MITCHELL COUNTY PAYING OUT LARGE SUMS YEARLY AS TOLL TO RAT DAMAGE

State Health Officer Urges Public Join With Texas Against Pests

Mitchell county citizens are being called upon to pay out large sums as toll exacted in damage to property by rats, Dr. John W. Brown, State health officer, outlines in statement received Monday from Austin. The charge that rats have made costly inroads here will be attested by poultry raisers and others who during the Spring lost heavily to the pests. The urge is made that this county join with Texas in a determined drive to check this annual loss.

Texas sustained a $15,000,000 loss last year, on account of rats, declared Dr. Brown. This figure is a very low estimate based upon the probable number of rats in the State, two to each person. No doubt many suffer losses that would pay their taxes, and this does not take into consideration the losses from diseases, time and money, caused by the rat.

Typus fever is on the increase in Texas and the rat is the cause of its spread. Old World typhus fever has a high death rate, while the type we have in Texas, a type called Bill's Disease, has a low death rate. It occurs among persons who work or live in rat infested buildings. It was the observation of this fact that led to the discovery that rats are carriers or transmitters of the disease. It appears that the rat suffers attacks of this form of typhus fever and that the fleas harbored by the sick rat bite man and thus human infection results.

Although this disease is not commonly fatal, it cannot be considered lightly. The intense headache, the high fever, and the great mental depression are its most unpleasant features. Like sea sickness, the patients greatest fear is that he is not going to die. The illness generally lasts about two weeks.

To control typhus is very difficult and it depends upon the extermination of rats and this is no easy matter. Trapping and poisoning help, but the best results are obtained by starving the rats. This is done by having all buildings where food is stored ratproofed. The State Department of Health and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will be glad to assist communities in their program for the extermination of this pest.

ROSH-HASHONAN, JEWISH NEW YEAR FESTIVAL, WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 21

Stores To Be Closed On That Day and Also Yom Kippor, Coming September 30

Jewish citizens of Colorado are to observe both the New Year and Day of Atonement as celebrated by citizens of that faith throughout the world. Rosh-Hashonan, the Jewish New Year, begins Thursday, September 21, at sundown and will continue through to Saturday. During the day Thursday all stores owned and operated here by Jews are to be closed. The date has been reckoned as time for passing of the old year and beginning of the new in Jewish calendar through many centuries.

Saturday, September 30, is Yom Kippor, the Day of Atonement, the most sacred day observed by the Jew. Religious ceremony and other rites to fittingly commemorate the event are being planned. All Jewish owned stores are to be closed until 6 o'clock p. m., when they will be opened for the evening.

ROAD TO LEAD NORTHEAST FROM HICKORY STREET TO PRESENT BUFORD HIGHWAY

'Minor Differences' Holding Up Progress Ironed Out At Meeting Tuesday

Actual construction on Highway No. 101 from the north end of Hickory street to Snyder should be begun within the next few months, probably before passing of 1933, statements coming from County Judge A. F. King and members of county commissioners' court Thursday morning indicated. The State Thursday morning started a crew of four men at work on locating permanent route for the highway.

W. A. French of Abilene, district engineer for the State highway commission, was in Colorado Tuesday and held conference with the county judge and county commissioners as to minor differences said to have held up progress on the project. These had to do with route locations as demanded by the State. The county judge and Mack Holt, county commissioner in whose precinct the highway is to be built in Mitchell county, announced that every obstacle was cleared up and work would be pushed.

"We were not requested to sign a written contract covering conditions under which the county is to furnish right-of-way to the State," Holt said, "but we entered into a 'gentlemen's agreement' with Mr. French that this court was ready to proceed with building of the highway, and we are going to furnish the right-of-way as surveys now being made call for."

The highway will leave Colorado from the north end of Hickory street and leading in a direction slightly east from north intersect the present road at Buford. From Buford the new route will lead direct to Dunn. Engineers expect to complete plans on location, grade and drainage structures within three weeks. First unit of the highway will be from Colorado to Dunn.

The highway commission, through Mr. French, several months ago proposed to the county commissioners' courts of Mitchell and Scurry counties that if they would furnish without cost to the State right-of-way for the road, Highway 101 would be built from Colorado to Snyder. The offer was accepted and tentative route map made and submitted to the commission at Austin. Later delay was occasioned when the court here and the district engineer failed to agree on location for the paved

Time to Go Away From There

Bowden of the American Intelligence service, now a Boise (Idaho) business man, says this incident among all others stands out clear-etched in his memory. Here is how he tells about it:

"I was driving one day just back of the lines in a dilapidated Ford, barely able to creep along. A corporal from Atlanta was the chauffeur. A British 8-inch howitzer battery was firing alongside the road.

"As we passed near the battery there was a terrific explosion, caused, we learned later, by a premature in the bore. The air was filled with whistling scrap iron from the completely demolished gun.

"Stunned and paralyzed with fright, I turned to the driver. He was sliding over the wheel and out of the car. "Where are you going? I asked as soon as I could recover my voice. "He looked at me with a blank stare. Then he muttered hoarsely: "Lieutenant, I am going to get out and run!"

MOVIES

Thursday and Friday September 14 and 15
"Out All Night"
You will get plenty of good hearty laughs from Slim Summerville, Zasu Pitts and the good clean fun in "Out All Night" which shows at the Palace Theatre Thursday and Friday. Summerville and Pitts, that incomparable comedy team; Universal's scream team; leaving nothing undone in their efforts to show you a good time. There being more than one meaning to the word "out" we might be forced to explain, except for the fact that it is Summerville and Pitts who are "Out All Night." That being the case it really doesn't matter which way it is interpreted as everyone knows these two will give you your money's worth in fun what am I!!!!

Saturday-September 16
"Under The Tonto Rim"
Well can you imagine? Here comes Stuart Erwin as the great big bad man from the wide open spaces in Zane Grey's "Under The Tonto Rim." Stuart is a very commendable comedian in regular roles, like the ones we have all seen him in so often, but we can't find big or good enough adjectives to describe the Stuart who plays the role of the timid sort in the wild west, who becomes the worthy bad man when the one and only spurns his love. In this case . . . that's fun! This picture shows Saturday only. Don't miss it!

"Jennie Gerhardt"
Sunday and Monday, Sept. 17-18
Dramatic romance that brings both happiness and tragedy to its central character is the motivating element in "Jennie Gerhardt," which shows at the Palace Sunday and Monday. Your sympathy will naturally accrue to the girl whom men want but never marry. As is the case of most life-love stories, well done, this picture is impressive, sometimes depressing and as a whole vitally entertaining. There is a definite melodramatic atmosphere to the whole story. Sylvia Sydney, the star, is supported by a large cast headed by Donald Cook, Mary Astor, H. B. Warner and many others equally as well known.

YOUNG PEOPLES PRAYER SERVICE

About 45 were present for prayer services at the theatre Saturday afternoon. Rev. A. C. Hardin brought an inspirational address on "Consider" bringing a lesson home for youth in four commands, "Consider your time, your opportunities, your influence, and your God."

Josephine Palmer followed with an interesting message on "Friendship." Young people of the Beatty family sang a quartet during the meeting.

Misses Bessie Nell Johnson and Winnidell Roland will conduct the music next Saturday and Boyd House will lead prayer services. Brother J. E. Harrell will bring an inspirational address.

"From 13 to 25 are precious years" say many young people, but psychology teaches that they are also difficult, unhappy and confused years in many respects. They are also years of greatest temptation. These prayer services are for young people of these ages. Youth, why not grow in grace this year?

Road Work

Designation of the highway south from Colorado to the Mitchell-Sterling county line was announced several months ago by the commission in Austin. The step was interpreted here as indicating the State planned extending pavement south to intersection with Highway 7 at or near Sterling City. No authoritative announcement, however, has been made either by the district engineer or the commission.

