'OFFICIAL BURIAL OF IATAN FLAT' WIDELY ATTENDED ON MONDAY

Thousands Flocked To Iatan For Celebration of Pavement Opening

MOTORCADES TO SCENE

One of Most Successful Road Opening Occasions Ever Held In West Texas

The "Official Burial of Iatan Flat" Monday evening at Iatan was attended by one of the largest crowds ever assembled for a road celebration in West Texas. The occasion was the formal opening of ten miles of concrete pavement along the notorious flat.

Over four thousand people from points all along the West Texas section of the Broadway of America were present for the program, which was prepared by the Colorado and Big Spring Chambers of Commerce.

Nearly two thousand cars from points between Abilene and El Paso parked alongside of the highway for the program, which had been prepared by the two chambers of commerce. Motorcades moved to the point of the celebration from Abilene, Lorraine, Roscoe, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Westbrook and Coahoma.

A solid string of cars lined the highway leading to Iatan for hours before and after the program. Colorado literally "turned out" for the celebration, most of the business houses closing at 5 o'clock. Big Spring and Sweetwater were other cities having among the largest delegations. The former notoriety of the flats and the large amount of publicity given its paving, together with efforts of officials in preparing the program, combined to make this event one of the most successful ever attempted in this county.

The program was opened with a 30-minute concert by the Colorado municipal band, directed by Roy Lester. Following this, Dr. P. C. Coleman of Colorado introduced C. T. Watson, secretary of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the occasion.

Asks Compensation

Judge C. C. Thompson of Mitchell county welcomed the visiting throng following which H. L. Birney of El Paso, president of the Broadway of America association, made an address in which he pleaded for more cooperation in securing good roads and more publicity for them.

Representatives from neighboring towns introduced were: Claude Holley, Stanton; Paul Vickers, Midland; Lee Satterwhite, Odessa; J. H. Greene of Colorado; Alonzo Phillips, Lorraine; Monte Owen, Sweetwater; Fritz R. Smith, Snyder; Judge Mc-

LIGHT RAIN TUESDAY BRINGS NEW LIFE TO WEST TEXAS CROPS

Fall of .22 Inches Registered At Colorado; North Part County Gets More

Light showers at Colorado and in many sections of the county Tuesday broke a drought of three-months' duration and put new life into crops and new hope in the minds of farmers and others.

The rainfall at Colorado measured twenty-two hundredths of an inch. At Buford, where four different showers fell, the fall was estimated at about one-half inch, while it was heavier on north. The Cedar Bend section on the river received a good shower and several sections in the northeast, north and northwest part of the county received a good shower.

Snyder, Spur, Amarillo, Vernon and many other West Texas points report good showers, while South Texas reports better than two inches of rain Monday and Tuesday.

The rainfall in Mitchell county was not sufficient to revive crops to any great extent, while it helped to cool the atmosphere and in many instances helped cotton crops.

J. P. Hestand Raises Largest Hog in County

J. P. Hestand's Duroc Jersey herd sire is said to be the largest hog for his age ever raised in Mitchell county or in this section of West Texas. The hog weighs approximately 860 pounds at one year and ten months of age. At 18 months of age he weighed 740 pounds. He stands over 45 inches high and is more than six feet long.

The hog has been fed a balanced ration consisting of maize and a protein supplement all his life. Mr. Hestand is planning to exhibit him at several West Texas fairs this fall.

TIME PROVES THAT COMMERCIAL COURSES INCREASE EFFICIENCY

Excellent Report Made For New Department Last Year; To Be Offered Again

A few months have proven that the vocational commercial courses offered last year in Colorado High school were worth while, according to business men of Colorado, who cite the increased efficiency of their employees as proof.

Many applications for entrance into the department for this coming year have already been made, according to Supt. Ben S. Peek. The class last year, though in its beginning, became so crowded that it had to be limited.

Classes in advanced work and beginners' work are to be offered this year. Next week's Record will carry an announcement concerning the time of enrollment for this year's work. Supt. Peek says.

The report of Miss Octavine Cooper, instructor in this department, for last year showed that 37 signed up for the course, which was and is open to anyone who earns wages, and that 21 of this number completed the first year's work. Many of this number will probably complete the entire course this year. The course is free.

Subjects taught in the department are typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial English, and Commercial law. Twenty-nine were enrolled for typing last year, 17 for shorthand, 24 for bookkeeping, 23 for commercial English, and 10 for commercial law. Some of the pupils in typing did a full college year's work, according to Miss Cooper's report.

100 Men Fight Grass Fire On Maddox Ranch

Heavy Damage To Jake's Hotel By Fire Tuesday

Jake's Hotel, owned by Mrs. Jake Maurer, an old landmark of Colorado, was almost completely destroyed by fire about 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening. The fire originated in the upper story, presumably from defective wiring.

The upper story and roof was practically destroyed, and the stairway was badly burned, while the ground floor portion of the building suffered heavy water damage.

Practically all the furniture of the ground floor was taken out, but Mrs. Maurer said Wednesday that much of this was badly water damaged. The upstairs furniture was destroyed.

Those inspecting the building, which was an old frame structure, say it is practically beyond repair. Fire Chief Ed Majors estimates the damage to the building only partial and thinks the building can be repaired.

The building and contents were partially insured, Mrs. Maurer said Wednesday.

Jake's Hotel was an old landmark here. The building, which is located immediately north of the Barcroft Hotel, has stood for many years as a relic of the old Colorado. While the structure was in good repair, it was one of the oldest buildings in Colorado, we are told. The hotel was owned and operated by Mrs. Jake Maurer since the death of her husband, Jake Maurer, about three years ago.

Robert Whipkey To Work For Big New York Paper

Robert W. Whipkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey of Colorado, leaves today for New York City, where he has a position as reporter on the New York Herald-Tribune, one of the largest papers in the United States. He will also attend Columbia University.

Robert is an honor graduate of Colorado High and of Simmons University, where he also had honors. He published the "Brand" at Simmons the last two years he was there, and for the past year has been editor of the Odessa News-Times. He has been connected with newspaper work all his life and has entered this field as his profession. He will study journalism at Columbia.

Robert has many friends here and at Abilene, all of whom wish him great success.

SCHOLASTIC CENSUS OF COUNTY REVEALS AN INCREASE OF 233

Total This Year 3821; Per Capita Apportionment To Be $17.50

An increase of 233 in the scholastic census of Mitchell county is revealed in the enrollment for this year, which has just been approved by the State Board of Education. Last year's total was 3588 and the total this year is 3821.

The census shows the following enrollment in neighboring counties: Howard, 4505; Midland, 1706; Nolan, 4731; Scurry, 3419.

In the entire State there were 1,430,000 scholastics enrolled this year—an increase over last year's census of 27,000; 9,000 names were erased from the rolls because of duplication, saving the school the per capita amount for each child. If the average increase is maintained next year there will be 127,000 additions to the rolls as the new law reducing the minimum age to 6 years will become effective Sept. 1, 1930, and will mean 100,000 children added.

The State Board of Education has fixed the per capita apportionment of the school fund at $17.50 for the ensuing scholastic session and instructed its secretary to write a letter to every school trustee in Texas urging that 50c of that amount be saved to add to next year's apportionment in order that it may go as high as $17.

The apportionment of $17.50 is the amount fixed by the new law which the board construed to be mandatory. It also held that the law did not permit any surplus to be saved for next year, therefore it failed to grant to a request of State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs that the apportionment be made $17 in order that the same amount would be assured for the succeeding year. With 1,430,000 scholastics the apportionment calls for a total of $25,025,000.

The balance of the available school fund more than $3,000,000 with the income from other sources will require a State school tax of about 31c instead of the maximum of 35c. With the full 35c levied next year, not more than $16.50 per capita can be apportioned, which caused the board to advise saving 50c per child to bring the second year's available fund to $17.00.

Home Destroyed By Flames Here Friday Morning

Flames having their origin in the explosion of an oil cook stove, destroyed the Pete Cawthron home here just before 3 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Cawthron was heating some water for Mrs. Cawthron, who was ill. After lighting the stove, he lay down to wait for the water to heat, and when he awoke, the rear of the frame building was in flames. Little more than a few personal effects was saved.

The alarm was first given by a Mexican in the county jail. Quick work by the Colorado fire department kept the flames from entirely razing the house.

The water was said to be a good clear water, free from salt and evidently an artesian flow has been encountered.

W. W. Whipkey, water commissioner, said this afternoon the water flow would be investigated with a view of securing water supply for the city.

If the well proves to be a real artesian well of good water it will prove a boon to this city, it was said.

Paul C. Teas invited the city to investigate the well and is offering his cooperation to determine if the water flow is of a quality desired by the city.

Association Is Pooling Car Stock For Shipment Soon

Twenty Head Already Listed To Go Into Car—Others Should Sign Up Now

The Cooperative livestock shipping association has almost another car of livestock for shipment to market, according to U. G. Hardison, who says plans are being made to complete the car and ship next week.

Farmers who wish to put in one or more head in this car should see W. S. Foster, county agent; or C. C. Thompson, Cullen Powell, or U. G. Hardison. About 20 head have already been listed for the car.

The association shipped a car last week. The hogs brought the highest prices on the Fort Worth market for the day, topping the market at 10.50.

TEAS WELL FLOWING WATER FROM 4,170 FT.

The Paul C. Teas oil test, section 7, block 26 North, on the J. M. Radford land, seven miles northwest of Colorado, was flowing water over the top of the casing Thursday from a strata struck at a depth of 4,170 feet.

Millers Seen Here Not Leaf Worm Producer

The small, light-colored millers that are found in large numbers in cotton fields are moths of careless worms, states R. K. Fletcher, experiment station entomologist, in a letter to the county agent. Specimens of this insect were sent in last week for identification due to the fact that many people had them confused with leaf worm miller. The latter is a larger moth about twice as big as the careless worm miller. It is also darker in color.

SCHOOLS PRINCIPAL THEME AT LUNCHEON CLUB MEET TUESDAY

Invitation of Lorraine Club Accepted For Next Wednesday

Education was the principal theme discussed at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Colorado Luncheon club at the Colorado hotel.

Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the County Board of Education, presided. Invocation was given by Rev. W. C. Ashford.

Dr. Coleman spoke as to the activities of the Colorado schools and commended the school board for their efficient method of handling the school finances. He then introduced Ben S. Peek, superintendent of the Colorado schools, who with a few remarks, introduced J. W. Watson, president of the board of trustees.

Mr. Watson told of the school plant here and the efforts of the board to provide ample facilities for the schools. "The school plant here is valued at $280,000," Mr. Watson said. "With the recent repairing of the old high school building, the Colorado school plant is ample to care for the attendance."

J. H. Greene talked on the work of the school board. He told them they were expected to build character in boys and girls in building a modern school plant here. He praised the school board and assured the members present of the cooperation of the citizenship of Colorado.

Clyde Haynie gave a three-minute talk on the school system of China. He was stationed in China for some time and is acquainted with the system. This talk was enjoyed by all and was very interesting.

Invitation of the Lorraine Luncheon club to meet with them next Wednesday was accepted. J. H. Greene, who attended the Lorraine club last week brought the invitation and made a motion that it be accepted. This was seconded by A. L. McSpaddin and S. B. Westfall. The club will not hold its regular luncheon here next Tuesday but will go to Lorraine Wednesday afternoon.

Doyle Williams, vocational agricultural teacher in the Colorado schools, will preside at the luncheon September 10. At that time Bob Stubblefield, manager of the Acorn store, will give a three-minute talk on "Acorn Store, Inc."

Sterling Keathley was introduced as a new member. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. Holman, Rev. Broadfoot of Snyder, Willie Turner, Mr. Eberley, with the Texas Electric Service Co. H. Holman is principal of the new Colorado Junior high school.

Wolves To Line Up For Practice Monday Morning

Lining up for their fall grid practice, the Wolves will meet Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the high school building, according to R. H. Cantrill, coach, who is at present attending the Warner-Rockne coaching school in Dallas.

