Only 41 Ballots Cast In Light City Election

First Annual C of C Banquet Held On Friday

The Plains Chamber of Commerce held its first annual banquet Friday night, March 28 at the Plains school cafeteria. Attending the affair were 107 members and their guests.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Paul Marable, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from Abilene. Rod Duff, vice president of the Plains Chamber, was master of ceremonies. He introduced Bill Loyd, president of the organization, who gave a summary of the accomplishments and outlined the plans for the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year. Duff also introduced Ralph Townes from the Denver City Chamber of Commerce and Joe Satterwhite, manager of the Brownfield chamber, who made short talks.

Buford Duff, former manager of the Crosbyton chamber of commerce and now city secretary for the City of Plains, introduced Mr. Marable, who made an inspiring talk before the group.

Visiting from Brownfield were Satterwhite and Mrs. Satterwhite, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lilly Mr. and Mrs. John Hansard, C. E. Ross and Charles Kersh.

Denver City visitors included Townes and Mrs. Townes and Mr. and Mrs. Art Paul Paul is manager of the Denver City chamber.

Present from Lovington, New Mexico was Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Morgan. Mr. Morgan is associated with the Lea County Electric Cooperative.

Dinner was served by Mrs. Jo Brown and the homemaking department of the Plains high school.

Dinner music was offered by Miss Jeannine St. Romain, who also accompanied, Jim Campbell, band director of the Plains School as he sang, "When I Walk Alone" and "An English Folk Song."

Mrs. Jim Pharr and Mrs. C. B. McCan spent Saturday in Lubbock visiting their daughters, Gwynette and Sandra Pharr, and Dixie McCan.

BILL BOYD, president of the Chamber of Commerce, discusses a topic of interest with Paul Marable, Abilene, following the Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night. Marable was guest speaker at the dinner.

Voting was the lightest of any election held since the city was incorporated Tuesday in the city officials election. Only 41 ballots were cast in the election for mayor and three city council and city marshal. Re-elected were W. R. Curry, mayor, with 38 votes, Pete Sampson councilman with 36 votes and Amos Smith councilman with 35 votes. Kenneth Hale, who replaces Johnnie Fitzgerald, outgoing member of the council, received 36 votes. Sampson and Hale will serve two-year terms and Smith will serve a one-year term on the city council.

Billy Kennedy was re-elected city marshal with 38 votes. All candidates were unopposed on the ballot.

The officials named on the ballot took the oath of office for the new terms Thursday night in a meeting of the council at the city hall.

Curry has served a two-year term as mayor and one year as a council member. Sampson has served one two year term as councilman, an unexpired term for Rod Duff who resigned last year, and also served one unexpired term as mayor. Smith has served five years as councilman. Hale will be beginning his first term on the council, and Kennedy will be beginning his second term as city marshal.

Annual Meeting Of Livestock Association Held

The annual meeting of the members of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association was held Thursday night in the District Courtroom.

Three board of director members were re-elected for a two year term, including Gene Bennett, Rusty McGinty, and Bill Powell. Two new members, Pete Bryson and Bob Loe, were elected. The men will serve with Ty Field, Harold Watson, G. W. Cleveland, Johnnie Fitzgerald, Pat Henard and Harvey Stotts.

Motion pictures which were made at the previous Junior Livestock show were shown.

All exhibitors in the 1958 show received awards from the Plains State Bank and the First National in Brownfield which were presented by Bill Loyd, president of the Plains State Bank.

Refreshments were served to approximately one hundred twenty-five members and guests.

Spring Music Concert Will Be Given April 15

The annual Spring Concert of the Music Department of the Plains Schools will be held Tuesday night, April 15, at 8 p.m. This announcement was made this week by J. D. Campbell director of the Plains schools bands and the high school chorus.

Groups performing will be the 5th grade band, the 6th grade band the senior band of students in grades 7 through 12, and the high school girls chorus.