Sterling county commissioners' court and other citizens there visited Colorado a few weeks ago to launch campaign, seeking to interest the highway commission in building the road south from Colorado to their town. At the same time civic leaders of Robert Lee were here seeking to obtain designation and ultimate improvement of highway connecting Colorado and their community.

Recently a representative of the highway commission was quoted as having dropped the hint that a paved thoroughfare would be constructed south from Colorado in the statement: "The State is not adopting the policy of constructing short stretches of paved highway, unless they lead from one important objective to another." That statement was said to have been given in answer to the interrogation if No. 101 would be built from Colorado to Sterling City.

Fruit on Ground

This picture displays the fate of nearly all the grapefruit crop of the Lower Rio-Grande Valley during the recent hurricane. Not yet ripe, the luscious balls were blown from the trees to rot on the ground. Conservative estimates are that more than three-fourths of the crop is destroyed.

The County Home Demonstration Agent has sent out questionnaires to the girls and these questionnaires are to be scored and the highest scoring girls will be on the list competing for Dallas Fair trips. Every girl competing for this trip must have one square glass-topped jar of canned stuff with their record book and history in the Home Demonstration Agent's office by September 23rd, unless hindered by some good cause. The Texas and Pacific Ry. Company is giving free transportation to and from Dallas to the winning girls. "Realizing that club work has been hard to carry on these hectic times, but also feeling it to be worth while they are willing to offer these trips," wrote Mr. Olie B. Webb, assistant to the president of the T. & P., to Miss Gunter, Mitchell county home demonstration agent.

The records and histories and exhibits of the winners must be sent to Dallas by October 2nd. It is most important that each girl fill out the questionnaire and mail back to Miss Gunter at once.

For the benefit of those women in the county who are now selling, and who will can later for people, black-eyed peas, Miss Zetha McInnis, Home Industry Specialist of A. & M. College, will be in the County Home Demonstration Agent's office Tuesday, September 19th at 10 A. M. for conference. Be sure to come if you want other information on selling canned products, such as canned chicken, corn, etc.

Mrs. Carl Lowry of Hyman club and Bedroom Demonstrator is working on a tailored bedspread, tufted in dark brown for Mrs. Bernice Clayton, Home Improvement Specialist of A. & M. College, for the Dallas Fair exhibit. This spread will be used to bring out phases of bedroom improvement work. Mrs. Lowry exhibited one at A. & M. this summer at Short Course and through this got order from Mrs. Clayton. Fern Adrian is planning on dyeing a soft pink spread and using sack twine for tufting in two shades of rose and pink. She should be able to cut the expense of a regular $2.50 spread in half and also have a pretty colored tufted bedspread. Miss Adrian is Club Girl Sponsor in the Landers community.

District Attorney Doubts Confession Of Trammell That He Slew Blackwell Officer

SWEETWATER.—With District Attorney George Mahon's statement Wednesday that Luke Trammell's written confession to the slaying of John Lamkin, Blackwell deputy sheriff, early on the morning of June 1, this year, was "very unsatisfactory" to him, a shadow of doubt has been cast over the confession by the general public.

In view of the facts that the West Texas desperado feels that there is no hope for his escaping the "hot chair" anyhow, and that his written confession does not tally with considerable evidence found following the murder, the question remains: Who killed John Lamkin?

Could it be that Trammell is shielding another?

It is possible that he is attaching himself to this crime to hide a worse one that he really committed with or near the same date?

If Trammell killed Lamkin, why is the disappearance of the gun to be used so mysterious?

Or could it be that Luke Trammell is guilty of killing the Blackwell nightwatchman, and has failed to state how the crime was committed correctly?

Why should any one doubt that the youthful outlaw killed Lamkin after he admitted it and signed his name to his confession? The Reporter has uncovered the following reasons why there may be so much doubtful comment in regard to the confession:

(1.) Luke Trammell feels that he is a doomed man, and it seems logical that he would shield another not so near the electric chair as he himself.

(2.) He says himself that he thinks that there are about 10 different indictments against him now. All indictments are serious charges. Two charges of robbery with firearms were on file against Trammell in Abilene Wednesday night. He was specifically charged with holding up Carver Walker at a filling station in Coleman June 29, and with theft of an automobile from A. D. Baker, Genevieve farmer, July 4.

(3.) The 24-year-old, Trammell was captured by officers in a gun battle near Coleman which cost the life of Trammell's brother, Starkweather, known as "Doc." Serious charges were more than likely filed against him following his arrest.

(4.) According to press dispatches from San Angelo, Trammell stated "What would you do if a man threw a gun on you and you knew he would shoot if you didn't stop him first?", in answer to a question if he hadn't confessed killing Lamkin asked by a San Angelo newspaper reporter. Officers here state that John Lamkin was wounded in the back, which if true, makes Trammell's reply to the reporter all wrong.

(5.) The same officials that brought Trammell here for confession to the district attorney had previously arrested three other men and accused them of the murder with considerable assurance they were right in their accusations.

The mystery of the murder is yet to be solved for the satisfaction of many. There must be more than the confession. Officers state that it is likely that Trammell be brought here sometime next week to appear before the grand jury. He is now in the Abilene jail, having been taken there from San Angelo.

DISCHARGED VETERANS TO BE GIVEN EMPLOYMENT IN AREA CONSERVATION CORP

Dallas Office Authorized To Employ 165 Men Before First Of October

The veterans' administration regional office at Dallas will select approximately 165 veterans for enrollment in the emergency conservation corps before close of business on September 30, according to information made public at the Colorado postoffice Wednesday morning.

In making selection an effort will be made to apportion the employment opportunities to counties according to population, a fact that means quota to be taken from Mitchell county will be small. Consideration will be given applications now on file at the Dallas office, and to those received prior to close of business on September 23, unless the offices fail to receive quota by that date. In the latter event, applications received up to September 30 would be considered.

In making selections consideration will be given to the applicant's sincerity of purpose, need of employment, character, dependents and physical fitness to perform ordinary manual labor.

Applicants selected for enrollment will be required to report at their own expense to one of the three designated recruiting stations in this area. The recruiting stations now operating for this district are located at Dallas, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls.

Veterans interested in enrollment should communicate with the veterans' administration, Cotton Exchange bldg., Dallas, Texas.

Tuberculosis Described As The 'Captain Of The Host' Of Death In Radio Address

Last week The Record carried broadcast address of Dr. C. L. Ross, local surgeon, on the harmful effects of house flies and typhoid fever. This week we are pleased to print another timely address to the public of this county, as made Sunday from studios of W.L.D. In this address Dr. Ross' deals with tuberculosis, as follows:

WHAT PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS

Last Sunday at this hour I spoke to the unseen audience in radioland on the subject of "House Flies and Typhoid Fever." In that short talk, I tried to tell you that the common house fly is the unrecognized enemy to the human race—especially to children. It was my endeavor to emphasize the known fact that the house fly is chief agent that carries typhoid infection, and spreads infection from one typhoid patient into an epidemic of typhoid. I also advised that your house should be kept free from all filthy breeding places for flies. Your neighbors should do likewise.

This afternoon I'm going to talk to you for a few minutes on WHAT THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS. Tuberculosis is an infective disease caused by a certain class of germs called tubercle bacilli. The old Greeks called the disease phthisis, which means "wasting away." The English from the meaning of the word translated it "Consumption." The scientist, after closely studying the lung, post-mortem, of patients who had died of the disease, finding in the lung an abundance of very small nodules gave to the disease the scientific name of tuberculosis, which literally means an abundance of tiny small nodules. So phthisis, consumption, and tuberculosis for practical purposes mean one and the same thing.

Tuberculosis is the captain of the host of death. In round numbers 100,000 people in the United States die annually of the disease. Tuberculosis creeps more doors, asks for more caskets, digs more graves, sets more tomb-stones and leaves to the world more destitute widows and orphans than any one other physical ill the human family is heir to. One out of every seven of the world's population, for ages died of tuberculosis. This white plague takes its toll from every age, every climate, every race and every condition. In the torrid zone, in the frozen regions of the arctic and the antarctic, in the highest and in the lowest altitudes inhabited by man, the white, the black, the yellow, die of tuberculosis. Hippocrates who lived 400 years before Christ wrote very learnedly about consumption. While he did not know the specific cause; yet, he described its symptoms, ravages and characteristics just about as well as any doctor of today can describe them. It remained for a German physician, Dr. Robert Koch, in 1882, to identify the tubercle bacillus as the specific cause of the disease.

