'LADIES NIGHT' FETE WILL BE CELEBRATED BY LIONS WITH ELABORATE PROGRAM

District Governor Herrington To Address Assembly At Colorado Thursday

"We have concluded program for observance of Ladies Night and I am happy to say that indications point to one of the most colorful banquets Colorado has known in many months."

Elbert Elliott, chairman of the committee directing plans for the affair to be given at Hotel Colorado, Thursday evening of this week made that statement Wednesday. This will be the first time in several months the Lions Club has sponsored a ladies night program.

District Governor Del Herrington of El Paso is slated to deliver principal address. Other entertainment features include music by the Chuck Wagon serenaders, vocal solos by Mrs. C. A. Wilkins with Mrs. Louis Latham playing the accompaniment, reading by Miss Lois Price, violin solos by Mrs. Virginia Peden-Deter, dancing by Little Misses Phyllis Berman and Reba Lee Latham, and other numbers.

Main dining room of the hotel in which the program is to be given has been especially decorated. For this occasion under personal direction of wives of some of the Lions. The International Lions colors of purple and gold dominate.

A special turkey dinner has been prepared and will be served under direction of Rex Smith, chef at the hotel coffee shop.

"It should not be necessary for the committee to call attention to the fact every member of the club will be expected to attend with a Lioness as his guest," Elliott stated. Those failing in this respect will be dealt with as Col. Adams, club persecutor, and Marion Chapman, tail twister, may deem advisable.

The program chairman Saturday addressed cards to all members of the club notifying them of the banquet and requesting that reservations desired be filed not later than Wednesday noon. An attendance of 125 people is expected.

Lion Dick O'Brien will preside as master of ceremonies. Lion Cal Wright is to offer the invocation. A sing-song program, directed by Mrs. Peden-Deter, with the Lions and Lionesses participating, is to be given.

'DISGUSTED WITH IT ALL,' RED BARRETT HANGS SELF WITH ROPE MOTHER SENT

Newt Miller, Fellow Prisoner At County Jail, Cuts Man Down Thursday Night

"I simply arrived at the point in which my disgust with everything and everybody got the upper hand and led me to determine the only thing to do was to make an end of it all," Red Barrett, accused store robber, drolled off Friday afternoon when asked for motive in attempting to end his life.

Fashioning a noose from a bit of small rope that had come around a gift package sent by his mother at Dublin, Barrett strung himself from top of his grated cell bars in the county jail. Barrett was saved by all probability by a Mexican prisoner who after watching the man hang himself, called for help.

Newt Miller, fellow prisoner in the jail who occupies the run-around, found Barrett and rushing to lower floor of the jail building obtained a knife with which he cut Barrett down. The man was strangling and Miller had some difficulty in getting the tightened noose from about his neck.

Barrett was taken to the Root hospital where attaches found his injuries to be minor. His neck was considerably swollen due to bruises made by the noose. He was returned to his cell Friday afternoon.

Barrett is facing trial on robbery of the Max Berman department store and other crimes at Colorado. He had been returned to jail Wednesday morning of last week, after bondsmen surrendered him to the sheriff.

BEER SALES CONTROVERSY TAKEN TO APPEALS COURT FOR GOVERNING MANDATE

Harold Letcher Defendant in Case Tried Friday; Early Ruling Expected Here

Whether or not 3.2 beer shall be legally sold in Colorado, under existing laws of the State, is expected to be settled within the next few days in mandate from the court of criminal appeals at Austin. Transcripts taking the lower court verdict of guilty up on appeal was forwarded to Austin Thursday.

Dispensers of the beverage and the county attorney a few days ago agreed to make a test of the beer law. Harold Letcher, operating a place on Highway One west of the Colorado river, was named defendant in suit filed in County Judge A. F. King's court. The cause was tried Friday and a verdict of guilty returned.

C. C. Thompson represented the defense in introduction of testimony and arguments before the court. The State was represented by the county attorney. The appeals court agreed last week to give the case precedent over other causes pending hearing in order that the controversy be settled without delay. Barber has announced that edict of the Austin tribunal will be enforced in Mitchell county.

Awaiting mandate from the appeals court the beverage is being dispensed openly in a number of places here. In statement issued the public last week, the county attorney warned against sale of the beer and making investment for equipment to handle the same, pending outcome of the test case at Austin.

HOPE THAT CONTRACTS TO CONTROL COTTON ACREAGE BE CONCLUDED BY JAN. 15

Government Outlines Details For Curtailing Acreage During Next Year

Ben J. Baskin, Mitchell county farm agent, Wednesday morning expressed hope that sign-up campaign through which the government expects to curtail cotton production next year will be concluded here by January 15. Baskin stated that full details of the new plan would be received by him within the next few days.

The new cotton plan to be offered growers who sign government contracts for 1934-35 provides for total payments of $120,000,000, of which 90 millions are to be paid in the form of land rentals and 30 millions in the "parity" payments, according to C. A. Cobb, chief of the cotton section of the agricultural adjustment administration. In explaining details of the new plan to county farm and home demonstration agents at their annual meeting at A. & M. College last week Mr. Cobb emphasized that the plan is not yet in its final form and may be modified later.

As tentatively set up in the plan, land rentals will be paid on retired cotton acres at the rate of 3 cents per pound for the average five-year production. Land producing an average of 125 pounds of cotton per acre for the years 1928-32, for instance, would be entitled to a rental of $3.75 per acre. The minimum payment would be $2.25 per acre for a production of 75 pounds of lint per acre, and the highest would be $14 per acre.

Land rental payments are expected to go to land owners, with landlords making satisfactory arrangements with tenants. In the case of large properties where fewer tenants may be needed next year the government will probably urge landlords to allow the dismissed tenants to remain in their house and to work food and feed crops for their living out of the retired acres. For other necessities tenants may be able to work as day laborers for the landlord.

The "parity" payment promised is one cent per pound for 40 percent of the average five-year production. It may be more. There is expected to be 30 millions of dollars available for these parity payments on 6 million bales of cotton, or $5 per bale. This money is to be divided among the contract signers. The parity payment is expected to be divided between landlord and tenant according to their existing share agreements. A third and fourth tenant, for example, would get three fourths of this payment or about $3.75 per allotted bale.

Dr. Woods was especially interested in the State's first and only rural junior high school recently designated at Conaway, and the State's smallest independent high school at Iatan. Should the Conaway venture prove satisfactory other similar schools are to be designated in various parts of the State.

Ginners Report On Receipts Indicate Season Near Close

The cotton season is about over in Mitchell county, reports from ginners Thursday noon indicated. During the week receipts totaling 839 bales were accounted for, placing total for the season at 17,035 bales.

Cotton and seed markets are unchanged from last week, selling Thursday at $9.60 for cotton and $15 a ton for the seed.

After this week The Record will not publish regular weekly cotton reports, due to fact receipts will be coming in slowly. These reports, however, will be given at intervals until the crop is all out.

ALLOCATION OF FUNDS TO BE ANNOUNCED AT LATER MEETING OF STATE GROUP

County Committee Affirmed; Greene Posts Bond As Unit Administrator

The State relief and rehabilitation committee has allocated no funds for work in this or other counties of Texas, pending a more thorough study of the many project applications on file with the committee at Austin. Members of the local committee, returning from Austin Thursday morning, were of the opinion, however, that proposed programs here would be authorized within the near future.

