The rain was considerably heavier west, east and south of town, with Loraine and Westbrook each receiving considerably more moisture than was registered here. ## FARM REFINANCING RULES EXPLAINED IN STATEMENT BY FEDERAL BANK AGENT

Provisions Of Act Protecting Home Owners May Interest Mitchell Farmers

There are a number of financial problems being presented just now to farmers of Mitchell and other counties of Texas. A. P. Graves, agent for the Federal Farm Loan Bank at Houston recently gave out the following information to clear this situation somewhat and to explain some of the things that may be done under provisions of the farm mortgage act.

"Broadly speaking, the Farm Loan Commissioner is authorized to make loans to refinance any indebtedness on the farm, to provide working capital for farm operations and to aid farmers to redeem or repurchase farm property owned by them which was foreclosed at any time after July 1, 1931. However, the Texas homestead laws will restrict loans on homestead property to valid liens represented by purchase money, taxes and improvements covered by mechanics' liens.

"Although in this refinancing of farm indebtedness it is anticipated that some first farm mortgage loans will be made, they probably will be the exception rather than the rule for it is possible for farmers to secure first mortgage loans elsewhere. For instance, the Federal Land Banks have been given authority by Congress to sell a new type of Federal farm loan bond the interest on which is guaranteed by the United States and to lend the proceeds of such sale at a rate of not to exceed 4 1/2 percent during the first five years of the loan. These banks also may exchange these bonds with holders of first mortgages. However, farmers do not have to finance their first mortgage indebtedness through a Federal Land Bank nor do they have to get a new first mortgage if the present holders are not pressing them for payment.

"If the farmer offers, in addition to a first or second mortgage on the farm real estate, personal security or chattel mortgages on crops or live stock, the loan can not be made for longer than thirteen years, but during the first three years payment of interest only will be required if the borrower is not in default in respect to any other condition or covenant of his mortgage. From then on interest plus a payment on the principal will be required annually or semi-annually so that the loan will be retired at the end of the loan period. If the loan is made on farm real estate only and is for the purpose of reducing or refinancing an existing mortgage, it can be for a longer period. Regardless of the amount of collateral offered, the Farm Loan Commissioner can not lend more than $5,000 to any one person."

BUDGET PROBLEMS

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—June brides will find a lot of budget problems when they unwrap and arrange their wedding gifts in hundreds of new homes next month.

The word "inflation," forgotten in the rush of parties and wedding preparations, will have a new significance. The "new deal" has brought an advance of at least one-third in grocery costs, while the dollar and pay check remained behind. Therein lies the budget problem.

A list of groceries any family might buy, comparing present prices with those a year ago, follows:

	Year ago	Today
Ten lbs. sugar	$ .37	$ .45
One 48-lb sack flour	.69	.85
6-lbs shortening	.59	.69
10-lbs pinto beans	.25	.50
10-lbs dry salt pork	.60	.70
4-lb picnic ham	.24	.36
3-lbs sliced bacon	.33	.42
10-lb pork roast	.50	.70
8-lbs veal steak	.54	1.04
2 can salmon	.15	.17
10-lb. can matches	.15	.19
8 loaves bread	.28	.48
Totals	$4.69	$7.00

The quantity of groceries might vary, but the comparison of actual grocery lists reveals the rising costs of food. But the comparative table tells but half the story.

Grocery costs dropped like a plummet about the first of this year. Prices ebbed 22 per cent lower than January 1932 and 34 per cent beneath prices in the same period of 1930.

At the same time paychecks slumped proportionately. Very rare was the payroll that did not suffer a 10 per cent reduction in the total sum.

Then came inflation and rising prices. But paychecks lagged behind except in a few notable cases.

In such a situation, balancing the budget will be a major problem for the June bride. It is not her problem alone. Merchants are beginning to wonder if there will be a soft, slumped market under the new schedule.

Firestone Singing Color Fountain Will Be Among Big Attractions At World Fair

When the World's Fair opens in Chicago Saturday, May 27, visitors will see and hear one of the Fair's greatest marvels—the Firestone Singing Color Fountain, in the gardens surrounding the Firestone factory and exhibition building.

This gorgeous spectacle is the only one of its kind in the world. It presents in marvelous beauty a perfect harmony of music, ever-changing color combinations and variations in the rise and fall of the beautiful mystic fountain. This scientific engineering achievement is the result of years of work by some of the world's greatest electrical engineers and scientists.

The magnificent Singing Color Fountain is situated in front of the ultra-modern and attractive Firestone factory and exhibition building in the center of the spacious garden, surrounded by trees, shrubs, and beautiful flowers. The great pool is 100 feet long and 15 feet wide, out of which rise the many dome-shaped mystic fountains, the powerful light rays of varying hues penetrating the misty water, the diamond-like spray that shoots twenty feet in the air—all in tune with the music. The ever-changing shots of colors, and the varying velocity of the water, are in complete tune with the music that will fill the air from immense radio loud speakers hidden within the walls of the building.

Concerts will be given daily and will include the highest type of vocal and instrumental music. The Firestone Singing Color Fountain must be seen and heard to be fully appreciated. The Firestone factory and exhibition building is one of the main attractions of the World's Fair, situated on the highest point of the Fairgrounds, midway between the Administration Building and the Travel and Transport Building, immediately across 23rd Street overhead bridge.

The building contains a complete tire factory, showing every step in the manufacture of tires, and many unique and interesting dynamic displays of an educational nature.

Everyone is cordially invited to make the Firestone factory and exhibition building their headquarters during their visit to the World's Fair.

Colorado Girls Entered For Competition In Annual National Meat Story Contest

A judging committee of three nationally prominent home economics authorities will meet in Chicago on May 26 to pick the winners in the tenth annual national meat story contest, in which are entered the home economics students of Colorado High school under the direction of their instructor, Miss Evelyn Jennings.

Colorado girls entered in this contest have been attracted by the opportunities for winning a university scholarship which will go to the writer of the best essay on meat in each district. At the same time, it is said, they have found that their preparation for the contest has been of much value to them in their classroom studies of this food product. The event is sponsored by the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

The judges selected to perform the important task of making the decisions are: Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Dr. P. Mabel Nelson, head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition, Iowa State College; and Miss Frances Swain, director of Household Arts in the Chicago Public Schools.

High interest centers in the selection of the 1933 national champion. Last year this honor went to Miss June Koepke of Elmore, Minn., her essay being on the subject, "Why We Eat Meat." Winners in every state are to be selected in addition to the national and district winners. Announcement of all winners will be made shortly after the judges convene.

The score card to be used by the judges is as follows: Subject matter of story, 40 points; method of pre-

Jim Cunningham, prominent Abilene criminal attorney, and his son, Oliver Cunningham, former State senator from this district, were in Colorado Monday to attend sessions of district court.