At this time the players will secure their suits and be ready for starting intensive practice the next day, as the first game is scheduled for September 20.

428 BALES COTTON GINNED IN COUNTY. TO THURSDAY NOON

Staple Bringing 17.40 And Seed $28.00 Per Ton At Gins

Opening the ginning season 30 days earlier this year than last year, 428 bales of cotton had been ginned in Mitchell county up to Thursday noon, according to reports compiled by The Record.

Lorraine had ginned 114 bales, Westbrook 116 bales, with the Williams-Miller gin handling 40 and the Gular gin 76 bales. Colorado had ginned 197 bales, divided as follows: Lambeth, McCleary & Grubbs, 30; Farmers Cooperative Gin Co., 38; Williams-Morgan, 54; Concrete, 15; Farmers No. 3 and No. 1, 60. Buford gin of the Farmers Gin Co. has started, having ginned one bale.

Cotton was bringing 17.40 on the streets of Colorado and seed $28.00 at the gin. The same prices were being paid at Buford and Westbrook.

Last year the first bale ginned in the county was ginned at Lorraine August 22. The first bale ginned at Colorado in 1928 was on September 7. The ginning season did not open in 1928 until about the 20 of September. On Sept. 20 last year 218 bales had been ginned in the county and on Sept. 27 only 649 bales had been ginned.

The season this year is fully 30 days ahead of last year. The recent dry weather has caused cotton to open prematurely and accounts for the early ginning.

On the 14th of September last year the Record published a statement saying the "cotton crop is an unknown quantity" and that the production depended wholly upon the fall season. On Sept. 14th the paper said, the crop was not matured so the fall would have to make the crop. More than 30,000 bales were ginned due to a favorable fall season.

TENANT FARMER HELD FOLLOWING SHOOTING AT M'KENZIE SUNDAY

C. W. Scuddy Dies from Pistol Wounds; Bond of Tinney Set at $5,000

An isolated cotton patch near McKenzie, 25 miles southeast of Colorado, was the scene Sunday morning about 11 o'clock of a shooting affray which resulted in the death of C. W. Scuddy, 68, tenant farmer on Scuddy's place, who is being held in the Mitchell county jail. His bond was set at $5,000.

The only known eye witness to the shooting was Tinney's 18-year-old son, J. I. Scuddy and Tinney lived about 300 yards apart on adjacent farms, and the shooting occurred at the edge of the farm rented by Tinney. Statements of Tinney and his son were that the two men had been having trouble for about a month, first over attentions Scuddy allegedly attempted to pay Tinney's wife, and later over indirect accusations by Scuddy that Tinney was stealing the crop.

Scuddy was shot twice with a pistol, the second shot passing through his body, causing almost instant death. Sometime before or after the shots, Scuddy moved about 43 steps into a field belonging to C. N. Stubblefield, and fell there. Tinney then sought out G. A. Brown, deputy sheriff at McKenzie, shortly after the shooting and surrendered. Brown brought him to Colorado.

Scuddy had been a resident in the McKenzie community for about 40 years. Tinney has lived in various parts of this and neighboring counties. It is understood that the two men were acquaintances of long standing.

Funeral services for Scuddy were held in Colorado Monday afternoon. He is survived by his wife. Tinney has a wife and four children, one adopted.

After being duly warned by Judge W. H. Garrett, county attorney, Tinney made a signed statement. He was told that he did not have to make a statement and that what he said might be used against him, but he made the volunteer statement and signed it in the presence of witnesses.

In the statement, Tinney claims he and his son, J. I. Tinney, had started across the Scuddy farm to visit Lon Linney, on the morning of August 25. "When we arrived near southeast corner of the Scuddy farm, we saw C. W. Scuddy working on the fence, he is alleged to have said, 'We had had some trouble about his actions' concerning my wife and (Continued on Page Five)

Home Destroyed By Flames Here Friday Morning

Flames having their origin in the explosion of an oil cook stove, destroyed the Pete Cawthron home here just before 3 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Cawthron was heating some water for Mrs. Cawthron, who was ill. After lighting the stove, he lay down to wait for the water to heat, and when he awoke, the rear of the frame building was in flames. Little more than a few personal effects was saved.

The alarm was first given by a Mexican in the county jail. Quick work by the Colorado fire department kept the flames from entirely razing the house.

The water was said to be a good clear water, free from salt and evidently an artesian flow has been encountered.

W. W. Whipkey, water commissioner, said this afternoon the water flow would be investigated with a view of securing water supply for the city.

If the well proves to be a real artesian well of good water it will prove a boon to this city, it was said.

Paul C. Teas invited the city to investigate the well and is offering his cooperation to determine if the water flow is of a quality desired by the city.

Association Is Pooling Car Stock For Shipment Soon

Twenty Head Already Listed To Go Into Car—Others Should Sign Up Now

The Cooperative livestock shipping association has almost another car of livestock for shipment to market, according to U. G. Hardison, who says plans are being made to complete the car and ship next week.

Farmers who wish to put in one or more head in this car should see W. S. Foster, county agent; or C. C. Thompson, Cullen Powell, or U. G. Hardison. About 20 head have already been listed for the car.

The association shipped a car last week. The hogs brought the highest prices on the Fort Worth market for the day, topping the market at 10.50.

TEAS WELL FLOWING WATER FROM 4,170 FT.

The Paul C. Teas oil test, section 7, block 26 North, on the J. M. Radford land, seven miles northwest of Colorado, was flowing water over the top of the casing Thursday from a strata struck at a depth of 4,170 feet.

Bridgette Breakfast
Mrs. Bill Broadus entertained the Bridgettes Thursday morning at 8:30 with a lovely breakfast. The place cards were little houses. Fruit cocktail was served as a first course, this being followed by bacon, baked eggs on toast, preserves, coffee, toasted cheese and crackers.
Mrs. Broadus' guests were Mesdames Frank Kelley, Bill Randle, D. H. Snyder, Dudley Snyder, R. E. McIntire, Jimmie Morgan, Bill Dorn, M. Carter, W. C. Glamm of Sweetwater, and Miss Mary Broadus.
Mrs. Frank Kelley won high score in the bridge game that followed and was given some pretty hand-made handkerchiefs.

The Bridgettes are enjoying very much these morning games and the delicious breakfasts served as well.
Honoring Mrs. Lockhart
Tuesday afternoon Mrs. James T. Johnson very pleasantly entertained the Hesperian Club and a few close friends of Mrs. H. L. Lockhart with a conversation party.
The guests began to arrive at 4 o'clock and visited in a most enjoyable way for two hours. The only thing that marred the happiness of the occasion was the fact that Mrs. Lockhart was leaving on the evening train for Long Beach, California, and from there she will bring her family to El Paso, where they have rented a home and where her furniture is being shipped.
Mrs. Lockhart proved a valuable member of the Hesperian club, the Choral club and the Methodist church here. Her musical ability made her a real asset to the choir. She and her interesting family will be greatly missed in these as well as other circles.

At the close of Mrs. Johnson's delightful "talkfest" a delectable salad plate with iced tea and angel cake was served, after which good-byes were said.
Pastime Club Honors Mrs. Lockhart
Tuesday evening, at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, the Pastime Bridge Club gave a party in honor of Mrs. H. L. Lockhart, one of the members who is leaving for El Paso.
The house was decorated in summer flowers, the score cards being summer ladies with parasols, bearing the date. The six games were most enjoyable and at their close a refreshment plate of sandwiches, angel cake and punch was served.
The honoree was presented with a pretty silver bud vase. Mrs. H. H. Bennett received high score prize, a clever little paperweight, and Mrs. L. A. Costin received low prize, a Daisy pot cleaner.
Mrs. Lockhart left on the evening train for Long Beach, Calif. Her going is a real loss to this social club and all the social life of the town.

Announcement Party
Thursday afternoon Mrs. Roy Tidwell entertained a group of friends of her sister, Miss Gladys Webb, with a delightful bridge party, which in the end proved to be an announcement party.
When the refreshment hour arrived, on each of the tempting plates was a scroll fastened with a golden heart that, when opened, proved to be a miniature marriage license, having the names Ora Thomas—Gladys Webb, Sept. 23, 1929.
Mr. Thomas is assistant manager of the telephone company in Fort Worth, a splendid young business man.
Miss Webb has taught in Colorado public schools for several years. She is a reader of ability and a most popular young lady, who has the good wishes of her entire acquaintance.
Ice cream in pink hearts, and angel cake composed the edible part of the refreshment plate, which was a joy to the eye as well as the palate.
Forty-Two Party
Thursday evening J. C. Garrett entertained a group of his friends with a forty-two party. There were four tables of players, and a most enjoyable evening was spent, his mother and sister, Miss Nelda, assisting him in entertaining. At the conclusion of the game, cake and punch were served.
Camping
Ellis and Frank Smith, John Shropshire, J. C. and Charley Garrett are camping this week at Camp Springs and, of course, having a most pleasant outing.
London Bridge
Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Doss very delightfully entertained the London Bridge club Thursday evening on their lawn at the back of their house. This beauty spot with its trellises, flowers and vines were further beautiful with hanging baskets of flowers and ferns. Mrs. Doss served candies during the game, her guests being Mr. and Mrs. Roy Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Toler, and Mrs. H. Merry Wives and Husbands Are Entertained

Tuesday evening at the Benderbrook Ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jones very delightfully entertained the Merry Wives 42 Club, their husbands and a number of invited guests, with a barbecue which was a very delightful affair.
The evening was spent in the usual picnic manner, having everyone, the good time he most enjoyed.
A delicious barbecue supper with salad, pickles, coffee, beans and bread, was served. The pies were furnished by Merry Wives members.
This group has had many good times, but this was one of the very most delightful they have ever enjoyed—one that was an equally happy time for the friends Mr. and Mrs. Jones had invited.
R. Priest of Brownwood.
High score prize for ladies was won by Mrs. Oscar Price. This was a beautiful Italian vase. Low score for ladies, a hat brush in leather case, was won by Mrs. Frank Kelley. R. J. Wallace won the gentleman's high score, a thimble smoking set; and Roy Warren captured low, an oilcloth footstool.
Refreshments of banana nut cream and black cake were served.
After the bridge game some time was spent in conversation, each guest being loth to leave this delightfully cool beauty spot.
Methodist Missionary Society
The Methodist Missionary society met Monday at the home of Mrs. Garrett, with Mrs. W. P. Leslie of Eastland, a former member, an appreciated visitor.
Mrs. Arnett led the opening prayer, and Mrs. Garrett conducted the devotional. The Bible lesson was the raising of Jarius' daughter.

The president reported the young people's meeting in Sweetwater last Monday; that the four zone meetings of this district would be held early in September, and that the district had paid the $40 asked for on Marie Crone's hospital bill, with enough over to fit her with glasses. The district leader in social service and the local auxiliary has brought up every department of work to date.
The vice president reported one group doing good work on Spiritual Cultivation, other leaders asked to work as opportunity afforded. Mrs. Sallie Dozier reported three meetings with good attendance, all invited to Grandma Barnett's Tuesday.
Mrs. Maddin reported a good primary meeting held Friday and Mrs. Garrett reported on the many junior activities.
Mrs. Boyd Dozier was elected superintendent of Mission Study, the book to be taken is "What Next in Home Missions?" This is to be credited both as social service and mission study. Mrs. Van King gave a very interesting talk on African Homes. At the close of this, Mrs. Garrett led in prayer for Miss Flora Foreman, who is now enroute to Belgian Congo to resume her work there as missionary nurse. Mrs. Leslie told some of the things her missionary society was doing, which closed the meeting.
Primary Party
The primary division of the Methodist Juniors met Friday with Mrs. Garrett. The leader, Mrs. Lucian Maddin, had charge of the program. The Bible lesson was taken from Luke—Jesus at 12 years of age in the temple.
Mrs. Maddin told the story of the missionary children in Mexico.
After this, games were played and refreshments served. A good crowd was in attendance.
Excel Circle
Excel Circle of the Baptist church met Monday with the teacher, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, with 15 present. They had their last lesson on "The Wandering Jew in Brazil," and took their examination on it which entitles them to another seal.
The group presented their teacher with a shower of love gifts as an expression of their appreciation for her work with the class. Plans for fall work have not yet been announced.
The hostess served iced tea and sandwiches at the conclusion of the study.
Monday is the regular business meeting of the W. M. S. and every circle and committee chairman is requested to be present, as the new officers are beginning their year's work, and plans must be made.
Presbyterian Bible Study
Members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Monday in the church and studied the 17th chapter of Luke. The inspirational meeting will be held Monday at the church.
Epworth Junior Program
The Epworth Juniors will give a program in the Methodist church auditorium Sunday at 8 p. m.
Song by congregation.
Devotional, Jesus and the Children—Mrs. J. G. Merritt and 3 Juniors.
Prayer—Rev. W. C. Hinds.

