GAME WITH MERKEL HERE FRIDAY WILL BE HARD BATTLE

Heavy Team From Section A Of District Expected Be Hard To Beat

The football game between the Colorado Wolves and the Merkel Badgers here Friday afternoon promises to be a real battle, according to Coach Cantrell, who is confident of the outcome.

The Merkel team is a heavy one. They have some real football players and they have not been defeated this year. The Wolves have not been defeated this year but they have gone up against a team led by Merkel Badgers, Cantrell says.

Merkel is in the first section of district A of this district and the game is not a controversial one. It might have the result of sending the Colorado out of the district in each team's third year.

While the Wolves were in the game, Coach Cantrell says they were full as to ability. They have some heavy Merks, but they are not as good as the Wolves.

Latest R. C. A. Photophone Works Perfectly With Clear Tone

The new R. C. A. Photophone talking equipment at the Palace Theatre works perfectly.

FORENSIC LEAGUE MEMBERS WORKING TO RAISE POINTS

Several Points Lost Last Year Through Graduation Of Members

A group of Colorado high school students interested in public speaking and debate are working this year to bring the number of points in their chapter of the National Forensic League up to the 1000 point mark set last year by charter members of the chapter.

There are only four chapters of the National Forensic League in Texas, according to Supt. Ben S. Peck, Colorado being one of these. To obtain membership in the league, a school must have a number of public speaking and debating students making a high number of points in their work in this line. The points are made through victories over opposing teams from out-of-town high schools.

FAMOUS TENT THEATRE
WEEK'S ENGAGEMENT

J. Doug Morgan Shows Under Management of Morrill's Here All Next Week

The famous J. Doug Morgan tent theatre is to be in Colorado all next week, beginning with Monday, Oct. 7. This section of the Morgan show is under management of Charles and Elizabeth Morrill, two of the best known show people in the Southwest.

The big Morgan tent theatre is coming to Colorado under auspices of Oran C. Hooker post, American Legion, and the tent will be located on the American Legion lot west of the Colorado river bridge, near the refinery, known as the cotton yard. This lot was selected because it affords plenty of parking space for cars, and cars will be parked in an orderly manner, the Legion Post members say.

The J. Doug Morgan shows need no introduction to Mitchell county people. The show has played this city several times and has always received capacity patronage.

This show consists of 35 high class show people, featuring Elizabeth Morrill as the leading lady. She is known in the show world as one of the best leading ladies of the day, and in her appearance here will be supported by a cast of talented actresses and actors.

Their repertoire includes all new high-class New York royalty plays, and they will be open in the big $15,000 tent theatre Monday with "The Little Spitfire," the latest and most successful comedy.

This big tent organization is also bringing to Colorado the best orchestra ever carried by a traveling organization.

Posters are being displayed in all prominent places, hand bills are on the streets and on another page of this paper will be found the advertisement of the Chas. and Elizabeth Morrill's J. Doug Morgan shows.

Ladies Free Monday
In accordance with the custom of this theatre, they are offering free admission to ladies Monday night when accompanied by one paid admission. Two ladies or one lady and one man will be admitted Monday night on one paid admission, Mr. Morrill says.

Spade Spuddings

L. H. WELCH, Reporter
The young people of the community met at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and organized a Senior B. Y. P. U. The following officers were elected: Miss Ardyth Byrd, president; Douglas Barber, vice president; Miss Ruth Pond, secretary-treasurer; Miss Hattie Lee Barber, pianist; Jack Jarnigan, chorister.

The high school pupils, together with the sixth and seventh grades, have organized a dramatic club. Miss Hollyce Hodges is sponsor of this organization. The club plans to render programs for the public from time to time. We are glad to see the organization of this kind in the school and believe it will prove helpful to the students and the community.

The final regular meeting of the P. T. A. was held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. A delightful program, consisting of music and readings, was rendered. We then had a round table discussion on "The Needs of Our School and How to Supply These Needs." We would be glad if all the parents would feel free to express themselves at these meetings. Let's all take a part and make our school the best. We need to have an enrollment of about 24 in the P. T. A. There were at least that many parents present Thursday night, though not all of this number are members. We then were invited into the Home Economics room, where refreshments, consisting of cake and fruit punch were served. This was indeed a good meeting, but let's strive to make the next one even better.

There were about 75 present last Thursday evening. A big per cent, however, were visitors.

We had a total enrollment of 103 in Sunday school Sunday morning. There were 84 at the Baptist Sunday school and 49 at the Methodist. Let's strive to make each one better. We should not be willing to give up until everyone is attending Sunday school and enlisted in the work.

There were ten men of the Spade community who sang in the choir of 100 at the Colorado Christian church last Sunday night. Those taking part were R. A. Hood, A. R. Northcutt, E. Barber, I. Barber, Douglas Barber, Laura Browne, L. H. Welch, Herman Salley, H. U. Salley, and Jack Jarnigan.

Mrs. Ross Hargrove and infant daughter, Doris Nell, returned home last Wednesday. We are glad to welcome Mrs. Hargrove back home. The daughter is a "newcomer" and, of course, is a welcome member to our community.

TOO MANY GOVERNORS
It would appear that the "wholly inadequate" Governor's salary of $4,000 a year is not serving as a very powerful check on the aspirations of poverty-stricken politicians to occupy the gubernatorial chair.

Here are just a few of the many announced, drafted, touted, tooted, "perhaps," "possibly," and "maybe" champions of the "doux peuple"—who at a great personal sacrifice are willing to hold the reins of Texas government for the next two years:

Barry Miller of Dallas, present lieutenant-governor, who announced for the job because he wants it.

Tom Love of Dallas, who announced because he's afraid Al Smith will come down and run.

W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas; he simply announced.

E. G. Senter of Dallas; famous as the publisher of "Senter's Rifle," he seems to be anti-everything—except Senter.

Representative Mauritz of Canada; who craves a State income tax enough to suffer through a term as Governor to get it.

Oscar Holcombe of Houston—former Houston mayor, sometimes known as "Dollar-an-a-quarter Oscar."

"Cowboy" Ihartlon Brown, mayor of Mineral Wells. He thinks government should wear "galluses" and ten-gallon hats.

Former Senator Earle B. Mayfield says maybe?

Former Governor Pat E. Neff—perhaps?
R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, speaker of the House—probably—ask Dan.
Former Governor "Ma" Ferguson—possibly—ask Jim.
R. S. Sterling of Houston, chairman of the State Highway commission—Quien Sabe?
James Young of Kaufman—potential "draftee."
Alvin Moody of Houston—the Hoovercrat that Herbert forgot—no can say.

Attorney General Claude Pollard—apparently has not been "sufficiently urged" to make the race.

Lynch Davidson of Houston would probably make a pretty good business-like executive—so he won't even announce.

"Colonel Bill" Easterwood of Dallas, millionaire clubman, aviator, Legion official and chewing gum addict, threw his hat in the ring, climbed up and took a look at the heap of Dallas helmets already in—and gracefully withdrew from the "Love Feast."

We await with more than ordinary interest the announcement of what excuses—other than personal and group animosity the men have for wanting to be "King for a Day."

Alvin Sun.

AMERICAN LEGION ASSISTS IN MARKING GRAVES OF VETERANS

Graves of Confederate Soldiers May Be Marked By Federal Government

The American Legion is interested in seeing all the graves of Confederate soldiers properly marked, and J. Y. Fraser, adjutant of Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion, calls attention of the U. S. D. C. and S. C. V. to the law which permits the Federal government to mark the graves of Confederate Veterans. He has issued the following information on this matter: Notice to Daughters of Confederacy and Sons of Confederate Veterans:

Because some may not be familiar with the following Federal law which authorizes the United States government to erect grave markers over the graves of deceased Confederate soldiers, the same is quoted below: Public—810—70th Congress (H. R. 10304): "An act authorizing the Secretary of war to erect headstones over the graves of soldiers who served in the Confederate Army and to direct him to preserve in the records of the War Department the names and places of burial of all soldiers for whom such headstones shall have been erected, and for other purposes."

Be It Enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War is hereby authorized to erect headstones over the graves of soldiers who served in the Confederate Army and who have been buried in national, city or town or village cemeteries or in any other place, each grave to be marked with a small headstone or block which shall be of durable stone of such design and weight as shall keep it in place when set and shall bear the name of the soldier and the name of his State inscribed thereon when the same are known. The Secretary of War shall cause to be preserved in the records of the War Department the name, rank, company, regiment, and date of death of the soldier and his State; if these are unknown it shall be so recorded. "Approved, Feb. 26, 1929."

contact with the entire organization, thus giving them a better understanding of efficient selling methods. "This year has already seen the greatest growth ever made in the development of the J. C. Penney Co. More stores have been opened than in any previous year, and sales are larger than ever before. "Mr. Bibby states that four days of the convention will be given over to conferences with individual members of the convention committees and to buying."

How Spinal Defects Occur

MANY persons have asked how the spine can press the nerves and shut off the life-giving energy and cause weakness and disease in certain parts of the body. The spine protects the spinal cord through which energy passes from the brain to the network of nerves that supply every part of the body. The spine is made up of separate moveable parts that are easily displaced and are sensitive to every strain and jar.

Causes of the Fatal Pressure

In fact there are many contributory causes that lead to defective spines and they are present every day of life. Before, during and after birth the weak and tender spine is very easily affected. The manner in which a child sits at the school desk, or the position of the man or woman while at work is likely to cause defect and curvature. Strenuous games, active play, falls, blows, sudden twists, or strains from carrying or lifting heavy weights are all likely to throw the spine out of plumb. This brings about the fatal pressure upon the nerves and throbbles or obstructs the life-giving nerve currents, thus leading to disease.

CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTS SPINAL DEFECTS

It lifts the pressure from the nerves, permitting them to nourish the famished, worn out and diseased tissues and organs. With normal nerve function restored, Nature brings about healthy conditions in the organs effected. In

$1,400,000 BOND ISSUE IN FISHER COUNTY APPROVED

In Election Saturday Voters Adopt Plan to Build Roads in County

ROBY, Sept. 28.—Fisher county voters today approved a $1,400,000 road bond issue for the hard-surfacing of its two highways, improvement of lateral roads and retirement of outstanding district bonds. Returns last night from 20 voting boxes were given as 1,077 for and 474 against the issue, the result being 129 votes in excess of the two-thirds majority required for victory.

Lost a Year Ago

The identical issue was voted on in Fisher county exactly a year ago today, with 659 favoring and 688 opposing the program.

Of the amount, $605,000 will be used for hard-surfacing the two main highways through the counties, No. 83, the Dal-Paso Caverns highway leading east and west, and No. 70, extending north and south. The same amount to be expended for improvement of lateral roads and bridges in the four county precincts, and the remainder, $190,000, will be used for retiring outstanding bonds in the various parts of the county.

Improvement within the precincts is to include construction of 135 bridges, at an estimated cost of $314,000. Work in precinct No. 1 calls for 59 bridges to cost $109,100; No. 2, 33 bridges, $70,400; No. 3, 16 bridges, $58,900; No. 4, 27 bridges, $75,000.

The State and Federal governments are expected to put up approximately $1,000,000 in addition to the county fund.

BIRMINGHAM TAKES DIXIE SERIES FROM DALLAS WEDNESDAY

Barons Win Baseball Championship Of the South, Defeating Texas Champs

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 2.—The Birmingham Barons, led by the redoubtable Johnny Dobbs, became the 1929 baseball champions of the South on Wednesday, when they turned back the Dallas Steers, the Texas League champions, in the sixth game of the Dixie Series.

The score in today's game was 7 to 5, which gave the Barons the series, four games to three.

Dobbs and his Barons thus accomplished this year what they failed to do last season when they were defeated in the Southern classic four games to two by the Houston Buffaloes. This year, as last, the Barons won the first two games, played on home soil, and lost the third and fourth games when they invaded Texas.

There the resemblance ceased for the Alabamians took the fifth contest, which marked the turning point of the series, and went back to Birmingham with the title virtually "in the bag."

Doss Donates Score Board To Athletic Field

W. L. Doss has donated a large score board to schools for use at Cantrell field, which is indeed a very appropriate and highly appreciated gift.

Coach Cantrell and the members of the football squad ask The Record to publicly thank Mr. Doss for this score board. Other school officials join in expressing appreciation of the gift.

The football squad also thanks Sam Williams, local filling station operator, for having given 10 per cent of his gross receipts last Saturday to the football team. A nice sum was realized and Coach Cantrell expresses hearty thanks to Williams for the gift.

GOODYEAR COMPANY BUILDING IMMENSE AIRSHIP HANGAR AT AKRON

Wilbur Lewis, of the Lewis Rubber company of this city, has just received information that one of the world's largest and strangest buildings, with ends that peel like an orange, is being erected at the Akron airport to house two titans of the air, dirigibles greater than any now in existence.

The building is the Goodyear-Zeppelin dirigible factory and dock where the giant sky liners will be built for the United States Navy.

Mr. Lewis, who handles the Goodyear auto tires in Colorado, says the Woolworth building and the Washington monument both could be placed inside this new structure, end to end, with room to spare. It is about a city block wide. From the top it looks like half of the gas bag of one of the Zeppelins to be built in it. The ends are rounded, and walls and roof form a parabolic arch. This unusual form was adopted to offer the least resistance to air currents and eliminate wind eddies at ends, perilous to dirigibles.

Built entirely of steel, the entire structure is on rollers, which allows it to expand and contract freely with changing temperatures. Doors at either end for entrance of the airships are quarters of a globe, known as the "orange peel."

L. J. GEER STARTS MOVE FOR SEATS AT NEW RUDDICK PARK

L. J. Geer of Sweetwater, general manager of the Texas Electric Service Co., here Tuesday, called attention of the Chamber of Commerce and the park commission to the lack of seats at Ruddick Park and offered to donate the first seat for the park.

When the park commission agrees on some plan of seating, Mr. Geer agreed to donate at least one large seat, and suggested to J. H. Greene that others should follow the plan.

"I consider the improvement of the park and the building of a playground for children and others the most important thing Colorado could do, and I certainly am glad to see this splendid and progressive city getting behind the Ruddick park movement," Mr. Geer said.

Sophomore Class Met Thursday To Organize For Year

The Sophomore class met in the third-floor study hall Thursday, September 19, for its first meeting of the year. There are several new members in the class, but almost all the ex "Fish" are back again.

Mr. G. D. Foster called the house to order and gave a short talk, which was followed by an enthusiastic yell. If the "Sophs" display as much pep in other ways as they did in the yell, other classes will have some competition.

Ex-President Sherman Hart then took "the chair" and nominations were in order for president. Sherman Hart was re-elected by a large majority. James Bodine was elected vice president by acclamation. Wanda Wade was elected secretary; Horace Womack was chosen for the pep leader of the Sophomore class.

Classes, beware! The Sophisticated Sophs are going to try to carry away all of the honors this year. They are assured of this, as they have Miss Cummings and Mr. Foster, who "stuck by them" when they were but "Slimes" for sponsors again this year. They are very, very (?) sorry they are taking such good sponsors away from the other classes, but you need not doubt that they will not profit by this, as they are going to give the Sophomore class their enthusiastic support.

Meeting with much enthusiasm and interest, the Seniors met for their first time in the high school auditorium Monday, September 16, 1929.

The class officers were elected, as follows: President, George Tate, re-elected from presidency of last year's Junior class; vice president, Pete Smith, the high school football captain; secretary and treasurer, Iris Tunnell, a steady booster of the class.

The president appointed Fayrel Plaster as chairman of the social committee.

The Seniors are starting early in their plans for the coming year. The class is looking for their rings to come in soon.

At the meeting of the Senior class in Mr. Cantrill's room, Thursday afternoon, Fayrel Plaster announced the plans for a picnic for Friday evening at Seven Wells. The class accepted the plans.

The Seniors believe this is only the beginning of a successful year, sponsored by Mrs. Cantrill and ?

Freshmen Elect Officers; Largest Class In History

The largest Freshman class that has ever been called together for the purpose of election officers' and organizing, met September 19.

The following officers were elected: President, P. J. Burrows; secretary and treasurer, Laura McKenney; reporter, Princess Martin.

As there was a limited amount of time, the class did not elect all of the officers, but will complete this election in the near future.

Just a Word About Primary Department

The Primary building consists of four first grades and two second grades. There are 147 pupils in the first grades and 66 in the second grades.

Teachers in this building are Mrs. Russell, principal, Mrs. Headstream, Miss Butler, Mrs. Holman, Miss Martin and Miss Summerhill. With their competent corps of teachers, much is to be expected of this school. They are now working on a plan to raise funds with which to buy some new playground equipment.

Barry Joyce, Jr., member of the second grade, is now absent from school with a broken arm.

Sales Percentage Given To The Football Team

Mr. Cantrill, the football squads, and the student body proper wishes to thank Mr. Sam Williams, proprietor of the Williams Service Station in East Colorado, for his generosity in giving the squad 10 per cent of his business receipts on Saturday, September 21.

By way of advertising, Mr. Williams might very easily have selected some other civic enterprise or charity foundation as objects of his generosity. That he selected the football squad is certainly an evidence of friendship, and is greatly appreciated by all concerned.

Junior Class Meets Monday; Officers Elected For Year

A class meeting of the Junior class was held Monday, Sept. 22, 1929, the first time this year, for the purpose of electing officers. Mr. Cobb acted as chairman until the president was elected. The class chose Ethel Mae Murphy for this office. She then took charge of the proceedings. The following officers were then elected: Vice President, Virgil Mann; secretary-treasurer, Geneva Melton; reporter, Frieda Merle Reid.

The Junior sponsors are Miss Smith and Mr. Cobb, and with the above officers they expect great things from the class.

W. L. Doss Presents Scoreboard To School

Mr. W. L. Doss, Jr., of the W. L. Doss Drug store also comes in for a great deal of gratitude. He has presented the athletic field with a gigantic scoreboard.

Mr. Doss has helped the school in many and various ways before. This latest present is very much appreciated.

The new scoreboard is complete in all details, and is approximately 14 feet high.

JIMMIE LOGAN OF THE CHECKERBOARD STORE SAYS IT'S YOUR MOVE

Anyone who has passed down Second street recently, has undoubtedly been impressed by the brilliant display of red and white checkers emblazoned on the front of D. M. Logan & Sons feed store. To the uninitiated let it be known that this unique store front is not meant to be a battling ground for followers of the grand and glorious game of checkers, but is the official trademark of the Purina Mills of St. Louis and its checkerboard products.

The Logans in having this store checkerboarded, are only taking this means of letting the public know that they are handling the celebrated Purina line and that they are ready to do business with any and all feeders in this district. "We have the goods and we can give the service," says Jimmie Logan, "and it's now your move." If feeders want to lower their production costs and give their poultry and livestock the best and most perfectly balanced ration on the market today, they know they can always get it by coming to the Checkerboard store.

And he's right. Feeders in this community are fortunate in having a Purina "service station" located so near. The Purina Mills have built up an enviable reputation for themselves by their four-square business methods and by the merits of their Chows.

We consider it a real asset to have a representative of that concern in this town, and we are sure that every shrewd feeder who is interested in producing more eggs, more milk, and more beef at less cost, will pay a visit to the checkerboard store in the near future.

