CARPENTER'S UNION TO BUILD BAND SHELL AT RUDDICK PARK

CONSTRUCTION STARTED TODAY WITH HOUSTON HILL AS SUPERINTENDENT

At their meeting Tuesday night, the Colorado Carpenters Union adopted a motion to contribute all labor on the new band shell to be erected in Ruddick Park, and elected Houston Hill to superintend the work.

Actual construction started Thursday morning. Material had been placed on the ground by the Chamber of Commerce.

Contribution of all work on the band shell is a very commendable move on the part of the Carpenters' union, and the citizenship should appreciate this very much.

The union contributed work on the Colorado airport hangar last year and they were commended highly for that work.

W. A. BOND CLAIMED SUDDENLY BY DEATH SATURDAY MORNING

Colorado Resident For 18 Years Buried Sunday In Stephenville

Death came suddenly to W. A. Bond, 52, a resident of Colorado for about 18 years at intervals, last Saturday morning at 7:45. He and another man were hauling dirt from Fifth street to the new tourist camp near Lone Wolf bridge. They had loaded the truck at the place where the storm sewer is being installed, and Mr. Bond sat down on the back of the truck to ride to the tourist camp. When the truck arrived at the camp the driver and others noticed that Mr. Bond was lying back on the dirt and did not move. Upon examination they found he was dying. He never spoke and expired immediately. Death was from heart failure.

Mr. Bond, whose only son, Virgil, is also a resident of Colorado, was formerly employed with the railroad and made his home at times in Colorado. His wife died about 20 years ago. He was a member of the Methodist church.

Burial was in Stephenville Sunday afternoon. Besides his son, Mr. Bond is survived by one brother, J. S. Bond of Mineral Wells, several half brothers, and his mother, Mrs. W. R. Warren of Loraine.

Mr. Bond was a good man. He was a quiet and agreeable citizen. Many other friends of the son, Percy Bond, join The Record in expressing sympathy.

Mr. McLean appeared in a concert program in Colorado during the winter, sponsored by Mrs. Meskimen, who teaches music in Colorado during the winters and makes her home with her mother, Mrs. C. P. Conaway.

Mr. McLean is noted for the care with which he selects his accompanist, which makes the selection of Mrs. Meskimen to fill this position more than ordinarily worthy of note.

PRIZE MONEY GIVEN

The Chamber of Commerce executive board Thursday morning appropriated $25.00 to offer as a cash prize for the best song on the paving of Iatan Flats, the song to be used by a Colorado quartet in broadcasting information that Iatan Flats have been paved.

COLORADO WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR NEXT PRESS ASSN. MEETING

DELEGATES FROM THIS CITY TO SUPPORT ABILENE FOR NEXT YEAR

Colorado has withdrawn her request for the next meeting of the West Texas Press association, and will support Abilene in the race for the honor of entertaining the next meeting of the newspaper men when the convention meets in Sweetwater the coming week-end.

The announcement that Colorado had withdrawn in favor of Abilene came after a conference with the Chamber of Commerce officials who acceded to the request of W. W. Whipkey and W. Reid that Abilene be not opposed by Colorado, since Colorado entertained the organization meeting of the association three years ago.

Advance indications are that more than 200 scribes from all parts of the State will gather at Sweetwater Friday and Saturday. Paul T. Vickers of Midland will officiate at the banquet, for which the committee has arranged a unique program, featuring several "surprise" events and speeches.

In addition to an array of prominent editors and others on the two-day program, the committee is arranging banquets, luncheons, dancing, golf, trap shooting and free airplane rides. An auto tour and inspection of the U. S. gypsum plant will feature Saturday morning.

The West Texas Press Association is receiving national publicity thru the fact that the organization is the first press body in the world to stress the development of aviation, and, incidentally, furnishing free plane rides to every registered guest.

PARTY GOES TO CARLSBAD

Mrs. Lay Powell chaperoned a group of young people to Carlsbad Cavern last week-end. In the group were Misses Edna Mae and Winnie Powell, Miss Muff Sandusky, and Miss Hanna Henshaw. A real dining room has been installed in the "Big Room" in the cavern, and the scouts are seeking an opening on the Texas side for an exit from the cavern.

In speaking of the progress of the Carpenters' Union No. 1924, Sparks said: "We have most of the best work that is going on at present. Our membership is picking up a little, and we certainly appreciate the cooperation of the business men of Colorado and the chamber of commerce."

The Carpenters' Union has done many things in a public way in the past few years. They donated work on the airplane hangar at the airport and it is said they plan to donate some work on the band shell to be erected in Ruddick park.

PRESBYTERIAN REVIVAL TO OPEN AT CHURCH ON NEXT SUNDAY MORNING

Dr. O. G. Jones of Mississippi Is Evangelist; Thos. Dawes Song Leader

First services in the Presbyterian revival will be held Sunday morning at the church, according to Rev. W. D. Elliott, pastor, whose brother, Dr. O. G. Jones of Pontotoc, Mississippi, will be the evangelist.

The Sunday evening services of the revival will also be held at the church, after which time the meetings will take place in the union tabernacle.

Thos. Dawes, who is to have charge of the music and singing during the meeting, has been practicing both his junior and children's choirs for the past several days. The junior choir, which includes young folks of the ages between ten and twenty, meets every evening at the church at 8 o'clock, and the children's choir, which includes children under ten years of age, meets each morning at the church at 9:30. All children of the city are cordially invited to join either of these choirs.

Dr. Jones is widely known as an evangelist and church worker. He is superintendent of home missions in the synod of Mississippi, and is also one of the evangelists of the General Assembly.

For a number of years about 20 years ago, Dr. Jones lived in Big Spring and was instrumental in organizing Presbyterian work in West Texas.

Two services a day will be held during the revival, the morning service during the week being at ten o'clock and the evening service at eight. There will probably be no morning services on Saturday. The public is urged to attend this revival, according to Rev. Mr. Elliott.

JAIL REPAIRS ARE AUTHORIZED BY THE CO. COMMISSIONERS

Allen Kuykendall And A. A. Dorn Authorized to Accept Bids

Needed repairs to the Mitchell county jail were authorized by the county commissioners' court in session Monday, when they authorized A. A. Dorn and Allen Kuykendall, jailer, to draft plans for repairs and receive bids for the work.

Mr. Dorn said Wednesday that no definite plans as to the work had been decided upon. Only such repairs as are absolutely necessary will be made, he said. He is of the opinion that a new jail building will have to be erected in a few years and that only such repairs as will make the jail usable now should be made.

The building has had no repairs since the fire last year in which a negro janitor lost his life and Sheriff Gregory, Deputy Rice and others were injured when a barrel of alcohol caught fire. It is in a deplorable condition, and the arrangement is very bad. A new building will have to be erected soon, it is said.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT WORKERS' CONFERENCE TUESDAY IN WASTELLA

Next Monthly Meeting To Be Held At Champion August 12

The Baptist Workers Conference of the Mitchell-Scurry Association met with the Wastella church Tuesday in all-day session. There was a large attendance from all over the Association, and the spirit of the meeting was fine.

The program was on Revival, and was well discussed from all angles—prayer, personal service, music and preaching—in a most enjoyable and inspirational way. There is a revival going on in the Wastella church in which grown men and women are being saved and added to the church by baptism, so the subject was well chosen.

Following a bounteous feast spread by the good women of the community, a board meeting and a W. M. U. session were held. At the board meeting good reports were given and a balance was shown in the treasury. The Missionary, Rev. W. D. Green, is laying himself out in the work and revivals are being held all over the association.

The outstanding work at the W. M. U. hour was the instruction in the work of the new District No. 8, which comprises Lamesa, Big Spring, and Mitchell-Scurry associations, with Mrs. B. Reagan of Big Spring the efficient and already loved president. The names of the new chairmen and their addresses were given and the president, Mrs. Whipkey, plead with Mitchell-Scurry women to all get their reports in on time. Apportionments were given and all cheerfully accepted.

Mrs. Sewell, wife of the young pastor at Champion, conducted the devotional exercises. The scripture used was part of the fourth chapter of Acts. Snyder received the banner for the best attendance. The next meeting will be at Champion on August 12th.

Those attending from Colorado were Rev. W. C. Ashford, Rev. John Cobb, E. Keathley, J. L. Bowen, and Mesdames Minnie Manning, Jack Smith and A. L. Whipkey.

Methodists Observe Sunday School Day

Methodist Sunday school day comes in May, but because of the revival meeting being held then has been postponed from time to time. Sunday morning at Sunday school hour, a short program was given by the Primary and Junior departments under the supervision of Mrs. R. H. Looney, the superintendent.

The program was opened with a welcome song by three children of the Junior department. The Lord's Prayer, led by Gilbert Grubbs, was followed by the scripture conducted by Mrs. Looney. She read the 13th chapter of Matthew, and made a splendid talk on the need of earnest consecrated workers. The work of the children was shown by the recitation of the 23rd Psalm by Williford Bond, and the Ten Commandments by Hazel Grubbs.

Mrs. Lula Mae Carlson sang very beautifully, "The Penitents." Mary Elizabeth Pidgeon gave as a reading "God's Garden." Mrs. Merritt talked on the Aim of the Sunday School. The quartette from the Business Men's class sang very nicely.

Mrs. A. A. Dorn explained the reason for Sunday School Day, how the offering was used to maintain field workers and aid Mission schools and that an offering of ten cents per member was asked for. This was not reached in the collection, only $33.00 being the offering.

Methodist Home Department
The Home department of Methodist church met Monday in the basement with Mrs. Boyd Dozier's family as hostesses. The chairman, Mrs. Walter King, presided. A list of those having papers for the Boy Scouts was given Mrs. Looney to turn over to them. The women suggested that they get these off as quickly as possible, as almost all the available storage room has been used.

It was voted to have the box supper and auction early in the fall, and to make the question of a style show the order of business in August.

Mrs. Merritt told of the summer work of the Juniors and thanked the body for the books given.

The treasurer reported $40.00 on hand and over $6 collected. The flower fund was replenished. It was voted to send greeting cards to sick members this month.

Mrs. Van King's "family" staged a style show with the dresses they are selling, and promised to visit the homes and give fittings. They will be hostesses in August.

Mrs. Mesdames Boyd Dozier, T. W. Stonerod, R. H. Brennam, Lucian Maddin Hicks, Lovick Dorn, Cawthron, Aubrey Herrington, and J. F. Quinney served two kinds of sandwiches, potato chips and tea.

Birthday Party
Tuesday, July second, was Nina Katherine Quinney's sixth birthday party. Twenty little boys and girls gathered at 6:30 and played games for more than an hour, then they were invited into the dining room, where the pretty birthday cake with its lighted candles occupied the place of honor in the center of the table.

