FIRST APPEARANCE OF TINY THEATRE PLAYERS STAGE 3-ACT COMEDY

'The Girl and a Million' At High School Tuesday By Local Talent

The first play of the "Tiny Theatre Players," home talent little theatre organization being perfected under direction of Roy Hester, municipal band director, will be staged at the Colorado high school auditorium next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

This play, "The Girl and a Million," is a three-act farce comedy that promises to be real good. It deals with the trials and troubles of a young man, very poor, that is in love with a million dollar heiress. Miss Katy Schmidt, the million dollar girl, is played by Miss Hazel Costin. Christian Schmidt, her mother, is played by Miss Mary Broadbent. Clyde Haney portrays the part of Jake Schmidt, owner of the largest sausage factory in the world. He is Katy's father and according to Christian Schmidt, he is the worst husband in the world. The ambitious Harry Hunter, very poor boy who is in love with Katy (also after the million) is played by Wayne Clifton.

Answering a query as to the cast for the first performance, Roy Hester, the director said: "We have the play very well cast and everyone has their particular part perfectly for the first performance. The curtain will go up promptly at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday night, Oct. 1st, at the high school auditorium. Admission, adults 25c and children under 12, 20c.

"Let's all turn out and start the Tiny Theatre players off with a bang! The first play is a blues chaser. If your hands hurt you or you are afraid to laugh, don't come."

With this picture and the R. C. A. equipment the Palace will be equal to any theatre in Texas in sound and picture production, it is said.

A long list of all talking pictures has been booked for the Palace. Some of these are: "Hearts of Dixie" on October 7 and 8; "Old Virginia" on October 11 and 12, and "Fox Movietone Follies" on October 14 and 15.

CONVINCED RECORD ADVERTISING PAYS AND BUYS 6 PAGES

Levine Brothers Pay for Whole Section For Their Big Opening Friday

After having tested the pulling power of the Colorado Record advertising, Levine Brothers were so well pleased with results from their ads carried by this paper on their closing out sale of the Barrier stock, they bought a full six-page section for the opening sale of the Levine Brothers store here.

Morris Levine, here from Amarillo for the opening, said The Record has certainly proven an A-1 advertising medium. G. T. Cole, who had charge of the closing out of the Barrier stock which Levine Brothers bought, says Record advertising space is the best investment any retail merchant in Colorado could make and to back this up, he signed the order for six full pages in The Record.

AMERICAN LEGION ANNUAL 'FEED' TO BE FRIDAY NIGHT

All Ex-Service Men Urged To Be Present; Officers To Be Elected

Oran C. Hooker Post No. 127, American Legion, is to hold its annual get-together and big "feed" at the Hut next Friday night, according to a letter being sent out by J. Y. Fraser, adjutant.

Officers for the coming year are to be elected at this meeting also. This is an annual affair of the Legion. Every ex-service man in Mitchell county or adjoining county who will come is cordially invited, whether a member of the Legion post or not.

A real feed of "beans" and other things is promised. Several prominent Legion members from other counties are to be present. The district adjutant and Earl Earp, district committeeman of the 17th district, will be here, Mr. Fraser says.

The letter sent out by Fraser reads as follows: "There is going to be something doing at the Legion Hut next Friday evening, October 4th.

"The 'beans' will be cooked according to the John Williams formula. When I say 'beans,' that means there will be something to eat. After eating there will be a brief pause so that it will all go down the throat. During this pause, officers will be elected for the coming year, as the by-laws have been amended by the State department so as to require the election of officers by the time of the National convention.

"To the members of the Legion: You are not invited because it is your duty to be there and help dispose of the refreshment.

"Those buddies who are not members of the Legion are not only cordially invited, but your presence is earnestly solicited.

"Mr. Earl Earp, district committeeman for the 17th district and the District Adjutant will be present.

"There are many things that the ex-service man should know that may be brought up at the meeting. We would be glad for any who have business with the Veteran's Bureau and are not getting satisfactory results to be with us and let us know your troubles so that we may be able to help you.

"These are your Beans as long as they last.

Three of her children, Hunt, Don, and Sara, accompanied Mrs. Guitar and will attend school there. James, who finishes next year in high school here, will remain with his father.

Besides directing music in the college, Mrs. Guitar will also direct Melody Way instrumental classes through the music teachers in the public schools over the county where the college is situated.

At the next meeting the commission will discuss plans to improve and beautify the park. Proposals for employment of a landscape artist to lay out the grounds will be discussed.

The funds collected by the Chamber of Commerce for this purpose are to be added to anything the city expends in this direction.

The following six old-time sacred songs will be sung, perhaps more: "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," "Jesus Lover of My Soul," "Loyalty to Christ," "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder," "All Hail Immanuel," "He Is a Wonderful Savior to Me."

A rehearsal of the program will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the church. Dr. Root announces, men who attend the rehearsal are invited to bring their families along if they like.

This new line which holds mail contracts from the Mexican government, will operate a short line from El Paso to Eagle Pass. Connections will be made at Eagle Pass and El Paso with the major air lines of this country.

Bob Scott was in Dallas first of the week assisting Mr. Mead in receiving the new ship.

Mr. Mead is manager of the Bank of Montreal, in Mexico City.

MORE PAVING FOR RESIDENCE STREETS DISCUSSED AT CLUB

Luncheon Speaker Urges Paving Movement Be Extended

Rev. W. M. Elliott, speaking at the Luncheon club meeting Tuesday noon, urged the paving project on Hickory street be extended to include other residence streets of Colorado.

He called attention to the fact that many cities the size of Colorado have many residence streets paved and urged the Luncheon club to take up the movement to get other streets paved. Practically all members present applauded this suggestion.

Paving is being put down on Hickory street from Second to Tenth. Several cross streets and one or two other north and south streets should be paved and many citizens on these other streets would be glad to pay for the paving.

The Luncheon club also heard report from J. Ralph Lee, member of the band commission of the city, as to plans for improvement of Ruddick park. He stated a map of the park is to be made and sent to landscape artists and park planning organizations to get suggestions or offers for improvement. The commission held a meeting Tuesday morning.

A service talk by L. D. Black, manager of the Community Gas Co. gave something of the phenomenal growth of the company, which only started in 1925. In the short time of four years the company has grown until it now serves 200 towns with gas distribution systems.

In the absence of the man appointed to preside, J. H. Greene acted as chairman. Miss Beatrice Logan, accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Logan, rendered piano music.

The classical music given called forth unusual praise from the club, and Rev. W. M. Elliott commended her for the absence of jazz in her rendition.

DR. BROWNING SELLS DENTAL EQUIPMENT TO YOUNG MISSOURI MAN

Dr. R. D. Bridgford Takes Over Practice Here October 1

Dr. Stuart W. Browning has sold his dental office equipment and practice in Colorado to Dr. R. D. Bridgford, young dentist of Missouri, who is to take over the office next Tuesday.

Dr. Browning will remain here for a few weeks to collect accounts due him and to finish dental work in progress, which will be completed at the office as usual.

Dr. Bridgford is a graduate of Washington University. He comes to Colorado highly recommended not only as an efficient and capable dentist but as a young man of sterling character. He has already made many friends here in the few days he has been in Colorado, and the many letters received here in his behalf from his home state indicate Colorado has gained a very splendid citizen.

Dr. Browning is a West Texan whom Colorado can ill afford to give up. He was reared at Sweetwater, but has practiced his profession here for four years, making a real success in his work. He built up a good practice and has done exceedingly well here.

He has engaged in civic leadership rarely even taken by a young man. He served as president of the Colorado Country club last year, is a steward in the Methodist church, director of the Country club, and is prominent in other civic work. He was a delegate to the International convention of the Lions club at Louisville, Ky., this year.

Colorado will indeed lose a valuable citizen when Dr. Browning leaves. He said today he had not definitely decided where he would go but that he had three propositions under consideration, all of which would take him away from Colorado.

London Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cantrill entertained the London Bridge Club Saturday evening in an especially delightful manner. The guests were Miss Ruth Hightower and Mr. Smith. High score prize, a beautiful picture, went to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mills. Mrs. Ragan, low score winner, was consoled with another picture almost as pretty.

At the refreshment hour a delicious salad plate was served. The next meeting is with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Doss, Jr.

Silver Tea

The Excel Circle of the Baptist church will have a silver tea at the home of Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, Monday, September 30th, from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock.

As this is the first church social of the fall, each guest is requested on entering to present a sample of the fruit that caused man to fall. The silver will be used on the church building fund. The friends are cordially invited to come and have a good time.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Frank Kelley entertained the Four Ace Bridge Club, honoring Mrs. James Griffin, who is moving away from Colorado.

After playing several games of bridge, the honoree was given a bunch of golden keys. Of each of these were directions for finding a package, and when all of the keys had been used a beautiful array of gifts was in Mrs. Griffin's possession—a shower from the members of her club.

Bricé ice cream centered with a golden heart and little cakes in the shape of card suits were served.

Garden Party and Fine Arts Program

Unique and lovely in character, a garden party was given Friday afternoon on the lawn of the Christian Church by the 1921 Study Club as its opening gesture of the new club year.

This club always begins its seasons with an open meeting, sometimes a luncheon, often a reception, the feature of which is always a Fine Arts program. The garden party this year was conceded by all those who attended to be one of the loveliest affairs in the club's history.

The beauty of the lawn was further enhanced by cleverly placed swings, rustic seats, baskets and pots of flowers and ferns, and as a crowning touch in the center a brick well with a vine-covered pulley, a bucket, rope, and even a gourd. From this realistic well punch was served, while birds in gilded cages sang.

Club members were dressed in pastel shades of organdy made with tight waists, long full skirts and fichus. They stood in line on the east side of the church building to receive their guests. Mrs. Bill Broadus, outgoing president, who headed the line, was in red organdy with red hose. Mrs. M. Doss, incoming president, in lavender with corsage of purple. Mrs. J. G. Merritt, "mother of the club," in pink; Mrs. Root in purple; Mrs. Will Doss, Jr., in blue; Mrs. J. T. Pritchett in peach; Mrs. H. B. Broadus, in green with pink corsage; Mrs. Sam Majors in pink with arm bouquet of asters; Mrs. McCleary in lavender; Mrs. Harry Ratliff in orchid hand painted; Mrs. Dick Carter in green; Mrs. Price in green; Mrs. Hardison in yellow; Mrs. Ed Jones in orchid; Mrs. Kelley in purple; Mrs. Collier in rose; Mrs. Harris Toler in blue.

The children of the members, also in fancy costumes, assisted in entertaining; Misses Gladys Louise Jones, Julia Mae Root, Martha Jane Majors, and Frances Elaine Price, in long-skirted pantalette dresses of flowered material served punch and passed the wafers that accompanied it; little Misses Ruth Hardison, Doris Flo and Willie Grace Doss, in party frocks, passed the program.

Mrs. J. T. Pritchett presided over the register. When the company had all been welcomed, the Fine Arts program under the supervision of the Fine Arts chairman, Mrs. Sam Majors, was rendered.

A stage had been arranged against the church wall and here was placed the piano. The club, led by Mrs. Berryhill, sang a song composed by Mrs. McCleary for this occasion, entitled "Welcome." This was both beautiful and appropriate.

