1921 Club Religious Program

The 1921 Club had a beautiful and inspirational religious program last Friday afternoon in the reception room of the First Christian church. This was the club's first program of this kind, but it proved so very interesting and instructive that it will no doubt become an annual affair.

The special guests upon this occasion were the pastors and their wives, the shut-ins and old mothers of the community, but on account of the bad weather and sickness, quite a number who were invited were unable to attend. Those who were present declared the absent ones sure missed a treat.

The president, Mrs. J. M. Doss, presided. The meeting opened with a prayer by Rev. A. E. Ewell. Carrying out the theme of the program, roll call was responded to by quotations from the Psalms, all visitors responding to this. With Mrs. Toler at the piano, "More Love to Thee" was sung.

Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of Methodist church, gave a splendid talk, his subject being an interpretation of the 23rd Psalm. He first called attention to the positive note of the Psalm, and then to its two divisions.

Mrs. H. B. Broadbuss' paper, short sketch of some of our best religious song writers, was a sermon in itself. It showed much thought and study. Mrs. Toler then played and the audience sang "I Love to Tell the Story."

Mrs. McCleary delighted the audience with the reading of her original poem, "Apostasy." Rev. A. E. Ewell gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "The Bible as Literature," stressing the fact that the Bible is a divinely inspired book.

Mrs. Toler played a measure or two of ten old-time religious songs and the audience was asked to give their names. The guests proved more capable in this contest than the younger club members.

Delicious refreshments of chicken salad, potato chips, olives, pickles, wafers and coffee were served.

Little Janie Lee White, pupil in primary room who took ill at school a week ago last Monday, is now well on the road to recovery. She was seriously ill for a few days with pneumonia.

The P. T. A. met Tuesday of last week at 7:30 p. m. An interesting program was rendered by the Dramatic club. Business was attended to and plans for helping out the school were discussed. We secured six new subscriptions to McCall's Magazine. This will help in getting things we need for the school. We wish to thank each parent who gave us a subscription.

Charlie Northcutt, who started feeding a baby beef calf in the 4-H Club contest about two weeks ago, is grooming his calf to make a good show animal when the contest closes next spring. The calf's horns were growing a little too straight, so he took the nuts off some large bolts and screwed them on each horn, and now the weight of the nuts is making the horns turn down.

R. A. Hood, Charlie Jarnigan and A. R. Northcutt shipped cattle in the Shipping Association car Wednesday.

Cochran delivered another helpful sermon to our ever eager and hungry souls, choosing his subject from three verses in the first chapter of James: "To look into the perfect law of God and find ourselves then be not only hearers of the Word but doers, and continue therein overcoming the daily temptations and pitfalls that lurk along the pathway. This would finally develop our lives into strong Christian character. he can make money by exchanging his seed for meal and hulls rather than feed his seed. The three chief feed requirements for an animal are Protein, Carbohydrates, and Fats; the protein being the most expensive of the three. The farmer of the south is rather fortunate in having fairly cheap high protein feed in cottonseed meal. All animals regardless of their ages require a certain amount of digestible crude protein for growth and development, therefore this should be furnished as cheaply as possible to increase the profit of feeding livestock. "The average farmer cannot understand why cottonseed is not equal to cottonseed meal in feeding value. This is easily understood if the farmer will compare the analysis of the two. It takes three pounds of cottonseed to equal one pound of cottonseed meal in digestible crude protein; thus with the present prices of the two it takes 4 1/2 cents worth of cottonseed to equal 2 1/4 cents worth of cottonseed meal. Again it takes two pounds of cottonseed to equal one pound of grain sorghums. Then the excess oil will cause the animal to scour when sufficient amount of seed is fed to furnish enough bulk for its carbohydrates and protein requirements. "Results of several mills figures show there is a loss of 5 per cent in trash and mote in each ton of cottonseed, 7 per cent loss in linters that have no feeding value making a total of 12 per cent loss in each ton. In addition to the above loss there is a 15 per cent oil content in cottonseed of which cattle utilize properly making approximately 20 per cent or 400 pounds loss in each ton of cottonseed feed. "This article was not written to advertise any manufacturer of cottonseed meal or to criticize any farmer's feeding practices. I do have one objective for writing it, however, and that is to try to help the farmer who makes the feeding of an excessive amount of cottonseed a practice, see the disadvantages of such practices."

Books of Really New Fiction Are Added to Library A group of fiction which includes several books which are really new has been added to the shelves of the Colorado Library to supply members of the library with up to date and interesting stories during the long winter evenings which are now upon us. Among these is "October's Child," by Donald Joseph, which has been requested by several Coloradans. It is one of the most popular of the recent books. Other really new books in the group are: "The Crippled Lady of Peribonka," by James Oliver Curwood, published since his death; "The Listening Post," by Grace S. Richmond; "Burning Beauty," Temple Bailey's latest; and "Rhinestones," by the ever-entertaining Margaret Wildemer. Two works of fiction written especially for boys are among the new books. One is "Jerry Todd and the Bobtailed Elephant," by Leo Ed-wards, and the other is "Don Sturdy in Lion Land," by Victor Appleton. The following other books are in the new group: "Lookout Girl," by Alice Ross Colver; "Painters of Dreams," Elizabeth S. Payne; "Beauty and the Beast," Kathleen Norris; "Heartsong," Elizabeth S. Payne; "Jim, The Courageous," Peter B. Kyne; "More Than Wife," Margaret Wildemer. These four books have been ordered by the librarian, Mrs. Boyd Dozier, and will be placed in circulation as soon as received: "Dianna of Kern Kara," Edgar Wallace; "Dark Road," Harold Bindloss; "Shoddy," Dan Brimmitt; "Gentlemen March," Roland Pertwee. WILLIAMS SAYS MEAL IS MUCH BETTER FEED THAN RAW COTTONSEED "Ag" Instructor Shows Even At Low Price Pays To Exchange Seed Doyle Williams, instructor of vocational agriculture in Colorado high school, and a graduate of A. & M. college, has just issued a timely article on the comparative value of raw cottonseed and cottonseed meal as a feed. He says even at the present low prices of cottonseed and relative high price of cottonseed meal, the latter is the cheaper in the long run. The article by Williams follows: "The present spread between the price of cottonseed and cottonseed meal has caused many farmers to keep their seed instead of exchanging for meal and hulls; many farmers have asked me the cause of this vast difference. "One writer has said, 'all persons know that the spread is due to the low oil content and the linter market, against a fairly good meal market. I believe I will be able to show the farmer why in spite of the spread that day visiting her parents at Trent. RANDOLPH COLLEGE GLEE CLUB CONCERT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

 32 Mixed Voices in Fine Program At Christian Church Here

On a week's concert tour of West Texas cities, the Randolph College Glee club of Cisco presented a wonderful concert at the First Christian church of Colorado Wednesday night.

Opera selections, folk songs, favorite hymns and old Southern melodies comprised the program, which was well attended.

Miss Elsie Glenn, reader, gave a series of selections and Thomas A. Reed, club director and head of the college voice department, sang "Home Sweet Home," by request.

A number entitled, "Fifteen Minutes of College Life," provided a humorous interval between the main divisions of the concert.

Among the selections given were Carry Me Back to Ole Virginia, On the Road to Mandalay, Old Black Joe, Swing Low Sweet Chariot, the Anvil Chorus, King of Love, My Shepherd

Is, Hark, Hark my Soul, and others.

The club gave a concert Tuesday night at Sweetwater, and will give a concert tonight at Big Spring, and Friday night at Midland.

One of the club members was Miss Beola Kirby, who is attending Randolph College from Colorado.

A silver offering was received at the close of the concert. No admission was charged.

MAY CHANGE NAME OF STORE

Ralph Lee is authority for the statement that J. W. Randle is considering changing the name of the Piggly Wiggly store since last Friday.

On that date a fine girl came to the Randle home and now Randle wants to change the name of his store to Hoggy Woggy, Lee says.

A. C. Connot says Randle parked his car behind the hospital for the first three days he went up there, afraid somebody would recognize the machine. The nurse refuses to be quoted on what Bill said and how he acted when the stork left the pretty youngster. Lions club members say that if he is able to be out now, he won't be after the club meeting Friday. (Note to nurse: Don't let Mrs. Randle see this.)

Don't fail to see the paper next week about the good seed movement.

Second Play By Home Talent Organization Is Real Western Comedy

On Friday night, December 20, the Tiny Theatre Players, home talent little theatre organization, will present their second play, "Little Buffalo Ranch," at the high school auditorium.

This play, a four-act western comedy, depicts the life of the "Waddy" in the days when the six-shooter ruled, according to Roy Heister, director. The play is full of clean, wholesome comedy from start to finish.

The principal comedy part, Roy Rye, is portrayed by Harry Ratliff. As Harry says, he has doctored horses and cattle and now he's ready to tackle a human being.

The maidenly Aunt Arabella is played by Miss Mary Louise Campbell, she being a lady born and bred, finally succumbs to the Doc's ardent wooing and becomes Mrs. Doc Rye.

Don't forget the date, Friday night, December 20. The curtain rises at exactly 8:15 p. m. Everybody turn out and give us a full house to work to. A certain per cent of the receipts go to the high school paper, "The Howl." Admission 35c-20c.

Prominent Men To Speak At C. of C. Banquet

Three prominent out-of-town speakers have been secured to speak at the annual chamber of commerce banquet to be held in the basement of the First Baptist church next Tuesday night.

Paul Vickers of Midland, expert on management of such organizations, will speak on "Why a Chamber of Commerce?"

T. N. Carswell, manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, will speak on the subject, "Our Duties to Our Neighbors." Carswell was formerly registrar of Simmons University and is a pleasing and forceful speaker.

Judge Fritz R. Smith, judge of the 22nd judicial district, will also speak on a subject of his own selection. Judge Smith is known throughout the West as a splendid speaker and he will bring a splendid message, it is said.

Judge C. G. Thompson will be the toastmaster.

GOOD SEED MOVEMENT MEETING, SAT., DEC. 14

U. D. Wulfjen, chairman of the county-wide good cotton seed movement, calls a general meeting of farmers of the county to meet at the court house Saturday, December 14. Be there. Something worth while will be done.

