COUNTY BOARD ADJOURNS TUESDAY AFTER SCHOOLS ASSIGNED CLASSIFICATION

Eight Months Term And An Average Attendance Of 70 Percent Asked

Sessions of the Mitchell county school board, convened Wednesday of last week in offices of the county superintendent to assign the several rural schools to stipulated classifications and attend to other matters having to do with operations of the schools during the next term, were concluded Tuesday.

Classification of the schools into rated groups came in compliance with provisions of the rural aid bill, enacted by the last legislature for the biennium of 1933-1935. Under the grouping each school is directed to teach from the first through a given grade.

Iatan is the only rural school listed as being authorized to teach all grades up to the eleventh. Carr, Spade and Valley View are listed as schools in which grades up to and including the tenth are to be taught. Lone Star, Cuthbert, Fairview, Rogers and Hyman are classified as ninth grade schools.

Five of the rural schools are classified as being authorized to teach the first eight grades, as follows: North Champion, Cornudas, Lander and Silver.

The remaining ten schools, Payne, Cuthbert, Dorn, Buford, Seven Wells, Looney, Shepherd, Lowe, Horn's Chapel and Little Sulphur, are classified as authorized to teach the first seven grades. McKenzie is listed as "transferred" in the report.

In order to receive State aid this year a school must maintain an eight months term and have an average daily attendance of seventy percent of the scholastic enumeration.

Patrons having children in grades not taught in their home districts are given until September 1 to transfer to an accredited high school. These pupils will have tuition and $2 per month each transportation paid by the State, the board outlined.

The board issued statement urging parents to confer with their local trustees in regard to transportation for their children to an accredited high school.

Saturday Night's Hold-Up Was Not The First Time Berman Had That Experience

Max Berman recalled Tuesday afternoon that robbery of his store Saturday night did not mark the first time he had gone through that experience. While driving his motor car to Austin a few years ago he picked up a couple of hitch-hikers. It was not long before he felt the jabbing of a gun in his back and received orders as to what he was expected to do.

"I was driving along the highway when I came upon two soldiers," Berman said. "They signaled for a lift and I stopped the car. Both climbed into the rear seat. After driving a few miles one of the men suggested that I turn off on a side road.

"No, I am not going that way," Berman replied. "I will stop and let you fellows out here."

"You will do as we say, or else," came the reply; as one of the men shoved a big six gun into the Colorado man's back.

Max said that he did not question with them further but drove as directed. "And I felt considerably relieved when I was told to stop and let my passengers out after driving about forty miles into those hills."

MITCHELL VOTERS 'STAND BY' FOR BALLOTING NEXT SATURDAY, AUGUST 26TH

Ballot Forms Distributed To Election Judges; Heavy Vote Is Expected

Mitchell county voters are "standing by" for the special election to be held in Texas Saturday, when citizens of the commonwealth are to speak their preference in several important issues. Election judges have been designated by commissioners' court, ballots and other supplies distributed and all that remains is for the polls to open Saturday morning.

Due to interest recently developed in two major issues to be settled at the ballot box in Saturday's election, a heavy vote is expected to be brought out. Lack of poll tax payments in this and many other counties, however, will curtail voting to some degree.

Proposed $20,000,000 emergency relief bond and the question of repeal and 3.2 beer are two propositions about which Texans are centering their attention and it will be these to rightfully be given credit for bringing many thousands of voters out to the polls. Campaign in favor of the bonds and against the repeal proposal has been carried direct to the voters of this county through a series of public addresses given in principal community centers.

The following election judges, named by Commissioners' court February 13, this year to supervise general and special elections, will be in charge of the balloting Saturday at the eleven polling places in Mitchell county:

Colorado No. 1: Jack Smith and Everett Winn; Lorraine No. 7: Roy Edwards and Jess Pratt; Westbrook No. 2: H. F. May and O. T. Bird; Cuthbert No. 5: O. L. Simpson and Pink Fuller; Spade No. 3: H. U. Sallee and E. R. White; Buford No. 10: L. L. Bodine and E. Blasingame; Iatan No. 8: E. B. Gregson and John Munn; Lander No. 4: M. L. Adrian and W. D. McAdams; Carr No. 6: E. C. Grant and F. A. Langley; McKenzie No. 9: Homer Brown and Stubbfield; Hyman No. 11: Roy Coles and A. J. Roach.

COUNTY'S ANNUAL BUDGET FOR ANOTHER YEAR GIVEN IN COURT ORDER ADOPTED

Expenditures To Total More Than $85,000; Tax Rate Remains at 80 Cents

Expenditures for operating the several departments of county government and retiring accruing bonded indebtedness during the year 1934 will approximate $85,392.77, the Commissioners' Court estimated in authorizing budget for the next fiscal year. Order adopting the budget was passed Friday.

Total receipts to accrue from tax levies in the several funds will bring in the sum total of $80,801, the court estimated. The deficit of more than $5,600 between this total and estimated expenditures will be taken care of by cash balances expected to be credited to some of the funds at end of this year. The general fund alone now has a cash balance of more than $4,000.00.

Estimates on receipts for next year follow:

General fund, $24,515.00; road and bridge fund, $42,206.00; jury fund, $2,070; road and bridge (sinking) fund, $3,700; court house (sinking) fund, $5,310.00, making a total of $80,801.00.

Estimated budget expenditures include $23,192.00 to the general fund; $45,254.08 to the road and bridge fund; $1,980.00 to the jury fund; $6,766.69 to the road and bridge sinking fund; and $8,209.00 to the court house sinking fund, a total of $85,392.77.

The court assessed a tax levy of 80 cents on the $100 dollars of property valuation, the same as last year. In making the total levy, however, slight changes were made in respect to some of the funds.

Largest levy will go to the credit of the general fund with an assessment of 25 cents. The road and bridge fund will be given 24 cents, the court house and jail 10 cents, the jury 3 cents, the road and bridge sinking fund 10 cents and the court house sinking fund 8 cents.

Another of the rugged pioneers identified with development of the cattle industry in this section of Texas has been called to the last round-up in death of V. Wesley Allen, 72, who died suddenly at his home in Fort Worth Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. "Wes," as the late pioneer was known among his numerous friends at Colorado and other parts of this section of Texas, local here when a youth.

Among the first jobs the youth filled after coming to West Texas was to follow the trail with outfits moving herds into the Northwest. He recalled while on a visit to Colorado several months ago that experiences that were his while following the trail into Montana would never be forgotten.

Allen, however, did not make many of these trips. He obtained employment as range rider on domain of the old Kentucky Cattle Company in Crosby County. "It was there that he met and married Miss Emmaly Johnson, daughter of Major W. V. Johnson, who later organized and managed the Magnolia Cattle Company.

After working on large ranches of the area for a few years Allen purchased a small ranch of his own and moved to the property. This ranch was located along the Mitchell-

'FAITH IN AMERICA WILL GUARANTEE NRA SUCCESS' SPEAKER TELLS AUDITORS

T. N. Carswell, Abilene, Of The Opinion Great Crisis Is Enveloping America

Universal faith in America and its traditions and a similar regard for the man occupying the White House is all that is now required to guarantee success of the NRA and restore normalcy once more to American industry in all its ramifications, T. N. Carswell, secretary of the Abilene chamber of commerce, stated during address delivered here Tuesday afternoon before 500 local employers and employees.

"I shall not attempt to explain details of the National Recovery Act and the particular application this law is to have upon your personal business or job, because none of us know much about the law," Carswell stated. "If you have studied the president's covenant with you and his latter acceptance agreement, you know as much about the Blue Eagle as those who might have given this question deeper and more prolonged study."

Carswell appealed to the emotions of his auditors in drive to impress that Americans must rally under wings of the Blue Eagle 100 percent. That this republic is facing a crisis the seriousness of which has not been so pronounced since days of the Colonial revolutionary was charged. "And if we fail in giving complete cooperation to this recovery campaign, I would feel reluctant to portray what may be ours during the days to come."

Carswell strongly suggested that the boycott must be employed as one means of forcing united support of the NRA. "When you go to buy a bit of goods, whether in Colorado, Sweetwater, Abilene, Dallas, St. Louis or New York, insist that you know the Blue Eagle is a welcome visitor with that concern from whom you purchase," he said.

The meeting was held at the Palace Theatre at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The speaker was introduced by C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce, who described Carswell as a man who knew more, perhaps, about the NRA than any other citizen in this part of West Texas.

"Igloo" Tuesday and Wednesday August 29 and 30

Out of the frozen Arctic comes the most sensational picture of the year. It is called "Igloo." It is the story of a brave Eskimo hunter who went a-courting and who chanced upon as deperate an adventure as ever befell a human being. In the face of terrific odds, cruel tribal customs and the aroused anger of the Gods of the North, he rescues an entire tribe, before he can bring his love idyll to a happy conclusion. In this remarkable film you have the life story of the fast vanishing Eskimo race. It is an amazing story and Chee-Ak, the hero, is an amazing figure. He is a new feminine appeal, a challenge to Clark Gable. You have never seen anyone like Chee-Ak; you have never seen anything like "Igloo." It is, to say the least, novel. It comes to the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Regular Bargain Nights 5c and 15c.

