Plains city gas bond election set for Saturday

$90,000 needed for new 3-inch city gas main

Local voters will decide Saturday whether the city can go ahead with plans for vast improvements in the Plains natural gas system. All eligible voters within the city have been urged by the City Council and by the Chamber of Commerce to cast ballots in this important election.

The ballot choice will be simple — will the city be authorized to issue bonds in the amount of $90,000 for the construction of a new transmission line from the El Paso Natural Gas line nine and one-fourth miles east of town and make other improvements? Local civic leaders point out that the future

Plains Talk

By WENDELL FAUGHT

Deciding to come to Plains as managing editor of the Review was one of the easiest important decisions yours truly ever had to make. At the same time there was no argument from the missus as we had both been looking forward to an opportunity to return to West Texas.

Although neither of us are natives of this great country, we do consider ourselves West Texans — a term we have found applicable to a vast army of Oklahomans. Shortly after I became editor of the newspaper in Seminole, Pat came down from her home in Quannah and we were married. The happiest years of our lives followed.

The aroma of greener pastures far removed from the South Plains led us elsewhere. Disappointment, discomfort and dissatisfaction followed and we began dreaming of the day we could return to this area.

We had heard a little bit about Plains and had been through this town a number of times. But we were amazed to find that so much growth and development had taken place here since we last saw the town. After meeting a number of the towns people it was easily understandable why the progress had been made and was re-assuring to know that Plains is building for a brighter tomorrow on a firm and sturdy foundation.

We hope to take our places among those who are looking to the future with such optimism and do everything we can to build a better community.

We know you'll all miss Helen Henard who has been holding down the management of the Review so well of late — and no one knows how badly she'll be missed around here. Her cooperation in showing us the rounds during our first week and her untiring efforts in helping us locate a place to live leave us deeply indebted to a person we had never seen until this week.

Plains has a great many business places which would be a credit to a town much larger. When we arrived Sunday night we pulled into a very nice motel. We have eaten at a couple of extra nice cafes, obtained an expert haircut and visited many other stores which we look forward to patronizing in the future.

In addition to the private industry, we admired the school setup, the new clinic, the county park, the court house and the library, all truly symbols of prosperity and pride.

It was pleasant to learn that

THANKS

Since this will be the last week that I will be associated with The Yoakum County Review, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to each one of you for your splendid cooperation during the past two years that I have worked as editor of the paper.

It has been a pleasure to be associated with each of you, the advertisers, as well as all of you who have been so cooperative in getting the news to us.

I truly value the many new friends that I have made since I began working here and sincerely appreciate the old friends who have stood by me, assisted and encouraged me from week to week.

It has been a pleasure to work with our new editor, Wendell Faught, this week. He is very interested in our big "little" city and I feel sure that he and his family will be a great asset to our community.

Mrs. Robert (Helen) Henard

Dress revue winners named here Thursday

Fourteen girls entered the annual 4-H dress revue last Thursday. Approximately 40 people attended the "4-H Parade of Fashions and Fabrics."

Scene of the dress revue was an elite French dress and fabric shop. The script was cleverly narrated by Carolyn Warren. Other 4-H members who assisted in the production of the revue were Marsha White, Sharon Smith, Carolyn Warren, D'Lynn McGinty and Zoleta Brantley.

Winners of the various classes were presented gift certificates by the Yoakum County Home Demonstration Council. Cogburn and Young Hardware donated the use of furniture and plants for the stage. Pin cushions were presented to each by More and Oden Dry Goods.

Those receiving first place prizes of $5 and the category in which they won were: Rita Jo Snodgrass and Sylvia McGinty, skirt division; Dana Bryson, blouse and skirt division; Zoleta Brantley, dress division.

Second place awards of $3.35 were awarded to Martha Campbell, skirts; Loreta Taylor, blouse and skirt; and Donna Campbell, dress.

Awards were presented by Mrs. Don Hancock, wife of the County Judge. Judges for the revue were Miss Betty Hillis, Terry County Home Demonstration Agent, and Mrs. Peggy Kendall, assistant Home Demonstration Agent of Hockley County.

Four-H leaders who helped in taching clothing were Mrs. Carl Lowery, Tokio; Mrs. B. L. Black and Mrs. C. L. Jones of Denver City. La Juana Jones and Marsha White were junior leaders in 4-H clothing workshops.

Two local girls will represent Yoakum County in the district 4-H dress revue to be held in Lubbock July 30 and 31. The revue is to be held at the Texas Tech School of Home Economics.

Zoleta Brantley will represent Yoakum County for the second time, having also earned that honor last year. Her dress was a beautiful green and black acetate crepe with three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a black picture hat and carried green gloves. A black leather bag and shoes completed her costume.

Dana Bryson will enter the junior division of the district dress revue. She will model a midnight blue gathered skirt which is accented with an abstract print design in yellow. Her white cotton blouse is sleeve-

Eleven nominated for positions on county ASC board

Eleven persons have been nominated for positions on the Yoakum County ASC committee, it was announced Wednesday by C. J. Roseberry, chairman of the community election board.

Names to appear on the ballot are those of Howard Borland, C. B. Poindexter, Tom Barron, A. G. Brantley, O. G. Lewis, Robert A. Long, Ray Bearden, Kenyon Banks, Melvin Brookshire, W. M. Nelson and R. D. Romans.

