

GRAND JURY FINDS OUR COUNTY JAIL IS IN A DEPLORABLE CONDITION

More Adequate and Sanitary Building is Urged By Body

REQUIREMENTS NOT MET Citizens Invited To Inspect Structure And Verify Report

"Come and see for yourself." That is the invitation extended to Mitchell county citizens by officials of the county and other interested persons concerning the conditions existing in the Mitchell county jail, and the urgent need of a new structure.

The building, which has been deplorable because of its inadequacy and unavoidably unsanitary state, was inspected by the grand jury for the May term of District court last week, and the following report has been turned in by that body, of which Jas. T. Johnson was foreman, and which speaks for itself:

"We have made a careful examination of the conditions of the Mitchell county jail and find that the jail is not adequate to take care of the situation in this county. We find that the jail of the county is not in a sanitary condition and we do not believe that the present jail can be kept in a reasonably sanitary condition. We find that to make the jail usable will require the expenditure of probably several thousand dollars and we do not believe the county would be justified in putting out very much money on the present jail. The jail is not large enough to take care of the prisoners who are confined in it from time to time, and there is no provision made, as required by law, for taking care of delinquent children and insane persons. We find that the living quarters provided for the jailer and his family are inadequate and unsatisfactory and represent a condition that ought not to exist in a progressive and respectable county. We find that the jail cells and doors are warped and almost unworkable by reason of a jail fire which occurred some months ago. In calling attention to the citizens of this county to this deplorable condition, we do not wish to cast any reflection upon the sheriff or his jailer or anyone connected with the county administration. We believe they are doing all that could be done under the circumstances.

"We, therefore, recommend that proper steps be taken in the very near future to remedy the condition that we have set forth. We believe the only satisfactory solution is the erection of a new and adequate jail to take care of the present and future needs of Mitchell county.

"We take this opportunity to point with pride to the excellent conditions in which the court house premises and the court house proper are kept. We believe that the county judge and the county commissioners are responsible for the fine condition of our court house and premises and we wish to compliment them for this fine service to the county. We believe that the Mitchell county court house lawn and premises are as well kept as any in the State, and should be a source of pride to the citizenship.

"Respectfully submitted,
"JAS. T. JOHNSON, Foreman."

C. E. Stone Co. 18th Anniversary This Week

In 1911, Mr. C. E. Stone, who was born and raised in Texas and is now president of the C. E. Stone Co., conceived the idea of a chain of stores that would cater to the demands of the people of the Southwest. As the years have gone by, the idea that blossomed 18 years ago has borne fruit and as the Southwest has grown, so has this chain of stores.

The first store was opened at Wellington, Texas, in 1911. In 1917 the second store was opened at Shamrock, Texas. These stores prospered and from the profits stores were opened at Hollis and Sayre, Oklahoma, and in the succeeding years at Memphis, Vernon, Paducah, Childress, Texas, Altus, Cordell, and Elk City, Oklahoma. All these stores grew and today C. E. Stone Co., the "Chain of the Southwest" is operating 50 stores.

In celebration of 18 years of successful business and the opening of their fiftieth store, every effort is being put forth to make the 18th Anniversary Week, which begins Saturday, June 15th, the greatest merchandising event in the store's history.

CITY COUNCIL GIVES ATTENTION TO MANY BUSINESS MATTERS

Number of Items Disposed of At Regular Meeting Monday Night

A miscellany of business matters claimed the time of the city council at its regular monthly meeting at the city hall Monday night.

A contract was let for sanitary sewer extension into that district north of Ninth street and east of Chestnut, and the building of the sewer in two blocks between Eighth and Tenth streets.

Contract was also let for installation of a booster pump at the east water works. This will make possible the transfer of water to the standpipe from the service tanks without necessitating the shutting off of water at the standpipe. A booster pump is already in operation at the north waterworks.

The city attorney was instructed by the council to file complaints against all those citizens who have not connected with the sewer, where sewer service is available.

A complaint of several South Colorado citizens concerning their objections to the construction of a high-line along Paramount avenue in South Colorado was heard. Although the council took no action on this, they did ask the Texas Electric Service Co. to suspend construction until an investigation can be made.

An ordinance was passed giving the Chief of Police power to reserve a well-situated parking space for his car, so that it may be available to him at all times.

The report of Thos. J. Coffee, ex-officio recorder, of fines and fees collected during the month of May was received and approved by the council.

Slow And Careful Drilling Now In Hyman Oil Area

The McGinley-Sigler Sarah M. Hyman No. 1, on survey 91, W. & N. W. block 29, three miles west of Hyman, is drilling at about 1500 feet. This well failed to pick up the sand found in the old Deeprock well, about a mile west of this location, but has hopes of getting a deeper sand. It is being carefully drilled, a great deal of core drilling having been done, and is testing cuttings every five feet.

The Magnolia Minna Hyman No. 1, four miles west of Hyman, and located in the center of the SE quarter of survey 88, W&NW block 29, is drilling at 1245 feet. Very slow progress has been made in this well for the past week or ten days, caused by water breaking in under the casing from a higher level. It is evidently the intention of the Magnolia to see that they have a dry hole when they drill into the oil sand which, in the old Deeprock only 10 feet away, was encountered at 1300 feet. However, the report from the well today is that a solid base for the 10-inch casing has been reached, the water cut off, and the well should reach the 1300-foot level some time tomorrow. Naturally, this well is being watched closely by all interested, as everybody who had much of a chance to watch the old Deeprock well believes that a potential producer was plugged there.

The Sarah Minna Hyman No. 1-A, being drilled by Scott & Smith, contractors, for the McGinley-Sigler Co., has a hole full of water at 707 feet. This well, having a higher surface elevation than the Magnolia Minna Hyman No. 1, about a quarter of a mile distant to the northwest, seems to be running several feet higher structurally than that well, and it is hoped that pay dirt will be found at about 1325. This well is in the NW corner of survey 92, W&NW block 29, about 4 1/2 miles west of Hyman.

Mrs. J. A. Morgan and Mrs. Fred Brymer of Snyder were in Colorado this week visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Bonner, on Twelfth St.

Lee Jones, seconded by Mrs. Mayme Taylor.

Mrs. Lee Jones made a short talk pertaining to the park, and made the motion that the club should donate the July banquet dues, since the banquet would fall on July 4, to a band shell in the park. This motion was carried by Mrs. J. A. Ferguson and seconded by Mrs. Jones also suggested that a letter of appreciation be sent to the four sisters donating the park. Mrs. J. H. Greene talked briefly, thanking the club for its cooperation on the park proposition.

An interesting and inspirational talk was given by Mr. Greene, who gave several valuable suggestions to the club and stated that the club has the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce. He also thanked the club for the move taken in regard to the park and band shell.

Harmony Club—Rose Party
Mrs. Nat Thomas entertained the Harmony Club Wednesday with a beautiful rose party. The house was decorated in pink roses, and on each score card was a hand-painted rose. Individual rose cups held salted nuts.

At the refreshment hour moulded pink rosebuds in ice cream, angel cake and green mints were served, making a beautiful plate. Mrs. Pidgeon and Mrs. O. B. Price will entertain the husband at the next meeting.

Sunday School Teachers' Meeting
Nineteen teachers of the Methodist Sunday school met Tuesday evening at the home of Superintendent A. L. Dorn, in regular monthly meeting. The devotional was conducted by E. H. Winn. This was followed by talks on modern Sunday school equipment, and making the best of what we have, these being discussed by all present.

At the social hour strawberry ice cream and individual cakes were served. The July meeting will be with Mrs. Garrett.

Baptist Circles
The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist church met in circles Monday afternoon. Circle One had no meeting.

Circle Two had a good attendance and a good meeting. They planned for a rummage sale early this fall. They also made some plans for their next meeting, which is to be election of officers for the coming year.

Circle Three met with Mrs. T. J. Ratliff. They have decided to raise their quota of $200 by the plan of giving two and one-half cents per day during the year. Their next Bible study will be the book of Ruth.

Circle Four had only a small membership present, but were happy to have as a visitor Mrs. Jack Smith, W. M. S. president. Mrs. Smith visited each circle meeting at the church, and each was inspired by her presence.

Circle Five had a very splendid meeting. Their lesson was well prepared and all enjoyed it.

Each Circle is to remember to select officers at their next meeting.

S. S. SINGING CONVENTION HERE SATURDAY, SUNDAY HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Near 10,000 In Attendance; Westbrook Elected Head of Convention

Attended by the largest crowd ever gathered for an event in Colorado, the T. & P. Sunshine Singing Convention held what is said to be one of the most successful meetings in its history in Colorado Saturday and Sunday. Election of T. H. Westbrook of Colorado as president was one of the events of most interest to Coloradans during the convention. Abilene was chosen the next meeting place.