"King of the Jungle" Thursday and Friday August 31 and September 1

In a thunder-charged drama that swings its action across two continents, from sun-drenched jungle to swarming cities. Warm romance, lavish spectacle, spun into a tale of unbridled thrills, by that famous author Edgar Rice Burroughs. Buster Crabbe and Frances Dee give a splendid performance. The picture is "King of the Jungle" and it comes to the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday, August 31 and September 1.

Old Wooden Shacks On Texas U. Campus Will Give Place To Modern Structures

In a few more weeks all the wooden shacks which for nearly two decades have formed an important part of the physical plant of The University of Texas will have passed into history. In due time, perhaps, legends and traditions will have been built up around these unsightly buildings which served for so many years to provide class rooms for students and offices for members of the teaching staff.

It was to meet an emergency, due to lack of accommodations for the growing attendance of students, and the lack of funds with which to erect permanent buildings that the first of a large group of shacks were built during the administration of Governor O. B. Colquitt. In a way the flimsy buildings, fire hazards they were, served their purpose—so much so, in fact, that their number was increased from time to time as the student body grew until more than thirty of them dotted the 40-acre main campus. They were strewn about without any effort at artistic or uniform design or unusual care in the selection of their sites.

The same thing is probably true of historic "B" Hall, which until it was converted into an office and class room building a few years ago, was the dormitory for men students many of whom prided themselves as belonging to plebeian element, as distinguished from those who were members of fraternities. "B" Hall has been marked for the wreckers and it will have disappeared from the campus within the next few months.

One of the most pretensions of all the shacks upon the campus has just been torn down. It was that of the home economics department. It was situated just to the south of the handsome Sutton Hall, which is one of the comparatively new buildings. The home economics staff has moved into the fine new building which is equipped with every modern facility for the work of that department. Among other notable shacks which have passed the way of all things are those which were devoted to chemistry laboratories, class rooms and offices and the ones formerly occupied by the athletic department.

With the passing of the shacks, an era of beauty and modernity has come to the University. Nine new buildings, erected at a total cost of more than $4,000,000, have replaced the old unsightly wooden structures.

'STRIPED PAINT' HARD TO FIND IN COLORADO There is a scarcity of 'striped paint' in Colorado, so a local negro youth related Friday morning while mopping perspiration from his brow. The dusky one stated that he had been all over town in quest of a can of the article, only to be informed they were just out, but the paint might be found at such-and-such a store.

"A man told me he would give me a quarter to go and get him a can of 'striped' paint and believe me, boss, I need the money," the disappointed one continued. "I found one store where they had some barber pole paint, but that would not do."

Failure to earn the coveted twenty-five cent piece, however, did not discourage the negro. He strode across the street to the Chamber of Commerce to register for employment. "I'll make some money before night," he ejaculated.

BERMAN OFFERS LAURELS TO OFFICERS WHO WORKED ON RECENT ROBBERY CASE

Victim Of Saturday Night's Hold-Up In Plea That Public Cooperate

The people of Colorado and Mitchell county should entertain a sense of deep appreciation for efficiency of the sheriffs, police and constable's departments and extend to these officials every cooperation in maintaining law and order, Max Berman, victim of Saturday night's sensational robbery, declared Monday morning.

"In face of odds that appeared to the layman as strongly against them and having conflicting reports as to where their man might have fled in quest of evasion, they went about the job before them quietly and definitely, capturing their quarry within less than five hours after the robbery," Berman stated.

"Colorado has been fortunate in not having to take the brunt of crime in proportion to that imposed upon some other communities of this part of the State, and I am going to sustain that condition to be accepted with a deal of satisfaction by every law abiding citizen, is the direct result of the efficiency dominating our officers," he concluded.

Assembly Of New Chevrolets At World's Fair Grounds Soon To Reach 2,000 Mark

CHICAGO. Assembly of new automobiles in the plant operated here on A Century of Progress grounds by the Chevrolet Motor Company will pass the 2,000 mark late this month, officials announced here today.

Since the line was set into motion by the light of a cosmic ray just prior to the opening of the Fair, output has held at a steady pace of 24 cars a day, six days a week.

In July exactly 600 new Chevrolet Master six coaches and coupes came off the line; in June 589 were built, and in May 165, bringing the total produced here from the time the line started through July 31, to 1354 units.

If present schedules are maintained, car number 2,000 will be completed during the last hour of the last day of this month, officials said.

They estimated that by the closing of the Fair upwards of 3,500 new Chevrolets will have been assembled here. This figure exceeds

Unwarranted Hiking Of Prices Through NRA Will Not Be Tolerated, Allred Says

James V. Allred, attorney general of Texas, Saturday joined with NRA Administrator Hugh Johnson at Washington in sounding warning against violation of provisions of the recovery program. Profiteering will not be tolerated under any circumstances, Allred declared.

He said National Administrator Johnson, and Attorney General Cummings "have issued repeated warnings that they are not going to stand for any unwarranted hiking of prices."

He warned that "despite propaganda to the contrary, neither federal or state anti-trust laws have been repealed."

"As attorney general of Texas I serve the same notice," Allred stated.

"The primary purpose of the national recovery act was to put men back to work and increase buying power. To carry out this program it was proposed to shorten hours of labor and provide minimum rates of pay so that additional men and women could be employed of course, the national administration must have contemplated that such a program would necessarily result in each concern individually adjusting prices for itself so as to take care of increased costs; the administration, however, did not intend or authorize getting together and fixing unreasonable and outrageous charges. The national administration, in its appeal for cooperation, asked for sacrifice, not profiteering."

"If, as I am told, some concerns have already gotten together and fixed prices without a code in the expectation that the president is going to approve their actions, however honest some of them may have been, in my judgment they are going to be sorely disappointed."

"Despite propaganda to the contrary, neither state nor federal anti-trust laws have been repealed. The federal laws have simply been modified so as to permit the making of what might be termed 'reasonable agreements' as to labor and unfair trade practices, but subject to the approval of the president and his right to revoke, modify, change, or rescind such approval at any time. Attorney General Cummings has repeatedly stated that the anti-trust laws are still in full force and will be employed for the protection of the public. His statement applies with equal force to the laws of Texas, and I am just giving fair warning."

Allred said he wanted it "definitely understood" that he has "every desire to cooperate with President Roosevelt."

"It may be that in order to protect producers and the public, some form of governmental price control will become necessary; price fixing by agreement, however, in my opinion, is illegal both under federal and state anti-trust laws," Allred stated. "Certainly it could not be contended for a moment that price fixing by agreement is legal under any code, unless such code expressly authorizes it and even then it must have been approved by the president; and must be with reference to business engaged in or affecting interstate or foreign commerce."

He said that since he had returned from Washington he had been informed various concerns had "gotten together and fixed prices by agreement, some of them without even having submitted a code to the president for approval." He said that even in those cases where a code has been promulgated, no provision is made for price fixing by agreement."

Abilene Barber In Defense of Higher Prices For Labor

Allen P. Eason, Abilene barber, offered the following for publication in a recent edition of the Abilene Reporter, in defense of hikes in prices for certain barber work:

Because of undue criticism being circulated against the barber, I would like, through your columns, to tell the public what the barber is facing.

In the first place, his hours have been reduced from 72 to 48 per week, more than one-third off. In the second, 25 cents for a haircut would not produce a living wage under the very lowest living standard. When President Roosevelt asked the barbers to put into effect a fair living wage, there was no way that this could be done except in charging a fair price for the barber's work. Will any one offer a suggestion of how a man with more than one-third of his hours of labor cut off can increase his earning capacity without increasing his prices? Do our critics know anything about the cost of operating a barber shop? Do they know that all barbers except the boss work on a per cent?

No barber shop proprietor could hang up his eagle and justly say "We Do Our Part," if his employees' hours of service were cut one-third without a compensating increase in the money return per hour worked. Barbers under NRA feel that the public, also enrolled in the cause, will consider the facts and not, unjustly criticize men who are carrying out the code to the letter.

LIVESTOCK BUYERS GIVEN WARNING AGAINST BUYING HOGS FOR RESALE LATER

Mitchell county livestock buyers who might have anticipated some easy money through purchase of pigs now for resale to the government later at an advanced market quotation will find themselves left with the bag to hold, according to warning issued Monday by the agricultural adjustment administration at Washington.

In telegram received by W. S. Foster, county farm agent, it was specifically outlined that hogs so purchased could not later be sold to the government under the emergency hog control program. Secretary Wallace announced in Chicago Friday that the government planned to purchase five millions of porkers, have them butchered by packing plants and distributed among the nation's poor.

"It seems that farmers and traders who buy up pigs from other farmers will not be able to sell these pigs and collect the premium that the government has offered," the message stated. "Pigs will be purchased only from the original breeder."

rado, he went back to his former home last week to attend the celebration.

The Colorado man tells this one on his father: "Dad was reposing in a barber chair, with his face smothered in Jathor and a steam towel when he heard the voice of an old friend on the sidewalk outside. 'Let me out of here, barber,' he demanded as he lambored down out of the chair and tossing the towel aside and mopping lather from his face, he rushed out to shake hands with an old-timer whom he had not seen in many years. He later came back to get the shave."

FOUR-POINT PROGRAM TO AID COTTON PRICES LAID BEFORE FARM SECRETARY

Department Of Agriculture Urged To Speed Up Plan For Aiding Planter

A four-point program to aid cotton farmers was laid before Secretary Wallace at Washington Monday by a delegation of members of congress from Southern States. Senators George and Russell of Georgia headed the delegation.

