CUTHBERT FARMER ENDS HIS LIFE BY SHOT FROM RIFLE

MAN BELIEVED DERANGED FIRES INTO BRAIN WHILE HUNTING NEAR HIS HOME

Small Son And Neighbor Are Witnesses To Death of Theodie Kizer

A temporary mental derangement is believed to have been responsible for the death of Theodie Kizer, 32, farmer of Northwest Mitchell county who Monday morning shot himself to death with a small calibre rifle.

The tragedy was enacted in presence of Doyle Gray, a neighbor, and a 9-year old son of deceased while the three were hunting birds not far from his home. There was only one gun in the party, a .22-calibre rifle owned by Gray. They had left Gray's home and proceeded several hundred yards into a pasture when Kizer requested that he be allowed to take the rifle and try his luck at shooting larks.

Walking a few paces further Kizer fired at a bird but missed. "You fellows stop here while I slip up on that bird. I believe I can bring him down," Kizer suggested, the mean while pointing to a lark some distance ahead of the party. Gray and Kizer's son stopped and Kizer walked ahead about fifteen paces. Suddenly he stopped and placing muzzle of the rifle against his right temple fired. Death was instantaneous.

Witnesses to the tragedy informed Coroner Doc Lasseter of Westbrook, who conducted an inquest, that Kizer made no statement as to his plans of self-destruction. That the man had acted strange the afternoon before was asserted by his wife.

A Kiker & Son ambulance brought the body to Colorado early Monday afternoon and forwarded it Wednesday morning at 12:40 a. m. to Ladonia, Fannin county, for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Kizer came to Mitchell county three years ago from Fannin county and had since made their home on a farm in northwest corner of the county. In addition to his wife and the son witnessing self-destruction of Kizer, two smaller sons, aged 7 and 5 years, respectively, survive.

MOVIES

Maurice Chevalier's image will laugh, sing and talk in Colorado Thursday and Friday, but Maurice Chevalier himself will be far, far away.

The French favorite, star of Rouben Mamoulian's "Love Me Tonight," which comes to the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday, Jan. 19th and 20th, left America for a vacation at his home near Cannes, in Southern France, immediately work on the film was completed.

Chevalier has spent each summer there for the past several years. This year he will remain until early fall, when he will again return to Hollywood.

Jeanette MacDonald, who has played opposite Chevalier in previous pictures, is his feminine lead again in "Love Me Tonight." Charlie Ruggles, Charles Butterworth and Myrna Loy head the supporting cast.

Buck Jones knows how to ride to thrills—whether it's on a horse or in a car. Although it is always a welcome and exciting event to see Buck perform on his "wonder" horse, Silver, it is nevertheless a happy result that follows on the thought of Columbia Pictures to put the popular adventure star in another type of "thrill" picture. "High Speed," a drama of the speedway shows Saturday, Jan. 21 at the Palace Theatre.

It is easily one of the fastest moving films Buck Jones has yet appeared in. You are held in breathless anticipation as thrill follows upon thrill. The racing sequences are superb.

Mr. George Arliss, generally considered one of the most able actors on the screen, presents a deft, finished performance in his usual fine style in "A Successful Calamity," showing at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday, Jan. 22 and 23. This picture is adapted from the stage play of the same name. The story was written by the famous author and playwright, Clare Kummer. There is a great deal of humor in the film, though of a more subtle nature than usual, and for the most part, achieved by way of dialogue rather than action. Mr. Arliss is supported by a good cast, containing: Mary Astor, Evalyn Knapp, Grant Mitchell, William Janney, David Torrance, Hardie Albright and Randolph Scott.

They're off! It's a long kick—Carlson's under it. He's got it. There he goes, five yards—fence—down. Neilson brought him down. Harvard's ball on the thirty yard line. And while the teams are lining up folks let us remind you that this is the first play in the climax game for Bedford College as shown in the Columbia picture "That's My Boy," to be shown at the Palace Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 24 and 25.

