Attention of our membership should be centered about the revival scheduled to open Sunday morning. Surely there is a duty that every Colorado Methodist ought to feel himself impelled to perform during this meeting. The presiding elder was right when he recently said: "If you fail to have a gracious revival it will be to the disfavor of Brother Hamblin and to your discredit." The pastor will preach at both services Sunday and also Monday morning.

Attend Sunday school Sunday morning. A class for every age beginning at 9:45. Visitors are cordially welcomed. Especially do we invite Christian people from other churches to assist in the revival meeting.

First Baptist Church
There are two things that we are looking forward to in our next Sunday services. First we are expecting to have not less than 500 in the Sunday school, and second we are to have another silver offering. In a similar service two months ago, more than a hundred separate individuals took part, and a total of nearly $150 was contributed.

It was understood by many that a dollar, no more no less, would be accepted in the offering. We want to correct this notion. Any amount will be acceptable. There are some who will be able to give more than a dollar. In fact there are several that we are expecting to give as much as five dollars or more. While there are others who will not feel able to give as much as a dollar. These will be asked to join in by giving what they feel that they are able. The idea is to get as many to be in on the plan as possible.

It is as acceptable and necessary as praise and prayer.

Third: Giving springs from a heart of love.

"God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son."

Our Church School opens at 9:45. If you have no church home, come with us.

Grave Situation Confronts Many Schools Of West Texas Due To Slow Tax Payments

Many of the public schools in West Texas are confronted with a grave situation, in some instances meaning that their doors will shortly be closed unless financial aid is realized. The Abilene Reporter-News is of the opinion that this trouble is chargeable largely to neglect of local citizens in paying taxes.

Commenting on this situation, The Reporter-News goes on to say: "There is food for thought in the report that the Haskell public schools may be forced to close the present term on the first of March, unless some means of raising the money to carry on is found before that time. There are rumors that schools in many other parts of the state will be compelled to follow suit, for the same reason—lack of funds."

In the main, no doubt, such a situation is due to local tax delinquencies—the failure of the home folks to pay their taxes when due.

A great many people are unable to pay their taxes; there is no disputing that fact. On the other hand, many property owners who can pay, or who could make arrangements to pay, have neglected to do so.

"Oh, well," they argue, "we are sure to have penalty and interest lifted a little later on; so why put out the money now?"

That is the unfortunate feature of the legislative and municipal action in deferring interest and penalty as an emergency measure. It was a great convenience and help to many who could not pay on time, but others who could pay took advantage of it.

If such a deferment is ever granted again, perhaps it will be necessary to extend its benefits only to those who can demonstrate that they could not pay their taxes when due.

The situation is admittedly grave, and hundreds of schools face premature closing for lack of funds. It is a situation that should appeal to the legislature, to taxpayers and to school patrons.

Primary education is something we cannot afford to skimp on, or to do without.

Mayor Hutchinson

would be a candidate to succeed himself in office or not. "I am not necessarily seeking the office unless I find that the people insist that I do so," was his response to the interrogation if he proposed to run.

That the mayor, if elected will continue his policy of strict economy and devote his best effort to every interest of the city and its citizenship is promised without reservation, by his friends. Mr. Hutchinson stated not long ago that had the people been in position financially to pay current tax assessments it would have been possible for the administration to have declared a "holiday" during the next year—operate the city through twelve months tax free.

Mr. Hutchinson states that he will make the campaign solely upon his record as a public official and a private citizen of Colorado. He has lived here during the past thirty years and his life is well known to the Colorado public.

His Own Well

George Eaton, above, is thought to be the only man in East Texas who owns an oil well all by himself. He drilled the well himself on his own land recently, and is shown standing on the derrick floor. Usually the wells are not drilled by the land owners, but are put down by others on a royalty basis.

Slain Sheriff

Sproul, sheriff of Jeff Davis county for 19 years, who was killed Friday near Ft. Davis, Texas, by one of three youthful tramps suspected of burglarizing the home of Sproul's brother. Two youths surrendered. The third was captured by a posse. "I thought he was a cow, which I wanted to kill for food," said J. T. Farmer, 19, who shot Sproul.

East Side Singers To Meet At Silver Sunday, April 2nd

Regular meeting of the East Side Singing association will be convened Sunday, April 2, at Silver school house, ten miles south from Lorraine, according to announcement by Tom Findley member of the host community singing class who was in Colorado Tuesday.

Findley stated that the general public was extended invitation to attend. Singers are especially urged to be present and take an active part in the day's program.

"Be sure and don't forget to mention that we will have luncheon on the ground at noon and all families attending are expected to bring a well filled basket," he said.

ANOTHER TEXAS PEACE OFFICER ASSASSINATED

F. L. Sproul, sheriff of Jeff Davis county, is dead and three youths have been placed under arrest charged with killing the official. One of the men under arrest has confessed that he fired upon the officer from ambush. He is 19 and gave the name of J. T. Farmer of Brookston, Lamar county.

The sheriff was slain as he sought to arrest the trio for questioning in connection with a series of ranch house robberies in Jeff Davis county.