Members of the delegation asked that the Department of Agriculture speed up arrangement of an acreage reduction program covering plantings for the season of 1934 and 1935 as the first step in aiding prices.

As the second proposal, they suggested an early hearing to determine whether a readjustment in the rate of the present processing tax of 1.2 cents a pound on lint cotton should be made.

Their third proposal was for early legislation of a temporary processing tax on the cotton, silk and other products sold in competition with cotton.

At the final point in their program, they urged that the Administration embark without further delay on a program of inflation. Members, however, did not specify what form they believed the inflation should take.

Representative McSwain of South Carolina suggested a postponement of from 60 to 90 days of the processing tax. He said that a postponement would make possible a substantial increase in the price of cotton during coming months when farmers will be marketing the crop.

McSwain also suggested that Wallace conduct an early investigation to determine the exact effect the processing tax is having on the price of cotton and on the industry as a whole and to extend this investigation to include the price spreads of wholesale cloth merchants.

Members of the delegation which conferred with Wallace included Representatives Owen, Tarver, Vinson, Brown, Deen and Parker of Georgia; Collins of Mississippi, together with McSwain, Senators George and Russell, and former Governor Cooper of South Carolina, representing the American Cotton Manufacturers Association.

Members of the delegation said Wallace did not commit himself to any program but indicated he would determine whether a hearing on the processing taxes would be conducted after conferences with manufacturers and others. He expects to hold such meetings later in the week.

Mrs. W. E. Dodge, Pioneer of Albany, Is Buried In That City Last Thursday

Death again cast a gloom over the little city of Albany when another pioneer citizen was called to her reward Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. W. E. Dodge became seriously ill two weeks ago and although she rallied at various times, her condition was critical from the beginning, until she passed away.

Emma Creswell was born in Tarrant county June 20, 1863. She was married to W. E. Dodge in 1884 and made her home in Erath county until 37 years ago, when the family moved to Albany. Her husband died February 21, 1905.

Mrs. Dodge was a member of the Presbyterian church and always took an active and leading part in the various organizations of the church. Her life was the same each day she lived, kind, unselfish and friendly to all with whom she came in contact. Her former pastor, Rev. L. E. Gray of Strawn, paid her a high tribute when he eulogized her as the ideal homemaker.

Funeral rites were held at the Matthews Memorial Presbyterian church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. J. A. Owen, was assisted by a former pastor, Rev. L. B. Gray of Strawn, in conducting the services. Burial was made in the local cemetery by the grave of her departed husband.

The beautiful floral tribute attested the esteem in which she was held. Mrs. Dodge is survived by one son, Ed Dodge, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, a daughter, Miss Goldie Dodge, a sister-in-law, Miss Lizzie Dodge, who resided with her; one brother, Mack Creswell of Stephenville, and a sister, Mrs. Sallie Dozier of Colorado, and several nieces and nephews.

Features Of Proposed Huge Bond Issue Detailed By Austin U. P. Correspondent

By GORDON K. SHEARER U. P. Press Correspondent

AUSTIN.—A concerted drive to put over the constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to issue not more than $20,000,000 state bonds for relief work is being organized.

The limit on the bonds is $20,000,000. Prospects that only a part will be issued if authorized have vanished. Former Gov. James E. Ferguson says it will take all of the twenty million and more to meet demands. He estimates that $2,000,000 a month will be required for another year.

The proposal requires the bonds to mature within ten years, not to be sold for not less than par and to have an interest rate not in excess of four and one half per cent. Payment of any commission for their sale is prohibited. There is also a provision that the bonds shall not be come a charge or lien against property in the state, but that the legislature shall provide a fund for interest and redemption from some source other than a tax on real property.

Except for that limitation the legislature is left free to determine the method of caring for the bonds if issued.

The resolution submitting the matter popular vote August 26 says the proceeds of the bonds shall be used in furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardships resulting from unemployment. It says the funds are to be fairly distributed over the state upon such terms and conditions as may be provided by the legislature. Unless the legislature exercises the power to issue the bonds within two years the power is ended.

Former Governor Ferguson who will campaign for the bonds, says there are more than 1,250,000 people now on relief rolls in Texas. Col. Lawrence Westbrook, director of the state rehabilitation and relief commission, says even with the restoration of much employment, the tolls of the needy will be numerous for a long time to come.

"In the stress of recent economic conditions, it has been largely a case of survival of the fittest in employment," he said. "Those least fitted for work and those incapacitated physically have been thrown out of employment. As recovery comes, those most fitted are the ones who will get employment early. There will still be left to be cared for in some way a great mass of persons unfit for profitable work."

Drouth conditions in at least 17 counties of the state, which at times produce bountiful crops, accentuate the condition.

For the bonds, it is said that including the interest and retirement funds, they will not form a debt of more than $5 or $10 per Texan.

In formal resolutions, the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission has declared ignorance of the "tragic distress" of thousands of families may defeat the bond proposal. With out the bonds, and federal aid also, the commission says local funds will be entirely inadequate to prevent great suffering by hundreds of thousands of people.

One member of the state legislature put it more crudely. "We've got to fight or feed them," he said.

BURIAL HERE FRIDAY FOR EARLY COLORADO CITIZEN WHO DIED IN NEW MEXICO

Walter T. Rogers Among The First Pioneers Coming To 'Colorado City'

Rites for Walter T. Rogers, 65, late pioneer of West Texas and New Mexico, were conducted Friday morning from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Clara Smith, with Rev. W. M. Elliott of First Presbyterian church officiating. The body was buried with Masonic honors in the family plot in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Rogers, first minister to arrive in "Colorado City" after the town had been established on banks of the Colorado river, is remembered by early day residents as among the first citizens to be identified with the city. He left here 35 years ago and had since made his home in New Mexico. He died Wednesday of last week at his home in Rincon, New Mexico.

The body arrived in Colorado Friday morning on an early Texas & Pacific train was received by Jones, Russell Company.

Pall bearers were J. Lee Jones, R. O. Pearson, Robt. Terrell, E. H. Winn, M. Terrell, J. Riordan, Green Delaney and R. S. Brennan, Sr.

MRS. A. A. BYNUM, AMONG MITCHELL PIONEERS, WAS CALLED IN DEATH FRIDAY

Rites Saturday Afternoon At Teeville Cemetery; Was 84 Years Old

Mrs. A. A. Bynum, among the pioneers of Mitchell county, died at the home of a daughter at Cuthbert Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock. Burial was in the Teeville cemetery, near Cuthbert, Saturday afternoon, following rites conducted at the graveside by pastor of the Westbrook Methodist church.

Mrs. Bynum died in her 84th year. A native of Alabama, she came to Texas many years ago. She had resided in Cuthbert community thirty five years. She had lived a widow during latter years of her life, making her home with her children.

Surviving are three daughters, Mmes. G. W. Marison and E. E. Erwin of Cuthbert and Mrs. Charlie Glover of Waco, California, and three sons, Clyde Bynum of Rogers, John Bynum of Tahoka and Henry Bynum of Waco, California. One brother, Steve Hallmark of Tahoka, and one sister, Mrs. Marthan Smith of Clyde, together with twenty four grandchildren also survive.

Funeral arrangements were under direction of the Crozier Undertaking Company of Colorado.

Home Rule Charter Proposal Seen As Most Complicated

AUSTIN.—Most complicated of all the constitutional amendments upon which Texans will vote August 26 is the one authorizing a system of home rule charters for counties.

A home rule charter is one that is drafted and adopted by the local voters as distinguished from the rules for local government specified by the state legislature.

The amendment to be voted on extends this home rule privilege only to counties of 62,000 or more population. There is also a provision that the privilege may be extended to a county of less population by two-thirds vote of the state legislature.

A small county seeking such a special legislative charter must give notice by publication in a county newspaper once a week for four weeks.

The counties over 62,000 seeking to adopt a home rule charter, if the amendment carries, may call elections. In such elections it is required that returns from each incorporated city and town in the county shall be kept separately. The votes cast in parts of the county outside incorporated cities and towns will also be kept separately. That a charter it will be necessary for the proposal to have received a majority vote both of votes outside of cities and towns and a majority of the votes in the cities and towns, counted collectively.

Series Of Meetings Planned By Makers Of Chevrolet Cars

DETROIT.—First of a series of eight meetings which will bring more than 2,000 field officials of the Chevrolet Motor company into two-day conventions with central office executives got under way here this week.

Seven similar meetings are being held at regional headquarters in the following order: Atlanta, Ga., New York, N. Y., Buffalo, N. Y., Chicago, Ill., Dallas, Texas, and Oakland, Calif. Four weeks will be required to complete the schedule.

Laying the groundwork for an expanded 1934 program, and determining broad basic policies to be followed in the coming year are primary objects of the conventions. H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager, assumes personal direction of them and has on tour with him nine sales department heads.

At each meeting all zone managers, their assistants, office staffs and field representatives in that region are in attendance. Each departmental head details for the audience the immediate future plans and campaigns pertaining to his specialized department.

Similar meetings have been held annually at this season for the past few years.

Secretary Wallace Plans Purchase Of 5,000,000 Pigs To Feed Nation's Poor

Secretary Wallace Friday outlined the government's emergency hog program for buying 5,000,000 swine, employing meat-packers to process them, and distributing the meat to the needy.

In an address at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago, he said that the program will be ready to go into effect in a few days and that he expects it to boost purchasing power in the corn belt substantially.

