Members of the committee pointed out that these are your rooms. Abide by the rules or forfeit your rights to the rooms for a prescribed period of time to be set by the committee in charge. The room is available for the use of any responsible person or group of persons, so long as the activity meets with the maintenance rules as follows.

COACH JACK PIERCE talks over a few special pointers with Jerry Holbert, Cowboy star, preparatory to the all-important game Friday night with Rotan. The game, to be played at Big Spring, will determine which team advances in the state play-offs. Holbert was credited with making the most tackles during the game last Friday night against Sundown. REVIEW Photo

Meet Rotan team Friday in crucial at Big Spring

The Plains Cowboys meet the Rotan Yellow - Hammers, District 6-A champs Friday night at 7:30 in Memorial Stadium, Big Spring, in a bi-district game to determine which team will advance in the state play-offs.

The Yellow - Hammers, although having a so-so record, were one of the first teams in Class "A" to sew up their district championship when they cinched it three weeks ago.

Leading the Yellow-Hammers is the son of "Slinging Sammy" Todd, Bobby Brittain, a junior quarterback, who is noted for his fancy ball handling and passing. Called on mostly for his running power is big, fast, 180 pound Bobby Brittain, Gordon Morrow leads a line that averages approximately 170 lbs.

This is the first meeting between the two schools, and the victor will meet the winner of the Ozona-Fabens game next week.

In a hard hitting, closely contested football game the Plains Cowboys dethroned the Sundown Roughnecks from the top of district 5A and became the first team to represent the local school in a football playoff game. This will be the first time in six years that Sundown will not be in the playoffs.

The game started off as if it would be all Sundown. Plains won the toss and elected to receive and were only able to get the ball out to the 12 yard line. Three running plays netted very little yardage and on fourth down Walt Coffman's kick was blocked and then on the first play for Sundown, fullback Lewis Sessums drove over right guard for 9 yards and a score. The try for point was a good. After this the two teams settled down to play some good hard football. The Cowboys muffed a golden opportunity to score 20 seconds before the half ended. End Harmon Meixner had the misfortune of dropping a pass on the goal line with no one near him. Meixner atoned for that mistake with his sparkling defensive play.

Plains kicked off to Sundown to begin the second half and held for three running plays then Sundown punted and the Cowboys began to move. Starting on their own 31 yard line the Cowboys marched 42 yards to the Roughnecks 15, where Joe Don Marrow, a vital cog in Plains speedy offensive machine, fumbled the ball away. Sundown drew a 15 yard penalty to its own one on the play.

After the "Necks punted the Cowboys drove 45 yards for their first touchdown with Marrow going the last 6 yards. The Cowboys covered the distance in 6 plays, overcoming a 15 yard penalty on the way. With the aid of a block by tackle Don Todd, Ray Faught circled right end for the two point conversion.

After Faught returned a Sundown punt 27 yards to the Plains 29 in the final seconds of the third quarter, the Cowboys exhibited an impressive display of ground power. With Faught and Morrow doing most of the damage, Plains ground out 71 yards in 15 plays. Marrow got the final three yards through right guard.

It was the second time during the drive Marrow went into the end zone. Two plays before he scored, Marrow raced over from 6 yards out, but a backfield in motion nullified the play. Four minutes and 25 seconds remained for Sundown to try to overcome the 14-6 lead.

On the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff, Mike Leonard brought fans to their feet by cutting through the left side of the line on a dive play and sprinted 41 yards to the Plains 37. Jim Williams and Mike Sink made the stop just as Leonard was about to break into the clear.

Two plays gained six yards, but on the second play Sundown received a personal foul penalty that set them back to midfield, a blow from which the Roughnecks never recovered.

Plains took over, then gave up the ball after four plays. Twenty seconds were left when Sundown got the pigskin. A pass fell incomplete and a desperate run by Sessums gained only 12 yards as the game ended.

Marrow was the big offensive gun for Plains. The speedy sophomore halfback who runs with power and determination lugged the pigskin 26 times for 110 yards. He was backed by Don Williams, who has been a very consistent and rugged performer for the Cowboys all year, who gained 86 yards on 17 carries. Marrow was selected as the top back on the South Plains for his play in the game.