A NARROW ESCAPE

DENVER, COLO.—Donisio Rangel, a transient, will very likely do his traveling on foot rather than on freight trains in the future. He was riding a fast moving freight through the railroad yards when he fell. Only a miracle saved him. Instead of the wheels passing over him they caught in his clothing and hurled him free of the rails.

Airplane Murder and Suicide After Fantastic Plot

A wierd plan of five San Benito, Texas, boys to steal an airplane and fly to Yucatan, in southern Mexico, has resulted in the airplane murder-of Lehman Nelson, flying instructor, and the suicide of Erin McCall. Confidence given a San Benito girl regarding the proposed Mexican junket by the boys resulted in quick solution of the mystery by Valley investigators. The blood-drenched plane is pictured above. At left is Nelson, the ill-fated instructor. Right is McCall, murderer and suicide. None of the boys was more than 21. McCall shot Nelson in the back of the head, and attempted to land. On finding that he had damaged the plane beyond repair, he shot himself, too.

GRADUATED WORK SOUGHT BY LEADERS IN MITCHELL COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

'Interest Leaders And They Will Interest Others,' Is Assn. Slogan

A universal Sunday school spirit that will graduate from the superintendent to the teacher, the teacher to the class member and from the latter reach out and embrace non-attendants is goal to be sought by the Mitchell County Sunday School association.

Directors of the association were in executive session here Sunday afternoon at First Methodist church for the purpose of working out plans through which the greatest number of non-members may be reached. Pastors and other church leaders addressing the group urged personal service among all school officials in attaining the goal. J. Riordan, superintendent of First Presbyterian Sunday school, Colorado; R. B. Ferguson, superintendent of the Loraine Baptist Sunday school, and G. B. Slaton, superintendent of First Baptist Sunday school, Colorado, were named members of a committee to launch public campaign.

Plans for singing county-wide at tendance contest were reported still pending as the meeting adjourned. Inspirational meetings to be attended by teachers and superintendents are held at Colorado, Loraine and Westbrook were suggested by association officials.

Bethel Ladies Will Stage Drama Play At Loraine Tonight

"Spooky Tavern" will be presented by the Ladies Bible Class of Bethel Church at the Loraine Theatre, Friday night, March 3. This play is something different from the ordinary class of plays. It is a new play and produces a laugh from start to finish. If you are easily frightened we would advise you not to come.

The admission price will be 5c and 10c. Circulars have been distributed and each circular is numbered. A certain amount of these numbers will be lucky, so save your circular and present it at the ticket offices Friday night, it might mean a free pass. Come early and get a choice seat.

J. LEE JONES ANNOUNCES AS A CANDIDATE FOR CITY SECRETARY ON APRIL 4TH

Second Term Sought By Man Who Offers Record As His Sole Claim

J. Lee Jones, secretary of the city of Colorado during the past two years, Wednesday morning announced himself as a candidate for reelection, subject to action of municipal election to be held on Tuesday, April 4th.

Mr. Jones is offering his candidacy for election to the second term solely upon his merits. In the event he has made good in this responsible office he feels confident that the voters will retain him for another term of two years.

Under Mr. Jones Colorado's public records have, during the past two years, been placed on a modern and most efficient basis. Recently a State official who inspected records of the city secretary announced that he found them in keeping with the best in Texas. "I know of only one other city in which the public records are kept to such a high standard of efficiency, and that is San Angelo," he asserted.

"Uncle Dick," as the secretary is popularly known in Colorado, has been on the job since his induction into office. Patrons calling at the municipal building usually find him in his office and ready to offer any assistance they may demand.

A. D. Kiker made a business trip to Abilene Tuesday.

League met at 6:45. Rev. O. P. Clark, presiding elder brought the evening message found in Judges. This wonderful message should make everyone of us want to stop and examine our lives to see how selfish we are in putting self first.

Quarterly conference was held after the service. Some very interesting reports were made by various departments of the church.

'Starterator' One Of New Features In Chevrolet Cars

New to the automobile industry in the 1933 cars is the mechanism which makes possible starting the motor and accelerating it with only one pedal operation. This device is known as the "Starterator" on the 1933 Chevrolet, the first car in the industry to introduce it.

The new development has a particular appeal for the feminine driver because it eliminates one more manual control to bother with; and it adds measurably to the safe operation of the car because if the engine should stall in traffic it may be restarted simply by depressing the accelerator without removing the foot from the pedal, the hands from the steering wheel or the eyes from the road ahead.

The Starterator linkage is so designed that when you press down on the pedal, the starting motor circuit is closed. The instant the engine fires, a vacuum is produced in the intake manifold. This vacuum operates a diaphragm which disconnects the starter mechanism, and thereafter the pedal operates as an accelerator only.

The device is one more step toward the goal of creating as nearly an automatic car as possible. Chevrolet engineers point out.

Colorado Wolf Hunters Render Material Public Good In Each Successful Chase

Aside from the fact they are maintaining in popular vogue one of the traditional sports of the Old West, J. C. Etheridge, Dr. B. F. Dulaney, J. G. Merritt, Col. W. A. Dulin, Sam Smith and others to be listed on roster of the Mitchell County Wolf Hunting association effect a material saving to the public every time a successful chase is staged.