Richard Cromwell plays the part of the grid star. Dorothy Jordan is the girl, Mac Marsh, Lucien Littlefield, "Dutch" Hendrian and Russ Saunders are also in the cast which includes the University of Southern California 1931 National Championship football squad.

"Six Hours to Live" coming to the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday, January 26 and 27 is, in a measure, fantastic in conception, and rather unusual in treatment and theme. Warner Baxter plays the man who has only six hours to live. In the supporting cast are George Marion, Miriam Jordan, John Boles, Beryl Mercer, Irene Ware and Hal-Hobbes.

FUNERAL RITES FOR WILLIE FAYE ROBERTS

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Our Sunday school had an increase over last Sunday. Jesus meeting human needs was the subject brought before the classes by the teachers. The need of today is for more consecrated Christians, to be such we must pray more and love each other better, and be more careful of the things we do and say.

If you are not attending Sunday school come and be with us. You will find a hearty welcome.

Our pastor was back with us Sunday and brought a wonderful message, the subject being brotherly love found in Hebrews 3-1, showing we must be willing and ready to do the work God has for us to do, whether great or small. Something what seems smallest to us is greatest in God's sight.

The subject for the evening hour was: Two-fold nature of Christ, found in the 19 to 27 verses of the 20th chapter of Luke. Sending spies to watch him and do as just men that they might have power and authority to deliver him to the governor.

Brother Harrell's message was enough to show any sinful man why he should stop and think of his life. If we would take more time to stop and listen—we could hear the "still small voice" speaking to us.

There was no League as our Leaguers went to Big Spring to a district meet.

We are planning for a great day Thursday as the Kingdom Extensior Institute will meet with us. Every one is invited to come.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

Quite a number of Baptist ladies met in regular business session Monday.

Mrs. C. B. Reeder read the 1st Psalm for devotional comparing the godly and godless.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. J. A. Martin, then the regular business meeting held.

The new year book, made by Mrs. Clyde Wilson and Mrs. R. B. Cope was adopted. The new W. M. S. assessments were also adopted and other business discussed.

The meeting was then dismissed in prayer by Mrs. A. C. Hardin. Every Baptist lady is urged to come next Monday and study the book of Nehemiah with Mrs. Jarratt, teaching.

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday School 9:45. We urge all who possibly can to come to the church in time for Sunday School each Sunday.

At eleven o'clock Rev. Hardin read the 26th chapter of Matthew from 36th to 41st verses. Emphasizing the 41st verse "Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing but the flesh is weak."

His topic was "Can Ye not watch with me one hour?" B. Y. P. U. meets at the church at 8:30 p. m. Preaching service at 7:30 p. m. The text for the evening hour was found in the 16th chapter of John 33rd verse. "These things I have spoken unto you, that in one ye might have peace. In this world ye shall have tribulations but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

We had several visitors with us Sunday. Some were strangers in our midst. You have a hearty welcome and we urge you to come often.

Let's work and pray that God's name be glorified this new year and neglect not our coming together in worship.

It's easy to say they're all alike—and easy to prove they are NOT. Dissolve a genuine Bayer Aspirin tablet in water, pour it off, feel the fine powder that coats the glass. Do this with some other tablet; see what coarse particles are left! They feel so sharp as sand, even to your finger. How must they affect those delicate membranes which line your throat—your stomach? For immediate relief from headaches, colds, sore throat, neuralgia or neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, there's nothing like Bayer Aspirin. It cannot depress the heart.

Hospital Fees, Henceforth Demanded In Cash

In order to fortify the hospital against a certain financial failure and "CLOSE UP," henceforth the Hospital fees must be paid weekly in advance, before the patient enters. The amount of cash required to keep the hospital going is too much, and the loss when credit is allowed too great to maintain a hospital. Cash in advance for the hospital fees must be paid, else the hospital must close.