While Marrow and Williams were leading the offensive surge, a tougher than expected line spearheaded by Meixner, Don Cooke, Jerry Holbert, and Don Todd, limited the Roughnecks to

County receives $9,213 from state

The coffers of the county's general fund were enriched by $9,213.99 this week with the receipt of that amount from the state as due for assessing of 1958 taxes, Sheriff Robert Chambliss, who is also tax assessor-collector, reported.

Chambliss also said that Robert Calvert, state comptroller of public accounts, had noted that no errors were found in a check of the tax roll from Yoakum County.

"When you consider that we have a $50 million tax roll," Chambliss commented, "the fact that not one error was found in a check of the roll by the state takes on significant importance, and is a matter of which not only the workers on the roll but the entire county may well be proud."

Meet Gus Malmsten

Plains personalities on parade

Our personality this week is a man who was born in Vaggeryd, Sweden, December 19, 1907.

Gus Malmsten, one of three children of Mr. and Mrs. John Malmsten attended school in Vaggeryd then attended Malmo College where he studied Physiotherapy. Upon completing college he served in the Sweden army then practiced physiotherapy six months before he came to the United States. He waited three years after filing an application to come to the U. S. then when he finally did receive his passport they gave him only ten days to get on a ship and start over here.

When he landed in New York in 1930, he had no one to meet him and could not speak English; however he soon went to work in a health club and attended night school studying English. Some of his patients in the health club where he administered physiotherapy were J. P. Morgan, Babe Ruth, Walter B. Chrysler and many others.

He remained in New York until 1933 when he had a yen to travel some more and took a concession on the U. S. Steamship "Manhattan" administering physiotherapy. On this ship, he had many patients who were famous or later become famous including Ambassador William Bullitt, James Gunn, who later became ambassador to Italy and Joseph Strauss, who was head of Macy's Department Store in New York. Mr. Strauss offered Mr. Malmsten a job in a health club in Paris but he enjoyed traveling, so remained with the ship until 1936 when he went to California.

While on the ship, Mr. Malmsten made several return trips home to Sweden. The tour included Ireland, England, France and Germany, from Germany he would go to Sweden where he spent several days before the ship would make the return trip.

It was in Beverly Hills, Calif., where Gus met his wife, Blanche. Blanche was working in Ann Merideth's Beauty Salon, the largest in the world. While on another floor in the same building Gus was working in a health club. Most of their customers were in the show business.

They were married in Las Vegas, Nevada in April 1943. They continued to work in Beverly Hills until 1944 when they moved to New York where they continued to work in the same business and still had many clients who were in the show business.

In 1947 he was stricken with multiple sclerosis, becoming paralyzed from his chest down. He remained in that condition eight weeks then slowly began to regain his movements; but will never fully recover. After being advised by the physician to change climates, they decided to come to Brownfield where three of Mrs. Malmsten's sisters lived at that time. They remained in Brownfield until 1953, then they moved to Plains where Blanche opened The Modern Beauty Salon. It wasn't long until Gus was able to be out more and he went to work operating the projector at the Mac Theatre. He began working at his present job with McGinty-Stevens Abstract Company in 1954.

As a boy Gus was interested and took part in many sports including ice hockey, skiing, soccer, tennis and swimming.

Gus's father owned two department stores, a large one in Vaggeryd and a smaller one in Massjo. About ten days out of each month Gus and his father would load a wagon with cloth goods, yarn, etc., and travel to the rural area trading their materials for wool and other things.

Each summer the family would get on their bicycles and visit some European country camping along the way. A part of the summer was spent on his grandparents farm in the state of Dairland.

One incident that stands out in Gus's memory is when he was a very small lad, in fact so small that he would barely see out the window on tiptoes, is standing and watching his father's dye factory burn to the ground.

Their daughter, Mrs. L. O. Wray, whose husband is in the armed forces, teaches school in Killeen, Texas.

George Sorrell named surveyor by Commissioners

George Sorrell, who was elected to the post of county surveyor via write-ins in the general election November 4, was appointed to take over the position now at Monday's special meeting of the commissioners' court.