According to findings of agents working with the government in predatory animal control, the average Texas coyote may predate ranchers and farmers to the extent of $1,000 during his lifetime. His prey upon chickens, turkeys, hogs, sheep, goats and other sources from which the wary wolf obtains his menu is estimated in that figure.

Going on with the story, the following is reprinted from a recent press dispatch originating in Austin:

The wolf, or coyote, thrives in the mesquite and huisache sections of South Texas. He has been a subject of worry to farmers and ranchmen in that section for many years.

Only in recent years has there been any concerted action to exterminate him. In former years the cowboy was satisfied to practice marksmanship with his pistol on the shifty coyote. Now he believes in setting traps and carrying on a systematic eradication campaign.

C. R. Landon, in charge of the predatory animal work in Texas for the federal government, has been endeavoring, assisted by ranchmen and farmers, to get a more generous appropriation from the state legislature to uphold its part of the burden.

Legislators are threatening to cut the allotment for this work in half, reducing it from $70,000 to $35,000. The work is financed by federal, state and local contributions.

Landon pointed out that last year nearly $37,000 less was spent for the work than in 1931, and the catch 7,244 more animals than in the previous year. The cost per animal of carrying on the work was reduced by one-half, from $12 to $6. Last year 20,379 predatory animals were destroyed by traps and poison. Of these, 17,070 were coyotes, 2,660 bob cats, 599 red wolves 45 mountain lions and five ocelots.

Landon said this protection cost $121,107, divided as follows: state funds, $58,639; federal aid $24,326; local contributions, $38,141.

Commercial Mashers Found Best For Baby Chicks, Successful Breeders Announce

With the advent of Spring and subsequent attention of many Mitchell county citizens to propagating poultry flocks a series of questions naturally will present themselves for solution. Methods that through experiment have been found best for development of the chicks should be taken into consideration. The kind of feeds that the baby fowls should have is among the most important.

Commercial mashers have been found best adapted to successful baby chick health and growth, several successful breeders have found. An interesting article on this subject is published in current number of the Semi-Weekly Farm News, Dallas.

The first week is the most dangerous week in a chick's life. If the poultryman can get his chicks through the first week, he is far likelier to raise them than he is the day they were hatched, and the passage of each additional week correspondingly increases the chance that they will some day sizzle in a frying pan or cackle over newly-laid eggs.

Feeding is the most important factor in raising strong, healthy chickens, and this is truer of baby chicks than those of any other age. Improper feeding probably kills more chicks annually than any other cause. The poultry raiser should give the closest attention to feed and feeding from the time the chick is hatched until it passes the broiler stage.

Feed little but often is the motto of successful chick raisers. Over-feeding can easily bring about the death of a chick, but it is rare that underfeeding does. The digestive system of a baby chick is easily upset, and when this occurs there is trouble ahead. Right here is where one of the chief advantages of scientifically mixed commercial feed of high quality and uniform character comes in.

Baby chicks have an amazing capacity for digesting and assimilating food. The average weight of a chick when hatched is about one and a half ounces. In about six days it will double its weight, in this respect probably exceeding all other farm animals except the domestic rabbit.

When chicks are 48 to 60 hours old they should be given their first meal, feeding being unnecessary before this because of the egg yolk which the chick absorbs just before hatching. All feed should be given to them the first day or two on clean paper, or in a shallow tray. Only a little at a time should be given, but they should be fed five times a day during the first two or three days, and three times a day after that.

Provide chicks with plenty of grit sand and charcoal from the first, as an aid to digestion. When the chicks get old enough to feed in straw litter, a little surplus grain should be left in the litter after each feeding to encourage them to scratch and thus get needed exercise. Keep the drinking water and the feed utensils scrupulously clean. If you use newspapers for the first few feeds change them after each feed, to avoid spread of bacillary white diarrhea.

The chick's first meal may consist of dry oatmeal, rolled oats or corn bread. This should be supplemented with sour milk or clabber, to get the digestive system to working properly.

Some authorities claim that if you feed your chicks an all-mash ration the first eight weeks they will grow faster. Here is a good mash for the purpose: 25 pounds bran, 25 pounds shorts, 25 pounds yellow corn meal, 7 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 5 pounds lean meat and bone scraps, 5 pounds dried buttermilk 5 pounds cottonseed meal, and 3 pounds of a mineral mixture consisting of 3 pounds powdered limestone and 1 pound of salt.

After the chicks are a few days old this mash may be kept before them in hoppers all the time. Give fresh mash daily and water them in creek fountains, which they can not foul.

A good grain mixture for chicks in connection with mash after eight weeks is as follows: Equal parts of whole oats, kafir, wheat and cracked yellow corn. After the twelfth or thirteenth week it will be well to add crushed oyster shells.

It is observed that young animals that have a large proportion of protein in their milk grow much faster than those that have only a little. This suggests the thought that if baby chicks and other growing chickens were fed more protein they would grow faster. Experiments bear this out to a surprising degree. Hence it is well to feed chicks meat scraps or other protein feed, unless they have free range and the season is late enough for them to pick up plenty of insects and worms.

Green feed also is an essential in feeding chicks. In the warm months chicks can get all the green feed they want with little effort, but in winter and early spring it is advisable to give them green feed even if it is oats sprouted in a pan or box. Green feed contains vitamin A.

