RURAL SCHOOL TEACHERS OUTLINE SCHEDULES FOR ANNUAL LEAGUE EVENTS

Principals Hold Meeting At County Court House On Saturday Morning

Directing heads of Mitchell county rural schools gathered at Colorado Saturday morning to attend annual session of these teachers to formulate schedules for annual Inter-scholastic League events. The session was presided over by C. A. Wilkins, director general of the county unit.

Regulations to apply to basketball and other athletic contests to be sponsored by the schools were adopted. The teachers also adopted a uniform course of study for all rural high schools of the county to be under director of J. D. Glover, Chas. Brazil, Claude Willis, W. E. Bontley and R. B. Hood, committee.

Among the teachers attending the executive session Saturday morning were the following:

Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent; N. E. Boatler, Fairview; H. B. Powers, Valley View; Miss Loyce Price, Shepherd; Miss Lievenia Wilcox, North Champion; B. B. Shelton, Lowe; Miss Bessie Mae Bilbo, McKenzie; W. L. Russell, Little Sulphur; Weldon Moore, Longfellow; Chas. Brazil, Lone Star; Mack Fisher, Iatan; H. F. Railsback, Carr; R. L. Bellows, Payne; R. B. Hood, Spade; J. B. Glover, Buford; T. D. Chism, Looney; Claud Willis, Bauman; R. D. Cole, Hyman.

Miss Womack Holds Record As Turkey Hunter This Year

Miss Lesbia Womack, daughter of George W. Womack of Cuthbert, is given the distinction of being Mitchell county's champion woman turkey hunter. And there are few, if any, men who have surpassed her record for the season.

In company with her father, S. R. Venable of Colorado, and Rev. W. B. Morton of Abilene, she returned last week from a hunting expedition into the wilds of Kimble county. The party killed eight gobblers, two of which were accounted for under the accurate gunfire of Miss Womack. One of the gobblers killed by her weighed 25 pounds, the largest downed by the group.

Bill Gordon stated Tuesday that he had accepted position with the Stone Department Store as salesman. Recently he and Mrs. Gordon have operated a cafeteria opposite the high school building on Twelfth street.

WORLD FAMED VAGABOND TO APPEAR IN COLORADO PROGRAM NOVEMBER 26TH

Don Blanding Being Brought Here Under Auspices of Local Merchant

It is said that there is the lure of Kipling and the strong rhythm of Robert Burns in the descriptions to be given here on the evening of November 26th by Don Blanding, poet, author, artist and vagabond extraordinary. His coming is under auspices of Roddy Brooks Merritt and other admirers of the popular American-Hawaiian writer and actor. His narrative-recital to be given at the high school auditorium to climax annual program observing Thanksgiving in Colorado.

The former Oklahoman, who is now known throughout the world, will talk from the subject, "A Vagabond's Adventures," and in the address will relate many of his experiences as a world traveler, begun when he was a lad 15 years of age. The schools and several civic and literary organizations of the city are cooperating with Mr. Merritt in bringing him here.

Don Blanding says he will bring

POPULAR MINISTER

REV. ALEX B. HANSON

Brother Colorado Physician Dies At Quanah Saturday

Will Barber, 67, twin brother of Dr. T. H. Barber of Colorado, died at Quanah, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, following stroke of apoplexy the day before. Burial was at Quanah following funeral rites there Sunday.

Dr. Barber and his daughter, Mrs. G. R. Cole, were in Quanah to attend the funeral services.

Deceased is survived by his widow and a foster daughter. He was a native of Alabama.

Terracing Becomes Of More Value To Local Land Owners

With the prospect of having to reduce cotton acreage to 30 per cent of the total cultivated acreage, it is more important than ever for the individual farmer to terrace his land in order that he may produce as much cash crop as possible, the county farm agent said Monday.

Demonstrations over West Texas and in Mitchell county have proven that terracing increases the yield often as high as 30 to 40 per cent, with an average around 10 to 25 per cent.

In addition to increasing yields and profits by conserving moisture, terracing prevents soil erosion and saves the rich top soil from being washed away.

The farm agent will be glad to assist Mitchell county farmers and land owners in terracing their land.

Clyde's Poor And Unemployed Given Dinner By Church

The Clyde Church of Christ will be host Thursday to the poor and unemployed of that community at a Thanksgiving dinner that was prepared and served at noon Thursday by the congregation.

This demonstration of Christian benevolence came during revival meeting being held there by Minister J. D. Harvey of the Colorado Church of Christ.

SWEETWATER PONIES CONTINUE MARCH TO DISTRICT 4 PENNANT

The Sweetwater Mustangs took an easy victory from the San Angelo Bobcats at San Angelo Saturday. The score was 20-0. The annual clash was witnessed by one of the largest fan aggregations to ever attend a football game in the Concho City.

With victory taken from every conference eleven, with whom the Sweetwater club has played, the Nolan county lads are now assured of the coveted district pennant. Midland yet remains to be accounted for but the Ponies are scheduled to easily win there.