Proposed Road Through Famous Canyon

Here is the proposed road through Palo Duro Canyon in the Panhandle of Texas, a famous scenic wonder that has never been thrown open to the public. The Texas State Parks board is attempting to secure employment in this project for a number of Panhandle youths, in connection with President Roosevelt's reforestation program. Palo Duro canyon could easily draw 200,000 tourists or more per year, according to the committee in charge of the project. It is located 30 miles southeast of Amarillo.

Two Detested Families And Their Kin To Visit Texas Soon, Dr. Crymes Announces

Word has recently been received by Dr. J. Melvin Crymes, city health official, that Mr. and Mrs. Mosquito and Mr. and Mrs. Fly, accompanied by numerous of their relatives, are planning to take up their Summer residence in Texas and that Colorado and this portion of West Texas will be assigned a generous quota of the visitors, especially from the Fly family.

They state that, although many had died since last summer, they would soon have large families. Mrs. Mosquito raises from fifty to three hundred children at one time and only takes around two weeks to have full grown children. Mrs. Fly bragged that she and her husband could be ancestors to a million flies in one season.

Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue, and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the Anopheles or malaria mosquito. Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes aegypti or Tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy the breeding places of the mosquito. They breed in any standing water, therefore, you should drain, ditch or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, too, or stock the water with surface minnows as they will eat the wiggle-tails. Houses should be screened.

Flies help spread typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They breed, live and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies so that their number is an excellent index to the sanitary conditions. The State Health Department, County and City Health Officers are only too glad to assist in banishing this source of disease.

Career Ended

(Continued From Page One) stepped up to the vice presidency. This office he also filled for ten years. In 1930 directors of the Colorado National elevated Mr. Thomas to the office of president.

In July, 1931, Thomas, due to failing health, relinquished presidency of the bank and was succeeded by Joe H. Smoot. In retiring as president the pioneer banking official was retained as chairman of the board. He filled this position until merger of the Colorado and City National banks a few months later.

During the 36 years of his residence in Colorado Mr. Thomas had been active in civic and industrial programs of the community, lending his unselfish support to every project calculated to be for good of his home city and county. The church, too, ever found him an ardent worker in the realm of religion. Progress of the church in this city is due much credit to his efforts. Through many years he was superintendent of the First Presbyterian Sunday school.

Mr. Thomas during his residence in Colorado gave liberally of his time and means for the advancement of education. He was for ten years president of the school board. He was a charter member of the Colorado Lions Club, a member of the Masonic fraternities, holding his Shrine affiliation with Mosiah Temple, Fort Worth. He had been a member of the Colorado Country club since its inception.

The City National Bank was closed Thursday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock for remainder of the day out of respect to Mr. Thomas. Honorary pall bearers were designated as "all of his friends in Mitchell county."

Active pall bearers were Joe H. Smoot, Ross D. Dixon, Lay Powell, G. B. Slaton, D. H. Snyder, H. E. Grantland, Dr. B. F. Dulaney and A. E. Maddin. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Jones, Russell & Company.

A New Deal For Liver Sufferers

Don't be misled any longer. Calomel, salts, oils, mineral waters, laxative pills, herb teas, jawlers, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them. You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—Constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow. Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—You feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly. Only one for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write G. F. Willis, Inc., Atlanta, Georgia—(9-16)

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Our Sunday school reached the 200 mark again. Let's all try to hold the line by being in our places each Sunday.

Rev. Hanks of Paducah delivered the Baccalaureate address. His subject was—Building Castles. Text, "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith. Will ye like men be faithful?"

Rev. Hanks brought some wonderful thoughts to each of us. He was our pastor here for 4 years and loved by all who knew him.

Miss Opal Martin sang beautifully "Life's Echoes," accompanied by Mrs. K. L. Taylor at the piano.

League was well attended.

Rev. Harrell brought us a wonderful message at the evening hour. His text was from Jeremiah 18:42. The potter moulding clay in our lives. We may fall by the wayside but God will mold our lives and make them anew if we are truly willing. Prayer meeting every Wednesday night.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Only 116 were present for Sunday school Sunday morning. The Junior department led in attendance having only nine absent. Church services were dismissed for the Baccalaureate sermon.

At the evening hour Rev. A. C. Hardin read Jonah 1:12-13, "And he said unto them, take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you."

Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring it to the land; and they could not; for the sea wrought and was tempestuous against them." He then preached from the text, "Jonah

Filling George's Shoes' Hard Task

Bob Smith States

On and after August 1 Howard county will become a part of the 70th judicial district and no longer will District Attorney George Mahon of Colorado represent the State in court matters there. W. R. (Bob) Smith of Odessa, State attorney for that district, is to take the place of Mahon.

In an interview published in the Big Spring Daily Herald for Tuesday afternoon, Smith said: "I am very glad to have Howard county in my district, as I have many friends there, and I know the people there are in favor of enforcement of the law and it will be a pleasure to work with them. George Mahon, who has been their district attorney up to this time was a schoolmate of mine whom I have known intimately and admired for years.

"I feel that I am tackling a man-sized job in attempting to fill George's shoes down there, but I intend to do my best to give them the kind of service to which they are entitled."

Grasshoppers Are Appearing In Several Parts Of Texas; Now Is Time To Poison

Grasshoppers are already appearing in numbers in South, Central and East Texas, and there is reason to fear that they will soon be numerous in other parts of the State. They are capable of such great damage to crops that it behooves every farmer who has reason to think his corn or cotton is in danger to be on the alert. Success in fighting grasshoppers depends, to a great extent, on attacking them before they become numerous.

These insects do not stray far the first few weeks from where they are hatched; hence it is highly advisable to poison them now, wherever they are found hatching in low grassland or along stream banks, instead of waiting until they attack your crops. If you can't find many there now, remember they were seen in large numbers there last summer and fall, and you may feel assured there is where the eggs were laid.

There are two types of grasshoppers that are injurious to crops. The yellow "differential" hopper does most of the damage, but in some communities it is the "jumbo" hopper that is the pest. These two types commence hatching about the middle of April, and, ordinarily, begin damaging crops about the middle of May. There are other kinds of grasshoppers that, ordinarily, are not a menace; but any of them will bear watching.

Poison bran is the control measure now mostly used against grasshoppers. But this will not give satisfactory results unless the directions of those who have studied grasshoppers and experimented with their control are followed carefully. Occasional reports of failure with bran mash usually can be traced to departure from directions as given by agricultural colleges. Here is the accepted formula for poison bran mash:

Wheat bran (not shorts), twenty-five pounds; white arsenic or Paris green, one pound; juice and ground rinds of six lemons, and cane molasses (not corn syrup), one ounce. One ounce of amyl acetate may be substituted for the lemons and usually will give better results. But don't use bronzing liquids containing amyl acetate as a substitute, or the other materials in the liquid may repel the hoppers instead of attracting them. Only high-grade acetate should be used such as C. P. or Technical No. 1.