Miss Broadus, in a beautiful colonial costume, read "Lochinvar." Miss Beatrice Logan played beautifully Rubenstein's Staccato Etude, and Miss Loyce Price, in costume, read "The Road to Mandalay" in a most pleasing way. Mrs. Berryhill, in a quaint costume, sang "A Garland of Old-Fashioned Roses" very charmingly. Mrs. McCleary read a group of her own delightful poems. Mrs. Cecil Conaway Meskimen, in her usual lovely way, played a beautiful piano solo.

Mrs. Majors explained that some of the numbers on the program had to be omitted because of illness and other causes. She expressed the club's pleasure at having friends from neighboring towns as well as those at home.

Among those from out of town were Mrs. J. T. Whitmore, Snyder, incoming president of the Seventh district; Mrs. H. G. Towle, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Allen Warren; Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn, all of Snyder; Mrs. J. J. McDowell, Mrs. J. B. Young, Mrs. Albert Fisher, Mrs. F. Gray, Mrs. W. F. Cushing, Mrs. C. W. Cunningham, and Mrs. R. H. McNew, all of Big Spring; Miss Elsie Toitz of London, England; Mrs. Anthony Van Tuyl of Fort Worth; Mrs. Beverly Morgan, and Mrs. J. R. Donagan of Stephens, Ark.; Mrs. M. A. Edwards, Mrs. T. R. Bennett, Mrs. C. H. Martin, and Mrs. W. R. Martin, all of Loraine. The Colorado public school teachers, the ministers' wives and the members of the Study club, together with two friends asked individually by every member, composed the invitation list. About one hundred and fifty ladies enjoyed the splendid program in the ideal setting, and the pleasant hospitality of this progressive young club, and all went home feeling that it—as the program said—"The finest of fine arts is the fine art of living," this group had surely achieved that art.

Comic Party

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cagle very cleverly entertained Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin and son, who moved this week to their ranch near Goldsboro. Attending this delightful comic party were Maggie, Uncle Walt, and Skeezie, the honorees Rosie and Archie, Tillie and A. Mutt, Jiggs and Winnie Winkle, appy Hooligan and Patsy, Mr. and Mrs. Katzenjammer, Hans and Fritz, Andy Gump, and the rest of them. The time was spent in playing bridge, the tallies being in the shape of rolling pins.

At the conclusion of the game, a delicious refreshment course, composed of corned beef and cabbage, corn-bread, butter milk and rock candy was served. Mrs. Griffin was presented with a toy wash tub, Mr. Griffin a set of toy garden tools, and her son a toy pistol to keep the bears away.

Christian Aid Presents Gift to Mrs. Ewell

The Christian Aid met Monday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Lee, with she and Mrs. Nat Thomas hostesses. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers. Mrs. Root, the president, presided. Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., conducted the devotional, using the 4th chapter of Philippians.

It was voted to have a bazaar the first Friday and Saturday in December.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. W. W. Porter presented Mrs. Ewell with a beautiful crepe paper basket filled with golden sunflowers. Tied to each flower was a beautiful handkerchief, there being forty in all. Mrs. Ewell was completely surprised and by the time Mrs. Potter had finished her speech, she recovered sufficiently to thank the women, not only for the gifts, but for their love and loyalty to her and the beautiful way in which they expressed it. Mrs. Potter's presentation speech was as follows:

"Sister Ewell: 'You have been with us now for over two years; a great change has come to us—our Church, Bible school and Aid and Missionary societies. We have ever had your helping hand. We recall the many happy hours with you, as we heeded loyalty's call.

'You have caused us to turn a leaf in the book of life and start a new page and we have accomplished so much we would not have accomplished had it not been for you. Many good examples have been set by you, Sister Ewell, so kind and so sweet, with always a smile our presence to greet. We are unable to estimate the good you have done, as pianist, choir singer, always at your place, and on time, helping as a teacher and counselor in the workers' meeting, looking after the Lord's table and seeing about the flowers, with many other things of much importance you have proven yourself equal to the occasion.

'The young people will always remember you tenderly for the many good lessons you have taught them for you have been an expert in unfolding the beauties of God's word to them and they will miss you so much. We will miss you, Sister Ewell.

'You have been a real pal to us all and we will truly miss your comradeship.

'You are a faithful pastor's wife, a treasure for which he shall ever feel honored to possess. You are an inspiration to all. You have a free pass to the hearts' best affection of the entire citizenship of our little city. The seed you have sown is not lost though they blossom late. 'A Supreme Reward to the Christian.' They shall see His face and His name shall be in their foreheads. Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have a right to the tree of life and may enter in through the gates into the city.

'Mrs. Ewell, we present you these gifts as a token of our love for you and these handkerchiefs are for tears of joy only.'

SOCIETY

Presbyterian Auxiliary Meeting
The Presbyterian ladies met Monday in the church parlors for their Bible study. This was the 18th chapter of Luke. A chapter in "Auxiliary Methods" was also studied and both were conducted by Mrs. Wolf.
A rummage sale was planned for Saturday.

House Warming for the Elliotts
Monday evening the entire congregation of the Presbyterian church, together with several other friends, gathered at the A. E. Maddin home laden with gifts for the new Elliott home.
They marched over in a body, completely surprising Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Elliott, who, nevertheless, welcomed them most cordially. The gifts, which included a beautiful floor lamp, china, linens, vases and other bric-a-bac, and many good eats, and among these was a mammoth ham, were presented and accepted with charming thanks. The pretty new home was inspected and admired. Then the invading friends served punch from the breakfast nook.

Presbyterian Rally Day
The Presbyterian Sunday school will have a rally day the first Sunday in October. All old members of the school together with their parents and those not in any Sunday school are urged to be present. A program is being arranged and other entertainment features, together with the regular work will be put on.

Merry Wives
The Merry Wives 42 Club met on Wednesday with Mrs. W. L. Doss Jr. in their first meeting of the fall. The only guest was Mrs. W. L. Doss, Sr.
All the members were glad to be back together and enjoyed the afternoon very greatly. Candies were on each table and a delicious salad plate with iced tea was served at the conclusion of the game.
Mrs. Boyd Dozier and Mrs. Lucian Maddin will entertain the husbands with an evening party at the home of Mrs. Dozier next.

Mrs. J. W. Chase Entertains
Tuesday afternoon Mrs. J. W. Chase entertained at the home of Mrs. L. W. Sandusky with a beautiful party. There were nine tables circling a big green umbrella, decorated in pink roses, from the eight pink ribbons extended to each table and at the conclusion of each game the winners at each table pulled two of these ribbons and were rewarded with a pretty little gift.
After the game all felt that they had been to a Christmas tree, there was such a holiday air over the room. High score went to Mrs. Wilkins, who was given a handsome vase. An unusually delicious refreshment plate of pressed meat loaf, wafers, omelets and coffee was served.

Bridgettes Enjoy Pink and Green Party
Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, Mrs. Ed Jones, Jr., was hostess for the Bridgettes at the home of Mrs. Dewey Tidwell. The house was gay with fall flowers.
There were ten tables of players, the tallies being hand-made of green crepe paper with decorations of pink sweet peas. On each table were pretty little hand-made baskets of green, the handles decorated with pink sweet peas, filled with green mints. At the conclusion of the game, each table cut for a prize. These were daintily wrapped in pink and green and were little waste paper baskets or wall pockets.
A refreshment course of apple pie topped with pink strawberries, cream, home-made, and coffee with green sugar and pink cream, was served.
The meeting today is with Mrs. Clay Mann.

More milk makes cheaper pigs

If pigs were fed from bottles, small bottles would make runts. That's exactly what happens if some of the sows' udders are not developed and full of milk.

Purina Pig Chow added to corn is a milk-making ration. That's why the brood sow fed on Pig Chow has big, thrifty, quick-growing pigs.

C. B. HUDSPETH TO RETIRE FROM CONGRESS AT END PRESENT TERM

Mayor R. E. Thomason of El Paso Seeks Place; To Make Campaign

Congressman Claude B. Hudspeth of the 16th district of Texas will not be a candidate for re-election next year.

Definite announcement to that effect was made Sunday after the El Paso Post of last Friday announced the candidacy of Mayor R. E. Thomason for the place.

Mr. Hudspeth had prepared a formal statement several weeks ago stating he would not run for re-election, but had requested it be not made public until he authorized its release.

Notice to release Mr. Hudspeth's statement was received in Colorado Sunday by The Record. Wed Reid, who broke into the Hudspeth vote last year with a heavy vote for Congress after having withdrawn from the race in June, received notice Friday that Mayor Thomason would run for Congress next year.

Thomason was in Colorado several months ago to confer with Reid and Judge C. C. Thompson of Colorado. Conditional pledges of support for the El Paso mayor were given, while Thomason stated he would not become a candidate if the Colorado man entered the race.

In his statement Mayor Thomason said he would make a canvass of the district next summer, probably not until a month before the July primaries, however.

Mr. Hudspeth's statement follows: "During 28 years of practically continuous service I have sought diligently to properly represent my West Texas constituents in the legislative halls. If I should now consult my own wishes I would seek to continue in Congress after the expiration of my present term, because I believe that I know the political views of the citizens of my district. I have several cherished projects already under way that I should like to see consummated before I leave Congress, but my family physician and his consultants in whose judgment and ability I have the utmost confidence have advised that my physical condition is such that I must no longer in another campaign for office even if I should be so fortunate as to enter the race without opposition and that I must retire at the end of my present term in Congress. I know that the advice is sound and I am, therefore, taking this occasion to announce to my friends, supporters, constituents, and the public generally, that I shall not become a candidate for Congress at the next election."

Spade News

By L. H. WELCH

There has been no Spade news contributed to the Record since our school opened. We want the people to know that Spade is still on the map and that our community is progressing in a great way.

School opened at Spade September 9. There was a total enrollment of twenty-three. This has increased steadily so that now we have forty-one enrolled.

Miss Hollye Hodges of Coalidge, Texas, and Miss Ardath Byrd of the Conaway community are our two new faculty members this year. We are proud of these two young ladies and feel that they will indeed be a wonderful help to the school and community at large.

Rev. Garner, pastor of Methodist church here, filled his regular appointment Sunday morning and night and large crowds were in attendance at both services. Bro. Garner will preach for us again Sunday night.

The young people of the community are requested to meet at the Baptist church next Sunday evening at sundown to organize a B. Y. P. U. Mr. and Mrs. L. Latham are driving a new Chevrolet car.

The P. T. A. will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock for the first meeting of the 1929-30 school year. A delightful program has been arranged. We wish to urge all the parents to come. Mrs. Lewis Latham is our new president; Mrs. C. E. Welch vice president, and Mr. R. A. Hood secretary-treasurer. With these officers and the hearty cooperation of our community, we are going to have a real P. T. A. this year.

The Spade school children now have the opportunity of studying both expression and piano. Mrs. L. Latham has charge of the piano practice, and Miss Hollye Hodges will teach expression.

We are proud to note that we are now having more people attend Sunday school here than for quite a long time. We are glad to see this interest in Sunday school work. You are welcome at any time at either Sunday school. We need you.

Actual Work On Laying Pavement On Hickory Begun

Actual work of laying the pavement on Hickory street began on Thursday morning when the first stretch of the black base of the bitulithic paving was put down.