Reading, "World Children"—Hazel Grubbs.
Song, "Jesus' Children"—Walter, Johnny and Gilbert Grubbs.
Reading, "Japanese Children"—Willford Bond.
"What We Have Learned of Our Japanese Friends"—Maxine Dorn.
"The Japanese Family"—Miss Nelda Garrett.
Song, offering from boys, and benediction.
Honoring Mrs. A. C. Whitaker
Tuesday evening Mrs. R. B. Terrell invited Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Whitaker, who are leaving here, for dinner at 8 o'clock. Members of the Excel Circle of which Mrs. Whitaker was secretary, went over to Mrs. Terrell's and surprised their departing member with a handkerchief shower and it was indeed a complete surprise. The group had taken along some iced watermelons, which were served and enjoyed.
Not only had Mrs. Whitaker been in the Excel Circle been appreciated, but she was a faithful and efficient teacher in the beginnings' department of the Baptist Sunday school, and her fellow teachers gave her as a parting gift a lovely cassetole. Mr. Whitaker, who has been with the Colorado Sand & Gravel Co., was also a faithful worker in his church and Sunday school, and both are going to be greatly missed.
Colorado regrets to give up citizens like the Whitakers, but hopes for their great happiness and success in their new home—which is also their old one—Waco.

Dream of Park Takes Hold of Colorado Folks

The dream of a beautified park is taking hold of Colorado people, and they are taking steps to materialize the dream.
This week Dr. C. L. Root comes forward with the offer to build a cobblestone water fountain in front of the band shell in Ruddick Park as his contribution to the beautification of the park.
In the course of time others will doubtless come forward with similar plans to add some unit to the development of the park, and at some not far distant day Colorado folks may hold a giant program in the park, at which time those who have made contributions to the park will formally present them.
A donation fund for incidental expenses in improving the park has already been started by O. B. Price, who was closely followed by the citizens listed below. This list will be run each week in the Record, as it grows:

E. KEATHLEY LEAVES FOR WOODMAN HOSPITAL
Sam L. Dryden, the monument man at Abilene for whom Ernest Keathley has worked these years, sent his truck over Wednesday to get a load of Mr. Keathley's household goods. Mr. Keathley went with him Thursday and after visiting his father-in-law, J. J. Robertson, will go on to Cisco and spend the night with his father, G. W. Keathley.

Mr. Keathley will go from Cisco to the W. O. W. hospital and there remain until discharged by the physicians. Mrs. Keathley will move to Abilene about September 4, and live with her father. Their son, Sterling, will run the Alamo Hotel, which they have been operating since 1918.
Mr. and Mrs. Keathley ask that their friends who are left behind assist Sterling in his great responsibility.

Charles Pierce, Former Colorado Boy, With Bank

Charles C. Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pierce of Plainview, formerly of Colorado, has been made head of the new Trading department of the Mercantile Securities Corporation, investment division of the Mercantile Bank & Trust Co. of Dallas, according to an item in the Dallas News recently.

In carrying the announcement of the creation of the new department and the promotion of Mr. Pierce, the Dallas News printed the picture.

Charles Pierce was born in Colorado. His parents were connected with the F. M. Burns store. When they moved to Plainview several years ago, Mr. Pierce was manager of the Burns and Pierce dry goods store there.

Young Pierce graduated from the Plainview high school, went to Baylor one year and finished his business administration course at Missouri State University. He is a very capable young fellow, and the many friends of the Pierce family here will be glad to know of his promotion with the Dallas bank.

COLLEGE STATION ADVISES LEAF WORM WEAPONS

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 22—Cotton leaf worms were present in greater or less degree the first of the month as far north as Williams county, according to reports to R. R. Reppert, extension entomologist, who states that in most cases an immediate application of poison is needed. "Their further spread," he says, "will depend on natural conditions, including the occurrence of showers. It is possible that damage may be experienced as far as the Louisiana and Oklahoma borders by August 15th, and in the light of previous years' experience it is probable that infestations will occur not later than September 1st. We have an unverified report of leaf worms in the West, in Schleicher county.

Our recommendation for control is that calcium arsenate be applied, either in the dust or spray form." Mr. Leppert continues: "Dusting should be done at the rate of from three to five pounds per acre, according to the size of the cotton, and is best accomplished when the dew is on, although dusting is fully practical in the drier sections, and at midday, especially when the wind is not blowing.

"Many farmers have proved to their own satisfaction that spraying is more practical and where this is to be done the same material may be used in the proportion of two to three pounds of calcium arsenate to 50 gallons of water, keeping the mixture well agitated during application. Any spray machinery capable of breaking the liquid up into a mist will answer the purpose.

"Where calcium arsenate cannot be obtained, lead arsenate may be used in the same manner and proportions, but will be very expensive and Paris green is almost sure to prove injurious to the cotton and is not recommended as long as other materials can be obtained. Present information indicates that calcium arsenate is still available, though the stocks are low.

"Many farmers, even when poisons recommended above can be obtained, insist on making applications of stock dip or mixtures of white arsenic with oil soda, as well as other soluble arsenicals sometimes sold by insecticide companies. There is great danger of injury to cotton, even resulting sometimes in the complete ruin of the crop, by the application of these materials. They are not recommended by either the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station or the Extension Service."

HERRINGTON ON VACATION
Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Herrington and little Miss Margaret James, left on Tuesday for Coryell county, on vacation. They will spend some time in Central and South Texas, and may visit points in Louisiana and Arkansas before returning.

UNCLE FRED WHIPKEY AND WILLIS JONES RETURN FROM WEST

Willis Jones, who has been on a tour of the Pacific Coast and north-west country as official chauffeur for F. B. Whipkey, returned home last Friday night, having left Uncle Fred at Big Spring. Mr. Whipkey went on down Highway No. 9 to Georgetown and Taylor to complete his vacation. A letter from him this morning states he will visit Austin and San Antonio and will be home latter part of next week. He has been absent from Colorado over two months.

Hardison Is First To Use Trench Silo

R. M. Hardison is building a trench silo on his farm about two miles north of Colorado. It is 100 feet long, eight feet deep and eight to twelve feet wide and will hold 100 tons of silage when filled. He expects to fill it with his corn crop in about two weeks.

The silo is made by digging a long trench with sloping ends, making it easy to load out the silage. It will be covered with straw and dirt to keep out the air and in this climate the silage in this type of silo will keep indefinitely.

The chief advantages of this kind of a silo are its cheapness, and the ease with which it can be filled and unloaded. In feeding the silage a wagon is backed down one of the inclined slopes on each end, which makes feeding an easy matter.

L. LANDAU RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN TRIP

L. Landau, general manager of the West Texas Dry Goods Co., returned Sunday from an extended visit in Europe, having gone to his old home in Czechoslovakia to visit his father who still lives on the old home place which L. Landau left 30 years ago. He visited practically every section of Europe, but for the past two weeks has been in New York and Eastern markets buying new fall goods for the company's stores here and at Midland.

RUPTURE Expert Here

H. M. SHEVNER—F. H. SEELEY CO'S EXPERT OF Chicago and Philadelphia, will be at the Hilton Hotel, Abilene, Saturday and Sunday only, September 7 and 8, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Mr. Seeley says:

"The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days to nine average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—emphasizing instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain of position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions, with distinguished personal patrons of all nations." "His method has always been most satisfactory."—Late Dr. Edward Shippen, former Medical Director, U. S. Navy.

"If you want done what the rest cannot do—see Seeley."

Mr. Shevner will be glad to demonstrate without charge or risk them if desired. Business demands prevents stopping at any other place in this section.

N. B.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and State Courts.—F. H. Seeley, Home Office, 140 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. Adv-1tp

Mitchell County Hogs Top Market At Fort Worth

Mitchell county hogs shipped by members of the Shipping Association last week, topped the Fort Worth market, which was 10.80 at that time. There were 29 hogs in the shipment, and 22 brought the top price. Some heavy sows brought 8.50 and some pigs brought 7 to 9 cents.

The cattle shipped were of very poor quality, most of them being culled dairy cows. The top cow of the shipment brought seven cents while Jersey steers and calves brought 6.50. One cow which was very much out of condition brought 4.25. The owner had offered to take $15.00 for her, but she brought $27. Other cattle brought 5 and 5 1/2 cents.

Shippers reported themselves well satisfied with the shipment. Most of the stock shipped was such that there was little demand for them on the local market.

The shipping committee reports that 15 head have been listed for shipment next week. This shipment will be a straight car of cattle.

COLORADO WOMEN ATTEND REUNION

Mrs. Harry Ragan and Miss Janis Wilkes of Colorado were among those present at a reunion of the children of Mrs. Lula A. Lindsey of Rule last Sunday.

The occasion was the first gathering of the entire family in 26 years. Mrs. Ragan and Miss Wilkes, as well as Mrs. J. E. Stowe of Abilene, are nieces of Mrs. Lindsey.

MRS. BEN PLASTER HAS CONTINUOUS HOUSE PARTY

Mrs. Ben Plaster has been having a continuous house party all during August. Her mother, Mrs. Cosper, has been with her more than a month. A sister, Mrs. J. R. Beavers, whom she had not seen for 41 years, and her husband of Duncan, Ariz., are with her now.

Saturday Mrs. Cosper and Mrs. Kirk Ewing of Sweetwater, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sorrells of Garden City visited her.

Mrs. Dunn of Fort Worth, who once lived in Colorado, is with her and is enjoying the renewal of old-time friendships.

As to the quality of this feed I think there is none better. One of the largest poultry men in the United States, also of our Lone Star state, Mr. M. Johnson of Bowie and Wichita Falls, Texas, is feeding, and has fed, Cackelo Poultry Feed exclusively for the past four years. In these four years Mr. Johnson has put on feed tests with several of the largest poultry feed manufacturers in the United States and in these tests no feed has given as good results as Cackelo.

JADED LITERARY APPETITES TO BE TEMPTED BY NEW FICTION

Jaded by the long summer of reading, lovers of Mitchell county will have their literary appetites tempted anew by the assortment of new novels placed on the shelves of the Colorado public library during the past week by the librarian, Mrs. Boyd Dole.

Few of the books are latest fiction, but all of them are from the pen of well known authors. Some sixteen popular and current novels are included. Following is a list of them: "A Man Four-square," "A Texas Ranger," by William McLeod Raine; "His Second Venture," by Mrs. Baile Reynolds; "Pd Venture All for Thee," J. S. Fletcher; "The Light That Failed," Rudyard Kipling; "Singing Waters," by Elizabeth S. Payne; "Lo Michael," by Grace Livingston Hill; "Sometimes," by Olive Wadley; "The Flutes of Shanghai," by Louise Jordan Mills; "The Handsome Man," by Margaret Turnbull; "Sackcloth and Scarlet," George Gibbs.