President-Elect Aided In New Farm Aid Measure Passed at Washington Monday

The directing hand of President-elect Roosevelt appeared behind a comprehensive program of agricultural relief Monday as the House at Washington voted new millions of credit for the farmer and prepared to protect his acres against mortgage foreclosures.

While Mr. Roosevelt personally sought to remove snags from the senate path of the much-discussed "domestic allotment" bill for boosting farm prices, the house under domination of the vice-president-elect—Speaker Garner—passed a bill to provide $75,000,000 for 1933 crop production loans.

Already approved by the senate, the bill was taken up and passed in speedy fashion under a "suspension of rules" procedure. "Only adjustment of minor differences in the senate and house versions remained between the bill and the White House."

Senate circles luzzed with conjecture, meanwhile, as Mr. Roosevelt definitely took a hand in the legislative fate of the "domestic allotment" bill by summoning to New York for a hurried conference the ranking democratic member of the agriculture committee, "Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina who has guardedly expressed his doubts of the measure's wisdom.

The Roosevelt imprint also was seen in the announcement by Chairman Stengall of the house banking committee that congressional action would be expedited on a temporary measure to relieve the farm mortgage loan situation.

Through Henry Morgenthau, Jr., mentioned as a possibility for the agriculture portfolio in his cabinet, Mr. Roosevelt has notified congressional leaders he considers most imperative the need for legislation to keep farmers from losing their homes and thus becoming embittered or broken.

In fact, such a measure now is being prepared by farm leaders and associates of the president-elect, including Mr. Morgenthau, and is expected to be introduced in both senate and house early this week. Its details will not be disclosed until definitely decided upon.

Mr. Roosevelt's farm relief plan are being formed mainly with a view to the special session of the new congress, which democratic leaders said almost is certain to be called about the middle of April.

Representative Stengall expressed a conviction President Hoover would veto anything but a temporary relief measure. A presidential veto for the "domestic allotment" plan should it pass the present congress likewise is forecast, even by its staunchest friends.

ANNUAL GAS TAX COST TO MOTORISTS $27.50, RECENT REPORT SHOWS

The Mitchell county motorist pays out the sum of $27.50 annually in gas taxes if amount of motor fuel consumed here equals average for the State. That amount is from one to three times the cost for annual registration fees.

In statement issued Monday at Houston, the Texas Good Roads association pointed out that the average gasoline tax per vehicle in Texas is $27.50. It was shown that the average motorist burns 556 gallons of fuel a year.

MITCHELL COUNTY FARM NOTES

Twelve more hogs were cut up and cured the A. & M. way this week by Chester Jones, W. W. Anderson, M. C. Holt and T. L. McKenny.

Terrace lines have been run recently on the A. C. Graham, W. H. Ezell, J. D. Fuller, G. R. Bauman and R. W. Hall farms.

Rabbit raisers report that some of the alfalfa bought from certain sections of Texas is killing their rabbits. Samples have been sent to A. & M. for analysis.

F. H. Neill of McKenzie reports having some crossed roosters weighing nine pounds.

Three Mitchell county farmers will have demonstrations this year in growing the new Sarcropper Sugar sweet corn recently developed by the Texas Experiment Station. The new corn has an unusually high sugar content and is especially good for canning. Texas has not developed a commercial corn canning industry, due to the fact that we have not had a suitable variety of corn. This new variety is suitable for commercial canning and in a few years Texas will be able to compete with other sections in growing a sweet corn for canning.

SWAIN'S HEART FAILED AFTER 300-MILE DRIVE TO WED HIS IDEAL GIRL

A promising romance, having inception through the pages of a matrimonial journal, suddenly came to naught here one day this week, after the ambitious swain had driven in a motor car from east of Dallas to Colorado to claim as his bride the girl of his dreams.

Story of a lost romance was unfolded bit by bit by the intended hubby after local officers had become suspicious of his actions and towed him in for questioning.

