.

7. To encourage the establishment of courses of instruction in home economics in the public schools, and particularly the construction of school practice houses and home economics cottages where girls in our public schools and college may by actual practice, learn the best methods of conducting household operation and home-making.
8. To promote the improvement of house lots, yards and neighborhoods, and to encourage the making of home gardens and home playgrounds.
9. To extend knowledge of the ways of making home life happier, through the development of home music, home play, home arts and
10. To encourage special study and discussion of the problem of character building in the home.

SPEAK TO TEACHERS

DR. J. PAUL GOODE

Geography Expert, who will speak at the El Paso convention of the Texas State Teachers association, Nov. 25, 26 and 27.

LOCAL GINNERS MAKE SUGGESTION FOR USING LOW GRADE COTTON

Will Endeavor Get Bagging Made From Cotton; Ginnners Asso. to Help

A new use for low grade cotton has been suggested by ginnners and farmers of this city and section, and if this practical movement should be adopted throughout the South it will mean a saving of at least $20,000,000, that has previously been sent out of this country, and that amount will be spent for cotton in place of jute for making bagging that is used in bailing cotton.

J. E. McCleary of the Lambeth McCleary and Grubbs Gin Co., of Colorado is one of the instigators of this movement, and he states that his company which owns gins throughout West Texas is taking this matter up with the bagging manufacturers from which they buy their bagging and will endeavor to get them to call a meeting of the bagging makers and instigate the use of cotton bagging in place of jute. Ginnners all over West Texas are taking the matter up and McCleary states that at the next meeting of the Texas Ginnners association which convenes in Dallas next spring and an effort will be made to get all Texas ginnners to co-operate in this movement that will mean a big market for low grade cotton, and this will take up several hundred thousand bales of such cotton that has previously had very little market value.

According to McCleary, T. L. Sailors of the Farmer Gin Co., and other local ginnners this movement should meet the endorsement of every cotton growing section, and it is very practical as this year their was a drought in the principal jute growing countries which will make the supply very scarce for next year and will tend to make the price higher. It is estimated that there will be spent approximately $27,000,000 for bagging and ties this year, and of this amount about $20,000,000 is for the bagging. This will take up much of low grade cotton, and will keep from flooding the market with cotton of little use.

This matter will be brought to the attention of all commercial organization by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce with the request that they encourage this movement, and assist the ginnners and farmers in getting a whole hearted adoption of the use of cotton bagging for cotton. This can be done by farmers and ginnners in every community requesting the bagging manufacturers to use American cotton in place of foreign jute in the making of bagging for the nation's chief crop.

Argument for the cotton bagging is to effect that it will be better protection to the jute and will stand handling better than the jute bagging in addition to the above mentioned feature, which alone is to be a great boon to the cotton industry in the South if adopted.

J. A. Buchanan, Mitchell County farm and city property owner, who has two section south of Midland, was here Wednesday from Colorado. He was accompanied by his daughter Miss Catherine and Miss Crawford of Kansas City. Mr. Buchanan remarked that he believed Midland would vote the paving bond issue Nov. 23 by a big majority. "Paving has done a great deal to make Colorado grow," he said—Midland Reporter.

MITCHELL CO. FARMER SAYS WOULD MISS MEAL A DAY TO OWN FARM

Will Berry Tells Some Things Responsible For His Success

Will C. Berry of Cuthbert, one of Mitchell county's best and most prosperous farmers and land owners, recently wrote an article for the Rural Community Progress, a farm paper published at Fort Worth, in which he tells of some of the things that have brought him success and gives some good advice to farmers.

Berry started in without money or assistance and has gradually acquired several hundred acres of the best land in Mitchell county and owns considerable town property in Colorado, all of which he has made from the soil, being a real dirt farmer himself. His farms are near Cuthbert, and his brother, C. C. Berry, is interested with him. C. C. can be credited with a very fair share of the success attained by Will and himself.

The article in Rural Community Progress by Berry reads: "Farming is not such a job. If we will try, there are so many things we can get a little money out of, I have not made any one crop a specialty, have raised most of the things that do well here.

"A farmer should have something to sell the year around. I try to do so. I plant good seed, find it pays big, there are so many kinds of seeds. That if we have more than we need there is a good market for it in our home town. Such as maize, kafir corn, peas, melons, okra, turnips, etc. There are lots of farmers that don't save seed for another year, why? There's a dime's worth of seed in most melons we eat. I grow a nice turnip patch every fall which brings me about $100.00. I try to have something to sell the year around. It does not pay to go to L. on nine months in the year empty and bring back a load. That kind of farming does not pay. It is the little things that count. Chickens, eggs, butter, produce of any kind sure helps on the chuck bill, and when your money crop comes in you have that near to pay on your land.

"We farmers can have the fat of the land if we will try. For myself, I am glad that I am a dirt farmer. I love the soil and like to see things grow. There is nothing like the smell of the fresh plowed ground and of the new mowed hay.

"Buy you a farm, boys; you can if you will try. Don't buy many acres first, pay for a small place and let that help buy more. A fellow will just do better on his own land, I would miss a meal a day or own the roof over my head and part of the land I work. There is a lot to save in taking care of the farm machinery, build a good shed and keep them under it. It will pay for itself in a short time. I see lots of harness hanging on the fences, exposed to all kinds of weather. One year is about the life of harness treated that way.

"Help yourself men and the other fellow will help you. Bankers and merchants will always stay with the fellow that tries. Farming has proved profitable to me. With the help of the best wife in the world we have paid for three good farms the last twelve years.

"A fellow is out of luck, that can't get a girl that will make him a living while he makes the money to buy land with. I like the Rural Community Progress and it's slogan.

"Civilization begins and ends with the plow."

"Farming Must Pay or the Nation will Perish."

"Keep your Farm Boys and it will Keep You." —Will C. Berry.

Colorado Girl At C. I. A. Shows Much Ability In Art

Miss Gladys Womack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Womack of Colorado, is majoring in the study of art at C. I. A.

Miss Womack is establishing a record of high grades in college which equals that which she maintained throughout her attendance in Colorado High School. Her grades in every subject which she is taking are good, but she is doing especially well in her art work.

Miss Womack did a large portion of the art work and drawing for "The Lone Wolf" last year. Many of her pen drawing for the 1925 issue of the local high school annual received comment and were excellent. Scores of friends here will be glad to know of her success at the State college at Denton.

SIXTH DISTRICT GETS SILVER LOVING CUP AT STATE CLUB MEETING

(Continued from page 1) was on the program and she gave "My Heritage" which was very appropriate for the occasion.

Waco and Elpo were contenders for the next meeting of the federation.

Mrs. C. C. Thompson, secretary of the Sixth District, reports that the State Board meeting will be held in January and that all district chairmen are invited. Place for the meeting will be announced later. Houston and Ft. Worth have both invited the meeting. Cheap round trip rates will be given by the railroad. Plans for work and plans looking forward to the next biennial at San Antonio will be made.

According to the local delegates the meeting at Dallas was the best in the history of the organization and the club women returned to their clubs with more enthusiasm than ever before. Colorado club women, as well as others in the Sixth district, are planning an extensive year work for the ensuing year and will accomplish much, if present plans go through.

COUNTY DEMONSTRATION AGENT GETS EXCELLENT RESULTS IN CLUB WORK

Miss Ives Belle Jones Here For 1 Year, Accomplished Wonderful Work

A partial report of the work of the club women and girls in Mitchell county working under direction of Miss Ives Belle Jones, demonstration agent of Mitchell county, shows a surprising amount of work accomplished.

Miss Jones has been in this county for a little more than a year. She replaced Miss Sealy, who was transferred to El Paso County.

There are four active women's clubs and six active girls' clubs in Mitchell county working under the direction of Miss Jones. The meager estimate given of the work done by these clubs of course does not show complete accomplishment. In the matter of canning the women have done much more than is reported herewith.

The report issued by Miss Jones is as follows:

Vegetables canned, 3,286 cans; fruits canned, 1,344 quarts; jellies made, 826 quarts; preserves made, 1,084 quarts; pickles and relishes made, 2,466 quarts; vinegar, 56 gallons; garments made, 1,659; eggs sold, $2,921.10; fresh vegetables sold, $2,888.05; butter sold, $1,981.66; milk sold, $388.80; total money for produce sold, $7,479.55.

In speaking of this Miss Jones said: "This does not give a true estimate of all the canning done this year in Mitchell county, for the percent of women is great who have steam pressure cookers and sealers and who do their home canning and are not in club work, but are missing a great opportunity to add to the development of this community by working together as club members."

Mother Colorado Man, Pioneer Settler, Dies

Mrs. H. M. Goss, age 70 years, mother of Tom Goss of Colorado, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. W. Davis in Ft. Stockton, last Sunday at 12:45 p. m., and was buried there Monday afternoon at four o'clock. Funeral services were held from the Baptist parsonage, the Rev. Mr. Riddle, Baptist pastor at Ft. Stockton, conducting the services.

Mrs. Goss' maiden name was Miss Nellie Roe. She was born in Dawsonville, Ga. July 18, 1856. Was married in 1872 to Robert L. Goss. They moved to Missouri in 1873, and to Texas in 1880, settling in Collin county. From there they moved to Cooke county and in 1890 and spent 36 years in Coke and Mitchell counties, being among the most substantial pioneer settlers of this section of the state.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ollie Cole of Sandoz, Cooke county; Mrs. G. W. Davis and Mrs. Nellie Aaron of Ft. Stockton, and four sons, Tom Goss of Colorado; George Goss, Wichita Falls; Bob Goss, Sudan; Marion Goss, Beaumont.

Robert L. Goss, husband of the deceased, died three years ago at Roger, Ark.

Mrs. Goss joined the Baptist church in 1895 and for more than thirty years had been a consecrated Christian remaining true to the faith of that denomination all the balance of her life. The high esteem in which she was held at Ft. Stockton and other places in this section is attested by the beautiful and immense floral offering at the funeral. Mrs. Goss was truly a good woman and was loved and respected by all who knew her.

Segall, the dashing phantom of the Steers, was never able to get loose. His every move was smothered by a pack of Wolves. Only once did he look like himself when he received a low punt from Dorn and returned twenty-five yards.

The Wolf special slipped out as it had entered, without a send-off. It arrived home and a parade and demonstration was held on main street.

National Canned Foods Week

Shows Housewife Advantages of Buying by the Case

Many weeks during the year are appropriated to acquaint us with some particular subject. Some weeks we are urged to either our morals or to clean up our morals or our streets. Few, however, have the practical side attached to them which National Canned Foods Week offers. Food is of paramount importance, so, to most of us, is economy. National Canned Foods Week is designed to acquaint the housewife more extensively with canned foods, not only by telling her how good and how extensive are the foods to be bought in cans, but to give her the opportunity of buying canned foods at reduced prices—a practical aspect that should appeal to every woman.

National Canned Foods Week begins on November tenth and runs through to November twentieth. During this time, retail grocers, wholesalers and canners unite to put canned foods before the public in an extensive advertising campaign. They go further, for the housewife has a chance to test the merit and use of canned foods as told her through the special bargains offered during that time.

What better chance can the housewife find to stock her pantry with favorite staples? Owing to the close co-operation of all parts of the industry, reductions are considerable and a case of tomatoes, corn or peas, for instance, if bought during Canned Foods Week, will result in very worth while savings.