The plan should increase prices of swine, possibly 25 to 20 per cent, he asserted, and at the same time provide relief to farmers heavily stocked with swine but with short feed supplies due to drouth.

The program calls for purchase of 4,000,000 pigs weighing 25 to 100 pounds at from 6 to 9 1/2 cents a pound, and 1,000,000 sows soon to farrow, weighing a minimum of 275 pounds, at market prices on the day marketed plus a bonus of $4. The purchases are to be completed about October 1.

They will be made "by specified processors" for the department of agriculture. The meat will be turned over to the federal emergency relief administration for distribution.

Wallace estimated the cost of the program at up to $55,000,000 to be met by a processing tax on hogs which will go into effect after September 30. The tax rate and effective date will be fixed later, he said, estimating that the levy, paid by those who turn the swine into marketable pork, will be "considerably less than a cent a pound."

Wallace said the plan originated with hog farmers and their representatives to meet the emergency facing producers as a result of this year's short feed crop, adding:

"There are some things about it that we do not like but we are putting it into effect because we have not been able to think of anything as good."

He estimated that the purchases will reduce the total tonnage of swine marketed for the 1933-34 marketing season starting October 1 by up to 1,800,000,000 pounds, or about 16 per cent of the hog tonnage annually marketed.

"If past experience is any guide, a reduction of 15 to 16 per cent in market supplies should increase hog prices for the season by anywhere from 25 to 30 per cent," Wallace said.

WEST TEXAS COUNTIES IN TREND TO RETURN COUNTY AGENTS BACK TO SERVICE

District Agent Reports All But Two In District Now Financing This Work

"With but two exceptions every county in this district in which services of the county agents were discontinued during the depression has authorized new appropriations to cooperate with the extension department in reinstating work of the county agent."

That was the statement of T. B. Wood of College Station, district agent, while making a visit in Colorado Tuesday. Mr. Wood was highly pleased with the trend supported by popular sentiment among farm people and members of county commissioners' court in his district to maintain work of the department to an almost unbroken unit in the several counties of his district.

Callahan, Brown and Corry counties were listed by the district agent as among those in which commissioners' courts had recently voted to reinstate work of the agents. The district under supervision of Wood extends from Waco to El Paso.

WEAPON OF PUBLICITY TO BE USED IN BRINGING ALL UNDER BLUE EAGLE CODES

Government Announces That Employment Drive Will Be Carried Thru

With the full approval of President Roosevelt, recovery administrators Sunday fashioned plans to shape the blue eagle insignia into one of the most powerful weapons of enforcement ever wielded by the Federal Government.

Sources close to the leaders of the industrial drive disclosed the determination to use the NRA's emblem—which they believe will be less challengeable in courts than some sections of the recovery act—as a lever to boost all employees under the shorter hour, higher wage regulations.

As the main shaft of this lever, the administrators Sunday readied the concentrated publicity drive which will soon be loosed. Dependence is to be placed upon this to push over opposition which has become apparent in some quarters to the NRA movement.

Meanwhile, President Roosevelt took a direct hand. He summoned to the White House for a meeting Monday the members of the special recovery council, determined to synchronize various phases of the re-employment movement.

Already informal estimates are in the hands of Hugh S. Johnson, NRA chief, that more than 1,000,000 employers have been reached with the temporary provisions fixing minimum wages and maximum hours for their industries pending adoption of final codes.

In addition, an uncounted number of business houses are working under the individual presidential re-employment agreements.

No accurate check has yet been possible, General Johnson said. Sunday no attempt was being made to get complete figures.

Nevertheless, estimates coming piecemeal from the administration as the temporary provisions for hour and wage schedules have been approved showed that well above 10,000,000 of the approximately 40,000,000 workers already have been reached.

Johnson has set as his goal the reemployment of 5,000,000 men by Labor Day.

R. B. Hood, principal of the Spade school, announces that the school will be opened Monday morning for another year. Program to be observed as the school enters upon another year's work has not been announced. The patrons are urged to attend opening exercises and visit the school as often as they will during the days to follow. Mr. Hood stated.

Miss Hilma Joyce of Colorado, is the only new faculty member, others teaching there last year having been re-elected several weeks ago.

Chevrolet Sales To Higher Figures As July Totals Noted

Not since 1929 have July sales of new Chevrolet cars and trucks equalled the figure attained in the month just ended, when dealers reported delivering to consumers 67,820 new units, H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager announced today.

This compares with reported sales of 26,547 last July and represents a 155 per cent increase over the same month last year, Mr. Klingler said. Only three times in the 21-year history of Chevrolet have July sales gone ahead of this year and it is significant that the company leads the low-priced field by a greater margin than ever.

Despite a mid-summer let-down, and vacation interruptions in the normal flow of business, July rang up the second highest monthly sales mark set by Chevrolet dealers so far this year. Only June exceeded it, and probabilities are, according to Mr. Klingler, that June and July will stand out as peak months of the Chevrolet year, whereas in the decade following the post-war depression April and May have consistently occupied that position.

Dealers ended July on a sharply rising sales curve, Mr. Klingler said, the reports for the last third of the month nearly doubling those of the first ten days. All indications point to good sales activity in August, the first few days of the month showing an unusual buying trend.

Sales for the first seven months of the year totaled 372,772 new cars and trucks as compared with 275,772 in the comparable period last year.

TIRE PRICES ARE DUE FURTHER ADVANCES, IS CONNELL'S STATEMENT

Retail prices on all grades and sizes of automobile and truck tires are most certainly due for additional advances, to conform with continued upward trend of quotations on every raw product entering into their manufacture, according to A. C. Connell, distributor for Seiberling Tires for the Colorado territory.

Connell stated Wednesday afternoon that it will be a considerable length of time before prices now in effect are to be duplicated, when advances sure to come, go into effect. He recently received a large shipment of tires direct from the factory.

THOMAS HALE SUCCEUMBS AT LORRAINE FARM HOME AT ADVANCED AGE OF 91

Thomas Hale, 91, died Tuesday night at 9:25 o'clock at the farm home of his son, E. B. Hale of eight miles north from Lorraine. The aged man, a native of North Carolina, arrived only a few weeks before to visit with his son and family.

Funeral rites were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mount Pleasant church with Rev. Hardin of Lorraine and Rev. Parks of Champion officiating. Burial was in the Lone Wolf cemetery.

SENSATIONAL ROBBERY IS STAGED BY 'RED' BARRETT

BANDIT OPERATES SLOWLY IN HOLD-UP AS SHOPPERS AND EMPLOYEES LOOK ON

T. N. Foster and J. J. Smith Charged As Accessories; Berman Is Victim

The wave of banditry that during the past several months has been felt in many parts of the country was brought to Colorado Saturday night when W. M. "Red" Barrett, well known Colorado man, walked into the Max Berman department store and working slowly held-up the place while employees and shoppers looked on.

Several people in the store spoke to Barrett as he slowly entered the building and walked to the cashier's office. After standing around for a time, he brushed Mrs. Herbert Gunn, cashier, aside and with the ultimatum that the first person to move or utter a cry would be killed, proceeded to take cash from the register.

Two other Colorado men, T. N. Foster and J. J. Smith, are charged as accessories to the robbery. All three were placed under arrest within a few hours after the robbery and Foster and Smith were released Tuesday night after posting bonds in the sum of $2,000 each, pending grand jury action. Barrett, with bond set at $5,000, was still in jail Thursday afternoon.

The robbery was staged at 8 o'clock during a time when the store was crowded with customers, some of whom along with Berman, Mrs. Gunn and other employees, were lined up and commanded to not move on threat of death. Barrett stood about the office for ten or twelve minutes before staging the hold-up.

Walking into front entrance of the store Barrett proceeded to the rear and then came to the office. Mrs. Gunn spoke to him and asked if there was anything she could do for him. "No, I am waiting to see a party," Barrett replied. While standing near the cash register Barrett held one of his hands underneath his coat and appeared nervous, store employees inform.

Thinking perhaps that Barrett desired to see Mr. Berman about some matter, Mrs. Gunn informed the store manager, as he approached her desk later, that "Red Barrett is here and I believe he wants to see you."

At that instance Bill McMurry, employee at the store, entered the office to make change for a customer. Barrett followed McMurry into the office and walking to where Mrs. Gunn was standing pushed her aside and with the command that she remain quiet under threat, began scooping up cash with one hand and dumping the money into a pocket. All the time he continued to hold one hand under his coat.

"Red, do you realize what you are doing?" Berman asked when he noticed what was going on. "You stay where you are and keep quiet or I will kill you," Berman says the man replied. Command to others near the office was given to keep quiet.

Faculty Announces Ready For Opening City Schools On Monday, September 11

Colorado is ready for opening of another school year, faculty members announced this week. Date for formal transition of Summer vacation to the perplexing problems of class room work is Monday, September 11.

Classes are to be called at 9 o'clock A. M. each school day week during the coming school year, the superintendent, John E. Watson, announced a few days ago. The latter was designated in keeping with desire of school authorities to comply with principles of the NRA. Heretofore the schools have taken up work at 8:30 to 8:45 in the morning.

With reference to student registration, C. A. Wilkins, principal of high school, Tuesday issued the following announcement:

"Enrollment of high school students will begin Monday morning, September 4, at 9:00 o'clock. Pupils may enroll any morning the week of September 4 to 9, from nine o'clock until twelve. All pupils are urged to enroll during this week, as in this manner they will have a better chance to get in the classes they want. Parents are urged to come with their children to talk over the work of their child for the year, if it is possible."