This base is topped as it is laid, and the pavement is ready for traffic very soon after it is completed. Two or three blocks of the pavement will be open to traffic within a few days.

MOVE TO RANCH

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffin moved this week to their ranch at Goldsboro, Coleman county, where they expect to make their home. They have made their home in Colorado for several years. Mr. Griffin was formerly part owner and manager of the Better Service Garage here. Mrs. Griffin is a daughter of W. W. Watson. They have many friends here who regret to see them leave Colorado.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS HEARD ABOUT TOWN

JOE E. SHEPPARD, farmer emeritus, who had contended that Mitchell county would gin less than 20,000 bales this year, has revised his figures. He said Monday that the crop "might go between 20,000 and 25,000 bales," and doubtless would make more than looked like would be a month ago. "My crop is better than was last year, but my crop was mighty sorry last year."

A. J. HERRINGTON: "The Mitchell county cotton crop is going to crowd 30,000 bales this year. The crop is much better than many people thought a month ago. With slightly better prices the crop this year will bring more money than the last year's crop brought."

Howard Rogers Buys New Camp East Colorado

Howard Rogers, East Colorado merchant, has purchased the New Camp in East Colorado from Robert and Marion New, and will re-arrange the camp cabins, the grounds and later expects to build a larger store building into which he will probably move his store.

Howard Rogers is a Mitchell county boy who is a hustler and who has made good in the grocery business. He formerly owned a half interest in the Hely-Selfy store, but has operated in East Colorado for the past year.

Resolutions of Respect

From our P. T. A. of Iatan, a golden link has fallen. On Friday, September 6, 1929, Mrs. Mackie Harlow fell asleep.

Be It Resolved, That we extend to the family condolence and our heartfelt sympathy, both as a P. T. A. and as individual friends, knowing that we cannot fill the vacancy in the home, but hoping that we may be instrumental to a small degree in comforting her loved ones in their sadness.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of resolutions be read in the minutes of the P. T. A., also that one be sent to the family, and one published in our local newspaper.

Respectfully submitted: Mrs. Mack Fisher, Miss Edna Gregson, Mrs. J. W. Munn, committee.

MOST POPULAR TIRE HANDLED BY PIONEER COLORADO DEALERS

Swing to General Dual Eight Balloons Encouraged By Womack and Neff

Womack & Neff, pioneer tire dealers of Colorado, are on the band wagon again. This time they are riding high and handsome with the phenomenal swing to General Tires, of which they are distributors.

General Tires, comparatively new in this section, are sweeping the country with their record of service, Ed Womack says. According to information and actual figures he has from the company, more people changed over this year to the Dual Balloon tire than to any other two make of tires. "There is no mistake about this, they are actually changing to Dual Eights," Womack continued.

Ed Womack and Pat Neff have probably been selling tires in Colorado longer than any other firm or person. They have pioneered in this line.

Continuing the discussion about General Dual Eights, Womack said: "It is significant that this big swing to General is not confined to the Cadillac, Lincoln and Packard class of owners. It includes an important percentage of that substantial small car group headed by Ford and Chevrolet. No matter what car a person drives or how far he expects to drive, he needs the extra margin of safety that is built into the Dual Balloon.

"The Dual-Balloon is specifically, radically different—a double balloon in every essential detail of construction and performance. It is the only tire that is both a big mileage tire and a low pressure tire.

"The 'single' type balloon runs with low pressure but at the sacrifice of mileage. What it fails to give you in mileage the Dual-Balloon provides in double measure.

"The 'super' type tire of today is good for more mileage than 'single' balloons but must have the higher pressure. With even lower pressure than 'single' balloons the Dual-Balloon delivers for greater mileage than the 'super' type tires give—the longer lasting mileage which is the final guarantee of safety all the way."

MUD STRIP NEAR WESTBROOK BEING FULLY GRAVELED

Short Section of Bankhead Highway At End of Paving Being Improved

A short section of the Bankhead highway between the end of the paving and Westbrook, which during the recent rains was almost impassable, is being graveled by the highway department. About 60 per cent of the 300-yard strip had been fully graveled this morning and work was going ahead rapidly.

The Colorado Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in getting W. J. Van London, division engineer, to order this work done. During the recent rains cars had to be pulled through this strip of mud. With this section finished and Iatan paving open, the Bankhead through Mitchell county will be passable at all times regardless of rain, J. H. Greene says.

CARR SCHOOL BUILDING CONCRETE STORM CELLAR

The Carr school, north of Westbrook, is completing a new concrete storm cellar for protection of the pupils, according to Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent.

The cellar, the third to be installed by rural schools of the county, is large enough to care for all the pupils, built completely of concrete with an entrance at each end, and properly ventilated. The cellar cost about $500.00.

When storm clouds threaten, while school is in session, the children can be taken into the cellar and saved from probable death.

ROSE COLLIER AND HER TEAM OF BIG BEARS

One thinks of hugs when one gazes at bears, and perhaps that is why a yokel, with a brown derby hat, a purple silk shirt and patent leather, button shoes, eating taffy and absorbed in the passing sites on the Al G. Barnes circus lot at Zanesville, Ohio, last year, made the remark that he did. However, it more likely that the sight of pretty Miss Rose Collier, driving a team of black bears in the pageant, startled the bumpkin into remarking, "Gosh! I could jes' hug that girl!"

Things happened then. Despite Miss Collier's pull on the reins, both bears made for the astounded speaker, who swallowed a whole dime's worth of taffy and ducked through the crowd. The taffy gone, the circus girl had no trouble in swinging her bear team back into line, but the yokel no doubt believes it's awfully dangerous to make masher remarks about ladies with Al G. Barnes Circus when bears are about. But, you'll see when the biggest wild animal show on earth comes to Colorado, Saturday, October 5th, and behold the biggest and most gorgeous of all big top spectacles "Alladin and the Parade of Gold," edition 1929, and employing 1900 people and animals.

INFORMATION ON 'HICKMAN CORNER' SOUGHT BY CLUB

Inquiry As To Status Of Gap From City Limits To Lone Wolf Creek

The Colorado Luncheon club in session Tuesday noon advanced inquiry as to the status of the gap on the highway between Lone Wolf creek and the eastern city limits, and appointed Judge C. H. Earnest to invite Mayor Coffey, Judge C. C. Thompson and county commissioners to the club next Tuesday to give what information they have on the subject.

The club members are anxious to see something done on this section of the highway by the time the paving is put down over the rest of the Bankhead highway through the county.

The "Hickman corner" at east end of Second street has been a bone of contention between the city authorities and the highway department, it is said. The two short angle turns there, of course, must be eliminated to some extent. As to whether the State highway department will participate in the paving inside the city limits is not known. In other cities the department has paid for a regular roadway paving, it is said.

At any rate, the Luncheon club, upon suggestion of Judge Earnest, feels that the status of the project should be given the public. What, if anything, has been done is the chief inquiry of the club members.

LEGHORN PULLETS LAY UNUSUALLY LARGE EGGS

Six-months-old Leghorn pullets in the flock at the Metzger & Morrison poultry plant in East Colorado have produced many unusually large eggs, according to H. Metzger, manager. He brought a batch of ten of these eggs to The Record office to show. They are as white as snow and of double yolk sizes, something unusual for Leghorn pullets only six months old.

TRANSPORTATION TO DALLAS FAIR IS GIVEN CLUB MEMBERS BY RY.

Two Boys and Two Girls From Mitchell County 4-H Clubs Get Tickets

The Texas & Pacific Railway will again furnish transportation to four Mitchell county 4-H club members to attend the Dallas Fair, according to a letter received by W. S. Foster, county agent, from Ollie Webb, assistant to President Lancaster of this railroad.

Foster had written Mr. Webb about the road offering this trip to club boys and girls again this year. The road furnished tickets to two boys and two girls, winners in club work in this county last year.

The letter from Mr. Webb says: "The Texas and Pacific will be glad to co-operate with you again this year, in helping send your winning 4-H Club boys and girls to the Dallas Fair, we furnishing transportation for two of the winning boys and two of the winning girls, Colorado to Dallas and return."

"Our president, Mr. Lancaster, and I are strong for this Boys' and Girls' Club work, and are happy to have this part with you in adding to its success. Personally, I doubt if Uncle Sam is doing any more effective or more worth-while work in any of the many enterprises he is fostering, than he is doing in making possible this great work of training the youngsters in agriculture, and making them love it."

R. B. WALTHALL TO RUN FOR STATE TREASURER

DALLAS, Sept. 24.—R. B. Walthall, chairman of the State Board of Control, probably will seek the State treasuryship next summer, he said here last night. He declared it was a little too early to make a definite announcement.

Walthall is a personal and political friend of former Governor Pat M. Neff, who appointed him to the board in 1924.

Porter Love Washington has returned to Colorado from Sweetwater, where he moved some time ago.

DALLAS FAIR TRIP CONTEST EXPLAINED IN AGENT'S LETTER

Two 4-H Club Girls From This County Will Get Trip To Encampment

Letters explaining terms of the contest for trips to the Dallas Fair 4-H Club girls' encampment have been sent out to eligible 4-H Club girls of Mitchell county by Miss Abbie M. Sevier, county home demonstration agent.

All those girls who are in their second, third, or fourth year or 4-H Club work and above 14 years of age are eligible for the contest, according to Miss Sevier. Two trips are being offered 4-H Club girls of this county by Ollie B. Webb, assistant to the president of the Texas & Pacific railroad. The girls will be guests of the Dallas Fair Association after arriving in Dallas.

During the fair, 4-H Club boys and girls from all over the State are given an opportunity to spend one week in the encampment, where a special dormitory has been constructed. It is large enough to house 500. During one week the boys occupy it and during the next the girls stay there. The two girls winning the trip from Mitchell county will be accompanied by some home demonstration agent from along the Texas & Pacific, Miss Sevier says. The letter which Miss Sevier has sent out is as follows:

If you wish to compete for the trip to the Dallas Fair encampment, please have your exhibit, consisting of all club clothing made this year, to well, one entry from the Food Preservation of your year in the enclosed booklet, your record book—completely filled out, and a history of your club work following the enclosed outline, in my office not later than September 28. John Brazell Returns From Barbers' Meet

After spending two weeks in Indianapolis, Indiana, attending the International Barbers' Union convention, John Brazell, barber at Roy Dzier's barber shop here, returned to Colorado Monday.

Brazell represented the local barber's union, which is number 482. The International union meets but once every five years, always at Indianapolis, where most all unions have headquarters.

Barbers from all over the world attended the convention, and every barber's union in the United States was supposed to be represented.

Mrs. Jeff Dobbs returned Saturday from Lubbock, where she went to place her son, Martin, in Tech. While up there she visited a brother near Meadow.

MAIZE YIELDS 528 LBS. PER ACRE MORE WITH FERTILIZER

Carroll Smith, of Buford 4-H Club Proves Pays to Use Barn Yard Manure

Application of well-rotted barnyard manure gave an increase of 525 pounds of maize per acre in a demonstration completed last week by Carroll Smith, member of the Buford 4-H Club. Carroll had half an acre fertilized and half an acre unfertilized and the yields of the two plots were respectively 1249.5 and 987 pounds. This gives an increase of 262.5 pounds, which is at the rate of 525 pounds per acre.