Around it were little bags, containing marbles for the boys and jacks for the girls. Ice cream cones, orange crush and cake were served. Nina Katherine was made happy by many gifts from her little friends.

Intensive Study by Juniors
The Junior department of the Methodist Missionary society held a good meeting Friday in the church basement. The study on Japan showed a temple arrangement with the grandfather going on a journey and his offerings to all the gods. The story told by Miss Nelda Garrett showed the better way of following Christ and serving one's fellowmen.

The festival of fishes was explained, each of the boys bringing a painted fish and being told how the carp represents bravery and persistence.

The scrap books which are being made for the Japanese friends are almost completed. One Friendship book about Jesus is to be made by contribution by each member.

The group will have a sunrise breakfast next Friday morning in Ruddick Park. The story will be told there, and there will be no meeting in the afternoon.

Sunflower Parties
Tuesday, July 2, Mrs. J. F. Quinney entertained with a beautiful sunflower bridge party and again Wednesday with a sunflower 42.

The house on both occasions was lavishly decorated with bows, baskets, and vases of gay sunflowers. The score pads and tallies were hand-painted sunflowers. The first day there were six tables of players. High score prize, a flower bowl filled with roses and phlox, was won by Miss Duaine Mater. Low score prize, a bridge set, went to Mrs. Ralph Beal. At the refreshment hour orange crush and frozen dainties were served.

The next day there were twenty ladies who played 42. Mrs. C. R. Farris made high score and was given a rose jar containing a silver bag of rose leaves. The refreshment course was the same as Tuesday.

The first day Mrs. Quinney had as out-of-town guests Mrs. Mater of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Dahn of Arkansas, and Mrs. Danner of Westbrook. These together with the Colorado women greatly enjoyed her hospitality.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Snyder
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fee very delightfully entertained a group of young married folks Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Snyder, Jr. Their pretty home was gay with its bowls and vases of zinnias and gladioli. The score cards and tallies for the six tables of bridge players were fans. On each table were baskets of candies, and punch was passed during the game. A refreshment plate of ice cream and cake was served at the conclusion of the game.

Dr. Browning won high score prize for gentlemen. This was a deck of cards in a leather case. Mr. Earhart was consoled for low score with a smoking stand. Mrs. T. W. Stonerod was winner of ladies' high prize, a beautiful Italian pottery nut bowl. Mrs. John Prude, to whom the ladies' consolation went, received a desk set.

The honorees were given a lovely Rose Marie serving dish. This was a most enjoyable party.

Y. P. M. S. Meeting
A group of girls met Wednesday at Mrs. Merritt's with their leader, Mrs. David Russell. After discussing an organization, it was decided to correlate with the Epworth League and try to get every girl interested. Mrs. Russell will help with the study of Missions if she is needed, and the work will be carried on in the various departments. The hostess served light refreshments.

Yo-Yo Birthday Party
Saturday was Julius A. Sadler, Jr.'s fourth birthday and he celebrated, as he does each year, with a party. His mother invited nine of his little friends and their mothers in at 4:30. The youngsters were each given a yo-yo and spent most of the time playing with them.

The birthday cake with its four lighted candles was admired, then cut and served with brick ice cream. Many pretty gifts were left by Junior's little friends.

Honoring Miss Tate
Monday afternoon Miss Mary Dix Smith entertained two tables of bridge honoring her house guest, Miss Annie Mae Tate of Munday. A very pleasant afternoon was spent and at its close refreshments of punch and devil cake was served by Mrs. Smith.

Tuesday evening a group of twenty boys and girls enjoyed a delightful picnic at Seven Wells. They went swimming and did the usual things before having their delicious picnic lunch. This, too, was given by Miss Smith for Miss Tate.

Auxiliary Meeting
The American Legion Auxiliary met Saturday in the Hut. The president, Mrs. Farris, presided. Mrs. Walter Whipkey acted as secretary. The officers were present, but no reports were given, as all had been taking a summer vacation.

Mrs. J. B. Pritchett and Mrs. J. G. Merritt were appointed to see about a concession at the Mitchell County Fair. This was discussed as was other items of business. Meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. A. L. Whipkey.

Baptist Sunday School Visiting Day
The Baptist Sunday school has chosen Tuesday morning from 9 until 11 for its visiting day. The Educational director, Mr. Cobb, has arranged that all absentees and prospective members are listed for the department to which they belong and a list is given Monday to teachers or some officer of the class, and they are visited Tuesday morning and a report turned in Wednesday evening at the teachers' council. This is the follow-up method being used from the recent census taken of the town.

The residence of an absentee is known, a complete list of prospective members is on file, and the visiting is systematically done. It should greatly build up the Sunday school and church membership as well.

The Baptists are to be congratulated upon having an educational director and especially that he is the type of man he is. With their commendous church, wide-awake pastor and efficient director of the Sunday school student body, success should crown their efforts to bring in the lost and thain the youth.

Birthday Party
Tuesday was Nancy Price's seventh birthday and her mother gave her a lovely birthday picnic upon Lone Wolf creek. Fifteen little girls were invited. The grandmother, whose namesake she is, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, made a birthday cake and at 6 o'clock all were loaded into a truck with the lunch baskets and carried for a drive to a nice spot where the delicious lunch of fried chicken and other good eats was centered by the birthday cake with its candles. This was served with Dixie cups.

Nancy received many pretty gifts to add to the joy of the occasion.

How We Spent the Glorious Fourth
Over one hundred of the friends of Lay Powell and family, and Geo. Plasters family gathered at the Powell ranch Thursday at six o'clock for a barbecue supper. There were old, young and middle-aged in the group and all had a good time. Those who wanted to went swimming in the big tank, others sat around and talked and sang.

A delicious supper of barbecue, pickles, coffee, bread, salad and cake was served and greatly enjoyed. The barbecue was especially nice, the meat having been provided by Mr. Plaster.

Another group of forty congenial souls spent the entire day at the Dulaney ranch on Deep Creek, having a most delightful outing. Twenty-five chickens were fried, and all sorts of good food served with them—both dinner and supper were eaten out here. Games were played, stories told, and a happy, peaceful day spent.

Those who could go nowhere else went down to the Palace and enjoyed Colorado's all-star movie, "Rescued From the Flames." The splendid acting of Miss Broadus, Joe Pond and Colonel Adams and their supporters made one proud of Colorado's talent. The production was just as classy as any picture ever shown here.

IN ATTENDANCE AT AUSTIN
(Editorial Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)
Down at Austin, those gentlemen of the Legislature who failed to make their getaway before the midnight call for the third special session closed the city's gates against them. There hasn't been a quorum in the House thus far, and the Senate has managed to obtain a quorum but briefly and spasmodically. Both houses go through the formality of daily assembly, then adjourning till the next day. No business has been transacted. The $5-a-day pay of the legislators, however too small it may be for working legislators, is certainly too much for work which consists merely of meeting and adjourning.

Yet, if all the members of both houses were in Austin the situation would be no better. The Legislature could do no work even then, for the reason that it has nothing before it. Special sessions can consider only subjects submitted by the Governor. And Governor Moody has not yet submitted a single subject to the third called session. Even the vetoes of appropriation bills of the second called session, which produced the call for the third, have not been forthcoming. Thus, so far as the Legislature is concerned and so far as it is able to take cognizance, it is a do-nothing session which is now in progress. The Governor keeps the Legislature cooling its heels in the Capitol, where it performs must wait his pleasure.

Mr. Moody has announced he would veto some of the appropriation bills of the last special session, but he has not yet vetoed them. The difference is enormous, so far as the Legislature is concerned. Seldom has a State legislative body been treated in such undignified fashion by an executive.

"Want you give a shilling to the Lord?" asked a Salvation Army girl of an old Aberdonian. "How aud are ye, lassie?" he inquired. "Ah, weel, I'm past seventy-five I'll be seein' Him afore you, so I'll hand it to Him meself."

"Your honor," said the counsel, "this man's insanity takes the form of belief that everyone wants to rob him. He won't even allow me, his counsel, to approach him."

"Maybe," said the court, in a judicial whisper, "he is not so crazy after all."

STANDARD PICKLE and RELISH RECIPES

Recommended by County Home Demonstration Agt.

STANDARD RECIPES

The second group of a series of recipes have been tested out by the home industry specialist of the Extension department of A. & M. College and which are recommended by Miss Abbie M. Sevier, county home demonstration agent, as being of special interest to Mitchell county women at this time, are given below, following some valuable prerequisites:

Necessary Utensils

There are certain utensils which should be included in the supplies when making pickles, relishes, or chow-chow for the market. The strong brine and vinegar solutions used in the pickling process cause a reaction on metal spoons and containers which discolors the product and gives an unpleasant flavor.

The following equipment should be ready for service: Enamel pans and pots (no metal of any kind); wooden spoons; enameled ladles or dippers with perforated bowls for lifting the pickles from kettle; standard size glass measuring cups; standard measuring spoons; stainless steel knives; earthen jars and enameled lined kettles are desirable for brining; If wooden kegs are used they should be thoroughly scalded; If second-hand kegs are used, they should be charred inside to destroy any odor or flavor present; a saltometer for testing density of brine (these can be purchased or ordered from best hardware store); a meat chopper—a slow slicer; a set of scales; glass top jars (metal tops corrode or rust); small containers are preferable, such as 8 or 10 ounce bottle or pint or half-pint jars; wooden potato masher may be used for crushing food; a shallow enamel pan is desirable for plumping fruit, for a tray and general utility pan; paddles for packing can be made from the can used in fishing poles. Cut two joints of the cane, using one joint for the handle of the paddle and the other joint for making the blade. Polish with sandpaper until blade is thin and pliable. Dipping in hot water just before using each time will make the paddle more pliable.

Food Supplies

Use only best and freshest fruits and vegetables. Substitutes should never be used. Buy supplies in large quantities—this saves on cost. Use only fresh spices. Use coarse pure grade salt.

Always use pure apple cider vinegar—clear variety (study the label to ascertain the contents of bottle or jar.)

Tie spices loosely in bag—if tied too tight the flavor of the spices cannot be extracted.

Always pack jars firmly with pickles or relishes before pouring over the pickle liquid or dressing. The jar should always be filled to overflowing. A loosely packed jar is not a standard pack.

Sweet Cucumber Relish

To make Sweet Cucumber Relish, use 12 large cucumbers sliced thin; 1 1/2 quarts onions sliced thin; 2 tsp. salt; 2 1/2 tsp. tumeric; 1 red pepper chopped fine or 1/2 tsp. cayenne; 1 quart vinegar; 4 cups sugar; 1 tsp. grated nutmeg; 4 sticks cinnamon 1 inch long.