One interesting feature of the program is the fact that the 5th grade band will play two compositions Mr. Campbell has written especially for them. The senior band will play the three numbers which they will play in the Interscholastic League band contest April 25, in addition to a wide variety of other pieces, ranging from "Bound for the Promised Land" to the "Fascination Waltz." The 6th grade band will play a brief program which will include the "Valse Suite from Espana" by Chabrier, and the chorus will give a short program ranging from religious and folk music to the popular music of today.

Mr. Campbell estimates the length of the entire program at one hour, and he states that the entire community of Plains and the surrounding area is invited to attend.

Jimmie Lee Camp Is Discharged

Jimmie Lee Camp, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Camp, received his discharge from the Army, last Wednesday, after serving in the Air Force the past four years.

He has been stationed at San Antonio, Biloxi, Miss. and Salina, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp went to Kansas last week and Jimmie Lee returned home with them. His immediate plans are indefinite however he hopes to enroll in the University of Eastern N. M. at Portales in September.

UN Delegate Revealed

Brenda Sudderth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sudderth, has been chosen to make an expense paid trip to the United Nations headquarters this summer, sponsored by the Plains IOOF Lodge number 61, Rebekah Lodge Number 182, Canton number 37 and Encampment number 82.

Announcement of the selection of the PHS junior for the honor was made this week by Plains High School officials.

Jo Ann Bailey, also a junior, was selected as alternate.

The winning student will join a chartered bus at Denton June 20. The group will be guests at a banquet sponsored by the Denton Lodge June 19.

A total of 700 students, all sponsored by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, will make the "United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth" this summer.

State Odd Fellow and Rebekah adult leaders, one for every 10 young people will chaperon the students and serve as group leaders.

The trip will include many side excursions to places of interest including Washington, D. C. It will cover a three week period, which will include six days of study and observation at the United Nations Headquarters where they can see first hand how the affairs of the World are handled. They will sit on the Council Chambers and with the use of earphones, listen to the discussions carried on in any of the five official languages. They will attend committee meetings, dine in the Delegate dining room where they will be given an extra opportunity to become acquainted with people from other Nations.

Upon returning, Brenda will give reports on the workings of United Nations and her trip when called upon.

Goodwill Campaign Enables Paper to Better Serve Area

The home-town newspaper is familiar to every American old enough to read. Yet how well do these readers understand its problems and purposes—its importance in their lives, and the life of the community, state and nation?

A home-town newspaper, such as this one, is so many things. It is similar to, and yet unlike many other businesses, professions and institutions in this community. Its services are so varied that it is part of all the others.

Mirror of the Community It might be called a mirror of the community, a library of local information, a market place, a partnership in which the owners, advertisers, readers and the whole community have a common interest.

It is not a food store, for it cannot feed the people of the community, but its advertising columns do nurture the food store.

Although it cannot render banking service, it is a well known fact that the newspaper is the bank's protector against the damage which misinformation or misguided interference might cause.

It does not practice medicine, but it does play a vital part in preventing disease and the spread of epidemics.

It lays no claim to being a lawyer or court of law, but it stands ready to prevent or correct injustice.

Librarians Attend State Meeting In Fort Worth

Mrs. Bert Bartlett, County librarian and Mrs. Norelle Sloan, assistant librarian, returned Friday from Fort Worth where they had attended a Texas Library Association meeting, Tuesday through Friday.

On Wednesday they attended a workshop program under the direction of Mrs. Florence S. Craig, of Cleveland, Ohio, director of Adult Education who gave an interesting discussion on "Books and Patrons-The Two Ingredients of good librarianship."

On Thursday Mrs. Esther Meeks, of Chicago, Illinois representative of Follette Book's Co. and Children's Book's editor, made selections of children's books ideal for libraries. Mrs. Bartlett and Mrs. Sloan were well pleased to notice the selections coincided with books already purchased for the Plains library.

Another speaker on the program was Dr. James Jarrett, who spoke on "Great Books Foundation."

The meetings were held in the crystal ball room of the Fort Worth Hotel.