Three other "don'ts" are very important in mixing poison bran mash, as follows:

Don't use calcium arsenate or lead arsenate. Be sure your poison is either white arsenic or Paris green.

Don't use corn syrup. Cane molasses is necessary, and the lower the grade the better.

Don't put the mash out in piles. Sow it broadcast. This last is necessary because mash put out in piles may be eaten by animals or chickens if they can get to it. By spreading it so no one piece is as large as the nail on your little finger, you can not only minimize the danger to animals and chickens, but you also can make the mash cover the maximum amount of ground.

Thoroughly mix the poison and bran mash while dry, dilute the molasses and ground lemon (or amyl acetate) with two gallons of water and stir well until a thoroughly wet mash has been obtained, but not one that is sloppy. It should be such that the mash will fall apart easily while being broadcast. A good test is to squeeze a handful of the mixture in the hand. If it is of the proper consistency, a little water will ooze out, but none will readily run out. Sow broadcast the same as you would oats.

Since the mash is most attractive to grasshoppers when wet, it should be broadcast in the morning, before 8 o'clock. If the area to be covered is too great to permit this, it may be sowed the evening before. However, on hot nights it will dry out some. The mixture should remain effective several days. Spread the mash at the rate of about twenty pounds to the acre. When so spread treatment will cost only a few cents per acre.

The best strategy in fighting grasshoppers is not to spread the poison on the crop to be protected unless the hoppers have already reached it in numbers, but to poison the grass from which they are coming, or lay down a poison belt between the grass and your crop. Observation of the number and distribution of the hoppers at the time you poison will show you what to do. If the hoppers are advancing from pasture lands, distribute the mash in front of their line of march for, say, 200 yards. If begun early enough, a daily treatment of the margin of the pasture land will effectively keep the hoppers from your crop until nearly all of them are poisoned.

The mixture should be made exactly in the proportions and the manner named. Twenty-five pounds of wheat bran, plus the amount of other ingredients named, may be made to cover five acres, depending on the one hand; on the skill of the person distributing it, and, on the other, on the degree of hopper infestation. The poison may be mixed as you would concrete, and the larger the quantity, the easier it is done. Where the infestation is general cooperation with neighbors in putting out the poison will get better results. Common sense will indicate that no unnecessary changes be taken with the poison mixture.

Dead grasshoppers may not be found in large numbers for two or three days after the poison is put out; but, where the infestation is severe, the dead hoppers later may average as many as forty to the square foot. This is exceptional, however.

Usually the combined attacks of the several parasites to which grasshoppers are subject will keep them under control. If this were not so, the efforts of farmers to control them would be futile, indeed. Birds, of course, are powerful allies of farmers in their fight on grasshoppers. To summarize, what the farmer needs to do is to watch the hoppers for signs of an invasion, act quickly, and use only the materials and formula which long experience has shown is best.

MOVIES

"Cynara" is class entertainment that the masses should appreciate. It is the kind of entertainment that any theatre is glad to offer its patrons. It effectively combines great acting, expert direction and unusual mounting to tell a story that is far from now in a distinctive new fashion. It centers around fine romance and drama. It is both a man and woman's picture. However it should appeal more to the women patrons. The leading roles are held by Ronald Colman and Kay Francis. It tops off an exceptionally good week of screen entertainment at the Palace, Thursday and Friday, May 25 and 26.

Little need be said in favor of "The Mysterious Rider" coming to the Palace Theatre on Saturday. Zane Grey's work is too well known for us to dwell long on the merits of this picture taken for the story by the same name. The principle roles are taken by Kent Taylor and Lona Andre. Both are stars in their own right and they play their parts so well as to create envy in the hearts of others who have enacted roles in pictures taken from stories written by Zane Grey.

"Rockabye" coming to the Palace Theatre as a Special Midnight Matinee Saturday strikes the tender human emotions—in the heartiness of a million mothers. Constance Bennett is stunning-glorious as the girl who fought for love and lost—yet won. She claimed she wasn't an angel, that she had been around, that her reputation had been dragged from Second Avenue to Broadway, where they spelled her name in many glittering lights, that they had labeled her so it wouldn't wash off, that they had taken away every decent thing and paid her with glitter and shame, but there was one thing they couldn't do and that was deny her the love she deserved and wanted. The picture is human. There is laughter, gaiety, dancing, romance, heartbreak, glamor, suspense, human interest and numerous phases of love that will merit the seeing of this picture Saturday night at midnight matinee. Miss Bennett is supported by Paul Lukas, Joe McCrea, Walter Pilgeon, Johnny Howard, Virginia Hammond, Walter Catlett, and J. M. Kerrigan.

With "State Fair," coming to the Palace Theatre, Sunday and Monday, Fox Film Co., rings the bell and is entitled to the large kewpie doll. The picture has all the elements of a real good picture and no mistake. This picture has been in the public's eye for sometime. There's no doubt about how good it is. We are fortunate in being able to see it so soon. And what a cast to go with a "more than good" story. Janet Gaynor, Will Rogers, Lew Ayres, Sally Eilers, Norman Foster, Louise Dresser, Frank Craven and Victor Jory lead the cast and they are well supported by many more of your favorite stars.

"Ariadne To Talk," coming to the Palace Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, Regular Bargain nights, features Eric Linden and Sidney Fox. What a team! What a story! What a picture! Why were they afraid to talk? Did they talk? A highly dramatic story in the lanes of two of the youngest and most capable screen stars of the day. This picture merits more than a Bargain Night price, but owing to its late showing here, it has been thrown on the Bargain counter and what a bargain it is. We were unable to get this picture to you sooner, hence the bargain night. You have heard much and probably read much about this picture, now come and see it. Come and see those two charming, capable, popular stars Sidney Fox and Eric Linden. We're afraid to talk, we can't say enough in favor of this exceptional bargain on Bargain Night.

"The Face In The Sky," coming to the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday, June 1 and 2 is in the real sense of the expression a true screen interpretation of a truly sweet human story. It isn't a big picture but a rare piece of screen entertainment, the kind that reaches your heart in its entire humanness; You will treasure the memory of it now. Spencer Tracy, Marion Nixon, and Stuart Erwin share equal honors in this picture.

This map shows the 21 congressional districts in Texas as set up by a bill signed last week by Governor Ferguson. Under the plan none of the 18 former districts retained its former boundaries. Some drew counties from as many as five of the old districts. Three districts in and some of the new ones draw counties from as many as five of the old districts. San Antonio, Dallas, and Houston are composed of single counties, and have larger populations than many of the west Texas districts.

Advertising, when consistently placed, will not fail in building business, Max Berman, Colorado department store owner, declared Monday afternoon. Mr. Berman expressed special elation over results realized from advertising handled for him last week by Whiskey Printing Company, as he opened sale to dispose of the West Texas Dry Goods Company bankrupt stocks.