The committee, composed of Mr. Wulfjen, E. B. Hale, J. H. Carlock, John Conaway, Ed Hallmark, John McGuire and A. K. McCaskey, met last Saturday and named sub-committees to see about setting some one to handle the seed selected by the county-wide meeting at the next meeting. They will report at the meeting.

DIVERSIFICATION PAYS

The doctrine of Diversification has been consistently preached from every editorial desk in this section of the country. For many years, before the farmers finally decided that the writers were right, the idea of diversification was advocated by the newspaper writers, farm magazines, department of agriculture, and other sources of information along this line, only to be treated with levity on the part of many farmers who, having come from the "one-crop" sections of the country could not get it out of their system that cotton was the only thing that would bring them any money, and hence cotton was in their minds, and it was hard to get it out, but the past few years has seen a remarkable change. Not only have the farmers of this section learned that cotton is not the only thing that will bring cash on the farm, but also that the sow and the cow and the hen comes in for a big share of the cash dividends from the farm. The Amarillo News-Globe, one of the consistent advocates of the diversification program for years, commenting on the splendid agricultural showing at the various fairs and agricultural exhibits throughout the country the past month, says:

"West Texas is reaping great benefits from the diversified farming or 'cow, sow and hen program' generally adopted throughout the territory eight to ten years ago. During the past season West Texas as a whole has suffered one of its worst droughts of history. With the single exception of the bumper wheat crop in the Panhandle area, crops have been shorter than in any year during the past ten, and yet there is no cry of hard times or an exodus of people from this section. About ten years ago, a similar drought struck West Texas and almost overnight there was a universal cry of hard times and many people moved out of the territory. But that was ten years ago before the cow, sow and hen idea had been broadcast, before chambers of commerce and other civic organizations had gotten behind the movements to encourage better livestock, better chickens and a more diversified program. At that time banks in West Texas were forced to go to the Federal Reserve Bank for assistance in order to tide over the period between the crops. But today there is a different story. West Texas banks are full of money. Their loans are at a minimum. They are loaning money to other sections of the State. Farmers talk of the year as a "short one" but there is no talk of hard times or any report of the families moving out. In the past ten years agriculture in West Texas has been stabilized. It has been put on a permanent foundation and is secure. The cow, the sow, and the hen have solved the problem. They deserve the credit. Through the cow, the sow and the hen West Texas farmers are living at home. They are paying farm expenses without the aid of a single one of the so-called cash crops. They have proven that they can make a living and some money even in the driest year that West Texas as a whole has known. The cow has been called the "mother of prosperity." She has justified the opinion in West Texas. And the sow and the hen must be added as able assistants. West Texans are prone to boast of this as the greatest country on earth and to leave the impression that droughts and bad years are unknown. That is not the case. Neither is it true of any other country in the world. Every section has its drawbacks. But West Texas is to be congratulated on the fact that through the adoption of modern farming methods and the almost universal practice of keeping cows, hogs and chickens on the farm it has overcome its greatest handicap. Hats off, then to the cow, the sow and the hen—Lubbock Progress.

TUESDAY MORNING COLDEST OF PRESENT FALL SEASON

The mercury dropped considerably below freezing point Sunday night and Monday morning and continued until Tuesday morning when the thermometers in Colorado stood at 14 degrees in some down-town sections. This was the coldest weather for this season in Colorado.

Several citizens report water pipes burst and things in general frozen up. Tuesday morning the mercury began a slow flight upward after Old Sol came out, but the temperature was not very pleasing all day.

Great Lakes Section Frozen Up

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Another cold wave, the second to sweep down from the north in 48 hours, held the middle west in its icy grip today.

Spreading suffering and death as it moved southward and eastward, the new onslaught of winter followed the course of its trail breaker, which had arrived on the Atlantic seaboard.

The frozen expanses of Saskatchewan sent the blizzard storm roaring over the Dakotas yesterday and by today it had engulfed the Central states, bringing temperatures almost as low as the record breaking marks of last Friday and Saturday. A heavy snow blanketed the Rocky mountain region.

At least 21 more deaths by freezing had been added to the mounting toll in the United States and Canada, while an estimated 30 had died in accidents attributed to cold, icy streets, or snow banked roads.

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF C. OF C. LAYS PLANS FOR ANNUAL ELECTION

Annual Banquet Be Held At Baptist Church Next Tuesday Evening

The executive board of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday at noon following the Luncheon club meeting, with Dr. P. C. Coleman presiding, having the following present: U. D. Wulfjen, J. Ralph Lee, C. M. Adams, C. H. Earnest, P. C. Coleman, T. W. Stoneroad, Max Berman, L. B. Elliott, J. W. Randle, A. C. Connell, Roy Dozier, J. H. Greene. Minutes of last meeting and financial report read, and both unanimously approved.

U. D. Wulfjen read a letter from D. A. Bandeen of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in which he requests Colorado to send in the pledge made by the delegates at El Paso on the WTCC deficit. It was announced that Dr. P. C. Coleman has paid in $50 of this amount; also that J. T. Johnson, U. D. Wulfjen, and Judge C. H. Earnest had subscribed $10 each, which the secretary explained, left Colorado owing $120 to be raised, and that this is all due now. Ralph Lee subscribed $5, and A. C. Connell subscribed $5 for the Hicks Rubber company, totaling $100 and leaving an even $100 yet to be raised. Mr. Stoneroad, chairman of the finance committee, and Mr. Wulfjen, speaker for the representatives at El Paso, request those who would like to have part in paying this small amount to please see the secretary.

Chairman on entertainment advised that Judge Fritz R. Smith of Snyder, Paul Vickers, of Midland, and T. N. Carswell of Abilene, will all be on the program for show addresses at the annual C. of C. banquet Tuesday night. Miss Ruth Hightower, musical director in the High school, will furnish some vocal numbers, and there will be many other fine attractions for the banquet, to be held at 7:00 p. m. in the basement of the Baptist church, and served by the Baptist ladies.

Arrangement committee announced that the menu would consist of fruit cocktail, vegetable salad, roast turkey, cranberries, dressing on everything, baked corn, carrots and peas, celery, olives, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, bread, butter and coffee, and the best service you ever had. Connell, Roy Dozier, J. H. Greene, W. L. Doss, J. T. Johnson, W. R. Morgan, J. H. Smoot, Miss Jo Key, Ben S. Peck, W. C. Ashford, each made reservations for two and some for three.

"Our former friends are especially invited to make reservations for themselves and families, also neighboring town friends urged to join in with us," Dr. Coleman said.

The following names are offered as nominations for the members of the board of directors, to be elected Monday, December 9th, at the Chamber of Commerce office. This will be a regular election so please take notice and do your duty by voting. Ballots will be printed—use them.

New Members Added In C. Of C. Drive

A partial canvass of the city Tuesday and Wednesday by membership committees resulted in securing several new members for the Colorado Chamber of Commerce.

Col. C. M. Adams, chairman of the membership committee, says everyone interviewed has gladly joined the body. He urges 100 per cent membership for the organization. "Every person in the city should belong to this body," he said. "Following are the new members enrolled: Colorado Floral Co., M. System, Texas Cafe, W. C. Ashford, N. A. Rogers, W. D. Hamm, Howard Rogers, H. H. Callan, G. A. Cole, H. Ogiens, U. G. Hardison, Edwin R. Chase, Dr. R. D. Bridgford, R. B. Loryoy, S. H. Millwee, Jack Terry, Ella Mae's Beauty Salon, Allen Kuykendall, Mrs. J. W. Hall, J. B. Hoyt, C. E. Stubblefield, H. E. Grantland, B. W. Scott, J. M. Skaggs, and Hotel Pharmacy.

SPECIAL ELECTION C. OF C. DIRECTORS BE HELD NEXT MONDAY

For the first time in the history of Colorado, the Chamber of Commerce directors will be named at a regularly conducted election with printed ballots just like a regular official election.

The ballots will contain the names placed in nomination and all chamber of commerce members are urged to cast a ballot. Wives of the members are also permitted and urged to vote.

The election will be held at the offices of the organization next Monday, December 9, and the directors so elected will be installed at the annual banquet Tuesday night at the Baptist church basement.

This is a novel way of electing directors for the organization, and the first time the plan has been tried out here. It is most certainly a democratic and fair way of naming such officials.

Coffee and sandwiches will be served all who call at the chamber of commerce offices during the day, and the organization will hold open house until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Miss Jo Key will have charge of the refreshments. The balloting will continue throughout the day.

P. C. Coleman, T. W. Stoneroad, J. H. Smoot, A. J. Herrington, R. P. Price, T. H. Holmsley, C. C. Thompson, J. B. Mills, J. Ralph Lee and Max Berman.

Voters are to vote for his choice. Secretary Greene calls attention to the fact that every lady whose husband belongs to this organization has a right to vote.

Special attention is called to the fact that the ladies are to accompany their husbands, or some one else's husband to this banquet.

TWO MITCHELL 4-H BOYS FEATURED IN CAPPER'S FARMER

Accomplishments of George Draper and Paul Small Are Written Up

Two Mitchell county boys, George Draper of Loraine and Paul Small of Colorado, were featured in articles appearing in the December issue of Capper's Farmer, national farm magazine published at Topeka, Kansas.

The article featuring George Draper was entitled, "Son's Success Sells Dad." In this article the author says that the method of feeding hogs in 4-H Club work used by George Draper, proved to be such a success that his father, J. T. Draper, used the same plan in feeding his meat hogs in 1929. According to the author, George made his pig weigh 298 pounds by feeding tankage and ground threshed maize in a self-feeder. Mr. Draper used the feeder and the same ration. After the first 30 days, two pigs which weighed 44 and 53 pounds at two months old, had gained 60 and 56 pounds, respectively, making them weigh 104 and 109 pounds.