OUR PRISON SYSTEM MORE SELF-SUPPORTING

The Texas prison system, Mr. Moody says: "Has been made the hobby-horse to ride men into office, and then to ride them out again," and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram says that Mr. Moody is rushing his prison program for his own little "hobby horse" while the prison board was selected by Mr. Moody, in the main, apparently with more consideration to passing around political favors than the selection of men who have studied this problem and are capable of business organization on the large scale needed.

The penitentiary system owns thousands of acres of land and has several prison farm organizations, widely scattered. And for years they have been, not only a sort of political football, but have cost the State multiplied thousands of dollars.

Lynch Davidson, who is not now in the political field, and who is recognized as a wonderful business organizer, gave out an interview at Houston last week, suggesting an outline worthy of serious consideration.

When a candidate for governor four years ago Mr. Davidson proposed a business organization that would make the prison system self-supporting and give his formula then and pledged himself unqualifiedly to its development. Most of us have been riding some man's prejudicial hobby-horse and keeping so busy we neglect to give thought to the serious matters that save or lose the State immense sums of money.

Just now, even if Mr. Moody is desirous of doing the State a great service and has no thought of using the prison system as a political hobby-horse, as charged, his record is such as to convince thinking people that the task must necessarily be left largely with the Prison Board and the Legislature.

We disagree with those papers that cast ugly insinuations at Mr. Moody's integrity because of his blunderings, and we feel that his most serious blunder was in permitting his ambitions to overshadow all else as he originally pulled the strings of prejudice and personal bitterness for political capital. He made this ambitious landing woefully handicapped and surrounded with counsel that had voluntarily drawn him under obligations that would have embarrassed any man.

With only the experience of a prosecuting attorney in the courts the task was clearly far beyond his reach in handling the greatest business in the State—that of the whole State. This every thinking man knew then and knows now.

His commanding support showed the oil on top of the Moody political waters. Hence, the great highway department was headed by a most capable man, but a very rich oil man. The Board of Regents of the great State University shows what appears to be a most hurtful degree of oil control.

These things are not pleasant to write about. They are not pleasant to think about. And just here let us again state that the most serious fault we find with Governor Moody is the fault that his ambition for exceeded his judgment and that just here the greater blame in permitting the pulling of prejudicial strings for political promotion falls more heavily upon the people of the State as a whole than upon Mr. Moody.

Selfish cliques, selfish Klans and misguided church leaders have joined the hosts in the spread of political prejudice that has broken out like measles, while the designing politicians appear to be knocking at the doors of hamber fo commences, the lodges and churches and even our schools.

Good and capable men tell us they refrain from offering counsel for the simple reason that it is not appreciated and that the people desire only to hear their own political idols. It so happens that these idols have been either unscrupulous or incapable in the hands of the unscrupulous in the main.

If you read this and proceed to lambast the governor and others we have missed our point and have blundered in arousing your prejudice. A thing not considered and hurtful to all.

But, if you read this and turn your face to the future, your back upon bitterness and prejudice and set your brain to digging for the milk in the political cocoon, then you, we, and the rest of us will right a few wrongs and Texas will move on a higher plane.—Greenville Messenger.

PALACE TALKIE TO OPEN FRIDAY WITH BIG FOX PICTURE

West Point-Annapolis Football Classic Be Heard On Phonophone

Formal opening of the Palace Theatre's new R. C. A. Phonophone talkie will be Friday and Saturday of this week, and the Fox Movietone masterpiece, "Salute," featuring a West Point-Annapolis game, will be shown.

This picture is youth, romance, drama, thrills, all of them, and the new perfected R. C. A. Phonophone makes them speak and breathe in such a natural way before an audience until it is gripping and fascinating.

"Salute" is unusually fine screen entertainment. The story is different, compact, graphically unfolded, with many a laugh to relieve tense moments, and has a smashing finish.

The tale concerns two brothers—George O'Brien, an athletic hero at West Point, and William Janney, a midshipman at Annapolis who tries hard but unsuccessfully to duplicate his famous brother's athletic triumph. O'Brien's great dominant personality sweeps all before him, but when the handsome athlete seems about to take the heart and hand of Helen Chandler, Janney realizes for the first time that he, too, loves her.

The brothers meet in the annual Army-Navy football clash at the Polo Grounds, New York. O'Brien as an All-American halfback and Janney as a substitute end. A surprising and entirely satisfactory finish has been provided by Tristram Tupper and Jno. Stone, the authors.

O'Brien proves himself perfectly at home in the football hero part, while Miss Chandler registers as a pleasing personality. Excellent performances are given also by Janney; Stevie Fatchit, Frank Albertson, and Joyce Compton and David Butler, the noted director, who appears as the Navy coach.

The colorful and realistic Annapolis and West Point background prove the wisdom of the two months' location trip of Director Ford and his entire company. And the football game is a knockout.

HUDSPETH ENDORSES BELCHER, OF DEL RIO, FOR CONGRESSMAN

Retiring Congressman Fights El Paso Man; Story Blocks Political Move, Said

SAN ANGELO.—C. C. Belcher, a lawyer, banker and sheepman of Del Rio, will run against his friend Mayor R. E. Thomson of El Paso, for the congressional post that Representative Claude B. Hudspeth of El Paso will vacate in 1930.

Belcher announced his candidacy Friday. At the same time a statement from Hudspeth, endorsing the candidacy of Belcher and asking his friends in the district to throw their votes to his flag, was published as follows:

"I have always stood for my friends. I trust my friends will support Judge Belcher, who is able and efficient and thoroughly qualified to represent the best interests of the district. My endorsement of his candidacy can not be made too strong. Mayor Thomson of El Paso is no friend of mine."

Mayor R. E. Thomson of El Paso, in replying to Mr. Hudspeth's statement said: "There is nothing new in Mr. Hudspeth's statement. He has bitterly fought me in every race I have ever made. He opposed me in my first race for the legislature when he hardly knew me. He came all the way from Washington in the mayor's race to brand me and my supporters a bunch of 'cowardly poltroons.' I have voted against him but at no time have I ever actively opposed him.

"Just to keep the record straight, let me say that I have never been district attorney in this part of the State. I once held this position in North Texas by election, but before he ever knew me. He has never helped me to be appointed or elected to anything. He has been honored with public office for 30 years. It occurs to me that it would be entirely appropriate for the people to choose the next congressman from this district and not Mr. Hudspeth."

New Story Blocks Plans DEL RIO, Texas.—The inside story of how the action of two newspapers probably did a great deal toward thwarting Rep. Claude B. Hudspeth's plan to choose his own successor to congress was known here for the first time Saturday.

The congressman, it was learned here from sources of unquestioned reliability, determined some time ago not to run for congress for another term. He selected Cliff C. Belcher of Del Rio, attorney and wool and mohair warehouse manager, as his successor. He arranged with Belcher to make announcement of his intention to run for office when Hudspeth should announce his plans.

But the El Paso Post tore the cover

WHEN TWO HEADS GET TOGETHER! To R. H. Smith & Son Grocery they happily go for groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables.

R. H. Smith & Son
TELEPHONE 399 WE DELIVER

off the whole congressional situation by revealing last week that Mayor R. E. Thomson was going to run for office. Hudspeth's retirement statement it had been arranged to give it to the San Angelo Standard-Times to publish the following Sunday. When the Standard-Times learned of the Post's announcement and printed the statement of Hudspeth was given the paper for immediate publication.

The day Hudspeth's statement of withdrawal was made public the Standard-Times started quaring men in this part of the district to find out who would run. It is learned here that the paper called Belcher and when they did it was the first news Belcher had had that the plans had gone awry.

Then his plan had to be revised. When he did finally announce, endorsing his candidacy, was released simultaneously.

ALL-TALKING EPIC OF SOUTHLAND WILL BE SHOWN BY PALACE

"Hearts In Dixie" Featured For Sunday, Monday And Tuesday

The speaking screen is seeing significant development as the motion picture and stage are brought still closer together through a merging of their respective technique. One fully expects to find extraordinary contributions to the new art of the "talkies," but one does not always expect to find such a totally new note in entertainment as that afforded by the Fox Movietone production, "Hearts In Dixie."

This wonderful picture is to be shown in Colorado at the Palace Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 6, 7, and 8. See and hear this great picture and epic of the Southland.

Fox Movietone has taken a story of Dixieland with its cotton fields, steamboats, levees and other atmospheric properties, and used it to knit together an amazingly generous number of performances by some two hundred singers, dancers and actors. While, after all is said and done, "Hearts In Dixie" may be termed properly a comedy suggesting at times a revue, it rises to such grandeur through the use of folk songs and spirituals that at times one is tempted to compare it to grand opera. It shows, as the screen or any other medium has never shown before, the tremendous artistic value, musically, of the native melodies that had their origin, apparently, among the cotton field and levee workers of the Southland.

Cafeteria At Junior High Is Successful

The cafeteria at the Junior high school installed and operated by Mrs. George Shelton and Mrs. Louis Miller, is proving very successful from the standpoint of service and patronage.

The cafeteria is serving more than sixty per day. The menu has been excellent and students can secure a splendid luncheon for 20c or 25c, it is said. Prices are low enough to afford this. The food served is splendid, and served hot. All sandwiches, vegetables, salads, soups, milk, pie, puddings, fruit and candy are 5 cents each, while meats are served for 10 cents.

The cafeteria was installed by the above women upon permission of the board and it is run under the supervision of the school.

Borger Placed Under Martial Law Monday

BORGER, Texas, Sept. 30.—The law in Borger and the neighboring county seat, Stinnett, Monday passed from the control of elected officials into the hands of 100 State National Guardsmen working with ten Texas Rangers. By nightfall, uniformed soldiers had arrested a dozen men in a start toward the working nucleus for which a job has been thought out by Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, in command of the military district of Hutchinson county.