"The Eyes of the Village," A Terhune; "Carnac's Folly," by Sir Gill Parker; "Miss Minerva's Scallywags," by Speed Sampson; "Toughly Speaking," by H. C. Wer; "Stella Dallas," by Olive Higgins Prouty; "Sale of Singapore," by Dale Line; "Ginger Ella," by Ethel Huee; "A Long Lane's Turning," by Ermine Rives; "West," by Charles Alden Selt; "Lost Ecstasy," by Mary Rob Rinehart; "The Canary Murder Case," by S. VanDine; "Gallant Lady," by Margaret V. demery; "Revenge," Joseph Warren.

BIG SPRING city development was given a boost when more than $100,000.00 was raised in four hours by nine business men to assure erection of a 14-story hotel building. The building will cost approximately $425,000.

COLORADOAN ATTENDS LONE STAR FETE IN LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

Rev. J. M. Shuford Oldest Texan At Big Picnic On Coast

Rev. J. M. Shuford of Colorado, father of Mrs. Tom Hughes, was honored as the oldest Texan at a recent monastic gathering of Texans in Los Angeles, at which 20,000 former Texans were present in Bixby park. Movie actors, cowboys, visitors, and others mingled and talked of old times "back home" in Texas. The Long Beach Press-Telegram carried several pictures of the big picnic. Rev. Shuford was shown prominently in these and one close-up of the venerable Coloradoan was given. This paper, in speaking of the celebration, said:

Indian attacks, rustlers, gun battles and cattle stampedes of a new country came in for their own yesterday when 20,000 Texans met at Bixby Park for the annual Texas picnic. Screen folk, men high in political life, dancers and cowboys were there. For many friends it marked the first meeting in decades. "Aren't you from Hidalgo county? My father was in the Alamo. Don't you remember those old revival meetings? Have you seen Jack around here? I can remember when—"

In this fashion did old pioneers traveled as far west as they went, gather yesterday in one of the best-attended picnics held in recent years at Bixby Park.

Merriam Presides
State Senator Frank Merriam was master of ceremonies and introduced Mayor Oscar Hauge, who in turn presented the address of welcome. Mayor Hauge said, "Now where do you find the spirit of friendship and fellowship as in Texas? You, however, have shown good judgment in coming to Long Beach and California."

In the absence of District Attorney Buron Pitts, the Rev. Robert Shuler thanked Mayor Hauge for the welcome. He recalled his experiences as a newly accredited minister in his first pastorate in Texas, receiving an ovation.

Ken Maynard, film actor, announced that he was a true native son of Texas, publicity to the contrary notwithstanding. "I was born in Mission, Texas, and that's in Hidalgo county."

Urging marking of landmarks and historic places in the Old West, Maynard said he proposed to keep the use of airplanes out of his westerns, presenting a true story of life in the West before civilization as it now is.

Playing the violin, the screen man accompanied Gules Allen, Victor recording artist, in a group of songs, among them the "Chisholm Trail."

Before the picnic Maynard led a mile-long parade of Texans on horses and in automobiles through the downtown section of Long Beach. The Municipal Band held a place in the procession.

Ministers Oldest Present

The Rev. J. M. Shuford, 84, was the oldest Texan at the picnic yesterday. He had been a pioneer Methodist minister and is now visiting with Mrs. Reinhardt Schumann of Cedar avenue. His closest rival for the honors was the Rev. J. H. S. S., also a former Methodist in Texas, now living in Pasadena, Cal.

CAPONS PUT PUNCH IN POULTRY PROFITS

Demand for Capons Always Exceeds Supply and Much Greater Demand Could Easily Be Created.

"How about a nice capon?" inquired the butcher in an effort to be helpful. The prospective purchaser reddened slightly and shook his head. After browsing helplessly around for an embarrassingly long time, he finally compromised on a rolled roast.

As the customer went out, the butcher's shoulders were shaking with suppressed mirth. "Damn fool," he chuckled, "Bet ten bucks that guy didn't even know what capon meant. Did'ja notice how he blushed when I suggested it?"

I had to agree with my friend the butcher that the gentleman probably did not know that a capon was and that he chose something else in a vain effort to hide his embarrassment. I knew him to be a successful business man and one who rather prided himself on his knowledge of fine foods. Nevertheless, it was plain the capon was something entirely outside his experience. I would have been willing to wager, too, that this man's case was a typical one.

That was nearly two years ago. Today, although the market is capable of absorbing far more capons than are being offered for sale, it would still be safe to say that a great many people do not know what a capon really is. Here, in short, is a virgin field with such tremendously rich possibilities that one must grasp in amazement on realizing that it is practically unworked.

I believe that poultrymen are themselves to blame for this state of affairs. Many of them refuse to practice caponizing at all and those who do so merely produce capons as a side line. For that reason, the supply has always been too small to justify any attempt at educating the general public into appreciation of the most delectable food this old earth has ever known. At least, there has been nothing better since the catering establishment on Mount Olympus ceased serving Nectar.

Of course, this condition will not last forever. Poultry raisers are not going to stand around forever doing nothing once they realize that capons will bring 5 cents a pound or more when ordinary poultry is going for little better than half that much. Sooner or later they will get tired of seeing this golden stream slipping by them and they will start raising capons in earnest. In the meantime, if all poultry men everywhere who have never before attempted raising capons will give it a fair trial, just once, there is no question but what they will be confirmed converts forever after.

Incidentally, capons make excellent foster mothers for baby chicks, that is, they can be easily taught to care for and brood a bunch of newly hatched baby chicks and do it as well or better than a hen will. A capon, being larger, will hover from twenty to thirty chicks and they can protect their chicks from hawks, etc., much better than a hen. The capon's feathers are longer, softer and more abundant than that of a hen and his wing spread considerably greater. His amiable disposition fits him admirably for the task and releases the hen for laying.

THANKS CITIZENS FOR HELP AT THE IATAN CELEBRATION

The Chamber of Commerce through the chairmen handling the Iatan road celebration expresses thanks to those who assisted in any manner with the celebration and thanks those who contributed to success of the affair.

The statement issued by the chairmen reads:

"We desire to express our appreciation to all who assisted in making the Iatan celebration successful. We desire to call special attention and express our appreciation to the Sheriff's department for the splendid way they handled the traffic; to W. B. Schley for furnishing us the lights; to M. H. Allmond for his truck for the use of speakers to stand on; to Mitchell county for hauling the water and ice out; to B. W. Scott for the use of the tank; to the Colorado Record for the exceptional liberal amount of space given to this program; also to the State newspaper correspondents and State press for the publicity given; also to each and everyone contributing anything to the entertainment or otherwise assisting.

STATE TAX RATE IS FIXED AT 68 CENTS

AUSTIN, Aug. 24.—The State tax rate today was fixed at 68 cents when the Automatic Tax Board set the school tax at 31 cents after previously having decided to levy a 30 per cent ad valorem tax for general fund purposes and a 7-cent Confederate pension tax.

The new rate is 4 cents higher than that which has been in effect during the past year.

During the past year the rate was divided as follows: Ad valorem, 22 cents; pensions, 7 cents, and schools 35 cents. Governor Moody said that the school tax today was based on the recently completed scholastic census of the State Department of Education, showing that there were 1,450,000 children of school age in Texas.

In reducing the school tax, the board brought the figure under the 35-cent constitutional limit for the first time since 1918, when the maximum for school purposes was raised from 20 cents.

Present at the session were Governor Moody, S. H. Terrell, State Comptroller, and W. Gregory Hatcher, State treasurer.

SAYS SARGON PROVED A LIFE SAVER FOR HER

"Sargon has done more for me in a few weeks than all the other medicines I took together during the ten years I suffered."

"I had awful attacks of nervous indigestion and my stomach was in such a disordered condition I could not eat a good meal. I could not even drink a glass of butter-milk without suffering. In fact, for the ten days before I started Sargon I had not swallowed one mouthful of solid food; I had lived on orange juice. I had sharp pains in my stomach and was so weak I had to give up and go to bed. My nerves just went all to pieces and I never got a good night's rest."

"Sargon has surely proved a blessing to me. I can now eat most anything I want without bad after effects. My nerves are normal, I sleep fine and never have to use a laxative any more like I did before a started taking the Sargon Soft Mass Pills. "This remarkable treatment has given me back my health and I feel like telling everybody about it."—Mrs. Lonie Nelms, 3227 Pine Street, Dallas.

Palace Showing Big Special On Thursday-Friday

A big special Metro-Goldwyn picture, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," is being shown at the Palace Theatre today and tomorrow (Thursday and Friday). The picture, said to be one of the biggest released in many months, stars Lily Damita and Ernest Torrence. Wherever the picture has been shown the crowds have been overflowing, and demands for second and third showings have been made. The Palace management has accomplished much in securing this picture to be shown here two days.

Westbrook School Opens

The hot months of summer are drawing to a close. Swimmin' time and fishin' will soon be over and we'll gather the old dinner pail and 've off to school, for it is school time again. Even while the heat of summer lingers, loath to give place to the frosts of autumn and the chill of winter, the call of the school bell is heard. Monday, Sept. 2 is the opening day of school. An opening program will be rendered, consisting of short talks by teachers and patrons, spiced up with some good music. Let everybody lay aside work for a few hours and come up and help us start things off with a "Bang!"

Preparations have been made and we should all work together to make this a year of progress in the educational program of Westbrook. So let's all get together Monday morning and give a boost to the school. Let teachers and pupils know you are behind them. If you will do this we can make this a great year in the history of the Westbrook school. The opening program will start promptly at 9 o'clock. Come, everybody.

Clintick, El Paso; Hon. R. E. Thomason, mayor of El Paso, made an address. Fred Robinson of Waco, State director of the United States Good Roads association, also made a short talk.

Judge C. H. Earnest of Colorado, long associated with good road movements, was one of the prominent speakers on the program.

A song written by H. W. Elliott of Colorado especially for the celebration was sung by a quartet composed of Dr. C. L. Root, Dr. T. J. Ratliff, Sam Smith and Sam Scott. The song was the winning one in the Iatan Flat contest conducted recently. In an old fiddlers' contest which came during the latter part of the program, Earl Harris of Sweetwater was adjudged the winner.

The closing feature of the evening's program was a street dance, held on Walnut street with the Colorado Band furnishing the music. A block of the northern business end of the street was blocked off, and throngs crowded into the section to watch the dances or participate.

Harry Ratliff was prominent in arranging this entertainment, and Frank Smith arranged the several square dance numbers.

A loud speaker was fitted up by Hughwood Smartt and music and announcements were broadcast from the Smartt store.

about the cotton crop. I said to my boy, 'Let's go and see if we can talk any reason with old man Seuddy.' We went up to him. He was in my field, which was his land. I had told him to stay off the land I had rented. When we went up to Seuddy we spoke to each other. I said we have come down to see why you keep deviling me? Why don't you let me alone and let me gather my crop like other people. He said, 'You i have no talk for you.' He grabbed up a crow bar that he was working with and undertook to hit me. My boy, J. I., grabbed the crowbar and jerked it out of his hands. He then turned and tried to hit me with both hands and arms, and I hit him a light lick on the arm with a pistol I had. He then struck at me with his arms and I shot him. I shot at him when he first struck at me, but did not hit him. I did not then aim to hit him and was only trying to bluff him off. But when he struck at me with his arms the second time I shot him and saw that I did hit him. He then got over the fence into C. N. I had secured the pistol some weeks before. After I returned home I took three of the shells out of the pistol and put them in my pocket. I gave them to some one in the jail.

"After I shot Seuddy I went home, told my folks, and then I and my boys got in the truck and went to hunt G. A. Brown, the deputy sheriff. I finally found Grover Brown and he carried me to G. A. Brown, who brought me to Colorado and placed me in jail. I also had a double-barrel shot gun at home. Both the gun and pistol were obtained by me after my trouble with Seuddy."

"I had the pistol several days. In fact, I got it soon after our trouble began."

The statement of J. I. Tinney, the son, was a different story. He said he and his father saw Seuddy going down the fence in the field and that J. S. Tinney reached under the bed and got out a pistol and said: "Let's go down and talk to the old man" (meaning Seuddy). The boy's statement says they made a circuitous route and came back up the fence to where Seuddy was, and asked him why he didn't stay out of the field. The boy's statement also says Seuddy attacked his daddy with a crowbar and a fence post.