Vitamin D, which is formed by sunshine and whose absence will cause leg weakness in chicks, must be supplied in some form. If it is not feasible to give chicks sunshine because they are in a house or because the weather is cloudy, add small amounts of cod-liver oil, which contains vitamin D, to their mash. One pound of cod-liver oil to each 100 pounds of mash is sufficient.

Those raising chickens in a small way will almost always find it cheaper to buy mash ready-mixed than to mix it. Ground limestone, meat scraps, dried buttermilk, alfalfa leaf meal, etc., when bought in small quantities, are expensive. But when you buy your mash ready-mixed, you get these ingredients at the same relative cost per pound as you get corn meal, bran, shorts and other principal items in the ration.

Commercial mashers also contain important minor items that ordinarily are not included in home-mixed mashes, and which can not be economically included. Among these are powdered charcoal, cod-liver oil, gluten meal, and (if you live in the blackland section) so simple a thing as sand.

Tom W. Wilson of Colorado is another Mitchell county citizen who is having his name added to subscription list of this newspaper.

Charles Edwin and Julia Mae Root spent the week-end at home and Sunday evening Mrs. Root and John Tom Merritt took them to Abilene.

Luther M. Watson, publisher of the Nolan County News, Sweetwater, was a visitor in Colorado Tuesday afternoon. Watson was inviting local cattlemen and other interested citizens to attend annual Spring Hereford sale in Sweetwater Saturday.

"Tiger Shark" showing at the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday, March 2 and 3, has for its stars, Edward G. Robinson, Richard Arlen, and Zita Johann. It is the stirring saga of the tuna fisheries of the Pacific, and the fearless, daredevil fishermen who risk their lives many times each year on the shark-infested fishing grounds where the schools of roving tuna make their home. In the role of Captain Mike Mascareno, the "tiger shark" of the little village, Edward G. Robinson has the most colorful and dramatic role of his career. Richard Arlen, as Mike's first mate and pal, "Pipes" Boley, gives an enviable performance. Zita Johann's striking beauty and her marked dramatic ability have full scope in the powerful role of Quita the lovely orphan.

The ace of cowboy stars comes to the Palace Theatre on Saturday, March 4th, in "Lucky Larrigan." Rex Bell is supported in this picture by Helen Foster and John Elliott. Rex plays a double role in this picture. The two roles are known to the audience, but not to many of the other characters of the play. Many thrilling and exciting situations arise through this arrangement, and of course it is up to Rex to make the best of them.

Prepare yourself now for the greatest thrill of your life! On Saturday, March 4th at 11:30 p. m. the Palace Theatre will show the long awaited terrifying night of tense, electric drama. This picture will hold you breathless throughout. You'll never as long as you live forget this night of terrors which five travelers live through in an ancient echoing house in the lonely mountains of Wales, trapped by a shrieking storm with a family of insane people, menaced by a sinister giant and a murder mad maniac! Karloff, Charles Laughton, Melvyn Douglas, Gloria Stuart, Lillian Bond, and many others are in the brilliant cast.

Al Jolson's new starring vehicle "Hallelujah I'm a Bum" which shows at the Palace Theatre, Sunday and Monday, March 5 and 6, will introduce a number of new song hits. Titles of the six numbers are: Hallelujah I'm a Bum, You are Too Beautiful, I Got to Get Back to New York, What Do You Want With Money?, Sleeping Beauty, and Laying In The Corner Stone. Jolson is supported in his new film by Madge Evans, Frank Morgan, Harry Langdon, Chester Conklin, and many others, including "Blue Boy" Connor.

A co-ed cabinet with the doors closed. A job for every relative. Two hamburgers on every bun. Short skirts for the Statue of Liberty. Strawberry flavored mulligan on postage stamps. Extension of hunting season for crooners and whispering baritone. Two seats for every pair of pants. One-day weeks and six-day week-ends. Two dimes for every nickel. Larger thumb tacks and smaller income tax. The above are only a few of the many things Jimmy Durante has in his little red book full of them. Jimmy Durante says the only babies he kisses is grown-up babies, and that what this country needs is a good five-cent date. "The Phantom President" shows at the Palace Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 7 and 8. It contains in it's cast, Jimmy Durante, George M. Cohan, and Claudette Colbert.

"I'm a Fugitive From a Chain Gang" showing at the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday is a true story of a fugitive. So true that at this very minute it's author is in headlong flight from the terror he dared expose! So true that he'll never risk the glare of the busy streets to see his own masterpiece! His wife shared the secret—she knew he had fled the chain gang. How could she turn him back to that living hell—where bodies are broken, souls destroyed! See his gripping, pulsing story on the screen. Every scene is true because it was written with the life blood of a man who can say "I'm a Fugitive From a Chain Gang."

Two-Weeks Revival To Open In Colorado Sunday

SUCCESS OF CAMPAIGN AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH DEMANDS PERSONAL WORK

Pastor Renews Appeal For Christian Devotion And Service In Meeting

If First Methodist church is to lead this community in a great spiritual awakening during the next two weeks it will be because the individual Christian placed himself without reservation upon the altar of service, the Rev. L. A. Webb, pastor, stated Tuesday morning in renewing his appeal that members of his and other churches of the city unite for effective personal service, during the revival to open Sunday morning.