Many a housewife will say that she does not care to buy an entire case of one kind of food. If so, the grocer will mix a case, give her three or four different foods in one case, still with the advantage of the reduction which follows quantity buying. The case may contain a good supply of varied foods, each can representing a variety of food economy. For unexpected guests, or any emergency, the supply stands in good stead.

Make this week, with its budget helping prices, an opportunity to try out canned foods you may not already know about.

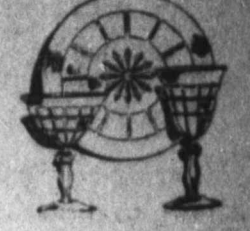

There are two hundred and one varieties in all classes of canned foods. Vegetables are put up in forty-nine varieties, fruit in thirty-seven, fish, twenty-eight; there are twenty-seven kinds of canned soups, twenty-nine kinds of meats. Of miscellaneous specialties such as spaghetti, evaporated and condensed milk, jams, jellies, Boston brown bread, sauces, spices, there are twenty-five. Six do. more entrees are offered.

What more varied, appetizing and wholesome menu could one ask than that offered us in canned foods? The nutritive value of them has been proved beyond doubt and how convenient it is to have them at any time.

or place throughout the year, regardless of season! If we had to depend on the fruits and vegetables which are in season or which keep unspoiled, what a lonesome diet we would have throughout the winter! How delightful to serve June peas, August lima beans, tomatoes, corn, stringless beans, peaches, pears, and all the others—the wealth of the summer gardens—straight through the winter months. Out of season foods, such as tomatoes, when raised in hot houses, soar in price and would soon tear the household budget to pieces were we compelled to eat them. Many supposedly "fresh" foods come from long distances, too, and lose nourishment and flavor with every day they are on the road.

There will be a comfortable margin left on the budget, on the other hand, if the housewife is thrifty and showed enough to take advantage of every opportunity to buy canned foods at reduced prices. One of the soundest principles of economy is to buy in large quantities. There is always a normal saving in price on quantity purchases, but during this week, it is even greater. It is an opportunity not to be missed. Call your grocer on the telephone, or better still, go down to the store and see what he has to offer you in cases of canned food bargains. Stock your pantry and count up your worth while food economy.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

According to Mr. Whipkey and Mr. Reid of the Colorado Record, and Mr. Martin of the Snyder Signal—good men and true, all three—there will be a West Texas Press Association organized at Colorado Nov. 20. Sessions will be held at the Barcroft Hotel, and the primary intention is sociability and fraternity; excellent things in editors. State Press has been invited, it having been generously conceded that he is as much a West Texan as a Texan of any other direction—same being an all-Texan. He wishes he might accept the invitation in actuality as well as in sentimentality, but he understands that straw hats are not being worn in West Texas this month and he would hate to appear among the prosperous publishers of that jurisdiction looking as if he couldn't read the calendar. But he is stubborn about some things, and when he pays three dollars for a hat he wears it until he gets three dollars' worth of service out of it. In the case of a straw hat, that means from May 1 to Dec. 1. It will be foolish in Colorado City about Nov. 20, and for S. P. to scramble off the train there wrapped in an overcoat and topped with a straw hat would make the little boys laugh and direct actual remarks concerning him. Coming to think of it, S. P. doesn't know where his overcoat is. He left it in Amarillo one time, and on a bus at Greenville one time, and one time it was worn away from the coat room at a public gathering by a careless citizen of Dallas, who had to be argued with and gesticulated at before he would surrender it and accept the inferior garment which he had more title to. And only a month or two ago some gentleman at Paris, who kept his identity confidential between himself and the bell boy, wore S. P.'s hat out of the Gibraltar Hotel and left one that seemed to have been better days and worse nights. The fact is that State Press has so much trouble in keeping his wardrobe clear of confusion, and to appear in style without spending any money, he has to miss a good many invitations. But he appreciates being asked.—State Press in Dallas News.

YEAR WITHOUT A SUMMER

Within the last two years there has been much talk of alleged scientific predictions of summerless years. Talk followed by scoffing because of non-delivery of the goods. The subject was interestingly discussed at the National Business Conference at Babson Park recently by Hermet Janvin Browne of Washington, D. C., ocean meteorologist and long-range weather forecaster. He denied having forecast that 1925, 1926 or 1927 would be "summerless" years, but did say that the crop season of 1926-27 would be fraught with grave danger in the Southern Hemisphere, and that of 1927 similarly menaced in the Northern Hemisphere.

In this connection he told of the year 1816, known as "The year without a summer." As a matter of fact, he said, that year did have a summer, in which the temperature was three degrees below normal, but with such adverse weather conditions as snowstorms, killing frosts, days of freezing temperatures and drought. This was due to the volcanic explosion of Tambora in the Dutch East Indies in 1815. The upper air was filled with volcanic dust that shut off the sun's heat. He says that volcanic eruptions of recent years have produced the same conditions, chilling the ocean currents, which are gradually drifting to cause lower temperatures in the continents.

Reading from his forecast published in the spring of 1926, he said, "I forecast a winter which will begin early in the fall and end late in the spring." Further, he forecast for the 1927 crop season "destructive cold waves in the fruit and early vegetable sections upon the Gulf of Mexico," killing frosts in June, July, August and September east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac, and that "it will again be a cold wet year in the cotton belt, ideal for the propagation of insect pests and most difficult in the maturing of an average crop."

Probably this will be hailed as good news by those persons who believe that the boll weevil is a blessing in disguise and who regret that said insect wasn't on the job in 1926 to prevent the cotton growers from harvesting according to their sowing.—Dallas News.

Not more of light, Oh Lord, I ask; But eyes to see what is; Not sweeter song, but ears to hear The present melodies. —Florence Holbrook

The road question in this county has for some time been a sore spot, and one that has good points on both sides of the discussion. Last week the Big Spring Herald "poured it on" this county pretty strong for the condition of the Bankhead highway through this county. Tom Goss, local highway supervisor, says that if this county had received the amount of aid from the Highway Department that Howard county received, the roads in Mitchell county would be good, at least equal to those in Howard. We are not undertaking to say just what could be done, or what would have been done if this aid had been extended by the Department with our roads as they now are, but we do know that the Department offered to match every dollar Mitchell county would put up for road building, and at several times offered to put up two dollars for every one we would put up. This, of course, would have given us fine roads through the county with a permanent paved surface.

On the other hand, it is a known fact that the Highway Department has spent less money in Mitchell county than any of the other counties adjoining Mitchell since taking over the highways. It will be remembered however, that the Department made the statement before taking over the highways, that they would be maintained in an equal condition as when taken over, but that no improvement could be expected with a great outlay of capital on the part of the Department without the county affected would participate therein. We are glad to say that the State Highways through Mitchell county are in better shape now than when the State took them over. While Isfan Flat will always get had when it rains until it is surfaced, the Bankhead highway through this county is much better now than it has ever been. The road is well graded through the Westbrook and Isfan Flats and is kept up in the best possible shape for a dirt road of the kind, and since we have repeatedly refused to take advantage of the offers of the Federal and State governments to put up two-thirds of the money necessary to build this highway, we can see no reason why we should kick because the counties of Howard, Nolan, Midland, Martin, and Scurry voted bonds and joined the Department in building a good road and received aid therefrom. While they spent lots of the State highway money, they also spent some of their own, and that is something we have not done, so we must drag along and do the best we can without the State money we are told. The Record is informed that Mitchell county has not received her allotted amount of the maintenance funds. If this be true, of course, we are entitled to kick in that limited amount only. We should not expect the Department to spend several hundred thousand dollars to build us a road without our help when they are not doing it elsewhere. It will always be found where the roads have been surfaced and improved by the Department that the counties affected put up the money to build the base and help carry on the improvement. If Mitchell county is entitled to more maintenance funds, and is receiving less than the adjoining counties for this purpose alone, then by all means we should raise a howl, but if she is getting her share of the maintenance funds, leaving out construction projects, then we can't see that we have any kick coming, either at the Department or the officials in charge.

Peddlers, beggars, solicitors, grafters, and most every conceivable kind of crok, bunco or conman is either in Colorado or on his way to town. Word has gone out, evidently, that the Colorado territory is flushed in prosperity and the grafters are headed this way. Advertising grafter, who come in, and offer to bleed out of an extra 10 to 20 cents a column inch obtaining their pay for selling an extra volume of advertising free of all cost to the newspaper from the merchants are numerous. We have had several such grafters in the office the past two weeks who figured the conditions were right and the town ready for their pilgrimage. We have listened to their schemes to allow the merchants to pay their salaries unsuspectingly by selling the advertising for an increase in price but we have hurried them on their way to other prosperous towns, not wishing these towns any ill will.

This is the time of the year for every Colorado citizen to watch for the city slickers who are working the small towns, posing as scientific men, landscape gardeners, advertising experts formerly with the London Globe or most any other publication, stock peddlers, solicitors for various homes. Many of them are frauds, and scammers, simply after your money. Of course, there are a few who are sincere in the representations, but each and every one should be closely questioned and investigated before they should be given any money. Read their contracts, don't take their word for their contents, study their guarantee, see if the house they represent is reliable and will stand in back of the guarantee. Above all read every instrument before you place your name to it when dealing with strangers.

Most propositions can safely be turned down without an investigation and you may still have the assurance that you lost no money in the act.

Although the low price of cotton and the resultant decreased purchasing power of the farmers of Mitchell county is being felt some in Colorado, this city is not experiencing any great depression in business of any kind. In fact the merchants are doing a splendid volume of business, and although they have probably cut their profits considerable in order that they might meet the farmers half way in the price slump, they still seem to be satisfied with the business done here and the way in which the farmers and others are meeting obligations and paying up old debts. It is a settled fact, that lamentations will bring no relief, and that the only thing for the Mitchell found farmers and the Colorado business men to do is face the situation squarely and make the best of what prosperity we have and not adopt a panicky policy, nor a policy of knocking the government, the other fellow or the town or county.

The best tonic for low priced cotton: Hold all you can of this year's crop and reduce the acreage for next year at least one-third. It's less work and a sure cure.

Mayor Walker of New York is said to sleep only four hours in the twenty-four, but there never was a time when the political assailants of the mayor of New York slept that long.—The Louisville Times.

PROGRESSIVE RED CROSS CAMPAIGN FOR HEALTH

Public Health Nursing, Nutrition and Home Hygiene Work Cover the Country.

Important contributions to public health were made by the American Red Cross through its Public Health Nursing Service, Nutrition Service, and its instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. In every State 250 Alaska, with the exception of Delaware and Nevada, instruction was given by the Red Cross, also in the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and Virgin Islands. A total of 57,570 women and girls learned to make a hygienic home, and care for the sick in their homes.

The United States Public Health Service estimates that adequate rural health nursing service would cost $22,000,000 annually, but would save a billion dollars in value of human life, earning power, and economic conservation. The American Red Cross, through its Public Health Nurses, of whom there were nearly 800 on duty the past year, is doing its part in meeting this requirement.

Expenditures by the American Red Cross for the last year, showed a mounting curve as compared with those for the preceding year—$1,658,463.33 as against $1,351,979.53. The outstanding appropriations were for disaster relief and assistance to disabled veterans. For disaster relief the American Red Cross expended $3,871,827, of which the National Organization contributed $3,628,827, and the Red Cross Chapters $243,000. For disabled veterans, a total of $5,528,173 was called for, of which National Headquarters appropriated $1,641,178, and Chapters, $1,987,000.