GERMAN ZEP GOES NORTH FROM WINK MISSING COLORADO

Sudden Change in Plans Puts Ship Via Lubbock To St. Louis

While hundreds of Colorado and other West Texas citizens last night were straining their eyes, ears and necks skyward in the hope of glimpsing the German Graf Zeppelin, en route from Los Angeles to Lakehurst, N. J., on the last lap of its round-the-world cruise, the monarch of the skies was peacefully sailing over the North Texas Panhandle and on into Oklahoma.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, skipper of the air giant, after announcing that he planned to follow the Texas and Pacific railroad from El Paso to Fort Worth, then turn north toward his destination, suddenly changed his plans when the ship reached Wink, headed the craft north, and at 11:55 the Graf was sighted over Levelland, Hockley county, 30 miles west of Lubbock, headed in a northeasterly direction.

It was presumed that the craft was being sent on a most direct route toward St. Louis and Cleveland, where today the Zep and Uncle Sam's own dirigible, the Los Angeles, are scheduled to appear as a part of the national air races.

Reports here were that the ship passed over Wink easterly, then in a few minutes reappeared, turned north and sailed away almost due north.

NEW ANAESTHETIC MAY REVOLUTIONIZE SURGERY

ABILENE, Texas, Aug. 29.—Sodium amylal, newest of anaesthetics, is having its Texas premiere in Abilene.

This new sleep-producing compound whose pharmaceutical identification is sodium-iso-amyl-ethyl-barbiturate, after three years of experimentation in key hospitals of the United States, soon will be ready for surgeons everywhere, it is indicated by the manufacturers, Eli Lilly & Company of Indianapolis, Ind. Although not yet on the market, several hundred operations have been performed with it as the anaesthetic agent—and the results are said to be revolutionary.

The Abilene State Hospital is the only institution in Texas invited to join in the experiment, and the chief surgeon of that institution, Dr. Grady Shytle, with T. E. Bass, superintendent, and Dr. Gill, the assistant, are enthusiastic about it.

Wednesday Dr. Shytle, with Drs. Erle B. Sellers and L. J. Pickard, used sodium amylal in an operation performed upon one of the adult male inmates at the State hospital—a hernia case. The patient was reclining on a cot in ward 10, evidently in great pain. The anaesthetic was administered in the right arm, in hypodermic form, the injection entering the bloodstream—and in two minutes the patient was sound asleep. He was removed on a cot to the institution's operating room, the operation requiring 20 minutes. Less than forty-five minutes after the injection he was back in the ward, sleeping naturally, and at 5 o'clock he "came out" without any bad effects. The surgeons say the results were most gratifying, and there is no doubt that the new anaesthetic will become adopted the world over.

COLORADOANS ATTEND ODD FELLOWS MEETING

A number of Colorado Odd Fellows and Rebekahs attended a meeting of the Mitchell-Nolan Odd Fellows association in Sweetwater Tuesday evening.

The meeting was an open one, and an interesting program was had. Refreshments were served after the program.

Those attending from Colorado were J. M. Beauchamp, J. G. Grissom, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Doss, Sr., and John R. Baze.

A. & M. Crop Specialist To Be Here Monday

E. A. Miller, crop specialist of A. & M. College Extension service, will be here Monday, September 2, for the purpose of visiting pure line grain sorghum demonstrations and assist farmers in making seed selections for next year.

All persons interested in grain sorghum problems are invited to meet at the court house at 8 a. m., Monday, to go with Mr. Miller and the county agent to visit the demonstrations.

Plans are being made to visit the following farms: J. F. Bodine, J. T. Draper, Emmett Blessingame, E. B. Hale, C. H. Thomas, W. T. Brooks, all of whom are growing pure line grain sorghum seed.

DE GARMO MADE OIL REPRESENTATIVE HERE

(From Midland Reporter) Hall DeGarmo, formerly field manager of the Midland Municipal Airport, has been appointed West Texas representative of the Kendall Refining Company of Redford, Pa.

DeGarmo, here the latter part of last week, explained that a warehouse is to be erected at Sweetwater for his company's products, but that his headquarters will be in Colorado. DeGarmo was field manager of the Sloan Field until he moved to Colorado to take charge of his garage business. DeGarmo points with pride to the fact that the Midland Municipal Airport was the only field in Texas to make expenses and show a profit during the first year of its establishment.

STERLING CITY MOVING SIGN MEN PAY FOR MOVING SIGN

J. H. Greene, C. M. Adams, and Joe Sheppard, composing a committee from the chamber of commerce charged with the duty of moving the Colorado sign at the intersection of the Colorado-Sterling road with highway No. 9, three miles north of Sterling, report that the business men of Sterling City volunteered to have the sign moved and paid for the work.

The sign was placed on highway No. 9 just west of the Colorado road. This was a very commendable piece of work and Colorado extends thanks to the Sterling City citizens.

Recently the Sterling county commissioners agreed to improve the road intersection at this place and pledged themselves to round the corner at that place so the Colorado road would be visible on highway No. 9 for several hundred feet. This will be a great convenience to traffic and doubtless will stimulate travel on the Colorado-Sterling road. Heretofore the road could not be seen until the traveler arrived even with the turn.

THE "YEAR WITHOUT A SUMMER"—1816

Known as the "year without a summer," 1816 was, throughout the United States and Europe, the coldest ever experienced by any person then living. There are persons in Northern New York who have been in the habit of keeping diaries for years, and it is from the pages of an old diary begun in 1810 and kept unbroken until 1840 that the following information regarding this year without a summer has been taken, says the Danbury (Conn.) News.

January was so mild that most persons let their fires go out and did not burn wood except for cooking. There were few cold days, but they were very few. Most of the time the air was warm and springlike and February was not cold. Some days were colder than in January, but the weather was about the same.

March from the first to the sixth was inclined to be windy. It came in like a small lion and went out like a very innocent lamb.

April came in warm but as the days grew longer the air became colder and by the first of May there was a temperature like that of winter with plenty of snow and ice. In May the young buds were frozen dead, ice formed half an inch thick on ponds and rivers, corn was planted again and again until it became too late to raise a crop. By the last of May in this climate the trees were usually in leaf and birds and flowers were plentiful. When the last of May arrived in 1816 everything had just been killed by the cold.

June was the coldest month of roses ever experienced in this latitude. Frost and ice were as common as buttercups usually are. Almost every green thing was killed and all fruit was destroyed. Snow fell 10 inches deep in Vermont. There was a seven-inch fall in the interior of New York, and the same in Massachusetts. There were only a few moderately warm days. Everybody looked, longed and waited for warm weather, but warm weather did not come.

It was also dry, with very little rainfall. All summer long the wind blew steadily from the north in blasts laden with snow and ice. Mothers knit stockings of double thickness and mittens for their children. Planting and sowing were done together and the farmers who worked out their taxes on the country roads wore overcoats and mittens.

On June 17 there was a heavy fall of snow. A Vermont farmer sent a flock of sheep to pasture on June 16. The morning of June 17 dawned with the thermometer below the freezing point. About nine o'clock in the morning the owner of the sheep went to look for his flock. Before leaving the house he turned to his wife and jokingly said, "Better start the neighbors soon. It's the middle of June and I may get lost in the snow." An hour after he left a terrific snow storm came up. The snow fell thick and fast and as there was so much wind the fleecy masses piled up. Night came on and the farmer had not been heard of.

He became frightened and alarmed the neighborhood. All the neighbors joined in the searching party. On the third day they found him. He was lying in a hollow on the side of a hill with both feet frozen. He was half covered with snow but alive. Most of the sheep were alive.

A farmer near Towlsbury, Va., owned a large field of corn. He built fires. Nearly every night he and his men too returns in keeping up the fire and watching that the corn did not freeze. The farmer was rewarded for his labors by having the only crop of corn in the region.

July came in with snow and ice. On the fourth of July ice as thick as window glass formed throughout New England, New York, and some parts of Pennsylvania. Indian corn, which in some parts of the East struggled through May and June gave up, froze and died.

To the surprise of everyone, August was the worst month of all. Almost everything in this country and Europe was blasted with frost. Newspapers received from England in 1816 stated that the year would be remembered by the existing generations as the year without summer. Very little corn ripened in New England. There was great privation and thousands of persons would have perished in this country had it not been for the abundance of fish and wild game.

SIMMONS BAND TO OFFER ATTRACTIONS THIS YEAR

ABILENE, Aug. 28.—As another step in fulfilling its purpose to bring the world's greatest entertainers to West Texas, the Cowboy Band of Simmons University has scheduled four major attractions for the coming season. These are: Ignace Jan Paderewski, Will Rogers, the United States Army Band, and the Mexican Tipica Orchestra.

The famous army band, official band of General John J. Pershing and founded by him during the World War, will make its first visit to West Texas on November 2. The picturesque Mexican orchestra, official musical organization of the late President Obregon, is slated for some time in October.

Paderewski, world's most famous pianist, will make his appearance in Abilene on February 4, while internationally known humorist, Will Rogers, will speak here in the Spring.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

BALLINGER is making plans for the entertainment of the Heart of Texas Press Association on September 9. The program will include a luncheon, an automobile ride, golf tournament, and a special program of Ballinger talent. An attendance of 150 editors, publishers, reporters, supply men and others is expected.

CHILDRESS' largest hatchery, the Scott & Welling, has increased its capacity from 32,000 chicks to 100,000, and a building is being prepared with facilities for hatching from five to ten thousand chicks at a time. Two or three men will be employed in the plant the year round.

SPUR has changed the position of its White Way. The light posts until recently were in the center of the street, but are now shedding their light from the curb. This expensive move was found necessary because the posts were a hindrance to traffic.

MATAGORDA, one of the oldest towns in Texas, recently celebrated the introduction of electric lights after existing as a town 101 years without that convenience. The Central Light and Power Co. is supplying the electricity.

POST has taken the first step towards the securing of a modern airport. The name of the town has been painted in a prominent place in box-car letters and a committee of investigation of West Texas airports appointed.

LITTLEFIELD postal receipts for the year ending June 30, 1928, totaled $9,939.16; for the year ending June 30, 1929, the total was $11,958.45, and the increase in business amounting to $2,019.29 for the past 12 months.

TOLIA Chamber of Commerce sponsored a move to help finance the building of a band stand recently. The band played for the audience, and a large number of prizes were given at the "Country Store." All ladies present received free of charge a piece of silverware at the entertainment.

LUBBOCK'S Hilton Hotel is a $1,400,000 and is now up six stories. A five story addition to Hotel Lubbock, totaling $222,050 comes next in line. Work on this hotel is almost complete and the addition is expected to be completed during October.

SAN ANGELO building permits for the year have already exceeded $2 million and a half dollars. The Western Reserve Life Insurance building for $185,000, the new Texas Theatre for $135,000, the Baker-Hemphill building for $121,000 and other buildings of like kind for similar prices are nearing completion.

AMARILLO farmer, J. R. Durrett, uses an unique method to make his more than 5000-acre farm pay. Renters are allowed to keep cows, hogs, and chickens during the slack months for an income and are relieved of their care during harvest time on a profit-sharing plan.

DECATUR Baptist College, the property of the Baptists of the State is under the supervision of the Baptist General Convention, a Junior college, correlated with Baylor University, and affiliated with the State Department of Education. It is the oldest junior college west of the Mississippi river.

SEYMOUR'S growth and development over the last half century will be chronicled in the Half-Century Anniversary number put out by O. C. Harrison, editor of the Baylor County Banner this month. Prosperous business concerns, permanent homes, progressive citizens and plenty of modern improvements are Seymour's.

MARFA is coming to the front as a western town with a western outlook on life. Sixty thousand dollars worth of paving a white way, $35,000 telephone system, her Highland Fair, grazing land, building program, marble quarry, quick silver mine, and other enterprises are getting her headlines in the daily papers.