"You see," he explained, "I became acquainted with a beautiful Colorado girl through a matrimony newspaper and we decided to get married. I saved up a dollar and fifty cents and taking pal's car, left home to come and get her. But somehow, my heart failed me after arriving and I have not yet mastered up enough courage to look her up and go through with the deal."

"That fellow looked down and out, alright, when we picked him up three miles west of Colorado and brought him into town," one of the officers stated Wednesday. The man had six cents in his pocket when an inventory of his assets were taken.

The man's father was notified by telephone and arrangements concluded for him to return home, with his dad's motor car, but absent the wife—he had dreamed of making a home for in East Texas.

DON'T SUFFER ANOTHER DAY

Sufferers from rheumatism need more than the mere temporary relief that comes from the use of pain relievers. The system must be freed from the poisons of this agonizing disease. When your throbbing, swollen joints begin to subside, when aching nerves and muscles begin to relax, when poisons begin to dissolve and drain from the system, you will know beyond a doubt that the RU-NO-MA prescription is removing the cause of your trouble. RU-NO-MA acts quickly and thoroughly—contains no opiates or narcotics—absolutely harmless. Ask your druggist about this amazing prescription. Russia and Technocracy

Russia is a pretty good example of Technocracy. While the main guy is not a scientist most of his advisors are. And perhaps, it is best he is not, since he changes his plans when he butts into a stone wall, whereas a scientist wouldn't. A little common sense is necessary when dealing with humans.

Mrs. D. H. Snyder, Sr., Died Sunday at Austin; Burial Tuesday at Georgetown

Mrs. D. H. Snyder, Sr., 86, widow of the late Captain D. H. Snyder, one of the founders of Southwestern University at Georgetown and for many years among Texas' outstanding citizens, died Sunday night at 7 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Warren W. Moore of Austin. The aged Texan had been ill for several days.

Funeral rites were held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from the Georgetown Methodist church with the pastor in charge. Among speakers to pay tribute to life of Mrs. Snyder was Dr. King Vivian, president of the educational institution that had its inception largely in the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder. Burial was in a Georgetown cemetery beside grave of her husband who died there twelve years ago.

A native of Texas, Mrs. Snyder grew to womanhood at Round Rock where her father owned and operated a general store. It was there that she was married in 1864. Captain Snyder became prominent as a cattleman and philanthropist, combining his means and benevolence in the promotion and development of many worthwhile objectives.

Captain Snyder at one time owned the Rennerbrook ranch twenty five miles south of Colorado. D. N. Arnett of Colorado was manager of the large cattle domain during the time. Snyder sold the property to the Ellwood interests in 1902.

D. H. Snyder of Colorado, prominently identified with the cattle industry in this section for a number of years, is a son of Mrs. Snyder. He was called to Austin several days ago due to serious illness of his mother and as her condition improved returned to Colorado. Accompanied by members of his family he returned to Austin Sunday. They arrived home Wednesday afternoon after attending funeral rites the day before.

Other survivors are two sons, Fred Snyder, Lubbock, and Marcus Snyder, Dallas, and four daughters, Mrs. E. J. Olive, Dallas; Mrs. Ollie S. Jones, Lubbock; Mrs. C. M. Armstrong, Seagraves, and Mrs. Moore of Austin with whom she had been making her home.

EDITORIAL

The best way to make friends is to be a friend, one worthy of confidence and trust. Very few people have been known to have friends if they betray the confidence placed in them.

A friend is an earthly angel who steers you on, when clouds seem darkest.

And you forget all your fun.

Thus, the above is my definition of a friend, for "A friend in need is a friend indeed" is its moral.

And surely, there would be nothing but the darkest of clouds if this world contained no friends worthy of mention. One should select his friends in such a fashion that they can associate with the better self. Let your friends be of such character and morals that their influence will be only for the best. The best model for a friend is MOTHER. Every person can find, if he chooses, a perfect friend and companion in his mother. And surely he will never find one of better character or morals than his mother.

