HESTER WILL ATTEMPT TO PLEASE BOTH YOUNG AND OLD IN CONCERT

Third Open Air Program By Colorado Band on Friday Night, June 28

Arranged with a view to pleasing both lovers of old-time songs and music and lovers of recent jazz, a third open-air concert is to be given by the Colorado Municipal band on Friday night, June 28, according to Roy Hester, director. The concert is to be given on Cantrill Field.

"Our third concert of the season, I think," Mr. Hester states, "will please everyone from the age of 6 to 60. Dad and mother don't like the so-called present day 'jazz' music, so we're playing quite a few old-time tunes for their benefit—tunes that were popular when they were kids. We will also have a few popular numbers for the younger generation, and for those that love real, tuneful music, we have a selection from Victor Herbert's comic opera, 'Mlle. Modiste.'

"It is very difficult to select music to play for a concert that will please everyone, so if you have any special piece of music that you would like to hear, we will be only too glad to play it for you, providing we can secure an arrangement from the publishers. Send them a card to Mr. Hester and he will take care of the request in the order they come in."

The following music has been selected for our next open-air concert Friday night, June 28, at 8:30 p. m.

PERSIAN MINISTER IN PRESBYTERIAN PULPIT HERE ON NEXT SUNDAY

Native of Eastern Country to Bring Two Interesting Messages

A native of Persia, Rev. Yosp Benjamin, now a minister in the Presbyterian church, is to fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here at both the morning and evening hours next Sunday, according to Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the church.

At the 11 o'clock hour, he will speak on "Christ and Islam Religion," and in the evening hour he will tell of his "Life and Experiences in Persia and Russia."

Miss Gladys Dorn On Honor Roll At Texas University

Miss Gladys Dorn, who was a student in Texas University during the past year, was one of the students in the School of Business Administration there making an average entitling them to a place on the honor roll. There were only a few students in that division of the university making the honor roll.

RED GRANGES IN THE MAKING—WOLVES IN THEIR SUMMER JOBS

Red Granges in the making! Or, even better than that, a strong team of Wolves in the making—a team that will wrest victory from the Big Spring Steers and the Snyder Tigers and other adversaries of the Colorado football team this fall when the grid season gets in full swing.

For nearly all the members of the Colorado High School football team for next fall are whiling their vacations away at manual labor that will bring them to the opening of the football season with hard muscles and trained bodies. Not any of them are carrying ice, it is true, as did the real Red Grange, but they are getting the exercise just the same—ask them.

Pete Smith, tall captain of the Wolves and possessor of a tackling ability that has held more than a few rival teams from a goal, is mixing concrete and tossing bricks on the Colorado Steam Laundry building.

Farming claims by far the most of the boys, the following being engaged for the summer in that active occupation: Lucius Comer, guard; C. L. Joyce, tackle; Oren Feaster, end; Virgil Mann, halfback; Clifton Yater, halfback; Lester Haines, guard.

George Tate, end, is working on a ranch in New Mexico, and W. R. Powell, end, is working on the ranch owned by his father in Mitchell county. Willie Ogiens, halfback, is working in his father's store here, and Ed Burrows has a job with the Palace Theatre.

Last, but not least, the coach, Big Jim Cantrill, is selling Copeland Refrigerators—and learning to Yo-Yo.

ALL-DAY PROGRAM AT H. S. RANCH TO BE CHIEF FOURTH CELEBRATION

Play by Spade Folks, Rodeo, Baseball and Barbecue to Be Features

The chief Fourth of July celebration scheduled for Mitchell county is to be an all-day barbecue picnic on the H. S. Ranch, according to E. Barber, who is in charge of arrangements for the program. Everyone is invited to attend.

Features of the day will be a rodeo, baseball, a general picnic and a comedy-drama in three acts by A. R. Northcutt, called "Coffee Royal." Everyone is invited to the celebration.

Following is the cast of the play, which will be put on by the young people of the Spade community:

Dave Jones, a typical Westerner, played by Herman Salley.

Hugh Blackwell, a cowboy and ranching partner of Jones—Douglas Barber.

Howard Burns, civil engineer in the employment—Perry VanZandt.

Clifton Carnes, who finds the right way—Mr. Bellime.

Burro Bill Edwards, an old prospector—Charlie Jarnagin.

Jake Charley, cow thief—Homer Salley.

Billy, small son of Jones—Charlie Northcutt.

Mrs. Jones, busy housewife—Della Mae Barber.

Flora Jones, in love with Blackwell—Ruth Pond.

Estelle Ward, not what she appears to be—Hattie Lee Barber.

Jennie Gray, who finds her lost sweetheart—Georgia Thompson.

White Bird, an educated Indian maiden—Mrs. Bellime.

In addition to the play, there will be several lively numbers between the acts. The entire program will be original, having been written by A. R. Northcutt, and will be played by the young people of Spade.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mills have as their house guests this week the following: Mr. and Mrs. Jet Millsap of Anson, and two daughters, Misses Nancy and Little Sis; Mr. and Mrs. Eric White of Anson; Mr. Billie Jeanne, Alabama, and Mrs. Bert Warren, Anson.

TO PREACH FOR REVIVAL HERE

BRO. LYLE PRICE, Denison

CAST OF ALL-COLORADO MOVIE HEADED BY MARY BROADDUS AND JOE POND

Filming of "Rescued From the Flames" Goes Forward Steadily

With a cast headed by Miss Mary Broaddus and Joe Pond, the all-Colorado motion picture, "Rescued From the Flames," is going steadily forward to completion, with Edwin R. Jordan of Hollywood, California, directing.

The first big scene of the play was shot downtown Saturday afternoon, with the Saturday afternoon crowds on the streets of Colorado making up the mob which witnessed the supposed-to-be destruction by fire of building occupied by the Reliable Dry Goods company, while the hero rescued the heroine from an upstairs window. A few other street scenes in Colorado have been made.

The picture takes up the lives of the hero and heroine in childhood, and these children's parts are played by Ross Dixon, Jr., and Mildred Louise Snowden. Col. Chas. M. Adams is playing the part of the father, who at times waxes irate.

Jack Haines, Bill Ogiens, and Boogey Taylor are wicked-looking "heavies" in the picture. They play the parts of three hoboes. Among other members of the cast are Mrs. L. G. Mackey and Miss Dimples Way.

The motion picture party went on "location" on the H. S. Ranch Wednesday. Other scenes of the picture are laid in colored town and in Mexican town, north of Colorado, where a child is lost and found.

Mr. Jordan is making this all-Colorado feature in cooperation with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dixon. It is to be shown at the Palace Theatre on July 4, 5 and 6, on the bill with "Show People."

The cast of the picture was chosen from suggestions made in a ballot box at the Palace Theatre late last week. Dates for shooting of some of the big scenes in the picture are posted in the lobby of the theatre. Mr. Jordan wants as many Coloradans as possible to appear in the picture.

CHURCH OF CHRIST TWO WEEKS REVIVAL WILL BEGIN SUNDAY

Young Denison Pastor Is To Preach; Roy Hooten To Lead Singing

The "Boy Preacher of Texas," Bro. Lyle Price, pastor of the Church of Christ in Denison and one of the strongest ministers of his denomination, despite his youth, is to do the preaching for a series of meetings for the Church of Christ here, beginning next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the tabernacle.

Bro. Price has put over a great work with the church at Denison, according to reports from that place, and is popular with and loved by the citizenship there. He is gaining fame not only as a pastor but also as an evangelist.

Roy Hooten of Anson, who has been connected with the Church of Christ revivals here twice before, is to have charge of the singing during the revival, according to Bro. J. D. Harvey, pastor of the Church of Christ.

All services during the revival are to be held at the city tabernacle, morning services being from 10 to 10:40, and evening services from 8:30 to 9:30. Both services next Sunday will be at the tabernacle, but the Lord's Day Bible school will be held at the church.

Pastor Harvey extends a welcome to all during the revival.

MEXICAN DEPORTATION DISCUSSED BY BORDER PATROL CHIEF, VISITOR

C. C. Courtney of Marfa Says Law-abiding Mexicans Not to be Molested

C. C. Courtney, chief inspector of the border patrol of Marfa, was in Colorado this week investigating the rumor that Mexicans are being unlawfully and improperly deported.

While here, Mr. Courtney gave to Mitchell county citizens with whom he talked a better understanding of the laws governing deportations, and promised to send a copy of the law to the Chamber of Commerce office, where any who wish to do so may call an attorney.

Among other things, the chief told Joe Chemali that there should be no arrest among the law-abiding Mexicans, saying also that no one will be deported without proper charges being made, investigated and found sufficiently offensive to warrant deportation.

Copies of the law will appear in columns of the Record when received, and in the meantime anyone desiring full information concerning this can secure it by calling on Joe Chemali and discussing the situation with him.

Addition to Dam At Country Club Now Complete

Work was completed this week on repairs to the dam at the Country Club Lake. The original dam held good during a recent torrential rise in Lone Wolf creek, but the creek bank was washed out around one end of it.

An additional section of concrete to the dam has now been finished, and the dam is thought now to be capable of bearing up even under the unusual rises of the creek.

YO-YO BUG BITES DEEP IN COLORADO—ALL ARE TRYING IT

Not quite knowing what it's all about but interested just the same, Coloradans have taken up with the Yo-Yo fad in earnest.

Little and big, young and old, sad and gay, black and white—you can see them anywhere almost any time endeavoring to master the art, if so it can be called, of coaxing the flat, colored spool to re-roll itself after each unrolling.

Not many here have yet mastered the art of yo-yo-ing to the side and above them, as the greater portion of the yo-yo population is still engaged in the intricacies of managing the ball straight up and down.

Buddy Hughes, with a record of 1165 times, is probably the champion of the town. Others who are getting to be proficient are Ross Dixon, Frances Elaine Price, D. H. Snyder, Jim Cantrill, Harris Toler, John Tom Merritt, Lewis Collier, Mrs. Lewis Collier, Geo. H. Mahon, R. T. Manuel, and many others.

Drug stores and variety stores are finding it a hard proposition to keep the town supplied with the little device, which was invented by a Filipino boy of Santa Barbara, California, with the sole object of amusing himself. The fad spread until it swept the Pacific coast, and then spread swiftly over the remainder of the nation. This youth merely revived a toy said to have originated in his native land, and old-timers in America say they played with a similar toy when they were boys.

Ford Merritt got very proficient in the manipulation of the yo-yo by the second day after they were introduced in Colorado, but someone got to playing with his yo-yo and walked off with it. However, Ford has purchased another and will lay off from work within the next few days to practice up. He will then be entered for a game with Dr. Browning, the Lions club champion, who is at present out of the city and is probably training and conditioning himself for the big event.

One Notice To Marry Has Been Filed So Far

Only one application for marriage license has been filed at the county clerk's office since the new three-day notice law went into effect last Wednesday. This notice was filed Wednesday morning (yesterday).

It seems that most of the Mitchell county folks getting married right now employed foresight and bought their license before the law went into effect. It won't be long, though, until licenses bought then will be invalid, and it will soon be learned just how the new "gin marriage" law is going to affect the matrimonial march in Colorado.

DR. HUNT OF M'MURRY MAKES MAIN TALK AT C.C. LUNCHEON CLUB

Advantages of City Park For Recreation Are Outlined

Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of M'Murry College, Abilene, was the principal speaker on the Colorado Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club program Tuesday noon, at which time the subject was the "Advantages of a City Park" from a recreational standpoint.

Dr. Hunt insisted in his talk that "all of us children" get back of the park movement and give earnest support to its establishment. He showed in his talk that recreation is necessary to the proper development of the human body.

The invocation at the opening of the meeting over which J. M. Thomas presided, was pronounced by Dr. Hunt. Guests introduced besides Dr. Hunt were N. H. Moore of Abilene, A. A. Eberlee of Sweetwater, W. W. Porter, Hughwood Smartt, Jack Haines, W. S. Foster, J. E. McCleary, John Elliott, O. C. Cox, and John Deffebach. These were introduced by Vernon Logan, W. L. Doss, A. L. McSpadden and J. H. Greene.

Ward Simpson, J. M. Thomas, Jno. W. Cobb, and J. M. Herrington were introduced as new members. Hughwood Smartt, Jack Haines, and R. H. Ratliff delighted the audience with several numbers of string music. N. H. Moore gave a short talk.

Milburn Doss' side was in the lead in the attendance contest. Fifty-three in all were present at the luncheon. Both captains, John Summers and Milburn Doss, expressed confidence that their side would win the contest.

W. S. Foster was selected to preside at the next meeting, with the subject for discussion being a Mitchell County Fair. C. T. Watson, secretary of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, will deliver the address. Anyone in Mitchell county interested in having an exhibit should make a reservation through the Chamber of Commerce office and attend next Tuesday's luncheon.

ROY WARREN MARRIED BROWNWOOD GIRL ON LAST SUNDAY MORNING

Prominent Young Man Surprises Many Friends; To Make Home Here

A wedding which came as a surprise to a great number of the friends of the groom here took place Sunday in Brownwood when Roy Warren and Miss Julia Fry of that city were married.

Mr. Warren and Miss Fry, who is the cousin of Mrs. Fred Jones of Colorado and who visited here last August, were married at the bride's home at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. They are to make their home in Colorado after they return from a wedding trip to Wichita Falls the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Warren is a graduate of Santa Anna High school, and attended the National Business College in Abilene. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fry of Brownwood.