"Most Profit in Pure Seed" was the heading of the article featuring Paul Small. In this article the author says pure ling maize seed made 80 pounds more maize an acre than ordinary maize seed on the farm of Paul Small. The pure seed made 1,370 pounds on half an acre, while other seed made 1,330 pounds. Both plots were planted the same day and cared for in the same way. The "plant two, skip one" method of planting was used, according to the author of this item. Total yield of the two 1/2-acre plots, was 2,700 pounds, demonstrating the value of this method of planting for Mitchell county, Texas.

QUAIL SEASON OPEN

The quail season opened Sunday, Dec. 1, in the north zone, which embraces an area north and west of the Orient railroad, and north of the T. & P. east of Sweetwater. Many hunters have been out after Mr. Bob White, and Messrs. Blue and Mexican Quail. One hunting accident as a result of the opening of the quail season has been recorded in this county when Buck Geer was accidentally shot through the left leg below the knee by a small son of Judge J. C. Hall.

'BOYS, BALL, BOOZE AND BATTLE,' SUBJECT METHODIST PASTOR

Preacher Says Will Tell Startling Things Sunday Night About Some Church Members

Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the Methodist church, has his divine ire raised against practices of many church members and others who persist in so-called "social parties and dances," if we are to judge from his announcement of a subject for next Sunday night's service.

The pastor in announcing the subject of "Boys, Ball, Booze, and Battle," said he proposed to expose the hypocritical acts of church members and others who permit "hoose parties" under the guise of "dances or country club blow-outs." The pastor used these certain terms in condemning these certain practices, and said he proposed to tell some things Sunday night that would at least show some of his own church members they were traveling the wrong road.

Rev. Hinds requests The Record to extend his invitation to all Methodists and others who will come to be present Sunday night.

Terracing School At Jeff Isom Farm North of Loraine

A terracing school will be held at the Jeff Isom farm at North Champion on Thursday, December 12. Mr. Isom has had his rows on a level for several years but this year he expects to build up the terraces as his land has too much slope to hold the soil and moisture without the levees.

LIONS CLUB MEMBERS WANT HEALTH NURSE FOR MITCHELL COUNTY

County Commissioners Will be Invited Discuss Subject With Club

Employment of a county health nurse for Mitchell county is one of the most important duties confronting the people of this county, according to statements of Lions club members made Friday at the noon luncheon.

Practically every club member expressed interest in the proposal to secure a county health nurse, after a meeting of a committee appointed the previous week, had reported on the proposal. U. D. Wulfinch and Jerold Riordan also endorsed the plan, speaking individually.

This work is of sufficient importance that the State will match dollar for dollar the funds expended by the county in this work. The State will pay half the expense and the county the other half.

Suggestions have been made by Mrs. J. Lee Jones, county chairman, that in case the commissioners' court should refuse or be unable to pay the county's half of the expense, that the different communities in the county chip in and raise the required sum of $1,500.00. This would mean probably $50 for some communities and possibly $200 or $300 for Colorado, it was said. Speakers said it would be no trouble to raise the amount by public subscription, while of course, the law contemplates it is the duty of the county commissioners court to match the State in this much needed and really valuable work.

The report of Miss Olga Buresh, State health nurse who spent six weeks here, leaving last week, was astounding. Her report showed that a very large per cent of the children in schools of the county are suffering from some physical defect in the form of bad teeth, tonsils, defective vision, or some other defect that could easily be remedied.

To think that the future life of 70 per cent of the children of the county is endangered by neglecting to see that they have proper attention! This is indeed a serious matter and one in which not only the Lions club but every woman's club and other organizations are deeply interested.

Every community in the county is interested in the securing of a permanent health nurse. The rural communities need and want this nurse more than does the towns.

Commissioners Be Invited The Lions club committee was instructed to invite the commissioners and county judge to meet with the club soon to discuss the proposal.

While the Lions club feels that county commissioners have many calls for money, some of which probably can not be met, yet the fact remains that money spent to pay a health nurse would be the most wisely expended of any, and the club is joining the chamber of commerce and luncheon club and the women's clubs in laying plans to secure a health nurse for Mitchell county.

Nolan and Howard counties each have the health unit, which calls for expenditure of about $10,000. With the unit plan, a dentist, physician and nurse are all employed by the State and county.

Harvey Speaks At request of Col. C. M. Adams, chairman of the entertainment committee, Pastor J. D. Harvey of the Church of Christ, spoke on "Thanksgiving." The minister gave a brief but wonderful talk. The Lions club members expressed great pleasure at hearing him. Harvey is a pleasing speaker and his talk was especially interesting.

Football Subject Up A big placard bearing the words: "A. & M. 13, Texas U. 0" forcefully called attention of Tom Smith, Tom Stoneroad and Ralph Lee to the recent Aggie and U. game, while Walter Whipkey and Joe Smoot gleefully "smeared it on" the University fans. Smoot lectured at length about the "painful" duty he had to perform in advising the Texas U. men the outcome of the game. He also patriotically called for the song, "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," to be sung by Tom Stoneroad and Tom Smith. President declared the motion carried unanimously without a vote.

Stoneroad was also put on the grid iron for not appearing at the Colorado-Big Spring game. Col. Adams defended him because Adams said Tom had to practice his golf. The president had to adjourn the meeting to save serious trouble between the pair.

The only guest was a cousin of Jerry Riordan who lives in Oklahoma City and was here on a visit.

R. G. Anderson of Abilene spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Mary Robinson and family. Hob Robinson of New Mexico came home for Thanksgiving.

COLORADO RESPONDS

The battle with Colorado, while not a conference engagement, proved to be everything the football fan asks. It was a fight from start to finish. The two teams were rather well matched and Coach Jim Cantrill had his boys all pepped up for the occasion. No doubt he had been preaching tradition all week and his boys certainly responded in noble fashion. Colorado has a couple of good ends in Comer and Powell that played jam up football on defense and then caught two long passes from Captain Smith to place the ball in scoring territory. Had it not been for the two sensational passes, Colorado would have gone scoreless. Their line attack was mostly a fizzle excepting two or three brilliant dashes by P. J. Burrows, diminutive quarterback.—Big Spring Herald.

SON OF MRS. W. H. POND DIED IN BIG SPRING SATURDAY

Brother of Three Mitchell County Citizens Buried Here Sunday

After an illness of four years, Henry Blomous Pond, 44, son of Mrs. W. H. Pond of Colorado, and brother of three Mitchell county citizens, died Saturday afternoon in Big Spring at the home of his brother, J. E. Pond, with whom he had made his home for some time. Henry Pond lived here several years ago, and so died the brother at whose home he died.

Funeral services were held here Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ocie Green, sister of the deceased. Services were in charge of Rev. Claude Wingo, pastor of the First Christian church at Big Spring. Interment was in the L.O.O.F. cemetery here.

In addition to the brother with whom he lived, Mr. Pond is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. H. Pond of Colorado; three other brothers, Everett E. Pond of El Paso; Harry A. Pond of Spade, and Earl W. Pond of Colorado; and one sister, Mrs. Ocie Green of Colorado.

Club Boys Using Home Grown Feeds Fattening Calves

Mitchell county 4-H Club members who are feeding baby calves are adding an ounce of bone meal per day to the ration of home-grown feeds. Tests at experiment stations show that adding this product, which is made by sterilizing and grinding the bones of cattle killed at the packing plants, increases the average daily gain from .1 to .5 of a pound when alfalfa hay is used as the roughage. Since alfalfa hay is relatively high in lime it is expected that possibly a greater difference will be noted with home-grown roughness which are low in lime.

COLORADO TERMED LUBBOCK A PLUCKY LITTLE TOWN IN 1902; HOPED FOR SANTA FE R. R. HERE

"A plucky little town" is the way the Colorado Clipper described Lubbock in April, 1902.

progressive citizens of that town clubbed in together and purchased a small electric dynamo to operate a small plant. Lubbock at that time was planning to erect a "big cotton gin," and prospects were good for it to obtain a railroad that year. The Clipper predicted that it would become "one of the leading and best trade centers in the west."

Lubbock in the early days was a part of Colorado's trade territory. In 1902 three or four of the most Colorado's hopes of being located on the main line of the great Santa Fe railroad system, extending from the Gulf to the Pacific coast, were great in those days, as this town lay on the shortest direct route. Years before, the Santa Fe company had run a survey from Ballinger to Colorado, crossing the Texas & Pacific out about the waterworks and stopping just south of John Haley's residence in North Colorado.

Ice during the summer of 1902 was going to sell at 75 cents per hundred where as much as 50 pounds were taken at one time, announced J. C. Pace, local ice dealer in those days. Delivered in smaller quantities it was to be $1 per hundred. Mr. Pace was letting loose all his free ice because he was "out of the beer business."

Rev. Frank Wright, the Indian evangelist, was conducting a revival for the Presbyterian church.

Colorado's water supply was low, and everybody was warned to go "as light as possible on water until it rains and fills the cisterns."

Robt. T. Webb, of the light company, was seriously considering shutting down until September. Their plan was to run all night after September 1, and put meters on every house.

The telephone company was having trouble regarding people who had no telephones using other folks' phones. They had had several complaints from people who had phones because they were asked so often to call a neighbor who did not have a phone, in to use theirs. The company instructed phone subscribers to reply to such requests with the information that the "telephone company forbids it."

Mr. Allen Jones and Miss Etta Jones had been married on Sunday evening at the residence of the bride's father in South Colorado.

The McInturff saloon had been raided on Sunday night after prohibition in Colorado went into effect Saturday night by some fore-minded lover of the "essence of corn and rye."

Mr. McInturff said he missed about 20 quarts of good rye, and about 15 pints of the same beverage. The following local notes appeared in that issue of The Clipper:

"Judge Ed J. Hammer has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to get downtown again."

"Capt. J. L. Shepherd and Judge W. B. Crockett spent several days in Fort Worth last week, looking after some legal business."

ANOTHER REDUCTION IN LONG DISTANCE PHONE CHARGES ANNOUNCED

The fourth reduction in long distance telephone rates in a little more than three years will be made January 1, according to word received here today by N. H. Moore, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company. The cut will mean a saving of approximately five million dollars to telephone users in the United States.

It will apply principally to day "station-to-station" rates to points 60 to 300 miles distant. "Station-to-station" rates are those which apply to calls placed to a distant number rather than to a particular person. In most instances these will be reduced 10 cents, although in a few cases the decrease will amount to 5 cents.

