Injuries In Wreck Prove Fatal To Billy Williams

Polio Immunization Survey Is Being Conducted Here

A county-wide polio immunization survey is underway this week, and results are expected to be tabulated soon in sufficient number to determine the present status of the inoculation program.

The local schools, as well as those a Denver City, are being used as a medium in making the survey, with blanks being furnished to all students to take home. The blanks are to be filled in with needed information, and returned to the school as soon as possible, and not later than Tuesday, April 23.

The National Polio Foundation is making a strong effort to encourage 100 per cent polio immunization for all age groups before the summer season. The schools are cooperating with the Polio Foundation and doctors of the area in the program.

Plans for the survey developed from a joint meeting last Thursday at Brownfield of doctors, school superintendents and other interested parties in this area. A representative of the National Polio Foundation was present to point out the urgent need of an intensive program to encourage everyone to take advantage of the polio immunization.

Attending the meeting from Plains was Supt. G. D. Kennedy.

Alarm has been expressed at the number of residents of susceptible age who are still unvaccinated against paralytic polio. The survey results are expected to indicate how serious the local situation is, and whether or not an intensive campaign should be held to bring a maximum of Salk vaccine protection to children and adults of the area before the crippling disease can stage its 1957 appearance.

Judge Reed Presides Monday At District Court

District Court was held Monday at Plains, with Judge Louis B. Reed presiding on the bench. The compensation case of Smith, et al vs. Southwestern Drilling Co., et al, was dismissed for failure to prosecute. A jury was selected and impaneled in the suit of Cole vs. T.E.I.A., but was dismissed when a settlement was reached. According to unofficial reports, the case was settled for $1600, but no judgment had been formally recorded.

Settled by agreement was the case of Johnson vs. T.E.I.A., but no report of the amount involved was available. Continued by agreement of the parties was the case of Sumpter vs. T.F.I.A. The case of McBride vs. Landa Oil Co., et al, was settled by agreement of parties, but no judgment has been ordered as yet.

Plains Students Place in Regional

In the Regional meet at Lubbock this past weekend Plains placed third in three events and fourth in one event. Bobby Kinder of Plains placed third in the vaulting meet. In the tennis meet Vaughn Culwell and Danny McClellan placed third in the boys doubles. Gerald Anderson placed fourth in the boys singles. Due to bad weather Saturday, the girls didn't get to play until Monday. Elaine Mauk and Glenda Stewart placed third in that event. Although none of the Plains participants placed first in any event and failed to get to make the trip to Austin in May, they all did a fine job and we are certainly proud of them.

Commissioners May Be Near Judge Solution

Possibility of a local solution to the county judge dilemma appeared nearer than at any time in recent weeks following an informal meeting of the county commissioners' court Wednesday morning.

No motions were made or action taken, but the time was spent in discussion of a "straw" vote election. According to reports, three of the commissioners expressed themselves as now being in favor of such a vote, but the motion was withheld in compliance with the request of the fourth, who asked that action be delayed until next Monday's meeting to give him additional time for consideration of the matter.

Requirements for candidates, election procedure, and other details were, however, outlined in anticipation of action Monday. It is understood that if such an election was to be held, commissioners would be bound to appoint the candidate receiving more than 50 per cent of the votes. In event no one candidate would receive that amount, a run-off election would be conducted to determine the winner.

Cost of such an election would be defrayed through the filing fees charged candidates.

Only routine business was transacted in the court in its meeting last Monday morning, a bid of $1,027.84 was accepted from Allsup Chevrolet Co. for a 1957 Chevrolet 4-door 8-cylinder sedan and Commissioner Brown was ordered reimbursed in the amount of $30.90 for transportation expenses incurred in the transportation of Claude Kerr to the Scottish Rites Hospital in Dallas.

Emergency Feed, Grain Program Includes Yoakum

Mr. W. M. Overton, head of the ASC office in Plains said this week that he had received word that the emergency feed and grain program had been extended in Yoakum County.

Mr. Overton reported that applications may be filed in the County FHA office through April 29 for a supply of feed grain to carry eligible livestock through May 15, 1957.

He said that the roughage had not been extended in Yoakum County.

Mrs. J. A. Parks underwent surgery Monday in the Treadway-Daniel Hospital in Brownfield.