While in Fort Worth Mrs. Bartlett and Mrs. Sloan visited the Flowercade at Leonard's, sponsored by the Garden Clubs. The theme was Texas under six flags and a floral arrangement of the map of Texas was outlined.

240 Attend Barbecue, Meeting Tuesday Night

The Plains Chemical Company were hosts to approximately two hundred and forty farmers, ranchers and guests, Tuesday night at a barbecue which was held at the Plains School Cafeteria Monday night.

Following the dinner, Bernie Venciete, owner of the Plains Chemical Co. recognized several visitors, then introduced Dr. Nick Kramer, Grain Sorghum Breeder, from Texas Agricultural Experiment Station whose general theme was how to increase profit from grain sorghum.

He listed eleven steps in increasing or at least maintaining productivity. He stated that the Lubbock experiment station has secured forty acres in Terry County to help in experimental work for this area. He stressed that Hybrids offer best opportunity for increasing profit. He pointed out that you need to plant one and one-half pounds for each 1000 pounds yield desired. The theme of a talk given by Hollis Oliver, Agronomist, Soil Laboratory of Roswell was how to get dollars returned for dollars invested in fertilizer. He stated that split applications seem most profitable.

Alf Carpenter introduced Mr. Loehffer, a member of the South Plains Cotton Council. He stated that the Plains Cotton Growers Association is made up of twenty-three counties.

Mr. Carpenter presided during the election of delegates for the South Plains Cotton Growers Association. Two delegates, one business man and one cotton grower, will represent Yoakum County at the Lubbock meetings and other area meetings.

Bill Loyd, president of Plains State Bank, was elected as Yoakum County representative.

AUSTIN, Tex.—It's "needling" representatives of organized groups" with using the recession to gain their own ends.

That brought AFL-CIO leaders into the fray. State President Jerry Holleman fired back that Acers was flagrantly wasting state funds for propaganda purposes. Acers was also accused of denying just claims for unemployment compensation and forcing workers to go to court for rightful benefits.

Acers had a reply for that, too. Merely another attempt by AFL-CIO to influence commission policies he said.

TEC supervises collection of unemployment taxes from employers and payment of benefits to unemployed workers.

NO HELP FROM IKE—More tears than oil flow these days in Texas petroleum circles. President Eisenhower's token tightening of the voluntary oil import quota plan just won't help, oilmen say.

They had pled for an import crackdown to relieve the slump in demand for domestic oil. What they got was "much too little and much too late," said J. J. O'Brien of San Antonio, president of Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

Governor Daniel called the action from Washington wholly inadequate. Railroad Commissioners William J. Murray didn't see how the effect could be effective.

Eisenhower's plan called for a minute curtailment of voluntary imports of crude oil but left products untouched and the import door wide open to newcomers.

Texas fields were on a nine-day production pattern throughout March with an eight-day pattern ordered for April. TWO PLUS TWO—In most educational circles, prime interest has shifted from "Why Johnny Can't Read" to "Why Johnny Can't Calculate the Orbit of a Satellite."

But even before Sputnik, the State Board of Education set up a special 20-member commission to study the effectiveness of mathematics teaching in Texas public schools.

School administrators, teachers and board members making up the commission began their one-year study at a meeting in Austin. Board aims are to discover whether requirements are adequate, courses sound and teaching methods effective.

NO BREAK YET—Payments to the jobless hit a record high of $1,568,958 in one week, according to the Texas Employment Commission's latest report.

Number of persons filing compensation claims inched up from 89,309 the previous week to 92,435.

TEC's mid-February report

TEC IN FUSS PARADE—Internal fussing contagious with state boards has spread to the Texas Employment Commission. AFL-CIO is stoking the fire from outside.

TEC's member representing labor, R. F. Newman, blasted the fuss into orbit by accusing the other two members, Chairman Perry Brown and Maurice Acers, of dealing him out of policy decisions. Brown represents the public and Acers the employers.