Rates on "Person-to-person" calls (calls for a specific person) and the evening and night "station-to-station" calls will remain largely as they are at present, although some minor reductions will be made.

Report charges made on person-to-person calls when the called telephone is not reached, will also be reduced in amounts ranging from five to 40 cents on calls to points from 140 to 2,200 miles distant.

"The present reduction brings the total annual saving to the telephone users through these various rate decreases by the Bell System to nearly fifteen million dollars," Mr. Moore said. "The first of the four big reductions which have accomplished this saving was made on October 1, 1926. Rates were reduced three million dollars yearly then."

"A further reduction of a million and a half dollars went into effect December 1, 1927. Then, on February 1, 1929, a five million cut was made."

"These reductions, as well as the present one, have been made voluntarily by the Telephone company. They are the result of increased long distance usage which has permitted the development of a steadily growing system of fast, storm-proof long distance cable, increased facilities and faster methods of handling calls. As an example, we are now building in the southwest a fifty million dollar system of underground cables which will link all principal cities."

"Texas telephone users will be saved a total of approximately $332,000 by the decrease," Mr. Moore estimated.

Tenth Grade Report The Tenth grade pupils are doing fine with the exception of a few bad colds, due to irregular weather. We are planning some plays for the near future. Everybody watch for the dates.

Ninth Grade We are working very hard for our examination this month, which will determine who will play basketball. We all like to play ball, but our report cards must show a certain average before we are allowed to engage in the contests. Cecil Byrd was absent Friday, but is with us again now. We are expecting the State inspector Wednesday afternoon, therefore, we are working hard on the campus, putting up see-saws, swings, etc.

Eighth Grade We still have a few absent in the Eighth grade, but are hoping they will be with us soon. We have taken up reading in our Spanish primers now. We have ordered algebra notebooks, and are planning a great work in them.

Girls' Sports The Conway girls will play the Hyman girls' basketball team Friday afternoon at Hyman. This will be our second game this year and we hope to win. You should see us play our "zig-zag pass." Come out and yell for Conway.

Boys' Sports Conway boys have a game matched with Hyman for Friday, Dec. 6. This should be a good game, for both teams are good.

SOME OBSERVATIONS BY THE EDITOR Silk has its advantages, but let's not forget that America was built by men in red flannel undershirts.

We've met some Colorado men who never let a grocery bill worry them so long as they see every citrus that comes this way.

The ideal tariff law is one that will benefit everybody except those who can't cause trouble if they don't like it.

You can always tell a prosperous country. Nearly everyone who does not do anything gets paid for it.

When he goes to pay a repair bill the average Colorado motorist often wishes it was still the custom to jack up the car for the winter months.

A sleeping tablet is something you need when you go to bed thinking you won't be able to sleep unless you take one.

Another saving effected by the electric refrigerator is the wear and tear of deciding who shall empty the drain pan.

Where is the Colorado man who used to explain that he didn't go to church because his folks forced him to go so much when he was young?

The revolutionary war had at least one advantage over the World War. They finally got the revolutionary war paid for.

We sometimes wonder why the modern girl when she dresses for the ballroom doesn't get confused and go to bed.

The average Colorado man is forgetful, but still he often remembers when his mother sent him over to a neighbor's to borrow a cup of lard.

In Germany a way has been found to use mud for fuel. In this country we use it in politics.

The chief objection to the five-day week is that it would give motorists two days for accidents instead of one.

It's mighty hard to make some Colorado boys understand that to make money last they must make it first.

A Chicago chemist says watermelons are 92 per cent water. Wonder if that includes the melons they cut in Wall street?

Any Colorado citizen of an inventive turn of mind who wants to make a fortune in a hurry might try inventing a window in a railroad coach that can be raised by human hands.

TWO WAR BUDDIES MET HERE AFTER 11 YEARS W. B. Schley, local Delco-Light dealer, was agreeably surprised last Thursday when R. A. Henderson of Livermore, Calif., a former war buddy of Schley, walked up and slapped him on the shoulder.

Schley and Henderson went thru the world war together, engaged in 21 battles in France in the same company and were laid up in a hospital in France at the same time. They came out together but separated when discharged and had not seen each other since. It was a happy reunion of the buddies. Henderson was passing through Colorado and saw a sign bearing the name of Schley and stopped in Colorado and looked him up, and Schley was certainly glad to see him.

C. L. Gray Made Vice President of Lumber Company

C. L. Gray of Colorado, manager of the local yard of the Gray Lumber Company, which has headquarters in Sweetwater, has been made vice president of the concern, taking the place of his father, J. C. Gray of Rotan, who has bought the Rotan yard which he has managed for 23 years, and retired from the company. His connection with the yard here will not be affected, C. L. Gray said.

The Rotan business will be conducted by J. C. Gray and son, R. R. Gray, father and brother of C. L. Gray of Colorado. This leaves the Gray Lumber Co. in operation of yards at Colorado, Sweetwater, and Hamlin. Mr. Gray decided he would like to own the entire business which he established at Rotan and managed for many years. In speaking of the change, the Rotan Advance said:

"The Gray Lumber Company was the first lumber yard to open here when the town started some 22 years ago. Lumber for the yard was freighted from McCaulley by W. A. McKinney before the railroad had reached the townsite.

"Throughout the years Mr. J. C. Gray has been active in the affairs of the community, being numbered at all times as one of the leaders of progress in our community. And R. R. Gray is following in his footsteps as a splendid business man and a progressive citizen."

CLOTHES! CLOTHES! CLOTHES! I want your clothes that you have outgrown—not worn out. We are beginning to have calls from the poor children of the town for clothing. Our community chest is running low. Wash up all your outgrown clothes, such as coats, dresses, suits, hats, underwear, and shoes. Call me and I will come for them. Phone 230 W. J. D. HARVEY, Minister.

and have about 75 hens and the sales of butter, eggs, chickens and calves has amounted to $459.04 for the first ten months of 1929. The receipts are divided as follows: Butter, $112.55; fryers, $222.47; eggs, $54.02; calves, $70.00.

Mr. Reidenbach says that by carefully checking the production of his cows with the amount of feed consumed, he found that one cow was not paying for her keep so he fattened her and sold her for beef.

into competition to see which could get the most colorful automobile license plates.

Texas comes to the front next year with a new plate, blue on yellow. It will be the only blue on yellow plate in the country.

We imagine some manufacturing concern is getting rich supplying the number plates, for there must be more than twenty million pairs of them each year.

There is a definite trend to standardize the colors of the various states, states the American Motorist magazine. There is also a tendency to employ darker colors.

Here are some of the Southwestern combinations: Texas, blue on yellow; Oklahoma, black on yellow; Arkansas, gold on bright blue; New Mexico, gold on black; Arizona, black on light gray; Louisiana, yellow on green; Kansas, white on black.

Monday was a big day with us. First thing in the morning J. W. Henkel of Buford with a check for the Star-Telegram and the Record for a year.

Another Buford man who makes money and is a good guy at the same time, is Emmet Blessingame. He came in Saturday and paid up for his paper and the Star-Telegram and paid a year on the paper for his dad, W. E. Blessingame of Bonham.

Our old friend, F. M. Thompson of route 2, came in Friday and paid two years which put him ahead, and also for the Star-Telegram. He is one of the old-timers and one of the best men in Mitchell county.

We sure like to have had trouble with J. E. Garrett. He came in and paid up and told us how the "row" was the "cabbage." We wanted to throw him out but he stood his ground. A young sprout like him is hard to handle.

C. F. Woodard, keeper at the Country club, pays for his paper. He used to farm out near Buford and made a good living, but took a notion he would like to learn golf and took the job keeping the Country club. He is a worker and a good fellow.

M. J. Whitley of route 2 is another good farmer whom we had heard up about his head. We don't want to appear hard-balled but fellows like him who can pay must do so, but we never have to dun Luke Long long. He says up ahead and don't get behind. He's the kind of fellow we like.

E. E. Smith, carrier on route 2, came in and paid up for his paper and told us about so many of our route 2 patrons reading this paper. C. J. Thompson and C. E. Welch art new subscribers on route 2. We thank these gentlemen for their payment.

A. D. Lench, a pioneer Baptist preacher, came in Saturday and paid up for his paper and indicated he had to have the paper to keep up with his work. We are glad to send it to him. He is a good man—got a heart as big as one of Jim Hinkel's watermelons.

A. F. Love of route 3 is another good farmer who wants this paper bad enough to pay for it. We appreciate such subscribers. And A. J. Hooks is another. He lives on route

1 and his paper is second-hand when he gets it. John Williams, carrier, reads the paper before he leaves it with A. J.

Other new subscribers are Don Ham of the Colorado High school, and Phillip W. Towsley of the Magnolia pump station. Don is a fine fellow and is making good. Mr. Towsley just came here to take charge at the Magnolia camp.

W. A. Hart of the Union community came in Tuesday and paid up for his paper and left a card of thanks to be printed. One of his fine girls got fatally burned last week and neighbors and friends were so kind and helped the family in many ways and Mr. and Mrs. Hart, though grief-stricken, are appreciative of this help.

Mrs. Mattie Merrell, one of the good women of Colorado, who has read this paper for several years, pays up again for which we thank her. Mrs. Merrell has raised two of the finest and most accomplished daughters in West Texas.

C. L. Goode of route 3 is another good farmer who wants this paper and is willing to pay for it. We want more subscribers but we couldn't get better ones. Goode is a top notcher.

Uncle J. D. Wulfjen came in Wednesday and paid up for his paper and the Star-Telegram and for the paper to go to his daughter, Mrs. Wallace, at Tucson, Arizona. He also recently paid for the paper to go to Mrs. West at Dallas. Uncle J. D. Wulfjen is one of Mitchell county's fine pioneer citizens. He has been here a long time and people like him better all the time. He helped organize the City National Bank here and is still a director. He is 84 years old but still active and his mind is as keen as ever. We sure like to have him drop in and talk. He said he didn't want his head chopped off and we are glad he didn't, because we would not do it anyway.