These germs as seen under a high-powered microscope, occur as short, fine rods, often slightly bent or curved. They are so very small that several hundred may be in the tiniest particle of sputum barely visible to the unaided eye. These are the so-called "bugs" that produce tuberculosis. They are not bugs at all, but in fact are believed by some scientists to be a very low form of mid-gel vegetable plant. After gaining lodging in the lungs and setting up inflammation they multiply very soon to countless millions. Dr. Nuttall, a certain noted bacteriologist, made careful estimation of the number of these germs expectorated in sputum in 24 hours by a patient coughing of moderately advanced tuberculosis and the number was placed at about four billion. These figures show the great danger associated with sputum from the tuberculosis, unless most carefully destroyed—burned. The word sputum, as used here, means that which is raised from the lungs during cough.

There are known to be three distinct classes of tuberculosis—perhaps other classes may be recognized later—the human type, most commonly found in man; the bovine, that class producing tuberculosis in cattle, and the avian, that class of tuberculosis found in birds. The avian type is rarely if ever found in man and so may be dismissed from this consideration. The bovine type very seldom produces tuberculosis in the lungs of the human; but is the cause of most of the cases of tuberculosis of the bowels, in children as well as in adults. Also tuberculosis of the bones and joints is usually caused by the bovine type. There is no organ or tissue of the body in which the tubercle bacilli may not be found, but they are found more often in the lymph glands, and next in frequency in the lungs.

What are the modes of conveyance? That is, how is the disease contracted? There are several possible ways by which tuberculosis may be contracted, but only two will be mentioned, because these two include, perhaps 999 cases out of every 1000. It has been proven without a doubt that tubercle bacilli may be inhaled in food—such as infected milk, infected butter and etc. The bovine type when taken in with food, if productive of trouble at all, will produce tuberculosis of the intestines, duce tuberculosis of the intestines, glands in the abdomen. The human type sometime find lodging in diseased tonsils, passes through the tonsils to glands of the neck and thence to the apex of the lung. It is conceded that it is through this channel that a large proportion of the cases of tuberculosis of the lungs, in children, arise. It is also recognized that a baby nursing its tuberculous mother er may take into its stomach and bowels human tubercle bacilli and thus develop tuberculosis of the bowels. As all dairy cows now are tested for tuberculosis by the tuberculin test, this source of danger is practically eliminated. The other source of infection is inhalation. This is the chief mode of infection. By inhalation is meant breathing in—by inhaling the tubercle bacilli, of course, means to breathe in the bacilli. The sputum from a tuberculous patient when dried crumbles up into dust. This dust, when disturbed, as by sweeping a floor, or by a fan or by the zephyr breeze of Good-Old-Summer-Time, rises and becomes mixed with different other foreign particles in the atmosphere and is carried into the lungs with the air we breathe. Cornet gathered 118 different samples of dust from hospital wards where tuberculous patients were kept, and in about one-half of these samples he found living bacilli. In a room where a tuberculous woman had lived, the dust from the wall in the neighborhood of the bed was infective six weeks after the patient's death. In the charity hospital in Paris, France, Dr. Straus, placed plugs of cotton-wool in the nostrils of 29 nurses and attendants of tuberculous patients and a large proportion of these, after remaining in the nostrils a few hours, were found to have become infected with tubercle bacilli. Some other investigator went to an old vacant tenement house where a tuberculous victim had died twenty years before and gathered samples of dirt from the cracks in the floor and found that these samples contained living tubercle bacilli. A certain experimenter had a tuberculous patient cough toward a sterile glass, at a distance of five feet from the glass and from that sterile glass were gathered millions of tubercle bacilli. Hundreds of interesting experiments have proved conclusively that by far the most common way of becoming infected with tubercle bacilli is by inhalation. So this is the channel of infection that should be rigidly guarded by all known precautions.

Now it should be known and remembered always that the tubercle bacilli is extremely difficult to kill by the ordinary antiseptics. This is on account of its waxy content which protects it against the action of the disinfectant. They resist for a long time the action of 50 per cent carbolio acid in which they may be submerged. In order to kill them, bi-chloride of mercury, formaldehyde and carbolic acid have to be used in strong solution and for several hours. Kuase states that masses of bacilli dried in a vacuum over sulphuric acid for four ten days and then stored in the dark for 18 months were still living and virulent and killed guinea pigs when injected into them. Neither does extreme cold kill the bacilli. Twichell found sputum virulent after being kept frozen for four months. Experimentally, the germ has been found undestroyed after having been boiled for short time. Strange enough, but conceded by all experimenters to be true that direct sunlight kills the germs in three hours, or less time.

While the tubercle bacilli are the chief cause of tuberculosis, still there are other causes acting jointly and concurrently with these germs to enable them to spring up and bear fruit a hundred fold. The planter sows his wheat but unless the conditions of the soil, climate and moisture are favorable, the wheat seed will never germinate or sprout. Likewise, the tubercle bacilli gain admission into our lungs, but unless our bodily conditions are favorable to their growth and activity they may never be productive of harm. Among the things that are favorable to their growth and activity that may be mentioned are: an inherited lack in the body tissue of a normal resistance to this particular infection; a weakened or broken down resistance by the impairment of other diseases; lack of proper diet, too many hours of work per day, too much continuous responsibility and strain, too little fresh air, and too little sunshine.

What are some of the symptoms, signs or signals that should make one suspect or fear a beginning of tuberculosis? Catching colds too easily or too often, a light hacking cough, especially upon going to bed or rising in the morning, coughing spells that end in vomiting, tiring out too easily, loss of weight, loss of appetite, loss of energy, pain in the chest or under the shoulder blades, a little elevation of the afternoon temperature—these or some of these symptoms should make you consult your doctor whose duty would be to give you a very careful examination. And if you have ever been closely associated with tuberculosis this fact should make you all the more anxious about your condition. Is tuberculosis ever cured? Yes. While tuberculosis is the most prevalent of all diseases it is the most curable of all chronic diseases. Post mortem examinations and statistics show that about 95 percent of the human race at some time in life have tuberculosis, and that only about 14 percent of the race die of the disease. Therefore about 81 percent of the cases get well. If tuberculosis were no more curable than chronic heart disease or Bright's disease or diabetes the disease would have depopulated the earth ages ago.

TREATMENT: Prophylactic measure—that is preventive measure—against having the disease is the big thing to observe. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. It is within the will and power of a patient suffering of open tuberculosis to do no harm or to scatter countless millions of tubercle bacilli in places where others may become infected. Such patients should never expectorate on the sidewalks, in the yards of other people or elsewhere other than in a rag or handkerchief or some receptacle which should be burned. Patients of open tuberculosis should never permit themselves to cough without coughing into a handkerchief unless out of doors. In short, to prevent the disease, stay away from sources of known infection, and keep your health buoyant, your physical and physiological energies—your resistance—square up to par. Is there any medicine that will cure tuberculosis? No, there is no medicine, patent, proprietary, prescription, serum, X-ray treatment, radiation treatment, ultra violet or infra red, worth a copper cuss in the treatment of tuberculosis of the lungs. So far as taking medicine to kill the germs in your lungs you may as well take medicine for gray hair and wrinkled skin.