Argument focused initially on policy toward employees within TEC itself. Newman contended morale of TEC's 2,000 employees was shot. They live in fear, he said, of knife-in-the-back retaliations salary cuts and demotions when their decisions offend trade groups, corporation lawyers or volunteer legal counselors.

Acers retallated in a letter to trade organizations and employers charging Newman and

Easter Morning

Christ the Lord is risen today, Hallelujah! The Rugged Cross and the dark tomb have both been snatched from their association with death. Christmas is sanctified in Easter. Christ is risen! Heavenly love turned Dark Friday into Good Friday... an event packed with all the drama of human emotion and Divine sacrifice. He lives and we, too, shall live, in the measure in which we learn to kiss the Cross...our cross as well as His. His promise, "Three days and I shall build this temple again," has been fulfilled. It is the time for beginning again...time to start anew. Golgotha and Crucifixion take on radiant beauty when they are seen through the fragrant glory of the Easter lily. That is where the spirit was triumphant over death. So, Raise your joys and triumphs high, Hallelujah!

It is Easter!

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are a molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Gwynette Pharr Named Student Of Month At LCC

Gwynette Pharr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pharr, has been named April Student-of-the-Month at Lubbock Christian College.

Gwynette graduated from Plains High School in May, 1957. She was awarded an LCC scholarship because of her high scholastic records in high school.

At the present time Gwynette is undecided between choosing textiles, with emphasis on clothes

Social Security Representative To Be Here April 10

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Plains on April 10, 1958 at 1:30 p.m. at the Co. Service Office at the courthouse and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

"Good News for Household Workers" is the title of a new publication of the Social Security Administration directed to employees in private households.

This 16-page booklet, in color, with easy-to-read text and unique cartoon-type illustrations was designed to inform cooks, maids laundresses and other domestic workers about old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits.

Employees who work in or about private households are building social security insurance for themselves and their families if they are paid $50 or more cash wages in a calendar quarter of a year. The household employer must report these wages and send the social security tax to the District Director of Internal Revenue at the end of each calendar.

Copies of "Good News for Household Workers" and other information about social security may be had free of charge at any social security office.

Everyone who works in a private household and anyone who employs any household help will want to call, phone, or write for a copy of this booklet.

designing, or home economics education for her major. Her favorite subject this semester is Introductory Nutrition. In order to complete the work in her major field, she plans to attend Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas, after her sophomore year in LCC.

Even though Gwynette has been awarded this scholarship, she also works for Mrs. E. R. Higgins, Dean of Women, in the Administration Building. She is a member of the LCC Chorus.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. McCan recently received word that their daughter, Dixie, had made the Dean's Honor Roll for the first semester at the Lubbock Christian College.

Dean of students, C. L. Kay, stated in a letter to Dixie, "May I congratulate you for making the Dean's Honor Roll. Scholarship is an integral part of our educational system.

"You seem to possess those qualities and characteristics which are so vital and necessary to a student who is attending Lubbock Christian College. It is my prayer that God will always grant you the wisdom to grow spiritually as well as academically."

Dixie graduated from Plains High School last May and is classified as a freshman at LCC.

Everyone who fishes for bass hopes some day to land a grandpappy. Not that they are any better eating—it is just the pride in catching one bigger than you've ever taken before.

Well, if you've tried everything else, here is a suggestion that may be worth something. It has paid off. Whether it does for you may depend on luck as well as ability.

Some call it jigging. Actually it is just plain horsin'. You might call it bottom fishing with a heavy rig. But it does, occasionally, pay off with a big bass.

Naturally you must have good bass water. Always in bassy water there is an area that looks good, but is unworkable with light lines. You can do it, however, with a heavy rig.

The best spot is at the base of big tree trunks that sticks out of the water, or where there is considerable brush under the water. Rig up your light salt water tackle, or use a good stiff action rod with a heavy reel loaded with from 20 to 30 pound test line.