The selections were made by the election board composed of Roseberry, Carl Lowery and Louis Eubank.

In addition to the nominees selected by the county board there will be included on the slate of nominees the names of eligible persons whose nomination is requested by petition. The petition must be signed by 10 or more eligible voters and presented to the election board no later than 15 days before the date set for return of ballots by farmers.

The election is to be held by mail and September 8 is the date set for the balloting. All farmers on the Yoakum County ASC mailing list will be mailed ballots and they must be returned to the county office in person or by mail on or before September 8. Ballots received by mail with a postmark dated later than September 8 cannot be counted, according to W. M. Overton, county ASC office manager.

The election board was appointed by the county agricultural agent, the heads of the Soil Conservation Service, Farmers Home Administration, the president of the county Farm Bureau and the county Farmers Union.

Early Plains newspaper publisher observes 90th birthday Saturday

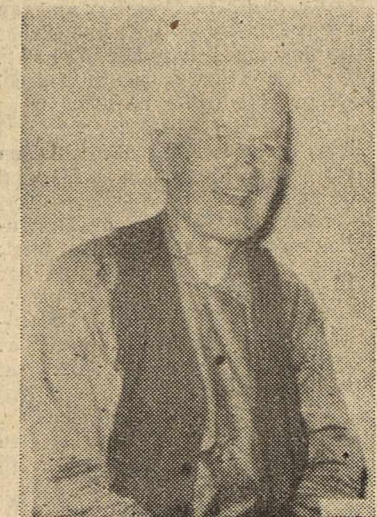

Former Review publisher W. J. Hale who came to Plains during the depression when 27 families inhabited the townsite marked by birthday No. 90 Saturday and offered a few comments on the future, confident he will be around to see further development of the city.

Helping him celebrate his anniversary were Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Meixner and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Weed. Mr. and Mrs. Hale, unaware that a party in their honor had been planned at the Tumbleweed Drive-In thought they were on a routine joy ride Saturday. But after their ride they were taken to the Weeds' cafe and treated to a birthday dinner as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Weed. Rev. and Mrs. Meixner were special guests for the occasion.

A large number of persons dropped by to congratulate Mr. Hale on his birthday and there were numerous gifts from people who were grateful for the part he has played in community affairs.

$890,000 bond issue to be decided Saturday

Residents of Plains will have an opportunity to vote on four questions Saturday in the special county election which is set for that day. Bonds totaling $890,000 for three major improvements proposed for the Denver City area will be approved or rejected along with another item which does not call for a bond issue.

Issues to be voted on by taxpayers will be a $600,000 bond issue for enlargement and improvement of facilities of the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City, a $250,000 bond issue for the erection of a county park in the vicinity of Denver City, a $40,000 bond issue for the construction of a new county jail in Denver City and a separation of the present sheriff and tax assessor office into two different offices.

Due to the fact that none of the three questions involving the issuance of bonds have a direct bearing on the city of Plains, there has been no great interest here in the upcoming election. The separation of the sheriff and tax office appears to be highly favored by the man on the street, but it is doubtful the other three questions will have strong appeal to local voters.

No organized move for or against the bonds has been made here. Denver City interests have purchased a half-page advertisement in this week's issue of the Review in an effort to gain support of Plains voters. This move represents about the only attempt made to sell the improvement idea to residents of Plains.

As usual, all local balloting will take place at the court house here. Only qualified property holders will be eligible to vote on any of the questions.

Plans for the hospital expansion call for the addition of 23 beds, bringing the total to 50. Hospital officials say this would take care of the needs of the institution for the next 10 years.

of years. He smiles when he talks of his first newspaper job. That was in Kyle and he remembers that he walked into the newspaper there and volunteered to work for nothing just so he could learn the business.

That was the beginning of a long and colorful career which led him to many localities and finally to Plains in 1936. There was not much to Plains or to Yoakum County when Hale arrived here during the dusty thirties. He immediately became a booster of Yoakum County and distributed free copies of the paper to residents of the struggling communities of Den-

Youth breaks arm in pool accident

A Plains youngster suffered a broken right arm and a painful injury to the other arm in an accident at the local swimming pool Friday afternoon.

J. E. Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Todd, was released from the Yoakum County hospital in Denver City Saturday after being kept overnight. Two bones just above the wrist of the right arm were broken, necessitating a cast. His left arm was sprained.

The accident occurred when the youth stepped from the high diving board. Young Todd is a member of the Plains all-star Little League baseball team and his services will be missed on that team as well as by the Giants with whom he has played all summer.

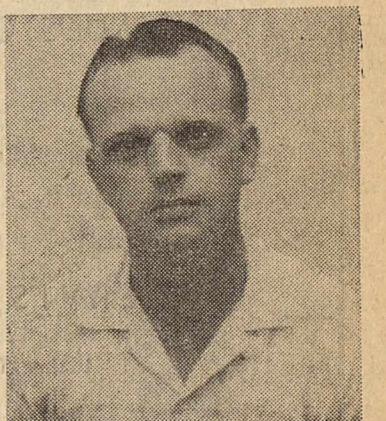

The accident was the second at the swimming pool Friday. Earlier in the day, David Mize, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Mize, struck his head on the pool's edge causing a gash which required six stitches.