The maize was planted on deep sandy land and five loads of approximately 1,000 pounds of manure were applied to the land before bedding. Pure line maize seed furnished by the Chamber of Commerce was used on both plots. The fertilized plot "fired" more during the drought but produced more maize in spite of the dry weather.

AUTOMATIC PLEATING MACHINE INSTALLED BY POND & MERRITT FIRM

Make All Sizes Box and Side Pleats In Hundreds Of Combinations

An automatic pleating machine, the first ever installed in Colorado, has just been installed by Pond & Merritt, cleaners and dyers.

This machine, one of the most complete mechanical devices we have ever seen, takes any kind of cloth and turns out the same pleated in a perfect manner in any desired combination of box or side pleats.

The machine is a Chandler Automatic Pleater. It is operated by electric motor and works with precision that makes the product perfect. It is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate fabrics.

The fabric enters the machine between two layers of tissue paper which is unwound from rolls as needed. This, of course, gives a much more permanent pleat than hand work, Jake Merritt said in demonstrating the machine. The machine will make pleats so small that they look like pin-stripes in the cloth.

"The machine perfectly pleats material of georgette, delicate crepe, heavy serge or velvet," Joe Pond said. "It pleats perfectly the very smallest pleats, those entirely too small to be done by hand. The machine pleats reverse side and box pleats or inverted pleatings. Any combination of side and box with additional panel and space as desired, and it pleats cloth with stitchings, seams, or laps, and furnished closed or open pleats."

This machine cost about $1100.00 installed, Jake Merritt said. With the installation of this machine the shop can handle the most intricate cleaning work. When a pleated dress or skirt is received it is carefully cleaned and ironed out, and the material is sent through the machine and new pleats either a duplicate of the old or a new style pleat put into it.

This machine is the latest and most successful invention for pleating. The Pond & Merritt store is to be congratulated for having installed it. It shows progressiveness on the part of the management.

MISS M'GILL NAMED ON COMMITTEE IN STATE ASSOCIATION

County Supt. Is Placed On Publicity Body of Teachers

Information was received this week by Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent, to the effect that she has been appointed as a member of the publicity committee of the Texas State Teachers' association by Rush M. Caldwell, president.

This is one of the most important committees in the association, and its work will be a great factor in the success of the Association's annual meeting in Dallas this fall on Thanksgiving and the Friday and Saturday following, according to the president.

Several Mitchell county teachers will doubtless be in attendance at this meeting, for which great plans are being made. The theme of the general programs this year will emphasize the teacher as a factor in school progress.

NEW BRICK BUILDING FOR CONAWAY SCHOOL BE COMPLETED NOV. 1

Splendid Structure Is Being Built By Rural Dist. South of Westbrook

The new and modern brick school building being erected by the Conaway school district, six miles southwest of Westbrook, will be completed by November 1, if present plans go through, according to Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent.

The structure, being erected on the site of the old building which burned the past spring, is probably to be the most modern rural school building in Mitchell county.

It is to contain four large class rooms, superintendent's office, cloak rooms and two wide halls. Two of the class rooms are to have a sliding partition and can be turned into a large auditorium. The west room of this auditorium is to have a stage.

The building is being erected of brick and tile. The walls will be plastered, making the building almost fire proof. The exterior walls are of gray brick similar to the brick used in the Colorado high school building. It will be a beautiful building, and the design, with a main entrance on the north and east, is very good.

M. M. Smith of Abilene has contract for erection of the building. He is on the job personally and Miss McGill says the work is going along very satisfactory.

H. P. Powers, principal of the school, is looking forward to a splendid term, despite the fact that the school will get started late. He taught there last year and was very successful. Other teachers this year at Conaway are: Mrs. H. P. Powers and Misses Mattie and Reba Franklin.

The Conaway district voted only $5,000 bonds to build the building. They secured $5,000 insurance on the building which burned. This gave them funds to build the new structure, which is costing about $8,500.

YEAR'S OBJECTIVE CHOSEN BY BUSINESS WOMEN LAST THURSDAY

Girl To Be Kept In School This Year By Local Club

The club's objective for the year was chosen and several matters of business were given attention at the regular luncheon of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Colorado hotel Thursday at noon.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. E. McCleary, following which the new member, Miss Laundry Smith, was introduced. Mrs. Cecil C. Meskimen told of her stay in New Mexico, while teaching music.

Miss Elizabeth Kirkpatrick, corresponding secretary, read letters from the Abilene secretary inviting the club here to be at Abilene during the fair. She also read a letter from Mary Jane Higgins, State president, asking for a vote on district chairman.

The chairman of the membership committee reported Miss Octavine Cooper, head of the vocational commercial department in Colorado high school, as a candidate for membership, and she was unanimously elected by the club membership.

Explanation was made of the employment committee by its chairman, Mrs. W. N. Crosthwaite.

The club adopted as its objective for the year the financing of a certain girl through the year in Colorado high school. Miss Abbie M. Sevier was appointed chairman of the committee attending to this matter.

The next meeting of the club is to be a party on Thursday evening, October 3.

DENTISTS MEET NEXT YEAR IN BIG SPRING

Dr. S. W. Browning and Dr. B. F. Dulaney returned Sunday from Breckenridge where they had been to attend the annual convention of the West Texas Dental society.

Each reports a splendid convention. The clinic conducted by an El Paso specialist was worth a great deal, Dr. Browning reports.

The next year's convention will be held in Big Spring.

Mrs. S. C. Nobles of Pasadena, California, who has been visiting her niece, Mrs. E. A. Barcroft for the past ten days, left Tuesday night for her home.

FARMERS OF PINK BOLLWORM SECTION ARE ASKING RELIEF

Want Quarantine Lifted and Re-Insurance for Their Losses

ODESSA, Sept. 23.—West Texans in the pink bollworm infested area moved today to have the quarantine on their cotton lifted; they likewise demanded that the Federal and State government reimburse the growers for the expense they have incurred during the two-year quarantine.

The action was taken at a meeting here today of more than 30 farmers, chamber of commerce secretaries and business men. Resolutions outlining their views were adopted and these will be forwarded to Governor Dan Moody, the lieutenant governor, the Texas legislature, the speaker of the house, the press, the Texas members of Congress.

Early Action Requested
In the move to have the quarantine lifted from cotton grown in this section, an amendment to the resolutions reported by the committee called upon Governor Moody and George B. Terrell, Texas commissioner of agriculture, to call the Texas pink bollworm commission into session not later than January 15, 1930, to act upon the quarantine condition, the hope being that the present regulatory measures would be abandoned.

HE DOES BOTH
E. Keathley, who is in the W. O. W. hospital at San Antonio, having read in The Record the request of the Chamber of Commerce to know whether the horse when working pulls or pushes, writes as follows: "You all are one week behind. We settled that on our west end of our 300-foot porch last week. After one hour's argument pro and con, all but four said the horse pulls. Whether he pushes or pulls, personally, I had rather follow him than rest, rest, rest, but I am glad it is no worse."

A good deal of his land was in cultivation and much of it was along the banks of the Colorado river.

LAUNDRY'S SPECIAL BLANKET AND QUILT WEEK STARTS MONDAY

Big Saving for Public For One Week; New Plant Can Now Handle Large Volume

The special Blanket and Quilt week at the Colorado Laundry starts next Monday. During this week blankets and quilts are to be handled at prices affording a saving of about one-third.

The laundry has put on this special blanket and quilt week each year and this year hopes to handle the largest volume ever handled for this week. The new laundry plant will efficiently care for a larger volume of work and turn out the finest work, and J. Ralph Lee, manager, says for this week they are going to exert every effort to do the best work ever turned out.

The purpose of this special week of reduced prices is to acquaint the people with the high class work turned out and to enable people who have blankets and quilts in storage to have them cleaned up for the winter at a nominal price.

Housewives should remember Monday is the time to get out the blankets and quilts and have them laundered.

NEW CHRYSLER "66" HAS EXTRA FEATURE

Every experienced motorist knows that one of the hardest problems to "lick" on an automobile, is that of the noisy shackle. For years it was necessary to do a complete overhaul job on the shackles after every few thousand miles if silence was to be maintained. Regardless of advice from the dealers and factories, motorists neglected oiling the shackles with the result that they were nearly always noisy after the car was a few months old.

Of the various methods employed to overcome this trouble, one of the most interesting as well as successful is that used on the new Chrysler "66," in which the molecular displacement of rubber compensates for the spring action, with a consequent elimination of all metal-to-metal contact in the shackle assembly.

The use of rubber here is the immediate answer to the problem of the neglectful motorist who will not attend to lubrication. It cannot be neglected because there is nothing to do, and it also defeats the usual effects of normal wear, because it absorbs shocks and is self-adjusting and self-compensating.

OLDEST LICENSED NEW YORK DRIVER STILL ON ROAD WITH OAKLAND

Elmer T. Smith of Union, N. Y., who at the age of 85 has the distinction of being the oldest licensed driver in his State, also is an Oakland owner and booster of many years' standing.

Smith purchased his first Oakland in 1924 at the age of 70 and he still has it. A few years ago he bought a 1923 model but in time disposed of it. Recently he purchased a 1929 Pontiac, just to show he appreciated the easy operating and comfortable riding of Oakland-Pontiac cars.

Every year Mr. Smith motors to Florida for the winter. Recently he drove to the Thousand Islands.

MIDLAND HAS BANNED FAKE ADVERTISEMENTS

MIDLAND, Tex. Sept. 24.—Five years effort by the Midland Chamber of Commerce to give the city the reputation of being hard-boiled on irregular advertising schemes was crowned with success last week. Two advertisers who came into the city left town without garnering a cent when they were told by merchants to get approval of the Chamber of Commerce.

They said they had learned "down the road" that they would not get approved at Midland. This move by Midland business men against fake advertising is saving the city from $10,000 to $15,000 annually, it is estimated.

The principal cause of corns and bunions is trying to put feet that were in style several years ago into shoes that are in style today.

The Sasafra Savant says the best way to cultivate some voices he has heard would be to plow them under.

Large Number Attend Closing Revival Service

The largest number of people present at any time during the meeting, attended the closing service in the First Baptist church revival last Sunday evening at the church.

Rev. W. C. Ashford, pastor of the church, preached for the revival, which was in progress for two weeks. John W. Cobb led the singing. The donation received during the meeting was turned over by these two men into the church building fund.

Thirty-nine additions to the church were made during the meeting, 20 of these being by baptism. Three were added to the church at the closing service.

FEEDING PROJECT IS GETTING MUCH SUPPORT

The county agent reports ranchmen are supporting the plan to pool a car of calves this fall and winter to feed out for market on local feeds either grown or mixed here.

He also reports club boys, farmers and business men cooperating in pooling another car to be fed and shipped to market at the same time.

The purpose of this demonstration is to show farmers and ranchmen that calves and yearlings can be profitably fed and finished for market here.

This demonstration is in line with the movement fostered by Fargi and Ranch to get Texas ranchmen and cattlemen to feed Texas cattle on Texas soil.

Local farmers are being urged to feed some stock on their farms not only for profit in marketing the animals but for the fertilizer value to the land.

