SCS News

Technicians of the Plains office of the Soil Conservation Service have been conducting a series of studies on the effect of ground cover on soil temperatures in the Yoakum Soil Conservation District.

During the hot part of the summer the difference between the temperatures on bare ground and the temperature under a good cover of grass will vary as much as 20 degrees. This high temperature on bare ground, which may be up around 110 to 120 degrees not only burns up moisture rapidly but makes it very difficult for young grass plants which may have started in the early spring to survive.

These tests illustrate the value of cover on rangeland in securing a stand of young grass to replace plants lost by drought or other means. When ranges are properly uses some grass left on the ground is not wasted but is very necessary to assist in holding water and in keeping soil temperatures low. Grass plants have to have leaves to manufacture food and if a grass plant is closely grazed over a long period of time it does not have the leaf area necessary to make needed growth of stems, seed stalks, and root.

Development of root system is important as an extensive root system is essential if the plant is to be able to make a rapid early growth in the spring and survive long periods of dry weather.

Plains Cowboys to face Wilson Mustangs Friday

Shown above are Don Todd and Don Cooke, named outstanding tackles in the Plains-Meadow football game last Friday night, and Joe Don Marrow and Ray Faught, outstanding backs in the game for the Cowboys.

The Plains Cowboys will face the Wilson Mustangs Friday night at Wilson in the second tilt on the Plains schedule.

Wilson returns most of the team that handed the Cowboys a 14-0 defeat last year. The Mustangs will have a slight weight advantage over the Cowboys. In their first game of the season last week the Mustangs were defeated by Frenship 26-0.

The powerful Cowboys will be playing without the services of their regular right end, Walt Coffman. Walt suffered a sprained ankle during the Meadow game, however he should be ready to resume play next week.

The powerful Cowboys swamped the Meadow Broncos 50-12 last Friday night in a non conference game in the Bronco stadium. The Cowboys, touted to be the top Class A team on the South Plains, scored at least once in every quarter.

The Plains attack featured runs of 76 and 65 yards as well as long pass plays.

Don Williams, fullback, scored first on the 76 yard sprint. Cordell Huddleston passed to Jim Williams for 2 points. Joe Don Marrow, tailback went 65 yards around end to score and Marrow ran the two points over.

In the second, Williams took a 20 yard pass from Huddleston. Try for point failed. Ray Faught ran 8 yards for the next one and the point try wasn't good.

Bill Lattimore, guard, scored from 45 yards out in the third on a pass interception. Williams caught a pass from Huddleston for the 2 points.

In the last quarter Faught took a 60 yard pass from Huddleston and Marrow ran over the points to end Plains' scoring.

Meadow's touchdowns came on a 10 yard run by halfback, James Smith, in the last quarter and a 20 yard pass from Smith to Maurice Warren.

No traffic fatalities for county yet this year

With nearly three-fourths of the year already gone, county law enforcement officials are hopeful that 1958 can be completed without a single traffic fatality.

To date, not one single highway fatality has occurred within in Yoakum County, a record which assumes added importance when consideration is given to the fact that several major highways go through the county, carrying a heavy amount of traffic.

The fatality record has gradually improved during the last three years, a check revealed this week. Back in 1955, 11 traffic deaths went on the record, while in 1956, this number had been cut to eight. In 1957, traffic accidents resulted in the deaths of five persons.

"We're now beginning to be more optimistic that the county can keep its record clear of any 'motoricides' during 1958," officials said this week. "With the continued cooperation of motorists in exercising caution while driving, it can be done," they stated.

Credited with the reduction in traffic accidents within the county, in addition to the safe driving practiced by local residents of the area, was the continuous patrolling of the county roads by the county law officials. "Just the sight of an officer's car on the road does more to keep down speed than just about anything else," one official stated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Perkins and son Junior returned home last Thursday after vacationing in California and Arizona. While in Arizona they visited relatives and in Calif. visited the Roy Locke family, former residents of the Tokio community.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Billingsley of Alpine visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Billingsley, the first of the week.

Evaluation firm re-hired for county by commissioners

Decision to employ Thomas Y. Pickett, evaluation engineers, for another three year period was made by the county commissioners' court in their meeting Monday morning.

The firm will continue its work of evaluating taxable oil and utility properties within Yoakum County. The contract was finally signed at a cost to the county of 3 1/2 cents on each $100 of valuation, the same as in the past.

The original contract was presented to the court at a rate of four cents, but while the court was in favor of re-hiring the firm for a continued period, they refused to go along with the increase. The firm finally signed the contract with the court at the 3 1/2-cent rate.