Mitchell county will seek to have sufficient funds allocated to finance construction of a municipal auditorium at Colorado; new stone fence about the cemetery; stone gym building at Loraine; improvement of public roads and other projects.

"We were informed by the State committee that application for monies to finance projects in the county would be given due consideration and we are now working out formal application for such improvements as we deem advisable," Jim Greene, county administrator, said. "At Austin we filed application for only one project and that is the proposed gym at Loraine high school."

Members of the county committee, recently appointed by county commissioners court were confirmed by the State board and Greene's appointment as county administrator was also passed. He qualified for the place by posting a $10,000 surety bond while in Austin.

Press reports from Austin Wednesday night indicated that the Mitchell county board was among a few in Texas to follow directions of the State group as to hiring men to work. Hundreds of crews had previously been started to work in all parts of the State, the county committee expecting to obtain confirmation of the pay-roll expense later. These were ordered stopped by the State committee, pending authorization of prescribed projects at Austin.

ESSAY WRITING CONTEST

The essay writing contest in the University Interscholastic League has been changed this year to allow es- say contestants to qualify for next higher meets up to and including the final State meet, according to Mrs. Mack Fisher, who has been chosen Director of Essay Writing in the Interscholastic League of this county. "Subjects for the contest will be furnished as heretofore by the State office. The topics, according to the Constitution and Rules, are all to be within the range of the study, obser- vation and experience of the aver- age pupil. The contest is in writing, that is, composition, and does not in- volve any special research into pub- lic questions, as is the case in the debate and extemporaneous speech contests. "In previous years the rules have provided that the winning essay in the county meet be forwarded to the district meet for judging, and that the winning essay from the district meet be forwarded to the State meet for competition with the winning es- says from other districts. This method has been changed, and in- stead of the essays being forwarded, the winning contestant in the county meet goes in person to the dis- trict meet to compete in this con- test with other county winners. The district winners then to the regional meets, and the winners in the regional meets qualify for the State meet, and participate in debate privileges on the same basis as contestants in other contests scheduled by the League. "It is believed that this change which gives successful contestants an opportunity to advance from one meet to another will greatly increase interest in essay writing."

If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regu- lar sleep. Colorado Drug Co., & J. L. SEVENTH GRADE NEWS The regular social was held at the tea- rousage Thursday night in the form of a "Backward Party." Every- thing was done in reverse order— dresses and suits worn backward, guests arrived at the back door, re- freshments consisting of sandwich- es, pickles, cake, and hot chocolate served first. Everyone enjoyed the evening and was "backwardly" happy. Plans for a Christmas party have been started. The members of the Seventh grade are not only having a good time, but we are all keeping up with our work. We did not have a very good "honor roll" last month but we are all working hard to get on it this month. Everyone is trying hard to make this a very interesting year of school.

"I Loved You Wednesday"

Thursday and Friday
 "I Loved You Wednesday" has all the earmarks of a surprise picture. It has comedy, romance, spectacle, charm, and novelty of story—everything one could desire in the way of entertainment. Many spectacular Boulder Dam scenes give colorful background for this modern love story of a ballet dancer and a construction engineer. Warner Baxter as the engineer, and Elissa Landi as the ballet dancer do excellent work with their parts. Surprising performances are contributed by the entire cast, with Miriam Jordan and Victor Jory particularly notable.

"Man of the Forest"

Saturday—November 25
 "Man of the Forest." This famous Zane Grey western will be presented at the Palace Theatre Saturday, November 25. This is a straight western romance that, with few exceptions, follows the Zane Grey narrative closely. It has unusual production values, beautiful scenic backgrounds, an excellent cast, and thoughtful direction. There is wonderful entertainment in store not only for the "western fans" and youngsters, but also for those patrons who are looking for a little exciting diversity, drama, action, and romance. The cast includes such popular stars as Randolph Scott, Verna Hillie, Harry Carey, Noah Beery, and Buster Crabbe.

"Moonlight and Pretzels"

Sunday and Monday
 "Moonlight and Pretzels." If you liked "42nd Street" and "Gold Diggers of 1933," you should like this newest of the big musical shows to be brought to the screen. It contains eight new song hits and any number of attractive dance numbers. The cast brings Leo Carrillo, Italian-accented player who is always amusing and entertaining, Mary Broan in the leading feminine role and Roger Pryor in the juvenile hero position. Lillian Miles has an important part, and Jack Denny and his orchestra supply the tuneful music. Of course, one shouldn't overlook the fifty beautiful New York show girls that complete the cast. This picture should prove to be extraordinarily entertaining.

"The Big Cage"

Tuesday and Wednesday
 "The Big Cage." Can you "take it?" Can you take your screen excitement in large doses of heart-stopping thrills? Can you stand looking at scenes of daring and danger that will make you feel like screaming? Then this is your picture. Imagine a score or more of lions ringed around you with some two dozen tigers added for good measure. And you in the middle, armed with a whip and a chair, your life hanging on your powers of eye and nerve. Not a mean thrill, would you say, to find yourself in such a spot? Well that is just about where you will be when you view Universal's new Clyde Beatty film. The camera keeps you at the champion trainer's side every instant as he parries each blow, and finally subdues his snarling felines. Clyde Beatty, world-famous star loaned by Hagenbeck-Wallace for this film, is the only trainer who has ever dared attempt taming both lions and tigers at the same time. Even if you are skeptical about the power of any screen thrill to move you, your blood pressure will skyrocket when Beatty, unarmed, alone, fights and tames 40 mixed lions and tigers, lionesses and tigeresses in one cage—a feat termed impossible until Beatty did it! And that is only part of the most sensational screen attraction in year. See it!!!

"Too Much Harmony"

Thursday and Friday
 "Too Much Harmony." Girls and gags, music and dancing; the lively color of the stage, and its folk; a romantic theme tone given a touching twist; a spectacular chorus finale; Bing Crosby, Jack Oakie, and Harry Green, topping a satisfying cast, give "Too Much Harmony" the verve that makes for a satisfactory musical comedy. More than an elaborate vaudeville show, although the romantic trend provides definite continuity, specialty treatment gives most of the audience interesting fun. There's laughter in the antics of all and everything save the Bronson-Ruth romance, but that has a twist that makes it appealing. Comedy predominating, there's everything from smiles to bellylaughs in the show. Come out and enjoy this picture with us.

News of Club Girls Recognition Of Russia Seen As Material Aid To Demand For Texas Grown Cotton

The County Home Demonstration Council met in regular session Saturday afternoon, Nov. 18th to go over the proposed plans for work for 1934 as outlined by the county home demonstration agent. Besides the programs made out by the agent each organized club is asked to make out one club program on each subject to be studied next year, Bed-room Improvement, Clothing and the 4-H Pantry. The twelve programs will be compiled in a year book for 1934 use. The next meeting of the Council is December 2nd. At this meeting the old and new officers of the Women's clubs are to be present and enjoy the program for December.

The Buford Girls 4-H Club have reorganized and elected the following officers for 1934: President, Mildred Feaster; Vice President, Doris Hammond; Secretary, Jaunet Simpson; Reporter, Lodena Feaster. Visits have been made this past week to the following schools in behalf of girls club work: Buford, Conway, Silver, Westbrook and Iatan. Every club is to be organized and working by December 31st. Every girl of club age 10-20 should be enrolled in club work in the rural schools. If you are interested in club work you will be given an opportunity this next week to join.