DEMONSTRATION IN TERRACING AT E. M. SMILEY FARM OCT. 2

First This Season; Others Ask the County Agent to Hold Demonstrations

The first terracing demonstration of the season will be held at the E. M. Smiley farm southwest of Lorraine at 8:30 Wednesday, October 2nd. Mr. Smiley has several hundred acres he expects to terrace and is getting started early in order to complete as much as possible this year.

Other farmers who have asked the county agent to hold demonstrations at their farms are A. R. Northcutt, Spade; Frank Riggs, Lone Star; Dr. B. F. Dulaney, Little Sulphur; J. J. VanZandt, Spade; Frank Andrews, and Carl Lowery, Hyman.

Proper Lighting
for Your Home.

HAVE you ever really thought seriously about whether your home has proper lighting?

The difference between proper and improper lighting means the difference between full enjoyment of light and just "getting along with what we have."

Electric light is the cheapest convenience in your home. It costs no more to have proper lighting than it does to have makeshift light which fails to give you the full advantage of this modern convenience.

Improper reading light is dangerous. It is a strain on the eyes. You or your family may suffer the consequences of impaired eyesight due to poor lighting without really knowing what caused the trouble. Science has solved the problems of lighting so that you can have the right sort of lights in every room of your home with positive certainty that you will obtain the greatest benefit from their use.

The Texas Power & Light Company has made a special study of home lighting and will welcome an opportunity to go over your home with you and recommend the changes, if any are needed, that would make your lighting most effective.

Let's talk about lighting; it can be of untold value to you.

Let The Economy Twins light your home cheaper than you ever thought would be possible.

POLITICAL ARGUMENTS OF 'GAY NINETIES' IN COLORADO WAXED HEATED IN OLD NEWSPAPERS

Heated arguments over politics were evidently of primary interest to Coloradans in the "Gay Nineties," if one is to judge by the amount of political controversy appearing in the pages of the county newspaper, the Colorado Weekly Clipper, for August 27, 1892.

The entire front page of the paper for this date was taken up with fiery articles concerning the "Clark Bolt in Texas." At the State Democratic convention in Houston, at which time James Hogg was nominated for reelection as governor of Texas, a group of what the Clipper termed "old fossils" had bolted the convention and nominated a full State ticket headed by George Clark. Party loyalty was a near-sacred thing in those days, and those who endangered the chances of victory for their party by causing the nomination of two candidates came in for a generous share of verbal "raw-hiding."

The local directory of Colorado as printed in The Clipper for this date might prove of interest to older residents of Colorado. T. J. Robinson was pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. H. Zively of the First Presbyterian church. Rev. B. R. Bolton was pastor of the Methodist church, and Geo. C. Shelmerdine was superintendent of the Sunday school. The Protestant Episcopal church had services on every fourth Sunday, with W. R. Stuart as rector. The Christian church Sunday school was headed by R. E. Goodwin, and the Roman Catholics had services the first Sabbath in each month in the K. of P. hall, with Rev. Father Brinkley in charge. Rev. J. C. Burkett was the Baptist pastor, and G. P. Putnam was Sunday school superintendent in that church. The Women's Christian Temperance Union met every other Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist church, with Mrs. W. S. Stoneham as president and Miss Myrtle Nance as secretary.

The official directory of the county at that time read as follows: C. H. Earnest, county judge; J. E. Hooper, county and district clerk; R. C. Ware, sheriff; R. A. Josey, surveyor; E. T. Terrell, treasurer; W. S. Stoneham, tax assessor; M. Carter county attorney.

A few notes from towns over West Texas appeared in the Clipper: "The Sweetwater Review is for sale."

More people change-over to the DUAL Balloon than to any other two makes of tires

It is significant that this big swing to General is not confined to the Cadillac, Lincoln and Packard class of owners. It includes an important percentage of that substantial small car group headed by Ford and Chevrolet. No matter what car you drive or how far you expect to drive it you need the extra margin of safety that is built into the Dual-Balloon. Why not take advantage of our attractive change-over proposition now and join the hundreds of thousands who are enjoying the amazing advantages of this remarkable tire—come in and ask us for the details.

Here is why the DUAL-Balloon is so different
The Dual-Balloon is specifically, radically different—a double balloon in every essential detail of construction and performance.
It is the only tire that is both a big mileage tire and a low-pressure tire.
The 'single' type balloon runs with low pressure but at the sacrifice of mileage. What it fails to give you in mileage the Dual-Balloon provides in double measure.
The 'super' type tire of today is good for more mileage than 'single' balloons but must have the higher pressure. With even lower pressure than 'single' balloons the Dual-Balloon delivers far greater mileage than the 'super' type tires give—the longer lasting mileage which is the final guarantee of safety all the way.

GROWTH OF WEST TEXAS

The past ten years—since 1920 when the Federal census was taken—West Texas has shown phenomenal growth. Recent population surveys made in many West Texas counties show that a growth of from 200 to 500 per cent have been recorded in the last ten years...

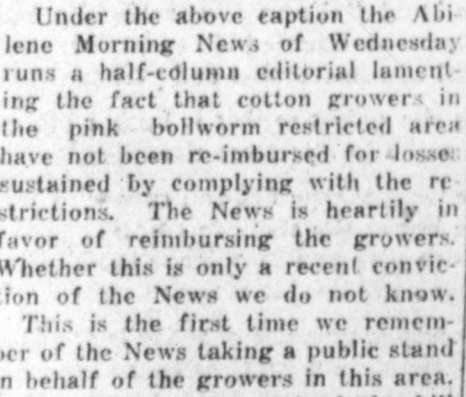

The population survey of West Texas cities and towns just completed by the Fort Worth Association of Commerce confirms other evidences of the tremendous development of this section since the last Federal census, at the same time going a bit further than most similar surveys in the past. It indicates an increase of more than 200 per cent in the urban population, which is to say that the population of West Texas cities and towns has trebled since 1920.

This will hardly surprise Texans. For a long time everybody in the State has been aware of the fact that West Texas is the area of the State's greatest development. Thousands of farms and farm homes have arisen where once white-faced cattle grazed with only an occasional windmill to dent the horizon. Cities stand where stood villages 10 years ago, and hundreds of new towns and cities have come into being.

And the best of it is that the 1930 record will not be a complete but a partial record of this development. The next 10 years undoubtedly will witness an even greater growth. Today half a dozen great railroad systems are contending for the right to build new lines and extensions in the region. These railroad activities are evidences of present development, but they are even more evidences of expectation of future developments.

The structure of West Texas' future is firmly founded on four great supports—cotton, livestock, grain, and oil. Here are millions of acres of virgin land, highly fertile, susceptible to labor-saving farming methods and largely proof against crop pests, waiting for the plow. Here are other millions of acres of land available for pasturage. Here are scores of defined and developed oil pools, with probabilities of many more yet undiscovered.

vision, gotten down to cases, and made funds immediately available to the front-line defenses in West Texas battling to stop worm encroachment eastward.

"It is a pity that Gov. Moody after signing a bill which had gone through the legislature for reimbursement of expense to growers in the 'infested' areas of West Texas, afterward deemed it prudent to veto the appropriation intended to make good the law. The veto was on constitutional ground.

The governor vetoed the bill on the grounds the claims originated before the law was passed, or before the appropriation was made to reimburse the growers. How do you think the 41st legislature could have remedied this situation? The losses occurred the year before the legislature met. That is the reason the governor vetoed the bill. In this connection, however, we call attention to the fact that the governor signed bills appropriating money for claims against the State originating several years back. One of these was $32,000 to pay a Houston bank—of which R. S. Sterling is chairman of the board—for a ten-year-old claim in connection with the old Fort Bend oil mill deal, in which deal the state was sold an oil mill probably worth $40,000, for nearly $200,000. It was proven by the penitentiary managers had no authority to sign the State's name to the notes and that the notes were illegal and completely barred by limitation, yet the settlement was made and more than $32,000 paid to Sterling's bank while West Texas farmers suffered and could not be taken care of because their claim originated before the appropriation was made available.

We appreciate the stand The News has taken, yet we would admonish the great West Texas daily to put everything in the record and keep it straight.

Continuing, The News says:

"We try to be patriotic and we think we are optimistic, but it is hard to be either when we think of that thin front line of foot-soldiers out in Ector, Midland, Martin, Glasscock, Dawson, Howard and Gaines counties, waging the battle single-handed and at their own expense. It was not the ravages of the pink bollworm in those counties that alarmed the Federal and State entomologists and the cotton belt in general, for the worm does not find a natural habitat in a high and dry climate where nights are cool and vegetation is sparse. It was the fear of infestation spreading eastward, into the black lands of Texas, the moist coastal region, and the salubrious cotton growing empire of the Old South. Fact is, no live worm has been found anywhere in the West Texas district since the first infestation was reported.

MEN, ROADS AND HORSES

The "Texas Press" column of the Waco News-Tribune, conducted by Fred B. Robinson, has the following to say in yesterday's issue.

"The Colorado (Texas) Record, published by the Whipkeys, formerly of West, recounts a sad story of an animal apparently suiciding, in connection with the elimination of Iatan Flat, near Colorado, Mitchell county. Recording the killing of a faithful animal which went upon the new concrete paving and stepped in front of a fast moving car, evidently believing he would be called on to give the car a 'lift'.

"There are two remarkable things about the above, the faithfulness of the noble horse, and the fact that Mr. Dupree pulling the tourists out without charge. Maybe this was one reason the mud hole was fixed by the voting of bonds. In some places, where $5 and $10 was charged per poll, the voting of bonds has been reputed to have been very slow. Also it has been reported water was hauled at night to keep certain places muddy, yet we have generally considered such reports mostly a joke. Anyway, Iatan Flat is no more and there is universal rejoicing in West Texas, and among all who travel the Bankhead highway."

C. OF C. QUESTION ANSWERED BY VETERAN

The mooted question, "Does a horse pull or push when at work?" which was put last week by the Chamber of Commerce, has been answered in a very logical manner by Uncle J. D. Wulfjen, veteran Coloradoan.

The learned directors of the Chamber of Commerce backed down on the question. The secretary, who says pushing or pulling either one is wrong, couldn't answer it, because he doesn't recognize any word that means work.

Most of the members avoided the question. They don't know whether it is pushing or pulling that puts the thing along. They only know that either one, if applied right, will do the trick.

But Uncle J. D. explains it like this: "I have read with much interest the perplexing problem that has made its advent in the Chamber of Commerce with regard to whether a horse at work is pulling or pushing. This question does not apply to the horse only, but to motor power, man, horse or engine, for it depends altogether on the hitch-up. If the power is in front of the hitch, it pulls; if behind the hitch, it pushes. A few examples: A man between the handles of a wheelbarrow, running it in front of him, is pushing it. If he turns around and draws it behind him, he is pulling. If a horse is hitched to a draft in the usual way by collar, harness, chain and single-tree, he pushes because the hitch is in front of the power. But if you loose the chains and tie the horse's tail to the single tree, he would have to pull, because the hitch would be behind the power. An engine hitched in front of a train pulls; when hitched behind the train, the hitch being in front of the power, it pushes. For the same reason a steamship is pushing, while an aeroplane is pulled.