"As a means of leading our people into a greater realization of their duty to God, especially during the revival, we are announcing three special prayer services daily through the two weeks," he said. One of the services to be attended by women will be held in the church auditorium. Another for men will be held in the church basement and the young people will meet in the Sunday school building. Each of the meetings will be started at 7 o'clock p. m.

Rev. Mr. Webb reiterated statement of himself and other Colorado ministers as to Dr. J. H. Hamblin of Sweetwater who is to do the preaching. "He hews to the line every time he delivers a gospel message and members of our congregation may rest assured that we are to have some typical Pentecostal sermons. God is ready for a great revival. Whether or not we succeed in this meeting rests with us, the individuals who have taken unto ourselves the claim of Christianity."

Dr. Hamblin will not arrive in Colorado until Monday afternoon and will deliver his first sermon Monday evening. The pastor will have charge of services Sunday morning and evening and Monday morning. Preaching will be held twice daily, at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Announcement as to whether or not services will be conducted on Saturdays will be made later.

John Watson Plans Greater School For Term of Next Year

John E. Watson, last week re-elected superintendent of the Colorado city schools for his fourth successive year, has already begun plans, tentatively, so to speak, for advancing the schools during next year to an even higher standard of efficiency.

Under direction of Mr. Watson the city schools have advanced in a substantial way during the past few years. Additional credits of affiliation have been given high school by the State board of education and improvements noted in several major departments in both the high and other schools.

Principals for high, junior high and the ward buildings are to be elected at board meeting scheduled to be held during this month. Faculty member elections are to come a month later.

Political News Dominated As The Record For Friday, Mar. 1, 1932, Went To Press

Announcing they were impelled with the urge to render an effective public service, citizens from many walks of life were merging into varied political camps as The Record for Friday, March 1, 1932, went to press. Candidates offering for practically all elective offices were scrambling for votes.

An interesting feature of the political news for that week is recalled in fact that Judge W. W. Beal of Sweetwater announced as candidate for district judge. In the same issue of The Record—and on the same page—strong endorsement of candidacy of Judge James L. Shepherd of Colorado, candidate for re-election to the office was published by the Sweetwater Bar association. Names of ten Sweetwater attorneys were attached to the statement urging nomination of the Colorado man.

An order was passed by commissioners' court Monday of that week electing W. M. Green foreman of the county road gang at a salary of $100 per month. Green succeeded W. G. Delaney.

Long fight between Sweetwater and the Orient railway over removal of general Texas offices from Sweetwater to San Angelo was settled that week in opinion given by the attorney general authorizing the defendant rail company to move its shops and offices to San Angelo.

E. G. King, formerly of Midland, had purchased the Colorado Dry Goods Company and planned making his home here.

J. P. Ehrlich was checked in that week as manager of Rockwell Bros. & Company. Rev. H. C. Hennessey, new pastor of All Saints' church, had arrived with his family to take his pastorate in Colorado.

John Farmer had purchased a bakery at Sweetwater and was moving to that town.

Worshippers at the Baptist church the Sunday before remaining through the service under trying conditions. The Record noted. An addition was being built onto the building and a raging sandstorm poured dust into an open end of the building.

TWENTY-SIX SCHOOLS OF COUNTY SEEK RURAL AID TOTALING NEAR $15,000

Inspection Being Made This Week By Pat Bullock of State Department

Awards to be granted Mitchell county school under authority of the Rural Aid division, State Department of Public Education, should be known within the next few days, A. A. Bullock of Austin, inspector, stated here Tuesday. Bullock is on a tour of inspection of the twenty six schools in this county that formerly applied for aid.

Total supplemental funds asked for in the twenty six applications will approximate near $15,000, Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent, stated. Last year the State awarded schools of this county between $11,000 and $12,000.

Bullock, a native of Mitchell county, was until recently county superintendent of schools in Scurry county. He and family moved to Austin a few weeks ago.

The inspector stated Tuesday morning that during his inspections the day before he was favorably impressed with the high standards found in the county's rural schools.

Inspector Gives OK To Applications He Himself Had Filed

Pat Bullock of Austin, inspector for the Rural Aid division, State Department of Public Education, completed inspection of Scurry county rural schools last week and gave his official o.k. to a series of applications for aid that he himself a few weeks before had filed.

It came about like this. Until recently Bullock was Scurry county school superintendent. After filing applications for aid for his schools, he received appointment calling him to Austin and accepted.

"I found the schools in condition to warrant my o.k. to the applications and am confident they will be getting their money before long," Bullock stated.

Conditions To Be Met By The Borrower Studied Monday By Local Group

Contract forms under which Mitchell county farmers and land owners may file for crop production loans are due in Colorado this week, according to announcement by A. M. Cooper of Sweetwater, field representative of the government in handling the loans. Cooper was in Colorado Monday afternoon to attend conference of local committee at which details for handling the applications were worked out.

Borrowers may obtain copies of the application forms at the chamber of commerce in Colorado and the First State Bank at Loraine. Notary and recording fees required in completing the contracts and having them filed with the county clerk, will this year be paid by the borrower. Last year these items were paid for by the government.