Injuries sustained in a car wreck early Sunday morning proved fatal for Billy Q. Williams, 21, resident of Plains and employee of the Continental Oil Company.

Williams, first traffic casualty this year in Yoakum County, died early Wednesday morning at Yoakum County Hospital. He had not regained consciousness since the crash.

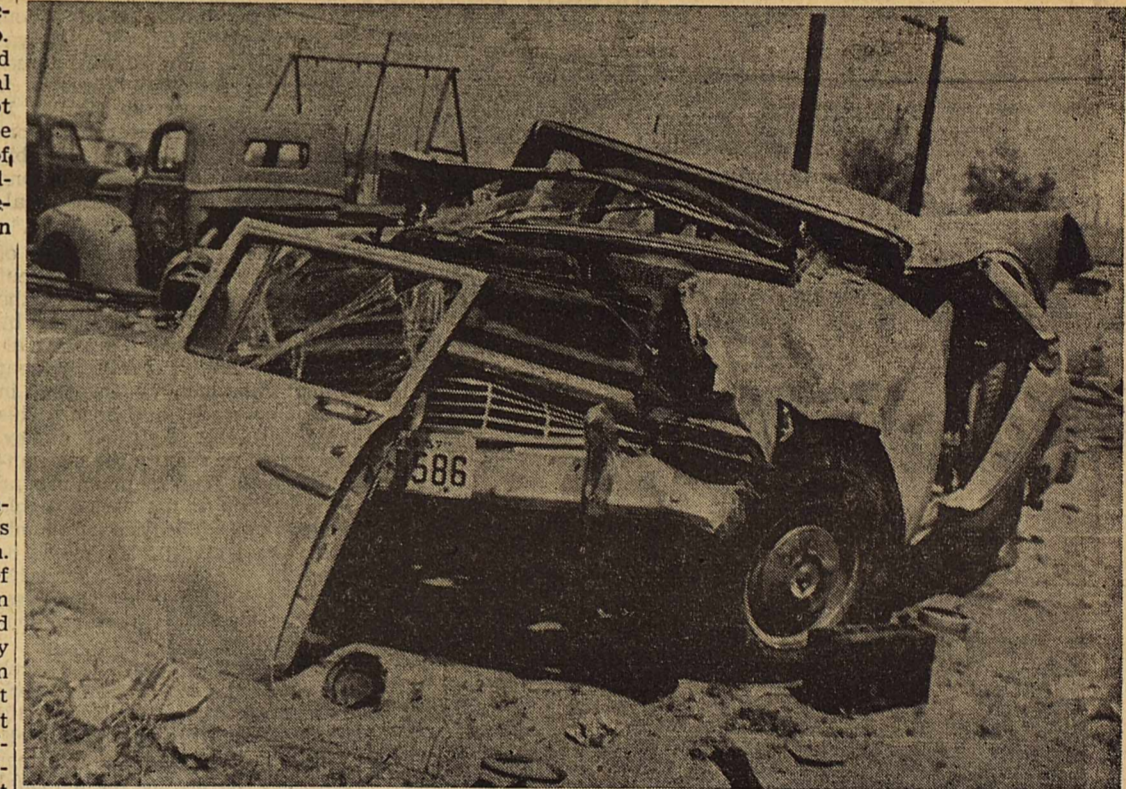

Final rites were held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church in Plains.

Rev. F. C. Bradley of Denver City officiated, assisted by Rev. C. J. Coffman. Brownfield Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements. The body was shipped to Kentucky for burial.

According to officers investigating the accident, Williams was coming east on Highway 380, about 11 miles west of Plains, when the right rear tire blew. The car rolled several times, leaving the highway and going through a fence into a pasture. A passerby from Level-land took Williams to the hospital here. The car, a 1956 Ford, was reported to be a total loss.

The young couple moved to Plains last fall, when Mrs. Williams began teaching duties in the school there. For the past two months, he had been employed as a clerk in the production department of Continental Oil at their office just south of Denver City.

He is survived by his wife, Wanda Jo, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Williams of Sturgis, Ky., two brothers, Bobby and Bennie and two sisters, Margie Williams and Mrs. Jack Edens, of Clay, Ky.