The disaster relief figures do not include the Florida operations, which occurred after the end of the fiscal year, in addition to the work for disabled veterans, the Red Cross continued its work on behalf of men in the Regular Army and Navy and Marine Corps, which called for a total appropriation of $509,450.

The unrolled nurses' reserve, from which nurses for disasters and other emergencies are called, cost $47,382, borne entirely by the National Headquarters. Public Health Nursing is a part of the Red Cross program of national health work, cost $352,343, and has shown tangible results in lives saved annually.

The Junior Red Cross, one of the foremost peace influences in the world, was carried on at a cost of $551,955. All local Chapter activities of the Red Cross cost $23,000, while other domestic operations of the Red Cross, borne by National Headquarters, amounted to $264,610.

Magnolia's Adams No. 1 in the Westbrook field, SW quarter of section 11, block 28, T. & P. lands...

Magnolia has a new location in the Westbrook field, being No. 7, 660 feet due west of their No. 6, which came in this week a producer.

The same company's Frances Adams No. 2, is near the pay sand and will be completed soon. It is expected to be a good producer.

Lockhart & Company are drilling in section 97, Howard county Chalk field, at 1,700 feet, and are drilling at 2,780 feet in section 80.

Oil company which was shut down several days ago at 3,055 feet, again started drilling Tuesday and will drill to probably depth of 3,250 to 3,500 feet. The Texas company is co-operating with Owen-Sloan in this, with the hope of making a producer out of this wildcat well. This well had a fair showing at depth of about 2,800 feet but not enough for commercial producer.

Morris & Thompson's Griffith No. 1, near town of New Latah, in section 45, block 29, T. 1 north, is drilling at 740 feet and is attracting considerable attention. This is between the Westbrook field and the Foster producer of the California company and is likely territory, oil men say.

The California company has a bad fishing job in their Adams No. 2, 4, where they have a string of tools in the hole. Their Foster 1-2 is rigging up and will spud in at an early date. This well is in SW quarter of section 5, block 29, T. 1 south, and is in the vicinity of their Foster No. 1 which is a producer and in the New Latah sector. Their Handley No. 2 is drilling at 545 feet and their Morrison 2-17 is drilling at depth of 2,675 feet. This company is moving tools to their Pettifels 1-3 in NW quarter of section 14, block 28, north in the Westbrook field and will spud soon. Their Workack No. 7 is drilling at 2,840 feet in gray lime and is getting close to the pay sand.

The Dowlen No. 1, wildcat well in the Cedar Bend section on this side of the river is drilling and making good time. The J. J. Ford, near Dunn, is down to a depth of about 3,100 feet in very hard lime and is expected to be plugged soon if some showing is not encountered. Much activity is reported in south and southeast Scurry county and southwest Jones county in the way of leasing and it is reported a well will be started in wildcat territory there soon.

Two wells near Gail in Borden county are rigging up, and one will spud this week. This is the well being drilled by Robert Penn. Another location is reported near the Colorado river in Borden county and several wells in the Ira sector are reported to be drilling or on location.

FUEL ECONOMY IS DEMONSTRATED

Wisher Runs 40.3 Miles on Gallon; 38.7 Average

The results of a competitive gasoline consumption test for standard Ford cars, recently held at Charlotte, North Carolina, make it more certain than ever that the Ford car, for fuel economy ranks at the forefront of motordom.

There was a class separation in the Charlotte test. The winning car in the open-car class, driven by R. B. Deal, of Kannapolis, North Carolina, made a mileage of 49.3 on a single gallon of gasoline; the second prize in the same class went to D. T. Barringer, of Concord, North Carolina, whose score was 48.8.

In the closed-car class G. F. McGinnis of Charlotte won first place with a mileage of 46.9. For second place L. R. Pinninger, of Charlotte, and Miss Eska Baker, of Marshville, tied with a score of 41.86 each.

The Charlotte test was remarkable not only for the high mileage of the leading cars but for the average for all the cars entered, which was 38.7 miles per gallon of gasoline. It is the opinion of many that the generally excellent scores made are due largely to the Ford gasoline tank, which is adapted to deliver every drop of gasoline to the carburetor.

The conditions of the test admitted only 1926 model Ford cars with standard Ford equipment, driven by their owners. Before the start of the test the tanks, carburetors, sediment bulbs, and feed pipes of all contesting cars were completely drained of gasoline. A measured gallon of gasoline was then poured into each tank, and the tank sealed. Each hood was also sealed on both sides. Three disinterested judges, Thomas McP. Glasgow (Glasgow-Stewart Company), Joseph G. Fitzsimmons (Carolina Auto Supply House), and Thomas J. Pierson (Charlotte Observer), supervised the draining, filling, and sealing. The cars had previously been inspected by trained mechanics, to insure that only standard Ford equipments was being used. The distances traveled by the contestants were measured on a speedometer which had previously been checked with the speedometers of Officers Blake and Overcash, Charlotte Police Department.

MUSIC IN COLLEGES GAINS 100 PER CENT IN TEN YEARS

Builds Character, Preserves Morale and Helps Students Pay Way Through School, Conn. Music Center Survey Shows.

By J. F. BOYER

Music has become an indispensable part of college life. It is of inestimable value to the college proper, and of great material and spiritual benefit to the student who takes an active part in it.

This is the composite sentiment of close to 200 presidents of American colleges and universities and heads of music departments in institutions of higher learning who contributed to a survey of college music just completed by the Conn Music Center, Elkhart, Ind. The survey shows that musical training in colleges has doubled in popularity in ten years.

Music not only adds color to college athletic events, supplements and rounds out the varied activities of the campus and assembly hall, but is of distinct advantage to the member of the gym club, the societies, the college orchestra, band or whatever other organizations may be functioning within the college. In the opinion of these college executives, music helps preserve a high morale in the institution, it aids in building the character of its young men and women, provides an opportunity for a good number of them to pay their own way through college, and in many instances, prepares them for a life of usefulness along lines they are naturally best fitted for.

Helps Character Building.

Great stress is laid by college heads on the benefits of musical training in character building. The survey revealed. Fully one-fifth of the college executives who contributed the results of their experience to the survey considered this the best argument for music in their college or university. Others mentioned the social and cultural advantages accruing to the musical student, the effect of music in refining the student's taste for art, music as an aid toward developing clear thinking, improving the discipline and enhancing the student's power of concentration, as well as making for better team work and co-operation in college matters. Music on the campus as an outlet for surplus energy and as a help in getting many youths through school, was brought in by still others.

All but three of the colleges represented in the survey find their musically trained students more efficient in their studies than those not so trained. "They usually make grades above the average," is the experience at Bethel college, in Tennessee, and DePaul university at Chicago finds "musically-trained pupils at the top in their studies." At Wellesley college our best musical students are in-

Music Fights Crime.

That music is the greatest deterrent to crime, is the opinion voiced by the dean of the college of music of New York university, who wrote: "If we were to organize a band or orchestra in every public school, high school, college, university, boys' or girls' club, or place an instrument into the hands of every boy or girl at an age when understanding and appreciation become evident so that the child's mind is aroused sufficiently to make him want to exert in the instrument which he likes best, I believe that we would have, in from ten to fifteen years, from 50 to 75 per cent less dope fiends, criminals and gamblers in the United States."

The Horn's Triumvirate

These three men, known wherever horns are played, were among the musical folk who gathered in Elkhart, Ind., recently for the annual "music feast" of the Conn Music Center, to discuss the value of instrumental music in the training of boys and girls. At the right is Bohunir Kryl, world-famous cornet virtuoso and leader of the band bearing his name. In the center is C. D. Greenleaf, president of the National Association of Band Instrument Manufacturers, and at the left is Powertek Neil Innes, foremost trombone virtuoso of the eighties and nineties and leader of the famous Innes band. Mr. Innes is now head of the Conn National School of Music in Chicago.

COURT OFFICIALS UP IN ARMS OVER STATEMENT MADE IN PARDON BY MA

District Court Officials And Jurors Say Trammell Pardon Not Recommended

Hon. W. P. Leslie, district judge of the 32nd judicial district, and Hon. James T. Brooks, district attorney, under whose administration J. L. Trammell was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary from Mitchell county on a whisky charge, and who was pardoned Monday by Governor Ferguson, with the statement that the pardon was "recommended by district attorney, district judge and eight trial jurors, and other officials" are up in arms over the statement which they say is absolutely untrue. The judge and attorney say they did not recommend the pardon and had nothing to do with the granting of the same.

The Record has been informed that Trammell never served a day of the sentence. He put up cash bond here and appealed the case to the Court of Criminal Appeals and on February 12, 1926, that court issued a mandate confirming the sentence. He was sentenced in Mitchell county, December 4, 1924, but kept the case in appeal courts and was out on bond for nearly two years, and finally secured a pardon from Gov. Ferguson.

A. B. Blanks, one of the jurymen, said Thursday that he absolutely refused to sign a pardon petition or have anything to do with it. He said he did not believe in a jurymen voting to convict a man on evidence and turning around in signing a petition for pardon.

Other jurors could not be communicated with but we are informed that some who signed the petition were misinformed as to the status of Trammell. They were told that he was in the last stages of tuberculosis and would not have long to live and it was the purpose of the pardon to get him into a higher climate so he could spend his last days in peace and quiet. They were also told that he had served about ten months of his sentence in the pen, which is said to be an absolute falsehood. Some local men who introduced the attorney who secured the signatures to the pardon petition were also misled, it is alleged, and were led to believe Trammell was a real sick man and had served from 6 to 14 months of the sentence when he had not served a day, it is claimed.

Eight others were mentioned Monday by Governor Ferguson, including Albert Tankersley of Fort Worth, convicted on charge of misapplication of funds, and who is said to have avoided any actual time in the pen.

So far as we can learn no officials in this county recommended a pardon for Trammell.

The following are the jurors that C. A. Gillis, G. R. Taylor, O. B. Blanks, M. L. Adrain, Clyde Linnan W. A. Griffith, J. A. Merkett, A. F. Collins, J. F. Morris, J. H. T. Johnson, H. J. Mearse, J. W. Rice.

Saxophones Used in Fight on Devil

The saxophone—"instrument of the devil"—is being enlisted by the churches in their fight on the devil, it is indicated in notices reaching the Conn Music Center, Elkhart, Ind. All saxophone quartettes and sextettes in church and Sunday school are among the "devil's own weapons" being used to win folks over to religion.

"Not so long ago it was quite common for church people to shun the mention of saxophone, let alone go to hear one played," says James F. Boyer, supervisor of the Conn Music Center. "The sentiment seemed to be even among musicians, that the saxophone wasn't much good for but jazz and for a while it did appear that the jazz artists were the only ones to recognize and make use of this comparatively new addition to the brass instrument family. Reports now coming in here, however, indicate a changed attitude on the part of the public. Artists know that the saxophone tones come nearest of all others in resemblance to the human voice, and recognize that there is nothing so beautiful musically as a saxophone solo. H. Bennie Heaton, one of the greatest living masters of this instrument, claims that no clearer, more elevating or inspirational music can come from any instrument, and will not play anything that has the slightest taint of jazz in it. Saxophone quartettes and saxophone sextettes are winning a place for themselves in churches, especially those that cannot afford a pipe organ and other churches have found that the appearance of an orchestra at church functions favorably draws increased attendance. This is indeed fighting the devil with his own weapons."