Sprinkle salt over unpeeled cucumbers and onions and let stand 1 hour. Drain well, place in kettle with sugar, vinegar, spices, and bring all to boil, dissolving sugar well, and boil hard until slices glisten, usually about 30 minutes. Count from boiling point. Seal in sterilized jars. Use 1/2 pint or 1 pint containers for this relish.

Red Pepper Hash

To make Red Pepper Hash, use 12 green peppers; 12 red peppers; 8 medium sized onions. Make a brine, using 1 gallon boiling water and 1/2 cup salt. Pickling liquid: Half pint pure apple vinegar; 1 cup water; 1 cup sugar; salt to taste.

Run peppers and onions through the food chopper and drain. Pour boiling brine over the mixture. Let stand for ten minutes and drain. Add hot brine and let stand ten minutes again and drain. Repeat this process three times. This removes the excess coloring matter in the green peppers and leaves a better flavor for the whole mixture. When thoroughly drained, add the pickling liquid and cook the mixture until tender. Pack in sterilized jars while hot. For marketing purposes one-half pint and 1 pint glass top jars are preferred.

WITH THE JOKESMITH

So Much Simpler

An elderly woman was taken to see a basketball match in which her son was playing. After watching of a few moments she inquired: "What is the—er—object of this game?"

"Why," said her guide, "the object is to put the ball in that net."

"Well," said the woman, with one of those rare flashes of genius, "it would be much simpler if they would get out of each other's way."

Logical

A new and inexperienced hand in a livery stable was sent to grease the axles of a carriage. In a remarkably short time he reported the task finished. "Look here," said the manager of the stable, "d'ye mean to say you've greased all four of them wheels already?" "Well, sir," said the new hand, "I've greased the two front ones."

Too Cheap

A kindly old gentleman met a little girl with golden curls out walking in the park with her mother.

"What a lovely little girl," he exclaimed. "I will give you a nickel for a kiss."

"No, thank you," replied the little girl scornfully. "Why, I get a dime for taking castor oil."

"I see Higgins is still driving his old car around. I thought he had sold it and ordered a new one."

"He had—but when he saw it advertised as a 'used car better than new' he couldn't resist the bargain and paid $110 extra to get it back."

Diplomatic Hubby Wife—But, my dear, you've forgotten that today is my birthday. Husband—Er, listen, love. I know I forgot it, but there isn't a thing about you to remind me that you are a day older than you were a year ago.

MOTOR NOTES ABOUT AUTO AND TIRE DEALERS

The Mills Chevrolet Co. unloaded a car of automobiles Wednesday. Two coupes, one sedan, and a truck were in the car. A new dark-blue body trimmed in black makes the new sedan one of the most beautiful jobs Chevrolet has ever put out.

A. J. Herrington unloaded four new Pontiacs Monday. The Sweetwater branch of the Herrington agency also unloaded a car of Pontiacs Monday. Two coupes, a roadster and a sedan were in the car.

Ed Womack, dealer in General Tires, reports the sale of the dual 8 balloons going strong. He says he is selling more General tires than all other makes.

Lewis Robber Co., which was recently appointed Goodyear dealer here, reports good sale of these fine

The Dockrey-Whippet company unloaded two cars of Whippet Fours and Sixes Monday. J. O. Dockrey says Whippet cars are selling fast, and that it is hard to keep a good stock on hand. He has several cars on the floor at this time, including the light six Willys-Knight. Dockrey says the Whippet is the only car with Timplin bearings throughout that sells for the price quoted by Whippet. In fact, only one other car on the market compares with Whippet in price. The Whippet Six has a 7-bearing crankshaft, too.

Harris Toler, manager of the Chrysler agency here, will leave Friday for a trip to the Chrysler factory at Detroit and an excursion trip over the Great Lakes as a guest of the Chrysler factory, having won this trip in a recent sales contest.

WEST TEXAS NEWS PAMPA'S building permits totaled $131,100 for one week recently, making the total for the year $777,640, and placed Pampa second in the Panhandle and among the first ten cities of the State. The largest permit was issued to Horace and Guy Saunders, who will erect a $54,000 two-story garage building. PECOS launched another building program recently when permits amounted to more than $49,000 for structures downtown and on the highway. Buildings of reinforced concrete of one and two stories predominate, with one of three stories which will include an addition to the Pecos Hotel.

ALBANY is seeing over $100,000 put into homes by its citizens. Most of the residences are of brick or other permanent construction and range in value from $10,000 to $35,000.

QUITAQUE'S Chamber of Commerce has reached an agreement with the commissioner's court whereby a portion of the road bond issue of the precinct will be sold. The local committee is now engaged in endeavoring to secure the desired right-of-way for the permanent improvement of two lateral roads.

HAMILTON now has six miles of natural Uvalde rock asphalt paved streets, and the county will vote on a $500,000 road bond issue on July 16. EDEN is endeavoring to install a sewer system, and work is being done to interest fifty home owners into tying in on the system in the near future so that work may start.

SAN ANGELO is to have a large dam, the contract for which has been bid on by six well known construction companies. The project includes a 45-foot dam, 6,000 feet in length, top width 30 feet, bottom width 225 feet, with the reservoir to have an average width of five-tenth miles and extend several miles up the river.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Jimmie Logan, upon returning from California: "I am glad to be back in the old home town. I had a wonderful trip, visited all points of interest, played two days in the movies, met many of the movie stars and had a big time, but of course, am glad to be home again."

Jim Greene: "Boy, it's great to ride over the paving in Iatan Flat. That road is the smoothest road I ever saw. It sure looks good, and when it is opened Colorado and Mitchell county should capitalize the opportunity to spread this good news."

O. C. Powell, manager of the Powell land near Buford: "There can be no comparison between our crop this year and at the same date last year. We have a fine crop this year. While cotton is late, it is looking good and doing fine. Lice are bothering it some now, but the prospect is good yet."

Ted M. Garrett, electrician, says: "Those interested in finding further uses for electrical refrigeration in the home should read an article by Dr. Royal S. Copeland in an issue of Collier's Magazine dated July 13."

"The governor of Texas should get at least $10,000 per year salary," said Rev. A. E. Ewell Wednesday. "I think it is a shame and a disgrace that the chief executive of the largest and richest State in the Union should be paid less than $10,000 salary. I believe the people will vote July 16 to raise the governor's salary."

W. H. Garrett, lawyer: "The proposed nine-member supreme court amendment if adopted July 16 will result in much more efficient work and will in reality be economy. At present the six members of the commission of appeals do their work and then the three judges have to do it over by reviewing all of the work. I think the people will see the folly of duplication now done and will vote for the constitutional amendment authorizing a nine-member supreme court, that will be open 12 months in the year instead of only nine months."

"We need rain pretty bad out our way," said Dan Beeman, prominent farmer of the Longfellow community, while in town Saturday. "Cotton is suffering some for rain, and old feed is needing rain pretty badly. We have not had as much rain as Colorado has had."

William Scott, scoutmaster: "A free swim at the Boy Scout lake at Seven Wells and a big barbecue supper at seven in the evening awaits all who come out today, Thursday, July 11. Everything is free but the cats. We are charging a nominal sum to pay cost of the barbecue for the supper."

Joe Sheppard: "We have the prettiest young crop of cotton I have ever seen. Cotton one month old is loaded with squares and it looks like we are going to make a bumper cotton crop. That is, provided conditions continues as good as now."

W. H. Rogers: "I just have to brag on the home paper. It is the best paper in West Texas and I would not be without the Record. I read every word in it."

"Hail did considerable damage to crops east of my place Saturday afternoon," said Sam Wulfjen Monday. "Bert Wulfjen's crop was damaged and crops in the Landers community and south of Loraine were hurt pretty bad."

FARMERS ATTEND JOHNSON GRASS POISONING TEST

Fifty-two Mitchell county farmers attended the Johnson grass poisoning demonstrations at the J. R. Sheppard and R. E. Bennett farms Monday. Patches of the grass sprayed Friday were killed to the ground and some of the roots were already dead Monday. The calcium chlorate, which is the poison used, is slow acting but will kill 50 to 60 per cent of roots the first spraying. Usually three to four sprayings are required to insure killing all of the grass.

The demonstration plots are on the highways and can be watched to determine the effectiveness of the spray. One plot is about a half mile north of Lone Wolf bridge on the Snyder highway and the other is near concrete dip east of the R. E. Bennett farm.

Following the demonstrations several farmers placed orders with W. W. Porter for the poison. The Farm Bureau, for which Porter is local manager, is sponsoring these demonstrations.

PAISANO ENCAMPMENT BEGINS ON JULY 26

A letter this week from L. R. Millican, president of the Paisano Baptist Encampment states that the program prepared for the assembly this year, beginning on July 26, promises to be one of the most interesting and helpful in the history of the encampment.

Rev. Geo. Brown, pastor of the Midland church, is to lead prayer meeting each morning. Other pastors of this section are to have part on the program. Dr. G. W. Truett of Dallas is to preach in the evenings.

The location of this assembly is ideal. It is situated in the picturesque and historic Paisano Pass, which is a part of the beautiful Davis mountains.

COLORADO BOY WEDS POPULAR YOUNG WOMAN OF HOWARD COUNTY

Ernest Richardson And Miss Irene Henderson Married Saturday Evening

A romance which had its beginning over five years ago was culminated on Saturday evening at 10 o'clock when Miss Irene Henderson was married to Mr. Ernest Richardson at the First Methodist parsonage in Big Spring, Rev. Bailey, former pastor of the bride in Strawn, officiating.

The wedding was a beautiful affair and was witnessed by many relatives and friends of both bride and groom. The bride was dressed in navy blue with all accessories to harmonize. The groom was dressed in blue serge.

Immediately following the wedding, the happy young couple received the congratulations and well wishes of both relatives and friends, after which the wedding party left, leaving the bride and groom to start on their honeymoon to San Angelo and other parts.

Mrs. Richardson is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Henderson, formerly of Loraine, now of Coahoma. She received her education in the Loraine schools and was a member of the June, '28 class. She has ever been a bright star in the home circle and now has gone to reign as queen in her own home.

Mr. Richardson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richardson of Colorado, but has since last November been working in Big Spring at the Cosden refinery. He was educated in the Colorado schools and was a member of the 1927 class. He was a noted football player and a DeMolay member.

By those who know him, he is considered one of the substantial young men of the State who will make his mark in the world. The young couple will be at home in Big Spring on Washington Heights after July 12.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Earl Hallmark and son, sister of bride; Mrs. Joe Bennett, Misses Faye Coon and Mayme Howell, all of Loraine; Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Richardson, brother of the groom, of Midland; Messrs. Lee Dorn and Eli May of Colorado.

