FARMER NEAR VINCENT IS INJURED AS GALE WRECKS HOME AND OUT BUILDINGS

Heavy Rain Falls In Small Area; Streams Swollen To Overflow Proportions

Rance Marchbanks, farmer of two miles west of Vincent, is in a Big Spring hospital recovering from a twister swooped out of the south-west Tuesday night, demolishing his barn, badly battered his home and tumbled farm machinery into crumpled masses of wreckage. Marchbanks had his hip broken when his barn was picked up by the gale and let down atop his home.

Three other people living at the Marchbanks home had entered a dug out and escaped uninjured. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wallace and Mrs. Marchbanks had sought safety in the dug out. Someone reported the kitchen stove had collapsed, letting loose burning coals upon the floor. Marchbanks was injured just after reentering the home to rake up the coals in effort to save his home from burning.

John Conrad of the Ruth & Tiller ranch was in Colorado Wednesday and reported that force of the twister tore large mesquite limbs from trees, drove a large timber through top of the Marchbanks home, hurled a harvester several feet, overturned a windmill and shunted both the house and barn several feet from their foundations.

A small stream near the Marchbanks home was so swollen by flood waters that difficulty was experienced by a Big Spring doctor in reaching the injured man. The physician was carried across the rushing waters by neighbors of Marchbanks.

A barn on the J. M. Whitaker farm, three or four miles southwest from the Marchbanks place was demolished. Outhouses on the Lloyd Brannon place, four miles west, were blown down.

Report of the twister here reminded Coloradoans that several years ago a cyclone swooped down on Vincent to wreck the postoffice and school house.

The Shell Pipe Line Corporation, maintaining divisional offices at Colorado, Saturday filed with the Texas railroad commission a schedule reducing pipe line charges in West Texas.

The gathering charge was generally cut from ten to seven cents, with exception of fields in Hutchinson, Carson and Gray counties, where the charge will be 12 cents.

REGISTRY RECEIPT 49 YEARS OLD FOUND LAST WEEK IN PIONEER HOME

Reminiscences of early days in Colorado were again revived recently when a postoffice registry receipt 49 years old was found in the old R. A. Jeffress home, East Fifth and Chestnut streets. The receipt is a bit yellowed but otherwise in excellent state of preservation.

J. O. Dockrey, who is making repairs at the home, found the receipt. It is dated April 9, 1884 and was issued to Mr. Jeffress by R. A. Hazard, postmaster. The paper shows that it recorded registry of a letter addressed to Jas. E. Brown of Washington, D. C.

Building Materials Advancing Rapidly; Build Now Is Plea

Lumber and other building materials are advancing daily on the wholesale market, with no assurance end of upward trend is near. Colorado lumber dealers reported Wednesday afternoon. One of the dealers called attention to fact that lumber had advanced $7 per thousand within the past few days.

Colorado lumber dealers urge that citizens planning new construction or repairs do so without delay. Cost of materials are sure to advance beyond quotations of the present and there is every indication that labor wage scales are to trend upward.

RURAL ROUTE PATRONS TO BENEFIT BY POSTAL RATE CUT EFFECTIVE SATURDAY

Return Of Two-Cent Postage Authorized By Ruling From Washington

Effective Saturday, July 1, patrons served by the several rural letter routes out of Colorado are to realize a saving of one cent on postage rates for first class mail. The reduction of one cent was announced recently from Washington in orders received by the local postmaster.

The law specifically outlines that mail for delivery outside metes of city and rural route delivery routes shall continue to require the regulation 3-cent rate, in effect during the past several months. Since Colorado has no city delivery service, that feature will not apply.

The reduction of one cent on rates for first class letter mail will apply only on rural and city delivery routes. Postmaster R. S. Brennan stated Monday. The postmaster went on to state that some confusion as to operation of the new law existed among patrons of the postoffice.

DRYS, WETS ORGANIZE TO CARRY STATE CONVENTION ON LIQUOR REPEAL ISSUE

Permanent Chairmen Elected At Meeting Convened In Austin Tuesday

Texas' campaign on repeal of the 18th Amendment assumed fighting mettle Tuesday as both the dries and wets perfected permanent organization of their forces and moved to carry the issue direct to the people. Attorney General W. A. Keeling was named leader of the dries and C. C. McDonald became permanent chairman of the wets after Jim Ferguson and Henry Kirby had withdrawn. Both factions met in Austin Tuesday.

Both sides picked separate tickets of candidates for delegates to the State repeal convention November 24, when Texas will reaffirm its stand on the prohibition question or turn with other States in repudiation of the law. One delegate and alternate were named for each of the 31 senatorial districts, and their election or rejection will be confirmed at the polls on August 26.

Dr. J. D. Sandefer, president of Simmons university, Abilene, is dry delegate for this the 24th senatorial district. Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry college, Abilene, is the dry alternate. Milburn McCarty of Eastland is delegate in the wet camp from this district with Colonel Dick McCarty, publisher of the Albany News, alternate.

Simultaneously with convening of the two opposing factions in Austin Tuesday came announcement by W. H. Garrett, temporary Mitchell county chairman for the dries, that voters supporting the 18 amendment and opposed to 3.2 beer were to meet in rally at Union Tabernacle Sunday afternoon. Mitchell wets have made no move to organize forces to meet issues in the campaign.

'REDUCE COTTON ACREAGE OR STARVE', SOUTHERNERS ARE WARNED IN MESSAGE

Roosevelt States Quarter Of Nation's Crop Must Be Destroyed Now

President Roosevelt Saturday launched the administration's ambitious cotton control program with a personal appeal to Southern farmers to co-operate loyally in the drastic proposal to destroy a quarter of the Nation's rapidly maturing crop. The President described the plan as both practical and definite.

His appeal was carried Monday to 2,000,000 cotton growers in special pamphlets bearing the President's signature and warning that unless the program is accepted to the fullest extent the South will face another year of starvation prices for its great money crop.

The Agriculture Department emphasized that "unofficial reports indicated a marked increase in cotton acreage this year and pointed out the possibility of a 14,000,000-bale production.

Such a huge crop, combined with the old cotton carryover not disposed of this year, would mean a repetition of prices in many cases below production costs.

The farm relief administration at the same time threw into high gear its vast propaganda organization which it hoped would persuade farmers to destroy 10,000,000 acres of cotton.

Contracts with the Government providing substantial cash benefits for acreage abandonment will be urged upon the planters during this week. The Federal authorities will

Dr. C. C. Klingman Resigns Pastorate 1st Christian Church, Colorado

Dr. C. C. Klingman, pastor of First Christian church since November 6, last year, is to soon return to his former pastorate at LaGrange, Kentucky. Formal resignation as minister of the Colorado church has been tendered the congregation, the minister stated Tuesday. He will deliver his farewell sermon address here on Sunday, July 9 and with Mrs. Klingman leave the next day for Louisville.

"I regret very much to leave this splendid little city and the associations of my own people," Dr. Klingman said. "I have never been privileged to work among a finer citizenship. The Christian fellowship that I have enjoyed with brother pastors and the people in general since coming to Colorado last fall shall never be forgotten.

"The church that I served as pastor at LaGrange, Kentucky, have never given me up and I am returning to them," the minister continued. Dr. Klingman stated that his son, Charles Klingman, employed at the Henry Vaughn service station, expected to remain in Colorado.

Dr. Klingman came to Colorado in May of last year and held a revival meeting at First Christian church. Members of the congregation were so impressed with him that he was urged to accept call to the pastorate.

Officials of the church state that no plans looking to calling a successor to Dr. Klingman have been considered. The retiring minister is held in high esteem among members of his congregation and many of them are expressing deep regret in knowledge that he is soon to leave.