Texas Company Officials Here on Inspection Trip

A number of Texas Company officials were in Colorado this week on an inspection tour of their sales and distributing properties in West Texas, and while in Colorado advised J. Brown, local agent, that the company was planning quite a bit of improvement to their warehouse and storage plant here.

The officials in the party included: W. H. Noble of Houston, general superintendent of Southern territory; Will Carroll, district manager; J. S. Leach, district superintendent; J. B. Elliott, chief accountant; and Henry J. Flake, credit manager, all of Dallas and E. L. Crawford, of Abilene, district agent.

According to Mr. Brown, the officials expressed keen surprise to see the modern city we have here, and were enthusiastic in their praise of Colorado for its substantial buildings, paved streets, and other evidences of prosperity and progressive citizenship, and promised the local agent that the company would keep step with this progress by greatly improving their equipment for the handling of the sales business of the company here.

Sheppard Raises Record Maize Crop This Year

Joe H. Sheppard of the Buford community probably takes the record for production of maize in West Texas this year. He at least has not anything we have heard of so far this year, when he produced a yield of ten acres which weighed out 10,625 pounds per acre, or a little over 53 ton on the ten acres. The maize was of the dwarf red variety and was entered in the "More Feed in Fewer Acres" contest sponsored by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Sheppard, a former resident of Colorado, who caught the "back to the farm" fever three years ago, has two fine farms in the Lone Wolf valley near Buford, and is making farming pay. He raised more than enough feed for his own use this year and will have about sixty bales of cotton. While we rarely ever miss him from the streets of Colorado, he seems to be able to get the farm work done, and is making good at it, and when we consider his unusual feed production this year we are forced to believe that his Joe is some farmer.

An auction sale was held and $27 made for the class fund. This now amounts to $130 and will be used for furnishing a class room later.

Katherine Lockhart gave two delightful readings. Mrs. Martin of Lampasas was a guest.

It was decided to have no December meeting. The hostess served a salad plate and hot chocolate.

Lycum Presents Daddy Longlegs
The second number of the high school Lycum was given Wednesday night in the high school auditorium. This was the delightful little play "Daddy Long Legs." It was a great disappointment to the school that the new auditorium was not ready for this, and a great handicap to the company. However, all did their parts especially did Judy, the orphan asylum girl and hold her audience.

The money made on these Lycum numbers goes to help finance the school annual. $26.50 was cleared last night.

The next number comes December 21 and will, without doubt, be held in the new auditorium. This is to be the De Willow Concert Company, and should have a good audience, for conditions will be more comfortable as well as pleasant.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The world paused a moment Thursday in the frenzied existence and aggrandizement to recollect that exactly eight years ago there had come the winging word from France that gripped men's hearts as no other message could have done.

The great war was over—the roaring, destroying guns stilled at last.

As always the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery was the heart of the American observance of Armistice Day. In the words of Congress and of the President's proclamation, it typified "our gratitude for peace and our desire for the continuance of friendly relations with all other people."

Colorado Gets Boost At W. T. C. of C. Meet

BALLINGER, Nov. 15.—At the district meeting at Ballinger Monday the West Texas Chamber of Commerce adopted the report of its resolution committee, which was composed of S. E. Crager, Ballinger; Grady Kinsolving, Abilene; Paul Brown, Robert Lee; R. C. Crain, Sweetwater, and Houston Hart, San Angelo, which urged the banking interests of West Texas not only give practical assistance in the program of diversification, but that special consideration be given the men who display a sincere, practical and active interest in diversification.

It also went on record as approving a petition to the Governor elect urging him to appoint some outstanding West Texas citizens as a member of the State Highway Commission.

Other resolutions endorsed were in favor of the "more food, feed and conservation" program that is being launched and one urging that the Legislature care for the needs of the educational institution in West Texas, that it make appropriations looking to the extermination of root rot now prevalent in cotton section of the State. The work of President Arthur Duggan in his efforts to secure a tax survey of Texas was commended.

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet in regular session at the school building Friday afternoon at 3:20. A short business session will be held after which will follow a discussion on Compulsory School Attendance. We need your help in this work so don't disappoint us by failing to be present.

Miss Gladis Webb of Colorado, was a guest in the home of Mrs. W. A. Terrell Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucas were called to New Mexico Sunday on the account of the death of Mr. Lucas' father.

Mrs. Rippetoe has been quite sick for the past week but is much improved at this writing.

The people of Westbrook will be glad to learn that Brother Northcutt has been sent back to us for another year. During his short stay here he has made many friends and the church has gone forward under his leadership. We feel fortunate indeed to have him as our pastor again for the coming year and are looking forward to better things for Westbrook.

Miss Myrtle Hambre was called to her home in Albany on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Rev. Summers and wife are attending the Baptist convention in San Antonio this week.

The Woman's Missionary Society had charge of the services at the Methodist church Sunday and it was a very impressive service given at the close of the service Sunday night at which time the members of the society made their offering toward the week of prayer.

If only those of our members could have looked in and seen the one large candle representing the Savior as he sends forth his light to bless mankind and the small candles which represented the members of the Missionary Society, of which only eight were burning, perhaps they would have realized what it means for every one to do her part and because there are those who do not do their part the great cause for which we are working must suffer and there will be shipwrecks of human lives because some one failed.

Ris Van Winkle

Ris Van Winkle went to sleep twenty years ago. He then woke and saw the country that he was dreaming of a short time before. He got up and looked about him, expecting to see nothing but a large tumble-down barn, all surrounded by an old wire fence. As he came to the familiar railroad cross, he failed to find the tall bridge just south of the cross. He turned east and followed the road. He saw a fence around the old gin tank, but a fence was the old gin? Oh yes, here it was, but no that a small building whose sign read "Filling Station." He looked toward the south and saw that the big pasture which he had dreamed of was cut up into fields. This had been Mr. McKinney's big pasture. Some new sets of fields separated it from what seemed to be a small town. As he turned the corner of the street, he beheld the main street with numbers of houses, where there had been only four small houses.

What did he hear? Why the air was alive with the noise from Dunigan's Tool Shop and the gins.

His greatest surprise came next for there upon the hill stood, most important for us all a new school building.

Class Party

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lewis entertained the Juniors Saturday night with a class party at their home.

The guests began to arrive at 7 o'clock and by 7:30 o'clock there were sixteen present. The hostess served divinity, while the guests played forty-two, more candy was made, and the girls and boys entertained themselves playing the piano and singing. The guests took their leave at 10:30 o'clock after bidding their hostess good-bye and telling her that they had had a very nice time.

Life of the Pilgrims

(By Carroll Gauslin)

The plays given by the fifth and sixth grades under the supervision of Mesdames Oglesby and Gressett, were well enjoyed by everyone. The first was a play by the sixth grade English class, under supervision of Mrs. Gressett. The play was entitled "The Courtship of Myles Standish," which was well carried out by each participant.

"The Recollections of Grandma," the play given by the fifth grade under supervision of Mrs. Oglesby, was a story by one of the pupils, telling of her experiences in Holland and also when they met the Indians in America. A reading was given by Jack Fowler.

The school and faculty gives everyone of the community a cordial invitation to the Monday morning exercises.

Mr. T. J. Bahman of the Exchange Hotel, has erected a new addition to his hotel. This addition greatly improves the looks of the building, of which Westbrook is proud.

Mrs. Sam Smart of Colorado, is erecting a new residential home in Westbrook, which is a great asset. The people of Westbrook hope to see many more new buildings erected during the coming year.

Mr. Clarence Adams of Westbrook, has just finished the erection of a new apartment house in Westbrook. The house is open for rentals.

Mr. Leonard W. Orynski, geologist in charge, with the California Company, and Miss Jim Elliott, popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Elliott, were married in San Antonio at the home of the mother of Mr. Orynski on Wednesday, according to advices received by their friends in Colorado.

The happy couple will spend their honeymoon in San Antonio and other South Texas cities, and will return to Colorado about the first of December.

They left Colorado Saturday morning for San Angelo, where Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Edwards, formerly of Colorado, entertained for them Saturday night with a banquet at which a number of oil men and other friends of Mr. Orynski were present.

Mr. Orynski has been with the California Company here since they opened their Colorado offices about three years ago and has a host of friends here who will congratulate him on his wise choice and the realization of his happiness.

The bride is a daughter of one of Colorado's most substantial citizens, and is known for here accomplished talent, beauty and social standing. All who know her number her as a friend.

The Record joins scores of other friends in offering best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Orynski.

They will be at home in Colorado about December 1, and will occupy a new home recently built by Mr. Orynski in North Colorado.

POULTRY SHOW AND SCHOOL WILL BE MAJOR ATTRACTION THIS WEEK

Farrest & Thomas Building To Be Used; 150 Birds Entered

Colorado will be host to a large number of the State's leading Poultrymen Friday and Saturday when the first annual Mitchell County Poultry Show and School is held in this city in the new Farrest and Thomas Building across from the Postoffice, and with several hundred of the country's finest birds competing for the $200.00 in prizes, indications that this will be one of the premier poultry attractions of 1926 in West Texas.

Effective of the wide-spread interest that this show has attracted is the fact that requests for entry blanks have been received by the Chamber of Commerce from Howard, Nolan, Coke, Taylor, Runnels, Jones, E. Stand and other counties, and representatives from these counties are expected at this show. Announcement was made by the officials of the show Thursday morning that entries for nearly 200 birds had already been received and this number would be doubled before the opening of the show.

The paramount object of the Chamber of Commerce in putting on this show is enable those interested in poultry raising to learn everything possible about the different phases of this industry so that they could make the most out of their investment. The aim of the show and school is to have 200 production breed hens on every Mitchell County farm, as many authorities claim that a pure strain production hen will net from $2.00 to $6.00 per year.

The school will be held in the same place with the show, and there will be three lectures to which the public is invited. The judging of the birds will take place on Thursday afternoon, and that evening at 7 o'clock there will be the first lecture on several different poultry subjects. Two lectures and round-table discussions will be held on Saturday, one at 10 a. m. and the other at 2:30 p. m. These subjects will take up such topics as "Most Profitable Breed," "Feeding," "Good Poultry Houses Pay," "Marketing Poultry Products," "Prevention of Diseases," "Culling," "Caring of Baby Chicks," and nearly every other subject of importance to the poultryman.

Daughter W. W. Porter Injured In Car Accident

Fannie Fay, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Porter, was seriously injured and Mrs. Porter and son, Maurice, were slightly injured and badly shaken up Saturday morning, when their automobile, a Dodge coupe, was demolished in a head-on collision with another car one mile west of Weatherford.

The Porters were going to Fort Worth and were attempting to pass a large moving van when the other car going in the opposite direction came down a hill at a rapid rate of speed and met the Porter car in a head on impact at the side of the moving van which knocked the car back into the road and completely demolished it.

The small child was knocked unconscious and remained in a state of coma for four and a half hours after being taken to the hospital in Weatherford. Physicians there reported the child's skull fractured. Maurice received a fractured rib and other injuries and Mrs. Porter was injured, but not seriously. The shock and shake-up from the impact which was terrific, was great and took some time for the occupants of the car to completely recover therefrom.

Mr. Porter went to Weatherford Saturday and with permission of the attending surgeon at Weatherford the injured parties were brought Sunday night. At last reports the child was resting well and seemed to be on the road to complete recovery, and the mother and brother were not suffering any great inconvenience from their injuries.