LOCAL MAN IS CONTINUED AS MANAGER FOR COTTON ASS'N UNDER 'NEW DEAL'

J. M. New To Direct Business For WTCGA In Mitchell And Other Counties

J. M. New will be in charge at Colorado for the West Texas Cotton Growers Association, according to information received from association headquarters, Mr. New continuing the position which he formerly occupied for the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, which the new organization has succeeded in this area. He will also supervise the new co-op's activities in several counties adjacent to Mitchell county, definite arrangements for which will be announced following a tour of the territory by Mr. New, who returned this week from South Texas.

Mr. New has been a resident of Colorado for eight years, and represented the Texas Cotton Cooperative association at Colorado since its formation three years ago. He has been informed that the state-wide co-op will have no representatives in the area covered by the new West Texas association, and that all members of the older organization are expected to work through the West Texas body.

Several important departures from old methods and policies will be in effect this season, Mr. New said. One will be abandonment of the lengthy marketing contract, which members have been previously required to sign. The grower automatically becomes a member of the new association at the time his cotton is delivered, and he is not required to sign anything before that time, whether he has been a member of the old organization or not.

Still another change is elimination of the seasonal pool. There will be only two pools, "immediate fixation" and "call." In the immediate fixation pool, the cotton is sold outright. In the call pool, a margin is held out to cover market fluctuations until such time as the grower orders the price fixed.

"In case a grower wants his cotton sold gradually, as it used to be in the seasonal pool, he can put it in the call pool, and order it sold so many bales a month," Mr. New said, "which gives the same results as the seasonal pool."

PUBLIC URGED ATTEND OPENING OF SCHOOL AT VALLEY VIEW MONDAY

According to a decision of the trustees, in a meeting last week, the Valley View school will open its 1933-34 term of school on August 28 and continue for six weeks; it will then dismiss for six weeks before beginning its longer session. It is hoped that this arrangement will allow for their being an eight months term of school at a time in which most of the pupils will be able to attend.

Thus far plans have not been completed for an opening program; but the patrons are promised an interesting program as has been the custom of starting off this school. All pupils are urged to be on hand at nine o'clock Monday morning, and it is hoped that the patrons will retain their record of an excellent attendance on the opening of school.

Stamford Minister, 16 Others Charged In Code Complaints

Rev. Sam Morris, Stamford Baptist minister, and 16 others were named defendants in complaints filed Tuesday in the Lubbock federal district court, charging violation of the United States code pertaining to operation of radio stations without licenses.

In addition to the Stamford station, operated by Morris, his wife and others, stations at Abilene, Big Spring, Lubbock and other points in this part of Texas are involved. The complaints were prepared and filed under direction of W. I. Abbott, inspector for the federal radio commission.

Rev. Mr. Morris went to Lubbock Tuesday after learning that the complaints had been filed and was quoted as having announced from there Tuesday night that he would "fight the case to a finish."

HUNTERS CONCLUDE PLANS FOR TAKING TO FIELD ON NEXT FRIDAY AFTER GAME

Dove and Quail Abound Over Much of West Texas; Laws Cited By St. John

Local hunters are concluding plans for going afield next Friday, September 1, in quest of dove and prairie chicken. Annual open season on those game birds is to open on that day.

West Texas sportsmen will find a plentiful supply of game with opening of the season according to statement by E. Barber of Spade, deputy game warden. Prairie chickens are said to be more plentiful than ever in Andrews, Gaines and Youkum counties this season.

The prairie chicken season will open on September 1 and last only four days, through September 4. The bag limit is ten per season, it has been reminded by W. T. St. John of Abilene, warden for this district.

Doves, too, are plentiful in Mitchell and other counties of this part of the State, both St. John and Barber have pointed out. The dove season is to open September 1 and continue through October. The bag limit is 15 a day and not more than 45 in any one week.

Both these officials have found that quail abound in this part of the State. The season opens December 1 and continues forty-five days.

COKE SCHOOL BUILDING BURNS; PATRONS PLAN ERECTION OF ANOTHER

ROBERT LEE.—The board of education here has tendered the use of school facilities to the patrons of the Wild Cat district, seven miles southwest of here. The Wild Cat school burned the night of August 12. An election has been ordered there to vote on a $4,000 bond issue for the purpose of building back.

Insurance on the burned building totaled $1,600. Because of the fire, the commissioners court here passed an order designating the Paint Creek school house for the election of August 26.

OPTIONAL LEASE IS MADE BY GOVERNMENT ON BLDG. HOUSING THE POSTOFFICE

Ten-Year Contract To Expire March 31, 1934; Monthly Rental Now Specified

Assuming that the proposed post-office building at Colorado will not be completed and ready for occupancy at expiration of existing lease on the Carter building, now occupied by the postoffice, Postmaster General Farley has concluded an option contract with M. Carter, owner of the property, extending not to exceed two years from April 1, 1934.

Ten year rental contract, that became effective April 1, 1924, will expire on March 31 of next year. The government has accepted an extension of that contract, on a month to month basis, with two years as the limit in which the contract may be held void.

"The government realized that proposed new building would not be completed and ready for occupancy by March 31, next year, hence the optional extension," stated Postmaster Brennan Monday morning. "It is not possible to fix a definite time for completion of the building now, pending the completion of tentative plans yet to be worked out."

Under terms of the revised lease contract the government will be under obligations to occupy the building for just such time as may pass before the proposed new structure is completed. Moving into the new building will automatically cancel rental lease to go into effect with expiration of the ten-year lease next March 31.

TELEPHONE CO. JOINS RANKS OF EMPLOYERS COOPERATING IN NRA

"A copy of the President's re-employment agreement as modified for the Bell Telephone Companies and accepted by NRA officials, was submitted to the Postmaster today by W. L. Blakney, District Manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

"Details of the code filed here were made public in Washington, August 11, at the time of its acceptance by the National Recovery Administration.

"The Company," said Mr. Blakney, "will comply not only with the letter but the spirit of the agreement."

"Complete estimates of the effect of the code on the operations of the company locally are not available as yet."

Foster Leaves For Mineral Wells For County Agent Meet

W. S. Foster, Mitchell county farm agent, left Tuesday morning for Mineral Wells, where Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, he attended State-wide conference of agents from wheat producing counties and government officials on plans for putting into operation the government's wheat reduction drive. Acreage cuts will be sought throughout the country as a means of stabilizing prices.

Just One More Week Until The State's 'Gin Law' Will Pass Way Of 'Has Beens'

Just another week and prospective newly weds are to have no more of this enforced delay of three days, due to provisions of the Texas "Gin Law" that makes it mandatory for the intended bride and groom to file intentions of marriage and then wait for three days before the license may be issued.

On and after September 1 there is to be no more of this sort of thing, County Clerk B. L. Templeton announced. The county clerk stated Monday that in all probability passing of the law would mean an uptrend in business with him, due to fact many prospective wedding parties now motor to points in New Mexico or Oklahoma.

"I feel sure they will then buy marriage licenses at home, because we will offer them in keeping with legitimate competitive prices and certainly the quality of our marriage licenses are not to be excelled by any one," Templeton stated. "This is another instance of the convenience found in patronizing home industry."

Local Men Express Interest In Plans For Federal Work

Colorado married and family men who are out of employment Wednesday were expressing interest in announcement made at Washington Tuesday by Secretary Perkins in the department of labor that such citizens are to be given first chance at public works jobs.

"It is not thought desirable at this time," Miss Perkins said, "to feed forest conservation men into the public works. They have been working for several months and it is felt that the older men should have the first chance at places made possible through federal public works expenditures.

"It is highly desirable that people long out of work get these places."

W. J. Chesney of Dorn's Chapel section, was among pioneer Mitchell county citizens in town Tuesday afternoon for funeral rites for Wes Allen, former Coloradoan, who died

Extension Granted In Which Loans To Farmers Be Made

Owen Sherrill of Dallas, manager for Texas, received word Friday that the date for making feed loans in West Texas by the government office at Dallas had been extended indefinitely. August 15 had been previously designated as the dead line.

Sherrill said that information from Washington advised that additional wheat crop loans might be made in West Texas. Those production loans, however, will be granted only when the producer agrees to curtail his acreage approximately 20 percent, in line with the government's acreage reduction program.

Sherrill is expected to be in this part of the State during the week-end, on return to Dallas from an inspection tour of the area carrying him as far west as Santa Fe, New Mexico. He was in the latter city Tuesday.

FARM YOUTH OF ROSCOE SECTION SHOOTS FATHER TO DEATH SUNDAY NIGHT

Arthur Light, 46, Slain By Son, 21; Killer Makes Bond Of $5,000

Aubrey Light, 21, farm youth of 12 miles northwest from Roscoe, was released under $5,000 bond at Roby Monday, charged with the fatal shooting of his father Arthur Light, at his Fisher county farm home Sunday night.

The elder Light, his chest pierced by three bullets fired from a .38-calibre pistol, died on the porch of his home in the presence of his wife and several children. A family quarrel was blamed for the shooting.

The youth was taken into custody by Sheriff J. F. Parker of Fisher county who was called to the Light home following the shooting. A murder charge was filed against the youth at Roby Monday and he waived examining trial when arraigned before Justice Lewis Parker. Justice Parker stated later that the youth made no statement relative to the shooting.