YO-YO COMPLEX

Joe Smoot has it. When you say Joe-Joe, he grabs his yo-yo. He learned to use this imbecile of lost motion on July Fourth, while otherwise killing time at the Country Club. Joe says most people of Colorado have been bitten by the yo-yo but

'WHIP-POOR-WILL' CALLS—IT'S JUST A TRAIN WHISTLE

The lonesome, eerie cry of "Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!" echoes frequently among the low hills and rolling fields of Mitchell county.

Strange that it should, in view of the fact that the bird of that name is not known in these parts. But not so strange when one learns that the call comes from the iron throat of a black freight locomotive speeding along the T. & P. tracks through Colorado.

Many Coloradans have noted the strange whistle, and that particular train has come to be designated as the "whip-poor-will train."

The bird call comes most any time of the day or night—just whenever Eddie Merrill of Big Spring gets hold of the throttle, or maybe Roy Simmons of Big Spring, who is also said to be getting adept at giving the call. Originality, the wise ones say, can be exhibited in any line of work. The job of engineer on a freight locomotive appears at first sight to be one of those things where signals and schedules curb outbursts of this characteristic.

But there is still the whistling, and Eddie Merrill, described by those who know him as a jovial fellow with a broad smile, discovered that at least he could whistle a different way, just so he whistled as many as four times.

There is an engineer in East Texas, they say, who plays "Dixie" on the whistle of his locomotive whenever a band of Confederate veterans happens to be on his line. And there is another engineer on a train coming into Fort Worth from the north who has a whistle which reminds one, especially at night, of the tormented cry of a lost spirit. The story goes that he ran over his own wife and child and killed them, quite accidentally of course, many years ago.

Ralph Lee says no town can "bat 1000 per cent" on sanity. Ralph says there was an excuse for the cross-word puzzle; jazz had its place and even the radio bug is useful at times, but this yo-yo business is about the most useless thing on earth and Lee says he can see no excuse for it—without a thorough examination by a mental expert. We are not inferring that Joe Smoot has gone daffy, but he certainly can make the little cake-shaped object climb the string.

Mrs. H. C. Landers is home from a trip to Glen Rose, where she spent two weeks.

MUCH TERRITORY TAKEN INTO CITY BY ORDER COUNCIL

Limits Extended To Include Additions on East And North of City

Extending the city limits to include the new Ruddick Park and all of that territory along the east and north of the original townsite, the city council Friday added several hundred acres to the city.

Extension to include the Marshall, Watson, Hart-Costin, High School and La Union additions will add about 1,000 population and at least $250,000 to the taxable property of the city, according to estimates.

Citizens in the Marshall and Watson additions petitioned to be included so that city water and sewer service could be secured. The extension begins at the line of the city limits on the highway in East Colorado and runs north about 1 1/2 miles to the northern Watson addition, thence west to the west side of the Mexican town to the north-west of the city. This includes Ruddick park and all that territory to the old city limits line at Austin street; the north waterworks and all the land west of the waterworks to the Mexican town and includes the Mexican village of La Union.

Field of Eight Or Ten In Race For Governor

AUSTIN, July 8.—While committees wrestle with uninteresting figures, the foot loose legislators, waiting impatiently for the financiers to get the appropriations bills in shape, like to speculate on next year's State political campaign.

Formal announcement of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, for governor, has added fuel to the flames, and everybody is counting on one of the most colorful campaigns that Texas has ever witnessed. As the situation stands now, there will be a field of eight or ten.

There are now five avowed candidates, Senator Love, Oscar B. Holcombe, former mayor of Houston; Representative T. N. Mauritz of Ganada, advocate of an income tax; Miss Kate Daffin of Ennis, historian and active in the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and E. G. Senter of Dallas, writer and lawyer.

Some now in might get out. At the outset of every gubernatorial campaign there are announced candidates who decide later to pull down before the horses are led to the tape. Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller is depended on by a large following to announce his candidacy in due time. Gossip circulating freely through the capitol has it that Earle B. Mayfield, former United States senator, contemplates making the race. The same current of talk carries the rumor that if Senator Mayfield runs former Governor Pat M. Neff of Waco will enter the field. Senator Mayfield and Governor Neff

Barrier Bros. Buy Old Shoes At $1 Per Pair

The slogan, "trade in your old and get a new," applies to more lines of merchandising than automobiles and automobile tires, according to the management of the Barrier Bros. store.

This store is offering to trade in old shoes on new shoes at the rate of $1 per pair and are advertising two big Trades Days Saturday and Monday, at which everybody can unload their old worn shoes at a dollar a throw. Taylor Cole, manager of the store, says he is experimenting with this new idea in shoe selling, taking the auto dealers' trade-in business as an idea. Doubtless he will have lots of old shoes on hand when the store closes Monday night, especially since he is offering new shoes at prices said to be far below the average selling price.

Take the old ones in and bring the new ones out. That sounds great, and we imagine the store will think it is too great when the avalanche of old shoes strikes them Saturday and Monday. Buy any shoe selling for $2.95 or over, and get $1.00 for your old shoes.

SINGERS OF EAST SIDE WILL MEET AT LORAIN SUNDAY

VISITORS ASKED TO BRING A BASKET LUNCH; GOOD PROGRAM

The East Side singing convention will be held at Loraine next Sunday and visitors from all over the county are invited, according to T. H. Westbrook, vice president of the association.

He urges every visitor to bring a basket lunch and stay for the whole day. A good program is promised. Singing classes from every community are urged to attend and bring song books, Westbrook says.

Warren Williams is president of the East Side association.

COLORADO POULTRY RAISERS BOAST OF SPLENDID FLOCKS

Good Feed, Properly Hatched Chicks and Proper Care Spell Success

"I want to tell you about a young flock of chickens I'm raising now," Herman Gist, a poultry fancier of Colorado, told us the other day. "I have never had finer, stronger flock of young chickens and have never seen them develop more rapidly. The eggs were from Mr. Cecil Beezley's poultry farm of S. C. English White Leghorns, hatched at Logan's Hatchery, and fed on Purina Chows all the way through. The first eggs came on the first of July, making the non-production period only four months and six days."

This is just another one of many proofs that it pays to get good-blooded chicks, feed and house them well. A premium was paid by the Logan Hatchery for the first dozen of these eggs from M. Gist. You, too, can get these good results by feeding Purina Chows, and Logan's Hatchery is at your service.

DUNCAN'S CHICKS MAKE GOOD AVERAGE FOR MONTH OF JUNE

LOCAL FLOCK BEATS STANDARD OF A. & M. COLLEGE FOR THIRTY DAYS

T. A. Duncan's flock of White Leghorns beat the standard of egg production set by A. & M. College for June, by averaging 17 1/2 eggs per hen for the month. According to the standard given in the poultry demonstrators' calendar, a hen should lay 16 eggs in June.

Mr. Duncan's record is unusual because all of the hens are two years old and some are three years old. The flock was carefully gone over by the county agent last week and only two hens could be classed as non-layers.

The high production maintained by these hens is due to the fact that they have an egg-laying mash before them at all times and during the afternoon they are fed a wet mash. They have access to sudan pasture at all times. Mr. Duncan says that he believes the wet mash has increased the egg production at least 25 per cent.

Last month the fifty hens laid 877 eggs and made a net profit above feed of $9.62. He has no trouble in selling his eggs at his home for a five cents premium to customers who are willing to come after them in order to secure guaranteed infertile eggs. Mrs. Millwee returned Thursday from a business trip to Dallas.

WHIPPET SALES BREAK ALL RECORDS—DOCKREY

Sales of Whippet and Willys-Knight cars for the first six months of 1929 exceeded all records for a like period, according to advices received from the factory Monday by J. O. Dockrey of the Dockrey-Whippet Co., local dealers. Total shipments for the first six months of this year were 200,000 cars, Dockrey said. In discussing the line of cars made by Willys-Overland, Dockrey continued:

"Outlook for the last half of the year is said to be highly favorable, this prediction being based partly on the coming introduction of the new Willys-Knight Great Six, rounding out the Willys-Knight line, which is expected to contribute as much as 50 per cent of earnings for the two final quarters. These new models have so impressed dealers and distributors that thousands of orders have accumulated which will contribute to profits in the third quarter. The new Willys-Knight Great Six will give the company price coverage in every class, beginning with the lower priced Whippets.

"In addition to its comprehensive line of Whippet four-cylinder commercial vehicles, Willys-Overland is making an important bid for the heavier truck field with a Whippet 1 1/2 ton unit, with four speed transmission. This is expected to be an important contributor in the company's earning potential for the balance of the year."

SHORTENING THE HEN'S VACATION

Careful Feeding and Systematic Handling of Hens During the Trying Ordeal of the Molt Will Do Much Toward Accelerating Their Return to Productiveness.

The thought has often occurred to me that civilization has compelled both man and fowl to do a great many things that nature never intended to do. Civilization and evolution combined have also changed many of their natural bodily functions. Yet, with incomprehensible stubbornness they still retain organs and habits for which the need has long since disappeared. A man's appendix, for instance, is his souvenir of some long forgotten physical function, while the fowl's habit of molting is her reminder of the time when a vital need existed for the periodical removal of her feathers.

A hen in the wild state frequently had to depend on her wings for flight from birds and beasts of prey. Her feathers, moreover, were her only protection from the elements. In the wild life she led they were undoubtedly in need of repair and renewal at the end of a strenuous season in brush and briar. It was to be expected, therefore, that wise Mother Nature would provide some regular, automatic method to supply the needed renewal at the proper time.

Now, the wild hen had only to lay enough eggs to hatch out a small brood. When the chicks were old enough to shift for themselves, she was as free to resume her responsibilities of any kind as a modern hen is free from hosiery in the summer time. She was then at liberty to renew her coat and she could take the rest of the year for the job. Now, civilization has changed all that. Whereas the wild hen might lay a dozen eggs or less and started hatching at once, the civilized descendant is expected to lay ten times that much and gets no chance to exercise mither instinct. Instead, her eggs are hatched by a machine and her chick foster-mothered by a capon or brooder.

Although man now provides shelter and protection from wild beasts, the hen takes no chances; she continues to molt. This would be of no great consequence were it not that egg laying and molting do not often go on together. A hen can neither eat and digest enough food nor supply enough energy to produce both new feathers and a regular supply of eggs. Consequently, the longer a hen takes for the molt, the less time she has for laying and the less profitable it will be to feed and care for her. The big problem in connection with the molt, therefore, is to make it as short as possible.

Careful breeding offers one solution. Good layers will not stop laying until late August, early September or later and are through in about six weeks. Eggs for hatching should always be from such hens. Hens that molt early and take two or three months for it should be watched carefully. The chances are they do not lay enough to pay for their feed and keep, but would be more profitable if marketed for the table.