The greatest known factor in the cutting down of the death rate in tuberculosis in the last 2400 years—perhaps ever—has been in making earlier diagnosis of the disease. Early diagnosis, still should be the battle cry. After all that boasted medical science has done in the last half century in preventing many diseases and finding a specific cure for many others it has done practically nothing in the treatment of tuberculosis. The patient of today who has an advanced case of the disease is just about as surely and certainly doomed as such patient was in the days of Hippocrates. An earlier recognition of the disease at the present time is the big step made for the victims of this white plague. It is remarkable at the present time how many poor fellows have progressed into the incurable stage and have never consulted a physician. When the blacksmith looks out at the passer by and says, "Yonder goes a lunger"; when the cold drink vendor glances up at his pale faced, husky voiced customer as he serves him and then takes extra caution to well sterilize the glass from which he drank wishing he'd not return, when the barber sees what he thinks is T. B. doom written on the face of his customer whom he shaves with reluctance, then it is too late for that fellow to go to a doctor. He'd better see an undertaker.

Every patient with tuberculosis just as soon as a diagnosis is made—male and female—child, youth or adult—should be taken to a sanatorium. Sunshine, fresh air, proper diet, rest and regulated exercises, all supervised by one skilled in the care for tuberculosis should be the patients hope and reliance. How is

The tuberculous spot—in the lung cured or healed? Under favorable circumstances the small nodules caused by the disease undergo caseation—that is become degenerated into a kind of cheesy material—then a capsule or wall of fibrous tissue is thrown out around this area, and in this wall lime salts are deposited, thus walling in with a limestone wall the tuberculous lesion. That is what is known as the quiescent or healed stage. It is my opinion that very seldom such favorable state is reached under two years.

Should tuberculous people get married? That is a very vital question and should be considered on the merits of each individual case. No one with active tuberculosis—male or female—should give marriage any consideration whatever as long as activity is present. If it is the male who is tuberculous less danger is encountered than if it is the female. Pregnancy in a woman who has had recent active tuberculosis is always a very grave condition, and should never be allowed until after she has been perfectly well and without symptoms for at least two years. Now to recapitulate, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Avoid all known sources of tuberculous infection, keep your physical and physiological energies that is your resistance—square up to par. Sacrifice business, if necessary, for recreation. Sleep, if possible, 8 hours out of every 24. Eat, if possible, good, wholesome diet, twice times a day. Remember, too much sunshine and fresh air are just enough. Use lots of good water—internally, externally and eternally. Drink neither booze, carbolic acid nor formaldehyde—they all lower the body's resistance, and may get you in bad.

Now if you can say, "All these have I kept from my youth up" then I say "Fine and dandy," but hear me in my last words and admonition. Keep your bowels open and your conscience clear and verily thou shall be O.K.

Texas cotton producers are going to continue with the administration in campaign to reduce cotton acreage and subsequently advance market quotations on the commodity, in opinion of The Dallas News. The News for Thursday morning said:

Texas cotton growers are ready to follow the Federal Government's cotton program for another two years. This seems to be assured from the unanimous indorsement of the tentative plan outlined at a huge Dallas meeting Tuesday, when some 600 cotton farmers, bankers, agricultural leaders and extension forces pledged their loyal support to C. A. Cobb, cotton production administrator. The adoption of the new program will depend, however, on its acceptance in other parts of the South. Before many weeks Secretary Wallace is to call farmers to put the new rules and regulations into practice, so as to bring about a 40 per cent reduction next season in the South's five-year average cotton acreage. This is to be followed by a contemplated reduction of 25 per cent in 1935.

Mr. Cobb has emphasized repeatedly the point that the Government has for its primary aim the reduction of the huge carry-over and surplus which has depressed the cotton market for the last three years. By limiting planted acreage there is a chance to reduce production, unless the next two years should be too fruitful, as this season threatens to be. It frequently has been stated in these columns that the weather can not be controlled and that the size of crops depends on more than mere reduction of acreage. It is distressing to think what a huge crop of cotton would have been produced this year had the farmers not taken more than 10,000,000 acres out of production and reduced the coming crop by an estimated 4,247,000 bales.

It is noteworthy that Federal cash rentals for 1934 are to be around $83,000,000 compared with $110,000,000 this season. The acreage is not to exceed 25,000,000, compared with about 30,000,000 at present, and a peak of more than 47,000,000 acres in 1926. It is also comforting to learn from Mr. Cobb that the South has practically nothing to fear from foreign cotton expansion. Practically all recent efforts by Great Britain, Egypt, India and other countries have resulted in disappointing results, so Federal investigators in foreign countries report.

Help build Colorado. Trade with your home merchants. Stop buying out of town.

This is a wholesale grocery store in the Lower Rio Grande valley, what is left of it after sad collision with a tropical hurricane, the very worst spot, the Lower Rio Grande valley. The twisting wind tore the building apart, and ruined and waterlogged everything. Scenes like this are not the exception but the rule in the storm area.

know that less than ten per cent of the people on the road can be classed as illiterates.

"In closing I will state that Colorado holds the highest respect with the road men that have 'made it.' They all speak very highly of the local police department. They are not molested when sleeping at night, and the department does not try and question each and every stranger that may perchance stop for a bite to eat. All in all, if every one works hard, gives the men of the road a break, gives him some work—we will find a different country. Yet if the floater does not get a square deal, do not blame him if you see him marching down any street behind a Red Flag—an empty stomach will follow anything that promises to relieve the pangs of hunger.

Globe Trotting Writer Visits In Town Monday; Gives His Opinion About Burns

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article is written by Jack Lloyd, a soldier of fortune; a soldier of five wars; a globe trotter; feature writer; adventurer; publisher and editor.

One of Lloyd's greatest achievements in life is the holder of the title of "the world's greatest boomer," having never missed a boom in the entire world during the past forty years. He tells of the time that he edited copy in Johannesburg, South Africa, during the rush to the veldts on the Kimberly. Again, he tells of being in Alaska during the rush; he was on the first staff of the first daily in the territory.

Every oil and gold boom has seen Jack, and he has never missed a boom of any importance in the State of Texas, having made every field since the hectic days of Beaumont.

Although 65 years old, Jack is still active, and is able to pound out copy. During the last few years he has been writing in regards to the depression and what its effect is on the floating labor of the country. In these articles Jack has given many interesting features, and when the NRA conference started, he spent ten days in Washington, telling of the real conditions of the men on the road.

Paying his usual call to The Record office while passing through town Monday, Jack gave us some mighty fine and interesting data concerning the average 'bo' that you see aboard the T. P. trains.

"Although I have traveled extensively throughout the entire world, there is only one place that I really love; that I wish to call my home, that is West Texas, the greatest spot in the world, and, each time that I pass through Colorado, I believe it is always forging ahead, for unlike many towns that I pass through it still maintains its spirit of progressiveness.

"Many of the people in the smaller cities and towns do not realize the real unemployment conditions that face the men you see daily riding the rods, the blinds, the empty box cars, oil tanks, etc. These people that you see aboard these trains today are the keystones of the nation for, they alone could start quite a bit of trouble should they become discontented, yet it is sad to say, that these people on the road have more faith in the NRA movement than many of the people in the cities.

"I have talked to people throughout the country the last year, many think that the men and women on the road are of the slum element. That is where you are mistaken—it is the intelligent class that you see riding the trains and hitch-hiking.

HOME AND FARM OWNERS' LOAN ACTS PART OF NRA

EMERGENCY LOAN ACT IS DETAILED IN ADDRESS BY CHAS. THOMPSON, SECY.

Law Enacted To Aid Farmers To Refinance Loans Held Against Their Lands

The Emergency Farm Loan Act, as passed by the National Congress during the present year was subject of an address at the Lions Club Friday by Chas. C. Thompson, secretary. Mr. Thompson said:

The Emergency Farm Loan Act of 1933 abolished the Farm Loan Board, and in lieu thereof, established the Farm Credit Administration. The presiding officer of the new organization is known as the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. Henry Morgenthau Jr., was appointed by President Roosevelt in that capacity.

Included in the Farm Credit Administration are the following Governmental Agencies: The Federal Land Banks, The Farm Loan Commissioner Loans, The Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, Regional Agricultural Credit Corporations, and The Crop Production Loan Office.