A conservative estimate placed the number attending the convention, first and last, at something above ten thousand people. Delegates were here from Texarkana to El Paso, and from the Rio Grande valley to Amarillo and Oklahoma. New Mexico and Arkansas were also represented by delegates.

The convention held its Saturday sessions in the First Baptist church. The business session was held Saturday night, and the following officers were chosen: T. H. Westbrook, Colorado, president; S. W. Jones of Abilene, vice president; M. Shaw of Abilene, re-elected secretary; Rev. C. S. McAllister, re-elected chaplain. Judge R. L. Rusk of Eastland, who has been president of the convention since its organization in Abilene several years ago, presided over the meeting here.

The convention was held Sunday in the Union Tabernacle, which would accommodate only a small percent of the crowd.

Highlights of Saturday's program were duets and solos by the Misses Taylor, daughters of John F. Taylor, president of the Plateau Singing Convention of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Other highlights during the convention were: Duet by Lester and Gilbert of the Vaughan Quartet; quartet composed of Ewell Bond, Luther Rudd, M. M. Keaton, and Spurgeon Spralls, of Eastland and elsewhere; duet by Burton and Bob Coffman of Callahan county.

The outstanding feature of the convention, probably, was the Corley Quartet of Nacogdoches, Texas, composed of A. Corley, two sons 11 and 13, and a daughter, 7.

District Attorney Geo. H. Mahon delivered the welcome address Sunday. The Colorado Chamber of Commerce fed all visiting delegates Saturday at noon at the cafes in town, and found homes where they could spend Saturday night.

"I'm satisfied," stated President Westbrook, who was in charge of arrangements for the convention. "I couldn't have asked for a better convention. I consider it one of the best in our history, and I am deeply indebted to the people and organizations of Colorado for the cooperation they gave me at all times."

President Westbrook mentioned his thanks to the Mitchell County association for its official cooperation in the convention, to B. W. Scott for the ice water tank, to Texas Electric Service for the ice, to the Baptist church for use of its auditorium Saturday, to the Whipkey Printing Co. for the liberal publicity given to the convention, and to the American Legion for use of the piano.

BALANCED RATION FOR HOGS IS AGAIN PROVEN TO BE OF GREAT VALUE

Harry Cranfill of Snyder Is Able to Make Excellent Net Profit

A balanced ration for hogs was again shown to be profitable when the eight hogs in the demonstration carried on by Harry Cranfill of Silver community made a net profit of $57.73 in 60 days after they were placed on a self-feeder containing a balanced ration of ground threshed maize and tankage. The eight hogs weighed 846 pounds when the test started and when sold last week they weighed 1820 pounds, having gained 974 pounds, an average gain of 121 pounds per pig, which amounts to 1.76 pounds average gain per day.

To make this gain the hogs ate 2021 pounds of ground threshed maize worth $28.29; 1646 pounds of ground head maize worth $16.46; 533 pounds of tankage which cost $25.31, and 33 pounds of cottonseed meal which cost 85 cents. Total cost was $70.91. The hogs were valued at $50.76 at the start and they were sold for $179.40, leaving a net profit of $57.73.

Mr. Cranfill received $20 a ton for his ground maize heads and $28 for the ground threshed maize. No milk was fed during the test but water was kept before them at all times. "This money comes in at a mighty good time for a farmer," Mr. Cranfill said, "and my only regret is that I didn't feed about fifty head, for with self-feeders they are not any trouble to feed. I received a good price for my maize and made a nice profit, too."

Mr. Cranfill is moving his feeder to his sudan patch and is starting another bunch of hogs on the same ration.

A. F. BLEDSOE BUYS REGISTERED BULL

A. F. Bledsoe of Westbrook has recently purchased a registered Jersey bull with high production records behind him. This bull will be the foundation block of Mitchell county bull circle number one. Anyone securing a bull of the same quality will be able to join the circle and get the benefit of changing bulls every two years, thereby getting from four to six years' service without additional cost.

Another advantage of the bull circle is that the bulls are not disposed of until the heifers are producing, making it possible to tell which bulls are the best breeders before they are killed. In the past many valuable breeders have been sold to the butcher before their real value was known.

$500 REWARD

Will pay $500.00 Reward for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who poisoned my Police dog.

BAPTIST TEACHERS MEETING

The meeting of officers and teachers of the First Baptist Sunday school was especially good Wednesday evening. An excellent luncheon was served by the Young Business Men's Bible class to 40 people. The meal was planned by Walter Whipkey, Charlie Seals and Tom Russell. To Harry Kithas of the Colorado Hotel Coffee Shop they are indebted for preparation of the meal. Those serving were Jim Greene, Dick Gray, Rube Morgan, Tom Russell and Charlie Seals. They are to be commended for their services.

The records show 67 present, 632 visits, 62 phone calls, 262 letters and cards written, with other work done which enters constructively into the building of a greater and more efficient Sunday school.

The Faithful Workers' class led in the number present for the meeting, while the Dorcas class led in number of visits made for the week.

REV. HINDS PREACHED SUNDAY IN BEHALF OF McMURRY ENDOWMENT

Pastor Has "Christian Education" For His Subject

Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the Methodist church here, was one of the ministers and laymen in more than 200 churches of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference who spoke Sunday in behalf of the $500,000 McMurry College endowment campaign.

Basing his sermon on the latter part of the seventh chapter of Matthew, Rev. Mr. Hinds discussed at length the two kinds of foundation on which a character can be built, one being of rock and the other the sand. His point was to show the value of Christian education.

"Study to gain knowledge in order to be wise," stated Rev. Mr. Hinds. "Wisdom is knowledge applied. Often we pray for wisdom, when really we should be praying for the power to do what we know, deep in our hearts, that we should do. Education is not found in the text book or in any book, though books have much to do with one's living and thinking.

"There is a practical side to life, and one does not get that side by stressing the book side, it is true. Education is the harmonious development of all human powers. The person who builds his education in intellect alone builds on a sandy foundation. The nature of the religious side of your nature is a human power, and to neglect this is to neglect the greatest power of your life—is to build on the sand. The foundation must decay.

"I have a son, or will I be, as the question confronting the young person. The farmer was asked: 'Why do you send your boy to college?' And he answered: 'To get him to see the difference between a boy and the mule he plows.' "Some exclaim, 'Learn it—then die and forget it all.' But they are wrong. Nothing so learned as to become a part of character is ever forgotten.

"Build your character strong. This character must stand the storms and tests of all the ages to come. Build it for eternity with Christian education."

Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, presiding elder of the Sweetwater district, filled the pulpit at the evening service. He told of the need of training for the youth, and explained how Colorado will be doing a great work if her church fulfills the quota of $5,000. This can be done, he showed, if each member will give $8 to the cause in three years.

Widow Zander At Last Lands Uncle Bim in Ceremony

A $140.00 house gladdened the Zander-Gump wedding party and guests and added to the Baptist Missionary treasury Tuesday night.

The high school auditorium was filled with eager spectators when at 8 o'clock the guests began to arrive. Each was dressed to represent the funny paper character for whom they were named, and all the families were there—Miss Appleby and Ambrose Potts, Mrs. Mannering and A. L. White were the first to arrive. They were accompanied by Miss Appleby's father, John Cobb. Jiggs and Maggie were there, and Maggie sang "Truly Love You." She also wielded the rolling pin effectively. Miss Jiggs, Uncle Walt, Skeezix, Mutt and Jeff, and many others who are daily in the papers. Three who were the center of interest were Mrs. Lasky as Mandy, Mrs. Lee Jones as Rachael, and Mrs. R. B. Terrell as Tilda.

The wedding party made a most impressive appearance. The groomsmen, Pat Whitaker and C. L. Gray; the bridesmaids, Tillie the Toiler, Mrs. Luckey, and Belinda, Mrs. Paul Cooper. Chester, the ring bearer, was appropriately taken by George D. Slaton. The Katzenjammer Kids were train bearers. The Widow Zander, Mrs. A. L. White, looked radiantly happy and Uncle Bim, Kirby Rice, a little scared, but his best man, Andy Gump, Mr. Pickens, kept him calmed down. The minister, Major Hoople, sometimes called Jim Greene, would have gotten the ceremony over in better shape if the Katzenjammer Kids had not tried to take his shoes off while he was tying the nuptial knot.

W. W. Porter, as Walt, looked as though he had just stepped out of the comic strip.
All in all it was a brilliant success, and since the money's the thing, Circle No. One feels well repaid for its efforts. All did their parts well, and the audience got what they went for, an hour of fun.

A Service Record That Affects You

Mr. James C. Penney, in 1902, conducted a small general store in Kemmerer, Wyoming. Out of this humble store has grown, within the past twenty-seven years, a nation-wide institution of over 1200 Department Stores located in every State of the Union. What explains this marvelous growth? When Mr. Penney served the people of Kemmerer he sought to apply the principle of the Golden Rule to the conduct of a retail business not in theory but in practice. Every J. C.