"The sale opened with a bigger trade demand than we had anticipated," Berman said. We are well pleased with the advertising campaign as handled by publishers of The Record."

AREA SCOUTERS CAMP TO OPEN JULY 12TH AT SITE NEAR NUECES RIVER BANK

Colorado Boys Hopeful Of Attending Annual Fete For Two Weeks

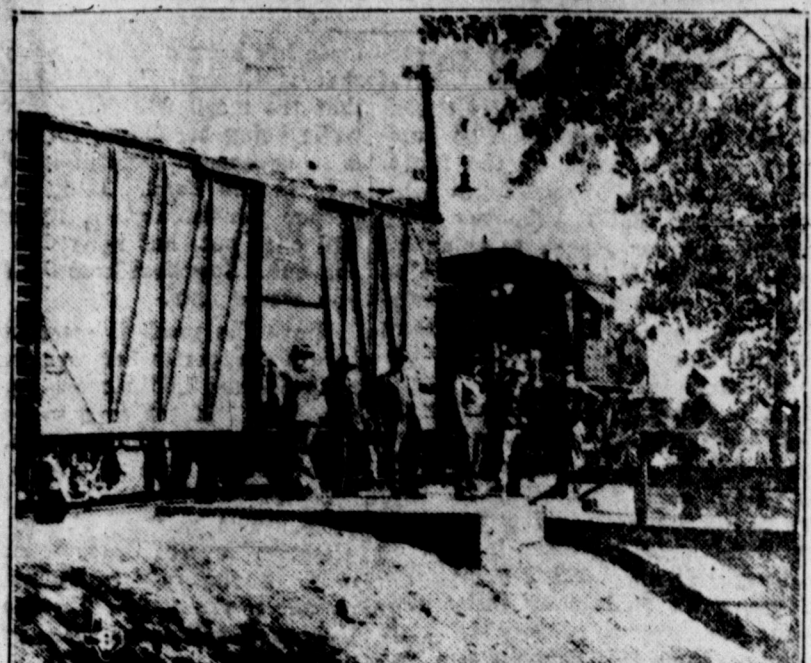

Annual Summer camp of Boy Scouts of the Buffalo Trail Council is to open July 12 at the attractive site on Nueces river near Barksdale used by the area organization last year. Announcement was recently made from Sweetwater that the camp committee had selected this camp again due to its scenic attractions and adequate buildings, water for swimming and drinking and other features.

Colorado Scouts are hopeful that they will be enabled to attend the camp one hundred percent. Boys of the local troops attending the camp last year report it one among the most successful held since the area council was organized several years ago.

The camp fee will be $5 for one week or $9 for the two weeks. This is the lowest cost ever authorized by council officials and is expected to induce a larger number of boys in attending. Each troop must be accompanied to the camp by its own scoutmaster or some other adult leader.

John Deffenbaugh will be pleased to give additional information to any interested Scout.

First Mexican Beer to United States

This picture, taken in El Paso, Texas, shows the first car of the famous Carta Blanca Mexican beer to enter the United States since the new 32 beer law was passed. This car is not for Texas, but was headed for Los Angeles when the photo was taken. A federal inspector attaches seals to the door. Press reports indicate that beer is being sold openly in El Paso, Houston, San Antonio, Galveston and other Texas cities, despite Texas' present dry status.

Discovery By Refining Engineers Accepted With Satisfaction Throughout The State

Here's one of the most remarkable stories, as well as one that is of special interest to all the people of Texas. Three years ago the Gulf Refining Company engineers made a discovery of revolutionary importance to the oil industry. A discovery so advanced, so significant, that it made possible a finer, longer-lived motor oil than the industry had ever seen.

This discovery was an utterly new refining process—the now-famous Alchior Process, exclusive with Gulf. The oil made by it is called Gulfpride.

At first it was possible to produce only limited quantities of this new and remarkable oil. But so amazingly outstanding was its quality—that utterly without advertising and publicity—its fame spread throughout the United States and all foreign nations. It came into universal demand wherever the finest motor lubrication was sought.

Gulfpride has now proved itself beyond question the finest motor oil in the world. This oil is manufactured in the Gulf Refinery in Port Arthur, Texas. It has established seventeen world's records! It has surpassed every set of specifications ever issued for a motor oil, including U. S. Army, U. S. Navy and British Government.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY STAR

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—When big Ernest Koy unpacks his bludgeon on some New York Yankee baseball farm he will start crasing the big question mark hung on him by admirers and sports writers. Undoubtedly Koy is one of the greatest football players of all time at the University of Texas, sufficiently so to win the acclaim of his coach as the best fullback he had ever seen.

But can Koy equal that reputation in baseball? Can he follow in the steps of other fledglings of Coach "Uncle Billy" Dierl, who have made the grade, such as Bib Falk, former White Sox star, and Pinky Higgins, promising Philadelphia Athletic third baseman?

When Koy hits, he slams the ball hard and far, a pass-word with the Yankees. His batting average this year when officially compiled is certain to be well above the .300 mark, although his hitting was off-form early in the season.

Koy is rated an excellent fielder and has a powerful arm. Despite his bulk, around 200 pounds, he is fast on the bases and has caused no end of worry to Southwest Conference catchers with his base-stealing ability.

Some critics maintain that Koy is muscle bound from football, handicapping his freedom of movement in baseball and injuring his playing form. That remains to be seen, others maintain, pointing out some of the greatest baseball players of all time have been prematurely counted out because of their betting style, notably the famous Al Simmons.

Koy hails from Sealy, a town of 2,000. The son of a former world's champion bronc rider, the 23-year-old Texas star got his first dose of baseball on the sandlots.

His play at the University of Texas in his sophomore year attracted wide attention and brought him offers of professional contracts. During summers he played with sandlot teams, adding to his reputation. This year Koy made what is probably his weakest showing with Texas University. That showing however was sufficient to land him an All-conference berth at centerfield.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY GROWING

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—The 1932-1933 school year saw continued growth for the University of Texas in graduation and enrollment numbers.

Enrollment, statistics supplied by the university show, gained 317 over last year, advancing to 6,738 as against 6,421 for 1931-1932. Candidates for graduation exceeded by nearly 200 the number awarded degrees last spring and by more than 200 the number of graduates in the spring of 1931. This year's crop totals 866, of which 564 are boys and 302 are girls.

Included among the graduates who will receive their diplomas June 5 are eight foreign students representing Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico, Egypt and the Philippine Islands, and 58 students from 20 other states.

Also in the list of growing colleges in the state is West Texas state teachers college, Canyon, with an enrollment of 917 as against 866 last year. The number graduated last year was 80. These figures do not include summer graduates.

Of the group slated to receive diplomas June 1, 57 are girls, and 26 boys, a "very serious minded, hard-working group," according to school authorities, "who seem to have the right perspective in regard to teaching, the thing they are prepared to do."