By constantly culling out the loafers and breeding only from the best layers, a flock will eventually be built up which will require only a very short vacation period for the molt with a corresponding increase in time devoted to laying. Very careful handling and feeding is desirable at all times, however, to keep the vacation at a minimum and the production period at a maximum. Avoid anything that hinders laying, like the sudden changes of feed. It may bring on the unproductive molt sooner than need be. On the other hand, correct feeding and a little extra care may accelerate feather growing so the hen can complete her new winter costume and get back to profitable production in a very little while.

If possible put molting birds to themselves. They are timid and self-conscious when bare, and other hens will make life miserable for them.

Proper feeding is of paramount importance. Feathers are derived from the same material as eggs, being about 80 per cent protein. It is wrong, therefore, to take away the mashes as many people do when hens are molting. To rob molting hens of their proteins is simply to prolong the molting period until enough proteins are assimilated to supply the feathers needed.

The regular scratch grains may be fed, including oats, wheat and corn, but not too much corn as it is too heating. Feed also some sunflower seed and linseed meal in the mash. Also a little more meat scraps and cut bone that is usually fed and give plenty of milk if possible. A good mineral tonic is also invaluable.

Remember, the molting hen is regily very much out of condition, but that careful handling and special diet will help speed up the passage of the stryng period. Avoid sudden changes as they will only delay full completion of the molt. Careful adherence to these methods is sure to speed up the molt with a commensurate increase in egg production just when prices are beginning to soar upward.

GARRETT SUGGESTS PLAN FOR METHODIST EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

Judge W. H. Garrett has written an item for publication in the Texas Christian Advocate, suggesting a change in the educational system of Methodists in Texas that is rather far-reaching in its scope, which we publish for benefit of those in Mitchell county interested in this subject: Methodists and Christian Education in Texas

It seems necessary to speak plainly and state the whole truth. It costs one thousand dollars to maintain a student in style in our Methodist colleges for one year. Thousands of young people, boys and girls, the best blood of the country, cannot attend. The cost is prohibitive. They are losing in life; the State is losing in citizenship, the church in Christian character, and the world is losing in manhood and womanhood.

We now have nine Methodist schools in Texas. Each of them is pleading for more money; conference assessments, endowments, private donations and money raised on account of local pride. Methodists are just being "bored" for money for educational purposes. Yet our Methodist schools can hardly exist; they are forced to add prohibitive expenses that close their doors to the greater part of Methodist young life. The State institutions are pressing them harder each year. And the State Junior College is destined to press them harder still.

Yet our leaders and commissions talk and talk and get nowhere and do nothing. Why beat about the bushes? Why talk of noble traditions? We face conditions as they exist; not theories as we wish things were. The early Methodists met the issues that confronted them and did the best they could. If we do less we act cowardly.

A Methodist Educational System for Texas

We have the echo of this cry for ever sixty years. Cut the Gordian knot and here we have a plan in 69 words: Combine Weatherford and McMurry at Abilene for West Texas; Combine Wesley and Kidd-Key at Sherman for North Texas; combine Southwestern and Westmoreland at San Antonio for Southwest Texas; continue Lon Morris at Jacksonville for Southeast Texas; continue Southern Methodist University at Dallas as the head and center of the system. Discontinue Texas Woman's College. We would then have a central university surrounded by four colleges at convenient centers. Methodists might endow a system like that and educate their young at some reasonable expense. If the leaders can't agree we may follow the example set by the British Parliament—withhold the money until they do.

The present month, we are told, was named in honor of Julius Caesar, but we don't hear much about Caesar when July comes around. Really, if Caesar did anything worth while besides dividing Gaul into three parts, history is silent on the matter. Like Calvin Coolidge, Ca-had a way of saying things that left people in doubt. Calvin said he did not choose to run for a third term, but politicians who were close to him, kept boosting him until it was seen that Hoover had the nomination sewed up in a sack. Caesar said he didn't want a crown, but the people were not convinced that he did not, and on the fateful ides of March they got his goat. But anyway, the Romans changed the name of the month Quintilis to July in honor of Julius. If they had changed the temperature instead of the name of the month they would have done the people a much better turn, and reduced their laundry bills fully five per cent. I say—we don't have much to say about Julius during July, and there's a reason. We have so many other people and things to talk about. Caesar dividing Gaul into three parts is a poor picture beside George Washington battling Cornwallis out of the

'BOSS' UP AT 4 A. M. TO SEE SUN RISE; LAMENTS FACT THAT NO PERMANENT SHAVE CAN BE HAD

Another letter from F. B. Whiskey, boss of the Record, who is vacationing in the Northwest, gives more information about the State of Colorado. The letter, written from Boulder, Colo., reads:

Well, here we come again. We have written so much about the mountains, canyons, lakes and rivers, exhausting all descriptive adjectives, it seems there is nothing more to be said, but the native sons here tell us that when we get up into Oregon and Washington we will think "we ain't seen nuthin' yet." These people are strictly Northern, call themselves "native sons," and they say "criek" for creek and shout and grin when we say "you-all." The State is 3 to 1 Republican, and have gone wild over the 4th of July.

"Our Gang" decided to prepare a bacon and egg and coffee breakfast and go up to the top of Flagstaff mountain and see a Colorado sunrise—we been getting up about eight o'clock—but remember our time here is exactly one hour ahead of your time, so that's not so bad after all. The foot of this mountain is at the edge of Boulder and is six miles up to the top, 8,000 feet and a two-hour drive at three to four miles per hour which is all you can make in low. (By way of parenthesis, might say when you ask, the distance here to any place, they say two hours drive or four hours drive, giving the time and not the mileage. Upon investigation, we found that in order to see sunrise from top of this mountain, we would have to get up at 4 o'clock. Well, we did and as the golden orb of day began to peep up, sending scintillating rays over vale and hills with sword-like rays piercing the cloudless sky, causing prismatic colors to awaken the flowers, making light and life, awaking the glad heart of all nature, we stood in awe and wonder.

Now, we had a sort of Rube Morgan fellow in the crowd and as we were exclaiming on its splendor, ex-tolling its wondrous beauty, we turned to him and asked, "How do you like it?" He answered, "Yes, it looks like rain." Talk about wasting your sweetness on the desert air, this is it personified.

Camping in the mountains a week at a time gets us about shaving. It seems the ladies have got the best of us. They get a permanent wave, but no one yet has gotten a permanent shave. No matter, America's first tea party started a war, and her last tea party started a social war.

On our last visit down in Denver, we spent one whole day in the city park. The park is exactly one mile square, a section of 640 acres, and is a veritable garden with its sunken gardens, forests of pine, fir, spruce, Hawthorne bushes, weeping birch, several lakes, make the home of mirads of ducks, swan, pelicans and every kind of water fowl. The park also has herds of buffalo, deer, elk, and many other animals the writer knows nothing of—not even the name. Here is also located the National Museum, housed in a magnificent building, one can profitably spend a whole day here viewing the exhibits as it contains every known bird, animal and reptile in the world. The art gallery with its wonderful paintings, the geological display, ancient relics, all make it quite interesting and educational. Adjoining the park are the polo grounds, baseball park, golf links, boating and bathing pools and is a veritable paradise of amusement and pleasure. The manager told me there were never less than 200 and up to 1000 visitors in the park all the time. At this season of the year there are more than 1000 tourist families in Denver every day and all visit this great playground.

THEM DAYS ARE GONE FOREVER

In discussing the modern mode of travel, E. Keathley Friday was reminded of the time he came to Colorado, 28 years ago on that day.

Contrasting the mode of travel 28 years ago with the modern travel, Keathley says he believes in a few years time the airplane will be the principal mode of long distance travel.

"I came to Colorado from Crystal Falls, Stephens county, 28 years ago, landing in Colorado on the fifth day after leaving Crystal Falls. Today I can eat breakfast in Colorado and drive a car over to Crystal Falls and get there in plenty of time for dinner," Keathley said.

"I had a wife and baby and a one-horse buggy outfit when I came here. We left Crystal Falls July 1 and broke a wheel of our buggy at Roby on July 4. We finally got the wheel repaired and arrived in Colorado July 5, 1901. We had a good outfit and made good time for that mode of travel."

Keathley was bookkeeper for the Edwards Telephone, Light & Water Company six years after coming here.

RAVAGES OF TIME HAVE NEARLY CLAIMED COPY OF THE COLORADO SPOKESMAN FOR SEPTEMBER 1896

Ravages of time have just about claimed the Colorado Spokesman of September 23, 1896, one of the old newspapers on file at the Record office, but there is still enough of it left to gather a few notes of occurrences in this city and nation on that particular date.

William Jennings Bryan was the Democratic candidate for president then, and had just been making a campaign visit into the Bluegrass region, where, the Spokesman states, he was showered with "Kentucky hospitality and southern enthusiasm."

And the Association of Democratic Clubs in Texas had been organized in Dallas the Saturday before. The paper gives the following facts in its accounts of the organization: "Saturday was a great day for democracy at Dallas. The Association of Democratic Clubs of Texas was organized, with more than 200 clubs represented and as many more reported and not represented. The meeting was called to order by W. L. COWS VS. OIL WELLS

The Record is giving this item from the Amarillo News and the reader can best judge for himself.

Following is the little story: Be that as it may, the investor in good milk cows may feel reasonably sure of excellent returns on his investment.

One Holstein cow earned $923.45 in one year, averaging six gallons of milk per day, says the story.

The State income tax bill was defeated by an uncomfortably narrow margin in the house, 59 to 55.

INCOME TAX

The State income tax bill was defeated by an uncomfortably narrow margin in the house, 59 to 55.

It would place an unjust burden on about 110,000 Texans, who normally pay federal income taxes.

Texans, who normally pay federal income taxes, would bear the major portion of the burden of State government.

An income tax as a substitute for all forms of ad valorem taxes is an idle dream.

"We made a mistake in last week's issue," says the editor of a Connecticut paper.

"A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our post office box that didn't belong to us.

LET'S PASS IT ALONG

It is said that the following prayer was found in Chester Cathedral, over there in England:

"Give me a good digestion, Lord, and also something to digest. Give me a healthy body, Lord, with sense to keep it at its best.

"Give me a healthy mind, good Lord, to keep the good and pure in sight, which seeing sin is not appalled, but finds a way to set it right.

"Give me a mind that is not bored, that does not whimper, whine or sigh; don't let me worry overmuch about the fussy thing called I.

"Give me a sense of humor, Lord; give me the grace to see a joke, to get some happiness from life, and pass it on to other folk."