See, but is great to have a friend you can trust!

A friend you can rely on, and depend on, if you must;

A friend you can go to with your care and your grief,

A friend who understands you, and gives you relief.

The first game Friday night was a match between Coahoma, who drew a bye the first time, and Dunn. Coahoma won by a score of 30-26. Next the Colorado Wolves won their second match over Sterling City, 30-28. Sterling City had defeated the Wolves in a previous game, but failed to win the contest match. Later there were two consolation matches—Goodman defeated Spade 23-8 and Iatan defeated Trent 25-20.

Saturday morning the first match was a consolation match between Rogers and Nolan. This game was won by Nolan 22-17. Colorado played Coahoma next, after defeating Sterling City, 30-28. Sterling City had defeated the Wolves in a previous game, but failed to win the contest match. Later there were two consolation matches—Goodman defeated Spade 23-8 and Iatan defeated Trent 25-20.

Colorado played their next game with Bronte, which sent them to the finals with the winner of the Big Spring Hamlin game. The Big Spring Steers defeated the Pied Pipers 46-16, sending Big Spring in to the finals with Colorado.

Saturday afternoon two consolation matches were played, when Loraine beat Iatan 29-14 and Goodman beat Nolan 24-16, leaving the consolation match between Loraine and Goodman.

Saturday night at 8:30, Loraine defeated Goodman and won the consolation prize. Then came the Colorado-Big Spring game. The Wolves executed great skill against the Steers but were finally downed by the Steers 41-44.

Following the last game the trophies were presented by Rev. Dick O'Brien. He told one of his stories first and then presented the winner's trophy to Big Spring, runner-up trophy to Colorado and the consolation trophy was presented to Loraine and the runner-up trophy to Goodman.

Two small trophies were presented to high point man of both tournament winners, won by Morgan of Big Spring and consolation winner Riggs, of Loraine.

The five best players of the tournament were picked and presented with gold basket balls—they were as follows:

1. Morgan of Big Spring, forward.
2. Kissinger of Roby, forward.
3. Reid of Big Spring, center.
4. Manning of Hamlin, guard.
5. Hall of Big Spring, guard.

Brown of Sterling City was presented with one of the gold basket balls for exhibiting the best sportsmanship of the tournament.

Bristoe and Ried, both of Big Spring officiated throughout the entire tournament.

High Fences

By GRACE S. RICHMOND—The setting of this book, a very interesting novel on the life of a news reporter, is situated in New York.

The main characters, David Mac Rose, an author, and Ross Collins, a news reporter by Miss Richmond.

Ross Collins, an indifferent news reporter, and a strict disbeliever in marriage, meets and falls in love with an author, David Mac Ross. She refuses to let herself depart from her old belief in marriage, and tries to ignore her love for David. Quite suddenly she is offered a position as the manager of a book store, in a quiet country village, where, she later discovers, David lives. At last she is forced to break her old rule and decides to marry the exceedingly happy David.

The moral of this book is that when one finds that he is in the wrong, he must not retain his old standards.

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT is made from plants that grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat.

In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily.

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for Children.

BIG HOGS DO NOT PAY, JULE HENDERSON FINDS

The leviathan type of meat hog does not pay. Jule Henderson of ten miles south from Colorado has found. Henderson butchered an extra large porker the other day from which he rendered 25 gallons of lard and made 74 pounds of sausage.

It is more economical for the farmer to produce hogs at from 150 to 250 pounds weight, Henderson stated.

Jane Axtell and Tome Hughes are still that way; but Tom WAS seen at the Tournament with Florence MCloud.

I note that Bernice King has practically domesticated little Lois Smith—she's a man King!

Who is this thing called hi de ho? Ask J. Thomas Merritt, who has suddenly decided to become a doctor. He was seen Saturday night at the tournament with one Minnie. I nurse. He also took her to Abilene the following afternoon, and had a date with her Monday night. Has anyone here seen Minnie?

