VOLUME 28

PLAINS, YOAKUM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 28, 1958

NUMBER 35

THE FIRST major cantaloupe crop in Yoakum County is being harvested this summer on the Harvest Queen Mills farm west of Plains. E. A. Smyer, manager of the farm, stated there are about 340 acres planted to the cantaloupes, which are now being picked daily by experienced laborers from Mathais, Texas, for delivery to the San Pat Vegetable Company in Brownfield. There they are graded and packed for shipment to all parts of the United States.

Loe unseats Trout by 3

Paul Loe, farmer in the Tokio vicinity squeaked to an apparent three-vote victory Saturday in the second Democratic primary, unseating incumbent Clyde Trout for post county commissioner of precinct 4.

Returns of the voting from boxes 4 and 5 where residents were balloting on the commissioner's race, showed Loe received 114 votes to Trout's 111.

In the only other race on the ballot, and this one was voted on at all nine boxes in the county, Robert Hamilton of Midland led J. Edwin Smith of Houston in the race for associate justice of the State Supreme Court, 243 to 60. Voting in that contest in Yoakum followed a similar trend throughout the state.

In the torrid race for county commissioner of precinct 4, Trout carried his home precinct of box five, 51 to 31, but lost out 42 to 66 in box four. Loe took the absentee vote, 17 to 12.

Comparison of the votes in the two primaries showed that Loe apparently picked up a number of the votes which had been cast in the first primary for Johnnie Fitzgerald who had garnered 52 ballots in the initial race. Trout had received 102 votes in the first primary and Loe, 72. Total vote in the two boxes in the first primary was 226, with 225 being cast in the second primary Saturday.

Because of the closeness of the race a recount of the votes may be asked by the defeated incumbent, who has ten days from the day of the canvass of ballots by the county executive committee (which was held Tuesday) to make such a request. Should such a request be made, the district judge would then designate a canvassing committee to check the ballots.

Also balloted on in the second primary Saturday were chairmen for four precincts in the county.

In Precinct 4, Truitt Jones won over B. F. Lowrey, 72 to 40, while in Precinct 5, Carl Lowrey was winner over Homer Sudderth 48 to 45. Bill Story was voted chairman of Precinct 9 over George Buland, 8 to 5, with John Wise winning over Oran Byrd in Precinct 7 by a vote of 19 to 14.

Three named on county farm labor committee

Three Yoakum County citizens, A. B. Carpenter, Dick McGinty and Russell Calmer, will serve as a County Farm Labor committee with Mr. Garvin Wilkes, Manager of the Texas Employment Commission office, to review the total seasonal employment needs developed by the TEC.

The Committee was presented with the figures of the TEC that Yoakum County will be short 1250 cotton pullers during the peak period of the cotton harvest. This shortage will be met by the importation of Mexican National Bracero workers.