Mr. Warren is probably one of the most widely-known young men in Mitchell county, having been reared here and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Warren. He is prominent in several organizations of the county, being head of the Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion here, and active in other phases of civic and county activity. He is now serving his third term as tax assessor of Mitchell county.

F. M. THOMPSON BRINGS IN EARLY COTTON BLOOM

One of the earliest, if not the first, cotton bloom in the county was brought in Wednesday by F. M. Thompson, farmer six miles west of town.

Mr. Thompson stated that the cotton which yielded this bloom was planted the 28th of March.

TWO MILES IN IATAN FLATS OPENED; CLOSE DETOUR TO WESTBROOK

Mitchell County Beginning to See Appreciable Results In Road Program

With two miles of concrete paving through Iatan Flats opened to traffic this week and the newly-graded dirt road from here to Westbrook opened to traffic Thursday, Mitchell county is beginning to see appreciable results in her State highway program.

Three more miles of the Iatan Flats road have been paved and will be opened to traffic as soon as the concrete cures, according to information given the Abilene Reporter-News Wednesday by W. J. Van London, division highway engineer. Van London stated that the remaining four-mile stretch across the Flats is being paved as rapidly as possible.

The newly graded dirt road between Colorado and Loraine is also open to traffic, with the exception of some four or five short detours around bridges under construction in Champion flat. The new route into Loraine lacks a little over a mile of completion. Work east of Loraine is going forward on the new route into Loraine from the Nolan county line. The road from here to Loraine is fairly passable in dry weather, but would be impossible in rainy weather because of the ditch detours around the bridges.

COLD CHECKER CAUGHT HERE THROUGH RETAIL MERCHANT BULLETIN

Description Sent by Assn. Headquarters Enables Mrs. Turner to Identify Man

With little more than an hour after she had received a bulletin from State headquarters of the Retail Merchants' association in San Antonio describing a cold checker operating in the State, Mrs. W. H. Turner, manager of the Retail Merchants' association here, saw the man described in the bulletin and gave information leading to his arrest by local officials.

The man, whose real name is thought to be J. A. Bowers, was said to have been wanted for cold checking not only in several Texas towns, but also in several Colorado State towns. The bulletin was sent out to Retail Merchants' associations over the State from headquarters after information had been sent in by the Lockney Retail Merchants' association concerning Bowers' alleged operations there.

The man described in the bulletin had been going from town to town, supposedly on the track of some large real estate deal. In each town he wrote several cold checks, getting them indorsed by the men who he was supposedly consulting concerning the purchase of a large farm.

Mrs. Turner read the bulletin and the description of the man about 10 o'clock, and about 11:30 saw him enter the office of Ellis & Wood, real estate dealers. He was arrested on suspicion after she tallied his appearance with the description given on the bulletin, and authorities who came from Lockhart to claim him, positively identified him as the man wanted.

A scheme similar to this was worked in this city last year, the would-be purchaser of real estate handing out "cold" checks promiscuously, and even going so far as to give one for a new automobile.

Local Men Reap Bountiful White Onion Harvest

A thousand pounds of White Crystal Wax Onions have already been harvested by Charles Farris, Gilbert Quinney, and Chester Thomas, from a two-acre patch in South Colorado, and have been sold to Colorado merchants.

Two years ago Chester Thomas and Harry Ratliff raised 4,000 pounds of onions on less than half an acre in South Colorado.

The harvest for this year has hardly been started, Thomas states, and it is expected that several thousand pounds of the onions will be gathered and sold before the patch is exhausted.

CARELESS WORMS ARE CONTROLLED BY SPRAY

Careless worms, which are causing damage to cotton in some parts of the county, may be controlled by spraying with calcium arsenate, the same as for leaf worms, a letter from the Entomologist of the A. & M. Experiment Station says.

Two or three pounds of calcium arsenate to fifty gallons of water is the correct proportion. The mixture should be kept stirred while spraying since this compound of arsenic will not dissolve in water.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Broaddus, Miss Mary Broaddus, and Miss Fae Rattan (house guest in the Broaddus home), spent last week in El Paso.

WE HAVE MCCRELESS WITH US AGAIN THIS WEEK ON VERY DEEP SUBJECT

To The Record:

I wrote an article last week, presenting two problems facing our great republic of today, namely, "The Unrest Problem" and "The Crime Wave Problem."

Last week I took up the former, and seeing it escaped the waste basket encourages me to take up the latter problem.

I stated last week that something or somebody was responsible for everything that exists. I still hold to that saying, and ask the question, does any project of any kind live and thrive of itself? I answer NO!!! What then is lacking? Encouragement. Does crime get any encouragement. Most assuredly it does. Who from? Our (supposed to be) best people we've got. And without offering any criticism, I ask one other question. From what source comes so many acquittals, suspended sentences, pardons, new trials, etc.?

To my mind spiritual leaders as well as political leaders are greatly responsible for many mishaps to their followers. I hold in my hand now some proceedings that grew out of what is known as the recently enacted Jones law, passed in the State of South Carolina just recently. A wealthy farmer of Pickens county, South Carolina, was arraigned and tried in Judge Watkins' Federal court. He pleaded guilty and the judge recalled that this same man was tried in his court several years ago on a similar charge. Under this new law he was fined $200 and given a five-year sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta, which is claimed by the press as a stunning blow to this wealthy farmer. Bootleg stripes is easy to pay but the prison stripe makes 'em squeal and squirm.

Would it not be a good idea for more of our States to consider the passage of a Jones law?

One more question and I'll conclude. Is a willful and deliberate criminal entitled to any sympathy or mercy, if so why? He undoubtedly has none himself, and where is his claim.

CHEVROLET HAD BIG MONTH DURING MAY

DETROIT, June 13.—May was the biggest month in the history of the Chevrolet Motor Company. Production for the month totalled 141,214 cars and trucks, breaking all records. Under pressure of the greatest demand in Chevrolet history, its 16 giant factories in May experienced the busiest period the company has ever enjoyed. Factory wheels turned with all the speed consistent with Chevrolet's precision manufacturing methods to accommodate the demand for cars that poured in from Maine to California and from Washington to Florida.

May was the third consecutive month to set a new all-time monthly production mark. It far surpassed the March record of 147,273 units and topped the April achievement of 157,522 units.

To accomplish this record performance Chevrolet plants averaged 7,000 cars and truck daily; an average of 777 cars and trucks were built every hour; an average of 13 cars were built every 4.6 seconds.

From present indications the same relatively high level of production will be maintained in June to keep pace with the demand, which officials report continues unabated.

Dealer stocks are still below normal due to the necessity of filling orders as fast as cars are received. Unfilled orders are over 300 per cent ahead of this same period last year. It was announced definitely that the June production would break all records for the month.

THROUGH CHIROPRACTIC AND OSTEOPATH

Many women continue to bear the burden of pain and distress, with fortitude, just because they are women. Few of them realize that their ailments are due primarily to disturbed nerve wrecking spell that makes life miserable for them periodically.

Most women can be strong, healthy, happy, vigorous, because their highly nervous and complex organism readily responds to "Chiropractic" adjustments that offer a safe and effective means of restoring normal functions.

Women everywhere are turning to Chiropractic for relief, they find it not only effective but free of the embarrassment of other methods. Every woman should investigate Chiropractic and learn what it will do for them in every respect.

Let us train you for a private secretary or reporter. We can do it quickly with the famous Byrne Typewriter Shorthand. Byrne Typewriter Shorthand has but fifty-six simple memory points. Anyone can learn it, write it and read it. It is written either with a pencil or ordinary typewriter. When written on the typewriter it is the fastest and most legible system in use. One student reads another's notes just as one typist would read another's typewritten page. One who does not know Typewriter Shorthand can, with but a few hours study, read the notes of another. The printed legibility of Typewriter Shorthand standardizes the work of an office, a feature impossible with other systems. Write for free, instructive catalogue describing our ten salary raising business courses. We can place you promptly when you graduate. We maintain our own Free Employment Service in three of Texas' largest cities. These three cities employ more secretaries, accountants and reporters than all other cities and towns in Texas combined. SOME TOWNS, LIKE TRUCKS GET STUCK IN THE MUD

(Copyright, 1929, A. D. Stone)

There is something about building of a highway that is, to me, as a magnet to steel. When driving through the country, a "Road Under Construction" sign is a near command to drive around the barrier, and learn if the notice is telling the truth.

There is something majestic and awe-inspiring about the laying of a ribbon of concrete across a plain, through the valleys, or over the hills. Perhaps it is not the actual construction as much as the value of what the completed work will be to the communities it will serve, wondering if those it will benefit will take full advantage of the opportunity.

The paving of a country road is an epoch in the life of the area through which it passes, for it marks the passing of the old into the new, and to me, a changing from the old order of things is always of interest.

Last fall, while making what has been spoken of as a "clinic journey," I obtained permission to drive a 12-mile strip of newly laid concrete through the Palos Hills country in Illinois. It was a beautiful roadway in a beautiful country, and I could but marvel at the thoroughness—the perfect contour of this "sidewalk for motor cars" to hillside, vale and woodland—it was perfect.

Some miles from the convergence of this roadway with the main arterial highway, a large force of workmen with a score of dump trucks were making a fill. Trucks loaded with loose earth came from both directions; systematically they swung to the edge, half circled to the center of the pavement, then backed; a whistle blew, the truck stopped, the dump body tipped as the gate end opened; another whistle, and the truck moved out and on up the road. For an hour I watched them as like giant ants they came and went, filling the hole that was had for the highway.

Then something happened. A monstrous truck, very heavily loaded, backed up too far, went off the pavement and down the embankment, settling deep in the wet, loose, spongy loam. It was stuck—no doubt, about it!

A loud whistle blew—trucks outbound stopped, swung around, and returned to the fill; inbound trucks drew up in a line. Chains rattled as each hitched to the other—a workman slid down to the truck in the mire, attached a chain thereto, and a whistle blew thrice. At the first whistle, all trucks moved forward taking up the slack; at the second, gears meshed into low; at the third, every clutch of every truck was engaged, and without jump or jerk all, as one, moved forward, steadily, until the stuck truck was back on the solid pavement.

The moral is plain. If your town is "stuck"—if it isn't moving forward, gather 'round, everybody, hook on, get a sure "hitch," then pull together in the same direction.

BROWNFIELD is rushing its street paving. At a meeting of the city council recently a Wichita Falls firm was employed as engineers on street paving with instructions to start actual construction as soon as possible.

HEREFORD celebrated the opening of a new $80,000 Baptist church by starting a revival in it. All precepts in church construction were broken in the decoration, seating and architecture of the distinctive church.

BIG SPRING $55,000 Read building is nearing completion. It contains seven stores on the ground floor, and a 25-room hotel on the second floor. It extends the business district one block on East 7th street.

SILVERTON'S new high school building will cost $80,000, and will be completed by August 15. The school board will make plans to organize both a Junior and Senior high school, according to C. D. Wright, president of the board.

UNCLE FRED WRITES INTERESTING LETTER ABOUT BOULDER CITY

"Uncle Fred" Whipkey, known to employees of The Record as "The Big Boss," is having a good time up in the State of Colorado, where the roads are good to any place you want to go, and where the gentle breezes put a Frigidaire and other mechanical cooling devices to shame in furnishing receptive atmosphere. Mr. Whipkey sends the following description of Boulder, Colorado, where he is at present located with a party of relatives and friends:

Boulder is a city located at the scenic entrance to the Colorado National Forest and Glacier region, 29 miles northwest of Denver, and is connected by hourly train service; it is 40 miles from Estes Park, and five miles from the Colorado National Forest boundary, the home of the Arapahoe, Isabel, Fair, Peck, Roberts, St. Vrain and lesser glaciers. This area includes some of America's very finest natural scenery.

The city is situated at the mouth of beautiful Boulder Canon, and extending to the south along the western edge of the city are Flagstaff Mountain, Panorama Park, Camel's Back, the world-famed Flatirons, Bluebell

Canon, Royal Arch, Boulder Peak and Bear Canon, and to the north lie the Red Rocks, Mt. Sanitas and Sunshine Canon. No city offers you more beautiful mountain scenery than Boulder, with its natural park of 6,060 acres. Three hundred miles of trout streams and twenty lakes offer the lover of fishing many ideal places for recreation.

The University of Colorado is located at Boulder on a spacious campus of sixty acres and overlooks some of the finest scenery in the Rockies. It is spoken of as "America's Summer Study Center," as people from all parts of the United States are in attendance during the regular summer sessions.

Boulder is the home of the Colorado Chautauqua and in a quarter of a century has become one of the famous assembly grounds of America. Its location, at the base of the "Flatirons" is ideal and with its hundred comfortable cottages surrounded by wide stretches of lawn and an additional playground for children splendidly equipped, is a favorite vacation ground for young and old. The Chautauqua opens July 4th with two entertainments each day of the best talent in the United States. We expect to get season tickets and attend.

Went to church last Sunday and heard Rev. Phillips, pastor of the Baptist church at Oakland, Calif. He was the finest, most interesting speaker I have ever heard, speaking from the text, "I have many things to tell you but ye cannot bear them now."