The bait doesn't make too much difference, if it is some thing that will attract the bass. Right now some of the fishermen are using those black plastic worms or black eels. They have a good heavy sinker on the terminal that will take the bait to the bottom. After it has had a chance to settle down, work it only slightly and not too often. Just an occasional movement up and down. The chances are a big bass already has spotted it. He's not likely to be in a hurry to attack. You may spend a half-hour there, but don't take the lure out. Finally the old bruiser can't stand it any longer and he rushes it.

Set your hook and start up, all with the same motion. Don't give him a chance to wrap the line around a limb or crawl under a fence. More depends upon your retrieve than most anything else. That's the reason you need a good heavy line, one with which you can hoist him out.

When you are fishing for the big ones it is man against fish. If you land the fish you are the best. After you get him on the stringer find a new location and start all over again.

Will it work? Try it yourself. There is another way you can use the same rig, except for the lure. This time use a deep running, large plug. You might even want a trailing jig. Troll it fast through good bass water, and deep. That's why you'll need the heavy equipment, so you can pull it deep.

This is being done every day on Texoma with wonderful results. You may not do it the first time, but the idea is worth a little practice.

Again, will it work? Again, try it.

HAWAIIAN LURES—Twenty-five years ago a fisherman in Ohio by the name of Fred Arbogast was testing out lures to see what effect they would have on catching fish. There was something about a Hawaiian skirt that intrigued him, so he made a skirt for an original lure and called it the Hawaiian Wiggler.

It didn't take long for this lure to catch on. Every man wanted one in his tackle box because it was a bass killer. Since that time Fred has gone on to his reward, but his Hawaiian Wiggler lives on. More than 14 million of them have been sold.

This year a number of silver Wigglers have been made up for presentation to a few long-time users. I am proud to have one.

GAR FISHING—It won't be too long until gar fishing will be coming along again. Over near Madisonville they are catching some of these big tackle busters already. Recently two were taken in Blue Lake on the east side of the Trinity, about 25 miles northeast of Madisonville.

One of them weighed 118 pounds and the other 74, with more than a score of smaller ones.

The gars were taken in gill nets. However, they can be taken on rod and reel and there is plenty of fight in doing it.

ICE FISHING—We don't have ice fishing in this part of the country, but occasionally we do have some real chilly weather. Fishermen on Lake Texoma have found a way to help overcome some of the chill. They are using charcoal heaters in their boats.

Others use gasoline stoves for the same results.

While we believe in comfort, we hesitate to recommend a stove for a small boat. It's taking a lot of chance, especially in a boat where there is a gasoline tank or extra can of fuel.

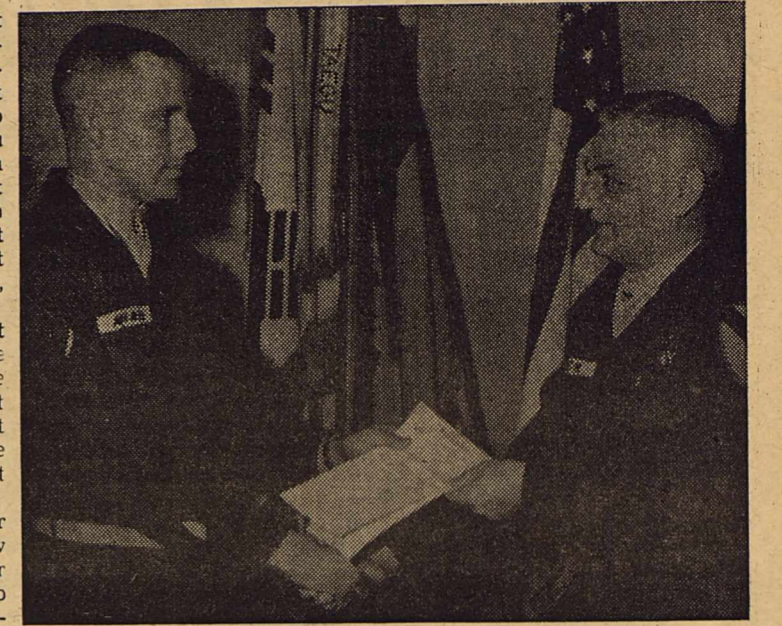

Rocking of the boat, a gust of wind or even excitement while boating a fish could cause a terrible tragedy. If you've never seen a boat on fire in the middle of the lake, with its passengers struggling in the water, we can tell you it's not a pleasant sight.