The first two agencies named above and their method of operation will be the subject of discussion at this time.

The Federal Land Banks were authorized by Congress to issue two billion dollars in tax exempt bonds to bear interest at the rate of four per cent (4%) annually; the interest on said bonds being guaranteed by the United States Government. The Land Banks were authorized to make loans based on normal value of farm and ranch lands up to fifty per cent (50%) of the appraised value, but in no case to exceed $50,000.00 to any one individual, taking a first mortgage deed of trust lien on the real estate offered as security. The interest on said loans to be an amount authorized by the governor of the Farm Credit Administration, but for a period of five years, beginning July 11th, 1933, and terminating July 11th, 1938, the interest on said loans shall be only 4 1/2%. This feature applies to all loans through the Federal Land Bank system that have been made since the beginning.

The borrower may, if he desires, defer the principal part of his payments during the time above specified, provided, however, his installments are fully paid and that no taxes are delinquent.

The Farm Loan Commissioner will make loans, where necessary to complete refinancing, for an additional 25% of the appraised value and take a second lien behind the Federal Land Bank for security. This loan is a thirteen-year loan, the interest on which is guaranteed by the United States Government.

SHORT CROPS FOUND IN VICINITY OF WHARTON

Cotton and other row crops in vicinity of Wharton are short, reports B. N. Carter of the Continental Oil-Cotton Company who with members of his family returned from a visit there Monday morning. Miss Inez Carter who has been visiting relatives at Wharton during the summer, returned home with them to enter school. Miss Juanita Osborn, a relative of the Carter family, came home with them for a visit here.

Bank Deposits Small In Colorado 21 Years Ago, Published Statements Show

With three banks operating Colorado did not boast much cash twenty-one years ago. The Record for Friday, September 12, 1912, indicated in making reference to statements carried in that issue showing condition of the institutions. Combined deposits in the three banks were listed at $263,608.94, and combined resources were only $731,338.28.

School was to be opened in town the following Monday, W. W. Hart, superintendent, announced in a signed statement published on first page of that edition of The Record. Colorado was proud of its new high school building, to be occupied for the first time. Hon. W. R. Smith was publicly thanked for donation of a library of more than 1,500 volumes to the school.

A new fire whistle had been installed at the light plant and a few days before given a "trial blow." The newspaper expressed pride in this advancement.

STRONG LINE BOASTED BY ROSCOE PLOW BOY TEAM ON EVE OF LOCAL GAME

Opening Card For Season Is Set For September 22, Wolves At Home

ROSCOE.—The Colorado Wolves, who tried but failed to get back into Class B. football for this season will serve as first opponents of the Plowboys when the local season is opened Sept. 22. The clash will be on Cantrill field, Colorado, where the Wolves won last year by a narrow margin of 6-0.

Although still somewhat sore from the first week's workouts, the Plowboys were beginning to round into shape in their Friday practice, and will be ready to get down to the hard grind next week. Seven letter men and a host of hopefuls compose the squad.

Coach Dalton Hill, who assumed charge of the team last week, has a good nucleus for a line in Melvin Haney, 215 pound tackle; Fred Hawkins, 170 pound guard; Don Duncan, 175 pound tackle or end; and Gene Rayburn, husky end of last season who is trying for the center post this year. Ends are the main needs right now, and if a couple of good ones develop, the line will be pretty tough on somebody this year.

The backfield boast two good ball carriers in Bobby Anthony, 170 pound halfback, and Benard Shelansky, 125 pound midget who can pack the mail with anybody. Jimmie Wiman is another letter back who is certain of a call again this year.

BEER IS COMING BACK, JIM GREENE PROMISES

SNYDER.—Colorado's sage, radical and pacifier came to town Wednesday.

Along with the tales of Mitchell county progress and palaver, he made the oracle-like prophecy that beer would come legally to his bailiwick as soon as another election came along in about six months.

Jimmie Greene is his name, of course.

Cupid continued to hold sway in the social realm during that week. An elaborate reception was given by Mrs. T. J. Ratliff at her home on Wednesday afternoon to make formal announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Mabel Ratliff to Edgar Majors and Miss Louis Coe to W. R. Mitchell. Miniature copies of The Record were distributed among the large number of guests in which the announcements were printed.

Talk of building a dam on the Colorado river is nothing new, that paper of twenty-one years ago will show. Ballinger had announced plans for constructing a dam on this stream a few miles above the town.

The charge that Colorado was negligent to her own best interests in not going a head with erection of a modern hotel was again charged by the newspaper. The town had been without adequate hotel facilities since burning of the St. James.

DRASTIC FARE REDUCTION ANNOUNCED BY THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY CO.

Round Trip Passage Cut To Lowest Figure In The System's History

Drastic reductions in passenger fares which will permit travelers to ride in Texas and Pacific coaches and chair cars for as little as 1 1/2 cents per mile are announced by Frank Jensen, general passenger agent. The new reduced rates are now effective between Dallas, El Paso and intermediate points also on the Transcontinental Division between Fort Worth, Denton, Sherman, Paris, Texarkana and intermediate points.

The new round trip rate of 1 1/2 cents per mile for distance traveled in coaches and chair cars is considerably less than half of the old rate. Mr. Jensen said. This permits passengers to travel to their destinations and return for less than it formerly cost them to go one way. The new one-way rate is 1 1/2 cents per mile. The new reduced rates are good in coaches and chair cars on all Texas and Pacific trains including the famous "Sunshine Special."

In addition to the reduced mileage rates, the Texas and Pacific has made drastic reductions in coach and chair car rates from Texas points to and from Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and other California points, Mr. Jensen said. The new one-way California rates probably are the lowest in the history of modern railway transportation.

How long the new rates will be continued in effect will depend largely upon public response to the reduction, Mr. Jensen said. It is expected they will stimulate sufficient additional business to justify a continuance of the new low basis.

Mexicans Celebrate Independence With Three-Day Program

The Rev. Inocencio Martin, Claretian Missionary, C.M.F., pastor of the St. Ann's Catholic church at Colorado, informed The Record Tuesday morning that program to commemorate Mexican independence had been completed. The festivities, to continue three days, were opened Thursday at the church, located in Mexican addition on the northwest. The missionary outlined the following program:

"On 14, 15 and 16, one Triduum of Misses and losses in St. Ann's Catholic church. On 17 at 10 A. M., a high mass, with a panegyric to honor of O Lady of Guadalupe, the patroness of Mexican Republic. On 16 and 17, fair amica in order to improve church.

"On 17 evening since 6:30 until 9:30, about, an entertainment literary musical with plenty of speeches and Mexican and Spanish songs. Everybody is welcome.

"Rev. Inocencio Martin Claretian Missionary C.M.F., pastor. Thanks."

MEASURE ENACTED AS AN EMERGENCY TO SAVE THE HOME FROM FORECLOSURE

General Application Of New Law Outlined In Address By Thos. R. Smith

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation, created in an act passed by the last congress, is a part of the administration's recovery program and became a law in order that home owners of America might be extended special financial aid in saving their properties. Thos. R. Smith, who a few weeks ago was named attorney for the Mitchell county unit, addressed members of the Lions Club Friday on general application of the law. Mr. Smith said:

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation was created by the last session of Congress, as a part of the Government's program for recovery, and, in substance, is to perform the same functions for the small home owners as the Federal Land Bank and the Farm Loan Commissioner in saving farms which are about to be lost through foreclosure.

This is strictly a distress proposition, intended for the benefit of home owners who are unable to meet the payments on their mortgages on their homes, taxes and special assessments, and are about to lose them through foreclosure, or have lost their homes within two years from June 13, 1933. It is not intended for owners who are not in default on home mortgages, who merely wish to refinance their loans and secure a lower interest rate; as the Corporation is not intended to conflict with any other lending agency, either public or private, but is intended for home owners who can not secure the necessary funds for relief from any other source.