John Lane, former county commissioner, sent in an S. O. S. Wednesday morning. He phoned in to the Record that his Star-Telegram subscription was up and for us to send it in quick. We sent it in at once. John Lane formerly managed the K. S. Ranch and has a nice ranch of his own down south of town. He's a genuine fellow and we sure step around when he comes in.

S. M. McElhatten of the Magnolia camp atlatan sent in the larg green to pay for the Star-Telegram and ask us to put his name on the Record list, which we gladly do. Another new one that we are proud of is A. A. Watson of Colorado. This young fellow wants good reading and we sure are glad to give it to him.

Words are inadequate to express our appreciation and heartfelt thanks for the many acts of kindness extended us during and following the tragedy wherein our daughter, Nora Mae, lost her life. Our hearts are overflowing with sincere gratitude for the help given us and for the words of sympathy expressed. May the great God bless every one of you.

UNCLE FRED WHIPKEY GOES DEER HUNTING WITH HIGH OFFICIALS

The Record received a letter Monday from the big boss, F. B. Whipkey, stating he would not return to Colorado until the last of this week, as he had been invited on a deer hunt in the Llano country with several State officials. He left Colorado last Tuesday morning for Dallas, where he was special guest at a big banquet given by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce

Imagine your Motor

Constantly immersed in Oil. That, in effect, is what happens when you fill your crank case with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—none of its hundreds of moving parts are ever without lubrication.

A MOTOR OIL, to do a 100% job, must lubricate all the time. That means that it should provide a lubricating film at every stage of motor operation including starting when the engine's cold. In other words, the motor should have a perpetual oil bath.

And that's exactly what happens when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil for the very good reason that this super-lubricant because of the patented germ process by which it is produced, actually combines with the bearing surfaces to form a film which adheres indefinitely. It never leaves the bearings—and that means constant lubrication.

Think of the saving this means to the motoring public! Automotive engineers estimate that from 40% to 60% of the destructive wear and tear on a motor is caused in the starting operation because, with ordinary oil in the crankcase, the moving parts have no lubricating film when the engine is cold—and the oil is not distributed until 5 or 10 minutes after starting. Imagine the abuse to the engine during these periods of running with absolutely no lubrication! No wonder Conoco Germ Processed Oil is hailed as the revolutionizing motor lubricant. Its "carry-over" film has solved the greatest lubrication problem of the day. It assures longer life and smoother operation in any motor where it is used.

And never forget that to produce Conoco Germ Processed Oils the exclusive germ essence principle is applied to only carefully selected paraffin base crudes, resulting in a lubricant with greater film strength, greater adhesiveness, greater tenacity, greater stamina and lower friction than any other oil on the American market.

Draw up to the Conoco Red Triangle and give your motor a perpetual oil bath. Ask for Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

A number of the pupils were not very glad to have two days off for Thanksgiving, since they had to pick cotton during the brief vacation. Lolita Payne withdrew from the school Wednesday. We regret very much to lose her.
Opal Smith has been absent for several days with a case of tonsillitis. No patrons have visited our room lately, but we hope that they will not forget to come. We also want them to be sure and come to P. T. A. meeting and the program on Thursday night, Dec. 5th.
The children are observing health rules very nicely now, only one pupil failing to brush his teeth and nails one day last week.
We "played like" we had Thanksgiving dinner Wednesday afternoon and invited Mr. Glover in as a guest. Arles Yater was host. We learned how to set the table, and remembered how to use a number of the manners we had recently learned.
The first grade has learned their sounds and everyone except Raymond Jones can write them nicely. They have read two pages in their primers and three pages on the chart, and all are doing nicely on writing their numbers and counting. Some of the first graders can count by twos and threes as well as some of the pupils in the second grade.
Mr. J. V. Glover attended the State Teachers' association at Dallas from Wednesday until Sunday. He reported a very profitable trip. Since he attended the association, school children have received two days off for Thanksgiving.
Mrs. Annie Glover visited friends at Westbrook from Thursday until Sunday.
Miss Annie Glover visited friends at Westbrook from Thursday until Sunday.
Miss Burnice Ramsey spent the Thanksgiving holidays with home folks at Westbrook.
The Home Demonstration Club women entertained at the home of Mrs. Max Holt on last Friday night in honor of Miss Abbie Sevier, who left Wednesday for a trip to Florida and Cuba. There was a very humorous program rendered, after which games were played. One very entertaining game was "A Wedding Trip to Paris." Miss Chesney and Mr. Jip Bodine were winners. As a prize, Miss Chesney received a hand-painted centerpiece, and Mr. Bodine received a rolling pin. Miss Sevier received a number of lovely gifts which she will doubtless use on her trip. Refreshments of fruit cake and hot chocolate were served. Guests were the husbands of the club ladies, Mrs. D. M. Stell and children, Mrs. Lee Jones, Mrs. A. A. Dorn, Mrs. J. M. Dorn, Maxine Dorn, Brooks Dorn, Mrs. Womack and Miss Abbie Sevier all of Colorado, and Mrs. Annie Glover, Miss Burnice Ramsey, Miss Johnny Chesney, and Mr. L. W. Ramsey of Westbrook.

The P. T. A. will meet in regular session Thursday night. A large crowd is expected.
There will be singing at Buford December 15 at 2:30 p. m.

The P. T. A. met Wednesday, Nov. 27, in their second meeting. After a short program on Thanksgiving, we went into a business meeting with the president, Mrs. Dan Butler, presiding. A time was set to meet on the first Friday afternoon and the third Friday night of each month. The president also appointed committee chairmen. After the meeting the parents were shown the hot lunch equipment and they gave their hearty approval. We had a large crowd of parents present and we urge all the parents to come and help us make it a P. T. A. worth while. We will have our next meeting Friday, afternoon, December 6, at 3 o'clock.
The P. T. A. is sponsoring a play entitled, "The Girl Who Forgot," and the characters are:

WHEN CHILDREN Need a Laxative
"We have used Thedford's Black-Draught in our family for nineteen years. I have found it of great help in raising my family. I have given it to all six of my children. Whenever they complain of upset stomach, or begin to look pale and sickly, I make a tea of Black-Draught and begin giving it to them. In a day or two they are all right. I give it to them for constipation, and my husband and I both take it. I always give it for colds in winter, for I believe a way to prevent them is to keep the system clean."

Ratliff Again Named Chairman Training Camps
R. H. Ratliff, local attorney, has again been named chairman for Mitchell county for Citizen's Military training camps. Ratliff has served as chairman of this work in Mitchell county for several years, and he has just been asked by Ralph H. Durkee, civilian aide to the secretary of war, to take the chairmanship for this county for another year.
The letter from Mr. Durkee said: "The Citizen's Training camps attended by the boys of Texas during the year 1929 were an eminent success. The quotas were filled, the camps themselves conducted in an able manner and the young men went home enthusiastic about the training. The work you did in this program in Mitchell county contributed to this end and the services you gave are appreciated by the military training camps association, by this office and by the boys, and the officers of the association have requested that you again accept the chairmanship for Mitchell county."
Twelve boys attended the training camps from Mitchell county last year. Norris Crownover and Curtis Mahoney of Lorraine, and Wilmer Cook, Travis Daugherty, Gilbert Parades, Eugene Soper, James R. Venable, and Charles Wigley, all of Colorado, attended Fort Sam Houston camp, and Roy Morris, Ted Morris, George Slaton and Sherrod Smith attended the camp at Fort Bliss.
Ratliff said 25 applications were received for the past season, but only 12 of these could attend. He hopes to send about 25 young men to these camps next year, but he advises it will be necessary to get applications in early next year, in order to assure acceptance.

HIGHWAY DEPT. WILL SPEND FIFTY MILLION NEXT YEAR, GOV. SAYS

In Report to President Hoover Governor Says Texas Spend $500,000,000 in 1930

AUSTIN, Nov. 30.—The $50,000,000 State highway building budget for 1930 headed the report of public improvements in Texas which Governor Dan Moody sent to President Hoover in the nation-wide business expansion program, government fostered, which was launched by Pres. Hoover.

The governor's report said the Texas highway budget would be at least forty million dollars and with $3,000,000 increase in Federal Aid making a total of $7,500,000 from the Federal government, the Texas Highway department plans an expenditure of fifty million dollars during 1930.

The governor also said that Texas will expend five hundred million dollars for public improvements during 1930. A survey of 30 of the principal cities and towns revealed that $250,338,000 would be spent for public works during the year and that this amount did not represent more than two-thirds of the total for the State.

Governor Moody said that although the survey indicated that only about $350,000,000 would be spent, he was of the opinion that the figures would be nearer $500,000,000.

The survey of proposed expenditures in the 30 principal cities and towns showed that $65,200,000 would be expended generally for public improvements, $110,138,000 building permits issued, $40,000,000 in county improvements, and $35,000,000 for State improvements, including construction of highways.

He suggested to President Hoover that he use his influence to increase the Federal appropriations for aid on highways by from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 the coming year, promising that Texas would match dollar for dollar any amount allotted to Texas for this purpose.

Says Crop Prices Low

AUSTIN, Nov. 29.—Governor Dan Moody's telegram to Pres. Hoover, said of railroad extensions: "In the nature of things there must be meritorious applications pending for construction and extension of lines of railroad. If action could be promptly taken upon such applications as are meritorious and the permits granted this would result in increasing demand for labor during 1930."

Governor Moody said in telegrams both to Hoover and to Henry Ford that "cotton at 14 cents, wool at 18 to 20 cents and wheat at $1.26 are too low, and cannot at these prices bring a fair return to the producer on labor and property."

Moody to Call Legislature In Early January

SPECIAL SESSION IS EXPECTED TO LAST POSSIBLY FOR SIXTY DAYS

AUSTIN, Dec. 1.—Gov. Moody said Saturday that he will call the Forty-first Legislature in special session early in January, the exact date to be set later. This is the first definite pronouncement from the governor as to the convening of the special session. The second Tuesday is January 8 and this is the first tentative date.