Penney Company Store opened since has been conducted in accordance with the same standards of practice: Every customer pays the same price. That price assures the best value procurable for the money. These values are available EVERY DAY and not reserved for so-called "Sales" Days. We are proud to announce our connection with the J. C. Penney Company and shall keep our readers advised of developments preliminary to our opening as a J. C. Penney Company store.

JOHNSON GRASS POISON TESTED NEAR HERE

The value of calcium chlorate in poisoning Johnson grass is being tested at the Van Tui farm on the Robert Lee road, by W. M. Small, Tommy Dawes, and the county agent. This chemical comes in the form of a powder and is either dusted on the plants or dissolved in water and used as a spray.
It is claimed that the poison will kill 80 per cent of the plants the first time but usually two or three sprayings are necessary to entirely eradicate the pest.
It is said the cost of spraying one acre will amount to about $9 each

LORAIN FARMERS TO TRY OUT CROP SPACING

Hal Hooker and Harry Cranfill of Loraine will carry on crop spacing demonstrations with the county agent to determine which spacing will give the highest yield. Both cotton and maize will be measured where every third row is left blank and compared with the solid row planting. Mr. Cranfill will also compare the yield of maize where peas are planted in the third row with plots where the third row is not planted.
Mr. Hooker also has a demonstration comparing the pure line maize seed with ordinary maize seed.

TWO HUNDRED GUESTS AT WEDDING MISS BERMAN IN SWEETWATER SUNDAY

Number Coloradoans Attend Ceremony And Reception At Blue Bonnett

Two hundred guests were present at the beautiful wedding solemnized Sunday night on the roof of the Blue Bonnett Hotel in Sweetwater when Miss Lena Berman of Colorado became the bride of Marcel Josephson of San Antonio, uniting two prominent families.

Rabbi Samuel T. Phillips of San Antonio awaited the bridal party at a flower-decked altar, banked with palms, arranged under the richly embroidered and gold-fringed symbolic canopy of the Jewish church, while Mrs. Abe Levy, beautiful in a gown of yellow chiffon which was caught at the low side waistline with a single large pink rose, sang "Mine" and "Sweet Mystery of Love." She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Helen Levy, who wore a printed chiffon frock, and Miss Hattie Levy in a bouffant frock of rose colored tulle made with tiered skirt, played the violin obligato.

Following these numbers, the seven piece orchestra played the "Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" to the strains of which the bridal party entered, walking down the aisle of white spread between two sections of chairs. The four ushers, Abe Pullen, San Antonio; Hyman Berman, Colorado; M. Levinson and Joe Karren, both of San Antonio, entered first, forming an aisle in front of the canopy through which other members of the bridal party passed. The other members of the bridal party entered in the following order: John Josephson of San Antonio, a brother of the bridegroom who was best man, entered alone and was followed by Mrs. F. Josephson, mother of the bridegroom, in a handsome gown of American beauty chiffon, who entered on the arm of her son, Marcel. Miss Fannie Levy, maid of honor, wore a becoming frock of rose chiffon, trimmed with brilliant, which enhanced her golden blonde beauty, and with it harmonizing lace and silver kid pumps.

Miss Pearl Josephson, young sister of the bridegroom, wore a bouffant frock of pink taffeta, with matching hose and pink kid slippers.

Mr. F. Josephson, father of the bridegroom, escorted Mrs. Sam Berman, Colorado, mother of the bride, and they were followed by the bridesmaids and groomsmen. Miss Rosetta Samuels of San Antonio, in a frock of shell pink chiffon falling in graceful folds, entered with a fiance, Mr. Henry Josephson. Miss Eva Berman, second bridesmaid, wore an especially becoming and lovely frock of pale green point d'esprit made with tiered skirt, which, while short in front, was long in the back, showing a broken hemline. She wore green pumps of the same shade of the frock. Miss Berman entered with Phil Berman of Colorado.

Little Phyllis Maxine Berman, Thelma Landau, Pauline Levinson, and Marian Britton, all of Colorado, were the flower girls—all dressed in pink georgette, with tiny matching slippers and white socks, they scattered rose petals from graceful white baskets tied with pink tulle bows.

The bride, beautiful in a chiffon frock of palest flesh, banded at neck and at low waist line with brilliants, then entered. The skirt, which was especially beautiful, dipped to the floor in the back. Her veil of flesh-colored tulle was fashioned into a cap of embroidery of pearls and was edged with the same pearl embroidery. The bride carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley, while the bridesmaids carried shafts of pink and white carnations and baby breath, the colors all harmonizing in the medley of pastels. The bride entered with her brother, Max Berman of Colorado, who gave her in marriage.

After the impressive ceremony was read by Rabbi Phillips, the bride and bridegroom preceded the rest of the bridal party in the recessional to the Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

An informal reception followed the wedding when the newly married couple received the congratulations of their friends, and a refreshment plate of ice cream moulded in the form of lilies and bride's slippers, with individual cakes iced in white and decorated with pink rosebuds and nut cups of pink and blue, were passed to the two hundred guests, representing San Antonio, Colorado, Lubbock, Brady and other towns, as well as Sweetwater.

The orchestra played for dancing after reception, and during the dance punch was served throughout the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Josephson are now on their honeymoon in Galveston, and on their return will be at home in San Antonio. Sunday night and Monday morning they received over 150 telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the United States. Attending the ceremony and the reception following, from Colorado were the following: Mr. and Mrs.

Max Berman, and Phyllis; Mrs. Sara Berman, mother of the bride; Mrs. L. Landau, Mrs. Anna Landau; Thelma and Eva Landau, Charles Landau, Evelyn Tritel of New York, guest of the Landaus; Mr. and Mrs. L. Levinson and children, Mr. and Mrs. L. Kirschbaum, and Robert; Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Berman, and Harold; Phil Berman; Mr. and Mrs. Nat Britton, and Marian.

A dinner was served to forty-five members and relatives of the bride's and groom's families in Colorado Sunday noon at the H. I. Berman home. The party motored to Sweetwater after dinner.

KNOW YOUR ATMOSPHERE

Two men were driving a beautiful winding roadway through a rolling wooded country when rounding a curve they suddenly came upon a number of cars at a standstill.

There was an accident, there was no police officer, but no barrier of stoutest iron or electrified steel, no highway's "Road Closed" or "Bridge Out" could have been more effective; cars eastbound and "westbound" stand still as if cemented to the pavement, for a mother Seganka had chosen this artificial highway for a (cautious) promenade of her progeny.

That mother polecat and a lot of little polecats were going places, and in their going, behemoths of gasoline-driven iron and steel—brothers in creation of odiferous atmosphere whose path she crossed, became as statues.

With glance neither to right nor left she led her little family across the highway, while a score or more of earthly dwellers looked on with awe and apprehension, and marveled at her boldness, nerve and determination.

There is no doubt but that many of her kind had ventured to cross that road but faltered after starting and had, therefore, been annihilated; others had looked across the highway and wished they were on the other side; others had peered out at the whizzing automobiles and turned back with fear and trembling in their hearts, and many more were content to stay where they were. But this little "kitty" knew the power of her atmosphere, decided to get somewhere, made known her intentions, started, kept on going, and got to where she was going—to the other side of the road.

The moral to communities is this: Recognize the power of YOUR atmosphere (concerted effort—pulling together) decide on what kind of a community you would like yours to be, then start, individually and collectively, thinking and DOING those things that will make it such—look neither right nor left until you "feel where you are going to."

And, remember, the town that says "it can't be done" will lose its trade to the town that does it.

They Come in Pairs
The mule has two feet behind
And two he has before;
We have to stand behind to find
What the two behind be for.

"I call my wife my 'better half.'"
"Why?"
"Because she's always saying 'You better half your teeth fixed,' and 'You better half your tire patched,' and 'You better half this' and 'You better half that!'"

Sacred Husband—I can hear footsteps. I think there's a man in the house.
Disgusted Wife—I don't.

Collier's Weekly comes out with an article uncovering wholesale graft by the Republicans of Hidalgo county, Texas. It says one road down there, going into Mexico, east of the taxpayers $100,000 a mile and is called "The nickel-plated road to hell." That is a rather a mild form of naming a road. A tourist referred to the Iatan Flats detour recently in much harsher terms. He said "It's a helluva thing to be called a road."

The Reason
"Woman," said the speaker, "how I admire the mind of woman. It keeps young and fresh while a man's mind becomes warped and hide-bound."

"No wonder her mind keeps fresh and young," muttered the meek-looking man in the back of the hall. "She changes it often enough."

Thrice Dead

Not many years after the Civil War, as the story goes, the body of a man was found on a South Carolina beach. This particular section of South Carolina was a negro section, and the negroes at this time had ambitions under carpetbag dominion. So a negro coroner's jury was summoned to determine the cause of the death. They found some bruises on the body, and since it was winter time, the weather was cold for South Carolina. The jury finally reached the following verdict:

1. De stranger was knocked in head and killed on board of some ship unbeknownst to de jury.
2. Den he was throwed overboard and drowned.
3. Den he was washed ashore and friz to death.