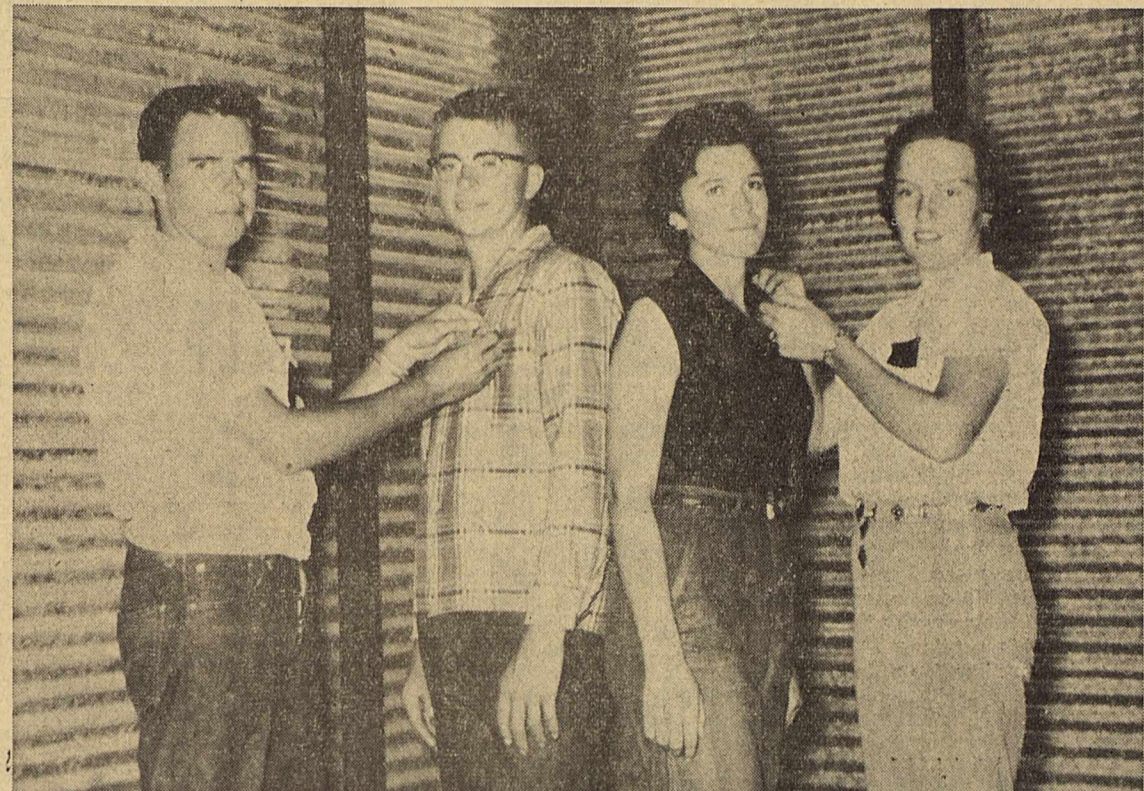

The Committee will function under Public Law 78, obtaining domestic farm workers existing in Yoakum County and the shortage of workers, if any, which be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop. Under Public Law 78 the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor who must limit the number of Mexican Nationals to be used in this county by granting a "ceiling." The Committee consults with the local office manager to assist him in estimating the number of workers who will be needed based on current local conditions affecting the cotton crop.

4-H Rally Day is staged

The 1958 County 4-H Rally Day held at Stanford Park in Plains Friday was attended by 88 Yoakum County boys and girls. Registration was conducted between 9:00 and 9:30 a.m., and as the 4-H members signed up they were divided into groups headed by one or two of the older members. 4-H club members acting as Rally Day leaders were Lanny Smith, Sharon Smith, Tommy Warren and Zoleta Brantley. Group leaders for the day were: Brenda Sudderth, D'Lois McGinty, Jay Bryson, Melvin Lowrey, Marsha White, Annette Sudderth, Roy Lowrey, Jimmy Taylor, Karen Shobert, Sandra Smith, Tommy Elmore, Roy Lowrey, Mark Barron and Linda Taylor.

Although the weather was cloudy and cool the boys and girls enjoyed a swim in the morning. Just prior to the lunch hour the group engaged in some recreational games supervised by Lanny Smith and Sharon Smith. The games included sack races, three-legged races, ball-oon races and a squeeze through race.

After lunch Mr. D. C. Newsom presented cash awards to the winners of the 1957 cotton contest. David Box received $25.00 for winning first place in the 4-H cotton contest and an additional $15.00 on the micronaire reading of his cotton. Tommy Warren received $20.00 as a second premium in the yield contest and he also got $15.00 for the micronaire reading. The Newsom Gin Company sponsored this contest in 1957 based on the amount of lint cotton produced on five acres. David Box produced 3,630 pounds of lint and Tommy Warren produce 2,442 pounds. The strength of the cotton fiber in each case was the same.

Rain began falling in the park soon after the checks were presented to the contest winners and the entire group was moved to the Livestock Exhibit Building for the remainder of the day. County Agent, Leo White and Miss Myrna Marshall, Home demonstration agent presented 4-H year pins to all boys and girls who had completed a demonstration during the current year. First year pins were given to: Oscar Henard, Jack Sprawls, Bob Taylor, David Box, Joyce Lee Dolloff, Jewell Hicks, Carol Ann Doherty, Mary K. Bunch, Karen Shobert, Frances Earlene Howard, Frances Nell Henard and Mike Pippin. Those receiving second year pins were: Coy Lowrey, Larry Coffman, Sandy Randall, Sylvia McGinty, Jackie Hawkins and Sidney Pippin.

Three year pins were received by Margart Henard and Janith Tucker. Those getting fourth year pins were: J. B. Wilson, D'Lynn McGinty, La Juana Jones, Lee Tingle, Johnnie Pippin and Ty Earl Powell. Fifth year pins went to Marsha White, Kenneth McGinty, Melvin Lowrey, and Roy Lowrey. Mark Barron, Tommy Warren and Jimmy Taylor received sixth year pins. Seventh years pins were given to D'Lois McGinty and Zoleta Brantley.