Through this action, Sorrell can officially assume duties as surveyor at once, without waiting until the first of the year when the elective office becomes effective.

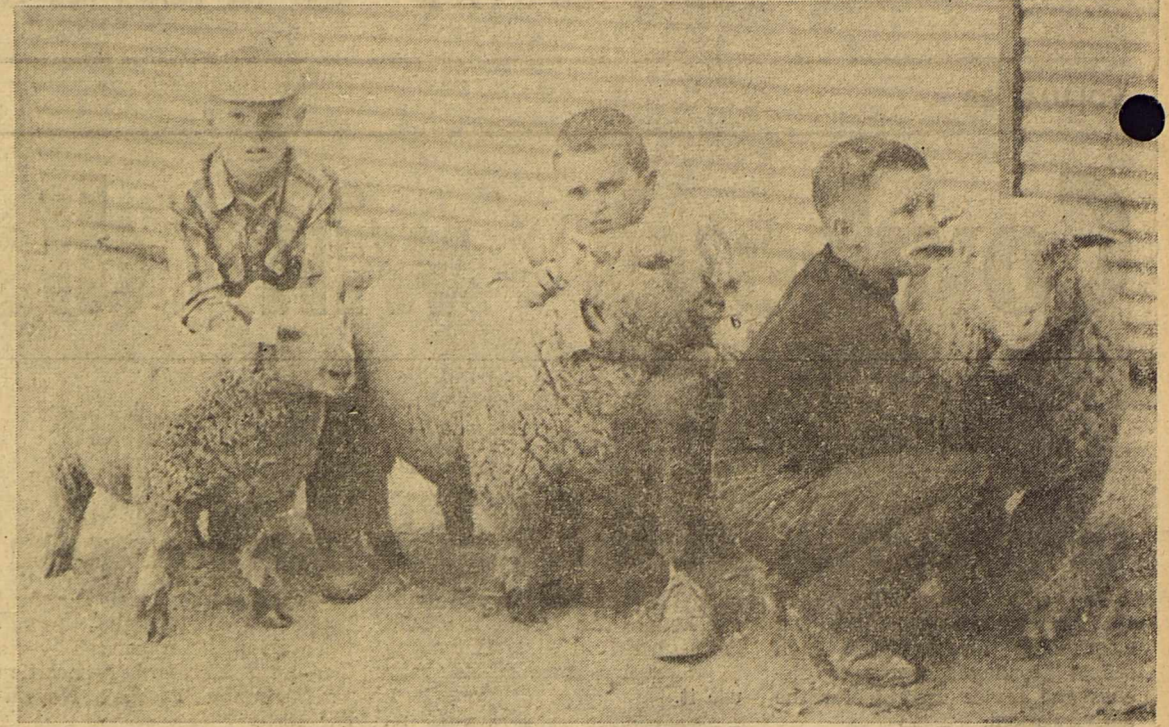

The court also heard a discussion of library needs by Bernice Bartlett, county librarian, who asked for more support and cooperation from the commissioners. A statement from the Panther Oil & Manufacturing Company in the amount of $116.85 for library supplies was approved and ordered paid, and the county auditor was instructed to advertise for bids for a typewriter table and chair, also for the library. Bills amounting to $1090.84 for the library operation were also approved for payment.

At the regular meeting last week, the court approved Estimate No. 3 in the amount of $8,698.50 on the Plains Clinic to be paid to Frank Bennett, Jr., and 173.97 to Stiles, Roberts, Gee & Messersmith, architects, for supervisory fee.

Bid of $193.50 for an Underwood typewriter was accepted, and it was voted to advertise for the purchase of one truck for county use.

Returns of the general election were canvassed, with the court finding that in Box 4 total vote tabulation cast in the county commissioners race was 63, whereas the poll list shows only 61 voters.

At the next meeting of the board, the deputization of C.

Showmanship winners are named at field day

The Feeders Field Day held in the Livestock Exhibit Building last Saturday brought together a large group of 4-H Club boys and girls, many interested parents and friends and some good looking animals. Forty-two beef calves and 30 lambs were brought in by 4-H boys and girls. It took most of the morning to get the animals washed and groomed and ready for the afternoon exhibition.