FRENCH IN CONFERENCE WITH COUNTY OFFICIALS ON 101 HIGHWAY PLANS

W. F. French of Abilene, district engineer for the State highway commission, was here Monday to confer with members of county commissioners' court relative to progress in obtaining right-of-way for Highway 101, extending north from Colorado. The engineer expressed desire to start construction work on the project at an early date. French stated that he had no statement to offer confirming report that the State planned extension of the highway south from Colorado. He intimated, however, that such might be considered later.

The recognition of Soviet Russia announced by President Roosevelt will open the way for sale of a large amount of American raw and manufactured products, including cotton, with sales in the near future that may amount to between 1,000,000 and 3,000,000 bales. It is understood that discussions have been in progress quietly for culmination when the two Governments resumed official relations. Not only cotton, but some millions of dollars worth of other products will move to the Soviet, according to the commercial negotiators.

The general opinion is that some sort of Government financing of American exporters will be necessary in line with the national policy under terms of existing law. But for the most part, the reluctance of American business men to do business with the Soviet Government owing to the absence of diplomatic relations, is now removed by the character of good standing which President Roosevelt's official announcement implies. For several months Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, has been maneuvering to make it possible for large shipments of raw and manufactured products into this reservoir of trade, some features of which were awaiting White House action.

Russia has always taken large amounts of Texas cotton which appeared to best serve its mill purposes. For instance in 1929 the Soviet bought nearly $25,000,000 worth of Texas cotton, and in the remainder of the South the expenditure was only $6,000,000. During the last nine years Texas cotton to the value of about $150,000,000 has been purchased by that Government.

Mr. Roosevelt's recognition of the Soviet, according to the prevailing Washington view, will be one of the important accomplishments of his administration when the history is written. The step will have the approval of the business world which has looked upon Russia as a field of commerce practically closed to the United States for sixteen years or more while other nations have been enjoying a commercial interchange. Based upon the readiness of the Soviet to discuss and satisfy differences Mr. Roosevelt's action is being hailed as a forward step in promotion of export trade, to say nothing of an adjustment of the international governmental situation.

Cotton has been the mainstay of the country's export trade throughout the depression. During the last three months cotton exports that totaled 2,446,000 bales valued at $126,309,000 compared with 2,194,000 bales valued at $89,613,000 for the corresponding three months of 1932. How well the cotton exporters have fared during the period ending Sept. 1 is shown in the fact that six countries took increased shipments valued at more than $100,000,000 as follows:

Japan 675,000 bales, United Kingdom 420,000, France 318,000, Italy 228,000, Spain 80,000 and Canada 54,000 bales. The foregoing were all increases over 1932.

The following shipments were decreases: Germany 469,000, China 330,000. The 1933 value of both classes of shipments will run to 55,000, Belgium 42,000, Netherlands $140,000,000 or more.

The Gold Medal band is to hold practice rehearsals each Wednesday evening at the American Legion Building. Leaders in the move hope to develop a musical organization in keeping with high standard of the band that became so popularly known throughout the Southwest a few years ago.

Hall DeGarmo, member of the band, stated Tuesday morning that invitation to attend these meetings and take part in the practice programs was extended to every musician in Mitchell county.

"We are sincere in asking every musician to join with us in this move," he said. "And this includes members of the Colorado school band along with all others who are interested."

FRANK SHANNON LEAVES HOSPITAL SATURDAY; IS IMPROVING FROM HURTS

Frank Shannon, employee of the California Company in the Westbrook field, was removed to his home Saturday from the Root hospital and is reported as making good progress toward complete recovery.

Shannon was seriously injured on the evening of November 7 when dragged by a mule near his home. He was attempting to place a halter on the animal when it frightened and ran. Shannon's feet became entangled in the attached rope and the animal raced about an enclosure, dragging Shannon after him.

Mrs. Shannon stated while in Colorado Tuesday morning that her husband had recovered sufficiently to go to the dining table for his meals.

NRA Codes Must Be Enforced, Johnson States In Mandate Announced Tuesday

WASHINGTON.—Faced with reports of ineffective enforcement of NRA code terms, Hugh S. Johnson Tuesday increased the responsibility placed upon industry to secure compliance and designated a committee to help industrial self-government units get organized.

The administrator announced a program under which trade associations would be called upon to shoulder the load as quickly as possible, but simultaneously made clear that the government would be ready to step in whenever self-government was lacking and would use a "veto power" over their actions.

The announcement had the double purpose of hastening better compliance and of meeting the demand of industrialists, led by the chamber of commerce of the United States, that code administration be left to business.

Johnson said, however, the regionalized governmental compliance organization would in all probability be enlarged from the present 26 directors in key cities to one for each state, with additional local organizations in principal cities.

The NRA chief said he reasserted that labor questions would not be left to any industrial agency that did not have "adequate" labor representation. Unless an industry has its own arbitration units, the national and regional labor boards will have jurisdiction, although complaints of individual employees will be handled by the local and regional compliance directors.

Spelling Lists For Use Of Contests Are Available To Schools Of Mitchell County

Advice from the Interscholastic League headquarters in Austin states that 200,000 copies of the current spelling list have been printed and are now ready for distribution, according to Mr. H. F. Railsback, recently elected director of spelling for the League in this county. The price of the spelling bulletin of sixteen pages has been reduced to one cent per copy in quantities of one hundred or more. It would be well for schools needing less than one hundred copies to club their orders so as to get the benefit of the cent-a-copy rate.

New families continue to locate in Hyman community to establish farm homes, according to Harry Hyman, developer of that section and who was in Colorado Monday. Hyman stated that a good rain fell at Hyman Sunday night, assuring good yields on acreage in late feed crops.

on page 43 of the current Constitution and Rules. Familiarize yourself with the rules. It would be well to drill pupils to avoid the errors there listed.

"The words included in the list have been carefully selected and graded and form an excellent supplement to the State Adopted Text. None of the words in the State text appear in the spelling list of the League.

"It is hoped that there will be wide participation in this contest in this county. All one hundred per cent papers produced at the county meet are sent to the State office of the League where the papers are re-graded, and, if adjudged perfect, a suitable award is given."

Collection Of Old Newspapers Gains Interest At Austin

AUSTIN.—Moderns who insist upon rapid news service would be surprised to see how many people pore over the papers of years ago at the University of Texas library here.

The university collection was started with a donation from Major George Littlefield of Terry's Texas Rangers. He authorized gathering of early files that would depict the history of the South and Southwest while in the making. To these have been added many early files of nation scope.

There is a copy of the United States Gazette, 1789, with an account of the first meeting of congress. Progress of the Texas Revolution and the War With Mexico are told in southern newspapers of the decade beginning 1836.

Both pro and anti slavery papers are included in the groups dealing with the events preceding war between the states. During the Civil War most of the southern newspapers were suppressed and the story as told in New York, Boston, Richmond and Philadelphia papers is the only one available.

LESS THAN $6,000 YET TO BE PAID PLANTERS ON PLOW-UP CONTRACT

Baskin, county farm agent, stated Wednesday that a total of 1,076 remittance checks, aggregating payment of $315,985, had been received.