Over in the Oil Belt district, it is apparent that the Abilene Eagles are to emerge victorious, after having defeated other strong contestants for the championship belt. The bi-district battle, between Sweetwater and Abilene, should be among the outstanding high school ball classics in West Texas.

PERSONALITY OF JEHOVAH CONTINUES AS DURING DAYS OF CHRIST—HANSON

Minister of All Saint's Is Advocate of Really 'Knowing God'

There is nothing mysterious about the divinity of Christ nor no question as to His power to perform miracles, today as during His personal ministry on earth two thousand years ago, the Rev. Alex B. Hanson, minister at All Saints' Protestant Episcopal church, stated recently.

That prayer is just as effective today as during those days when Christ walked the hills of Palestine preaching the gospel to the poor healing the sick and restoring the blind, is not questioned by this popular Colorado pastor. He knows, through personal experiences, that such is true.

Rev. Mr. Hanson recalls two instances during his ministry in Colorado in which people, given up to die, were restored to health as the answer to prayer. Both, he recalls, were out of danger within 24 hours after divine services in their behalf were held.

One of these was an infant suffering internal bleeding. The other was a woman suffering from serious stomach trouble. They were healed by the personal touch of Christ, just as were those unfortunate restored by the Man of Galilee in the long ago, he said.

Rev. Mr. Hanson came to Colorado to accept pastorate of All Saints' church on May 10, 1927. He is a native of Birmingham, Alabama, where he was born and grew to manhood. After completing his high school and college work, he was graduated in June, 1927, from the Theological Seminary of the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tennessee.

He was ordained deacon in St. Mary's church, Birmingham, on June 19, 1927, by the Rt. Rev. William G. McDowell, Bishop of Alabama. On June 29, 1928, he was ordained priest at All Saints' Church, Colorado, by the Rt. Rev. E. Cecil Seaman, Bishop of North Texas.

Romance leading to the marriage of Rev. Mr. Hanson to Miss Howard Gordon of Mobile, Alabama, had its origin in a sermon delivered by the minister in Mobile. He met Miss Gordon at that time and immediately they became interested in each other. Their marriage was solemnized at Mobile on September 28, 1928.

It was during this romance that the attractive minister's home was built by the congregation of All Saints' Church at 433 Locust street. The home was completed and made ready for occupancy while the minister was away to be married.

Practically every conversion in the church of which he is pastor has been the result of one or more sermons. This is unusual in the Protestant Episcopal Church, as most of the additions are people who have studied the church with assistance of the minister.

Rev. Mr. Hanson is most popular in Colorado. He is secretary of the Colorado Ministerial Association and ever active in any community program that may be sponsored for religious progress. He and members of his congregation have ever been active in supporting the annual union religious services here.

The citizenship of Colorado attained a material contribution when this minister and his bride elected to make their home here. "Alex," as he is known in the Lions Club and among his warm personal friends, is a man of strong personality. He is usually found active in projects of the Lions club, United Charities, chamber of commerce, the public schools and others that tend to make for betterment in the community.

Visitors at All Saints' will ever find a warm welcome. The minister and his people cause all who come to worship with them feel at home and to realize that there is a church in which the true spirit of Christ dominates.

Mrs. O. E. Allison Died Here Sunday; Is Buried Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. O. E. Allison, who died Sunday in a tent in South Colorado, were conducted Monday afternoon by Minister Jim Harvey of the Church of Christ. Mrs. Allison died following a lingering illness. Burial was in a Colorado cemetery.

The unfortunate woman, suffering from tuberculosis, died penniless. Members of the Church of Christ assisted the county in burial expenses.

Annual Christmas Seal Sale Opens At Colorado Soon

Urging that redoubled impetus be given the war on tuberculosis, which still claims more victims between the ages of 15 and 40 than any other disease, Dr. Kinnell Emerson, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, which sponsors the annual Christmas seal sale, requests that Colorado seal its liberal support to this cause in annual drive soon to be opened.

Dr. Emerson made it clear that despite the reduction of the death rate to one-third what it was 25 years ago, tuberculosis is still "the most widespread and dangerous of all preventable diseases."

"Tuberculosis strikes mercilessly at the lives of the young and strong in the years of their fullest promise," Dr. Emerson said. "The fight is not yet half won. There were more than 90,000 deaths from this cause in the United States last year. Only by constant vigilance can we hold the ground gained, and any remission of effort at this moment would be to take backward steps which would require years to retrace."

"This year the 25th annual seal sale makes its appeal to the generous heart of America. It is a year when the strain on giving power is acute and when incomes are notably reduced. The pressure for contributions for material relief is reminiscent of the war-time drives for those incredible sums which this country so quickly raised. Everywhere on the streets of our cities we meet the troubled eyes of men and women looking for work; somewhere there must be found the resources to meet this crisis. In the intensity of our interest in the obvious and immediate urgency we are in grave danger of forgetting what we may call remote emergencies—the prize for which we have fought and labored painfully these many years—the carefully planned health and welfare activities built to defend society and which must be maintained as the price of its survival."