Foye Flood, pool manager, stated there had been only seven or eight minor accidents since he assumed management of the pool three years ago.

MARKING TIME until the opening of school and the activities which will follow are these five campus beauties who will form the cheerleader corps for the Cowboys this fall. Clockwise, they are,

Linda Fitzgerald, Barbara Meil, Neda Anderson, Sharon Smith and Lela Parks. All five attended the cheerleaders' clinic held recently at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls.

Giants claim baseball title with 7-6 victory

Staging a sixth-inning rally after two were out, the Giants claimed the undisputed championship of the Little League Tuesday on the strength of a 7-6 decision over the Yankees.

Trailing 6-4 going into the last inning, the Giant's hopes faded momentarily when the first two batters went down swinging. But bases on balls to Lusk and Stroud revived their hopes and Loves came through with a timely single. Lee was hit by a pitched ball and Robert Myers walked. Up stepped Mike Waddell and stroked a single to put the Giants in the lead.

Winning pitcher was Lee who gave up but four singles, three of them in the first inning. Ralph Meixner, victim of the Giant uprisings in the sixth, was credited with the loss after having relieved Gaylon Newton.

The Giants collected nine hits, seven during the five-inning stretch Newton worked and two off of Meixner. Waddell had three singles for the winners. Lusk collected the only extra base hit of the game, a double, while Lowe and Myers contributed two singles each. Wilkins also had a single. For the losers, Dan Sinclair, Meixner, Newton and Mark Sinclair had singles.

In a game played last Thursday the Giants defeated the Cubs, 16-1, on the strength of Joe Bob Lee's one-hit pitching and the timely hitting of practically the entire Giant team. Howard Chaney was charged with the loss. He started but was relieved by Jimmie Smith in the second.

Chaney singled for the only hit surrendered by Lee, who also led the Giants' offensive attack with two singles and a triple. Mike Waddell had two doubles and a single, David Lusk collected a double and a single, J. E. Todd tripled and singled and Jack Lowe and Seals each had singles.

On Friday, the Indians edged the Yankees, 10-9, in an extra-inning contest which was decided in the seventh. Harold Swan who hurled the final three innings in relief of Larry Coffman was the winner while Gaylon Newton was the loser. Dan Sinclair pitched the first six innings for the Yankees.

Coffman stroked a triple and double to lead the Indians attack while Swann and Robert Copper collected two singles each. For the Yankees, Sinclair had a triple and a single and Ralph Meixner doubled. Newton singled for the only other Yankee hit.

Monday's action saw the Indians outscore the Cubs, 17-14, although being out-hit, 11 to 8. Larry Coffman was the winner and Buddy Smith the loser.

Swann collected two singles, Coffman had a triple and two singles, Butch Gayle had two singles and Copper one single. For the losing Cubs, Howard Chaney gathered three singles and Gary Lyles had two. Jimmie Smith had a double and a single while Larry Middleton, Tommy Blount and Buddy Smith each had one single.

Pre-school band clinic scheduled

A pre-school band class will be conducted for all those students who are interested some time in August, it was announced Monday by Bobby Brooks, new band director of the Plains school.

Pony Leaguers to begin tourney play Monday

The stage has been set for the opening of the 1959 District 7 Pony League Baseball Tournament which opens at the Denver City Pony League Park on Monday, July 27, with the first game between Area 4 and Area 2 scheduled to start at 6 p.m.

Second game of the district tourney will send Denver City entry against Roswell, N. M., winners of the Area 1 tourney in Lovington last week. The Area 3 entry in the tournament will draw a bye in the first round, meeting the winner of the Denver City-Roswell game on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The double elimination tournament will continue through Thursday night, with a possible deciding game also set for Friday night if necessary. The additional game will be played if the team which plays in Thursday's final game from the loser's bracket should defeat the team from the winner's bracket.

Lubbock Southern will represent Area 4 in the tourney. Southern defeated Southwest Lubbock 4-1 Wednesday night to advance to the District tournament. Entries from Area 2 and Area 3 had not contacted the tourney director with tournament results up to 10:30 a.m., Thursday.

Area One will be represented in the tournament by Roswell and Denver City since the tourney is being staged here. Area Two is composed of Hereford, Borger, Pampa and Childress; Area Three has Post, Tahoka and Slaton; and the Fourth Area is composed of Southern, Dixie and Southwestern in Lubbock and Littlefield.

Tournament activity will consist of two games each night until the final champion of the district is determined. The winner of the tournament will then advance into Regional play in San Antonio, beginning on August 6. The Regional tourney will cover all of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and part of Arkansas.

Carl Johnson Jr. will be tournament director. He has announced that additional seating space has been added to the city

Pony League Park to handle the overflow crowd which is expected. The additional space was added on the basis that last year's Area tourney here found standing room at a premium for all games.

Johnson also announced today that admission to the games will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Regular admission fees will also be charged for cars parked along the south fence at the park, he said.

According to the schedule for the tournament, the winner of game number one will draw a bye into the quarter-finals and will not see action on Tuesday. The loser of the Denver City-Roswell game will meet the loser of game number one at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, with the loser of that game being eliminated from further participation in the tourney.