Total contracts in effect in the county was given at 1,693, with the sum of $321,000 to be paid cooperating farmers.

Rites For Mrs. G. H. Haggerton Are Held Thursday Afternoon

Rites for Mrs. George H. Haggerton of Colorado were held Thursday afternoon at Lone Wolf cemetery with the Rev. C. E. Leslie officiating. Mrs. Haggerton died at a local hospital Tuesday of last week.

Deceased was well known here, having spent much of her life before becoming the wife of Mr. Haggerton in home of Mrs. Sallie Dozier. She was born at Hermleigh and grew to womanhood there. She died at the age of 30 years.

Surviving are the husband, mother, Mrs. J. F. Vaughn, and three brothers, Jay, E. H., and Hugh, all of Hermleigh.

Pall bearers were Bill Rea, Leonard Rea, W. L. Jones, Hall Higginbotham, Virgil Cross and Elmer Louder.

Flower bearers were Mrs. Edna Burnett and Misses Opal Wilson, Mary Emma Leslie and Evelyn Seay. Kiker & Son of Colorado were in charge of funeral plans.

For almost ten months before her death she lay bedfast. Patiently she bore her pain and many were the hours she spent in praise and thanksgiving to her Savior for all his goodness and especially for those who so tenderly cared for her. As she neared the end and realized that her victory would soon be won, and that her immortal spirit would then be reunited to her creator, and there be reunited with the ones she loved, she requested that her body be robed in white and thus beneath a mound of beautiful flowers we placed her beside her companion.

Her spirit, her wonderful life shall live on in our memories. "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord."
By Mrs. R. H. Bennett, a granddaughter.

Varied Stories Of Hunting In Big Game Country Reported By Colorado Nimrods

Colorado nimrods returning home this and last week from the hill country of South and Southwest Texas in quest of turkey, deer and bear, are giving a variety of hues in telling of their experiences. Some had good luck, bagging the coveted game easily, while others either saw nothing to shoot at or proved to be poor marksmen.

"We brought back all the law allows," stated J. B. Holt, tax collector, in relating experiences of himself and Minister J. D. Harvey of the Church of Christ who returned Sunday from the Delaware Mountains.

Henry Vaughn and Virgil Moser have returned with a nice buck each after spending a brief time in the hill country of South Texas.

J. B. Pritchett, Dick Hickman, Jack Delaney and Bronson Gregory returned late Sunday from the country near Mason and Junction after spending three days hunting deer and turkey. They report having shot nothing.

"We did not get even so much as a hair or a feather," informed R. R. Lacey of the Mills Chevrolet Company Monday as he related experiences of himself, Edwin Chase and Bill Cooper who returned late Sunday from the country near Mason and Junction.

Wade Scott and W. E. Reid returned latter part of the week from the mountains in Southwest Texas. Scott reported Monday they were not successful in bagging game.

Sheriff R. E. Gregory and Martin Koonsman, district highway patrol officer of Abilene, returned Friday night from the Davis Mountains with a large buck each.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson and Bob Lovejoy returned the first of the week from country along the border south of Sierra Blanco. They announce that two bucks were bagged.

Farm Relief Activities Planned In Hope Of Restoring Pre-War Prices To Grower

The general intent of the government in its farm relief activities is to bring the purchasing power of the principal farm commodities up to their pre-war level or parity, according to Agricultural Adjustment Administration officials who last week visited the Extension Service at Texas A. & M. College. For the portion of the cotton, wheat, corn and hog crops consumed in the United States this parity price is to be obtained by subsidies obtained from processing taxes. The remainder of the annual production is expected to rise in price because of the reduction in production obtained as a part of the contracts signed by farmers with the government.

"Parity" is explained as the purchasing power farm commodities had in the "good old days" of 1909-14. During that period farmers were generally prosperous, prices were regarded as satisfactory, and everything the farmer sold was in fair adjustment with the prices he paid for goods. The prices now sought as "parity" are not necessarily the prices that obtained from 1909 to 1914 but are prices large enough to make farmer's products exchange for the same amount of manufactured goods they did in that period. In the case of cotton the parity price is estimated at about 15 cents per pound and the parity wheat price is placed at about $1 on the farm.

The general plan by which these parity prices are being obtained for farmers is known as the domestic allotment plan. On the portion of these crops domestically consumed processing taxes have been levied by the government for payment to farmers who sign contracts restricting their acreages in these crops. This acts in much the same way as a subsidized market to American manufacturers for that part of their output domestically consumed. The remainder of the farmers production is expected to move into foreign trade in free competition with that of other countries. As this export surplus is reduced by restricted acres in America the world prices is expected to rise until such time as production gets into complete adjustment with demand and the prices of the entire farm output come up to parity.

Land rented by the United States government in contracts with cotton, wheat and corn growers may not be used directly or indirectly to grow crops that may create surpluses in other lines of production, it was repeated again by Dr. J. F. Cox, chief of the replacement crops division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, in his talks to county farm and home demonstration agents at the annual Extension Service meeting at Texas A. & M. College last week.

"Retired acres may be put to any use that will make them better productive acres, or to the production of food and feed crops for home consumption," he said. "They may be planted to cover crops for turning under to enrich the soil or for holding the soil to check erosion. They may be sown to permanent pastures in part or in all," Dr. Cox continued, "but after the pasture is established next year and is furnishing grazing an equal number of acres must be retired from some other part of the farm. Where a farmer is not already devoting an acreage to the production of food and feed crops for farm consumption these government rented acres may be planted to such crops.

"If certain home food crops are not produced on the farm, surpluses of other crops grown on retired acres may be exchanged for needed food supplies," he pointed out. "For example, a farmer and his family may have more tomatoes than they need and lack fruits. They may trade tomatoes for fruit.

"On the other hand, a farmer who signs a contract may not use the retired or contracted acreage for home food and feed crops and then turn around and plant the acres formerly used for food and feed to some cash crop or to a feed crop to be sold through livestock.

"The whole idea of farm relief," Dr. Cox told the Extension agents, "is to take 43 million acres of good American farm land out of production for the good of the farmer and the Nation. If production is merely shifted from one cash crop to another the aim of the Act is defeated," he said. "Vegetable growers for example have plenty of trouble in marketing their crops without having a lot of cotton farmers turn to vegetable growing on land which the government has already rented. It is," he declared, "a great cooperative movement which depends for its success on the loyalty of farmers in keeping the letter and the spirit of the contracts."

EQUAL CHANCE TO EACH SCHOOL CHILD WOODS' PLEA

STATE SUPERINTENDENT IN ATTACK ON POLICIES THAT FOSTER SELFISH INTEREST

Area Conference Held Here Monday Night Attended By 750 School Leaders

The teacher and trustee who permit the influences of prejudice or hope of personal ambition to supplant interest of the child in their hearts will fall short of the high purpose that should be the goal of every person charged with responsibility of building cultured citizenship through medium of the school, Dr. L. A. Woods, State superintendent of public education, declared in an address delivered at high school auditorium Monday evening.

"We must write into the curriculum of our public schools a unified standard that will give to the child of the smaller rural districts the type of training required to best develop that child into useful citizenship," he declared. "We cannot build universities in every school district but we can place within the reach of every boy and girl the advantages they need and are entitled to."