COTTON CONTROL GROUP TO RENDER SERVICE TO FARMERS MINUS SALARY

Mitchell county citizens who have accepted appointment as members of the central or adjustment committee or the rural contract receiving committee are to devote their time to this work without pay. Many of these men have left pressing duties on the farm or the office this week to do their bit in assisting cotton planters through the formalities of obtaining information and getting contracts properly executed.

The committeemen, however, are to be reimbursed by the government for oil and gasoline used by them in driving over the county.

BUSINESS MEN SPRINTING IN ADVANCE OF FOES FOR PERFECT SCORING RECORD

Col-Tex Lags Behind After Dropping Pair of Games During This Week

With opening of the city league season several weeks ago this club sprinted well ahead of the other three teams, impressing they planned marching to first-half series pennant without interruption. With two weeks of the second half accounted for they are making the same sort of threat. Their scoring record is perfect.

The Masons came out in Friday's tilt with the Fire Boys to claim pennant for the first half. By reason of a tie game during first half, the contest was counted as double. The score was 3-2.

COUNTY JUDGE SEEMED TO HAVE HAD MIND ON HIS PIGS IN SPELLING

That County Judge A. F. King keeps his pigs continuously in mind was again suggested Friday at the Lions Club. It was during progress of an old fashioned spelling bee. The word, "litterature," had been given King to spell.

"Litter-ature," came out loud and distinct as the county judge did his best to comply with demand of John Watson that the word be correctly spelled.

King later admitted that he had his mind on pigs, especially large litters of them, when Watson called to him to spell the word. The county judge has over a hundred of the porkers on a farm southeast of Colorado.

SATURDAY, JULY 8TH, LAST DAY ON WHICH PRODUCERS MAY EXECUTE AGREEMENT

25 Stenographers and Other Corps Workers Busy At Colorado, Loraine

A total of 400 Mitchell county farmers had entered into contract with the government to reduce cotton acreage when receiving offices being maintained at Colorado and Loraine were closed for the noon recess Thursday. W. S. Foster, chairman of the county committee, estimates that the contracts will be signed 98 percent.

At Colorado a total of 19 stenographers and several other workers are being kept busy filling in the contract forms and giving information to farmers. The workers are using second floor of the court house. At Loraine a total of six stenographers were at work. The two offices were opened Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock and Mitchell farmers who Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday concluded contracts over estimated their production for the last five years, the government charged in telegram received late Wednesday. Official figures show this average at 125 pounds. Contracts filed Tuesday afternoon gave the five year average at 148 pounds. Those filed Wednesday gave average at 134 pounds. "Average county estimates must be kept in line or campaign will be waged in vain," the government outlined in telegram received late Wednesday.

both have presented a typical bee hive of industry since. Foster, along with Jim Watson, adjustment committee chairman, and many others, are about the busiest men seen in Colorado in months. Saturday, July 8, will be dead line for receiving the contract forms. Foster stated Thursday morning. After that date the government will receive no additional proposals to reduce the cotton acreage.

Inspection of crops being entered in contracts is being made by members of the local community committees. It was announced at mass meetings at Colorado, Loraine and Westbrook Tuesday afternoon that inspectors from outside the county would do this work. A change in this procedure was ordered by the government Wednesday.

That cotton producers and other citizens of the Colorado territory are vitally interested in workings of the government's cotton operation-benefit contracts was demonstrated here Tuesday afternoon when 2,000 citizens attended mass meeting at Union Tabernacle, called by the county director, W. S. Foster, to consider provision of the acreage reduction agreement. Foster, in calling the Colorado

What About Your Menu For July The 4th? Here Are Two Timely Dinner Suggestions

July 4th Dinner—what a gathering of the family it brings! The house overflows with chatter, laughter and tender excitement! The problem, of course, arises—what shall we serve on such an occasion? To plan a daily menu which will provide the kind and amount of food required by the various individuals is the most important part of the hostess' duties; and as we know requires much time, thought and knowledge of foods. For such an occasion as the 4th of July one must include in the day's menu something which is not served often.

Here is a day's menu for July 4th which will suggest to you a new combination of foods which are adequate, appetizing, and exceedingly attractive.

gar, few grains of salt, 1 t. vanilla. Beat egg whites until stiff, add sugar, 1 tsp. at a time, then vinegar, salt, and vanilla, beating constantly (about 30 minutes altogether). The cast of "Broadway Band" coming to the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday, is headed by Joan Blondell, Ricardo Cortez, Ginger Rogers, and Adrienne Ames. The story is centered around a group of gold-digging show girls and penthouse life and it contains an underlying note of mother-love. We all know what can be done with a good story on the grounds of love, life, and happiness depending upon the outcome of the combination of mother love, divorces, gold-digging and many other elements of real life. Fox Films spared nothing in doing this story in a way well worth praise. With a great cast and good directing backed by the best of photography and settings the picture is one that will all enjoy.

Tim McCoy's latest Western, "Fighting For Justice" comes to the Palace Theatre Saturday. The story brings Tim to town in the role of a Texas Ranger, who bands his cowboys together for the purpose of regaining valuable land which had been unlawfully sold for taxes. More of the usual supply of Tim McCoy action and thrill is present in this picture. While Joyce Compton, as the girl, likes Tim this is no hint of it until much smoke has cleared. This gives a different angle to a screen romance and leaves the scene clear for gun-play and hard-driving action. There is a peach of a barn dance party, the hilarity of which is increased by Fuzzy Knight singing "Cincinnati O" with Tom Murray's Hill Billies "doing their stuff" and with 11 year old Micky Conti, accordionist playing the "Blue Danube."

"20,000 Years in Sing Sing," showing at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday is one of the greatest single entertainments the Palace Theatre has ever offered its patrons. It is not a prison picture, but a gripping love story, based entirely upon fact. It is the first and only story ever written by a prison warden. Every incident in it has been taken from the amazing, endless drama that parades before the famous, Lewis E. Lawes, Warden of Sing Sing prison and woven into one great and powerful story. The cast in this picture is headed by Spencer Tracy and Bette Davis. The picture has a good supporting cast and the story is followed closely throughout and the directing is flawless. A picture that the Palace Theatre is proud to show on its screen and more than willing to recommend to all its patrons.

"Sailor's Luck" coming to the Palace Theatre on Regular Bargain Nights, Tuesday and Wednesday, promises an abundance of action and fun of the more obvious and uproarious kind. The cast is headed by Sally Eilers and James Dunn. They do a commendable job of a jig saw type of story, which in the end is well assembled and leaves a pretty and entertaining picture to remember. The picture is full of rough and ready comedy, climaxing in a battle royal with seemingly the entire Pacific fleet throwing fists in a marathon dance-hall. Things keep moving at a fast pace, in a production which in several instances rises above the usual. Close to the finish a flock of pug-ugglies man-handle our friend Dunn; then is when the fleet comes to the rescue and Dunn plants a ring on Sally's fourth finger, reading from right to left. The Palace Theatre is giving a Special Matinee at 2:30 P. M. on the afternoon of the Glorious Fourth.

"Air Hostess" lands at the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday, July 6 and 7. The picture features Evelyn Knapp, James Murray and Thelma Todd. It is a high soaring romance against the mile-a-minute background of commercial aviation. Watch this paper for more about this picture, next week.

Optional cotton contract clauses, permitting the farmer to agree with Uncle Sam to cut his cotton acreage from twenty five to forty percent, are incorporated in contracts being signed by Mitchell county cotton growers this week. The latter is recommended by County Farm Agent W. S. Foster as probably the most desirable.