Voting for the proposition were Commissioners Vance Brown, H. C. Cotton and Clyde Trout. Abstaining from voting was Commissioner Gene Payne. One other evaluation firm was present to seek the contract.

In other action, the court approved the appointment of John Derryberry of Denver City to the Yoakum County Hospital board, replacing Ed Smith who has moved to Fort Worth. Appointment of Jim Brown, also of Denver City, to the board of directors of the Denver City Community Building was also approved. Brown will replace Dan Nicewander, who has moved to Sheridan, Texas.

The initial estimate of $6,134.70 on the Plains Clinic was approved and ordered paid to Frank Bennett, contractor, and it was voted to advertise for bids for a water fountain to be installed in the old court house.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the court met as a board of equalization, approving the tax list of the county for 1958, and ordering same to be placed on the tax rolls.

September estimate still puts county cotton crop at 25,000 bales

Early September estimates of the 1958 cotton crop production on the Texas High Plains still show a record breaking potential of more than 1,800,000 bales in the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Estimates for Yoakum County still place the figure at an expected 25,000 bales, which would make it one of the best years, cotton-wide, in some time.

Throughout the area, estimates on production as of September 1 were pegged at 1,881,000 bales, down from the 1,909,000 bales estimated August 1.

The reduction is due to unfavorable conditions mostly on dry land acreage in the southern counties where harvesting is already underway. Cotton there failed to receive sufficient moisture in August with the resultant shedding and some boll worm damage.

The Lubbock Cotton Exchange estimated production of 1,843,000 bales off a 20-county area on the Plains. While some counties lost in total production figures in the September estimate, other counties gained. Gaines were registered in Bailey, Deaf Smith, Gaines and Hockley counties and figured off irrigated acreage.

Cotton officials report the area crop continued to mature satisfactorily and is opening in all counties, particularly in the southern half and in dry areas.

Bill Franklin, head of the Lubbock classing office, said the Lamesa office would be opened before Sept. 15. The Lubbock office has already received approximately 200 samples and the grades were reported running about 65 per cent white and 35 per cent light spot with micronaire of 4.1 to 4.7.

Many farmers are talking about defoliating and stripping the entire crop, however officials at the Lubbock Experiment Station warned farmers to be sure cotton is ready for defoliating before it is applied.

The Basic Side

It's that time again... the time that challenges anew an army of vigorous American youth to the task of preparation in basic education that will equip them with know-how for their tomorrows. Here young minds fresh from their bowl of wheaties, assemble for classroom and playground training. Dear Teacher, responsibility lies heavy on your shoulders. Don't forget that along with reading and writing and arithmetic—lessons in how to live God's way are needed. Teachers and students alike have God to honor and your country to save right there in your classrooms. Always remember, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Proverbs 25:11. Blending of the academic with the spiritual lessons of Jesus, the greatest teacher, offers a moral and spiritual constitution possessing all the qualities basic in life.

The ROUND-UP

High school band makes appearance in new uniforms

As you noticed at the Plains vs. Meadow game last Friday night at Meadow, the Plains High School Band marched out on the football field in their new eye catching uniforms.

The uniforms are black with white and gold trim and are set off with white shoes and silver hats with white plumes.

All eyes were upon the Drum Major, Jeanine St. Romain, in her black uniform trimmed in gold, with a black feathered hat trimmed in gold. As she led the band out onto the field she was followed by the majorettes, wearing their cowgirl outfits, stealing the show. A life worth living—

Story of rehabilitation at Gonzales Foundation

Gonzales, September 8—A heart stopped beating. It stopped during a minor operation on a young woman, mother of four small children. Instantly, the surgeon opened the chest, massaged the heart. Three minutes later it began to beat and again life pulsed through the slender form on the operating table.

However, in those three minutes, the sensitive brain tissues suffered severe damage. When this young mother awoke she was unable to remember how to talk, write or read.

Fifty years ago her case might have been thought hopeless. Today she talks, reads and writes and enjoys her children again.

Her story, she would tell you, is the story of rehabilitation. A two-year-old boy's back was broken in an automobile accident. The spinal cord which carries messages from the brain to the lower half of his body was cut in half, leaving him with no normal feeling in his body below his waist. There was a time when he would have faced a life spent in bed, unable to care for himself.

Today this youngster has been taught not only to use a wheelchair, but to walk with the aid of crutches and braces. He can take care of himself and will be able to earn a living.

His story, his parents will tell you, is the story of rehabilitation. Although the treatments and accomplishments of these two individuals were different, rehabilitation has meant the same thing to both of them. It has meant for them not just life, but a life worth living. Both of them have built a new life by making the most of what they had left. The mother used undamaged brain tissue to relearn what had been blotted out. The boy uses his strong arm muscles to support him as he walks again.