In addition to Johnson, other tournament officials are as follows: T. O. Martin, assistant director; C. W. (Skin) Rohman, housing and food; Cecil Mobley and Marvin Post, program advertising and sales; Clyde Pyle, M. C. O'Neal, Bob Dyer, playing field and grounds; W. Y. (Bill) Gravitt, concession stand; David Coats and Nolan Smiley, credentials, gate and collections; Ralph Towns, Ed McAnear, official score-keepers; and R. N. Tipps, umpire-in-chief.

Three handsome trophies will be presented at the conclusion of the tournament. These will include one for the champion, one for the runner-up or loser of the final game; and one for the leading batter in the tournament. The trophies are on display in the window of Gravitt's Variety Store on South Main St.

You'll find four 10703 heavyweights working out of Tucson for Construction Materials, Inc. They tote big, bruising ready-mix loads up and down mountain grades and through the furnace heat of Arizona desert country. According to Mr. H. K. Creswell, a company executive, "You couldn't ask for more out of a truck. They handle every run we put them on... and cost less to buy and maintain than any make we've had." Big-tonnage operators don't become Chevy believers overnight. If you're used to big oversized rigs, you might question Chevy's lean-muscled modern design. Once you get one in action though, all the questioning stops.

Then you see how pure efficiency stacks up against excess pounds.

It's Chevrolet's advanced engineering and quality control that make the difference. Its soundly constructed chassis and sheet metal. Its slick-shifting 5-speed box mated to high-torque Workmaster V8 performance. Its precise steering and handling ease. That's why so many heavy-duty owners are being converted to Chevy. But when Denver City rose to challenge Plains as the No. 1 town in the county, there was no question where Hale's loyalty was. He always took the side of Plains people and helped lead them in a number of squabbles with the growing city to the south.

Hale sees only continued growth and prosperity for Plains. "It's unbelievable how far we have come in just the last three or four years," he said. "There are new houses and new business buildings going up all the time and a person has to drive around town pretty often just to keep up with things."

The former publisher is unusually alert for a man who has reached his 90th birthday. He carries a cane, but he still drives his car daily and manages to visit the downtown area every day to chat with oldtimers, meet newcomers and to continue his never-ending praise of the town he helped to build.

Among other improvements proposed are construction of patient rooms, nursing service center, surgery, delivery and nursing, central supply and drugs, administrative, boiler house and outpatient clinic remodeling of the kitchen and dining facilities and diagnostic area and minor remodeling of the emergency area. Heating and cooling facilities are also to be remodeled and the roof is to be replaced.

County park plans call for the construction of a golf course and picnic area at a site not yet announced. The proposed site is northwest of Denver City, but no official announcement has been made.

The proposed county jail at Denver City would be a modern one with up-to-date facilities. Backers of this proposal say they expect condemnation proceedings forcing erection of a new jail in the event voters turn the measure down.

about the Proposed

COUNTY PARK

WHERE is the park to be located?

No definite location can be selected until after the election. However, present plans are to locate it on the Plains-Denver City highway, as near the mid-way point between the two towns as possible where suitable land is available for purchase on which irrigation water is available.

WHAT is the park to consist of?

It will consist of a large picnic area with necessary equipment, buildings, tennis courts, croquet areas, etc.; a nine-hole golf course with pro shop; and other such facilities as architect and officials think necessary.

WHY a park for Yoakum County?

Recreation facilities in our area are extremely lacking. It is necessary for these facilities to develop as our area develops.

Why This Amount of Money?

Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars is the proposed amount. This amount was voted and used by our neighbors to the south, Gaines County, to build a park similar to the one we have proposed. The Gaines County Park, although still in its infancy, has already been well received and is being widely used by people of Gaines County and the surrounding area.

What About Taxes?

Yoakum County will be completely out of its bonded indebtedness by 1964, and financing can be arranged. As other bonds are paid off, payments can be increased so that little or no increase in the county tax rate would be necessary to pay this Bond Issue.

This Is a COUNTY Bond Election, and it will in no way affect City Taxes

Plains Cotton Growers will select delegates

The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has been named to join with other producer organizations in Texas to select eight grower delegates to the National Cotton Council, it was announced July 18 after a NCC meeting in Dallas.

Aubrey Lockett, chairman of the NCC's Texas chapter, explained that the meeting was held to pass on the application of the Plains Cotton Growers to become a participating producer organization in the naming of Texas grower representatives to the NCC.

W. O. Fortenberry, president of the PCG, said the move "recognizes the PCG as a bonafide producer organization and gives us national representation. It is one of the goals we have sought for a long time." Fortenberry and George W. Pfeiffenberger, executive vice president, attended the Dallas meeting.

The PCG represents more than 20,000 Texas High Plains cotton growers, who produce a sizeable portion of the state and national cotton crop. Producer delegates to the NCC are named to give the council a representation of growers on the basis of geography, number of cotton farmers and number of bales produced.

Delegates representing the High Plains producers in the NCC at present include H. L. King, Brownfield, of the Texas Farm Bureau, and Wilmer Smith, New Home, of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives.

In addition to these two producer organizations, Texas NCC grower delegates have been named by the Texas Cooperative Planting Seed Assn., Bryan; Southwestern Irrigated Growers, El Paso; and the Texas Cotton Growers Cooperative Marketing Assn., Dallas.