REV. GREEN TO HOLD
TWO-WEEKS REVIVAL IN NEIGHBORING TOWN

Associational Missionary To
Have Cooperation of 3
Churches in Meeting

Returning to hold a revival in the town "where he started from" when he began his ministry sixteen years ago, Rev. W. D. Green of Colorado, missionary for the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association, will open a series of meetings in Loraine next Sunday night.

Rev. M. Green states that this revival is being held by him in his capacity as Associational Missionary. It isn't being held by request of the Loraine Baptist church, although members of this church are to take an active part in the revival, as are members of the churches at Looney, Bethel and Pleasant Valley. Members of the latter three churches requested Rev. Mr. Green to hold the revival.

Meetings are to be held in the Loraine Methodist tabernacle, this building having been kindly offered by that church. It will continue two weeks. Keith Miles of Bethel is to lead in the singing.

In holding this revival, Rev. Mr. Green feels that he is returning to the people among whom he got his start. He began making his home in Loraine in 1906, and in October, 1913, he was ordained by the Loraine Baptist church. Bethel was his first pastorate, and he served that church for six years. He organized the Looney church and was its pastor for two years, and was pastor at Pleasant Valley for three years.

In May, 1922, Rev. Mr. Green accepted a call as pastor in Big Spring, in which capacity he served for two years, and for two years was missionary with the Big Spring Baptist Association. At the end of these four years he was called to be pastor of the Park Heights Baptist church in San Angelo. This church he built in two and one-half years from a membership of 118 to a membership of 440.

Recently he accepted a call as missionary in the Mitchell-Scurry Association, and now makes his home in Colorado.

TEXAS & PACIFIC ANNOUNCES FAST FREIGHT SHIPMENTS

DALLAS, June 13.—The Texas and Pacific Railway announces a fast freight service in and out of Dallas to Big Spring that beats anything ever undertaken by railroads in this section of the country.

Dallas merchandise delivered at the T. & P. depot not later than 4:30 p. m. daily, except Sunday, will be ready for delivery the next morning as far west as Colorado and Big Spring, arriving at Colorado about 7:30 and Big Spring at 8:30.

For shipments as far west as Midland and Odessa the new schedule provides for arrival about 1:00 p. m. at Midland and 2:00 p. m. at Odessa. This is indeed a fast freight service and will give strong competition to the automobile truck business to those western points.

HOMER WADE RESIGNS PLACE WITH W. T. C. C.

DALLAS, June 7.—Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, today severed connections with the organization he helped to make famous. Wade, widely known for his work with the West Texas organization, was named manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce by its directors, and immediately accepted the position.

Although Wade's salary was not made public, it was learned that it would be in line with that paid other managers which was $12,000. He was given 30 days in which to conclude his affairs with the West Texas organization.

Working with Wade will be C. J. Crampton, Dallas, executive secretary, a newly created position.

Announcements Sunday were that Howe was vice president of the new organization and Hawk secretary-treasurer. They, with Dorrance Roderick and Lindsay Nunn, were named the chief owners and directors of the new company.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

It is a lamp unto our feet, and a light unto our path.—Psalm 119:105

THE INSIGNIA OF DISCIPLESHIP

John 13:34-35. Jesus said: A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

MOTOR TRAFFIC VERSUS FACTORY PAY ROLL

There is no denying the value of factories to any community. New industries and more industries should be constantly strived for but many cities overlook or fail to recognize the real value of automobile traffic.

DISCIPLESHIP

There are thousands of cities and towns with a population of from 10,000 to 40,000 with an average of 25,000 tourist cars per week (cars more than 100 miles away from their home garage).

RESPECT FOR LAW

President Hoover, in a recent discussion of law enforcement, was moved to say: "A surprising number of our people, otherwise of responsibility in the community, have drifted into the extraordinary notion that laws are made for those who choose to obey them."

TOLERANCE

With much that the philosophers have to say in the newspaper columns about contentment, one may be at variance; one may deny that the man who has attained greatness in business, politics or profession is any more competent than another to define the steps by which that success was attained, but each of us can see the beautiful truth and the gratifying consolation of the practice of such tolerance as is so simply put by the late Judge W. H. Gill in the following words:

"I have lived long and been keen observant. In my youth and young manhood I found it in my heart to love, and despise, and to hold some of my fellowmen in contempt. But I have long since learned that I have no means of justly judging any man. I cannot know all the facts. I cannot read his heart and perceive his motives. I cannot divine his limitations nor rightly make allowances for his weaknesses. But this I do know—that if those who know a man best like him, or love him, or respect him, or even tolerate him, then I know that in that man is more good than evil. And that is quite as much as can be said for me. For these reasons, I have never speak no evil of men nor women, nor to repeat any harmful or scandalous rumor. If the rumor is true, still I am not able to pass judgment upon it in all its phases and aspects; and so it is uncharitable to join in its spread. If it is false, or not even wholly true, then both legally and morally it is a crime to repeat it. Remember, Jesus, who spoke all wisdom concerning the minds and hearts of men said, 'Judge not, lest ye be judged.'—Merkel Mail.

TOWNS ARE LIKE SOME MERCHANTS

Many towns are like some merchants—they spend much time and money trying to attract new business when they are not getting all there is to get out of the business they already have.

There is, in the advertising business, what is called the "Golden Triangle" of every mercantile establishment. It is that space in front of the store where people who pass can see the store entrance and the windows. It is the vital point in every retail business; for no merchant can sell his wares (excluding mail order and telephone orders) unless the people come into the store. The advertising to reach the area so named is what is called "Point of Purchase" advertising. Its purpose is to stop the passerby, which is the one big reason for show windows and window displays. Through this medium the merchant attempts to attract attention, then create a desire to enter the store. American people buy by eye—what the eye doesn't see advertised or in a show window he doesn't fancy.

Towns are exactly like stores in this general respect. If a town got all of the business from the traffic it already has, it is ten-to-one that it would never have to spend any money for additional business. But so long as there are towns, and the people in them remain human, they will probably continue to go out after more customers when they have not got all there is to be had from the traffic they already have.

Let us take automobile traffic as one angle of revenue or business for a town. Every strange automobile that passes through your city is worth a goodly sum—much more than most people think—but you must stop the car and get the passengers out of it, if you are going to get their business. Twenty per cent of these people who tour by motor car are in the market for or can be sold a new location. Every motorist can be made to be the cause for more motorists coming to your town. An analysis of this means of town income shows many surprising facts, chief of which is first, that very few towns recognize the business that can be had from it.

One morning a few years ago I left Chicago very early for points east. To save time and avoid traffic I took a back road, but much to my chagrin I encountered a freight train whose engineer evidently had no place to go and was in no hurry to get there. The half hour that I was delayed I have never regretted, for while waiting there I saw that which to me was, and always will be a picture in life of wonderful significance.

Just inside the fence from where I sat parked lay a calf of less than six months of age, lazily dozing in the morning sunshine. The morning was warm and the flies were more than numerous. Around the calf were many goslings, one of which was some five feet or more away, lazily sunning himself with eyes half open, but occasionally rousing sufficiently to pick off a fly that came unsuspectingly close enough. Another little fellow had settled himself directly adjacent to and up against that which soon would be someone's veal steak, and was fast asleep. Had the calf moved, one little duck would have been no more. Two other little downy ones with much vim and quacking endurance were chasing their fool legs off trying to run down, overtake and devour elusive insects that were far too clever for them—BUT—there was another little duck standing at that portion of the reclining calf's anatomy where swish of tail and toss of head failed to disturb him, picking hundreds of flies off the calf's back—in other words, taking advantage of an opportunity.

DAVIS MOUNTAIN PARK

The proposal of State purchase of 20,400 acres in the Davis Mountains is a definite step toward a judicious policy of providing Texas with three great State parks instead of many small ones. At the quoted price of $7 an acre, instead of the previous estimates of $12, Texas is apparently offered a splendid opportunity to acquire land for the park reservation at a reasonable price. Senator Berkeley is evidently of the opinion that hunting license fees for the game preserve will meet the subsequent payments on the purchase, a theory that, if proved true, would reduce the cost of the entire park to a small sum.

If the State is finally committed to a policy of concentrating on three large parks, there can be little doubt that the Davis Mountains offer a fit location for one of them. Scenically, this is one of the most beautiful sections of Texas. The improvement of the Old Spanish Trail will render it readily accessible. Here the rugged Texas natural beauty is preserved as it has always been. The wisdom of concentrating on a few great State parks is, it seems to The News, apparent. There can be both acquired and administered more economically than a larger number of small reservations. But an even greater reason is in the attraction both to tourists and Texans. Yellowstone is a great park because it is a huge reservation in which the majesty of western scenery is unimpaired by human improvement that is all too frequently desecration. Fifty Yellowstone scattered throughout Wyoming would mean no more than so many picnic grounds.—Dallas News.