The conference here was attended by J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce secretary; George B. Slaton, assistant vice president of the City National bank; W. S. Foster, county farm agent, and J. C. Hall, vice president of the First State bank at Loraine.

Cooper stated that within the next few days he would announce week-day on which he would be in Colorado and Loraine to confer with borrowers and local committee members. He will be in charge of all government loans to be advanced in Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry and Fisher counties.

Bauman School Principal Praises Lions Club For Aid Given Students Recently

The Colorado Lions Club, through its blind committee, is doing a wonderful work and one that should merit commendation generally, Claude Willis, principal of the Bauman school, states in a recent communication to J. D. Harvey, chairman of the committee. Harvey and his committee recently financed purchase of glasses for two students in the Bauman school.

Among other things, Mr. Willis says: "I wish to thank you for the glasses recently received for the two boys in this community. I think the work you are doing in helping the boys and girls, that unfortunately are handicapped by weak eyes, is wonderful. I certainly wish you men the greatest success in this work."

"The boys, J. C. Smith and Elmer Hale, have been wearing their glasses since last Friday. We can already see an improvement in their school work. You should have seen one of the boys when I gave his glasses to him. He was so proud of them. I believe that if you gentlemen could have seen the look of gratitude on his face, and the way he acted the first afternoon, you would have said the money for the glasses was well spent."

"Gentlemen, you never know when you are helping a child that is retarded from normal progress and development, but that you may be saving a child from the penitentiaries of the state. You may be helping boys or girls that if left alone would ordinarily drop out of school, but by helping them would continue their education and may become the leading citizens of tomorrow. I am certainly pleased with the work you are doing, and pray God's blessings on your Club as the members go about doing good."

Clearing Fields Of Stalks Is Difficult Task, Farmers Say

This is stalk cutting time and farmers report that the task is about the most difficult of these annual field preparation jobs negotiated in several years. Prolific growth of cotton, Indian corn, maize and other field crops last season is given as the reason.

"It beats the Dutch how those cotton stalks grew on my place last year," to quote Ocie Green, Rogers farmer, who was in town Friday afternoon. Green stated that he had been running cutter in stalks that came up even with top of his mules' backs.

George Mahon 'On The Jump' As Two Courts Convened

George H. Mahon, attorney for the 52nd judicial district, will admit that he is kept on the "jump" during these days. Creation of the Special district court several months ago practically doubled responsibilities of the State prosecutor.

Death Toll Taken By Highway Truck Accidents Large

Highway truck accidents during 1932 took a heavy toll in human life, according to figures given the Record by J. T. Howell, agent for the Texas & Pacific railway at Colorado. Out of a total of 717 of these accidents reported in Texas during the year, 241 persons were killed.

Property damage charged to these accidents will run into high figures, according to the statement. Among other things a total of six bridges were destroyed as direct result of a highway truck accident.

There were 887 persons injured from this type of highway accident during the year, the report outlines. Several hundred machines, both commercial trucks and automobiles, were wrecked. A large number of the accidents are shown to have resulted from train-truck crashes.

Chapel Exercises
Rev. Berry Baker of Lamesa, who is now holding a revival at the Methodist church, had charge of the chapel exercises Monday morning, February 27. He made a very inspirational talk on determination and success.

Our departments have not grown in number as we would have for them too since the flu has blown over the measles have come. We have had several absentees but we are building again.

Mr. Ed Clifton our associate superintendent made a fine short talk Sunday morning. He said that we need to check up on our young people. He said the one to do the checking up was the young people's parents. After his talk Brother S. J. Watson, superintendent, made a fine talk, after which a quartet was rendered by our pastor, Mr. Gregory, Mr. Oglesby and Mrs. Gressett.

Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Are you coming? If not, why not?

There will be a meeting of the Deacon board and all laymen that want to attend next Sunday evening at 3:00. Come everyone.

A Word from Baptist Pastor

We have been on the field now something over a year. We have enjoyed our work every minute of it. In this year with you, you have grown very near and dear to us and our main hope in the future is to do the type of work that will please the Lord and will make us better friends, neighbors, and church workers.

As we all know on an average a pastor is no better than his flock and so it is the other way a flock is no better than their pastor, in other words we are all working together for Jesus' sake.

I know I have not carried my part of the load as should a pastor, but I will pledge again my best.

To my friends and church members, I appreciate you all and I wish to tell you that we need you and we are disappointed when you are not at your place in our services.

Now a short sermon and I will see you Sunday morning.

A religion that does—nothing suffers—nothing cost—nothing is worth—nothing

Editorial
 The Seniors should always be the leaders in a school, and through loyalty not only to them but also to the school, the other classes should follow their example in advertising the Senior play, which is to be given next Tuesday night in the high school auditorium.

When one becomes a Senior they seem to feel the responsibility that is placed upon them. It is their duty to set examples for the coming Seniors, and each year they should try to be a better class than the one before. The way in which the class of 1933 has worked in order to make their play more successful than the one of the previous year illustrates this fact.

Announcement
 The Howl announces the resignation of its editor, Lillian Bean, and the appointment of Mabel Majors in her place.