Perhaps the most striking increase in enrollment among Texas schools was exhibited by Paul Quinn college, Waco. The number jumped from 80 last year to 208. Graduation figures, however, will not reflect the enrollment increase for some time to come, although steady advances have been manifested in that regard, too. The class this year numbered 27, as against 20 for 1931 and 21 last year.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By Gordon K. Shearer

United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's apparent decision not to seek re-election has centered interest on whether Speaker Coke Stevenson of Junction, will run for governor or for Congress.

When Rep. T. H. McGregor, close political friend of the Fergusons, in the House of Representatives lauded Stevenson for governor, it could only mean the Speaker is the Ferguson choice and that Mrs. Ferguson will not stand in his way by running again.

But whether Stevenson will run for governor is another question. It is a matter on which he remains uncommunicative.

There was no doubt that when Stevenson launched his campaign Speaker of the 43rd legislature, the governor's chair was kept in view. Since then there has been carved out a new Texas congressional district that fits Stevenson to a "T."

It includes all but one of the ten counties that have been regularly returned him to the state legislature as their representative.

The other counties in the Congressional district are Sterling, Runnels, Coleman, Brown, Irion, Tom Green, Concho, McCulloch, San Saba, Mills, Lampasas, Gillespie, Llano, Val Verde, Uvalde and Kinney.

They are all counties with interests the same as those of the Hill country in which Stevenson lives. They are counties to whom a ranchman can talk in his own language.

Ascendancy of Former Congressman John Garner to the vice presidency leaves the new 21st congressional district without a resident congressman.

Inclusion of Coleman county may also be a factor in deciding Stevenson's choice. State Senator Walter Woodward, of Coleman, is a political strength in that section. He, too, has an eye on the governorship.

Stevenson running for Congress and Woodward running for governor could each aid the other materially by leaving a field open to the other.

Stevenson is equipped to make his future political campaigns on horseback.

Fellow legislators presented him with one of the finest saddles ever exhibited here. It is silver mounted and a beautiful piece of leather work. With it went the broad brimmed hat and chaps.

The gift was really the Speaker's choice. Members went to Mrs. Stevenson to find out what he would like.

It is the custom of the legislators to give the Speaker some memento every session. Usually it is a watch. Mrs. Stevenson warned, "Don't give him a watch. He never carries one."

The Speaker was finally appealed to personally by some of the legislators. He was loathe to pick his own gift but when told they were going to get him something he said: "I want a saddle." He never dreamed of the elaborate saddle that it developed into.

"Speaker's Day," as the annual gift day near the close of a session is known, was also marked by other gifts. The speaker's fondness for cutting cedar posts was remembered and an axe was in the lot. After a day of riding the range and fence building, he was also equipped to sit in a large leather chair (an accompanying one for Mrs. Stevenson), put his feet on an ottoman and have his choice of two lamps on a library table. For outdoor use with the saddle and axe went a corn cob pipe.

The pipe brought to light that Stevenson felt it indecorous to smoke his old cob pipe while presiding over the House. He broke in a new, dude pipe for state use.

Few people are as important as they think they are.

STATE LIONS CONVENTION IN 1934 WON BY MINERAL WELLS BY ONLY 4 VOTES

Local Man Among Speakers
Heard During Meeting
Monday, Tuesday

LUBBOCK, May 23—Texas Lions by a four-vote majority in closing session today named Mineral Wells 1934 host city. Temple received 99 votes; the winner 103.

Pointing out that "there is a real danger" that person receiving federal aid "may have their self reliance and independence so impaired that they will continue to be a charge upon the government or the community," the Lions voted to devote programs to a discussion of this problem and to fostering an improvement of morale.

While considering resolutions, the convention became embroiled over adoption of a resolution endorsing President Franklin Roosevelt's program. The Rev. W. H. Andrews of Bryan and the Rev. Bill Wallace of Lamesa successfully opposed the proposition "because of the president's attitude on the 18th amendment and 3.2 beer." A motion by the Rev. J. Leslie Fennell of Fort Worth that the convention "stay out of politics" was accepted.

Lions also voted that the annual meeting of the district in which the state conclave is held be conducted in conjunction with the state organization.

The convention confirmed district selection of five district governors, as follows: Del Harrington, 2-T, of El Paso; Dr. W. J. Danforth, 2-E,
Fort Worth; George R. Jordan, 2-X,

tion speakers addressing officials at

'New Deal' Is Bringing End Of American Isolation To World Trade, Editor Avers

Progressive policies of the Roosevelt administration are not being alone within bounds of America, but will serve as the means of bringing an end to isolation with other powers and encourage steps toward permanent world peace, The Dallas News says in editorial comment Wednesday. The News says: "Ambassador-at-Large Davis made a sensation at Geneva when he voiced a new turn in American policy. His address was for all purposes a declaration that henceforth the United States would no longer insist on political isolation from Europe but was prepared, for the sake of peace and disarmament, to cooperate heartily with other nations for the elimination of war and the maintenance of peace.

"Mr. Davis won Germany's heart by insisting that the Versailles treaty intended that the allied nations should in due time reduce their armaments to the approximate basis set for Germany—merely sufficient armament to maintain internal order and the policing of frontiers. This, in the opinion of the United States, should be done by all nations, gradually but definitely. The American Government, he said, is itself prepared to cut its armaments to the limit, to exert its full power and to accept its just share of responsibility, in order to make the results of disarmaments prompt and effective. "He urged, further, that the British plan for reduction of armaments be accepted and that all agree that the 'simplest and most accurate definition of an aggressor is one whose armed forces are found on alien soil in violation of treaties.' He promised that the United States would sanction any united action taken against a violator of the peace, if the decision reached seemed just to this country. He concluded his address by urging that since these problems "can not be solved if one nation insists on rearming while the others disarm," decisions on the part of the great nations should be unanimous.

"This address by Ambassador Davis, given doubtless with the full sanction of the President, is certainly a remarkable change in national policy. It ends American isolation places America in the leadership for world peace and reduction of armaments, and pledges prompt cooperation with other powers against an aggressive nation that violates the peace. This American declaration probably saves the disarmament conference at Geneva from an ignominious failure and almost surely insures the success of the coming London conference.

"Ambassador Davis undoubtedly voiced the right attitude for the United States to take. Our geographical position, our financial and economic supremacy, and our historic interest in world peace justify the President in the stand made at Geneva. It makes almost inevitable a closer co-operation henceforth with or membership in the League of Nations. It means that in 16 years Franklin Roosevelt, although Woodrow Wilson, will be hailed a prophet of a new era, minding war and exalting the blessed peace."

MITCHELL COUNTY DISTRICT COURT OPENED MONDAY

JUDGE MAUZEY SETS TWO MURDER CASES FOR TRIAL DURING MAY COURT TERM

Ainsworth Be Arraigned On Next Thursday; Miller Case June 12th

The May term of 32nd district court for Mitchell county was convened Monday morning by Judge A. S. Mauzey of Sweetwater. Empaneling and charging the grand jury was first business taken up by the court. Calling of both the civil and criminal dockets, for purpose of naming trial dates for cases pending, was next taken up.