Another Tennant Farmer Proves Value of Hens

I. C. James, tenant farmer living four miles north of Buford, is another Mitchell county citizen who has proven that farming in this section of West Texas will pay handsomely if properly handled. The value of a few Hens and turkeys on the farm has been demonstrated by this tenant farmer. Of course, Mr. James is a live wire farmer and a man who would be expected to make good, but every tenant farmer in Mitchell county could do what Mr. James has done this year if the effort and a few dollars to start are put into the proposition.

Mr. James says he would rather have 100 hens than 10 acres of cotton no matter what the cotton price because it is much safer in the long run and they don't have to wait six months to get the money from it.

Mr. James has kept a record of all expenses and receipts which shows that the 45 hens he started with in January, he has sold $205.71 worth of fryers, eggs and pullets and 235 pullets on hand that at present prices are worth at least $235. In addition to the eggs and fryers used by the family of seven, Mr. James has his own incubator and brooders and sells his fryers on the early market. His pullets begin laying about the 15th of October just as the egg prices gets high.

Turkeys also pay well states Mr. James. He bought 5 hens and a gobble for $19.50 and from them he has sold $132.36 worth of turkeys and 19 head that are valued at $71.00, a total $203.56 from an investment of 19.50.

MRS. H. B. BROADDUS GOES FT. DAVIS FOR CLUB MEET

Mrs. H. B. Broaddus of Colorado, president of the Sixth district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will leave Friday for Fort Davis, where she will attend the meeting of the Davis Mountain Federation of Women's clubs. She will be the house guest of Mrs. F. L. Sprawl of Ft. Davis during her visit there.

The Davis Mountain Federation embraces a number of counties in the vicinity of the Big Bend country, and is doing a wonderful work, according to Mrs. Broaddus. This territory is a part of the Sixth district which reaches from Ranger to El Paso and from Colorado to the border.

Mrs. Broaddus has the largest territory of any district president in the state in point of mileage. This district has done some very wonderful work under leadership of the local club women, as was attested by the reports given at the state meeting in Dallas last week.

Madames U. W. Groves of Electra, and Ruth Aubart of Meridian, Miss., were called home on account of the illness of their mother, Mrs. W. K. Lewis. She suddenly began suffering while meeting her son at Big Spring last Sunday and Dr. Hall advised an operation which she bravely stood with only a local anti-septic Monday. Mrs. Lewis is doing nicely at this writing.

Pioneer Woman Passed Away Friday Afternoon

Mrs. Catherine E. Pritchett, age 74, pioneer settler of Mitchell county, died here Friday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of her son, J. C. Pritchett, after some weeks of failing health.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Methodist church at four o'clock Saturday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Lawlis. A very large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives were present to honor this good woman who has been a good citizen, a friend, neighbor and a true Christian, and the floral offering was profuse and most beautiful.

The pastor praised the life of this pioneer woman, telling of her trials in raising to splendid manhood and womanhood several small children left to her when her husband, Thomas Pritchett, died in 1888. The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Mrs. Pritchett is survived by three sons, J. C. Pritchett and Earnest Pritchett, cashier and assistant cashier, respectively of the City National Bank of Colorado, and J. T. Pritchett, grocery merchant of Colorado, and one sister, Mrs. M. P. McCall of Colorado and one brother, J. O. McCord of San Antonio. Also several grandchildren and other relatives survive to mourn her loss. All of these have the sincere sympathy of scores and scores of friends.

Mrs. Pritchett, whose maiden name was Catherine Elizabeth McCross, was born in Alabama, July 8, 1852, and died November 12, 1926, being 74 years and 4 months and 4 days old when she passed away. She was united in marriage to Thomas Pritchett January 11, 1882. There was born to this union three sons, T. Thomas, and J. Compton, and Charles Earnest, who were with her when she died. She raised 4 step children, Mrs. Sam J. Smith, Mrs. W. E. McKinney, J. P. Pritchett, and Elizabeth Pritchett. Mrs. Pritchett had 4 sisters and of the four she was the third to die, leaving Mrs. M. P. McCall leaves 5 grandchildren and 12 step grandchildren.

Mrs. Pritchett joined the church at the age of 18 and has through all these years and through all her trials been faithful and true to her early vows. She loved the church, its songs and its prayers. She loved and cherished those things for which the church stands.

She was indeed a faithful good Christian, a lovable neighbor, a true friend and lovable mother. Mr. Pritchett died away back in 1888 and left her with the three small boys and the other four children. She succeeded in raising a splendid family.

To the sons and daughters, the sister and brother and to all the rest, yes we offer the glorious heal your and consolation of the Christ and his promises. May he heal your broken hearts, wipe away your tears of sadness and fill your hearts with an everlasting hope.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. McCrosses of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pritchett of Waco, Mrs. B. A. Donald and son of Starford, were among the relatives who attended the funeral, from out of town.

Former Colorado Minister Commends Baptist Pastor

Rev. T. S. Armstrong, formerly pastor of the Colorado Methodist church, who is now pastor of the First Methodist church of Groesbeck, Texas has written a letter to W. R. Morgan, member of the pulpit committee of the First Baptist church of Colorado, in which he commends Rev. D. W. Morgan, who was recently called by the Baptist congregation as pastor. The letter from Rev. Armstrong reads:

Groesbeck, Tex. Nov. 8th, 1926.

Mc. W. R. Morgan, Colorado, Texas.

My Dear Sir:

My friend and copastor, Rev. D. W. Morgan, advises me that he has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Baptist Church in Colorado, Texas. I asked him for the name of some member that I might write and tell some one of our relations and of his worth and efficiency. He gave me your name and said you were President of the Board of Deacons.

Brother Morgan has been here two years and I have been associated with him closely and am glad to say that I have never been associated with a finer man than he. He is a manly man, dependable any where, at any time and on any occasion.

I regret very much to see him leave as I shall miss him keenly. But I congratulate you and the Baptist Church, on getting him as your pastor. Twenty-four years ago I was pastor of the Methodist church in your city and I think some of the citizens still linger there. Speak to John Deas, Will Deas, Dr. Halsey Dr. Cole, (presbyterian) Bob Gary, Fred McKenzie, any of the Walfords, Everett Winn, or any of the citizens who have been there through the period of my pastorate and they can tell you who is writing this letter.

3,569,040 Bales Ginned In State to Nov. 1st.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Nueces county was the first in Texas to go over the 100,000 bale mark in 1926 ginning, the Census Bureau announced today. The figures for Nueces County were to Nov. 1 when 3,569,040 bales had been ginned in Texas, as compared with 2,852,535 on the same date last year. Thirty-one of the ginnings to Nov. 1 for a select list of Texas counties compared with ginnings on the same date in 1925 follows:

Table with 2 columns: County, 1926, 1925. Lists counties like Bell, Bexar, Caldwell, etc., with corresponding bale counts.

DIVERSIFICATION IN MITCHELL COUNTY TO GET FARMERS SUPPORT

Many Instances of Productive Value Soils Here; Other Farmers Make Good

Farmers of Mitchell county are preparing to adopt a program of diversification for next year that will eclipse anything ever undertaken in this county, as a means of meeting the low price cotton situation, and continuing the prosperity of this section which is known far and wide as the heart of the agricultural territory of the territory under the cap rock.

Farmers of the Dorn community southeast of Colorado, have pledged considerable acreage to be planted in oats, and some have already planted wheat for the coming season. Since very little or no small grain has been grown in that section the past few years, harvesting and thrashing machinery will have to be secured and the farmers are pledging enough acreage to assure this investment. J. L. Bowen, Joe Church, H. A. Halbert and others in this community have already plowed more than 300 acres, while O. O. Shurtleff, the Lockhart farm, E. Barber and others of the Spade community 12 miles south of Colorado, have pledged considerable acreage to grain and Shurtleff is experimenting with alfalfa and has several acres of this up to a good stand.

In the northern section of the county, a section that has been devoted to stock farming and cotton raising in past years, the farmers are pledging some acreage for wheat, oats, barley and other small grains, which will reduce the cotton acreage in that section considerable. H. V. Dillard of Cuthbert, in that section of the county, has taken up hog raising and is devoting his time to feeding of balanced ration to hogs and the growing of feed.

Will C. and C. C. Berry of Cuthbert, who own several hundred acres of fine farming land in that section of the county, have indicated they will plant less cotton and more feed and other crops. The Berry brothers have always followed a program of diversification and Will Berry, says, he rarely ever goes to town without something to sell from his farm. Berry recently made the statement that he "would miss a meal a day to own his own farm."

In the vicinity of Loraine and the east half of the county, the farmers have already planted some acreage in wheat and have pledged considerable acreage in spring oats, according to data compiled by the Chamber of Commerce. C. W. Palmer of Loraine has grown a sweet potato crop this year that average 180 bushels to the acre and says he has been growing sweet potatoes there every year since 1906 and has made a failure on only one crop, that of 1918. He is preaching diversification to the farmer and is having success in convincing the farmers there that diversification is the plan to follow.

J. W. Kay, farmer near Loraine, has also demonstrated that farming can be more successful in West Texas with numerous crops. He has raised feed, garden truck, chickens, turkeys, hogs, and is living at home and is not worrying about the low price of cotton. W. D. Baker, living four miles east of Colorado on rented land, is another farmer who has done equally as well. He raised 100 tons of feed this year, 15 bale of cotton, and has hundreds of can of vegetables and fruits in cellar, and potatoes, cabbage, meat and lard at home for his own use and some to spare. Baker's record has been equalled by C. A. Gillis, tenant on the Lasky farm near Colorado, who has made a living for his family off two milk cows and fifty hens this year, selling more than enough of butter and eggs to pay for the groceries necessary to supply the family table. All of Gillis' crop is clear money this year as he has paid expenses with produce from the farm.

Numerous instances of this kind could be mentioned, other farmers of Mitchell county have seen what these farmers are doing and have pledged themselves to follow out this plan next year. The Colorado Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the movement and is receiving much encouragement.

In conformity with this plan of diversification and the raising of more dairy cattle and domestic fowls on Mitchell county farms. B. C.

Murphy, local dairyman, last week shipped in 20 head of registered and grade Jersey dairy cattle and sold them at public auction in Colorado Saturday afternoon. Recently the Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in getting two fine registered Jersey bulls shipped in, one going to R. C. Morgan near Colorado and the other to Handson's dairy, two miles north of Colorado. A carload of registered dairy heifers will be received here in a few days for distribution to farmers.

In the section northeast of Colorado, between Loraine and Inadale and in the Lone Wolf Valley, farmers have a land especially adapted to growing of small grain, and while this section has been the greatest cotton producing section in this vicinity, many will plant spring oats enough to afford thrashing equipment. There are several large wheat fields in this section already up to a good stand, but farmers say all the wheat grown will be for home use and none will go to the shipping markets from this section. The main purpose of the farmers in this section in this county, it seems, is to raise a varied line of crops and afford plenty for home consumption, which in itself, is worthy of the time and effort.

Representative of Eastern Papers Gets Colorado Data

R. A. Caples, a veteran Washington newspaperman, visited Colorado and vicinity last Friday. Mr. Caples is making a tour of Southwestern Texas in preparation of a series of articles to be syndicated to a number of Eastern publications. He is carefully acquainting himself with the resources of this section and announce himself as being sincerely enthusiastic in anticipating the future development. He told the Record that it was well known in the industrial East that the time was not far distant when Eastern factories and manufacturing must, for economical reasons, be removed to the source of the production of raw materials and cheap fuel.