And my dear English professor Teacher Croslin, is seen now and then with Mamie Lou Bedford. But—so is Mr. Coffman! Ah, Marmaduke, pistols for two and coffee for one at daybreak!

TORTURE VICTIM LIVED IN THIS COUNTY YEARS AGO, RANCHER STATES

R. A. Hunnicutt, 70, and his son, Dec. 29, tortured and robbed at their ranch home near Captain New Mexico, Tuesday night of last week, are former citizens of Mitchell county, J. D. Wulffjen, pioneer cattleman, recalled. The elder Hunnicutt was at one time employed of the Wulffjen ranch south of Colorado.

Incident attending the robbery is reported by the father. He stated that he was attracted to door of his ranch house by a knock from the outside. As he opened the door, three men attacked him. He was tied up with barbed wire and threatened with pistols when he refused to disclose where money he had received that day in a cattle deal was hidden.

The bandits then went inside the home and after tying up the son with wire, began to apply gasoline torch to his feet. Cries of the son caused Mr. Hunnicutt to yield in telling the robbers where they would find the money.

ONE MEMBER RECEIVED ANOTHER VOTED FRIDAY BY LOCAL LIONS CLUB

The Lions Club continues strides of advancement, especially in so far as receiving new members is concerned. Three weeks ago two new members, Chas. Kyle and C. D. weeks ago know the time for all-gone Hornberger were received. Two weeks ago County Attorney Del Barber became a member and Friday of last week R. S. Hubbard, former director for Jones, Russell and Company, was made a member.

The club president, Joe Pond, has recently expressed keen interest in this aspect of progress. "It is evident that Lionism in Colorado is short with each of its members striving cooperatively to render a real, constructive service in the community," he said.

ANCIENT, MODERN SAVAGES Among wonders of the old world about which many civilizations have centered interest is the Great Wall of China, builded centuries ago to protect that empire from Manchurian barbarians.

In this modern age a race more scientifically savage and bent upon a destruction of greater lustful proportions than before, is pounding at Eastern end of the Great Wall. The Japanese, after their outrage of Chinese life and property last year, have recently invested Shangkaiwan, a military move necessary to an objective with subjugation of the province of Jehol the goal.

In the meantime Japan denies any intention of proceeding south of the Great Wall, though observers point out that the present trend of operations puts the Japs in a most strategic position with reference to striking at Peiping, capital of China. Without regard to rights of others and certainly no consideration of the principles upon which civilization has found stable footing, these "yellow devils" of the Far East, push ahead through innocent blood to attain their covetous purpose.

This program is contemptuous alike of world opinion and of anti-war opinion at home. The Japanese propaganda machine is working full blast, implanting fear of United States intervention and anything to retain support at home. The country's finances, along with the moral of the people, stumbles into har places such as the Japs have not experienced in many decades, but the war machine must go on.

The Record has pondered stories of the Yellow peril. America and the rest of the world may find out more about it than we now know, and that within the not distant future.

MAKE THIS A SAFE YEAR Three hundred and sixty five safe and happy days to every one of our friends is the wish of this newspaper for 1933. Recently The Record has given editorial expression to hazards that have been permitted to exist within the homes of our people.

Extending safety fruitage beyond the bounds of this community, to include the entire nation would be the means of saving thousands of lives which otherwise stand to be needlessly destroyed. We Americans are too prone to take chances, even in the face of an inevitable rearing, meaning disaster.

This newspaper is not alone in sounding the gospel of safety. The movement has been pretty good progress, taking the country as a whole, for a considerable time. There has been a general decrease in the number and severity of accidents, aside from those caused by automobiles. The careless, reckless and irresponsible motor driver will about 33,000 people annually in America nowadays.