Trial dates for two murder cases pending on criminal docket of 32nd district court at Colorado were announced Monday. Bill Ainsworth case, reversed a few months ago on mandate of the court of criminal appeals, is to be called for trial Thursday morning of next week. The Newt Miller case, in which the defendant is under indictment as sequel to the killing of N. M. Slim Davis here in April of last year, is set for Monday, June 12.

Ainsworth, farmer of Longfellow community, was convicted here last year and given a term of five years in the State penitentiary. He was charged with the death of M. J. Hazelwood, tenant on his farm, who was found stabbed to death in a country road not far from his home.

The other suit is that of F. C. Sloan of Lorraine in which the Texas & Pacific is also defendant. Sloan is seeking to recover damages totaling $38,000, based upon train automobile wreck at Coahoma last year.

Non-contested and divorce trials, along with attention to the grand jury, have taken attention of the court during this week.

From Roswell To Colorado In 14 Hours Was Motorcade 'Feat' Of 21 Years Ago

One of the greatest automobile "feats" ever known was heralded at Colorado twenty one years ago as a motorcade of ten cars, carrying 36 people arrived in town from Roswell, New Mexico. The motorcade had actually covered the distance of 257 miles in 14 hours.

The motorists setting this new endurance record were enroute to Dallas to attend Eighth Annual Convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs. The visitors were accorded a royal welcome here, including a banquet in dining room of the St. James Hotel.

A gay social affair was given by Mrs. Oscar Majors on Wednesday afternoon of that week 21 years ago, so The Record for Friday, May 24, 1912, noted. It was the occasion for formally announcing engagement of Miss Ethel Majors and Merlie John Vaughan. Cupid was represented by "Little" Roddy Brooks Merritt, who was to act as ring bearer at the approaching marriage.

Judge J. L. Shepherd had convened district court here on Monday of that week.

Members of the grand jury empaneled were J. T. Coffey, J. S. Muns, E. A. Winn, E. Hamilton, F. P. Murphy, J. A. Conaway, C. H. Lasky, A. D. Powell, J. W. Dorn, J. W. Bennett, J. T. Draper and Bert Wulfgen.

Among the important cases pending trial on the criminal docket was the Bill Echols murder case, transferred to Mitchell county on a change of venue from Howard county.

Echols was under indictment in connection with the killing of a man by the name of Black at Coahoma a few months before.

A "festive kid" in throwing a stone at another boy was charged with having crashed one of the show windows at the H. L. Hutchinson & Company store.

Politics in the county continued to hold the average voter's interest that week. Aspirants for various county, precinct and district offices had spoken at rally held at North Champion school house the Friday night before.

BIG SPRING LINKSMEN IN STRONG LEAD OVER LOCAL CLUB IN SUNDAY'S GAME

Colorado linksmen went down in defeat Sunday afternoon in greens contest with Big Spring but managed to hold a sufficient number of points to remain in fourth place in Sand Belt Golf association tournament. The score was 26-14. Colorado now has a total scoring record of 126 points.

Big Spring maintained a consistent lead over the locals in almost every feature of the game, played on the Big Spring Country Club links. Colorado faces another hard scrap Sunday afternoon when the Midlanders come here for another of the tournament contests.

Midland annexed another 28 points in the associational standing Sunday by drubbing Odessa 28-12. Sweetwater staged an easy walk-away in game with Stanton, losing but two possible points in the game, staged on links of the Sweetwater club. The score was 30-10. Sweetwater, with a total of 146 points, is crowding Big Spring for second rung in the tourney. The latter club is credited with 188 points.

SENIORS GET COMMISSION TO DO THE JOB WELL AS HIGH SCHOOL DAYS PASS

Graduates Hear Address By Ollie B. Webb, Texas, Pacific Official

In departing from the associations of high school every member of the senior class, if they would succeed, must go out into the new realm of life resolved to do the job well, it mattering not where their jobs may be cast, was commission given the seventy three graduates of Colorado high school in commencement address delivered Friday evening by Ollie B. Webb of New Orleans, assistant to the president, Texas & Pacific railway.

The speaker was presented by John E. Watson, superintendent of schools, who paid strong tribute to Mr. Webb. "When it became my duty to obtain the speaker for this occasion, I realized the responsibility involved," Watson stated, "I was anxious to get the best man available, especially for such a class as this one, the largest in history of the high school."

Quoting slogan of Rotary International, "He who profits most serves best," Mr. Webb urged members of the class to adopt such a code of ethics as their own. Origin of the slogan was traced back to statement enunciated by the Master as He walked the Judean hills two thousand years ago. From that day down to the present the individual and the nation following such a rule of living have succeeded. Those following after things incubated in selfishness and hatred have usually gone down, he outlined.

The large auditorium was filled to capacity, with a number of people being seated in the balcony. As the high school orchestra gave the professional members of the class marched down the aisles to their places near the stage. Addressers were Miss Mattie Beth Payne, class valedictorian, and George Otis Witten, class salutatorian, were well received.

As senior making the highest average grade during the year, Miss Payne was presented with scholarship entitling her to matriculate in either of several institutions of higher learning in the State. She was also presented with an award offered by the Hesperian Club. Presentation of the scholarship was made by C. A. Wilkins, principal of high school. Mrs. A. L. Whipkey represented the Hesperian Club in making the other award.

MASONS AND COL-TEX IN BIG ROW OVER TOP RUNG IN CITY LEAGUE SCORING

Business Men Few Points In Rear For Second; Fire Boys In Cellar

The Masons and Col-Tex club are staging a big row just now for first rung in city league standing with a scoring credit of 625 each. During the week each of these clubs annexed one victory and in battle Thursday afternoon played through ten innings to an unbroken tie. The score was 2-2.

The Business Men continue to offer serious threat to the two leading clubs however and may again march to front rank, position held by them during first two weeks of the series. The Masons have a league standing of .555 points.

It is beginning to look as if the Fire Boys are "out" in so far as offering menacing competition for the league pennant. During the week mound performers representing the fire department dropped another two consecutive games, bogging deeper into the cellar. This club is credited with scoring record of 222.

Another interesting battle was played Tuesday afternoon with the Fire Boys and Masons furnishing the show. At end of the seventh the teams were tied with 3 runs each. Through the eighth the deadlock remained but in the ninth the Masons tore loose and effected six runs, winning the game 9-3.

"S-s-shay, Chief, I b-believe I have got a little too much and want to be put back in my cell over at the jail," stammered a local citizen as he breezed into the office of Police Chief Hickman Saturday afternoon. The visitor was crooked, alright, so the officer found, and had his request granted without argument.