"If these men are unable to pay fines they will be organized into labor squads," said the commandant Monday afternoon. Some of the first arrests made by the khaki-clad military police were drunk violators who would not bear up under many days of "light" work and might tell what they may or may not know in connection with the fatal shooting a fortnight ago of District Attorney Johnny Holmes.

The guardsmen and rangers have already organized a court of inquiry and sensational developments are expected most any day now.

Ranger Sergeant J. B. Wheatley was placed in the office of Acting Sheriff and Ranger J. W. Aldrich made acting chief of police of Borger. They replaced peace officers who were dismissed at the instruction of the governor.

WATER TEST WELLS PUT DOWN BY CITY

The city has ordered test wells made around the Gist well north of town to ascertain the extent of the water sand found there, according to W. W. Whipkey, water commissioner.

The Gist well is the softest water found in this county, Whipkey said. The well furnishes plenty of water and it looks like a real city water supply of soft water has been found on this land, which is a short distance north of the city limits.

A test well is being drilled on the Jack Smith place west of the Gist well, another well is going down on the Richardson tract, south, and another test is to be drilled both north and east of the Gist land in efforts to determine how far the soft water sand extends.

Colorado Wolves Take Game From Midland 6 to 0

The Colorado Wolves routed the Midland Bulldogs with a score of 6 to 0 in a fast game here Friday afternoon.

The Wolves showed much improvement over the previous game with Odessa, while the Bulldogs were pretty tough opponents and held them to the low score by hard fighting.

The touchdown for Colorado was made in the second quarter by bucking the line for a yard gain. In the third quarter Colorado got in less than one yard of Midland's goal line, but the Bulldogs held them fast.

The game was a good one. Both teams played well. Midland substituted practically a full team at beginning of the last half.

H. L. BAKER SAYS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DOING GOOD WORK

H. L. Baker, prosperous farmer, 9 miles northeast of Colorado, came in to the chamber of commerce office recently and requested that his name be added to the roster. Baker said, "I appreciate the efforts of the chamber to cooperate with the farmers, and also appreciate the efforts in getting pickers, and in fact in many ways. I believe every farmer, merchant, business and professional man in the county should belong to the chamber of commerce." It is just such men as these that build real communities, and an official of the chamber when his attention was called to this statement. It is to be hoped others will follow this example.

School Enrollment Large

After three weeks of work, the school enrollment is setting down on a standard basis. The enrollment on the first day was somewhat light, especially in some departments of the school, but a few days' time brought the number on up to a crowding situation: High school 170, grades 376, total 546.

According to figures the enrollment on the first day of school was 55 under last year's figure in the grammar school while in the high school the enrollment beat last year's figure by 12. At the present time, however, the total enrollment is ahead of the same date last year.

UPSTAGE BABOON SCORNS OLD SOL'S HOTTEST DAYS

Even in monkeyland, education is accepted as something desirable, an advantage in life's struggle, but the animal men of the Al G. Barnes Circus, coming to Colorado, Saturday, October 5th, declare that it has been the ruination of "Anatole," one of the big show races, for education has made "Anatole" the most supercilious ape in all Simian history.

Anatole figures he knows more than any human that ever stepped on the Al G. Barnes lot, and this state of mind developed only after he had learned to wear clothes, smoke, ride ponies and use a knife and fork. So sure of his superior knowledge is this upstage chimpanzee that he will not accept any dictation from his trainers in the matter of what to wear in the seasons of the year. He will sport his cap and reefer on the warmest summer days, and he makes out that the sun's rays mean nothing to him. In this manner, he considers he is putting all the "fat headed" humans in their places. As for the performing lions, tigers, leopards, polar bears, pumas, grizzlies and liberty horses, "Anatole" merely tolerates them, for he considers them beneath his notice. Needless to say, the elephants, who really know more in a minute than "Anatole" does in a year, snort in derision whenever the opinionated ape swaggers by their picket line.

26TH YEAR—NUMBER 1

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1929

WHIPKEY PRINTING CO.

RECORD STARTS 24TH YEAR; STRUGGLES OF PAPER TOLD BY OWNER

F. B. Whipkey Gives History of Publishing Business in Colorado

3 PAPERS HERE IN 1905

Buildings Are Plentiful, But Owners Afraid Paper Couldn't Pay Rent

Yes, with this issue The Record is 23 years old. It has never missed an issue or been an hour late.

The Record was established by Mrs. T. A. Kindred (who now lives at Mexia) on September 1, 1905, a little four-column, four-page sheet, printed one page at a time on a foot-power job press in a little wooden shack located where the Klasy Kleeners are now located.

The Whipkeys having sold their newspaper at West, near Waco, came to Colorado early in October, 1905, looking for a paper location. We found here three papers: C. W. Simpson with the old Clipper; Tom Cooper with The News, and Mrs. Kindred with The Record. Neither one of them was making expenses and the newspaper cemetery of Colorado was full of monuments of past efforts in Colorado.

After a week's investigation, we bought Mrs. Kindred's Record. The office invoiced $495, and we paid her $1500 cash for it, shipped in a new office and located it in the old Masonic building now occupied by the Hicks Rubber Co.

At that time the town was unincorporated. The old court house was located on the extreme northeast corner of the present courthouse square. It was a monstrosity with a kind of Eiffel leaning tower that looked like an umbrella with the cover off. One of the first things advocated by The Record was a new court house and we succeeded. The company owns fifty stores in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico now. The Colorado store was opened last year.

MITCHELL COUNTY BE REPRESENTED AT MEDICO MEETING

Big Spring to Entertain Mid-West Texas Medical Association October 15-16

Mitchell county will be well represented at the meeting of the Mid-West Texas Medical association meeting at Big Spring October 15 and 16 according to Dr. P. C. Coleman, who says he will attend and that practically all members of the Mitchell county association will likely attend.

The Mid-West Texas association embraces territory from Taylor county west to Pecos and includes Fisher, Scurry, Borden and Dawson north of the Texas and Pacific and several counties along the road on either side.

Complete program for the meeting has been received here. The two days promise some very instructive and interesting events.

FIRST ISSUE HIGH SCHOOL PAPER OUT

The first issue of "The Howl," high school paper, for this year, came off the press Tuesday. The paper is a 5-column 4-page paper full of news stories of the school and is a creditable school paper.

LUNCHEON CLUB TO BACK PROGRAM FOR PAVING EXTENSION

Campaign to Extend Paving To Several Residence Sts. Talked Tuesday Noon

A campaign for extension of the paving program to several other streets in the residential section of Colorado is to be made, according to discussion heard at the Luncheon club Tuesday noon.

Col. C. M. Adams was called upon to talk on this subject, and he voiced sentiment of many when he said a campaign to extend the paving now in progress on Hickory street, to many other residential streets would be launched soon.

Plans now talked are that any section of the city that desires paving should get property owners to sign a petition to the city council asking for paving and the petitions will be considered in the order filed. Property owners should get together and circulate these petitions at once.

The paving on Hickory is being put down on a basis of the city paying for one-third and the property owner on each side paying for one-third. Figured out, this means the city is only paying for about enough to put down the street intersections, and, therefore, if the property owners are willing to pay their part, the city can participate in a big program of paving.

The club took no official action on the paving program other than discuss it. Those who wish paving on their street should see other property owners and start a petition, it was said.

Other clubs of the city are urged to take up this matter and discuss it. If the citizenship wants other paved streets, now is the time to act, we are told.

There is no question but that Colorado is behind in the matter of residence streets paved. Most every city in Texas the size of Colorado has many streets in residential section paved.

"If Colorado is to grow, we must put down more paving," Col. Adams said. "There is no better investment than in paving. Nothing else can help a town or city to grow as can paving, and I think a paving campaign should be launched at once."

Spade Ranch Ships 12 Cars Cattle Monday

The Spade ranch shipped seven cars of stock yearlings to the Spade pastures near Lubbock Monday, according to O. F. Jones, manager.

At the same time five cars of cows and two cars of calves went to the Fort Worth market.

Mr. Jones says ranges on the Spade are getting dry and that more rain is needed. The recent rains helped, but more moisture will be necessary to have a winter pasture, he says.

Brown Denies Owes State For Gasoline Taxes

Fred Brown, local man, who was mentioned in a suit filed by the attorney general's department at Austin Friday, in efforts to collect gasoline taxes, said Monday upon his return from Dallas that there was a mixup somewhere, because he did not owe the State for gasoline taxes as claimed in the suit.

"There is no foundation for the suit," Brown said. "I have invoices and receipts which show reports were made for all gasoline sold by me and I can show the department that I have reported all sales as required by law. I can prove there is nothing to the claim."

The attorney general's department also brought suit against the Big Spring Refinery and W. E. Gibson of Abilene. Gibson says he is working for the Cosden company and not for the Big Spring Refinery. He says he quit the Big Spring Refinery in May, but evidently the department thinks he is still with that concern.

Brown sold his filling station at Colorado several months ago to the Continental Oil Co., and it is thought the attorney general's department is under the impression he has been operating during that time and has charged him with the taxes on sales for that period.

STREET PAVING AND HIGHWAY GAP THEMES DISCUSSED BY CLUB

Splendid Program Tuesday Noon; Attendance Increases

Attendance at the Colorado Luncheon club showed an increase Tuesday noon while one of the best programs in the history of the club was enjoyed.

The principal themes discussed were additional street paving and the completion of the gap on the highway between Lone Wolf bridge and the eastern city limits. Information on both projects was sought by the club.

Bob Stubblefield, manager of the Acorn Store, presided. Miss Berryhill sang while Miss Beatrice Logan accompanied on the piano. This part of the program was highly appreciated. Dr. T. J. Ratliff gave an impromptu solo.