Dr. Woods pled for closer cooperation between teachers and administrators of the State's public schools, looking to lessening public cost of operating the system of education and at the same time building a more acceptable training environment for the child. For one board or faculty of teachers to be jealous of another was rated as evidence of poor conception of the ideals that should be nurtured by every school official and instructor.

Reviewing policy of many school districts in Texas in which a new board was elected almost as often as elections were authorized, to be followed by an entirely new set-up in curricula as the incoming administrators came into power, Dr. Woods charged that "personal individualism had come in to lead the people of Texas to lose sight of the true principles of education."

The practices of firing efficient school teachers for some petty cause was roundly attacked by the speaker. "It is apparently the program of many of our schools to insist that a change in teacher personnel be made at short intervals. In many instances the teacher is told to look for employment elsewhere simply because she does not cater to the personal whims of an administrator. If a teacher makes good during her first year it stands to reason that she will become more efficient as she understands more fully the peculiar needs of the student and the school," he stated.

"There are some counties in Texas with 125 units of our public school system, meaning that there are 375 trustees, each having certain powers of administration. In instances such as these the trustees, in conjunction with the county superintendent, should cooperate in purchasing supplies and advancing a closer relationship as between one district and the other for the dual achievement of reducing the mounting cost of our school system and giving to the student an improved curriculum."

The State official was addressing several hundred teachers and trustees from the schools of Mitchell, Scurry, Nolan, Howard and other West Texas counties, assembled for one of a series of area conferences. It was estimated that 750 people were present. He was introduced by Judge C. C. Thompson, president of the Mitchell county school board.

Miss Sug B. Mann of Abilene, assistant State superintendent, and A. A. Bullock of Austin, director of the Rural School aid division of the State department, were other officials to speak. Bullock is a native of Mitchell county and attended the Westbrook and Conaway schools as a youth. J. E. Watson, superintendent of the Colorado schools, and Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent, were others to occupy places on the speaker's platform. Miss McGill spoke briefly, welcoming the visitors to Colorado.

DON TAYLOR LISTED ON COLLEGE ARTISTS CLUB

Don Taylor, son of Mrs. Mayme Taylor, Mitchell county treasurer, continues to make good at John Tarleton college, Stephenville. During the year he has been listed as an outstanding honor student and Monday announcement was made from the school that Taylor would carry a leading role in a three-act comedy to be given at the college auditorium Friday night. He plays the part of "He" in Percival Wildes' "The Noble Lord."

The Serious And Ridiculous Interspersed On Program Given At Lions Club Friday

The serious and ridiculous were interspersed in program rendered Friday noon at the Lions Club. Attendance was almost 100 percent, a fact noted with a deal of pleasure by the president and other officials, and the men seemed to have enjoyed the entertainment features in more than a passive way.

A crack eating contest, with Doyle Williams, M. L. Kirschbaum, Martin Gurney and M. O. Chapman as the contestants, furnished prolonged rounds of laughter. The men were lined up in front of the stage and given a certain number of crackers by E. O. Elliott, program chairman. The one eating the crackers and whistling first was awarded a prize. Kirschbaum was declared the winner.

Address of the Rev. Cal C. Wright, pastor of First Methodist church, was another feature enjoyed. The new Colorado citizen impressed that he possesses strong characteristics of the Irish. The minister is a former Lion, having served as president and tall twister.

John E. Watson delivered an address on "High Life in the Lions Club," mixing comedy with the serious conditions of life. He gave timely advice to certain members of the service organization as to how they might reduce their waist line.

Louis Latham, county tax assessor, was presented as a new member, with Joe Pond, a past president, delivering the initiatory address. Nat Thomas was to have been formally introduced as a member but was absent.

Announcement was made that ladies night banquet, originally planned for Friday evening of this week, had been moved ahead to the night before, due to conflict with program at one of the grammar schools, Chas. Kyle, M. L. Kirschbaum and E. R. Bibby were named on committee to cooperate with the program committee in working out details for the affair.

Joe B. Lindsey, representative of the U. S. Biological Survey, was another guest. Mr. Lindsey spoke of campaign now being waged to exterminate rats in this county. He is here working in cooperation with Ben J. Baskin, county farm agent, to control the pests in this territory.

MUSTANGS WIN EASILY IN CONFERENCE BATTLE WITH CANTRILL'S WOLF ELEVEN

Score Of 30 To 0 Registered At Sweetwater Friday; Big Spring Next

Annual conference battle between the Wolves and Sweetwater Mustangs was just another day for the powerful Pony Express. The charges of Ed Hennig ran over the Cantrillmen to register thirty points. The Wolves never crossed the enemy goal line.

Colorado was outclassed in every respect. Fans witnessing the contest, however, were impressed with fighting qualities of the Wolves. They gave the heavier and more powerful machine all they had.

In keeping Colorado from scoring Sweetwater maintained its record for this season of not permitting a competing eleven to cross her goal line. With exception of one touchdown by the Wolves, such a record was held last year.

The Mustangs made 18 points during the first quarter. They were held to one counter during the second and only managed to take the ball across for touchdown once during the last half. Colorado threatened seriously to score during the last half after Stagner had connected a pass for considerable gain. First string men, taken out only a few plays before, were sent back by Sweetwater to stop the determined march toward the coveted stripe.

Sweetwater made 22 first downs and Colorado 5. The pep squad and several hundred fans accompanied the Wolves to Sweetwater.

The Sweetwater Daily reported of the following comment on the game:

There was not much to excite a small turnout here Friday as the Sweetwater Mustangs thumped Colorado 30 to 0, to keep the lead in district 3. The Ponies have one more game in the championship campaign, with San Angelo, and Sweetwater needs only a tie there to finish in front.

Sweetwater is unscored on in district play this season, and has permitted only one touchdown by the opposition in the last three seasons. Colorado made that last year.

There was very little passing, and practically all gains came through the line. Virgil Jones ran 54 yards to score in the second quarter, on the feature play of the afternoon. Whitten also got off some good runs.

For Colorado, Stagner, offensive half and defensive end, and Church, a tackle, were the brightest stars. N. B. Hall, guard, who was operated on for appendicitis early in October, returned to the Sweetwater lineup and played good ball. Armstrong at tackle was another home team star, and made one touchdown. Sweetwater blocked a kick near the Colorado goal, but then lost the ball a down or two later on a fumble. Colorado, however, had to kick again, and it was again blocked the ball bouncing into the hands of Armstrong, who ran ten or fifteen yards to score.

NEW METHODIST ELDER LISTED WITH VETERANS SERVING IN LATE WAR

The Rev. C. A. Long who last week moved from his late home at Pampa to Sweetwater as presiding elder of the Sweetwater district, M. E. Church, South, is a veteran of the World War, having seen service along the front lines in France during peak of the conflict as an American army chaplain. He succeeds Rev. O. P. Clark who was transferred to St. Paul's church, Abilene.

Rev. Mr. Long was pastor of First Church, Pampa, two years before coming to this district. He has been prominent in the conference several years.

Big Spring Club Wins Over McCamey Friday; Wolves Rest This Week

Colorado is to play only one more football game before closing the 1933 season. Thanksgiving the Wolves are to meet the Steers at Steer Stadium, Big Spring.