Loans may be made on homes, up to a value of not more than $20,000, but in no case more than $14,000 can be loaned on any home. While it applies primarily to urban homes, loans can be made on country homes, where they are ineligible for loans through the Federal Land Bank agencies, and where the land is occupied primarily as a home, and not as a farm.

Where farms are eligible for loans from the Federal Land Bank or the Farm Loan Commissioner, loans must be obtained from them and not through the Corporation. "Homes" is used in the ordinary sense as a place of residence for a family, and not in the technical sense of a homestead, where not occupied by the owner. Business homesteads are not eligible for loans, and the home must not be occupied by more than four families, this excluding apartment houses, etc.

Loans will be made for 80% of the appraised value to take up mortgages, taxes, assessments and other liens, where the lien holders will accept the bonds of the corporation in exchange for their mortgages, the loan to bear 5% interest to be payable monthly over a period of 15 years on the amortization plan. This would be at the rate of $7.90 per thousand per month to retire the loan in 15 years. Taxes and special assessments would be payable in cash on this basis. If the lien holder refuses to accept the bonds, then cash loans may be made up to 40% of the appraised value to take up mortgages, taxes, etc.; loans made on this basis will bear 6% interest and run for a period of 15 years. Where there is no encumbrance except taxes, loans may be made up to 50%.

MITCHELL CITIZENS BUY NEW MOTOR CARS WHILE VISITING WORLD'S FAIR

Four Mitchell county citizens arrived home in new motor cars last week from Chicago where they had gone to visit the Century of Progress. The four new cars, all Chevrolet, were sold through the Mills Chevrolet Company of Colorado.

R. S. Brennand of the California Oil Company drove home in a new sedan, bought in Chicago. Cecil Lanier of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, bought a coach in Chicago. Roy Davis Coles, principal of the Hyman school, drove home a new coach bought at the factory in Flint, Mich., and H. T. Coles of Loraine brought back a new coach.

Joe B. Mills, owner of the local agency, stated Monday that savings equal to freight charges from the factory to Colorado were realized by owners of the cars.

Lasky In Appeal That Public Turn Face Toward Those Things That Are Cheerful

General business conditions in Mitchell county are improving with decided progress and there should be no occasion for the average business man, farmer and other citizen to harbor a depressed attitude as to the future, C. H. Lasky, banker and property owner, stated Saturday morning. The fall season, in his opinion, will usher in one of the best eras of good times experienced in several years.

"I have fourteen tenants on my farms in Mitchell county and every one of them will pay himself free of debt with plow-up funds and then have their cotton and other feed crops in the clear," Lasky stated. "For some of these men it will be the first time in ten years they have been entirely out of debt. This condition will apply to many of the farmers in Mitchell county."

"We are going to harvest a good cotton crop, unless some calamity overtakes us," he continued. "I am confident that Mitchell county will produce not less than 20,000 bales and we are getting eight cents a pound for the commodity today. We have produced the crop economically, will harvest it economically, and come out at end of the year with a substantial profit."

Business in every line represented here is definitely due for an increase in volume, in his opinion. In face of that fact continued talk of "hard times" can only serve to retard strides ahead, he concluded.

EDITOR SMYTH SENSES 'INSINUATION' AGAINST HIS AND OTHER TOWNS

Editor Jake Smythe of the Scurry County Times at Snyder sees "insinuations" in article published in The Record last week, announcing that the Wolves, after being refused admittance back into Class B, would remain in the upper conference classification. Editor Smyth says:

"Last week's Colorado Record revealed that the Wolves, under Big Jim Cantrill, will remain in Class A for the 1933 football season.

"The Class B group, of which Snyder is one, did not like the idea of rearranging their schedules to suit the Cantrillmen, and Roy Bediebek, czar of Inter-scholastic League football, upheld the former bedfellows of Colorado's Class B-dom. Colorado was in this district until last year.

"In writing of the proceedings by which Colorado attempted to get into Class B circles. The Record in-

PIONEER ENJOYS 86TH ANNIVERSARY AT HOME

J. B. Farmer, pioneer Colorado business man, was 86 Thursday of last week. Mr. Farmer enjoyed the anniversary quietly at his home, with his children. The aged citizen, though blind for the past eight years, continues jovial and dispenses sunshine among those about him. He was for many years active in the business of J. B. Farmer and Co.

insinuated that Snyder, Stamford and the others in this district might have changed their plans. But the eastern clubs claimed that to change their eight-game conference schedule and their two-game non-conference schedule would precipitate misunderstanding and possibly an uncontrollable disorganization.

"Besides, say the members of the district, why didn't Colorado tout her horn before the schedule was laboriously worked out last spring?"

LATE CARPENTER, BUILDER HAD RESIDED IN COLORADO MORE THAN HALF CENTURY

C. M. Sparks Dies At Family Residence Late Friday; Burial Saturday

Charlie Martin Sparks, 89, pioneer carpenter and builder of Colorado, died at the family residence on Oak street Friday afternoon at 5:15 following a lingering illness. Funeral rites were conducted from the Kiker & Son chapel Saturday afternoon with Minister J. D. Harvey of the Church of Christ officiating. Burial was in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Mr. Sparks, a native of Tennessee, came to Texas early in life. In 1882 he established his home in Colorado and had lived here since. He was a carpenter and builder and many of the early day structures in "Colorado City" were built by him. He had been a widower since the death of his wife on August 1, 1925. He was affiliated with the Church of Christ, and the K.P. and Odd Fellows fraternities.

Four children survive, as follows: R. C. Sparks, C. F. Sparks and Mrs. W. C. Davis of Colorado and Mrs. A. Ralston of Los Angeles, Calif. All except Mrs. Ralston were present for the funeral rites.

Pall bearers were Jim Evans, Tom Terry, J. D. Sherwin, J. E. Pond, W. W. Porter and D. L. Buchanan. Honorary pall bearers were Dr. R. E. Lee, J. D. Hall, Jim Shepperd, Uncle Billie Hagler, D. N. Arnett and J. H. Ashby.

Mrs. Max Brownfield, society editor of Scurry County Times at Snyder, was an appreciated visitor at The Record office Saturday. She was accompanied by Miss Mabel Turner, also of Snyder.

Chevrolet Sales Mounting In All Parts Of The Country As Depression Era Ends

"Business, on the average throughout the country, not only continues good for the late Summer months, but in many places is actually far above expectations," said H. J. Klingler, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, after he had read some thirty or forty telegrams sent him in response to a query for a brief report on the up-to-the-minute conditions from zone executives and dealers.

"The most encouraging note in the telegrams," continued Mr. Klingler, "is the cross-country improvement and rising happiness. We expected good news from the larger centers of population, but in addition we got enthusiastic messages from the great farming regions and evidence of brighter times in the eastern coal districts where things have been slow for a long time."

"The conclusion is plain now that hundreds of our dealers will do a great deal more business this year than they did last. Some report increases of 100 per cent, others, 200 per cent, and some, even higher. The evidence also is at hand that August will continue the splendid records that Chevrolet made in May, June and July, and that prospects are encouraging for September and the balance of the year."

In the Southeastern section, the Atlanta zone reports the outlook as excellent. Typical of what dealers are experiencing there, one reported sales of 257 units in the first seven months of 1933 as against 204 in all of 1932. Another, at Greenville, S. C., reports that he will sell 450 cars and trucks this year as compared with 290 in all 1932.

In the Jacksonville zone, August sales were the largest for the month since 1928. Dealers are reporting 100 per cent increases in sales with prospects, equally good in September. In the Birmingham region, sales for the first 20 days in August indicate that it would be the best month this year. The dealer in Sunflower, Miss., in the heart of the cotton belt reports his sales this year will exceed quota by 500 per cent. The dealer at Yazoo, Miss., sold more cars in August than in all 1932.

In the east, scores of dealers have already far surpassed all of last year's business. In the Boston zone, August first 10-day sales were nearly 30 per cent ahead of July, and July this year was 162 per cent over July 1932. Many large fleet sales were reported from this district. Many factories are working 24 hours a day and employment is improving at a rapid rate. Patterson, N. J., shows great pick-up. The dealer at Bridgeport, Conn., reported this August as 300 per cent better than last August.