Mark Barron was selected as the outstanding 4-H boy in the county and was given the Gold Star Award for his achievement. The Gold Star Girl was Zoleta Brantley who received two other county medals besides the coveted Gold Star. She received a medal in Junior Leadership and another for winning the county Dress Revue. The Meat Animal medal was awarded to Jimmy Taylor and the winner of the Field Crop medal was Tommy Warren.

When the awards were all given out, Tommy Warren and Zoleta Brantley were in charge of a track meet. Each of the seven groups selected one of their number to represent them in the track and field events. They had such events as the 50 yard dash, the mile run, the high jump, pole vault, shot put and others. None of the contestants knew what was to be required of them when they volunteered to work in the events. The 440 yard run turned out to be a cracker eating contest and the 50 yard dash was a regular bubble gum. There were ten events in the track meet and a point system was used for the three winners in each event. By the time the track meet was over each group had turned out some winners and racked up some points. The orange group and the red group were tied for first place with 130 points each.

Yoakum County's first bale of cotton from an anticipated record crop this year was delivered to the D. C. Newsom Gin at Plains Tuesday afternoon, August 26th, by C. C. Freeman who farms in the Sligo community.

The cotton was received about seven days earlier than the 1st bale last year.

The 1700 lb load of cotton produced a 493 lb finished bale. His cotton turned out 675 lbs. of seed, for which the gin paid market price of $42.00 a ton plus a premium and free ginning of the cotton.

The strict middling cotton had a staple length of 13/16-inch.

The micronaire reading was 47.5, strength of 92,000, uniformity of 93 per cent.

The first bale was raised on dry land and gathered from approximately 10 acres of fall and half.

Mr. Newsom stated that the quality of the cotton is much better and can hardly be compared to that of previous years. He said he believed it would be up at least 25 percent over last year. However, he said some spotty cotton could be expected later in the season due to the insect damage.

Business firms of Plains contributed a premium of $92 in cash and $235.50 in merchandise and service certificates, to be presented to Freeman for harvesting the first bale of cotton.

Contributing cash were: K's Drive-In, Blount's Shamrock Service, Plains State Bank, Tumble Weed Drive-In, Robertson Motor Co., Romain Telephone Co., Clyde's Garage, Curry & Loyd Insurance Agency, Walsler Auto Parts, Plains Barber Shop, Wagley's Garage, Hawkins Food store and D. C. Newsom Gin Co.

of 90 days in court action at Lovington, N. Mex., was Melton Lemley, 26, of Plains, accused of attempting to cut a buddy to death in a recent fight at a club near Lovington, is shown above as he measured the length of a bucket handle he said he used in the altercation, as he told his story during the hearing. The felony charge was dismissed, after Lemley pleaded guilty to assault and battery.

Plains man gets 90-day sentence for club brawl

Charges of assault with intent to kill against Melton Lemley, 26, of Plains, were dismissed last Wednesday, in Lovington, N. Mex., when he pleaded guilty to assault and battery.

The felony charge was dismissed by Justice of Peace Reese Greaves after a hearing and the lesser admission of guilty drew a sentence of 90 days.

Credit for six days spent in jail was allowed by Greaves and the balance deferred for 12 months.

Lemley was accused of knifing Don Gilliam, also of Plains, on the preceding Saturday night during a fight at the 200 Club over a petite red-haired woman, Polly Chance, of Denver. Gilliam received slashes requiring 40 stitches to close during the melee.

Taking the witness stand for the prosecution, Gilliam declared the fight began when he decided his buddy, Lemley, was "making time with my girl while my back was turned." He invited his friend of six years outside to settle the matter and on either that trip or another, testimony was not clear which Gilliam was cut with what he described as a knife.

Gilliam declared Lemley went to their pickup and got a five gallon grease bucket which he tried to use as a weapon. The bucket was kicked from his hand, leaving him holding the ball. It was this ball which defense attorney Don Hancock, Denver City, said was used in the cutting rather than a knife. Gilliam swore he tried to talk his friend out of fighting but to no avail.

Lemley, on the other hand, accused Gilliam of going to the pickup to procure a rubber hose with which to beat him. He said he was struck three or four times about the face and head with the hose. Gilliam denied striking Lemley at any time.