Mr. Caples elects to travel by the Bus lines and explains that he believes it less costly than driving his own car in addition to the comfort and freedom from worry or anxiety occasioned by the bad driving of the other fellow. The chief reason is that he has opportunity to view the country without fixing his sight upon the roadway ahead.

T. T. ALLEN RAISES FINE TRUCK IN CITY

T. T. Allen, who resides in South Colorado and has a two-acre truck farm at his place, has this year raised and sold more than $300 worth of cantaloupe and watermelons from this tract of land, all of which were sold on the local market. Mr. Allen has also sold $31.75 worth of turnips and greens from a small plot and has hilled up for winter use 30 bushels of fine turnips. He brought a fine bunch of specimen turnips to the Record office and we can testify to quality as we tried them out with thanks to Mr. Allen. Mr. and Mrs. Allen are 68 years old and have lived in Mitchell county for several years. They had a son, Torrence Allen, who went from Colorado to the world war and died in Germany while a member of the army of occupation. He was shipped back here and buried in the local cemetery.

Resolution Causes Debate
CHILDRESS, Texas, Nov. 11.—Sharp debate over a resolution introduced by the Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey of Polk street Church, Amarillo, regarding orthodoxy of teachers in Methodist educational institutions featured the forenoon session of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference here Thursday. The resolution will come up for extended discussion Friday before action is taken. The resolution is one passed by the general conference this year in Memphis requiring teachers in Methodist educational institutions to sign a statement pledging adherence to the articles of faith of the church. It is designed to supersede a similar one passed by the Northwest Texas Conference at Plainview two years ago. "The Destructiveness of War" was the topic upon which Bishop Moore addressed the conference when it opened Thursday. He declared that America had been chosen by God to bring peace to the world. The attitude of the church toward war should be one of antagonism, he declared. The devotional service was appropriate to the armistice occasion.

The growth of Southern Methodist University was tersely related by Dr. C. C. Selecman, president. Suggest Austin Bible Chair. Bishop Moore observed that in Texas there are 1,200,000 Methodists interested in the State University and that a Bible chair at Austin should be supported by the denomination. One-third of the students of that institution are Methodist.

The report of the progressed in the Lubbock district was rendered by D. B. Doak, presiding elder. Summed up, it shows the district has had a net gain of 1,491 members during the year.

Dispite the freeze of last year and low cotton prices this year 75 per cent of the conference collections were paid.

Superannuate preacher's names were called and those present permitted to speak. Feature talks were made by J. P. Galloway, who preached to the Indians, more than fifty years ago, J. P. Galloway preaching fifty-four years and R. F. Dunn, who was for years the only Methodist minister between El Paso and Abilene.

$1,000,000 for Old Preachers.
Dr. Frank L. Wells, representing the general board of finance described the importance of raising the $1,000,000, superannuate endowment fund. Bishop Moore remarked that the work of collecting this would be given right of way in all his conferences. R. E. Bryant, regional secretary of the general board of missions, also spoke during the forenoon.

When the resolution by Stuckey on orthodoxy was read and seconded by Dr. G. S. Slover, Dr. Griswold asked for its tabling. On vote the request of Griswold was swept aside and then ensued a crossfire of debate. Opponents of the resolution contended that the affairs of particular institutions were in the hands of the general conference and that continual newspaper notoriety is injuring the standing of these colleges.

Among those who opposed the resolution were Dr. E. E. White, Lubbock; J. T. Griswold, Clarendon; W. E. Lyon, Abilene; O. P. Clark, Vernon. Those who spoke in its favor besides L. N. Stuckey, Amarillo, were Dr. G. S. Slover, Clarendon, and the Rev. J. H. Hamble, Clarendon. The resolution does not prefer charges against any teacher in any institution, but is intended, proponents claim, as a safeguard.

Selecman Talks on Journalism.
Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of S. M. U., in a talk a short time previous relating the growth of the institutions, took a firing at the newspapers for playing up investigations of educational institutions and saying that a school of journalism was being built up to teach the students to tell the truth.

LOONEY BAPTIST PASTOR GIVES NEWS OF LABORS

On Wednesday evening of this week, we attended prayer meeting at Dorn. A good congregation was in attendance composed largely of young people. They were almost 100 per cent in taking an active part in the service.

It was the writer's privilege, in company with our beloved missionary, to attend services at Payne last Sunday afternoon. It was a joy to speak to Brother Turner's appreciative audience.

The church at Horn's Chapel is making good progress under the leadership of Pastor L. D. Hall. They have a B. Y. P. U. composed of young people, none of whom had ever received training in that kind of work. Their first program was well rendered and they give promise of becoming an effective organization.

With the first Sunday in this month we began our labors as pastor of the church at Looney. They have some noble characters among them and we have good hopes of de-

The Methodist Missionary societies observed Sunday and Monday as days of prayer and public services at the church. On Sunday at three o'clock the adult and the junior societies met. Mrs. Merritt was leader of the adult, and Mrs. Leslie gave the scripture lesson. Mrs. Bandy gave three reasons for the week of prayer. Hendricks College and Brevard were discussed by Mrs. Looney and Mrs. Dozier. Prayers were offered for the work and workers.

Mrs. McCleary paid a tribute to our new missionaries, Jessie Stoll the church's student volunteer, made a beautiful talk on prayer and the need of helpers at home to back up those who go. The offering was very good. Something over twenty dollars.

Mrs. Winn conducted the service for the Juniors. They sang, repeated the twenty-third Psalm in unison. Irene Dorn and Talva Mae Hart gave some information about the schools of Brazil. Frances Lawles gave a reading on place. Pauline Jones one on Faith and Donald Bandy on Boys. Their offering was $10.

On Monday the Auxiliary and the Young People had the meeting. Mrs. Thompson led the Auxiliary program and gave the scripture lesson. Mrs. Elliott gave three reasons for the week of prayer.

Mrs. Haines discussed Mexico as a mission field. Mrs. Mahon, China; Mrs. Gordon, Africa; Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Japan; Mrs. Ray Womack, the Homeland. They had a good offering Mrs. Leslie Thomas had her young people give two readings. Miss Baze gave a splendid reading on Brevard and Miss Johnson gave a beautiful poem "My Wild White Rose." Their offering was very good.

This completed the church services but all are asked to pray throughout the week for the mountain school and for the college in Brazil. It is expected that funds will be collected to add dormitories to each of these buildings.

The League Study class met Monday with Mrs. Merritt and the last chapter of From Over the Border, studied. The class have enjoyed their study and will take up another book at an early date.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. Snyder entertained the Shakespeare club Friday. The roll call was Shakespeare quotations. Miss McComas led the lesson in Winters Tale and the Mentor Magazine. This was followed by a discussion of current events.

Mrs. Ed Jones was hostess for the 1921 Club. Mrs. Campbell was voted to be a regular guest. Mrs. Hardison led the lesson on "One-Act Plays." Mrs. Lewis Callier read "The Clod." Mrs. Bill Broadus read "Ecgenically speaking."

At the close of meeting sandwiches, tea and refrigerator cake was served.

The next meeting is with Mrs. Hooks at the home of Mrs. Buchanan.

Hesperian Club

The Hesperian Club met Friday with Mrs. A. L. Whipkey. Mrs. Milwee told of her trip to the state federation meeting of the outstanding speakers, especially did she review Mr. Booth's speech on "The Problems of Youth." So vividly did she give this that all felt the wonderful personality of the speaker through her delineation of him.

A report was given of the County Federation and of a meeting of one of Miss Jones' clubs where Syrian sweet bread was made and baked by a native woman.

The Literary Digest roll call brought forth much discussion and was most interesting. Mrs. Blanks gave the Fine Analysis of Lear. Mrs. Wallace had a paper, Lear one of the World's Greatest Poems. Mrs. Merritt was leader.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Whipkey carried her guests to the Whipkey-Merritt Confectionery where at tables daintily arranged with luncheon cloths, chrysanthemum centerpieces and set for four. A two-course luncheon was served. This consisted of toasted chicken sandwiches, salad, ripe olives, coffee, ice cream and cake. Mrs. O. B. Price and Mrs. Bert Robertson assisted in serving. The meeting this week is with Mrs. Merritt.

American Legion Auxiliary

The Auxiliary met Saturday afternoon in the Hut. A good report was turned in from the Poppy selling committee, about $60 being turned in. The Auxiliary especially appreciates the splendid co-operation of the school children.

Seven boxes of goodies were sent Texas boys in California and Colorado hospitals for Armistice. Mrs. Dozier also reported some local work for ex-service families. Mrs. Hubbard came in as a new member. The December meeting will be election of officers. The meeting will be with Mrs. Merritt.

Daughters of the King

The Daughters of the King Sunday School class met Thursday with the president, Mrs. Merritt with twenty members present. The meeting was opened with a short talk on Armistice Day and a prayer for our soldiers in hospitals.

Mrs. Arnett had the scripture lesson, John 16.

It was voted to leave the class fund for the church intact and to make an offering to Belle Bennett Memorial.

Many visits were reported and several bouquets sent the sick.

They voted to welcome the new pastor with an old-fashioned pounding. All of the church to have part in this.

The class was glad to have Mrs. Berry, who was away all summer, back again. Also welcomed the return of Mrs. Merrill, who has been sick.

The meetings will be held the fourth Saturday in each month, and whenever the American flag is flying there will the Daughters of the American Revolution be entertained.

SEVEN WELL'S NOTES

Health in our community is good except a few colds.

Everybody is still very busy gathering their cotton and also stacking feed.

Old Jack Frost has come and spread a dark brown cover over the pastures, fields, gardens and flowers, and soon the farmers will begin preparing the fields for another good crop, regardless the price.

Our school started Monday, Nov. 15th with 34 pupils enrolled and soon we will have that many more. We are proud of our school and too much can't be said for our good teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bassham, also Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Simpson and children visited in L. L. Bassham's home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Brown and children went down on Congho Sunday for a picnic and also gathered pecans. They report a good time.

Misses Aleta Reese, Bobby Wyatt, Edith Simpson and Loyd Jones visited Mary Lucile Bassham Sunday afternoon. This bunch always has a good time.

The 1923 Club Report

The 1923 club met with Mrs. Etta Homer Wednesday, November 3rd, and had our fall garden exhibit. There were ten members present. Miss Ives Bell Jones was there and gave a very interesting talk on mak-

Ever bring a washtub to a picnic?

Hardly, for wash tubs certainly don't fit in with any good-time occasion. Picnics and washtubs just don't mix—trouble is that most women have too little of the first and too much of the second. Yet there's no real reason why any woman should spend another minute bending over a washtub. For our Rough Dry service will do every bit of the washing and iron the flat work, too, at a price you'll admit is very reasonable. WHEN WILL THEY STOP.

One of the he-man residents of this town raved up and down the street a few days ago buttonholing almost everyone he met and read to them a lot of figures compiled by the government statisticians. He commenced vehemently about women criticizing the men folks for the money they spend on cigars, cigarettes and the like and then he would say: "Just listen to this, aren't they a fine lot to be accusing us of throwing money away when the government shows that..." And then he would read out the list of figures from a printed slip he held in his hand. Not being so fortunate or rather unfortunate as to be one of those who was being forced to listen at this outburst, but still being a little curious to find out what it was all about, we eased over a little closer during one of the storm periods and it was not long before the whole story was out. It was all about the amount of money the lady folks are putting into face powders, rouges, toilet waters, perfumes, hair tonics and dyes and the figures were somewhat astounding.