The charges of Skipper Cantrill have no scheduled game this week and should be recovered from recent injuries for the annual clash with the Steers. Both coaches are determined to win, a fact that suggests strong competition and a well rounded gridiron battle.

During the past nine years Colorado has won four games and Big Spring won five. The two clubs went into battle last year with an even keel of four games each, but the Steers were too much for the locals and got away with a decisive victory. Cantrill is hopeful of winning the game next week and evening the count.

Big Spring won 32-14 over the McCamey Cats at Big Spring Saturday afternoon. The Badgers scored once in the second and once in the third. Big Spring did much of her goal registering during early stages of the contest.

Big Spring attempted nine passes and completed four. McCamey attempted fifteen and completed only three.

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

Good Sportsmanship is a virtue which should be included in every individual's character—an element which has to do with our relationship and dealing with others in sports, in school activities, or in the field of life. It is an indication of one's respect for time honored principles of good conduct. Who does not admire a true sportsman, one who is fair and generous, a good loser and a graceful winner. Sportsmanship is so broad in scope that it embraces the factors which constitute a beautiful personality—courtesy, modesty, generosity, gameness, obedience, and fairness.

He faces life with a courage to dare with honor, with faith and with truth in his heart. He's living to earn and he strives from the start. To win, if he loses, then still he plays fair. You say you don't know him but he's everywhere. It's a sport!

Westbrook's sportsmanlike spirit has inevitably attracted the attention of Westbrook citizens during the past few years. In this year's athletics, our record attendance, our enthusiasm, and our undaunted spirit has never slackened even in the face of defeat. We the Wildcats, fight as a unit! This same spirit which dominates our athletics is carried into all school activities. It's not the material things that make a school but the feeling of loyalty, fellowship and fair play which dwells in the heart of every student. You fight for righ Purple and White. In victory or defeat.

You rank the first in sportsmanship. Your spirit can't be beat. Do you as a member of the Westbrook High school measure up to the standards of a sport?

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

During the past six weeks the students have found it hard to keep track of their pencils, rulers, etc. Last Friday, Mr. Patterson offers suggestions by which the students may keep their supplies together. He proposed to organize a student government in which the students offer their cooperation and see that each student has sufficient supplies every Monday and Wednesday morning. A sort of constitution was written by Herman May, Florence Neal, Wilma Jean Berry, Ruth Miller and Mary Florence Van Horne. Any student who has borrowed a pencil and failed to return it will receive three demerits and will be in the study hall the following week. If the student has failed to get supplies he will receive one demerit. Officers for the student government have not been elected, but will be this week.

ASSEMBLY NEWS

We were very glad to have with us Wednesday morning Rev. Claude Scott, the new pastor of the Westbrook Baptist church. Rev. Scott chose as his subject "Be Faithful to the Task." If the students would take heed to this subject they could accomplish more.

SENIOR NEWS

The carnival sponsored by the Seniors, Friday night, was a success. We wish to express our appreciation for the cooperation of the people of Westbrook. Dollie Davenport was the holder of the lucky ticket and received the blanket. If you missed the carnival you missed one of the best entertainments of the year.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors have selected their play "Short-Thirty-Six" which will be presented in the Westbrook high school auditorium in the near future. Watch for the date.

This week is examination week and we hope to make an average as high as we did last six weeks. Juniors, we must strive to make our class the most outstanding one in high school. We have the material, now let us show the other classes a new record. We have so far, led the classes in weekly and monthly averages, so let us keep up the good work.

Another thing, we Juniors must feel inferior to the Seniors, we must be loyal to them, support them in everything they undertake to do, and make their Senior year the most pleasant year in all their school days. Picture yourself a senior. Would you like to feel that the underclassmen would not support you? Of course not, and we Juniors have only one more year in high school, therefore, we should do our part now—Come on Juniors lets go.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomores are busy this week reviewing for the six weeks exam which will be taken this week. The Sophomores are planning a social in the near future. Those appointed on the social committee by the president are Lorraine Hart and Jo Nell Anderson.
We Sophs wonder:
1. If Mrs. Patterson likes our algebra grades.
2. If Miss Ott really understands Silas Marner.
3. Why Eula Bell is stuck on a dignified senior.
4. Why Jaunita Collier enjoys going to Colorado on Saturday.
5. Why Lorraine Hart enjoys going to Conway to spend the weekend.

DALLAS, Nov. 17.—A reduction from 25 to 15 cents a month for handset telephones in all Southwestern Bell exchanges in Texas effective December 1 or the first billing date thereafter was announced today by W. L. Prehn, general manager for Texas. The statewide handset reduction will affect users of 90,000 handsets and will mean a saving to them of more than $108,000 a year.

"During the last thirty days we have agreed with city officials in several Texas cities that a 15 cent handset rate would be made effective," Prehn stated. "This action followed orders issued by the State commissions in Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma, in which the Southwestern Bell operates, and many other State commissions, reducing the handset rate to 15 cents per month.

"Our revenues have declined substantially during the past few years, and we are in no position to make reductions, but we feel that our customers in Texas are entitled to the same treatment afforded those in other states in which we operate. In view of its depleted revenues, the ability of the Telephone Company to meet the added burden created by this handset reduction will depend in large measure upon the speed of business recovery," Prehn stated.

"The handsets cost us $4.32 more than the desk telephone and involve additional recurring charges of $1.73 a year. These charges include additional taxes, extra maintenance, depreciation and interest on the additional investment. Then, without an additional charge it is apparent practically everyone would want a handset, which would mean virtually throwing away several hundred thousand good desk sets," Prehn pointed out.

"The Telephone Company maintains that handsets are not essential to good telephone service, are in the nature of a luxury item, and that the cost of rendering the extra service should be paid for by those enjoying it, rather than by the customers generally," Prehn said.

The handset was first introduced to Texas in 1927. The original charge of 50 cents was made to offset extra cost, and also to prevent the premature retirement of too large a number of desk telephones. In 1928 the 50 cent rate was voluntarily reduced to 25 cents, a figure thought to approximate the additional cost of rendering handset service at that time. Improvement in manufacturing methods and the gradual extension of handset equipment now make it possible to render this service at 15 cents a month.

You can't feel well and strong unless your liver furnishes your stomach and bowels plenty of fresh bile every day. Without bile food doesn't digest properly—it just ferments and decays—constipation, gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness follow.

Don't be misled. Calomel, salts, pills, mineral waters, laxative pills, etc. have no effect whatever on the liver. There are only two powerful, recognized substances which actually cause a sluggish liver to increase production of bile. Sargen Soft Mass Pills contain both of them.

FRESHMAN CLASS NEWS
 The Freshman class had the largest crowd at their class play and probably the largest crowd for paid admission that has been in high school. This class will be given a picture show party next Monday night with the money they made. The largest crowd last year during the tournament was present at the Freshman play. It seems this class has plenty of power and pep when they enter high school and we hope they keep it.

VISIT FROM STATE SUPERINTENDENT
 On Monday, November 20, the high school had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Woods, State supervisor of education, and Mr. Bullock, chief supervisor of rural schools. Their talks gave the students many new ideas and they were thoroughly enjoyed by faculty and student body.