McLEAN'S $65,000 fire truck is now installed and ready for any emergency. The truck is of the pumper type and has a maximum capacity of 5000 gallons of water per minute delivered through the hose nozzle. It is powered by a heavy-duty six-cylinder engine capable of making 45 miles per hour on runs.

HEREFORD has 100 blocks of paved streets, a fine court house built of Georgia marble, a modern $300,000 city hall, the very best of fire fighting equipment, $200,000 worth of churches, a population of 9000, natural gas, modern telephone system, and a fine water system.

ABERNATHY is the home of Elton Beene, the youngest cornet champion in the United States. The boy is 12 years old and has played the cornet half his life. He is the son of C. W. Beene, band master at Abernathy.

W. E. TURNER OPENS GROCERY AT WESTBROOK

W. E. Turner, who formerly operated a filling station at Knott, Scurry county, has established a camp ground and grocery store at Westbrook, known as the Rainbow Cash Grocery and Tourist Camp. The camp is located on the highway east of the main street of Westbrook.

PAVING OF IATAN FLAT BRINGS FORTH PRAISES IN SONG AND POEM FROM MITCHELL FOLKS

Poets and songsters of Mitchell county burst forth into song in their respective styles when the pavement of Iatan Flat was completed.

To H. W. Elliott of South Colorado went the prize for writing the prize song, and this number was sung at the celebration at Iatan Monday evening.

It's fixed, it's fixed, the Iatan Valley is fixed— Our boasting is no sham.

On Bankhead Highway, Iatan Flat Is known from oshore to shore.

In Colorado you will see A welcome hanging out: We know this town to be the best

Then on your way rejoicing go, And hurry back again; The Iatan Flat is always good.

But before you go we all will give Three cheers for Iatan Flat!

Mrs. J. E. McCleary, "poet laureate" of Colorado, wrote the prize-winning poem, which reads thus:

A Miracle Wrought in Iatan Flat From beginning of time to a less distant day.

When folk went a-traveling in a one-hoss shay, Or rode a burro, a wild broncho, or steed

With a shout of "giddap" and a crack of the whip, When they held to their seats with a death-like grip:

An oath—then a chuckle—a vow and all that To never again tackle the Iatan Flat.

The time of the cart, burro, broncho and shay, Has passed for the things of a more recent day.

In their stead came the wonder—the automobile, No swifter vehicle had ever turned wheel.

Was it true? Alack and woe, that flat the car led to pass.

To be met with a slip—a skid—and a spin, The chauffeur, a ranchman with a gallon hat,

Alike have the tourist, the salesman and cop Been forced in their travels to make a long stop.

Such woeful experiences are now quite passe, And all those who travel try to make it that way.

In a road bond issue the opposers got—well— It carried, all right, we will vouch for that,

A long lap of paving, yes, many the mile, Is enough to make even the pessimist smile.

A ribbon-like road that is stronger than steel Is now a joy to the big automobile.

A moral is found in a story like this: It is possible to change all misery to bliss.

If you carry a vision and iron-clad will, And not be content in the mire standing still.

Should you be a doubter, just remember that A miracle happened in Iatan Flat.

Thirty Loraine farmers and poultrymen made a tour of the poultry flocks of the eastern part of the county with Miss Abbie Sevier, home demonstration agent, and W. S. Foster, county agent, Tuesday morning.

As was the case with the poultry tour last week, all farms visited were using commercial mash feeds to balance home-grown grains.

Good Roads Enthusiast Says 'Burial' Of Iatan Flats One Greatest Events In History

Fred B. Robinson of Waco, traveling director of the Bankhead Highway association, who was here Monday for the Iatan Flats paving celebration, says this was one of the greatest events in the history of Mitchell county.

"I deem it a great honor to be present on this auspicious occasion, as Traveling Director of the Bankhead Highway (without salary) and the personal representative of Director General J. A. Rountree of Birmingham, Alabama, who authorizes me to extend his greetings.

"Iatan Flats has long been a thorn in the side of the thousands of travelers who pass this way daily, and now that the thorn has been removed forever, it is a matter for general congratulation.

"You good people of West Texas need to be alive to the importance of the Bankhead Highway, lest an effort be made to divert the route from Oklahoma City to El Paso, in the event the Bankhead is adopted as a military highway, and while assurance was given at the last National Convention that same would not be attempted, still, the action of one convention does not bind the next.

"The selection of Hon. Jewell P. Lightfoot as president of the Bankhead was a happy solution toward insuring retaining the route through Texas. This advantage should be maintained, and it is up to you to do so.

"I will test your patience to add, I was here in Mitchell county in 1918, when you first started the good roads movement, voted a bond issue, I believed for $40,000, which was supplemented by $40,000 State and Federal aid (or maybe it was more), and built a gravel road partly across the county.

"Still, times progress, and the gravel roads gave out, when after voting bonds down four times, you finally made the grade, and now are getting concrete roads, which, when entirely completed, will settle your road troubles forever.

"I am a great advocate of concrete as the best and cheapest road in the long run, and think the State should commandeer one of the greatest cement plants in Texas and build its own highways, using convict labor as much as possible.

"I quote the following lines entitled, "What Old Caesar Did," by some writer whose name was lost, perhaps in a detour common in the old days as now, though I never object to such detours when work is pushed as in the case of Iatan Flats:

And grabbed the Gauls for Rome, What was the first thing that he did To make them feel at home?

Did he increase the people's load, And liberty forbid? No; he dug in and built good roads— That's what old Caesar did!

"He built good roads from hill to hill Good roads from vale to vale; Till Rome got all the kale;

"If any town would make itself The center of the map, Where folks will come and settle down

And live in Plenty's lap; If any town its own abodes Of poverty would rid, Let it go out and build good roads— That's what old Caesar did!"

"Those are the kind of roads we need in Texas.

"I live in McLennan county, adjoining Hill county, which latter county was formerly spelled with an "e" instead of an "i" on account of its bad roads. I am rejoiced, however, that you now have the last four letters out of Mitchell county, or rather the hyphen is taken out of Mite-hell. I thank you."

CHAIRMAN OF FARM BOARD WILL EAT IN KITCHEN, HE SAYS

W. W. Porter, manager of Mitchell County Farm Bureau, calls to our attention a news dispatch in Wednesday's papers wherein Alexander Legge, chairman of President Hoover's farm board, is quoted as saying that so far as social functions are concerned he's "out." The news dispatch from Chicago says:

"Alexander Legge was loath today to become excited over his status in Washington society.

"The chairman of President Hoover's new farm board displayed interest over reports that Washington hostesses were at a loss how to classify him socially. As Mr. Legge saw it, the question was whether he rated near the head of the table or the foot. To solve the problem, he suggested that he eat in the kitchen.

"Got this right," said the man who resigned a $100,000 a year job with the International Harvester Company to help the administration with the farm question, "When it comes to society, I'm a dud."

"He explained his social status became a matter of concern shortly after he went to Washington. Hostesses and their stenographers began telephoning, inquiring of his stenographer into the Legge family history and his Chicago social connections.

"I told my stenographer that I'd handle all future inquiries of that nature myself," Legge said. "Soon I got a call from one of them. I said to him: 'My first claim to any prominence was robbing Wells-Fargo stage coaches. When that went out I took up train robbery, rustling horses between, as a member of Doc Middleton's gang of horse thieves. Since I've been in Chicago I signed with Al Capone, and you can just put me down whatever that rates me.'"

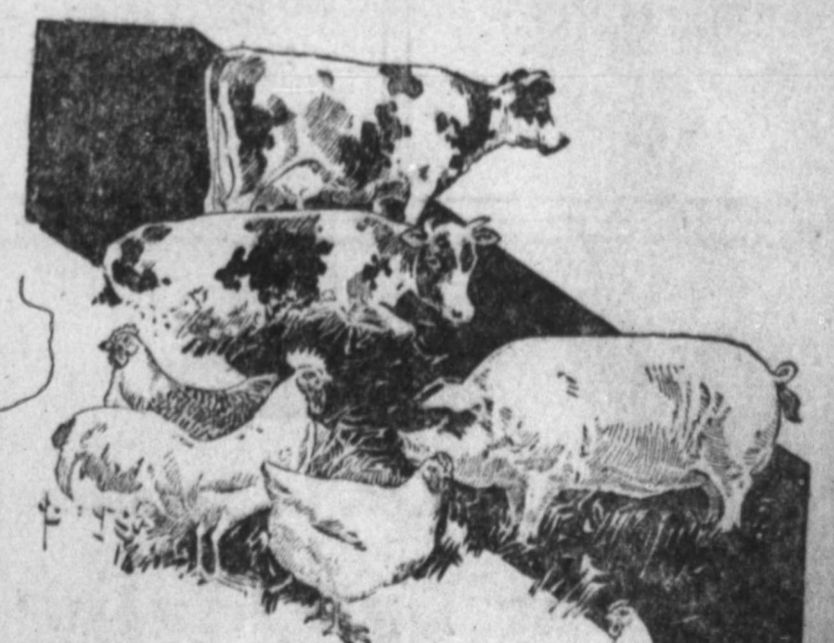

"The fello whung up before I finished. 'We respectfully ask that we be given places in the kitchen, with the rest of the help, and if that interferes with the culinary business, we want to wait for the second table. We don't belong in any high crowds, and we want to be just farmers. It don't seem to us that social functions can ever help the farmer in any way, so I guess they'd just better count us out.'"

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1929

DR. ROOT IS ACCLAIMED MOST USEFUL CITIZEN OF COLORADO FOR YEAR

Certificate Awarded Friday Night At Gathering In Ruddick Park

A man whose education did not literally begin until he was 21 years old was awarded a certificate as the most useful citizen in Colorado during the past year Friday night as a result of the contest sponsored here by the Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion.

The certificate went to Dr. C. L. Root, prominent physician and surgeon, owner of the C. L. Root hospital, and civic worker. A large crowd of Colorado citizens gathered around the band shell at Ruddick Park for the program attached to the presentation of the certificate.

Music was furnished by the Colorado Municipal band, directed by Sam Goldman, in the absence of the usual director, Roy Hester, Goldman formerly directed the band here and is a Legionnaire. He gave several of his famous cornet solos, being encored again and again.

Joe Y. Fraser addressed the gathering, and in his talk explained the meaning of the award, which was offered this year for the first time and will hereafter be an annual affair. Judge C. C. Thompson talked on "Service as the Means of Citizenship," and Thos. R. Smith presented the certificate to Dr. Root. In response Dr. Root made a talk which has been widely praised.

The term "self-made man" has been used so often as to become almost meaningless, yet that is the phrase which most people have come to apply to the success attained by Dr. Root, who has attained many goals while still in the early prime of his service; despite the fact that his start in life came so late that his very tardiness would have turned a less courageous man back at the outset.

The fact that he literally began his education at the age of 21, at which time he could not read a newspaper, and that he was able, at the end of 8 years to read the New Testament in Greek is one which Dr. Root discusses with the greatest reluctance; yet the fact that he worked his way in so short a time to such an educational accomplishment is one of which persons would ordinarily boast.

Dr. Root spent his boyhood on a farm near Austin, Texas. Some 37 years ago he came to West Texas, and 17 of those years he has spent in Colorado. He received his education in Liberty Normal and Business College in Liberty Hill, Texas, and at Southwestern University. For a few years before he began his medical education, he taught school, being head of the Sterling City schools one year, and later teaching in Miles. He graduated in medicine at the Atlanta College of Physicians and Surgeons, Atlanta, Georgia.

MOST-USEFUL IN COLORADO

A diploma was later given him from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and since then he has received certificates for post-graduate work done in Johns Hopkins and other centers of study.

He began practice in his home town, Florence, Williamson county, Texas. For three and one-half years he practiced in Westbrook, and since then he has practiced in Colorado. He has worked himself into the position of being one of the best-known surgeons in this section, and owner of the largest privately-owned hospital in this section also.