First of the business to be done will come the prison relocation issue as presented in the report to be made by the Texas Prison Centralization Commission, a majority of which will recommend that the main prison be placed within 20 miles of Austin, and the minority that it be centralized on lands now owned by the system, either near Huntsville or on the Imperial Farm in Fort Bend county. That is expected to be a long and hotly-contested controversy. Retaining the prison on lands now owned will bring an executive veto. The Governor strongly favors relocation away from the river lands now owned by the State, and considered richest in Texas.

Public Utilities

Regulation of public utilities is another controversial subject that will come before the special session under the Governor's recommendation that a separate State board be created to regulate public utilities. Such legislation has been defeated or blocked in previous sessions of the Moody administration, but the Governor will tender it again. He will discuss the subject next Friday in Galveston in an address to the city attorneys of Texas at their annual session.

Confederate Pension Law

Correction will be made of the Confederate pension law so that the so-called younger widows will receive their portion. An error in the thrice-repeated effort of previous sessions deprived these widows of their last quarterly payment and permitted only a small sum for the coming quarter.

Brewing of Politics

Heads of the State supported educational institutions recently told the Governor they were impoverished by the reduced appropriations and by vetoes and asked that the coming session relieve the situation. This is said to be particularly true of summer schools. Many vetoes of salaries for institutions also has caused pleas for help. It is expected that supplemental appropriations will be made in many instances.

The session will have other subjects submitted, and last at least 20 days, with the probability of a second month. As it comes at the threshold of a campaign year, there will be much brewing of politics and political discussions are expected frequently to warm up the sessions.

'CHRISTMAS SPIRIT' DESCENDS ON COLORADO

The "Christmas Spirit" has descended on Colorado—quietly but surely. Stores have put Christmas wares foremost, and show windows are appearing in Yuletide dress. Advertisers are advising prospective customers in the old way, "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early," and advertisements are appearing bedecked in holly, reindeer, and jolly old Saint Nicholas.

"It's going to be a slim Christmas for us," is the statement one hears everywhere, but even that fact does not seem to dampen the spirit of planning which "gets" folks—young and old—at this time of the year. That old expression about "it's going to be a slim Christmas" is heard from many wailing voices every year, and from everywhere, but when the time comes for the yule log to be lighted, you will find the pessimists passing out more presents than the optimists.

Yes, it's going to be a great Christmas for everybody, except for the homes where death or some other calamity casts a shadow over the festivities.

Hegari Makes Two and Half Tons Per Acre

Pure line hegari seed made 4900 pounds of heads per acre on the W. T. Brooks farm about seven miles west of Colorado this year. In addition it will make several tons of roughage per acre. It was planted on good bottom land.

Mr. Brooks obtained some of the pure line bagged seed from the Lubbock Experiment station last year and this year he bagged the heads to prevent crossing and selected his seed in the field.

Some other hegari which was cut about a month ago made 920 bundles per acre and the average weight of the bundles last week was 12 pounds, which makes 11,000 pounds per acre.

J. H. EVERTS PROVES CERTIFIED COTTON SEED ARE MOST PROFITABLE

Gets 103 Pounds Seed Cotton and Half Cent Pound More For Lint Than Gin Run

Twenty acres of cotton planted with State Certified cotton seed made 103 pounds more seed cotton than cotton planted with gin run seed about four years for J. H. Everts of Cuthbert community. Not only that, but the gin turn-out was better—the pure seed required 400 pounds less seed cotton to make a bale and when sold the pure seed brought half a cent more per pound.

Mr. Everts has already purchased first year seed for next year and says there is no question but what it pays. Mr. Everts lived on his farm at Stanton when the test was made but he has recently moved back to his farm near Cuthbert. Both fields of cotton were cared for in the same manner, the only difference being in the seed.

TO TOP MARKETS RAISE CALVES, SAYS BARLOW

The case of the dual-purpose cow is presented in a readable article by Henry C. Barlow, secretary of the Texas Short-horn Breeders' Association, in Texas Opportunities for October.

"The Short-horn cow, given ordinary care and feed, will give a profitable milk flow," declares Mr. Barlow. "She has an ideal beef conformation along with good milking ability and fattens easily, when dry, to an ideal beef package. Such a cow, freshening in the late fall, may be milked five or six months profitably, then the cow and calf may be turned into the pasture the rest of the year. The result will be a valuable beef calf to sell at ten or twelve months of age after a few months feeding on farm grains and roughages, and selling over the scales at 13 to 15 cents a pound as baby beef—the highest type and most wanted beef commodity on any market."

The author calls attention to the fact that the Short-horn holds the world's record for milk production under official test.

The added cash income, were every Texas farm to have two or ten head of good beef-type calves, fed home-trown feed, to sell each spring, would be amazing, according to this authority. Such calves, sold at a weight of 600 to 800 pounds at the age of 10 to 14 months may represent the difference between profit and loss on an average farm. It will certainly bring in a lump sum of cash at a time of year when no farm crop is salable, that will trim the annual crop mortgage to the minimum. Ten fat calves that can be cashed at $70 to $90 each make a worthy contribution.

Christmas Will Bring Displays In Profusion

With Christmas just about a month away Colorado merchants are bending their efforts toward displays that will appeal to the Christmas shoppers.

Elaborate plans are now in the making by merchants to have on display the largest selection of beautiful and useful gifts that they have ever shown. Regardless of the line of business, when the time comes for these holiday manifestations out come red and green bells and the paper chains. Many of the stores are already formulating their plans to make their store the most attractive in their history. Every store will be a riot of color with ample selections of gifts.

Despite weather and financial conditions, Colorado merchants are anticipating a fine Christmas business and are now issuing their yearly invitation to "Shop Early!"

Many merchants are advertising greatly reduced prices in order to get the people of this section to shop early, and it is such advertisers who are getting the bulk of the trade, while the buyers are enjoying a regular Christmas feast of bargains early in the season.

We told you that the lawyers would get together on the defense of the judge who killed the girl down at Austin last week. Well, this week we tell you that the lawyers will get together on the income of a 160-acre farm.

Mr. Barlow's article constitutes one of the principal features in a comprehensive "Diversification Number" of the State-development magazine published by Texas Power and Light Company.

Proper Lighting for Your Home.

THE ECONOMY TWINS

HAVE you ever really thought seriously about whether your home has proper lighting?

The difference between proper and improper lighting means the difference between full enjoyment of light and just "getting along with what we have."

Electric light is the cheapest convenience in your home. It costs no more to have proper lighting than it does to have makeshift light which fails to give you the full advantage of this modern convenience.

Improper reading light is dangerous. It is a strain on the eyes. You or your family may suffer the consequences of impaired eyesight due to poor lighting without really knowing what caused the trouble. Science has solved the problems of lighting so that you can have the right sort of lights in every room of your home with positive certainty that you will obtain the greatest benefit from their use.

The Texas Electric Service Company has made a special study of home lighting and will welcome an opportunity to go over your home with you and recommend the changes, if any are needed, that would make your lighting most effective. Let's talk about lighting; it can be of untold value to you. Let The Economy Twins light your home cheaper than you ever thought would be possible.

THANKSGIVING ADDRESS BY LOCAL MINISTER AT UNION SERVICES WAS MASTERPIECE

The Thanksgiving address by J. D. Harvey, minister of the Church of Christ, delivered at the Thanksgiving service at the high school Thursday morning was a masterpiece. Those who heard him were so captivated that he was requested to give this address in part at the Lions Club Friday and his brief sketch heard there resulted in many requests for reproduction in print of the whole address, and the Record is glad to use the same.

The address was one of the best and most interesting Thanksgiving discourses we have ever heard. Bro. Harvey's logic and reasoning in this talk was indeed worth while and every one should read the address, which follows:

"I acknowledge the presence of this splendid company of people. It is very encouraging to me when I am made to feel that the motive for your coming was not to hear what I might have to say, but to express in a public way your thanks and gratitude to the God of your being for the many blessings of life. If I can say one word to stipulate within one heart a deeper and more profound feeling of gratitude than I shall have felt the effort has been rewarded."

"As a background and setting for the lesson, allow me to repeat some very familiar history that presents to us the origin of Thanksgiving. Over three centuries ago a small band of God fearing and liberty loving people landed on the soil of an undeveloped, unexplored American sea. They had a very bad winter, but planted in the spring and in the fall of 1621 this small colony came together to give thanks for the blessings that had been showered down on them. This was repeated until 1863 when this day became a national Thanksgiving Day. But let it be remembered this is the true origin of Thanksgiving. It dated further back than that. The first Thanksgiving service ever held was had by the survivor of the great flood. Noah and his family held the first service of this kind. The idea originated with God, when He delivered the children of Israel from Egyptian bondage to possess the land that flowed with milk and honey. He made this request: 'When you possess the houses you didn't build, eat of the sycamores you didn't plant, drink of the water from the cistern you never dug, then you shall offer unto Me a thanksgiving offering.' This feast unlike the development and supreme leadership in every respect; the moment we forget God and fail to own Him as a God that promoted nations, we perish. Jesus, when He had healed ten lepers, and only one out of the ten returned and said thanks, asked where is the other nine. He was astonished that one could be so ungrateful. Out of the numbers of thousands He heals in sin today, how many never come to Him and say so in thanks?

"We should be thankful for the Grace of God. Whatever God has done for you that you can't do for yourself, this is the Grace of God. Think of this, both in a temporal way and in a spiritual way. What has God done for us in temporal way? Every morning when the sun comes up over the eastern hills and floods this world with its golden, mellow light this is the Grace of God and we could not live without it, and when the days work is done He drops the curtain of night about us, and while we are resting He sends the pale face moon up the eastern hill tops to catch the rays of the departed sun and mirrors them back upon us in shimmering smiles and kisses. This is the Grace of God and we could not live without it. And when I am thirsty, He sends forth cool, clear water, bubbling up above its level to slake our thirst, this is the Grace of God and we could not live without it. And when we are blue, He scatters flowers along in our pathway and perfumes them with the breath of Heaven. This is the Grace of God. 'Let the redeemed of the earth SAY SO.'"