With the price of wheat below a dollar a bushel, the lowest in 16 years, the National Congress is still debating farm relief. When Congress began talking farm relief, wheat was better than $2 per bushel, and when President Hoover convened a special session of Congress to enact farm relief legislation wheat and other farm products were bringing a good price. Now what are they bringing? It does not necessarily mean that Congress has "talked" the price of these commodities down, but the price has continually slumped while Congress was talking. Now the price of wheat is the lowest in 16 years and one of the biggest crops in history is coming on the market. It may be that Congress will do something to help the farmer, but The Record editor will have to see it done before he will believe it.

Hyman Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Pierce were called to Nimrod, Texas, this past week by a telegram stating that Mrs. E. H. Pierce, the mother of Mr. Pierce, was dying from the bite of a Copperhead snake. They found Mrs. Pierce some better, and last reports were that she would recover.

Morris Wood, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Vowell down at their farm, had the misfortune to get spider bitten a week ago Saturday and was rushed to town. Friday, he had the further misfortune of having his arm broken, when he was taken to Sterling to have it set. He is reported doing fine. Morris is having a streak of bad luck. Perhaps a Jinx is on his trail, but we hope from this time on his troubles are of the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Atkins had a house full of guests this past week, when Mr. Atkins' brother was here from Fort Worth, and Mrs. Atkins' brother, Mr. Jim Williams, was here from New Mexico. Both left the last of the week for their respective homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dawson and family and Mrs. T. P. Smallwood were visitors to Big Spring the past week. They only made a short trip to our little neighboring oil city on the west of us.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Smallwood entertained the young people of Hyman with a big party Saturday night, and it was estimated that about two hundred were there, some of them coming from Spade, Westbrook and some of our other neighboring towns. They played games and danced until about 2 o'clock and left tired but happy. These young folks, most of them, work hard and we are always glad for them to get together and enjoy themselves to the fullest. Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood did their utmost to make them enjoy it. We hope that not too long a time will pass before they invite them back again.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Boyd killed fat fatted turkey, chicken or calf, and had a spread Sunday, inviting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews to their home to partake of the feast. We are glad that it did not keep them from returning to Sunday School, where we could not do without them all.

Miss Myra Smallwood, one of our popular young misses, spent the week with her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pierce of Colorado, returning home in time to be with us Sunday and attending Sunday school.

Mr. Verne Ragsdale went to Colorado last week, to be at the bedside of Brother Bryant's son-in-law, who was carried to the hospital for an operation. Brother Bryant and family are very close personal friends of the Woodwards and Brother Bryant is often in the home of the Woodwards and the people of Hyman, who know Brother Bryant well, as he often preaches here, hope for his son-in-law a very speedy and safe recovery.

Miss Jessie Black had the misfortune yesterday (Sunday) morning of being spider bitten, the spider biting her while she was asleep in bed. She was rushed to Colorado to a doctor, and was from last report doing well. We sincerely hope she will soon be entirely recovered. Spider bites are not only dangerous but very painful.

J. D. McCoy, lately of Alabama, has come to Hyman to swell the population of our splendid little settlement of Hyman, and is for the present staying with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Andrews, helping some of the farmers out with their crops, and since the recent rain the cotton has grown like wild fire and it takes about all the hands that Hyman can raise to get and keep the crops clean.

Rayner Hyman of San Antonio, accompanied by his nephew, Marion King also of San Antonio, arrived last week to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman. Rayner and Harry Hyman are brothers. Marion King is not a stranger to Hyman, as he was here last summer, arriving early in the summer and staying until fall. He arrived a small boy, but left quite a young man, having gained many pounds in weight as well as a few inches in height, all due to the fine, healthy climate of Hyman, as well as the good eats of one of the Hyman matrons. He made a lot of friends while here, and they are glad to give him the welcoming hand. Mr. Hyman is one of the firm of the Lone Star Ice Company of San Antonio, and they are the company which has recently bought out the Snow White Creameries and the West Texas Dairies of this part of the country. They are a big company and have recently bought out nearly all of the dairies of San Antonio, and are further enlarging their holdings. This farm was established some eight years ago in San Antonio, and their growth has been most remarkable. Mr. Hyman spent several days in our community seeing the oil wells now drilling, the show farms at Hyman, made a visit to Colorado, and for the time spent in Hyman he felt fine, much better than when he came. Such testimonials as this speak well for the thriving little town we live in. He brought with him some fine watermelons and cantaloupe, and they were greatly enjoyed, as the Hyman melons are not

ACCOUNT OF SNYDER-DAVIS WEDDING LAST WEDNESDAY EVENING

Marshall News Carries Long Story of Marriage of Colorado Man

The Marshall (Texas) News devoted a column and a half to an account of the wedding of Dudley H. Snyder, Jr., of Colorado, and Miss Texie B. Davis of that place last Wednesday evening. The story is as follows:

Before an altar of southern smilax and white Kilarney roses, Miss Texie B. Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis, became the bride of Dudley H. Snyder, Jr., of Colorado, Texas, at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of her parents on East Austin street. A wealth of white Kilarney roses, swainsons and fern banked the mantel in the solarium which formed an improvised altar. Narrow ribbon streamers caught with swainsons hung from the mantel piece. The ceremony was performed by the light of white tapers in tall candelabra on each side of the improvised altar.

The wide stairway in the center of the living room where the bridal party entered was entwined with southern smilax. Ferns, palms, ficus elastica and other tropical plants and two large floor baskets of rose and yellow gladiolas banked the landing at the head of the stairs.

A carpet of pale green satin led from the stairway to the solarium. The aisle was marked with white wicker aisle posts decorated with white Kilarney roses and with American Beauty floor vases of gladiolas in pastel shades. The baskets and aisle posts were tied with white maline ribbons.

David Hansard, professor of violin at College of Industrial Arts at Denton, a cousin of the bride, played softly, "I Love You Truly," preceding the ceremony.

Træser Firmin sang "At Dawning." Both she and Mr. Hansard were accompanied by Mrs. Monte Allen who played Lohengrin's Wedding march as the bridal party entered. During the ceremony she played Schubert's serenade.

The ushers, Allison Woodall of Dallas, Harold Brennand of Colorado, Rod Merritt of Colorado, and Nelson Jones of Mineola, and Don Wallace of Colorado, the best man, took their places before the altar.

The bridegroom and the minister, Rev. Fred Paw, pastor of the First Methodist church, entered the solarium from the porch and waited before the altar for the bride.

Helen Snyder, sister of the bride, groom, and Irby Lee Blalock, cousin of the bride, followed, scattering rose petals over the green satin aisle. They wore sheer maline frocks of blue with white skirts and capes made entirely of small ruffles.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jahnne Tucker of Dallas, Miss Mary Rains, Miss Margaret Furrh, and Miss Opal Jones of Cushing, Oklahoma, wore period gowns of taffeta and maline in pastel shades and carried formal bouquets of yellow pernet roses and lavender sweet peas tied with green maline.

Miss Dorothy Davis, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a pale green frock made in the same mode as the bridesmaids. She carried a bouquet of Briarcliff roses and swainsons, tied with a pink maline bow.

Mary Hallet Fry and Nancy Rose Wood, the other flower girls, wore frocks of pink maline similar to those of the other flower girls.

The bride's wedding gown was of ivory lace over egg-shell satin. It was fashioned in long princess lines with a circular skirt of lace edged with a deep flounce of maline in the softest tones of suntan. Her cap was of real lace encrusted with pearls and the train was of maline in the same shade of her skirt.

She carried a large bridal bouquet of orchids, golden Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley with showers of satin and gauze of eggshell tones tied with valley lilies. She wore a necklace of pearls and crystals.

She entered on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. Her train bearers, David Key and Joe Hirsch, Jr., wore white satin suits.

For the ceremony she and the bridegroom knelt on a white wicker prie-Dieu, before the improvised altar.

Following the ceremony the guests were entertained with an informal garden party on the lawn, which was lighted with blue and green lights.

An orchestra furnished music for dancing on the spacious porch and small tables were arranged on the lawn for the serving of the wedding cake and an ice course.

Under a huge wedding bell outlined in electric lights from which showers of valley lilies hung, a large wedding cake in three tiers, topped with a smaller wedding bell, was served by Mrs. Aubrey Hess of Pittsburg, and Mrs. B. C. McElroy.

Mrs. Bryan Blalock, Mrs. Myron Blalock, and Mrs. Horace Blalock served a green and white ice course formed in the shape of hearts and centered with miniature cupids.

In the dining room Mr. and Mrs. August Carter served punch.