THE ABOVE PHOTO is of the car that William Quinn Williams was driving when it overturned Sunday morning on highway 380 about 11 miles west of Plains. Mr. Williams died early Wednesday as a result of injuries received in the wreck. REVIEW Photo

ACROSS THE Cattle Guard

By LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

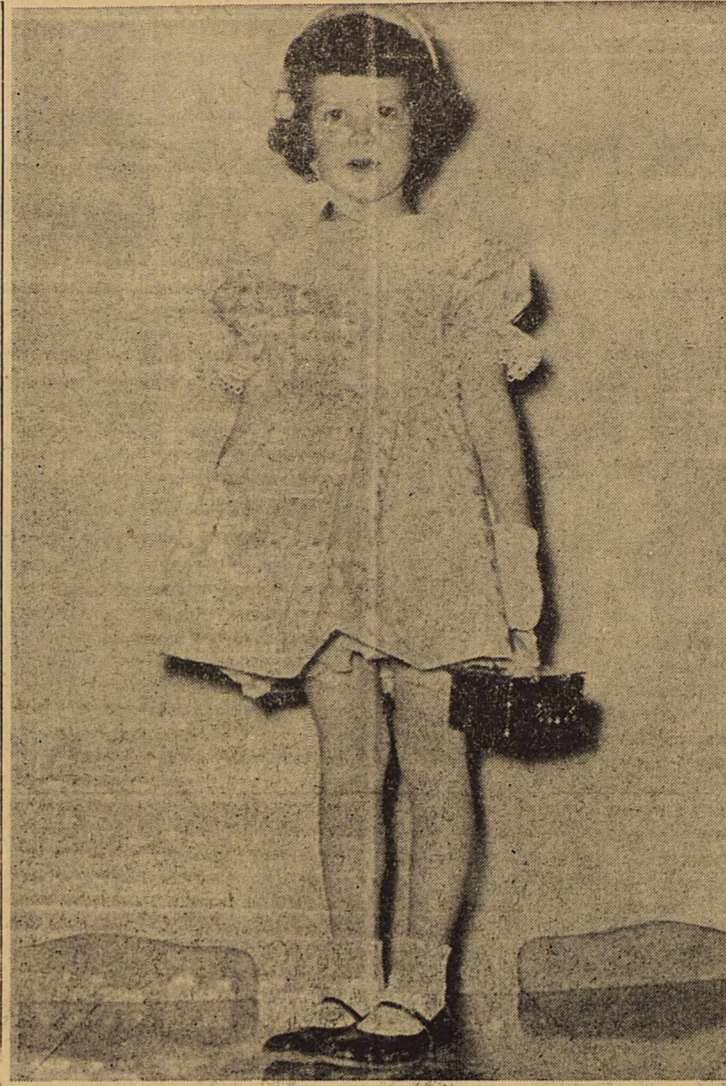

What to do about the condition of the native range land in Yoakum County is one of the big problems confronting the local ranchers. With several years of below average rainfall, the grazing land got into a very poor condition. The better grasses almost disappeared during the early part of the drouth in the sandy pastures and they have been replaced by some of the poorer grasses and shinnery. The dwarf broomweed, commonly called the turpentine weed, is on the increase in all of the pasture land but most of the increase of this weed is showing up on the more shallow soil where buffalo grass and blue grama grass normally grow.

Some of the long time resident tell me that the turpentine weeds will disappear if it ever starts raining in this country. This may be true but they are still on the increase and a lot of new weeds came up last year that are getting big enough now to be very noticeable. Most of the hard land pastures have enough of the turpentine weeds to take up most of a good rain before it had time to be of much help to the grass. Deferred grazing during most of the growing season would probably be the best method of giving the grass a chance to get ahead of the weeds.

The real problem is with the shinnery in the sand pastures. There are several places in the area north of Denver City where the fences have been taken out and the land has gone for several years with no grazing at all. During this time of deferral, the only grasses that have increased are needle grasses and sand dropseed. Both of these grasses are considered very poor for grazing purposes. There has been no apparent changes in the amount of shinnery on these deferred places. It looks like that deferred grazing is not going to be the right answer to our problem in sand pastures in this county.

Mr. Garlon Hoffman, Extension Service Range Specialist, was in Yoakum County last month and his idea was that the Experiment Stations needed to be working on an improved sand dropseed grass for this area. They have found that there is a wide variation in grasses and that improved grasses can be selected out of almost every grass family. Since sand dropseed is the most common grass seed in the sand pastures, it is possible to develop a strain of that grass that would grow well in this area and furnish a more desirable forage than the grass that we now have.