Dr. Stewart Browning refused to tell how he could retire with only four years' practice without even writing prescriptions.

John Summers was named last week to give a service talk or stunt. He did not show up Tuesday, but sent M. E. Carter who said he could not imitate Summers in eating or talking and therefore would not say anything.

Mayor Coffee and Judge C. H. Earnest told of the status of the gap on the highway and each advised "watchful waiting" on the part of our citizens.

Col. C. M. Adams urged a campaign for paving in the residential section.

E. D. Day of the Day Furniture Co. and J. W. Hill of the Star Cash Grocery, are new members, and Day was introduced.

Guests were Dr. R. D. Bridgford, Chester Jones, Charles Moeser, Jack Johnson of Baird, Mrs. L. Berryhill and members of the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce.

The program of the Luncheon club is to be in charge of the ministers of the town next Tuesday. Rev. Alex Hanson announced that the ministers would use the theme, "Cooperation."

PURE LINE SEED PRODUCES BETTER FOR 4-H CLUB BOY

Melvin Woods of Landers Makes 138 Pounds More With Pure Seed

Pure line maize seed again out-yielded other maize seed in Melvin Woods' 4-H Club demonstration at Landers. Melvin planted one-half acre with ear kind of seed, the pure seed making 2392 pounds per acre and the other seed 2254 pounds per acre—a difference of 138 pounds per acre in favor of the pure line seed.

Melvin's maize yields are exceptional for both plots were planted on June 1, and withstood the three months' dry weather.

Melvin's father, A. G. Woods, is selecting his next year's planting seed from the pure line seed.

120 MEN IN CHORUS AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH FOR FAREWELL SERVICE

Last Tribute Paid To Rev. A. E. Ewell, Retiring Pastor

CROWD IMMENSE

Building Overflowed; Special Music Arranged By Dr. Root

At least 120 men filled the choir loft at the First Christian church last Sunday night for the men's chorus arranged by Dr. C. L. Root for the final and farewell services held by Rev. A. E. Ewell, retiring pastor of the church. More men would have been in the chorus had there been room.

The church auditorium was filled and people stood at the back of the building and in front, and many who could not get close enough to see inside the building, sat in cars alongside the building in order to be able to hear the singing and the balance of the program.

This was indeed a remarkable audience. The special musical program arranged by Dr. Root and featured by the men's chorus, was splendid. The services throughout were wonderful, and this being the close of the labors of Rev. Ewell with the Colorado church made the services more impressive.

Practically every church in the city was represented by some members. The crowd began gathering by seven o'clock Sunday evening in response to written invitations mailed out by Dr. Root.

The First Christian church has had good attendance throughout the year but this was by far the largest audience ever gathered at this beautiful church building.

To go back to the beginning, Rev. Ewell in agreement with his congregation, began using their beautiful and commodious lawn between the church house and the parsonage nearly three months ago for the night services. Dr. C. L. Root undertook to put on a special musical program, each Sunday night. He called on his friends and soon these musical programs were made most attractive.

With special music and special sermons and the cool lawn, the audience grew until they filled the lawn and people parked around in their cars. Some thought that the audiences would fall off when the services were forced into the house by the weather. When it turned cool and the services were held in the church house the audiences continued and even increased.

A month ago Rev. Ewell announced that he would not let his name go before the church as pastor for the ensuing year and Dr. Root began preparation for the music for the last service of September, which would close the pastoral year. He had commenced with a single quartet and had made use of double, triple and quadruple quartets, and now he announced that on the night of the last service of the pastorate he would have a chorus of one hundred men as his choir as well as special numbers. The congregation hooted at him, as did his friends who sang, but he went ahead with his efforts. He saw men personally, wrote letters and phoned all over Mitchell county and into adjoining counties. Associated with him were faithful lieutenants who worked with him. He began to get his singers together and practice and Mr. J. L. Stagner was made director.

The following people aided with instruments at the services: Mrs. Bert Wulfjen and Miss Louise Hardison presided at the pianos; Mr. J. L. Pidgeon, the trombone; Mr. J. Lee Jones, the cornet; Marion Watson, the bass horn, and Don Taylor, the clarinet. These instruments in the service added greatly to the sweetness and power of the music.

Last Sunday there were people from Westbrook, Spade, Loraine, Dunn, Buford, Ira, Fairview, Cuthbert, Iatan, and other places in and out of the county. The Methodist pastor at Loraine, Rev. J. M. Cochran, gave away his services and came with his members, as did the Methodist and Baptist pastors at Westbrook. Rev. Leach, of all West Texas, was in the service, and of those living in the city of Colorado, Rev. Hinds, the Methodist pastor, and his congregation were in the service. Rev. Elliott, the Presbyterian pastor the dean of the preachers of this city, was also present with his congregation.

Though the people, even the singers themselves, had hooted at Dr. Root when he said he would have one hundred men in the chorus, yet by (Continued on Page Two)

Splendid Program Tuesday Noon; Attendance Increases

Attendance at the Colorado Luncheon club showed an increase Tuesday noon while one of the best programs in the history of the club was enjoyed.

The principal themes discussed were additional street paving and the completion of the gap on the highway between Lone Wolf bridge and the eastern city limits. Information on both projects was sought by the club.

Bob Stubblefield, manager of the Acorn Store, presided. Miss Berryhill sang while Miss Beatrice Logan accompanied on the piano. This part of the program was highly appreciated. Dr. T. J. Ratliff gave an impromptu solo.

Dr. Stewart Browning refused to tell how he could retire with only four years' practice without even writing prescriptions.

John Summers was named last week to give a service talk or stunt. He did not show up Tuesday, but sent M. E. Carter who said he could not imitate Summers in eating or talking and therefore would not say anything.

Mayor Coffee and Judge C. H. Earnest told of the status of the gap on the highway and each advised "watchful waiting" on the part of our citizens.

Col. C. M. Adams urged a campaign for paving in the residential section.

E. D. Day of the Day Furniture Co. and J. W. Hill of the Star Cash Grocery, are new members, and Day was introduced.

Guests were Dr. R. D. Bridgford, Chester Jones, Charles Moeser, Jack Johnson of Baird, Mrs. L. Berryhill and members of the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce.

The program of the Luncheon club is to be in charge of the ministers of the town next Tuesday. Rev. Alex Hanson announced that the ministers would use the theme, "Cooperation."

PURE LINE SEED PRODUCES BETTER FOR 4-H CLUB BOY

Melvin Woods of Landers Makes 138 Pounds More With Pure Seed

Pure line maize seed again out-yielded other maize seed in Melvin Woods' 4-H Club demonstration at Landers. Melvin planted one-half acre with ear kind of seed, the pure seed making 2392 pounds per acre and the other seed 2254 pounds per acre—a difference of 138 pounds per acre in favor of the pure line seed.

Melvin's maize yields are exceptional for both plots were planted on June 1, and withstood the three months' dry weather.

Melvin's father, A. G. Woods, is selecting his next year's planting seed from the pure line seed.

120 MEN IN CHORUS AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

actual count there were 120, and it is estimated that at least one hundred and thirty more tried to get into the choir but failed because of lack of room. Some have estimated the number of people at this service—inside and outside the house—as more than 1500, and others have estimated it as more than 2000. Many came and went away because the crowd was so great that they could not get in.

The service began by singing the hymn, "Amazing Grace." Sam Smith lined it out and led it as they did in pioneer days. The congregation joined in with such heartiness that there was a mighty burst of harmony which reminded one of the old-time, fervent camp-meeting singing. Following this, Dr. Elliott of the Presbyterian church led the opening prayer. Then the Redwine children, the daughters of E. W. Redwine, sang several duets and were accompanied by their brother on the guitar. These children are quite small but have remarkably strong and musical voices and the audience encored them most enthusiastically until, for lack of time on account of the long program, they refused to sing more. The remainder of the musical program consisted of a solo by Sam Smith, the music being written by Mr. Smith and the words were an adaptation of the Scripture as found in John 3:16, which elicited great applause. Mrs. Berryhill sang a solo in her usual beautiful manner. Dr. Root sang a solo in which the male choir joined him in the chorus. It was most effective. A quartet composed of the Stagners, father and son, Claude Womack and Mr. E. E. Stapp, sang and were encored most heartily, but did not respond because of lack of time.

The other music was furnished by the whole chorus. They sang most effectively many old, stately hymns and some anthems. There was a thrill in hearing so many male voices sing those hymns. It was one of the most touching and stirring things to hear them sing an anthem like, "Hail, Immanuel," and others of equal power. This service of song will never be forgotten by the music lovers of the city and presages other greater things in that line for the future. Much credit for this program is due to Mr. Stagner, who was the director of the chorus. Rev. Ewell remarked that Mr. Stagner should be kept busy all of the time in this kind of work.

Rev. Ewell preached from the last clause of the 5th verse of the 19th chapter of John, using the words of the text, "Behold the man," the words of Pontius Pilate to the mob demanding the crucifixion of Jesus, he discussed how we should see Jesus: Must see Him as a human, as a great teacher, as a cosmopolitan character belonging to no age or clime or race, but to all, as Diety in human form, as a Messiah, and more, a Savior who on Calvary's Cross made an atonement for us as a risen as well as crucified Savior and consequently a Lord who has all authority and who most commands our lives and, last of all, as our final Judge after the resurrection. Trough the people had been held more than an hour and a half by the music, they were wonderfully quiet and attentive during the sermon. After the benediction by Rev. Ewell, the whole audience sang, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and that concluded the service.