Hickman states that investigation showed that the man, after getting fairly well corned up, had walked more than a mile into town in order to break into the county lock-up. In crossing the Colorado river he tottered and fell into shallow water but managed to flounder to dry land after considerable effort.

Head Of Large Manufacturing Concern In Praise Of Administration Of Roosevelt

Coincident with the end of the national banking holiday, Norge Corporation started to enjoy an increase in business which has accelerated with every subsequent administrative action taken by President Roosevelt, according to Howard E. Blood, President of the refrigerator manufacturing firm.

"Manufacturers of products in everyday use know that the success of their programs depends entirely on the people who are potential users. Public acceptance of products is the lifeblood of industry and when a manufacturer produces a wanted product and lets it be known, people respond to the benefit of the maker and to themselves. President Roosevelt has functioned in national affairs on a far greater scale, of course, but with the same type of insight to the needs and wants of the people as that of the most highly successful manufacturers," said Mr. Blood.

"He has put into action legislation that is of a kind to reach the people with its effectiveness by an almost direct route. The results are actually being felt in our Norge Refrigerator business, which has had decided stimulation and I have no doubt that other lines are being benefited as noticeably.

"The end of the national banking holiday brought us the largest single order for refrigerators ever placed by one distributor. It was for 1,500 refrigerators; a solid trainload. Within ten days this distributor had sold one-half of that shipment, completely exhausting several numbers of the line. Shipments of increased proportions were made to other distributors in all other parts of the country and these were quickly absorbed by consumers.

"Possibilities of international business improvements as a result of the White House conference with representatives of foreign governments is apparently accepted as a benefit to the individual by the public, for another degree of acceleration in our business was noticeable within a day after the conference started.

Stanton Sheriff In Suit To Get Reward For Killing Bandit

MIDLAND—Suit for collection of $5,000 reward offered by The Texas Bankers association for the killing of bank robbers has been filed by George Dunaway, Midland attorney, in behalf of Sheriff Milt Yater, French Gray, Maurice Zimmerman, and Less Thompson of Stanton.

The Stanton men claim that Clinton Hare, alleged bank robber, was shot to death in a gun battle June 2, 1932, following a hold-up of the First National Bank of Stanton. The plaintiffs recite that when the alleged bandit became frightened he fled in an automobile and was trying to escape in a car after fastening a ranch gate in the face of the sheriff and his posse, when the officers burst through the gate and engaged Hare in a gun battle.

Dunaway says in his complaint that the bankers association has repeatedly refused to pay the reward, ignoring the request of the Stanton men for payment of the $5,000. The complaint recites that Sheriff Yater and his men fulfilled all necessary requirements to receive the reward, notice of which hung in the Stanton bank at the time of the robbery.

Sheriff Yater is a son of W. M. Yater of Colorado.

Sam Goldman, Popular Figure In The Oil Fraternity, Now Citizen Of Big Spring

The following article in reference to Sam Goldman, former Colorado band director and oil man is reprinted from the Big Spring Daily Herald:

Sam Goldman, one of the best-known men in the West Texas oil fraternity, who also is widely known as one of the most successful bandmasters of the State, has become a citizen of Big Spring.

Mr. Goldman, who for six or seven years was associated with the late George A. Henshaw, Jr., has become associated with Lee C. Harrison in the oil producing and refining business.

Sam was "in" on some of the most notable oil strikes of West Texas—some of the most important. He hit Colorado after sinking his last dollar in a wildcat near Roscoe and quickly became secretary of the Sloan Oil company, acting as "right hand man" to the late Sam Sloan, who sank the first producer in the Chalk pool and was widely known for his activities in the development of aviation in this section. Sloan was killed when his ship crashed on the grounds of the Colorado Country Club and Goldman accompanied his body to Altus, Okla., where he was buried.

A few weeks ago Goldman had the same experience over again. Again he turned toward Oklahoma, accompanying the remains of his staunch friend and "buddy" George Henshaw, whose meteoric rise in the oil business is one of the great chapters in the history of the oil country.

Goldman was directing the Colorado Gold Medal band, and also bands in Loraine and Roscoe, when Henshaw, in his characteristic manner, told him he was hiring him to chant.

Goldman went with Henshaw, who gave him much credit for the successes that crowned his efforts. Henshaw drilled in the discovery well of the Henshaw-Settles section of the Howard-Glascock county oil field and sold out to the American Maracaibo company at a handsome figure. It was Goldman who closed a deal for a Borwn county lease in the absence of Henshaw. The property was sold in only a few months to The Texas Company for $2,600,000—exactly 1,000 times higher than the purchase price.

Mr. Goldman still is interested in band work. He was a member of the Moshah Temple Shrine band here during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. He developed the band in Colorado in a few months to the point where it won the state championship in a contest.

Mr. Goldman's wife and daughter, who is a junior in San Angelo high school, will join him here when the school term ends in a few days.

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding thereto a section to be Section 3, which shall provide: "Section 3. (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local self government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local governmental affairs, it hereby is ordained: (2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It is further provided that the Legislature, by a favoring vote of two-thirds of the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favoring vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected county. In elections submitting to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter (unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there is a favoring majority of the votes cast within and a favoring majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any way affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, fiscal, educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such vice shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto.

"(3) A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Judges thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any County or County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitutions or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; save that no such Charter other than as hereinafter authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensation of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting hereunder, no nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms whereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof. "d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties.

"(4). Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In cases of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits.

"(5). Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified services, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such Charters as to all-judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifications for services, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6). Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers by this subsection to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and/or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted within and without any such city, town, district or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qualified votes cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified votes cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger, it shall not be effected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate powers, duties, rights, prerogatives, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were imposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedures, and within such limits, as now are, or hereafter may be, provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions, provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

"b. In case of the partial or complete merger of the government of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter, with the government of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter provisions affected thereby shall cease to control, and the county Charter provisions shall control. "c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and to the benefit thereof the county, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or any Amendment thereof) for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town. "d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county, provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created, shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7). No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the provisions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the provisions of a Charter adopted hereunder, and conforming herewith, Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favoring majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purposes hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

"Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Former Coloradoan May Be Appointed U. S. District Atty

W. R. Smith, Jr., of Odessa, State's attorney for the 70th judicial district of Texas and son of the late W. R. Smith who for a number of years lived at Colorado and represented this district in congress, is considered the most probable choice of Texas senators for recommendation to the post of United States district attorney for the Western district of Texas, to succeed John D. Hartman of San Antonio.

Mark Goodwin, Washington correspondent of The Dallas News, recently had the following to say in a dispatch to his newspaper: "The Texas Senators probably will insist that Hartman be displaced by a Democrat as he already has had the office for twelve years. The probability is that W. R. Smith, Jr., of Odessa will be recommended for the appointment. He is son of the late William Robert Smith, who represented the 16th district in Congress for a number of years and later was appointed to the Federal bench in the Western district, serving until his death."