While Mr. Hoffman was here, we started two demonstration plots for shinnery and broomweed control. The shinnery control plot is located two miles north of Denver City on the east side of Highway 214. A small area in the corner of Gene Bennetts pasture was already fenced off and made a good place to put some oak killing chemicals. The material used is called CMU and it is made by the DuPont Company. The chemical was in pel-

A REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

By R. L. Bowers, Jr.
House of Representatives

This week in the House was the busiest we have had all session. I think the most important thing that was accomplished was Congressional Redistributing Bill the passage to 3rd reading of the by Cole of Houston. This bill would do away with the present Congressman-at-Large and give that seat to Houston. The Houston Congressman at the present time is representing the largest number of people of any man in Congress. This bill will, also, take away Kent, Haskell, Stonewall, Scurry, and Mitchell counties from Representative Mahon's present district. The last redistricting took place in 1933, and I think it is long over due.

Bills of this nature generally cause considerable debate on the floor, and this was no exception. The delegation from Dallas was unanimously against it because they hate to admit Houston is that much bigger than Dallas. It does the representatives from rural areas good to see the big city delegations fight among themselves. The fights are usually city-country fights.

Another long debated piece of legislation that was passed out of the House this week was the House Joint Resolution 34 by McDonald of Fort Worth. It allows that 1% of the permanent school fund can be invested in blue chip stocks and bonds. This may not seem like much money, but, when you figure the permanent school fund is now around $350 million, it makes a sizeable investment. The money made from these investments would be transferred to the available school fund. This resolution passed the House by an overwhelming majority.

Over in the Senate this week they passed a bill that I was very interested in. It was House Bill 53 by Rep. Bishop and myself. This bill provides that a farmer may use his pickup for personal use. The way the law is at the present, it is unlawful for a farmer to use his pickup to go to church or to town to buy groceries. Of course, this law has not been enforced very strenuously, but I feel it should be amended.

Sincerely,
R. L. BOWERS, JR.

Changes Made in Bracero Housing

Changes in the minimum acceptable standards for housing braceros have been made by U. S. Labor Department. They replace those issued Jan. 7.

Wm. J. T. Robertson, Labor Department field representative in Big Spring, said the changes were made on the basis of (1) operating experience in the field and (2) consultations with the two committees which advise the department on farm labor policies and programs.

The two groups are the Special Farm Labor Committee, composed of agricultural representatives from each state, and the Labor Advisory Committee on Farm Labor, made up of organized labor representatives.

Said Robertson: "The changes in the minimum standards include addition of appeals procedures for employers. They also spell out in more detail the kind of housing and sanitary facilities which must be provided by employers."

Robertson continued: "The amended standards cover adequacy of shelter and space per worker, including water supply, cleanliness, sanitation, ventilation, heating, and facilities for eating and laundry."

Regional Director Ed McDonald of the Bureau of Employment Security in Dallas, said that he is mailing a copy of the amended standards to all approved employers and associations of employers of braceros.

let form and was applied on the surface with a small hand seeder simulating the work of an airplane application. The CMU will dissolve and go into the ground with the first rain. If it has any effect on the shinnery, we should be able to see it during the first year. We will be interested in watching this demonstration to see if this chemical may be one that can be used in the future for shinnery control. At the present time the CMU pellets are not on the market. They make the same material in a powder form that is being used for oak control in other parts of the state.

Social Security Representative to Be Here April 25

It was announced that a representative from the Social Security office will be in Plains on April 25 at 3:00 p.m. at the county service office in the courthouse.

Rules governing farm workers under social security changed beginning January 1957. Mr. Hutton manager of the Lubbock social security office, reminded farm employers today of that fact and said changes were included in recent amendments to the Social Security Act.

"If a farm employer pays a farm worker $150 or more in cash during 1957, the cash pay is covered by the law," Mr. Hutton said.

"Also, even if the worker fails to earn as much as $150 cash pay from a farm employer but works for that employer on 20 or more days in 1957 for cash pay figured on a time basis rather than on a piece-rate basis, the pay is covered."

The total number of days worked and the manner of figuring the pay do not count if the worker meets the $150-a-year test.

Farm employers are required to keep accurate records of the amounts paid to farm workers who will meet either the wage or time test during the year. Their cash pay for 1957 must be reported next January.