And yet, rehabilitation is not just a physical thing. More than crutches are needed to walk if you don't know where your feet are. You have to have courage and belief in your ability to overcome the handicap.

To accomplish both physical and emotional rehabilitation requires the coordinated effort of a large, highly trained team of specialists. According to Time Magazine, only a few places have the team and equipment to carry out this total rehabilitation program. One is the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York where Roy Campanella is fighting back from paralysis incurred in a car crash.

Another is the Texas Rehabilitation Center, the largest and most comprehensive in the Southwest. Begun as a polio center, this non-profit, non-sectarian hospital has been supported through the dimes and dollars Texans have contributed. Here both adults and children are assured complete comprehensive rehabilitation care, regardless of their ability to pay. Today, more than 4,500 can tell their own stories of rehabilitation at Warm Springs.

In effect, the Texas Rehabilitation Center is an insurance policy for all Texans—not just for life, but for a life worth living.

Mrs. Ivy Conner of Lubbock was in Plains Monday helping her sister, Mrs. Blanche Malmsten, prepare for the style show Monday night.

Darlene Snodgrass, a student at Howard County Junior College in Big Spring, is visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Snodgrass. Darlene and her brother, Carter, will leave Sept 15 to return to school.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

by LEO W. WHITE,
County Agent

On Tuesday, September 2nd, a field day was held on the Sandy Land Experiment Plot in Terry County. This is the first year for the Lubbock Experiment Station to do off-station work in Terry county. They have a 40 acre block of land located two miles west and one mile north of Gomez. The results obtained on this farm are going to apply very well to Yoakum county land. The Lubbock Station has a lot of information on the soils in the Lubbock area and the same recommendations on those tighter soils will not apply to the sandy soils in Yoakum and Terry counties.

They have fertilizer experiments on cotton and grain sorghum. Most of the 40 acre block is irrigated so they are running some experiments on water application. Some rotation experiments are being set up and also some tillage practice work is being started. The most interesting experiment to me was the cotton irrigation experiments. They have several blocks where they have different cut-off dates for the irrigation water. The dates of the last water application range from August 29th to September 18th. It will probably take ten years for them to come up with any average yields on these plots that will help us in Yoakum county to know when is best to stop irrigating our cotton. I am guessing that the plot where the water is cut off on September 6th will make the most cotton over a period of several years. I believe that the August 30th cut-off date will make the best grades. Unless the market situation changes, the lower yield with the better grade will be more profitable and that is the only reason for the farmer being in the business.

Also in their irrigation practices they have plots receiving various amounts of water during the growing season. There may be a time in the future when each farmer was allowed to put only one application of water on his crop. It has been worked out at the Lubbock Station that the pre-planting application is the most important but that may not be true in our type of soil. It may be found that two applications of two inches per application after the crop is fruiting is more profitable than four inches applied before planting. Again, it will take several years to gather enough information to be of much value.

The fertilizer work is really showing up on the Sandy Land 40 acres in Terry county. By looking out over the field it is hard to tell the fertilized plots from the unfertilized plots. There is very little difference in the size of the plants. The main difference is in the size of the fruit. The fertilized feed had a larger and fuller head and the fertilized cotton has larger bolls. The number of bolls on the fertilized and unfertilized cotton were about the same but there was a distinct difference in boll size. They have tests started on using various amounts of fertilizer applied at different times and I am sure that they will eventually be able to tell us the answers to many of our fertilizer questions.

Only three or four farmers from Yoakum County attended the field day on September 2nd. They intend to make it an annual event and it would be good if many of our farmers could attend next year. Some of our farmers are getting interested in soybeans and if they could have seen how the rabbits had eaten the soybeans on the Terry county experiment they would know what had to be done before they would be able to maintain a stand of beans.

Bride-elect is shower honoree

Miss Wanda Shifflett, bride-elect of Connie Clevenger, was named honoree at a miscellaneous shower given Tuesday afternoon at the community club room in the old courthouse.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank the fine people of the city of Plains for the nice donations presented to me for giving the first bale of cotton. I sincerely appreciate the good job Mr. Newsom did giving my cotton. He is a good gin man.

I feel like I am in tall cotton since getting the first Yoakum County bale of cotton. I rode my first plane all the way to San Francisco Calif. and ate a $7.00 steak at one of the nice cafe's in Plains since delivering that first bale to the gin. The steak was pretty good after eating rabbits for almost seventy years.

Thanks again
C. C. Freeman

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Owens of Riverside, Calif. are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Shifflett. Mrs. Owens, the former Imogean Shifflett, plans to remain here when he reports for his basic training in the army, September 15.