It is passed on to the reader with the hope that its true meaning and significance will set a standard for others, as it has already done for many in the past who have had the opportunity to read it.

"I'm going to have the rights of every other congressman—if it's in the congressional barber shop or at a White House tea."

These are the words of Oscar DePriest, Chicago negro congressman. DePriest says he is going to have what is coming to him and if social equality is not coming to him, he will have that anyway.

Jim Ferguson asserts that circumstances have definitely forced Barry Miller and Tom Love out of the race for governor. Neither was ever definitely in it.

EXTRAVAGANCE COMPARATIVE AND ABSOLUTE

From Ft. Worth Star-Telegram:

Members of the Legislature who were caught still in Austin by Governor Moody's midnight call for a third special session apparently did not receive with chastened spirit the homilies and remonstrances contained in the gubernatorial message which accompanied the veto of appropriation bills.

As a matter of fact, Governor Moody is poorly qualified as a preacher of economy. His message suggests it is only technical and not actual economy that he is concerned with.

Dispatches from Austin report legislators as resenting the Governor's sermon on economy, which featured in the message announcing veto of appropriation measures and the call for a third session.

000 in the two years that excites the concern of the Governor, but the possibility that his program of expenditure will turn up a deficit, which may be annoyingly cited as proof of his administration's extravagance.

COLORADO CATTLEMEN INTERESTED IN PLAN SHOW FEEDER CATTLE

DALLAS FAIR TO OFFER PRIZES TOTALING $1,000.00 FOR THIS YEAR

A new Feeder Cattle division for the Dallas Fair this fall in which prizes totaling $1,000 are to be offered is attracting wide interest among cattlemen throughout West Texas, according to D. H. Snyder of Colorado.

Mr. Snyder in the capacity of director and executive board member of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers' Association, is interesting himself in the promotion of this division of the coming fair.

He has received a letter from the extension department of A. & M. College soliciting his aid in acquainting the cattlemen with this new division.

"The recent experiments of Farm and Ranch and A. & M. experts shows that the farmers of the blackland belt can profitably purchase feeder yearlings and feed them out each year, and I have no doubt but that a better market for feeder stuff from West Texas will result from this work. I am glad indeed to see the Dallas Fair announce this new division. I believe it will be of great value to the cattlemen," Mr. Snyder said.

The letter to Mr. Snyder was written by G. W. Barnes, beef cattle specialist at A. & M. College. Mr. Barnes said the cattle shown would be auctioned after the Dallas Fair and that several buyers had promised to bid on the cattle and offer a premium above the market. He asked Mr. Snyder to show a car load of feeder yearlings at the fair.

FEDERAL DEPARTMENT REPORTS INCREASE IN COTTON ACREAGE 1929

3.2 PER CENT ABOVE LAST YEAR; PRICES ADVANCE AFTER REPORT

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Acreage of cotton under cultivation in the United States July 1 was 3.2 per cent more than a year ago. The Department of Agriculture Monday estimated the area at 48,457,000 acres, compared with 46,946,000 acres on July 1 last year.

The condition of the crop on July 1 was not announced by the department which is forbidden by law from estimating that figure at this time, nor was a forecast made of production.

"This year's acreage is six-tenths of 1 per cent less than the record acreage of 48,730,000 acres planted in 1926," the department commented. "The estimate relates to acreage standing on July 1, allowance having been made for any acreage which was abandoned prior to that date and for any acreage replanted and in cultivation on that date."

"The Aug. 1 production forecast will be based on the acreage in cultivation on July 1, less than 10-year average abandonment in each State after July 1. The board will collect no information on conditions of the 1929 cotton crop until Aug. 1."

Acreage in cotton in Texas July 1 this year totaled 18,697,000 as compared to 18,330,000 acres for the same date last year, or an increase of 367,000 acres, the report shows.

A. L. WEBB WINS FOUNTAIN PEN IN SALES CONTEST

A. L. Webb seems to have an awful lot of writing to do these days. At any rate, he is always pulling a brand-new, beautiful, jade fountain pen out of his pocket. And here is the secret of his proud exhibition of this new pen.

Webb, who is the Watkins man for this locality, just won the pen in a sales contest, being conducted by the J. R. Watkins Company for his large volume of sales on their vanilla, which was just awarded the grand prize with gold medal at the International Exposition held in Paris. Over 3000 dealers and salesmen who call on the farm trade are competing for honors in this drive on the "world's largest selling vanilla."

The fountain pen has engraved on it, "Vanilla Contest Prize—The J. R. Watkins Company."

Gregg Sees Shorthand As Future Form of Written Communication

Time Saving Trend of Modern Era Will Make Shorthand an Everyday Form of Communication, Predicts Noted Authority

The modern demand for speed in everything, getting things done quickly, and for taking short cuts to accomplish in minutes and hours tasks which formerly required days and weeks, will eventually cause shorthand to become one of the principal mediums of business correspondence and personal communication.

This is the prediction of John Robert Gregg, publisher, internationally known as the author of the system of shorthand bearing his name. Mr. Gregg foresees the day when everyone will use shorthand as the average person today uses longhand, predicting that "within twenty years the art of shorthand will be studied and practiced by at least ten times the number of people studying it today. Eventually, shorthand will become an everyday means of written communication. The time-saving trend of our age will make it imperative."

When Mr. Gregg published the first Gregg Manual in 1888, shorthand was studied principally by savants and "highbrows," for the systems in vogue at that time employed geometric lines and curves which were extremely complicated and confusing. It was the extreme difficulty of learning these complicated systems which inspired young Robert Gregg to "invent" a system of shorthand which anybody could understand, and which would be easily learned. Mr. Gregg borrowed $50 with which to publish his first manual, and at the age of 21, "all set" to convert the world to his new principle of shorthand, young Gregg rented a small room in a Liverpool office building. His "school" met with moderate success and five years later he came to America, opening a small office in Chicago with this sign painted on the door: "The Gregg School of Shorthand."

Shorthand was still in its infancy insofar as its use in the business world was concerned. There were approximately 25,000 shorthand writers at this time.

Gregg's idea took hold, but, he says, "it was a tough battle to wean people away from the old complicated systems and to make them realize that there are short cuts, even in shorthand." Today there are approximately 1,000,000 users of shorthand in the United States, with the number steadily increasing, and John Robert Gregg, who had an idea and a capital of $50 with which to put it over, is internationally known as the author of Gregg Shorthand. His system has been translated into seven foreign languages and is taught in the public high schools of 6,519 cities and towns in the United States out of the 6,587 in which any form of shorthand is taught.

Six years ago Mr. Gregg, successful in the land of his adoption, again turned his eyes to England, acquired the largest and most powerful chain of business colleges in Great Britain, brought the teachers to London and taught them his system. He then sent them back to their schools to teach and preach the gospel of Gregg.

Mr. Gregg realized as early as ten years ago that the demands of modern business would require a still simpler and more easily learned shorthand and at that time began compiling his new manual built around the words of highest frequency in the language, and laying emphasis on the vocabulary of business. The new Gregg Manual, the result of ten years' study and work, will be published in June.

Discussing the future use of shorthand at a recent educational conference, Mr. Gregg said: "It is absurd in these days, when every movement means so much to business and professional men, and when every variety of time-saving device is employed, that they should still use the same slow system of writing that their ancestors used. Longhand is entirely too cumbersome and laborious for the age in which we live. If shorthand were used generally for much of the writing now done in longhand and only for such writing as could be done as well in longhand as in shorthand, the people of the United States would be saved a billion hours a year."

PAY AS YOU GO (San Angelo Standard)

To those in Texas who advocate a payable bond issue for the paving of highways, the experience of Virginia in paying as she built them is rather enlightening. The Atlanta Journal produces this "Leaf From Virginia's Record of Road Building by Gas Tax."

Some seven years ago the people of Virginia, under the spur of a feverish campaign for a highway bond issue, voted a constitutional amendment authorizing the State to incur a debt of $50,000,000. But a few seasons later, on sober second thought, when the matter was re-submitted to them, they reversed the earlier vote by a majority of 40,000, and thus permanently fixed their road-financing policy on a cash basis. Today every major highway in the Old Dominion is hard-surfaced; 3,000 miles have been added to the State system, making its total 7,000; more and more work is done on the so-called market roads, in which farmers are particularly concerned; and, according to Virginia's highest authority, if an election were held today, "not as many as 10,000 voters, out of a possible 300,000," could be mustered for bonds."

A bond issue of proportions advocated in Texas would provide enough money to do the work at once or over a period of a few years time, a gas tax would not be as speedy, but it might be more effective in that it comes easy, the payments are distributed, the user defrays the cost of road construction, the burden is light, and there is no bad taste left for the taxpayer.

Texas should do only one thing in its proposed gas tax and that is devote the entire sum to the construction of its roads. Texans will not be lax with their schools otherwise, and it is only fair that this payment by those who use the roads should be used to maintain a deconstructed them. The man who pays as he goes is never burdened. The State that adds to its bonds adds to its tax burdens, already high enough to create political issues and dissatisfaction.

WHY PAY INTEREST (Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)

It is most difficult to understand the complaint of some of the super highway enthusiasts that not enough money is to be provided under the 4-cent tax and 50 per cent fee cut plan. At the worst it could not fail to produce as much as was envisioned by the Highway Commission last summer when it presented its plan for a $175,000,000 bond issue to be supported by a 3-cent tax and a 20 per cent fee reduction. And the Highway Commission's plan, it must be remembered, contemplated a hurry-up job of road building which would complete the paving of all the State designated highway mileage in the State within 12 years, and also included the necessity for setting aside an average of $5,400,000 a year for the 12 years to pay interest on the $175,000,000 bonds. Why, if a 3-cent tax and a 20 per cent license fee cut would do all this, will not a 4-cent tax and a 50 per cent cut suffice to carry on a more modest and moderate pay-as-you-go program of highway building?

A COURT IMPROVEMENT AT NO ADDED COST (Dallas News)

The constitutional amendment that puts nine men on the Supreme Court to work twelve months in the year is one of the best investments Texas has ever had presented at the polls. It will cost us no more money. We pay nine men now, but we let only three of them have the authority finally to decide a case. The other six draw full pay to make recommendations to the first three. It's common sense that a Supreme Court should go with the Supreme Court pay which these nine men now receive.

The amendment marks a return to the principle of electing judges. The six advisory judges who are now attached to the court are all appointed. The six new posts will be elective—appointments being merely temporary at the beginning. It is a gradual return so as to retain our present system of re-electing one-third of the court at a time. At the first regular election—a year hence—the popular election principle begins to apply to the nine-man bench as it does now to a three-man bench.