The Texas High Plains probably will continue to have two of the eight Texas producers representatives to the NCC, the same as in the past.

The NCC is a central organization representing all segments of the cotton industry in the fields of research and promotion. It has a 30-man board of directors made up of five delegates from each branch of the industry.

By-laws of the Council are so written that no action may be taken which doesn't have the approval of each branch of the industry. Any proposal before the Council is subject to a minimum two-thirds approval by delegates representing each branch voting separately.

One of the major goals of the Council is "to increase the consumption of U. S.-grown cotton, cottonseed and the products thereof throughout the world."

The local ASC office has loans available for farmers to build grain storage structures on the farm. They can loan up to 80 per cent of the cost of the building and the size is limited according to the amount of grain that is produced on the farm. Other lending agencies and manufacturers are offering an interesting finance plan too. Some are asking a down payment of 14c per bushel of capacity. When grain is put in the government loan the farmer receives an ASC payment amounting to about 17c per bushel per year for storage. The storage payment would easily pay for the granary in three years time if the grain was put in the loan.

Market hogs were selling in Fort Worth early this week for $14.50 to $15.25. This down grade in the market will eventually lower the price of feeder pigs. Some predictions are that hog prices will be even lower this fall and that the going price on feeder pigs will continue to decline. A 45 pound feeder pig that costs $6.00 can be sold four months later for 11c a pound and the grain that he eats will bring the farmer $2.00 cwt. The profit per pig is not very much but it is a good way to dispose of some farm grown grain at a little better price.

Hog numbers in Yoakum County have increased almost 100 per cent over a year ago. Hogs were fairly scarce at this time last year so we still do not have very many hogs. Most of the hog crop at the present time is locally raised animals. When the price of feeder pigs go down and pigs start coming in from other parts of the state, we are likely to have a serious threat in diseases. Cholera is the most common disease in hogs and it usually hits when hogs are cheap and the producer figures they are not worth vaccinating. Farmers who raise their own pigs would do well to start a vaccination program now and be on the safe side this Fall. Once the disease gets in the area it can easily spread from farm to farm.

DC woman is new librarian

Mrs. Bill Harwell, Denver City, has been named First Assistant County Librarian by the County Board of Commissioners. She will take over the duties of Mrs. Bert Bartlett who resigned due to a difference over salary and budget raises.

Mrs. Harwell has been in Denver City since early in June when she came here as the newly wed bride of William Henry Harwell Jr., an employee of the Shell Oil Company treasury department.

Mrs. Bartlett resigned her position as County Librarian, effective July 15, when the county commissioners refused to grant her request for an increase in the appropriation for the library and also refused a request for an increase in Librarian's salaries.

The new Assistant County Librarian hopes to move the library records to Denver City so that she can remain here most of the time. She said that she will also be in charge of the Plains Library, but lacks complete certification for the Librarian post. This she hopes to complete within the near future to receive her certificate.

One of the new county librarian's duties in Denver City was to enter into the records a large pile of books which have been donated to the library as a result of a feature story which appeared in the Press last week.

Mrs. Jack Akin, wife of the manager of Palace Drug, donated 35 books on a variety of subjects on Monday; then, on Tuesday, Mrs. J. C. Brown arrived at the library with a pile of more than 300 children's and young people's books which her children had outgrown. These, too, have been donated to the library and will hit the shelves within the near future.

Mrs. Harwell attended North

Texas State College and Texas Women's University. She is a native of Denton, Texas, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Burford.

While attending college, Mrs. Harwell became a member of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English sorority; Villagers, Radio Club and the Journalism Club.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

by LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

July and August is the time for the farmers to spend some money and put up some farm storage structures on his farm. A bumper crop is predicted for 1959 and farmers who are forced to sell their grain at harvest time usually get a lower price because they do not have a place to store their grain. Last year's grain crop sold for at least $1.00 per cwt. more in April and May than it did in September and October. CCC officials say they do not plan to build additional storage bins this year. The storage job is up to the farmer and the commercial warehouse man.

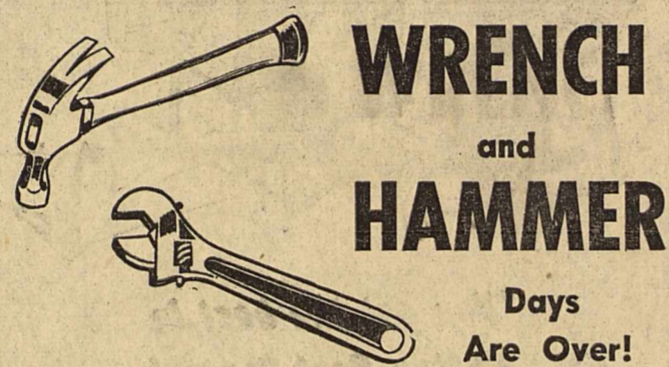

You usually get a better buy in the round steel bin than in other types of farm storage structures. The 1,000 bushel size runs 40c to 50c per bushel of capacity. The cost gets down to about 25c per bushel of capacity in the 5,000 bushel size. Flat storage structures are more desirable because then can be used for housing farm implements or farm laborers when they are not full of grain.