To a reporter for The Record, Dr. Root said that he was exceedingly grateful to all for the aid he had received in the service, and publicly he said that he thought this but the beginning of what the men of this community could do through music for religion and that he personally would gladly work with any man of any communion to advance the kingdom of God. He gave a most forceful illustration of how all could work together as one and what could be done. He said if all men were made into one big man, all hills made into one big rock, all rivers into one big river, and that big man rolled that big rock down that big hill into that big river, what a big splash it would make. All standing together as one man can indeed splash for the kingdom of God. But Dr. Root's friends think no one but he in all the country could have secured such a large chorus of men.

The writer has been reliably informed by one of the leading members of this congregation that during Rev. A. E. Ewell's pastorate (two years) there have been about 100 additions to the church membership, and that the financial condition of the church has been wonderfully bettered. Both Brother and Sister Ewell have closely endeared and ingratiated themselves into the favor and love of their church membership and acquaintances in full. Brother Ewell has proved himself a Biblical scholar, a profound thinker, a gifted Gospel preacher, and a speaker on most any subject of no mean ability. While it has not been affirmed by him, yet it is generally understood among his friends that he resigned his post as pastor here, in order to answer to call of evangelical work, in which field he realizes and appreciates greater opportunities. "I hate to go and leave my many good and dear friends in this little town of marvelous opportunities. However, I feel it's God's call, so I leave, but as Robert E. Lee said, "With the sweet peace that proceeds from the consciousness of duty faithfully performed," were his good-by words.

HYMAN HAPPENINGS

The opening of school at Hyman has been postponed until Monday, October 14. This was considered best in order that cotton picking might be completed as nearly as possible. Crops are short and it is thought best that every dollar that can be saved in gathering should be saved.

During the past two weeks Commissioner Van Zandt has been doing some splendid work with the county's big grader on the roads centering at Hyman. Seven miles of roads have been graded and the improved appearance adds much to the looks of the settlement. Some of these roads had been laned and used as roads for a number of years without any work on them and they were getting in bad shape. Mrs. Hyman recently deeded the entire seven miles to the county for public road purposes and the grading followed. The community feels indebted to Mrs. Hyman for the roads and to Mr. Van Zandt for improving them.

Baptists of the Hyman community will, it is understood, build in the near future a church here. Mrs. Harry Hyman has agreed to donate a site for the building, and a sum of money has been raised to build it. It will add to the appearance of the community and is of importance as showing the confidence the people here have in the future of the settlement.

The crops here are disappointing. Rains were late, and deficient when they came. Following last year's short crop, caused by too much rain and the boll worms which followed, and the drought of the preceding year and the destructive hail of the year before, the result has been disastrous, disastrous, catastrophic, as well as cataclysmatic, if you know what we mean. So much so that some of the weaker knees and less abiding faith are moving out, seeking greener fields and newer pastures over the next divide; fields and pastures which from this prospective seem full of promise. The fact that those who have the past year or two are drifting back, reporting little success in the perennial effort to put all th coons up one tree, seems to contain no lesson for them. However, the majority seem to recognize the fact that the law of average has not been repealed and is still operative; that the pendulum which swings one way invariably swings back, and that the man who sticks, and struggles while he sticks, is in the end the man who owns the country to which he sticks.

More terracing will be done here this year than ever before, and more diversification will be followed. All those whose eyes have been open and whose brains have been alert have found that even in a year of as small rainfall as this, that the man who has, by deep breaking and contour farming, held that moisture in his soil instead of letting it run off and is the man who has received prompt and substantial dividends on his work. They have found, too, that the man who goes to town with a load and comes back without one during other seasons of the year as well as cotton picking time is the man who meets his Land Bank payment and his interest and his taxes without having to borrow money. They have learned that this land, in common with all land everywhere, grows tired of raising cotton year after year, and does better after a change to maize or hegari or cane, or something that will feed a horse or cow, sheep, hog or a turkey.

A number of new families are expected to move into the settlement during the next few months and all gaps made by those moving out will be filled up.

Mrs. Hyman is drilling wells to provide water for some of her farms, and the drilling will be continued until all are provided for. She also expects to build several new houses for tenants, as some of her farms are too large to be profitably operated by one family.

The oil situation at Hyman has, in common with the oil situation elsewhere, been somewhat quiet of late. However, there are signs of an improvement. The two wells recently brought in on Mrs. Hyman's land—one by the Magnolia and the other by the McGinley-Sigler Company, have proved conclusively the existence of an oil pool at our door. The fact that Mrs. Hyman is leasing her Hayrick pasture to Owen & Sloan took the precaution to provide in the lease that each of the twenty sections covered by that lease should be a separate entity, and should pay rental or produce or forfeit during the five years, and should produce or forfeit at the end of the five years, will prevent this acreage from being held dormant by the two little wells so far drilled on it after the five years have elapsed; and the fact that less than eight months of that five years remain will compel the development or the forfeiture of this acreage in the near future. The fact that every one of the 18 or 20 major oil companies holding leases in this pasture have zealously guarded their leases for the full five years, not indicating an acre to lapse, does not indicate that they desire a forfeiture. The fact that a new well, a deep one, in a brand new producing sand, has just been brought in just west of these leases is believed to show that deep oil, as well as shallow oil, underlies at least a part of this territory.

Gibson & Johnson have commenced drilling a well on land belonging to John Scott, a few miles east of Hyman. This company is under contract to drill at least three wells there, on land belonging to John and Bob Scott.

Mrs. Harry Hyman is on an extended visit to some of the Eastern states. At present she is in Huntington, West Va., where she expects to be for several weeks. After that she will spend a good deal of time in Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and N. Carolina, doing research genealogical work, in which she is much interested. Mr. Hyman, who accompanied her to Huntington, returned here several days ago and is expected to be here for some time.

This community was shocked and saddened Thursday of last week by the news that Mr. Chas. Hunt had been found dead in his home at Colorado. Dad Hunt, as he was affectionately known to his neighbors here, was the first man to break soil in this community when Mrs. Hyman put this land on the market seven years ago. Since that time he had left the community twice, each time to return. He had recently left here and located in Colorado, thinking it might be better for him to be on a smaller place, nearer a market and where work would not be so hard. He had already repented of the change, however, and had arranged to rent from Mrs. Hyman a farm for the coming year. Dad Hunt was more or less a man of mystery to us here. He was about 70 years old, and so far as any of us here know, he had not a relative in the world. He was a good farmer, a trustworthy man, but, poor old lonely fellow, he died as he had lived, alone. He was laid to rest in a churchyard here just as the sun went down last Friday.

It is reported that on last Thursday Mrs. Lizzie Locklear and Mr. Carl Jones were married at Forsan, and that they have gone to Burk Burnett on a wedding trip. Mrs. Locklear was one of the earliest settlers here. She has several times left the community, but each time has returned. Mr. Jones is one of the latest arrivals, having moved here from Quitaque last spring.

HE DIED, TOO

Doyle Williams, the agricultural teacher in Colorado high school, was called recently to give assistance to a sick horse. After ascertaining the symptoms, and remembering that W. S. Foster, county agent, had said something about a similar case, Williams phoned to Foster, with the following query: "Say, what did you say you did for the sick horse you treated the other day?" Whereupon Foster advised him and Williams hurried to the scene again. After quick treatment, Williams rushed back to town, called Foster and said: "Say, Foster, didn't you say you gave that horse one quart of turpentine?"

"Well," Williams exclaimed, "I gave him the turpentine, but he died."

"So did the one I gave it to," Foster said.

And Williams went back to work.

HELD HOT POLITICS

Senator George of Georgia is up in arms over the error made by the Bureau of Census in reporting cotton ginned up to Sept. 16. The bureau made an error of 300,000 bales in the figures for Georgia ginnings, indicating that State would make a big yield this year. The error was discovered "about one hour after the cotton market closed," the price having slumped about 30 points on the strength of the report. Senator George said:

HELD HOT POLITICS

"The effect of the error was seen later Monday in the steady depreciation of cotton prices, the general market showing a decline of 25 points after the report was issued." The report issued two weeks previous showed an error that cost the farmers of the South thousands of dollars. That report showed a gain since August 1st of 300,000 acres in cotton in Oklahoma, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana, and resulted in a decline in prices. This error in ginnings coming on the heels of the other in acreage looks mighty like some clerk in the office of the Census Bureau needs firing for incompetency if not for disloyalty.

HELD HOT POLITICS

"Revised figures on Georgia issued late Monday showed 427,988 bales for that State instead of 727,988; while the total ginnings were thereby reduced by the same number of bales to a total of 3,353,038 instead of 3,653,038, as given in the first report."

WHAT, AGAIN?

(From El Paso Post) Just as we were being led to believe that Rep. Claude Hudspeth was a sick man, too sick to run for office or dabble in politics further, along comes a statement from him frowning upon the candidacy of Mayor R. E. Thomason and attempting to drop the Hudspeth mantle about the shoulders of C. C. Belcher of Del Rio.

WHAT, AGAIN?

The statement was carefully planned for release simultaneously with Belcher's announcement for representation from the 16th district. Hudspeth's action was not surprising, however, for it's not the first time he has volunteered such free advice.

WHAT, AGAIN?

He traveled all the way back from Washington three years ago, for example, to oppose Thomason for mayor; but the people of El Paso rejected his advice with the most overwhelming majority they'd ever given a mayor.

WHAT, AGAIN?

There's no particular reason, so far as the Post can see, why the people should consider any more seriously this third presentation of the congressman's political dope sheet.

WHAT, AGAIN?

As a youngster in Mississippi when passing a spot where a foul murder was once committed, to talk about ghosts would make our hair stand straight up. But when "Dad" was talking sensible, acting sensible and frowning upon any reference to a ghost there was no fear in passing this haunted spot.

WHAT, AGAIN?