Miss Lena Norris and Wanda Anderson attended a district meeting in Odessa for Stanley dealers and guests.

Easter Morning

The cross and the tomb have both been snatched from their association with death. Christmas is now sanctified in Easter. Dark Friday has become Good Friday. The cross and the tomb have been transformed by love and self-giving. His promise, "Three days and I shall build this temple again," has been fulfilled. He lives and we, too, shall live, in the measure in which we learn to kiss the Cross, our cross as well as His. His journey to Golgotha transfigured the cross forever, turning a symbol of suffering into a symbol of triumphant life. It is the time for beginning again. This is the resurrection day... it is Easter.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statemen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday.

"You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Treatment of Soil Bank Land

The Soil Conservation Service has been delegated the responsibility of giving assistance on handling land placed in the soil bank. Our part consists of making soils maps available to assist the landowner in deciding which land to place in the soil bank, and assisting in getting adapted soil improving crops on the land. The soil bank program is divided into two parts, the conservation reserve and the acreage reserve.

Conservation Reserve

This is the program where land is placed in contract for 5 to 10 years. This is the land that is to be planted to some type of perennial grass. In selecting land to be placed in this program, consideration should be given to areas that are rocky, shallow, or highly susceptible to wind erosion.

The first step in establishing grass on this land is to get a good thick stand of stubble to plant the grass in. Such crops as grain sorghums, forage sorghums, sudan, broomcorn, or millet may be used to furnish stubble to plant the grass in. This cover should be drilled or planted in narrow rows. This cover should not be allowed to make seed since the volunteer feed will compete with the young grass next spring.

Any adapted perennial grass may be planted after cover has been established. This grass should be drilled next spring in the dead stubble. Weeping overgrass and blue panic are two grasses which are recommended for this purpose, however sorghom alnum, sideoats grama, blue grama, switchgrass, cane bluestem, and several others may be used.

Acreage Reserve

Cotton land or wheat land may be placed in the acreage reserve for one year at a time. This land can be planted to just about any crop so long as it is not harvested or grazed. This is a very good opportunity to grow some soil improving legumes such as clover, peas, or sesbania. If a legume is planted it should be inoculated to obtain maximum soil improvement.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—"Sine die" is the magic phrase around the Capitol nowadays. It's the phrase traditionally applied to the final adjournment time agreed on by both houses of the Legislature.

Only three weeks remain of the 120 days recommended in the Constitution for sessions. After that (May 7) lawmakers' pay stops.

Sentiment appears strong for a sine die resolution set on or very near that deadline. It's been a rough session, say many members. Investigations, bribery charges, counter charges and threat of more have frayed nerves, provoked hot words, deep rifts.

They've made it harder to plough through the usual hundreds of measures requiring study, debate and some sort of agreement. Many are still backed up in discouraging stacks.

Even so, say members, they hope to shove through the "musts" and go home on time. But likely differences of opinion on what constitutes "musts" promise even more tension and temper for the final weeks.

TEACHER RAISE—One of the biggest issues still gathering steam in the Legislature is the teacher pay raise. Despite strong backing, the drive has been beset with stumbling blocks.

Public school teachers want a $399-a-year boost. Total cost for the biennium is variously estimated from $45,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Sponsors have become increasingly impatient of delays. Bill was stymied by House rule which prohibits consideration of any other spending bill until the general appropriations bill is finally approved. This is in conference committee.

Then the attorney general ruled the teachers' bill was not an appropriation bill. This seemingly opened the door to quicker action. But budget-watchers intervened. They said passage of the teacher bill first would leave the treasury $20,000,000 short of enough to cover the general appropriation bill.

This focused attention on Rep. Tom Joseph's "just in case it's needed" tax bill. It would tax dedicated natural gas reserves, produce an estimated $35,000,000 in two years. Gov. Price Daniel had recommended a levy of this sort should more revenue be needed.

But this one, by some slip, was introduced without an enacting clause. Joseph sought the necessary two-thirds House vote to permit a correction. Vote was 68 to 66 against.

ETHICS BILL ZIPS OUT—After weeks of haggling in the House, the code of ethics bill whizzed through the Senate in one day.

It goes to the governor's desk with 29-0 Senate approval.