A showmanship contest was held during the afternoon where first, second and third place showmen were selected from Junior and Senior beef calf feeders and Junior and Senior lamb feeders. Ty Earl Powell was the first place winner in the Senior Beef Calf Division followed by D'Lois McGinty and Eddie Hamby. In the Junior Beef Calf Division the first place showman was Jack Sprawls. Second place went to Pharon Pharr and third to Mike Loe. In the Senior Lamb contest, first place went to John Robertson; second, J. B. Wilson and third, Joe Wagley. The Junior Lamb showmanship award was won by Oscar Henard. Second place went to Bobby Taylor and third to Eddie Tingle.

McGinty as the show superintendent.

All animals were weighed as they entered the barns and some of them have made some very satisfactory gains. Three beef calves have gained more than 500 pounds since the 17th day of May when the gain contest got underway. Oscar Henard is feeding a calf called Sugar Foot that has climbed back into the lead with a total gain of 522 pounds. In second place in the gain contest is a calf called Hot Shot fed by Dianne Fitzgerald. Hot Shot has gained 510 pounds. In third place last Saturday was D'Lynn McGinty with a calf called Tequilla. The gain on this calf was 505 pounds. Others who are strong contenders for the gain trophy offered by G. W. 165 yards in their specialty, rushing.

Leonard was the top gainer for Sundown with 73 yards on 11 carries, but Sessoms was the workhorse. He carried the ball 17 times for 70 yards.

The Cowboys, who like to throw the ball frequently, abandoned the pass in the second half after hitting on only 3 of 11 in the first half. Quarterback Cordell Huddleston chose to take the air only twice in the second half. He completed both.

All told, Huddleston hit on 5 of 11 tosses, all to end Walter Coffman, for 49 yards.

The Cowboys so completely dominated the second half that Sundown crossed the 50 yard line only twice in the 24 minutes.

Cotton report shows crop one of best quality

The third Texas High Plains Cotton Quality Report for the 1958 cotton crop continues to show this year's crop is one of the best quality cotton crops as well as one of the best yielding crops in many years, George W. Pfeifferberger, Executive Vice President of the Plains Cotton Growers said on release of the Quality Report this week.

Ginnings on the High Plains passed the million-bale mark November 11, and the cooperative Quality Report of the PCG and the U.S.D.A. classing office shows that more than 85% of the cotton harvested thus far is white cotton. This Quality Report covers only about three-quarters of a million bales of cotton harvested as the statistics run about a week behind actual ginnings, Pfeifferberger explained.

White cotton accounted for 85.2% of the crop with 42.9% being Middling white and above. Light spotted cotton totaled only 14.4% with 11.6% being Middling light spot and above. Full spotted cotton was only 0.2%.

The average staple length was 31.6 thirty seconds, with 51.9% being one inch or longer. Only 2.9% fell below 15/16 inch. Micronaire average was 4.3 with 95.7% above the tenderable micronaire limit of 3.5. The majority of the crop, or 71.7% fell between 4.0 and 5.0. Presley fiber strength averaged 76,000 pounds per square inch, with 51% between 75,000 and 90,000 pounds.

The Cotton Quality Report with correlations between grade, staple, micronaire and Presley is being mailed every two weeks to textile mill officials and cotton buyers throughout the nation. It is published to give buyers and mill officials up to date information on the kinds and type of cotton produced in the Texas High Plains area.

level benches, and rows running down the slope. Measurement will be made of applied water (both rainfall and irrigated) and water lost by runoff. Cost of production, yields, soil erosion loss, and the effective use of water will be factors considered in this experiment.

The Advisory Council of the High Plains Station considers the use and conservation of water as the "number one" problem of the irrigated High Plains. Harold Hinn, Chairman, stated this week. A soil and water engineer will be added to the staff at the Station after January 1, 1959, to implement the water study program recently adopted for the Station.

Conservation gets top attention at High Plains Station

Conservation of soil and water is receiving major attention in the research program at the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation. A new phase of this program was initiated last week with bench leveling of the sloping land around the lake getting underway.