The dead man was a large land owner and had lived in the local community 12 miles northwest from Roscoe, for about 30 years. He was the father of seven children.

Funeral rites were held Monday afternoon with burial following in the Pyron cemetery in Scurry county.

WHY VOTE DRY

1. BECAUSE—the Eighteenth Amendment put 178,000 saloons out of business, and repeal would bring them back, with all their horrible results. And repeal means the repeal of laws against bootleggers, speakeasies and blindtigers and liquor dealers.
2. BECAUSE—we had seven and one-half million automobiles in 1920, now we have twenty-six and one-half million, and they are running twice as fast! If we repeal the Eighteenth Amendment the drunk driver menace will greatly increase accidents, injuries, mangled human beings, and deaths from the automobile will run into the millions.
3. BECAUSE—before prohibition the Salvation Army used to haul in drunks by the truck load every night—hundreds of them. They say they could not now find even one-truck load of such cases in any city of the United States! Proving that prohibition does prohibit.
4. BECAUSE—welfare workers report that liquor is no longer an important factor in child delinquency, crime, poverty, sickness, insanity, and immorality—proving again that prohibition does prohibit.
5. BECAUSE—our schools and colleges have over four million more attendants than they had before prohibition. Officers of teachers' associations say prohibition is the greatest blessing that ever came to American youth. The National and State Educational Associations have fully endorsed the Eighteenth Amendment, and 303 college presidents say conditions in colleges are far better than before prohibition.
6. BECAUSE—our young people outclassed the world in the recent Olympic games. The claim of the liquor interests that our young people are drinking more than before prohibition is a malicious and slanderous falsehood, put out for the sole purpose of scaring parents into voting for repeal.
7. BECAUSE—prohibition has resulted in closing 179 of the 200 important drink cure establishments. They were not needed. This indicates the extent to which drinking has been reduced, and proves again that prohibition does prohibit.
8. BECAUSE—according to the United States Census Bureau, the death rate has been reduced. It took a sudden drop within one year after prohibition went into effect.
9. BECAUSE—of the repealists' hidden motive. Liquor is only hope for repeal is to make the public believe that prohibition is a failure. If it was a failure and did not restrict drinking it would be satisfactory to the drinkers. It is because it restricts liquor and drinking that repeal is demanded. If they admitted the truth of their motive and the success of prohibition that would end the repeal problem.
10. BECAUSE—since prohibition the increase in milk consumption alone requires more grain than the liquor interests bought from the farmer in their biggest year. The National Grange is authority for this statement. Imagine millions of families again buying booze instead of food, and you will see how the farmer would be further impoverished by repeal. The claim of wet politicians that repeal would help the farmer is wholly false.
11. BECAUSE—of the efforts of the liquor interests to force a vote on this question during the world depression, while men are in despair because of business conditions.

12. BECAUSE—the claim of the liquor interests that repeal would help business is wholly false. It would have the opposite effect. It would take two billion dollars out of legitimate business and put it into a commodity that causes idleness, crime, and destruction. Liquor is the most greedy, the most merciless, and the most brutal competitor business ever had. Do you want to start up a competitor now or do you have enough competition?
13. BECAUSE—
a few greedy millionaires are putting their money behind the repeal move in an effort to shift a part of their income tax burden onto the shoulders of workers and others who are expected to buy the liquor if it is legalized. How can a working man fall into this trap?
14. BECAUSE—it would be economic ignorance to start up the liquor industry again. A million dollar shoe factory, for example, employs 500 people. How could any laboring man be tricked into starting up a business that gives labor to only one-sixth as many, when millions of people are already out of work?
15. BECAUSE—the liquor interests now admit, through their spokesman, that repeal would not stop the illegal sale of liquor. Every informed person knows that the speakeasies and bootlegger were here in large numbers before prohibition, but that they have been played up by the liquor interests as products of prohibition, in an effort to get the Eighteenth Amendment repealed.
16. BECAUSE—the wets now are also beginning to admit that the fabulous bootlegger fortunes have turned out to be myths. Thus another piece of liquor propaganda is being proved false.
17. BECAUSE—
to sell the manhood and womanhood, boys and girls, to the liquor interests for revenue. The amount of revenue expected has been grossly misrepresented. It's estimate has shrunk from two billions dollars annually to a few cents on each dollar's worth of liquor. This would be offset many times over by the cost of enforcement, collection, crime, accidents, idleness, sickness, death, poverty, and destruction of property.
18. BECAUSE—the cost of enforcing Federal prohibition has been grossly misrepresented. After including cost of enforcement bureau, patrol boats, courts, jails, penitentiaries—everything that could reasonably be charged to prohibition enforcement—the total cost is less than 11 cents per year for each person in the United States. The fines, forfeitures and recoveries under the dry law has been more than double this expense.
19. BECAUSE—
The United States Treasury Department and National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement are authority for these figures.
20. BECAUSE—
And the cost of enforcement would be much higher with hundreds of thousands of open saloons—headquarters for crime, as in the old days.
21. BECAUSE—another piece of liquor propaganda is that prohibition has caused a great crime wave. The president's research committee reports that such is not a fact. There is a crime wave in England, where they have legalized liquor. It is known to law enforcement bodies that organized crime was not caused by prohibition, as the liquor interests claim, but that it began ten years before prohibition.
22. BECAUSE—
Ruth Ann Hall and Ruby Faye Hock will lead the music Saturday and Pauline Faulkenberry will lead prayer service.
23. BECAUSE—
Mrs. Jim Johnson led the last prayer service of the meeting Saturday evening in a great service. One girl responded by saying she kept her Bible handy for an early morning reading and prayer. Why not all young people follow.
24. BECAUSE—
The Saturday afternoon service was dedicated to "fathers of Loraine." Only three were present: If your boy or girl goes to the devil don't blame anybody except yourself. It is a disgrace that young people have to walk over the priest of the home to come to Christ.
25. BECAUSE—
Why not have 100 young people present next Saturday.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

212 members and 17 visitors were present for Sunday school last Sunday. A great spirit was manifested throughout the day.

The pastor's text for the eleven o'clock hour was Jesus came to seek and to save that which was lost. There was one conversion at the close of this service.

The Sunday morning service closed the revival which has been in progress for the past week. There were 19 professions and a number of rededications. There were 36 additions to the church; 20 by baptism. The chairman of the board of deacons took an offering at the close of the service Sunday which amounted to above $100. These figures show what we might do each week if we prayed and paid the price.

50 members were present in B. T. S. Sunday evening. "Attending preaching" and "giving to church" were 100 per cent points. The Training Service is praying for two objects, "Be On Time" and "A Others Band" besides each union's prayer list of unsaved. Don't forget to pray.

13 adults met and organized a union with as much enthusiasm as a bunch of 16 year olds, Sunday evening. Our general secretary helped them organize. The following officers were elected: Mrs. T. B. Ray, president; J. A. Martin, vice-president; Mrs. Neil Brock, secretary; T. B. Ray, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ben Shultz, treasurer; Ben Shultz, Bible readers leader and Bud Richburg, group captain.

The adults have one deacon and two men who are called for special service as members. The young people are proud of this union for the prayers and help it will give them for every day living.

Each member come each Sunday. Sunday school lesson subject for Sunday is "Saul" found in I Samuel 9, 11 and 15 chapters.

BAPTIST W.M.S. Westside Circle

The Westside Circle met with Mrs. G. Miller Monday with 4 members present. Mrs. B. F. Trott led the devotional, Mrs. Miller offered prayer and Mrs. Reeder taught the lesson. We will meet with Mrs. Lester Jarrett next Monday.

YOUNG PEOPLES PRAYER SERVICE

An average of about 50 young people attended prayer services each evening last week with a climax of 75 reached at the theater Sunday afternoon.

Bro. Hardin brought a message on "Influence" Saturday and Leon Crutcher led the prayer service by reading Hebrews 12-1 and bringing an inspiring message to the young people. The hosts of hands that went up when asked if they enjoyed these theater prayer services were a "cloud of witnesses" indeed. We hardly knew which message was best Saturday, the one from a 30 year old minister or the 17 year old layman. We should be proud of both.

Bessie Nell Johnson and Eldon Mahon led the music in a charming manner.

Ruth Ann Hall and Ruby Faye Hock will lead the music Saturday and Pauline Faulkenberry will lead prayer service.

COTTON FREIGHT RATES GIVEN DRASTIC CUT IN ORDER BY COMMISSION

The Texas railroad commission has issued an emergency order making drastic reductions in freight rates on intrastate shipments of cotton.

The reductions ranged as high as 50 percent.

Coincident with issuance of the emergency rates, the commission set August 29 for a hearing to determine if the rates should remain in effect. The emergency rates became effective on issuance.

The order provides for carload rates on cotton shipments under 3 classifications, minimums of 25,000 pounds, 50,000 pounds and 75,000.

It marked the first time the commission has issued cotton rates on the basis of carload shipments.

WEST TEXAS PRESS ASS'N HOLDS SUCCESSFUL MEET DURING FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Max Bentley Of Abilene Is Elected President; Spur Named 1934 Host

SWEETWATER, August 19th.—Eighth annual convention of the West Texas Press Association concluded here this afternoon was one of the most successful meetings ever held by the organization. Registration was considerably larger than during recent years and programs and entertainment features were unusually interesting.