In addressing members of the adjustment and rural committees here Saturday afternoon Foster urged that farmers be advised to sign up to cut cotton acreage forty percent. Such an agreement, he stated, would no doubt be more acceptable at Washington.

Cotton Contracts—

meeting, specified the Palace Theatre as place for assembling. However, it was found an hour before time to convene the session that the theatre would be inadequate to house the large throng, here from every community of this county and a number of communities in adjoining counties.

The meeting was called to order by Foster who explained briefly some of the major factors to be considered by the producer in signing the contract. J. W. Watson, Colorado, chairman of the adjustment committee, explained conditions of the contract in detail.

"This contract is fair to both the cotton producer and the government," Watson declared. "This is the first time that the government has come directly to the people of the South with a cooperative plan through which the citizens who are so vitally interested are to benefit. The contracts made by you and other producers of the South, however, will not be binding upon the government unless as much as 10 million acres are pledged to be plowed up. Your contract, when signed in its present form, does not become operative until you are given confirmation direct from Washington."

Acreage planted to cotton and on which the crop has not come up cannot be considered. Acreage reduction of from 25 to 50 percent may be agreed upon by the producer. The producer is given one of two options: He may accept settlement on basis of per acre stipulation, or on estimated lint production per acre. Watson stated the amount to be received would range from $7 to $9 an acre.

No cotton is to be plowed up until the producer is notified to do so by the government or its agent. Tenants must obtain consent of the landlord, to be executed in writing, and in case where the producer owes the government on production loan the latter reserves right to hold up payment of whatever monies that might be due until final settlement of the prior loan is agreed upon between the borrower and Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture.

The growing cotton is to be characterized in three classes, viz: good, fair and poor. In case the producer has growing crops of more than one of these descriptions, a fair average is to be computed.

After the contracts are properly filled in and signed by the producer, they are to be delivered to the community committee. From this committee the contract will go to the central or adjustment committee in Colorado for final consideration before being forwarded to Washington. Inspection of all crops entered in the agreements are to be inspected by an agent of the government. Any irregularities discovered are to be corrected.

G. B. Stator, O. B. Price, Bill Dorn and J. W. Watson are members of the adjustment committee, having supervision of all contracts being received from producers in this county.

Keeping Up With Progress Of Club Work With Rural Women And Girls In Mitchell

4-H Girls Club Rally, July 11th at the Court House will help to keep the club girls of Mitchell County from being dull, for all work and no play makes Mary a dull girl. The club girls enrolled for 1933 will gather Tuesday, July 11, for the day to renew friendships, make new friends, and gather information and inspiration for completion of their work for the year.

Special emphasis will be given to the subject matter and demonstrations that the girls have studied up to his time, including bedroom improvement, clothing, crafts and club activities. The girls who have completed their print dresses will have them judged and exhibited at this meeting. Prizes will be given for the best garments made. The clubs participating on the program numbers will be Westbrook, Conaway, Loraine and Hyman. Other clubs will have special duties assigned them during the days work. The sponsors will be in attendance as follows: Westbrook, Mrs. W. E. Rucker; Hyman, Mrs. Roy Davis; Coles; Buford, Mrs. O. F. Hammonds; Loraine, Mrs. C. E. Glass; Conaway, Mrs. Ross Dockery; Landers, Miss Fern Adrian; and Bauman, Miss Woods.

The program will be announced through letters to the girls next week and in the paper next week. Every club girl is entitled to come and should be present if at all possible.

Personal home visits were made last week by the County home demonstration agent to the following: Lena Lee Bird, Wilma Jean Berry, Alene May, Elizabeth Young and Thelma King of Westbrook and to Ruby Fay Adrian, Lois Moates, Hazel Moates, Gladys, Mary and Johnnie Merket of Landers community. Sixteen other home visits have been made in the past visiting other club girls in other communities. Personal visits will be made in the following communities this week as follows:

Hyman, Tuesday afternoon; Conaway, Wednesday, Buford, Thursday, Bauman, Friday. The other girls will be visited before Rally Day. The girls have been interviewed on clothing storage. If no clothes closet is being used now plans are discussed as to the possibilities of one being built. Refinishing floors, the making of better bedding, such as mattress covers and protectors out of large sugar and flour sacks, plans for making rugs out of old discarded clothing and other subjects such as clothing were discussed with the girls and their mothers. This is a part of the program of the cooperative club members to provide adequate storage for hats and shoes, as planned in the 1933 years work.

The County home demonstration council meets in regular session Saturday at 3 p. m. in the offices of the county home demonstration agent. A compilation of 6 months work will be given on bedroom improvement, meat canning, clothing and expansion work.

The following women have been elected by their club to attend the Short Course at A. & M. College July 24-29th.

Hyman Club—Mrs. Carl Lowry, delegate; Mrs. Roy Davis Coles, alternate.

Spade Club—Mrs. W. E. Seward, delegate; Mrs. J. J. Vanzandt, alternate.

"The fate of any plan," said the President's statement to the South, "depends on the support it is given by those who are asked to put it into operation. This program for the cotton producer essentially places the responsibility upon the individual farmer. He and he alone in the last analysis, determines whether it shall succeed. The plan offers the cotton producer a practical, definite means to put into immediate application, the methods which Congress has prescribed to improve his situation. I have every confidence that the cotton producer will face the facts and cooperate fully in the reasonable and practical plan that is promised."

While the cotton program was being forwarded, the farm relief administration also matured plans for bringing relief to hard-pressed tobacco growers. Cigar leaf tobacco would be reduced by 40 percent.

The Agriculture Department said it was ready to pay heavy benefits to cigar tobacco growers who agree to the curtailment of production. Funds to finance the program will be obtained by a processing tax which may amount to 6c per pound.

Also approaching action was a proposal to stabilize the dairy industry. Representatives of producers and distributors from every important dairy State met in Washington Monday to formulate agreements.

The long-sought sugar marketing and production program was considered Tuesday by representatives from the United States, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines and the Plainview Club—Mrs. B. H. Hendson, delegate; Mrs. J. C. Sheppard, alternate.

Iatan Club—Mrs. T. L. McKinney, delegate; Mrs. J. L. Hall, alternate. Others may attend as visitors and drive down in their own cars. From all appearances this Short Course is going to be just what we have planned for in the way of most helpful and worthwhile demonstration in subject matter needed in home life. If interested in any phase of the Short Course see either of the county agents for information.

Lest the old hen should die the wrong death, last Thursday at the home of Mrs. T. L. McKinney in Iatan, the assistant poultry specialist, Paul Cunyus of A. & M. College, gave a demonstration on the correct way of sticking and bleeding poultry for canning and marketing purposes. After dry picking the hens they were prepared in a most attractive way to sell. This demonstration will be given before the various clubs in the County this Fall. Mr. Cunyus stressed the importance of proper feeding and penning before killing poultry. He remarked that they bleed better if kept off of feed for 24 hours before killing them, also that the flavor is improved and if the birds are sold as dressed hens they keep better and longer.

Mrs. H. L. Leach of Conaway community plans to can 30 or 40 hens this week as the coyotes are catching them. She is the proud possessor of a new canner and sealer. She plans to have something put up for sandwiches for her children this coming Fall and Winter.

The Women's clubs will practice during July the making of practical and attractive children's clothes, both boys and girls and others will study the making of hooked rugs out of materials such as gunny sacks, old cotton and woolen garments and some with old silk garments.

The girls will have one demonstration during July on rugs also. There will be one demonstrator in each club. Thelma King of Westbrook and Lois Moates of Landers have been appointed as their club demonstrators for rug work.

