Morton Takes Win From Cowboys In 20-7 Game Friday

The Morton Indians injected a note of sadness into the Plains Homecoming Friday night when they upset the Cowboys by a score of 20-7.

Morton scored in the first, third and fourth quarters. The first touchdown was scored by Eddie Seame with a 5-yard bounce. A fumble gave the Indians possession on the Plains 25 yard line. Ed Dewbre kicked the extra point.

In the third quarter, Butch Nairn, fullback, rumbled six yards for the second Morton touchdown. Dewbre converted.

Morton finished with a six-pointer in the last quarter made by Eddie Thompson, who ran wild last week for the Indians.

Venny Fitzgerald, a right halfback, put Plains on the ledger with a four-yard touchdown plunge in the fourth quarter. The score was set up by a 75-yard kickoff return by Dwain Rowland, left halfback. Rowland kicked the extra point.

During the half-time ceremonies Judy Palmer, escorted by Mike Sink, was crowned football queen. Her attendants were Jeanine St. Romain, escorted by Shorty Baker and Carol Anderson, escorted by Vernon Etheridge.

This Friday night the Plains Cowboys will go to Grandfalls to play.

Grandfalls has a large team featuring seven returning regulars from last year's team. They are led by 220 lb. fullback, Robert Browning and speedy 150 lb. halfback, Cisco Garcia.

They also have a large line featuring a 202 lb. center, John McGrew and 192 lb. left guard, John Williams.

H. V. Kinney Earns State Honors for Conservation

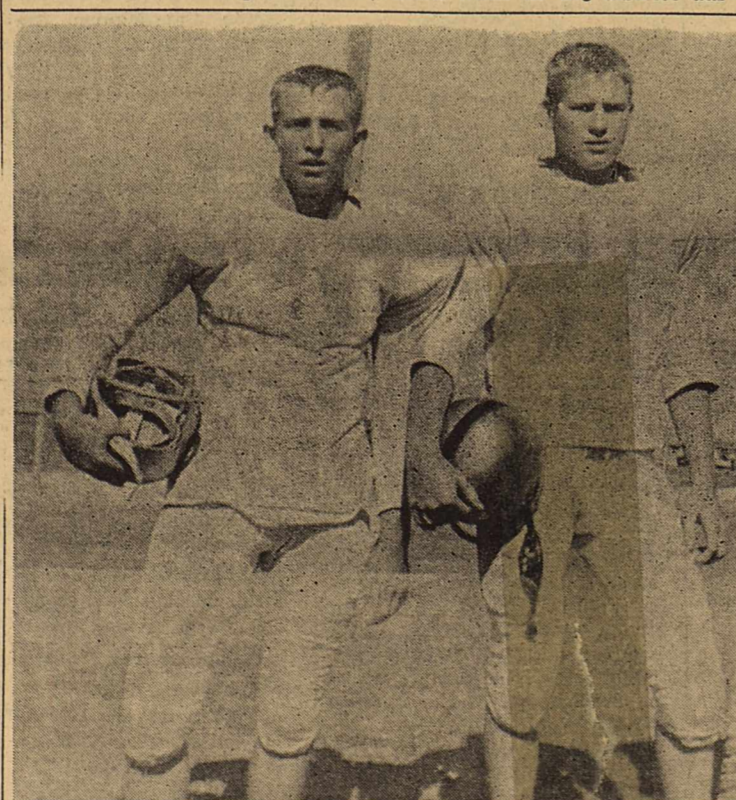

H. V. Kinney, who farms south east of here, has just been notified that he has been named as one of 25 Texas farmers and ranchers selected to receive an unusual reward in recognition of the excellent soil and water conservation work done on his land. This work has just come from W. C. Howard, president of the Association of Texas Soil Conservation Districts, which is co-sponsoring the awards program with the Great Southwest Life Insurance Company of Dallas.

This unusual award will be a beautiful 18 x 24 inch oil colored and framed aerial photograph of Mr. Kinney's farm. It will be presented to him after it has been exhibited at different fairs and shows in the state.

Mr. Kinney is a cooperater of the Yoakum Soil Conservation District, which named him as their farmer doing the most outstanding soil and water conservation work in the district during 1956. He has done an outstanding job of caring for and improving his land through a number of conservation practices. Mr. Kinney had his land deep broke to pull some of the clay to the top of the ground to aid in controlling wind erosion. Since then he has been chiseling his land, which allows the crop residues to remain on top of the ground to aid in controlling wind erosion and moisture penetration. It will also break up any hard pan that might have formed.