The best way to get the most money out of a crop of grain sorghum is to feed it to some kind of livestock. Again, some kind of grain structure is going to be necessary. A 1,000 bushel storage bin would hold enough grain to feed out 85 or 90 head of pigs weaner size up to market weight.

The local ASC office has loans available for farmers to build grain storage structures on the farm. They can loan up to 80 per cent of the cost of the building and the size is limited according to the amount of grain that is produced on the farm. ## PROPER EQUIPMENT Does the Job Right!

Oh for a periscope on the day of the big game! Short of a free pass, it was just right for the problem at hand.

It's the same thing when it comes to re-conditioning John Deere Tractors and Equipment: proper tools mean better work, done efficiently and economically. That's why we've equipped our shop with precision tools that enable our skilled mechanics to do the very best work on your equipment. They use only genuine John Deere parts as replacements; parts that fit properly, last longer.

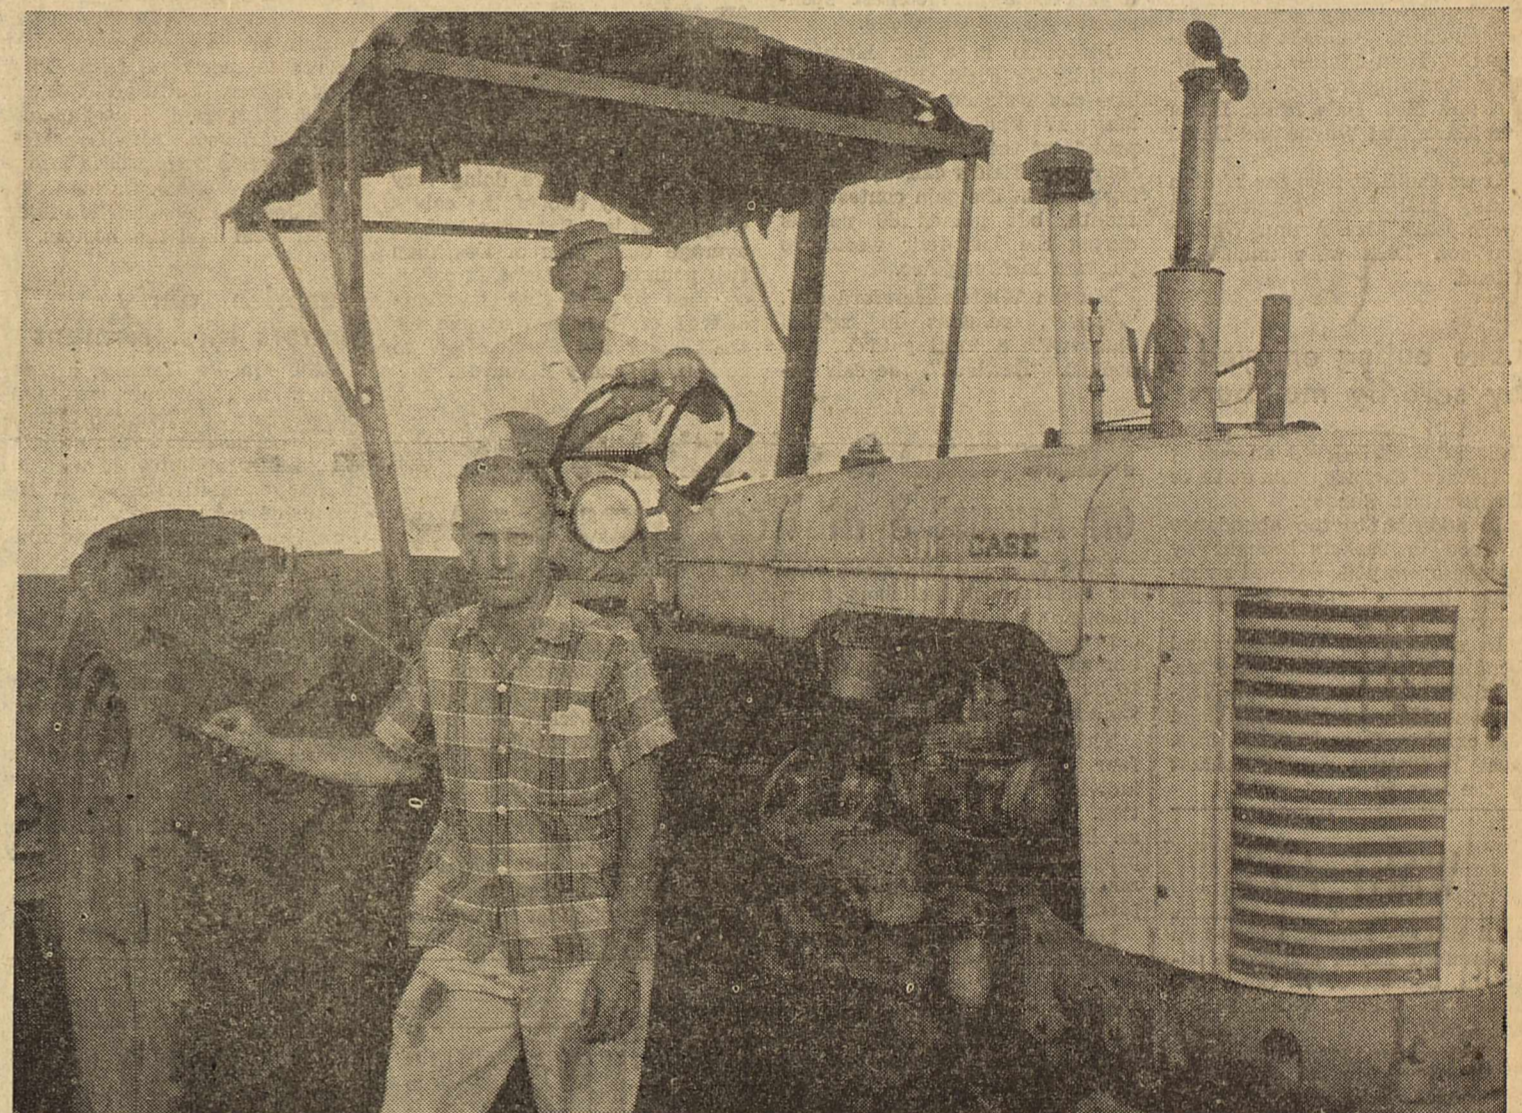

It will pay you to rely on experts for John Deere service; you'll find our shop . . . our mechanics outstanding. Come in this week and let's talk over your requirements!

LIQUID FERTILIZERS! Ideal for Dryland Crops . . .

J. W. COOPER — Standing beside the tractor is J. W. Cooper, a dryland farmer, who lives 2 miles west of Wellman. "I have 480 acres of dryland, and this is my first year to farm in a good while. With the moisture we have had, and after having had a tissue test made of my plants, I felt that to get the best production possible, I had better do some fertilizing." Cooper added: "We are putting down 15-gallons per acre of 8-24-0 on my 155 acres of cotton.

This is about 12-lbs. of nitrogen and 36 pounds of phosphate per acre. This land was deep-broke with a tractor and is in good condition. I really like the ease with which liquid fertilizers are handled and I don't see any reason why they won't give the same or better results than other types of fertilizers. One thing is for sure, they don't cost as much to get them in the ground." Tractor driver is Robert Warner.

Everywhere you go, it's the same story — EASY, EASY, EASY . . . that's what those who have used liquid fertilizers say about getting it in the ground. Others, who fertilized with liquids before planting, or in years past, tell us that it can't be beat for fast action in supplying needed plant nutrients.

By its very state of being a liquid solution, it is ready to go to work instantly. This is why it is ideal for use by, not only irrigation farmers but dryland farmers.