Max Bentley, managing editor of the Reporter-News at Abilene, was elevated to the presidency, succeeding Ralph Shuffler of Odessa. Henderson Shuffler of Odessa, acting secretary since resignation of Miss Treva Miller of Rotan a few weeks ago, was elected to that office for the ensuing year.

Spur was named as host of the 1934 meeting. Big Spring, host city entertaining the convention last year, entered bid for the 1934 meeting a short time before balloting on this question was declared in order by President Shuffler, but W. D. Starcher, Spur publisher, won by a lead of several votes.

Col. Dick McCarty, described as "the beloved pioneer in West Texas journalism," was elected an honorary vice president for life. Colonel McCarty, who is still active at 76 years, delivered an inspirational address before the convention Saturday afternoon.

"Gentlemen of the Press" gathered in Sweetwater from all points in West Texas early Friday morning to open the two-day eighth annual convention of the West Texas Press Association. Headquarters were at the Macie Hotel.

The organizations opening business session got under way at 10:45, with Ralph Shuffler of Odessa, president, in charge. The address of welcome was extended by Mayor J. P. Majors, with the response being given by Charles A. Guy, publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

"Code Comments" was the topic of President Shuffler's address at the morning session, in which the Odessa publisher discussed the "New Deal" from the viewpoint of a newspaperman.

More than 75 persons attended the luncheon at noon. Walter Cline, Wichita Falls oil operator and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, presided as toastmaster.

Peter Molyneux of Dallas, publisher of the Texas Weekly, was the principal speaker at the luncheon, dealing with vast resources of this State and that the future depended upon production of cotton. He warned, however, that nine out of every ten bales produced in the State must be sold elsewhere than this nation.

The Dallas publisher went on to declare that 12 cents a pound must be paid for cotton before standard scales of living could be accomplished in the State.

He praised the State's resources and encouraged West Texas editors to more seriously study the products which are destined always to make Texas an outstanding commonwealth.

Henry W. Stanley of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce spoke at the afternoon session, which opened at 1:30, dealing with handling of advertising for best benefits of the merchants. A round table discussion on mechanical department costs was led by Joe Galbraith, business manager of the Big Spring Herald.

New ideas for creating business was the topic discussed by Jake Smythe of the Scurry County Times of Snyder.

A swimming party and chuck wagon supper Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock on Fireman's Point Lake, Sweetwater, was enjoyed, the meal being under the direction of John M. Hendrix, manager of the Board of City Development.

The associational annual ball was given on the roof garden of the Blue Bonnet, in connection with the affair sponsored by the Sweetwater Municipal Band.

If your elephant wants to ride on top IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH A CHEVROLET

CHEVROLET We didn't actually plan on elephants when we chose the bodies for the new Chevrolet. But we did choose bodies rigid enough, and strong enough, to support six tons of elephant, or anything else you can name. . . Fisher bodies . . . steel bodies plus a hardwood frame . . . exactly the same type of bodies used on all 12 and 16-cylinder cars. Steel alone is not enough to make you as safe and secure as we want you to be in a Chevrolet. A steel body, welded into a solid wall of protection plus resilient hardwood reinforcing to take up stress, absorb shocks and prevent the steel from following its natural tendency to buckle under pressure makes the sturdiest body of all—the kind used on the Chevrolet, and on no other low-priced car. Remember that when you buy a car. Be sure to get all you pay for . . . the super-safety of a steel-plus-wood Fisher body.

Red Barrett

After taking what cash he could find in the cash register, Barrett is said to have slowly backed out through an Elm street entrance. "Everybody stay where you are or I will shoot," Barrett is quoted as having said. He was seen to flee from the building, turn west through an alleyway and enter East Third street near the Tom Hughes tailor shop. There his trail was lost.

Barrett was placed under arrest at 12:45 Sunday morning at the Lee Loftis home north of the city limits. Officers participating in his capture state that Barrett was lying down on front porch of the Loftis home when they drove up. He ran around to other side of the building before being apprehended. $36.50 was found on his person at time of arrest. Loftis was not at home at the time.

Poster and Smith are charged as accessories to the robbery, due to claim of the authorities they aided in concealing Barrett following the hold-up. The two men are alleged to have claimed that Barrett, shortly after the robbery came to them and threatened their lives if they did not drive him to Roscoe. It later developed that the party had never been to Roscoe, according to statement given the authorities by Foster.

In statement given by Foster he admitted that his previous claim of having been forced to drive Barrett to Roscoe was untrue. They did drive out the Snyder highway a few miles, so it is admitted in the statement, and returned to Colorado, letting Barrett out of the car near the Roof Hospital.

Statement of employees at the Berman store contend that Foster was standing near front entrance of the place while Barrett was doing the hold-up job.

"I do not know why I pulled that job, except that it was just crazy drunk," Barrett stated to The Record Tuesday morning when questioned as to the robbery. "I was drinking and entering the store, decided to stage the hold-up. It is all a vague thing to me." Barrett denied with emphasis that he had a gun. "I certainly did not have a gun," he said. "If I had a gun I certainly knew nothing about it." When questioned as to what he had in his pocket, giving the impression that he was armed, Barrett replied, "I do not know."

"That is what we would like to know," replied Foster and Smith in unison when asked for an explanation of their presence in jail. The two men were occupying a cell together and were seated on a bunk reading a morning newspaper. "We hope to be able to post bond and get out of her before long," Foster continued.

Barrett, in response to direct questioning by The Record, denied that either Foster or Smith had anything to do with the robbery. County attorney Dell Barber stated Wednesday morning that the authorities were convinced that Foster and Smith had nothing to do with the robbery, excepting in abetting to conceal Barrett as officers sought his arrest.

Smith and Foster were placed under arrest by Sheriff Gregory in the business district about 11 o'clock Saturday night and locked up.

Following statement said to have been made by Foster and Smith that Barrett had forced them to drive him to a point on Highway 1 near Roscoe, Police Chief Hickman and Constable Jack Delaney made a hasty drive to Roscoe. After conferring with the nightwatchman there they went on to Sweetwater before returning home.

Complaints against the three men were filed Tuesday morning by Dell Barber, county attorney. Barrett is charged with the offense that he did "by fear of life and bodily injury upon Max Berman, fraudulently and without the consent of the said Max Berman, take from the possession of him, the said Max Berman, $48.20 in American money." It was stated Tuesday morning that an amount of $11.70, difference between the $36.50 taken from Barrett at time of his arrest, and total taken from the cash register, had not been located.

Charges against Barrett specify that he committed the robbery without firearms. Penalty upon conviction would entail a penitentiary sentence of from five years to life imprisonment. Penalty for an accessory in such crime is confinement in the pen for a term not to exceed five years.

All three of the accused men are well known in Colorado. Barrett was employed at the Alceve Drug Store several years until a few months ago and was among the popular young men of Colorado. He is facing burglary charges at Big Spring, recently being released on bond of $1,000 pending grand jury action. He was placed under arrest in Los Angeles, California and returned to Big Spring a few months ago.

Foster has been operating the Cobblestone Filling Station at West Third and Walnut streets for some time. He has been connected with Colorado business interests several years. Smith, a former employee on the Texas & Pacific switching crew here, is said to have been out of employment several months.

Put Your Liver To Work--Make This Test

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes your stomach and bowels plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow.

Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, oils, mineral waters, laxative pills, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargon Soft Mass Pills contain both of them.

Unless you have tried Sargon Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—you feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly.

SAVE A LIFE, A LIMB

Last year throughout the United States 29,000 persons were killed and more than 900,000 were injured in automobile accidents which occurred in practically every community in our country.

Since it is common knowledge that this record of casualties is largely due to the misuse of the streets and highways by many drivers and pedestrians the month of September has been set aside by many States as a period in which to demonstrate just how many lives and limbs may be saved by the exercise of more care and consideration on the part of drivers and pedestrians.

No day passes without many drivers hurrying through intersections, passing other cars improperly, driving at too rapid a speed, or failing in other respects to use the streets and highways in a safe manner. No day passes without many pedestrians crossing in the middle of the block, darting out into the streets from behind parked vehicles, crossing intersections against signal lights, and in other ways using the streets and highways improperly.

The consequences of such acts are the deaths and the non-fatal injuries which occur in our midst and in every town and city of the United States. The improper practices occur at such frequency that it is impossible for the police or other authorities to even begin to cope with the situation, inasmuch as it is apparent that a greater degree of safety in the use of our streets and highways can only be realized as people, of their own free will, cooperate among themselves to that end.

In keeping with the motives of the country-wide street and highway safety movement to be made in September, there is an urge upon drivers and pedestrians alike in this city to set examples of public conduct in the use of streets and highways which will insure the greatest possible safety, not only for themselves while they are on the streets and highways, but for all others, and that special attention be given by the proper officials of the city in the enforcement of laws and ordinances which have been designed for the protection of all.

GENERAL FARLEY SEES FRAUD CHARGES AHEAD FOR CODE 'SLACKERS'

Postmaster General James A. Farley has expressed the opinion that employers who sign an NRA code and fail to live up to it can be prosecuted under the mail fraud statutes.

"I understand," Farley said "there is a disposition in some quarters to evade the terms of the president's agreement and I frequently have been asked how these situations can be handled.

"It seems to me that a man who signs the president's re-employment agreement, follows it up by signing a certificate of compliance and then deliberately goes back on his pledge comes within the classification of those who use the mails for fraudulent purposes."