Last week we drove 128 miles to Seven Falls. In this region of world-wide wonders and charm there is no spot more picturesque, beautiful and awe-inspiring. Here are miles of massive walls of richly colored granite rising from the murmuring stream almost perpendicular to the sky. After a drive of five miles up the canyon between perpendicular walls of solid granite, we came to the stairway climb of 287 steps to the top. Here the canon opens into a beautiful valley with waterfalls and shady places. This also enables you to view the scenery from above, especially from Inspiration Point, just beyond the grave of Helen Hunt Jackson, which is one mile above Seven Falls. Here Helen Hunt Jackson spent more than a year in a rock-hewn cave (6700 feet elevation) writing her famous book, "Ramona." She died in '85 and her grave is at Inspiration Point with a beautiful monument and is one of the places pointed out to tourists. This is the famed chasm of the Rocky Mountains. Towering cliffs and massive walls of richly colored granite, rushing waters of Seven Falls, forests of pine trees, all combine to make a setting far beyond and thrill unsurpassed.

Noted places seen on this wonderful trip are Eagle Cliff, Mount Cutler, Pillars of Hercules, Prospect Dome, The Rapids, Cheyenne Gorge, Castle Rock, Observatory Point, and others.

Remember now, you toiling slaves in Colorado, that we are 8,000 feet high, midst snow and ice, with overcoats and wraps and all the time uncomfortably cold, and above the timber line. We have driven the 18 miles up Boulder Canyon and also the big Thompson Canyon to Big Horn, and believe me the old Hudson eats them up.

Next week we go 500 miles to Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, going via Cheyenne and return via the Great American Falls in Idaho. As this trip will take about 10 days, there may not be a letter for next week. There are seven of us in the party, one of them a regular Jimmie Greene—talks incessantly and says nothing.

F. B. WHIPKEY.

MOTHER OF MRS. VAN KING WAS CLAIMED BY DEATH TUESDAY EVENING

Mrs. N. M. Anthony Buried Here on Thursday Morning

Mrs. N. M. Anthony died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock at the Root hospital, following an operation for tumor. Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Van King, by her pastor, Rev. W. C. Hinds.

Miss Emma Parcham was born June 1, 1842, in Covington, Tenn. She was married to N. M. Anthony in 1878. They moved to Texas in 1878 and settled near Grandview, coming to Mitchell county in 1905. Six children were born to them, four of whom survive. They are Mrs. Van King of Colorado, Ben Anthony of Mineola, Mrs. Sam Lidia of Stephenville, and Mrs. Ben Montgomery of Herbleigh. Mr. Anthony passed away about seven years ago, and since that time Mrs. Anthony has made her home with her eldest daughter, Mrs. Van King.

She was converted when about 12 years of age and joined the Methodist church, and has lived a consistent Christian life, rearing her children to be God-fearing, working Christians, the kind that serve because they love their church and their Lord.

Mrs. Anthony had been in failing health for more than a year, but the end came unexpectedly, as not even her physician realized that her condition was so serious.

She was laid to rest in the L. O. O. F. cemetery beside her husband, beneath a mound of beautiful flowers, silent tokens of the love and esteem in which she and her children are held.

The pallbearers were her grandsons.

She is not dead, this one we loved, Though consigned to the silent tomb; She is not dead, she's gone above To that land where there is no gloom.

Trial of Mary Dugan Showing At The Palace

"The Trial of Mary Dugan," the most successful talking picture centered around a court room that has been made, is being shown at the Palace Theatre Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week.

Noema Shearer, Lewis Stone, H. B. Warner and Raymond Hackett lead the cast of this all-talking picture. It is a vivid story of what takes place back of the Broadway bright lights.

Local Men See Cotton Chopper Invention Act

W. S. Foster, county agent, Frank Kelly, Fred Brown, and J. H. Greene attended a cotton chopper demonstration at Snyder last Friday, when a machine invented by a mechanic of that place was tried out.

These Colorado men report that, although the machine is in a crude state, as yet, it seems to give promise of winning a useful place on the farm if a few minor improvements can be made.

The implement, with the use of ordinary knives, cleans the middle, chops the cotton perfectly and redirects it at the same time. This latter process is very important, as it prevents the drying and hardening which follows after chopping if the round is not plowed soon.

ANXIOUS TO SEE THAT ROAD TO ROBERT LEE AN IMPROVED HIGHWAY

Tom Goss (that well known Colorado citizen who is always to take up battle in defence of a friend or go to the ground with an enemy) has just returned from a trip over the road to Robert Lee, and says he realizes more than ever the necessity of an improved highway to San Angelo by way of Robert Lee. Goss has been advocating this highway for several years, knowing the value it would be to Colorado and Mitchell county, and no doubt some day when his dream is realized people will see that Goss was very reasonable in his guess at the amount of traffic such a road would handle. It is ten miles shorter to San Angelo than any other route, and an improved road would bring to Colorado thousands of dollars from buyers who do not now come here.

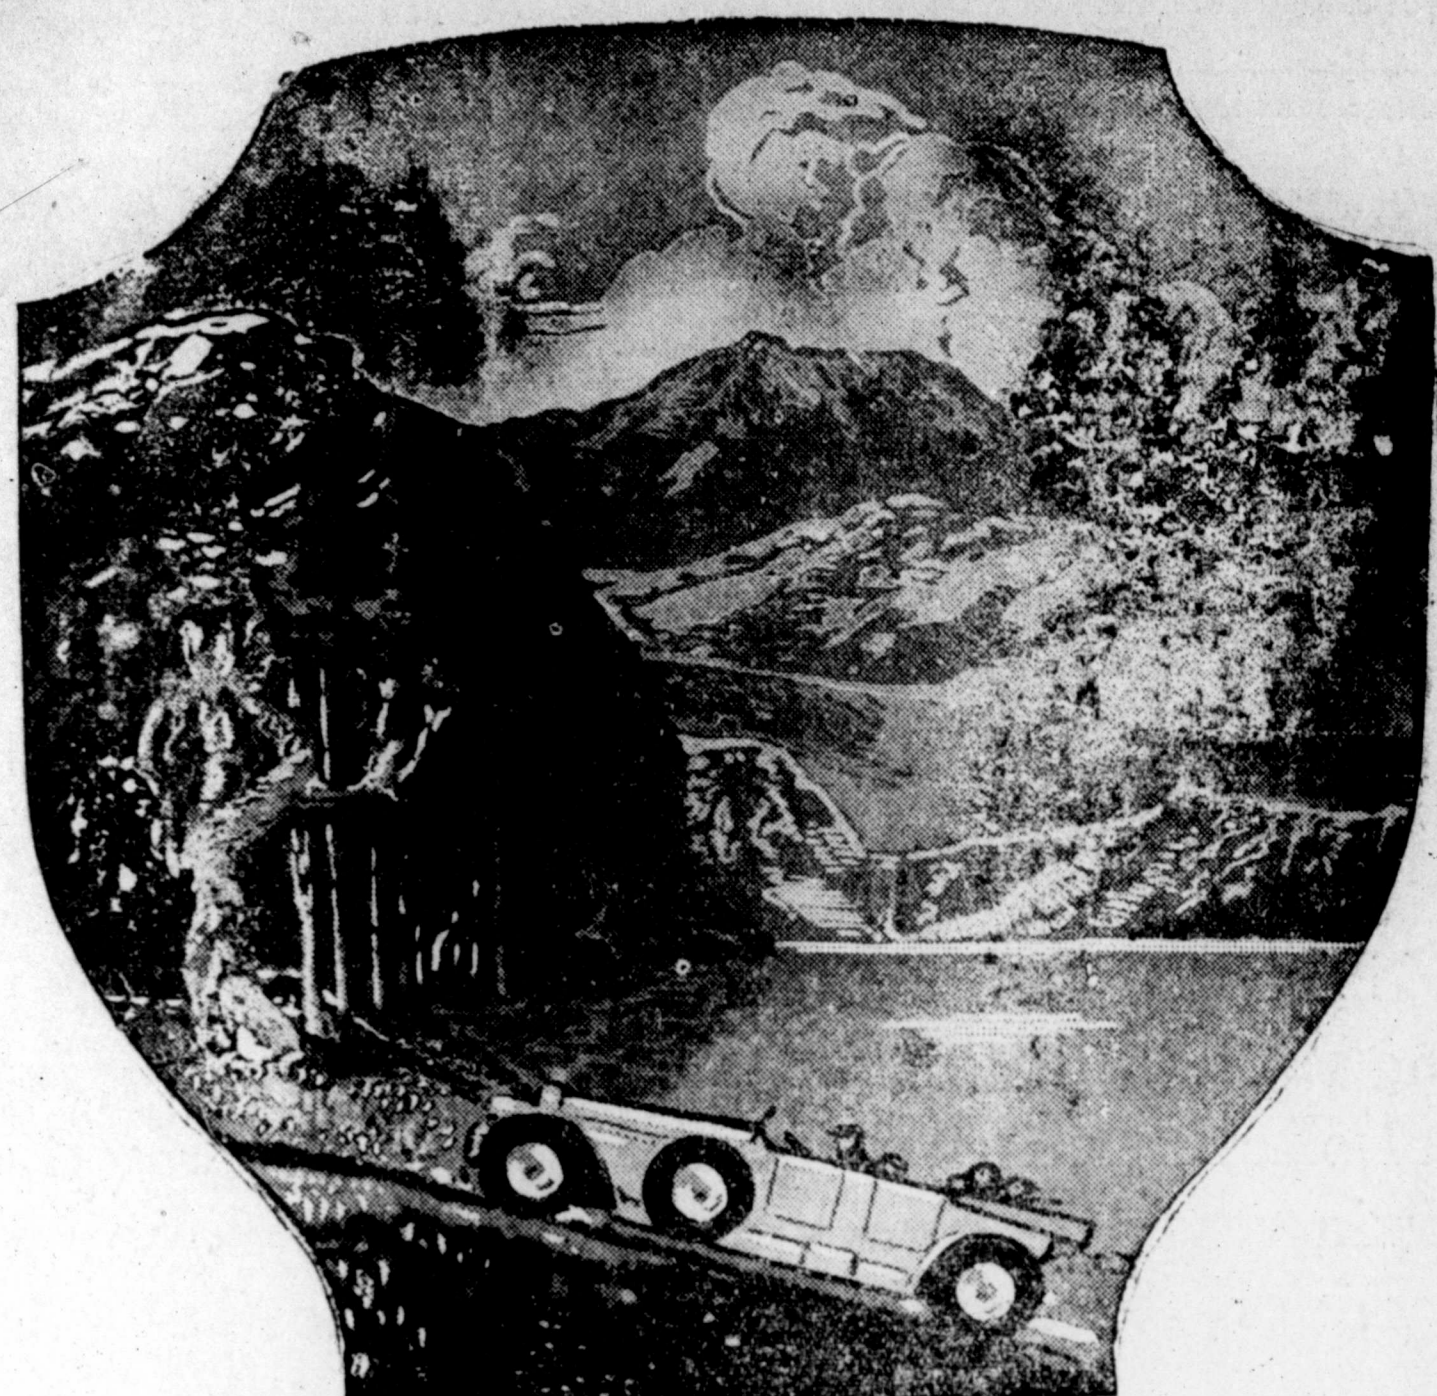

As before stated, Tom Goss stands by a friend forever, and he is a friend and promoter of that road to Robert Lee, and some day his energies in this direction will get satisfactory results.

SOUTHWESTERN DAIRY PRODUCTS CO. PROGRAM

An elaborate program is arranged, and the dairy products company invites all the dairymen of this community and their families to be the guests of the company for one full day of interest and pleasure on July 1, which has been set aside as Dairy-land Day for the purpose of stimulating interest in dairy farming and milk consumption in this section.

Advantages of Movies Shown In 'The Letter'

The peculiar advantages of the moving picture over the stage are brought out strikingly in "The Letter," a Paramount production in which the famous stage and screen star, Jeanne Eagels, has the leading role, and which comes to the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

The stage with its limitations of scene can usually do more than suggest the surrounding atmosphere. Motion pictures actually show it.

There are many colorful sets in "The Letter," all of them presenting the usual life of Singapore and the Orient, which will be actually seen in the film version of this W. Somerset Maugham success. These sets include a full-sized bungalow located in the heart of a rubber plantation, a court room holding 200 persons; a Chinese gambling house, the homes and offices of various colonial settlers and scenes of brooding jungle and bustling street which the stage could not attempt to show. Throughout the picture the jungle setting is emphasized.

Miss Eagels has O. P. Heggie, Herbert Marshall and Reginald Owen as featured members of her supporting cast, all of whom were recruited from the stage. Because of this, the all-talking version, as it will be presented at the Palace Theatre, is certain to be received by local film-goers with boundless enthusiasm.

Baptist Church Notes
The Home Makers' class entertained at the home of Mrs. Hattie Berry Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6, honoring Mrs. Hoodie Pool Webb. The dining room was draped in the class colors, with streamers extending from the ceiling to the center of the table, surrounding a large punch bowl, over which Mrs. Neal and Ilague presided. In the reception room crepe paper was entwined, forming a rope which reached here and there throughout the house. After a program of games, music and readings, Mrs. Webb was asked to follow the entwined ropes. She was led to nooks filled with dainty packages until she came to the end of the rope; then a beautiful rug was revealed, which was presented to Mrs. Webb, after Mrs. Herrington had toasted the bride, as well as those left behind. Each lady expressed herself as having had an enjoyable afternoon, all wishing Mr. and Mrs. Webb success and happiness.