The Conaway girls club met at the home of Lucille Moore and Bonnie Muddell this past Thursday with the agent giving the demonstration on correct bed making. The girls sang songs and discussed club work and the Rally Day. Two of the girls' mothers were present which made the meeting more inspirational. They were Mrs. H. L. Leach and Mrs. Ross Dockery.

Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Rucker, the club sponsor, the Westbrook club girls met in regular meeting. They were drilled in correct club procedure by Mrs. Rucker. The agent gave a report on plans for the Rally. The next meeting of this club will be July 13th at Thelma Kings.

Weekly Business Review

By Stuart E. Jones
United Press Staff Correspondent
HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Although present signs augur the finest cotton crop in several years, South Texas growers of the staple are ready—in most cases, eager—to plow much of it under in accordance with the plan of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

The men who direct marketing of the crop, factors, merchants and exporters, are opposed to Wallace's proposal, however.

These facts were revealed in week-end conversations with men conversant with all sides of the situation, after picking of a bumper crop had begun in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

G. C. Ellisor, Harris county agricultural agent and manager of the agricultural department of the Houston chamber of commerce returned from a tour of the Houston area reporting cotton farmers almost unanimously in favor of the Wallace acreage reduction plan.

"The farmers," said Ellisor, "see a chance to get some ready cash and they are not going to pass it up. Here is an opportunity to sell for cash a goodly percentage of their production. If they wait, both weevils, hurricanes or other disasters may visit them."

The South Texas crop is in fine condition, Ellisor reported. Climatic conditions have been ideal and the fields are clean. Picking will begin in the Houston area the last part of July, he said.

Ellisor had no figures upon which to base an estimate of the coming crop, but predicted it would be much larger than last year's which was damaged greatly by the August tropical hurricane.

On the industrial side of the picture, so far as Houston cotton men are concerned, Wallace's plan to raise prices by reducing production is considered impractical and potentially harmful.

Leaders of the industry in this city, largest cotton port in the world, were unanimously opposed to the plan. With but one exception, however, they refused to permit themselves to be quoted.

The exception was Joseph W. Evans, head of a large export firm. "I am unable to convince myself that anything as vital to the human race as food and clothing should be destroyed to raise prices," said Evans. "The plan is like burning houses to increase the demand for homes. While the plan has some attractive feature, I am afraid that only the least productive land will be offered the government for leasing, and more intensive cultivation of the remaining acreage will make up in increased production for the acreage cut."

Another cotton man, owner of farms worked by tenants, said that not only was the plan impractical but that not one out of 20 farmers would be able to grasp its meaning. Meantime, cotton exports from Houston for the present year to date were nearly half a million bales behind last year's shipments. This year's exports at the end of the week approximated 2,290,150 bales compared with 2,550,800 bales at this time in 1932.

Gross stocks on hand in Houston warehouses, including those of Anderson, Clayton & Co., world's largest cotton merchants totaled 1,400,876 bales. At this time last year the gross stocks totaled 1,191,498 bales, according to the Houston cotton exchange.

The golf club announces a Scotch foursome beginning promptly at 2 o'clock. All players must be on time in order to participate.

GLEANERS S. S. CLASS

The Gleaners S. S. class of the Methodist church met in its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon, June 26, at 4 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Arlie Martin with Mrs. Mathis as joint hostess. The meeting was brought to order by its president Mrs. Emma Land singing the class song, "Blessed Assurance."

Mrs. T. C. Wilson read the devotional substituting for Mrs. Earl Hallmark, her subject being "Life." She chose II Corinthians 6th chapter from 14 to 18 verses. She also read a beautiful poem on prayer and also a lecture on laying up Heavenly treasures. Mrs. T. R. Bennett led the prayer.

Mrs. Sloan gave her report and offered her resignation as treasurer which was accepted. Mrs. W. W. Rowland was elected to fill her place.

Mrs. Wilson gave an interesting report of the Sunday school association which met here last month.

It was moved and voted on to have a young peoples social. The committee appointed to see about places for these meetings were Mrs. Lillie Bennett, Mrs. Jim Johnson, Mrs. J. M. Bruce.

The society reports 39 visits, 19 trays, 25 bouquets and a contribution of clothing and food amounting to $20.00 were given to the poor.

The class also fixed the parsonage. Mrs. Harrell expressed her appreciation to the class.

After all business was over the class was favored with piano selections by Kathryn Mathis. Game of Proverb was rendered by Mrs. W. W. Rowland.

FARMERS INTERESTED

Much interest was manifested Tuesday afternoon in Loraine when one among the largest gatherings of farmers and their wives were present to hear W. S. Foster, county agent and J. W. Watson, chairman of County committee speak at the tabernacle at 4 p. m. They explained the U. S. cotton plan in regard to reduction of cot-to acreage.

According to an understanding of contract and present situation it was estimated here 95 farmers were favorably impressed.

"DEAR ONES IN CHRIST"

The following is a letter in part, from Addie Brown, wife of W. L. Brown, who with their family are in New Testament-Missionary work at Namwanga Mission, Kalomo Post-office, Northern Rhodesia, South Africa. It is addressed to members of the Church of Christ here. They met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Meadows several months ago and spent the day sewing quilting for this family. Mrs. Zelma Lawyer, faculty member of the Loraine High school is acquainted with her and she and her husband as missionaries to that field were associated with them in the work there.

May 11, 1933.

Dear Ones In Christ, Loraine, Texas. I hardly know how to express my words my appreciation for the lovely parcel we received from you. It seems so empty so say "thank you" but we want to thank you until you are rewarded in a better way by our Father.

I want to mention especially the lovely quilt and my dress. We had

MAN, THIN AS RAIL, IRON GIVES PEP AND WEIGHT

"I was tired, run-down and thin as a rail. Since taking Vinol (iron tonic) I sleep well, feel better and have gained 10 lbs."—R. A. Cromberg, Vinol is delicious. Colorado Drug Company. d-6 to use the quilt at once as our winter is here and we were not flushed with covers for the beds. It is a very pretty one and indicates a lot of work by someone or a number of judges. I am so proud of my green suit. It is a good fit and I needed it too. I don't go very often but at times one needs a good dress. We see more white people here than at Kabanga, and occasionally we need to go to Livingstone, as sister Lawyer knows.

Everything was nice, useful and needed. I was glad for the sheet and towels. We appreciate everything—pillowslips, dish towels, the oil cloth too and print materials.

We have been here a few days more than a year and have worked hard trying to get a few buildings up. None are completed and don't know when we can finish them but we can be comfortable.

Little David Stanley was born here the 17th of April and is doing nicely so far.

It is nearly time for the post so so I will close thanking you one and all for your gifts and fellowship. Please remember us and the work when you pray.

With Christian love, sincerely and thankfully,

ADDIE BROWN.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

There was fairly good attendance at Sunday school Sunday morning. Why not ask the Lord to help you make our attendance 200.

Mrs. A. O. Fain's class of 11 year olds had charge of the opening exercise in the Junior department Sunday morning. Hugh Wilson Roland read scripture and commented on it and Iona Callahan and Mrs. Fain told beautiful stories.

Our pastor brought a message from the third chapter of Titus Sunday morning. Sunday evening his text was Psalms 27:4, "One thing have I desired of the Lord that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life to behold the beauty of the Lord and to inquire in his temple."

The B.T.S. of Loraine Baptist church had a part in the association- al B.T.S. revival last week. Our Senior adult course was "Wisdom In Soul Winning." The Juniors studied the manual again. Ten people attended the associational meeting at Dunn Sunday. Loraine made 203 points, winning third place in the revival. "My what could Loraine do if we had some parents to help us?" We have a general organization and a Primary union now and we are praying and working for some adults who are willing to let God use them.