WOMAN, FRAILED BY ILL HEALTH, SAVES HUSBY FROM WATERS OF LAKE

Answering her husband's pathetic calls for help, a frail woman swam far into the waters of a lake near Stanton before dawn Sunday morning and saved her husband from drowning. She struggled with her mate for several minutes and collapsed as she brought him to the shore line. Clinton Jenkins and two other Big Spring men had rowed out into the lake to set some trot lines. The boat capsized. While the other men clung to the craft, Jenkins tried to swim to shore. His heavy clothing and shoes caused him to weaken and he began to sink. When his wife heard his pleas for aid she stripped off her dress, hastily kicked the shoes from her feet and throwing her glasses aside plunged into the lake, bringing him ashore.

STEERING AWAY FOR JIM

Insistence of the National Democratic party to inject its will in Texas affairs has caused many close observers to proclaim the Roosevelt administration is steering away from the Fergusons.

They made bold after the special called meeting of the State Democratic committee in Dallas the other day where National party say-so held sway over local maneuvering to replace Jed C. Adams, Dallas attorney, as member of the National Democratic committee.

James A. Farley, National committee chairman refused to accept Adams' resignation, ignoring pleading that the newly appointed member of the U. S. Board of Tax Appeals was ineligible because of his quasi-judicial post. He wrote Adams party affairs, called for no change at this time. In effect said some observers, it was word to the Texas that the National party would not hook arms with James E. Ferguson, party boss of Texas and husband of chief executive, Miriam A. Ferguson.

Many observers feel Ferguson outsmarted Maury Hughes, the young Dallas attorney, when he beat him in securing pledges of State committeemen to name C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls as Adams' successor. Hughes, State chairman and recognized as friendly to the Fergusons, trod on dangerous ground when he ruled the Farley letter was final and no National committee vacancy existed. He played the middle-of-the-road game, however, when he permitted Ferguson cohorts to spew their vengeance on Adams by passing resolutions censuring the National committeeman and endorsing McDonald as his logical successor.

HONORING THE FALLEN

It is fitting that Colorado should commemorate Memorial Day next Sunday, an annual observance in which tribute to our soldier dead is given. The impressive rites are to begin at the American Legion building and be concluded at the cemetery. Every citizen who reveres memory of the departed soldier, who gave his all for the principles of liberty and righteousness, ought to attend.

Let us join ranks Sunday afternoon and march to the cemetery, there to reverently meditate while others place flower wreaths upon graves of the departed soldier. The environs should build for truer American ideals and a more responsible heart to the things that are spiritual.

THE RAINS DID COME

The Record does not pose as a weather prophet and we admit that our knowledge in the realm of reckoning along those lines is very limited. The assurance given in this newspaper a few weeks ago that the rains would come came as an outburst of faith in West Texas. Looks like Mitchell county is getting all primed for one of the best years we have experienced in a long time.

Good news is The Record advertising news.

opportunity factory, initiative, will turn them out for you. The power plant in such a factory consists of mind. Don't be afraid of wasting this power. The more you use it the more you have. Don't wait for something to come your way. Go after it.

It is said that every man is the architect of his own fortune. That's true and explains why it is that some build bungalows while others build sky-scrapers. The fellow who has ambition enough to "get by" builds dugouts.

Don't undervalue the man who builds "air-castles." He may turn in and put foundations under them and make them places of beauty and permanence. Every house is built in mind before it takes form in brick or stone. Lives are the same way. One determines the life he shall live and then lives it. What sort of plan have you made for yours.

It is not advisable to wait till some big thing comes to take action. If you haven't properly taken care of small things it is likely you will not know what to do with big ones. There's a good deal in the old proverb observation that "A grapefruit is a lemon that has taken advantage of its opportunities." It is significant, however, that the bigger it got, the sweeter it got. That's why it grew so. Don't be a grouch.

Don't be afraid of a new field. Columbus wasn't. Had it not been for him we would never have heard so much about Ferdinand and Isabella. He had an idea and wasn't satisfied until he proved its correctness. If you have an idea, think it out, and if you believe in it, try it out.

Here is a pertinent remark made by one of the greatest educators this country has ever produced. "Ten men have failed from defects in morals where one has failed from defect in intelligence.

A tree can't have a rotten core and be of any particular value. One's moral fiber is his real heart. Do not mistake cunning and subtlety for genius or talent. Lessons from experience are the most valuable asset we have. They are nuggets of pure gold refined by fire. Education enables one to distinguish them from the worthless pyrites.

Do not often use the word "impossible." It is not a favorite word with those who do things. Napoleon said "Impossible is the adjective of fools." He found victory at Waterloo impossible, but only after he had achieved the so-called impossible on many previous occasions. Where the other fellow stops is a good place for you to begin.

If you have good home influence you are fortunate. If you have not had them, then make them for yourself, you can do it. Good home influences are like the momentum that continues to move the wheel after the power wire is no longer in contact. The machine will run a long time after the batteries have been fully charged.

Many a great enterprise failed of accomplishment because it was abandoned when it needed only one more push. Let your mind recall numbers of splendid achievements which were made successful after those first undertakings them had failed. History is full of them. Don't be a quitter if the cause is worthy. If it is not don't begin.

The faculty of observation is a valuable one, but it is not of much value unless it is accompanied by intelligent thought. Watt's observation of the expansive power of steam, then thinking and acting on what he had discovered has meant much to the world. Almost every worthwhile invention is the result of a similar process, including Guttenberg and his movable type, Arkwright and the spinning jenny, Eli Whitney and the cotton gin, Elias Howe and the sewing machine, Wright Brothers and the flying machine, and so on down the line.

Benjamin Franklin studied with a tallow dip for a light while the youth of today has the aid of electric brilliance. But Franklin had an electric brain. Now as in the past, all the way down the road of life and progress there are beckoning hands welcoming the youth of today to fame and fortune. Poverty has been a greater stimulus to success than riches. Often lagging ambition has been spurred into activity by the pinch of poverty.

It is not necessary that you inherit from your forbears prodigious intellectual powers in order to succeed. One does not have to be born and reared on Mt. Parnassus in order to have intelligence and good sense. It is not necessary that you drink dry the Pierian spring in order to be fitted for a life of usefulness. The more necessary thing that you apply with diligence and good judgment knowledge you do have as you acquire it. Common sense has a way of occasionally placing the laurel wreath upon the brow of mediocrity. Failures can be made stair-steps leading to the top. There is no elevator to lift you there, so don't wait for it. You've got to climb.

To "strike while the iron is hot" means to take advantage of your opportunities. Sometimes one who has energy and ambition has to heat the iron himself, that is, he must use his initiative. Initiative is an opportunity factory. Be sure you have one. Ideas are what count. Your

Use This Laxative made from plants

Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT is made from plants that grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat. In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich.

May 15, 1933

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference. I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories,—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skip are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what it is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.