Philadelphia county sales have already passed those of last year, and registrations as well. The year will end with an increase of 100 per cent in sales. Revival of the steel industry in Pittsburgh has brought an increase in sales of nearly 100 per cent in McKeesport alone. Portland, Maine, reports this August 90 per cent ahead of a year ago. The New York zone reports many 100 per cent increases from dealers and large fleet sales of cars and trucks.

In the Central west the flood tide of sales continues. Cincinnati will double its 1932 sales. August sales trebled August 1932. Many dealers are running 100 and 200 per cent over a year ago. Wisconsin, great dairy state, shows increased sales. In Minnesota, August sales were far in excess of a year ago. A Des Moines dealer is 150 per cent over August 1932. The Federal Land Bank in Louisville has just bought 175 cars. A Cleveland dealer had the best August in his history with large truck sales. At Davenport, Iowa, sales are up 200 per cent for the year. There is an unusually optimistic attitude in Chicago with sales to match.

In the South West, rural business is showing a rapid increase. Oklahoma City took more cars in the first six months of the year than in all 1932. In the Arkansas oil fields, sales are 350 per cent of quota for the year. The truck market is expanding by leaps and bounds. Kansas is very optimistic, with outlook much better in the small towns. Dealer sales are up from 100 to 550 per cent for August alone. Passage of the beer bill and bonus money for cotton farmers has boomed business in Texas. Sales of Houston dealers are more than 100 per cent over all 1932 sales.

Similar favorable conditions prevail on the Pacific Coast. One Portland dealer had the best July in 19 years. In Los Angeles, July sales were 190 per cent over a year ago with August up accordingly. San Francisco reports the best fall outlook in years.

Mr. Klingler said that many other dealers and regions reported similar favorable present sales and future possibilities, but these gathered from every part of the country were a fair index of what virtually all were doing.

WITH President Roosevelt's acceptance of the NRA Automobile Code, Chevrolet, the world's largest builder of motor cars, officially begins operations in accordance with the administration's recovery program.

Although the official code was signed only a few days ago, it will be of interest to Chevrolet's many friends to learn that the Chevrolet Motor Company started to carry out the spirit of today's recovery program over three years ago!

At that time, we put into operation a "share-the-work" plan, whereby our workmen cooperated in spreading the work to give more men jobs. By means of this plan, as well as by regulating hours of work per week to meet retail demand, and by building up parts stocks in lean seasons, it was possible to carry 33,000 men on our payroll through the depression. For eleven months of each year since 1929, we have kept our employment within 10 per cent of this average. We are justly proud of that record. We are also proud to say that Chevrolet workmen did not, at any time during the depression, become a burden on public welfare departments.

On August 1st of this year, Chevrolet announced a blanket wage increase as well as the adoption of a 7½-hour, 5-day week and the employment of 12,000 additional men. This wage increase was the second in the last 4 months, Chevrolet having been among the first to put a blanket wage increase into effect.

We feel that the President's recovery program deserves the whole-hearted support of every citizen and manufacturer in America. It is a bold, swift, courageous plan to start the ball rolling toward economic recovery. Its sincerity is unquestioned. Its objectives are admirable. And the direct, forceful steps the President and his associates are taking to make it a success, should stir the pride and admiration of every American.

We are proud and glad to do our part. And we are deeply grateful to the American people for the patronage that has enabled us to anticipate the present recovery program and to play our part today. After all, the immense number of men employed by Chevrolet is a direct result of the continued preference America has shown for Chevrolet.

Put Your Liver To Work—Make This Test

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes your stomach and bowels plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and causes constipation, gas, sour stomach, headache and nervousness follow.

Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, oil, mineral water, laxative pills, etc., have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two generally recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase its production of bile. Sargol Soft Mass Pills contain both of them.

Unless you have tried Sargol Soft Mass Pills you can have no idea of their effect—you feel stronger, healthier, happier—life and color return to faded eyes and cheeks—appetite and digestion improve rapidly.

Chevrolet Demands Send Sales Higher For Present Year

With an increase in production of cars and trucks in August of this year, which more than trebled August 1932, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, announced that it had passed the half millionth car in the year's output.

August production of 73,433 units was 204 per cent over the same month a year ago. It brought production for eight months to 511,433 units, as compared with 394,000 for the full twelve months of 1932.

When compared with 1930 and 1931, August, 1933, shows large increases, approximately 22,000 over the former and nearly 20,000 over the latter. The sizeable increases over those two years and the exceptionally large margin over August of last year show clearly and emphatically how business has turned for the better, Mr. Knudsen said.

The month just passed ranks fifth in point of production in August history. It was exceeded only by August of 1926, 1927, 1928 and 1929.

Home Owners—

The cash capital of the corporation is $200,000,000, which means that amount of cash is available for the whole United States. As there is estimated to be over twenty billions in home mortgages outstanding, cash loans can be made only for a very small percentage, and will be used chiefly to retire taxes and special assessments, in connection with

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Baranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all. Cardui is sold at all drug stores."

bond loans, as these must be paid in cash. The Corporation has authority to issue $2,000,000,000 in bonds to exchange for mortgages, and it is from these bonds that the relief to the home owners must come. The success of the measure depends on the willingness of the mortgage holders to exchange their liens for these bonds; however, this exchange is voluntary on their part, as there is no way to compel mortgage owners to exchange them for the bonds.

The bonds will be eighteen year bonds, and will bear 4% interest, which is guaranteed by the Government. However, they are not government bonds, but the bonds of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and the Government does not guarantee the principal. They are secured by the $200,000,000 capital of the corporation, and the first liens on homes which the Corporation will receive in exchange for the bonds.

No market value can be given for the bonds as yet, as none have been issued, but the Federal Reserve Bank will accept them at par from member banks as collateral, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will loan 80% of par on them; they will also be accepted at par by the Corporation itself in payment of any loans due it, so the bonds should be marketable when issued. They are practically the same as the Federal Land Bank Bonds, with the exception that they have homes instead of farms as security, and should be as marketable as those bonds.

Liens which may be taken up by loans must have been on the property on June 13, 1933, but loans may be made in certain cases for necessary repairs and for improvements to be erected in the future, but these cases are limited. The Home Loan Act in no sense supersedes the homestead laws of Texas, and no loans can be made on homes which could not be made valid liens under our homestead laws. The Corporation must have a first lien, though this can sometimes be made to take up and combine small junior liens with outstanding first liens, if otherwise eligible.

For further information regarding loans, prospective borrowers should consult the local attorney, Thomas R. Smith, or the appraiser, D. H. Snyder.

Farm Loans—

(Continued From Page One) interest charged being 5%. The borrower is required to pay interest only for the first three years, beginning the fourth year one-tenth of the principal will be paid each year until the loan is paid in full. The amount appropriated for the use of the Farm Commissioner being two hundred million dollars.

For example, a farmer owns a tract of land on which he owes $7500.00. He makes application through the Farm Credit Administration for a loan to liquidate his outstanding indebtedness. The Land Bank appraiser values the farm at $10,000.00. The Land Bank will make him a loan of $5,000.00, taking a first mortgage, then the Farm Loan Commissioner will loan him an additional $2500.00 or 25% of the appraised value to complete his refinancing.

The purposes for which the loan may be made are: First, to refinance any agricultural debt of the farmer; second, to refinance any debt of the farmer incurred prior to January 1st, 1933; third, to provide for general agricultural purposes; fourth, to reduce and refinance an existing mortgage; fifth, to provide buildings and improvements on the farm; sixth, to provide working capital for farm operations.

CONTINUE YOUR LOYALTY

Certain outside factors are making determined effort through well organized means to attract prospective customers from the stores and shops of Mitchell county to those that in many respects are foreign to us. The Record does not challenge good purpose of the merchant in another community in bidding for business here, but we do question the merits involved.