The Senior B.Y.P.U. met Sunday evening with its new officers in charge. Some who were on program were absent but a good substitute program was rendered. The Juniors planned for election of new officers. Parents why not bring your children for the story hour in the Primary Union. Mrs. Bud Richburg is leader. Why not every Baptist make serving God his business and do his daily tasks that he might live for Him.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

The Westside circle met with Mrs. N. J. Richburg Monday. Mrs. Trott read I Cor. 13 for devotional telling how we need more love in the world today. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Trott appointed Mrs. Cope for Mission Study Committee and Hazel Henderson for Missions. Mrs. Clarence Roland then taught the first chapter of "In Royal Service" in an interesting manner. Several women in this circle will attend the W. M. U. training school at Snyder Thursday. Both circles will meet with Mrs. John Johnson next Monday in a Missionary program.

Good Deed Causes Loss of $14

BURKBURNETT, Tex. (UP)—A Burkburnett citizen smoothed the course of true love for a dissatisfied married couple but it cost him $14 and a round of drinks. He found the couple newly wedded, badly in need of liquid refreshment to make them forget their quarrel, he said. He took them to a beer parlor and bought a round. Something, he reported, put him to sleep, and not until several hours later when he awakened in a Wichita Falls rooming house did he discover he had been relieved of $14.

Miss Dearing is survived by three sisters, two brothers, mother and father and a host of friends who mourn her death.

Leonard, aged and beloved reformatory blacksmith, with a sledge hammer and an axe, are in jail at Gatesville awaiting further action on charges of murder filed against them. Applegate and Scott were captured near Morgan, Texas, when bloodhounds picked up the scent from a bloody handkerchief used to bind Scott's hand, wounded by a pursuing constable. Anderson and Raines were tracked down near Meridian, Texas. W. G. Dagley, state employee, who found Leonard's body is shown at the right with the weapons used to kill the aged blacksmith. Officials think the boys killed Leonard to get his car keys, so they might escape in his car.

LANDED ESTATE WORLD'S LARGEST WHEAT FARMER TO BE SOLD BY CREDITORS

Creditors closing in on the big acreage of Hickman Price known two years ago as one of the world's largest wheat farmers, will force him onto the auction block August 4.

Eleven months ago Price called his creditors into a meeting at his headquarters in Kress and advised them that he was ready to surrender his properties. Two years of low prices, coupled with a short crop brought on by a drought last year had exhausted his fortune of $250,000, he told his creditors.

He advised them to appoint a receiver and operate the project as a unit, or lease the land to neighboring farmers, until such time as the properties could be liquidated, and all share equally in the income. He promised that he would "pay back every penny."

Price at that time owned 14 sections of land in Swisher county and six sections in Deaf Smith. Loans against the land totaled $142,000 and his other obligations amounted to $120,000, some of which was secured by his equipment.

More than 500,000 bushels of wheat was produced by Price in 1931, on 22,000 acres, about half of which was leased. He operated 50 combines day and night to harvest the crop. His plowing and seeding also continued 24 hours a day, his men working in three shifts. He maintained his own machine shop, mess hall and sleeping quarters. He cultivated an irrigated garden tract and canned vegetables and meats to feed his employees. His entire operation was on an industrial scale.

Price told his creditors that he had not lost faith in his plan because he could "buy less and sell for more, in large quantities, and produce more by scientific cultivation."

ADVANTAGES OF BLUE BACK SPELLER SHOWN IN CONTEST BY LIONS

That the old blue back speller was superior to the more modern editions in use by the public schools is being strongly advocated by at least two Colorado citizens. And the two citizens, Judge C. H. Earnest and Col. C. M. Adams, remind that their contention was proven Friday in spelling contest staged at the Lions Club.

An old-fashioned spelling bee was announced by the program committee. The club membership was divided into two groups and lined up on opposite sides of the banquet room. With J. E. Watson, superintendent of the city schools, acting as schoolmaster, the contest was on.

When it came time for the meeting to be adjourned, the two pioneer citizens named, along with Thos. R. Smith, local attorney, were still standing up in their places. Neither had missed a word.

"We learned to spell with use of the old blue-back speller and looks as if we still know how to spell," one of the pioneers remarked.

COL-TEX CONTINUES WITH UNCHECKED PACE TOWARD TRI-COUNTY LEAGUE BELT

Dorn Leads Locals In Strong Victory Over Coahoma At Colorado Ball Park

By Wimpy
Col-Tex Oilers came through with another shut-out victory in the Tri-county league, when they ousted Coahoma Sunday afternoon at the West Side park. Lee Dorn won his third game in a week, two of them were shut-out victories.

In the first inning of Sunday's melee the locals got to Lefty Stephens for six runs. Be it said though it was not all Lefty's fault, as his team mates made plenty of errors. These coupled with a few solid smashes, and a triple by Wilbur Coffee, accounted for the six runs. Mahoney relieved Stephens at the start of the second frame and held the Oilers to two runs during the remainder of the game.

Dorn was in trouble a few times during the game, but excellent fielding and good head work pulled him out in the pinches. A particularly thrilling play was made when the first man up in the fifth inning singled, went to second on an infield out. Cook, receiver for the Coahoma aggregation, caught one of Dorn's fast ones and drove it down to left field for a long single, the runner from second game tearing home. Henderson, Oiler left gardener, retrieved the ball with a quick throw to Rector, third sacker, who made a beautiful throw to Coffee, who tagged the man at home and at the same time lining the ball to O'Neal at second with a perfect throw to catch Cook going down form first.

Again later in the game Henderson came through with a perfect peg from left field to cut short another Coahoma chance to score. Take it all around the Oilers played almost errorless ball and it was one of the best games played on the local diamond this season. If it had not been for the disastrous first inning it would have been almost a perfect game.

Cotton Option Contract Terms Outlined In Statement From The National Capitol

WASHINGTON, June 25. — The cotton option contract, of which specimen forms were made public Saturday provides that Secretary Wallace will grant options to growers in part consideration of their agreements to reduce acreage.

These options will be at 6 cents a pound or $30 a bale, the basic price being for middling 7/8th-inch staple cotton as listed by the New York Cotton Exchange.

In no event will producers be liable for any financial loss because of the acceptance of this option, the contract says. The grower pays out no cash for them, his gain being his right to exercise the option so as to provide him with any sum above 6 cents as his profit.

The terms of the option contract cover seven main points, which are:

1—That the option is non-transferable and expires May 1, 1934, unless exercised before that date.

2—Any exercise of the option must be for the full amount, preventing growers from exercising part of the option at different times.

3—The basis of the cotton covered by the option is a bale of 500 pounds gross weight, middling in grade, 7/8th-inch staple.

4—To facilitate the execution of the contract, the producer specifically authorizes Wallace to convert by any means he desires the cotton covered by the option into cotton futures contracts.

5—"On the form printed below or on a form identical therewith the producer shall give notice to the Secretary that he elects to have his option exercised on a designated date, and such notice, subject to regulations of the Secretary and to the terms of this contract, shall be effective as an exercise of this option when received at the place designated for such notice. Upon receipt of the notice, the Secretary, in his discretion, may sell for the account of the producer, either:

(a) Cotton held by the Secretary in an amount covered by this option, on any recognized spot market at the earliest practical date, having in view the condition of the spot markets, at any time after the date indicated in the notice.

(b) Future contracts held by the Secretary covering an amount of cotton specified in this option. If futures contracts are sold, the price shall be fixed as of the close of the New York Cotton Exchange for the nearest generally quoted cover month on the date specified in the notice, unless the notice is received after 4:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time on the date specified, or unless such exchange is closed on the date specified, in either of which events the price shall be fixed as of the first opening of the exchange thereafter."

Such postponed compliance shall be deemed an exercise of the option."