According to the report which he said the government had just issued for the year 1925 the total amount expended for this class of goods was $141,488,000. This was an increase of $22,250,840 or just about 19 per cent over the report for the year 1923.

Then came the reading of the amounts under different classifications as follows: Creams and rouges, $35,178,000; dentifrices, $25,496,000; talcum and other powders, $21,423,000; perfumes $20,544,000; hair tonics $9,480,000; hair dye $1,616,000; other articles not classified about $28,000,000. When he had concluded the list of figures he would blow up in another storm and dash off to find some other victim whom he would force to listen to his story, according to these figures it seems that articles for facial makeup are going strong while those for keeping the hair youthful come in for only a very small part of the total. There may be something in which this had to say on the subject, but what's the use of butting one's head against a brick wall. Women folks, ever since this old world was populated, have had a knack of doing just like they want to. And no one has yet dared and we doubt if there ever will be one who will, to stop them.

We are firmly convinced however, that the women are the balance wheels which keep the old universe going, and they are at the steering wheel with full control. They guide the destiny of the nation, to the extent that if there is anything really wrong with the social life they are to blame for it, to a very great extent. We are convinced though many differ with us, that the women will have to return to the home, not slaves, but as keepers, as directors of home life, if this old world is to settle down to a even tenor and carry on in the raising of good citizens and husbands of his rising generation. They tell us the world is going to the devil. We do not know where it is going, but it is a mad race for some place, and usually when things get the speed head that we seem to have now, here is apt to be destruction off over the line somewhere. We believe the feminine side of the world, is now taking too much dish in social life, and business affairs, and neglecting the home duties, and the home life, to give to the girls and boys of the present day that training that they need, and must have if they are to make the best citizens in the nation. Youngsters cannot be given all the training they need in the schools, or in the moving picture shows, and it is a very poor grade of training they get playing in the alley with just anybody's child, while they are waiting for the mother to come home from her job in town or the card party or other places of amusement, and they do not have the proper nourishment and care when they are left at home at night to find their way to their own bed, while mother is off at a public or private dance, or card party. We believe that the women folks of this country should have every modern convenience in the home, the same as the husband has in his shop or in his office, but we do believe that there is enough of the real material training given to the children of this day, and we believe we can see down in the highway of life some without some sudden curves, that are sure to ditch the youngsters of today if the care of the home is not given more consideration than it is now receiving.

So far as creams and powders are concerned, the women can use all they want to of them, and there will not be any complaints, on our part, but we feel sure that there must be a changing of the habits of many of the people if we are to have a nation of democracy and high class citizenship. We believe the women of the nation have the destiny of this country in their hands, and they will choose whether it shall be the greatest Christian nation, made up of high class men and women, or whether it shall be a nation, untrained, uncultured, and uncivilized humans.

WHAT'S DOING IN TEXAS

FORT WORTH—The best informed men in Texas were invited to attend the meeting of the special committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to consider the question of cotton acreage reduction here October 29. The morning session heard different plans proposed for solving the cotton problem while the afternoon session took up the consideration of these plans and attempted to formulate a workable plan for submission to farmer and business interests of the state.

WHITE DEER—Contract for the construction of two brick business houses has been let by White Deer citizens.

ABILENE—Formulation of plans for the inauguration of the "More Feed on Fewer Acres" campaign of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was undertaken here November 1. Prizes aggregating $2500 are to be awarded West Texas farmers through the movement which it is hoped will promote cotton acreage reduction and raising of more live stock.

TRENT—A chamber of commerce was organized here recently by Trent citizens in order to care for problems arising since the oil development boom.

STAMFORD—As a part of their program in the reduction of cotton acreage, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is advocating more wheat and oats and other grains for West Texas farmers. Reports to headquarters office here indicate that conditions are ideal and that a mammoth grain crop can be harvested in 1927. Forage and feed crops, and grain sorghums are also advocated.

PADUCAH—The Cook Hotel, Paducah's new home for travelingmen has thrown open its doors here. The new hostelry is rated as one of the prettiest buildings in his part of the country and is equipped with all modern fixtures.

Mrs. W. H. Garrett, who has been sick for the past two weeks, is still unable to get about.

NOTICE

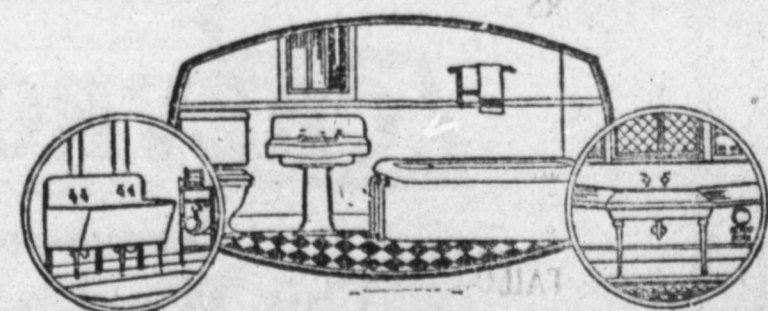

To Mitchell county turkey raisers: The statement appearing in the Nov. 12th issue of the Record that turkeys would be worth 35 or 40 cents per pound was unauthorized by me, but at the same time should not have been misconstrued. Anyone acquainted with the turkey market should know that such a price was applicable to dressed turkeys only. I consider the live turkey market very uncertain at this time and would not advise anyone to hold for higher prices.

Yours very truly,

Once upon an evening dreary
As I staggered weak and weary,
In all my manly pride;
With my manly heart a-flutter,
I fell into a gutter and a hog
Came up and lay down by my side.
As I lay there in that gutter
With my manly heart a-flutter,
Someone passing by, was heard to say:
"You can tell a man that boozes
By the company that he chooses."
And the hog got up,
And swiftly walked away.

WEST TEXAS TEACHERS TO BE IN MAJORITY AT EL PASO ANNUAL MEET

Noted School Authorities On Program: Entertainment Be Best in History

West Texas teachers will be in the majority at the annual convention of the Texas State Teachers' association, which meets in El Paso November 25, 26 and 27, according to Gray Dean Foster, county school superintendent of Mitchell county, who is working for record attendance for the meeting.

Foster has received word from President J. M. Bledsoe, and Dr. P. W. Horn, president of Texas Technological College, that present indications point to the largest attendance ever recorded at a state teachers meeting, and that West Texas will furnish a larger part of this attendance. Calls have been sent out by prominent school men of this section to all teachers who can possibly do so to attend the El Paso meeting and the call is meeting with hearty response, according to Foster.

Prof. R. B. Norman, superintendent of the Colorado public Schools, announces that the best program ever heard at a teachers' meeting will be given at the El Paso convention, and is endeavoring to advise every teacher in West Texas that the time and expense of a trip to the convention will be well spent and is urging a full attendance.

Begins Thanksgiving
Thanksgiving Day morning services will be held at the First Presbyterian church at El Paso as the first general session of the convention, Norman reports.

Following the sermon by Dr. Poe, Dr. Ellwood P. Cubberley of Stanford University, California, will deliver an address on "Some Established Principles in American Education."

The Thursday evening session will be held at Liberty Hall, as will all the balance of the day and night sessions of the meeting. President J. M. Bledsoe of Commerce, will make his report for the year in an address outlining the work of the association for 1926.

According to Dr. H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross State Teachers' College at Alpine, the general theme for the convention will be "Equalizing Educational Opportunities in Texas." Dr. Morelock says it has been the aim of the association for the past year to call to the attention of the people of the state the inequalities of educational opportunity and to ask for legislative measures and other popular support for the advancement of all schools to an equal and further advanced program.

Dr. Horn To Speak
"Relationship of Higher Education to Democracy" will be the subject of Dr. P. W. Horn, president of Texas Tech at Lubbock, at the Thursday evening session. Dr. Frank Boynton, superintendent of schools, Ithaca, New York, and Dr. E. P. Cubberley of Stanford University, will also speak at this session.

At the Friday morning session meeting at 10:30 at Liberty Hall, Dr. Ernest Horn, College of Education, University of Iowa, will speak on "Objectives to be Obtained by a Proper Use of Tests and Measures." Dr. S. H. Whitley, president of the East Texas State Teachers' College, Commerce, will speak on "Professional Training of the Teacher," and Dr. J. R. Grant, Arkansas Department of Education, will speak on "The County Unit in Rural School Administration."

Dr. L. Thomas Hopkins, of the College of Education, University of Colorado at Boulder, Colorado, will be the first speaker for the Friday afternoon session, followed by Hon. S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, who will speak on "Democracy in Education." "Freedom in Education" will be discussed by Dr. Marion J. Mayo of the Harris Teachers College, St. Louis, which will conclude the afternoon session.

A one-act play will be staged by the El Paso Junior College students under direction of Miss Ellen K. Treloar at the Friday evening session which meets at Liberty Hall at 7 p. m.

At this session, Dr. J. Paul Goode, University of Chicago, will speak on "The Geographic and Economic Causes of the Great War." Dr. Goode is an expert of geography, according to President J. M. Bledsoe, and this address will be a great feature of the convention. "Art Education in the Training for Citizenship," will be the subject of an address by Dr. Larado Taft, and "Education—yesterday and Today" will be the subject of an address by Dr. George Willard Frasier, president Colorado State Teachers' College, Greeley, Colo.

The sixth general session will be held at Liberty Hall Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon. Dr. J. F. Kimball, of the School of Education, S. M. U., Dallas, will speak on "Some Implications of Democracy as Manifest in American School Systems." Dr. William H. Burnham, professor of Pedagogy and Schol Hygiene, Clark University, Worcester, Mass., will speak on "The Contribution of Mental Hygiene to Education," and Dr. B. F. Pittenger, Dean School of Education, University of Texas will speak on "Financing an Adequate School System in Texas."