Since the beginning of his hospital work in Colorado some fifteen years ago, the records show that Dr. Root has done over 4000 major operations with less than 1 per cent mortality, according to Mrs. Nell Scott, superintendent of the C. L. Root Hospital. Over fifty operations have been done this month.

Besides his work in his chosen profession, Dr. Root is a member of the city council and an active church worker. He has also been actively interested in school work, often delivering health lectures free of charge to classes in the schools.

J. Brown Will Build Station Near Loraine

John Brown, local Texas Company agent, has purchased a five-acre tract of land on the north side of the Bankhead highway, just east of Loraine, from J. W. Walker, and will erect a modern cobblestone filling station, work to begin at once. The station will handle Texaco products.

ACCEPTANCE SPEECH BY DR. ROOT IS PRAISED

The short speech with which Dr. C. L. Root accepted the certificate awarded him as most useful citizen in Colorado last Friday night in Ruddick Park by the American Legion has been favorably commented on by many, and is therefore reprinted below:

"Members of the Oran C. Hooker Post of the American Legion, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Why should this not be the proudest moment of my existence? And yet I stand here a beggar at the footstool of language for words to express my feelings upon this occasion. I know no speech adequate to show forth the deep sense of appreciation I have for the members of this American Legion post for the preference and honor they have this evening conferred upon me.

"To serve humanity is to live a life worth while. And this should be the supreme aim, prime objective and ruling ambition of every man and woman who breathes God's free atmosphere.

"If there is an organization in America more capable than any other organization of recognizing, judging and appreciating their fellowman's worth and service to his community it certainly is that organization called the American Legion. For when the peace, prosperity and happiness of our fair land were in jeopardy it were they who placed their fortunes, their lives, their all upon the sacred altar of our country, and in order to best serve for the perpetuation of our institutions and the preservation of our political union, served Hell to the Germans.

"This award being presented to me by so worthy an organization as the American Legion, I shall ever prize as the very highest award to my ambition.

"This certificate shall be framed and given the first place of display on the walls of my office lobby. It shall be carefully preserved from the ravages of time, often pointed to with pride, serving as an inspiration to nobler things during all my active years and as a consolation in old age. And, finally, when the working tools of life shall have dropped from my hands forever and my disfranchised spirit shall descend to the hands of my children, a hallowed legacy to be prized higher by them than any commercial values I might possibly bequeath them.

"I thank you!"

OPENING OF COLORADO SCHOOL OF MUSIC IS ANNOUNCED THIS WEEK

Work of Meskimen Pupils To Be Given Credit In Colleges

Announcement of a Colorado School of Piano which will offer Colorado children an opportunity to obtain accredited work in piano is made this week by Mrs. Cecil C. Meskimen, piano teacher and former head of the piano department of Montezuma College, Montezuma, New Mexico.

The Colorado School of Piano, according to Mrs. Meskimen, will offer a course outlining to cover nine full years' work in piano. This is a standardized course as offered by the outstanding music schools of Southwest. It is divided into two departments—the Junior, and College. The Junior school covers the first four years' work. After completing this, the pupil is promoted to the College department. After creditably completing all required work and giving a Graduation recital, the pupil will be a graduate of the school. Only one more year's work will be required in piano to complete his or her work in any standard musical school.

Mrs. Meskimen has received the following note of recognition from Irl Allison, head of the piano department of Simmons University:

"Simmons University School of Piano accepts hour for hour all work done by any pupil of Mrs. Meskimen previous to the Senior year."

Auxiliary Of Baptist Assn. Holds Meeting

An executive meeting of the Auxiliary to the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist association was held at the home of the president, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, last Friday afternoon.

The purpose of the meeting was to make out the program for the W. M. U. day at the association, which meets at Union on September 3rd, and to complete reports of the year's work for this meeting. There were representatives from Dunn, China Grove, Loraine, Westbrook, Snyder and Colorado.

After the business session, Mrs. Phenix, the corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Whipkey served little cakes, sandwiches and iced tea.

Faculty Members Make Ready For School Opening

Preparations are going forward for the opening of Colorado public schools on September 9th, according to Supt. Ben S. Peck, and prominent members of the faculty are already arriving on the scene to attend the necessary details before the opening date.

Hayes Holman of Commerce, who is to be principal of the Junior high school this year, arrived this week and is giving his attention to getting things in readiness in his department. Doyle Williams, vocational agriculture teacher, has been on the job for some time, making an agricultural study of the county and getting acquainted. Both these men are new members of the faculty.

WESTERN DRY CLEANERS SHOP CHANGES HANDS

Purchase of the Western Dry Cleaners establishment from S. T. Dozier by Joe Farr and Bowman Gentry is announced this week. The business will continue to be operated under the same name.

Joe Farr has been connected with the W. L. Doss drug store for some time, while Gentry has been with a tailor shop at Pecos for some time. The new owners are making a special offering this week of cleaning and pressing suits for one dollar on Friday and Saturday.

LIVESTOCK SHIPPING ASSOCIATION MEETS SATURDAY AFTERNOON

A meeting of the Mitchell County Cooperative Livestock Shipping Association has been called for Saturday, August 31, by C. C. Thompson, president of the association. The meeting will be held in the county court room at 3 p. m. All persons interested in the shipping association—whether members or not—are invited to attend the meeting.

A report of the first shipment will be made and plans for shipping a second car will be discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Plaster, Mrs. Plaster's sister from Temple, Mrs. Bill Dorn, Fayrel and Marjery Plaster, left Friday for a trip to Carlsbad Cavern. Mrs. Marcel Josephson of San Antonio, formerly Miss Lena Bernau, is visiting in Colorado. With her is her sister-in-law, Miss Pearl Josephson.

NEIGHBORS SCORE NOLAN COUNTY FOR ROAD EPISODE

In speaking of the Sweetwater road episode, wherein Sweetwater citizens closed the Bankhead highway two days for the airport opening August 11 and 12, neighboring newspapers have scored the town.
The Rgan Advance says:
"We think Sweetwater was justified in this. You must remember there are usually extenuating circumstances in a case of this kind. In the present case the needs evidently justified the means. Sweetwater needed the money, and needing the money is what started this hi-jacking business in the first place."
The Sterling City News-Record says:
"From the Record's protest one is led to conclude that it was an authorized hold-up by the town of Sweetwater in order to get money out of the public to pay for the big blow-out. If a private citizen of Sweetwater were to go out on the Bankhead and demand 50 cents from each passerby, or else go jump in the tank, they would string him as a hi-jacker, but it would seem O. K. if the town were to authorize such a thing. We hope that the report was a mistake and that there was nothing to the story, but if it is true, we shall refer to Sweetwater in the future as Hijax."

Hyman Happenings

Mr. Harry Hyman bought a well drilling outfit and is drilling a well on Section 48. He plans to drill about six wells. This will be a great help to the community.
Rev. Horace Welch, the Baptist pastor, is holding a meeting this week. He intends to preach about ten days. Let us all make an effort to attend.
Mr. and Mrs. Booth Smallwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Smallwood spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Smallwood.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lowry and family, who have been visiting in DeLeon for the past two weeks, returned Monday.
The Home Demonstration club met at Mrs. Harry Hyman's last Friday. There were six members and one visitor present.
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woodard and family, who have been visiting in Oklahoma, returned Saturday.

SWEETWATER IS STILL SEEKING NEW POSTOFFICE

Sweetwater will continue her battle, of many years' duration, with the powers that be in Washington for a new federal building to take the place of the so-called "hot dog stand" postoffice here, when representatives of the Board of City Development go to the capitol next month to confer with post office department officials. — Sweetwater News.

REFUNDING AIRPORT OPENING DONATIONS

Sweetwater business men who underwrote expenses of staging the opening celebration of the municipal airport will be repaid 100 per cent as the result of action taken by the Board of City Development, in its session this week. The board voted to pay from its own funds the deficit of approximately $400 in order that underwriters of the expenses might be repaid in full.
Total expenses incidental to the port opening program amounted to approximately $3,150, officials reported, with receipts, including admissions and concessions, amounting to $2,750.
Attendance at the opening exceeded all expectations, and income from all sources came within about $400 of paying all expenses, including about $1,500 in prizes to fliers, a big advertising program, and entertainment of visitors.
Business men who contributed various amounts toward staging the celebration have been, or shortly will be, given checks covering the sums they donated. — Sweetwater News.

OSARK CITIZEN HERE

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Tolleson and daughter of Harrison, Arkansas, were in Colorado this week for a visit with Dick Gray and family. They have spent some time in Texas as a diversion for the summer. "This is a fine little city and everything looks good out here, except it is a little dry," Mr. Tolleson said. "But the Ozarks are the place to spend the summer," he remarked as he left our office.

WEAK SPELLS

"I WAS so weak," says Mrs. Josephine Cockcroft, of Baldock, S. C., "that I was not able to do anything."
"At certain times, I suffered dreadfully with pains in my back and sides. My head would hurt—felt like it would split open. Spells of weakness would last for weeks."
"I read of Cardui. I sent for a bottle and began taking it. My case was stubborn, and at times I almost lost hope, but I could see a little improvement. At last I began to feel much better. Then I improved rapidly. For the last year I have been in better health than I ever have been before."
"I give the credit to Cardui, for after I had given it a thorough trial, I got well."

JULY LIFE INSURANCE INCREASED OVER JUNE

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 28.—Investments of the Texas Life Insurance Companies for July showed a slight increase over those for June. Definite easing of money conditions, especially among farmers was noted, policy loans occupying 54 per cent of the total in July as compared with 62 per cent in June. Examination of the statistics indicated that most of this decrease was experienced in the latter part of July with the start of cotton picking.

Bonds and stocks total 5 per cent of the investments for July and real estate loans 41 per cent.
Building operations in North and West Texas went hand in hand. North Texas taking up 42 per cent of the total and West Texas 37 per cent. South Texas being third with 17 per cent. One out-of-State loan was made for $10,000.00, 4 per cent of the entire total.
In general the report indicated a much easier tone in financial conditions.

THE YARD THAT SERVICE IS BUILDING

ABILENE, Texas, Aug. 29.—Liberal praise is being given the Winter Garden Follies, the musical show which is to play in front of the grandstand at the West Texas Fair in this city each evening during the week of September 23-28, by newspapers and fair executives in North and South Dakota and Iowa.
The show started its tour for the current season in North Dakota about 30 days ago and is coming south, making stands at the larger fairs enroute and apparently is giving the patrons of those exhibitions much satisfaction.
At some of the fairs this revue has played, high admission prices have been charged, but that hasn't seemed to keep the people from going to see it. At Burlington, Iowa, on the opening night of the Tri-State Fair, over 5,000 people were in the grandstand for the presentation of the show, and according to the Burlington Hawk-Eye, the crowd on the second night was much larger.
When the Winter Garden Follies comes to Abilene, it will be presented free of admission charge to patrons of the fair. The show has been bought outright for the week by the association, and after a person pays the general fair admission at the main gate, no other charge will be made for the grandstand show.

E. B. HALE GETS HEAVY GAIN FEEDING PIGS GROUND MAIZE

E. B. Hale of Valley View started feeding his hogs for winter meat on July 15, at which time the pigs were two months old and weighed 35 to 39 pounds. They are being fed on a self-feeder, using tankage and ground threshed maize. After they had been on the balanced ration for 30 days, the pig that weighed 36 pounds at the start weighed 84 pounds, gaining over 1 1/2 pounds per day.
Mr. Hale says it isn't necessary to feed meat hogs twelve months any more, for with proper methods of feeding they will be ready to kill in six or seven months.

BARBARA WAY HOME FROM COLUMBIA U.

Miss Barbara Way, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Way, returned Saturday from New York, where she attended the summer session of Columbia University.

Present plans of Miss Way are to teach in Sonora, where she taught last year. She formerly attended Texas University.

Miss Caroline Chambers of Abilene visited her sister, Mrs. R. H. Looney, last week.