7—Wallace is to pay the producer "as soon as practicable after the exercise of this option, the difference between 6 cents per pound and the price as fixed in paragraph 5 (b) or if the option is exercised pursuant to paragraph 5 (a) then the difference between 6 cents per pound and the price at which the sale is made. Reversal Order In Cotton Statistics Post Is Announced

Original requirement that applicants for the appointment as cotton statistics collector for Mitchell county must have had experience either in the production, ginning or manufacturing of cotton, has been reversed, according to announcement received by The Record Monday. That section of the original application form has been stricken out and the following substituted:

"In view of the fact that the duties require personal contact and cooperation with all cotton ginneries, cotton consuming establishments, and public storehouses in the district, applications will not be accepted from persons who, during the year next preceding the closing date for the receipt of applications, have been engaged in any capacity in the ownership or operation of a cotton ginnery, cotton mill, or cotton oil mill, or in the business of buying and selling cotton or cotton seed."

The effect of this change is to strike out the requirement in Announcement No. 8 that applicants must have had, within the past five years, at least two years' experience in growing or ginning cotton or manufacturing cotton goods.

This amendment does not change the list of counties for which the examination is to be held, which was issued in connection with Announcement No. 8.

This amendment changes the closing date for the receipt of applications to July 10, 1933.

Mrs. George Mahon, Daphne and Mrs. Jeff Dobbs were in Snyder Wednesday.

COLORADO CONCLUDES PLANS FOR 4TH CELEBRATION

DAY AND EVENING FILLED WITH MAJOR ATTRACTIONS PROMISED EVERY VISITOR

Coke County Changes Date For Annual Barbecue In Order to Cooperate

Colorado is ready for the fourth! That, tersely though definitely couched, was declaration Tuesday morning by the general arrangements committee charged with responsibility of completing details for National Anniversary celebration to be staged at Westside park next Tuesday.

"We can assure every visitor a day filled with major attractions and an evening those attending shall never forget," promised the committee. Rodeo events staged under personal direction of professional arena artists and featuring livestock trained in the showman's art, will interest visitors. Races of varied nature in which the citizens may compete for a long list of prizes are listed as other park attractions.

The big basket dinner at Ruddick Park at noon is expected to be among the enjoyable features of the day. Here thousands of people will eat and visit together through the noon hour. Camping facilities will be provided. For those who would enjoy a swim, the well appointed pool in the park grounds will be open.

The celebration will be continued to the small wee hours of Wednesday morning. Beginning at 8:30 Tuesday evening a street dance will be staged in the downtown section. Walnut street between First and Second will be roped off for use of the revelers. Music will be furnished by Dick Lange and his German orchestra, among the popular dance music organizations in this part of West Texas.

In order to extend every cooperation to Colorado in making the celebration successful, citizens directing annual Coke County barbecue, have announced this event will be staged Thursday of this week, instead of the Fourth, as originally planned. "Coke county will be in Colorado strong for the Fourth," message received here Tuesday outlined.

Fete Dedicating Ruddick Park Pool Was Attraction For Large Number Citizens

One of the largest number of Mitchell-county citizens to ever be assembled in Ruddick Park attended celebration formally opening the new swimming pool there Friday night. The carnival spirit prevailed through the well arranged program, meaning that an enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Honor of formally declaring the pool open to the public went to little Miss Betty Lou Whipkey, queen of the water carnival. After having been declared ruler of the affair in an address by Judge C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce, the winsome miss invited her subjects to enjoy themselves to the fullest in the pool. She was attended by young women and girls, entered as contestants for queen in the recent park revue.

POSTOFFICE TO CLOSE ON SATURDAY AFTERNOONS IN ORDER TO EFFECT SAVINGS

Nine Days Furlough Without Pay Ordered For Those Employed In Office

The Colorado postoffice will be closed on Saturday afternoons during remainder of quarter ending September 30, in order that the postmaster, assistant postmaster and all employees be furloughed during the quarter for a period of nine days without pay. This announcement was outlined in statement made public Monday afternoon by R. S. Brennan, postmaster.

"In compliance with provisions of Section 9 of the independent offices appropriation act, 1934, the Postmaster general has issued order which has been approved by the president of the United States directing that the stipulated furlough be taken," Brennan said. The postmaster went on to say:

"Object of the law is to effect a savings for personal services and for that reason it is the desire of the post office department that no substitutes be employed while regular employees are absent.

"In order to comply with the law locally it will be necessary to close the post-office on each Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock so that employees who are required to work only 44 hours a week, may take the four hour period off while the office is closed.

"By closing the office as outlined above, work of the office will be dispatched with as little inconvenience to the public as possible and will eliminate the service of a substitute.

"We trust that patrons of the Colorado postoffice will fully appreciate this procedure and realize that they are cooperating with efforts of the National organization in attempt to cut expenditures to a point where they will not be in excess of the income.

"While employees are contributing by taking the furlough without pay, patrons of the office will be cooperating by a slight decrease in efficiency of the office caused by the consequent reduction in personnel.

"All service windows of the office will be closed after 1 o'clock p. m. each Saturday and we urge both the rural and urban patrons to transact their postal business before that hour.

"Hotels and business houses customarily keeping postage stamps on hand are cautioned to make such increase in their purchases as will tide them over until the following business day of the office.

"Employees of the Colorado postoffice will take pleasure in explaining in detail any question which might be asked in connection with this arrangement and will also be pleased to have any constructive suggestions that may be offered."

RIDING ACADEMY PAYS RETURNS TO OPERATOR

"I am getting beans and bread out of it," was rejoinder by Roy Warren Monday when asked as to how his riding academy was progressing in a business way. Several of his horses are out every day, either as mounts for special excursions into the country or by Coloradoans who indulge in horse back riding as regular diversion.

LIONS ATTENDING ANNUAL CONVENTION IN ST. LOUIS TO BE FETED AS ROYALTY

The Seventeenth Annual Convention of the International Association of Lions Clubs to be held at St. Louis, Missouri, July 11-14, gives every indication of being outstanding in the majority of its features. An opportunity to visit the great Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago, following the close of the convention has proved to be a wonderful attraction for many thousands of the more than 80,000 members of the Association, and it is confidently predicted that all attendance-records will be broken. An unusually attractive program has been arranged for each day of the session and the Lions of St. Louis have made extensive preparations to extend their southern hospitality to every delegate and guest.

Joe B. Mills, president-elect, and R. H. Cantrill, elected delegate, are to officially represent the Colorado club at the convention. J. Ralph Lee, winner of first place in recent drawing to name member delegate, informed Cantrill Saturday he would be unable to make the trip. Cantrill drew second place in the contest.

COTTON PRODUCERS UNITE IN ROOSEVELT SCHEME TO REVIVE FARM PROSPERITY

Popular Reception Given To Acreage Reduction Here Prevails Over South

Prediction advanced in Colorado Tuesday afternoon that Mitchell county cotton producers would enter into contract with the Government 98 percent in plan to reduce production, prevails throughout the South, news reports and editorial comment carried in many of the country's leading papers strongly indicate. The plan is being accepted in areas where crop conditions are reported excellent, with harvest only about thirty days in the future.

In this connection the Dallas Morning News gives timely comment on the manner in which the acreage reduction law has been accepted with open hands among cotton producers. The News says:

Sentiment appears to be crystallizing throughout the South to lend unanimous support to President Roosevelt's cotton acreage reduction program, to be carried out under direction of Secretary Wallace. The News has in the past voiced its honest opposition to the radical extremes advocated in the measure recently enacted into law, but it admits that Congressional passage of the act puts the whole matter into a different light. The thing now enters the realm of practical business and stresses the support of the President in the New Deal.