Mrs. Snyder's traveling costume was an ensemble in shades of suntan and brown, with a blouse and hat and slippers of egg-shell shade.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder will make

"Sargon" did more for me in less than a month than all the medicines I used in five years. My friends say they have never seen such a remarkable change in anyone in such a short time. Every trace of indigestion is gone. My food gives me the proper nourishment and I have gained five pounds. I feel good all the time.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills overcome constipation in a natural way. They not only have rid me of constipation but have driven the malarial poisons out of my body.

The bride was a student at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, the past year, where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She was popular in student activities at S. M. U. and was selected as a candidate for Beauty Queen this fall. She attended National Park seminary, Maryland, the year before.

Mr. Snyder was also a student at Southern Methodist University the past year, where he was a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity and is a graduate of New Mexico Military Institute.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Snyder of Colorado, parents of the bridegroom; Helen Snyder, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Opal Jones of Cushing, Oklahoma; Mrs. Mary Wood of Texarkana; Mrs. R. J. Wallace of Colorado; and Mrs. Aubrey Hess of Pittsburg.

PLYMOUTH CONQUERS 76 PER CENT

A motorist seldom has occasion to climb a 76 per cent grade, but the less gratified to know his mobile can if necessary.

In order to determine for whether the Plymouth motor sufficient power to conquer grade, W. P. Hubbard, the Plymouth dealer at Bakerfield, Cal., staged a hill-climbing trial on Hill, near that city, known to mobile drivers as one of "the hills in the country."

What could be simpler?

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

When the General Electric engineers worked over this refrigerator for fifteen years, they surely knew what they were about. They wanted something simple but efficient—and they got it. This refrigerator hasn't a pipe or a fan or a belt. It hasn't a bit of machinery hiding under it—or nestling in the basement. It never needs a drop of oil. All its mechanism is sealed away from the pitfalls of this world in a casing of steel, air-tight.

You can't get at the machinery, Junior can't either—and no one else will have to. For it's all assembled in the factory, where it is tested any number of times. Then it's hermetically sealed. When we deliver it to you, we don't have to solder a single joint, or connect a single pipe or twist a single screw. We just lower it into the top of the cabinet—built to receive it. All you have to do is to plug it into any convenience outlet.

Why not drop in and see the many models? And, by the way, you can buy on time, if you prefer.

IF JESUS LIVED HERE TODAY SUBJECT EWELL SERMON LAST SUNDAY

First Christian Pastor Says He Would Not Make His Religion Incidental

"If Jesus lived in Colorado today, He would not make religion a little incidental thing of life."

This was one of the positive statements made by Rev. A. E. Ewell, pastor of the First Christian church, in his Sunday evening sermon at his church. The subject of the sermon was, "If Jesus Lived in Colorado Today."

"I do not know why," said Rev. Mr. Ewell in opening his sermon, but the world is flooded with most unnatural theories about Jesus. Theories about His miraculous power, theories of His second coming, and about many other subjects that belittled instead of exalting Jesus. Jesus is bigger than any theory about Him and any theory that exalts itself above Him is of necessity not true. But is this just another theory about Jesus?"

"It is not, for Jesus did live in Nazareth and was all over Palestine in His ministry. As Jesus lived then in relation to others and to conditions, so would He live today if He were here. His childhood and youth were like the childhood and youth of anyone else. Paul says: 'Be ye followers of me as I am also of the Lord Jesus Christ.' He also says: 'I am not of those who measuring themselves by themselves and comparing themselves among themselves are not wise. Howbeit I am not without my measure which is Christ Jesus.' Jesus lived in the flesh to show us the Divine idea of how a human life should be lived. He is an example to us in all things."

"If Jesus lived in Colorado today He would not allow His environment to mould His life but would make of His life the fullest possibilities. He was born and raised in poverty and yet he learned to read and write, a rare accomplishment for that day, and learned of all nature about him. He was the oldest son of a widowed mother and she and the younger children were dependent on Him and in dire poverty and yet He was enabled to prepare himself for His great mission in life. He learned nothing in a miraculous way and achieved nothing in that way. He performed no miracle until after His baptism by John and the descent of the Holy Spirit upon Him. Cana was His first miracle. The life of Jesus is an inspiration to all men and women for all time to get a vision of a great life's task and that no circumstance or combination of circumstances can keep one from preparing for and achieving the task of life. If Jesus lived in Colorado today he would as inevitably work out His life's task as He did in Nazareth and more easily for there is far better opportunity here."

"If Jesus lived in Colorado today He would not make religion a little, incidental thing of life. When but a boy He marveled that they looked for Him at any place but the temple when they had lost Him, and said, 'Wot ye not that I should be about my Father's business?' At Nazareth He attended the synagogue. No doubt that no one there had an intellect to compare with His and yet He did not say they could not interest Him. If you are so wise the church of God needs you to teach others. Jesus went into the synagogue and read the scripture 'as his wont was.' It was his habit. Some people are saying, 'I think it is foolishness to go to church unless you enjoy it. I do not enjoy going to church.' On that basis one is excused from being honest or virtuous if he does not enjoy these things. But you say that is a matter of right and wrong. Just so and it is also a matter of right and wrong about going to church. It is God's will and He warns us about forsaking the assembling of ourselves together. We make all kinds of excuses. I had a member once who said it was too hot. Yet he went to a Sunday baseball game where it was many times hotter than in church services. On Sunday afternoon the tabernacle was filled and they were all standing around on the outside. I am not in the least criticizing them for it but on the other hand I am glad they did. But if they will do that for their enjoyment why not fill the church houses to sing praise unto God and above all to hear His word and try to advance the Kingdom of God? There are those in all of the churches in town that have complained that the weather is too hot to go to church, but it was not too hot to go to a singing that they enjoyed. Nothing, neither cold or heat or distance or ill convenience will keep us from doing what we desire to do. Jesus did not let the ignorance, the narrowness and ugliness of spirit keep Him from attending services at the synagogue. He went to the regular temple worship though he knew the priests had not spirituality and were really thieves. His example and His obedience was for and in har-

ABILENE MAN IS WELL FOR FIRST TIME IN TWELVE MONTHS

Says if he Had Heard of Orgatone Year Ago It Would Have Saved Him World of Suffering

"I honestly believe that this Orgatone saved me from a breakdown in health," said Harold Dunn, a well-known plumber's helper who resides at 2458 S. Third St., Abilene, Texas, to the Orgatone representative at the drug store.

"Twelve months ago, I began to suffer with stomach trouble and indigestion and have not seen a well day since until I started taking Orgatone. It seemed that everything I ate turned to vinegar in my stomach, it got too sour, and gas would rise and swell me up until I felt miserable. This would sometimes make me so nervous that I couldn't rest at night and would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I retired. I felt so sluggish and tired all the time that I just dreaded to go to work, and when I started on the job of any sort I just simply had to drive myself every minute to get anything done."

"I was always taking some sort of medicine or tonics to regulate my stomach and bowels, but nothing ever relieved me, either indigestion or the gas pains. My health just kept leaving me gradually and I am almost certain that I was bordering on a breakdown unless I could find something to help me. I saw in the paper several statements from people whom I knew, about what this Orgatone had done for them, and tho' I did not have much faith in any kind of medicine anymore, I thought I would try it."

"I never saw anything in my life that equals the way Orgatone took hold of my system and commenced to straighten me out. I have an appetite now that keeps me hustling to satisfy it. I digest easily every bite I eat and I know it is building me up, for I have more strength already, and a meeting stronger and better every day. I am now on my second bottle of Orgatone and my nerves are as steady as anybody's and I am gaining in strength and energy all the time. I feel like an entirely different person, and when I go to work it just seems more like play to me than anything else. My bowels are in splendid condition and all of my troubles are a thing of the past."

"I hope somebody else will see what I say about Orgatone for I know it will do anyone who suffers as I did, the same thing it did for me."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Colorado from the Colorado and the City Drug Stores. Adv-11

mony with the will of God. Do not destroy your home because there are a few rats in it and do not destroy the church of God because there are a few unworthy members in it. Put away your prejudices and hats and worship God."

"If Jesus lived in Colorado today He would not be swept by public and popular opinion. They wanted to make an earthly king of Him but He refused. He did not court popularity. He said of some, 'Ye seek me but for the loaves and fishes,' just for what you can get out of it. He was not moved by this false popularity nor was he concerned when this wave subsided and some of them turned back. He said to His disciples, 'Will ye also go away?' The world has often been swept by waves of emotionality but when these recede the ones moved only emotionally quit. God wants us moved emotionally but He wants our firm determination exercised and our lives decided by our judgment as to God's will and our firm determination holding us there though the whole world fall away. This is how Jesus did live when on earth and that is how he would live if in Colorado today."