FAST, FAST, FAST — yes, it is a fast way to do your fertilizing job. It is not uncommon for a farmer to tell us that he has put down as much as 70 acres of liquid fertilizer, by himself, in one day. This is a big money-saver, and back saver. There is no heavy lifting — you transport it to the field in special tanks. These tanks have gasoline-powered motors on the pumps, and it is as simple as putting gas in a car to fill the tanks on the tractor.

The fertilizer unit itself is sheer simplicity in action. As many farmers so aptly put it — "It's Mexican-proof." Why don't you come by and let us explain the many advantages of using liquid fertilizers — not only for side-dressing, but for all your future farming operations, as well.

Calf owned by Mike Field has gained 193 pounds in 63 days of feed contest

At the end of the second month of the beef calf feeding program Mike Field is holding a slight lead over owners of the other 25 calves, it was announced by Leo White, county agent, following the weigh-in Saturday.

Young Field's calf, called "Pinocchio", had gained a total of 193 pounds during the first 63 days of the gain contest sponsored by G. W. Cleveland.

Pinocchio is a big Hereford bred by Ty Field, Mike's father. The calf weighed 424 pounds on May 17 and it weighed 617 pounds at the Saturday morning weigh-in. Field's calf was standing third in the gain contest last month, but gained 80 pounds during the last four weeks to put him in first place.

Marsha White's Hereford calf, "Jasper", remains in second place with a total gain of 190 pounds. "Rawhide", the calf being fed by Linda Fitzgerald and the early contest leader, is in third place with a total gain of 188 pounds. In fourth place is Mike Loe with a calf named "Beaver". The four front runners are the same as they were last month, but the first and third place standings are switched.

Other 4-H calf feeders who are standing high in the contest are Kenneth McGinty, Sylvia McGinty, Margaret Henard, D'Lynn McGinty, Douglas Todd, Sharon Sprawls and Jack Sprawls.

County Agent White reported that all calves were doing very well and only two of the calves weighed in last Saturday had an average daily gain of less than two pounds. There are 42 calves on feed by 4-H Club members and 41 of them are eligible for the County Fat Stock Show to be held February 12 and 13.

New Livestock Coliseum will be used for first time at 1959 Fair

The big, new feature of the 1959 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 9-25, will be the mammoth $2,000,000 Livestock Coliseum and related facilities that will go into use for the first time during the fair this fall.

Under construction on the fairgrounds for over a year, the huge steel-and-concrete structure is one of the finest and most modern facilities of its type in the nation.

The Coliseum occupies the site where the old fairgrounds Grandstand and Picnic Pavilion were formerly located, between the Cotton Bowl stadium and the main parking lot.