"God's Grace in a spiritual way is evidenced in the make-up of every man. When David was serving as shepherd, this life afforded him a study of the sky and in this study he exclaimed: 'When I consider the heavens, the work of Thy finger... what is man that Thou art mindful of him? For Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels (not a little above the monkey) and had crowned him with glory and honor. Thou had made him have dominion over all the works of Thy hand.' Ps. 8:3-5. What is it about us that has challenged the attention of God? Surely not the flesh that goes back to dust, not the intellect, but what? That part of us that bears His stamp on our brow and His image in our heart, as has been expressed. 'We are all the offspring of God.' This is the part of us that caused God to give that 'unspeakable gift' for us.' Not color, not race, but that soul that God loves as the old dicky expressed in the hymn, 'Jesus loves me, how do I love Thee, Jesus loves me, how do I love Thee, Jesus loves me, how do I love Thee, the gift of Jesus as the object of God's love is His greatest expression of His Grace. Paul said, 'This is the Grace of Christ, though he was full yet he became empty that we through His emptiness might be made full.' Try to give the degree of the word EMPTY. This is the Grace of Christ. And more yet, He not only came to earth to redeem us, but He went down in the grave and came forth, robbing the grave of her selfish victim and has thus plucked the rose of immortality therefrom and given it to us to smell, taking the sting out of death.

"Let the redeemed of the earth SAY SO."

THOS. J. COFFEE NOW IN LAW PRACTICE WITH THOMAS AT BIG SPRING

Former Mayor of Colorado Farms a Partnership with Brother-in-Law There

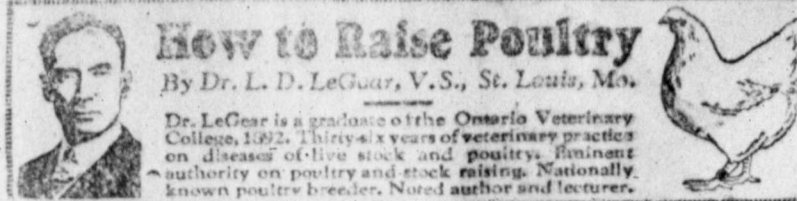

Thos. J. Coffee, former mayor of Colorado and recently attorney of Mitchell county, in accordance with plans announced some time ago, has moved to Big Spring to enter a law partnership with his brother-in-law, Clyde E. Thomas.

The Big Spring Herald in speaking of Mr. Coffee's removal to Big Spring, says:

"Mr. Coffee is in fact a Howard county boy, having spent the early boyhood days of his father's ranch, where now old records are telling the places of his boyhood days in the Coffee place in Howard and Glasscock counties, south of Big Spring. He attended and was graduated from the Big Spring High school, later graduating from old Polytechnic College at Fort Worth, winning honors there as an athlete. Later he obtained his license to practice law, and was the same year elected county attorney of Mitchell county, and served as such for three years, when he moved to Dallas to practice law, but desiring further college work, again entered school, registering in the University of Texas, from which he was graduated in 1917. He went to New York City as employee of the National Bank of Commerce.

"When it appeared that the nation was about to enter the World War, Tom attempted to enter the aviation department but was rejected on account of high blood pressure and discouraged, joined the Navy as a gunner and was assigned to work as 'coal passer' in the engine rooms of the battleship Wyoming. Promotion on the ship was rapid and within one year he was a commissioned officer with grade of Ensign. Being an attorney he was transferred to London, where in a few months he was placed in charge as Chief Counsel for the United States to protect shipping interests before the British-American Ship-Collision Board, which position he held for the rest of the war and for two years after the World War closed.

"Resigning November 1, 1929, he married a British girl, and came home, to settle down to the practice of law, returning to Colorado, and has for the past nine years been one of the leading attorneys of the neighboring city."

How to Raise Poultry

HOW ABOUT UNIONS FOR EGG PRODUCERS?

Co-operative Marketing Which Has Proven Very Successful in Many Other Businesses Has Many Advantages to Offer Poultrymen.

Mark Twain once said of the weather, that everybody talks about it. Much the same thing might be said about co-operative marketing among poultry raisers. To be sure, there are some co-operative organizations now working successfully in several sections of the country, notably in California and some of the Central Western states. The "Coops" of Canada, too, offer a notable example of what can be accomplished.

Taking the whole situation by and large, however, it is almost literally true that much has been said about co-operative marketing, but little done about it.

To be sure, it is a complex problem to get a thing of this kind started. That very fact, however, is a most excellent reason why something should be started at once. Today, egg producers are in much the same position as were the workers of a few generations back. Without organization of any kind, they are at the mercy of those to whom they must sell. John Jones with ten or twelve dozen eggs to sell each week must take them to the nearest market and accept the price offered or lose them home again. A well organized association shipping cartons of eggs each week suffers no such disadvantages.

With sufficiently large quantities to really mean something, the association is in a position to seek out the most favorable markets, and can negotiate shipments in those markets in such a way that the higher average level of prices can be maintained than would otherwise be possible. Collective bargaining, the factor that has made possible the present high wage levels for workers, is no exception to the poultryman through co-operative marketing.

Other advantages no less important, though not so often considered, are the possibilities of standardizing and improving production methods, standardizing and improving the grade of the product and stabilizing production. It is a well established fact that in some sections of the country only white eggs find a ready sale at top prices, while in other sections brown eggs are the favorite. Let us suppose that a number of poultrymen who raise natural market in a brown egg territory are producing only white eggs. They know they are not getting as good prices as they should, but they do not know why and have no way of finding out as they operate independently. As members of an effective association, they would be given the necessary information or, if their total value was large enough, their separate lots could be pooled into larger units and shipped economically into some territory where they would find ready sale.

I cannot too strongly emphasize, however, the need for organization in the poultry business. Labor is organized, and look where wages are today. The fruit growers of California organized and boosted their profits millions of dollars annually. The walnut growers got together and sell carloads where they once sold but few bushels, and at higher profit, too. The poultrymen of Canada formed an association and realized twelve cents a dozen more for their eggs than they had ever been able to get before.

The thing to do is to study such organizations as are already successfully operating and adapt to your own local needs the principles and practices they have found successful. Shape a course that you know you can depend on to get you some place and then stick to it, but make your plans flexible enough to allow for really necessary changes in the future.

attracts now thousands who bring their savings.

Up she goes. Everybody getting rich. This isn't a boom but an increase in values that will last forever. Everybody is dead drunk and gambling wildly. These isn't a grain of sanity in the crowd.

And then—nobody knows how or why, except that the peak is reached—the inevitable happens and the bottom drops out. People are sane again. What becomes of the gamblers? Why, it is bought by a few quiet gentlemen who sat waiting. They knew its actual value. And when the bursting of the bubble made the gamblers as eager to sell as they had been eager to buy, these quiet gentlemen swooped into the midst of the stampede and bought the property for a third or a tenth of its actual worth.

That is the story of every gambling orgy—in the prairie country and the mining districts 75 years ago; on the coast a generation later in Florida after the war, and lately in Wall Street.

Gamblers eager for easy money; flitting values that climb and climb so long as newly arriving gamblers appear with new money to pay the present holders a profit; at last the break, and quiet gentlemen picking up bargains.

Farm land, town property and stocks are worth the sum on which they can pay a fair return year after year. To pay more is to gamble; to pay less is to make a shrewd investment.

But gamblers are not concerned with values. They will pay any price if there is hope of selling at a higher one. It is a game, not a business.

Many lose to enrich a few, but the community benefits when money is taken from the crap shooters and given to the builders.

DIGGING

Hard work means nothing to a hen. She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs, regardless of what the business prognosticators say about the outlook for this or any other year of her life.

If the ground is hard, she scratches harder.

If it's dry, she digs deeper. If it's wet, she digs where it's dry. If she strikes a rock, the work-around it.

If she gets a few more hours of daylight, she gives a few more eggs. But always she digs up worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits as well as tender, profitable broilers.

Did you ever see a pessimistic hen? Did you ever hear of one starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface?

Did you ever hear one cackle because work was hard?

Not on your life. They save their breath for digging and their cackles for eggs.

Success means digging. Are you? —The Branding Iron.

Certainly You Can Afford To Feed Red Chain Dairy Ration

Three pounds more milk per day makes it cost less than "cheap" feeds.

A cow requires about one ton (20 bags) of Red Chain dairy ration per year. An increase in milk of only three pounds per day at ($2 per 100 pounds) amounts to $18 in 300 milking days. This will allow you to pay as much as 90c per bag more for Red Chain than for cheap feeds.

Figure it out for yourself. There is no doubt about getting more milk from your cows when you feed Red Chain 24 per cent Dairy Ration. It is safe because it contains less cottonseed meal than any other 24 per cent dairy feed.

POWELL FAMILY HOLDS REUNION AT OLD HOME

A very happy occasion was that of the reunion on Sunday, Nov. 24, when all the children and a large number of relatives met with Mrs. Owen C. Powell at the old home of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Powell at Buford, preceding the removal of two of the sons to their new homes in Lubbock county.

The guests began arriving as early as Friday night, and by Sunday there were 53 present, some coming quite a distance to be present at this enjoyable affair.

The late Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Powell were old settlers in this community and have practically reared their family of six children here, having moved here when the eldest children were quite small. The father and mother lived to see all their children grown to manhood and womanhood, and honored citizens, taking their places in their community. All are members of the Methodist church and active in church work. The Powells are all home-loving people, and to each of them tender memories still cluster around this old homestead. May the silent influences that this good father and mother radiated who have gone on before, never grow less bright and beautiful. Like the never-ending seasons, their good works will come into newness, year in and year out, until that time shall come when there shall be no more seasons and just one long never-ending day.

A sumptuous dinner, consisting of turkey, boiled ham, fried chicken, cranberry sauce, dressing, candied yams, creamed potatoes, celery, fruit salad, pumpkin and cherry pie, cake and coffee was served to the following: Mr. B. V. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Powell and family, Mrs. Eva Hammond and children, all of Buford, R. A. Powell, Claude Cordill, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Ross of Becton, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Biggs, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Biggs and family, Mr. A. T. Biggs and son, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Biggs and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ross, all of Snyder, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Biggs, Wichita Falls, Texas; Rev. I. E. Biggs, Dora, Texas; Mrs. Ada Watkins and daughter, Merkel, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Green and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cordill and son, and Miss Dahlia Cordill of Plainview, Texas.