Speaking of cold weather. Early morning fishing is chilly even in late Spring. If you want the big economy size of warmth—take along a Jon-e, jumbo-size warmer. It's a new self-starting, lighter-fluid type of hand-warmer, only it's giant size.

Aladdin Laboratories of Minneapolis has just produced this big one, patterned after their famous lighter-size hand-warmer. It has an easy starting, no flame heater, and also serves as a handy cigarette lighter. I'm you name in your will should die before you do, or, if you all perish in a common catastrophe like a car smashup?

The law is wise but it cannot do your thinking for you. It settles such questions—but not always to your liking. If you don't make a will, the law says who shall get your property. If you leave certain things out of a contract, the law assumes that you meant to put some certain things in. But how much better it would be in the first place to put them in the way you want them, by asking "what if?"

Take your will now: Your first desire, of course, is to take care of your wife and children—those nearest to you. But it won't hurt anything to put "contingent beneficiaries" in your will in case something happens to thwart your first intentions.

Review your will every year or so to see if it meets the new things that have come up, or arrange with your lawyer to write in "contingent beneficiaries"—those who will receive your property if your first beneficiaries should die before you do.

You may long ago have had your son provided for in your will, but what about those lovely grandchildren he and his wife have presented to you since you wrote the will? What would happen to them if things go wrong and your son should die before you?

Or take your widowed sister and her children now. Suppose you and your immediate family should be wiped out: Would you want your property to go equally to her and to your well-heeled bachelor brother? Or would you prefer to leave your brother some token of your affection and then really take care of your sister?

You may be impatient with the law's long memory. Such things never happen, you think, but the court records are full of plans which failed. And so the law has ways in which you can provide for "what happens—if." One way is the device of contingent beneficiaries in your will and insurance policies.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Latest product is a new Tru-Spin reel, built for fresh or light salt water fishing. It can be operated either right or left handed. Its features include crosswind, oscillating spool, built in click, bronze bearings and nylon bushings. It has a 3 1/2 gear ratio and weighs 12 ounces. Should be some reel.

Cotton Farmers Urged to Plant Each Allotted Acre

Texas cotton farmers, faced with the best prospects in both moisture and prices in a decade, are being urged to plant every allotted acre in cotton this year, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce said today.

A group of cotton industry leaders—including ginners, growers, shippers, buyers, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, representatives of the WTCC, and others—met in Dallas last Saturday (March 15) to appraise the outlook in view of a large soil bank participation.

They came up with a 2-point recommendation:

Plant every available acre in cotton.

Withdraw cotton acres from the soil bank while there is time.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, indicating belief that the soil bank sign up is greater than desirable, has extended the withdrawal date to March 28, in order to give more cotton producers more time to withdraw from the program.

Loyan H. Walker, WTCC agriculture and livestock department manager who attended the meeting, said the group is urging cotton farmers to reconsider their soil bank participation and place soil bank acres into production.

"Because of the excellent moisture we've received thus far, and, due to the present shortage of quality cotton, the promise of cotton prices that will be considerably above government supports, it is highly likely that the farmer can make a larger net profit by putting his acres in production than he can by placing his land in the soil bank," Walker said.

"In addition, because the production will create jobs in harvesting, ginning and such, the farmer will be helping to insure Texas and particularly West Texas from feeling the serious effects from the recession that is creating such hardships in other sections of the nation.

"Perhaps equally important in the long run," Walker stated, "is the fact that unless we produce quality cotton in the largest possible quantities, we will be losing more of our market to synthetics and foreign produced cotton."

Walker stated that presently there is a scarcity of high quality cotton, a condition brought about by last year's bad weather which lowered the cotton grade. Both domestic mills and foreign customers are bidding for cotton of high quality, he said.