Distribution of perhaps $40,000,000 in Texas from Federal payment to farmers who comply with the call to reduce their standing cotton to the extent of 30 per cent and who, through that very reduction in the volume of cotton which the farmers of the South are to place on the world market this fall are to help raise the price to the pre-war level of 13c a pound, will be a major contribution to business recovery. The legislation has for its aims restoration of the cotton farmers' buying power, a thing which every Texas business devoutly hopes will take place.

Texas is the keystone of the South's cotton structure. It raises at least one-third of the Nation's great fiber crop. Without the cooperation of Texas the Government's aim to reduce the coming crop by at least 10,000,000 acres or 3,000,000 bales must fail. Rising markets and the Federal bonus could very easily raise the income of the Texas cotton farmer by something like $100,000,000, giving him almost double last season's purchasing power, all things considered. Looked at in the light of restoring better business it seems wise for all concerned to cooperate and make the plan effective for the greatest possible good.

FORTY TWO PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN AT BIG RODEO HERE TUESDAY, JULY 4

A total of forty two Colorado business men have posted prizes to be given away to contestants in the rodeo, athletic and other competitive events here July 4th. The awards are on display in window at the Max Berman department store. Local business accorded splendid cooperation to the committee in providing the list of prizes, it was stated Monday.

Mills, Cantrill Delegates To Represent Colorado; Visit To Chicago Planned

The Seventeenth Annual Convention of the International Association of Lions Clubs to be held at St. Louis, Missouri, July 11-14, gives every indication of being outstanding in the majority of its features. An opportunity to visit the great Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago, following the close of the convention has proved to be a wonderful attraction for many thousands of the more than 80,000 members of the Association, and it is confidently predicted that all attendance-records will be broken. An unusually attractive program has been arranged for each day of the session and the Lions of St. Louis have made extensive preparations to extend their southern hospitality to every delegate and guest.

Joe B. Mills, president-elect, and R. H. Cantrill, elected delegate, are to officially represent the Colorado club at the convention. J. Ralph Lee, winner of first place in recent drawing to name member delegate, informed Cantrill Saturday he would be unable to make the trip. Cantrill drew second place in the contest.

The Colorado Wolf mentor is especially pleased to realize that he is to attend this convention due to fact his old home is within twenty miles of the convention city. "I have revisited my boyhood home since 1929 and know that I shall enjoy the trip to St. Louis very much," Cantrill stated.

The list of speakers is a notable one. All are prominent in their respective fields, and each is a recognized authority on his subject.

Lorado Taft, the most celebrated of American sculptors, has been secured to address the Wednesday session on "Beauty in American Life," and on Thursday, Professor Irving Fisher, of Yale University, famous economist will speak on "Depression—Inflation and Deflation."

Of unusual interest will be the address of Mr. Frederick Landis, noted writer, known over the air as "The Hoosier Editor."

There will be $3,000.00 awarded in prizes to the best band, drum and bugle corps, and the best quartette; and the best convention stunt will receive $500.00. The large number of entrants in each event insures keen competition.

Following the close of the convention on Friday, July 14, special trains will leave at 4:00 p. m. for Chicago and the Century of Progress, where, on Saturday July 15th will be celebrated the Lions International Assembly. A most interesting program, starting at 2:30 p. m., has been prepared, and will be given in the Court of Honor of the Hall of Science at the Century of Progress.

NIGHT PROWLER MUST NOT HAVE KNOWN HIS VICTIM WAS PRINTER

Uncle Fred Whipkey, pioneer Colorado publisher, wishes to acknowledge compliment unwittingly extended him Thursday night of last week by an unknown visitor in his home.

In retiring Mr. Whipkey hung his pants on the usual peg. He went to sleep under reassuring feeling that none would disturb. Imagine his chagrin Friday morning when he went to get his pants. They were gone.

After a search about the home, the trousers, with all pockets turned, were picked up on the front porch. The two dimes and a pocket knife he had claimed as his own the night before were missing.

"Evidently the night prowler did not realize he was stealing pants of a printer," Mr. Whipkey mused Friday morning. "You know, printers are not supposed to have any money. I appreciate the compliment."

Near Approach Of The Fourth Recalls Celebrations Staged Here Years Ago

The old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration of the long ago was an event looked forward to with great interest and preparations by individuals, families, towns and cities, not excepting Colorado.

The celebration usually was held in a grove, near the County seat or another prominent town, where there was an abundance of shade and water. Delegations would come from neighboring townships and hamlets, each with its procession of wagons for the old folks, women and children and a snappy cavalcade of boys and girls on horseback.

At the head of the procession the stars and stripes would be carried in a decorated wagon in which would ride the local band. These country bands were of martial type—two fifes, two snare drums and a big bass drum and the performers were, as a rule, Civil war veterans. To be a good fifer or drummer was a proud distinction. The bands gave patriotic color to the scene as the delegation passed along the winding trails.

Each country division would be in command of a captain, usually an ex-soldier, conspicuous by his sash of red and his military hat. The divisions would reach town early and patiently wait at the edge of town or along side streets until assigned their places in the "grand procession." Prizes were awarded for the best display by a visiting delegation. The grand parade would form at 10 o'clock, pass along the principal streets, circle the court house square, cross the river bridge and, with bands playing and banners flying, triumphantly enter the celebration grounds, while snapping firecrackers, fluttering flags and booming cannon proclaimed the sentiments of the day.

BAPTIST PASTOR GIVEN MINOR EYE SURGERY TO REMOVE GROWTH ON LID

Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church, was given minor surgery to the upper lid of his right eye Tuesday morning. A small growth on the member was removed.

"Some of the fans out at Westside park have suggested something must be the matter with my eyes and recommended an operation," Rev. Mr. O'Brien said, after referring to fact he was one of the official city league umpires. "Perhaps I can see the ball better now."

The county seat contribution to this grand parade was often extensive and spectacular. To be its commander or "chief marshal of the day" was a coveted distinction. Usually "Major" or "Colonel" somebody would be chosen and his word was law for that day. His red sash and hat with gold tassels distinguished him from the captains of delegations, who acted as his aids. To fill this position often made the occupant a candidate for sheriff, mayor or the state legislature. The grand procession, headed by this dignitary and a brass band, often "look more than an hour to enter the grounds."

Upon reaching the grounds and feeding and watering the horses—no small task—the morning exercises began. The glee clubs would sing; the president of the day would deliver an address, and some favored school teacher would read the Declaration of Independence.

These exercises were only heard by those near the speaker's stand; for many were crowding around the pump or the barrels of "fres ice wajer, as advertised," getting ready for dinner; while the noisy rattle of fire crackers and torpedoes was being fought by small boys.

And then "dinner," with the tubs and baskets filled with old-fashioned food. Was there ever such sliced ham, juicy fried chicken, homemade rels and doughnuts, eggs and pickles, jams, relishes, preserves, pies, cakes and hot coffee? A long table supplied the hungry wayfarer, but many preferred to dine by families or neighborhoods, even at the risk of being called "stylish and stuck up."

Sometimes there were supplies of "barbecued beef," "tumble in" and huge kettles of black coffee free for all. When such attractions were advertised, people often drove from points 30 or more miles away.

A New Deal For Liver Sufferers

Don't be misled any longer. Colic, mel, salts, oils, mineral waters, laxative pills, herb teas, powders, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them. You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—Constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow. Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—You feel stronger, healthier, happier—Life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—Appetite and digestion improve rapidly. Only one for a full 30-day treatment. At your druggist, or write Dr. F. W. White, Inc., Atlanta, Georgia—each 3.