A vote for the amendment is a vote for a full-time bench with full authority. The pay roll will be no larger. The ballot at the next general election will enable us to vote for three Justices instead of for one. The court will be open the year round and cases will be decided by the men who hear the arguments and receive the papers incidental thereto. Texas needs a court like that. A vote for the amendment is a vote to obtain it with no additional cost to the taxpayer.

SHALL THE STATE OF TEXAS LIVE UP TO ITS BARGAINS? (San Angelo Standard)

Ed B. Trigg of Amarillo has been awarded a permit on 525 acres in the Whittenberg ranch in Hutchinson county for $4 an acre. The land was leased to the Phillips Petroleum Company and they had 50 wells on it.

We can't get much kick out of the great sovereign State of Texas allowing itself to be the cat's paw with which Mr. Trigg gets a fortune upon a surplus strip of land in an oil field. Without knowing any of the details, we imagine that this 525 acres was sold to the State and deeded to Mr. Whittenberg many years ago. That he had peaceful possession of it for a long time and that after he had leased it to the Phillips Petroleum Company and it had developed a great oil field upon it that Mr. Trigg found out that the land was a surplus—an excess strip and filed upon it and finally won title.

The State's surveyors made the original surveys, the State's agents sold the land. The State's agents signed the deed in the name of the State of Texas. Now another agent of the State says it was not legal and because it had become valuable became a party to a suit to take it away from those who had made it valuable.

The State should live up to its bargains like any individual. The State, through its courts, sees that its citizens live up to their contracts, made in good faith, regardless of what their loss may be years after.

Shall the State adopt a new procedure for itself?

BUFORD BULLETIN

The Ladies' Adult Bible class met with Mrs. Bill Jones the first Monday in July, with eleven present and two visitors. There had been 41 visits made and eight cards sent out. The Ladies' Adult Bible class has only been organized about two months. Our aim is to do worthwhile things, so we surprised our pastor, Brother Riley and wife, with a refrigerator, which was badly needed. We have also sent out the Home Quarterly to five shut-ins. After all the business was attended to, the following program was rendered for Mrs. Nickols, who is an invalid. She is the mother of Mrs. Bill Jones:

Devotional reading, 2 Cor. 11:23-28; 12:6-10—Mrs. M. C. Holt.

Prayer—Mrs. T. D. McGuire. Song, "Count Your Blessings"—Mrs. Keese Bedford and Estie Blackard.

Poem—Mrs. T. D. McGuire. Song, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord"—Mrs. M. C. Holt and Mrs. T. D. McGuire.

Reading, "Thy Will Be Done"—Mrs. J. F. Bodine. Poem, "Lots of Fun in Living"—Mrs. J. F. Bodine.

The class also showered Mrs. Nickols with a lot of lovely flowers and good eats. These were put on a table which was drawn in the doorway, where she could see them. We then adjourned to meet with Mrs. Cosner on August 5.

The following poem, composed by Mrs. T. D. McGuire for her friend, Mrs. S. F. Nickols, was so good we wanted to pass it on to others:

To a Very Dear Friend There's work in this world, dear women For each of us today, And, oh! if we had the courage

Badly Run-Down

"Six years ago, I was very much run-down," says Mrs. Olympia Knight, of Lovett, Ga. "I did not sleep well, and was weak and restless. I dragged around the house with not enough strength to do my daily tasks. I worried a lot, and this disturbed state of mind reacted on my health. "I had often read of Cardui, so I thought I would try it. I soon began to improve after I had taken Cardui for a while. "It was astonishing how much I picked up. I slept better, my appetite improved, and that awful dragging-down feeling left me. "I was so much better that I continued taking Cardui until I felt perfectly well." Cardui has been used by women for over 50 years. For sale by all druggists.

CARDUI Helps Women To Health

Take Theford's Black-Draught for Constipation, Indigestion and Biliousness.

To only say our say. God has given some of you strong bodies. And all of us plenty of mind; There's even a place for the weakest of us If we seek that place to find.

For instance, here's Mrs. Nickols, A friend I've a long time known, And every day I've known her To me she has dearer grown.

Many's the time she has helped me In the 20 some odd years past. Her kind deeds I'll always remember As long as life shall last.

Altho' she's now most an invalid, Perhaps thinks she's worthless, too, But don't for once think that, old dear, For the Lord needs even you.

We sometime think, when we lose our health, That our race is almost run, But who knows what's out in the future, Perhaps life has just begun. The work that the Lord has for us to do, Let's do with vigor and vim; Give God the best there is in us, For we owe it all to Him.

The Farm Bureau News last week contained the following about a visit of W. H. Badgett, Mitchell county farmer, to the Dallas offices of the organization:

"Member W. H. Badgett of Colorado, Mitchell county, was a visitor in the association offices last week, and stated that although he had been a member of the association since its start 'this was his first visit to the offices.' Mr. Badgett spent several hours meeting the personnel and seeing how the details of the organization are handled. He expressed himself as particularly impressed with the systematic records and the volume of work that is accomplished by a minimum of employees. He delivers this year approximately 90 bales."

ESTES PARK, COLO., DESCRIBED IN VIVID LETTER FROM 'BOSS'

F. B. Whipkey Gives Much Interesting Information About Northwest

Another interesting letter from F. B. Whipkey, "big boss" of The Record, who is vacationing in the State of Colorado, was received Friday.

Information contained in the letter will be of special interest to those who plan vacation trips to the Northwest. The vivid description of the wonderful scenic spots of Estes Park makes the letter more interesting. It reads as follows:

Our trip to Estes Park, in Rocky Mountain National Park, was greatly enjoyed.

The name of the first white man to discover any part of the region, which for some fifty years was familiar only as Estes Park, is not known. The first man to build a home—a pioneer, from the cradle to its grave—was Joel Estes, for whom the region was properly named.

Estes, accompanied by one of his sons, first saw the famous view of the open Park with its sky-line of towering, awe-inspiring peaks for a background, from Park Hill on October 15, 1859. The view caused the pioneer, Joel Estes, to decide at once that somewhere in this beautiful country he would build his home.

The Village of Estes Park, at an elevation of 7,547 feet above the level of the sea, nestling in a quiet little valley, surrounded by mountains, is not in the Rocky Mountain National Park, which was set aside by the Government, January 26, 1915, but is in the center of a region comprising approximately 750 square miles, or 510,000 acres, half of which is in the National Park, the other half is the original Estes Park and the country tributary thereto. Every one of these 750 square miles holds something of vital interest to the visitor and it is therefore really discernible that a fair appreciation of the Estes Park and Rocky Mountain National Park regions cannot be obtained in two or three days, a week, a month, or even in an entire summer. The network of trails alone, will provide summer after summer of adventurous exploration.

Get down old Webster and group all the objectives in the English language, including: magnificent, stupendous and gigantic, and then no descriptive idea can be obtained for: "There are canyons that yawn as they grip you,

There are silent rocks austere; There are operas unsung and pictures unhung;

And silence is made to hear." As we passed out the Park we crossed the Rocky Mountain great Continental Divide through snow cuts 10 to 20 feet deep on either side. Here we had to put on our overcoats. Here we saw the waters divide, one stream to the Atlantic and the other to the Pacific.

Fall River Road
The Fall River road traverses a wild and beautiful country; over solid granite mountains; through forests of large trees; beside dashing mountain streams and waterfalls, and the roadside everywhere lined with many beautiful flowers. Frequently wild game may be seen. The road crosses the Continental Divide at Milner Pass and reaches an elevation of 11,797 feet at Fall River Pass. It furnishes the visitor with an interesting and inspiring trip.

The most satisfying mountains in America are here. Their beauty is enhanced by the exquisite lakes at their bases, the glorious snow-covered crests, the numerous glaciers, the fascinating valleys. The majestic, dignified Longs Peak rising 14,255 feet above the level of the sea is always on duty as captain of its group of snow-capped peaks, many of which are more than 12,000 feet high, and several almost as high as Longs itself.

Nowhere else is the timberline struggle between trees and wind more grotesquely exemplified than in the high regions of the Park. Here the spruces lie flat on the ground like vines, which give place to low birches; these to small piney growths; to tough struggling grass, hardy mosses and tiny alpine flowers. There is a charm and fascination about the mountains at timberline and above that cannot be told in words.

One standing at the bottom of these deep canyons; one standing atop these lofty peaks; one standing beside these shimmering lakes, can but think James Oliver Curwood was right when he said:

"I believe that Christ was the greatest lover of nature that history has known. He was the greatest of conservationists. In His work He pointed out God—not through painted words, but through the nature that was about Him. The Book of God, as He taught it, was clearly intelligible to every race. It was made of the mountains, the plains, the vastness and glories of the heavens; of trees and blooming bush, of flowers underfoot, of birds swelling their throats in song; of fivers whispering in the sunshine; it was written in the flash of lightning, in the rumble of thunder, in the crash of landslides, in the destruction of earthquake; its beauty and its majesty and its tragedy intermingled; it revealed death with life, happiness with sorrow, growing things with dying ones."

In Denver is a sect called "The Pilgrims." It is an offshoot of the "Letter Day Saints." These in turn came from the Mormons. In the northeast part of this State, 195 miles from Denver, just beyond the famous and historic mining town of Leadville, is the world-wide known "The Mount of the Holy Cross." Each year these Pilgrims form a caravan and hold services (similar to the Holy Rollers) on this Mount. Well, we "joined" 'em—no, we mean we joined the caravan (30 cars). The wild beauty of the Holy Cross is wonderful—meadows filled with wild flowers, alpine lakes, lovely trails, and gigantic lofty peaks, crowned eternally with ice and snow. Anyone can attend the Pilgrimage. While the affair has a religious basis, participation in the religious services is not obligatory. Many persons join the party to enjoy the outing in one of the peerless scenic regions of the world.

The camp life is exceedingly jolly, the food is good, and the fishing fine. The Mount of the Holy Cross is in Eagle county, 300 miles from Denver by rail, and 195 by auto—one of the finest scenic highways in the whole Rocky Mountain region, passing through the famous mining camp of Leadville. There is a base camp known as Camp Tigwona, four miles from the cross on the Ocean-to-Ocean highway, these last four miles are made on foot, or on horseback. Daily pilgrimages are made from Camp Tigwona to the Notch Mountain where religious services are held. There quite a number of healing (?) services are held for the sick. We spent one day in the National Museum and State Capitol buildings. I tried to meet the Governor (Adams) but his factotum told us he was not in.

Remember, Rubo, these articles are written for pagtims, between travel trips. Read 'em or not, just as you like.

Law Regarding Mexican Aliens Is Explained

Explanation of the law regarding Mexican aliens which went into effect July 1 is contained in a letter received this week by J. H. Greene, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from C. C. Courtney, chief patrol inspector at Marfa.