LA TERTULIA
 The La Tertulia met last Monday at the usual class period. The time was devoted to the study of the reign of the kings of Spain. This study will be continued and completed next Monday.

THE GLEE CLUB
 Upon the return of Mrs. Deter, the Glee Club resumed its former work, and has also begun work on a Christmas cantata. Mrs. Deter hopes to have the girls ready to give this cantata on Sunday, December 17, but the date has not been definitely set as yet.

The work of the club is being enjoyed heartily by all of the members and we have hopes of a large number of additions during the remainder of the school year.

CLOTHING I
 The first year girls have completed their slips and have modeled them in order that they might be graded. The home projects are under construction and work on them and discuss them each Friday.

FOODS I
 After several mock breakfasts, the first year girls served their first breakfast on Thursday morning at 8:00. The second group served breakfast during the class period. Wednesday the first group served their second meal at the class period and the second group served their meal at 3:30. Marked improvement was shown in preparation and serving of the second meals. Superintendent Woods visited the department on Monday.

FOODS II
 Second year class served an informal dinner on Monday evening. State Supt. Woods, Miss Mann and Mr. Bullock were here from Austin. Everything was a success and the work was much better than usual for every member of the class operated. The girls received many compliments on a well-prepared and well-served meal.

COMMERCIAL NEWS
 State Superintendent Woods and Mr. Bullock, Chief Supervisor of division of rural schools, visited our department, Monday. Miss Cooper had her "Baby Typists" to demonstrate for them. Mr. Woods said that other county had and that this teaching of typing to elementary students would change the whole method of teaching in the elementary grades in a few years.

The little kindergarten students, Dana Marie Merritt and Betty Sue Vaught, gave a demonstration of about fifteen minutes. Betty Sue had a perfect paper and Dana Marie said that she made "only one tiny little mistake." They also wrote a few words besides their regular drills. During their demonstration this was part of the conversation that took place:

Miss Cooper: "What word can you write?"
 Dana Marie: "Jug."
 C.: How do you spell jug?
 D. M.: J U G.
 C.: What other word can you write? It is a word that means for you to be quiet.
 D. M.: Oh, I know. It is mum.
 C.: How do you spell mum?
 D. M.: j-e-r-e-r-
 C.: Oh! No! It starts with m.
 Betty Sue: M U M.

As one of the main purposes of teaching typing to primary children is that it helps them to spell, Dana Marie demonstrated this fact in detail. Dana Marie is only four years old and does not know one letter from another only these learned in typing.

The other young typists: Juanice Elliott, Iva Helen Lee (first grade), Buddy Doss (second grade), Bobby Ratliff, Martha Jane Watson, Mary Frances Dorn (third grade), Billie Margaret Gregory (fourth grade) and Freddie Watson (fifth grade) gave a demonstration of about thirty minutes. They copied from straight matter in connection with their regular drills. Mr. Woods and Mr. Bullock seemed well pleased with their work.

Miss Cooper now has a manual prepared especially for them. This manual was written for them by Miss Octavine Cooper, Juanita Barton and Lillian McCorkle ran the pages and assembled it. The cutting of pages and the hole punching were done by Mr. Baze, at the Whipkey Printing Co.

District Winner To Be Determined With Thanksgiving Fight

Annual Thanksgiving engagement between the Sweetwater Mustangs and San Angelo Bobcats will settle dispute over pennant in District 3, Class A football. Sweetwater is leading the Cats in potential strength and showing made during the year and it is apparent that the former will thump the latter aside for an unbroken parade to the coveted goal.

Sweetwater has not had their goal line crossed during the season. This cannot be said of San Angelo. Big Spring, expected to emerge from the district melee in third place, won its first conference game last Saturday in defeat of McCombs. The Steers were defeated by Sweetwater and played San Angelo to a scoreless tie.

 WOMEN who suffer from weakness often have many aches and pains which a stronger state of health would prevent.
 Women in this condition should take Cardui, a purely vegetable tonic that has been in use for over 50 years.
 Take Cardui to improve the general tone of the system in cases of run-down health and "tired nerves."
 Women have found, in such cases, that Cardui helps them to overcome pains and make the monthly periods easier. CARDUI is safe and wholesome for women of all ages. Try it!

CHAPEL PROGRAM
 Last Wednesday in chapel Mr. Holman asked several pupils what they would do in certain circumstances. Some of the questions that would arise in everyday life that he asked were: "What would you do if you lost a glove and one was found like yours, but the glove that was found was newer than yours?"

"What would you do if you saw paper on the floor?" "What would you do if you had lost a dime outside the school and a dime had been found in the school that same day?" "What would you do if you wished to speak to one of two teachers who were conversing in the hall?" "What would you do if you knocked the book from someone's desk as you passed by?" These questions were answered by pupils scattered over the assembly hall. This is fine for us, as it not only teaches us to think on our feet, but to think about what we would do under different circumstances.

The American people become more or less accustomed to having everything known to man delivered to their front door for inspection. Through the medium of public zoos, the private collections of various animals and circuses, they have seen at first hand most of the strange and interesting sights of animal life.

But—have you ever seen a whale? Very few people have as the mammal was floating around in the ocean, or whatever the whale does while in the water. Now, through the enterprise of the Pacific Whaling Company of Long Beach, California, the largest company of its kind in the world, a whale weighing 68 tons, is being shown to the American people. The exhibit will be in Colorado, for one day only, next Wednesday, Nov. 29th, and will be open to the public. The whale to be exhibited has been rightfully named "Colossus," and is one of the largest ever captured. It is one of the finback variety, and besides weighing 68 tons it is fifty-five feet in length. A long period was required by the expert whaling crew of the Pacific Whaling Company to bring it aboard the whaler. The whale is the largest of all known living things. It was probably not surpassed in size by any animal living in earlier geological times. One can better realize the actual size of "Colossus" when it is announced that many scientists have claimed it to be one of the largest whales ever brought ashore. Many educational institutions, throughout the country have taken a great interest in "Colossus." Faculties of schools have seen the giant of the sea and have expressed themselves with the enterprise of the Pacific Whaling Company in bringing before the public such an interesting biological exhibit. In fact before "Colossus" was taken on tour, very few people had the slightest conception of what a whale looked like. Most of their knowledge was gained from the story of Jonah and his encounter with the undersea mammal. The exhibit will be in Colorado, one day only, Nov. 29th, and the car will be located on the tracks near the Texas and Pacific Freight Depot.

A GOOD RESOLUTION FOR 1934

It's a little early yet for New Year's resolutions, but here's one worth considering—I'll do my part to reduce fire waste in 1934.

If a hundred million Americans did resolve that, and didn't drop it along with the second week of January with the nation would have a splendid start toward winning a difficult and most important fight. We have long been the most prodigal of people when it comes to fire.

Conquering fire in 1934 would give recovery a mighty impetus. It would save jobs and payrolls and homes and farms and producing industries. It would keep money at work that would otherwise be destroyed and made useless. Make that resolution!

ARMISTICE DAY

Written to have been published November 11th. Armistice Day. Upon the utterance of these words a flood of memories rush upon us. Even those who were little children at the time and whom the intervening years have made men and women recall with what feverish haste preparation was made when it was announced that the United States was to enter the titanic struggle already going on across the seas.