This is a cooperative program with the Soil Conservation Service and the Floyd, Hale, Lubbock, and Terra Blanco Soil Conservation Districts. J. E. History of Thanksgiving in U.S. has been filled with arguments

The Pilgrims would have been shocked to their shoe buckles on December 13, 1621, if they had known that their day of thanks was to become a yearly national holiday celebrated by millions of people in the United States and Canada.

For the Pilgrims were dead-set against "annual" holidays, and refused to celebrate even Christmas and Easter. According to research experts with the World Book Encyclopedia, the Pilgrims referred to the religious holidays of the Church of England as "Roman corruptions." They believed in celebrating only when Providence granted them a particular blessing.

As if to prove their disdain for yearly calendar-fixed celebrations, the Pilgrims did not have a thanksgiving celebration the next year. However other New England colonists picked up the idea and held "thanks days", usually around the end of November.

The Pilgrim-inspired holiday is today a joyous family day celebrated with big dinners and happy reunions, but the history of the holiday in the United States has been fraught with argument.

In 1789, a resolution was presented by a member of the new Congress proposing that a day be set aside to give thanks for the Constitution. The resolution was finally adopted, but there was much opposition by those who believed the Federal Government was meddling in a matter that should be the concern of the individual states. Thomas Jefferson called such Government-proclaimed holidays a "Monarchical practice" and ignored thanksgiving during his eight years in office.

Mrs. Sarah Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, worked for 30 years to promote the idea of a national thanksgiving day. Mrs. Hale had a double-barreled attack—she printed editorials promoting the idea and also included tempting recipes for Thanksgiving delicacies.

In 1863 Lincoln proclaimed that the last Thursday in November would be Thanksgiving Day. Each year afterward, the President of the United States formally proclaimed that Thanksgiving should be celebrated on the last Thursday of November.

However, some descendants of the original New England Puritans refused to observe the holiday, claiming that Thanksgiving should be inspired by the Deity, not by politicians.

The most recent Thanksgiving controversy arose when Franklin D. Roosevelt switched the date of the holiday from the fourth to the third Thursday in November. He hoped to help business by making the shopping period longer between Christmas and Thanksgiving.

Newspapers and magazines carried editorials advising readers to ignore the President and some Governors flatly advised their states to celebrate Thanksgiving on the traditional day. Three years after the change was made, Congress officially restored Thanksgiving to the fourth Thursday.

In view of this stormy history, it might be well to have a thanksgiving to give thanks for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Ann Green, accompanied by her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lavon Smith and baby visited her mother, Mrs. Lydia Graves and sister, Mrs. Pate Jones, in Floydada Sunday. They attended dedication services for the new sanctuary of the First Methodist church there. Rev. Tilden B. Armstrong, formerly of Floydada, and now of Andrews, gave the dedicatory address. Also spending the day there were Mrs. Green's sons, Bob and wife of Canyon, and Wilton and wife of Lubbock.

Recipe Spotlight of the week

The favorite recipe spotlight this week is on Mrs. R. B. Jones' delicious pound cake.

BUTTERMILK POUND CAKE

3 cups flour
3 cups sugar
1 cup Crisco or other shortening
1 cup buttermilk
6 eggs separated
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons lemon or orange extract

Blend the sugar and shortening in a mixing bowl either by hand or with a mixer. Add the egg yolks one at a time and blend after each addition. Add flavoring.

Sift dry ingredients together and add to first mixture alternately with the milk. Begin and end with dry ingredients. Beat the egg whites until stiff and carefully fold into mixture. Pour batter into 10-inch tube in 350 degree F. oven, preheated, for about one hour and ten minutes. Be sure that top of cake is firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Webber of Floydada spent Saturday night and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. H. Morris. Mrs. Morris has recently traded her home just east of the Cowboy Stadium, to the Plains School for a residence on Ave. F, known as the Mary Lackey house.

State Line HD club hears tips on house cleaning

The State Line Home Demonstration Club met in regular session last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jim Lewis. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Tom Box. Roll call was answered by "Short cuts I take in house cleaning".