"If Jesus lived in Colorado today He would lead a purposeful life. He did when on earth. He said at its close, 'I have finished the work thou gavest me to do.' We all have a task. Will you let money making or pleasure sweep you aside or be moved by the way others live so that you do not live for the great God-given purpose of your life? So many people do not live their own lives but simply drift. Environment decides for them their ideas of morals, religion and achievement. Jesus would do as He did when on earth, have a great purpose in His life and He would not let anything keep Him from carrying it out. Are you drinking bootleg liquor just because others do, and you do not want to seem strange? Are you compromising your ideals just to accommodate yourself to those about you? If so you are an unspeakable coward and though you have a million dollars or rise to the presidency of the United States you are a nonentity and your life is beneath contempt. They took Jesus and crucified Him because He would not surrender His ideals and lay down His real life. They thought of Him as a failure at in dying He shouted forth the statement, 'It is finished.' Those who crucified Him and the Roman government that allowed it done almost forgotten, but Jesus grows in power and influence as time goes on. Yes, Jesus would live His life and fulfill His task if He were in Colorado today irrespective of how others lived or did. "If Jesus lived in Colorado today He would live a full life. He said, 'I came that you might have life and have it more abundantly.' He said, 'I have overcome the world.' But He would not think of this life as most important of all. He would live this life as though it were all. When on earth He went to the wedding, to the house of death, He entered into the life of the children. His was a full and natural life. But He said to His disciples when they mourned at His saying that He would have to leave them, that is die, 'In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you and I will come again and receive you unto myself.' In other words, the life here is to be lived in fullness but we are to think of the life beyond as greater than this. Jesus said to Martha, 'I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth on me though he were dead, yet shall he live again and he that believeth on me and liveth shall never die.' No wonder when on the cross He could forget Himself and console a dying thief and remember John and His mother for He was through a bitter way entering into a more glorious life. If Jesus were in Colorado today he would make most of the life that now is but look upon it as less than the life that is to come."

'CALIFORNIA IN COLORADO' IS DREAM AND ACCOMPLISHMENT OF MRS. ZEB WOOD OF POND HILL

"A California in Colorado!" That is the avowed aim of Mrs. Zeb Wood, who lives up on Pond Hill, and it bids fair to become her accomplishment, one thinks, after a trip over her extensive yard and garden. Located where there is little passing of joy riders, Mrs. Wood, with the help of her husband, who is an employee of the county, has labored to beautify her home without thought of winning praise, and it has all been done without hired help and done in three years.

"I love growing things," she says. "I don't know how I'd live without working around flowers and trees and vines."

Mrs. Wood does all her own work—that is, she has no hired help and she has no daughter. A remarkable thing is that she is as scrupulous in her house as she is outside, which is rather unusual for a person loving yard work as she does.

Everything ugly in her yard offends the eye of Mrs. Wood, and a hedge of locust trees has been started by the hog-pen back of the garden, and evergreens and vines are growing up to cover it on sides where there are no locust trees. Even the table on which she sows her milk is hidden by a grapevine, and the space where she does her washing is surrounded by flowers and trees and clean as a pin.

All the work on this yard has been done in three years, the house being only that old. Over 100 trees surround the house, and these include cottonwoods, locusts, cedars, mulberry, and others, all put out not more than three years ago. All the trees have had remarkable growth in their three years of life, and the house even now appears to be almost in the midst of a wood. The cottonwoods are growing up on either side of the walk to the house, and a grove of locusts, two long rows not far apart, are gaining appreciable size along the north.

To the southwest of the house is a croquet court, lined by locust trees. To the east of this is a vegetable garden, with shrubs and flowers bordering it. The lawn around the house is velvet green and well kept. Beds, filled with honeysuckle, four o'clocks, phlox in profusion, and others flange the border of the porch and the house.

Wonder of wonders, the back yard excels the front, if such were possible, for here Mrs. Wood has shown remarkable skill not only in growing flowers and trees, but also in landscaping. A trellis painted white and about three feet high, is built about six feet back of the back door, and runs past the house on each side, as to be visible from the road. Against this grow petunias, Colorado's flower, in luxuriant profusion of quantity and color. The lawn from this to the back door is unbroken.

It would be impossible to describe in detail Mrs. Wood's work in the section of the lot back of her house. The lawn only extends around the house, and then set in white beaten paths between beds of flowers—namely every kind grown in Colorado being represented, and some kinds not ordinarily grown here.

Some of the beds are laid off in triangles, some in circles, and other shrubs and flowers are just "put." The fact that they are so is one of the chief charms of the garden—it looks like it was meant by nature to grow just as Mrs. Wood has planted it.

An orchard with rows of vegetables between the tree rows, is still farther to the east. This makes every inch of the four lots utilized in some way or other.

An example of Mrs. Wood's resourcefulness is shown in the row of birdseed she has growing around one of her triangular beds. She says she found the seed on the highway one day, where presumably a car had been wrecked, and decided to see if she could grow them.

Perhaps the most striking thing about the laboring side of the creation of this yard is the manner in which Mr. and Mrs. Wood irrigate from rains.

The yard is on the hill slope, of course, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood have made a ditch which will turn rain waters from the side of the road into their yard. The yard is banked up on the south, and holds the rain-water until the entire yard is soaked. The water can be turned either of two ways, benefitting the part of the lots most needing it.

Mrs. Wood lays the success of her yard largely to this irrigation scheme—plus plenty of city water, hard work, and love of flowers and trees. She says she has carried many a five-gallon can full of sand to make her beds fertile.

She has a picture of a little oil-field shack where she and Mr. Wood lived some years ago. The first picture shows the shack—just a shack and an ugly one at that—then there are pictures of the shack at different stages of improvement, and the last one shows no shack at all—just a bower of vines and flowers, having somewhat the bulk of a house, and with openings for windows and doors.

"I was fortunate," Mrs. Wood says "in having all the water I wanted for that place, but the soil was not even good, and there were times when I dug out beds and filled them in with as much as 18 inches of sand which my husband hauled."

Mr. and Mrs. Wood are moving to a farm in Mitchell county soon, and instead of lamenting over the accomplishments here which she will have to go away and leave, Mrs. Wood is already bubbling over with plans to beautify her farm home, besides raising enough vegetables, hogs and chickens to "live at home," even as she does now.

"I'll have plenty of room there," she says, "and I just feel like I can grow trees and flowers and vines that will really and truly be 'a California in Texas.'" where the quiet is "at" and where the cool breezes blow.

Mr. Lloyd McGinley of the McGinley-Sigler Oil Co. was in Hyman last Friday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman. We all wish him good luck in the wells he is drilling near us.

Roy Coles, principal of our schools here, accompanied by Mrs. Coles, left here at the close of school. Since that time they have visited his brother, Ewell Coles, who is attending Texas Tech at Lubbock, also his sister, Mrs. A. F. Richter of the same place.

Returning they stopped at Brownsfield, Lamesa, Gail and Snyder, returning to Hyman on Monday, where they will spend the week. We are all glad to have them back. The teacherage looks lonesome without them and the young teachers, Miss Virginia Welsh and Miss Fay McDonald, and we will be glad when school begins again to have them all with us permanently.

Mrs. Tom Vowell and her "bunch" went down to Sterling Sunday night spending a few hours there with her husband and boys down there. They must have had a very enjoyable time, as they did not get back until the wee small hours.

We are glad to report that the cotton crop out here is progressing nicely. Some squares are being found already, and cotton chopping is the order of the day. If there is any doubt of this, come out and see the army wielding the hoes.

These Tires Don't Bloom

"One expects flowers to bloom, and they are mighty pretty when they do, but when a tire goes 'blooming' it's just too bad," said Allen Connell of the Hicks Rubber Co., Dayton and Star dealer in Colorado, yesterday.

"The tread of the Dayton King and DeLuxe tires is made by a special Dayton process which makes the tread non-blooming," said Mr. Connell. "The Dayton dispersion process, as it is called, is not just a word, but a definite and a very new process. It assures perfect distribution of all ingredients, which means greater toughness, greater wearing ability, greater resistance to abrasion, and greater resilience without weakness."

"The amount of rubber underneath the deep non-skid of the Dayton King of DeLuxe is sufficient to protect the carcass and give the greatest possible wear. Yet the tire is not over-balanced at this point. If it were over-balanced, the tread would grind off and tear away from the carcass. The new tread also extends farther down along the sidewalls.

"Our pride in the heaviest and strongest tire in the world is exceeded only by the enthusiastic satisfaction reported to us by proud purchasers," said Mr. Connell.

Real Pioneers of Colorado Live Again in Newspaper For July, 1883, Now Property of Mrs. Clara Smith

The Time—July 7, 1883.
The Place—A three-year-old little town, Colorado.
The story—A silent one of printed words, of little significance more than news of the moment then, but now enhanced by the passing years of nearly half a century. For on that date was printed the issue of the Colorado Clipper, found recently by Mrs. Clara Smith in the lock-box of her deceased husband, J. W. Smith, who was a pioneer grocery man in Colorado.