Robert McDonald, Plains, and well known to both combatants, told of hearing the argument outside after all had been drinking heavily and Gilliam having told him he intended to whip Lemley before the night was over. Lemley, Gilliam, Mrs. L. K. Chance and daughter, Polly along with an unidentified person were at the club when McDonald and another man arrived. McDonald said Gilliam came over to where he was sitting and complained of Lemley "making time with his girl" and stated his intentions of administering a beating. McDonald also told of Gilliam trying to pick a fight with another man prior to the cutting.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Chance, testified that she saw nothing out of the way from Lemley during the evening but said her daughter and the accused spent some time dancing.

Both Gilliam and Lemley during the testimony accused each other of starting the fighting. Each said they have been very close friends during the past six years and frequently spent as much as three days at a time with each other.

Lemley gave himself up to Lea County officers after, he said, he learned he was wanted there.

Bollworms are reported heavy in Yoakum County

(Ed Note: The following insect infestation report as August 21 was compiled by county agents, vocational teachers, personnel of Texas A&M College, and U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

Infestations of cotton insects have continued about the same as those reported a week ago. While insecticidal applications have been rather general in some localities, only scattered plantings of cotton have been treated in other sections.

Bollworm infestations were reported heavy in Hockley, Howard, Lynn, and Yoakum counties. The worms occurred in light to medium infestations elsewhere. Egg populations as well as newly hatched worms, were much lower in a majority of fields than during the previous week. In many fields infestations consisted of rather large worms. Since many fields have cotton which is still in a very attractive stage, the crop should be checked frequently for eggs and small worms.

Cabbage looper infestations have increased in scattered fields although disease has checked the worms in other plantings. Satisfactory reductions of infestations may be secured if control applications are made while loopers are small.

Aphid populations have increased in many fields. Infestations have become heavier where bollworm control treatments have been made.

Mrs. Bobby Burns and children and Mr. P. J. Miller of Butler, Okla., were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Teague Tuesday.

THE THREE CROSSES

Three crosses on a hill. Each cross means something. They were all intended to mean the same...public recognition of guilt...just punishment for wrong-doing. But look closely! Each has a very different meaning. On one side, the Cross of hopelessness...hard, bitter, — "If Thou art the Christ, save Thyself and us." On the other side, the Cross of Penitence... "Lord, remember me when Thou comest into Thy Kingdom." In the center, the Cross of Atonement... "Today, Thou shalt be with me in Paradise." Before which cross are you bowing? Have you given up in utter despair? Have you thought of your own personal need of repentance...an about-face in life? Then go to church Sunday and kneel once more before the Cross of Calvary...the Cross of Forgiveness...the Cross of Atonement with the God of all the universe...the center Cross.

Sorghum drilled or seeded in narrow rows can be very effective cover for land subject to wind erosion.

A number of farms in the Yoakum Soil Conservation District have areas which will need additional cover for protection through the winter and spring. These include areas where stand thinning, plow-up acres, Acreage Reserve land and many other areas where cover is needed. Rye or other small grain make good cover crops for these areas but some cooperators feel that they need to work the land earlier than is needed for small grain to do its best job. These areas may be protected by drilling sorghums now so that they will have time to make some growth before frost.

In order to insure maximum growth some irrigation may be needed. A crop which will make very rapid growth and provide a good cover for bare areas is millet. Millet makes very rapid growth and can be seeded later than most crops and still make a good cover. These covers of sorghum, millet and other crops will be killed by frost and will provide cover for the land and still not take any moisture from the land during the winter. Thus they can be left standing until rather late in the spring before any seedbed preparation needs to be done.

Women applying for renewal of Texas driver license should include their date of birth, all given names, maiden surname, previous married names and surnames.

THE ABOVE PICTURE shows sorghum drilled for cover on the Harvest Queen Mills farm west of Plains. This sorghum was drilled at a heavy rate and irrigated and is producing a thick mat of cover which will be very effective against wind erosion.

ASC committee ballots mailed; due September 8

The ASC Committee ballots were mailed by the local ASC office to all farmers and ranchers on the ASC mailing list Wednesday August 27th.

Farmers and their wives may vote these ballots and return them by mail to the local ASC office or they may deliver them in person. To be counted, the ballots must be returned to the ASC office on or before September 8th, must be postmarked on or before September 8th. All eligible farmers and ranchers are urged to vote in this election. Eligible voters who do not receive ballots by mail may pick up ballots at the ASC office.