The four circles of the W. M. S. met in the church with Circle No. 3 rendering a program. The ladies were dressed to represent the different foreign countries. Mrs. A. L. Whippley of Colorado gave an interesting talk which all enjoyed very much. The next program will be rendered by Circle Five, Circle No. Two served cake and punch.

Hyman Happenings

The outstanding event of the week was a surprise party Thursday night, given "Grandpa" Andrews by the Hyman neighborhood in honor of his 78th birthday. It was a great surprise to him when car after car loads of Hyman folks came rolling in until they numbered some hundred and fifty. While "Grandpa" has reached the three score and ten mark, he is as active as many ones much younger and we congratulated him on being 78 years young. The ice cream and cake served was the gift brought by the guests, the men buying the cream while the women baked the cakes, and it is seldom one sees so many cakes. They all pette dand fussed over "Grandpa" until near the hour of midnight, when they left, and it is questionable who enjoyed it most, Grandpa or the guests. We are wishing for him many more birthdays, for we all need him to help us along, for he has set an example of high living that would benefit us all to follow.

Joe Martin of Waco, brother of Mrs. Lee Woodard, with his family visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woodard and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Woodard, returning to their home Saturday.

Terrell Minor came in Tuesday night from Spade, to visit with home folks. After about six weeks he intends to return here for good.

Six of our popular young folks all had birthdays this week, and as they wanted to celebrate, they decided to get Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman to let them have the party at the Hyman house. Mr. and Mrs. Hyman wanted to give the young folks this pleasure and Friday night was the time agreed on. The honorees were Miss Lavoyce Lowery, one of our most attractive and popular young ladies; Miss Minnie Hines, also one of the belles of the community; Mr. Herman Minor and Mr. Tack Vowell, both born on the same day, so we feel that they are twins; Harry Hyman, Jr., lately of San Antonio but now an acclimated citizen of Hyman, and Mr. Carl Jones, a new comer. Mr. Roy Coles made a snappy talk and congratulated them, followed by Mrs. Hyman, who welcomed the honorees, and found that two of them were born in Oklahoma, and the others native Texans. Mrs. Hyman then welcomed all the guests to her home and bade them make merry. Games were played by many, but that old thrill of "just a June night, the moonlight and you" was popular with a few, who sat out on the porch until the call was made to come in for refreshments. Lemonade and cake were served to about 100 young people, all of whom expressed themselves as having had a most delightful evening.

Miss Myrtle Wilkins, of Miranda, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins, came in Saturday to spend a couple of weeks with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Heins.

The Woman's Club of Hyman met with Mrs. T. P. Smallwood last week and had seven members present besides Miss Sevier, and the club is always rejoicing when she visits them, for her visits are always of help and service to the members in many ways. Mrs. Smallwood brought out aquilt to be quilted and the women "fell to" with good grace, as they used to do in the olden times. Mrs. Smallwood served cake, orangeade and marshmallows. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. I. Smallwood, two weeks from the day of last meeting.

Jim Dawson and family left Saturday for Marneal to visit relatives, expecting to return Sunday.

V. G. Pierce was called again to the bedside of his mother, who was bitten last week by a rattlesnake and who was in a very serious condition. His mother lives at Nimrod. It is reported she could not live but a few hours, as this is written.

Richard Ridgell and family of Big Spring arrived last Thursday to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nichols. Mr. Ridgell is the brother of Mrs. Nichols.

The contest between the Spade and the Hyman Sunday schools has awakened our little settlement and is doing wonders with our membership, people who have not attended before but have been in our neighborhood are turning out to help in this friendly contest. The lessons are being better studied and the collections the best we have ever had. The superintendent has urged that each member of the school be a self-constituted committee to bring in a new member next Sunday. Let's all make it the biggest Sunday school Hyman has ever had. All be on time with good lessons and a collection.

H. H. Vanzandt, our efficient and popular road commissioner, has been laid up this week and is still in bed. We hope he will soon be up and go about the many things he has charge of. We feel a big loss when we do not see him around the city.

Tuesday for Robert Lee on business. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coles, who have been back to Hyman for the week, left Monday to spend the summer in several places. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Meredith and daughter, Georgia, left Hyman last week for Amarillo to reside. Mrs. J. M. We regret to see them go, and we will especially miss Mrs. Black, who had been here for the past several years and was a fine worker in everything.

MR. WHIPKEY TELLS MORE ABOUT TRAVELS

In another column of The Record today will be found a letter from F. B. ("Uncle Fred") Whipkey, describing the wonders of Boulder, Colorado, in which he stated he may not write again for about two weeks as he was contemplating a short drive of about 500 miles. However, he evidently decided the boys in the office could not wait two weeks for another letter, so he mailed the following before taking off on his flight to Yellowstone National Park:

The vacationist coming across the rolling plains of Colorado and finally approaching Boulder over a splendid paved highway that leads through rich farm lands with fields of waving grain, sees in the glittering white of the snow-capped peaks alluring promise of relief from the heat of summer. As the distance shortens, the foothills seem to rise higher as they screen the view of the snowy range.

Quickly the focus of the vision changes. A moment ago it was a vast sweep of magnificent distances; now it is on the rugged austerity of the "Flatirons"—those massive crags that rise abruptly almost from the streets of Boulder—and with dramatic suddenness, the visitor realizes that here "The West Begins." Here the visitor can but shout with joy—"We are here! The mountains have come to meet us—we are out West!"

One of the beautiful drives out of Boulder is "Red Rocks and the Royal Arch."

The first white men who settled where Boulder now stands, on Oct. 17, 1858, pitched their tents near these colorful rocks that rise in spires and pinnacles from an eminence high above the City of Boulder.

Owned by the city as a part of her mountain park system, these picturesque rocks afford a popular place for picnics and beefsteak "frys."

The Royal Arch stands high up among the "Flatirons" just south of Chautauqua Park amid scenes as wild and rugged as one may find anywhere in the Rockies. Like Red Rocks, this huge arch fashioned from the rocks of ages and well named—The Royal Arch—is also the property of the City of Boulder.

We made a drive down to Denver, 80 miles, and attended the State Baptist Convention (Northern Board) and heard some wonderful addresses from some of the "biggest" preachers in the U. S.

We made another run (110 miles) to the "Garden of the Gods" and "Cave of the Winds." This is Nature's sculpture hall under the Colorado Rockies, a mile of mysteries of Nature's handiwork. An inspiring natural wonder, unique and resplendent in colors and formations. Rare crystals of onyx, calcite and flowering alabaster found in no other cave in the world. It is said 100,000 people visit here annually. It is the great Geological Miracle of the mountains—Nature's Studio.

The hand of man had nothing whatever to do with creating and embellishing the wonderful Cave of the Winds with its canopy hall, lover's lane, gypsum alcove, curiously shaped, the wishing well, manitou dome, majestic hall, crystal palace, bridal chamber, Boston avenue, the vestibule, old maid's kitchen, Pinley hall, and others, all intensely interesting. It takes about an hour to visit the sixteen rooms. This wonderful freak of nature has a great variety of formations and is pronounced by visitors to be one of the most beautiful in the world. The starting point of the trip to Soda Springs in Manitou, leads directly north through beautiful Williams Canyon, the Narrows, on up over famous Temple drive. You return via Canon Rim Road from which a most spectacular view of Williams Canon is obtained, down over Agate mountain where eight elevations of the road are seen, one above the other, with an unequalled panorama's view of Manitou and on down through historical Ute Pass. On the return trip we come to the Cliff Dwellers in the beautiful Phantom Cliff Canyon.

The Cliff Dwellers
Were the ancient Cliff Dwellers the first Americans? What is known of them? Whither did they vanish? Aside from their historical interest to the historian and sightseer, these ruins are a strange and beautiful sight in their unique location—sheltered by cliffs of wonderful coloring in a setting of fragrant cedars and pines. Here you will find under an immense overhanging ledge of rock the most distinctive portions of the old Spruce Tree House and the splendid Cliff Palace, and the Grand Balcony House.

To get a comprehensive idea of these aboriginal Indians and to delve into the mysteries of a race that lived when the earth was young, one should visit the Ruins at Manitou. Their crumbling and time-stained walls, areque towers and queer structures typify the mystery and grandeur of America's unknown past.

Every rock used in the more than 100 rooms of these ruins was rough-hewn into shape by patient hands ages and ages ago. In the magnificent museum, housed in a room hewn from solid rock, is a famous collection of Cliff Dweller pottery, nummies, implements and other relics. Here one sees also their kitchen utensils, their corn, raised centuries ago, and even the little pottery of stone spoons with which the children ate their corn mush, just as children do today. These early Americans of the Stone Age were a civilized and artistic people. Their pottery is designed upon lines as graceful as that of the Egyptians or Greeks and is quite as varied. They were expert weavers and their fabrics show as fine a web as that of any modern loom.

Friday and Saturday we plan to visit Estes Park and may give an outline of the trip next week.

Remember, these letters are not written for those people like Jim Johnson and family, Joe Smoot, Tom Hughes, the Riordans, John Doss, the Stoneroads, Jim Greaves and others who have toured California, Colorado and the Northwest, but are sent in to the paper for fellows like Rube Morgan, Cliff Ethridge, Ralph Lee, Tom Goss, Tom Russell, and Dr. Rat-Hiff, all of whom have scarcely been out of the county, and also that I may while away my time helping to dispell this eternal loneliness.

F. B. WHIPKEY.

MORE POETRY ABOUT BOYS

The Record has been besetted lately with batches of poems from boys and girls of Mitchell county, the girls using this means of saying some hard things about the boys, and the males replying as bitterly as poetry will allow. While The Record prints this stuff, the reader is advised that it don't mean anything. The boys are just as crazy about the girls and the girls just as crazy about the boys as you were when you were at the "foolish" age. The following was submitted by the poet laureate of Horn's Chapel:

From _____ point of view:
I tell you boys of today,
That you are worthless things they do.

They all think they know what's best
For other folks to do,
And that the girls, especially,
Should follow their point of view.

They ride around in motor cars,
Wearing gay red hat and shirt;
They watch for every dame
To find one that will flirt.

They will not do a bit of work
Whatever it may be;
They only twist their black mustache
And say, "That's too hard for me."

They all drink gin and brew,
Also smoke, or what have you,
Thinking it is rather clever
Doing things that girls would never.

Though it is strange, yet it is true
No matter where you go,
You find that boys are noisier,
Over what they do not know.
—By Ruth Trice, Horn's Chapel.

TEXAS LIFE INSURANCE INCREASED DURING MAY

DALLAS, June 20.—Investments of the Texas Life Insurance companies for May showed a large increase over those of April, according to reports just compiled. The total of the investments of these companies in May was $914,575.00, as compared to $850,000.00 for April.

Policy loans decreased from 46 per cent of the total in April to 30 per cent during May, indicating that the heavy drain on farmers for crop planting purposes has passed. Real estate loans, although smaller in percentage during May, showed a healthy increase as to amount—taking up 33 per cent of the total. Bonds and stocks, in which there were no investments during April, occupied 37 per cent of the total in May. The real estate investments as to districts were divided as follows: North Texas, 55 per cent; South Texas, 10 per cent; West Texas, 31 per cent, and East Texas, 4 per cent. Loans on business property continue to lead the list with loans on farm property coming second during May, and loans on residence property third.

THE TEXAS WEEKLY INDUSTRIAL REVIEW

According to Bervard Nichols, editor of Texas Business Review, 262 new corporations were granted charters during April to operate in Texas.

El Paso.—10,000,000 candlepower aviation beacon is erected on Mt. Franklin by the Paso-Tex Refinery.

During April there were 9,689 carloads of fruits and vegetables shipped from Texas.

Del Rio.—Over 2,000,000 pounds of wool sold here during the first week in May.

Plainview.—Gymnasium to be built at Wayland College at cost of approximately $20,000. No way has yet been devised of raising taxes without increasing the cost of living. Great headway has been made in accident prevention in industry during the last generation, but it is impossible for management to always protect the workman from his own carelessness or the carelessness of a fellow workman.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

DE LEON Free Press recently celebrated its fourth birthday. It was established late in June, in 1889, eight years after the establishment of the town, and has been published continuously since.

O'DONNELL Methodists are now spending $2,500 to remodel their church.

TAHOKA is to have a new business block. C. A. Hill of Lamesa has announced that he will erect a brick building 50x125 in size to house a chain grocery store and an automobile agency.

ANSON is doing a great deal of building. A theatre with a capacity of 450 on the main floor and 100 on the balcony is to be erected by Knox Pittard.

COLEMAN Chamber of Commerce recently elected Sim O'Neal to serve another year as secretary of the civic body. Elmo V. Cook, head of the agricultural department and teacher of agriculture in Coleman High School, tendered his resignation to accept a position as agricultural agent in Bosque county.

BORGER, the world's largest carbon black manufacturing center, has ten plants now operating or nearing completion, with 63 units, consuming 315,000,000 cubic foot of residue gas daily. Four hundred and seventy-five thousand pounds of carbon black for tires, etc., are made every day.

WICHITA FALLS cheese plant is buying 27,000 pounds of milk a day from farmers and dairymen in the area, which means an income of $600 daily and $20,000 monthly from a source that was non-existent only a few months ago. Other creameries and purchasers of milk in that city swell the total considerably.