Bill provides that no legislator, state official or employe shall engage in any outside activity "in substantial conflict with the public interest." Penalty is expulsion or dismissal.

NARCOTICS BILL PASSED—A possible death penalty for dope peddlers seems almost certain to become law.

House and Senate have passed the bill which was recommended by Gov. Price Daniel. It would permit juries to assess the death penalty on second conviction for sale of any narcotic drug to a minor.

AUTO REGISTRATION TAX—State car taxing system would be overhauled under a measure which won preliminary House approval.

If passed, the constitutional amendment would abolish the property tax on motor vehicles. Legislature would be given authority to increase registration fees by one-third. Revenue would be divided between school districts and city or county.

Meanwhile, Texas Research League released a study suggesting further revision of the registration laws. License fees based on weight result in inequities, said the League. It proposed a flat fee for all size cars.

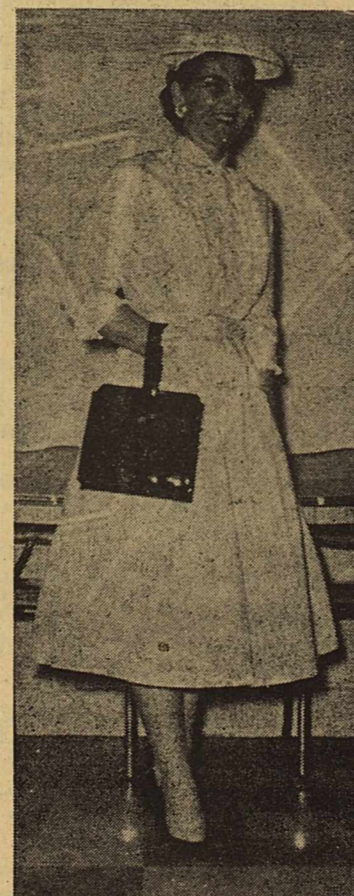

SEGREGATION BILL OKAYED—A bill regarded as the cornerstone of a program to maintain school segregation won its second-round House vote.

It would allow local board to assign pupils to schools on basis of "qualifications, aptitudes," etc. An amendment also gives the boards authority to exempt a child from compulsory attendance at an integrated school.

SENATE CONFIRMS—Joe P. Gibbs will serve on the Board of Insurance Commissioners until Sept. 1. Measures now before the Legislature would abolish the present board and substitute a new set-up between now and September.

Also confirmed, after long debate, was the appointment of R. M. Dixon as a member of the State Board of Water Engineers.

This appointment kept unbroken the record that none of the recess appointees of Gov. Allan Shivers has been removed from office by Senate rejection. Other Shivers appointees confirmed by the upper house were R. F. Newman of Borger to the Employment Commission, and nine other interim appointments made by the former governor.

JACKIE MYERS was ready for a trip to town in her pink and white checked brocade gingham sissy shirtwaist dress. Complementing her frock was a white straw hat trimmed with lace.

Fine Arts Club Hears Program On Church Music

The Fine Arts Club met in the new home of Mrs. Wallace Randolph Thursday April 4. Mrs. Randolph and Mrs. Thelma Ellis, co-hostess, served dinner to seventeen members and one guest.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the golden brown fried chicken, gravy, hot biscuits, creamed potatoes, black eyed peas, a relish dish, iced tea and caramel pie.

The theme for the meeting was "Our Church Music."

Mrs. G. W. Cleveland president, presided at the business meeting. Roll call was answered with a favorite spiritual. Mrs. G. W. Cleveland gave an interesting resume of "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" by Rev. Isaac Watts and Lawell Mason.

Mrs. H. F. Barnes, columnist, gave an enlightening talk on "Our Church Music" emphasizing that religious music should be old enough to be fitting and should arouse a spiritual feeling.

Mrs. Wallace Randolph, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Pat Henard who told the wonderful story of "He Shall Feed His Flock" by Handel from "The Messiah." Mrs. Henard also played a recording of "The Messiah." Mrs. Rod Duff also played a recording of "The Songs of Easter," a Fred Waring arrangement that tells the story of the passion death and resurrection of our Lord based on favorite negro spirituals with narrations from the Bible.

The club rehearsed songs which they are planning to sing at the baccalaureate service.

CAROL ANDERSON was all dolled up and ready for a party or an evening "on the town" in her pink drip-dry dress of muslin, trimmed in white applique.