One of the outstanding conservation practices used on the farm is the rotation of crops. Mr. Kinney uses cowpeas to rotate between crops of cotton and grain sorghums. Cowpeas are a nitrogen fixing legume which adds nitrogen and organic matter to the soil.

This is the first year of this awards program and Mr. Kinney is to be congratulated for being selected as one of the winners.

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS for the Cowboys in Friday night's game against the Morton

Reveal Plans to Build Gas Plant

Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. has authorized the construction of Gas Products Plant No. 29 in Lea County, New Mexico, to conserve and process oil-well gas from three pools in the West Texas-New Mexico area, H. B. Smith, chairman of the board, informed the Review today.

"Sufficient oil-well gas purchase contracts have been obtained to warrant construction of the plant," Smith said. The company is continuing to contract for additional gas.

Pipeline surveys have been completed in the area.

The plant will process gas produced in the Gladiola and North Gladiola pools of Lea county, New Mexico, and the Bronco pool of Lea County, New Mexico, and Yoakum County, Texas. The plant will be located in the Gladiola field, in township 12 south, range 38 east. Although no definite site will be given, it is assumed the plant will be in the vicinity of about 5-8 miles northwest of Bronco.

The proposed plant will provide for a complete wet gas gathering system with a capacity of 10,000,000 cubic feet daily, and a system for returning dehydrated, desulfurized residue gas for lease operations.

To prepare for expansion, the initial compressor installation will be capable of handling a volume of gas equal to 185 per cent of the gas now being produced from existing wells in the three fields.

In the interest of economics and conservation, Sinclair plans to recover a raw unfractured liquid hydrocarbon mixture at the earliest possible time. The desulfurized and dehydrated residue gas will be available for sale then. Completion of this phase of construction is expected to be completed in the first quarter.

J. W. has previously been employed as a pumper for the D. & D. Oil Co. and has also been employed by Mr. Smith at the Conoco Station; therefore the business is not new to him.

1st CCC Grain Sorghum Goes to Dickie Green

Dickie Green, who farms land in the east part of the county, obtained the first CCC loan on 1957 produced grain sorghum, it was announced this week by W. M. Overton, A.S.C. office manager.

The grain was stored at the Western Grain Company in Brownfield, and graded No. 2 with a test weight of 54 and moisture not in excess of 13 per cent. The grain netted the producer $1.57 per 100 pounds after all storage and service charges were deducted, Overton reported.

CCC grain notes mature March 31, 1958, and the grain may be redeemed any time prior to maturity by paying the principal plus 3 1/2 percent interest from date of loan through the date paid, Overton explained.

It is expected that the Green loan is the first of a large number of grain sorghum loans that will be made by the local ASC office on 1957 produced grain sorghum.

Farmers who have grain to place in the CCC loan should bring their warehouse receipt to the local ASC office and have the notes executed, the manager said. All lienholders, including landlords must sign the notes. Power of attorney papers may be obtained at the ASC office in Plains.

The ROUND-UP

Somebody's Track

— was it yours? Did you know that your footprint identifies you almost as well as your fingerprint. The law uses it to trap the lawless.

God uses it to show you where you were when you became conscience smitten. Your tracks tell on you... they give you away. You were where you should not have been and your tracks prove it.

Your son was following your tracks when he got into serious trouble. Mr., you write either a good story or a bad one by the tracks you make.

Why not resolve to walk toward the church next Sunday... any church... for they are all better than you. Every church in this community offers you a place to work, an opportunity to help others, and the privilege to make tracks for God. Then why not turn your tracks into a testimonial for the Lord, to be read of men, by printing them on the way that leads to church every Sunday.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Danger Lurks In Halls At P. H. S.

"Lookout!" and "danger ahead" are some of the warnings that may run through your mind if you've ever entered the high school building between classes and if you are about to do so now, and if you haven't, don't do it unless you have intentions of not reaching your destination. You're liable to get tromped.

The minute the bell rings all the doors fly open and everyone swarms out into the hall like so many bees. Everyone starts pushing, and the students who have bottom lockers get trampled. Of course, everyone wants to get to his next class before the tardy bell rings. By the time the student gets to his classroom, he is "too pooped to pop". What P.H.S. needs is bigger halls and longer periods between classes; also a long lunch period.

Sore Muscles Are In Order for Girls Enrolled In P. E.