"Let's not bother a theoretical institution like A. & M. with a problem as practical as the above."

TEXAS COTTON CROP
BEE LOWEST SINCE '22
FORECAST INDICATES

Estimate Placed at 3,887,000 Bales
For This Year By State
Com. Terrell

AUSTIN, Sept. 21.—A Texas cotton crop of 3,887,000 bales, the lowest since 1922, was estimated Saturday by George B. Terrell, State Commissioner of Agriculture, based on Sept. 15 conditions.

Last year the crop exceeded 5,000,000 bales.

The figure is 220,000 bales below the Government's estimate of 4,107,000 bales of Sept. 1, which was believed in agricultural circles to be approximately correct at that time. The anticipated yield, however, has deteriorated rapidly during the latter part of August and September, Terrell said.

Earlier cotton counties last season have felt the effect of a reduced crop and Ellis probably will be the only county to produce more than 100,000 bales, according to the commissioner. In 1927, Hill, McLennan and Williamson counties together with Ellis exceeded this output.

The eastern district of the State will produce 652,000 bales from the 49 counties embracing the area, the report disclosed. Thirty-two counties in the northern district are expected to yield 495,000 bales and 44 in the western section, an additional 350,000 bales. The central district of 44 counties to pass the State with 1,125,000 estimated bales. In the southwestern district 37 counties probably will be good for 475,000 bales and in the northwestern portion 790,000 will be gathered from 58 counties, the commissioner said.

Late feed crops have been benefited by recent rains in some sections, but indications point to shorter feed crops than last year, Terrell advised.

FARM MAGAZINE TELLS OF SUCCESS ATTAINED WITH TERRACING HERE

The Progressive Farmer, in a recent edition, devoted a whole page to testimonials from Mitchell county farmers as to their success in terracing.

H. L. Atkins, Jr., former county agent of this county, now associate editor of the magazine, compiled the information, which quotes S. E. Meadows, Lorraine; J. R. Oglesby, Westbrook; J. S. Franklin, M. C. Holt, S. P. Carpenter, E. Blasingame, Geo. W. Plaster, H. L. Baker, and W. C. Hooks, all of Colorado; J. W. McGuire, Cuthbert, and S. E. Hallmark, E. B. Hale and J. T. Draper of Lorraine.

The front page of the magazine also carried pictures of terracing work in Mitchell county. A two-page reproduction of these stories is being circulated throughout the county by the farm paper also.

MARRS TO RUN

AUSTIN, Sept. 19.—S. M. N. Marrs, State superintendent of public instruction since 1923, will be a candidate for reelection in the 1930 primaries, he announced today.

"For some time, friends of public education throughout the State have been urging me to make a statement as to whether I shall announce for reelection for another term," he said. "They claim that the many forward steps which have been taken during my administration justify my continuance in office. I am yielding to their judgment, and at the proper time I shall make a formal announcement."

SICK AT HIS STOMACH

"I was suffering from stomach trouble in 1917," says Mr. C. K. Nelson, a railroad engineer living in Pulaski, Va. "I had a tightness in my chest, a shortness of breath. There seemed to be a heavy weight in the pit of my stomach, and quite a bit of nausea, yet I couldn't vomit. I tried different remedies, yet suffered on just the same. "When in West Virginia on a work train, I was in such a condition that I just gave up and came home. I couldn't stand to work in my condition. Some one told me about Black-Draught. I started taking it in small doses after meals. It helped me, and I went back to work."

Drive Carefully

Now that school has opened with hundreds of youngsters on the streets going to and coming from school and playing on the school grounds extra precaution should be taken by drivers of automobiles that the lives of these children should not be endangered. State laws regulate the speed at which autos shall travel when passing school houses, but drivers should voluntarily exercise the greatest care without having to be governed by law.

Children do not think and act like grown-ups even if grown-ups do act like children at times. A child playing on a sidewalk may step in the path of an oncoming automobile so the safest procedure is to drive slowly when passing a group of children at any time or place.

In addition to exercising care on the part of automobile drivers much can be done to avoid accidents by teaching children to be careful when crossing streets. The child should stay on the sidewalk and be on the lookout for cars.

Everybody should join generally in preventing automobile accidents to children on the streets. It is better to be a little careful and drive a little more slowly than to run over and cripple some child. Let's don't wait until some such accident has occurred to act—let's start now and resolve, each of us, to be more careful in our driving when children are apt to be around.—Alpine Avalanche.

Congratulations

When John Coolidge and Florence Trumbull were united in the bonds of matrimony on September 23 at the simple Plainville, Connecticut, Congregational church, the good wishes and love of a nation speed them on their journey over the matrimonial seas. Think of it! Here is the son of one of the most distinguished presidents of the United States—and the daughter of the Governor of a great State—setting out on a life together that will be compounded of mutual affection, mutual thrift, mutual work, no frills, no grand gala wedding, no life of ease and luxury for them. John Coolidge is his father's son. He believes in doing his bit in the world and living soberly and economically. While Florence Trumbull, interviewed by representatives of great newspapers, declares that she is more interested in helping her husband than in the color of her wedding gown. "If he works, why shouldn't I? Of course I will do my own housework."

A marriage entered in this spirit is sure to be productive of happiness and serve as a noble example to others.

Congratulations, John and Florence.—Lubbock Progress.

Barry Miller, the Wet

Twenty-six years ago we heard Barry Miller make a speech in Temple in behalf of the saloon. A local option fight was on and the wets imported Barry Miller to plead their cause. The saloons had been in the saddle in Bell county but they had been so lawless and corrupt that there was a rising tide of opposition to them. The wet politicians who had always dominated the politics of the county saw that something had to be done. Barry Miller was able, suave, astute, and it was believed that he could turn the tide in favor of the wets. He made a masterful effort. He talked eloquently of "personal liberty" and of "human rights," extolled the virtues of the fathers who had opposed prohibition and ridiculed the dregs. But when George W. McDaniel, pastor of the First Baptist church in Temple, got through with him he looked like a thirty-cent politician to that vast throng that heard the debate, and he has looked the same way to us ever since. Barry Miller fought for the saloon when the justice precinct and the county sought to banish it. He fought for the saloon when the State sought to de throne it. He was for the saloon when the nation undertook to outlaw it.—Tahoka News.

He lived and died a poor man, so far as finances count, but he was rich in the good deeds rendered others.—Will H. Mayes in Carrizo Springs Javelin.

Network of Bus Lines In $1,500,000 Deal

Map shows network of bus lines now owned by Southland Greyhound Lines, following close of $1,500,000.00 transaction. Dotted line from San Antonio to El Paso indicates option line, one of a number of options. Solid lines present lines of company which formerly was known as Southland-Red Ball Motorbus Company. Same officials head Southland Greyhound and announce that $1,000,000 will be spent on replacement of equipment and improvement of service. Below, left to right, E. C. Ekstrom, president and general manager; Guy Shields, assistant general manager; and R. E. Ekstrom, secretary-treasurer.

The largest bus transportation transaction ever made in Texas has just been announced by the Southland Greyhound Lines. This concern, formerly known as the Southland-Red Ball Motorbus Company, composed of the same officials and owners, has just purchased a network of lines over Texas for a cash consideration of $1,500,000, which will begin the immediate improvement of service and replacement of equipment at an expenditure of $1,000,000, according to officials.

A total of 2,000 miles of lines are now controlled by this organization, and this does not include options. A total of 200 coaches, carrying from 7 to 34 passengers each, will operate over present and newly purchased lines.

There will be no immediate change in schedules.

Headquarters offices for the line are maintained in the new Union Bus Terminal in San Antonio. The lines, radiating from San Antonio, serve all principal population and school centers of the State. Principal cities served in addition to San Antonio include Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, Houston, Corpus Christi, El Paso and Beaumont.

Newly purchased lines include Dallas and Fort Worth to Lamesa via Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Breckenridge; Dallas and Fort Worth to El Paso via Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Abilene, Sweetwater, Colorado, Big Spring and Pecos; Dallas and Ft. Worth to San Antonio via Cisco.

This line is being operated by contract carriers and the Southland will operate it directly beginning about April 1, 1930.

Other important lines include San Antonio to Houston via Seguin, Gonzales, Waelder, Schulenberg, Columbus and Rosenberg; thence to Beaumont, Orange and Lake Charles La. From Houston the lines run north to Hempstead, Navasota and Bryan.

Another line is from San Antonio to Victoria, via Nixon and Cuero.

Officials of the Southland Greyhound Lines, same as of the Southland-Red Ball, namely E. C. Ekstrom, president and general manager; R. E. Ekstrom, secretary and treasurer; Guy J. Shields, assistant general manager; Walter Ring, operating manager; E. C. Bowen, formerly owner of South Texas Coaches and interested in other properties purchased by the Southland, will assist officials in operation of the lines until the reorganization is completed. M. S. Wren is traffic manager; Alex Ekstrom, assistant traffic manager; A. E. Miller, manager of safety and welfare department; B. G. Tyler, comptroller.

The Southland Greyhound Lines maintain one of the largest motor coach service, storage and repair garages in the United States in San Antonio, the structure, recently completed, having 20,000 square feet of floor space.

As a direct result of the large transaction Ft. Worth and Houston will receive new Union Bus Terminals. Plans are practically complete for consolidation of present bus terminals into a Union Terminal in Dallas, officials of the Southland announce.

Drivers Carrying Live Stock, Poultry Must Have Permit

At the last session of the Texas legislature a bill sponsored by the cattle, sheep, goat, and poultry interests of Texas was passed providing for a permit to transport for sale livestock or poultry in this State.

The measure known as House Bill No. 157, is intended to serve a good purpose and although it is vague in many places officers are of the opinion that it should be beneficial in preventing theft and sale of property.

Anyone, owner, or buyer, agent or others, are subject to being questioned in regard to the origin, ownership and purchase or sale of any livestock or poultry and unless satisfactory explanation is made, they are subject to arrest. The growers of livestock and of poultry will not object to telling an officer the source of his stock or poultry, where it was grown and where it is to be delivered for the reason that by doing so they know that their property is more secure than heretofore. The entire law is published for the information of the livestock and poultry interests.

HOUSE BILL NO. 157

An act requiring drivers of trucks, automobiles and other vehicles to have an exhibit to peace officers upon demand written permit covering movements of livestock and domestic fowls contained therein or to make written statement in the absence of said permit, and providing penalties for failing to exhibit the same or to make said statement or for making false statement or having false or forged permit, and declaring an emergency.

Section 1. Any person who is the driver of any truck, automobile or other vehicle containing any livestock or domestic fowl which is upon or being driven upon any land of which said driver is not owner, lessee, renter or tenant, or which is upon or being driven upon any highway, public street or thoroughfare, who fails to have in his possession and exhibit to any person or peace officer upon demand a written permit authorizing said movement, signed by the owner or caretaker of said livestock or domestic fowl or from the owner or any person in control of the land from which said driver began said movement shall be fined not less than $25.00 nor more than $200.00 for each head of livestock and each domestic fowl in said movement, unless said driver upon demand of any person or peace officer makes, signs and delivers to said person or peace officer a written statement containing the information herein required to be included in permits. Said driver shall be fined not less than $25.00 nor more than $200.00 for each head of livestock and each domestic fowl in said movement which is not covered by all the following information: Name of place of origin, including name of ranch or other place; point of destination including the name of market center, packing house or other place; number of livestock or fowls with description thereof, including kind, breed, color and also marks and brands if there would be any. Failure or refusal to exhibit to a person or peace officer said permit or to make said statement, shall constitute probable cause for any peace officer to search said truck or vehicle to ascertain if it contains any stolen livestock or stolen domestic fowls and to detain said movement a reasonable length of time to ascertain whether any livestock or stolen fowls are contained therein.