Senior News
 The Senior play is going to be presented in the high school auditorium next Tuesday evening. "Safety First" promises to be the best play of the year and plenty of fun will be furnished for everyone present.
 Part of the money will be used to defray the expenses of the Senior class. Some of it will also be used to buy new stage scenery. New scenery will be used in the play.
 Don't forget to see "Safety First" a thrilling three-act comedy to be presented at the high school auditorium, March 7. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

Several members of the class have been ill this week but are now back in school. Mildred Whitaker, Elizabeth Hutchinson, August Armstrong, Claudia Tate and Lillian Bean.
 The scrapbook is getting better every day and the Seniors are working hard to make it good enough to represent the class. The work is almost finished and will be wound up soon.

Jokes
 P. J. Burroughs: "It's all wrong about those Irish being good fighters."
 Chuck Wigley: "Yeh?"
 P. J. B.: "Yeh. Last night me and my brother Ed and two other fellows licked one."

Mr. Croslin: "I have told this class all I know about English and still you don't know a thing."

Mrs. Cooper: "In some states my boy is quite wealthy."

Mrs. Cantrill: "How's that?"
 Mrs. Cooper: "Some states offer a reward of $5,000 for him."

George Kiker: "What is the matter with Charles Garrett this morning, is he sick?"

Frank Smith: "Oh, no. He got to shine this morning and then found out he did not have on his own shoes."

Lynn Morrison: "Say, did you know I was a magician?"
 Frances E. Price: "No, how come?"
 Lynn Morrison: "I can turn a car into a driveway."

Juanita Reese: "Say, Maurine, do you know where slow motion originated?"
 Maurine Whitaker: "No, where?"
 J. Reese: "Two Scotchman reaching for the check in a restaurant."

Pub-lease! Miss Zilch!
 Says the Man at the Keyhole hastily emerging from his Good Old Blue Ribbon Malt can. We have succeeded in getting an interview with Alonzo Q. Zilch, inventor of the Zilch halitosis screen and the Zilch rose-colored glass for blind dates. Zilch's subject is, "How Women Say No."
 First, says Alonzo, I will reveal some of the strategy used by girls in refusing dates. First, I imagine, is the brutal but firm, "I have a date."—usually final. A good time-tried and very popular excuse is, "I have to study." But remember if you get this one you're being played for a sucker. Aren't we all? Girls do study but—not if some handsome brute like Marvin Jackson or some cute kid like P. J. Burroughs comes along. A good one that is seldom used is, "I have a sprained ankle." Heh! Heh! Cost me sixty cents to hear that one. Carey Prude was also a victim of this gag. Then the good old, "I have to go to church." Next! They go if they want to—and if they don't—they don't. Don't let this one suck you under. Also the delayed forcing system, "I'm not sure I can go, ask me later," which means she's waiting for a call but she don't get it—you get the date—in the neck. One neat one is, "I'm too tired!" I never heard that one but it's used. One you sometimes get over the phone is, "I can't make it." If you get that one that's bad—that's had—you've lost your "it!"

Thank you, Alonzo, and perhaps next week The Old Maestro will give us the approach gambits used by the unfair sex. But what I want to ask the Old Maestro is when a girl grabs your hand as soon as she gets in the car with you—whether it's because of love or for protection. All our modern songs are old, why Queen Guinevere, listening to the impassioned pleas of Lancelot, sighed, "Why can't this knight go on forever?" But to work—did you know that Lupton and Maurene were that way? Harold is still rushing one of the Jenkins twins—which one, I don't know, but neither does he. Porter broke up and reunited with his Dora over the week-end. He was with Maurene Sunday night. Are there no gentlemen, Helen? Sap Pickens says that as soon as the women in Fort Worth heard he was coming, they all left town. Lyda May Viles, hot cha, was heavily rushed by Merritt over the week-end. Where was Armenta Saturday night? And the Senior play will be Tuesday night.

Sports
 Coach Cantrill started his boys out for track with a big bunch. Among these he has some real men such as Stagner for half-mile. Last year Stagner went to state in this event. Bill Viles and Helderson for the dashes both of whom have shown up well in previous years and are expected to start their staff for Colorado this year. Joyce and Church are both back for weights this year. Joyce has a good record for tossing the discus and shot but both boys expect to put their opponents in the background this year. Rogers showed up well in Junior high jump last year and is sure to do his best for the High school team this year. We also see some spikes hitting the track coming from Traylor, the boy who is to take off the mile for Colorado this year. Traylor has a good record for the mile and he shows good speed on the track.
 There are also Shelton, Kellet, Hester, Pennington, Barrett and Taylor, who will enter with their speed or other ability for the sake of winning the championship back this year.
 The junior boys are also coming out for track this year with hope of taking their part of the honors for Colorado. They are Joe Cooper, Brady Warren, Regal Porter, Mutt Hicks, Bruce McCloud and Vernon Priddy.
 Mr. Foster called for volunteers for playground ball the other day and received a response of enough boys for two teams, and also a large crowd of girls. Mr. Foster is expecting both his teams to show up well against the Loraine boys and girls in playground ball as well as the other junior teams.
 Mr. Coffman started his girls to playing volleyball. This will be one of the events in the meet held here in April.
 Tennis season is about ready to open this year, and if the weather gets much warmer it will be in full swing.