"Dads" who know how to dispel the foolish fear of the ghost frightened voter who mistakes excitement for judgment and insists upon continually acting foolish.

WHAT, AGAIN?

Surely we have had enough "Red Hot" politics and political ghosts to run us ragged when there is pleasure and profit in keeping cool, acting sensible and voting our judgment rather than our excited prejudice.

Texans Learn Must Diversify With Farming

By Victor H. Schoffelmayer
 Agricultural Editor of The News
 The short cotton crop in Texas is awakening interest among farmers in balanced farming on a larger scale than in the past. While the full business conditions in the rural sections of the State are fair to good, with here and there some poor spots due largely to one-cropping of cotton, there is need for greater effort toward balanced farming which will include live stock to which home-grown feeds can be fed.

A survey made by The Dallas News while not complete, gives a fair index to conditions. The accompanying map shows the progress being made in the expanding of beef cattle feeding, hog raising and production of poultry and dairy products. If these intentions are carried out Texas will reach a greater degree of prosperity.

The recent organization of the Texas Feeder Breeder Association marks a step in the right direction and will succeed wherever farmers become interested in the production of feeding or beef animals. The map shows that this interest is growing in the black land counties, which raised cotton extensively in past years to the exclusion of live stock. The pendulum is swinging back, as it always has done when economic needs change the attitude of farmers, bankers and land owners.

Dairy farming and poultry raising is expanding satisfactorily. Counties in all sections of Texas report progress in these industries. This insures a better living on the farm. It also assures more frequent cash, but behind it all there must be a will to get away from cotton domination and to turn to the raising of the necessary feed and grain crops and develop better pastures.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

AN EXPERIENCE AT LEVINE BROTHERS STORE

To The Record:
 Last Saturday the good wife and I decided to visit and trade some at the Levine Bros. store. After pushing and crowding on the sidewalk for some time, we finally crowded in amidst the rush and push past the 25 salespeople all waiting on three to four people at one time. Finally, I decided to get out, one fellow elbowing you in the stomach and another jobbing you in the back and the floor manager hollering at the salespeople, "Step lively, please," until you wanted to hit him in the face with a banana. I felt like a refugee driven by the Cossacks. No, I didn't feel that human. I felt like I was one of a bunch of steers driven down the runway to the slaughter house. God, what a store—luxury, gold, noise and confusion—but they sold the goods, sold 'em cheap, and everybody was pleased and happy.

SPELLS OF BACKACHE

"I HAVE used Cardui at intervals for sixteen years, when I suffered from weakness, and it always helped me," says Mrs. J. W. Jimright, R. F. D. 2, Troy, Ala.

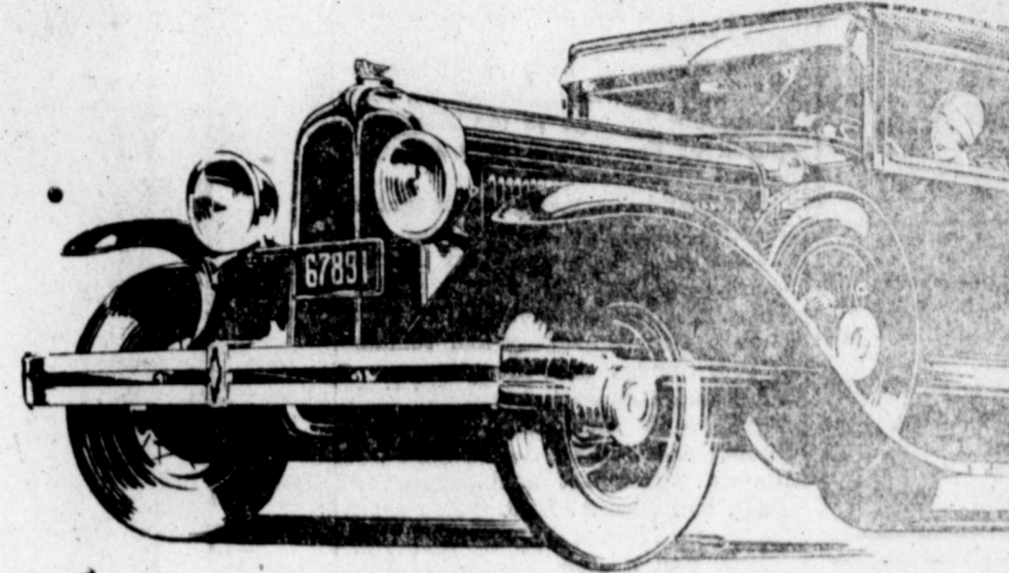

"Mostly I was afflicted with bad spells of backache. At times I felt as if my back would break. I would drag one foot after the other, in a helpless sort of a way, and once I got down in bed. My husband urged me to take Cardui, and I soon found what a fine medicine it really was."

"When my second child was little, I was in very bad health. I did not pick up as I should have. I was weak and sickly. I do not believe that I would have come through, but for Cardui."

FAME OF SARGON NOW SPREADS OVER NATION

When Sargon was first given to the world, well known authorities predicted it would become one of the great outstanding health-giving remedies of the age, but the men of science who labored for years to perfect it little dreamed it would become a household word in so short a time.

According to the statements of people everywhere who have actually put it to the test, it is restoring literally hundreds of thousands of weak, run-down, half-sick, discouraged men and women by some of the latest and most advanced methods known to medical science.

The demand for Sargon is probably without parallel in the history of the drug trade. In the State of California alone, it will require over one million bottles to supply the people of California during the first twelve months after it was placed on sale.

One big New York firm, with wholesale houses in leading cities, has sold an distributed 908,184 bottles in the past eight months, or at the rate of one million and a quarter bottles per year.

Kansas City wholesale and retail firms have sold and distributed over 300,000 bottles within 12 months, or an average of almost one bottle for every family in the State of Kansas.

Texas dealers required nine carloads the first four months. In the Northwest, the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul have been selling at the rate of over $100,000 per year, to say nothing of the immense wholesale distribution. Sales in other sections have been correspondingly large.

Back of Sargon's triumph in the drug stores is Sargon's triumph in the homes. When a suffering man or woman finds a medicine that helps them, they invariably tell their friends about it, and in this way the fame of Sargon is spreading from coast to coast, sweeping the country like a great tidal wave.

No matter where you go—North, East, South or West—Sargon is bringing health to thousands, and many foreign countries are now clamoring for it.

Westbrook Baptist Notes

Members of the Methodist Missionary society were guests of the Baptist W. M. U. at a fifth Monday meeting at the Baptist church. The church was decorated with pot plants and the W. M. U. colors of lavender and white. The meeting was opened by singing, "Blest Be the Tie," after which Mother Rowland led in prayer. Mrs. McDermott welcomed the ladies in her most lovely and gracious manner. Mrs. E. L. Naugle gave the devotional on "Fellowship."

of the work of the early women of the churches, using the song "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" as an illustration. She told of how a few had a first worked so faithfully to carry on the work before there had been any organized societies; how the societies had grown in numbers, and how our hearts had been bound together in that sweet Christian love.

Mrs. Lee Brown gave a beautiful piano solo. Mrs. Sidney Watson gave the reading, "When Some One Really Cares." Mrs. Nawl Boatler and Miss Lillian Smith sang "The Guiding Hand." Mrs. Donelson led the dismissal prayer.

After playing games and enjoying a good time, Mrs. Bell assisted by her little daughter, Ola, served lemonade and cake. Sunday morning was Promotion day in Sunday school for quite a number of little boys and girls. After a program of song and prayer by the beginners, primaries and juniors, each child was presented with a pretty little certificate.

The W. M. U. meets at the church Monday morning for an all-day institute of the W. M. U. manual.

Uncle John Moor had a livery stable where Broadus & Son are now located. Col. C. M. Adams' dry goods store was in the Colorado Drug Co. building. Burns & Bell had a large grocery store in the Jones Dry Goods building. Boss Brothers—John and Will—were together in the W. L. Doss building. The old city hall and fire station (an old two-story wooden structure) stood on the present Piggy Wiggly stand, and by the way, it was the only structure on that block except Burton-Lingo Co.

An old delapidated gin stood where the city hall now stands. A small residence was where the Bircroft hotel now stands. The entire north half of the block north of Burns' store (now Grissoms) was a sunken lake and the writer at one time rowed a small boat over it. The Colorado National Bank corner was a row of small shacks, Jim Cooper's blacksmith shop occupied the Acorn Store site. The block where The Record office is now was occupied by the Western Windmill Co., in an old sheet-iron building, managed by John T. Johnson, who afterwards moved to Sweetwater, but who is now dead.

Among the leading business men at that time, we remember J. E. Hooper, W. K. Homan, S. T. Shropshire, Cal DeMoss, W. R. Warren, James L. Shepherd, Felix G. Thurmond, Jake McCall, H. B. Smoot, W. J. Hatch, W. B. Crockett, Andrew Cooksey, A. J. Cox, M. Carter, J. W. Nunn, John Vaughan, Frank Johnson, C. C. Blanford, Samuel Gustine, C. A. Goodwin, D. G. Fields, and many others, of course, including all old-timers who are still here.

We shipped in the office, but the reputation of all the past Colorado newspaper men was so bad—they could not pay grocery bills or house rent—we had a hard time getting located. Judge J. E. Hooper was Master of the Masonic lodge and had the renting of that building, then vacant, but would not rent it for a printing office because they could not pay the rent. We finally rented it for $25 a month and in order to get it we paid one year in advance. The same condition prevailed when it came to renting residences, and to overcome this we prevailed on Gus Bertner to build us the two houses just west of the Baptist church and paid a year's rent—$12.50 per month—in advance.