THE STOCK MARKET

By ROBT. QUILLEN in Dallas News

Americans are, natural-born gamblers. Since the first pioneer quit his plow to look for gold, they have dreamed of getting rich quick. And the optimism characteristic of free men has prompted them always to wager life and fortune on the assumption that tomorrow will increase value.

This result has been a long succession of "booms." A few optimistic buy property that has little present value and begin to shout its praises. They unload at a profit and the new buyers continue and magnify the chorus of praise to justify another increase in price.

A few buy with the intention of holding, but the opportunity to double their money can not be resisted. They sell and gamble with the rest, every man buying with the hope of selling tomorrow at a great profit and no man gives a thought to the actual worth of the property.

There is a frenzy of buying and selling; prices treble over night; and the dazzling prospect of easy money

WOLVES CLOSE SEASON WITH BRILLIANT PLAY AGAINST BIG SPRING

Ancient Rival, Now Class A Team Held to Shallow Victory

Closing the football season with the most brilliant and determined play of their lives, the Colorado Wolves put up a battle royal Thanksgiving day against their ancient enemies, the Big Spring Steers, fast class A team, and won the applause and gratitude of 1,000 Colorado fans.

The Wolves were a little bewildered at first opening of the play but they quickly recovered and settled down to a fight that shook the very earth. The Steers stood upon. The big, long-stepping Steers just could not get over the short, diminutive Burrows, Ogens, Powell, and other nimble Wolves, and as a result the Steers had to resort to an aerial attack, which luckily turned out favorably for the Steers and got them across the goal line first, and a victory of 13 to 6.

But the Wolves came back with the same defense and flew to within two yards of the Steer line and then bucked it over.

There was never a more brilliant display of pyrotechnics that flouted to the skies of a warm Thanksgiving afternoon than was witnessed in this game. The upper route was practically the only way Big Spring could get by the Wolves, while on the other hand the Wolves were forced to take to the air also in order to make appreciable gains.

But the Wolves acquitted themselves grandly. They made up for all the slowness they have been charged with in past games. They won back the hearts of the Colorado fans, and gave the 600 fans from Big Spring, who came here on a special train, and in automobiles, the thrill of their lives. In fact, at the half Big Spring was wondering if the Wolves wouldn't take the game.

The Big Spring Steers, in Class A this year, recently defeated Sweetwater by a heavy score and held the champion Brownwood Bears to a one-point victory, therefore, they expected to walk over the Wolves in a stampede, but the Wolves gave them a setback. The Big Spring Herald gives the Wolves credit for brilliant play when the paper says:

Colorado was one of the most active class B football machines imaginable for the afternoon. The traditional rivalry that exists between Colorado and Big Spring precipitated a fight that will long be remembered by participants and the 1,000 or more spectators that were held breathless as Captain Smith of the Wolves tried one long pass after another in a desperate effort to score.

Big Spring broke the scoring ice early in the first quarter and at that time the defensive weakness of Colorado seemed made to order for a large Steer final count. The march to that first touchdown started from Big Spring's own 35-yard line after an exchange of punts and after Neil went in for Kidwell, Bell for Edwards who moved to Morrison's end position. The first gesture was a 15 yard flip from Rogers to Phillips who made a remarkable catch of the toss and then two first downs engineered by Bell, Moore, Neil and Rogers placed the ball on Colorado's 27-yard line.

The First Score

The scoring play was a pass over the Colorado line to Phillips, who made another brilliant catch surrounded by a pack of snarling Wolves. The speedy Steer end struggled over the goal line 9 yards away with two Colorado tacklers dangling from his waist. Buren Edwards was pulled from his end position and gestured a kick from placement for the extra point. Acting Captain Rogers was to hold the ball. When the pass from center started, Edwards raced around end, Rogers straightened up and tossed to Cecil Neil who sidestepped his way across the goal for the extra point.

A brilliant kickoff return by Ogens, who had substituted for Burrows, and a 54-yard punt by Mann, were the only features of Colorado's attack during the remaining minutes of the first quarter. Two more first downs were added for Steers by Neil, Phillips and Bell, but the ball was on Big Spring's 40-yard line when the period closed.

Colorado Starts
Colorado assumed the aggressor's cloak in the second quarter and then pushed over a touchdown on two long passes. The break that enabled the Wolves to start their scoring drive came when Rogers' 15-yard sprint through the line to his own 31-yard marker was called back and Steers penalized 15 yards for holding. Phillips kicking from behind his own goal line sent the ball to his own 37-yard stripe.

Captain Smith reached into the Wolves' bag of tricks and pulled out two passes. One sailed to Mann for 12 yards and then another heave to Powell, Wolves' right end, planted the ball on the Big Spring 2-yard marker. From that point McMurry plunged over for the only score Colorado made during the entire game. Smith's kick from placement for the extra point was wild.

Both teams turned in some brilliant offensive thrusts during the third quarter, but neither goal line was seriously threatened. Another 15-yard penalty inflicted against the Steers for holding halted a sustained drive for the Colorado goal line in that quarter.

Phillips Kicks
Phillips' punting in the third quarter gave Big Spring a slight advantage as he was kicking out of bounds with regularity. It was also during the third period that Dick Moore thrilled the Big Spring audience with a 20-yard scamper through left tackle, but Burrows, fleet Colorado quarter, checkmated the advance with a similar run through the Big Spring right tackle. Bell continued his lightning-like thrusts at the line and handled Mann's long punts with accuracy and judgment. Only once did Bell's judgment on kick fail and on that occasion the error was not costly.

As the time drew short in the final quarter, and Big Spring fans were beginning to offer thanks for a one-point margin and all the while praying that Smith would not complete another long pass to one of his own ends, Steers played the break that ended in another touchdown for domestics.

After Colorado had taken the ball on its own 27-yard line holding the Steers for down, Buster Bell intercepted a Colorado pass on his own 50 yard line. Then came the scoring play.

Rogers Shoots Pass

Delbert Rogers backed up behind his own 49-yard line and flipped a 10-yard pass to Buster Bell who galloped the remaining 39 yards over Colorado's goal line with Buren Edwards paving his path. The only Colorado man that threatened to halt the flashing Bell on his charge down the sideline was cut completely out of the play by Edwards, star Big Spring end. Bell's kick from placement for the extra point had plenty height but was deflected from its course slightly by a stiff breeze that started blowing near the game's end.

No sooner had Big Spring scored than Colorado started another determined drive for the Big Spring goal. However, the flame that had flashed just a moment before sputtered and finally died as two aerials were knocked down and then Dick Moore, who played a whale of a football game, intercepted a pass on his own 22 yard marker.

Bell and Moore picked up a first down through the line and then Rogers passed 23 yards to Buren Edwards and another first down. Acting Captain was a flashing demon as time drew short and he scampered through the forward wall for eleven yards and another first down on Colorado's 32 yard marked. However, Big Spring's offensive punch that had carried Steers more than fifty yards down the field died when Mann intercepted a Big Spring pass as the game ended.

SOUTHLAND TAKES OVER AMERICAN LIFE INS. CO.

Acquisition of the capital stock, assets, insurance in force and goodwill of the American Life Insurance Company by the Southland Life Insurance Company was announced on Wednesday morning. Both are Dallas institutions.

As a result of the agreement, the Southland Life Insurance Company, therefore, will have on December 31, 1929, insurance in full force of approximately $290,000,000 and assets of approximately $19,000,000, according to Geo. B. Root, general agent, of Colorado. Policyholders of the new institution will now number about 70,000.

A. C. Bigger, president of American Life Insurance Co., will become vice president and director of the Southland Life Insurance Company. Morton Bigger, secretary of American Life, will be associated with the company as an assistant secretary and director.

"First consideration was given to the interest of the policyholders of the two institutions involved," Geo. B. Root said. "The combined insurance in force of the two companies on December 31, 1929, will be approximately $260,000,000 and the combined assets on the same date will be approximately $19,000,000. In due course each holder of a policy issued by the American Life will be sent a certificate, by the terms of which the Southland Life will assume all liabilities and obligations of the American Life under the policy."

WAS WORTH MORE THAN FORTUNE TO ME," SAYS WILSON

Abilene Carpenter Claims He Now Feels 20 Years Younger Since Taking Orgatone

"I have gained one hundred per cent since taking Orgatone and I consider the good I have received worth more than a fortune to me," said W. W. Wilson, a well known carpenter in Abilene for the past 28 years and who resides in the Over Addition, Abilene, Texas.

"I feel it my duty," continued Mr. Wilson, "as well as a privilege to tell everybody what Orgatone did for me, for it may be that my statement will help others who are in the condition I was before I took it."

"My health had been giving way for the last two years and of course I took all kinds of medicines, but I kept getting worse. I had stomach and nervous troubles and they bothered me something terrible, and I was in an awful shape. I finally got so weak I could hardly walk around much less do any work."

"The lightest things to eat would hurt my stomach and cause me great misery. Finally it seemed as if every one was talking about Orgatone and the good work it was doing, so I got a bottle and after taking a few doses I told my friends I had surely found the medicine at last. I soon felt strong enough to be back to work and I just completed a job last week and it didn't bother me in the least. I am gaining strength all the time, and feel one hundred per cent better than

NOTICE To Our Friends And Customers

It takes a lot of money to run an automobile business successfully, and naturally, that's the way we want to run our business.

To extend credit for labor, parts and accessories, and still pay our help and the people from whom we buy goods promptly, takes a lot of cash.

We are going to ask you to make it possible for us to have the necessary money to pay our bills by paying cash for the work you have done or things you buy from us.

This is no reflection upon your credit, but is a necessary policy for us to adopt in order that we may have the money to meet our bills promptly.

Most of our customers are "good", but it isn't fair to ask one to pay cash and extend credit to another . . . for this reason, we are going to treat everybody alike.

As previously advised, this policy has been adopted in order that we may meet our bills promptly.

Thanks for your cooperation.

A. J. HERRINGTON

P. S. We pay cash for everything we buy.