Monday, the girls' P.E. classes started tumbling under supervision of the P.E. teacher, Miss Havens. This could be a sore spot with many of the girls. (They were seen hobbling down to the showers). Miss Havens believes everyone can learn if she practices, but she strongly recommends that everybody have a medical kit, telephone, and live close to a doctor. She feels the weak points of the girls are necks, backs, arms and legs. The girls seem happy with the new sport — except for a few who aren't insured.

Miss Haven's pet peeves are Carol McRae, Jeanine St. Roman, Jan Copeland and Nell Nolan. Last hour, Glenda Bearden goes through the lockers trying to find which one is hers. Elaine Mauk and Glenda Stewart can be seen sword fighting with tennis rackets while Miss Haven stands quietly unnoticed in a corner giving demerits. Third hour finds freshmen forgetting to turn off showers. Annett Suderth hogging the mirror. The classes haven't been told the next sport they will tackle, but Miss Havens is sure her Plains girls can do it. Yea, Plains!

Seniors Planning Initiation Oct. 3rd For "Poor Frosh"

The Seniors of P.H.S. are kept pretty busy these days, planning initiation. All seniors look forward to this day, but the freshmen dread it. Seniors have not completed plans for the big day yet, at this writing, but the day is October 3.

The seniors have been selling heat-tags as a money-raising project. They also served dinner to the ex-students of Plains. They had mums and had the concession stand for homecoming.

Next week the Senior Class sells subscriptions to magazines. They plan to have the bingo booth at the carnival.

The seniors elected two excellent sponsors, Mrs. Rowland and Miss Havens.

Pictures were taken for the annual recently. The girls wore black sweaters with white collars and the boys wore white shirts, ties and sport coats.

Billy McGee, a senior boy, was elected pep squad hero, and received a gift at the bonfire last week.

The rings for the '57-'58 senior class will arrive in three weeks. They are similar to the ones of last year.

Plans will be made to raise money for the banquet and senior trip later on in the year.

Pep Squad Names Billy McGee 'Hero'

The pep squad met Wednesday, September 25 and elected Billy McGee as their football hero. At the bonfire Thursday night, Billy was presented with a gift from the pep squad.

Billy plays guard on the Cowboy team, weighs about 166 pounds, has hazel green eyes and light brown hair.

Plains Scoop

Seems a new boy in P.H.S. is being admired by a sophomore girl and a junior girl. How about this, Bill?

Looks like Lela Parks and Walt Coffman are still one of the "ball and chain gang".

Kaye Spencer and Donnie Kissinger seem to be doing fine these days.

Mark Barron beware! J. P. has her eye on you.

Who are the junior girl and the senior boy who have been making eyes in first hour English?

A certain sophomore girl informs a junior boy to get on the ball.

Speech class is learning new ways to read poetry — better watch out, Romeo and Juliet.

Wanda Shifflett wants Cupid to pierce a certain boy for her.

Notice — new good looking junior boy, Glen Dale Masters, is available, girls.

EXES ARE SERVED SUPPER FRIDAY NIGHT AT SCHOOL

At homecoming Friday afternoon the exes were served supper in the school cafeteria at 5:30. The menu consisted of baked chicken, mashed potatoes, green beans, combination salad, hot rolls, butter, iced tea, coffee and pie and cake. One hundred and ten exes were served.

After the supper the exes elected officers for the coming year. The officers are president, Newlon Rowland; vice president, Helen Beal; secretary, Jeany Kennedy; treasurer, Betty Trout; historian, Joyce Bearden; and reporter, Maureen Phillips.

For Students Only!

Have you ever noticed any strange characteristics in your teacher? Here are a few we have recognized around "Plains High". If these were combined, the result would be "Monstrous!"

Mr. Belks nose.

Miss Leithausser's expression.

Mr. Kennedy's ability to deliver long and boring speeches.

Mr. Sewell's laugh.

Mrs. Brown's boisterous voice.

Mr. Taylor's hair line.

★ STATELINE NEWS ★

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

By LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

With the beginning of the cotton ginning season there is always a collection of burs at almost every gin in Yoakum County. These burs are very beneficial to the land when they are hauled back to the farm and used as a soil builder. We have evidence of the value of burs on several farms this year. Where burs were spread last year or two years ago, the crops are much better than on untreated land. The first crop may not give enough increase in yield to pay for the cost of hauling and spreading the burs but the succeeding crops will continue to be better for several years.