The letter follows:
Under the terms of an Act of Congress approved March 2, 1929, any alien not ineligible to citizenship who entered the United States before June 3, 1921, without then or thereafter being inspected and admitted for permanent stay by immigration officials, may make application to have his residence in the United States legalized, and upon establishing to the satisfaction of the Commissioner-General of Immigration that he

(1) Entered the United States prior to June 3, 1921;
(2) Has resided in the United States continuously since such entry;
(3) Is a person of good moral character; and,
(4) Is not subject to deportation.

he will be issued a certificate attesting to his legal residence in the United States.
This law goes into effect on July 1, 1919, after which aliens desirous of obtaining such certificates may apply in person or by mail to the nearest immigration officer for application blanks, which will be furnished with full instructions concerning the manner in which they are to be executed.

No penalty follows the failure to take advantage of the provisions of this Act as its only purpose, so far as registry is concerned, is to enable aliens who have resided in the United States for a number of years and who are not subject to deportation, to obtain evidence of their right to remain here. Neither does it require that a person who becomes registered take out his naturalization papers, although certificates issued thereunder will be accepted in naturalization proceedings as an evidence of the rightful holder's legal residence in the United States for naturalization purposes.

Abilene Man Had to Quit Work—Orgatone Restores Health and Weight

"A medicine that will get a man on his feet and put him in condition where he can go to work again in a few weeks' time is certainly well worth talking about and I'm willing for the whole world to know that this is what Orgatone has done for me," was the characteristic statement made by M. L. Denman, living at 802 Graham St., Abilene, Texas. "Up to about three years ago," continued Mr. Denman, "my health was always good. But my stomach got in such bad shape that my food would sour and I commenced to have bilious spells and indigestion. I finally got in such a condition I had to quit work about four months ago owing to the fact that I was so weak it almost was impossible for me to get about. And for the past two months, that is up until the time I got started on Orgatone, I had been living on bread and milk, my stomach was just in that terrible condition. I tried numbers of treatments and every kind of medicine I read or heard about, but kept getting worse all the time.

"When I took my first dose of Orgatone I was in a pretty serious condition and had lost in weight and strength until my friends hardly recognized me—and when I finished my first bottle I commenced to pick up and gain till it seemed almost unbelievable. I can eat what I want now and am feeling so well generally that I am going to start to work again next Monday and in my opinion there's nothing equal to Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Colorado from the Colorado Drug and the City Drug stores.

Its outstanding low-pressure efficiency also means greatly increased traction, greater safety, by putting more rubber on the road—a bigger, softer, clinging grip. It eliminates the running risks and power wastes of constant slippage. Now you can drive with serene disregard for the daily hazards of the road.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Oh, boy, Independence Day hit us just right. We have had so many come in and pay up the past week we are feeling just grand and glorious. Our old-time friend, A. E. Maddin, was one of the first to put down the kale seed for credit. He came in and kicked to beat the band because we had made a mistake in his label date. We corrected the same and thanked him for calling our attention to it. He is taking the paper and sending it to his daughter, Mrs. Emmett at Amarillo, and is also sending the paper to Mrs. Maddin's sister, Mrs. Abernathy at Commerce.

W. H. Rogers is another reader who don't want to get behind. We made a mistake in his label date and he raised Cain. "I don't want to miss a copy and am not going to let it help it," he said. Thanks, Bill, we are trying to make a good paper and appreciate your interest.

H. L. Hutchinson is another man who has read this paper for many years. He pays up for which we thank him. "Hutch," as he is popularly known, has probably done more for the schools in Colorado than any other man. He spent many years working hard for our schools.

J. D. Sherwin is another old-timer in Colorado who wants the home paper regularly. He pays up and says keep the great purveyor of news coming, which we gladly do.

M. A. Giddens, the man who owns the Old Mill on the east highway, and a rustler, pays up and says keep the good news coming. L. R. Tiley, the dairyman, and Smith, the radiator man, are among the rush callers at our pay counter. They plunk down and we are made happy again. These fellows read when they are not busy, and we never caught them at work in our lives. Why should we worry though; they pay cash and cash talks plenty with us.

Tom Johnson, the man who made a success of Bob Fee in the lumber business, and a man who knows the lumber business from top to bottom, gets on the dotted line to save his head. We didn't expect to chop his head off, but we needed the money and we got it.

And the good women also read the home paper. Mrs. M. P. McCall, Mrs. Lucy Henley, Mrs. Sam Smartt, Mrs. W. T. King, Mrs. Carrie Gustine, Mrs. Jake Mauer, and Neta Mae Davis all paid up during the past week, for which we thank them kindly.

Doc Maurice Terrell, the old standby at J. L. Doss Pharmacy, pays up and saves his head. Dr. Terrell has done us many favors and we appreciate them by letting him have this paper at the regular price. Every time we thing of the prescription, Doc has filled for us, we are thankful—thankful that we are still alive, maybe.

H. Oziens, Frank Miller, T. B. Reager and W. J. Pritchett are others who have been credited the past week. All these fellows make our hearts glad when they dropped in with the kale seed. We crave this kind of refreshments this hot weather.

Jack Cox, the butcher at Helpy-Selfy, puts down the cold cash to get his neck off the chop block. We had the axe raised but Jack caused us to burst into song when he flung the long green at us. Cutting meat is the fondest thing Jack is of and he gets plenty of it at Helpy-Selfy.

J. L. Bowen, one man whom riches from oil did not ruin, and one of Colorado's best citizens, is sure stuck on his home paper. He pays us and orders it sent to Mrs. Bowen who is vacationing in Ruidosa, N. M. W. R. McDaniel orders his paper changed from Colorado to Forsan, Howard county. He is with the California Company and was located here for three years. Bill Simson, big boss of the California Company operating division, also orders his paper changed to Midland.

Mrs. H. L. Lockhart has her paper sent to Long Beach, California. She and family are spending the summer there.

New ones this week are John E. Dawson, deputy sheriff of West Frankfort, Illinois, and A. G. Phillips, Stevenson, Mo.

Uncle Andy Green missed a copy of his paper and he came in to know what was the matter. "I got more news from the Record than any other paper, and I want to keep it coming," he said. We relieved him of three bucks and sent him on his way rejoicing, paid up for a year ahead. Thanks. These old pioneers sure know a good thing when they see it.

ROBERT LEE, July 4.—A petition asking for the formation of an independent school district out of the present common school district of Robert Lee are being passed by Dr. J. K. Griffith.

More than 100 names asking for the change in the form of government of the district have been secured to the petition. An election will be called to ratify the decision of the voters and to elect three trustees.

Hyman Happenings

The people of Hyman have all gone back to their work after lots of fun on the Fourth.

John Stobbs of Quitaque is visiting friends at Hyman this week. Rex Burgoon and brother of Dallas visited their cousin, Lloyd Keith, while on their way to Big Spring to attend the Fourth of July celebration.

J. T. Rogers of Compound, Texas, stopped to visit his mother, Mrs. I. L. Jones, while on his way to the wheat fields on the Plains.

The families of T. C. Smith, I. L. Jones and Lloyd Keith spent the 4th of July on the Concho fishing. They had quite a big fish fry.

Ike Brown, one of Hyman's most promising young men, spent the 4th of July at Brady with relatives, returning home in time to be at his post of duty Monday morning.

Howard Pierce of Colorado and Grandpa Andrews were visitors in the home of I. Smallwood Sunday. Grandpa is some older than some of us, but still goes to church and to Sunday school and does not stay at home if the car is not running, as some of us younger folks would do.

Mrs. Lizzie Locklear is moving to Chalk. She has lived at Hyman for several years, and we hope she will prosper in her new location.

The friendly Sunday school contest between Hyman and Spade is still running. Hyman is working hard to come over the top. We hope to work in the Sunday schools of these places will not stop when the contest is over, but will continue to push the work on.

H. H. VanZandt was in town Monday on business, taking his wife with him to do some shopping and visiting.

The Hyman Woman's Club had an annual picnic on Friday in the China Grove about two miles northeast of Hyman post office. They had iced tea, lemonade, ice water, and all the good things to eat that anyone could wish for. The club women had their husbands and children as guests. All seemed to enjoy the occasion immensely. One man said he had been sick ever since he ate supper and thought he would file a suit against the club, but was feel like it was the quantity instead of the quality that made him sick.

Prof. Coles and wife spent the 4th with his father, returning home in time to be at the club picnic.

Bro. Norton of Colorado preached Saturday night at Hyman. His sermons were enjoyed by large, attentive crowds. We hope he will have the time to come back soon.

There will be a singing school taught at Hyman, beginning July 15th. Let's all make an effort to go.

Legislature Rushes Money Bills Through

AUSTIN, July 9.—Evidencing a desire to conclude their labors at the earliest possible moment lawmakers today worked rapidly. The senate passed all major appropriations measures except the department bill and the house disposed finally of the judiciary, eleemosynary and rural aid subjects.

House Substitutes
With the exception of the judiciary bill, the house substituted its own measures for those of the senate and to a free conference committee from the two legislative branches will fall the task of adjusting differences. Carrying an appropriation of $5,060,485, the judiciary measure stands $2,000 less than that rejected by the governor after having been approved by both houses during the second special session.

Both houses lopped $500,000 from the rural school aid bill. The eleemosynary bill approved by the senate appropriates $10,482,836 for 1930-31, the same figure contained in the compromise bill blue penciled by Governor Moody. At the behest of Representative John Wallace, chairman of the house appropriations committee, the house bill was substituted for that passed by the senate. The latter calls for an appropriation of $10,029,000.

Tubercular Ward
Representative George C. Purl of Dallas sought $200,000 for construction of a children's ward at the State tuberculosis hospital at Calisbad, but his colleague refused to sanction the increase.

In the senate's free conference educational bill containing appropriations totalling $16,496,545 was added $125,000 for construction of a building at John Tarleton agricultural college at Stephenville, $37,000 for East Texas Teachers' college at Nacogdoches, and $11,000 to be spent by the experiment station at Angleton in plant lice control in Harris and Galveston counties.

GERRON SEEKS OFFICE OF LAND COMMISSIONER

AUSTIN, July 6.—Representative Elwin Gerron of Waxahachie Saturday announced his candidacy for the position of Land Commissioner.

"Realizing that the public welfare and State-owned lands in Texas will be involved in the campaign next year for Commissioner of the General Land Office and that the most relentless political battle that has ever been waged in this State will be fought out between the voters who believe in the rights of the people on one side and the great oil, gas and mineral corporations on the other, I hereby make my announcement for that office," Mr. Gerron said.

He added that he would make a speech in every county, "paying my respects to certain influences and lawyers that would dictate and exploit public lands."