Those of us who had sons qualified by years and strength of body to take part in the contest shall never forget our feeling of horror when we realized that perhaps ours might be among those who were destined to make the "supreme sacrifice" in a foreign land. And surely those who "went across" and took part in the world's greatest struggle had its horrors so impressed upon their memories that, should they live centuries longer, they would never be forgotten.

Then there was that quiet unobtrusive, patient, multitude of mothers, sisters and sweethearts whose sorrow and awful anguish were unutterable when those whom they loved sailed for the scene of conflict, and for some this sorrow was to be made perpetual by the failure of those for whom they grieved to return. Bleeding wounds and bleeding hearts, bleeding bodies and bleeding minds, grief and woe, death and destruction, they are the fruits of war, always have been, are now, must always be.

Man must be a mystery even to himself. He mourns for those robbed of their lives by war, then proceeds to prepare for other wars, wherein other lives shall be lost and bodies maimed and wounded, minds shocked and weakened, after which he will do as we are doing now, hold memorial meetings to express his sorrow for the passing of his friends and brothers and his admiration for their splendid heroism and self sacrifice. And it is singular as it is sorrowful that he has not learned by the experience of the ages and the knowledge and wisdom he has acquired meaning how to avoid the madness and carnage of war, that he has not found a way in which problems of nations can be solved without resorting to the cruelty, barbarity, folly and destructiveness of war. Only reason can settle questions and war is not reason. Indeed it brings about still more problems, and it cannot of itself settle these.

It would naturally seem logical to assert that the intelligence which realizes the folly of war should be sufficient to conceive and enforce a plan by which it can be always averted. But it has not proven to be so. It is cause for satisfaction, however that the clamor for means of preserving peace becomes louder and more insistent as the years pass. During the last decade the demand for settlement of international disputes has been more pronounced and determined, more impressive and powerful, than it has ever been before. Surely we shall some day be able to have intelligence and mercy to take the place of barbarity and brutality in the solution of all problems, whether among individuals or organizations, States or Nations. Man is himself the greatest problem he has to solve, the most formidable opponent he has to overcome. When he shall be capable, if he ever is, of mastering himself, he shall then be able to master and solve all his problems. It should not necessarily follow that because men's minds contend with each other as to questions about which they disagree that they should have their bodies contend in deadly combat to settle a question which their minds cannot settle. A physical struggle cannot determine the merits of any mental contention. Mind can and should decide what is best for the body, but the body cannot decide for the mind. The World War of itself did not decide any ethical question. War can never determine the merits of any question nor the justification of any act. A contest between two men would come as nearly deciding the rights of a disputed matter as would an international struggle. It is facts, not fighting, that must render the decision. This is true between individuals as well as between nations.

It might be contended that because there are no two things in the creation exactly alike that there can be no two minds exactly alike, and that if there are no minds alike, there can not always be the same conception of right and wrong as to things which evolve men's lives and possessions. Then it might also be argued that since there must be differences of opinion there must be contention, and so long as individuals disagree they will fight, and that so long as they fight, nations will fight.

Moral consciousness, adherence to principle, realization of right, need not, and should not, permit anger and physical force to undertake to supplant them in the settlement of questions that only justice should decide. At any rate we seem forced to the conclusion that with man's increasing intelligence comes increasing consideration for the welfare of his kind, and with both these must come means for making possible the greatest folly of which man is capable—WAR.

It is inevitable that when we utter the word "armistice" we at once think of him who, represents those who gave their lives in the great holocaust which the Armistice ended—The Unknown Soldier. Always we call to mind the fact that the world has always owed most of its progress, most of its peace, when it has had peace, to its unknown heroes.

Not only to the Unknown Soldier of World War fame who lies buried among our nation's great at Arlington, but to all those resting in modest graves on the poppy clad hills of Flanders and other fields where the soil has been enriched by their blood, are we most deeply indebted.

If each man fought more battles and won more victories over himself there would be fewer to win over other men. If, the individual man would master himself he would have less occasion to undertake the mastery of his fellows. The commanders under whom the Unknown Soldier fought, yea, even the world's greatest military geniuses as far back as history records, failed to conquer themselves, for no man has ever done that. They have found selfishness, anger, unholiness and other natural evil impulses more subtle, more resistible, more formidable, than armies and navies, sword and cannon.

"He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city."

Again our thoughts revert to those who make no pretensions to heroisms, who are not acclaimed as such, those silent, suffering mothers whose suffering began when their loved sons departed and did not end till they returned, and for those whose sons did not return it cannot end during their earthly life. These super heroes, mothers of soldiers known and unknown are those whom Joaquin Miller pronounced "the kindest warriors born." To a mother loss of her child means that the remainder of her life shall be sorrowful. For this heroic soul there is an ordeal to be experienced compared with what the storming of a fort is but pastime. Suddenly some bright day she sees the heavens hung with black. The sky becomes drab and somber. Darkness supplants light and beauty. Nightingales are frightened away by the hon pinions of ravens. The singing of the wind through the treetops a requiem for her departed son. Every song becomes a dirge, every little stroll about the home a funeral march.

There are no bulletins wired or radioed across the seas and continents as to the progress of her awful battle. No government officials or army officers are listening with tense anxiety as to the progress of the contest. Finally the struggle is too terrible, the suffering too poignant, the grief too profound, and the noblest soldier of them all surrenders to the Grim Reaper. No military funeral with all the "pomp and circumstances of a glorious war" marks her burial. But without effort one can imagine that he hears the rustle of angel's wings, and melody infinitely sweet while the Choir Invisible chants a welcoming song at her gentle spirit enters the gates of the Celestial city.

Courage, Hopefulness, Self-sacrifice, who knows these as does she who has had her very heart trampled upon by the merciless feet of the God of War. She is a burden bearer who has never had an equal save Him who bore the sins of the entire world for unworthy men and women. He who was made sin that sinners might escape the penalty of theirs. Who was accused that His enemies might not be if they would accept Him as their substitute.

Every day means a charge across No Man's Land for each of us. There is no evading it. It is as certain as the day dawns. There is no escape from this daily battle. Old and young, men and women, strong and weak, must take part. It is a universal draft. It is the age-old daily, hourly, struggle against the enemies of right. It never ends. The victory is not yet to be won. It was won nearly 2000 years ago on a hill near Jerusalem, called Calvary. He who won it is our General. What Baptist Training Service was well attended Sunday evening. The B. T. S. Director visited the Dunn B. T. S. Sunday evening. The Junior B.Y.P.U. gave a program at Brownlee Sunday afternoon to a small crowd. Brownlee folks who missed this program missed a real treat. These Junior boys and girls really love God and His work. The ladies of the Baptist W.M.S. met at the church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. After singing a song and prayer, Mrs. Reeder, our president, who has recently returned from State convention brought in the way of a devotional, some fitting remarks from Doctor Buckner's convention address in regard to the work in the home. The following committee spent the remainder of the afternoon working: Mrs. Reeder, Mrs. Richburg, Mrs. Jarratt, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Norman, Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Jack Martin, Mrs. Trotter.

This call should appeal to every Baptist in Loraine. We should be justly proud of this institution. It stands out as the largest and greatest of its kind in the world. If this committee fails to see each member individually and you have anything to give, please hand it to one of the committee or leave at home of Mrs. Norman. We have the promise if we only give a cup of water