'TWO-ROW-SKIP-ONE' METHOD FOUND BETTER

"Two-row-skip-one" maize with every third row planted in peas made sixty-one pounds more maize per acre than where every row was planted, in a demonstration completed last week by W. J. Manly of Lorraine. The maize planted solid made 1102 pounds per acre while the skip-row maize made 1163 pounds per acre. The heads were heavier and of better quality on the skip row maize. But hybrids were planted at the same time and cared for in the same manner.

The chief advantage of this method of planting, Mr. Manly says, is that it makes a little more maize and turning under the peas keeps up soil fertility.

ORIGIN OF 4-H CLUB EMBLEM EXPLAINED

Those interested in 4-H Club work in Mitchell county will be interested in this explanation of how demonstration clubs came to bear the name "4-H":

The good luck clover-leaf emblem worn by 4-H Club members everywhere was originated by O. H. Benson, then in charge of club work in Iowa. Now he is in charge of rural scouting for the Boy Scouts of America.

Here is the story of the origin of the club emblem, first used in Iowa when club work was carried on in connection with school work:

"While driving through the county on school supervision work in June, 1906," Mr. Benson said in telling the story, "I came to a country school during the morning recess period. I found the school teacher and her group sitting in a clover field hunting for 4-leaf clovers. As I approached them both teacher and pupils started out to meet me, bearing with them their good luck emblems. The teacher turned to the children and said: 'We have found our good luck clovers. What do you say to let's give our county superintendent a bouquet for good luck?'"

"With this invitation, they all surrounded their 4-leaf clovers and placed in my hands seven perfect ones."

"Just before closing the half-day session for the noon-day period, the teacher asked me if I did not have a message for the school."

"In this little speech I outlined for the first time the 4-H emblem and its good luck story. I told them I had been looking for an emblem for the agricultural clubs and the schools of the county and that they had given it to me. So out of the hearts, hands, and needs of these farm children was born the magnificent 4-H emblem which bears, so effectively, for old and young, the message of a 4-square education."

In February, 1910, Mr. Benson became leader of boys' and girls' club work in the United States department of agriculture and assisted the famous Dr. Seaman A. Knapp in initiating club work in Southern states.

At a meeting of county and State club leaders, from a few of Southern states, at Washington, D. C., a committee was appointed to design and recommend a suitable emblem or insignia and medal for boys and girls club work. The Wright County, Ia., 4-H club emblem and its explanation was submitted to the committee for consideration with the result that this first group of government, state and county leaders adopted the four-leaf clover as the insignia for this remarkable piece of work known as the 4-H Club work.

ROSCOE SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 7

The next session of the Roscoe public schools will open on Saturday, September 7. Enrollment of pupils will take place Saturday morning, the afternoon being filled with issuing of books and the beginning of classes. Regular class work will begin on the following Monday morning. It is very important that all pupils register on the first day and begin work with the regular school.

Prospects for a successful school year are good. Plans are materializing nicely and it is expected that the 1929-30 session will be the best school year Roscoe has ever experienced.

The faculty for the school, as announced by the board of trustees is as follows: Superintendent, Frank L. Williams; high school principal, J. V. Baird; English, Miss Lottie Ingram; foreign languages and history, Mrs. L. G. Anthony; science, Mrs. F. L. Williams; mathematics, Acton McCollum; grammar school principal, John Boston; arithmetic, Fred Giles; English, Miss Ruth Hopper; reading, Miss Noma Gray; fourth grades, Miss Gerene Craig and Miss Mary Frances Gill; third grade, Miss Elma Kerby; second grade, Miss Nellie Gordon; first grade, Miss Ruby Hopper; expression, Mrs. A. J. Parker; music, Miss Mamie Heizer. Two teachers are yet to be employed to fill vacancies created by resignation during the summer.

the Call that Burnt the Beefsteak
When Phil Allen came home from work he found his wife in the kitchen, regarding the blackened ruins of a steak with tears in her eyes.
"And the company'll be here any minute!" she wailed, looking up at him despairingly.
"Why honey?" Allen sympathized, "how did it happen?"
Carefully, Mrs. Allen lifted the smoking skillet and started toward the sink.
"I can't," she observed bitterly, "I simply can't go clear to the front of the house to answer the telephone, and watch a meal at the same time. I just didn't know I'd left the fire turned up so high!"
Allen hurriedly picked up his hat.
"Tomorrow I'll order an 'extension' telephone put in back here," he said. "And—don't worry, dear. The butcher shop's still open."
Telephones where you need them save time, patience, housewifely strength.
Few know that one or two additional instruments cost considerably less than the single telephone they now have!
By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a re-arrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of your telephone service.

SUNRISE IN THE MOUNTAINS

Ps. 121:1—"I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills."
 Visitors to Colorado are, of course, impressed greatly with mountains. They suggest something big and supreme—towering in majesty and beauty as well as in strength. I went to Colorado Springs and out to Manitou. One morning I arose before daybreak and walked up to the Garden of the Gods and the Cave of the Winds. While standing on that high precipice at the Cave of the Winds I saw the sun come up across the hills while the rain fell below. It was a striking picture that I shall never forget. As I have remembered that scene since and have enjoyed these mountains this year I have again and again seen the symbolism that mountains afford to the religious life. They suggest many of the experiences of a life with God, and the littleness of man.

 As one goes up into the mountains one sees the surrounding country with a new perspective. The foothills that looked so large are now dwarfed by the greater height of the higher peaks. Some points that seemed so far now are at our very feet. Such is religion. It provides us with a new point of view, a new perspective. Life is too near us. We live it with our eyes to the ground. Our problems overwhelm us. Our sin blinds us. We bring what we call an alibi to dim and blind our eyes with what seems like respectability. Then we climb into the mountains of God. The areas of God stretch before us. The things that seemed so big down below become only small mounds to our far-sighted gaze. We learn to know that the big things are big and the little things little in these mountains of God. Whatever we may call our experience—conversion, insight, mystical union, a sense of values—it all means the same thing—that in the mountain of vision we have seen life in its true perspective and have found where the successive ages of men have found their vision in the mountains of faith and prayer and peace and God.

But that morning when I went up the mountain side I went through a rainstorm. For a long time I could not see the peaks. Strangely I went up through the clouds until I stood actually above the clouds and saw the rain below. Across the peaks the sun came up in golden splendor. In life there is one danger that from the valleys of experience you may look up and see only clouds, clouds that are already shedding a rain-storm. You cannot deny the storm and seeing only it, you cry out—"the peaks of God's mountain are unreal, there is nothing there." Our incredulous sophisticated age shouts to us that there are no mountains of vision—no places of insight. But up thru the clouds while the wind beats upon him and the rain and snow blows by his face goes the traveler to stand there upon some high plateau with the storm below and the rising sun beyond to give his confession that his new perspective is real and to say with those of old, "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations; before the mountains were brought forth or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting thou art God."

But let us find another point of analogy. Many times I am sure travelers here are impressed with the many persons who come to the mountains for healing. Some are brought here on stretchers and go back greatly improved. All through these mountains are the cabins of those who have come to have disease destroyed, health restored. The healing is of an unseen, unconscious sort. Air and sunshine, both of which come quietly to the body, perform their healing ministry. You cannot buy $5.00 worth of sunshine or air. It comes silently and pricelessly to do its work. How strikingly analogous in the life of the soul in the mountains of God. There are many broken hearts, my friends. There are many with disappointed hopes, bruised broken lives that find no peace nor healing anywhere else, but slowly in the mountains of God where the father knows and understands the healing of life comes. This is a significant function of religion. Up in the silence of God's mountain over the mystic haze seen through tear-filled eyes comes a voice, "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." It is not the peace of inaction, nor the peace of hopelessness, nor of dumb despair, but the peace and trust of poised active life. As if he said it only yesterday, the Master's words come: "Peace I leave with you, my peace give I unto you. Not as the world giveth, give I unto you." "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most high shall dwell in the shadow of the Almighty," said the Psalmist.

Like that Quaker saint, we "Know not where his islands Lift their fringed palms in air; We only know we cannot drift Beyond his love and care."

Let us go up in the hills of God for healing of our souls. That is where Moses went to receive the law.

But there is one more emphasis to make in our thought on the mountains of God. To climb any of these mountain peaks one must have the spirit of adventure. New demands will be made on one. New visions and new difficulties will arise. Yet with it all there must be something of spirit that Kipling has mentioned in his lines:
 "Something lost behind the ranges,
 Something hidden behind the hills—
 Go and find it."

It starts as the spirit of adventure and becomes fruitful in discovery. The soul hot content with the view from the plains may make its way into the mountains only to find that a new world bursts upon the eyes of the soul. It does seem foolishness to one who has never been there to claim that any such marvelous views and experiences are possible to a life, but only the adventurous spirit tired of the constant reiteration that the things which are seen are eternal and real and wanting to find whether the less obvious statement that the things which are not seen are eternal is true will ever dare to scale the heights of life and dare the peaks of living. The mountains are full of mysteries. So are the mountains of life. There are things before which we stand with reverence, but with abysmal ignorance. It is in religion that faith becomes the courage to go on to face the mysteries, indeed to cross the Great Divide that leads us at last to that other country whose way is Love and whose assurance is God. Some day we will understand. Now we see in part, then shall we see fact to fact. Then shall we understand as all along we have been understood.

In making such a journey of discovery into the mountains, the safest way always is to take a Guide. Accidents are numerous with the unguided traveler. So it is with the life of the soul. Dr. Gilkey in one of his writings has used a striking illustration of this truth. One day he stood in the town of Chamonix, just under the shadow of Mont Blanc. In the town square is a statue erected to De Saussure, the Swiss naturalist. By the side of the naturalist is the figure of Jean Balmat, the guide who a year before De Saussure had made the trip to the top of Mont Blanc. Balmat seems to be saying to De Saussure, "Come with me. I have been up there—let us go together." Just so does Jesus Christ come to us and say, "See these glorious mountains of God. Come, let us go up together for I have been there and know the way."

Yes, Rube Morgan, and the rest of you fellows, let us lift our eyes into the hills and, placing our hands in the hand of Jesus Christ, climb the mountains of faith in God until the setting sun and He leads us across the Great Divide. Up there we are above the storms—the rain, snow sleet, snow and stress of life.

OAKLAND OPENS MAMMOTH PARTS DEPOT IN WEST

Another step in the constant extension of the service facilities offered by the Oakland Motor Car Company has been completed in the establishment at Oakland, California, of a mammoth new parts depot in which will be kept a stock of Oakland-Pontiac parts valued at $1,250,000.

From this depot dealers of the entire Pacific coast region will receive their parts service, and in an emergency a telegram will bring delivery on the following day of any part needed in the servicing of an Oakland All-American Six or a Pontiac Big Six. The new depot which was placed in operation under the personal supervision of R. H. Armstrong as service manager for the Oakland Motor Car Company, is said to have no superior in the world in completeness of equipment.

Mr. Armstrong has installed the latest methods of receiving, storing, and shipping automobile parts, many of which have been developed by the service department of the Oakland Motor Car company. Included in the arrangements for the saving of time and handling costs are new railway spurs which adjoin the loading platforms of the new structure.
 A model service shop and a training school for Oakland-Pontiac mechanics is being installed at the parts depot where Pacific Coast dealers who desire special training for members of their service personnel may enroll their men without charge for instruction courses under the tutelage of factory service experts.

BANKHEAD OFFICIAL HERE

Fred B. Robinson of Waco, traveling director for the Bankhead Highway association, and Texas State director of the United States Good Roads association, was in Colorado

Monday for the celebration and opening of the Iatan Flat paving.

He visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whippley.

Mr. Robinson, former publisher of the Waco Times-Herald, has taken deep interest in good roads for several years and has been instrumental in securing improvement of the Bankhead through this State. He has been very much interested in the Mitchell county section of this road and is delighted to see the Mitchell county gap being filled in.