The new Coliseum will be dedicated at ceremonies on the first Saturday night of the fair, Oct. 10. During the fair, it will be the scene of the first annual State Fair of Texas Horse Show a scene of the first annual State Fair of Texas Horse Show, a series of competitive events for most of the light horse breeds in the country which will offer premiums totaling $34,840.

The State Fair Coliseum will have seating for 7,108 in permanent and box seats, with all seats having an unobstructed view of arena action. Seating capacity can be increased to 11,000 through use of arena space during center focus events such as boxing.

Observation facilities for judges and officials and for press, radio and TV personnel also are provided.

Adjacent to the Coliseum is a horse building with 304 stalls of the most modern type, wash racks and tack rooms. There is a large exercise space next to the building.

Insect situation report shows some area improvement

The weekly cotton insect situation summary of Texas A&M shows that locally heavy rains reduced cotton insect infestations in some producing sections while light showers favored activity of the insects in many other fields. Some increase was generally noted throughout the area.

Trips were found in lower infestations in most fields; aphid populations increased in many fields, particularly on late planted cotton. The fleahopper infestations increased, while cabbage loopers were found in most fields although populations were light in most cases.

Bollworms were reported in light to medium infestations, and the report did not show any grasshopper activity during the past seven days.

These reports are compiled from reports received from many sources, including county agents, vocational agriculture teachers, A&M college system personnel and others. Everyone who does and filed checking is asked to submit a report of their findings to A&M at College Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Izzard and children of Lubbock spent Saturday night and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Box, Mrs. Adell Box and Robert Box also visited with them Sunday afternoon.

County Advisory group sets platform

At a recent meeting of the Yoakum County Advisory Committee for Permanent Improvements in Yoakum County in time to meet the needs before major difficulties arise.

The committee held its first meeting on June 18 after being organized earlier in the year for the purpose of anticipating needed improvements in the county in time to meet the needs before major difficulties arise.

The platform as adopted by the committee follows:

Gene Bennett, Chairman of the Yoakum County Advisory Committee for Permanent Improvement, announced that the following statement or Purpose had been approved by the Committee at their second called meeting at Plains on July 9.

The primary purpose of the committee for Permanent Improve-

Yoakum County Advisory Committee is to anticipate needed improvements in Yoakum County in time to meet the needs before major difficulties arise.

Bennett said that the Committee feels that in order to carry out its purpose that it must: (1) Review the needs of the County, and understand the tax system. (2) Study the cost of operating, plus sinking funds to pay indebtedness of the county. (3) To relate these to the amount of money received in order to bring about needed improvements in an orderly and business-like manner. (4) Encourage each citizen to study these factors in order to know the problems involved. (5) Recommend a schedule of needed improvements in relation to the County's ability to meet the payments.

As a committee, no definite stand is being taken on the individual issues facing the voters next week. The committee does urge each citizen to study the issues and weigh each one on its own merits and let their wishes be known by voting in the election on July 25th.

The chief difficulty it seems is that the average citizen does not know where he stands. The Committee feels that in order to know how to vote on controversial issues, each citizen should demand to study before, rather than after a tax measure is passed. He will want to know who is paying the tax and why, and who is being protected and why, and he will want to know what business is being affected and how. As we all know, the money that is expended for operation of the County, and for all improvements of a public nature is money that has been received through taxation, and any further improvements will have to be done by additional taxation.

Merely standing for what he believes to be tax justice is not enough. He must know something about how such a program can be applied in a practical world. He must consider the administrative problems of the program, methods of spending the tax monies, and the relative values and services to be received in return. When all is said and done and tax money is collected and spent, will it really improve the conditions of life for the average man?

Systematic planning is perhaps the greatest need in taxation today. Tax administration must be coordinated and simplified. A complete re-appraisal of our spending methods and especially the reorganization and modernization of both state and local governmental machinery in order to secure more efficient and less costly administration of public affairs will demand serious consideration. It is a dual problem which will test the civic capacity of all groups and citizens within the next few years.

One of the greatest inducements to growth of a county, and one of the greatest feelings of satisfaction comes by keeping taxes relatively low and know where we stand on things that should be of interest to every citizen.

Yoakum county citizens must realize that payments on current debt amount to more than $200,000.00 each year for the next 4 years. This obligation must be met in addition to an annual budget of some $774,000.00 to carry on county operations. This amounts to an annual cost of $974,000.00 each year for the county. Total annual receipts run between $900,000 and $1,000,000.

Important Announcement

The City gas bond election Saturday is of the utmost importance to every citizen in Plains. The present transmission line which brings gas from the El Paso Natural Gas line 9 1/4 miles east of the city has been outgrown, and has deteriorated to a point that sufficient pressure cannot be applied to furnish the city through another winter.

New residential and business gas connections are expected to reach a new high this year, which is estimated around 50. With the expansion of the school plant, it is expected the school will more than double their present requirements for gas within a year.

The new proposed 3-inch gas main has been designed to deliver approximately four times the amount of gas now being delivered to the city with the present line. Also included in the improvements will be new main lines within the city in order to properly distribute the gas to all sections of the system.

We urge you to vote FOR the issuance of $90,000 in bonds Saturday, July 25, so that the city may keep the gas system abreast with the increase in population and development.