For the past several years almost 100 percent of the eligible voters have voted in the Committee elections. The names appearing on the ballot are as follows; Kenyon H. Banks, Ray Bearden, Avon G. Brantley, Clay Duffey, Thomas A. Elmore, C. L. Gayle, Murphy W. Luna, Cecil Tucker, Oliver Vaughn and Bruce White.

The person receiving the most votes will be declared to be elected as community chairman, the person receiving the second highest number of votes will be declared elected vice-chairman, the third highest will be declared regular member of the committee, and the next two will be declared first and second alternates respectively.

Antelope hunt permits ready on two areas

If you plan an antelope hunt, this is the year to make it, according to the executive secretary of the Game & Fish Commission. Applications now can be made for permits to hunt in either of the two areas during the season which begins Oct. 1 and runs through October 19, depending upon the area to be hunted.

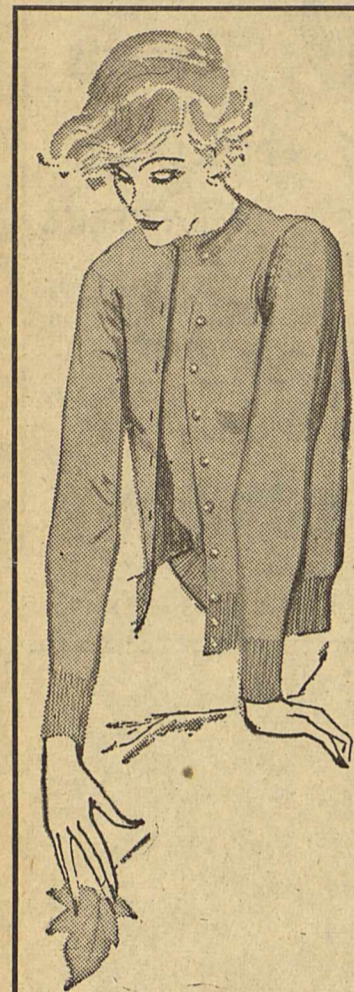

Interested hunters should write the Game & Fish Commission in Austin for application blanks. These blanks are then filled in and returned to Austin with a remittance of $5. They must be dated not later than Aug. 3 for the hunters to be eligible.

Early in September the names of applicants will be drawn for the hunts. However, it now appears there may be enough permits to go around without the necessity of drawing.

There will be three hunts of three days each in the Trans-Pecos area and two hunts of three days each in the Panhandle area. An applicant may specify the area in which he plans to hunt. Both buck and doe permits will be available in the Trans-Pecos area.

Aerial counts taken by pilot wardens in both areas show a heavy crop of well-fed animals this year, the secretary reports. Persons drawing permits to hunt will be notified immediately, after which confirmation must be made to the landowner.

September 26 is deadline for farmers to sign for soil bank

Under the 1959 Conservation Reserve Soil Bank Program Farmers who wish to place land in the Soil Bank must file a request at the ASC Office on or before September 26th, 1958 for maximum soil bank payment rate for their farm. This rate will be established by County ASC Committee after the request is filed. Only non-irrigated land will be considered in establishing the payment rate.

According to W. M. Overton, ASC County office manager, the farmers that file a request for a farm rate will be set a maximum payment rate for average land on the farm and if the rate is satisfactory and they want to sign a contract they must make an application for a contract on or before October 17th.

There are several changes in the program from last year. The average payment rate is $11.00 an acre for this county. It is expected that some farms will set a higher rate and some a lower than the average rate.

Farmers that enter into 1959 contract must have a CR Soil Bank base set up if one has not already been approved. The harvested acres of Soil Bank crops on the farm the past two years determines the Soil Bank base. Land broke out since 1956 is not eligible for soil bank purposes.

Farmers may offer the entire farm in the Conservation Re-

Program. The maximum amount any one producer may receive on all farm on which he has an interest remains at $5,000.00.

The farm will be inspected and the land offered will be measured. If it is determined that less than average productive land is being offered for the program, a lower rental rate will be established.

Each person who considers placing land in the Conservation Reserve will offer the land at a rate per acre of his choosing. The application will not be accepted if the rate offered is above the maximum rate established for the farm. If funds are limited, the offers received offering land at the lowest rate will be accepted first.

After the application for a contract is approved farmers will have 15 days to sign a contract. All of this means farmers will not have a new 1959 conservation reserve contract until they make at least 3 trips and sign forms at least 3 different times.