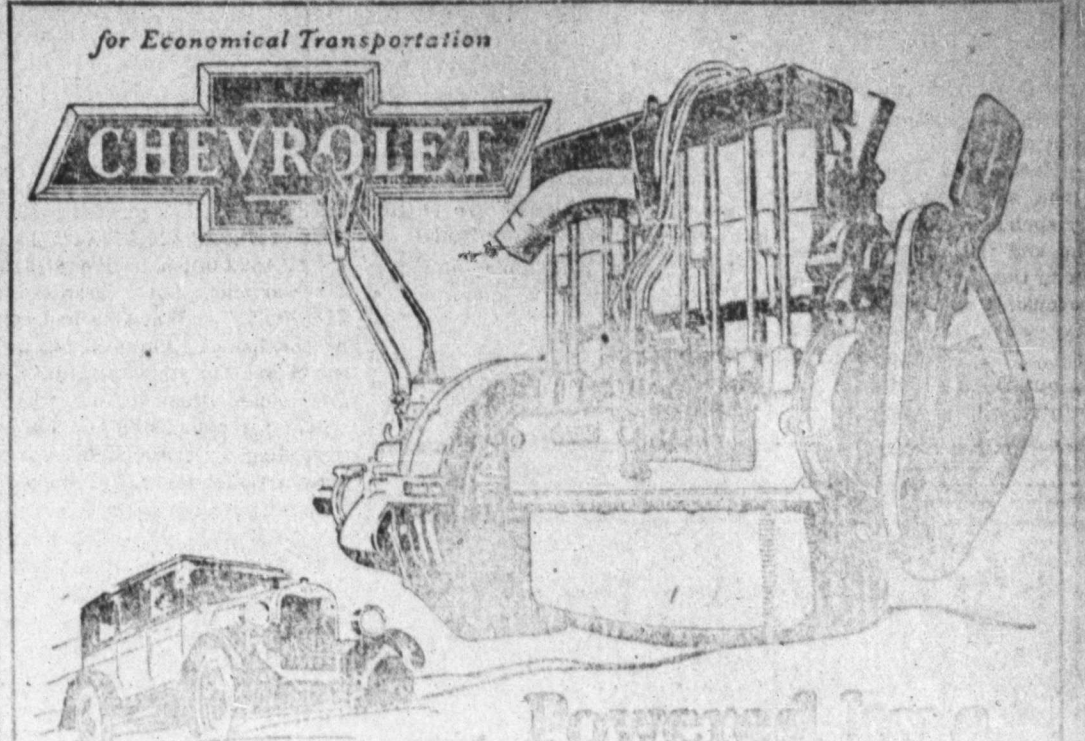

West Texas school men say that the educational value of the trips to be afforded the visitors by El Paso citizens can hardly be estimated. Trips will be made to Ysleta, the oldest town in the state, and here a visit will be made to the old Spanish mission church, the oldest building in the state of Texas. Visits will also be made to the El Paso government army installation, Mt. Franklin, the El Paso Hospital, and the Rio Grande valley near El Paso. Teachers will also visit the El Paso vocational schools, where complete machine shops, printing plant, auto mechanics, carpentry, typewriting, power sewing and dressmaking and home cooking classes are trained in practical work.

Prof. H. E. Blythe, superintendent of the Lorraine schools is endeavoring to inform the teacher of the state of the elaborate plans being adopted by the El Paso high school teachers association in anticipation of a luncheon to be served the high school teachers of the state in attendance at the convention. This luncheon will be served at the new Orndorff hotel and will be done according to Spanish custom, the food, decorations and entertainment to be strictly Spanish. Blythe is urging all teachers of this section to attend the El Paso meeting, and says West Texas will be well represented at the convention, the first to meet in the extreme western end of the state for 26 years. The last previous convention held in this end of the state was in El Paso in 1900.

PURSUING WRONG METHOD IN REDUCTION COTTON ACREAGE

I am a strong advocate of a big reduction in cotton acreage next year. In such a move lies the only hope for cotton growers to behold the lights of prosperity. However, I have little hopes of success from the plans now being worked out. I have for years witnessed and participated in campaigns urging farmers to reduce the cotton acreage, and have read of many agreements being entered into for a low price only to see the acreage increased the following year. In my opinion we must reverse our tactics if we succeed in getting the acreage reduced. So long as the word goes out that the acreage is to be reduced so long will the acreage be increased. My plan is to send committees over the cotton growing States next spring and have the committees report that the acreage will be doubled. Farmers who read the reports will know that the increased acreage will mean starvation prices, and will plant little or no cotton.—J. H. Lowry in Honey-Grove Signal.

SOME CONFUSED ON PRICE OF TURKEY MENTIONED

Some farmers are confused by the price of the turkey mentioned in the report of the West Texas Wolf Hunter's association for the past week's record in which the price of the turkey was given as 20c. They would cost the consumer and not the price on foot, as some think. The article was based on the approximate cost of the Thanksgiving turkey would cost the man who eats it this year and not the live weight price. The live weight price is ranging from 20c to 28c per pound, we are informed, therefore the dressed price will have to be from 35c to 40c, we are told.

NOTICE

The West Texas Wolf Hunter's association will hold its annual meeting at the Maddox ranch near Maryneal, Nolan county, on December 15, 16 and 17. Nolan county association will meet with us same date and place. Full program will be published at an early date in Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Borden and Howard county papers and other West Texas newspapers.

ANOTHER TRENT GUSHER IN SATURDAY; OTHERS NEAR PAY; WORK RUSHED

Latest Producer Guages 720 Barrels Day; Oil is Very High Gravity

Without any agitation the Midwest Exploration company's No. 1, Ira Thornton, second producer of the Noodle Creek field, near Trent, flowed 720 barrels Sunday and 717 barrels Monday. Added to the latter sum, 686 barrels produced by the Phillips Joe Winter No. 1, discovery well, Monday's production at Noodle Dome was 1,403 barrels.

The first pipe line to run from the Thornton well was made last night, a line having been hastily laid to the Trent loading rack. Four 500-barrel tanks are now filled with the 40.8 gravity oil that began flowing from the Thornton Saturday afternoon. No efforts are being made at present to further drill into the pay line, as additional storage must be built to care for any increase in production.

Completion of the second well—which from a depth of only 6 feet in the pay is considered equally as good as the Joe Winters—and rapid progress in the Phillips Tussie No. 1, on the Walling farm, which offsets the Winter on the south and the Thornton on the east, has created necessity for early entrance into the field by a large pipeline.

The Tussie No. 1 was 2,430 feet deep last night with casing set below the water vein. A test to determine whether the water is properly cased off was being made last night. This well is now less than 100 feet above the level of pay in the two producers and should be drilled in within a week.

Underream Sears Test
Three and one-half miles east of Noodle Dome the Hurley Oil company and others' John Sears finished underreaming last night at 2,220 feet. Faster progress is expected there. This well is probably the most important of the tests started immediately following the Phillips discovery. If it becomes a producer a score or more of wells will be started at once.

The first thorough testing of the thickness and productivity of the Noodle Creek pay line is to be made in a few days at the Thornton well. When proper storage facilities are obtained the bit will be sent deeper. When this is done the flow is expected to jump well above 1,000 barrels many oil men predicting a flush production of 2,000 barrels a day.

Monday's 686 barrels was the lightest day's run from the Joe Winter in almost a week. This well, which came in for 1,000 barrels, produced over 700 barrels on both Friday and Saturday. Its average daily production for two months following completion was 613 barrels. The well came in on September 7.

The Atlantic Oil Producing company's No. 1 E. Howell, three-fourths of a mile south of the producers was 1,260 feet deep last night.

The Marland Oil company's No. 1 J. C. Mason was drilling at 1,210 feet.

The Marland Oil company's No. 2 J. C. Mason had just set 15 1/2 inch casing at 550 feet.

The Phillips Petroleum company's No. 2 Joe Winter was 660 feet deep.

Clark, Harbin and Baldrige's No. 1 John Wheeler, four miles northwest of the Dome, in Fisher county, was approximately 650 feet deep.

Marland Finishes Derrick
The 122-foot derrick for the rotary rig to be used in drilling the Marland's No. 3 J. C. Mason, west of its No. 1 Mason was finished Monday. It will be spudded in as soon as a water line can be laid to the Clear Forks of the Brazos. Two 100-horsepower boiler will be necessary to run the rig calling for a large amount of water.

The Midwest Exploration company is building the foundation for its No. 2 Ira Thornton 740 feet west of No. 1.

The derrick for the Noodle Creek Oil company's No. 1 Mrs. Alice Rose, one and three-fourths miles southwest of the Thornton No. 1 in Taylor county, is completed.

Other rigs now being built are World Oil company's No. 1, Goodman, one mile northwest of the Dome; Gibson and Johnson's No. 1 Haynes three miles south; Shaheen and others' No. 1 Mrs. A. T. Smith, two and one-half miles northeast; Danziger Oil company's No. 1 Hamner, two miles southwest.

Hart and Cole's No. 1 W. R. Cranston ten miles northwest, is slightly below 1,000 feet.

HELP FROM OUR NEIGHBORS

Our neighbors to the west in Mitchell county are offering us some help in a most practical way next week in the form of the first annual Mitchell County Poultry Show and School. It will be held at Colorado next Friday and Saturday, November 19-20.

Farmers, poultry men, and business men of Nolan county and Sweetwater have become interested in the possibilities of the poultry industry for Nolan county as the result of cotton conditions. The Sweetwater club has in mind the discussion of this matter at the coming meeting. Reports from the officials of the Mitchell county show state that many Nolan farmers have written for information.

At Colorado, then, we will have an opportunity to make a close study of the question and hear from some of the most expert poultrymen in the state what can be done and how to do it. Sweetwater business men interested in the matter should attend or at the very least, a representative committee should be sent to the Colorado show to bring back to us a full fund of practical and useable information.—Sweetwater Reporter.

Farm Journal Advises Farmers to Play Safe

The Southwestern Stockman-Farmer, one of the most widely read farm and stockman's publications in this section, advises the farmers to play for 1927, in an editorial of this week's issue, which is good reading and The Record reproduces it here-with.

Through the efforts of agricultural and financial leaders, there is now being set up machinery that undoubtedly will make it possible for a considerable part of the 1926 crop to be held over until next year, whether this is done by the growers or by others into whose hands the cotton is now passing.

The probability of success in this movement, serves only as a suggestive example of the absolute necessity of a plan for the farmer to cotton production to be averted next year.

Fortunately, the Southwest is not anything like the position in which the states of the old cotton belt now find themselves. The Southwest is a pioneer country. In some ways, however, in the past few years cotton has become a most profitable money crop and those sec-

Other plans call for agreement for a reduction in acreage by means of various combinations of voluntary and compulsory methods.

But, above all other vicarious methods, the one that will have the greatest influence upon the production of the cotton crop is the individual producer's decision.

That may mean a reduction of 25 per cent in his cotton acreage, or it may mean a reduction of 50 per cent, or it may mean getting entirely out of the cotton-growing business. It is probably that, to strike an average, it will mean a general of 50 per cent in the cotton acreage. Selfish interest dictates this attitude to each individual farmer but, fortunately, in this matter, the selfish interest of the individual coincides with the interest of the country as a whole. The Stockman-Farmer believes strongly in the value of the balanced farming program—diversification along practical lines—but it recognizes the fact that diversification is not a simple proposition as it sometimes seems to those who do their farming by proxy. Hundreds of farmers in the cotton-growing sections of the Southwest average to diversify, but are fearful of experimenting with other crops and they are afraid of a

It is up to the individual farmer to decide whether to play safe to the best of his ability in the coming year or to take a chance on a crop that may be a disaster. UNIVERSITY RECOMMENDS FOOTBALL FOR SCHOOLS AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 16.—As some high schools which are members of the Interscholastic League of the University of Texas are overlooking the necessity of strict adherence to the scholarship rule regarding football, Athletic Director Roy Henderson has called special attention to the part in school activities which the sport occupies. He says: "Football should be fostered in the school for the good of that school for the benefit of the students, for its citizenship training values, and for the opportunities it affords for developing character, ideals, morals, and the like. It should never be conducted primarily for the purpose of interesting the patrons in the schools, for the advertising of a town, or for the reputation of a coach or school official. Nor should the fans ever come first. "High school football should raise the standard of scholarship. The scholarship rule is, accordingly, the most essential of all, as it is the foundation of the whole structure. A superintendent, principal, or teacher who makes the least concession to a student in applying this rule loses the greatest thing that athletics can be made to do in the school. "As there is no rule in the constitution of the Interscholastic League which cannot be easily met by any average high school student, a boy who cannot make a reasonable amount of scholastic work has no right to represent his school on the gridiron, Henderson believes.