PERRYTON will soon have a modern three-story hotel. It will contain 41 rooms and will supplement another good hotel under construction containing 26 rooms. Paving of 14½ blocks in the business district is under way and a $50,000 theatre, equipped with vitaphone is nearing completion.

TAHOKA, in viewing the growth of recent months points out that since 1921 two new rural routes have been inaugurated, two new rural substations established and receipts increased from $4,656 to $10,514, or 126 per cent.

COMANCHE'S berry growers are at the height of their season now. The first day of the opening of the Bowdoin Canning plant, 4188 pounds of berries were bought from thirty different growers. More money is being brought for the berries than ever before, 85 cents being the present price.

SLATON fruit growers report that unless unforeseen damage is experienced, the fruit crop throughout the territory will be the best in years.

LAMPASAS is planning a large July 4 program. The American Legion is preparing a rodeo for six or seven thousand people, special features of which will be a barbecue for all Legionaires and a drum and bugle corps contest with three handsome cups as prizes. A prize of $100 gold is offered to the rider of one of the post's outlaw horses.

ALPINE is planning for the biggest and best Old Settlers and Cowboys' roundup this year on July 4 ever staged in the west. The celebration will be held two days, and a permanent rodeo and fair association will be organized at this time.

MIDLAND recently opened the tenth city addition that has been added to the town since it became a thriving oil city two and one-half years ago. The addition lies within 10 blocks of the business district.

WINK is building for the future and assuming more substantial proportions. Some of the latest accomplishments of the group of young men who have formed a chamber of commerce is the securing of a new Vitaphone theatre and the construction of a $225,000.00 school building with an auditorium seating capacity of 650.

WHEELER has employed Grady O. Watson as secretary of their chamber of commerce. Agricultural development will be stressed in the first year's program. Street paving and an adequate water and fire protection system are among the projects that will receive attention in the civic development work.

HEREFORD'S wheat harvest is such that 150 combines, costing a total of $300,000 will be distributed for the 1929 harvest.

BOOKER'S largest business house under construction at present is the fifty-foot brick building constructed by A. W. Robinson, which will be occupied by the local DeSota automobile agency soon. A number of residences are being built.

BIG SPRING'S Read building is nearing completion. The building contains seven store building spaces on the ground floor, and a 25-room hotel on the second floor.

MOTORCADE—July 10 to 20 has been set as the dates for annual motorcade conducted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, so as to include two district meetings of the regional organization.

Electra.—Drilling operations are increasing in this vicinity. Cuero.—Chamber of Commerce to establish airport here.

WHY SCOUTS OF AMERICA NOW NEED $10,000,000

Rev. W. M. Elliott, head of the Buffalo Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, submits the following article on "Why the Boy Scouts of America Now Need $10,000,000":

After 19 years, during which over 4,000,000 boys have been duly enrolled as Scouts and 600,000 men have been enlisted for volunteer service, the Boy Scouts of America, in the judgment of those responsible for its management, finds it imperative to develop a new procedure to supplement its present financial resources. With a membership of over 800,000 men and boys and an increasing demand upon the National organization for service to better insure thoroughness and growth thru intensive development, the present method of wholly depending upon registration fees from boys, charter fees and quotas from Local Councils and royalties and profits from the sale of literature and supplies is not only inadequate but unstable.

The budget for the current year is $900,315, which it is proposed to secure as in former years, with over one-quarter coming from uncertain commercial operations. Approximately $325,000 is expected from registration fees from boys, charter fees and quotas from Local Councils. Under present conditions, necessarily, the annual budget is adopted not on the basis of the needs of the Boy Scouts of America, pressing as they may, but decisions are controlled by what can reasonably be estimated as income from these uncertain sources.

After a thorough study of its problems and with the aid of scientific analysis there has been developed a program for the next five years, involving additional annual expenditures of $378,250. A recently approved plan for registration of Scout officials will result in an additional revenue of approximately $75,000, leaving a balance of $303,250 or the income on $5,065,000. There is also the need for capital expenditures of $2,935,000 for a Retirement Fund for paid personnel for the establishment of a national training center and for adding to the working capital fund for the operation of the movement. The combined need for operating expenses and capital is, therefore, approximately $10,000,000.

It seems advisable instead of making this supplemental budget need the basis of an annual effort to secure contributions on a nation-wide scale, to provide for an endowment fund, under conditions which will reduce to a minimum any interference with the financial needs of our 637 local councils. In many instances these councils are supported through Community Chests, and taking into consideration this and other conditions, it seems wise to leave local resources available for the necessary annual budgets of local work. Therefore, it is proposed in connection with the raising of the capital need of $3,935,000 to secure an additional $6,065,000 for the endowment of the operating needs, which cannot be financed by the income from present sources. This makes the total amount to be secured from a selected list of persons, $10,000,000.

Word was received in the city this week announcing the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shepherd of Fort Worth—old time residents of Colorado.

Last reports from Joe Fraser, assistant postmaster, were that he was still in Palestine and having a good time, but was anxious to get back to the cooling breezes and shifting sands of West Texas. He will probably be home next week.

It's a Gift With Some People
"Private Brown is a perfect pest about betting, said a lieutenant to his company commander one day. "The men are complaining that he always wins, but they will take his bets."

"Send him to me and I'll fix him," the Captain said.
A short time later Private Brown entered and saluted properly. A short conversation ensued which led to the subject of betting and concluded with the following:
"Captain, I'll bet $25 there are scars on your back."
"Scars on my back? How did they get there?" the indignant officer roared.
"Don't know, but I'll bet they are there," the private contended doggedly.
"I'll take that bet and thereby teach you a lesson." Peeling his shirt the captain proudly displayed a pair of hefty shoulders without scars or marks.
The private acknowledged defeat handed over the money and with a grain retired.
"I fixed your man," the captain boasted when he again met the under officer. "He insisted on betting me $25 that there were scars on my back and I took him up, but the rascal was a game loser."
"He had good reason to be game, for he had just bet me $50 that he would have your shirt off in 15 minutes," the lieutenant replied with a shamed face.

W. R. SMITH, JR., IS APPOINTED ATTORNEY FOR 70TH DISTRICT

Son of Late Congressman Wins Further Success In Profession

W. R. Smith, youthful Midland attorney and former Coloradoan, has been named by Governor Moody as district attorney for the 70th Judicial District, according to an article appearing in the Midland Reporter-Telegram last week.

Smith was reared in Colorado and is the son of the late Congressman W. R. Smith, who also served on the district court bench in this section 30 years ago and who was a Federal court judge for eight years after his term as representative to Congress.

Smith has two brothers and several cousins of this section who are attorneys, Broedley Smith, a brother, now assistant district attorney of the 34th Judicial District of Texas, with home in El Paso.

Smith received his A. B. from Austin College in 1921 and his law degree from Texas University in 1924. He practiced in El Paso until June, 1927, where he was a member of the 10th legislature before moving to Odessa. He figured in a bill which sought and received twice the appropriation, then being received by the School of Mines at El Paso. There was a hot debate when this bill was referred to the appropriations committee of the House and later by the finance committee of the Senate after the measure had passed on the floor of the House.

Smith was co-author with Senator Tom Love of Dallas of the bill providing for a scenic highway and State park for the Davis mountains. A survey is being made in the mountains now. He was given charge of the opposition in the House of a bill designed to remove Sul Ross from Alpine to an East Texas town. He opposed Grady Woodruff in this fight.

Smith has been particularly active in getting designation for construction and maintenance of West Texas highways. He is now a member of the law firm of Blair and Smith, which engages in civil practice in Midland. He is 28 years old.

OIL FIND IN MINNIE HYMAN NO. 1 PROMISES FURTHER DEVELOPMENT

Well Expected to Produce 8 To 12 Barrels of CChalk Grade Oil

The Minnie Hyman No. 1 of the Magnolia Company, five miles west of Hyman, struck oil at 1292 feet, and after drilling to 1317 feet was rated as a 6 or 8 barrel well. It was shot on Monday of this week with 60 quarts of nitro, and about 25 barrels of oil were bailed during the first 12 hours. After that, however, it fell off rapidly in production. At the present time a storage tank is being built on the lease, and the well is being cleaned out. As near as can be determined, it will produce about 8 to 12 barrels of oil, similar in grade to the Chalk oil, about three miles distant. It seems to be an accepted fact that the company will complete it as a producer, and drill other wells in hopes of finding larger production.

The Sarah M. Hyman No. 1 of McGinley-Sigler company, 3 miles west of Hyman, is drilling in hard lime at 1991 feet. It is not known whether it will be drilled deeper than the contract depth of 2,000 feet. No oil has been found except a small showing at 1035 feet.

The Sarah M. Hyman No. 2 of the McGinley-Sigler Company, about 4 miles west of Hyman, and about 1/2 mile from the Magnolia Hyman No. 1, now being completed as a small producer, is 725 feet and making very slow time. It was hoped this well would be completed before this date, but a flatten showed in the 12 1/2-inch casing and has prevented this. An effort is now being made to swedge through this casing, so as to run 10-inch to cut off the water found at 707 feet. As soon as this water is controlled, fast time to the 1300-foot level should be made. Indications are that a well of some kind will be brought in at about 1300 feet.

Among the lecturers and directors at the assembly of musical instructors will be Walter Demrose, famed musician and orchestra director.

Jones, who received his degree from Oklahoma University a year ago this June, will teach in Des Moines again this year, though he was offered other positions, one being in a New Jersey high school.

NUMBER OF COLORADOANS TO DEL RIO FOR FOURTH

Quite a number of Colorado people have signified their intention of attending the formal opening of the new international bridge connecting Texas with Mexico at Del Rio, on the Fourth of July. The bridge probably looks just like any other bridge, but it is stated there are things on the other side of the bridge not to be found so plentiful in Texas.

The new district chairman this quarter, which closes June 30th. Mrs. O. H. Cooper, a former Abilene district president, and Mrs. G. L. Parton an associational president of Sweetwater association, of Abilene, were present and assisted in the organization. CHEVROLET SETS USED CAR SALES RECORD

What is believed to be a new record for the sale of used cars in the United States was established in May when the nation-wide Chevrolet dealer organization sold 157,624 used cars. This was in addition to the record volume of new car business which also soared to a new level during the month.

In commenting on the achievement Chevrolet factory officials point out that it was made possible through the tremendous amount of public confidence that has been built up by Chevrolet dealers through the general policy of offering for sale only dependable merchandise. They explain that through the widespread use of the red tag "with an O. K. that counts," prospective used car buyers can be assured that every vital part of the car has been properly reconditioned and put in shape to offer thousands of miles of unused transportation.

Compared with the corresponding month of a year ago, when 118,195 used cars were sold, the May, 1929, total showed a gain of more than 33 per cent. It also outstripped the April, 1929 record of 133,887 used cars.

In accomplishing this feat, the Chevrolet dealer organization sold

How to Raise Poultry
By Dr. L. D. LeGier, V.S., St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. LeGier is a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, 1922. Thirty-six years of veterinary practice and success in live stock and poultry. Eminent authority on poultry and stock raising. Nationally known poultry breeder. News author and lecturer.

MATED OR MISMATED—HOW ABOUT YOUR FLOCK

If You are Not Giving Due Attention To Proper Breeding, You Are Losing Money. Success Is Only For Those Who Realize the Importance of This Often Neglected Opportunity to Improve the Strain.

I once heard a lecturer remark that if as great care were used in the mating of human beings as most poultry raisers observe in mating their chickens, there would be fewer divorcees. If he had in mind only the professional poultry raisers who recognize the importance of ever and eternally striving to better their flocks, I can agree with him. If, however, he intended this statement to be as broad as it sounded, I most certainly can not agree with him.

Far too many people feel a rooster is only a rooster, and a hen nothing but a hen. They know in a general way that the two together are necessary in order to produce eggs which will ultimately result in a new generation. They do not, however, have the slightest conception of the importance of proper mating between the two sexes.

If more poultry raisers could be made to realize that proper mating is one of the most essential elements of success, there would be fewer scrub flocks in the country and more money made from the business. To be sure, many writers on the subject have caused it to appear too complicated for the average person to understand. If one goes into all the reasons for things that must be done, the whole affair does get rather too involved for anyone but the professional. The man with a farm flock is not so much interested in the "why" of the question as in "how." I shall, therefore, try to give some simple non-technical suggestions on mating which if followed carefully are bound to result in the betterment of any flock.

There are many methods of mating—far too many to be discussed in an article of this kind. I must, therefore, limit myself to those that are practical for the ordinary farm flock, rather than the professional or the fancier. I must assume an understanding of the necessity for choosing only such specimens of both sexes as are good size, vigorous, healthy, free from deformities or defects, and which conform to the standard requirements of their respective varieties.

The most common method of mating is known as flock or mass breeding. This consists of mating the entire lot of hens with a number of males.

In flock mating there is no way to study individual members of your flock. You do not know which ones produced good layers or good breeders and which did not. Consequently, have no way of influencing the nature or quality on to the offspring. The result may be a steady decline in the quality of each succeeding generation.

A desirable alternative to the flock mating is the Special Mating System. This system is thoroughly practical for even the smallest flock. Eight to fifteen hens are confined in a pen to themselves, preferably with but one male bird. Naturally, only such specimens are chosen as are known to possess the qualities desired in the descendants. This is a scientifically correct course because it follows the law of heredity that like begets like.