It was voted to change the next club meeting to Monday afternoon, November 24, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Newsom. Reason for the change was because the next regular meeting would have fallen on Thanksgiving Day. This will be the last club meeting of the year, except for the family Christmas party on the night of December 12th, in the A. E. Newsom home. It is hoped that all club members will be present for the November 24th meeting, as plans are to reveal secret pals and draw new ones for next year. Miss Marshall, home demonstration agent, gave a very good demonstration and many helpful suggestions on simplified house cleaning. She suggested the use of a box or basket to carry cleaning supplies from room to room. She showed a safe, simple and inexpensive way to remove tarnish from silver, and made a mixture of kerosene and warm water to make lintless dust-cloths. She demonstrated that alcohol and warm water makes a good window and mirror cleaner, and gave many other helpful tips and suggestions.

Hot doughnuts, coffee, and punch were served to Mrs. Dutch Duote, Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. Lee Roy Box, Mrs. Tom Box, Mrs. Ira Tidwell, Mrs. Loren Gayle, Mrs. Terry Bacon, Mrs. A. E. Newsom, Mrs. R. G. Hartman, and the hostess, Mrs. Jim Lewis.

Mrs. Newsom and Mrs. Spencer will give a demonstration on making Christmas decorations at the November 24th meeting. All homemakers in the area are invited.

In The Beginning

... God created all things. He gave us science and He gave us religion ... they never conflict. His words and His works harmonize. He can perform both scientific and spiritual miracles. God can take the nucleus, the cell, the molecule and get staggering results. He can also take a body that has almost gone to hell and convert it into a man. The laboratory and the human body are the Lord's work shops. He can pull a switch and set it all to work. He is still saying ... "My thoughts are not as your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways." His church on the corner is a good place to learn that fancied discords blend in perfect harmony. Won't you attend services somewhere this week?

Service medals may be obtained through request

Former Army servicemen may now obtain all their military service medals by making one simple informal request without having to substantiate their right to the medals, Maj. Gen. Robert G. Gard, commanding general, VIII US Army Corps (Reserve), has announced.

Many veterans apparently fail to claim their service medals, earned by active duty with the Army because they are unable to recall specific dates of military service and cannot name the medals they are entitled to. Actually, a veteran does not have to prove his right to a medal. The Army will obtain the proof from the veteran's service record.

Under the simplified "ask and receive" procedure, the Army will send the veteran all of the medals, as they become available, his service warrants simply in response to the ex-service-man's written request stating "send all medals to which I am entitled," or words to that effect. He may, of course, list the medals to which he believes he is entitled.

It is most important that the ex-serviceman give his full name, service number, current address, and approximate dates of service in order to identify the proper record. Since records are filed according to service, such as World War I, World War II, and post World War II, receipt of this information will expedite action in processing the request.

This project is being handled along with current operations and there might be a considerable delay before receipt of the medals. The Department of Defense urges that, once a request has been made for the medals, no further action be taken by that individual. Follow-up or tracer inquiries will tend to cause further delay in the receipt of medals by the individuals.

Military service medals available to qualified ex-servicemen and women include the following:

World War I Victory Medal, Army of Occupation of Germany Medal (post WWI), Women's Auxiliary Corps Service Medal, American Defense Service Medal, American Campaign Medal, European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal, Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal, World War II Victory Medal, Army of Occupation Medal (post WWII), Medal for Humane Action (Berlin Airlift), National Defense Medal, Korean Service Medal, Armed Forces Reserve Medal, United States Service Medal and Philippine Service Ribbons.

A service ribbon is issued with each service medal when available. It is the same color as the suspension ribbon of the service medal it represents. Also issued with service medals when available are Service Stars, for battle participation; Bronze Arrowheads, for participation in combat parachute jump, combat glider landing or amphibious assault landing; battle and service clasps and/or devices; and the Berlin Airlift device, for participation in the Berlin Airlift (June 18 to September 30, 1949).

Servicemen on active duty should apply for service medals for which they are eligible through their commanding officer.

Qualified Army ex-servicemen or women or their next-of-kin may send their applications to Commanding Officer, Army Records Center TAGO, 9700 Page Boulevard, St. Louis 14,