La Tertulia
 La Tertulia is a Spanish club of the high school composed of all students taking Spanish 3. The existence of the Spanish club is an attraction to the pupils of Spanish 3. The purpose of La Tertulia is to awaken an interest in Spanish literature and life. Through the selection of literature studied the student is able to build a background for the language. The roll call at each meeting lends color by means of the historical information, songs, proverbs, poems, current events, etc.

Particular attention is given to Spanish drama. The student, as he studies a Spanish drama, learns the customs and dress of the Spanish people.

 Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntsville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well."

Coloradoans Turning Attention To The Task of Making Out Income Tax Returns

This is the season for making out annual income tax returns and several Coloradoans are turning their attention to this duty of the citizen. Final payment into Uncle Sam's coffers must be made by March 15, or the prospect of added penalties will be encouraged.

In 1932 single persons had an exemption of $1,500 and married persons $3,500. These have been reduced to $1,000 and $2,500, respectively. All persons having gross income of $5,000 or more during the annual period, regardless of net income, must file report with the government.

Here are some points to keep in mind when making out your income tax returns:

Returns must be mailed so as to reach the Collector of Internal Revenue in the taxpayer's district on or before March 15.

Late returns may be fined 25 per cent. Check or money order should be made payable to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

Cash payments should be made in person at the collector's office. Fraud may be punished by five years in prison and $10,000 in fines. Salaries, wages or other income of taxable size are required by law to be reported to the Government by persons or businesses paying such incomes.

For the purpose of indicating possible exemptions and deductions, consider for example, a single man receiving a net income of $1,500 and a married man $3,000. Each would take his personal exemption of $1,000 and $2,500 respectively, leaving a taxable net income in each case of $500.

A single person may also be the head of a family and be entitled to the same $2,500 exemption which the married person received. A bachelor supporting his mother in his own home or other dependents, is the head of the family. He may further claim $400 additional exemption for such dependents.

The married man may deduct $400 for each of his dependents. Other exemptions include contributions to churches, amusement taxes and all other Federal levies paid by the consumer and not the manufacturer. Caret taxes are not deductible. Fire and theft losses not covered by insurance are deductible as are taxes paid directly to a State or its political subdivisions.

Interest paid out, bad debts, stock losses on stock held two years, and automobile license fees are other deductible items.

The tax rate is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of the finally ascertained taxable income. For amounts beyond this, the tax is 8 per cent.

CARD OF THANKS
 To our many friends, doctors, and nurses we wish to express our gratitude for the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our beloved husband, father and brother. And for the beautiful floral offerings. We wish to thank the ladies of the

Sales Record for Past 54 Months Is Announced

Dayton, Ohio, January 2, 1933.—A record of achievement which is possibly without parallel in business history was revealed here today when officials of the Sargol Laboratories, Inc., reported that fifty-four months ago their medicines, Sargol and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, were first placed on the market, and had sold up to date 7,417,423 packages of these two medicines have been sold.

In explanation of this truly remarkable record Mr. J. M. Gibson, Secretary of the Company, said: "We spent two years' time and a considerable fortune in developing these medicines before they were placed on the market, and we had good reason to believe that as soon as the public became acquainted with their effects there would be a very large demand for them. This is what we expected to have happened during the past fifty-four months."

"An evidence of this," he continued, "thousands upon thousands of individual endorsements have literally poured in from all parts of the country, and we are shipping our medicines throughout the United States, Canada, and Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, Cuba, Jamaica, and several Central American countries. Only yesterday we received an order from Nice, France. Indeed a large part of our business comes from sections where our advertising has never appeared. This indicates that people who use our medicines are writing or telling their friends about them."

When asked for a brief statement of what effects Sargol and Sargon Pills have on persons who take them Mr. Gibson replied, "These are new medicines and they actually accomplish many things which the older remedies were supposed to do. For instance, it is now conceded by the medical profession that calomel and other laxative drugs have no effect whatever on the liver. Our medicines actually stimulate the liver to cleanse itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargol and Sargon Soft Mass Pills also promote general glandular activity; build up the red blood cells, and correct the most prevalent causes of indigestion and constipation and the many ailments resulting from these disorders."

HOW THE VACULATOR OPERATES

New? Certainly. Different? Decidedly. Does it make good coffee—better coffee, than old-fashioned methods? Absolutely. Quoting an authority, "Quickly made coffee using fine grindings and properly filtered is far superior." Thus was Vaculator conceived—to provide discriminating coffee-drinkers with the best obtainable in coffee. You'll like the Vaculator, the perfect coffee brewer.

Measure water in the bottom, pulverized coffee in the top, one heapingteaspoonful of coffee to one cup of water.

Heat generates pressure that causes water to flow upward. The use of hot water hastens this preliminary action.

Coffee is brewed in upper glass where coffee temperature is controlled. When upward flow stops, current should be turned off.

Removing from heat creates a vacuum in lower glass which "sucks" down filtered coffee in a jiffy.

Remove upper glass and serve. The coffee will stay hot up to thirty minutes in the decanter.