Furthermore, since you use only your best fowls in this type of breeding, you will give the necessary care and attention to individuals and to the hatching eggs. Consequently, the chicks will, as a rule, be as good or better than their parents. Such mating gives a chance for real improvement because it affords you some definite data to work with. Fertility is usually higher from such matings because the male suffers no interferences. All of my matings are special matings. My breeding pens consist of 8 to 10 hens and one male. Little would be gained by entering into the technical phases of such subjects as inbreeding and line-breeding, together with details of the laws of heredity as they concern proper mating. In passing, however, I should like to explode the popular fallacy that inbreeding or the mating of closely related birds is in itself a cause of decline in quality of succeeding generations. On the contrary, this method is regularly used by the best poultry raisers to maintain the purity of a strain once a certain desired standard is definitely established. This excludes the introduction of alien blood into a strain or flock which is often accompanied by results disastrous to uniformity. Generally, where a decline in quality follows the mating of closely related fowls, it is due to the use of birds lacking in vitality or which did not conform to the desired standard.

STAR TIRES
PERFORMANCE
EXCELLENT

"While we were optimistic as to Star Tires when the Hicks Rubber Company purchased the Star Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio, for we knew what Hicks would build extra quality into a product already nationally known for its high quality, the actual performance of the Star has exceeded our own lofty expectations."

This is the remark made yesterday by Allen Connell, of the Hicks Rubber Co., local Star and Dayton dealers.

"And our gratification is nothing compared to the enthusiasm of those motorists who have 'itched their gas buggies to a Star," said Mr. Connell.

"Many supremely satisfied purchasers of Star tires have voluntarily called at our place of business to show us how very little, if any, the deep tread of the Star tire has worn in thousands of miles of hard travel. "We appreciate these voluntary expressions and definite demonstrations of complete satisfaction."

ABILENE RACES ON FOURTH TO BE OUTSTANDING SPORT

ABILENE, Texas, June 20.—The automobile race program to be presented on the West Texas Fair Speedway in Abilene on July 4 will be the outstanding Independence Day sport event in the southwest.

A check of the American Automobile Association's 1929 racing schedule reveals that there will be only seven speed car contests in the United States during this year that will be larger than the program to be given in this city on July 4. Only one of the seven is in the southwest and it is November 16 at Phoenix, Arizona. Guaranteed prizes, totaling $2,500 will be awarded to the winners in the five races that will make up the program to be held here on Independence Day. Of the 183 other races to be held in various parts of the United States during 1929, under sanction of the AAA, only seven of them will offer larger prizes. This, of course, does not take into consideration the eleven contests listed on the championship circuit.

The southwest area, in which is included Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, California and Colorado, will have thirty-five officially sanctioned AAA race contests during this year. The November 16 date at Phoenix is the only one that will offer larger prizes to winning drivers than is guaranteed here. The Phoenix purse totals $2,750 and by the time the winners in the July 4 contest here get their cut on the gate receipts, which will be given in addition to the $2,500 guarantee, it is likely that the total here will be more than the Phoenix race will pay.

Only two other race contests will be held in the southwest district on July 4, under AAA sanction, in addition to the contest to be offered here. One of them will be at Denver, Colorado, for a purse of $1,800 for all winners in the various events, and the other is to be in Banning, California. Total premiums of $800.

There will be five events on the card presented here on Independence day under direction of D. H. Jeffries, Texas supervisor of the American Automobile Association. The feature of the day will be a 15-mile contest for first money of $650 and a per cent of the receipts.

PICNIC SEASON IN WEST TEXAS HAS ARRIVED

SAN ANGELO, June 11.—The picnic season has arrived in West Texas when barbecues will draw hundreds of people from their ranches, the farms and their business institutions to the open air. Horses being played and ropers will show that the twirling of a loop isn't a lost art, polo teams will play and men from a score of West Texas counties will greet friends of another day.

Junction down where the Llanoas join, will open the season on Thursday and Friday, June 13 and 14. There will be an especial interest in the polo events.

Menard has not been in the picnic circle for the last few years, but has now joined that group and it broadcasts an invitation to attend the affair there on June 20 and 21. There is a commodious grandstand, a good race track and a fine polo field. It is the first show put on by the Menard Polo Association. There will be features to please everybody, and plenty of shade to shield from the hot sun.

Sonora will feed between 4,000 and 5,000 persons with a free barbecue on June 26 and 27 and entertain with five horse races daily and the antics of 21 bucking broncos. The wild horse race will be a daily feature.

Then on July 4 the entire West seems to break out in a celebration. Ozona, with its premier livestock show, rodeo and race meet and its big free barbecue will attract stockmen from all over the Southwest and more than 1,000 head of sheep will be offered in the show ring, making of this event one comparable to the big shows and sale on the Pacific Coast.

Brady will stage its big affair on July 3, 4 and 5 when horse racing will attract its thousands.

San Saba offers similar entertainment on the same day. Del Rio will open on July 4 the longest bridge to be built across the Rio Grande. This replaces the low-water bridge that has been washed out many times. McCombs stages its picnic on July 4 and 5. Lampasas also will have a show on July 4, and other towns are offering attractions, but have not yet decided on the program. Midland always offers a big program.

NECESSITY OF SPIRITUAL BIRTH

John 3:3, 6, 8.—Jesus answered, and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

John 1:12-13: As many as received him, to them He gave power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on His name.

SHAM AND PRETENSE: Most college commencement addresses are dreary collections of platitudes.

A FEW BOUQUETS: This column has handed Colorado and Mitchell county several puns because of the junk heaps and bunches of dismantled cars left around in public view.

California Co. Starts Buildings in Midland: (From Midland Reporter) Purchase of a tract of land at the corner of West Illinois Avenue and A streets, and contract for the erection of three buildings on the site was executed this week by the California Company.

Smart strap watches for girls: A citizen remarked the other day: "If I were judging the most attractive yards or lawns, I would never give a prize for a yard with a fence around it, no matter how beautiful it may be."

ARE SOUTHERN STATES THE "SHAME OF THE NATION?": In a scathing reply to the editorial of a Chicago newspaper, quoted as pointing the finger of shame at the South, Holland's, the Magazine of the South, in the current issue says: "Utter and amazing ignorance, not only of the South but of our country as a whole, is revealed in a recent editorial in the Chicago Daily Tribune entitled, 'Public Life in the Sticks at Stake,' which takes note of Louisiana and her political problems, of Oklahoma's impeachment trials, of the 'Ma' Ferguson episode in Texas, and of Bilbo in Mississippi—

ters, its beer 'barons,' and its neighboring Herrins and Ciceros. Political disputes in the Southern States at least are settled in courts of law, and not with machine guns. The Southern States have no unseated United States senators, nor does any of their senators send a floral offering and his personal card to a gangster's funeral.

The South, in six years, increased its manufactured products values $567,000,000. In those same six years, manufacturing values in the rest of the country decreased $279,509,000. Southern ports handle 42 per cent of all active cotton spindles in the country's water-borne tonnage. Over 61 per cent of all active cotton spindles in the Nation are in the south. Such facts as these are endless. If this be remoteness from commercial activity, make the most of it.

The South was steeped in culture and learning, and its cities were the sites of recognized colleges and universities, more than three-quarters of a century before Chicago came into existence. Its first college was founded over 140 years before Chicago. In fact, when Chicago was founded, there already were 40 universities and colleges in the South—as against only 20 in the Middle West and 36 in the remaining States. Two of these Southern colleges were in Louisiana and Mississippi.

The second college founded on American soil was in a Southern State—the College of William and Mary, at Williamsburg, Va., in 1693. Only one other university was founded in America during that century—Harvard, in 1636, located in Massachusetts, which is not a Middle West State.

Of the twosome Southern universities founded while Wesleyan was still but an idea in a trader's mind, one was Wesleyan, in Macon, Georgia, the oldest woman's college in the world, and the first to award a degree to a woman. Subsequent Southern colleges, preceding Chicago's first, included the famous Baylor in Texas—Baylor college for woman and Baylor University.

Today there in the Southern States 189 recognized colleges and universities. The Middle West has only 116. The remainder of the country has 275.

In justice to the Middle West, the North, and the East, it should be understood and stated that this editorial in the Tribune does not reflect the attitude and opinion of the public in those sections toward and regarding the Southern States, but is actuated probably by jealousy and is indicative of a narrow policy that has characterized the Tribune's attitude toward the South for many years. Business men in Chicago and the Middle West know its utter falseness, and it is to the interest of those same business men—many of whom seek Southern patronage—to see that such misstatements are not circulated in the future.

If the editorial writers for the Tribune are weary of recording murders, gang fights, and bootlegging in Chicago—as they have reason to be—and are merely seeking a new subject, we suggest that they choose one on which they have some information. A little knowledge is a dangerous thing, but none at all is gross ignorance.

Folks May Change Minds And Not Want Truth Always In The Record

Those who howl that the Record "never tells the truth," will probably decide after reading this article, copied from the Alpine Avalanche, that they hope it never will:

A West Texas editor, so runs the story in the Stillwater (Minn.) Gazette, wearied of being called a liar because occasionally a typographical error or other error appeared in his publication of commonplace news items.

In wrath he announced: "A lot of people in this town fall out with the editor and brand him a liar when the ordinary mistakes of life show up in the paper. You have a little charity and fellow feeling for every man in town but your editor. You claim you want facts and don't if you don't get them. Read the next issue of this sheet, and you will see facts with the bark off."

"I admit that I have been a liar, an editorial liar ever since I have been editing this sheet, but I have never printed a lie in the columns except to keep somebody's feelings from being hurt. I am not afraid of any of you and I'll be dad-blamed if I don't print the truth from now on or until some of you get out of the habit of calling me a liar every time I make some unavoidable typographical errors. Now watch my smoke!"

Here are some of the paragraphs out of the next issue:

"John Bennin, the laziest man in town, made a trip to Bellview yesterday."

"Rev. Sty preached last Sunday at the local church. His sermon was punk and uninteresting except some stuff he quoted from Bob Ingersoll, for which he failed to give Bob credit. He also cited a few passages from one of William Gilbert Munsey's sermons and had the unlimited gall to palm it off as his own."

"Tom Spardin married Miss Caroline Meadows last trades day at the county seat. It isn't generally known, but the marriage was brought about mainly by a Remington shotgun manipulated by the bride's father. Tom concluded that marrying was the healthiest thing he could do until other arrangements could be made."

"Regan Lloyd, cashier of the State Bank at Willow Grove, died last Wednesday and was buried by the Odd Fellows at Pleasant Mound cemetery. He had been taking the paper for several years and had not paid us a cent. We thought that, being a banker, he would certainly pay sometime. We will sell the account for two-bits worth of groceries."

"Married: Miss Susie Scruggs and Horace Griffin. The bride is a very ordinary girl who flirts with every traveling man she meets and never helped her mother three days in her life put together. She is anything but a beauty, resembling a gravel pit in the face and walks like a duck. The groom is a natural born loafer and bum. He never did a lick of work in his life until his step-daddy ran him off from home last fall. He went to the county seat and rather than starve to death he accepted a job as chahmer maid in a livery stable. As soon as his ma found out where he was she went up and got him and brought him home. They now reside at the home of his wife's father and he has no definite plans for the future. Susie will have a hard row to hoe."

STANDARD PICKLE and RELISH RECIPES

Recommended By County Home Demonstration Agt.

The first group of a series of recipes have been tested by the home industry specialist of the Extension department of A. & M. College and which are recommended by Miss Abbie M. Sevier, county home demonstration agent...

Necessary Utensils

There are certain utensils which should be included in the supplies when making pickles, relishes, or chow-chow for the market.

The following equipment should be ready for service: Enamel pans and pots (no metal of any kind); wooden spoons; enameled ladles or dippers with perforated bowls for lifting the pickles from kettles; standard size glass measuring cups; standard measuring spoons; stainless steel knives; earthen jars and enameled lined kettles...

Food Supplies Use only best and freshest fruit and vegetables. Substitutes should never be used. Buy supplies in large quantities—this saves on cost. Use only fresh spices. Use coarse pure grade salt.

Always use pure apple cider vinegar—clear variety (study the label to ascertain the contents of bottle or jug.)

The spices loosely in bag—if tied too tight the flavor of the spices cannot be extracted. Always pack jars firmly with pickles or relishes before pouring over the pickle liquid or dressing.

Cucumber or Gherkin Pickles Small cucumbers or gherkins: Brine—1/2 cup salt and gallon of boiling water.

Pickled Onions Make brine of 1 1/2 cups salt and 2 quarts boiling water; slices of red pepper (garnish); 1 gallon of pure apple cider vinegar; 1 cup sugar; 2 tablespoons mustard seed.

Peel small white onions, keeping them smooth and unbroken, cover with boiling brine of salt and water and let stand two days. Drain and cover with fresh boiling brine; let stand two days, and drain again. Soak in clear cold water two hours, put in jars, and garnish with one or two small thin slices of red pepper.

BIG SPRING IS CENTER OF DISTRICT CONSOLIDATION

Effective Sunday, June 15, the Ft. Worth and Rio Grande divisions of the Texas and Pacific railway were consolidated and A. E. Pistole, formerly superintendent of the latter division, will become superintendent of the larger division with headquarters at Big Spring. This was announced officially Saturday.