Sunday's Dallas Morning News had a splendid editorial, which every voter in Mitchell county should read, and for that reason we have decided to give this column for its reproduction.

WHAT IS TEXAS GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

It is a condition that confronts us not a theory.—Grover Cleveland. Arguments may change one's ideas as to theories, but they can not change a condition. It requires action to do that.

Men sometimes strive to prove to their fellows that they are right as to theory. They may succeed, but it must be done by facts and demonstration.

There is a condition confronting Texas which does not need long-drawn-out arguments to prove its existence. So serious is it, so formidable the aspect with which it is invested, that every patriotic citizen, everyone in this State who is capable of realizing its importance to the welfare and happiness of the people, should do what is possible to be done to consummate the only plan by which this condition soon to be upon us may be relieved.

The condition alluded to is that of taking care of the great number who likely will be suffering from hunger during the winter. The plan for diverting it of its terrible appearance is being prepared to meet the situation when it comes upon us.

The plan is to vote for the constitutional amendment permitting the State to issue $20,000,000 in bonds—and not fail to do it. By voting for this amendment we make the way clear for the assistance that the Federal Government will furnish. It will not extend this help unless the amendment permitting the issue of $20,000,000 is carried.

It would be a very peculiar action for one to throw away his weapon when he is about to be attacked by a ferocious beast. There is no more terrible beast in the jungle of life's experiences than hunger.

What We Must Do In order to meet the requirements during the winter of those without work it is absolutely necessary that we comply with the provisions required by the Federal Government and receive the assistance that can be had by voting this amendment. If Texas refuses, by failing to adopt the amendment necessary to receive Federal aid, it will have the care of the 1,300,000 people who, it is estimated, will be demanding food next winter.

Texas without Federal aid, can not care for those dependent upon it.

The thing to do, and the only thing, is to pass the constitutional amendment on August 26.

It may not be necessary to use all, or even the greater part, of all that the amendment permits us to use of the $20,000,000. Indeed, it is not believed that it will require all, because of the help coming from the Federal fund. In such case no more bonds will be issued than are necessary. No more debt will be incurred than the imperative necessity of the situation demands.

It must be borne in mind also that unless the amendment is voted Texas can not vote its own money for the needed funds. Thus, if we should be so unwise as to defeat the amendment on August 26, we not only reject the aid to come from the Federal Government, but we can not ourselves vote the money from the State treasury—even if it had it.

Had You Thought of This? One of the speakers at the mass meeting held recently in Dallas was County Judge Ogden of Dallas county. Among other things he said that failure to pass the amendment would "allow radicalism to get a foothold in Texas." This remark is of greater significance than is seen in its fullness at once.

All enemies of Government, including Communists, Anarchists and "Reds" generally, know that the best time to make converts to "chaos and old night," is when those they would proselyte and cause to join their ranks are hungry.

Idleness, especially idleness that is compulsory, furnishes the enemies of government with just the sort of soil that the seeds of anarchy and revolution thrive in best. It need not be thought that such agents of governmental pandemonium have been idle in Texas. There is no question that during the last four "lean years," while hunger, idleness and distress have prevailed over much of our country, the "Reds" of all sorts have been busy in Texas as well as elsewhere.

It is not a very far call from a ragged shirt to a "Red" one; from a hungry man to a desperate one.

Especially is this true of a man who is accustomed to hard work and is willing to do it to get bread for himself and family. It is that sort of man who does much harm when converted to a wrong thing. The chronic idler is worth nothing, either to industry or to society. The "Red" doesn't bother about him, either, unless it is for the job of soap-bubble speller.

A man who is idle of his own will is a liability.

A man forced to be hungry and idle because he can not get the work he seeks is a menace.

An idle man is a liability; a hungry man is a threat. Hunger precipitates desperation; desperation means revolution and chaos.

The combination of both hunger and idleness may at any time create a formidable situation.

Why Exchange a Certainty For a Possibility?

Every man who is willing and able to work, to earn an honest sustenance for himself and family, is entitled to the opportunity to do so, and knows it. The fact that conditions are such that there is no work for him is no fault of his, nor does it in the least mitigate his suffering.

It may not be our fault that the idle man is idle; neither may it be his. It is our duty, however, to supply his needs and those depending upon him until such time as he can help himself.

As to the amendment permitting the issuance of the $20,000,000: Why exchange a certainty for a possibility? Why take a chance on trying to care for those who will call on us for bread when winter comes, when by using our intelligence and good sense we can make it certain that we can care for them?

History, experience and common sense tell us to get ready for what we are going to see coming soon.

What is Texas going to do about it? Sensible Texas will vote for the amendment.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

THE BOOTLEGGER, A HOBGOBLIN, A BUGABOO

Recently a man told the writer that he could buy a pint of liquor in Colorado before night. I suspect he could. With open saloons a thousand men could buy liquor in Colorado in thirty minutes. That is the difference.

The bootlegger is a nightmare, a bugaboo, a hobgoblin. Some drays are going to vote with him to put him out of business; some will vote with him because the bootlegger is getting rich; some will vote with him to take his business away from him. But a wet vote is a vote to repeal all laws against the bootlegger.

There is little truth in the bootlegger talk. The wets, including the bootlegger, repeat those things to get the drays to vote with them. The drays swallow the bait, hook, line and sinker. They jerk the cork clear under. The wets snicker.

No bootlegger has made and retained any money in Colorado or in Mitchell county. They all went broke. They died, went to the pen or are living without a dime. The rich bootlegger story is told to blind the drays and it is blinding them.

Voting the saloons back won't put the bootlegger out of business. It will only supply him a base to peddle his goods in all local communities, at parties and wherever he can find a buyer. The bootlegger will thrive on this arrangement.

The bootlegger is not selling the great quantities of liquor reported. In August 1931 Colorado had the Old Settler' reunion. The town was full of people. From the court house to the depot there was hardly standing room. Many remained on the streets until midnight. The officers were most diligent. They were able to find only three or four drunks. With open saloon there

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardui has helped thousands of women: "I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day. My mother had taken Cardui, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time." Cardui is sold by local druggists.

would have been a hundred drunks. In 1932 the same thing happened. There were fewer people and fewer drunks.—And none of these were down drunk. They were just noisy and were taken in for protection. I doubt if any man has seen a man down on the streets drunk, unable to get up in ten years. The writer has not.

The last two circus show days here brought a big crowd to town each day. At one of these a man was picked up for drunk in the east part of the town, but he was able to walk up the street. On the other show day the officers were unable to find any drunk.

At the recent Fourth of July we had a large crowd. Many were with the rodeo. Some were inclined to drink. The officers were very anxious to catch a few and get the fees. But not a drunk could be found.

The writer was in close touch with all parts of the county for more than five years. He had access to fifteen secret tribunals for investigations. He knows as much about conditions as all the talkers and repeaters put together. There is a very little fire for such large smoke. These things are told and repeated to deceive and they are deceiving. The liquor law is violated just as any other law is of course.

Recently a blind lady told a crowd of people that liquor was being sold all around her block. She didn't know a thing about it. That is the key to the whole talk fest on this subject. She did not know a thing about it and neither do many others. It is just a case of "the goblins will get you."

If your readers would allow the old settlers here to tell them of the true conditions that prevailed from the Masonic building to the river west in the days of the saloon this liquor question would be settled in Mitchell county. These things are true. They would be intolerable now. Let us vote against their return August 26th.

Respectfully, W. H. GARRETT.

GIVE EAR, OH TEXAS By C. C. ALEXANDER "Give us day by day our daily bread."

—Luke 11:3. On August 26th the people of the great State of Texas are going to have opportunity of helping to answer this prayer, which Jesus taught his disciples.

The prayers of tens of thousands of Texas children today is "Give us day by day our daily bread." The prayers of millions upon millions in all America today is "Give us day by day our daily bread."

Will Texas voters turn a deaf ear to the cries of these little children? Will the voters of Texas refuse to hear the cries of these tens of thousands of their fellowmen who are begging for work—these men who wish to work and earn their bread honorably?

God forbid that selfishness should prolong their suffering and miseries. The writer is not a politician and therefore he is slow to discuss political issues. But regarding the bond issue there seems to be much misunderstanding. The people of Texas are not to be blamed for being quick to place the stamp of disapproval upon "bond issues."

The writer is reliably informed that there shall be no special tax levied upon the farms and ranches and homes of Texans, but that taxes will be spread in a way so as not to injure or overburden anyone. Even if the bond issue, when passed, should add some additional Prayers of men, women and children who have almost given up all hope for the future.

Listen, gentle reader—On August 26th the people of Mitchell county and of Texas must forget that they are voting on bonds and remember only that they are voting for humanity.

Can the people of Texas afford to turn a deaf ear to the unfortunate unemployed men of this great Lone Star State of Texas? No!

Some day these thousands of re-kid-and pale-faced boys may be called to the colors to fight for their country and your country.—They may be called upon to protect your homes, your lands, your herds of cattle, your business and your honor. Yes, Gentle Reader, it may be necessary for them to sacrifice their lives as cannon fodder to protect you and your lands from invasion by some foreign enemy. You would not wish them to fail you, would you?

All right, here is the question. Are you going to fail them? (These thousands of starving, innocent boys of Texas).

"All the way with Roosevelt," has been your battle cry, and now will you desert your leader on August 26th? God forbid.

"Give us day by day our daily bread."