A large number of soil samples have been sent to the soil testing laboratory at College Station and the results from these tests are running in a very close pattern. Beside being low in nitrogen and phosphorus, our soil samples are invariably low in organic matter. Cotton burs are considered a fertilizer because they furnish the needed organic matter for the soil. It is possible for a soil to become so depleted in organic matter that crop yields cannot be increased by the addition of commercial fertilizer and water. When commercial fertilizers are added and the land is irrigated or has sufficient rainfall to activate most of the fertilizer, then the small amount of organic matter that is in the soil is used up at a faster rate.

Large amounts of organic matter are removed from the soil each year when a crop of cotton is grown and harvested. The leaves and stalks that are left on the land will not replace the organic matter that is taken out when the crop makes as much as a quarter of a bale to the acre. The higher the yield the more organic matter will be removed each year because it is used up while the plant is forming the lint, seed, and burs that are hauled to the gin. A crop of forage sorghum that produces silage or burl will also take large amounts of organic matter from the soil. If the grain sorghum is harvested with a combine and the stubble field is not grazed, the soil will not be depleted of organic matter as rapidly but it will still have less organic matter being returned to the soil than was required to make the crop.

The only way to get an increase in organic matter in the soil is to grow it on the land and leave it there or grow it somewhere else and haul it there. The hauling of cotton burs is less expensive than growing a crop to turn under as a green manure crop. The green crop will take out a certain amount of organic matter to produce the tonnage that is turned under but the green manure crop will return much more than was taken out. A crop of sweet sorghums will produce five to fifteen tons of silage per acre which is about one third water and if it were plowed under while it was green the soil would get two to five tons of dry organic matter added to it. Farmers who have used cotton burs have applied from four to twelve tons to the acre. The lighter applications have been made on dry land farms and some of the irrigated farmers like the heavy applications.

Farmers should make arrangements with the gins and let them know that the burs will be used for soil improvement. The ginner would like for the farmer to haul the burs away as soon as they are ground or heated or whatever is necessary to comply with the pink bollworm program. The main thing is to get the burs on the land where they will do some good instead of burning them.

Letter Writing Week Will Be Observed Oct. 6-12

International Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Plains during the week October 6 to 12, Postmaster Watson announced today.

Commenting on the establishment of International Letter Writing Week, Mr. Watson pointed out that each year since 1938 the post office department has joined in the observance of National Letter Writing Week — an annual event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a symbol of American freedom.

"As a result of its success", Postmaster Watson stated, "National Letter Writing Week will be conducted on an international basis this year for the first time. International Letter Writing Week is based on the idea that written communication between people in all the countries of the world will contribute toward the building of a lasting peace."

"I am sure we are all aware that a personal letter is, next to an actual visit, the most intimate means each of us has to communicate with our fellow human beings. Letters between peoples of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understandings. The problems of freedom-loving peoples will be more quickly solved if they are letter understood."

"I urge all citizens of Plains to join in this first celebration of International Letter Writing Week and at the same time write that overdue letter to friends and relatives in America."

The week of October 6-12 has also been proclaimed as National Fire Prevention Week.

Postmaster Robert Watson stated that the Plains Post Office department plans to cooperate wholeheartedly with the President's declaration of National Fire Prevention Week.

STORE REMODELS

Remodeling of the exterior of the Plains Frozen Food grocery is underway this week. A brick front is being installed as well as a new all-glass front door.

Sinclair

Installation of equipment to make specific liquid products, such as natural gasoline, propane and butane, is expected to be completed by the third quarter of 1958.

After process equipment is installed, the plant will produce approximately 15,600 gallons of propane, 11,600 gallons of butane, and 8,800 gallons of natural gasoline, or a total of 36,000 gallons daily. Liquid products will be sold by tank truck and pipeline, and treated residue gas will be sold to a commercial gas pipeline.

Sinclair operates 15 gas products plants, and owns an interest in 17 other plants.

Church

Other church improvement projects included the use of church bulletins, starting a youth choir, observing youth week for the first time and sponsoring "Christian Homecoming" weeks.

Average attendance in Sunday school increased from 132 to 174 over last year. Church additions increased from 42 in 1956 to 103 this year.

Community improvement projects included a soil stewardship week, an alcohol education week and youth recreational programs.

Skating parties and church-sponsored banquets for high school and junior students were a part of a program to combat juvenile delinquency.

Increased mission giving highlighted the worldwide emphasis of the program. In addition to the 20 per cent given through the cooperative program, the church gave eight per cent to special mission offerings and benevolent work.

Special services were conducted for migrant workers and the church emphasized the need for missionary volunteers among the young people.

Advantages of a Christian education were presented, Pastor Coffman said, through every phase of the church program.