Any driver who has in his possession any false or forged permit or who makes false written statement shall be fined not less than $200.00 nor more than $500.00, or he shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than sixty (60) days nor

Where can you duplicate the style, comfort and convenience of America's finest medium-priced automobile?

Oakland combines a long wheelbase with a short turning radius—giving greater handling ease. Its bodies by Fisher provide such convenience and comfort features as drivers' seats adjustable as you drive, clear-vision easily-regulated VV windshields and side cow ventilators.

Foot-controlled headlights—automatic spark control assuring correct spark occurrence at any speed—spring covers which add to riding ease by keeping springs permanently lubricated and free from mud, rain and dust... all these are comfort and convenience features which only the All-American in its field combines.

Come in and let us show you how, on every basis of comparison, today's Oakland is America's finest medium-priced automobile.

Facts which prove Oakland supremacy

The following facts were obtained from a comparison of the Oakland All-American Six with 20 other medium-priced automobiles. All told, 878 individual comparisons were made. Of these Oakland proved to be distinctly superior in 451 or 51.37 per cent. The 20 cars combined were at best equal to Oakland on 382 or 43.50 per cent. And 13 of the 20 were lighter-priced than Oakland.

FULL AUTOMATIC SPARK CONTROL
Only Oakland and two other cars in the field provide this advancement. It is especially satisfactory when used with the G-M-R cylinder head.

FISHER BODY Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 12 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six.

CROSS-FLOW RADIATOR Only Oakland in the entire field has the Cross-Flow Radiator or anything similar to it. All other cars use the down-flow radiator; this despite the fact that 13 of the 20 are higher-priced than Oakland.

Oakland All-American Six, $1145 to $1375, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Spring covers and Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in list price. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

$1145 AND UP

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values... Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

ARE YOU STILL GETTING THE MILEAGE YOU SHOULD?

DETROIT, Sept. 26.—Millions of dollars could be saved annually by the automobile-owning public through a more strict observance of the factors that control the gasoline mileage offered by the average automobile. It was revealed in a survey on fuel economy completed today by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

A gain of from two to five miles on the gallon of gas could be effected, on the average, it was shown, if the motorist paid strict attention to the elements that govern fuel consumption.

The matter of economy has always been a factor of the uppermost importance with Chevrolet in the designing of its cars. Having brought the mileage to the highest point ever offered in a six-cylinder car, Chevrolet sought to corral in this survey, the many seemingly unimportant details, which through carelessness or indifference on the part of the driver cut down the mileage that might be obtained through more intelligent handling of the car.

The majority of items to be watched in handling a car are rather obvious to the average automobile owner, but through an inadequate appreciation of their importance, are commonly overlooked. The surveys set down specifically a number of factors, which, if observed, should increase your mileage two to five miles to the gallon. They are:

1. When standing or waiting for the light to change, or at a stop sign, don't race your motor.
2. When you are to make a stop of more than a minute, turn off the motor.
3. Don't drive at excessive speeds unless the occasion demands. The High speed traveling burns more gas, because there is more wind resistance.
4. Remember that the faster you drive the more gas you use. So when you find that you are about out of gas and are heading for a gas station take it slowly and your chances for negotiating the distance will be much greater.
5. When starting watch the choke. Don't drive with the choke out a moment more than necessary.
6. Be sure that your brakes are not dragging. This cut down your mileage. Get your brakes inspected frequently.
7. Have your valves ground when they need it.
8. See that the idling adjustment on your carburetor is set at the proper point so that the mixture is not too rich. If it is not at the proper point it gives you inefficient idling performance and wastes gas.
9. Don't fill your gas tank to the cap, as some will escape through the vent in the cap.
10. Don't ride the clutch.
11. Watch gas line for leaks at joints. Check it periodically to see that fittings are tight.
12. Be sure that spark is in fully advanced position.
13. Avoid excessive use of brakes.

How to Raise Poultry

NATURAL BROODING METHODS THAT INSURE SUCCESS

A well known, high ranking church official of other days is credited with having said, "Give me the child until he is six years old, and I don't care who has him after that." In other words, this famous prelate believed that any influence exerted on a child during the tender formative years was much more important than anything which might come later. Much the same principle may be applied to chicken raising without straining the logic too greatly.

Natural brooding with hens is the easiest and simplest way when comparatively few chicks are to be raised, as on many farms and with practically all of the so-called "back yard flocks." This method relieves you, to some extent, of the constant watchfulness necessary with artificially raised chicks. The hen takes much of the burden off your shoulders by protecting, teaching, and exercising the chicks.

If you select this plan, the time to start is when the first chick breaks out of the shell. Visit the nests frequently and remove broken shells so that they will not slip over the ends of eggs and smother the unhatched chicks. Watch the hens carefully. Some hens have a tendency to desert the nest as soon as one chick has hatched. Either confine such a hen to the nest until the hatch is completed, or transfer her to a broody coop, putting the eggs and chicks under some other hen.

Watch also for nervous, restless hens that shift about a great deal. They often crush the newly hatched chicks, as fast as they hatch.

Once the hatch is completed, the next step is to transfer hen and the chicks to appropriate brooding quarters. These, of course, will have to be prepared in advance. Such quarters usually consist of a good weather-tight coop that is free from cold draughts. One side of the coop is partly open as a rule, to provide sufficient ventilation and to let the chicks run in and out at will, when the weather will permit.

Coops should be thoroughly cleaned, disinfected and aired for several days before the chicks are placed in them. Under no circumstances feed the hen cracked grains. She should be fed whole corn as the chicks may eat small particles with serious or even fatal results.

Even in the best weather it is best to confine the chicks to their quarters for the first two or three days. Otherwise they may roam far away. They also need protection against hawks, rats, cats and other enemies.

When you finally decide to give the brood their full freedom, release them rather late in the day the first time. Each succeeding day advance the time a little until they are out a full day.

Observance of these suggestions, the survey points out, will save money for the motorist and a considerable mileage to your driving and reduce the number of necessary stops at the gasoline station.

Rev. J. E. McDermott was entertained with a surprise birthday party at the Baptist tabernacle Tuesday evening. The guests were served ice punch as they arrived. After some songs and a prayer, Rev. Eugene L. Naugle brought Bro. McDermott forward and informed him that he was the "victim" of the occasion. Mr. Glover's oration further victimized the honoree to the great amusement of the guests. An impromptu debate on "Resolved, That Square Chicken Roosts Are Better Than Round Ones," with Rev. McDermott and Mr. King on the affirmative, and Rev. Naugle and Mr. Powers on the negative, was side splitting. An impromptu play directed by Mrs. Powers and called "The Gathering of the Nuts" brought the house down. Two beautiful duets were given by Mrs. Lee Brown and Mrs. N. Boatler. Mrs. W. L. Cape presented Bro. McDermott with a hat from the missionary society. Then Mrs. Hattie Berry said that there had been some serious charges brought against the pastor, and so far he had not resigned, so it was decided to try to kill him by "pounding." The pounding was so large that should he try to eat it all very soon, he will have to call in the neighbors to help.

Mrs. Ulman Parker and little daughter visited Mrs. Parker's mother in Loraine Saturday.

The west zone of Sweetwater district of woman's work met at the Methodist church Tuesday with Mrs. E. Clyde Smith of Stanton presiding, and Mrs. Victor Flewellyn acting as secretary. Misses Veta Bell and Cathryn Nougale gave a mandolin duet, "Face to Face," with Miss Alta Ferguson at the piano. At noon a lovely place lunch was served to 75 persons. After lunch, Mrs. Creager of Big Spring brought a wonderful message on "Stewardship." Reports from towns represented completed the program.

Miss Katherine Gilbert of Charlottesville, Va., visited her uncle, A. L. Young, last week. She was on her way to Lubbock to attend Tech.

NEW DEPARTMENT STORE OPENS IN COLORADO FRIDAY

LEVINE STORES INC. LINK THIS CITY WITH BIG CHAIN

BRINGS ANOTHER BIG PERMANENT STORE TO COLORADO

TENTH STORE OF FIRM OPENS FRIDAY MORNING IN OLD ADAMS LOCATION

Succeeds Barrier Bros. Store Here; New Stocks Installed Throughout Store

BE PERMANENT HERE

Link In Gigantic Merchandising Firm Will Give Buying Public Advantage

When the doors of the new Levine Brothers' Department store in Colorado swing open Friday morning at 9 o'clock, Colorado will witness the addition of another big store, a permanent link in a great chain of merchandising establishments owned and controlled by this firm.

The addition of this store under the firm name of Levine Brothers brings to Colorado additional facilities that will doubtless mean a great deal to the buying public.

The Colorado store is the tenth store of the Levine Brothers firm to open. The concern already owns stores at Amarillo, Lubbock, Shamrock, Pampa, Vernon, Chillicothe, and Altus, Oklahoma.

Opening their doors formally Friday morning at 9 o'clock, the Levine Brothers store will welcome the public of Mitchell and adjoining counties with a complete new stock of merchandise at the old Barrier Brothers location and former location of the C. M. Adams store.

The store has been re-arranged, new stocks placed until the building is literally bulging with new fall and winter merchandise, and to get acquainted and make the word Levine a household word in this section, the store is putting on a monster sale that is expected to draw thousands of visitors. Prices far below the selling price of many stores are being offered.

Morris Levine, president of the company, here for the store opening, is not given to bragging. He is rather conservative and in speaking of the store, he said:

"We do not promise a heaven and earth, but we do say that we offer you the best merchandise at the lowest possible price at all times. Having had ten years' experience assembling merchandise for quality at popular prices, we have put forth every effort possible in assembling for your approval the best selection in every department. Featuring such well known brands as John B. Stetson hats for men, Peters Diamond Brand shoes for the entire family, Perfecto shirts, Kirschbaum clothing, Boy Blue shirts for boys, Vanette hosiery for ladies, in fact, the world has been our market place in selecting this mammoth stock. We are in a position to show an entire new stock in all departments, calling your attention to the ready-to-wear department, featuring all styles for stouts, as well as the miss."

Managers of the store announce that the men's department will include all the standard brands of men's and boys' clothing of all kinds. Among these are John B. Stetson hats, Kerry-Kut underwear for men, New Era and Perfecto shirts, standard brands of men's hosiery, Boy Blue Brand Shirts for boys, Kangaroo work clothes. All garments are guaranteed to give satisfaction to customers, or their money will be refunded.

At the opening sale men's 2-pants suits in the season's best styles will sell for $16.95. Kuppenheimer and Kirschbaum hand-tailored clothing in new fall patterns in all sizes and all styles will be featured for $27.50.