HIS FUTURE BRIGHTENS

Future of the American cotton farmer is becoming brighter with definite hope that the man engaged in this basic industry will soon find himself well entrenched as a factor in American business.

Walter Parker, cotton trade leader and internationally recognized authority on trade, finds much of present improvement and more of future promise for the cotton producer in current developments.

"The intent of the Federal Government is to bring about a better balanced earning power for the people as a whole, a better distribution of the wealth created, and less advantage to a privileged few. By removing the gold peg from the dollar, the dollar has been made to reflect commodity prices, rather than commodity prices reflect the value of gold.

"Primarily, the South is interested in the effect on cotton, the exportable surplus of which still weighs on the domestic market. Obviously the unpegging of the dollar enables foreign consumers to pay for United States cotton in money other than gold, which helps. Obviously, too, the Roosevelt Administration recognizes the pressing need for lower tariffs and revived reciprocal trade, and for reopened world outlets for the surplus cotton production of the United States.

The Government's measure for checking this tendency, as well as for removing a part of the surplus which weighs on the price of cotton, are now being put forward in the form of a plan for leasing out of production one-third of the 1933 acreage. If these measures are a successful as the Administration hopes, the economic status of the cotton farmer will be immensely improved.

YOUTH

For the next four or five weeks we have decided to devote this column to the youth, "Flaming Youth" and why it flames, "The Youth of America," "Observations for Young People," "Appeal to Modern Youth," "Loving little children," etc. and I start this with a quotation from 2nd Samuel 18-33.

And the king was much moved, and went up to the chamber over the gate, and wept; and as he went, thus he said, O my son Absalom, my son, my son Absalom! would God I had died for thee, O Absalom, my son, my son.

It might have meant vastly more had David exclaimed, "O Absalom, my son, would God I had lived for thee." Much has been said about the present day delinquencies of the young and much should be said. Less has been said about the grown-ups and their delinquencies, but much could and should be said. More should be done about both.

But there is one very important fact that parents and other adults should not overlook with regard to the younger generation. It is this, they've never known conditions when they were different, their parents have.

Youngsters who were 8 or 10 years old when the World War was half fought paid little attention to prevailing modes of dress or habits. About that time many of the customs and doings now objected to had their beginning. But these same bright, fine young people know better than to do much that they realize is wrong, if not downright bad. It must be admitted that the greater part of present day social conditions rests upon the parents. This can hardly be successfully refuted.

Again we write that if there was not so many jazzy parents there would be fewer jazzy children. Wrong in whatever form it takes, is not only disastrous in its consequences, but it is uneconomic as well. To the extent, to which it is indulged, no matter by whom, it defeats the true objects of worthwhile effort and puts thorns as well as barriers in the pathway of life.

Beware of Self-Approval

The recognition by parents of their own weakness is the first step toward overcoming them, and overcoming them is the first step in inducing son and daughter to overcome them. It is not well for parents to have too good an opinion of their own status as their children see them. Self approval is as bad as self pity. One leads to obtrusive egotism, the other to imbecility.

It would be a very helpful thing if parents would remember that as Carlyle says, "The greatest of faults is to be conscious of none." You have them, parents, as you well know, and you don't know it any better than your children do. They know your ever weakness, and your teachings, example and influence will be effective in proportion to the correctness of your own character and conduct. Nothing a parent can do proves more effective in giving the child confidence in him than to be thoroughly honest with him as to the parents own faults. To act as though have none is to aggravate the situation for such conduct beside being false, causes the youngster to lose faith in you, and when he does your efforts to induce him to forsake his own bad habits and overcome his weaknesses will be mostly in vain.

Here is an effective proceeding. Say to the boy, "Come let us take stock of ourselves. Let's see what is good and what is bad in one another. You point out my faults and weaknesses and I'll point out yours. Then let's get rid of the old and worthless stock that is not worth keeping on our shelves.

Honest Dad would you care for son to have all the faults you have?

Results

Some youngsters do well in spite of their parents. Many do well because of them. Some go wrong because of them.

cause of them. Youth will be a long time doing better if age doesn't improve. Youth's obedience to the laws of the land will be in proportion to its obedience to parents who themselves obey the law. Someone deploring the absence of the companionship which once obtained between mother and daughter said, "About all mother and daughter have in common is bobbed hair and the desire to run around." Taking the idea to the other side of the house he might also have said, "About all Dad and son now have in common is a lot of bad habits." Of course this is rather strong arraignment, but it will be agreed that in all too many cases it is that way.

Warning To Parents

A very grave mistake is made by parents who assume a patronizing, or condescending attitude toward their children. Such an attitude has the effect of causing them to feel that you have a feeling of superiority over them. This may cause them to get the idea that it is impossible for them ever to reach the understanding of things that you do. Flattery is psychological "dope." It is like fermented liquor—some can stand a good deal of it, some very little. Flattery is a sort of "Laughing gas." When administered in too great quantities it becomes poisonous, which because of its disastrous effects may be called "tear gas."

Responsibility

Awful is the responsibility accountable for the tragedies and sins of youth which proper parental care could have prevented. Youth must know that self-indulgence and accomplishments are never characteristic of the same individual. Dissipation and achievement are not compliments of each other. Listen to this, parents and children, the crimes and suicides of youth are attributable more to lack of spiritual and moral training than to anything else. A character having for its foundation the solid rock of truth and righteousness will be such as to withstand the silly and sinful suggestions of those who are disregardful of things that are sacred and which make life worth living. Such a one thinks too much of his life and of Him who gave it to be tempted to destroy himself physically or spiritually.

"Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Abe Lincoln said, "I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to the light I have."

It is very doubtful if there has ever been a time in the history of any nation, when the youth of the land had an opportunity to do a worth—as important as have the youth of America at this time. It is not doubtful, however, that American youth today is better qualified and equipped to do such a work than have the young people who have preceded them. It is not intended to exaggerate your intelligence, qualifications and capacity, but you know as well as your elders do that this is a fact, and you are to be congratulated that it is so.

There's no easy path to glory. There's no rosy road to fame. Life, however we may view it is no simple parlor game. But its prizes call for fighting. For endurance and for grit. For a rugged disposition. And a don't-know-when-to-quit.

Taxes....

IN TEXAS the natural gas industry and ultimately the gas consumers are required to pay four special tax levies to the state as follows:

Under one article of the state statutes, the gas companies pay an annual franchise tax. Under another article, gas distribution companies are required to pay a tax of one-half of one per cent of their gross receipts in all cities and towns with a population of from 2,500 to 10,000, and one per cent of their gross receipts in towns of over 10,000 population. Under still another article, a gross production tax of two per cent is levied upon all natural gas, and under a further article gas pipeline companies are required to pay a gas utilities tax of one-fourth of one per cent of their gross receipts.

The natural gas utilities are required to pay to the state two special tax levies which no other utility is required to pay. In addition to the various special taxes collected by the state, the gas utilities are required to pay many other tax levies, such as Federal Income Tax, Revenue Stamp Tax, Ad Valorem taxes levied by Road Districts, Water Improvement Districts, Levee Districts, Independent School Districts, and the Ad Valorem tax levies made for the support of the various city, county and state governments.

This company is willing to pay, and should pay, its just share of the reasonable cost of government; however, there appears to be a constant and growing tendency on the part of some tax assessors, tax boards and tax commissions to increase the values and raise the taxes of the gas utilities entirely out of proportion to the values and the taxes levied upon other personal property. Ultimately, this must result in a higher price for gas to the consumer. Under the present burden of taxation it requires approximately 56c out of every bill rendered to the gas consumer to pay taxes. Such taxes must be charged as an operating expense to the customer, because the company cannot control this expense and is merely a collector of the tax.