C. C. Kilway, superintendent of the Rio Grande division, stationed in Big Spring, will become master of transportation for the larger division. His headquarters will continue to be Big Spring. This change makes the Rio Grande division an unusually long one, extending from Fort Worth to El Paso as it did prior to 1915, when divided, and concentrates operating headquarters in Big Spring.

JESUS AS THE AUTHOR OF A NEW RELIGION BRO. HARVEY'S SUBJECT ON SUNDAY EVENING

Taking as his text Matthew 13:52, "Then Jesus said unto them, therefore every scribe who is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man who is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old."

WRITING FIRE AND TORNADO INSURANCE

ERNEST KEATHLEY Colorado, Texas Phone 77

day night on the subject, "Jesus, the Author of a New Religion." "We should appreciate the Old Testament," Bro. Harvey said in the beginning of his sermon, "and study it for its comfort, its types of humanity, and its teachings. Above all, it is a schoolmaster to bring us to Christ. Jesus, talking to the disbelieving Jews, said 'Search the Scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life; for they are they which do testify of me.' Our use of the Old Testament should be the same that Christ made of it. We should not abuse it and seek to answer a New Testament question with an Old Testament answer."

"Jesus warns against this in Matt. 9:16-17. 'No man putteth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment, for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment and the rent is made worse. Neither do men put new wine into old bottles, else the bottles break and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish; but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.' Jesus said to bring out things old and new, and it is the new we want to consider tonight."

"When Paul went to Athens, he found the citizens of that city like this: The Athenians spent their time either telling or hearing some new thing" (Acts 17:21). Unless human nature has made a great change, we are their kindfolks along that line. We don't want to be old fogies. We want to be the very vogue of the hour. Modern in every respect. About the only reason I am now dissatisfied with my Chevie Four is that there is now on the market a Chevie Six.

"Jesus is the author of the latest religion from the plastic hand of God. In Jeremiah 31:31-34, God promised to make a New Covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah, not like the old, Paul said of the New Covenant that it would not have been sought if the first covenant had been faultless."

"You note that it is called the NEW Covenant, and it is the last will and testament of our Lord. Then, if new and the last one out, is it not the modern thing in religion?"

"Let me call your attention to some of the new principles introduced by Jesus as the Mediator of the New Covenant. A new method of teaching is the first. Jesus introduced the parabolic method of teaching, the most popular way of instruction today. He so astonished the scribes and doctors of his age that they said of Him that He 'taught as one having authority.'"

"This New religion was based on the new law of love. Jesus said to His disciples: 'Hereby I give you a new law, that you love one another as I have loved you.' (John 13:34.)

"There never has been nor never will be another law based on that common yet great human principle. All can't have money, all can't possess learning, neither can all have high social standing, but all can love. He gave the world a new rule: 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.' There was an iron rule that 'might makes right'; a silver rule, 'Don't do till the other fellow does first.' But this is a positive and a golden rule, one which, if carried out, will make you get along with your wife, with your neighbor, even with your mother-in-law."

"Not only was Jesus the founder of the New rule, but He was also founder of the New Kingdom church. 'Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances, for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace.' (Ephesians 2:15). Thus did Christ cause the new church to be made up both of Jews and Gentiles."

"In order that one might become a citizen of that New Kingdom, Jesus originated the idea of the New Birth. To Nicodemus He said: 'Except a man be born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God.' This man was a citizen of the old Jewish kingdom, but he had to be born anew to enjoy citizenship in the new one."

"When you have obeyed the law of the New Birth, you are then a newborn babe in Christ Jesus. 'As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word that you may grow thereby.' (1 Peter 2:2). And, more than that, you are a new creature in Christ. 'Wherefore if any man is in Christ he is a new creature.' (II Cor. 5:17)."

"In Isaiah 62:2, we are told that we will be called by a new name that the mouth of the Lord shall name. What is it? The answer is in Acts 11:16: 'And the disciples were called Christians first at Antioch.'"

"Jesus furthermore introduced a New Worship, one not calling for three trips a year to Jerusalem, but one which could be observed publicly even where in a gathering of two or three Christians, for Christ said: 'Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.' No more lamb sacrifices in this worship, no more burning of the incense, no more mechanical music, but worship with the heart in spirit and in truth."

"Yes, a New day—not the Sabbath but the Lordsday. And a New Memory—the Lord's death rather than the memory perpetuated by the 'passover lamb.'"

"But when this old world is no longer, we then will look for a New Heaven and a New Earth, wherein dwell righteousness. There will we have a new song leader, Christ, and then sing the New Song while ages roll on and on."

RURAL BOYS AND GIRLS ENGAGE IN POETIC TILT

A poetic tilt between the two sexes in Mitchell county rural schools seems to have been precipitated by the Record some time ago when a poem by Preston Wynne lauding boys and disparaging girls was printed.

This week two of the retorts arrived, one being in defense of the existence of girls, the other in defense of the existence of boys. The first one is by Ruth Byrd, the second by Preston Wynne:

Some boys, they say, Go courtin' night and day; Never help their father plow, But roam around and think how He might not work, But get his girl and shirk, shirk.

In the meantime the boy dreads Getting out of his snug bed, His father calls him, but he still dreads, And pretends he didn't hear what was said.

At seven-thirty his mother puts away His breakfast and tells him to come, But still he shirks, shirks, shirks.

Late in the morning he rises, Looks at his breakfast and thinks of the good prizes, Finally he leaves for the field, While his father has worked until half killed.

At noon he is first to lunch, And does not wait for the bunch, But still he shirks, shirks, shirks.

He returns to the field an hour late, Always getting the good baits, Still thinking of the girl of late, Though to some of them they pretend they hate.

As the evening sun begins to lower He must go to the house before The rest, still he shirks and shirks.

Boys never help to do the evening chore; But at the approaching of the moon-light night They go get their girls and are out of sight.

He tells her of his wondrous love As he has prepared his speech so as to win any little dove. Now as she gives her consent, he no more has to flirt, shirk! But just to shirk, shirk, shirk! —Ruth Byrd.

Boys is a rather important subject

And deserves to be treated right. There are so many nice things to say And a few of these I will attempt to write.

Boys are honest and truthful, They could never tell a lie or steal. It isn't any harm to boast or exaggerate, Or take a watermelon from a farmer's field.

Boys are true hearted and kind, Although they are accused of being mean. It's all right to kill some old stray cat Or "can" a dog that you've never seen.

Boys are obedient and are hard workers. They do what their parents tell them to—sometimes. It's nice to slip off and go in swimmin' Unless Dad is suspicious and the swimmin' hole finds.

And yet I am willing to admit, There are exceptions to all rules, And I have learned by experience That the big boys are just fools.

They will work hard all week, And on Saturday night with a gal, They'll spend their week's pay On some darn Susie, Jane, or Sally —Preston Wynne.

YOUR FORD DEALER OFFERS SOLID VALUES IN USED CARS. What do we mean by "solid values"? Simply this: When you buy a used car from us you pay just what the car is worth. There has been no inflation in the resale price to take care of an unreasonable trade-in allowance. The price of the new Ford is very low, and the value high; there is no leeway for excessive trade-in allowances. That is why you can buy a used car from us knowing the price you pay is for the service that car will give, and nothing else. Our used car department is based on a spirit of fair dealing. We would hardly care to risk our reputation by acting otherwise. Come in today and see some of our bargains in unused transportation. There are several makes now on display. LET'S TALK ABOUT PRICE. Let's turn the cards face up. We'll both agree every farmer wants Delco-Light on his farm. If you haven't it, there must be some good reason. Maybe you think it's the cost. Fair enough? Suppose we get together and do some figuring. Let's figure just how much money it would take—when you would need to pay it and just what you'd get for your money. Then let's figure how Delco-Light would save you money and help you to make more. In short, let's dig out all the facts. It won't cost you a cent to talk this over. And we'd like to figure out some way for you to get the Delco-Light plant you want sooner than you expect. How about some evening this week? B. W. SCHLEY PHONE No. 2

THE BANG OF BURNED OUT BEARINGS YOUR MOTOR CAN ESCAPE IT. If you've ever listened to the anvil chorus under the hood when a bearing burns out, you realize the damage that poor oil can do to a motor. Replaced bearings cost real money—a great deal more, in fact, than the cost of a year's supply of good oil. Isn't that reason enough why you should always insist upon a brand of oil which has stood the test—a brand backed up by an organization which has spent years specializing in the lubrication needs of every type of motor? Such are the brands offered you by the Continental Oil Company. You may be sure that an oil sponsored and sold by this organization is the right oil for your car. Orgatone Has Relieved Eplen Of Indigestion and Stomach Trouble

"I am certainly pleased with Orgatone, for what it has done for me," said Mr. Leroy Eplen, of 2709 Simmons Ave., Abilene, Texas, while talking with the Orgatone representative. "I just simply couldn't feel like my natural self for a whole year. I was so bothered with stomach trouble. My food would sour on my stomach just as soon as I ate anything. I would form and I felt full and puffed up until one meal from the next. The food I ate didn't taste good and I did not want it half the time. Some days I felt tired and worn out and not fit for work. The pains in my stomach would be rather sharp and cramping at times. I was never too sick to keep on my job, but didn't have any energy or pep to go about. I was getting worse all the time and needed something to build me up and give me the much needed pep, energy and strength.

"I had heard so many people talking about Orgatone and after several of my friends recommended it to me, I bought a bottle.

"Well, sir, I have certainly improved. After I had taken the first bottle I could notice a big difference. I can do my work and never get tired, and eat anything I want and suffer from stomach trouble. My indigestion is gone. I am enjoying eating now. It will help me feel miserable up until one meal from the next. The afterwards, I am getting better every day. I don't dread to go to work any longer for I have more strength and pep than I did. I am gaining in weight right along and I am more than pleased with what Orgatone has done for me and don't hesitate to recommend it to anyone suffering as I did. It has helped me in such a way that it was so perfectly and easily, it was a pleasure to take Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Colorado from the Colorado, and the City Drug Stores. Adv.-11

The Memory Lingers On

The din from the adjoining apartment had been terrific, and at last the householder hurled his paper to the floor in a rage.

"That boy has been playing his infernal saxophone for hours now!" he yelled. "If he doesn't quit I'll go crazy!"

"You are already crazy," his wife returned calmly. "He quit twenty minutes ago."

Colorado Spokesman, Another Old Newspaper, Filled With Activities Of Cattlemen Here in December, '97

Since to go repeatedly through the old paper files in the Record office and group all the old copies there according to dates is not only a task but also destructive to the brittle, frayed pages of the papers, this column will henceforth take up the copies as they come in the file, since those at the first of the files all were Mitchell county newspapers between 1890 and 1900.

The first old paper on file is extremely fragile and ragged copy of the Colorado Spokesman for Wednesday, December 15, 1897. C. W. Simpson was editor and proprietor of this sheet, devoted, its motto said, to the interests of Colorado and the Colorado country.

Doss Bros., the druggists, had an advertisement at the top of the page and so did Cheatham's Drug Store. At the corner of Oak and Second street, W. H. Snyder continued to haunt his old stand and sell groceries, crockery and tinware. D. N. Arnett and H. C. Caldwell on Second street, sold groceries, and Y. D. McMurry helped supply the town with hardware and groceries.

A column of locals on the front page includes the following items:

"D. N. Arnett shipped three cars of cattle to Kansas City Saturday.

"A. W. Boucher bought 110 head of cattle on the ninth from Sam Smart at $20 a head.

"John Prude will start a carload of fine bulls to his Fort Davis ranch tomorrow. J. K. Kellar goes with them.

"W. R. Harris bought F. E. McKenzie's cattle on the ninth, paying $20. About 1000 head in all.

"W. T. Scott bought last week from Bob McNairy 400 head at $18 per head. He sold them two hours afterwards for $20.—Sterling News.

"Captain A. P. Bush came in Friday. He recently received three cars of Eastern cattle and 250 head of fine Southern bulls for his pasture in Borden. He says he has enough cattle now for his pasture, has sold all his Mexican cattle and now has Texas cattle only.

"Tom Smith took a bunch of about 1300 head of the Carolites cattle up to the Two Buckle ranch last week. R. H. Looney, John Prude, Gary & Plasters, The St. Louis, and the Two Buckles are pasturing a lot of these cattle this winter. Tom Smith has the job looking after them.

"A big cattle deal was consummated at Fort Worth last week. Sam Davidson purchasing from Carver & Co. of Henrietta 12,000 head of steers. The cattle are in Archer county. The sale will aggregate $250,000.

"J. O. Logan came in from Sweetwater Monday and exhibited to the Standard man the hide of a rattlesnake which measured over eight feet in length. He sent it to his girl in Illinois for a Christmas present. While in the city he sold to Eugene McKenzie 529 Big Lake muttons at $2 to $2.75.—San Angelo Standard.

"In conversation with Judge R. H. Looney in regard to bringing suit to oust a number of new comers in his pasture on the famous '97," he stated that he had all the land in his pasture leased except what was purchased before he applied to leave and that there was no conflict between him and these purchasers. His suits are against those who have located and turned loose an unreasonable amount of cattle on the lands he has leased.