"Increased world consumption, combined with the shortage of high grade lint, should cause the better grades of cotton to sell above the support price of $190 per bale (for middling inch)," the WTCC agriculturist said.

Walker's views were supported in the Dallas meeting by Burreis C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the Statewide Cotton Committee of Texas. At the Dallas meeting of the group, Jackson said the heavy participation in the soil bank is a threat to the state's economy.

The tragedy, he said, is that a great industry is about to be wrecked, and millions of people will be financially hurt.

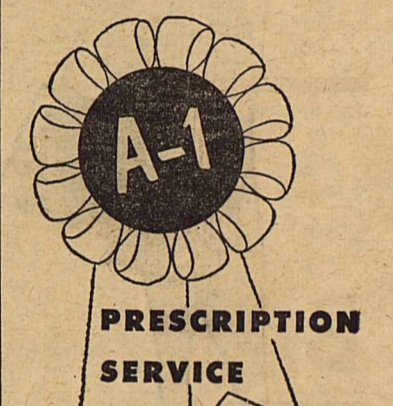

It has been estimated, according to Walker, that the 1,868,913 acres in the soil bank in Texas would represent a production drop of $180,000,000 worth of cotton. And, since a bale of cotton generates business worth five times its original value, this will mean an economic loss of nearly a billion dollars.

Walker said roughly 50 per cent of the economic loss will be in West Texas.

Walker said it was learned that the reduction in cotton ginning would amount to labor loss totaling 2,167 employees with a salary loss of $4,352,000. The loss in gin work from the acres in the soil bank would be equal to the shutting down of 544 cotton gins in Texas.

J. D. Prewitt, assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the soil bank acres would result in the following business loss in Texas:

Seed, $3,513,556; fertilizer, $2,466,965; hired labor (except harvesting) $3,513,566; insecticides, $6,541,195; tractor fuels, oils repairs and other machinery costs, $5,606,739; harvesting and hauling, 25,230,325; ginning, $5,887,075; bagging and ties $1,962,359. This loss totals $54,721,770.

Disseminate Information
Neither the publisher, editor nor members of the newspaper's staff claim a superior status in the community. They admit only that the newspaper tries to do its job. And when information regarding the community is desired the place most often visited is the office of the local newspaper.

Workers in the Denver City Press and Yoakum County Review "Goodwill" Subscription Campaign are making every endeavor to convert promises into votes during this period, and many folks are extending their subscriptions in order to help a favorite contestant.

The Denver City Press and Yoakum County Review, the only Yoakum County Newspapers, I can better serve and better mirror this community if it has the support of an ever growing family of subscribers. Your newspaper is important—stand behind it as a friend.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

by LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

I was real proud when G. W. and Glen Cleveland brought me some of the printed material from the Eighth Annual Pantech Farms Field Day. They went up there to the bull sale last week and some catalogs and reports were about all that they brought back. They reported that good bulls were still selling for high prices.

I was more interested in looking over the report of the cattle improvement investigations. According to their report there were 119 bulls that went through the test which started on October 29 and ended March 19. The bulls were fed for 140 days and the bull that made the most gain during that time was considered the high gaining bull. I think those fellows are doing a wonderful job at Pantech and all the other places where official testing is going on. They collect a lot of valuable information. I feel that the feeding period is too short but with all the other data that is collected it is still worth a great deal.

Perhaps the most important thing that they find out is not the rate of gain on each animal but the economy of the gain. I would much rather have a bunch of cattle that would put on two pounds a day on twenty four cents worth of feed than to have some that gained three pounds a day but ate forty five cents worth of feed in order to do it. Some of the bulls tested at Pantech Farms this year put on gains for as little as $11.37 per hundred pounds. All the bulls were fed the same ration composed of 30.5 pounds of cottonseed hulls, 26 pounds of ground grain sorghum bundles, 10 pounds of alfalfa hay, 10 pounds of grains sorghum grain, 7 pounds whole oats, 5 pounds wheat mixed feed called millrun and 11.5 pounds of cottonseed meal. The cost of this ration was $1.48 per 100 pounds. With this same ration some animals in this years test ate $18.62 worth of feed in order to put on 100 pounds of gain. The animals were graded according to beef type and conformation and the high gaining bull was given a grade of fancy which is the highest grade that an animal can get. They are proving that the beefy type animals can have the ability to put on fast gains even though most on fast gains eventhough most of the fast gainers that we have seen have been animals of undesirable type. There was not an animal in the class that would be considered in the extreme either way.