A very decent looking paper yet, is this copy of Colorado's first newspaper, scarcely yellowed by the years, since it was well protected in the lock-box of Mr. Smith. Now, however, since it has been exposed to the air, it has fallen apart at the folds, but is still readable.

There is a striking dearth of familiar names in its four pages. A few are mentioned in it who live now, but most of them are memories. The editor's name does not appear anywhere in it, but old-timers say it was Doc A. H. Toler who guided this early weekly. It was devoted, says its motto, to the "Livestock and Commercial Interests of West Texas."

"Colorado City, Texas," says a note on the front page of the paper. "A town but three years old, has a population of five thousand, street cars, telephone, water works, a fine opera house that cost $37,000, and is growing very rapidly. The largest stock yards in Texas are located there. The assessor's list shows the assets to be $10,000,000 this year."

On the front page of this paper appear the following ads, which no doubt bring in many names familiar to older residents of Colorado: Real estate, Hazard, Clark & Co.; T. H. East, M. D.; Dr. S. Davies, dentist; Geo. W. Smith and C. W. Merrill, attorneys-at-law; C. C. McGinnis &

Son, C. H., lawyers, land and collecting agents; C. B. McHenry and R. T. Terrell, physician and surgeons; Frank Lester, attorney at law and land agent.

Robt. A. Jeffers, lawyer, land agent, and notary public; F. W. and Ashby James, attorneys-at-law; A. R. Smith, physician and surgeon; W. S. J. Adams, attorney-at-law; J. M. Clark and W. S. Smallwood, attorneys-at-law; Henry A. Fowlkes and R. H. Allen, attorneys at law; A. V. D. Old and W. C. McCallum, attorneys at law; B. M. Hughes, physician; T. A. Phillips, physician; P. C. Coleman, physician; R. J. Ferguson, notary public; J. W. Pearson, physician; R. H. Looney, attorney at law and general land agent; T. D. Martin and Wm. Kennedy, attorneys; Clementson & Lucas, attorneys; H. N. Graves, physician.

Larger ads on the same page are those of the following firms: Snider, Robinson & Vreeland, composed of I. Snider, W. B. Robinson, and C. E. Vreeland, hardware; Swartz, Raas & Co., dry goods and clothing; M. M. Francis & Co., dealers in hardware; R. G. Milliken, wholesale and retail dealer in choice wines, liquors, etc.; The French Restaurant, with Henry Becker as proprietor; The Planters' Hotel, with Mrs. J. Swartz as proprietress; Mme. DeFontaine, fashionable dressmaker.

"My hack," said Eli Newsom in his small notice, "will make regular trips to and from Cold Spring, leaving the Rendenbrook House (a hotel here) at 7 a. m., arriving at the spring at 5:30 p. m., leaving there for Colorado at six p. m."

The ad of Burns, Walker & Co., which was composed of F. M. Burns, J. A. Walker, A. W. Dunn, Z. T. Williams, and J. A. Peacock, was the largest in the paper. They listed themselves as receiving and forwarding merchants and dealers in general merchandise.

Other advertisers in the paper were Elliott & Roe, dealers in rough and dressed lumber; Ware Brothers, dry goods and groceries; L. D. Martin and Terrell Harris, staple and fancy groceries; Colorado Coal, Wood and Commission company, composed of Julian J. Hooper, principal, J. R. Hooper manager, and Ashby S. James, attorney, and J. F. Pike foreman.

Dan S. Park & Co., dealers in watches, clocks and diamonds; D. H. Mason, C. Q. Goodman, and Frank Lester, real estate and collecting agents; Shradar and Rogers, druggists; W. H. Snyder, B. H. Craig, and T. E. McDevitt, wholesale and retail grocers and clothiers; Mrs. E. Spicer, fashionable milliner; Rendenbrook Hotel, Mrs. Wm. M. Dunn, proprietor; Moor Bros., wagon yard and feed stable; W. Cameron, lumber; Hunt & Doss, drugs; John A. Miller & Co., saddles and stockmen's outfits; C. L. Borome & Co., the Colorado Steam-Pressed Brick Factory; the Colorado National Bank, with the following officers: A. W. Dunn president, J. W. Coleman vice president, J. A. Peacock second vice president, W. F. Hendrix cashier.

Nearly all the business firms gave their address as being along Oak street, the street which runs in front of the courthouse now. It was the main business street then, though there were a few houses on Second street. And practically all the ads were designed, it is apparent, with the primary intention of catching cattlemen's eyes.

Two notices concerning steps to be taken toward the incorporation of Colorado as a city are carried in the paper, both signed by J. W. Pearson county judge. It seems that the citizenship had voted to incorporate the town at an election in June, 1883.

Most of the reading material in the four pages of the paper is of a general nature, many articles being about national and foreign affairs, and many articles being taken from other papers. One page, the third one, is devoted to local news, and on this page is a story about how Coloradans celebrated the fourth of July. Mrs. Smith can clearly recall the celebration, which took place in a park then situated out near the cemetery, and to which many of the citizens were conveyed by means of the "street cars"—mule-drawn carriages which were supposed to "run" on schedule.

"Colorado," says the Clipper, "was not behind their sister cities in the celebration of the anniversary of our independence. The morning came in with a shower, and until 9 o'clock the rain continued to fall, then held up for an hour or two. At about half past nine the brass band on the corner of the square and Oak street began to discourse national airs, which was the signal for the gathering at the park where the enterprising and polite manager, Mr. Frank Lester, had prepared everything in his power to make all comfortable and enjoy themselves. At about half past one, Hon. W. S. J. Adams mounted the rostrum and made a neat and entertaining address to the assemblage, but his speech was cut short by a very hard shower.

"After the conclusion of the address, dinner was announced, and the crowd repaired to the tables on the outside of the pavilion, which were supplied bounteously with the nicest of barbecued meats and other edibles.

"After the dinner, dancing was indulged in by the young ladies and gentlemen under the pavilion, and horse racing by the gentlemen on the outside. A half-mile tilt between Mr. Dave Terry's mare and Mr. Adair's brown horse resulted in the mare's coming out best.

"A sweepstake race, free to all, was indulged in by several gentlemen, notable among whom was Mr. Jacob Frenkle, who came out last but not least.

About six o'clock, the Knights of Pythias on horseback, attired in full uniform and helmets with red plumes, arrived on the ground and in a few moments a public installation took place under the pavilion. A sparring match took place at the Tivoli beer garden and was well attended.

These locals appeared in the paper:

"John Good's livery stable is being torn down and will be replaced by a fine two-story brick.

"There seems to be a conspiracy against whiskey this week, some of the boys trying to drink it all up.

"Brick work is progressing rapidly on the Sherwin and Griffin broods, and Rennie building opposite the Clipper office.

"The town pump has been knocked cranked by a passing vehicle. The pump should be kept in repair to use in case of fire, if for no other purpose.

"Mr. John Harris bought the lot on the southwest corner of Second and Walnut streets this week from Mrs. Speier, paying $4,000 for 25x70 feet.

"Our little friend, Richard Pearson, fell from a wagon Thursday and dislocated his wrist. It was replaced by Doctors McHenry and Terrell, and Richard will soon be himself again.

"On and after July 10th, the school house lot on which is located Mitchell Academy will be offered for sale to the highest bidder for cash. The funds to be used for the erection of a free public school building, located in a more suitable place.

"Mr. L. Snider, accompanied by his family, returned to the city this week.

"Mr. Winfield Scott, president of the First National Bank, has gone to Missouri.

"W. A. Ellis, a stockman from South Concho, paid this office a pleasant call Thursday.

"Sam Henderson returned last Saturday from a visit to relatives and friends in Williamson county.

"Our handsome young friend, Howell Brown of Eagle Pass, is in the city shaking hands with his many friends.

"Geo. W. Waddell, J. M. Perea, and F. B. Harness are swinging around the circle, and when last heard from were in St. Louis.

Judge Henry A. Fowlkes took the eastbound train yesterday evening for Louisville, Ky.

"The Reverend Peter Turner of the First Baptist church of the city, has resigned his charge and we learn he has accepted a call to his former church in Louisiana.

"Mr. Jacob Frenke left for Cincinnati on the train Friday afternoon. Mr. Frenke goes to Cincinnati on business connected with his opera house block. He is a little man in stature, but a giant as a business man.

PAINFUL INDIGESTION

"I SUFFERED a good while before I found something that would help me," writes Mr. E. W. Berry, of Neosho, Mo. "My trouble was indigestion, pains in my chest and a tight, bloated feeling that would make me feel smothered."

"Speaking of this to a friend of mine, he told me that Black-Draught was good for this trouble. I went over bought a package. It certainly did help me, so I continued to use it."

"I am in the transfer business, and sometimes when I would be hungry and ready to eat, I would have a call and would have to eat later. Then I would eat too much or too hurriedly. This would cause indigestion. After I started using Black-Draught, I found it did me a world of good. It is splendid for biliousness and stomach troubles."