Extra heavy grade work trousers, ribbed unions for boys, Tom Sawyer and Knickerbocker boys' suits and overcoats, dress shirts for boys, track pants for men are other articles of masculine clothing that will be found in the men's department of Colorado's newest firm.

G. T. COLE MANAGER LEVINE DEPARTMENT STORE IN COLORADO

Former Kaufman County Lad Started With Firm As Shoe Salesman

ADVANCED RAPIDLY

Became General Manager In Short Time; Sent Here Because of Ability

The Colorado store of Levine Brothers is to be managed by one of the best men in the organization, according to Morris Levine, president of the company, who is in Colorado this week helping to arrange for the formal opening of the store.

G. T. Cole, who has been in Colorado for several weeks, closing out the old Barrier Brothers stock, which Levine Brothers purchased from the U. S. Bankrupt court, will remain as manager of the Colorado store.

Cole, who started with Levine Brothers as shoe salesman about four years ago, has advanced rapidly with the concern. He was made general manager of the firm a short time after he went with the Pampa store. Later he was sent to Colorado to handle the Barrier Bros. stock, located in the old C. M. Adams location.

His success in disposing of the Barrier stock, and the way patronage was drawn to this store resulted in his being named manager of the new Levine store in Colorado.

"We want the Colorado store to be equal to any store and therefore we will have one of our best men manager of the store," Morris Levine said. "We don't believe we could possibly find a better man for the place than Cole, and we know he will give the public a square deal and some real bargains. Our store in Colorado will be one of the city's best under his management."

G. T. Cole was reared in Terrell, Kaufman county. He grew up in the dry goods business, so to speak, because he has worked in a dry goods store ever since he was a boy when he spent spare time in a store. He knows the dry goods business, and has made a special study of merchandising. He is honest and frank and makes friends. This is a big asset to the Colorado store of Levine Bros.

"We can outsell the mail order houses because our overhead is less and we can buy just as cheap because we buy in carload lots and have the resources behind us," said G. T. Cole, manager.

Opening of Levine Store Friday Recalls Facts About History Of What Was Formerly Adams Store

Recollections of what was once known as the C. M. Adams Dry Goods store are freshened this week by the announcement of the formal opening of the Levine Bros. store Friday morning. This new store is the successor to the Barrier Bros. and S. O'Neal firms, the latter having bought the store from Col. C. M. Adams in July, 1928.

Before selling his store, Colonel Adams had stayed in business long enough in Colorado to win the distinction of owning the second oldest business in the city under its original management.

From January 14, 1890, until July, 1928, Col. Adams had weathered "fat years and lean" at the helm of his business here. He knew Colorado as only a shrewd business man and interested citizen can know his own home town when it was a thriving cattle center, promising to be the metropolis of West Texas. He knew it—and stuck with it—when the drought and cattle slump came that sounded the death knell of widespread prosperity in ranching in Mitchell county. And he was rewarded for sticking during those lean years by seeing the slow, steady prosperity that came with farming and other enterprises later, setting his business on one of the firmest and most respectable foundations in Colorado.

Coming to Colorado in August, 1883, as a mere boy from Alabama, Col. Adams was privileged to see Colorado at her zenith in the cattle shipping industry. At that time Col. Adams says, this was the largest cattle shipping point in the world, yielding its place in later years to Amarillo.

The first means of livelihood practiced by Col. Adams in Colorado was work in the jewelry store of Mr. Dan S. Park, who in later years sold out to J. P. Majors.

Colorado was then strictly a cattle town, with a population of about 5,000 souls, the majority being saloon men, gamblers and other undesirable characters. Every other door led to a saloon or gambling hall, where big stacks of gold, silver and greenbacks were kept in plain view, and any kind of game desired could be obtained day or night.

The position of postmaster under the Cleveland administration was held by Col. Adams just prior to his entrance into the dry goods business on January 14, 1890, in partnership with J. W. Hill, who died in Los Angeles, Calif., two years ago.

The first site of the firm was in the brick building now occupied by J. A. Pickens grocery, and the original stock was valued at about $10,000.

Other dry goods businesses in Colorado at the time of the establishment of the firm of Adams & Hill, included Burns, Walker & Co., W. H. Snyder, S. Lapowski & Bro., and the Beehive store, owned by the father of J. Riordan, and the manager of which was S. N. Sherwin, father of Jimmie Sherwin.

The dry goods store of Adams & Hill continued under their joint management until the spring of 1902, at which time Mr. Adams bought out his partner's interest, and the firm became C. M. Adams Dry Goods. J. W. Hill went to Lawton, Oklahoma, after selling out his interest. During its infancy the firm had weathered these bad years, when cattle died off the range because of droughts, but despite that fact, Col. Adams was willing to take the chance of continuing the business alone.

The store was kept in its original location until 1898, when it was moved to the building now occupied by the Colorado Drug store, and the building of Huron Dorn's Tailor shop and Postal Telegraph were also utilized, with a small passageway between the two sections of the store. After this location came one in a building, later burned down, which covered the space now filled by the Crowthwaite Drug Co., Britton Dry Goods Company, Berman's Variety store. From there, in 1916, the Hutchinson store, to the building erected for them by Judge C. H. Earnest, across south from the Barcroft Hotel, and there it remained until moved to the present location in September, 1925.

LEVINE BROS. COME FROM PIONEER JEWISH FAMILY OF WICHITA

Father First Jew To Open Dry Goods Store In That City

Levine Brothers, owners of the department store to open in Colorado Friday under their name, come from the pioneer Jewish family of Wichita Falls, their father, Michael Levine, having been the first Jewish merchant to open a store in Wichita.

The elder Levine retired from business several years ago and the boys, William and Morris, were employed by Saul's Department store of Wichita Falls, where they secured much valuable experience, before embarking in business for themselves about nine years ago.

The brothers practically grew up in the dry goods business. Morris, who is president of the Levine Bros. corporation, is 30 years of age, and William, secretary-treasurer, is 28 years of age.

The phenomenal growth of their business in the period of nine years has made their climb in the dry goods business almost sensational. "I credit this principally to the training secured in our earlier days, which taught us that we must give dollar for dollar value and must furnish the public with the best at live-and-let-live prices," Morris Levine said.

Mail order houses will find competition in the Levine Bros. department store that will doubtless reduce their annual income from the Colorado territory, and cut the outgo of dollars to Dallas, Fort Worth, Kansas City, Chicago and other places.

Well Known Coloradoan Heads Shoe Department Of Levine's New Store

S. A. (Roundy) ROUNTREE. Who has charge of the Shoe Department, was with the C. M. Adams store here for 21 years. His friends know him as "Roundy." There is no more efficient shoe man in the West.

LEADING BRANDS OF SHOES TO BE SHOWN IN NEW LEVINE STORE

Modern Foot-Measuring Device To Insure Perfect Fitting

Featuring the J. P. Smith shoes for men, and the Peters Brand of shoes for men, women and children, the shoe department of Levine's Department store, to open in the C. M. Adams location, bids fair to become known soon after the formal opening Friday as one of the most complete departments of its kind in Colorado. It will be headed by a veteran and well-known shoe man of Colorado, S. A. Rountree, who also headed this department when the store was under its former ownership.

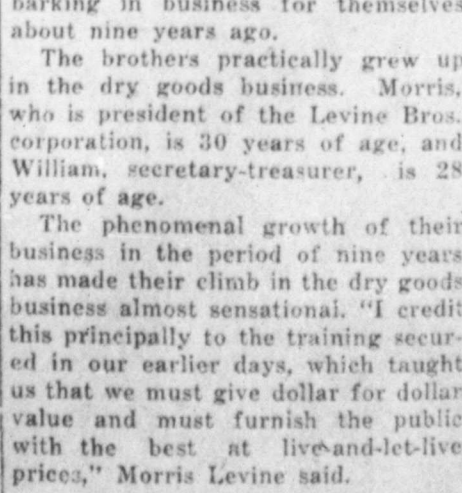

In the better grade of shoes for men, the department has a complete stock of calf skins and kid skins in high tops and slippers in both black and brown. The department is also well-stocked with kangaroo leathers.

In the cheaper grades of men's shoes, the new firm will handle the famous brand of J. W. Carter's shoes in kangaroo leathers.

Those who prize comfort in shoes will be particularly interested in the line of Ye Olde Comfort shoes carried in this department. These shoes are made in a hand-turned, steel arch support style, and are popularly priced.

The Brammcock foot-measuring device will be used in this department, enabling the salesman to fit any type of foot perfectly.

MISS HENSON HEADS WOMEN'S WEAR DEPT.

MISS LOLA HENSON. Head of the Ready-to-Wear Department at the Levine Bros. store, has been with the firm six years. Her home is at Vernon, but she came to Colorado from one of the Pampa stores.

COMBINE CAPITAL OF LEVINE STORES, INC. TOTALS OVER $150,000

Gross Business More Than 1 Million Dollars; Stocks Worth $500,000

FIRM HAS RAPID GROWTH

Started Nine Years Ago By Two Boys At Iowa Park, Texas

From one small store in a small town, operated by two boys barely more than high school lads, to ten big stores with a paid-in capital of over $100,000, stocks valued at $500,000 and a total gross business of one million dollars annually, is the record made by Levine Brothers in the short period of nine years.

Levine Brothers firm was started in 1920 by Morris and William Levine, who opened a small store in Iowa Park, Texas. At that time Morris Levine was barely 21 years of age and his brother, William, was only 19.

These boys had both been employed by the Saul's Department store at Wichita Falls. They decided to embark in business for themselves. The experience gained in the Saul store and the training given them by their father, Michael Levine, pioneer merchant of Wichita Falls, who had retired some years before, was the principal capital they possessed when they opened the Iowa Park store.

The store prospered and the brothers soon found they must expand. They opened a big store in Vernon. This store grew so fast they looked for other fields for their operations and opened stores in Chillicothe, Texas, and Altus, Oklahoma. With continued success they opened two stores in Pampa, Texas, and a big store in Amarillo. They still own and operate all these stores except the Iowa Park store.

When the Barrier Brothers stock was sold under orders of the bankrupt court last year, Levine Brothers purchased the Lubbock, Shamrock and Colorado stores of this firm. These they closed out and are reopening under their own name, which gives the firm stores almost throughout West Texas, and makes the firm one of the strongest in this section of the State.

The firm is a corporation, incorporated under the laws of Texas with a paid-in capital of more than $100,000. Morris Levine is president; William Levine, secretary-treasurer. These two, with Willie Robinson of Lubbock, Harry Lipsky of Pampa and Pete Harris of Shamrock are members of the board of directors.

"Value of our combine stocks will total a half million dollars and our gross sales will go to well over one million dollars annually," Morris Levine said.

Ready to Wear Department Has Wonderful Line

The Ready-to-Wear department of the Levine store has a wonderful collection of women's wear, according to Miss Lola Henson, manager.

This department has just been filled with the latest creations in ladies' coats, dresses and other items, she says. In coats, the department has shipments direct from designers in Paris and New York. They are of the finest materials and in all the wanted colors and combinations, trimmed with Manchurian wolf and other fine furs.

Ladies dresses are here in many new shades, styles and shapes, Miss Henson says. "Our stock is so immense and the variety of colors and styles so great that it would be impossible to give a complete description."