We can make 1933 the greatest safety year in our time. We can do it by giving the little effort, the little thought, the little care, that is needed to make our homes, our places of business and the public highways safer. Let's do it.

That adamant law prescribed by John Smith during early Colonial days to effect that the citizen who refused to work would be refused food, was reflected at Lamesa the other day. The R. F. C. committee in that town announced that no applicant would be given consideration unless he could show that he had hied away to the country and actually toiled at the diversion of picking cotton.

So determined was the Dawson county committee that only deserving people should receive benefit from the emergency employment fund, that it announced no more expenditures would be allowed until all cotton in that county had been harvested. Farmers reported considerable cotton yet in the fields and that they were having trouble in obtaining labor to gather the crop.

After the cotton has all been picked, according to the Lamesa Reporter, the committee will put the question to all applicants: "Did you pick cotton during the lull between the first and second allotments of funds from the R. F. C.?"

AN UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE The past thirty days has been attended by an unusual experience for this newspaper. During that time several hundred citizens of this territory have called at the office to inform they planned standing by the old home county paper and as a rule these statements are accompanied by cash payments extending subscription dates ahead another year. Such consideration cannot but impel us to greater efforts in the role of giving to the public of this section a weekly newspaper of merit and dependability.

We find that Governor Miriam A. Ferguson neglected to list our name among the Texans appointed to lucrative governmental jobs. That settles it, in so far as any ambition we might have entertained for merging into politics goes.

A South Colorado resident who has been insistent in demand that gas be supplied that section of the city admits there is sufficient quantities of the element floating about town, but only the petroleum kind will suffice as fuel.

Postmaster R. S. Brennand does not seem worried very much in threat advanced by certain Democratic politicians that an administrative supporter is likely to be inducted into the postmastership upon expiration of his tenure in office.

America has imported 85,000,000 Japanese electric lamps. Since these lamps use 20.5 per cent more current than the American-made lamps, the supposedly cheap imports are costing users an extra $11,000,000 annually.

Mitchell, Scurry and Sterling counties continue to await with a deal of anxiety that day when construction of Highway 101 is to be authorized by the State highway commission.

And, another project about which Colorado is much interested is the new postoffice building. The Record believes this asset will be acquired during 1933.

The Abilene Morning News states that one of its contemporaries has discovered that "an electrical transcription" is only a phonograph record with a college education.

The Canny Scot Sandy and Lizzie were strolling along one of the city streets, looking for a picture theatre. At last they came to one, over the entrance of which was a large placard: "The Woman Always Pays."

"I guess we will go in here," said Sandy.

Will Rogers Can't Wincecrack Cop Will Rogers was unable to wincecrack a traffic cop at Pasadena, California, out of handing him a ticket for a traffic violation recently. Will may have better luck when he faces the Judge—some cops just can't take a joke.

Mussolini Selects Own Monument Mussolini has selected a monument to himself. It seems much better than waiting and having his friends pass the hat to get money for one.

Last week this column tried to make clear to Prof. Jno. E. Watson certain attitudes the Proverbs sustain to each other. He writes in it we were jumbled, that is to say mixed or wrote confusedly. So we will now make it clear by submitting our "best smiles," gleaned from this hangar of homogenieties.

As temperamental as a windshield wiper in a snow storm. As gullible as a man who thinks a 6:30 banquet will begin on time. As chagrined as a druggist confessing he is out of cigarettes.

As wise as we wisecrackers think we are. As difficult to produce as a new fuse when the lights go out. As enthusiastic as a golfer hunting for his opponents' lost ball.

As hard as trying to convince an irate reader that it was a typographical error. As futile as trying to get into a lawyers office before nine o'clock in the morning.

As profanatory as a three handed bridge game at midnight while the hostess is trying to dig up some lunch. As improbable as the Democratic party will perform prodigies of valor and not claim any-thing of thumaturgy.

Had Mr. Watson, in his note, been more precise and less presumptuous he might have acquired less loquacity and it made clearer—So, that's that.