No crop can be harvested or grazed from the conservation reserve acreage during the term of the contract the same as prior years.

Costs will be shared with farmers by the government to get a grass or cover crop growing on the reserve acreage. The rates have not been established at this date but they will be at about 70 per cent of the cost of seeding the grass.

Farmers that are interested in the program and want additional information should contact the ASC office or if more convenient, the County ASC Committee, County Agent, farmers home administration supervisor or SCS personnel could give information.

Head of textile concern to be speaker at Plains Cotton Growers meeting

A man who played a vital role in securing new farm legislation for cotton in 1959, and the head of one of America's busiest textile concerns will headline the program for the Plains Cotton Grower, Inc second annual meeting, scheduled Friday, August 29, at Lubbock.

This meeting will begin at 10 a.m. in Municipal Auditorium on Texas Tech Campus and will feature talks by Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, Vice Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, and W. E. Reid, President of the Riegel Textile Corporation of New York City and Ware Shoals, South Carolina.

W. O. Fortenberry, President of the PCG, announced that directors will hold a business meeting beginning at 9 a.m. and the annual election of officers will be held. In addition to talks by Poage and Reid the agenda will include the showing of a 20 minute film take of the PCG—Plains Ginners Association sponsored textile mill tour in South Carolina last April. President Fortenberry's annual report and a business report by Executive Vice President George W. Pfeifferberger.

Door prizes will be awarded throughout the program and all persons are eligible upon registration. A free barbecue lunch will be held at noon. All farmers, ginners, businessmen and their families are invited to attend.

Congressman Poage, who will speak during the afternoon session, in addition to being Vice Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee is its second ranking Democrat. He deserves considerable credit, as do all members of the Committee, in seeing that the provision for recognition of split grades in the government loan was a part of the recently passed farm bill. Congressman Poage saw to it that this provision was placed in the House Farm Bill and that it remained there throughout the long negotiations leading to its passage.

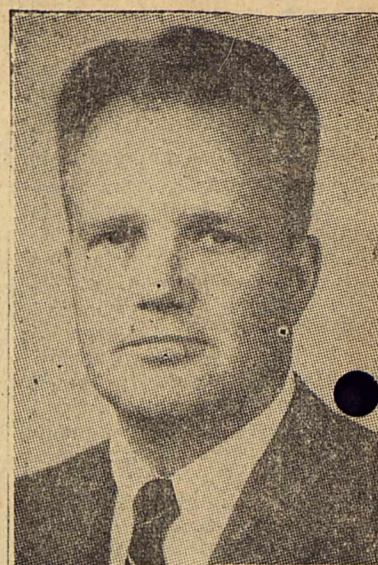

President Reid, a native of Milledgeville, Georgia, is presently a resident of Scarsdale, New York. Prior to joining Riegel in 1939, he had 12 years experience as manager of the Dyeing and Finishing Plant at Trion, Georgia, and was later promoted to Assistant General Manager—Trion Division, Assistant General Sales Manager, Vice President and General Sale Manager, Executive Vice President and President.

He also is a Director of the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York, a member of the Foreign Competition Committee of Southern Garment Manufacturers Association, Inc., and Chairman of the Committee on Market Development an Expansion, American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, Inc.

The PCG's annual meeting is scheduled Friday, and on Saturday the Plains Ginners Association will hold its annual meeting here. Ginners are being urged to attend both meetings.

Fortenberry reminded farmers and businessmen "that the auditorium is air conditioned, there is plenty of free parking space, and a good lunch awaits you at our annual meeting."

Pen-raised quail still available from state farm

Pen-raised bob-white quail are still available for release to sportsmen, landowner's and clubs, if they have land suitable for quail, the Assistant Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission has announced.

Interested persons are encouraged to make application by letter to the Austin office or to local game wardens.

Under the program which is designed for quail habitat improvement, land must be inspected by the local game warden. After inspection of a proposed release area, the warden will recommend a quail management program and the number to quail to be released.

When an application has been approved the quail are shipped to the applicant at 50 cents each, which is approximately one-half the cost of production and shipment, the assistant secretary said.

"With this year's good quail crop, applicants would most likely need habitat improvement to justify a release," he added.

Birds are about two months old when released, allowing for sufficient growth while remaining young enough to make adjustment in the new habitat. Plans call for releases to continue through October.

In 1957 the commission approved 414 applications, releasing 33,473 bobwhites. Approximately 20,000 have been released so far this year.