"Where once we gave from our surplus, today we share our own lessened resources with those whose resources no longer exist. The appeal of the hungry must be met, but the fulfillment of this obligation leaves us not one whit less responsible for insuring a safe and healthful environment for those we have saved from starvation. Annually for a quarter of a century the National Tuberculosis Association has offered to the public the opportunity to contribute to the fight against disease by the purchase of the familiar Christmas seals. Having put our hand to the plough we cannot now look back. An appeal to the heart of America rarely misses its mark. The long established health and welfare organizations of this country are a response to the demand of the thinking public. Are they worth preserving? Emphatically, yes!"

Frank Smith, local cattleman, reports that ranchers of this area are entering the winter months with their range cattle in good condition. Wild rye and other vegetation is making good pasturage just now in some localities, he said.

MERCURY PLAYS FREAKISH PRANKS AS COLORADOANS AWAIT BLIZZARD ARRIVAL

Heavy Property Damage Is Take By Storm In North Texas Panhandle

The anticipated blizzard scheduled to arrive at Colorado Saturday night, failed to put in an appearance, although the mercury maneuvered near the freezing point once or twice, only to take wings, as it were, and soar upward again. The severe cold, waybilled for this section by the government bureaus, was spent before reaching this far south.

Heavy property damage was done in vicinity of Amarillo and Pampa by the blizzard. The Southwestern Telephone Company reports losses running into thousands of dollars through breaks in its wires and poles. In vicinity of Pampa ice an inch thick, that accumulated from a freezing mist, covered everything. 110 telephone wires leading into Pampa were broken and at one place 15 consecutive poles were broken down under the heavy load of ice.

Local cattlemen and others did not neglect to take due precautions against the threatened winter storm. Following receipt of the forecast here Saturday, warning that severe blizzard weather was soon to swoop down upon the country, they busied themselves in seeing that livestock and other interests had every protection.

The mercury played some untoward freaks at Colorado during Sunday and Monday. Monday morning, after a night of temperatures nearing the freezing point, the thermometer suddenly went into reverse and raced upward almost 20 degrees within an hour's time. This was noted between 6 and 7 o'clock.

Then at 11 o'clock Monday, the weather man manipulated his controls to register the very opposite. At that time the temperature was hovering around 70. Suddenly, as a brisk "norther" put in an appearance, the populace began to think the blizzard had at last arrived. Temperatures rapidly sought lower levels until a reading of 45 degrees was reported at 1 o'clock. Another upward march then was in order and during early part of the night the weather was normal.

Tuesday morning found Colorado wondering just what the weather man proposed to do. It was evident that the belated freeze-up was coming closer to town. After a few hours, however, and a somewhat moderation in mercury readings, speculation as to what the next few hours might bring became rife again.

Midland Tramples Colorado Club To Ratio Of 39 To 7

The Midland Bulldogs is another Class A club to trounce the Colorado Wolves. In annual clash at Midland, Friday afternoon, the Bulldogs ran roughshod over the locals to win the count 39 to 7.

The lone counter for the Wolves was registered near end of the final quarter when Stagner broke through the Bulldog line for a 30-yard run to score.

You needn't tell me
—I know Camel is the fresh cigarette!

FRESHNESS

— that's the thing!

CAMELS are never parched or toasted

HAVE you noticed the new trend in cigarettes?—
freshness is the popular thing.

That's because a fresh cigarette, as demonstrated by Camels, is something smokers have discovered as better than anything they ever tried before.

Camels are fresh in the Camel Humidor Pack because they're made fresh to start with — blended of choice, delicately mild, sun-ripened tobaccos in which the natural moisture and fragrant flavors are vigilantly safeguarded.

The tobaccos in Camels are never parched or toasted
— the Reynolds method of scientifically applying heat guarantees against that.

That's why we say with so much assurance that Camels are truly fresh. They're made fresh — not parched or toasted — and then they're kept fresh in the Camel Humidor Pack.

Try Camels' freshness for a change. Switch over for just one day, then change back — if you can.

CAMELS

Made FRESH — Kept FRESH

Don't remove the moisture-proof wrapping from your package of Camels after you open it. The Camel Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. In offices and homes, even in the dry atmosphere of artificial heat, the Camel Humidor Pack delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked

George Henshaw's Polo Field Being Platted For Farms

The 308 acres of land south of San Angelo on which George A. Henshaw, former Colorado independent oil operator, two years ago established the nucleus for one of the South's most pretentious polo fields, is being subdivided into 121 tracts for rural homesteads.

Henshaw came to Colorado a few years ago and established offices in the Colorado National Bank. After operating here for a time, he moved to San Angelo. He is reputed to have made a fortune in the oil business. The polo field, familiar to a number of local citizens, was one of the big investment projects he made at San Angelo and vicinity.

The property is to be converted into an irrigated truck farming district, according to the San Angelo Standard-Times. The land is to be irrigated from a $75,000 waterworks system built by Henshaw when the property was improved.