The business men of Colorado, Lorraine, Westbrook and the smaller communities are carrying stocks of merchandise that equal the standard offered by any competitor. With the absence of high rentals, high taxes and other "overhead" that the foreign merchant has to meet, it is apparent that the home town and home county enterprise can meet legitimate competition under any condition, if not actually undersell.

To best serve our own interests the citizenship of this county should remain loyal, one to the other, during the days out before. We are making strides toward better times, especially for the farmer and laborer, and these favorable conditions will be strengthened when each of us, push onward under the banner of cooperation. The result will assure profit to every citizen.

There can be no reasonable excuse for the patron to go away from home to purchase merchandise when nothing is to be gained in the transaction. The home town merchant works along with you in maintaining your local government, your churches, your school and your civic progress. Think twice before driving to spend your money with a foreign shop keeper who, perhaps, does none of these and saves you no money on the merchandise bought.

FIGHT THE RECKLESS DRIVER

This year the month of September has been dedicated to the most intensive campaign in the interest of automobile prevention ever carried on in this country.

The governors of 34 states and the commissioners of the District of Columbia have issued proclamations and messages. More than 90,000,000 persons—74 per cent of our total population—live in their areas. Seventy-five per cent of all automobiles in the country are registered within them, and last year about 76 per cent of the 29,000 deaths occurred in the participating territory.

In 1932 there was a decrease in automobile accidents and fatalities as compared with 1931. This year the trend has been reversed, and the toll is again on the upgrade. The reckless, the discourteous and the incompetent still rule the highways. The public streets and roads are still shambles both for persons and for property.

Only the individual motorist can conquer this organized destruction. There are few such things as unavoidable accidents. And it has been proven that raising the safety factors of roads and vehicles does no good—the driver simply trusts to the engineers, and operates his car even more recklessly.

During the September campaign, facts and figures detailing the havoc wreaked by excessive speeds, by violations of right-of-way laws, by passing on curves and hills, by that most common of all motoring ills, discourtesy, will be brought to our attention. And all of us should consider it both a duty and a privilege to cooperate.

PLAIN FACTS BEHIND SALES TAX ISSUE IN TEXAS, URGED BY THE SPECIAL INTERESTS

Representative George C. Hester Outlines Effects of Sales Tax on State System and Discloses Interests of Masses

The Ferguson's and big money interests and the special Legislature seems to be determined to put a Sales Tax on the people—and we reproduce here true facts as put forth by Representative George C. Hester, of Georgetown:

If the people of Texas, generally, knew the real facts about the sales tax and the real motives behind the movement, they would not stand for such a system under any condition. It proposes to levy a tax on practically everything the family must buy at the stores. It would make the merchant the collector of these taxes, requiring him to keep books on all sales, and remit all collections to Austin. Such a tax as is being proposed, according to their own figures, would collect about $50 million from the average family in Texas.

But why such continued and persistent efforts to increase the tax burden with such an unjust system at this time? Does the State need an additional $50,000,000 or $60,000,000 at this time? It does not. The public school fund, for example, will have an income of about $19 per capita with which to care for its present deficit and pay the $16 apportionment over the next two years. This is to be compared with the misrepresentations of the sales tax propagandists the last winter when they said the schools would have only $7 or $8 per capita.

The revenues for the General Fund are more than $3,000,000 in excess of the appropriations for the second year. When the program for reduced appropriations goes into effect, this fund can pay itself out of the red in two years. The relief bonds will require only about $870,000 the first year and $1,740,000 the second year to care for interests and maturities. To propose $50,000,000 levy for that purpose is absurd.

Then why the agitation for a new $50,000,000 tax levy? They contend that it would be used to reduce the State ad valorem tax. This is the chief disguise under which the sales tax is parading and every citizen should understand the situation.

But this is not the real issue in the sales tax agitation, nor is it, of itself the real motive behind the movement. The real issue is who will pay the new burden and who will escape it, after being relieved of their present taxes. It is here that the average citizen is being deceived and led into a trap in order to make him bear the tax burden of Texas.

In case such a tax is levied, who would escape it, and who would pay it? Let us consider a few facts.

In the first place, all taxpayers should remember that it is only the State ad valorem tax that can be affected or changed by such a shift. Your real burden of property taxes is local, such as the county, town and school district taxes. These taxes are levied by these local units and will remain the same regardless of what new State taxes are levied.

The State cannot change these levies because the power to make assessments and levy the rates are in the hands of the local governments. Any plan to subsidize the local units by splitting receipts with them can only lead to extravagance and thus serve as a two-edged sword against the tax-payer. It also means the passing of the money through more hands, together with the pyramiding of administration in Austin and resultant expenses, and the breakdown of local control and responsibility.

In the second place, and this is important, the average homeowner is already exempt from State taxes under the recent homestead exemption amendment. This means any home, up to eight or ten thousand dollars, under present methods of assessment. The sales tax will not take one penny off this man's taxes. It will instead put $40 or $50 new taxes upon him, which is about twice as much as he paid in State taxes before the homestead amendment was adopted.

But just who would be relieved? This is the crux of the whole matter. Let us again submit some candid facts:

The eight largest corporate interests of the State, with their related companies, pay to the State annually about $8,260,000. Beginning next year this will be approximately one-half of all such taxes. A considerable part of the remaining eight millions will be paid by large property holders, such as owners of skyscrapers, lumber companies with large areas of cut over lands, loan and mortgage companies and the like.

Among the larger corporations that will escape their present State taxes, are the oil companies, chiefly the majors, now paying about $3,451,000 annually, the sulphur interests $317,000, the gas companies $440,000, and so on. These interests will be specifically exempt from a sales tax, since they already pay gross production, or gross receipt taxes. Telegraph and sleeping car companies will also be exempt. The vast utilities will be practically exempt. But who would pay the present taxes of these companies in case of a shift to a sales or consumer's tax? Why, the homeowners, of course, the farmers, the laborers, the masses everywhere.

Other interests, such as the loan and mortgage companies, will also be relieved of taxes on these properties they now hold, or decide to foreclose on in the future. The Eastern owners of their vast interests in Texas would also, by this means, escape both their property and sales taxes. It is the greatest "sop" to special interests ever proposed in Texas.

The recent Legislature also extended the intangible assets tax law to the pipelines of the State. To substitute a consumers' tax for the State ad valorem, would save these companies another $4,000,000 annually beginning next year. These lines are owned by the major oil companies and made 28 percent net earnings last year on an enormous volume of business. Most of such profits go out of the State.

Recent studies also show that 5 percent of the property holders are responsible for 35 percent of the delinquent taxes. In San Antonio, for example, 5 percent of them are responsible for 46 percent of the delinquent taxes. The average taxpayers, most of whom have gone ahead and paid their taxes, are now being called upon to assume additional burdens because the big owners have not paid. The above statements are submitted in order that the people may know the facts. I challenge those who are proposing to inflict upon the already oppressed people of this State an enormous burden of new taxes, under the disguise that they will be relieved of a few property taxes, to tell them the truth about who is going to be led into the tax shearing corral to be fleeced in proper fashion, and for no other reason than to afford a "sop" to a few special interests.

Tom McGuire arrived back in Colorado Friday and announced he was moving back to stay. Recently he has been living at Midland.

This Letter Will Bring Joy To Fat Folks and Neuritis Sufferers

"Dear Sirs: I was so crippled with neuritis all down left side of my head and arm and both knees so swollen that I could hardly get up and down. At times my feet pained so badly I thought my toes would break off. I tried everything. The doctor told me I would be no better while I lived here but I stopped in a drug store in Brooklyn, N. Y., one day last November and the man in charge told me to take Kruschen for 3 weeks steady and I would get relief which I did. Never felt better and along with it, have lost weight. I weighed 210 then. Now I weigh 154 and while I'm over 50 yrs, old I feel 30. I took it for one thing—got two—so I now have 6 others here taking it." Mrs. A. V. Carr, Ft. Tilden, N. Y.