We moved in, A. L. and F. B. (Walter was then a Fish in A. & M.) and worked 16 to 18 hours a day. We brought with us Dr. A. H. Weston as editor, and J. A. Fore, one of the best hand-set printers in Texas. Mr. Fore afterwards became city secretary and started an opposition paper. The Record was afterwards enlarged to eight-page, six-columns and boosted, boasted and lied week in and year in for Colorado, and in a little more than a year had, in newspaper parlance, all our competitors' hides hanging on the back fence.

At that time the county officers were: W. B. Crockett, county judge; G. B. Harness, county attorney; Andrew Cooksey, sheriff; C. C. Blanford, tax assessor; Samuel Gustine, county treasurer; and Earl Morrison, county clerk.

A. L. Whipkey and the writer worked day and night with inadequate equipment, crudest kind of machinery, living on cheese and crackers until we got The Record on at least a living basis. We began and worked unceasingly for incorporation of the town, and finally, in January, 1907, the election carried and the following first city officers were installed: W. K. Homan, mayor; J. A. Fore, city secretary; H. L. Ransom, city marshal; John T. Johnson, F. M. Burns, W. H. Moeser, M. C. Knott, and J. E. Pond, aldermen.

At this time we had no stock law, and cattle in great herds roamed the streets, eating the farmers' produce from the wagons. The Record advocated and worked all the time to put the stock up and had to have three elections before it ever carried. I remember well Captain Jeffress fighting vigorously all the time for the cows' liberty. We agitated the location of an oil mill and compress here and finally succeeded, and ever since John and Jim Guitar are the best friends The Record has.

Time went on and The Record boosted for a Chamber of Commerce, boosted for the schools, for a city park, for civic improvement, for the churches and lodges, and the agricultural interests of the county until in 1915, when the Western Mindmill Company burned out, we bought this block for $1500, erected the present Record building for a little less than $4000, and in 1917 moved in, having stayed in the Masonic building 12 years and paying them about $5,000 rent (they bought the building for $3,000).

In 1912 we bought the first Linotype machine west of Abilene. In 1925 we bought the first Duplex press west of Abilene.

Walter Whipkey came back from Paris, Texas, about six years ago and about four years ago we bought the interest of A. L. Whipkey, who retired from active work in the newspaper business. Since that time The Record has been owned by F. B. Whipkey and son, Walter.

The Record now has one of the best equipped and largest plants in the West, with a weekly payroll of $400, and eleven families are dependent on the paper's success.

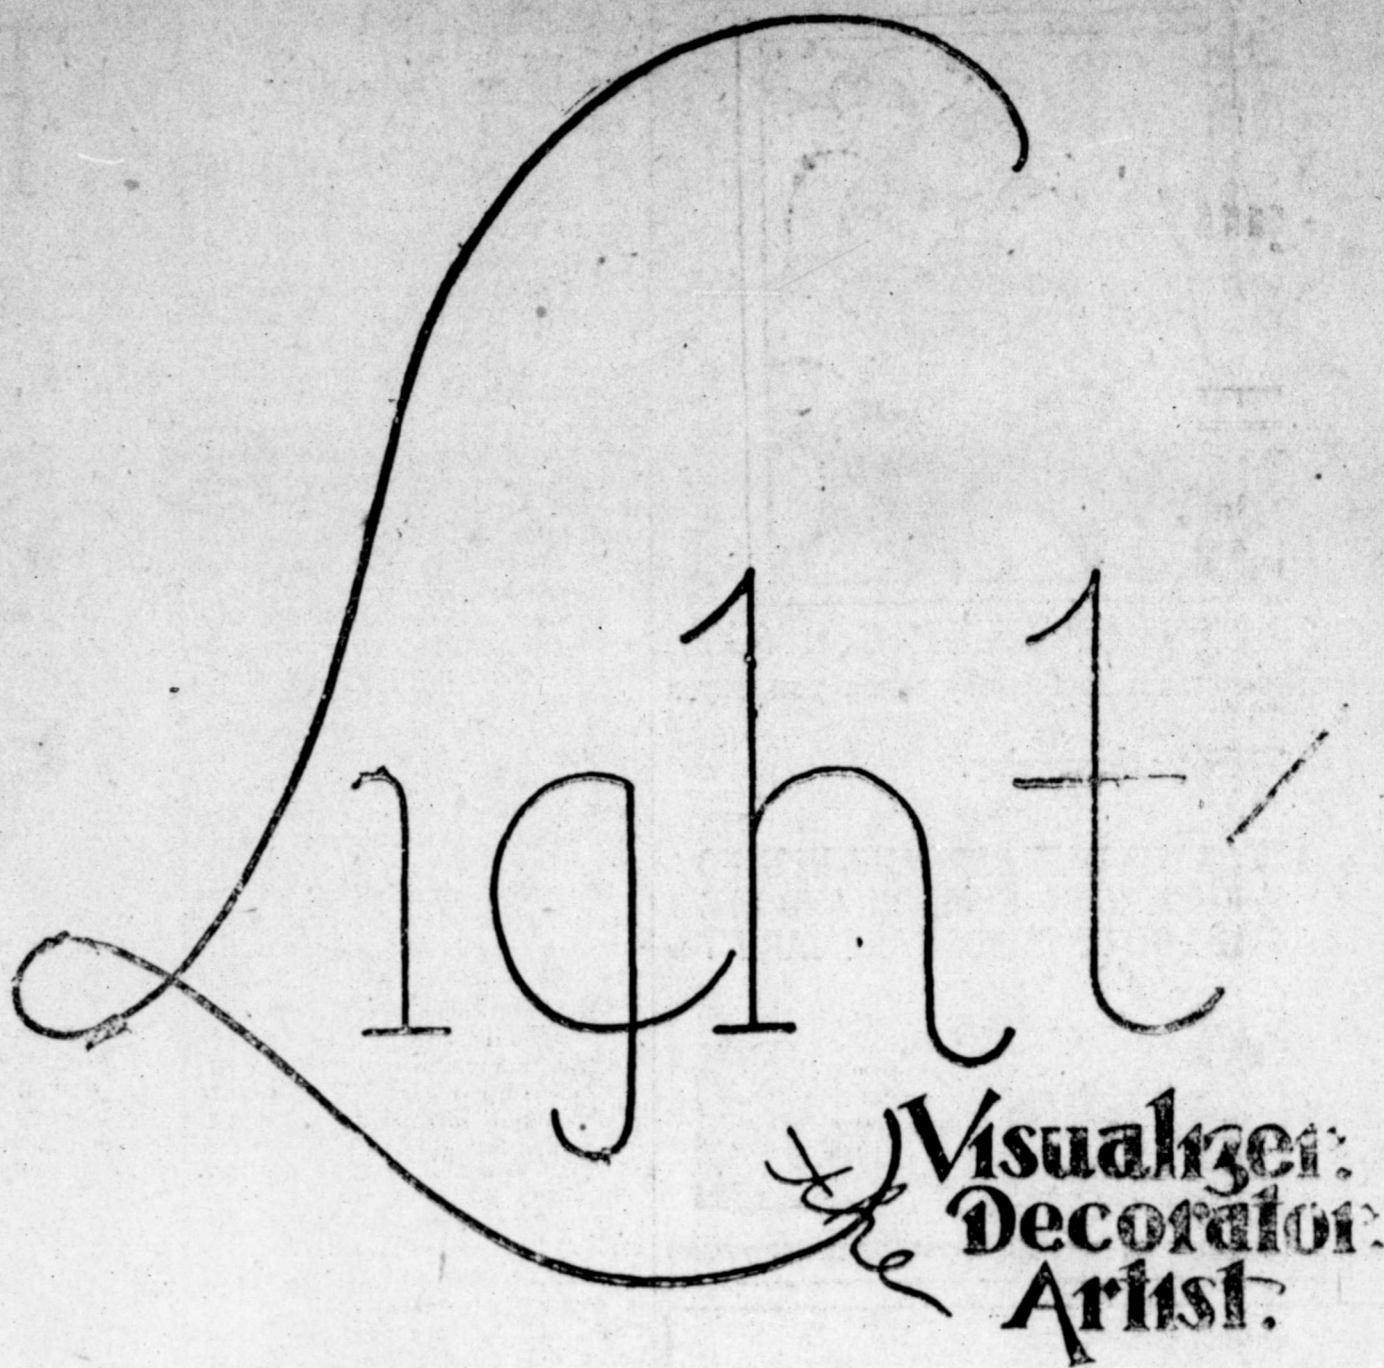

Yes, The Record is 23 years old and firmly established, doing an annual gross business of about $35,000. We have a sworn circulation of 2275 and over 500 of these loyal and true friends began with the first issue, for all of which we are truly and gratefully thankful.

F. B. WHIPKEY.

Possibly the greatest contribution which has been made to modern civilization is the electric light. It has turned night into day, increased the efficiency of man's work, made possible comfortable and healthful hours of reading as far into the night as man has felt the urge to follow his studies or his pleasures.

The modern Texas home is a palace of light. Through the use of proper light the simplest home becomes a shrine of beauty. Light is a decorator and an artist.

The home with light, properly located and rightly diffused, is made comfortable, healthful and beautiful with very little expense. Simple furnishings, simple decorations take on new qualities when given the proper lighting background.

The Texas Electric Service Company has made a special study of lighting for the modern home and would be glad to work with you in giving your home the best possible lighting arrangement at the lowest possible cost.

When you have really given serious thought to the lighting possibilities of your home you will be delighted with the changes that can be economically made.

SAVE? Why not spend it while you have it? The answers are to be found in the personal histories of the folk who succeed and those who fail. Monied men almost without exception have built the nucleus of their fortunes by steadily feeding a savings account. And it is a safe bet that Mr. Down-and-outer isn't the sort who saved when he was earning. Yes, save!