I would think that the weight per day of age and the economy of the gain would both be more important than the total gain during a 140 day feeding trial. The animals beginning the Pantech tests vary in age from six months to one year. Their oldest animals were born in October 1956 and their youngest were born in March 1957. That difference in age will have something to do with the amount of gain on a short feeding period.

I would like for some of our local breeders to enter bulls at Pantech and I believe that we will have some Yoakum County bulls up there within the next three or four years. The buyers are demanding that the animals they buy are proven performers and they want to see his records at the same time that they see the bull. Bull buyers have learned that there is more behind a herd sire than what meets the eye.

County business man. Cotton growers nominated were, Rod Duff, Wallace Randolph, Tom Warren R. D. Romans, Pete Bryson H. G. Sprawls and Truett Jones. All were elected as County delegates to Plains cotton council and they will elect one representative to attend the Lubbock meetings.

D. C. Newsom introduced Robert L. Parker of the Sesame growers association. He pointed out that sesame is only a five year old crop in the United States. Seven million pounds were produced in 1957 with six million-five hundred thousand grown in the High Plains area, with two hundred and fifty thousand produced in Yoakum County. He gave the advantages of sesame, stating that sesame usually returns fifteen to twenty dollars more per acre net profit than grain sorghums. The average price for number one sesame was $10.41 per hundred in 1957. Renner number one makes up 90 per cent of the total acreage. White seeded variety bring more money. Estimated price for 1958 is $9.25 to $10.00 per hundred for number one sesame.

Equipment on display consisted of a Hi-boy sprayer for the application of insecticides and Uran fertilizer, a Dual applicator for applying anhydrous ammonia and phosphorus and a tank for distribution of anhydrous ammonia.

Humor Finds Place In Court Records

Occasionally, a bit of humor creeps into the usually staid and solemn court records. This week it was through the pen of District Judge Louis B. Reed, as he entered case notations in the docket book Monday.

Judge Reed closed the page of one divorce suit with the cryptic comment, "Information is that they done went back together."

Maintaining the proper nutrient balance when applying fertilizer is important in getting the maximum return from the money invested in fertilizer advises Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist. He suggests taking a soil test to determine the proper nutrient proportions.

PLAINS DIRT GARDENERS HEAR TALK BY SPECIALIST OF LUBBOCK

The Plains Dirt Gardeners met Thursday, March 27, in the County Club room with twenty-four members present.

Mrs. D. C. Newsom presented Mr. Tom Scarborough, owner of Tom's Tree Place, Lubbock, who gave a program on landscaping and other general gardening hints. Several colored slides were shown of both winter and summer scenes. Mr. Scarborough's main emphasis was on well-arranged back-yard privacy for more outdoor living. He also stressed more well shaded paving for the back-yard in order to eliminate an excessive clipping of grass as well as provide standing and sitting space for outdoor entertaining. Mr. Gordon Bullard, the grower at Tom's Tree Place, assisted Mr. Scarborough during the question and answer session.

Refreshments of coffee, spiced tea and a variety of cookies were served by the hostesses; Mesdames, A. H. Bacon, G. W. Cleveland, Clifford Anderson, Bill Loyd, Roy Stockstill and L. O. Smith.

The Easter theme was used in decorations. An Easter egg tree centered the large table covered with a green cloth and a bunny and eggs were arranged on the coffee table. Arrangements of daffodils and plum blossoms were used in the assembly hall.

After refreshments were served, Mrs. Willingham, the president conducted the business meeting.