Don't Be a Quitter A woodpecker sat on a tall church steeple. And looked below at a throng of people; He hammered away but did no good. For the old church steeple wasn't made of wood; His red head flew with a terrible din.

As he pecked away on the old rusty tin; But he didn't stop pecking as some folks will. Though he battered the end of his hard old bill; So he pecked and looked and pecked some more.

Till his neck got stiff and his head was sore; Tired and worn he was facing a depression. No worms for the babies, a hard night session. If he turned back now to his hole in the tree.

To a hungry wife and his babies three; So he pecked away with a right good will. In spite of his neck and his tired old bill; Just pecked away and never gave in. 'Till a hole opened up in the rusty old tin;

And there beneath it, the rotting wood. Meant easy pecking and plenty of food; Because he pecked—it was all he could do. He had stepped the depression, finally pulled through; The duck slipped in as the sun went down.

And shrouded the streets of the little town. And the last faint rays of the setting sun. Told the old read-head that his work was done; But he learned that day on the old church spire. If you'll hammer away at your heart's desire.

And never give up and never get blue. You'll do the thing you set out to do.

A few days ago Joe Taylor in the Dallas News had this article on the depression—the best we have yet seen:

Those happy persons who have not concerned themselves deeply with the causes of the economic reversal often ask their more serious associates, "What brought on all this mess?"

The answer is sure to vary with the individual, for even those who claim to know, or are supposed to know, have little more than a numbed opinion gathered from the fragments of successive explosions. Yet there are certain monumental episodes familiar to general readers which mark with some distinctness the path of the storm. It may be worth while to enumerate the principal ones in order that quaint and curious minds may string themselves together in sequence and order logical faiths from the exhibit. The first, but not necessarily the most destructive, storm burst upon Wall street in the autumn of 1929. Most of us are inclined to hold that furious gale responsible for the wreckage later found strewn across our Continent. But it was not due altogether to that epochal hurricane that so many birds were blown naked, so many nest eggs spilled. The Wall street rout was bad enough, but it alone can not be held responsible for all that happened subsequently. Europe was not recovered from the wounds of war

SEVEN WELLS NEWS NOTES

By Irene Dossey. Mrs. Jim Johnson of the Heperian Club made us a visit and brought us some dominoes. Mr. Johnson is working over a clock that Mrs. Johnson gave the school some time ago to teach the little folks the time of day. Now we will soon have it back, a nice big clock that strikes the hour as well as points the time. We thank both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. C. A. Wallace was called to Bonham to attend the death bed of her father J. A. Echols. Now, comes the report that her little daughter Pauline is sick with Flu, and Mrs. Wallace's return to her family is delayed.

Mrs. W. T. Webb has been confined to her bed three weeks with flu. She is still not improving. Leonard Rogers fell into a crevice of rock over on South Champion Sunday. Mr. Rogers jumped in after him and both had to be hauled up by a rope. Leonard was unscathed but the doctor says he is not seriously injured. He is bruised and uncomfortable. The family has been very uneasy about his condition but he is improving.

Dorris Reese and R. H. Towery are out of school sick. L. L. Bassham and family, Mr. B. H. Gary and family spent Sunday with Henry Bassham's family.

G. V. Hulse and T. Dassey went to Sweetwater on business Tuesday. Mr. H. E. Cockrell was in Latah on business early this week.

Little Ola Wallace is visiting school this week in the absence of her mother. She is about the best girl in the school. We have more pupils in school this year than at any time since 1923.

The cast for the community play is to meet at the school room Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

Plenty of Cheese Nearly 400 different types of cheese are now produced in the United States.

No Difference in Bandits A hard-boiled bandit is no different from the other kind; he is just as yellow on the inside.

Cars With Built-in Towels We often wonder why they don't make cars with a built-in towel so the garage man can wipe the grease on it instead of on the seat.