He states that there is a plain law permitting the lease of all vacant lands and that half the money goes to pay the public debt and the other half to the school fund. Moreover, he states that when lands go back to the State after suit, as in Block 97, they are not subject to the homestead law until the legislature meets and so declares. This, he says, is the law and is the reason that Baker will not now accept the applications to homestead the vacant lands in Block 97.

"One noticeable feature in President McKinley's message is that he never in the least hinted at the rapid increase of trusts and monopolies all over the country. He is not unkindful of where the campaign funds came from that elected him to office.

"The Big Spring Pantagraph and the Merkel Mail are for Jester for governor.

"Barney Gibbs is thought by many populists to be their strongest man for governor."

The inside pages of this old paper are devoted to items not specially of local interest. The back page carries the following local notes and advertisements:

"Charles Crawford is clerking at Y. D. McMurry's."

"D. M. Lyons spent a few days in El Paso last week.

"Rev. J. A. Whitehurst paid a visit to Fort Worth last week.

"C. S. Knott has gone to Alabama to make a ten-strike-buying cattle.

"A sale of Mitchell county's four leagues of school land is about effected.

"J. M. Cooper of Iolanthe was here yesterday purchasing goods for his store.

"J. D. Caldwell of Lubbock was here purchasing goods for his store last week.

"Enoch Martin, the slayer of young Pruitt, was in town Friday." (Evidently libel wasn't a thing to be feared in those days.)

"W. H. Moesser has gone to the Territory to see his wife and baby.

"On the fifth John Carlisle had the misfortune to lose the grass on about one section by fire.

"Sparks and John Holt of Claytonville, Fisher county, were here trading recently.

"Sam Shepperd came in a few days ago from building some ranch houses for Slaughter, about 65 miles north of here.

"On Thursday evening a fire got out and burnt off about 200 acres of the town pasture just east of the graveyard.

"Dan Eiland has returned and brought a Mrs. Eiland with him. They are visiting at New Millers.

"Lawyers Carter, Randals & Shepherd of Colorado cast their brilliant intellects on our court this week.—Sterling News.

"At the Methodist church last Sunday, the Sunday school raised ten dollars toward buying a new carpet for the church.

"A fine Jersey calf belonging to Claude Gill died Monday of blackleg. Every calf ought to be vaccinated.

"J. F. McGill of the Union community has been down with slow fever for nearly four weeks. His recovery has been despaired of.

"A big game of football will be played here Christmas evening at the grandstand. It is said a fine game will be played, and everybody is invited to attend.

"George Root and wife of Galveston came in last week and will probably abide here in the future. The health of George was not good in Galveston and he prefers to live somewhere in the west.

"W. R. Young bought the restaurant of C. M. Adams, which is managed by John Rix, Thursday, and has taken charge.

"Doc Colvin, Sam Arnett, and John F. Johnson are gone to Jaurez to attend the bull fights.

"Dorn Thursday morning to Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cheatham, a girl baby.

"W. B. Scott, a former inhabitant of this country, accompanied by Will Copeland, both of Erath county, returned recently to this county to live.

"James Dow and his son, Arthur, of Gall, were down last week buying holiday goods for their store.

"W. H. Riggs of Sabrook, Ill., a brother-in-law of our esteemed townsman, M. T. Hill, was here on a visit last week.

"At the last meeting of the Woodmen of the World, the following were elected as officers for next year: T. J. Matthews, consul commander; H. C. Caldwell, advisor lieutenant; C. W. Simpson, clerk; A. W. Boucher, treasurer; C. H. Williams, sentinel; H. C. Clark, escort, and S. T. Shropshire, watchman.

NEW FORD PROCESS DOES AWAY WITH 'BREAKING IN'

Precision manufacturing and an unusual degree of importance which the Ford Motor Company attaches to the inspection of Model A cars has gone far to eliminate that tedious process known as the "breaking in" of a new automobile.

On the windshields of the new Model A are directions which suggest a driving speed limit for the first 500 miles of 35 miles per hour. This is in marked contrast to the old line of instruction which cautioned against a speed of more than 20 or 25 miles an hour for at least 1000 miles.

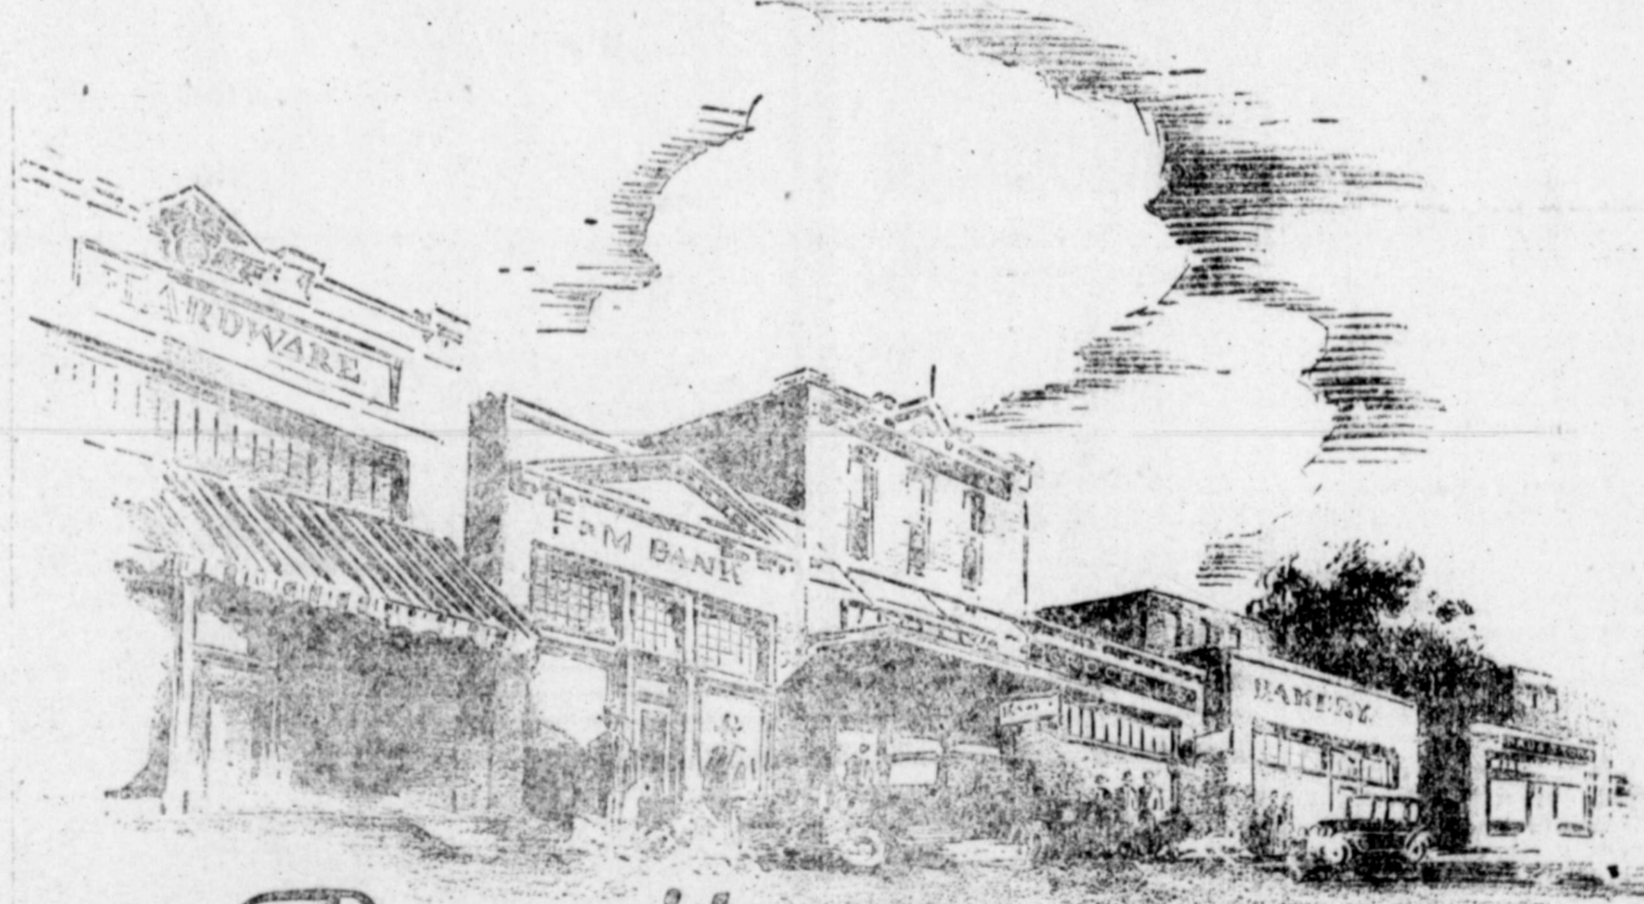

Excess heat is the most destructive agency which may affect an automobile, particularly in the first several hundred miles it is driven. Friction is mainly responsible for overheating and a piston that is fitted too tightly may seize and in turn score the cylinder wall. This means an expensive repair job.

Careful machining of engine parts, such as cylinder blocks, pistons, camshafts, crankshafts, etc., the proper fitting of bearings, accuracy in the cutting of gears; multitudinous check during the process of assembling the Model A and rigid inspections combine to produce an automobile which is ready for the road when delivered. For this reason, it may at once be operated to the limit of speed prescribed by the motor codes of a great many states, without going through the customary "breaking in" period.

Buy it at Home

BUY IT AT HOME is not just an empty expression. Upon this practice is based community growth. When the people of any community consistently patronize local institutions for whatever goods or services they can get from them, they are laying the foundation for growth. When they fail to do this they retard progress.

Many people feel that when they give their business to some firm outside their own community it is just the "hard luck" of the local firm which loses the business.

This is not the case.

Purchases made in your community starts that amount of money in circulation in your community. Rent and taxes are paid with that money; shoes, dresses, groceries, radios, hats, needles, thread, automobiles, tires, gasoline, dentistry, school supplies—everything that is sold by anybody is bought with a part of the money that is paid for anything bought and sold in your community.

It is not any more a matter of local loyalty to buy at home than it is a matter of self-preservation. When you buy a pair of shoes, for instance, somewhere else which you might have bought at home, you not only take business away from your local shoe merchant, but you take money from your local bank and the whole town loses just that amount of circulating wealth.

It is just good, sound business practice to buy things at home. Buy at home and help your town to grow.

WEST TEXAS OLD-TIMERS TO HOLD REUNION AT SLATON

SATON, June 20.—The old-timers of West Texas will gather to recount their experiences of pioneer western life when an Old Settlers' Reunion is held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, July 18, 19, and 20, at the old Igo Ranch, consisting of 5,300 acres, located on Yellowhouse Canyon, five miles north of Slaton.

gram is the construction of a large swimming pool 15 feet deep, to be supplied with fresh water from the springs on the canyon's hillside. A ten-mile scenic drive around the canyon's rim is being prepared, and provisions are being made for fishing, boating, golf, tennis, baseball, and many other forms of diversion and recreation.

Rodeo Is Feature

Entertainment features of the Old Settlers' Reunion will also include a rodeo, with exhibitions in bull-dogging, roping and other stunts; buffalo riding, chariot racing, a terrapin derby, pony races, band concerts, public speaking and full variety of other attractions. Day and night performances will be held. Free campground with plenty of shade, fuel and water, will be furnished. Several free attractions will be staged at the reunion. Among these will be an old-fashioned chuck wagon dinner, served in true old western style.

To Be Annual Affair

The Old Settlers' Reunion is to be held annually hereafter, according to the Johnstons, and they are planning to make additional improvement of the recreational features of the ranch each year. It is their intention to make the ranch the most famous playground in West Texas, thus supplying a long-felt need for such facilities on the Plains. Many camp houses will be constructed with cold spring water piped into them.

RECORD BREAKING PIG

Garvice Craghead of Valley View community, Mitchell county, Texas, broke the State record for the heaviest six-months-old pig fed by a 4-H club member when his pig tipped the scales at 360 pounds on the final day of the test. According to the records of the Extension Service the best record for a 4-H club member was made by Albert Neves of Roby, whose pig weighed 252 pounds at five-months of age. The Craghead pig weighed 255 pounds six days before it was five-months old. The pig weighed only 41 pounds when started on the test at two months of age, but gained 319 pounds in 120 days, an average of 2.65 pounds per day. The pig was fed a ration of ground threshed maize, skim milk, and commercial pig feed, and ate the following amounts of feed: 541 pounds of ground threshed maize, which cost $7.41; 240 gallons of skim milk, valued at $4.80; and 146.5 pounds of pig feed, costing $5.07. Total feed cost amounted to $17.28. Cost of a pound of gain was 5.41 cents. The pig was purchased by a local automobile agency for $50.00, leaving a profit above feed cost of $32.72. Club members have been feeding ground maize heads and attempting to float out the chaff due to the fact that they were unable to get the grain threshed. Recently a thresher was installed here and the boys who are feeding the ground threshed maize with a protein supplement are getting much better results. Twenty-seven farmers, club members, and Colorado business men were present when the pig was weighed.—Farm and Ranch.

Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, who was chairman of Better Homes Week in Colorado sometime ago, has received the following communication from national headquarters thanking her for the work done in this county in observation of that week. "I wish to thank you for the report of your Better Homes Campaign which has just been received.
